'Tis gone, that bright and orbed blaze. J. Kebl. [Evening.] Dated Nov. 25, 1820, and 1st pub. in his Christian Year, 1827, in 14 st. of 4 l., and headed with the text "Abide with us, for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. St. Luke xxiv. 29." The centos from this poem in C. U. are:—

1. Sun of my soul, Thou Saviour dear. This cento was given in three stanzas in Elliott's Ps. & Hys., 1835. This was repeated in numerous hymnals, sometimes with the addition of a doxology, and has thus come into use until it has become one of the foremost hymns in the English language. It has been tr. into several languages. These in Latin include, "O sol animæ vitaque mea, translation Jesu" (4 st.), by E. Bingham, in his Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1851, p. 19; and "Sol animæ vitaque Salvator!" (4 st.), by H. M. Macgill, in his Songs of the Christian Creed and Life, 1876.

2. The Rulers of this Christian land. This cento, For those in Authority, is in limited use.

3. Now all the glories of the day and dark. This cento "For the High Court of Parliament" is in the 1862 Appendix to the S. P. C. K. Ps. & Hys.; the Hy. Comp., 1st edition, and is admirably suited for the purpose.

4. Now in the arms of Holy sleep. This cento, for Evening, is given in the Salisbury H. Bk., 1857, the Sarum Hym., 1868, and others. [J. J.]

'Tis my happiness below. W. Cowper. [In Affliction.] Appeared in Lady Huntingdon's Coll., 1774, No 183, in 3 st. of 8 l., and in the Olney Hymns, 1779, Bk. iii., No. 16. In the Lady Huntingdon Coll. it precedes, and in the Olney Hymns it follows Cowper's "God moves in a mysterious way" [see p. 433, i.], and seems to have been written at, or about the same time, and under the same circumstances. Its modern use is mainly confined to America where, in its full, or in an abridged form, it is somewhat popular. [J. J.]

'Tis pure delight without alloy. I. Watts. [Divine Love Desired.] Pub. in his Horæ Lyricæ, 1706, Bk. i., in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed, "Ascending to Him in Heaven." In the American Meth. Epis. Hymns, 1849, and in their Hymnal, 1878, it is given with the omission of st. iv. as, "O 'tis delight without alloy." It is from the original, as above, that Watts took a portion for his hymn, "Happy the heart where grace reigns." [J. J.]

'Tis seldom we can trace the way. Sir J. Bowring. [The love of God.] This hymn is in the Plymouth Brethren Hys. for the Poor of the Flock, 1838, No. 259, in 4 st. of 4 l. It is best known as "We cannot always trace the way." In this form it was given in Dr. Walker's Cheltenham Ps. & Hys., 1853, No. 333, and signed "Bowring" in the Index. Some later collections attribute it to "Elliot;" but Miller says (Singers and Songs, 1869, p. 422) that Sir John Bowring assured him personally that it was his own composition. It is in several collections of a recent date, including Dr. Allon's Cong. Psalmist Hys., 1866. Another form of the text in use in America is "I cannot always trace the way." It is in H. W. Beecher's Plymouth Coll., 1855, and some later hymn-books. [J. J.]

'Tis sweet to wake at early morn. T. Davis. [Morning. Heaven anticipated.] Pub. in his Devotional Verse for a Month, 1853, p. 23, in 4 st. of 6 l. In the Bap. Ps. & Hys., 1858, it was given as "'Tis sweet on earth at early morn." In the author's Hys. Old and New, 1864, No. 3; and his Avena Sonetus, 1877, p. 194, it was given as "'Tis sweet on earth to wake at morn," and this is the authorised form of the hymn.

Titius, Christoph, s. of Christoph Titius or Tietze, pastor at Wilkau, near Reichau, in Silesia, was b. at Wilkau, May 24, 1641. He entered the St. Mary Magdalene Gymnasium, at Breslau, in 1654, and the Argidien (St. Gilay) Gymnasium at Nürnberg, in 1660. He matriculated as a student of Theology at the University of Altdorf, in 1662. After completing his studies at the University of Jena, in 1664, he acted for two years as a family tutor. On Aug. 24, 1666, he was ordained as pastor of Lauhenmühl, near Gunzenhausen, in Franconia; and then became, in 1671, pastor at Hanfeld, near Nürnberg. In 1685 he was appointed diaconus at Hersbruck, near Nürnberg, became archidiaconus in June, 1701, and in Nov., 1701, was appointed chief pastor and inspector of schools. He d. at Hersbruck, Feb. 21, 1708 (Koch, iii., 323; Wetzel, iii., 286; G. A. Will's Nürnbergisches Gelehrten-Lexicon, pt. iv. p. 84; E. Goedeke's Grundriss, vol. iii., 1887, p. 287, &c. Koch says he was b. Jan. 10, 1681, and d. Sept. 7, 1703, but gives no authority for those dates).

Titius had begun to write hymns while at the Nürnberg Gymnasium, and his best known hymns originated during his residence at Lauhenmühl. They appeared in his Sünden-Schmertzen, Trost im Herzen, Todes-Kertzen, erquickt, entdeckt, angezündet von Christophoro Titio Silesio, Theol. St., at Nürnberg, 1681 (Library of the Prediger-Seminar at Hannover), and his Neue Geist-reiche Lieder-Schule, Mit 4 Stimmen, deren ersten, Seelen-Spatzen, Angel-Weisen, &c., Nürnberg, 1690 (Berlin Library), with 42 hymns; and in the 3rd further enlarged ed. pub. at Nürnberg and Leipzig, 1702 (Königsberg Library), with 64 hymns. The most popular were those of the 1st ed., many of which passed into the German hymn-books of the 18th cent., and various of which are still found in recent collections. The best of these are hearty and popular in style, earnest and spiritual in tone, and animating.

Two of Titius's hymns have passed into English, viz.:—

1. O du Schöpfer aller Dinge. Holy Communion. This is a hymn of penitence before Holy Communion, and was 1st pub. in 1663, as above, as No. ii., in 9 st. of 8 l. Repeated in Crüger's Praxis, Frankfurt, 1676, No. 153; but recently in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, and erroneously ascribed to Johann Heinrich Keulisch or Calisius [b. 1633, at Wohlau, in Silesia; d. March 30, 1698, as chief pastor and superintendent at Gadisch, in Würtemberg]. This possibly arose from the fact that in Calisius's Hausbüchle, Nürnberg, 1676, p. 588, there is a hymn beginning "O du Schöpfer aller Dinge, Dem bei dieser Morgen-Zeit," in 7 st., but it is entirely different from this hymn. Tr. as "Now Thine ear, I now implore Thee." by Dr. H. Mills, 1845, p. 58.

2. Sollt es gleich bisweilen scheinen. Cross and Consolation. His most popular hymn, 1st pub. in 1663, as No. vi., in 10 st. of 4 l., entitled "Hymn of Consolation." Included in Crüger's Praxis, 1675, the Nürnberg G. B., 1676, Freylinghausen's G. B., 1704, the Berlin G. L. S., 1863, No. 856, and many others, sometimes printed as 9 st. of 8 l.

Lauenstein relates (Koch, viii. 426) that C. A. Dann, chief pastor of St. Leonard's Church, at Stuttgart, having been condemned to die for the part he took in the counterplayers, had been consigned in 1812 to the village of Oberschlagen in the Swabian Alb [in 1819 to the neighbouring village of Münsingen]. The king at last granted the earnest desire of the Stuttgart people for his return, and on Dec. 24, 1812, Dann left Oberschlagen, and the night four friends walked over to Münsingen, and in the early morning conveyed the news to Dann by singing this hymn at the door of his room.

The tr. in C. U. is:—

Seems it in my anguish lone. This is a good tr., omitting st. vi., by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 201; repeated in her C. & for England, 1863, No. 146. Included in full in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880, and abridged in the St. Aidan's College H. Bk., 1864.

Other trs. are:—

(1) "Yes should it ev'r to man oppose." This is a tr. of st. i., st. v. of No. 1863, in the Suppl. of 1865 to the Moravian H. Bk., 1501 (1886, No. 585). (2) "Deem ye sometimes, spirit-shaken." In Kennedy's Church of Ire., 1865, p. 45, only st. i., vi. being Kennedy's hymn. [J. M.]

Τῷ Βασιλεῖ καὶ Δεσπότῃ. St. Anatolius. [St. Stephen.] These stichera are appointed in the Greek Service Books in the Office for St. Stephen's Day, to be sung at Vespers. The probable date is the latter part of the 5th or the beginning of the 6th cent. [St. Anatolius, p. 69, i.] The hymn is found in the Menæa, and the Anth. Græca Carm. Christ., p. 117. The tr. by J. M. Neale, "To Lord and King of all things," appeared in The Ecclesiastic and Theologian, 1853, vol. xv. p. 233, and again in a revised form in Dr. Neale's Hys. of the Eastern Church, 1862, p. 7, in 3 st. of 8 l. These texts are:—

Ecclesiastic: "The Lord and King of all things
Was yesterday born."

Hys. of the E. C., "The Lord and King of all things
Was yesterday was born."

Mr. Hallerby, in the 4th ed. of the Hys. of the Eastern Church, notes that "the Vespers of Dec. 27 occurring on the evening of the 26th, pursuits of the word 'yesterday' being used with reference to Christmas Day." [J. J.]

To Christ the Son Almighty. R. F. Littledale. [Adult Baptism.] This is a tr. by Dr. Littledale of a Syriac hymn given, together with a tr. into Latin, in Daniel, iii. p. 285. It appeared in the People's H., 1867, with the signature "F." [J. J.]

To day we're bidden to a feast. J. Cennick. [Holy Communion.] Pub. in his Sacred Hys. for the Children of God, &c., 1741, No. vi., in 8 st. of 4 l., and entitled, "Before the Sacrament." In a few hymn-books the cento therefrom is given as "Together with these symbols, Lord" (st. vi.). [J. J.]

To God belongs the eternal sway. J. Mer. ich. [Ps. xcviii.] 1st pub. in his Psalms Translated or Paraphrased in English Verse, 1765, p. 233, in 48 lines. In 1707 Merrick's Psalms were republished by W. D. Tattersall "divided into stanzas for Parochial Use," and this version was given therein in 13 st. of 4 l., two lines being added to st. viii., and two lines to st. x. to make up the required number of stanzas. In this form it is unknown to modern hymn-books. In Cotterill's Sel., 1819, Ps. 97, it is given in an abbreviated and rewritten form as, "The Lord is King! let earth obey." This is given in some modern hymnals, including Kennedy, 1863, with alterations and the omission of st. ii., iii. [J. J.]

To God most awful and most high. J. Montgomery. [In time of Scarcity.] Written for the laying of the foundation stone of a Corn Mill at Sheffield, on Nov. 5, 1795, which was "built for the courage use and benefit of the people." It was printed in Montgomery's Sheffield Iris newspaper the same day, and signed "Paul Positive," a nom de plume of the author. It subsequently appeared in Cotterill's Sel., 1819, No. 209; Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 332; and his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 276. In the last two it is headed, "The poor praying for bread in the time of scarcity." It is found in a few modern hymn-books. [J. J.]

To God the only wise, Our Saviour and our King. I. Watts. [Preserving Grace.] 1st pub. in his Hys. and Spiritual Songs, 1707 (2nd ed. 1709, Bk. i., No. 51), in 5 st. of 4 l. It is found in most of the early hymn-books, especially those of a Calvinistic type, as the collections of G. Whitefield, M. Madan, and others, but to modern hymnals, except in America, it is not so well known, although still found in several books. [J. J.]

To God the only wise, Who keeps us by His word. [Doxology.] This doxology, which is in somewhat extensive use in America, is usually ascribed to I. Watts. One stanza only —the second, "Hosannah to the Word"—is from his works, and this is altered from his st. x. doxology in Hys. and S. Songs, 1707. Stanza i. and iii. we have not traced. The latter is 2 Cor. xiii. 14 turned into metre. [J. J.]

To God with mournful voice. Tate & Brady. [Psalm cxiii.] In the New Version, 1696, in 7 st. of 4 l. In 1836 it was re-written by J. Hall or E. Osler, probably the latter, and included in the Mitre H. Bk., as,

"In deep distress to God
I poured my care and grief," in 4 st. of 4 l., and from thence passed, without alteration, into the Wes. H. Bk., 1875,

No. 634. The version of Ps. cxxi. in the Mitre H. Bk., in 3 st. of 4 l., beginning,

"In deep distress to God I cried
And He avang'd my wrongs," was by E. Osler, and is also found in his Church and King, 1836-37, p. 157, for the 2nd Sun. after Trinity. [J. J.]

To Him that loved us for Himself. J. Mason. [Praise.] This is No. xxxiii. of his Songs of Praise, 1683, in 4 st. of 8 l. and entitled, "A Song of Praise collected from the Doxologies in the Revelation of St. John." It is very unequal in merit, some lines being very fine, whilst others are of little worth. It has, however, the elements of a splendid hymn of Praise. In modern hymnody it is known as the hymn to which Watts is supposed to have been indebted for his "Now to the Lord that makes us know" (q.v.), a supposition which cannot be maintained. Orig. text in D. Sedgwick's reprint of Mason's Songs, 1859, p. 65. [J. J.]

To keep the lamp alive. W. Cowper. [In Trial and Despondency.] Pub. in the Olney Hymns, 1779, Bk. iii., No. 74, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed, "Dependence." In its original form it is in limited use. The extract from it beginning with st. iii., "Beware of Peter's word," is much more popular, and especially in America, where it appeared in Nettleton's Village Hymns, 1824. [J. J.]

To me a sinner, chief of all. H. Alford. [Lent.] Written for and pub. in his Year of Praise, 1867, No. 101, in 4 st. of 4 l., and again in his Poetical Works, 2th ed., 1868. It has passed into Dale's English H. Bk., 1874; Tiring's Coll., 1883, &c. [J. J.]

To me to live, let it be Christ. J. Montgomery. [The Image of Christ.] This is dated in the M. MS. "Aug. 30, 1835." We have not traced it in print earlier than his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 122, where it is given in 3 st. of 4 l.; but probably it was published before that date. [J. J.]

Τὸ μέγα μυστήριον. St. Andrew of Crete. [Pentecostic.] This is the 3rd Ode of a Canon, containing 3 odes, found in the Compline for Great Thursday (the Thursday of Holy Week) in the Triodion, and is in 8 stanzas. It dates about 700, and was first rendered into English by Dr. Neale, and pub. in The Ecclesiastic and Theologian, 1854, p. 44, and again in his Hymns of the Eastern Church, 1862, in 6 st. of 6 l. as, "O the mystery, passing wonder." In this (r. st. iv. is omitted, and st. vi. and vii. are fused together. In 1863 it was included in Lyra Eucharistica, and the Parish H. Bk., and subsequently in numerous collections. [J. J.]

Τῷ πανάγιατοι. ["Εκωσε λαὸς.]

Τῷ πρὸ τῶν αἰώνων. [Χριστὸς γεννᾶται.]

To the hills I lift mine eyes. C. Wesley. [Ps. cxxi.] Pub. in Ps. & Hys., 1743, in 6 st. of 8 l. (P. Works, 1868-72, vol. viii., p. 235). In A. M. Toplady's Ps. & Hys., 1776, st. i., ii. and iv. were given with alterations, as No. 227. This canto has gone out of use. The following arrangements of the text are in several modern hymn-books:—

1. To the hills I lift my eyes. This, with the omission of st. iii., is in the Leeds H. Bk., 1853, and most of the additional hymns. It is in the revised ed., 1878, and other collections.

2. See the Lord, thy Keeper, stand. This in Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1873, is composed of st. iv., vi. and vii. of the original.

3. God shall bless thy going out. In the American Unitarian Hys. for the Church of Christ, 1853, No. 74, and later American collections. It is composed of st. vi. (l. 1-4, and st. ii. ll. 1-4, altered.

This version ranks with the best of C. Wesley's renderings of the Psalms. [See G. J. Stevenson's Meth. H. Bk. Notes, 1883; and Psalms, English, § xvi.] [J. J.]

To the Source of every blessing. W. H. Bathurst. [Holy Trinity.] 1st pub. in his Psalms & Hymns, 1831, No. 3, in 5 st. of 4 l., and entitled "Praise to God." In 1833 it was included in the Leeds H. Bk., No. 443, and later in one or two collections. It is better known with the omission of st. i., as "Glory to the Almighty Father," as in Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866, No. 156, and others. [J. J.]

To Thee, O dear, dear Saviour. J. S. B. Monsell. [Rest and Peace in Jesus.] Pub. in his Hymns of Love and Praise, 1863, p. 173, in 5 st. of 8 l. In a few collections it begins "To Thee, O blessed Saviour"; whilst a couto, opening with line 5 of st. ii., "O Thou Whose mercy found me" is also in C. U. as in the Scottish Presbyterian Hymnal, 1876. [J. J.]

To Thee, O God, we homage pay. P. Doddridge. [Christ, the Sun of Righteousness.] This hymn is No. viii. in the 3. MSS., where it is entitled "The Sun of Righteousness. From Matt. iv. 2." It is in 6 st. of 4 l. Although undated, its position in the 3. MSS. shows it to be circa 1734. In Job Orton's ed. of Doddridge's posthumous Hymns, &c., 1755, No. 173, the text differs somewhat from the 3. Orton's text is repeated in J. D. Humphreys's ed. of the Hymns, &c., 1839, No. 194. It is in a few collections in G. Britain and America. [J. J.]

To Thee, O Lord, our hearts we raise. W. O. Dix. [Harvest.] This hymn was given with five others at the end of the St. Raphael's (Bristol) Hys. for the Service of the Church, 1864, No. 202, in 4 st. of 8 l. By a printer's error it is accompanied by a note which really belonged to the next hymn, No. 203, "The Church of God lifts up her voice" (p. 1146, l.). In 1867 "To Thee, O Lord, &c." was given in the People's H., and since then it has passed into numerous collections, including H. A. & M., the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., Tiring's Coll., and others. The fourth stanza is also given as a concluding chorus to Dr. Stainer's harvest anthem, "Ye shall dwell in the land." [J. J.]

To Thy temple I repair. J. Montgomery. [Divine Worship.] Pub. in Collyer's Coll., 1812, No. 916, in 7 st. of 4 l., and entitled "A Sabbath Hymn." It was repeated in Cotterill's Sel., 1815, No. 286; in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 468; and in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 115. It is in C. U. in its original form: as "In Thy presence we appear," in Kennedy, 1863; and as "To Thy presence I repair," in Dale's

English H. Bk., 1874. In R. Bingham's Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871, the original, with the omission of st. v., is rendered into Latin as, "Sacratan Domini domum." [J. J.]

To us the voice of wisdom cries. J. Montgomery. [Invitation of Wisdom.] Appeared in Cotterill's Selection, 1819, No. 147, in 3 st. of 8 l., and entitled "The voice of Wisdom." In 1825, on its republication in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, No. 501, it was partly rewritten, and given in 7 st. of 4 l., the title being also changed to "The Invitation of Wisdom." This latter text and title were repeated in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 29. It is the text in C. U. [J. J.]

To Whom but Thee, O God of grace. W. J. Irons. [Seven Words from the Cross.] In his Hys. for Use in Church, 1866, Dr. Irons included seven hymns on the words on the Cross, and repeated them in his Ps. & Hys., 1873-75, as follows:—

1. To whom but Thee, O God of grace. St. Luke xxiii. 34.
2. Thy presence, Lord, is heaven to those. St. Matt. xxvii. 46.
3. Jesu! Who for us didst bear. St. John xix. 28.
4. O Thou, Our God, Who heavest prayer. St. Luke xxiii. 42.
5. Son of God in glory reigning. St. John xix. 26.
6. It is not finished! Lord of grace (1866). Lord, is it finished? God of grace (1873). St. John xix. 30.
7. Faithful Creator, Lord divine. St. Luke xxiii. 46.

Most of these hymns have passed into other collections, but their use is limited. [J. J.]

To whom, my Saviour, shall I go? [Clinging to Christ.] This hymn is found in the Panoplist, 1815, where it is signed "Carus." It was repeated in Nettleton's Village Hymns, &c., 1824, No. 408, in 4 st. of 4 l., and without signature. Subsequently it appeared in several collections, and amongst modern hymnals it is found in Hatfield's Church H. Bk., N. Y., 1872, and several others. [F. M. B.]

To-day the Lord our Shepherd leads. J. Montgomery. [The Good Shepherd.] Printed on a broadsheet for the use of Sheffield Sunday School Whit-Monday gathering, June 11, 1821, in 6 st. of 4 l., and signed "J. M." There is also a copy in the M. MSS. in Montgomery's handwriting, dated "Sep. 18, 1833." The text in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 161, is slightly altered from the broadsheet of 1821. In a few collections it begins "Now may the Lord our Shepherd lead." [J. J.]

To-day Thy mercy calls me (us). O. Allen. [Invitation.] Appeared in his Hys. of the Christian Life, 1825, p. 102, in 4 st. of 8 l., and headed "To-day." It is found in several collections in Great Britain and America, and sometimes altered to "To-day Thy mercy calls us," as in the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871. It is the most widely used of the author's hymns.

Toke, Emma, née Leslie, daughter of John Leslie, D.D., Bishop of Kilmore, was b. at Holywood, Belfast, Aug. 5, 1812; married to the Rev. Nicholas Toke, Godington Park, Ashford, Kent, in 1837; and d. in 1872. Mrs. Toke's early hymns were written in 1851, "at the request of a friend who was collecting for the Committee of the S. P. C. K." (Miller, p. 273), and they appeared in the S. P. C. K. Hymns for Pub. Worship, 1852, as follows:—

1. Glory to Thee, O Lord (see p. 422, ii.).
2. Lord, Thy mercy, hear our cry. National Thanksgiving.
3. O Lord, in all our trials here. Saints' Days, General.
4. O Lord, Thou knowest all the snares. Lent.
5. Lord, Thy glory fills the skies. Ascension.
6. O Thou, Who didst with love unmix'd. St. Thomas.
7. Thou art gone up on high. Ascension.

The most popular of these hymns are "Glory to Thee, O Lord"; "O Lord, Thou knowest all the snares"; and "Thou art gone up on high." These hymns as a whole are simple and pleasing. They seldom rise into passionate fervour, and are weakened in several instances by faulty construction. They have been widely adopted in G. Britain and America. Another series of hymns by Mrs. Toke was contributed to the Sunday School Liturgy . . . and Hymn Book, arranged by the Rev. H. Auld, B.A., Incumbent of St. Mary's, Halifax. Halifax, F. King, 1870. These hymns have failed to attract attention, although in literary merit they fall little short of her earlier efforts. They are:—

8. Jesu! by Whose Almighty Grace. St. Andrew.
9. Lord God, the strength and stay of all. General.
10. Lord of all power and might. General.
11. O Lord, Thou hearest all. Lent.
12. O Father, Whom in truth to know. SS. Philip and James.
13. O God of comfort, Thou alone. St. Barnabas.
14. O God of mercy, chief and dark. St. John Bapt.
15. O God, the Holy and the Just. St. Matthew.
16. O God, unchanging source of light. St. Bartholomew.
17. O Thou, Who didst through heavens, &c. Purification B. V. M.
18. The joyful day at last is come. Easter.
19. The Lord Who rules from heaven above. Easter-tide.
20. This is the day of holy rest. St. Philip.
21. We bless Thee, Lord, for that clear light. Conversion St. Paul.

In addition to these hymns Mrs. Toke rewrote and expanded some of her earlier compositions. In their new form, however, they are almost unknown. [J. J.]

Τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν μου τὴν πληθύν. St. Joseph the Hymnographer. [Lent.] This is the opening line of a canto taken from a long Canon for the Monday of the First Tone in the Paracletice. It is virtually, as compiled by Dr. Neale, a new poem, representing neither the form nor the idea of the original. Dr. Neale's tr., beginning, "And will Thou pardon, Lord?" was pub. in his Hymns of the Eastern Church, 1862, in 5 st. of 4 l. In a slightly altered form as, "O will Thou pardon, Lord?" it was also given in the Parish H. Bk., 1863, and repeated subsequently in various collections. The Hymnary text opens, "And wilt Thou hear, O Lord?" The original dates from the middle of the ninth cent.

Τῶν ἐν προφήταις. St. Andrew of Crete. [St. John Baptist.] Three Idiomela from the Vespers of the Nativity of St. John Baptist, by St. Andrew of Crete (q.v.). The poems are in the form of an address to St. John, each of them closing with an appeal. It is found in the Menæa. The tr. "The first of all Apostles," by Dr. Littledale, was made for and 1st pub. in the People's Hymnal, 1867, signed "L." and appointed for the Festival of St. John Baptist. St. i.-v. represent the 1st idiomelon, st. 6 the 2nd, and verses 7, 8 the 3rd. The doxology added by translator. [H. L. B.]

Τῶν ἱερῶν ἀθλοφόρων. St. Joseph the Hymnographer. [Martyrs.] The original from which this canon is taken is the Canon (see Greek Hymnody) for the Deacon St. Timothy and his wife St. Maura, whose martyrdom is commemorated by the Church of Constantinople on May 3. The Office for that day is included in the service-books of the Greek Church. The hr. of this canon was made by J. M. Neale, and first pub. in his Hymns of the Eastern Church, 1862, in 4 st. of 8 l., and beginning, "Let our Choir now anthems raise." As a hymn for congregational use it was included in the People's H., 1867, the 1868 Appendix to H. A. & M., and many others, and usually with the omission of st. iii., and sometimes altered, as, "Let the Church now anthems raise," and "Let the Church now anthems sing." The martyrdom of SS. Timothy and Maura has been perpetuated for the English reader by Canon Kingsley, in his poem "Santa Maura," and Dr. Neale's tr. of the canto from the Canon ranks with the most popular and widely used of his trs. from the Greek. Stanzas i., ii. represent Ode 1.; the remaining stanzas give rather the spirit than the letter of the original. [J. J.]

Τῶν πρὸ ἡλίου ἡλιον δύναντα ποτέ. Ev τάφῳ. [Easter.] This is an Ode, or short hymn, in honour of the holy women who brought spices to anoint the body of Jesus, and follows in the Greek Office for Easter Day, a κοντάκιον (another short hymn), by St. Romanus (q. v.), to whom, possibly because of this close association, it is sometimes ascribed. It dates probably about 500, and is found inserted between Odes vi. and vii. of the Golden Canon of St. John of Damascene in the Pentecostarion. The original text, together with a blank verse tr., are given in Dr. Littledale's Offices, &c., of the Holy Eastern Church, 1863, p. 92 and p. 216, and the same tr. rendered into S. Tr. measure by W. Chatterton Dix, in Lyra Messianica, 1864, p. 292. The two translations begin:—

Seeking as those who seek the day. R. F. Littledale.
As those who seek the break of day. W. C. Dix.
[J. J.]

Tonna, Charlotte Elizabeth, née Browne, commonly known as "Charlotte Elizabeth," was the only daughter of Michael Browne, Rector of St. Giles, Norwich, and was b. in Norwich, Oct. 1, 1790. She was first married to Captain George Phelan, of the 60th Rifles (who d. in 1837), and secondly to the Rev. Lewis H. Tonna. Her death took place at Ramsgate, July 12, 1846. Under the name of "Charlotte Elizabeth" she pub. several works, including Chapters on Finance, Derry, a Tale of the Revolution, Personal Recollections, &c. Her hymns in C. U. include:—

1. Holy Father, heavenly King (1832). God Man's only Refuge.
2. O God of Israel, deign to smile. For Restoration.
3. O Thou Who didst prepare. For Use at Sea.
4. Sinner, what hast thou to show? Christ alone.
5. Soldier go, but look to Him. The Good Fight of Faith.

Of these hymns Nos. 3, 4 appeared in W. Urwick's Dublin Coll. of Hys., 1820. [J. J.]

Toplady, Augustus Montague, B.A. The life of Toplady has been repeatedly and fully written, the last, a somewhat disconnected and sketchy put together book, yet masterful, by W. Winkes (1872). Summarily, these data may be here given: he was born at Farnham, in Surrey, on November 4, 1740. His father, Richard Toplady, was a Major in the British army, and was killed at the siege of Carthagena (1741) soon after the birth of his son. His widowed mother placed him at the renowned Westminster school, London. By-and-by circumstances led her to Ireland, and young Augustus was entered at Trinity College, Dublin, where he completed his academical training, ultimately graduating B.A. He also received his "new birth" in Ireland under remarkable conditions, as he himself tells us with oddly mixed humility and lofty self-estimate, as "a favourite of heaven," common to his school:—

"Strange that I who had so long sat under the means of grace in England should be brought right unto God in an obscure part of Ireland, within a handful of people (Dublin excepted) destitute of both. Such a change as could only spell his soul Salvation. Surely it was the Lord's doing and is marvellous. The expediency of such power must be of God and cannot be of man. The regenerating spirit breathes not only on whom but likewise when and where and as He listeth."

To be read cum grano salis; for the present writer happens to know that the lay preacher, a Wesleyan Methodist, was James Morris, and his text Ephesians vi. 13; and that he was not the illiterate man Toplady's words would have us believe. Likewise he had far more brain power than his convert, and was a born orator, though reticent and lowly-minded. Toplady received orders in the Church of England on June 6, 1762, and after some time was appointed to Broadhembury. His Psalms and Hymns of 1776 bears that he was then "B.A." and Vicar of Broadhembury. Shortly thereafter he is found in London as minister of the Chapel of the French Calvinists in Leicester Fields. He was a strong and partizan Calvinist, and not well-informed theologically outside of Calvinism. We willingly and with sense of relief leave unstirred the small thick dust of oblivion that has gathered on his controversial writings, especially his scurrilous language to John Wesley because of his Arminianism, as we do John Wesley's deplorable misunderstanding and misrepresentation of Calvinism. Throughout Toplady lacked the breadth of the divine Master's watchword "Forbid him not, for he that is not against us is for us" (St. Luke ix. 50). He was impulsive, rash-spoken, reckless to misjudgment; but a flame of genuine devoutness burned in the fragile lamp of his over-tasked and wasted body. He d. on August 11, 1778. The last edition of his works is in 6 vols., 8vo., 1825. An accurate reproduction of most of his genuine hymns was one of the reprints of Daniel Sedgwick 1860. His name occurs and recurs in contemporary memoirs and ecclesiastical histories, e.g., in Tyerman's Life of John Wesley. The reader will find in their piquant annotations on the several hymns of Toplady, and specially on his "Rock of Ages," a song of grace that has given him a deeper and more inward place in millions of human hearts from generation to generation than almost any other hymnologist of our country, not excepting Charles Wesley. Besides the "Rock of Ages" must be named, for power, intensity, and higher effects and nicer workmanship, "Object of my first desire," and "Deathless principle arise." It is to be regretted that the latter has not been more widely accepted. It is strong, firm, stirring, and masterful. Regarded critically, it must be stated that the affectionateness with which Toplady is named, and the glow and passion of his faith and life, and yearning after holiness, have led to an over-exaltation of him as a hymn-writer. Many of his hymns have been widely used, and especially in America, and in the Evangelical hymn-books of the Church of England. Year by year, however, the number in use is becoming less. The reason is soon found. He is no poet or inspired singer. He climbs no heights. He sounds no depths. He has mere vanishing gleams of imaginative light. His greatness is the greatness of goodness. He is a fervent preacher, not a bard. [A. B. G.]

Toplady's hymns and poetical pieces were published in his:—

(1) Poems on Sacred Subjects wherein The Fundamentals of Christianity, with many other interesting Points, are occasionally introduced . . . Dublin: Printed by S. Powell, in Crane-lane, MDCCLXIX.; (2) his Ps. & Hys. for Public and Private Worship, 1776; (3) in The Gospel Magazine, 1771–1776; and (4) in Hys. and Sacred Poems on a variety of Divine Subjects . . . London: Printed for G. Keith . . . MDCCLXXIV. with a Memoir by W. Row, were pub. in 4 vols. in 1794. Walter Row was also the editor of the 2nd and some later editions of the Ps. and Hys. He was a most careless editor, and attributed several hymns by C. Wesley and others to Toplady.

A large number of Toplady's hymns are annotated in this Dictionary under their respective first lines. (See Index of Authors and Translators.) The following additional hymns in C. U., together with centos indicated in the sub-lines, are from:—

i. His Poems on Sacred Subjects, 1759.

1. Can my heaven-born soul estimate? All for Christ.
2. Come from on high, my King and God. Holiness desired.
(1.) O might this worthless heart of mine.
3. Eternal Spirit, we confess. Work of the Spirit.
4. From Thy supreme tribunal, Lord. Christ's Righteousness a Refuge.
(1.) The spotless Saviour lived for me.
5. Great God, Whom heaven, and earth, and sea. Adoration.
6. I woke, and lo! a countless throng. Saints' Days. Revised form in the Gospel Magazine, 1774, p. 448.
7. Immovable our hope remains. Divine Faithfulness.
8. Jesus, God of love, attend. Divine Worship. Pt. ii. is "Prayer can mercy's door unlock."
9. Jesus, Thy power I fain would feel. Lent.
10. Lord, I feel a carnal mind. Mind of Christ desired.
11. My yielding heart dissolves as wax. On behalf of Arians, &c.
(1.) O Jesus, manifest Thy grace.
12. Not to myself I owe. Private Fast for Conversion.
(1.) Not to myself I owe.
(2.) The Father's grace and love.
13. O that my heart was right with Thee. Dedication to God desired.
14. O Thou that hearest the prayer of faith. Christ the Propitiation.
15. O Thou Who didst Thy glory leave. Thanksgiving for Redemption.
16. O when will Thou my Saviour be. Trust in Jesus.
(1.) Jesus, the sinner's friend Thou art.
17. Redeemer, whither should I flee? Safety in the Cross.
18. Remember, Lord, that Jesus bled. Pardon.
19. Sinners, the voice of God regard. Redemption. Revised text in Gospel Magazine, 1774, p. 448.
(1.) Weary sinner, keep thine eyes.
(2.) Weeping soul, no longer mourn.

ii. From the Gospel Magazine.

20. Compared with Christ, in all besides. Christ All in All. Feb. 1772.
21. Eternal Hallelujahs Be to the Father given. Holy Trinity. Dec. 1774.
22. Fly, my soul, this fair and unbelief. Receiving Faith. Feb. 1770.
23. How vast the benefits divine. Redemption. Dec. 1774. From this "Not for the works which we have done" is taken.
24. Lo, grace I in heaven but Thee? Christ All in All. Feb. 1772. From this "If my Lord Himself reveal" is taken.
25. Jesus, insensibly the same. Jesus, the True Vine. June, 1771.

All these hymns, together with "O precious blood, O glorious death" (Death of Christ), are in D. Sedgwick's reprint of Toplady's Hymns, &c., 1860. We have met with several other hymns to which Toplady's name is appended, but for this we can find no authority whatever. [J. J.]

Tost'd with rough winds, and faint with fear. Elizabeth Charles, née Rundle. (Consolation in Affliction.) Appeared in her Three Wakings, &c., 1835, p. 190. It was given in an abbreviated form of 6 st. of 3 l., and the refrain, "'Tis I, be not afraid," in the Hy. Comp., 1870, and again in other collections. The slight change in the text of st. iii. was made by Mrs. Charles. [J. J.]

Tournemine, Nicolas le, was born of poor parents at Rouen, April 30, 1640. The uncommon ability he displayed at an early age attracted the notice of M. du Fossez, Maître des Comptes at Rouen, who sent him to the Jesuits' college at Paris, where he made remarkable progress in his studies. He then retired to Toursine, where he passed some time with a pious ecclesiastic in the practice of prayer and penitential exercises. His friend, observing that he had a gift for preaching, advised him to return to Rouen. This he did, and adopted the clerical profession, and was in 1692 admitted to priests' orders by special dispensation, though still under canonical age. He subsequently removed to Paris, where he employed his time in study, and in 1675 obtained the prize given by the French Academy for prose composition. He was appointed to a canonry at the Sainte-Chapelle, and later became prior of Villiers aux Fees in the diocese of Sens, and d. suddenly on the 28th Nov., 1686. He was the author of several theological and religious works, and wrote some hymns [see Index of Authors and Translators], which were inserted in the Chanter Breviary of 1686, and the Paris Breviary of 1680. In the Chanter Brev., 1686, his signature is "N.T.P.R." [G. A. C.]

Tract. Verses of Holy Scripture, originally always of the Psalms, sung after the Gradual instead of the Alleluia, in all masses from Septuagesima till Easter Eve in the Roman liturgy. The Tract was so called either because it was sung "tractim" by the cantor or cantors, without the interruption of other voices, or because, according to Durandus, it was sung in a slow, sad voice. In some of the later English Missals the Tract assumed a metrical form, as e.g. the following:—

"Dulce nomen Jesu Christi,
Fulix omen freeus tristi
Jucundans mentem pubis;
Tollit luctum, affert fructum,
Et coronat in perfectum
Purgat cor a nubilo.
Tam peccatum quam reatum
Condonatum, cujus gratia,
Reddit animæ lætitiæ
Hoc in mente, hoc in ore
Mala terit, gravem gerit,
Flenum set proscribum;
Non delendit, non accendit,
Non intendit, et extendit
Nisi ad Christi gloriam.
Nominatum, invocatum,
Hinc nostrum, hinc datum,
Semper sonat dulcitur."

This Tract in the Masses of the Name of Jesus is found in three MS. Missals now in the Bodleian, viz., a Sarum (Barlow 5), a York (Univ. Coll.), and a Hereford (Univ. Coll.), each dating about the end of the 14th cent. [F. E. W.]

Tregelles, Samuel Prideaux, LL.D., a Quaker, was b. at Wodehouse Place, Falmouth, Cornwall, Jan. 29 (sometimes dated Jan. 30), 1813, and educated at the Falmouth Grammar School. From 1838 to 1844, he was employed in the Neath Abbey Iron Works. In 1836 he became a private tutor in Falmouth. His deep interest in biblical studies developed in an earnest desire to produce the most perfect edition of the Greek Testament it was possible to publish. The first specimens of his work were pub. in 1838, and the first instalments of his task for public use, in 1844. His Greek Testament thus begun was pub. in parts, Pt. vi. appearing in 1872. The work was hindered by his two attacks of paralysis (1861 and 1870); and the Prolegomena had to be added by Dr. Hort and A. W. Streane in 1879. Dr. Tregelles received a Civil List Pension for some years. He was one of the Revisers of the New Testament, but ill-health prevented him from taking an active part in the work. He d. at Plymouth April 24, 1875. His hymn-writing began, so far as we can gather, before 1837, and extended to 1861 or later. The earliest were pub. in the Plymouth Brethren's Hymns for the Poor of the Flock, 1838; their Psalms, Hymns, and Spiritual Songs, 1842; and their Few Hymns and some Spiritual Songs, selected, 1856. Some also were contributed to Dr. F. Maurice's Ch. of England Choral Hymn-Book, 1851, in which they are marked as having been supplied in "ms." Some of those so marked were, however, in print before. His hymns now in C. U. include the following, the date of each as given being that of the collection named in which it appeared:—

1. Father, we Thy children bless Thee. Thanksgiving for Divine Mercies; and the Second Advent Hymn Book. By Few Hymns of 1856, st. iv., v. were given in the latter as "Father, O how vast the blessing."
2. Holy Saviour, we adore Thee. The Second Advent Hymn Book (1838).
3. Lord Jesus, we believing. Peace in Jesus (1851).
4. O God of grace, our Father. Praise for Hearing Prayer (1842).
5. O look not on the Cross of Christ. Christ the One Oblation (1861).
6. The gloomy night will [shall] soon be past. Hymns contributed (1842).
7. Thou God of grace, our Father. Praise for Hearing Prayer (1842).
8. Thou, Lord of all, on earth hast dwelt. Passion-tide (1847).
9. Thou, O God, Thy love commendest. Complete in Jesus (1842).
10. Thy Name alone, O Lord, we own. Jesus, our Strength and Safety (1865).
11. Thy Name we bless, Lord Jesus. Jesus, the Name we call (1839).
12. Thy name, O Lord, Thy praise to sing. The Sacrifice of Praise (1861).
13. 'Tis sweet to think of those at rest. The Dead in Christ; or, All Saints (1842).
14. 'Twas the Holy Ghost who taught us. Passion-tide (1847). Appeared in the Hymns for the Flock, 1838.
15. Worthy the Lamb is now the song. Consecration of Saints (1861).

The use of Dr. Tregelles's hymns is mainly confined to the Plymouth Brethren; and taken as a whole they are marked by no ordinary features of excellence. [J. J.]

Trench, Richard Chenevix, D.D., was b. in North Frederick Street, Dublin, on Sept. 9th, 1807, during a visit of his parents of some months to Ireland. His father was Richard Trench, 6th son of Frederick Trench, of Woodlands, co. Galway; his mother Melesina, only grandchild and heiress of Richard Chenevix, Bishop of Waterford, and widow of Colonel St. George. On his mother's side he was almost purely French, the grandfather of Bishop Chenevix of Waterford, Philip Chenevix of d'Ejoly of Lomine having only taken refuge in England on the revocation of the Edict of Nantes. The Huguenot refugee families married for a long time within themselves, and in Mrs. Richard Trench, four distinct foreign strains were blended. Her sons (the Archbishop and his brothers, besides his two sisters) were the only descendants of the Refugee Philip, either in the male or female line, all the other branches having come to an end. Trench's home in childhood was Elm Lodge, close to the village of Dundalcan, not far from Southampton. In February, 1816 he proceeded to Twyford School, and in 1819 to Harrow, where he won great distinction. In October 1823 he was entered at Trinity College, Cambridge. His mother's correspondence is full of references to a little periodical called The Translator, begun in 1825, or immediately on his becoming an undergraduate. She was his ardent co-worker both as contributor and critic. In 1826 he had acquired Spanish, and in that year applied himself to preparing and publishing a volume of Miscellanies, of which the "profits were to be sent to the committee formed for the relief of the exiled Spaniards." On May 27th, 1827, his mother died at Malvern. The Letters and Memorials (1888) give vivid and exciting details of his continuous interest and daring personal service and sacrifice on behalf of Spain. It was during the winter days of 1828–30 that the consultations and schemes respecting Spain were discussed in John Sterling's apartment. Robert Boyd, Trench's cousin, threw himself and his entire fortune into the plot by purchasing a small ship in the Thames and storing it with arms, in which General Torrijos and fifty picked Spaniards were to sail for the new adventure of the Golden Fleece. The enterprise ended tragically. Boyd and others perished by the inevitable vengeance of the Spanish sovereign when captured. By the hand of God, Trench was safe in Gibraltar. Till far up in young manhood he was undecided as to his calling, Law rather than Divinity colouring his thoughts and plans. He left Cambridge on February 1st, 1829, and rejoined his widowed father at Elm Lodge, near Southampton. He married, at the Abbey Church, Bath, on May 31st, 1832, his own cousin, Frances Mary Trench, daughter of his uncle, Francis Trench (2nd son of Frederick Trench, of Woodlawn, co. Galway, Ireland, and next brother to the 1st Lord Ashtown). On October 7th, 1832, he received Deacon's Orders in Norwich Cathedral at the hands of the aged Bishop Bathurst of Norwich. His first curacy was at Hadleigh, Norfolk, with H. J. Rose. He was ordained priest early in July, 1833, by Bishop Sumner, of Winchester. His pub. in 1833 The Story of Justin Martyr, and other Poems (Moxon). This was (practically) his first book. In 1838 followed Sabbation, Honor Neale, and other Poems, with Notes. In 1840 appeared his first great work, Notes on the Parables of our Lord, subsequently companioned with Notes on the Miracles of our Lord (1846). In 1841 "the loving discipline of pain" visited his heart and health by the death of his eldest born, a deep sorrow which gave its saddest and finest inspiration to his Elegiac Poems. A third volume of poetry, Poems from Eastern Sources, the Sleepless Prince, and other Poems, was pub. early in 1841; and a fourth, Genoveva, later in the same year. Early in 1843 he delivered his Five Sermons before the University of Cambridge, pub. in 1844. In 1844 also was pub. Exposition of the Sermon on the Mount, drawn from the Writings of St. Augustine, with Observations. In this same year he became Vicar of Itchen Stoke. In 1845 he delivered a lecture "On Language as an instrument of Knowledge," which expanded into his famous and suggestive Study of Words. In 1846 he was appointed Professor of Divinity at King's College, London, later changed into "Professor of the Exegesis of the New Testament," which he held until 1858. The friendship between Trench and Maurice here was very beautiful. In 1846 also came the Hulsean Lectures, their subject being Christ "the Desire of all Nations." In 1849 appeared his Sacred Latin Poetry. This is an inestimable book. In 1852, Lessons on Proverbs and Study of Words, and in 1855 English Past and Present appeared. His Synonyms of the New Testament (1854) was a permanent contribution and inspiration to Philology and Theology. Life's Lessons: the Great Theatre of the World, from the Spanish of Calderon, with an Essay on his Life and Genius, was pub. in 1856; 2nd ed. in 1880. The Crimean war drew from him his finest verse, Poems written during the Russian War (1854-55). In 1856 he was appointed Dean of Westminster. In 1861 was pub. his Commentary on the Epistles to the Seven Churches in Asia. On New Year's Day, 1864, he was consecrated Archbishop of Dublin in Christ Church Cathedral. He instantly took a foremost place in the regard of the entire community. His pub. Sermons, including his Studies on the Gospels (1867), are amongst the most thoughtful and quietly eloquent in our language; as are his Lectures on Plutarch (1873), and others. Timoleon (1881) was his last poem. His final confirmation was in St. Bartholomew's Church on May 16th, 1884. On November 28th, 1884, he resigned his Archbishopric. He d. in London, March 28, 1886. Few have left behind them a more stainless, a more loveable, a more enviable memory. He was sweetness and light embodied." [A. B. G.]

In the strict sense of the word Archbishop Trench, although a poet, was not a hymn-writer. Some of his poetical pieces are used as hymns, but their use is limited. These include:—

1. High thoughts at first, and visions high. Ordination. Appeared in his Story of Justin Martyr, &c., 1838, p. 67, st. vi. of 8 l., and entitled "Early days, entering the Ministry." (Poems, 1864, i. p. 38.) Its use as a hymn is in an abbreviated form.
2. I say to thee, do thou repent. Nativity in Divine Guidance. Pub. in his Story of Justin Martyr, &c., 1838, p. 55, st. xi. of 8 l., and entitled "Nativity," and reprinted, 1864, i. p. 146. It is headed, "The Kingdom of God."
3. Let all men know that all men move. Love of God. Pub. in his Story of Justin Martyr, &c., 1838, p. 55, st. x. of 8 l., and entitled "Love of God." In Hedge's Comp. Hym., 1884, and others.
4. Lord, weary of a painful way. Morning. Appeared in his Sabbation, Honor Neale, &c., 1838, p. 117; and Poems, 1865, i. p. 307.
5. Lord, what we are. O Lord, hast we. Divine Love. Pub. in his Story of Justin Martyr, &c., 1838, p. 55, in 14 l., and in his Poems, 1865, i. p. 166.
6. Poor forth the oil, poor boldly forth. The Law of Love. Appeared in his Sabbation, Honor Neale, and other Poems, 1838, p. 55, st. iv. of 8 l., and entitled "The Law of Love," also in his Poems, 1865, p. 166, and ed. 1885, i. p. 216. From this is taken the hymn, "Make channels for the streams of love."
7. Some murmur when their sky is clear. Contentment. Pub. in his Sabbation, Honor Neale, and other Poems, 1838, p. 118, in 2 sts. of 8 l., in his Poems, 1865, p. 113, and ed. 1885, i. p. 149.
8. Thou inevitable day. Death. From his Sabbation, Honor Neale, &c., 1838, p. 39, in 14 sts. of 3 l., and headed, "The Day of Death." Also in Poems, 1865, i. p. 213. [J. J.]

Trestrail, Elizabeth Ryland, née Dent, was b. at Milton, near Northampton, March 24, 1818, and is great-granddaughter of the Rev. John Collet Ryland, A.M., grandniece of the Rev. John Ryland, D.D. (v. Ryland, John), and sister of Miss Caroline Dent (p. 288, ii.). Her first husband was John Roby, banker, of Rochdale. In 1838 she was wrote the Sketch of the Life & Character of John Roby, prefixed to his Legendary & Poetical Remains (1839). In 1841 Mrs. Roby published, anonymously, her sister of a small vol. of conciliatory verses printed for private circulation, and entitled Our Darling (1841). Only one of Mrs. Trestrail's hymns is in C. U.:—"Hallelujah! Praise the Lord" (Praise). It was written in 1841, and published in the Wesleyan Methodist Magazine in January, and in No. 5 in the Rev. Pr. Ser. for School and Home, 1852. [W. R. S.]

Trinitas, Unitas, Deitas aeterna. (Trinity Sunday.) Given by Mone, No. 6, from a Munich MS. of the 12th cent. and arranged in 26 lines, and repeated in Daniel v. p. 206, and Kehrein, No. 161. Tr. as:—

Trinity, Unity, Deity Eternal [Eternity]. [Tr.] the Neale, in the enlarged ed. of his Hymns of the Eastern Church (with alterations), 1871; the Hymnary, 1872, &c. [W. A. S.]

Triodion. [Τριῴδιον.] [Greek Hymnody, § xiv., xvi. 10.]

Τριῳδογρηγόρ Μονάχ θεαρχικῆ. [Metrophanes of Smyrna, p. 722. i.]

Trisagion. [Tpurâyiov.] [Greek Hymnody, § x. 7.]

Tritton, Joseph, was b. at Battersea, Surrey, Sept. 21, 1819, educated at Charterhouse and other schools, and was for upwards of 40 years a partner in the banking-house of Barclay, Bevan, Tritton & Co., Lombard Street. He was a member of the Baptist Denomination, and for many years Treasurer of the Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, and of a number of other important philanthropic and religious institutions. During the latter part of life his residence was Bloomfield, Norwood. He d. May 1, 1887. Mr. Tritton was for many years an occasional writer of hymns and poems. Two of the hymns sung at the opening of the Metropolitan Tabernacle, in 1861, were composed by him for that occasion, and afterwards incorporated by Mr. Spurgeon in O. O. H. Bk., 1866. These are :—

1. Sing to the Lord with heart and voice. Opening of a Place of Worship.
2. Spirit of glory and of grace. Opening of a Place of Worship.

A third hymn in the same book,

3. Behold He comes! the glorious King (Sacred Advent), was composed in 1856. In the 1880 Supplement to the Bap. Ps. and Hys. are two hymns prepared for use at meetings of the Baptist Missionary Society in 1880. These are :—

4. Head of the Church and Lord of all. Missions.
5. Lord God of our salvation. Missions.

Other hymns of merit by Mr. Tritton have appeared from time to time in The Missionary Herald. [W. R. S.]

Triumphe! plaudant maria. [Ascension.] Probably of the 17th cent. Included in the Sirenes nympholeptæ, Cologne, 1678, p. 108 : the Festivitatum canticuma catholicorum, Cologne, 1722, p. 114 ; in the Hymnodia sacra, Münster, 1750, p. 118 ; and in Inwid ii. p. 365. Tr. 108 :—

1. Sing victory, O ye seas and lands. By J. M. Neale, in his Mediæval Hys., 1851, p. 157.
2. With all your floods attending. By H. Kynaston, in his Occasional Hys., 1862, p. 106, and the Hymnary, 1872.
3. O clap your hands, ye oceans. By E. F. Littledale, in the People's H., 1867, with the signature, "B. T." In The St. Michael's Hyl., Teignmouth, it begins, "O clap your hands, great ocean." [J. M.]

Troparia. [Τροπάρια.] [Greek Hymnody, § xvi. 10.]

Troparium. The Tropary was a mediæval service-book, of which specimens exist from the 9th century onwards. It contained the Tropings or forms prefixed to or inserted into the Introit, Kyries and other choral parts of the service. It also contained the Sequences or Proses ad Sequentiam, an extension of the last syllable of the Alleluia preceding the Gospel. These non-scriptural and complimental additions to the Ordinary and Canon of the Mass mostly fell out of use in the thirteenth century. Those which survived became incorporated in the Gradual or Missal. But the word Troparium still appears from the 15–16th century, with an altered meaning, as a book merely containing the Sequences. A 13th cent. MS. Troparium in the Bodleian Library (Rawl. c. 90), imperfect at the commencement, contains 103 Sequences, and another Bodleian MS. of the same date (Laud, Misc. 524) contains 63. See also Brit. Mus MS. Add. 5916, 15th cent., and article on Sequences. [F. E. W.]

Trope. Tropes were short verses prefixed, or added to, or introduced into the middle of the Introit, Gloria in Excelsis, and other choral parts of High Mass, and added much to the intricacy of the service. They were certainly in use in the tenth century, perhaps earlier, but they were entirely exiled from the Roman Missal in the revision under Pius V. They seem occasionally to have taken a metrical shape. The following, given as among the Tropes in an ancient English Troparium of the recently baptized, at Exeter or Pentecost, is an instance.

> "Aestu vocem hymni
> Qui satis vere digni
> Et hac lauda nocte
> Consendite ad fecem," etc.
> Primitiæ Liturgicæ, ii. 615.

[F. E. W.]

True Bread of Life, in pitying [tender] mercy given. H. Bonar. [Holy Communion.] Pub. in his Hys. of Faith and Hope, 2nd series, 1861, in 5 st. of 4 l., and entitled "The True Bread." It is usually given in 4 st., and sometimes as "True Bread of Life, in tender mercy given," as in T. Darling's Hys. for the Ch. of England, 1887. [J. J.]

Try us, O God, and search the ground. C. Wesley. [Prayer for Unity.] Pub. in the Wesley Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1742, in 4 parts, as follow :—

i. Try us, O God, and search the ground. This part is in 9 st. of 4 l. It was included, with the omission of st. v., in G. Whitefield's Ps. & Hys., 1753, p. 191 ; M. Madan's Ps. & Hys., 1760, No. 122 ; and in later collections in the present day. The full form of the text was given in the New Ps. & Hys., 1754, No. 68, with the omission of st. iii. and some alterations. In the same year, Methodist H. Bk. Notes, 1904, p. 316, is specially interesting as setting forth the spiritual use of these stanzas.

ii. Jesu, all power is given to Thee. This is in 8 st. of 4 l., and is in full in the Hys. for the Ch. of England, 1887, No. 67.

iii. God of our life, at Thy command. In 6 st. of 4 l. Not in C. U.

iv. Jesu, united by Thy grace. This part, in 9 st. of 4 l., was included in the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, No. 490, and has also passed in full or in part into several collections in G. Britain and America. In the Hys. for the Church of Christ, Boston, 1853, st. i. and iii. are given as "Father, united by Thy grace."

There are also the following centos in C. U. :—

1. The sacred bond of perfectness. This, in the American Methodist Episc. Hymns, 1849, &c., is compounded of st. ii. and iv. of the original hymn.

2. Jesus, the Son, Thy Spirit and Bride. This, in the Brist. Church Hymnal, 1871, is thus composed : st. ii. and iii. are from Pt. i. (st. iii., iv.), and st. i. and iv. are based upon thoughts and expressions scattered through the four parts.

The complete hymn is headed "A Prayer for persons joined in Fellowship." Full orig. text in P. Works, 1868–72, ii. p. 136. [J. J.]

Tu Christe nostrum gaudium. [Ascension.] This is a portion of "Aeterne Rex altissime" (q. v. ii.), and begins with line 37. It is in the Sarum and Aberdeen Breviaries ; in Inwid i. No. 102, and Mone, No. 172. Its use was on the Vigil of the Ascension, and Daily up to Pentecost. Tr. as :—

1. O Christ, Thou art our joy and light. By J. D. Chambers, in his Psalter, 1852, p. 209. In this Lauds Syon, 1857, p. 191, and the Hymner, 1882, it begins "O Christ, Thou art our joy" (Divine). "O Christ, our joy, goes up on high. D. T. Morgan, in H. A. & M., 1875, and his Hys. and Other Poetry of the Latin Church, 1880.

Other trs. are :—

1. Lord Christ, our living Joy art Thou. W. J. Rees, 1853-65.
2. O Christ, the source of our delight. J. C. Earle, in C. Bridges's Annus Sanctus. 1884. [J. J.]

Tu qui velatus facie. [Pentecostals.] Mone, Nos. 87–91, gives this from a 14th cent. Reichenau ms. where it bears the title "Hours of the Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ, compiled from the Prophets and the New Testament by the blessed Pope Urban." (The pope meant may possibly be Urban the 4th, pope 1261–1264 ; more probably Urban the 5th, b. 1309, d. 1370.) It is in five parts, viz. : i. "Tu qui velatus facie," for Prime ; ii. "Hora qui duras tertia," for Tierce ; iii. "Crucem pro nobis subiit," for Sext ; iv. "Beata Christi passio," for None ; v. "Qui jacuisti mortuus," for Compline. Mone's text is repeated by Inwid iv. p. 220, who adds that an office with this hymn was in use at Halberstadt till the beginning of this century. [W. A. B.]

The trs. of this hymn into English, and as divided for divine service, are :—

i. Tu qui velatus facie. Primes.

1. Thou, Who though veiled Thy glorious face. By J. D. Chambers, in his Lauds Syon, 1857, p. 164.
2. Thou, Who Thy glorious face didst veil. By Elizabeth Charles, in her Voice of Christian Life in Song, 1858, p. 174.
3. Son of Righteousness, blest face. By F. Oakeley, in his Devotional Commemoration of the Most Adorable Passion and Precious Blood of Jesus Christ. 1862.

ii. Hic est dextra tua, Pater.

1. Thou Who at the third hour of dread. By J. D. Chambers, as above, p. 165, with the opening line given as "Tu qui hac hora tertia."
2. Thou, Who at the third hour wast led. By Mrs. E. Charles, as above, p. 171.
3. Who to Go, along the road. By F. Oakeley, as above.

iii. Crucem pro nobis subiit. Sext.

1. The Cross for us the Saviour bore. By J. D. Chambers, as above, p. 166.
2. The Cross for us our Lord did bear. By Mrs. E. Charles, as above, p. 171.
3. The Cross for us our Jesus bear. By F. Oakeley, as above.

iv. Beata Christi passio. None.

1. Thou, Who Thy blissful Passion over. J. D. Chambers, as above, p. 166.
2. Christ's blessed Passion set us free. By Mrs. E. Charles, as above, p. 175.
3. Redeeming Christ, we pray to Thee. By F. Oakeley, as above.

v. Qui jacuisti mortuus. Compline.

1. Thou sinless King, Who stark and dead. By J. D. Chambers, as above, p. 167.
2. O Jesu, Who upon dead, the King. By Mrs. E. Charles, as above, p. 177.
3. Who in the grave. By F. Oakeley, as above.

Of these trs. those by Mrs. Charles are in Turing's Coll., 1861, and those by Canon F. Oakeley, in Skinner's Daily Service Hyl. 1864. [J. J.]

The Compline hymn "Qui jacuisti mortuus" has also been rendered into English through the German as follows :—

Der du Herr Jesu, Kuh und Rast. Included in the Königsberg G. B., 1650 (prefixed 1643), p. 197, in 3 st., marked "Nach dem Lateinischen." It is also in Crüger's Praxis, 1661, No. 138, the Ges. B. d., 1841, No. 99, &c. The trs. in C. U. are :—

1. Lord Jesu, Who with holy rest. In full, as No. 99 in Theodor Fliedner's Ges. B., 1844.
2. Lord Jesus, Who hast rest and peace. A full and good tr., by Miss Winkworth, in her Chor. Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 58, and her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 55. Repeated in the Irish Church Hyl., 1869 and 1873 ; Boardman's Sel., Philadelphia, 1861 ; Pennsylvania Luth. Ch. Bk., 1868 ; Ohio Luth. Hymnal, 1880, &c. [J. M.]

Tu Trinitatis Unitas. St. Gregory the Great ? [Friday. Morning.] (St ii. is "Jam [Nam] lucidis consurgimus.") Mone, No. 279, and i. p. 372, gives this as probably by St. Gregory (it is not assigned to him by the Benedictine editors), and cites it as in a ms. of the 8th cent. at Trier, one of the 9th cent., also at Trier, &c. By Hincmar in his De sed et non tribul Dolibus, 857, it is ascribed to St. Ambrose ; but it is not assigned to him by the Benedictine editors nor by Biraghi in his Inni sinceri e Carmi di Sant' Ambrogio, 1862. Inwid gives the text at i. No. 23, and at iv. p. 38 cites it as in a Rheinau ms. of the 10th cent. ranking it as one of the hymns of the 7th or 8th cent. Among the British Museum mss. it is found in three 11th cent. Hymnaries of the English Church (Vesp. D. xii. f. 22 ; Jul. A. vi. f. 28 b ; Harl. 2961 f. 224) ; in an 11th cent. Monastic Hymnarium (Add. 30851 f. 176 b), an 11th cent. Monastic Breviary (Add. 30848 f. 78 b), &c. It is in a ms. of the 11th cent. at Corpus Christi, Cambridge (291, page 290) ; in two mss. of the 11th cent at St. Gall, Nos. 387, 413 ; and in the Latin Hys. of the Anglo-Saxon Ch. (Sources Society), 1851, is printed from an 11th cent. ms. at Durham (B. iii. 32 f. 8 b). It is included in the Roman (Venice, 1478, and the revision of 1632), Sarum, York, Aberdeen, Paris of 1643, and other Breviaries, as a hymn on Friday at Matins and Nocturns. The text is also in Wackernagel i., No. 6, Hymnarium Sarisb., 1851, p. 34 ; in Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865 ; and G. M. Dreves's Hymnarium Moissiacense, 1888, from a 10th cent. ms. See also note on following hymn. [J. M.]

Translations in C. U. :—

1. Dread Unity in Trinity. By W. J. Copeland, in his Hys. for the Week, &c., 1848, p. 46. This is given in the Hymnary, 1872, in an abridged and altered form, as "Dread Trinity in Unity."
2. O Three in One and One in Three. In the Antiphoner and Grail, 1880, p. 20.

Translations not in C. U. :—

1. Thou great mysterious Three and One. Primer, 1706.
2. Holy Being, One and Three. Sp. S. Ment. 1697.
3. Thou Unity of Trinity. J. D. Chambers, in his Psalter, 1852.
4. May the dread Three in One, Who sways. Card. Newman. 1853.
5. Dread Trinus Mystery. Hymnarium Anglicanum. 1844.
6. O Thou, Who dost all nature sway. E. Caswall, 1849.
7. Thou Trinity of Unity. J. D. Chambers. 1857.
8. O Three in One, eternal Cause. T. Prayers. 1866.
9. Thou Godhead One in Persons Three. Primer, 1706. [J. J.]

Tu Trinitatis Unitas. [Trinity Sunday.] This casto was added to the Roman Breviary at the revision of 1568, and is found at p. 436 of the ed. pub. at Rome in 1570, as the hymn at Lauds on Trinity Sunday. It consists of st. i. of the hymn noted above, and of st. iii. of the hymn "Æterna cœli gloria" ("Orius refulget lucifer") ; with an added doxology. This form is repeated in the 1632 and later eds. of the Roman Breviary, and in Card.

Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865. Tr. as:—

1. Thou great mysterious Three and One. Primer, 1706.
2. Three in One, and One in Three, Sov'reign of the earth and sea. Ps. & Hymns, 1741.
3. Thou Trinity in Unity. Bp. J. Williams, 1845.
4. Thrice - holy One. All-glorious Trine. W. J. Copeland. 1846.
5. O Thou! Who dost all nature sway. E. Caswall, 1849.
6. Thou Three in One, Who reignest. W. J. Blew, 1852-58.
7. Thou Godhead One in Persons Three. J. Wallace, 1874.
8. Blest Three in One, and One in Three. R. Campbell, circa 1185, from the Campbell mss. into O. Shipley's Hymns Sanctæ. 1864.

[J. M.]

Tuba Domini, Paulo, maxima. Peter Abelard. [Consecration of St. Paul.] Cousin in his ed. of Abelard's Opera, Paris, 1849, vol. i. p. 320, gives this from a ms. in the Royal Library at Brussels. This ms is of the 12th cent. and is probably the collection of hymns which Abelard prepared for the use of the Abbey of the Paraclete, of which Heloise was abbess. The text is given with full notes in Trench, ed. 1864, p. 207. Also in Neale's Sequentiæ, 1852, p. 98, Daniel v. p. 234, and Kehrein, No. 283. It is tr. as "Mightiest of our militant Lord," in the Monthly Packet, 1869. The tr. which in some copies of the Hy. Noted is marked as from this hymn, is really from the "Paulo doctor egregie": p. 987, l.

[J. M.]

Turner, Daniel, M.A., was b. at Blockwater Park, near St. Albans, March 1, 1710. Having received a good classical education, he for some years kept a boarding-school at Hemel Hempstead, but in 1741 he became pastor of the Baptist church, Reading. Thence he removed, in 1748, to Abingdon, and continued pastor of the Baptist church there until his death on Sept. 5, 1798. He was much respected throughout his denomination, and was the friend and correspondent of Robert Robinson, Dr. Rippon, and other eminent men of that day. He probably received the honorary degree of M.A. from the Baptist College, Providence, Rhode Island. Turner was the author of works on Open Communion and Social Religion; also Set Short Meditations on Select Portions of Scripture, His Divine Songs, Hymns and other Poems, were pub. in 1747, and his work, Poems Devotional and Moral, was printed for private circulation in 1794. Four of his hymns are in the Bristol Bap. Coll. of Ash & Evans (1769), and eight (including the four already named) in Rippon's Bap. Sel. 1787). Only the following are now in C. U.:—

1. Fain adds new charms to earthly bliss (1787). Excellence of Faith.
2. Jesus, my all all compassion (1769). Sinner's appeal to Christ.
3. Lord of hosts, how lovely fair (1787). Divine Worship. Altered in Baptist Ps. and Hymns, 1843, to "Lord of hosts, how bright, how fair."

The well-known hymn "Beyond the glittering starry skies," in its enlarged form of 28 stanzas, was the joint production of Turner and his brother-in-law, the Rev. J. Fawell, for details of which see p. 139, ii. [W. R. S.]

Turney, Edward, D.D., an American Baptist minister, was b. at Easton (then Weston), Connecticut, May 6, 1816, and graduated at Madison University, New York. He was successively pastor at Hartford and at Granville, Ohio (1842-47); Professor of Biblical Criticism, Madison University, 1850, and also of Biblical Literature at Fairmount Theological Seminary, Cincinnati (1853-58). Subsequently he taught in Washington, District of Columbia. He d. at Washington, Sept. 28, 1872. He pub. Baptismal Hymns, 1862, and Memorial Poems and Hymns, 1864. Of these hymns the following are in C. U.:—

1. Blessed Jesus, blessed Jesus. Peace and Rest in Christ.
2. Come to Jesus, little one (1860). Invitation.
3. I will go in the strength of the Lord (circa 1860). Missions. In the Church Missionary Gleaner; English Hymn.
4. O love divine, O matchless grace (1864). Divine Love.

These hymns are in the Memorial Poems & Hymns, 1864. [F. M. B.]

Tuttiett, Lawrence, s. of John Tuttiett, surgeon in the R.N., was b. at Clayton, Devonshire, in 1825, and educated at Christ's Hospital, and King's College, London. It was originally purposed that he should follow the medical profession, but, abandoning it for the ministry, he took Holy Orders in 1848. In 1854 he became vicar of Lea Marston, Warwickshire; and in 1870 incumbent of the Episcopal Church of St. Andrews, Scotland. He was also preferred to a prebendaryship in St. Ninian's Cathedral, Perth, in 1880. He is the author of several manuals of prayers, pub by the S. P. C. K., and other prose works, and also of—

(1) Hymns for Churchmen, 1854; (2) Counsels of a Godfather, 1861; (3) Hymns for the Children of the Church, 1862; (4) Gems of Thought on the Sunday Services, 1881; (5) Through the Clouds: Thoughts in Plain Verse, 1886.

From these works and other sources the following hymns have come into C. U.:—

1. As surely in the glowing west. Evening. Pub. in his Hymns for Churchmen, 1854, No. 3, and in Mrs. C. Brock's Children's H. Bk., 1881.
2. Come, our Father's voice is calling. Confirmation. Pub. in his Hymns for the Children of the Church, 1862, in 8 st. of 4 l. It passed into Mrs. C. Brock's Children's H. Bk., 1881.
3. Grant us Thy light that we may know. Divine Guidance. Included in his Gems of Thought, &c., 1881, and in Mrs. C. Brock's Children's H. Bk., 1881; the Universal H. Bk., 1885, et begins, "O grant us light that we may know."
4. I come, O Father kind. Holy Communion.
5. In, like a bride, in pure array. Septuagesima. Pub. in his Hymns for Churchmen, 1854, No. 1. Holy Baptism. Pub. in his Hym. for Churchmen, 1854, in 4 st. of 8 l. It has passed into several collections, including the S. P. C. K. Church Hym., 1871; Thring's Coll., 1882, &c.
6. Now, eternal Father, bless. Holy Baptism. In his Hym. for the Children of the Church, 1862, in 2 st. of 8 l., and Mrs. Brock's Children's H. Bk., 1881. In the latter it is attributed to Bp. Mackagan in error.
7. O happy Christian children. Divine Protection. Pub. in his Hym. for the Children of the Church, 1862, and Mrs. Brock's Children's H. Bk., 1881, &c.
8. O Jesu, ever present. The Good Shepherd. Pub. in his Gems of Thought, 1881; the S. P. C. K. Church Hym., 1871, and many others.
9. Sometimes gracious, sometimes gracious. The Good Shepherd. In his Hym. for the Children of the Church, 1862; Mrs. Brock's Children's H. Bk., 1881, &c.
10. Sometimes o'er our pathway. In times of Trouble. From his Hym. for the Children of the Church, 1862, in 3 st. of 8 l., and Mrs. Brock's Children's H. Bk., 1881.
11. When the world is brightest. Litany to the Saviour. Pub. in his Through the Clouds, &c., 1886, in 12 st. of 4 l., with the note:—"These words were written for the music of a Roman Litany 'Ave Stella Maris.'"
12. Who is this? the long expected. Advent.

In addition to these, several of Mr. Tuttiett's hymns are annotated under their respective first lines (see Index of Authors and Translators), the most popular of which are, "Father, let me dedicate"; "Go forward, Christian soldier"; and "O quickly come, dread Judge of all." Mr. Tuttiett's hymns are characterised by smoothness of rhythm, directness of aim, simplicity of language, and deep earnestness. Those for special services and seasons are of great merit. He d. May 21, 1897. [J. J.]

'Twas on that night when doomed to know. John Morison. [Holy Communion.] First appeared as No. 33 in the Draft Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, 1781, in 6 st. of 6 l., as a version of Matt. xxvi. 20-29. Here st. iv. ll. 1, 2, read:—

"Then taking in his hands the cup,
To Heav'n again he thanks sent up."

The rewriting of these lines was the only change made in the public worship ed. issued in that year to the Church of Scotland, and still in use. The hymn bears a close resemblance to a Latin hymn, beginning, "Nocte qua Christus rabidis Apellis" (Private Prayers, p. 465, Parker Society, 1851, quoted in full in the notes to the larger ed. of the Free Church H. Bk., 1882), by Andreas Ellinger, who was b. 1526 at Orlamünde, on the Saale, a little above Jena, and d. March 12, 1582, at Jena, where he had become Professor of Medicine in 1569. Mr. William Bonar, of London, considered it a tr. from Ellinger by William Archibald (ordained parish minister of Unst, Shetland, in 1733, d. there March 7, 1785), and that Archibald's text was altered by Morison for the Translations and Paraphrases. In the markings by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 998, ii.), it is ascribed to Morison. It is very generally used in Scotland as a Communion hymn. Included in Burgess & Money's Ps. & Hys., 1857; Common Praise, 1879; Church Praise, 1883, and other collections; and in full and unaltered, as No. 35 in the Free Church H. Bk., 1882. The resemblance to Watts's "'Twas on that dark and doleful night," in his Hymns, 1709, Bk. iii., No. 1, often referred to, is but slight. [J. M.]

'Twas silence in Thy temple, Lord. J. Keble. [Ordination.] Dated March 29, 1828, and pub. in the 4th ed. of his Christian Year, 1828, in 13 st. of 4 l. The following recites therefrom are in C. U.:—

1. Spirit of Christ, Thine earnest given (st. viii.). In Snepp's Cong. Hymns, 1884.
2. Spirit of Christ, in earnest given (st. viii.). In the Cong. Church Hymnal, 1887.
3. Spirit of Light and Truth, in Thee (st. x.). In the S. P. C. K. Hys., 1881; the New Cong. H. Bk., 1859, and others.

It is somewhat curious to note that whilst this poem has been thus made use of by Nonconformists, the Church of England, upon whose Office for Ordination it is based, has utterly ignored it in her hymnody for public worship. [J. J.]

Twells, Henry, M.A., was b. in 1823, and educated at St. Peter's College, Cambridge. B.A. 1843, M.A. 1851. Taking Holy Orders in 1849, he was successively Curate of Great Berkhamsted, 1849-51; Sub-Vicar of Stratford-on-Avon, 1851-54; Master of St. Andrew's House School, Malta, Somerset, 1854-56; and Head Master of Godolphin School, Hammersmith, 1856-70. In 1870 he was preferred to the Rectory of Baldock, Herts, and in 1871 to that of Waltham-on-the Wolds. He was Select Preacher at Cambridge in 1873-74, and became an Honorary Canon of Peterborough Cathedral in 1884. Canon Twells is best known by his beautiful evening hymn, "At even ere the sun was set" (p. 88, ii.). He has contributed the following hymns to the 1889 Suppl. Hys. to H. A. & M.:—

1. Glorious is Thy Name, O Lord. The Name of God.
2. Know ye the Lord hath borne away? Ascension.
3. O Lord, Thy tender mercy shown. Epiphany.
4. The voice of God's Creation found me. The Word of God a Light.

[J. J.]

Two brothers freely cast their lot. Card. Newman. [SS. James and John.] Written at sea, June 22, 1833, and printed anonymously in the British Magazine, 1835, vol. viii. p. 661, in 4 st. of 4 l. It was repeated in Lyra Apostolica, 1836, p. 91, and again in Card. Newman's Verses on Various Occasions, 1868. Usually in modern collections it is appropriated to St. James, and a doxology is usually added, as in the Wellington College H. Bk., 1860, or as in the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871. [J. J.]

Two clouds before the summer gale. J. Keble. [St. Luke.] Written April 4, 1822, and 1st pub. in his Christian Year, 1827, in 20 st. of 4 l. It is also given in all subsequent editions of the same work. In 1824 a cento from this poem, consisting of st. ix.-xii., xix. and xx. were given with slight alterations, in Hys. for the Christian Seasons, pub. at Gainsburgh, No. 143, as, "Behold and see Christ's chosen saint." This cento is also given in the same form in Chope's Hymnal, 1852. [J. J.]

Tye, Christopher, MUS. D., b. at Westminster in the reign of Henry VIII. He was celebrated as a musician, and was granted the degree of MUS. B. at Cambridge in 1545. He was musical tutor to King Edward VI., and organist of the Chapel Royal under Queen Elizabeth. Besides composing numerous anthems, he rendered the first fourteen chapters of the Acts of the Apostles into metre, which were set to music by him and sung in Edward 6th's Chapel, and pub. in 1553. [English Hymnody, Early. § VI.] He d. circa 1580. [J. J.]

Tyers, John, was b. at Weymouth, in Leicestershire, Oct. 14, 1758. For a number of years in the earlier part of his life he lived at Loughborough, where he was in business as a lace manufacturer. In 1835 he removed to Leicester, where he d. Sept. 11, 1848. Mr. Tyers was a General Baptist, widely known and much respected, and though never the pastor of a church, was often engaged in preaching. Seven of his hymns are in the 1830 Appendix to the General Baptist Hymn-book, and two as below in the Baptist Hymnal, 1879:—

1. Come, Holy Spirit, from the throne. The Holy Spirit.
2. Great God, avow this house Thine own. Opening a Place of Worship.

Besides these Mr. Tyers wrote a number of hymns for Sunday Schools, which appeared in the school hymn-books of his day, but are no longer in use. He was also the author of a short poem on the Death of the Rev. Robert Smith, of Nottingham (Lond., 1829). [W. R. S.]

Tymms, Thomas Vincent, was b. in Westminster, Jan. 5, 1845. After being educated for the Baptist ministry in Regent's Park College, London, he became, in 1865, pastor at Berwick-upon-Tweed. Thence, in 1868, he removed to Accrington, and in 1869 to London, where he now ministers to an influential congregation in the Downs Chapel, Clapton. In 1885 Mr. Tymms published an able book entitled The Mystery of God: a consideration of some intellectual hindrances to Faith (2nd ed. 1886; a 3rd ed. 1887). Mr. Tymms has written several hymns, which have been printed in the 1880 Supplement to the Bap. Psalms and Hymns, and in the Bap. Ps. and Hys. for School and Home, 1882:—

1. Another Sabbath ended (1880). Sunday Evening.
2. In Bethel, where Thine ark was stored (1881). Dedication of Sunday School.
3. O Lord of glory, be my light (1882). Invocation.
4. Lord, I read of tender mercy (1885). Tenderness of Jesus.

Of these hymns, No. 4, originally in 7 st. of 4 l., was altered and abridged to 5 st. in the Bap. Ps. and Hys. for School and Home. The original st. v.-vii. are:—

5. "But I've waited for some clearer
Token from Thy throne,
Some direct permission whispered unto Me alone.

6. "Now no longer will I linger
Waiting for a sign;
But will boldly come and take
To be Thine.

7. "Lord, receive me to Thy Kingdom
Nor, my gift decline;
Let Thy Spirit softly whisper
Thou art mine."

[W. R. S.]

U

U, in Bridal Bap. Coll., of Ash & Evans, 1st ed., 1769, i.e. Unknown.

Ulrich Anton of Brunswick. [Anton Ulrich.]

Ultreitibus nos undique. C. Coffin. (Friday.) Appeared in the Paris Breviary, 1736, and again in Coffin's Hymni Sacri, of the same year, p. 27. In the Paris and other French Brevs. it is the hymn for Fridays at Lauds from Trinity to Advent. The text is in J. Chandler's Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1837, No. 30, and Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865. Tr. as :—

1. While Thine avenging arrows fall. By I. Williams, in his Hys. tr. from the Parisian Breviary, 1839, p. 35, and again with alterations as "Lord, while Thy chastening arrows fall," in the Hymnary, 1872.

2. Lord, when Thine avenging fact. By G. Rorison, in his Hys. and Anthems, 1851, No. 58. In the 1869 Appendix to the same No. 307, the last 4 st. are given as "Lord, Thy chastening hand we fear."

Other trs. are :—

1. While Thine avenging arrows, Lord. J. Chandler. 1837.
2. When Thou, O God, Thine own elect. J. D. Chambers. 1857.
3. Great Searcher of our hearts, Waiteth Thy, &c. D. T. Morgan. 1866.

[J. J.]

Ὑμνοῦμεν σοῦρον νύμφιε. Synesius, Bp. of Ptolemeis. [Christmas.] This hymn v. of the ten hymns which he wrote at various periods of his life, and dates 375–430. It opens as a hymn for the Nativity, but expands into a prayer to Christ in the fulness of His glory. The Greek text is found in the Anth. Græca Carm. Christ., 1871. From this Mr. Chatfield's tr.:—"Awake, our lute, the child to sing" was made, and first pub. in his Songs and Hymns, &c., 1876, in 18 st. of 4 l. [See Greek Hymnody, § v.] [J. J.]

Ὑμνοῦμέν σου Χριστέ, τὸ σωτήριον Πάθος. [Easter.] The author of these "four Resurrection Stichera of the Octoechus" is unknown. They are found in the Office for the "Sunday of Easter," as reprinted by Dr. Littledale in his Offices of the Holy Eastern Church, 1863, p. 95, together with a blank verse tr. at p. 220. This latter has been rewritten by W. Chatterton Dix, and included in the Lyra Messianica, 1864, p. 277: "Christ, we sing Thy saving passion." This was repeated in the People's H., 1867. [J. J.]

Uneta Crux Dei cruore. Joan Baptiste de Santeüil. [Holy Cross.] This is a cento from three of his hymns, viz.: (1) "Luce quanta so sub una;" (2) "Publici fontes salutis;" and (3) "Totius fons asperitis"—all given in his Hymni Sacri et Novi, 1698, pp. 93–96. It was appointed in the revised Paris Brev., 1736, as the hymn at Lauds at the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. Tr. as "With the precious blood anointed" by "Sister M." for the Lyra Eucharistica, 1863, p. 46. Repeated in the People's H., 1867, and marked as from "Uncta Dei Crux cruore." [J. J.]

Under Thy wings, my God, I rest. Anna L. Waring. [Trust in God.] 1st pub. in her Hys. and Meditations, 1850, No. xv., in 2 st. of 8 l., and based upon the words "I will trust in the covert of Thy wings," Ps. lxi. 4. In the Bap. Ps. & Hys., 1858, it is given as, "Beneath Thy wings, O God, I rest." [J. J.]

Ungrateful sinners, whence this scorn? P. Doddridge. [Despising Divine Mercy.] This hymn is No. 72 in the D. mss., headed, "Of despising Divine Mercy, and treasuring up Wrath. From Rom. ii. 4, 5." In Job Orton's posthumous edition of Doddridge's Hymns, &c., 1755, the same text and heading were given as No. 258: and in J. D. Humphreys's ed. of the same, 1839, No. 283. This hymn was given, with slight changes, in the 1745 Draft of the Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, from a MS. described under Doddridge, P., in Various. In the authorized issue of the Trs. and Paraphs., 1781, the 1745 text was recast, viz., st. i. from 1745; st. ii. from 1745, with MSTR for "spurn"; st. iii. from the 1751 Draft; st. iv. NOW; st. v. Doddridge rewritten; st. vi. NOW. According to the marked list by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 800, b.) this final form of the hymn was by Cameron. [J. J.]

Unheard the dews around me fall. [Peace amid silence.] This hymn appeared anonymously in Dr. G. W. Briggs's (Unitarian)

Hys. for Pub. Worship, Boston, 1845, in 4 st. of 4 l. It was repeated in Hedge and Huntington's Hys. for the Church of Christ, 1853, and later American collections; and in Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1873. In Stopford A. Brooke's Christian Hys., 1881, No. 177, it is slightly altered, and another stanza (iv.) is added. This text is repeated in Hosken's Comp. Hys., 1884, No. 638. [J. J.]

Unitarian Hymnody, American. [American Hymnody, § VII.]

Unitarian Hymnody, Scottish. [Scottish Hymnody, p. 1038, i.]

Unitarian Hymnody, Welsh. [Welsh Hymnody.]

Unitarian Hymnody.—For the right understanding of English Unitarian Hymnody a few words of historical introduction are needed.

I. The English Presbyterians, after close fellowship with the Independents during the early decades of last century, gradually moved into a separate position. Through force of circumstances they had become as much congregational in their system of church government as their neighbours, but after the Salters' Hall controversy of 1719 they were more and more confirmed in the principle of non-subscription to any formulated statement of belief, the Bible only being their standard of authority in matters of doctrine. The consequence was that while the Independents at the close of the century occupied much the same doctrinal position as at the beginning, the Presbyterians had passed through various changes. Their original Calvinism had been abandoned for a form of Arminian doctrine, and then, through the influence of such men as Locke and Dr. Samuel Clarke (their teachers, though not of their fellowship), they gradually adopted the scheme of Arianism. This was held in various degrees of precision, until it passed into Unitarianism, as in the person of Dr. Priestley and those who thought with him, towards the close of the century. A similar change had taken place in a portion of the General Baptist churches, especially in the south of England, and these two groups of non-subscribing congregations were naturally drawn together by their common sympathies. Then there was the congregation of Unitarians organized in Essex Street Chapel, London, by Theophilus Lindsey, on his leaving the Church of England, as early as 1774; and to these have been added during the present century other congregations, either through doctrinal development (as with certain Methodist Societies under Joseph Cooke, early in the century, or later through the influence of Joseph Barker), or through fresh missionary effort on the part of established societies of Unitarians. (Cf. Rev. J. J. Taylor's Retrospect of the Religious Life of England, chap. 3 and 5, and Rev. Brooke Herford's Story of Religion in England, chap. 30, 32 and 33.) In Wales and Ireland there are also similar groups of non-subscribing churches, in which Unitarianism is now the prevailing doctrine. Taken together, all these are popularly known as the Unitarian body of this country, but it is a body which has not always been Unitarian, and is in fact a group of Free Churches, which hold to the fundamental principle of the liberty of prophesying, and impose no restraint of formulated creed on further doctrinal development. It is of the hymn-books and hymn-writers of this group of churches, various in their origin, but united in their broad principles, that the present article is to speak. (See also references to special articles on p. 1191, i.)

2. The marked individualism which from early times has characterized the members of these churches appears also in their hymnbooks. From the time when the various departures from the use of Dr. Watts began, about the middle of the last century, to our own day, there has been a long succession of books, often two or three appearing in a single year; and although occasionally a book has made its way into very general use, there has never been any one recognised hymnal of the whole body of churches. The Psalms and Hymns of Dr. Watts were as popular for some time with the Presbyterians as with the Independents. The Psalms on their appearance, quickly superseded the books previously used, and in many congregations remained in use even to the close of last century, when various other books had already been provided. These others had their origin at first in the needs of special congregations. As the doctrinal movement into Arianism became more decided, and as Watts himself had not lived to make that revision of his work, which his own reported change of opinions would have required, ministers of Presbyterian congregations in various parts of the country took in hand to supply the want. They either made a selection from Watts, with the necessary alterations, or compiled a supplement to the Psalms from his hymns and other sources, or made an entirely new collection, in which, while Watts remained predominant, his psalms and hymns were mingled with those of other writers. This last was the course most frequently adopted.

3. Thus in 1757 there appeared

A Collection of Psalms and Hymns for Divine Worship. London, Printed and sold by J. Noon, at the White Hart, in Cheapside, near the Poultry; Jones Waugh, at the Turk's Head, Lombard Street; and Aaron Ward, in Exeter. This was a collection of 218 psalms and hymns, by Dr. Benjamin Grosvenor, Dr. Samuel Chandler, Dr. Brady, Brown & Doddridge. It is said to have been edited by Rev. Micaiah Towgood, Actin Minister of Jamee's Meeting, Exeter, and was certainly used by his congregation. A second ed., enlarged to 303 psalms and hymns, appeared in 1760, and a third, with 318, in 1763, the year following the first appearance of this book, it was reprinted with alterations and additions for the Presbyterian congregation of Lewin's Mead, Bristol.

In 1760 the Rev. Michael Pope, minister of the Leather Lane Meeting, in London, followed the same example, though in more independent fashion. His book is entitled

Psalms and Hymns for Divine Worship. London: Printed for J. Waugh, in Lombard Street; J. Ward, in Cornhill; E. Bucksted, at the Bible; T. Longman, at the Ship; W. Penner, at the Angel and Bible, in Paternoster Row; and E. Dilly, in the Poultry, 1760, and is a collection of 317 psalms and hymns, of which 178 are by Watts, 38 by Tate & Brady, others by Patrick, Addison, Doddridge, Fawcett, &c. (v.) 101 hymns, nearly half being by Watts, other authors being Doddridge, Addison, A. Pope, Browne, Merrick, Cennick, Wesley, &c. This collection was the first in which the hymns of the four last authors (all Presbyterian ministers) appeared. The alterations and omissions from the psalms and hymns of Watts and others, due to the editor's Arianism, of to his political taste, are considerable.

A similar, though smaller collection, appeared in Liverpool in 1764, edited by Revs. John Brockall and W. Enfield, ministers of the Key Street and Benn's Garden chapels respectively:—

A New Collection of Psalms proper for Christian Worship, in Three Parts. I. Psalms of David, &c. II. Psalms of Praise to God. III. Psalms on Various Subjects. The first part contains 150 psalms, the second 142 psalms, more than half by Watts, and in addition to names mentioned above, Gibbons, Carter, Rowe, Cotton, Ogilvie, Heighcham, and Steele, are represented. There were later editions in 1767 and 1772; in 1787 a new edition appeared, with 30 psalms by Dr. Aikin added to the third part, including some by Mrs. Barbauld and T. Scott. This edition, entitled merely A Collection of Psalms, &c., was reprinted in 1790 and 1806. A few years after it was superseded by new collections separately made for each of the two congregations.

4. Different in character from the above collections was Dr. Enfield's second book:—

Hymns for Public Worship, selected from Various Authors, and intended as a supplement to Dr. Watts's Psalms. Warrington. Printed for the Editor. 1772. Later editions 1781 and 1795. Its character is indicated by the title. There are 160 hymns, more than a third of which are by Watts. Doddridge, Merrick, Jervis, Berridge, Mrs. Barbauld and Thomas Scott hold the chief place. Some of their hymns appeared for the first time in this collection.

5. Different again was a book issued without date, but probably in 1780, by two Presbyterian ministers, Revs. W. Wood and Benj. Carpenter:—

An Abridgment of Dr. Watts's Psalms and Hymns, with some alterations. To which is added an appendix containing some hymns, selected from other Authors, and adapted to Public and Private Worship. In Three Parts. Arranged by Book and by Subjects of Psalmody and Discourse. This collection is notable for the very slight alterations of Watts, when compared with what he has undergone at other hands. It contains 193 psalms and then 110 hymns. Only the last 14 hymns form the appendix, by Addison, Doddridge, Steele, Logan, and Fawcett. It was then considerably enlarged, with no entirely new principle, was issued in 1802 as A Selection of Sacred Poetry, adapted to Public and Private Worship. In Three Parts. Stourbridge. Printed and sold by J. Hessing. The former opponents of 14 hymns is enlarged to a third part, with 100 more hymns by Wesley, Cowper, Bedlome, Merrick, Byrom, &c.

6. These are examples of various departures from the exclusive use of Dr. Watts in the old Presbyterian congregations. The collection of Theophilus Lindsey was of other origin. To the second edition of his

Book of Common Prayer Reformed according to the Plan of the late Dr. Samuel Clarke, prepared in 1774 for use in Essex Street Chapel, he appended—

A Collection of Hymns and Psalms for Public Worship. London. Printed for J. Johnson, No. 72, St. Paul's Church Yard, 1774.

It contains only 127 hymns and psalms, of which more than half are by Watts. In subsequent editions, 1784, 1795, 1805, 1822 (the last two by Rev. T. Belsham), it was gradually enlarged. In the editions of 1805 and 1805, by the Rev. T. Madge, it became practically a new collection.

7. The method of appending hymns to the forms of liturgical service had already been adopted in Liverpool in 1763 by the congregation which met for a few years in the Octagon Chapel. To their "Form of Prayer" was added A New Collection of Psalms, for the use of a Congregation of Protestant Dissenters in Liverpool. It contains only 100 psalms, and is quite distinct from the larger Liverpool Coll. of 1776. Other examples of the same practice are found in the Mansfield Liturgy of 1797, and the Rhythorne Devotional Services for the Public Worship of the One True God, issued in 1812 by Rev. W. Blake (the second), of Crowkerne. The title-page of the Salisbury Forms of Prayer for Public Worship, 1776, also promises a collection of hymns, but apparently it was not issued until two years later, as

A Collection of Hymns for Public Worship; on the general Principles of Natural and Revealed Religion. Salisbury: Printed in the year 1719.

There is more originality shown in this collection than in the other books of the same period. Watts and Doddridge are not so strikingly predominant, there is greater variety of authorship, several hymns by John and Charles Wesley (greatly altered in some cases) being introduced; and "of the originals contained in this collection the greater part consist of peculiar metres, which have been but lately introduced into psalmody." One of the editors, Rev. Benj. Williams, the last minister of the old Presbyterian congregation in Salisbury, was a man of considerable poetical power. He contributed hymns of his own, including, "Holy, holy, holy Lord"; and the adaptations of Methodist hymns, of which in more than one instance only the first line and the metre are adopted, and a quite new hymn written, are full of genuine music. The collection contains 310 hymns, without names of authors.

8. There were other notable collections made by Presbyterian ministers about this time. The Rev. Newcome Cappe, minister at St. Saviour-gate, York, a Biblical critic of clear Unitarian convictions, was the editor of A Selection of Psalms for Social Worship. York: Printed by A. Ward, 1786. On the title-page are printed extracts from Watts's prefaces to his Psalms and Hymns, and a passage from a sermon of Lardner's, expressing the view that in worship only language should be used in which all devout Christians of whatever party could join without offence. The preface elaborates the same position, and contains an "explication of terms and phrases," to aid in the right understanding of the chief theological ideas which are found in the book. There are 279 psalms, arranged in four books, according to metre, long, common, short and particular. Similar collections were that of Rev. George Walker of Nottingham:—

(1) A Collection of Psalms and Hymns for Public Worship, accurated with the disputed doctrines of any sect. Warrington. Printed by W. Eyres. . . 1788, and:—

(2) Psalms and Hymns for the use of the New Meeting in Birmingham. Birmingham: Printed by J. Thompson, 1791.

This latter collection was edited by Rev. William Hawkes and Dr. Joseph Priestley, ministers of the congregation. In the preface they say:—

"Most of the variations from Dr. Watts's compositions are merely verbal, and such as will render the sentiment unexceptionable to Unitarian Christians . . . Propriety of sentiment was the first thing to be attended to; and it is to keep sense only that many of Watts's own verses are indicted for the little offence they now give even to the ear, and much more to the understanding."

The alterations are very freely made in accordance with Priestley's theological views, but often apparently only from difference of taste, not always to the advantage of the poetry.

In 1791 the larger number of the new books printed for use by the congregation met only Priestley's house, but both the Old and the New Meetings. Part of the items had been provided for the congregation of Cross Street Chapel, Manchester, and remained in use there until the introduction of Kippis: but the Birmingham congregation, which had left the old place of worship with their friends of the Old Meeting, returned to the use of Watts's Psalms and Hymns, which the latter congregation had not yet relinquished. Afterwards a fresh collection was made for the New Meeting, which was used in successive editions in 1809, 1809, and 1826. The Old Meeting adopted Kippis.

9. Among the Presbyterians in the North of Ireland the Scottish Psalms and Paraphrases occupied the same place as Watts's Psalms and Hymns with their brethren in England. The first book of their own seems to have been the Hymns for the use of the Presbyterian Congregation in Lisburn. Belfast, 1787,—a collection of 100 hymns taken from much the same sources as the English books, altered in the same way. A somewhat larger collection, but of similar character, was A Collection of Psalms and Hymns proper for Christian Worship. In two parts. I. Psalms of David. II. Sacred Hymns. London-Derry, 1788. Second ed. 1794. This book was afterwards discarded by the congregation as not sufficiently orthodox.

10. The collection known variously as Kippis or Rees, from two of its editors, was the first of the Unitarian books to attain to any very extended circulation. It went through many editions, and has remained in use in some out-of-the-way places until quite recently. It may be taken as typical of the kind of Unitarianism most prevalent in England at the beginning of the present century, before the deeper spiritual influence of Channing made itself felt on this side of the Atlantic. The title of the book is:—

A Collection of Hymns and Psalms for Public and Private Worship. By Andrew Kippis, D.D., F.R.S., & A.S.S.L., Abraham Rees, D.D., F.R.S., F.L.S., The Rev. Thomas Jervis, and the Rev. Thomas Morgan, LL.D. London, 1795. The editors were all Presbyterian ministers resident at that time in London. Dr. Kippis was the leading figure among Presbyterian notables in the Metropolis and its vicinity had been connected with Dr. Watts's Psalms, with the exception of one congregation, which has a book of its own (Pope's Coll., 1760, at the Leather Lane Meeting), and the book was in fact a new collection formed mainly on the same principles as the earlier Presbyterian collections. Alteration and adaptation are freely resorted to, in order to avoid whatever might "clash with the sentiments, or hurt the feelings of any sincere Christian." Besides the hymns of Watts, those of Doddridge, Jervis, Mrs. Steele, Doddridge, Merrick, Jarvis, Mrs. Barbauld, Thomas Scott. Other well-known names are Milton, Dryden, Addison, Pope, Cowper, Burns, besides many less remarkable, common to the early Presbyterian books. In 1807 a supplement of 94 hymns was added, and in 1810 a much enlarged supplement, edited by Rev. Edmund Kell.

The general impression made by Kippis is of a somewhat cold and external piety. Though very excellent in moral tone and exhortation, too much of its celebration of the attributes of God and the greatness of His works touches no spring of living emotion, and the redemptive work of Christ seems to be viewed rather from outside than experienced in the kindling words of actual experience. It must be added however that the hymns of Cowper, J. Wesley's "Commit thou all thy griefs," and others which spring from the deeper sources of inspiration, are included in the volume.

11. In spite of the considerable popularity attained by Kippis, it is not too much to say that during the 45 years between its appearance and the publication of Martineau's Hymns for the Christian Church and Home, on an average one Unitarian hymn-book, large or small, was issued every year. It was a period of considerable activity in Unitarian propagandism, and several of the books are of importance. Only a few can be so much as named here, e.g.:—

Dr. Enfield's Norwich Coll. of 1795; the Exeter Coll., 1811; Dr. Estlin's (Bristol), 1806; Rev. W. Turner's (Newcastle), 1808; Rev. J. Scott's (Paternoster Row), 1810; Samuel Bagster's, 1818; Liverpool, Jamaica Street, 1818, and again 1830; Warrington, 1819 (the curious book in which the editors object to "the introduction of the term soul, in connections where it necessarily implies the doctrine of separate existence"); Bristol, 1822 (edit. by Rev. J. Wilson's, 1822); Rev. J. J. Taylor's (Monkey Street, Manchester), 1826; Dr. Carpenter's (Bristol), 1831; Rev. Benj. Carpenter's (Nottingham), 1838.

In Ireland appeared the Psalms, Hymns and Spiritual Songs; selected for the First Congregation of Presbyterians in Belfast, 1801, which in that congregation superseded the use of the Psalms and Paraphrases, and was itself superseded by A Selection of Psalms and Hymns for the use of the Presbytery of Antrim and the Congregation of Strand Street, Dublin. Belfast, 1818, really a new ed. of the earlier book. There was also Rev. A. G. Malcom's Newry Coll., 1811.

12. In 1810 Rev. Robert Aspland of Hackney published A Selection of Psalms and Hymns for Unitarian Worship, which passed through several editions, and to which in 1824 a supplement was added. This is said to be the first instance of the term Unitarian appearing on the title-page of a hymn-book. To hold such doctrine was still a penal offence. This collection contains 500 hymns for private and domestic as well as public worship, by more than 60 authors. There is greater variety and freshness of devotional expression than in Kippis.

13. The two books between Kippis and Martineau which had the widest circulation were those known as the Exeter Coll. and Howe's Coll. The former was A Collection of Psalms and Hymns for Social and Private Worship, Exeter, 1813, edited chiefly by Dr. Lant Carpenter, at that time minister of the George's Meeting. Many editions were printed, not only at Exeter, but also at Glasgow and London, the 12th ed. being London, 1835. It is a collection of 313 hymns, and while strictly Unitarian in doctrine, it aimed "to increase the number of suitable hymns especially referring to Christian privileges and requisitions." The same may be said of A Selection of Hymns and Psalms for Christian Worship. By H. K. Howe, Jun. Bath, 1820. Of this nine editions were printed, and it was extensively used by the congregations of Unit. Baptists who had become Unitarian, as well as by others, in some cases until quite recently. There are 358 hymns by about 80 authors.

14. One other book of this period must be named:—

A Collection of Hymns for Public and Private Worship. Compiled by John R. Beard. London: John Green. Manchester: Forrest & Pigg, 1837.

The peculiarity of this collection was that only hymns by Unitarian writers were admitted. The result was a collection of 569 hymns by 55 authors, the chief contributors being: John Bowring, William Gaskell, J. C. Wallace, J. R. Wreford, John Johns, S. G. Bulfinch, J. Brettell, and Mrs. Barbauld. Only a few of these hymns have passed into general use in G. Britain, and the principle of selection has not found favour among the Unitarians of the English non-subscribing churches. Many of these hymns have however passed into American Unitarian collections.

15. In 1840 appeared the book which has made the most striking epoch in the history of Unitarian hymnody. As Kippis fairly represents the condition of English Unitarians at the end of last century, so the

Hymns for the Christian Church and Home. Collected and edited by James Martineau. London, 1840,

may be taken as the best expression of the new spirit of devotion which, largely through the influence of Channing, had for some time been making its way in their societies. When the new hymn-book appeared Dr. Martineau was minister at Paradise Street Chapel, Liverpool. It was to some extent only a prophecy of what was to be, for the book was received at first with objection in some quarters; but quickly made its way, and, far more generally than Kippis at the beginning of the century, superseded all earlier collections. It is now the book most widely used among Unitarians in England. It was a collection of 650 hymns, Mrs. Adams's "Nearer, my God, to Thee" being added as hymn 651 to the 10th ed. of 1853. The preface develops the thought of worship as being the natural expression of emotion, awakened in the mind "possessed with the religious or mysterious conception of God, of life and death, of duty, of futurity," and shows how the substance of the devotion of the various writers, whose hymns are adopted, is preserved, while the special dialect of their dogmatic theology is changed into a more universal language.

Of the 161 authors from whom selection is made not a third could be rightly classed as Unitarian; the chief of these being Adams, Barbauld, Bowring, Bryan, Channing, Fox, Gaskell, Hutton, Kenrick, Lindsey, Martineau, Pierpoint, the Rowes, J. R. Smith, John and Emily Taylor, Ware and Wreford. But the chief contributors are members of other Churches, Catholic, Lutheran, Arminian, Wesleyan, Baptist, Independent, and others; Dr. Watts contributing 31, Doddridge 25, Charles Wesley and Montgomery with 27, Doddridge 25, Charles Wesley 23, Heber 28, Cowper 16, Newton 14, Conder 13, Hemans 12, Steele 10, Milman 10. The hymns are divided into six books according to their subjects.

16. From 1840 until the appearance of Dr. Martineau's last collection in 1873, was a period not so prolific as the preceding in Unitarian hymn-books. This was natural, since the need of the churches had been so well supplied. Various books for individual congregations were however issued. Among these may be named:—

(1) W. J. Fox's Hymns and Anthems, London, 1841, to which were first contributed the hymns of Sarah Flower Adams; (2) the Hymns for Public Worship, Private Worship, 1856; (3) the Liverpool Renshaw Street Hymns, Chants, and Anthems; selected and arranged by John Hamilton Thom, 1858; (4) a new Lincoln Collection, 1865, edited by Rev. T. W. Chignell; (5) the Rev. Charles Clarke's Book of Prayer and Praise, Birmingham, 1871; (6) the Rev. J. P. Hopps's Hymns for Public Worship, Glasgow, 1873. In Ireland appeared the (7) Psalms, Paraphrases and Hymns for Christian Worship, Belfast, 1867, and (8) Hymns for Worship, a new edition of the above, also at Belfast, (9) Hymns for Christian Worship; edited by members of the Non-subscribing Presbyterian Church of Ireland. Further editions in 1867 and 1866.

17. This period however not only added greatly to the treasures of Christian hymnody, but witnessed marked further changes in the religious attitude of the free churches, for which particularly Dr. Martineau produced his earlier hymn-book. To meet the fresh need he published:—

Hymns of Praise and Prayer, collected and edited by James Martineau, LL.D., D.D., "Veham magnis solatium Mortuis." London, Longmans, 1873.

There had come to be less importance attached to the external historical records, Biblical incidents were less dwelt upon than formerly, and greater stress was laid on the inwardness of the religious life, identifying Christianity with the religion of Christ in its pure and personal essence. And so in this collection the new hymns admitted belong "chiefly to the poetry of the inner life: while the old hymns excluded mainly deal with objective incidents either in Biblical history or in the apocalyptic representation of the future." But besides the change in character of the collection there were large additions to be made from new writers. There are 797 hymns, 417 being also in the former collection and 380 added. Of hymns whose names are given there are 255 authors, those not included in the former collection being gathered from every quarter of the Church, from the Roman Catholic to the Unitarian. Among them are Newman, Faber, Caswall, Trecher, Lyte, Neale, Trench, Bonar, Gill, Ellerton, Lynch, Waring, Whittier, Parker, Emerson, Holmes, the Longfellows, Jones Very, Johnson, Clarke. In amount of contribution Watts loses his pre-eminence, Montgomery standing first with 67 hymns, then Charles Wesley with 58, Watts 49, Doddridge 34, Heber 17, Faber 16, Cowper 15, Barbauld 15, Lyte 15, Conder 15, Hemans 11, Gill 11. The same principle of attestation is adhered to as in the earlier collection, "for grave reasons of religious veracity." The growing acceptance of this collection in the "Nonconformist Broad Church," for which it was designed, shows that it has rightly gauged the condition of the religious life of English Unitarians. After Hymns for the Christian Church and Home it is now used in their societies more than any other book.

18. Of subsequent collections the most notable are the Hymns of Experience and Hope, Manchester, 1874, a small but choice selection edited by Revs. F. E. Millson and S. Farrington; Hymns, Chants and Anthems for Public Worship, edited by John Page Hopps, Leicester, 1877, now used in several congregations; and the Bedford Chapel Christian Hymns, London, 1881, edited for his congregation by Rev. Stopford A. Brooke, on his leaving the Church of England.

19. From the above account of Unitarian hymn-books it will be seen that with one exception their material has been largely drawn from writers belonging to other branches of the Christian Church, and that the work of the editors has been more that of selection and adaptation from common sources than a collecting of new material. There are however a considerable number of original writers among Unitarians in England as well as America, some of whom are well known beyond the borders of their own immediate circle.

20. In the old Arian days there were several liberal ministers whose hymns occur repeatedly in the earlier collections and less uniformly in the modern books, who stand naturally in the line of development which has resulted in modern Unitarianism. Such were Henry Grove, Thomas Scott, Roger Flexman, John Breckell, and somewhat later, Benj. Williams, Henry Moore, and the editors Kippis, Jervis, Walker and Enfield. Among Unitarian hymn-writers in the latter part of last century the first place must be given to Mrs. Barbauld, with whom are naturally associated the Norwich group of the Taylors and Sir J. E. Smith, William Roscoe of Liverpool, and his gifted children. Other contemporaries, passing gradually on to a new generation, were Dr. Estlin, Pendlebury Houghton, Edmund Butcher, William Lamport, John Rowe, George Dyer, Helen Maria Williams, and in Ireland Dr. Drennan and William H. Drummond. Of those born later in the last century were John G. Robberds, Sir John Bowring, W. J. Fox, J. C. Wallace, Jacob Brettell, Hugh Hutton, and in Ireland David Whyte and A. G. Malcom. Belonging entirely to the present century are the Martineaus, Sarah Adams, John Johns, Dr. Wreford, William Gaskell, Samuel Greg, Thomas Hincks, John Page Hopps, and others.

Of the chief of these further notice will be found elsewhere in this Dictionary. In the alphabetical list given below brief notes are added concerning the rest.

[Abbreviations:—K. = Kippis. M. 1 = Martineau's Hymns for the Christian Church and Home. M. 2 = Martineau's Hymns of Praise and Prayer. H. = J. P. Hopps's Coll., 1877. B. = Belfast Coll., 1896.]

Aikin, John, M.D., 1747–1822. The brother of Mrs. Barbauld, son of Dr. Aikin of the Warrington Academy. As a physician he practised at Warrington and Yarmouth, and from 1796 till the time of his death lived at Stoke Newington. Author (with his sister), of Evenings at Home, and other works for children, and of Miscellaneous Pieces, and for some time of the Monthly Magazine. His hymn In time of war, "While (what) sounds of war are heard around," was very popular. It is in K. and others.

Aspland, Robert, 1782–1845. Minister at Hackney, founder and for many years editor of the Monthly Repository and the Christian Reformer. In his Psalms and Hymns for Unitarian Worship, 1836, are three hymns signed "A."

1. Almighty Father of mankind! Jehovah, self-existent Lord. To the One God.
2. Hail to the Lord who lo rules. Creation, Redemption, and Restoration.
3. Welcome, the hope of Israel's race! The glory of the Man Jesus.

Astley, Francis Dukinfield, 1742–1825. Layman, of Manchester. Author of a volume of Sacred Poetry, and Rev. Richard Astley was edited the Gloucester Coll., 1822. Two of his hymns are in the Dukinfield Coll., 1825.

1. Blest is the man whose pitying eye. Of Charity.
2. O Thou unknown! whose secret word. God the Creator.

Atkins, Hugh, b. 1836. Of Hinckley, manufacturer. H. includes his hymn Of the pure in heart, "Jesus, on the Mount of Olives." This, with two others, is in J. G. Lorz's Leicester Coll., 1866.

Beebe, Sarah, 1771–1844. A relative of the Carpenters, who kept a school for many years in Birmingham. Her hymn, "'Tis how he loved," exclaimed the Jews," was first contributed to the Exeter Coll., 1813. It is in K. 1 and 2, and most of the early books after its appearance.

Barnby, Geodwin, 1798–1881. Minister at Wakefield, author of the Return of the Swallows, and other poems, 1845, &c. H. gives a hymn of his on The following of Christ, "Beside the shore of Galilee."

Barton, Thomas, b.c., 1747–1816, b. at Warrington and educated for the ministry at the Warrington Academy. Ordained in 1768, he became in 1769 minister at Cross Street Chapel, Manchester. In 1786 he became first Principal of the newly founded Manchester Academy, now Manchester New College. Two hymns of his on the Christian's Hope, are in the Dukinfield Coll., 1825.

1. I hope ere long to leave behind.
2. While darkness reigns beneath the pole.

Beechey, John, 1800–1849. Minister of Key Street Chapel, Liverpool, and co-editor with Dr. Enfield of the old Liverpool Coll., 1794, which gives his hymn for a Fast Day, "O Lord of hosts, Almighty King!" Capps's Lyra Britannica has a hymn of Faith in us in, "The glory of their builder, God."

Bright, Henry Arthur, 1820–1884. A Liverpool merchant and man of letters. A friend of Nathaniel Hawthorne, and a contributor to the Athenæum, &c. Thom's Renshaw Street Coll., 1856, contains his hymn, "To the Father through the Son."

Carpenter, Lant, LL.D., 1751–1840. Minister at Exeter and Bristol, a distinguished writer and teacher among Unitarians. In 1813 he, with Dr. Kenrick, Exeter, contributed the hymn of Reverence and love for Jesus, "Father of Jesus, God of Love." He also pub., under the signature "L," in his Collection of Hymns for the use of Unitarian Christians, Bristol, 1831:—

1. Behold the Gospel morn-ean. Christ, the Mercy-seat.
2. O God, all holy and all just. The mercy of God in Christ Jesus.
3. The hour must come, the closest tie. Parting here, reunion hereafter.

Carpenter, Mary, 1807–1877. Daughter of Dr. Lant Carpenter, and sister of Dr. Carpenter, Mrs. Estlin and Lamborny, but also a devotional writer to prose and verse. Her Morning and Evening Meditations (1846) has passed through several editions. It contains her hymn of Dedication, given in H., "To thee, my God, to thee I bend." Another hymn, "Father, hear my prayer," in Martineau's Hymns, for use at Lewin's Mead Chapel, Bristol, 1849 and 1859. It begins "Father, here Thy glory praising." (Sunday Evening.)

Chignell, T. W., b. 1824. Minister of George's Meeting, Exeter, and editor of the Exeter Coll., 1862–63–64, which contains some of his own hymns and numerous translations from foreign authors. The death Plaint enlargement of W. J. Fox's Coll., 1873, gives from 1862:—

1. Morning breaketh on thee. Morning aspirations.
2. Happy they who are not weary. Progress.

Conway, Moncure Dana, b. 1835. For many years minister of South Place Chapel, London. He contributed to the enlarged edition of W. J. Fox's Hymns & Anthems, 1873, which contains his hymn of Magic and of the storm, "A storm spoil over sea and land."

Cox, James, d. 1828. An Exeter layman, who contributed several hymns to the Exeter Coll., 1813. Of these B. and H. give:—

1. Thanks be to God above. Thanksgiving.

Cox, Samuel, d. 1828. An Exeter layman, who contributed several hymns to the Exeter Coll., 1813. Of these B. and H. give:—

1. See from on high a light divine. The baptism of Jesus.

Cross, John, d. 1839. An Exeter layman, who contributed several hymns to the Exeter Coll., 1813, and to the Dukinfield Coll., 1825, and Bristol Coll., 1831:—

1. The morn of life, how fair and gay. The word of God the guide of youth.
2. With warm affection let us view. Reflections on the character of Christ.
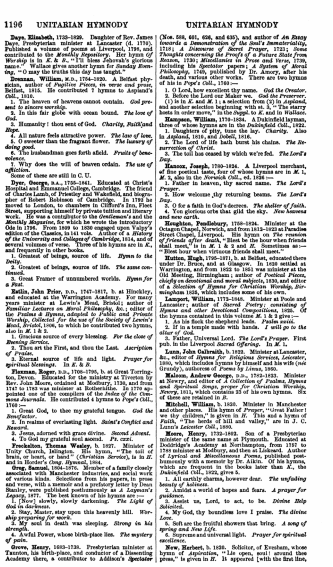
3. With warm delight and grateful love. The character of Christ.

Darwin, Erasmus, M.D., 1732–1802. Physician and poet, of Lichfield, author of The Botanic Garden, 1791, &c. He is a friend of Dr. Aikin's, and his hymn, Spirit, who dost in wisdom all things frame, is connected with any church. His hymn on God, the diffusion of essence, "The Lord, how tender is his love," is in K., M. 1 & 2. H. gives another hymn on Immortal Nature, "Roll on, ye stars, exult in youthful prime."



Daye, Elizabeth, 1793–1839. Daughter of Rev. James Daye, Presbyterian minister at Lancaster (d. 1794). Published a volume of poems at Liverpool, 1799, and contributed to the Monthly Repository. Her hymn in Hymns of Worship is in E. & S., "170 Sions Jehovah's glorious name." Wallace gives another hymn for Sunday Evening, "O may the truths this day has taught."

Dewman, William, M.D., 1764–1820. A Belfast physician, author of Fugitive Pieces, in verse and prose, Belfast, 1815. He contributed 7 hymns to Aspland's Coll., 1818:—

1. The heaven of heavens cannot contain. God present to sincere worship.
2. In this fair globe with ocean bound. The love of God.
3. Humanity! thou seat of God. Charity, Faithfand Hope.
4. All nature feels attractive power. The law of love.
5. O sweeter than the fragrant flower. The luxury of doing good.
6. The husbandman goes forth afield. Fruits of benevolence.
7. Why does the will of heaven crush. The use of affliction.

Some of these are still in C. U.

Dyer, George, B.A., 1755–1841. Educated at Christ's (Pitt-Site) and Emmanuel Colleges, Cambridge. The friend of Charles Lamb, Coleridge, and Southey. Curate and lecturer of Robert Robinson of Cambridge. In 1792 he moved to London, to chambers in Clifford's Inn, Fleet Street, supporting himself by private tuition and literary work. He was a contributor to the Gentleman's and the European Magazines, and published his Complaint of the Muses in 1796. From 1808 to 1826 engaged upon Valpy's edition of the Classics, in 141 vols. Author of a History of the University and Colleges of Cambridge, 1814, and of several volumes of verse. Three of his hymns are in K., and one in Kentish's Sel., 1815:—

1. Greatest of beings, source of life. Hymn to the Deity.
2. Greatest of beings, source of life. The same continued.
3. Great Framer of unnumbered worlds. Hymn for a Fast.

Estlin, John Prior, D.D., 1747–1817, b. at Hinckley, and educated at the Warrington Academy. For many years minister at Lewin's Mead, Bristol; author of Familiar Letters on Moral Philosophy, &c.; editor of the Poems & Hymns, adapted to Public and Private Devotion, by Dr. Aikin, and of Hymns for Sunday Worship, Bristol, 1806, to which he contributed two hymns, also in M. 1 & 2.

1. Gracious source of every blessing. For the close of Morning Service.
2. Thou art the First, and then the Last. Ascription of Praise.
3. Eternal source of life and light. Prayer for spiritual blessings. In E. & S.

Fleeman, Roger, b.?, 1700–1760, b. at Great Torrington, Devon. Educated for the Presbyterian ministry by Rev. John Moore, ordained at Modbury, 1730, and from 1747 to 1753 was minister at Rothersthe. In 1739 appointed one of the compilers of the Index of the Common Journals. He contributed 4 hymns to Pope's Coll., 1740:—

1. Great God, to thee my grateful tongue. God the Benefactor.
2. In realms of everlasting light. Saint's Conflict and Reward.
3. Jesus, adorned with grace divine. Second Advent.
4. To God my grateful soul assent. Tr. cent.

Freckelton, Thomas Wesley, b. 1827. Minister of Trinity Church, Islington. His hymn, "The toil of brain, or heart, or hand" (Christian Service), is in H. and in Hooker's Cong., 1870, No. 1.

Gaskell, William, 1805–1884, author of a family closely associated with Manchester industries, and social work of various kinds. Selections from his papers, in prose and verse, with a memoir and a prefatory letter by Dean Stanley, were published posthumously as A Legacy, &c., 1889. To the latter are three of his hymns and one (1):—

1. [Now] slowly, slowly darkening. The Light of God in darkness.
2. Stay, Master, stay upon this heavenly hill. Worship and Service.
3. My Shepherd in death was sleeping. Strong in his strength.
4. Awful Power, whose birth-place lies. The mystery of pain.

Green, Henry, 1693–1738. Presbyterian minister at Taunton, his birth-place, and contributor of a Dissenting Academy there, a contributor to Addison's Spectator (Nos. 568, 581, 606, and 630), and author of An Essay towards a Demonstration of the Soul's Immateriality, 1710; A Discourse of Sacred Prayer, 1721; Some Thoughts concerning Death, 1725; Sermons on Several Occasions, 1726; Meditations in Prose and Verse, 1726, including his Spectator papers; A System of Moral Philosophy, 1745, published by Dr. Amory, after his death, and various other works. There are two hymns of his in Pope's Coll., 1740:—

1. O Lord, how excellent thy name. God the Creator.
2. Great God, how wondrous are thy ways. Providence.

(1) is in L. and M. 1, a selection from (2) in Aspland, and another selection beginning with st. 3, "The starry hosts in order move," in the Suppl. to L. and in Walford.

Hampson, William, 1718–1804. A Dukinfield layman, and a contributor to Aspland's Coll., 1818, No. 59:—

1. Daughters of piety, tune the lay. Charity. Also in Aspland, 1818, and Isabell, 1816.
2. The Lord of life hath burst his chains. The Resurrection of Christ.
3. The tall has ceased by which we're fed. The Lord's Day.

Hanson, Joseph, 1780–1834. A Liverpool merchant, of fine poetical taste, four of whose hymns are in M. 1, M. 3, also in the Norwich Coll., ed. 1836 :—

1. Father in heaven, thy sacred name. The Lord's Prayer.
2. How welcome day returning beams. The Lord's Day.
3. O for a faith in God's decrees. The shelter of faith.
4. You glorious orbs that gild the sky. How known and once earth.

Hargrove, Bellsbury, 1766–1834. Minister at the Octagon Chapel, Norwich, and from 1813–1831 at Paradise Street Chapel, Liverpool. His hymn on The reunion of friends after death, "Then be the hour when friends shall meet," is in M. 1 & 2 and H. Sometimes as:—"That hour when friends shall meet from distant land."

Hart, Hugh, 1795–1871. Born at Bath, educated there under Dr. Malkin, and at Glasgow. In 1820 settled at Warrington, and from 1822 to 1861 was minister at the Old Meeting, Birmingham; author of Poetical Pieces, chiefly on devotional and moral subjects, 1830, and editor of a Selection of Hymns for Christian Worship, Birmingham, 1831, to which he contributed 3 hymns:—

Lampert, William, 1775–1848. Minister at Poole and Lancaster; author of Sacred Poetry; consisting of Hymns and other Devotional Compositions, 1826. Of the hymns contained in this volume M. 1 & 2 give:—

1. Lord, I am thine entirely. Self-dedication.
2. If in a temple made with hands. I will go to the altar of God.
3. Father, Universal Lord. The Lord's Prayer. First pub. in the Liverpool Sacred Offering. In M. 1.

Lunn, John Galbraith, b. 1823. Minister at Lancaster, &c., editor of Hymns for Religious Services, Leicester, 1852, and joint-editor (with Rev. Alexander Gordon) and author (with Lord Grimthorpe), of Poems by Lines, 1868.

Malcom, Andrew George, D.D., 1782–1833. Minister at Newry, and editor of A Collection of Psalms, Hymns and Spiritual Songs, proper for Christian Worship, Belfast, 1811, which contains 25 of his own hymns. Six of these are retained in B.

Mitchell, William, b. 1838. Minister in Manchester and other places. His hymn of Prayer, "Great Father! we thy children," is given in H. This and a hymn of Faith, "The hosts of hill and valley," are in J. C. Lunn's Leicester Coll., 1880.

Morell, Thomas, 1703–1783. Son of a Presbyterian minister of the same name at Hammersmith. Educated at Doddridge's Academy at Northampton, from 1727 to 1730 minister at Mortlake, and then at Lisbon. Author of Lyrical and Miscellaneous Poems, published posthumously, and of numerous hymns in Pope's Coll., 1740, which are frequent in the books later than M., the Dukinfield Coll., 1822, gives 5.

1. All earthly charms, however dear. The unfeeling beauty of holiness.
2. Amidst a world of hopes and fears. A prayer for submission.
3. Assist us, Lord, to act, to be. Divine Help Selected.
4. My God, thy bounties love I praise. The divine goodness.
5. Soft on the fruitful showers that bring. A song of spring and New Life.
6. Supreme and universal light. Prayer for spiritual excellence.

New, Herbert, b. 1836. Solicitor, of Evesham, whose hymn of Aspiration, "Lie open, soul! around thee press," is given in H. It appeared [with the first line,

"Ope, ope, my soul!") in George Dawson's Coll., 1853, and is also in the American Disciples' Hymn-book.

Pilkington, James, 1713–1772. A Belfast merchant and distinguished amateur. It gives his hymn on the Power of Religion, "There is a power which soothes the soul." It is also in Beard's Coll., 1837.

Piper, Henry Hunt, 1793–1864, minister at Norton, near Sheffield, for about 40 years, and then at Bamford. Author of a hymn of Heavenly Hope, in Beard's Coll., 1837, and of Hymns for the Sick, 1845:—

Popple, Maria, b. 1847. Daughter of Rev. Miss Popple, vicar of Walton, near Hull, who as Miriam contributed to Beard's Coll., 1837, and to Unitarian periodical literature.

Roberts, John Oosch, 1799–1851. Minister for many years at Cross Street Chapel, Manchester. Author of a hymn of Heavenly Hymns in M. 1 & 2, "How your pleasant labours close."

Rowe, John, 1764–1833. Minister at Shrewsbury and at Lewin's Mead, Bristol. His hymn on the Anticipation of Old Age, which appeared in the Bristol Coll., 1806, is also in M. 1, "When in the vale of years I stray."

Scott, Jane Eliza, 1808–1876. Author of the hymn in Beard's Coll. in "From the Table-land rolling." After H. Communion. For fuller details see Duffield's English Hymns, &c., 1886, p. 162.

Taylor, John James, B.A., 1797–1869. Professor of theology and ecclesiastical history, and Principal of Manchester New College, London, from its removal from York in the Mosley Street Chapel, Manchester, and Little Portland Street Chapel, London. Author of A Retrospect of the Religious Life of England, 1841; An attempt to ascertain the character of the Fourth Gospel, 1867; and numerous articles in the Christian Reformer, Theological and Sectional Reviews, besides other learned and sermons. In his Selection of Hymns for Christian Worship, Manchester, 1826, made for the Mosley Street congregation, are two hymns signed "T.":—

1. Unchanged, O Lord, through changing years. The merciful purposes of God.
2. Onward with thy favour, God of Grace! New Year.

Thomson, John, M.D., 1765–1819. A Leeds physician, who contributed to Aspland's Coll., 1818:—

1. To God, the universal King. To the One God.
2. Jehovah, God! thy gracious power. Omnipresence of God.
3. To thee my heart, eternal King. Praise.

Wallace, James Cowden, 1795 (?)–1841. Minister at various places in the south of England, finally at Warnham, author of a considerable number of hymns, to be found in his brother Robert's Selection of Hymns for Public Worship, 1826, and in Beard's Coll., 1837, and in Beard's Coll., 1837. In the Baptist Hymnal is, "There is an eye that never sleeps" (The Divine watch[ulness]). See "There's not a star whose trembling light."

Whyte, David, M.A., 1793–1872. Minister at Salins, Isle of Ireland. Of his hymns K. gives, "O for a heart, a stronger heart." A Prayer for Grace.

Willams, Benjamin, 1726–1795. Presbyterian minister at Salisbury, who in addition to a volume of Sermons, 1775, and the Salisbury Hymn Book, 1776, published The Book of Psalms as translated, paraphrased or imitated in the Book of Common Prayer, 8vo, Salisbury, 1781. His best known hymn, "Holy, holy, holy Lord," in celebration of the Divine Goodness, is in his own Coll., K., M. 1 & 3, and S.

Williams, Sarah Johanna, 1840–1841. Daughter of the biographer of Denham, Rev. John Williams, minister at Ipswich. Her compositions were given to the congregation, sacred Christmas Day, 1841, and were in the poem, "Quiet from God" is sweet; but to sing," Rest in God, by Miss S. C., also in K.

Wright, Richard, b. —. Of Liverpool, printer. Author of a History of Religious Persecution, brother of Rev. Richard Wright, Unitarian missionary. It includes his hymn of Adoration, "Jehovah! great and sacred name!" which first appeared anonymously in the Liverpool Sacred Offering, 1824.

Yates, Richard Vaughan, 1760–1835. A Liverpool merchant and philanthropist, author of a hymn on The Benefit of Affliction, "O God, to thee my sinking soul," in M. 1, and the enlarged ed. of W. J. Fox's Coll., 1873.

[V. D. D.]

United Methodist Free Churches Hymnody. [Methodist Hymnody, § v.]

United prayers ascend to Thee. W. B. Collyer. [Family Worship.] This hymn is given in his Coll., 1812, No. 973, in 6 st. of 4 l., to be used after the Administration of Holy Baptism, in private, for the welfare of the Family; the hymn, also by Collyer, given for use "Before the Administration," being "Saviour, Father, Brother, Friend." [J. J.]

Unprofitable all and vain. C. Wesley. [Trust in God.] This is a cento composed of portions of four hymns, 1st pub. from the Wesley MSS. in P. Works, 1868–72, vol. x. pp. 189–190, thus:—St. i., ii., No. 124, St. Matt. vi. 27; st. iii., iv., No. 125, St. Matt. vi. 28; st. v., No. 126, St. Matt. vi. 32; st. v., No. 126, St. Matt. vi. 31. In this form it was given in the Wes. H. Bk., 1875. [J. J.]

Uns strahlt das Licht der Ewigkeit. [Eternal Life.] In the Stallberg bei Aachen G. B., 1802, this is No. 1196 in 6 st. of 4 l. in the section entitled "Happiness of Christians in this life." In J. H. D. Zschokke's Stunden der Andacht, 9th ed., Aarau, 1824, it appears as the heading of Meditation 24 in pt. ii., which is entitled "On the value of religious festivals in civic and household life. Psalm c. 1–5," and is in 5 st. This form is tr., as

Behold that bright, that hallowed ray. Tr. Miss Fry, in her Hymns of Devotion, 1818, p. 15. Included in her Sacred Miscellany, 1829, p. 75. [J. M.] Whittemore's suppl. to M. H. Bk., 1868. [J. M.]

Unser trohtin hat farsait. [St. Peter.] Wackernagel, ii. p. 25, gives this from a Munich ms. of the 9th cent., in 3 st. of 4 l. with the refrain "Kyrie eleyson, Christe eleyson." It has been, apparently without ground, ascribed to Otfrid (q.v., vol. i.). Tr. as "Our dear Lord of grace hath given" by Miss Winkworth, 1855, p. 26. [J. M.]

Unto Him Whose Name is holy. Emily E. S. Elliott. [Praise to Christ.] Written for the German chorale, "Warum sollt ich mich denn grämen," and contributed to the Additional Hymns, issued in 1866 by her father for use in St. Mark's Church, Brighton, as No. 34, in 5 st. of 6 lines, and reprinted in her Chimes for Daily Service, 1880, p. 101. St. i., ii., v., are included as No. 256 in the Irish Church Hymnal, 1873, and as No. 80 in the Parkhill, 1878, in both cases ascribed to Charlotte Elliott in error. [J. M.]

Unus bonorum fons, Deus, omnium. C. Coffin. [B. V. M.] Appeared in the Paris Brev., 1736, and in Coffin's Hymni Sacri of the same year, p. 64. In the Paris and later French Brevs. it is the hymn at 2nd Vespers on the Feast of the Nativity and Conception of the B. V. M. Tr. as:—

O Thou sole Fountain, of all good. By I. Williams, in his Hys. tr. From the Parisian Brev., 1839, p. 174. Also in the 1846 Appendix to the H. Noted, and others. [J. J.]

Unvail thy bosom, faithful tomb. I. Watts. [Burial.] This is the last of five odes which are appended to a letter "To Lucius, on the death of Sorexa," pub. in his Reliquiæ Juvenilia, &c., 1734. It is in 4 st. of 4 l., and headed, "Ode v. A Funeral Ode at the Interment of the Body, supposed to be sung by the Mourners." It has passed into several hymn-books in Great Britain and America. [J. J.]

Ὑπακοή. [Greek Hymnody, § xvi. 8.]

Upham, Thomas Cogswell, D.D., was b. at Durfield, New Haven, Jan. 30, 1799, and educated at Dartmouth College (1818), and at Andover (1821). Having entered the Congregational Ministry he became Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy at Bowdoin College, in 1825, and retained the same to 1867. He d. at New York, April 2, 1872. His publications were numerous and included Mental Philosophy (which was long and widely used): American College Life; a volume of Poems, 1832, &c. Five of his hymns are given, with accompanying dates, in Hymns and Songs of Praise, &c., N. Y., 1874, as follows:—

1. Fear not, poor weary one. Help in Sorrow (1873).
2. Happy the man who knows. Obedience (1872).
3. O Thou great Ruler of the sky. Morning Worship (1872).
4. O Thou great Tracker from the skies. Following Christ (1872).
5. 'Tis this in solitude I roam. Omnipresence (1857).

These hymns are limited in their use. In 1847 Upham pub. the Life and Religious Opinions and Experiences of Madam de la Mothe Guyon... Two vols. N. Y. In this work the anonymous trs. from Madam Guyon's hymns given at p. 476, ii., are found., viz.; (1) "By suffering only can we know"; (2) "I would love Thee, God and Father"; (3) "'Tis not (by) the skill of human art." There are also additional trs. of two of her hymns in the same work. [J. J.]

Τὸ διδάσκειν ἀμφιγνᾶν. Synesius, Bp. of Ptolemais. [For the Family.] A sweetly beautiful and tender prayer to Christ on behalf of his wife and children. It is No. viii. of his ten hymns written at various periods of his life, and dates 373–430. The full Greek text is found in the Anth. Graeca Carm. Christ., 1871. From this Mr. Chatfield's tr. "O! 'tis no theme of common things," was made. It is in 56 l. and was first published in his Songs and Hymns, &c., 1876, p. 81. Also tr. by I. Williams, in his Thoughts in Past Years, 1852, p. 308, as "To the harmonious Dorian sound." [See Greek Hymnody, § v.] [J. J.]

Upon the Gospel's sacred page. Sir J. Bowring. [Progress of the Gospel.] Contributed to Board's Unitarian Coll. of Hys., 1837, No. 206, in 5 st. of 4 l., and headed "Progress of Gospel truth." It was included in the 3rd ed. of the author's Matins and Vespers, 1841, p. 240, and subsequently in several hymn-books, especially in America. In the American Unitarian Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, No. 698, "On mightier wing, in loftier flight," is composed of st. ii., iv., v. (slightly altered) of this hymn. [J. J.]

Urbem Romuleam quis furor ingenat. Jean Baptiste de Rondelet. (St. Jude at the Latin Gate.) Pub. in the 2nd ed. of his Hymni Sacri et Novi, 1698, p. 32. In 1736 it was included in the revised Paris Brev. for the Feast of St. John at the Latin Gate. It was repeated in later French Brevs., and also in Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865. Tr. as:—

1. What frenzy doth the city move! By W. J. Blew, in his Church Hymnary, 1852, p. 124.
2. Through Rome's infuriate city. By H. F. Lyte-dale, in the People's H., 1867, with the signature "F. L." [J. J.]

gests that st. viii. are inappropriate: but how any one examining these stanzas can say so is passing us by. Trench (Sacred Latin Poetry, ed. 1864, p. 313), says: "The hymn coheres intimately in all its parts, and is treated to be a hymn by the building of the Church, and not merely for it, as is usually the case with hymns of degrees" according from things earthly to things heavenly, and making the first to be interpreters of the last. The prevailing intention in the building and the dedication of a church, with the rites thereto appertaining, is to set forth the mystical union of God's People built with hands, which they are, to that other built of living stones in heaven, of which this was but a weak shadow (Barnabas, Ambrose, l. 1) . . . This poem witnesses for its own true inspiration, in the fact that it has carried us in advance of manifold imitations in circles beyond its own."

Dr. Neale's opinion on this matter is set forth in his Mediæval Hys., 1851, p. 28.

"Daniel imagines these stanzas to be a later addition, which, if they were, would probably refer to the Dedication of a Church. Mr. Trench, on the contrary, will have the whole poem to be of one date: and alleges, very truly, that this mixture of the earthly and heavenly temple is usual in hymns and sequences on a similar subject. Nevertheless, there is a break in the hymn, because there is a clear difference in the style and language of the two last and seven first stanzas. 2. Because the transition from one part to the other is so unusually abrupt. 3. Because, at the end of the sixth stanza, there is a termination, as if to point out that the hymn originally concluded there."

This hymn passed into many mediæval Breviaries, always for the Dedication of a Church, and sometimes given as a whole, but often divided into two parts, with sts. v.–viii., as a separate hymn, beginning Angelorum fundamentum. So in the older Romen (Venice, 1478), Paris of 1643 and 1736 (in both cases beginning Urbs Jerusalem beata), Sarum, York, Aberdeen, and others. Occasionally st. viii. are given separately as Hic in templo, summe Deus.

2. In the revised Romen Brev., 1632, it is recast, very much to its disadvantage, as follows:—

(1) "Cœlestis urbs Jerusalem, beata pacis visio,
Quæ construitur in cœlo vivis ex lapidibus,
Sponsaque tibi exornata Filio angelorum millibus.
(2) O sorte nimis prospera, Dotata Patris gloria,
Regnorum Sponsi gratia, Regina formosissima,
Christo jugata principi Cœli cernens civitas.
(3) Hic margaritis emicant, Palmisque cincta sacia:
Virtute namque pravia Mortalis illuc ducitur,
Amore Christi pervius Terrenaria quisquis calcat.
(4) Resplet micantes millibus, Et tumulos plurimus,
Quos Sponsa Sponsi sanguine Mundo redemptos cernunt,
Applaudunt pronis sedibus Locantur in beatis.
(5) Alto ex Olympi vertice Summi Parentis Filius,
Ubi mundo descritus lapis Terræ in hunc deinceps,
Domus superum, et infimas Utrumque junxit sanctum.
(6) Sed illa sedes conditum Semper resultat tenditus,
Nec ulla labes sordium Nec ulla noxa polluit:
Illi cacantes pungimur Almus Beatis sanctis.
(7) "Hæc templa, Rex cœlestium, Impis benigne lumine:
Hæc e cognita advoci, Plebisque vota suscipe,
Et nostra corda Jupiter Perfunde cœli gratia.
(8) "Hic inspirent fidelium Voces precesque supplicum
Quas Sponsa Sponsi gratia Dotata Virgo concinit:
Domo sanctæ corpore Sedes beatas inspicant.
(9) "Deus Parenti debitum Sit sempiterna altissimo,
Natoque Patris unico, Et tacipro Paracleto,
Cui laus, potestas, gloria, Æterna sit per sæcula."

This form is in Daniel, i. No. 219, Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865, &c. Reds in the Hymni Breviarii Romani, Rom, 1629 (p. 87), and in the Breviary of 1632 the doxology is printed at the end of each part.

3. The Paris Breviary text of 1643 and 1736 differs but slightly from the original as above. The 1736 text begins thus:—

"Urbs Jerusalem beata Dicta pacis visio,
Quæ construitur in cœlis Vivis ex lapidibus,
Et ovantum coronata Angelorum agmine!"

This text is given in full in J. Chandler's Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1857, Nos. 105, 106.

4. Another form of the text is given in the Breviarium Metropolitanæ ac primatialis ecclesiæ Senonensis . . . Senonis MDCCXXII. Pars Hiemalis, p. lxxxviii. as follows:—

"Urbs beata, vera pacis visio, Jerusalem,
Quæ triumphas civitatum in cœlestibus millibus:
Quæ patriæ, luce coapta fidibus aula Dei.
Magnifice ex margaritis Singulas portas micat:
Murus cunis fulget aere, Fulgit unicuique:
Angelatu petes Christum Pandat urbis mœnia.
Ejus est ad cacem Agnus, Ejus est templum Deus:
Aræmitatus hic beati Portatus hyacinthus,
Lucis jugi nomen unum Tergus sanctum concinunt.
Quisquis ergo urbem cupis Ingredi cœlestem,
Undique petit hac vetus, Intrat qui incorruptus,
Amo cunis hic probari Debuit laboribus.
Sit permixta hæc Parenti, Sit perennis Filio:
Laus tibi, qui sanctis ambos, Sit perennis, Spiritus:
Christus cujus sus tempora, Vivis templis consecrat."

This is the text to which Dr. Neale refers in his Mediæval Hys., 1851 and 1867, as:—

"There is in the Paris Breviary, a réfaciamento of this hymn; very inferior, it is true, to the original, but much superior to the Roman reform."

It is however an error to call this the Paris Brev. text, as it is neither in the Paris Brev. of 1643, 1736, nor 1778. This form has been ascribed to Sebastian Roumult (p. 138, ii.), many of whose hymns are included in the Sens Brev. of 1726. [J. M.]

The translations of the various forms of this hymn are:—

I. Original Text: (i.) Urbs beata Hierusalem; (ii.) Angelorum fundamentum.

1. (i.) Blessed city, heavenly Salem, Vision dear of peace and love, &c. Pt. i.

(i.) Christ is made the sure Foundation. Pt. ii.

By J. M. Neale. This was given as one hymn in Mediæval Hys., 1851, but in the H. Noted, 1855, it was revised and divided into two parts as above (Nos. 43, 44). The tr. as thus divided was given in the Salisbury H. Bk., 1857, and in H. A. & M., 1861, with alterations in each case. Dr. Neale's comment on some of these alterations in the 3rd ed. of his Mediæval Hys., 1867, p. 22, is:—

"This hymn, divided as in the Breviary, after the fourth verse, was inserted, with some corrections, in the Hymnal Noted. Thence, with a good many alterations, it was copied in the Sarum Hymnal (Salisbury H. Bk., 1857); one of these changes seems true and happy: v. 2:—

Who, the two walls underlying,
Bound in each, binds both in one.

In Hymns Ancient and Modern it is very slightly altered: and some of the changes can hardly be thought improvements, as v. 2, l. 2, "Who, the twain foundations laying"; (Angels "Either faithful souls may wear"). It is curious to observe how both one and the other soften the second line of the second verse: (Neale 'ready for the nuptial bed'; the Sarum has—

Who, the two walls glory round her shed.'

Hymns Ancient and Modern (much better)—

'Bridal glory round her shed.'

The second part of the translation, 'Christ is made the sure Foundation,' has been adopted as a dedication hymn in a number of collections, so that it would be unfaithful not to mention the fact.

Amongst those collections which include both parts of this tr. as in the H. Noted, but giving in almost every instance variations, chiefly from H. A. & M., are Pott's Hymns, &c., 1861; Kensal, 1863; People's H., 1867; Sarum, 1868;

the Hymnary, 1872; Thring's Coll., 1882, and several others in G. Britain and America. There are also a few collections which take only Pt. i., and others, greater in number, Pt. ii. There are centos also from both parts in C. U., beginning with the opening line of Pt. i., as in the Parish H. Bk., 1863-75; the Hy. Comp., and others. The position taken by Dr. Neale's tr. of this hymn is thus prominent and important. Its popularity and extensiveness of use it is unapproached by any other.

2. (a.) Happy city, holy Salem. Pt. i. (b.) Christ, the key-stone of the corner. Pt. ii. By W. J. Blew, in his Ch. Hy. and Tune Bk., 1852-55, H. Sesanus, 1, 2, and Rice's Sel. from the same, 1870, Nos 114, 115.

3. (a.) A blest city is Jerusalem. Pt. i. (b.) Christ is laid the sure Foundation. Christ is the trial [And the precious], &c. Pt. ii.

These renderings in the English Hymnal, 1856 and 1861, are by the editor, J. A. Johnston, based upon Dr. Neale, as above.

4. (a.) Blessed City, Heavenly Salem, Peaceful vision, &c. Pt. i.

(b.) Deeply laid a sure Foundation. Pt. ii.

By Archbishop Benson, fr. at Rugby, and used at the Dedication of Wellington College Chapel, July 16, 1863. It had previously appeared in the Wellington College H. Bk., 1860. It is also given in the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871.

5. (a.) Blessed Salem, long expected. Pt. i.

(b.) Christ is laid the sure Foundation, Christ the Head, &c. Pt. ii.

By W. Mercer, in the Oxford ed. of his Church Psalter and H. Bk., 1864.

6. (a.) Blessed City, Heavenly Salem, Vision fair of peace and rest. Pt. i.

(b.) Christ is laid the sure Foundation, Cornerstone from, &c. Pt. ii.

By R. C. Singleton, in his Anglican H. Bk., 1868 and 1871.

7. Built on Christ, the firm Foundation. Pt. ii. Anon. in the Ohio Evang. Lutheran Hyl., 1880.

Other trs. are :—

1. Jerusalem O cittie blest, That of peace, &c. Primer, 1599.
2. Jerusalem, that place divina, The vision, &c. Primer, 1618.
3. Christ hath laid the sure Foundation, Ps. ii. A. T. Russell. 1851.
4. Blessed City, holy Salem, Vision fair, &c. J. D. Chambers. 1857. In full.
5. (a) O Jerusalem, the blessed. Pt. i. (b) Christ the sure foundation is laid. Pt. ii. Lyra Eucharistica, 1863.
6. Yalen's peaceful mountains, H. Kynaston. 1863.
7. Blessed City, holy Salem, Home of peace, &c. H. R. R. in Lyra Mystica. 1865. In part only.
8. Hail Jerusalem the blessed, peaceful city, vision fair! T. Morgan. 1871 and 1874.

ii. The Roman Breviary Text: (1.) Coelestis urbs Jerusalem; (ii.) Alto ex Olympi sortice.

1. (a.) City of heaven, Jerusalem. Pt. i.

(b.) From loftiest peak of heavenly light. Pt. ii.

By W. J. Copeland, in his Hys. for the Week, &c., 1848, p. 133. In 1850 pt. i. was given in Stretton's Church Hys. In Johnston's English Hyl., 1856, both parts are altered as, (1) "Celestial seat, Jerusalem," (2) "Christ for the Corner-stone is giv'n."

2. (a.) Jerusalem, thou city blest. Pt. i.

(b.) From highest heaven, the Father's Son. Pt. ii.

By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 225, and his Hys. and Poems, 1873, p. 119. This tr. passed into Murray's Hymnal, 1852, and others.

3. The heavenly, new Jerusalem. Pt. i. By W. J. Irons, in the H. Noted, 1853, No. 41. This was repeated in Dr. Irons's Hymns, 1866, slightly altered in his Ps. & Hymns, 1873-75, and in several other collections.

4. City of peace, Jerusalem. Pt. i. Anon. in the Hyl. for the Use of St. John the Evangelist, Aberdeen, 1870.

Other trs. are :—

1. Jerusalem, Celestial place. Primer, 1685.
2. (a) Hierusalem whose Heav'nly Mien (Pt. i.). (b) From high (Pt. ii.). Primer, 1706.
3. (a) From high Olympus Top the Son (Pt. ii.). Primer, 1706.
4. Jerusalem, whose Name contains. Evening Office. 1760.
5. (a) City of heaven, Jerusalem (Pt. i.). A. J. B. Hope. 1864. In part only.
6. Promised home of peace and love (Pt. i.). E. Campbell. 1864.
7. (a) Jerusalem, thou city grand (Pt. i.). By T. J. Potter. (b) Christ the Lord (Pt. ii.). 1867.
8. (a) Celestial City, Salem blest (Pt. i.). (b) From lofty summit of high heaven (Pt. ii.). J. Wallace. 1874.

iii. The Paris Breviary Text, 1736 : (i.) Urbs Jerusalem beata; (ii.) Angularis fundamentum.

1. (a.) The holy Jerusalem. Pt. i.

(b.) Christ is set the Corner-stone. Pt. ii.

By I. Williams. Of these Pt. i. was given in the British Magazine, Aug. 1833, and Pt. ii. in the same, July 1837 (vol. xii. p. 90), and both parts were included in Williams's Hys. tr. from the Parisian Breviary, 1839, p. 333.

2. (a.) O City of our God. Pt. i.

(b.) Christ is our Corner-stone, On Him alone we build. Pt. ii.

By J. Chandler, in his Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1837, p. 119. Pt. i. is very rarely used, but Pt. ii. is the most popular of any tr. of that portion of the hymn, and is in very extensive use in G. Britain and America. It sometimes begins, "O Christ, our Corner-Stone." The hymn "Here, Gracious God, dir Thee," in Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1840 and 1873, is from this tr., beginning with st. ii.

3. O heavenly Sion, high Salem. Pt. i. By W. J. Blew, in his Church Hy. and Tune Bk., 1852-55, H. Sesanus, 53, and again in Rice's Sel. from the same, 1870, No. 126.

iv. The Sens Breviary Text, 1726: Urbs beata, urea porcis.

A tr. of this text, by A. R. Thompson, is given in Duffield's Latin Hymn-writers, 1889, as, "Blessed city vision true."

(J. J.)

Ut jucundas cervus undas, nostunas desiderat. Bernard of Cluny (?). [J. F. M.] This is the opening of a poem, or rather cycle of poems or hymns, known as the Mariale. Up to 1600 it generally passed under the name of Bernard or of St Bernard, though it was also ascribed to St. Thomas of Aquino (d. 1274); to Hildebert, archbishop of Tours (d. 1134), and to others. After 1600 it (or rather a cento from it beginning "Omni die die Marine") passed current under the name of St. Coulair of Poland (d. 1484). It has recently been ascribed to St. Anselm of Aosta, who, in 1063, was appointed Prior, and, in 1078, Abbot of Bec in Normandy: became Archbishop of Canterbury in 1093; and d. April 12, 1109. The ascription to St. Anselm has been upheld by Father Ragey of the Marist Order, who in 1884 pub. an ed. of the full text as Sancti Anselmi Cantuariensis Archiepiscopi Mariale, &c. (London, Burns & Oates), with a preface and introduction dated April 21, 1883. This ed. is out of print, but Father Ragey kindly presented the present writer with a copy, and also with copies of his articles on the Mariale in the Annales de Philosophie Chrétienne (Paris), May and June 1883, and in the Controverse et Contemporain (Lyons), Nov. 1887. There, in the Revue des Questions historiques (Paris), Oct. 1886 and July 1887, and in the works referred to in those articles, the subject may be studied in detail. Here we can give only a brief outline of the subject, dealing (i.) with the MSS., (ii.) with the Authorship, and (iii.) with the Centos and Translations.

(i.) MSS. The Marials exists in at least five mss. not later than 1200. Two of these are in the British Museum, viz., the Add. 21927, and the Harl. 2882.

The former of these (a Psalter apparently written for a Benedictine monastery in the province of York) contains only a portion of the text, beginning at f. 44b with the words "Ut jucundas cervus undas nostras desiderat ad vitalia fontana Maria." This ms. has sometimes been assigned to the end of the 11th cent., but the British Museum authorities, on being requested by the present writer to re-examine it, agree in considering that it is not earlier than 1200. The Harl. ms. (a Psalter with a large additional ms., apparently written in England), is dated in the Catalogue as of the 12th cent., but the similarly efficial opinion of the British Museum authorities is that it is not earlier than 1200.

The other three mss. are in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris, viz., Lat. 2445 A., Lat. 10522, and Lat. 16505.

M. Leopold Delisle, the Principal Librarian, has kindly re-examined them, and has come to the conclusion that none of them is as early as 1150. The 2445 A. is the earliest, and may possibly date as far back.

The Mariale is also found in a considerable variety of mss. of later date, in the Brit. Mus. and in various French and German libraries, but these need not here be mentioned in detail. The verse form, a variety of the trochaic catalectic tetrameter, is not earlier than about 1050.

(ii.) Authorship.—These facts, and the other evidence adduced in the works noted above, closely point to the conclusion that the poem was written, either in France or in England, not earlier than 1050 and not later than 1150. The possible authors are thus reduced to four, viz.: St. Anselm of Canterbury, St. Bernard of Clairvaux, Bernard of Cluny, and Hildebert of Tours. St. Thomas of Aquino (to whom it is ascribed in a 14th cent. ms., cited by Mone, ii. p. 236) was only born in 1225.

(a) Hildebert. For Hildebert there is only the ascription in a miscellaneous ms. volume of the 13th or 14th cent., formerly belonging to the monastery of St. James at Liege, and now in the Imperial Library (No. 3777, f. 1). For the text, see Dr. Neale's Mediæval Hymns of the Marials, is printed by F. W. E. Roth, in his Lat. Hymnen, 1887, No. 393. The Mariale is not contained in the Migne edition ed. of Hildebert's Opera (Paris, 1708), and M. Barthélémy, who has recently bestowed much care in the study of Hildebert, ascribes it not to him, but to Bernard of Cluny.

(b) St. Bernard of Clairvaux. The ascription to St. Bernard is found in a ms. of the 12th cent., and to Bernard to whom the early ms. ascribed the Mariale was clearly not the abbot of Clairvaux, but the monk of Cluny. (See M. Haureau's articles in the Journal des Savants for 1883, reprinted as the Poemes Latins attribués à Bernard de Cluny, 1890.)

(c) St. Anselm of Canterbury. The principal specific reasons (beyond the general coincidence that it harmonizes in sentiment and expression with St. Anselm's character, and with his style), which led Ragey to think that it may be his are :—

(1) The fact of its being in very early use. But, as above, no ms. of it is as early as 1100, and consequently it cannot be adjudged from Bernard of Cluny on that ground. (2) The fervour of its devotion to the B. V. M. But St. Anselm was not alone in his devotion to the B. V. M., as the numerous prayers addressed to her by other works undoubtedly by St. Anselm. In the first ed. of the Mariale these parallel passages are printed at the foot of the pages containing the corresponding portions of the text. But the parallels are not very close, and even if they were, they would not be conclusive as to authorship, for it is tolerably certain that Bernard had access, in the library at Cluny, to at least a fairly complete set of the works of so well-known an ecclesiastic and theologian as St. Anselm. (3) The fact that in the Hort. Rosarum (Migne, clxxiv. 1120) the author refers to a number of his own verses which are undoubtedly by St. Anselm. This is not a very conclusive argument, especially as the other pieces are all in prose. (4) Certain allusions which Ragey thinks were meant to refer to contemporary events in St. Anselm's life, as in st. 1, 1. 3, and st. 3, l. 1, 2, 3, 4, 1061. The allusions are however not distinct enough to found an argument upon.

To the present writer the great difficulties in the way of ascribing the Mariale to St. Anselm are firstly that the Mariale is in verse, and secondly that the other poems ascribed to him are of such small importance, and nowhere show any evidence of poetical talent or of the power to compose such a long poem in so difficult a metre.

(d) Bernard of Cluny. The ascription to St. Anselm is much earlier than to Father Ragey, viz., in a ms. of about the end of the 12th cent., now in the Bibl. Nat. at Paris (Lat. 14409, f. 143), where it is entitled "Meditationes Anselmi de beata Virgine." But the mere fact of its appearance with that title in a single ms., and not in any of the numerous mss. of the St. Anselm collection, is by no means conclusive against the Archbishop's authorship.

(e) Bernard of Cluny. The earliest ms. of the poem ascribed to him is the Lat. 3552 A. at Paris, written circa 1200. Here it is entitled "Incipiunt divine Sapientie facta a Bernardo in laudem monachi perpetuam Virginis." The epithet "monachus" is evidently meant to point to Bernard of Cluny, for long before 1200 St. Bernard, then a simple monk, had become Abbot of Clairvaux, and had become famous as the author of many letters of the early mss. As time went on and the fame of St. Bernard of Clairvaux increased, while the name of Bernard of Cluny was forgotten, we find the mss. ascribe the Mariale distinctly to St. Bernard. So in two mss. of the 13th cent., viz., Bibl. Nat. (Lat. 14809, f. 143), and Brit. Mus. (Reg. 7. A. vi., and Reg. 5. B. i.), the author is styled "Bernardus doctor," and in a ms. of the 15th cent., now also in the Brit. Mus. (Add. 30853, f. 2656), the poems are styled "Orationes sancti Bernardi devote ad honorem Dei compilate for the Octave of the Assumption of the B. V. M."

To show the structure of the poem we print here the opening of its best-known part :—

"Omni die, die Marine, nos laudes, anima;
Ejus nomen, ejus odor, ejus opera
Sunt digna, sunt suavia, sunt mirabilia.
Die felicem Genitricem, die Beatam Virginem."

On comparing this with the De contemptu mundi (pp. 127, ii. and 133, ii.), which is the undoubted work of Bernard of Cluny, we see in both an equal mastery of a peculiar metre, and in both the same style of thought. This could not be the case unless the one were by writing the other. Whatever may be the theological preponderance of the critic it is altogether unfair to deny that the De contemptu and the Mariale are both the work of a Benedictine poet, and it is idle to depreciate the De contemptu in order to exalt the Mariale. If the De contemptu contains much that might well have been spared, but the first part, for hundreds of lines, has in its very nothing to equal it in beauty in the whole range of Latin verse. Every line is full of originality and the power of vivid and progressive description. On this subject, then title to precisely what may justly be said of the Mariale.

(f) Hildebert. As the grounds of the early ascription to Bernard of Cluny, of the fact that no ms. can be found which are sufficiently early to disprove the ascription to him, and of his talents as a poet and master of Latin verse, we incline to regard the Mariale as his. St. Anselm was a distinguished theologian and Archbishop, but we have really no reason to regard him as a poet of any merit.

(iii.) Cento and Translations. The complete text of the poem is, in Bagny's edition, arranged in 15 parts, viz. a Procemium, a Prurrie Meditatio, and 13 Hymns. It is not necessary however to print the first lines of these as Bagny's 2nd ed. (Tournay: Desclée, Lefebvre & Co., 1885) is easily accessible, as well as cheap, and very prettily printed. Here we give only the beginnings of the different forms or centos which we have noticed, adding the page references to Bagny's 1885 ed. These forms and centos are:—

i. Jesse proles, pelle nubes. p. 104.
ii. Jesu Christe, per xpeus ime. p. 123.
iii. Jesu Verbum, qui superbum. p. 136.
iv. Lingua mea, dic trophæum. p. 18
v. Lux sanctorum, spes laborum. p. 71.
vi. O Maria, stella maris. p. 52.
vii. O Maria, stella maris. p. 52.
viii. Omni die, dic Mariæ. p. 15.
ix. Pulchra tota, sine nota. p. 26.
x. Splendor Patris, fastor Matris. p. 64.
xi. Ut jucundas cervus undas. p. 3.

Of these Nos. i., ii., iii., v., vii., x. are given by Mone (Nos. 266–271) from various mss. of the 14th and 15th cent., and seem to have been meant for use at private devotions. The other forms may be here noted somewhat more fully, viz.:—

iv. Lingua mea, dic trophæum virginis puerperæ. A cento beginning thus we tr. as:—

O my tongue, the praise and honour. By T. I. Ball for the 1863 Appx. to the H. Noted, No. 305. This is reprinted in the Office H. Ely., 1869. In the St. Margaret's Hyl. (East Grinstead), 1875, it is in two parts, the second beginning "O thou ever pure, yet fruitful."

vi. O felicem genitricem, cujus sacra viscera. This is the only portion of the poem which seems to have come into public use in Pre-Reformation times. It is included in various Missals of the 15th and 16th cent., such as the Lübeck, c. 1480; the Trier, c. 1490; the Prag of 1507; the Naumburg of 1517, and others. Also in Wackernagel, i. p. 191; Daniel, ii. p. 305; Kehrein, No. 315, &c. It is tr. as:—

Blessed Mother o'er all ether. By A. D. Wackerbarth, in his Lyra Ecclesiastica, 1843, p. 27.

vii. Omni die, dic Mariæ, mea, laudes, anima. The popular form of this is the cento made from the poem by St. Casimir of Poland (b. 1458, d. 1484). A ms. copy of this arrangement is said to have been found in his grave when that was opened in 1604; and in the 17th cent., and indeed till recently, he was generally thought to be its author. It is given in his life in the Bollandist Acta Sanctorum (1868), for March 4; in the Parnassus Marianus, Douay, 1624, p. 304; in J. M. Horst's Paradisus animæ Christianæ, Cologne, 1635, p. 500 (1644, p. 462); in Daniel, ii. p. 373, &c. Various frs. of it are included in German Roman Catholic hymn-books from 1613 on. It was tr. into French at least as early as 1630, and there are also trs. in Italian, Spanish, Polish, Hungarian, &c. It has also been tr. into English as:—

1. Each day, my soul, Tell Mary's praise. By Canon F. Oakeley, in his tr. of Horst's Paradisus, 1850, p. 503, and divided, as in Horst, into six decades.

2. Daily, daily, sing to Mary, Sing, my soul, her praises due. This is in the Oratory Hyl., 1854, and the Catholic Psalmist, 1858, p. 141. It is repeated in the Catholic Hyl., 1880, as the first part of No. 63; and, in almost the same text, in the Crown of Jesus H. Bk., 1862, &c.

3. Sing, sing each day. A tasteful lay. By Cardinal Wiseman, in his Hymn of St. Casimir, London, 1859.

ix. Pulchra tota, sine nota cujuscumque maculæ. This is really part of the cento made by St. Casimir. It is tr. as:—

Holy Queen! we bend before thee, Queen of purity divine. By E. Caswall, in his Masque of Mary, 1858, p. 213, and Hys. & Poems, 1873, p. 176; repeated in the Hys. for the Year, 1867, and the Parochial H. Bk., 1880. In the Catholic Hyl., 1880, No. 63, pt. ii., it begins "Holy Mary, we implore thee By thy purity divine," and this form is repeated in the Crown of Jesus H. Bk., 1862.

xi. Ut jucundas cervus undas, aestuans desiderat. This is found also in Daniel, v. p. 409, and in Trench's Sac. Latin Poetry, ed. 1864, p. 237. It is tr. as:—

The thirsty hart pants with desire. By D. T. Morgan, in his Hys. of the Latin Church, 1871, p. 94.

These various forms and centos testify to the popularity which the poem has enjoyed in Roman Catholic circles. It is in parts very beautiful; but is, as a whole, too intensely Marian to lend itself for use in the Churches of the Reformation, unless with such adaptation as would almost destroy its identity.

[J. M.]

Ut queant laxis resonare fibris Paul the Deacon. [St. John the Baptist's Day.] This hymn by Paul the Deacon, son of Warnfried, is found in three mss. of the 11th cent. in the British Museum (Jul. A. vi. f. 58; Vesp. D. xii. f. 81 b; Add. 30848 f. 165); and in the Latin Hys. of the Anglo-Saxon Ch., 1851, p. 102, is printed from an 11th cent. ms. at Durham (B. iii. 32 f. 30b). Also in the St. Gall ms. No. 387, of the 11th cent.; in a ms. of the 11th cent. at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge (201, p. 209), &c. Among the Bern mss. it is found in No. 363 of the 8th cent.; No. 363 circa 900; and No. 433 of the 10th cent. Ernest Dümmler, in the Poetæ Latini ævi Carolini, Berlin, 1881, vol. i. p. 85, gives it in the Appendix "Carminum Dubiorum" of Paul the Deacon, citing it as in a Vatican ms. of the 10th cent., and many others. It is in the Roman, Sarum, York, Aberdeen, and other Breviaries. In the Sarum use part i. was assigned to Lauds, pt. ii. Astra tenenti tenuia sub annis to Matins, pt. iii., O sancte Iohs, mestique cehi to Lauds. Stanza i. has often been quoted by writers on music (from Guido of Arezzo in the 11th cent. onwards) as indicating the names of the musical notes:—

"Ut queant laxis Resonare fibris
Mira gestorum Famuli tuorum
Solve polluti Labii reatum, Sancte Johannes."

The printed text is also in Daniel i. No. 183, with readings at iv. pp. 103, 370, citing the Bern ms. No. 455, &c.; in Wackernagel, i. No. 127; Blunday, No. 64; G. M. Dreves's Hymnarius Moissiacensis, 1888 p. 50, from a 10th cent. ms.; and in Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865. [J. M.]

The three parts of this hymn have been tr. into English as follows :—

i. Ut queant laxis resonare fibris.

1. O that, once more, to sinful men descending. By T. I. Ball, in the 1863 Appendix to the H. Noted. In the Office H. Book, 1880, it is given as "O that to sinners once again descending."

2. Greatest of prophets, messenger appointed. By R. F. Littledale, in the 1860 Appendix to the H. Noted, in the Day Hours of the Church of England, 1864, and again in the People's H., 1867, with the signature "R."

3. O heavenly Father, cleanse our lips. By W. Cooke, in the Hymnary, 1872, with the signature "A. C. C." and again in Thring's Coll., 1882.

4. O for thy spirit, holy John, to chasten. Anonymous in the Antiphoner and Grail, 1880, and the Hymnar, 1882. It is based upon W. J. Blew's tr. as below.

Other trs. are :—

1. That thy rare dolgas, O S. John we pray thee. Primer, 1599.
2. That thy servants may with joy declare. Primer, 1615.
3. That we with deep-tun'd strings may sound. Primer. 1685.
4. O syrian Prophet, whose eternal Fame. Primer, 1706. [sic.]
5. That we with tuneful Notes may sound thy Life. Roman Office. 1781.
6. O for thy spirit, holy John, once more. W. J. Copeland. 1846.
7. Unrivall'd, great Baptist, our sin-fetter'd lips. E. Caswall. 1849.
8. O for thy spirit, holy John, to chasten. W. J. Blew. 1852-65.
9. That with glad voices, we thy manifold virtues. T. I. Ball in Catholic Psalmist. 1850.
10. In flowing measures worthily to sing. J. D. Chambers. 1857.
11. That we may worthy be in tuneful strain. J. Wallace. 1874.

ii. Antra deserti teneris sub annis.

1. In caves of the lone wilderness thy youth. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 156; his Hym. & Poems, 1873, p. 85, and a few Roman Catholic hymn-books for Missions and Schools.

2. Thou, young in years, in desert caverns hidest. By T. I. Ball, in the 1863 Appendix to the H. Noted. In the Office Hy. Book, 1880, it is greatly altered as, "Thou, in the wilds, thy tender years art hiding."

3. Thou in thy childhood to the desert caverns. Anon. in the Antiphoner and Grail, 1880, and the Hymnar, 1882.

Other trs. are :—

1. From lonely crowds your early years Recess. Primer. 1706.
2. In tenderest years withdrawn from haunts of men. W. J. Copeland. 1846.
3. In the lone desert, to the caves and coverts. W. J. Blew. 1852-65.
4. Thou in the desert caves thy tender youth. J. D. Chambers. 1866.
5. Thy childhood's home the desert was. J. Wallace. 1874.

iii. O nimis felix meritique celsi.

1. O blessed saint, of snow-white purity. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 159, and his Hym. & Poems, 1873, p. 86. It is given in a few collections. In Hys. for the Year, 1867, it begins, "O Saint of snow-white purity."

2. O blessed saint of high renown and honour. By R. F. Littledale, in the Day Hours of the Church of England, 1864, and the People's H., 1867, where it is signed "R."

3. O more than blessed, merit high attaining. Anon. in the Antiphoner and Grail, 1880, and the Hymnar, 1882. Altered in the Office H. Book, 1889, to "O Saint most blessed, merit high attaining."

Other trs. are :—

1. Hail Prince of Prophets, Prince of Martyrs, hail. Primer. 1706.
2. O, all too blest, and of transcendent worth. W. J. Blew. 1852-65.
3. Baptist thrice blessed, John august and holy. W. J. Blew. 1852-65.
4. Most blest, most excellent in holiness. J. D. Chambers. 1866.
5. Thrice happy, thou exalted saint. J. Wallace. 1874.

[J. J.]

V

V. In the New Golden Shower, N. Y., 1870, i.e. Mrs. Van Alstyne.

Vain are the hopes the sons of men. I. Watts. [Justification by Faith.] Pub. in his Hys. and S. Songs, 1709, Bk. i., No. 94, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed "Justification by Faith, not by Works; or, The Law condemns, Grace justifies. Rom. iii. 19-22." In the Draft of the Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, 1745, it was given unaltered; in that of 1751 it was slightly changed; and in the authorised issue of the Trs. and Paraphs., 1781, No. xli., st. i., ii. were rewritten, but begun with the original first line as above; st. iii. was taken from the Draft of 1751; and st. iv. unaltered from Watts. In the markings by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 890, ii.) these alterations are attributed to him. The use of the 1781 form of the text is far more extensive than that of the original. [J. J.]

Van Alstyne, Frances Jane, née Crosby, a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was b. at South East, Putnam County, New York, March 24, 1823. When six weeks old she had her sight. About 1835 she entered the New York City Institution for the Blind. On completing her training she became a teacher therein from 1847 to 1858. In 1858 she was married to Alexander Van Alstyne, a musician, who was also blind. Her first poem was pub. in 1831; and her first volumes of verse as A Blind Girl, and Other Poems, 1844; Monterey, and Other Poems, 1849; and A Wreath of Columbia's Flowers, 1858. Her first hymn was "We are going, we are going" (Death and Burial), which was written for Mr. Bradbury and pub. in the Golden Censer, 1864. From 1858 to 1858 she wrote 20 songs, which were set to music by G. F. Root. Her songs and hymns number some 2,000 or more, and have been published mainly in several of the popular American Sunday school collections, and often under a nom de plume. About 60 have come into C. U. in G. Britain. The majority of those are taken from the following American collections :—

i. From The Shining Star, 1864.
1. Softly on the breath of evening. Evening.

ii. From Fresh Laurels, 1867.
2. Beautiful Meadows, home of the blest. Heaven.
3. Jesus the Water of Life has given. The Water of Life.
4. Light and Comfort of my soul. In Affliction.

5. There's a cry from Macedonia. Missions.
6. We are marching on with shield and banner bright. S. S. Anniversary.

iii. From Musical Leaves, 1868.
7. O what are you going to do, brother? Youth for God.

iv. From Sabbath Carols, 1868.
8. Dark is the night, and cold the wind is blowing. Affliction anticipated.
9. Lord, at Thy mercy seat, Humbly I fall. Lent.

v. From Silver Spray, 1868.
10. If I come to Jesus, He will make me glad. Peace in Jesus.
11. 'Twill not be long—our journey here. Heaven anticipated.

vi. From Notes of Joy, 1869.
12. Little beams of rosy light. The Divine Father.
13. Press on! press on! a glorious throng. Pressing towards the Prize.

vii. From Bright Jewels, 1869.
14. Christ the Lord is risen to-day, He is risen indeed. Easter.
15. Holy, holy, holy is the Lord! Sing O ye people, Children of God.
16. Jesus, hung me near the Cross. Near the Cross of Christ.
17. Saviour, bless a little child. A Child's Prayer. Written Feb. 4, 1868.

viii. From Songs of Devotion, 1870.
18. Pass me not, O gentle Saviour. Lent. Written in 1868.
19. Rescue the perishing, care for the dying. Home Missions.

ix. From Pure Gold, 1871.
20. Great is Jehovah. King of kings. Greatness of God.
21. I would be Thy little lamb. The Good Shepherd.
22. Lead me to Jesus, lead me to Jesus. Desiring Jesus.
23. To the work, to the work, we are servants of God. Duty of Service.
24. Why labour for treasures that rust and decay? The Fadeless Crown.

x. From the Royal Diadem, 1873.
25. I am Jesus' little friend. For Infant Schools.
26. Jesus I love Thee. Loving Jesus.
27. Mourner, wherefore these art. To the Sorrowing and Penitent. Written Oct. 7, 1871.
28. Never be faint or weary. Joy in Jesus.
29. Only a step to Jesus. Invitation.

xi. From Winnowed Hymns, 1873-4.
30. Loving Saviour, hear my cry. Lent.

xii. From Echoes of Zion, 1874.
31. Say, where is thy refuge, my brother? Home Missions.

xiii. From Songs of Grace and Glory, 1874.
32. Then my everlasting Portion. Christ the Portion of His People.

xiv. From Brightest and Best, 1875.
33. All the way my Saviour leads me. Jesus the Guide.
34. I am Thine, O Lord: I have heard Thy voice. Holiness desired.
35. Rejoice, rejoice the Saviour, believe in His name. Foundation. Written, Sep. 7, 1874.
36. O how sweet when we mingle. Communion of Saints. Written in 1865.
37. O my Saviour, hear me. Prayer to Jesus for Pardon.
38. Only Jesus feels and knows. Jesus the Divine Friend.
39. Revive Thy work, O Lord. Home Missions.
40. Saviour, more than life to me. Jesus all and in all.
41. Ye fond in the glory, great things He hath done. Praise for Redemption.

xv. From Calvary Songs, 1875.
42. Come, O come with thy broken heart. Invitation.

xvi. From Gospel Music, 1876.
43. Here from the world we turn. Divine Worship.
44. When Jesus comes to reward His servants. Watching.

xvii. From Welcome Tidings, 1877.
45. O hear my cry, be gracious now to me. For Pardon and Peace.

xviii. From The Fountain of Song, 1877.
46. Lord, my trust I repose on Thee. Trusting in Jesus.

xix. From Good as Gold, 1880.
47. In Thy cleft, O Rock of Ages. Safety in Jesus.
48. Sound the alarm! let the watchman cry. Home Missions.
49. Tenderly He leads us. Christ the Leader.
50. 'Tis the blessed hour of prayer. The hour of Prayer.

In addition to these hymns all of which are in C. U. in G. Britain (mainly through I. D. Sankey's Sacred Songs and Solos, the Methodist S. S. H. Bk., the Silver Street Sunday Scholar's Companion, and other collections for Sunday schools), there are also "A blessing for you, will you take it?" (Pardon through Jesus); "My song shall be of Jesus" (Praise of Jesus); "Now, just a word for Jesus" (Home Missions); "Onward, upward, Christian soldier" (Pressing Heavenward); "Sinner, how thy heart is troubled" (Invitation); "'Tis a goodly, pleasant land" (Heaven anticipated); and "When the dewy light was fading" (Death anticipated). All of these are in I. D. Sankey's Soc. Songs & Solos. Mrs. Van Alstyne's most popular composition is "Safe in the arms of Jesus" (Safety in Jesus). This was written in 1868, at the request of Mr. W. H. Doane, to his well-known melody with which it is inseparably associated, and pub. in Bright Jewels, 1869. Mrs. Van Alstyne's hymns have sometimes been published anonymously; but the greater part are signed by a bewildering number of initials, and some de plume, including :—

A. C. D. H. W. F. F. A. K. J. F. C. P. J. C.; F. J. V. J.; J. C. F.; V. V. A.; Ella Dale; E. Crosby; F. J. Crosby; Fannie; Fannie Crosby; Fanny; Fanny Crosby; Fanny Van Alstyne; Jenny F.; Mrs. Jesse Illens; Mrs. Kate Grinley; Mrs F.; Mrs Viola V. A.; Mrs. V. Viola. (List kindly supplied by Mr. H. P. Main, of Howe York.)

The combined sales of the volumes of songs and hymns named above have amounted in English-speaking countries to millions of copies. Notwithstanding the immense circulation thus given to Mrs. Van Alstyne's hymns, they are, with few exceptions, very weak and poor, their simplicity and earnestness being their redeeming features. Their popularity is largely due to the melodies to which they are wedded.

Since the above was in type we have found that the following are also in C. U. in G. Britain :—

51. Suppose the little cowslip. Value of Little Things.
52. Sweet hour of prayer. The Hour of Prayer. These are in Bradbury's Golden Chain, 1861.
53. Never lose the golden rule. Love to our Neighbours. In Bradbury's Golden Censer, 1864.
54. I will not be afraid at night. Trust in God. In Bradbury's Golden Censer, 1864.
55. Praise Him, praise Him, Jesus our, &c. Praise of Jesus. In Higbee & Main's Bright Jewels, 1869.
56. More like Jesus would I be. More like Jesus. In Perkins & Taylor's Songs of Salvation, 1872.
57. Jesus, I come to Thee. Christ at the Door. In Higbee & Main's Christian Songs, 1873.
58. If I come to Jesus. Jesus the Children's Guide.
59. Jesus, Lord, I come to Thee. Trust in Jesus.
60. Let me learn of Jesus. Jesus the Children's Friend.
61. Singing for Jesus, O singing for Jesus. Singing for Jesus.

62. There is a Name divinely sweet. Holy Name of Jesus.

Of these hymns Nos. 58–62 we have not been able to trace. [J. J.]

Various. It was originally intended that additions to and corrections of articles in this Dictionary should come under this heading. The expansion of the work far beyond its original limits, the accumulation of hymns and hymnological works of great value, the discovery of new and books heretofore unknown to the hymnologist, the passing away of a large number of hymnwriters since the printing of this Dictionary was begun in 1880, and the late arrival of some important articles, have however necessitated an Appendix, which will be found at p. 1907. In every case where the reader is referred to Various in this Dictionary the information will be found in that Appendix. [J. J.]

Vater unser, der du biist. [Lord's Prayer.] In an Erfurt G. B. of 1527, and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 545, in 9 st. of 4 l., and Kirchhoven. Tr. as "O oure Father celestiall," by Sp. Coverdale, 1539 (Remains, 1846, p. 240). [J. M.]

Vater unser im Himmelreich. [M. Luther. The Lord's Prayer.] This was included in V. Schumann's Geistliche Lieder, Leipzig, 1539, in 9 st. of 6 l., entitled "The Lord's Prayer briefly expounded and turned into metre" (apparently first as a broadsheet with the same title, in 1539); see Waekernagel's Bibliographie, 1855, p. 156); and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 24. Also in Schircke's ed. of Luther's Geistliche Lieder, 1854, p. 32; and in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 272. It is a beautiful rendering, and has been by some regarded as Luther's finest hymn. Each of the first eight stanzas amplifies one of the clauses of the Lord's Prayer (omitting the doxology), and the ninth is on the Amen. C. von Winterfeld, in his ed. of Luther's Deutsche Geistliche Lieder, Leipzig, 1840, gives a facsimile of what he believed to be the autograph original draft of this hymn. Tr. as :—

1. Our Father in the heav'ns above. A good and full tr. by A. T. Russell, as No. 121 in the Dalston Hospital H. Bk., 1848, repeated as No. 4, in the Appx. to his own Ps. & Hys., 1851, and omitting st. ix., in Maurice's Choral H. Bk., 1861.

2. Our Father dear, which art in heaven. In full, by R. Massie, in his Martin Luther's Spir. Songs, 1854, p. 61, repeated in the Ohio Luth. Hyf., 1880.

3. Our Father, Thou in heaven above. A full and good tr. by Miss Winkworth, in her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 114. Repeated in the Evang. Hyf., N. Y., 1880, and by Dr. Bacon in his Hys. of Martin Luther, 1884, p. 64.

Other trs. are :—

(1) "Our Father God omnipotent." In the Gude and Godlie Ballatis, 1567, ed. by D. Laing, 1868, p. 19. (2) "Our Father Which in Heaven art, And madst it." By Dr. R. Cox, in the 1846 and 1868-81, Psalmes of David. Repeated in the English Psalter of 1849, and added in 1864 to the Scottish Psalter of 1564-65. (3) "Our Father! Which in Heaven dost dwell." By J. Craig, 1781 (1785, p. 197). Repeated as No. 193 in pt. 1. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. (4) "Our Father in the heavenly realm." By Wm. Fry, 1846, p. 45. (5) "Our Father, Who from heaven above." By J. Anderson, 1868, p. 34 (1881, p. 75). (6) "Father of all in heaven above." By Dr. J. Hunt, 1883, p. 36. (7) "Our Father in the heaven Who art." By Dr. G. Macdonald in the Sunday Magazine, 1887, altered in his Exodus, 1876. [J. M.]

Vaughan, Charles John, D.D., s. of Mr. Vaughan, Vicar of St. Martin's, Leicester, was b. in 1817, and educated at Rugby, and at Trinity College, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1839 as Senior Classic. He was for sometime Fellow of his College, and successively Vicar of St. Martin's, Leicester; Head Master of Harrow; Vicar of Doncaster; Master of the Temple; and Dean of Llandaff (1879). He has also been Chaplain in Ordinary to the Queen, and Chancellor of York Cathedral. In 1882 he was appointed Deputy Clerk of the Closet. Although as widely known as a Scholar, Theologian, and Preacher, his hymn-writing is very limited. Practically he is known by one hymn only: "Lord, Whose temple once did glisten" (Laying Foundation Stone of a Church), which was written at Cambridge about 1837, to the tune "The German Emperor" (H. A. & M., 1875, No. 292, 1st tune), and was used at the laying of the Foundation stone of Trinity Church, Chesterfield. It was pub. in Alford's Ps. & Hys., 1844, No. 115, in 4 st. of 8 l., and was given for "The Consecration of a Church." It is in several modern collections. [J. J.]

Vaughan, Henry, M.D., commonly called "The Silurist," was one of twin-brothers born of a titled family at Newton, Llansaintffraid, in 1621. After studying under the Rev. Matthew Herbert, Rector of Llangattock, he proceeded to Jesus College, Oxford, in 1638; but through the national troubles of those days, his studies, in common with those of his brother, were interrupted, and they had to leave the University. Subsequently he entered the medical profession, and practised at Brecon and at Newton. He d. April 23, 1695. His published works include, Poems with the Tenth Satire of Juvenal Englished, 1646; Olor Iscanus, 1651; The Mount of Olives, 1652, &c. As a religious poet he followed very closely the peculiarities of George Herbert, of whose writings he was a great admirer. His best and most devotional poems were written during a severe affliction, and were pub. in his Silex Scintillans. After being almost forgotten for more than 200 years, his quaint, thoughtful, devotional, and, in many instances, beautiful poems, are receiving attention at the hands of hymnal compilers and others. The title of the work in which these pieces appeared is :—

Silex Scintillans: or Sacred Poems and Private Ejaculations. By Henry Vaughan, Silur-ist. London. Printed by J. W. for H. Blunden, at ye Castle in Cornhill, 1650. This contains 118 pages. This was reprinted as Silex Scintillans; or Sacred Poems and Private Ejaculations. By Henry Vaughan, Silur-ist. Author of Olor Iscanus. Silurist. London. Printed for Henry Crips, and Lodowick Lloyd, next to the Castle in Cornhill, and in Pope-Head Alley, 1655. The Rev. H. F. Lyte republished this work as, The Sacred Poems and Private Ejaculations of Henry Vaughan, with memoir. London, Pickering, 1847. It is also reprinted in Grosart's Fuller Worthies, 1886.

From the Silex Scintillans several pieces have been taken as hymns for public worship. In addition to those annotated under their respective first lines (see Index of Authors and Translators), the following, all from the 1st ed. of 1650, are in C. U. :—

1. As travellers when the twilight's come. Life a Pilgrimage.

2. Bright shadows of true rest! some shoots of bliss. Sundays. Sometimes as "Types of eternal rest, fair Sundays." &c.

3. Joy of my life, while left me here. Guiding Stars.

4. King of mercy, King of love. God our King.

5. Lord, with what courage and delight. Cheerfulness.

6. My God and King, to Thee I bow my knee. Lent.

7. Rise in a land not barren still. Love and Discipline.

8. Up to those bright and glorious hills. Ps. cxxi. "What needs a conscience, clear and bright?" Conscience.

10. When one lord blast shall rend the deep. Advent. Judgment.

11. Zion's true glorious God! on Thee. Praise.

Of Vaughan's hymns the most widely used are :—" Bright Queen of heaven." " My soul, there is a country," and " Up to those bright and gladsome hills." [J. J.]

Vaughan, Rowland, was a member of an ancient Welsh family in Merionethshire. He received his University education at Jesus College, Oxford. His name stands pre-eminent among the contemporary gentry of Wales, for devoting his talents to the improvement of his poorer countrymen. He translated several excellent works; and besides being a good prose writer, he was also a good poet. His tr. of the Veni Creator Spiritus, " Tyr'd Yaheyd Glan," and his Gulormod Pechadus are still in great favour in Wales. His mansion at Caergai was burnt to the ground by the Republican forces from Montgomeryshire, and part of his estates confiscated. His attachment to the King's cause brought upon him great sufferings. [W. G. T.]

Venez Jésus, mon salutaire. Antodeifis Energiens. [Honouring all for Christ.] This hymn was written, circa 1640, and expressed her determination to live for Christ alone, a resolution which she came to whilst suffering from her father's anger because she refused to marry a man whom he had chosen for her. It is given in her Works, Amsterdam, 1686, in 5 st. of 8 l. Tr. as :—

Come Saviour, Jesus, from above. Dr. Osborn, in The Poetical Works of John and Charles Wesley, 1868–72, vol. i. p. 119, says in a note to this tr., which is given there from the Wesley Hys. and Sac. Poems, 1739, p. 125, in 10 st. of 4 l. :

"This, and the 'Farewell to the World,' p. 17, were probably furnished to the compilers by Mr. Byrom, of Manchester (see "Byrom and the Wesleys," by the Rev. Dr. Rigg [1881], pp. 17, 27), and translated by him from the French of Madam de Bourignon. The copy of "A Collection of Divine Poems" (Manchester, 1717), and "Divine Poems" (Manchester, 1717), vol. ii. p. 311, differs from that given above only in the title ("Renouncing all for Christ"), and in such verbal alterations as the respective taste and judgment of the Wesleys would dictate. The lines, "Nothing on earth I'll have or crave," in accordance with that superstition to which the preface to the Hys. and Sac. Poems, 1739) refers; and Wesley has improved on himself as well as on Byrom in the last edition of v. 2 (that in the Large Hymn-Book, 1780), where "Nor heaven nor earth," we read "Nothing on earth."

The references to Byrom and the Wesleys are thus :—

(1) p. 17. Under date, "Manchester, March 3rd, 1738," Byrom writes to C. Wesley, and in his letter says :—"As your brother [J. Wesley] has brought so many of his performances to the press, as to make up a sufficient number, and has occasion to increase them by the small addition of Mademoiselle Bourignon's two little pieces. I desire you to favour my printed weakness, if I judge wrong, and not to publish them."

(2) p. 27. Under date of "April 24th, 1738," Byrom writes to his son :—"They [J. & C. Wesley] have both together printed a book of hymns (his Hys. & Sac. Poems, 1739), amongst which they have inserted two of Madam Bourignon's, which I translated. One is the 'Farewell to the World,' translated from the French; and the other, 'Renouncing all for Christ,' translated from the French. They have introduced them by a preface against what they call Mystic writers (not taxing any particular author), but in general against all sorts of enthusiasm, but think themselves obliged very solemnly to acknowledge their error, and to guard others against the like, which they do by certain reasons that I do not see the reason of."

We regard these facts and quotations as good evidence in support of Byrom's authorship, notwithstanding that his Poems were pub. not by himself but by another ten years after his death.

In 1780 J. Wesley included his amended version in 8 st. of 4 l. in the Wes. H. Bk., No. 276. Since then it has passed into numerous collections in G. Britain and America in various forms varying from 4 to 8 stanzas, and all from J. Wesley's text. [J. J.]

Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes tuorum visita. [Whitsunday.] In annotating this great hymn we shall deal (i.) with the MSS. and the various forms of the Text; (ii.) with its Authorship and Date; and lastly (iii.) with the differences found in its Use.

i. MSS. and Text. From the 12th cent. onwards scs. of this hymn are innumerable, as it is commonly found in the Hymnals, Breviaries, &c., of almost all churches of the West. Before the 12th cent. copies are much less plentiful. In order to determine the text, seven scs., all assigned to the 11th cent., have been collated as follows :—

Three now in the British Museum, viz., Jul. A., vi. f. 33 (Hymnal), Sarg. S., xii. f. 71 (Hymnal), Add. 23935, f. 159 (Monastic Breviary); one at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, No. 391, p. 1 (Hymnal, with hymns also in the Sacramentary, Leon., Miss. f. 22 (Hymnal); one at Durham, B. iii. 32, f. 97 (Hymnal); and one in the Vatican at Rome, Palat. 24. (Psalter with hymns).

Among other ancient mss. it is found

In two Rheinau mss., now in the Kantonal-Bibliothek at Zürich, viz. No. 111, f. 113b, of the 10th cent., and No. 91, f. 149, of the 11th cent., in the latter assigned to Rabanus Maurus (d. 856), and in the Bodleian, Auct. D. inf. i. page 215 (the earliest St. Gall ms. to which the Librarian, Herr Bibliothekar Ildefons von Arx, kindly directed Mr. Ibbotson, has been able to find it); in a ms. of the 12th cent. in the Arch. Mon., Arundel, 165f, 107b (Psalter with Hymns), &c.

In other early mss. its existence and use are recognised, but only the first words of the hymn are given. Four such mss., all of the 11th cent., may be mentioned, viz. :—

Three in the British Museum, Harl. 2961, f. 102b (Collectarium and Hymnal), Titus D. xxvii. f. 14 (Book of Hymns), and Add. 30851, f. 1 (Book of Hymns and Antiphonary); and one in the Bodleian, Liturg. Misc., 368, I. (Pontifical).

From these sources the text is derived thus :—

(a) The Original Text and the Doxologies. The text of the seven mss. cited above is as follows :

I.	II.
" Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes tuorum visita, Imple superna gratia Quæ Tu creasti pectora.	" Tu septiformis munere, Dextræ Dei Tu digitus, Tu rite promissus Patris, Sermone ditas guttura.
III.	IV.
" Qui Paraclitus diceris, Donum Dei altissimi, Fons vivus, ignis, charitas, Et spiritalis unctio.	" Accende lumen sensibus, Infunde amorem cordibus, Infirma nostri corporis Virtute firmans perpeti.

v.

"Hostem repulsa longius,
Pacemque dones protinus:
Ductore sic Te praevio
Vitemus omne noxium.

vi.

"Per Te sciamus, da, Patrem,
Noscamus atque Filium,
Te utriusque Spiritum
Credamus omni tempore."

These six stanzas clearly form the original text, and in some of the mss. cited (e.g. Add. 30848, and Pulst. 30), in the Add. 18301, f. 128b (a Collectarium and Hymnal of the 12th cent.), and in some of the early printed Breviaries, e.g. the Augsburg Brev. of 1495, Basel Brev. of 1495, &c., &c., nothing more is added. Many mss. indeed contain a doxology, the most usual being :—

"Sit laus Patri cum Filio,
Sancto simul Paraclito,
Nobisque mittat Filius
Charisma Sancti Spiritus."

The extraneous character of the doxology is however betrayed by the quantity of the penultimate of Paraclito, and by the great variety of such doxologies, almost every church having its own special one. The doxology in the Durham Hymnal is :—

"Sit laus Patri cum Genito,
Amborum et Paraclito,
Prolis et bono promisso,
Nobis modoque tribuat."

In the Roman Brev. of 1570 and 1632 the doxology reads :—

"Deo Patri sit gloria,
Et Filio, qui a mortuis
Surrexit, ac Paraclito,
In sempiterna (saeculorum) saecula."

But whatever the form was it was, as a rule, merely a general doxology common to all the Pentecostal hymns, as indeed is often indicated by a rubric such as "Sic terminantur Hymni usque ad Vesperas Sabbati sequentis" (Brev. Rom.). In the Arundel MS. 135, only the words "Sit laus Patri," are added; and in the Vesp. D. xii, "Deo Patri sit gloria."

The variations in the six stanzas of the text proper are few and of small importance, viz. in st. iii. 2, 3, 4, some mss. give "promissum" and "ditasa," and in st. iv. 1, 4, some mss. read "perpetim." In the Roman Brev. of 1632 the variations introduced are :—

ii. 1. 2. Qui Advocatus Paraclitus.
iii. 1. 2. Infunde amorem cordibus.
iii. 1. 3. Infirma Tuorum dextera.
vi. 1. 3. Pigne utriusque Spiritum.

These variations however rest on no MS. authority, but are merely due to the tasteless revision of the Breviary hymns made in 1625–31, under Urban VIII., and are simply somewhat clumsy attempts to improve the rhythm and sonnsion. That in st. ii. 1. 1, is specially to be regretted, as it destroys one of the most characteristic features of the hymn, viz. the way in which it preserves the correct quantity of the penultimate of Paraclitus, contrary to the general practice in Latin.

(β) Additions to the Original Text. In some mss. an additional stanza is given between st. v. and vi. as follows :—

"In manibrum praecula,
Fides sit cordium,
Firmetur fides vitiosa,
Auferuntur pacta foedera."

This is contained e.g. in two mss. in the Bodleian (Laud. Misc., 468 f. 4, of the 12th cent., and Liturg. Misc., 370, f. 117, circa 1340), and in some of the early printed books, e.g. the Basel Brev. of 1489. But it is wanting in the earliest mss. (e.g. it is not in the Durham Hymnal; Verg. D., xii.; Jul. A., vi.; Liturg. Misc., 320; Pulst. 30; C. C. C., 391), and the true ending of the hymn is st. vi., which forms the real doxology, no other being needed.

Another extraneous stanza is sometimes inserted after st. vi., viz. :—

"Dudum sacrata pectora,
Tua replenti gratia,
Dimitte rorem gaudiis,
Et da quietis tempora."

This is found in the Durham Hymnal, but it has no business in the text, and really belongs to the "Beata nobis gaudia" (p. 190, i.). In the Sarum Brev. it is attached, along with the doxology, "Sit laus Patri cum Filio," to other Pentecostal hymns.

There is thus no doubt that the hymn should really consist of the 24 lines printed together as above, ending with the stanza "Per Te sciamus, da, Patrem." We may add that in a ms. circa 1100, in the Brit. Mus. (Add. 18202, f. 24), a rubric regarding the "Veni Creator Spiritus" is followed by a hymn in four st., viz. :—

i. Te nunc Deus piissime.
ii. Dulcem sacrata pectora.
iii. Hic, Christe, mitte Paraclitum.
iv. Sit laus Patri cum Filio.

Of these st. ii., iv. are noted above, st. i. is from the "Beata nobis gaudia," and st. iii. is given in the Durham Hymnal as part of the "Jam Christus astra ascenderat" (p. 276, i.).

ii. Authorship and Date. It is curious how very little is known of the authorship of this hymn, which has taken deeper hold of the Western Church than any other mediaeval hymn, the Te Deum alone excepted. The real author is as yet unknown, but it has been ascribed (α) to the Emperor Charles the Great (Charlemagne), (β) to St. Ambrose, (γ) to Gregory the Great, and to (δ) Rhabanus Maurus. We may discuss these in this order.

(α) Charlemagne. The best known and most widely circulated form in that assertion is in the Emperor Charles' own Capitulary, Capitularia Regum Francorum, 2nd ed., vol. i. p. 179, Paris, 1677) repeats it without qualification. This is however a legend, and falls to pieces at once when traced to its source. The original authority is Ekkehard v., Monk of St. Gall, in his Casus S. Galli, written circa 1220. There, in chapter xviii., Ekkehard says :—

"It is told of the blessed man [Notker] that one day when he went through the dormitory he listened, for there was hard by a mill, whose wheel was revolving with a loud noise, and he perceived that the workman sounding like words. And for man of God, hearing this, straightway was in the spirit, and produced that most beautiful hymn, and gave utterance to the hymn-sweet melody from the same kind spirit which possessed him, 'Nunc sancte nobis Spiritus unus opifex' [p. 202, i.]. And when he had completed it he sent it as a present to the Emperor Charles the Great, who was then probably staying at Aachen. And the same Charles, a pious man, and in the Holy Spirit most wise, when he had read it, and had imagined him, viz., the hymn 'Veni, Creator Spiritus.'"

Here we have the original story which has spread so widely, and has been so generally accepted. The words in italics above are really found in Ekkehard's autograph ms. at St. Gall (No. 484, p. 345), but are a manifest blunder, for Charles the Great (Charlemagne) died in 814, and Notker in 912, and the hymn is not found in any ms. earlier than the latter part of the 10th cent. Mone, l. p. 345, indeed speaks of it as being found in a ms. earlier than Charles (who d. 814), but the earliest ms. known to him is one of the 10th cent. Ekkehard is probably the result of a mistaken inference from Theganius. It is true that Pfeiffer in frequently cites Vatican mss. of the 9th cent., and it is also true that he includes the "Veni Creator" in his Hymnarium. But in this case it is not allowable to put two and two together, for the mss. cited, ii. 213, does not cite any of these mss. as containing the text of the "Veni Creator." The closing lines :—

"Te utriusque Spiritum
Credamus omni tempore."

have been thought to imply that the hymn was written after the Council of Aachen (Aquisgranum, or Aix-la-Chapelle) in 809, when the doctrine of the Double Procession was first authoritatively affirmed. But the hymn does not emphasize the doctrine in any way, and similar language was used in the Western Church from a very early period.

(β) St. Ambrose. Like most other important Latin hymns this also has been ascribed to St. Ambrose, e.g. by Rambach, i. 178, and in many mss. and printed books, e.g. in the Benedictine Christ-Ambrose, Leipzig, 1575, and is included in many of the earlier editions of his works, e.g. Paris, 1614. It is not however claimed for him by the Benedictine editors of his works, nor by Biraghi in his Inni sinceri, carmi e sequenze di Sant'Ambrogio, 1862, and there is really no evidence whatever in favour of authorship. It is true that it bears traces of his influence. The lines :—

"Accende lumen sensibus, Infunde amorem cordibus,"

recall the words "Accende lumen oculis," of the very ancient hymn "O lux beata Trinitas" (p. 242, ii.), which is probably his work; while ll. 3, 4 of st. iv. are borrowed directly from the "Veni Redemptor gentium," (p. 121, ii.), which is certainly his. But the more fact that it borrows two lines from a well-known hymn of St. Ambrose is no evidence whatever that it is also his work. The hymns of St. Ambrose soon became the common property of the Church, and later writers had no scruples about making free use of them in their own compositions. The "Veni Creator" is ascribed to St. Ambrose in a considerable number of mss., but this may be set aside without hesitation.

(γ) Gregory the Great. Mone, i. p. 345 (followed by Kayser, i. p. 74), ascribes it to Gregory the Great, on the following grounds :—(1) Its correspondence with his style, with occasional rhymes. (2) The correct quantity of the penultimate of Paraclitus, as showing a knowledge of Greek. These arguments have a certain value, and Gregory is in himself not an unlikely person to have written the hymn. But the first is of little force, and of such repute as Gregory in the 6th cent. we might fairly have expected to come across some early notice of it. It is however attributed to him by no early writer, it is wanting in the earliest hymnals which we possess, and is not found in any ms. of the "Liber Sacramentorum," where many early hymns are mentioned. It is quite precarious to assign it, on purely subjective grounds, and in the absence of any external testimony, to so early and so celebrated a writer as Gregory.

(δ) Rhabanus Maurus. Archbishop of Mainz (b. circa 776, d. 856). Clichtoveus Bevoix, a learned Jesuit, included the "Veni Creator" in his edition of Rhabanus's Poemata, Mainz, 1617, p. 74. But he was evidently not at all certain that it was really by Rhabanus, and merely printed it as "ex Ms." He had no definite information regarding the ms. which he used, and it does not seem to have been of any great antiquity. Some of the hymns in this ms. are certainly not by Rhabanus, and his claim to the rest is very shadowy. Dümmler, in his critical edition of the Poemata in the Dümmler, in his critical edition of the Carmina of Rhabanus (Poetae Latini aevi Carolini, vol. ii., Berlin, 1884), has only seen reason enough to accept two, both of which he gives among the pieces "incertae originis," and the "Veni Creator" is not among them. The claim of the "Veni Creator" even among the poems doubtfully ascribed to Rhabanus. It is indeed true that in Rhabanus's prose work De Universo, lib. i., chapter iii. (Migne's Pat. Lat. col. 23–26) there are some phrases which resemble those in the "Veni Creator," and in his work De Laudibus Crucis, in his Inst. Poetry (col. 164, pp. 175, 183) give quite as close parallels from the writings of St. Augustine and others.

Here we are compelled to leave the question. The evidence is too scanty to draw a positive conclusion. The hymn is clearly not the work of St. Ambrose nor of Charles the Great. Nor is there sufficient evidence to allow us to ascribe it either to Gregory the Great, to Rhabanus Maurus, or to any of the ecclesiastics connected with the court of Charles the Fat. The references to the hymn do not help us much in determining the authorship, as the following facts will show. The earliest definite allusion to it (apart from the statement of Ekkehard), is that it was used at a Synod at Rheims in 1049 (see C. J. Hefele's Conciliengeschichte, vol. iv. 2nd ed., 1879, p. 739). Benoît, i. p. 213 (ed. 1688, p. 200) indeed says that it had been used at the "Deletion of St. Marcellus" in 826, and to prove this gives a quotation which he professes to derive from the Annales Ord. S. Benedicti, ed. Mabillon, tom. vi. p. 332. But Mabillon's text contains no such quotation, and the quotation is really from the Acta Sanctorum Ordinis S. Benedicti, ed. D'Achery and Mabillon, Sæc. iv. pt. ii. (vol. vi.) p. 3-3, Paris, 1685, and forms part of the account of the reception of the relics of St. Marcellus at Seligenstadt. The hymn is not found in any ms. of the 9th, but in 11th. Nor has the hymn yet been found in any ms. earlier than the latter part of the 10th cent. Mone, l. p. 345, indeed speaks of it as being found in a ms. earlier than Charles (who d. 814), but the earliest ms. known to him is one of the 10th cent. Ekkehard is probably the result of a mistaken inference from Theganius. It is true that Pfeiffer frequently cites Vatican mss. of the 9th cent., and it is also true that he includes the "Veni Creator" in his Hymnarium. But in this case it is not allowable to put two and two together, for the mss. cited, ii. 213, does not cite any of these mss. as containing the text of the "Veni Creator." The closing lines :—

"Te utriusque Spiritum
Credamus omni tempore."

have been thought to imply that the hymn was written after the Council of Aachen (Aquisgranum, or Aix-la-Chapelle) in 809, when the doctrine of the Double Procession was first authoritatively affirmed. But the hymn does not emphasize the doctrine in any way, and similar language was used in the Western Church from a very early period.

iii. Use. In mediaeval times the singing of this hymn was generally marked with special dignity, by the ringing of bells, the use of incense, of lights, of the best vestments, &c. Its use in the Hour Services at Pentecost can be traced back, with tolerable certainty, to the 10th cent.* The earlier uses for the most part allot it only to Vespers (so Jul. A., vi.; Verg. D., xii.; the Durham Hymnal; Liturg. Misc., 320), and so late as the 14th cent. Radulf, Dean of Tongres, gives the "Veni Creator" for Vespers, says that at the lesser hours "more Romano" the hymn was never changed (Hittorp, Cologne, 1568, col. 1126). But some time before this date it had certainly been adopted in some churches at Tierce, for a St. Alban's Breviary of the 12th cent. (Brit. Mus. Reg. 2 d. xx.) gives it for this service and not for Vespers; and this was also the Sarum use. Its use at Tierce (in accordance with Acts ii. 15) is said to have originated in the monastery of Cluny, being traced to St. Hugh, Abbot of Cluny (b. 1024, d. 1109) by an anonymous writer cited in the Bollandist Acta Sanctorum, for April 29 (see Annales Ordinis S. Benedicti, vol. v. p. 200). In two Mozarabic service-books of the 11th cent., now in the British Museum, viz. a Breviary (Add. 30848), and an Antiphonary (Add. 30850), it is assigned to Lauds. It is also ordered for use at Lauds, as well as Vespers, in a German Breviary, circa 1100, now in the British Museum (Add. 18302); but otherwise its use at Lauds seems to be quite exceptional.

In the Ordination Service its use has not been traced earlier than the 11th cent. It is not found in the Pontifical of Egbert (circa 950, printed by the Surtees Society, vol. xxvii.,

* A clear indication that the hymn was only beginning to be known in the 10th cent. is furnished by G. H. Dreves in his Hymnarius Moissiacensis, 1891, p. 85. He prints the text from a ms. of the 10th cent., but there it does not occur in the regular series of hymns, and had been added by a later hand at the end of the ms. The ms. (Benedictine of Metz) (Department of Yon et Cheviers). This ms. seems to present several textual variations peculiar to itself.

1838), nor in numerous ancient services given by Martene and by Morinus; while in some cases the reference to it is added, by a later hand, in the margin. It is however in at least three Pontifficals of the 11th cent., viz. one of Soissons given by Martene (Ordo viii. vol. ii. p. 396); that in the Bodleian ms. Liturg. Misc. 359; and Sarum's Pontifical G. C. C. 146, f. 119, perhaps the earliest instance of its occurrence in a Pontifical. In the Sens Missal of 1529, f. clvii., it is given as part of the priest's preparation for celebrating Mass; and so in the Sarum Missal of 1497 (Burntisland reprint, 1861, ff. col. 577), while in the York and Hereford Missals it is ordered to be sung after the Lauds (see W. Maskell's Ancient Liturgy, pp. 4, 92, 95). In modern Roman Service-books it is given in the Breviary, for Vespers and Tierce at Pentecost; and in the Pontifical for the Ordination of Priests, Consecration of Bishops, Laying the foundation stone of a Church, the Consecration of a Church, the "Ordo ad Synodum," and various other services.

It may be added that a full commentary on the theological bearings, and ritual uses of this hymn, will be found in the Abbé S. G. Pimont's Hymnes du Bréviaire Romain, vol. ii., pt. ii., Paris, 1884, pp. 125–145. [R. C. S. C.]

The "Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes" has frequently been tr. into German. Through two of these versions it has passed into English as follows:—

i. Komm, Gott Schöpfer, heiliger Geist. This is a full and faithful version by M. Luther, 1st pub. in Eyn Enchiridion, Erfurt, 1524. Thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 14; also in Schircke's ed. of Luther's Geistl. Lieder, 1854, p. 35, and in the Unv. L. S. 1851, No. 172. Tr. as:—

1. Come, Thou Creator God. As an ode of 63 lines by Miss Fry, in her Hys. of the Reformation, 1845, p. 26. From this a cento, in 5 st. of 8 l., beginning "O Holy Spirit now," was included in Whittemore's Supp. to All H. Bks., 1860, and the Meth. N. Conn. H. Bk., 1863.

2. Creator Spirit, Holy Dove. In full by E. Massie in his Martin Luther's Spir. Songs, 1854, p. 35. Repeated in Reid's Presb. Bk., 1872, and the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

Other trs. are:—

1. "Come, Creator! Holy Ghost! Thy &c." by J. Jacobson, 1846, p. 21 (1847, p. 37). (2) "Creator Spirit! hear our prayer." by Tr. S. Bath, 1851, p. 6. (3) "Come, God, Creator, Holy Ghost! And visit every," by Miss Shrimpton, 1863, p. 18. (4) "Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest," by G. Macdonald in the Sunday Magazine, 1867, p. 287, altered in his Hymnal, 1874, p. 34. (5) "Come, God, Creator, Holy Ghost, And visit Thou." In Dr. Succo's Hys. of Martin Luther, 1884, p. 34, partly based on Mr. Massie's tr.

ii. Du Gir, Geist Schöpfer, fahen wir. This is a free version, in 8 st. of 4 l., by J. A. Schlegel, 1st pub. in the 2nd ed., 1772, of his Sammlung geistlicher Gesänge (1st ed. 1765), p. 99, entitled "On the Names and Gifts of the Holy Ghost. The old Ambrosian hymn, 'Veni Creator Spiritus,' newly translated. A Whitsuntide hymn." The form tr. is that in the Berlin G. B., 1821, No. 287, which is considerably altered and reduced to 5 st. The tr. is:—

To Thee, Creator Spirit, now we flee. By J. Salisbury, tr. in 1877, and 1st pub. as No. 346 in the Supt. Hyl., 1879. [J. M.]

The tra. of the Veni Creator Spiritus direct from the Latin into English have been numerous and important. They include the following:—

1. Come Holy Ghost, eternal God. This tr. in C.M. in the Ordering of Priests in The Book of Common Prayer, was apparently printed in the Ordinal of 1549, not certainly in the 2nd book of Edward 6th, where it is given in 7 st. of 8 l. (Brit. Mus.). As it is too long to reproduce in full, we give the first and last stanzas only:—

(1) "Come holy ghost eternall god Proceeding from Both the one
Rather the father and the sonn, the God of peace and love,
Visite our soyntes, and into us thy heavenly grace inspire,
That in all truthe and Godlinesse, we Male have true desire.
* * * * * * *
(7) "Laude and prayse be to the father, and to the sonne equall,
And to the holy Spirite also, one God coeternall,
And graunt we that the sterly Sonne, vouchsaffe to be our guide
To all that do pretende his name unto the worldes ende."

A tr. which seems to be a variation of this text (but regarded by some as an older tr.) is found in The whole Psalter, translated into English metre, &c., John Day, London, n.d. (Brit. Mus., Lincoln Cathedral Library, &c.). [Psalters, English, p. 817, § ix.] This is known as Archbishop Parker's Psalter, and was written by him whilst in exile, 1553–1558 (Absolai Psalterium secundum exemplar Anglum vulgatum, Parker's Diary, 1557). The Tr. seems to be the preceding rendered into more even feet. It is in 16 st. of 4 l., of which st. 1, 2, 3, and xv. and xvi. are as follows:

(1) "Come holy ghost: eternall God,
Which dost from first procede.
The father first: and the the sonne,
Thou one with us do rede:
(2) "Oh visite thou our soules and harte,
Thy heavenly grace inspire:
That we in truth: and godlinesse,
May be our whole desire."
* * * * * * *
(15) "Be laude to God: the father hye,
And God the sonne equall:
Be prayde to God: the holy Spirite,
One God in Trinity.
(16) "Pray we that Christ: the Saviour,
Vouchsafe his Spirite to send:
To all which true: profelle his name,
Till all the world doth ende."

The text form of this tr. is that in "The Ordering of Priests" in The Book of Common Prayer, and given therein in 1662. This is also in 16 st. of 4 l., of which st. 1, 2, and xv. and xvi. read as in modern copies of the Prayer Book:—

(1) "Come, Holy Ghost, eternal God,
Proceeding from above,
Both from the Father and the Son,
The God of peace and love;
(2) "Visit our minds, into our hearts
Thy heavenly grace inspire:
That we in truth and godliness may Purse with full desire."
* * * * * * *
(15) "To God the Father laud and praise,
And to His blessed Son,
And to the Holy Spirit of grace,
Coequal Three in One.
(16) "And pray we, that our only Lord
The Holy Ghost will send
On all that shall profess His Name,
From hence to the world's end."

From this text two or three centos, all beginning with st. 1, have been adopted by a few hymnal compilers.

In Mercer's Ch. Psalter & H. Bk., 1854 and later eds. this tr. is divided into three parts, Pt. ii. beginning with st. vii., "O Holy Ghost, into our minds Send down Thy heavenly light," and Pt. iii. with st. xii., "Of strife and of dissension." Pt. ii. is sometimes used as a separate hymn. W. J. Blew reads, "O Holy Ghost, into our souls."

2. Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire. By Bp. John Cosin. This is in his Collection of Private Devotions in the Practice of the Ancient Church, called the Hours of Prayer, &c., 1627. This book was modelled on the Primers which were extensively used during the reigns of Henry VII. and Elizabeth. It contains devotions and a hymn for each of the Canonical Hours, together with other devotions, hymns, and prayers (see Reprint by J. G. & F. Rivington, London, 1838). This tr. is appointed for the "Third Hour," and is given in 16 lines. It was also given in an unaltered form in "The Ordering of Priests" and "The Consecration of Bishops" in The Book of Common Prayer, 1662. This and the C. M. tr. above are the only metrical hymns which have been legally sanctioned in the Church of England by both Church and State. In the hymn books of the last century Bp. Cosin's tr. is rarely found; but in modern collections it is largely used, and in almost every instance in an unaltered form. In the Gospel Magazine for 1774, p. 449, it is given as a "Hymn to the Holy Spirit, modernized from the Office for Ordination." The opening lines are:—

"Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire,
And warm with sacred fire."

The signature "Minimus" is that of A. M. Toplady. This "modernized" form of the text has never come into use, and was excluded, even by Toplady himself, from his Tr. & Hys., 1776.

3. Creator Spirit, by Whose aid. By J. Dryden. This appeared in his Miscellaneous Poems, pt. iii., 1685, and the Primer of 1706 and 1732, in 7 st. of unequal lengths, numbering 39 lines in all. It is found in numerous collections, both of the past and the present centuries, but always in an altered and abbreviated form. One of the first to adapt it for congregational purposes was J. Wesley, who included it in his Ps. & Hys., 1741, in an abbreviated form. He was followed by G. Whitefield, 1753, A. M. Toplady, 1776, and others, until the adoption of the hymn became general. The variations which have been introduced into the text are so many and various that it is almost impossible to set them forth in an intelligible manner. The text of given hymnal which may be consulted should be compared with the original in the Lyra Brit., 1867, p. 209. In some American collections it begins "O Source of uncreated light."

4. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come, And visit all the souls of Thine. By Tate and Brady in the Supplement to the New Version of the Psalms, &c., circa 1700 (3rd ed., 1702). See p. 892, i. This is in L.M. in 28 l. It is given in the Scottish Hyl., 1870, as a tr. by Miss Winkworth, in error. It is also in J. Chandler's Hys. of the Church, mostly Primitive, 1841, No. 50.

5. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator, come, Inspire the [these] souls of Thine. Tate and Brady. This is the C.M. version in the Supplement as above, circa 1700 (3rd ed., 1702). It also appears in J. Chandler's Hys. of the Prim. Church, 1837, p. 91, with alterations in the last stanza only; and again in his Hys. of the Church, mostly Primitive, 1841, No. 50, and in each instance without any indication of its source. Hence it is usually attributed to Chandler, but in error.

6. Holy Spirit, gentle come. By W. Hammond, in his Ps., Hys., and Spiritual Songs, &c., 1745, p. 205, in 5 st. of 8 l. This was given in an unaltered form in the 1806 ed. of Mercer's Ch. Psalter & H. Bk., No. 234.

7. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest. Come, visit Thou each willing breast. By Bp. E. Mant in his Ancient Hys., 1837, p. 62, in 7 st. of 4 l. (ed. 1871, p. 110). Its use is limited.

8. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator, come. The 2nd stanza of this tr. in the Irvingite Hys. for the Churches, 1864 and 1871, given as "Tr. by C., 1845," begins: "Thou, Who art named the Paraclete, The heavenly gift, &c." We have not found it elsewhere.

9. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator, come! The darkness of our minds illume. By F. W. Faber, in his Jesus and Mary, 1849, in 7 st. of 4 l., and again in his Hymns, 1862. In the New Mitre Hymnal, 1875, it is given as "O come, Creator Spirit, come," from the 1871 ed. of Faber's Hymns, No. 40, and abridged to 3 st. of 4 l.

10. Come, O Creator Spirit blest! And in our souls take up Thy rest. By E. Caswall in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 105, in 7 st. of 4 l., and in his Hymns, 1873, p. 38. It is given in several modern hymnals.

11. Come, O Creator Spirit! Visit this [these] soul of Thine. By E. Caswall. This tr. of a slightly different text from the above, which is from the Rom. Brev., also appeared in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 291, and in his Hymns, 1873, p. 133.

12. Creator, Spirit, Lord of grace. By E. Campbell, in his Hys. and Anthems, &c., 1850, p. 79, in 7 st. of 4 l. with ll. 1, 2, of st. v. from Dryden. This is found, slightly altered, in a few modern hymnals. It is also in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884, p. 170.

13. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest, And visit every faithful breast. By Jane E. Leeson in her Paraphrases & Hys., 1853, p. 81, in two parts. Pt. ii. beginning: "Come, Holy Ghost, with sacred fire."

14. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator, come, Down from Thy heavenly throne. This is given in the Irvingite Hys. for the Churches, 1864 and 1870, as a "Tr. by J. E. L., 1852," i.e. Jane E. Leeson, as above, No. 13.

15. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest, And in our souls securely rest. In the Catholic Psalmist, 1858, p. 65, and probably by T. J. Potter.

16. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest, Vouchsafe within our souls to rest. This is given in H. A. & M., 1861, and again in 1875. In the index to the latter edition it is said to be by the "Rev. E. Carwell and the Compilers." The Compilers, however, were indebted to Bp. Mant and E. Campbell for one fourth of their centos.

17. Come, Holy Spirit, come, Inspire the souls of Thine. This tr. was given anonymously in the Parish H. Bk., 1863, No. 69. It is apparently Caswall's tr. in 7 st. (No. 11 above) rewritten in S.M. It is the only S.M. tr. of the Veni Creator with which we are acquainted. It was repeated in the Parish H. Bk., 1875.

18. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator, come, From Thy bright bow'ry throne. This appeared anonymously in the Hym. for the Year, 1857, and several later Roman Catholic collections.

Other trs. are:—

1. Come, holy ghost, o creator eternall. Prymer (Lesbke), 1555.

2. Come, holy Ghoste that us hath made. Prymer (Antwerp), 1599.

3. Creatour, holy Ghost blessed, Visite our minde. Prymer (Antwerp), 1599.

4. Come Creator, Spirit divine, Visit our, &c. Prymer (Antwerp), 1599.

5. Spirit, Creator of Mankind. Prymer (London), 1687.

6. Creating-Spirit, come, possess. Evening Office, 1710 and 1716. Also in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884.

7. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come, From Thy celestial home. Garden of the Soul, 1737.

8. Come, Creator Spirit divine. Evening Office, 1745.

9. Come, Spirit, Whose creative power, Anon. in R. W. Almond's Occasional Tes in the Parish of St. Peter, Nottingham, 1815.

10. Spirit Divine, Creator, come, And make these souls of mine Thine own. Sp. Jones, 1824.

11. Creator Spirit, come, Visit these souls of Thine. Sp. Jones, 1824.

12. Come Thou Creating Spirit blest, And be our Guest. J. J. Williams, 1839.

13. Come, Holy Ghost, O Thou alone. D. French, 1853.

14. Creator-Spirit, from Thy throne, Descend to make our souls Thine own. F. C. Husenbeth, 1841.

15. Come, Spirit come! Thy dwelling-place. Sp. J. Williams, 1845.

16. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come. St. 1, Thou, that art call'd the Paraclete. W. J. Copeland, 1848.

17. Creating Spirit, come! control And visit every willing soul. C. B. Pitts, 1849.

18. Come, Holy Ghost, Creator. J. D. Chambers, in his Psalter, 1852, and Lauds Spon, 1857.

19. Come, Spirit blest, Creator come. W. J. Blew, 1852-53.

20. Creator Spirit, come and rest Within the souls, &c. W. Bright, in his Ancient Collects, &c., 1862.

21. Creator Spirit, come and bless us; Let Thy love and fear, &c. W. Cromwell, 1865.

22. Creating Spirit, Holy Guest. F. Trappes, 1865.

23. Spirit, heavenly life bestowing. R. C. Benedict, 1867.

24. Spirit creative, power divine. R. C. Benedict, 1867.

25. Come Thou Spirit, life bestowing. R. C. Benedict, 1867.

26. Creator Spirit, come in love, Our struggling souls, &c. D. T. Morgan, 1871.

27. Creator Spirit, come in love, And let our hearts, &c. D. T. Morgan, 1871 and 1880.

28. O Come, Creator Spirit, come. W. J. Irons, 1873.

29. Creator Spirit! be our Guest. C. Wallace, 1874.

30. Creator, Holy Spirit! come, H. M. Macgill. In the Church Hymnal for the U. Presb. Church, Jan. 1876, and his Songs, &c., 1874.

31. O Spirit, O Creator, come. G. R. Hodges, 1876.

32. Creator Spirit, all divine. J. D. Aylward, 1884.

33. O Holy Ghost, Creator, come. S. W. Duffield in the Church Union, New York, Dec. 1884, and his Poems, p. 427, and Duffield's Latin Hymn-Writers, &c., 1886, p. 191.

We have also seen two or three additional references to American trs., but have been unable to verify them.

The great similarity which is found in the majority of these trs. suggests that many of the later translators were very much indebted to their predecessors for the terseness and vigour of their renderings. This suggestiveness is most apparent in the more striking passages of the hymn. [J. J.]

Veni, jam veni, benignissime. [Whitsuntide.] Mone, No. 188, gives this, in 26 lines, from a 12th cent. ms at Mainz. It is almost identical with a portion of the Oratio attr. of St. Anselm of Canterbury, which is also found as No. ix. in the Mediæval compilation known as the Meditationes of St. Augustine (Venice, 1583, f. 11). The passage in St. Anselm is:—

"Veni jam, veni, benignissime delectis animæ consolator in opportunitatibus, et in tribulationibus adjutor. Veni, mundator sceleratum, curator vulnerum. Veni, medicator infirmitatum, inter labentium, vera, humilium exaltator, superborum destructor. Veni, pupillorum pater, orphanorum divina pietas. Veni, spes pauperum, rebellibus defensatrix. Veni, navigantium ratio, naufragantium portus. Veni, omnium virorum singulare decus, mortalium unica salus. Veni Sanctissime Spiritus, veni et misereor mei," &c.

It is tr. as:—

1. Come Thou, O come, Sweetest and Kindliest. By C. Bigg, in his Hym. and Lyrics, 1867, p. 161; and his Hymns of the Universal Church, 1871, p. 161.

2. O Come, and quickly come. By C. Duffield, in his Latin Hymn Writers, &c., 1886. [J. M.]

Veni Redemptor gentium [omnium]. St. Ambrose. [Christmas.] This is one of the twelve hymns assigned to St. Ambrose by the Benedictine editors. It is plainly referred to as the work of St. Ambrose by St. Augustine (Sermo 372), and is definitely cited as his by Pope Celestine, at a Council held at Rome, 430; by Faustus, who in 455 became Bp. of Rhegium (Riez in France); in his Epistola ad Ursum diaconum; by M. A. Cassiodorus (fl. 575), in his commentary on the Psalms; and by other early writers. The text in 7 st. is in Daniel, i. No. 10, with further notes at iv. pp. 4, 303 (quoting at length the references by St. Augustine, Pope Celestine, Faustus and Cassiodorus, and citing it as in a 9th cent. ms at Bern); in Mone, No. 30, and others. Sometimes a stanza is prefixed, as follows:—

"Intende qui regis Israel,
Super cherubim qui sedes,
Appare Ephraem, coram excita
Potentiam tuam, et veni."

Citations and Translations however cite the hymn as beginning "Veni Redemptor gentium"; and this stanza is found in a Munich ms of the 10th cent., and in a Trier of the 10th cent., and has obtained no currency save in the Cistercian Breviaries. In any case these lines are not by St. Ambrose, for they are simply the Vulgate of Ps. lxxix., which begins: "Qui regis Israel intende; qui deducis tanquam ovem Joseph. Qui sedes super cherubim manifestare coram Ephraim, Benjamin et Manasse, excita potentiam tuam, et veni, ut salvos facias nos."

The hymn is found in the Sarum, York, Aberdeen, Monastic of 1502, and other Breviaries; generally assigned to Christmas Eve or Christmas Day. But it is not in the Roman Breviary, and can hardly be said to be in use at the present day, a somewhat unfortunate ecclesiastical prudery having made aside this noble composition. It must however be confessed that a strictly literal English version is hardly desirable for modern congregational use. The imagery is partly borrowed from Ps xix. [W. A. S.]

Mone, No. 30, gives the "Veni Redemptor" text from a Reichenau ms. of the 9th cent., a Trier of the 9th or 9th, a Munich of the 10th cent., &c., specifying the st. "Intende qui regis" from mss. of the 14th cent. at Karlsruhe and Lichtenthal). Thomasius, ii. p. 371, cites it as in two Vatican mss. of the 8th cent. It is in five mss. of the 11th cent. in the British Museum, viz. in three of the early English Church (Vesp. D. xii. f. 32 b; Jul. A. vi. f. 33, and Hrl. 2961, f. 226), and two of the early Spanish Church (Add. 30848, f. 28; Add. 30851, f. 120). Also in the Bern mss., No. 455, of the 10th cent., and in a ms. of the 11th cent. at Corpus Christi, Cambridge (391, p.

239). In the Latin Hym. of the Anglo-Saxon Ch. (Surtees Society), 1851, p. 43, it is printed from an 11th cent. ms. at Durham (B. iii. 32, f. 13). The text is also in Binder, No. 26; Wackernagel, i., No. 12; Hymn. Sarisb., 1851, p. 71; Trench, ed. 1864, p. 87; Migne's PP. Lat. lxxvi., col. 114; G. M. Dreves's Hym. Moissiacenses, 1888, from a 10th cent. ms.; Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865, and others.

This hymn has been rendered through the German into English, as follows:—

1. Nun komm der Heidenheiland. A full and faithful tr. by M. Luther, 1st pub. in Eyn Enchiridion, Erfurt, 1524. Thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 12, in Schirlentz's ed. of Luther's Geistl. Lieder, 1834, p. 4, and the Ges. L. B., 1851, No. 17. Tr. as:—

Come, Thou Saviour of our race. Omitting st. iv., by W. M. Reynolds, as No. 778 in the Amer. Luth. Gen. Synod's Coll., 1850. Repeated omitting the tr. of st. viii. in the Pennsylvania Luth. Ch. Bk., 1868.

Other trs. are:—

i. Now Saviour come indeed," by J. C. Jacobi, 1722, p. 1. (2) "Saviour of the Nations, come," as No. 246 in pt. ii., 1743, of the Moravian H. Bk. (3) "Behold, our saviour Christ assumes," by J. Cennick (?), as No. 1081 in the Suppl. of 1808 to the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. (4) "Now Saviour, come, the world's Redeemer," by Miss Fry, 1845, p. 1. (5) "Now come the world's Redeemer," by J. Anderson, 1846, p. 1 (1847, p. 20). (6) "The time draws nigh, swift fly the years," by Sir. T. Hunt, 1853, p. 23. (7) "Saviour of the Nations, come," by Dr. Kynaston, 1856, p. 1. (8) "Saviour, Dr. Bacon, 1864, p. 14. (9) "Come, Saviour of nations, come," by G. Macdonald, in the Sunday Mag., 1867, p. 153, and his Exodus, 1874, p. 30.

ii. Komm Heidenheiland, Lösegeld (sometimes altered to "Komm Himmelsfürst, komm Wunderheld"). See Campana, J., p. 201, ii. [J. M.]

The trs. direct from the Latin into English are:—

1. Come, Thou Redeemer of the earth. Come tardily. By J. M. Neale, in the H. Noted, 1853, No. 12. Included in the Hymnary, 1872, as "Hail, blest Redeemer of the earth," and others. In the Office H. Bk., 1889, it begins, "Come, blest Redeemer of the earth."

2. Redeemer of the nations, come, Pure offspring, &c. By Elizabeth Charles, in her Voice of Christian Life in Song, 1858, p. 97. The tr. in Mercer's Church Psalter & H. Bk., Oxford ed. 1864, No. 73, is by W. Mercer, based upon this tr. by Mrs. Charles. The first two lines and one or two others are taken verbatim.

3. Redeemer of the nations come, Appear from east, &c. By R. F. Littledale, in the People's H., 1867, with the signature "A. L. P."

4. O come, Redeemer of mankind, appear. By D. T. Morgan. This tr. was given in the revised ed. of H. A. & M., 1875, and again in the translator's Hym. and Other Poetry of the Latin Ch., 1880.

Other trs. are:—

1. O come, Redeemer of the nations. Sp. J. Williams, 1845.

2. Come, Saviour of the earth. J. Williams, in his Theological Tract Trans. 2nd ed., 1846.

3. Come, blest Redeemer of the earth. W. J. Copeland, 1848.

4. Come, Thou Redeemer of the earth, The Virgin's, &c. W. J. Blew, 1852-55.

5. Redeemer of the nations, come, Appear, Thou Son, &c. J. D. Chambers, 1852 and 1857.

6. Come, high Redeemer, Spotless one. J. W. Hewett, 1859.

7. Come, Saviour, come, to all the earth. H. Kynaston, 1861.

8. O Thou Redeemer of our race. Ray Palmer, in Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869.

9. Redeemer of the world, do Thou draw near. D. T. Morgan, 1871.

10. Redeemer of the nations, come, Display Thy, &c. Ray Palmer, 1872.

11. Redeemer of the nations, come, Show them a Virgin, &c. R. Thornton, in his S. P. C. K. Father's for English Readers. St. Ambrose. 1879.

The "Intende qui regis Israel" form of the text has also been tr. by W. J. Blew, in his Church Hy. and Tune Bk., 1852-55, as "Shepherd of Israel, Hear Thou our hymn." [J. J.]

Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte coelitus. Innocent iii. (?). [Whitsuntide.] In annotating this beautiful Sequence we shall deal i. with its Merits, ii. with the age in which it is contained, iii. with its Authorship, and iv. with the Variations in its Use.

i. Merits. The opinion of critics is unanimous in regarding this Sequence as one of the masterpieces of Latin sacred poetry. We need only quote two notices of it. Clichtoveus (Elucidatorium, Paris, 1516, f. 171), says of it:—

"For indeed, in my opinion, can this piece be sufficiently praised; for it is above all praise, whether by reason of its wonderful sweetness along with a most clear and flowing style, or by reason of its agreeable variety, or by reason of the elegant order of its parts, especially as almost every line expresses one idea, or finally by reason of the elegant grace of its structure, in which things contrasted are set over against each other, and most aptly linked together. And I well believe that the Holy Spirit Himself has deigned to compose this piece, had He not transfused by a certain heavenly sweetness, by which, the Holy Spirit being its author, he uttered so much sweetness in so few words."

And Archbishop Trench, in his Sac. Lat. Poetry (ed. 1864, p. 195) speaks of it as:—

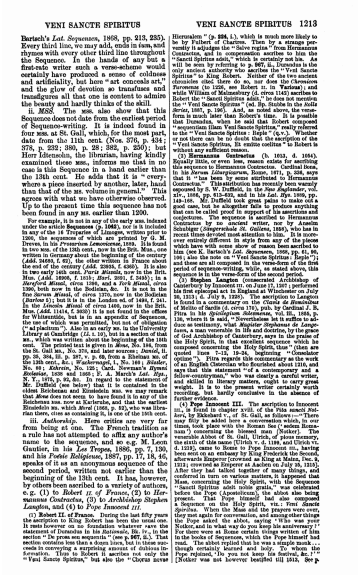
"The loveliest . . . of all the hymns in the whole circle of Latin sacred poetry," adding that it "could only have been composed by one who had been accustomed to many services, and also with many associations."

In Mediæval times it was often called the Golden Sequence. It is not indeed distinguished by great and absolute originality of idea, for in its leading thoughts it was clearly influenced by earlier pieces, such as the "Sancti Spiritus adsit" (p. 998, i.), the "Qui procedis" (p. 944, i.), the "O Ignis Spiritus Paraclite" (p. 837, ii.), the "Veni Creator" (p. 1236, ii.), and the "Veni Sancte Spiritus: Reple" (pp. 631, ii., and 1818, ii.). But it combines a stately grace, a perfect rhythmic melody, and a faculty of saying just the right thing in just the fitting words, in such a measure as to disarm criticism, and at once to defy comparison with any other hymn in any other language, and to make it almost impossible to present an adequate translation. It is in five stanzas, each consisting of six lines of seven-syllable trochaic verse (trochaic dimeter catalectic). The first stanza may be quoted to show its structure:—

"Veni Sancte Spiritus,
Et emitte coelitus,
Lucis tuæ radium.
Veni, pater pauperum,
Veni, dator munerum,
Veni, lumen cordium."

This verse form has not yet been traced earlier than about 1150; and is never found in the earlier, or Nothkerian, type of Sequence, but is always associated with the Sequences of the second period (See e.g. p. 947, ii., and K.



VENI SANCTE SPIRITUS VENI SANCTE SPIRITUS 1213

Bartsch's Lat. Sequences, 1868, pp. 213, 235). Every third line, we may add, ends in -ium, and rhymes with every other third line throughout the Sequence. In the hands of any but a first-rate writer such a verse-scheme would certainly have produced a sense of collapse and artificiality, but here "art conceals art," and the glow of devotion so transfuses and transfigures all that one is content to admire the beauty and hardly thinks of the skill.

ii. MSS. The MSS. also show that this Sequence does not date from the earliest period of Sequence-writing. It is indeed found in four MSS. at St. Gall, which, for the most part, date from the 11th cent. (Nos. 376, p. 434; 378, p. 232; 380, p. 39; 382, p. 236); but Herr Hiermahn, the librarian, having kindly examined these MSS., informs me that in no case is this Sequence in a hand earlier than the 13th cent. He adds that it is "everywhere a piece inserted by another, later, hand than that of the MS. volume in general." This agrees with what we have otherwise observed. Up to the present time this sequence has not been found in any MS. earlier than 1200.

For example, it is not in any of the early MSS. indexed under the article Sequence (p. 1662), nor is it included in any of the 14 Troparies of Limoges, written prior to 1100, described under the article Tropary (p. 1722). Nor is it in Daniel's Thesaurus Hymnologicus, 1855. It is found in two MSS. of the 13th cent., now in the Brit. Mus., one written in Germany about the beginning of the century (Add. 34693, f. 62), the other written in France about the middle of the century (Add. 30850, f. 113). It is also in two early 14th cent. Varia Missalia, now in the Brit. Mus. (Add. 18906, f. 101b; Harl. 2961, f. 340b); in a Hereford Missal, circa 1346, and a York Missal, circa 1396, both now in the Bodleian, &c. It is not in the Sarum Missals printed by Pynson, 1497 and 1500 (Surtees 61, but it is in the London ed. of 1555, f. 241. In the Lincoln Missal of circa 1480, now in the Brit. Mus. (Add. 11414, f. 303b) it is not found in the offices for Whitsuntide, but is in an appendix of Sequences, &c., headed "Sequentie de sancto spiritu. Ad placitum." Also in an early MS. in the University Library at Cambridge (Ll. i. 10), but in a section of that MS., which was written about the beginning of the 14th cent. The printed text is given in Mone, No. 184, from a MS. of the 13th cent., and in Daniel's Thesaurus, vol. iii. pp. 264, iii. p. 267, v. p. 68, from a Rheinau MS. of the 12th cent., &c.; Wackernagel, i. No. 168; Bäumker, No. 89; Kehrein, No. 126; Carl. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1862; P. A. Mack's Lat. Hym., 1844, p. 57, &c. The text in the Roman Missal (see Mr. Duffield (see below) that it is contained in the oldest Reichenau and Einsiedeln MSS. we may remark that Mone does not seem to have found it in any of the Reichenau MSS. now at Carlsruhe, and that the earliest Reichenau MS. mentioned by Mone, of which he gives a fac-simile there, dates from circa 1100, a date at the very latest.

iii. Authorship. Here critics are very far from being at one. The French tradition as a rule has not attempted to affix any author's name to the sequence, and so e.g. M. Leon Gautier, in his Les Tropes, 1886, pp. 7, 120, and his Poésie Religieuse, 1877, pp. 17, 18, 46, speaks of it as an anonymous sequence of the second period, written not earlier than the beginning of the 13th cent. It has, however, by others been ascribed to a variety of authors, e.g. (1) to Robert II. of France, (2) to Hermannus Contractus, (3) to Archbishop Stephen Langton, and (4) to Pope Innocent III.

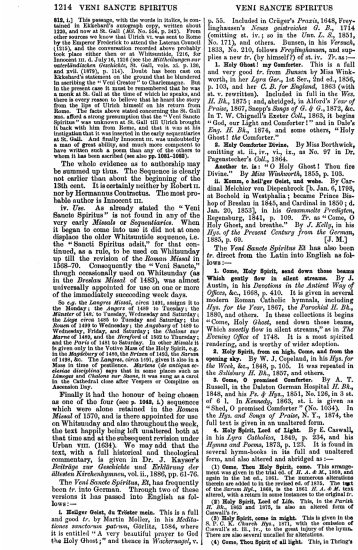
(1) Robert II. of France. During the last fifty years the ascription to King Robert has been the usual one. It rests on the following translation wherever seen the statement of Aimoin (Historiæ Francorum, v. 49) quoted in section "De prose seu sequentia" (see p. 997, ii.). That section contains less than a dozen lines, but in these succeeds in conveying a surprising amount of dubious information. Thus to Robert it ascribes not only the "Veni Sancte Spiritus," but also the "Corpus nostræ Redemptionis" (p. 998, i.), which is much more likely to be by Fulbert of Chartres. Then by a strange inadvertency it adjudges the "Salve regina" "tum Hermannus Contractus, sed in compensation ascribes to him the "Sancti Spiritus adsit," which is certainly not his. As will be seen by referring to p. 997, ii., Notker's account of Sequences, written circa 880, knows of the "Veni Sancte Spiritus" in King Robert. Neither of the two ancient chronicles cited there do so, nor does the Chronicon Parcense (in 1235, see Robert in its Various); and while William of Malmesbury (d. circa 1142) ascribes to Robert the "Regina cœli lætare," he says nothing about the "Veni Sancte Spiritus" (ed. Pl. Stubbs in the Rolls Series, 1887, p. 196). And, as noted above, the verse-form is much later than Robert's time. It is possible that Dunstan, when he said that Robert composed "many sequences," referred to the "Veni Sancte Spiritus" to the "Veni Sancte Spiritus: Infirmorum" (ib. v.). Whether or not there can be no doubt that the ascription of the "Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte cœlitus" to Robert is without any sufficient reason.

(2) Hermannus Contractus. (b. 1013, d. 1054). Kindly Prüfer, of even less, reason exists for ascribing this sequence to Hermannus Contractus. Cardinal Bona, in his Rerum Liturgicarum, Rome, 1671, p. 358, says that it "has been by some attributed to Hermannus Contractus." This statement has been repeated and opposed by S. W. Duffield, in the New Englander, vol. xiv., 1856, pp. 613–622, and in his Lat. Hym. 1886, pp. 148–166. Mr. Duffield took great pains to make out a good case, but he altogether fails to produce anything like proof. The ascription is based on mere guesses and conjecture. The sequence is ascribed to Hermannus Contractus by no ancient writer, nor by Aemilius Schrödger (Hermannus Sr. Galleus, 1850), who has in recent times devoted most attention to him. It is moreover entirely different in style from any of the known sequences of Hermannus Contractus, and is in a verse-form which (see K. Bartsch's Lat. Sequences, 1868, pp. 61, 90, 108; also the note on "Veni Sancte Spiritus") is not and these are all composed in the verse-form of the first period of sequence-writing, which, as stated above, this sequence is in the verse-form of the second period.

(3) Archbishop Stephen Langton. Archbishop of Canterbury by Innocent III. on June 17, 1207; performed his first episcopal act in England at Winchester on July 25, 1213; d. July 9, 1228. The ascription to Langton is found in a commentary on the Classic De Sacramentis Christianæ Fidei of Hugo de St. Victor (d. 1141), by Pitra in his Spicilegium Solesmense, vol. iii., 1855, p. 136, where it is said, "Nevertheless let it suffice to adduce as testimony, what Stephanus Sanctæ Eccles. Cantuar. a man venerable in life and doctrine, by the grace of the Holy Ghost, composed concerning the Holy Spirit, to that excellent sequence which he composed concerning the Holy Spirit, thus" (then are quoted lines 7–11, 19–24, beginning "Consolator optime"). Pitra regards this commentary as the work of Langton, and the sequence as by Langton. But he says that this statement "of a contemporary and a fellow-countryman," who was clearly a careful writer, and skilled in literary matters, ought to carry great weight. It is to the present writer certainly worth consideration, but hardly conclusive in the absence of further evidence.

(4) Pope Innocent III. The ascription to Innocent III., is found in chapter xviii. of the Vita sancti Fulberti, by Ekkehard V., of St. Gall, as follows:—"There [i.e. at the Council of Constance, 1414–1418] also, sometimes, took place with the Roman See ('sedem Romanam') concerning the blessed man [Notker]. The venerable Abbot of St. Gall, Ulrich, of pious memory, the sixth of this name (Ulrich v. d. 1199, and Ulrich vi. d. 1204), who had been sent to Rome by his brethren, and been sent on an embassy by King Frederick the Second, afterwards Emperor (crowned as King at Mainz, Dec. 9, 1215; crowned as Emperor at Aachen on July 26, 1215). After they had talked together of many things, and among other things concerning the Holy Spirit, with the Sequence "Sancti Spiritus adsit nobis gratia," was celebrated before the Pope (Apostolicus), the abbot also being present. That Pope himself had also composed [fecerat] a Sequence of the Holy Spirit, [viz.] "Veni, Sancte Spiritus." When the Mass and the prayers were over, they met again for conversation, and among other things the Pope asked the abbot, saying "This was your Notker, and in what way do you keep his anniversary?" The abbot replied that he was a simple monk . . . though certainly learned and holy. To whom the Pope rejoined, 'Do you not keep his festival, &c. . . .' [Notker was not however inscribed till 1513. See p.



1214 VENI SANCTE SPIRITUS VENI SANCTE SPIRITUS

818, i.) This passage, with the words in italics, is contained in Ekkehard's autograph copy, written about 1220, and now at St. Gall (MS. No. 556, p. 245). From this copy it was transcribed by Goldast, and published by the Emperor Frederick to attend the Lateran Council (1215), and the conversation recorded above probably took place either then or at Wimmenau, 1216, for Innocent III. d. July 16, 1216 (see the Mittheilungen zur vaterländischen Geschichte, St. Gallen, 1866, vols. xi. p. 116, and xvii. (1885), p. 1). Dr. Scherrer, the head-master of Ekkehard's school, on the ground that he had read in ascribing the "Veni Creator" to Charlemagne. But in the present case it must be remembered that he was a monk at St. Gall at the time of which he speaks, and there is every reason to believe that he heard the story of the "Veni Sancte Spiritus" when on his visit to Rome. The facts above stated concerning the St. Gall MSS. afford a strong presumption that the "Veni Sancte Spiritus" was unknown at St. Gall till Ulrich brought it back with him from Rome, and that it was at his instigation that it was introduced into the Sequentiaries at St. Gall. And finally Innocent III. was undoubtedly a man of great ability, and much more competent to have written such a poem than any of the others to whom it has been ascribed (see also pp. 1061–1062).

The whole evidence as to authorship may be summed up thus. The Sequence is clearly not earlier than about the beginning of the 13th cent. It is certainly neither by Robert II. nor by Hermannus Contractus. The most probable author is Innocent III.

iv. Use. As already stated the "Veni Sancte Spiritus" is not found in any of the very early Missale or Sequentiarium. When it began to come into use it did not at once displace the older Whitsuntide sequence, i.e. the "Sancti Spiritus adsit," for that continued, as a rule, to be used on Whitsunday up till the revision of the Roman Missal in 1568–70. Consequently the "Veni Sancte," though occasionally used on Whitsunday (as in the Breslau Missal of 1483), was almost universally appointed for use on one or more of the immediately succeeding week days.

Thus the Sequence is found in the Missale Herbipolense of 1509 in Tuesday; the Missale Wratislaviense of 1509 in Monday; the Augsburg of 1510 in Tuesday; the Missale Ratisbonense of 1523 in Monday; the Missale Lubicense of 1519 in Thursday; the Missale Constantiense of 1532 in Thursday; and the Parisi. of 1481 in Saturday. In other Missals it is given only in the Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit, e.g. in the Magdeburg of 1493, the Brixen of 1493, the Sarum of 1498, &c. The Langres, circa 1491, gives it also in a Mass in time of pestilence. Sarum (de antiquo usu) appointed it for use in Lent, and in the Missale Lincopense and Chalons sur Saone, it was sung as a carol in the Cathedral close after Vespers or Compline on Ascension Day.

Finally it had the honour of being chosen as one of the four (see p. 1041, i.) sequences which were alone retained in the Roman Missal of 1570, and is there appointed for use on Whitsunday and also throughout the week, the text happily being left unaltered both at that time and at the subsequent revision under Urban VIII. (1634). We may add that the text, with a full historical and theological commentary, is given in Dr. J. Kayser's Beiträge zur Geschichte und Erklärung der Altesten Kirchenhymnen, vol. ii., 1886, pp. 61–76.

The Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et, has frequently been tr. into German. Through two of those versions it has passed into English as follows:—

1. Heiliger Geist, du Tröster mein. This is a full and good tr. by Martin Moller, in his Meditationes sanctorum patrum, Görlitz, 1584, where it is entitled "A very beautiful prayer to God the Holy Ghost," and thence in Wackernagel's, i. p. 55. Included in Crüger's Praxis, 1648, Freylinghausen's Neues geistreiches G. B., 1714 (omitting st. iv.; so in the * Usu. L. S.*, 1851, No. 171), and others. Bunsen, in his Versuch, 1833, No. 210, follows Freylinghausen, and supplies a new tr. (by himself?) of st. iv. Tr. as:—

1. Holy Ghost! my Comforter. This is a full and very good tr. from Bunsen by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 1st Ser., 3rd ed., 1856, p. 103, and her C. B. for England, 1863 (with st. v. rewritten). Included in full in the Wes. H. Bk., 1875; and, abridged, in Alford's Year of Praise, 1867, Snepp's Songs of G. & G., 1872, &c. In T. W. Chignell's Exeter Coll., 1863, it begins "God, our Light and Comforter!" and in Dale's Eng. H. Bk., 1874, and some others, "Holy Ghost! the Comforter."

2. Holy Comforter Divine. By Miss Borthwick, omitting st. ii., iv., vi., ix., as No. 97 in Dr. Pagenstecher's Coll., 1864.

Another tr. is: "O Holy Ghost! Thou fire Divine." By Miss Winkworth, 1855, p. 103.

ii. Komm, o heil'ger Geist, und wahr. By Cardinal Melchior von Diepenbrock [b. Jan. 6, 1798, at Bocholt in Westphalia; became Prince Bishop of Breslau in 1845, and Cardinal in 1850; d. Jan. 20, 1853], in his Geistreiche Gedichte, Regensburg, 1841, p. 109. Tr. as "Come, O Holy Ghost, and breathe." By J. Kelly, in his Hym. of the Present Century from the German, 1885, p. 69. [J. M.]

The Veni Sancte Spiritus Et has also been tr. direct from the Latin into English as follows:—

1. Come, Holy Spirit, send down those beams Which gently flow in silent streams. By J. Austin, in his Devotions in the Ancient Way of Offices, &c., 1668, p. 415. It is given in several modern Roman Catholic hymnals, including Hys. for the Year, 1907, the Parochial H. Bk., 1880, and others. In these collections it begins "Come, Holy Ghost, send down those beams, Which sweetly flow in silent streams," as in The Evening Office of 1746. It is a most spirited rendering, and is worthy of wider adoption.

2. Holy Spirit, from on high. Come, and from the opening sky. By W. J. Copeland, in his Hys. for the Week, &c., 1848, p. 105. It was repeated in the Salisbury H. Bk., 1857, and others.

3. Come, O promised Comforter. By A. T. Russell, in the Dalston German Hospital H. Bk., 1848, and his Ps. & Hys., 1851, No. 126, in 3 st. of 6 l. In Kennedy, 1863, st. i. is given as "Shed, O promised Comforter" (No. 1034). In the Hys. and Songs of Praise, N. Y., 1874, the full text is given in an unaltered form.

4. Holy Spirit, Lord of Light. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 234, and his Hymns and Poems, 1873, p. 125. It is found in several hymn-books in its full and unaltered form, and also altered and abridged as :—

(1) Come, Thou Holy Spirit, come. This arrangement was given in the trial ed. of H. A. & M., 1859, and again in the 1st ed., 1861. The numerous alterations introduced into the text of 1859 were not in the 1861 ed. of the Sarum Hys., 1868, in the 1867 H. A. & M. text altered, with a return in some instances to the original tr.

(2) Holy Spirit, Lord of Life. This, in the Parish H. Bk., 1863 and 1875, is also an altered form of Caswall's tr.

(3) Holy Spirit, come in might. This is given in the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871, with the omission of Caswall's st. iii., iv., to the great injury of the hymn. There are also several smaller tr. alterations.

(4) Come, Thou Spirit of all light. This, in Tutur's

Coll., 1868, in poetry (st. i., ii., iii., i. 4) a recast of Cawood's Ye Holy Ghost, bring, but would have been better in Cawood's own words.

In its various forms Cawood's tr. is the most widely used of the numerous renderings of the Veni Sancte Spiritus.

2. Come, Holy Spirit, from the height. By F. W. Faber, in his Jesus and Mary, 1849, and his Hymns, 1862. It is given in a few Roman Catholic hymnals for Missions and Schools.

3. Come, O Spirit, Lord of grace. By R. Campbell, in his Hyp. and Anthems, 1850, p. 80, in 7 st. of 3 l. This is in one or two hymnals only. In Orby Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884, it is expanded into 10 st., the additional stanzas ii., iv., and vi. being by J. C. Earle.

7. Holy Spirit, from on high. On our deep obscurity. By G. Borrow in his Hyn. and Anthems, 1851, No. 95, in 3 st. of 6 l.

8. Come, Thou Holy Paraclete. By J. M. Neale, in the Hyl. Noted, 2nd ed., 1854, in 10 st. of 3 l. This tr. has passed into a large number of hymnals, and ranks next in popularity to that by E. Caswall noted above.

9. Come, Holy Ghost! in love, Shed on us from above. By Ray Palmer. First pub. in The Sabbath H. Bk., Andover, 1858, No. 451, in 5 st. of 7 l. It is given in several collections in G. Britain and America, including Allon's Cong. Psalmist Hyl., 1886; Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1875, in 4 st.; Landes Domini, N. Y., 1884.

10. Holy Spirit, come, we pray. By W. Mercer, in the 1864 ed. of his Church Ps. and H. Bk., No. 222, in 10 st. of 3 l.

11. Come, Thou Holy Spirit, nigh; Leave Thy blissful throne on high. By R. C. Singleton, in his Anglican H. Bk., 1868, in 5 st. of 6 l.

12. Holy Spirit, God of light! Come, and on our inner sight. By H. M. Macgill, in The Juvenile Miss. Magazine of the United Presb. Ch., Jan., 1868; the United Presb. Hyl., 1876; and his Songs of the Christian Creed and Life, 1876.

13. Holy Spirit, Fire divine. By F. H. Hedge, in the Unitarian Hymn [and Tune] Bk., Boston, 1868, in 3 st. of 6 l.

14. Come, Holy Spirit, from above, And from the realms of light and love. By A. P. Stanley, in Macmillan's Magazine, June, 1873, and the Westminster Abbey H. Bk., 1883, in 3 st. of 6 l.

15. Holy Spirit, come and shine Sweetly in this heart of mine. By S. W. Duffield, contributed to Landes Domini, N. Y., 1884. Another rendering by the same translator is given in his Latin Hymn-Writers, N. Y., 1889, as "O Holy Spirit, And send forth the heavenly Son."

16. Holy Spirit, on us rest. This in C. Darling's Hyn. for the Ch. of England, revised ed., 1889, is a conte from Copeland and Caswall.

Other trs. are:—

1. Come, Holy Ghost, Sende us frō the heavēly coste. Primer (Antwerp), 1560 and 1615.
2. Holie Ione'rity Dove, descend, and dwell. Primer (London ?), 1706.
3. Come, Holy Ghost, and send forth the Beame. From heaven. Primer, 1615 and 1619.
4. Come, O Holy Spirit, Dove, Send from heaven, &c. A. D. Wachsenfeld, 1845.
5. Come, Holy Ghost, to us send down, Like rays of light, &c. J. E. Reste, 1846.
6. Come, Holy Ghost, from above, In fulness of the Father's love. Hymns R. Lassen, 1855.
7. What is inspire, rectify. By W. Graham. A partial tr. in his Pre-Jordan and the Shiloh, 1864.
8. Come, O Holy Ghost! inspire Hallowed thought and heavenly fire. Hymns for Public Worship, 1867.
9. Holy Spirit, come, we pray, Come from heaven and shed the ray. Elizabeth Charles, 1868.
10. Come, O Spirit! Font of grace. E. J. Waodhurn. "Hymns," 1865, and pub. in his Voices of a busy Life, 1865. Also in Schaff's History of the Ch. Church, 1868.
11. Come, O Holy Spirit, come; Earthward from, &c. P. S. Worsley, in Lyra Messianica, 2nd translation, 1865.
12. Come, Holy Spirit, from above. Hymns, &c., 1865.
13. Holy Spirit from above, Shine upon us, &c. E. C. Benedict, in his Hy. of Hildebert. N. Y., 1867.
14. Come, O Holy Ghost, inspire Hallowed thought. C. S. Pearson, 1868.
15. Come, Holy Spirit, nigh, And from the heaven on high. A. T. Morgan, 1871 and 1880.
16. O Holy Spirit! deign to come. J. Wallace, 1874.
17. Come, Holy Spirit, come, Down from Thy radiant home. In W. Cowie's Praise, Chiefly Sacred, 1879.
18. Holy Spirit, come and shine In our souls with beams divine. J. D. Aylward, in C. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884.

Although these trs. do not equal those of the Veni Creator Spiritus in number, yet they indicate a long and profound interest in this magnificent hymn. [J. J.]

Veni Sancte Spiritus: Reple. [Whitsuntide.] The text of this antiphon is printed at p. 651, ii. It is found in a MS. of the 11th cent., now in the Brit. Mus. (Harl. 2961, f. 102), appointed for use at Vespers on the Vigil of Pentecost, and reading "in unitatem." Also in another Brit. Mus. MS. of circa 1100 (Add. 18902, f. 14, and f. 25). In many MSS. only the first part ("Veni . . . accende") is given, as in a MS. of the 11th cent., now in the Brit. Mus. (Harl. 4031, f. 246), and this form is found in the Sarum Missal of 1498, appointed for the Tuesday and Saturday after Whitsunday, and in the present Roman Missal for Whitsunday and also throughout that week. When Durandus and the earlier writers on Hermannus Contractus ascribed the "Veni Sancte Spiritus" respectively to Robert II. and to Hermannus Contractus, it is not unlikely that they really meant to refer to this antiphon and not to the "Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte"; and the Add. 18902, which was apparently written in Swabia, is also one of the earliest sources of the "Salve regina" (p. 901, ii.) which is most probably by Hermannus Contractus. But there is not sufficient evidence to allow us to assign the antiphon definitely to either of these authors.

This antiphon has passed into English through the German (see p. 651, ii.), and also directly. Among the versions directly from the Latin may be mentioned:—

1. Come, O Holy Spirit! fulfil the hearts of Thy faithful. By J. D. Chambers, in his Psalter, &c., 1852, p. 182.
2. Come, Holy Ghost, fill the hearts of Thy faithful. In the Sarum Hyl., ed. J. B. Young, N. Y., 1864, p. 41. See also the Crown of Jesus, 1862, p. 4, and the Altar Hyl., 1884, p. 105. [J. M.]

Veni, superne Spiritus: Purgata Christi sanguine. C. Coffin. [Whitsuntide.] Appeared in the Paris Brev., 1736 and in Coffin's Hymni Sacri the same year, p. 55. In the Paris and later French Breva. it is the hymn for the 1st Vespers of Whitsunday. Text in J. Chandler's Hyn. of the Primitive Church, 1837, and Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865. Tr. as :—

1. Come, Heavenly Spirit, come. By W. J. Blew, in his Church Hy. & Tune Bk., 1852-55, Ember, 9, and Rice's Sel. from the same, 1870.
2. Come, O Spirit, from on high. By C. S. Calverley, in the Hymnary, 1872.

Other trs. are:—

1. Come, Spirit from above. L. Williams, in the British Mag., May, 1834; and his Hys. tr. from the Parisian Brev., 1839.
2. Come, Holy Ghost, Thou Source of good. J. Chandler, 1837.
3. Descend, Celestial Spirit blest. J. D. Chambers, 1852.
4. Spirit Supreme, come down again. "J. M. N." in Lyra Messianica, 1864.

Veni, veni, Rex gloriæ. [Advent.] Mr. Crippen says he tr. this "from a MS. of the 15th century (with music) at Karlsruhe." This text is in Mone, No. 35. Mr. Crippen's tr. appeared in his Ancient Hys. and Poems, &c., 1868, in 23 st. of 4 l. as "O come, O come, Thou glorious King." In Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1873, st. xii., xiii., xvii., and xix., as given as "Give us, O Fount of Purity." These stanzas form a most acceptable hymn on Desiring Holiness. Also tr. by Dr. H. Bonar as "Come, O come, Thou King of glory," 1866. [J. J.]

Venit o culo Mediator alto. [Passiontide.] This is the hymn at Lauds in the office of the Prayer of our Lord Jesus Christ on the Mount of Olives. See a note on this office under Aspice ut Verbum Patris (p. 97, ii.). This office appears to be of very recent date, viz. since 1880. It is found in the eds. of the Roman Breviary, pub. at Lyons, 1853, and Tournay, 1879, but not among the offices for universal use. Tr. as :—

1. Daughter of Sion, cease thy bitter tears. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 61, and his Hys. and Poems, 1873, p. 54. It passed, with slight alterations, into the Hymnary, 1872, and others.

2. Sion's daughter, weep no more. By Sir H. W. Baker, in the trial copy of H. A. & M., 1859, and the ed. of 1861. It was revised for the ed. of 1875. Also in Kennedy, 1863, &c.

3. Come from the heavenly throne above. In the 1860 ed. of the Hy. Noted, No. 152.

Another tr. is :—
From high heaven, the Mediator. J. Wallace, 1874. [W. A. S.]

Verborgne Gottesliebe du. G. Tersteegen. [The Love of God.] 1st pub. in his Geistliches Blumengärtlein, 1729, Bk. iii., No. 26, in 10 st. of 7 l., entitled, "The longing of the soul quietly to maintain the secret drawings of the Love of God." Although a fine hymn and much used in English, its German use has been almost confined to the early Moravian collections. Included in full in the Brd ed., 1731, of the Gesangbuch geist- und lieblicher Lieder, and omitting st. iv., v., as No. 342, in the Herrnhut G. B., 1735; but not repeated in the Brüder G. B., 1778, or the Kleine Brüder G. B., 1870. Tr. as :—

1. Thou hidden love of God, whose height. A spirited tr. by J. Wesley, omitting st. iv., v. [tr. of these sts. by S. Jackson were incorporated when he reprinted Wesley's tr. in his Life of Tersteegen, 1832 (1837, p. 409); in Ps. & Hys., 1738, and Hys. & Sacred Poems, 1739 (P. Works, 1868–72, vol. i. p. 71). Written while at Savannah, and in 6-line st. Included, somewhat altered, as No. 3 in the Wesley Hys. & Spir. Songs, 1753: as No. 355 in the Wes. H. Bk., 1780 (1875, No. 344); and in the Meth. New Conn. H. Bk., 1863. It is however generally abridged. At least fourteen cantos have been included in various hymnals, but as they are taken from the text of the Wes. H. Bk. it is not necessary here to note them in detail. In one form or other the hymn is found under the original first line in collections since 1805, in Thring's Coll., 1880-82, Snepp's S. of G. & G., i. 72, Hyl. Comp., 1876, Boyd. Hyl., 1879, Horder's Cong. Hys., 1884, &c., and in America in the Unitarian H. Bk., 1869, Hatfield's Ch. H. Bk., 1872, Epis. Hyl., 1871, &c. Altered forms include :—

1. O God! whose love immense in height (st. i. alt.), in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789–1886.

2. Thou wondrous love of God, whose height (st. i. alt.), New Zealand Hyl., 1872.

3. In mercy, Jesus, Thou hast brought (st. iii.) in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789–1886.

4. Take, Lord, all self from me, that I (st. vii.) in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789–1886.

In the F. Works, 1868, p. 71, Dr. Osborn notes :—

"The translation [in 1736] agrees with this, except in st. iv., v., which run thus :—

'O'tis love to honor, that Thou alone
May'st reign unrivall'd Monarch there :
From earthly loves I must be free
Ere I can find repose in Thee.'

But after the ever-memorable 24th of May, 1738, Wesley knew 'the way of God more perfectly,' and wrote as in the text :—

'Is there a thing beneath the sun
That strives with Thee my heart to share?
Ah, tear it thence, and reign alone,
The Lord of every motion there;
Then shall my heart from earth be free,
When it has found repose in Thee.'

"In a final revision for the Large Hymn-book, 1780, he changed 'Be' in v. 2, l. 4, into 'Seem,' and made the closing couplet of v. 3 of necessity, in accordance with the lines preceding, by changing 'is' in the latter into 'lies.'" [J. M.]

Verbum caro factum est, Ex virgine Maria. [Christmas.] This hymn exists in a great variety of texts. Leaving out of account the varieties of reading, which are very considerable, we may reckon at least five different forms. The two lines above are used in some cases as the introduction, and line 2 as the refrain.

I. The earliest form known is in a MS. in the Bibl. Nationale (Lat., 1139, f. 46, in a hand of the 12th cent.), and thence in E. du Méril's Poésies inédites du Moyen Age, Paris, 1854, p. 337. This form is partly in Latin and partly in Provençal French. The Latin stanzas are :—

1. Verbum caro factum est.
2. Ecce de nic virgo.
3. Quod retonasse dicitur.
4. Sine viri copula.
5. Ecce Deus homo.
6. Animal impudicum.
7. O beata fœmina.
8. Filii lucis et gloria.

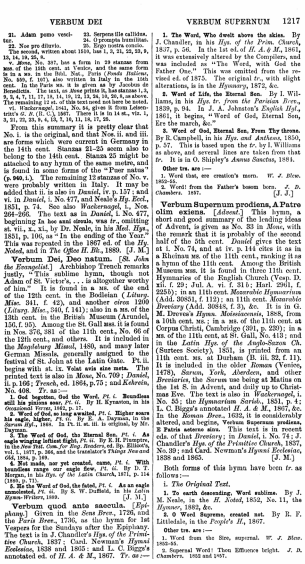
II. Mone, No. 34, prints it from a MS. of the 15th cent. in the town library at Trier. The stanzas there are 1, 2, 7, 8, and the following :—

9. Stella solem protulit.
10. Virgine de regia.
11. Virgo puerum genuit.
12. O pastores cernite.
13. Puer circumciditur.
14. Regem trus de gentibus.
15. Joseph nato fruitur.
16. Ex divino flamine.
17. Joseph nato fruitur.
18. Astrum regi regnatura.
19. Ab magnis concinitur.
20. O Jesu dulcissime.

III. Hoffmann von Fallersleben, 1841, No. 109, gives a German tr. (beginning "In den Jaren ellelfhundert") from a MS. of the 15th cent. This has 19 stanzas, and repeats 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 11, 12, 13, 14, 8, of the Latin, and also :—

15. Joseph nato fruitur.
16. Astrum regi regnaturo.
17. Ab magnis concinitur.
18. Ex divino flamine.
19. Ex divino flamine.
20. O Jesu dulcissime.

IV. G. M. Dreves, in his Cantiones Bohemicæ, 1886, p. 1, gives a text from a MS. of the 15th cent. belonging to the Bohemian Museum, and the second in the University Library. The first, written about 1420, has stanzas 1, 2, 7, 16, 14, 19, 8, and also



II. Adam pomo vesti- 21. Corpora ille callidus.
gio. 22. O principia humiliter.
23. Ergo contra consilia.

The second, written about 1510, has 1, 2, 21, 22, 23, 9, 13, 14, 19, 20, 8.

v. Mens. No. 337, has a form in 19 stanzas from Nos. i. and ii., and ends with the same doxology as in a MS. in the Bibl. Nat., Paris (Fonds Italien, No. 839, f. 107), also written in Italy in the 15th cent. In the Paris MS. it is given as by Jacobus de Benedictis. The text, as these points it, has stanzas 1, 5, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15, 17, 19, 21, 23, 9, 13, 14, 19, 20, 8. The remaining 12 st. of this text need not here be noted.

VI. Wackernagel. 1841, No. 84, gives it from Leisentritt's G. B. (B. U.), 1567. There it is in 14 sts., viz. 1, 3, 21, 22, 23, 9, 4, 13, 7, 19, 11, 14, 17, 20.

From this summary it is pretty clear that No. i. is the original, and that Nos. ii. and iii. are forms which were current in Germany in the 14th cent. Stanzas 21–23 seem also to belong to the 14th cent. Stanza 23 might be attached to any hymn of the same metre, and is found in some forms of the "Puer natus" (p. 960, i.). The remaining 12 stanzas of No. v. were probably written in Italy. It may be added that ii. is also in Daniel, iv. p. 137: and vi. in Daniel, i. No. 477, and Neale's Hy. Eccl., 1851, p. 74. See also Wackernagel, i., Nos. 264-266. The text as in Daniel, i. No. 477, beginning In hoc anni circulo, was fr., omitting st. vii., s. xi., by Dr. Neale, in his Med. Hys., 1851, p. 106, as "In the ending of the Year." This was repeated in the 1862 ed. of the Hy. Noted, and in The Office H. Bk., 1889. [J. M.]

Verbum Dei, Deo natum. (St. John the Evangelist.) Archbishop Trench remarks justly, "This sublime hymn, though not Adam of St. Victor's, . . . is altogether worthy of him." It is found in a MS. of the end of the 12th cent. in the Bodleian (Liturg. Misc. 341, f. 42), and another circa 1200 (Liturg. Misc., 340, f. 141); also in a MS. of the 13th cent. in the British Museum (Arundel, 156, f. 105). Among the St. Gall MSS. it is found in Nos. 376, 381 of the 11th cent., No. 66 of the 12th cent., and others. It is included in the Magdeburg Missal, 1480, and many later German Missals, generally assigned to the festival of St. John at the Latin Gate. Pt. ii. begins with st. ix. Volat acta sine meta. The printed text is also in Mone, No. 709; Daniel, ii. p. 106; Trench, ed. 1864, p. 79; and Kehrein, No. 408. Tr. as :—

1. God begotten, God the Word, Pt. i. Bountiless still his gladness sow; Pt. ii. By R. Ignatius, in his Occasional Verses, 1862, p. 17.

2. Word of God, so long awaited, Pt. i. Higher soars the flight; Pt. ii. By R. F. Littledale, in the People's Hy., 1867. In Pt. ii. st. iii. is original, by Mr. Dargan.

3. The Word of God, the Eternal Son, Pt. i. As eagle winging loftiest flight; Pt. ii. By S. M. Pennington, in the Church Times, 1867, reprinted, as Mr. Bilbrough's, vol. x., 1877, p. 564, and the translator's Things New and Old, 1884, p. 189.

4. Wit made, nor yet created, came, Pt. i. With breathless range our sight flew, Pt. ii. By D. T. Ansted, in the Hys. of the Latin Church, 1871, p. 154 (1868, p. 71).

5. He the Word of God, the fated, Pt. i. As an eagle uncreated, Pt. ii. By R. W. Dufficld, in his Latin Hymn-Writers, 1889. [J. M.]

Verbum quod ante saecula. (Epiphany.) Given in the Sens Brev., 1726, and the Paris Brev., 1736, as the hymn for 1st Vespers for the Sundays after the Epiphany. The text is in J. Chandler's Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1837 : Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiae, 1838 and 1865 : and L. C. Biggs's annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867. Tr. as :—

1. The Word, Who dwelt above the skies. By J. Chandler, in his Hys. of the Prim. Church, 1837, p. 56. In the 1st ed. of H. A. & M., 1861, it was extensively altered by the Compilers, and was included as "The Word, with God the Father One." This was omitted from the revised ed. of 1875. The original tr., with slight alterations, is in the Hymnary, 1872, &c.

2. Word of Life, the Eternal Son. By J. Williams, in his Hys. tr. from the Parisian Brev., 1839, p. 94. In J. A. Johnston's English Hymnal, 1861, it begins, "Word of God, Eternal Son, Ere the march, &c."

3. Word of God, Eternal Son, From Thy throne. By R. Campbell, in his Hys. and Anthems, 1850, p. 57. This is based upon the tr. by I. Williams as above, and several lines are taken from that tr. It is in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1864.

Other trs. are :—

1. Word that, ere creation's morn. W. J. Blew. 1855.
2. Word from the Father's bosom born. J. D. Chambers. 1857. [J. J.]

Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens. (Ascension.) This hymn, a short and good summary of the leading ideas of Advent, is given as No. 33 in Mone, with the remark that it is probably of the second half of the 9th cent. Daniel gives the text at i. No. 74, and at iv. p. 144 cites it as in a Rheinau MS. of the 11th cent., making it as a hymn of the 11th cent. Among the British Museum MSS. it is found in three 11th cent. Hymnaries of the English Church (Vesp. D. xii. f. 29; Jul. A. vi. f. 31 b; Harl. 2961, f. 225b); in an 11th cent. Monastic Hymnarium (Add. 30851, f. 112); an 11th cent. Monastic Breviary (Add. 30848, f. 3), &c. It is in G. M. Dreves's Hymn. Moissiacenses, 1888, from a 10th cent. MS.; in a MS. of the 11th cent. at Corpus Christi, Cambridge (391, p. 220); in a MS. of the 11th cent. at St. Gall, No. 413; and in the Latin Hys. of the Anglo-Saxon Ch. (Surtees Society), 1851, is printed from an 11th cent. MS. at Durham (B. iii. 32, f. 11). It is included in the older Roman (Venice, 1478), Sarum, York, Aberdeen, and other Breviaries, the Sarum use being at Matins on the 1st S. in Advent, and daily up to Christmas Eve. The text is also in Wackernagel, i. No. 53; the Hymnarium Sarisb., 1851, p. 4; L. C. Biggs's annotated H. A. & M., 1867, &c. In the Roman Brev., 1632, it is considerably altered, and begins, Verbum Supernum prodiens, E Patris aeterno sinu. This text is in recent eds. of that Breviary : in Daniel, i. No. 74 : J. Chandler's Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1837, No. 39 : and Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiae, 1838 and 1865. [J. M.]

Both forms of this hymn have been tr. as follows :—

i. The Original Text.

1. To earth descending, Word sublime. By J. M. Neale, in the H. Noted, 1852, No. 11, the Hymnary, 1872, &c.

2. O Word Supreme, created not. By R. F. Littledale, in the People's H., 1867.

Other trs. are :—

1. Word from the Sire, supernal. W. J. Blew. 1855.
2. Supernal Word! Thou Efficence bright. J. D. Chambers. 1857 and 1861.

3. Word of the Father, Coming from high. J. W. Brend. 1855.

ii. The Roman Breviary Text.

1. Word of th' eternal Father's might. By W. J. Copeland, in his Hys. for the Week, 1848, p. 55. In Murray's Hymnal, 1852, it is given in an altered form.

2. O Thou, Who Thine own Father's breast. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 45, and his Hys. and Poems, 1873, p. 25. It is repeated in a few modern collections, sometimes as "Eternal Word, Who dost reside," as in the English Hy., 1852-61, where it is changed from O.M. to L.M.; and again as "Thou Who didst leave Thy Father's breast."

3. Supernal Word, proceeding forth. By Card. Newman, in his Verses on Religious Subjects, 1853, p. 108, and his Verses on Various Occasions, 1868, p. 255. This is repeated in the Hymnary, 1872, and others.

4. O Heavenly Word, Eternal Light. By the Compilers of H. A. & M. It was given in the trial copy of that collection in 1859, the 1st ed., 1861, and the revised ed., 1875. It is also in other hymn-books. The first stanza is based upon Caswall's tr. as above.

5. O Word celestial, Who Thy rest. By R. C. Singleton, in his Anglican H. Bk., 1868.

Other trs. are :—

1. The Father's counsel and his, to Day. Primer, 1706.
2. Eternal Word, Who dost proceed. Sp. G. W. Doane. 1824.
3. Word sublime, beloved one. Sp. H. Mont. 1857.
4. The Father's bosom Thou didst leave. J. Chandler. 1837.
5. Dread Word, Who sent, when time was not. Hymns for the Christian Church. 1841.
6. O gracious Word, that issuing forth from Hear'n. W. Palin. 1845.
7. Lo the Word from God proceeds. W. Bright. 1858.
8. O Thou, the Word, Supreme and blest. F. Trappes. 1849.
9. Dread Word, Who from the Father hast. J. Keble, in his Misc. Poems. 1868.
10. O Word, proceeding from Thy home. J. Wallace. 1874.
11. Supernal Word, Who didst proceed. J. C. Earle, in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus. 1864. [J. J.]

Verbum Supernum prodiens, Nec Patris linquens dexteram. (St. Thomas of Aquino. [Holy Communion.]) Written about 1263 for the office for use on Corpus Christi (see Pange lingua gloriosi Corporis). It is found in the Roman (Venice, 1478, and, unchanged, in 1632), Moissiac of 1502, Sarum, York, Aberdeen, Paris of 1736, and other Breviaries, its primary use being at Lauds on Corpus Christi.

"Most appropriately, says Daniel (i. No. 241), has St. Thomas made his hymn, like the well-known hymn for the Nativity of the Lord ('Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens'), for use on the Festival of the Eucharist, by which the Word made Flesh will be brought down to us, and we shall be made partakers of the relationship that exists between it and the Nativity of the Lord."

The text, in 3 st. and a doxology, is in Daniel, i. No. 241; Hymnarium Sarisb., 1851, p. 123, and others. St. iv. is a fine instance of perfect form and condensed meaning :—

> "Se nascens dedit socium,
> Convescens in edulium,
> Se moriens in pretium,
> Se regnans dat in praemium."

The last stanza, O salutaris hostia, has often been used along with the doxology as a separate hymn, e.g. at the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The hymn is found in a MS. of the 13th cent. in the Bodleian (Ashmole, 1525, f. 172); in a MS. of the end of the 13th cent. (Add. 29935, f. 4 b), and a 14th cent. Sarum Brev. (Reg. A. xix. f. 95), both in the British Museum; in a 13th cent. MS. at St. Gall, 305, i., and others. Also in Wackernagel, i. No. 232; Königsfeld, ii. p. 214; Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiae, 1838 and 1865, and others. [J. M.]

The trs. of this hymn are as follows :—

i. Verbum supernum prodiens Nec, &c.

1. The Word, descending from above. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 114, and his Hys. & Poems, 1873, p. 65. It is in the People's H., 1867. In the Hymnary, 1882, it is rewritten as, "The Word proceeding from above."

2. The Word of God proceeding forth. By J. M. Neale, in the enlarged ed. of the H. Noted, 1854. From the H. Noted it has passed into several collections, and in almost every instance with alterations. In the Salisbury H. Bk., 1857, it begins, "The Word from His eternal home." Another altered form of the text is "The Heavenly Word proceeding forth," in H. A. & M., 1861 and 1875. In the Hymnary, 1872, Neale's tr. is given with st. v., as in H. A. & M.

Other trs. are :—

1. The eternal God, by human birth. Primer, 1706, and O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus. 1864.
2. Eternal Word, Who ever sits at God's right hand. J. Williams. 1839.
3. The Word Supernal forth proceeds, Nor leaves, &c. A. D. Wackerbarth. 1842.
4. Word of God to earth descending. N. Campbell. 1850.
5. The Word Most Highest from above. W. J. Blew. 1855-57.
6. The Word Eternal going forth. J. A. Johnston. 1856 and 1861.
7. The Word supernal forth proceeds, Yet, &c. J. D. Chambers. 1857. In Skinner's Daily Service Hy., 1864, it is altered to "The Word of God from heaven proceeds."
8. Achieving what His wisdom plann'd. F. Trappes. 1865.
9. The eternal Word of God descends. J. Wallace. 1874.
10. The Word supernal, from the heavens descending. C. Kent, in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1864.
11. Proceeding forth, the Word supernal. J. D. Aylward, in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1864.

ii. O salutaris Hostia.

The special use of this portion of the hymn is thus set forth in the Dict. of Christian Antiquities :—

"A hymn sung during the Office called Benedictus, at the moment when the Tabernacle is opened, in order that the Blessed Sacrament may be taken out and placed in the Monstrance prepared for its solemn Exposition.

"Sometimes also, though less frequently, 'O salutaris Hostia' is sung at High Mass, immediately after the Benedictus; not indeed as an integral part of the Mass (which the Benedictus certainly is), but rather as a device to prevent the long and distracting pause which would otherwise ensue, when, as is frequently the case in Plain Chant Masses, the Benedictus is too short to fill up the time which must necessarily elapse between the Elevation of the Host and the Pater Noster."

This portion of the hymn is not usually tr. distinct from the preceding verses, although in some books it is marked off from the rest by the introduction into the tr. of the Latin line. The trs. are :—

1. O saving Host, that heaven's high gate. Primer. 1706.
2. O Saving Host which Heaven's Gate. Bunting MS. 1745.
3. O Saving Victim, pledge of love. Divine Offices. 1765.

4. O hallow'd feast of bliss! to Thee. D. French, 1859.

5. O Lord, Who didst a willing Victim die. J. Wil. Stone, 1859.

6. O! Victim of Salvation's cause. A. D. Wackerbarth, 1861.

7. O saving Victim! opening wide The gate of heaven, &c. E. Caswall. 1849.

8. Mighty Victim, earth's salvation. R. Campbell, 1850.

9. O saving Victim, stain to bless. J. M. Neale, 1854.

10. O healthful, saving Sacrifice. J. D. Chambers, 1852 and 1857.

11. O Saviour victim, Thine the power. H. N. Oxenden, 1858.

12. O Lamb of God! the Victim slain. J. A. Johnston, 1858 and 1861.

13. O Christ, meet willing Victim slain. Salisbury H. Bk. 1857. Altered from Neale. This in the Sarum Hymnal, 1868, was again altered to "O saintary Victim slain."

14. Hail, saving Host! Hail, source of love. T. J. Potter, 1855.

15. O saving Victim, worthy deem'd. F. Pepper, 1858.

16. O Thou lamb giving Sacrifice. W. J. Irons, in his Hymnal, 1866, and his Ps. & Hys., 1873-78.

17. O Victim of redeeming grace. A. Wallace. 1874.

18. O Host, salvation bringing. C. Kent, in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884.

19. O Victim of the world's salvation. J. D. Aylward, in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884. [J. J.]

Vere, Thomas Aubrey de, third s. of the late Sir Aubrey de Vere, Bart., was b. in 1814, and educated at Trinity College, Dublin. Whilst Dr. Newman was Rector of the Roman Catholic University, Dublin, he was one of the Professors there. His first volume of Poems appeared in 1842, and since then he has also pub. more than thirty distinct works, many of which are in verse, including Poems, 1855; May Carols, 1857; Poetical Works, 1884; and others. A few pieces from his poetical works are given in Roman Catholic collections.

Very, Jonas, was b. at Salem, Massachusetts, Aug. 28, 1813, his father, Jonas Very, being a shipmaster. He graduated at Harvard College in 1836. He remained at his College, as tutor in Greek, for two years, and then entered the Unitarian Ministry (1843). He has been engaged in the work of a preacher without a pastorate from the first, a great part of his time being devoted to literary pursuits. In 1839 he pub. a volume of Essays and Poems, from which several pieces have been taken as hymns, including:—

1. Lord, upon Thy word. The sun doth stand. Waiting upon God.

2. Father, there is no change to live with Thee. Peace in the Father's love.

3. Father! Thy wonders do not singly stand. The Spirit's work.

4. Will Thou not visit me? The Divine Presence desired.

These hymns were included in Longfellow and Johnson's Unitarian Book of Hymns, 1846. In the same collection also appeared:—

5. I saw on earth another light. The Light Within.

6. The bud will soon become a flower. Hoping and Keeping.

7. I turn not from him who asks of thee. Kind Words.

In addition the following hymns appeared in Longfellow and Johnson's Hymns of the Spirit, 1864:—

8. One saint to another I heard say, "How long?" The Future anticipated.

9. There is a world yet hath not seen. The Spirit World.

Most of these hymns are in the Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868; and in Putnam's Singers and Songs of the Liberal Faith, 1874. [F. M. B.]

Very, Washington, brother of Jones Very, was b. at Salem, Massachusetts, Nov. 12, 1815. After following mercantile pursuits for some time, he entered Harvard College, and graduated there in 1843. Subsequently he conducted a private school in Salem, where he d. April 28, 1853. Putnam gives three of Very's poetical pieces in his Singers and Songs, &c., 1874, one of which, "There cometh o'er the spirit" (Spring), appeared in Longfellow and Johnson's Book of Hymns, 1846. [J. J.]

Verzage nicht, o frommer Christ. [Trust in God.] Included as one of Drey schöne geistliche Lieder, Constanz, 1607, in 22 st. of 5 l., and thence in Mützell, No. 584; Wackernagel, v. p. 427; and the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 261. Sometimes erroneously ascribed to Nicolaus Herman. Tr. as:—

To who the name of Jesus bear, Yield not yourselves &c. A good tr. of st. i., iv., v., vii., xviii., by A. T. Russell, as No. 226 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851. [J. M.]

Vexilla Regis prodeunt. V. H. C. Fortunatus. [Passiontide.] This "world-famous hymn," as Dr. Neale calls it, has been ascribed to Theodulph of Orleans, to Sedulius, &c. But it is found in all the MSS. of the works of Fortunatus, as well as in all the printed editions, and there is no ground whatever for questioning his authorship. In further annotation it will be most convenient to treat (i) of its Text, then (ii) of its Origin and some of the allusions contained in it, and lastly (iii) of the variations in its Use.

i. Text, MSS., &c. We print first the full original text from Professor F. Leo's ed. of Fortunatus's Opera poetica, Berlin, 1881, p. 34, where it is given as No. 6 in Bk. ii., entitled "Hymn in honour of the Holy Cross," and in 8 st. as follows:—

I.	V.
"Vexilla regis prodeunt, Fulget crucis mysterium, Qua carne carnis conditor Suspensus est patibulo.	"Arbor decora et fulgida, Ornata regis purpura, Electa digno stipite, Tam sancta membra tangere!
II.	VI.
"Confixa clavis viscera Tendens manus, vestigia Redemptionis gratia Hic immolata est hostia.	"Beata cujus brachiis Pretium pependit saeculi, Statera facta est corporis Praedam tulitque Tartari.
III.	VII.
"Quo vulneratus insuper Mucrone diro lanceae, Ut nos lavaret crimine, Manavit unda et sanguine.	"Fundis acerbis asperis, Vinctis nagoris nectare, Jucunda Deitas tertiil Plaudis triumpho nobili.
IV.	VIII.
"Impleta sunt quae concinit David fideli carmine, Dicendo nationibus: Regnavit a ligno Deus.	"Salve arbor alma victima Do passionis gloria Qua vita mortem pertulit Et mortevitam reddidit."

This text Leo prints from a St. Petersburg MS. of the 8th cent., a Loudun MS. of the 8th or 9th cent., a Vatican MS. of the 9th cent. (Regina, 339), and others. It agrees with the original readings of a 9th cent. MS. of Fortunatus, now in the Brit. Mus. (Add. 24193, f. 18). In the earliest Hymnaries, &c., it is found in much the same text, e. g.:—

In the so-called Durham Hymnal, an ancient MS. in the Chapter Library at Durham (A. iv. 19, f. 81b), written in England in a hand of the 10th cent., is two Hymns on, written in England in the 11th cent., and now in the Brit. Mus. (Vesp. D., xii. f. 64, and Harl., 2961, f. 230b), the first of which is the present hymn, the text of st. i., ii., iii., vii., and xv. is the Vesp. D., xii. st. i., was subsequently scratched through, st. vii., viii. being erased (in the Vesp. D., xii., the Latin text of almost all the hymns is repeated along with an Anglo-Saxon interlinear gloss, but in the present hymn the Latin text of the gloss. In this form, at f. 65b, the original st. i., ii., vii., are still found, and there is neither original nor gloss of st. iv., v., and the two following stanzas, not by Fortunatus, inserted in their place:—

iv.	v.
"O crux ave, spes unica, Hoc passionis tempore, Auge piis justitiam, Reisque dona veniam.	"Te summa Deus Trinitas, Collaudet omnis spiritus; Quos per crucis mysterium Salvas, rege per saecula."

Among other MSS. which omit st. vii., viii. and give iv., v., are the Add. 30846, f. 108, a Breviary written in Spain in the 11th cent., and now in the Brit. Mus.; the Add. 18406, f. 1, a Breviary written in Germany, and also in the 12th cent., and now in the Brit. Mus., &c. So also the Hymnarium Moissiacense, a MS. written in France in the 10th cent., and ed. by G. M. Dreves in 1888, p. 45. In the Harl. 2961, as above, the hymn is given with the same text as in the Vesp. D., xii., but st. iv., v. beginning "Arbor decora et fulgida," being st. vi., vii. in it. In a MS. of the 11th cent. now at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge (201, p. 246), st. iv. also immediately precedes st. viii. Other early MSS. which contain the hymn are noted below. The text of the MS. now in the Brit. Mus. (Add. 11,695), one of the 11th cent. at Durham (A. iii., 32, f. 32), one of the 12th cent. at the Bodl. No. 146, &c. The variations in the text are somewhat numerous, but we need only mention two, viz. st. vii., l. 3, where the Bodl. MS. reads "Fundis acerbis asperis," and st. x., l. 3, where it is omitted, the Durham MS. reading "Et mortevitam reddidit." In the 12th cent. Bodl. MS. 130, f. 2, p. 264, it is found in the text with readings from a Fleury MS. of circa 980, a Rheinau MS. of the 11th cent., &c. The printed text is also in Wackernagel, i. No. 84, from a Leyden, Servatorius, 1565, Bernina's Lat. Hys., 1573, and Daniel's Thesaurus Hymnol., Halle, 1841-56, &c. In the revised Roman Brev. of 1632 the text is of st. i., ii.-vi., ix., x., slightly altered.

ii. Origin and Allusions. To appreciate this hymn we must bear in mind the circumstances under which it was written. The details are of more than usual interest, as a short summary will show:—

Fortunatus was then living at Poictiers, where his friend, Queen Radegund, founded a nunnery. Before the consecration of the nunnery church she desired to present certain relics to it, and among these she obtained from the Emperor Justin II. a fragment of the Holy Cross. In December 569 the ambassadors of the nunnery received its name of the Holy Cross. The relic was sent in the first instance to Tours, and was left in charge of the Bishop, in order that he might convey it to Poictiers. (See the Historia Francorum, bk. iv. cc. xxi. xxii. xxiii. xxvi. xxxi. xxxv.) In 1883 the Abbé L. Bénard's Année Sainte, Poictiers, 1887, pp. 128-136, its journey to Poictiers is thus described: "Escorted by a numerous body of clergy and of the faithful bearing lighted torches, the Bishop started in the direction of Tours, singing the hymn of the Church in honour of the hallowed wood of the Redemption. A league from Poictiers the pious cortège found the delegates of Radegund, Fortunatus at their head, rejoicing in the honour which had fallen to them; some of the monks carried the precious relic, covered with a veil of white wax. The meeting took place at Nigné, at the place where, twelve centuries and a half later, the cross appeared in the air. It was on this occasion that the hymn 'Vexilla Regis' was heard for the first time, the author himself intoning the verses. . . . It was the 19th November—arrival of the True Cross . . . It was the 19th November, 569."

The hymn was thus primarily a Processional hymn, written for use at the solemn reception of a relic of the Holy Cross. Inspired by the occasion the poet composed this poem of the Crucified King, one of the grandest hymns of the Latin church, in which in glowing accents he invites us to contemplate the mystery of love accomplished on the Cross. The occasion thus gives the key to his choice of subject, and to most of the allusions throughout the hymn. Fortunatus evidently had in his mind, especially in st. v., the old legends of the Tree of the Cross (see under "Fange lingua gloriosi Proelium," p. 886, i.), and designedly used in l. 1. 4, the word "patibulum," which means properly a cross, formed thus Y or thus ⅄; the latter form representing the stem of the tree, with the branches on which, as on a balance, the ransom of the world was weighed (st. vi.). The most interesting of the other allusions is the use made in the 8th stanza of Ps. xcvi. 10. Neither in the Hebrew, the present Septuagint, the present Vulgate, nor in the English versions, do we find anything answering to Fortunatus's statement that David spoke of God as reigning "from the tree," i.e. from the Cross.

Justin Martyr however cited the passage as Messianic, and regarded the words ἀπὸ τοῦ ξύλου, as part of the original (Dialogue with Trypho, sect. 73; see Migne's Patr. Græca, vi. 685). Irenæus (Against Heresies, bk. iii. c. 18, see Migne's Patr. Lat., vii. 927) quotes the words "a ligno" as part of the text of Ps. xcvi. 10. These words are also found in many mss. of the so-called Italic version of the Psalms, as, e.g., in a Psalter of the 11th cent. now in the Brit. Mus. (Add. 30 E. 1., f. 112), and in the Utrecht Psalter (f. 58), which latter also appears to regard a ligno, et enim correxit orbem," and so in another Psalter of circa 700 (Vesp. A., i. f. 92). In the Add. 18546 of circa 1150 it reads "Dicite in gentibus quia dominus regnavit, et enim correxit orbem," and so do the Psalters of the 12th cent. in the Add. 11,695, and also survived in the printed Sarum Missals as a versicle for use on Friday in Easter week and for the Festival of the Invention of the Cross, thus "Dicite in gentibus quia Dominus regnavit a ligno," and this form is also in the Benedictine Breviary, 1727, for the Festival of the Cross (ed. Hoskin, 1874, p. 410). In the present Roman Breviary it is appointed for use at Lauds in the commemoration of the Holy Cross in the ferial office at Eastertide, thus "V. Dicite in nationibus, alleluia, R. Regnavit a ligno Deus, alleluia." For further details of Italy's Roman Brev. into England, vol. i., 1879, p. 155). M. Leon Gautier, in his Les Prêtres, 1886, p. 153, quotes a Limoges MS. of the 11th cent. (Bib. Nat., Paris, Lat., 1240), as appointing it for the 3rd S. after Easter, and also another MS. of the 12th cent. (Lat. 1139), as appointing it as peculiar *quia regnis Domini elementia, sub regulorum civibus, regnavit omnia et imperavit a ligno, propria Filio suo crucifixa qui surrexit et sedet in throno Deo*creatoris Zabuli."

iii. Use. As already stated the first use was as a processional hymn in honour of the Holy Cross. Its subsequent uses include the following:—

The first was on Vespers on Passion Sunday, and daily up to Maunday Thursday. In the Paris Brev. of 1736 it is appointed for Vespers on Passion Sunday, and from Wed. up to Maundy Thursday. In the present Roman Brev. it is used at Vespers on the Saturday before Passion Sunday, and up to Maundy Thursday, and also on the Festival of the Invention of the Cross (May 3); and in the Benedictine Breviary it is appointed for use on the morning of Good Friday, after the ceremony of the Adoration of the Cross, and during the time that its sculptors are coming the reserved sacrament (kept since Maundy Thursday in a side chapel, in the sepulchre of the Church), previous to its being solemnly placed on the High Altar.

Of the imitations and parodies of this hymn we need only mention two.

The first of these is a sequence beginning "Vexilla Regis prodeunt fulgentia," printed by G. M. Dreves in his Analecta hymnica medii ævi, 1886, p. 168, from three Limoges mss. now in the Bibl. Nat., Paris (Lat. 1139, circa 980; Lat. 776 of the 12th cent.; Lat. 1137 of the 13th cent.). It is a sequence for the Festival of the Invention with the rhythm and allusions used in the present Roman Brev. at the First Vespers of the Invention of the Cross. The second, printed by Thomas Wright in his Political Songs of England, London, 1839, p. 338, begins "Vexilla regis prodeunt, Fulget comeda contra tuin," and is a parody describing the death (1313) of

Peter de Gaveston, the favourite of Edward II. of England. (Wright, as p. 350, pub. a second, and much improved, edition of the text, with notes, under "Poésies inédites du quatorzième siècle. Paris et Londres, 1840.")

We may add that the text of Fortunatus, with a full critical and theological commentary, will be found in the Abbé S. G. Pimont's Hymnes du Bréviaire Romain, vol. ii., pt. ii., p. 36, Paris, 1884; and in Dr. J. Kayser's Beiträge zur Geschichte und Erklärung der Ältesten Kirchenhymnen, vol. i. Paderborn, 1881, pp. 305–411. [J. M.]

The trs. into English of the Vexilla Regis include:—

1. A Royal the Regal Banners file. This fine rendering is in The Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary in English, &c., 1687 (Brit. Mus.); an account of which is given in the Churchman's Shilling Mag., for July, 1876. Hymn No. 169 in Thring's Coll., 1882, is taken from this tr., the text being slightly altered. It is based on the tr. of 1585 noted below, and is by far the best rendering of the Vexilla Regis in C. U.

2. The royal banner is unfurled. By J. Chandler, in his Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1837, p. 74, in 5 st. of 4 l., and again in his Hys. of the Church, mostly Primitive, 1841, No. 42. It is given in a limited number of hymnals only.

3. Now onward move the standards of our King. By W. J. Copeland, in his Hys. for the Week, &c., 1848, p. 79, in 7 st. of 4 l. Its use is limited.

4. Forth famous the standard of our King. By Bp. J. Williams, in his Ancient Hys., 1844, p. 61. This is repeated in a limited number of collections, including Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869, and others.

5. Forth comes the standard of the King: All hail, Thou Mystery adored. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 80, and his Hys. & Poems, 1873, p. 50, in 7 st. of 4 l. It is given in several Roman Catholic hymn-books for schools and missions.

6. Forth goes the standard of the King. The sign of signs, the radiant Cross. This tr. appeared as No. 36 in Stretton's Church Hys., 1850, in 6 st. of 4 l. In the Index it is said to be by Chandler, but its similarity to Chandler's tr. is so faint that the most which can be said of it is that it is Chandler's tr. re-written. It is a most successful rendering of the hymn. In full, or in an abridged form it is found in later collections, as Murray's Hymnal, 1852, Lowe's Gainsburgh Coll., 1856, and several others.

7. The King of Kings His banner rears. By R. Campbell, in his Hys. and Anthems, 1856, p. 63, in 8 st. of 4 l.

8. See the royal banner streaming. By G. Rorison, in his Hys. and Anthems, 1851, No. 50, in 6 st. of 4 l.

9. The royal banners forward go. By J. M. Neale, in his Medieval Hys., 1851, p. 6, in 7 st. of 4 l., and again in the Hy. Noted, 1852, with the omission of st. vi. It is in C. U. both in its full and in several altered forms. Amongst the latter are (1) H. A. & M., altered by the Compilers, 1861, and repeated in other collections; (2) F. Pott's Hymns, &c., altered by the Editor, 1861; (3) Nicholson's Appendix Hys., 1868, beginning with st. iii., "Faithful is all that David told"; (4) The Hymnary, altered by the Editors, 1872, and others. When these various forms of Dr. Neale's tr. are taken into account, it is found that his rendering of the Vexilla Regis is more widely used than all others put together.

10. The royal banner forward goes, The Cross's mystery shines to view. By J. A. Johnston in his English Hyl., 1852. In the 1856 ed. he altered it to "See forward the King's banners go," and in the 1861 ed. to "Before us our King's banner goes."

11. The royal banner is unfurled. This, in the Cooke and Denton Hymnal, 1855, is a cento of which st. i. is from J. Chandler as above, and st. ii.–v. are from Stretton's Church Hys., 1850, somewhat altered.

12. Forth goes the standard of our King. The sacred banner gleams on high. This rendering, which appeared in Cheye's Hymnal, 1857, and again in other collections, is an arrangement made from older collections, the principal source being Stretton's Church Hys., 1850, as above.

13. The King's bright banners forward go. This in Kennedy, 1863, No. 601, is J. A. Johnston's 1856 text as above, in a slightly altered form.

14. The royal banner is unfurled. And lo! the Cross is reared on high. This rendering in Mercell and Hoe's Ps. & Hys., 1864, in 4 st. of 4 l., is an altered and abbreviated form of the text in Stretton's Church Hys., 1850, as above, with a slight resemblance to Cheye's text of 1857. In the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871, No. 118 is a cento beginning with st. i. of this text, and concerning which Mr. Ellerton says in his Notes to the Church Hys., 1881, p. xl,:—

"Hymn 118. . . . Free imitation, written for Church Hymns in 1871 by Bishop William Walsham How, of the Latin hymn Vexilla Regis prodeunt, by Venantius Fortunatus. . . . In the present imitation, little except the first line remains of the original. . . . Whereas the original contains eight verses, the last four being the impassioned apostrophe to the material cross, an alleged fragment of which was amongst the relics for the reception of which the hymn was written. These verses being considered by the Editors of Church Hymns wholly unsuitable for the use of the congregation for which their book was prepared, have been replaced by others."

The text of this Church Hymns cento is thus composed: st. i. from Mercell & Hoe, 1864, unaltered; st. ii., Mercell & Hoe, 1864, st. iii. rewritten; st. iv., v. new by Bp. How.

15. The King's banners onward stream. By E. C. Singleton, written in 1867, and pub. in his Anglican H. Bk., 1868.

16. The King's bright banners forward go. By E. A. Dayman, in the Sarum Hyl., 1868. The opening lines (1 and 2) are from Kennedy's 1863 text, hence the first line of st. ii., "With outstretched hands, transfixed and torn," must be noted.

Other trs. are:—

1. The banners of the King come forth, The mistérie, &c. Primer (Antwerp), 1599.
2. Now forth the Kingly banners go. Primer (Moulin), 1699.
3. Now the Regal Banners fly, Now shines the Crosse mystery. Primer (Antwerp), 1599.
4. Behold the Royal Ensigns fly, The Crosses shining Mystery. Primer (London ?), 1706.
5. Abroad the royal Banners fly. A partial tr. in the Primer, 1706, p. 191.
6. Behold the Royal Ensigns fly, Bearing the Cross's Mystery. Breming Office, 1710.
7. In this the standard of a King! I. Williams, 1868.
8. The great King's banner shines above. S. C. Bancroft, 1841.
9. Mysterious sign of Royalty. W. Palmer, 1845.
10. See the royal banners fly. T. Hurlé, 1849.
11. The Royal Banner forward goes, The Victoria Cross refulgent gives. J. D. Chambers, 1852 and 1857.

12. The banners of the King go forth Combines the mystery of the Rood. W. J. Blew, 1852 and 1855.
13. The banners of the King appear, The mystery of the Cross shines clear. J. Kirkus, written in 1853, pub. in his (posthumous) Misc. Poems, 1869.
14. Behold the royal ensigns fly, which bear the Cross's mystery. By T. J. Potter in the Catholic Psalmist, 1857.
15. The Banner of the King goes forth, The Cross, the radiant mystery. Elizabeth Charles, 1858.
16. The Royal Banner floats on high. R. Massie, in Lyra Messianica, 1864.
17. The Kingly banners proudly fly. F. Trappes, 1865.
18. The King's bright banners onward bear. H. M. Macgill's Tis Juvenile Miss. Magazine of the C. Prot. Church, April, 1868, and his Songs of the Christian Church, 1870, p. 19.
19. The banners of our King advance. A. Wallace, 1874.
20. Banners of our King are streaming. C. Kent, in C. Snepher's Annus Sanctus, 1884.

Of these 20 trs. Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 14 are in C. U., the cross upon them "Shows the sign." A. W. Duffield, in his Latin Hymn-Writers, &c., 1868.

This extensive list of trs. marks in a striking manner the strong hold this hymn has upon many men. In translating the stanza which has called forth the greatest diversity and skill is the fourth as above.

The finest rendering of these lines which we have seen is that in the Service Book of 1637 (see above), which reads:—

"That which the Prophet-King of old
Hath in mysterious verse foretold,
Is now accomplished, when we see
God Ruling Nations from a Tree."

The nearest approach to this in dignity and force is Dr. Neale's tr. of 1851. [J. J.]

Victimae Paschali. Wipo (?). [Easter.] This Sequence is an excellent example of the transition from the rhythmical, irregular, unrhymed Notkerian sequences to the regular rhyming sequences of Adam of St. Victor and later writers. It presents several points of interest, and demands a somewhat detailed examination. We shall treat (1) of the Text and MSS., (2) of the Authorship, and (3) of the Use made of this Sequence.

i. Text and MSS. To show its structure we print the full text, which reads:—

I.	[Sepulchrum Christi vivi,
Victimae Paschali	Et gloriam vidi resurgentis;
laudes immolent Christiani.	Angelicos testes,
II.	Sudarium et vestes.
Agnus redemit oves;	Surrexit Christus spes mea,
Christus innocens Patri	Praecedet suos in Galilea."
reconciliavit	V.
Peccatores.	Credendum est magis soli
III.	Mariae veraci
Mors et vita duello	Quam Judaeorum turbae
Conflixere mirando;	fallaci.
Dux vitae mortuus	Scimus Christum resurrexisse
Regnat vivus.	a mortuis
IV.	Vere.
"Dic nobis, Maria,	Tu nobis, victor rex,
Quid vidisti in via?"	miserere.

The text as above is printed from the following sess., all now in the British Museum.

(A) Add. 19940, f. 93b, written in the 11th cent., probably in the S. of England. (B) Add. 23935, f. 45b, written in England, circa 1140. (C) Vesp. A. xiv., f. 57b, written in England, circa 1180. (D) Add. 22283, f. 42bb, written in France, circa 1275. (E) Add. 19899, f. 8b, written in Germany, circa 1080. (F) Arundel. 154, f. 40b, written in Germany, circa 1100. (G) Arundel. 377, f. 1b, written in Durham in 1. 1., 1. 2. immolent in c; iii., 1. 3, confligerunt in a; iv., 1. 1, agnus sustens in c; iv., 1. 4, nos in b and c; iv., 1. 6, Galilaeam in c and f; v., 1. 4, credendum in a and c; v., 1. 5, a mortuis in b, c.

This sequence is also found in a MS. written in Germany circa 1100, and now in the Bodleian (Liturg. Misc., 341, f. 47); in a MS. apparently written at Limoges, circa 1100, and now in the Bibl. Nat., Paris (Lat. 14819, f. 109); and in the Reimersnuth Gradual, circa 1000, also in the Bibl. Nat., Paris (Lat. 14812), in two MSS. of the 10th cent. at St. Gall, No. 339, p. 7 (added in a hand of the 11th cent., and No. 340, p. 24, and in a third of the 11th cent., No. 383, p. 30), &c. Other MSS. are in the Bodleian (Liturg. Misc., 341, p. 215), a York, circa 1060; a Hereford, circa 1300, all now in the Bodleian; in a Paris of the 14th cent. (Add. 18005, f. 188), beginning with "Agnus redemit oves"; and a Jena of the 14th cent. (Add. 23922, f. 1), beginning with "Victimae Paschali" (the latter being missing), now in the Brit. Mus.; in the St. Andrews, circa 1499, the Angers of 1489, the Magdeburg of 1499, the Minister of 1496, and many others in various continental countries. In the Paris Missal (see above, p. 1220, col. ii.) it is given in full, and in the Sarum Missal in the present Roman Missal it is of st. v. are omitted, while in some of the 18th cent. eds. of the Roman Missal, e.g. in the Venice eds. of 1477 and 1487, in the Brit. Mus., the question "Dic nobis" (iv., 1. 1, 2) is given to Mary, and the answer (iv., 1. 3–6) to the disciples. In Otherwise, in most cases, the text is given in full and unaltered. The printed text is also in Daniel, ii. p. 56, with further notes at ii. p. 208, iii. p. 307, v. p. 50; Rambach, No. 82; Mohler, No. 70; Wackernagel, i., No. 191; Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiae, 1838 and 1865, and others.

ii. Authorship. As a rule this Sequence has been regarded as of unknown authorship. Of the guesses at its authorship the following may be mentioned:—

(1) Cardinal Bona (Rerum Liturg., Rome, 1671, p. 356) says that it had been ascribed to Notker. This ascription, however, is quite without ground (see p. 818).

(2) Robert II. of France. In a list of authors of sequences, written circa 1100 (see p. 1062), it is ascribed to Robert II. of France. This ascription also lacks confirmation (see p. 907, ii.).

(3) Hermannus Contractus. The attribution to Hermannus Contractus (1013–1054) is given in Migne's Patrologiae Cursus Completus, vol. cxliii. (Liturgia), Paris, 1844, col. 956, seems also entirely conjectural.

(4) Adam of St. Victor. In the Augustinian Missal of St. Victor, printed at Paris in 1520, it is attributed to Adam of St. Victor, but on what it was written before he was born (see above and p. 24, ii.).

(5) Italian Origin. In the Bibliologist for October, 1854, it is said to be "probably of Italian origin." This appears simply to be a conjecture, and we have been unable to discover anything which can be called evidence in this direction.

(6) Wipo. Lastly P. Anselm Schubiger, in his Sängerschule St. Gallens, 1858, ascribes it to Wipo, on the ground that it is marked with his name in an Einsiedeln MS. (No. 121, p. 1, of the 11th cent.). In a footnote (appx. No. 30) of the part of the MS. which contains this sequence. Since Schubiger's discovery the sequence has generally been ascribed to Wipo (Oberwinkler Wippo or Wigbert), who was a native of Burgundy, and lived during the reigns of Conrad II. (d. June 4, 1039), and Henrich III., and presented a collection of poems to the former in 1035, and another collection to the latter in 1041; his latest work being a prose history of the Emperor Conrad II. (d. June 4, 1039). The ascription of the sequence (marked as his, so far as we can discover, only in his solitary Einsiedeln ms.) can hardly be regarded as definitely established. Neither of the two earliest St. Gall mss. give his name, and the copy in one of these (No. 340, p. 24) is added in a hand of the 11th cent. (the Graduel noted above), i.e. more than 20 years earlier than we otherwise hear of Wipo. And there is nothing in the other pieces known as his which would lead us to connect the "Victimae Paschali" with his name.

iii. Uses. This fine Sequence is simple, scriptural, good in rhythm, and embraces in itself various elements which account for its popularity and long extended use. Luther held it in high esteem, especially admiring the terse and vivid picture of the conflict between Death and Life in st. iii., and practically incorporated this stanza in his "Christ lag in Todesbanden" (see p. 554, i.). Its brevity and picturesqueness led to its speedy adoption in the Missals of various countries for use at the ordinary church services during the period of Easter.

Of the use from which the text as above is taken, marks it simply as "a sequence on the Resurrection" assigns it to Easter Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday; to Easter Day in Easter week; while a, b, and c do not indicate the use.

Neither the Sarum, York, nor Hereford Missals used it on Easter Sunday or on Low Sunday; the Sarum appointing it for Friday in Easter week, and for the 2nd Sunday after Easter; the Hereford for Monday, Tuesday, and York for Wednesday in Easter week, as also on the 2nd and later Sundays. In the Aspery Missal of 1489 it is however appointed for Easter Sunday and for Low Sunday, as well as for Tuesday and Wednesday in Easter week; while the Sarum Missal used by Easter Sunday. The Roman Missal includes it for Easter week; in the Vienne Missal of 1688 for the B. V. M. at Rencontre, &c. Other Missals present various omissions or modifications of these uses, which need not be enumerated here. In the Paris Breviary of 1736 it is one of the four sequences which were alone retained in that revision, and is appointed for use on Easter Sunday and daily up to Low Sunday inclusive, but not for the later Sundays. In the Paris Brev. of 1840 it forms part of the service for Vespers on Easter Sunday.

The dramatic possibilities of this Sequence also early attracted attention. It formed a striking feature in many of the Easter Missals or Mystery Plays, but these we have not space to describe in detail.

(For its use there see e.g. F. J. Mone's Schauspiele des Mittelalters, Karlsruhe, 1846, pp. 17-27, 128, &c.; Anglia, Halle, Niemeyer, viii. 216 and J. O. Halliwell, 1841, pp. 1-6; Le Grand Mystère de la Passion, publié par Gaston Paris, Paris, 1878; O. Mitscha's Oster- und Passionspiele, Wolfenbüttel, 1880, &c.)

It was also frequently employed at Matins on Easter Sunday, in the ceremony of the Easter Sepulchre, which was intercalated in the service between the Third Lesson and the "Te Deum." Various forms of this function are found both in England, and on the continent. Dr. Carl Lange, in his Die Lateinischen Osterfeiern, Munich, 1887, gives the results of his examination of 224 mss. and printed service books (Breviaries, Antiphonaries, Processionals, Troparies, &c.), ranging from the 10th to the 18th cent., and used in France, Holland, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, and England, all of which contain longer or shorter forms of this function, and 68 of which embody the "Victimae Paschali," either in full or beginning with "Dic nobis Maria." The earliest form in which he has found the "Victimae Paschali" included date from the 12th cent.

At p. 65 Lange prints from a 13th cent. Ritual for use at Chalons-sur-Marne. There, after the Third Responsory the two chief singers, vested in albs, and representing the angel and Heather on the left of the high altar, to represent the angels at the Holy Sepulchre; followed by three deacons in white dalmatics, coming from the Vestry and representing the three Maries with spices, etc. They find the singers on the Rood, or Crucifix, and one of the sepulchrists says "Quem quæritis in sepulchro, o Christicolæ?" and they answer "Jesum Nazarenum." The Angels, taking off the white after-cloth, as representing the grave clothes, reply "He is not here." The Maries, turning to the choir, sing "Alleluia, the Lord has risen to-day," passing down towards the choir. And the Mary sings "Venite et videte locum," Second sings "Agite nuntiate" (as, ii.), and the Third sings "Nunc et vita" (as, iii.). Then the succentor, standing on the east step of the altar, sings the First Mary "Dic nobis" (as, i. 1-3), the chief singer replying "Sepulcrum" (as, iv., ii. 2, 4), the Second replies "Angelicos testes" (as, iv., ii. 5, 6), and the Third "Sudarium" (as, iv., ii. 7, 8). Then the succentor, turning to the choir, sings the Second Mary "Dic nobis Maria" "Quomodo" (as, v., ii. 1-3), and the whole choir sing "Scimus" (as, v., ii. 4-6). In the meantime the Maries have returned to the vestry, and the ceremony ends by the bishop or the succentor beginning the "Te Deum." This is one of the many varieties in which the complete sequence is included. Even in the use of the "Victimae Paschali" there were great variations. So in a Nürnberg Antiphonary of the 12th cent. (Lange, p. 146), Mary alone has "Dic nobis" (as, i. 1-3), to which she replies "Sepulcrum" (as, iv., ii. 2, 4). Then the choir sing "Credendum" (as, v. ii. 1-3), Mary alone the "Scimus" (as, v., ii. 4, 6), and the choir "Te nobis" (as, v., i. 6), the Mary concluding "Quid vidisti in via?" and then the sequence beginning with the "Dic nobis" is alone retained (e.g. in the Bergfest Breviary of 1481). So in the Prag Breviary of 1372 (Lange, p. 192) the rubrics provide for a proper Easter sepulchre and for two Marys, "Dic nobis Maria" (as, i. 1-3), the choir replying "Quid vidisti in via?" the chief singing "Quid vidisti in via?" and Mary replying "Sepulcrum" (as, iv., ii. 2-6), and the choir then singing "Credendum" (as, v., ii. 1-3). As Dr. Lange requires 171 large octavo pages to print and describe the variations of these service-books, we must beg our readers who wish for further information to refer to his interesting work.

As a final proof of the popularity of the "Victimae Paschali," we may mention some of the numerous imitations of it.

Thus H. Leo Gautier, in his 1858 ed. of Adam of St. Victor, prints two sequences, one on St. Victor ("Martyris Victoris laudes resonent Christiani Mortem ex") at p. 91, and the other for the B. V. M. at Easter ("Ave Maria, gratia plena, Maria, Dei genitrix") at p. 94. Both of these are servile imitations of, and indeed borrow a good deal directly from, the "Victimae Paschali," and in his 1881 ed. of Adam of St. Victor (pp. 256, 316) Gautier says that in both cases the sequence of Adam is a mistake. Other imitations may be consulted in Mone, e.g. his Nos. 166, 177, 318, 320, 325, 326, 368.

The varying forms of the text, together with a full critical and theological commentary, will be found in Dr. J. Kayser's Beiträge zur Geschichte und Erklärung der ältesten Kirchenhymnen, vol. ii., 1886, pp. 37-60. [J. M.]

Translations in C. U. :—

1. Forth to the paschal Victim, Christians, bring Your sacrifice of praise. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 253; and his Hys. and Poems, 1873, p. 122. In a few collections only.

2. The holy Paschal work is wrought. By R. Campbell, in his Hys. and Anthems, 1850, p. 72. It is mainly from a MS. tr. by Dr. Neale (to the Campbell MSS.) It is in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884. In Dr. Rorison's Hys. and Anthems, 1851, No. 76, it was altered to "The Paschal work is wrought."

3. Christ the Lord is risˊn to-day! Christians, haste your woes to pay. By Jane E. Leeson, in the Rev. H. Formby's Roman Catholic Hymns, 1851, No. 10, in 4 st. of 8 l., and signed in the Index "M. L." This tr. has passed into several collections in G. Britain and America, including H. A. & M., 1861, &c. Usually Miss Leeson's third stanza is omitted. Subsequently Miss Leeson retranslated the hymn in two forms, and included the same in her Par. and Hys., 1853, as—

(1) Sacrifice of Thanksgiving. This is repeated in the Irvingite Hys. for the Use of the Churches, 1864 and 1871 as "Tr. by J. E. L., 1846." We have here a slight error in the date, but a certain indication that the exceptional Paraphrase and Hys. of 1853 were by Miss Leeson.

(2) Sacrifice ye praises meet. This we have not found elsewhere.

4. To the Paschal Victim, Christians, bring the sacrifice of praise. By J. M. Neale, in the Hy. Noted, 1852, No. 28. This in a prose tr. In the Hymnary, 1872, it is given in a metrical form as "Unto the Paschal Victim bring." Line 3, "The Lamb, the sheep, &c."

5. To the Paschal Victim raise thrill and sacrifice of praise. By W. J. Blew, in his Hy. and Tune

Bk., 1852-55; and again in the Parish H. Bk., 1863 and 1875.

6. Praise to the Paschal Victim bring. By R. F. Littledale, in the People's Hyl., 1867, No. 113, and signed "D. L."

7. Christians, to the Paschal Victim. Anonymous, in the Antiphoner and Gradl, 1880, and the Hymner, 1882.

Other tr. are :—

1. Bring, all ye dear-bought nations, bring. W. K. Bloxam, 1618; the Sarum Office, 1543; and O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884.

2. To the Paschal Victim grateful hymns of praise. F. C. Husenbeth, 1848, and Lyra Mariana, 1854.

3. The Paschal Victim calls for praise. J. R. Beste, 1849.

4. Christians, raise your grateful strain. E. C. Benson, 1851, in the Parish H. Bk., 1863.

5. Unto the Paschal Victim bring. Line 3, "The Lamb redeemed, &c." C. B. Pearson, 1858.

6. Christians, come and lift your voices. J. Wallace, 1874.

7. Christians, your voices raise. Anon. in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884. [J. J.]

Victis sibi cognomina. [Circumcision.] This anonymous hymn was given in the Paris Brev., 1736, for the Feast of the Circumcision at 2nd Vespers, and beyond that date we have been unable to trace it. The text is in J. Chandler's Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1837, No. 69: Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865; and L. C. Biggs's annotated H. A. & M., 1867. Tr. as :—

1. 'Tis for conquering kings to gain. By J. Chandler, in his Hys. of the Prim. Church, 1837, p. 55, and his Hys. of the Church, &c., 1841, No. 30. It is given in a great many hymn-books, sometimes in full, and at other times in an abbreviated form.

2. Tyrants their empty titles take. By J. D. Chambers, in his Lauda Syon, 1857, p. 102. This is given in the Hymnary, 1872, as "Warrior kings their titles gain."

3. Conquering kings their titles take. This cento appeared in the trial ed. of H. A. & M., 1859, and the eds. of 1861 and 1875, and has passed into several other collections. It is composed of st. i., v., vi., by the Compilers, and st. ii., iii., iv. from J. Chandler as above, slightly altered. Three or four lines in st. v., vi. are also from Chandler. This cento is given in Pott's Hymns, &c., 1861, as "Earthly kings their titles take," and in the Sarum Hyl., 1868, as "Warrior kings fresh glory gain."

4. Let tyrants take their haughty names. By E. C. Singleton, in the Anglican H. Bk., 1868.

Other tr. are :—

1. Let earthly tyrants title claim. I. Williams, 1839.

2. From conquered realms let tyrants claim. W. J. Blew, 1852-55.

3. Let earthly monarchs titles gain. J. A. Johnston, 1852-67.

4. To earthly kings fresh names accrue. Lord Bateman in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus. 1884. [J. J.]

Victorinus, Santolius. [Santeuil, Jean-Baptiste de.]

Vinet, Alexandre Rodolphe, b. June 17th, 1797, at Ouchy, near Lausanne. His father, a man of somewhat stern religion, was schoolmaster of the village, and held a small appointment in the Canton du Vaud. Alexandre was appointed Professor of the French language at the gymnasium of Bâle, at the age of 20, and occupied this office, with some work for the University, for twenty years. In 1819 he was called to the ministry, and married. At first opposed to the movement of the Réveil, a deeper knowledge of its principles and deep sympathy with the persecution of its leaders, drew him heartily to its side. His pen was fearlessly used in defence of toleration (Du respect des opinions, 1826), freedom of worship (Mémoire en faveur de la liberté des cultes, 1826), and the separation of Church and State (Essai sur la manifestation des convictions religieuses, et sur la separation de l'Eglise et de l'Etat, 1842). No work is more permanently valuable on the subject than the Essai, from the logical sequence of its conclusions from the premises laid down. In 1837 he had been recalled to Lausanne, to occupy the "chaire de théologie pratique," in the Academy. In the end of 1840, however, he resigned the chair, withdrawing at the same time from the national church. He took a prominent part in the preliminary committees for the formation of the "Eglise libre du Canton de Vaud"; but his proposals were largely modified in the final constitution of it, to his deep regret. He had been compelled to withdraw from the discussions by his failing health. His constitution, always delicate, gave way comparatively early, and he d. May 10, 1847. His name is tenderly cherished, not only for his efforts in the cause of religious freedom, but as an Evangelical Divine (Discours sur quelques sujets religieux, 1831-41, and Etudes Evangéliques, pub. after his death), and as a distinguished man of letters (see the portrait of him by Sainte Beuve). His articles in the Semeur touched wide and varied subjects of literature with rare delicacy, acute nese, and truth. The most celebrated of his literary works are: Etudes sur Blaise Pascal, and Etudes sur la littérature Française au dix-neuvième Siècle, pub. posthumously. The hymns pub. in the Chants Chrétiens are only a few out of the number he wrote. They reveal the inner depth of a nature that shrank from outward demonstration of religious emotion, and are valuable on this account, as well as for that refinement of meditation which places them so high among the Protestant hymns of France. (See p. 999, ii.) [H. L. B.]

Vintimille, Charles Gaspar Guillaume de Vintimille du Luc, was b. Nov. 15, 1655. He was designated Bishop of Marseilles in 1684, but was not consecrated as such till 1692. In 1710 he was translated to the see of Aix (Bouches du Rhône), and in 1729 to that of Paris. He d. March 13, 1746. Under his auspices appeared the new Paris Breviary of 1736 (in which the ancient hymns of the Church were in great measure replaced by those of the Santeuils, Coffin, and other recent French writers); the new Paris Missal of 1738; and the new Paris Processional of 1740; all of which were speedily adopted in many other French dioceses. That Vintimille was himself a hymnwriter seems decidedly doubtful. The hymn "O Christe qui mœror pelli" (p. 823, i.) is sometimes been ascribed to him, but neither in the Chasles Brev. of 1686 nor in the Paris Brev. of 1736 is it in any way marked as his. [J. M.]

Virgin born, we bow before Thee.

Bp. R. Heber. [Lent.] Appeared in his posthumous Hymns, &c., 1827, p. 54, in 4 st. of 4 l., and appointed for the 3rd S. in Lent. As given in the People's H., 1867, No. 375, the lines "Mary, Mother meek and mild"; are altered to "Mary, Maid and Mother mild." It is otherwise unchanged. [J. J.]

Virginis castae virginis summae decus praecinentes. [Common of Virgins.] Morel, in his Lat. Hymnen, 1868, p. 180, gives a part of this sequence with the note, "This is only the beginning of a rumbling and somewhat barbarous sequence in the MS. collection of P. Brander (St. Gall MS., No. 546, written in 1397), where it bears the title 'a prolix sequence of some monk of St. Gall.'" Neale, in his Sequentiae, 1852, p. 237, ascribes it to Godescalcus or Gottschalck (d. 1090); but the earliest source he quotes is the Tearsay Missal of 1540, and there does not seem to be any reason for accepting this ascription, which is evidently a conjecture. The earliest text known is in the St. Gall MS., No. 383, of the 13th or 14th cent. The printed text is also in Daniel, v. p. 344, and Kehrein, No. 473. Tr. as "To-day let Christian maidens" in the People's H., 1867, No. 221, and signed "S. M." [i.e. Sister Marion]. [J. M.]

Virginis Proles, Opificisque matris. [Common of Virgins.] This is found in four MSS. of the 11th cent. in the British Museum (Jul. A. vi. f. 67 b; Vesp. D. xii. f. 110; Harl. 2961, f. 249 b; Add. 30851, f. 152); and in the Latin Hys. of the Anglo-Saxon Ch., 1851, is printed from an 11th cent. MS. at Durham (B. iii. 32, f. 40b); and in a MS. of the 11th cent. at Corpus Christi Coll., Cambridge (391, p. 274), and the Bern MS. 455 of the 10th cent. It is in two MSS. of the 11th cent. at St. Gall, Nos. 387 and 413. Also in the Monarchia, Roman, Sarum, York, Aberdeen, and other Breviaries, the Sarum use being for one virgin and martyr at 1st Vespers and at Matins. Daniel, i. No. 238, gives the original, and the form in the Roman Breviary, 1632, citing it at iv. pp. 140, 368, as in a 9th cent. MS. at Bern, a 10th cent. Rhenish MS., &c. The printed text is also in Wackernagel, i., No. 138; G. M. Dreves's Hymn. Mediaevalis, 1888, from a 10th cent. MS., &c. [J. M.]

Translations in C. U.:—

1. O Thou, Thy Mother's Maker, hail. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 225, and his Hys. & Poems, 1873, p. 117. This has been repeated in the 1863 Appendix to the H. Noted, No. 197, and others.

2. Offspring, yet Maker, of Thy Mother lowly. By T. I. Ball, in the 1867 Appendix to the H. Noted, No. 344.

3. Child of [a] the Virgin, Maker of Thy Mother. By G. Moultrie, in the People's H., 1867, No. 219, signed "M." In the Hymner, 1882, No. 99, which begins with the same first line, is based upon this tr.

Trs. not in C. U.:—

1. O Virgin's Offspring Christ, Who wert alone. Primer, 1706.

2. Creator's and born of Virgin blest. F. Trapper, 1865.

3. O Virgin born. That Mother's Framer Thou. J. D. Chambers. 1866.

4. O Virgin's Offspring, Who Thy Mother didst create. J. Wallace. 1874.

The foregoing trs. are of the text for a "Virgin and Martyr." There are also trs. of an arrangement of the text for a "Virgin, but not a Martyr." These include one in the Primer, 1706, and a second by J. Wallace, 1874, each beginning with the same first line as above. In the Hom. Diver., st. viii., of the Latin text, Reine cuntz Deus alma actio, is given, together with a doxology, for "Holy Women." This is tr. (1) "O God of bountie, at thy saints intreating;" in the Primer, 1706; (2) "Permit, great God, this Saint with Pray'rs may free;" in the Primer, 1706; and (3) "O God, for this Thy servant's sake, we humbly Thee implore," by J. Wallace, 1874. In the Marquess of Bute's Roman Breviary cute English, 1879, Wallace's tr. is given as "When she pleads for us at her sweet petition," &c. [J. J.]

Virgo vernans valut rosa, Agni sponsa specIosa. (St. Winifred.) This is the Sequence on St. Winifred of Wales, in the Sarum Missal, Venice, 1494, f. 255. It does not appear to be in any other ed. of the Sarum Missal, nor to have been received into other English or Continental Missals. It will be found in a note at col. 960 of the Burntisland reprint of the Sarum Missal, 1861. Tr. as:—

More fair than all the vernal flowers. By E. Caswall, in his Masque of Mary, &c., 1858, p. 237; and his Hys. and Poems, 1873, p. 205. It was repeated in Dr. Rowe's Hys. for the Poor, 1867, &c. [J. M.]

Vischer, Christoph, a. of Jakob Vischer or Fischer, burgess at Joachimsthal, in Bohemia, was b. at Joachimsthal in 1520. He matriculated at the University of Wittenberg in Nov. 1540 (M.A. 1544), and was ordained at Wittenberg on Feb. 10, 1544, as pastor and probst at Jüterbogk, near Wittenberg. He was then appointed (in 1552) cathedral preacher and superintendent at Schmalkalden; in 1571 pastor and general superintendent at Meiningen; in 1574 court preacher and assistant superintendent at Celle (Zelle); and in 1577 chief pastor of St. Martin's Church at Halberstadt. He returned to Celle in 1583, as general superintendent of Lüneburg, and d. at Celle in October, 1597 (Koch, ii., 265; Wetzel, i. p. 295, and A. H., i., pt. v. p. 38; Bötermund's Gelehrte Hannover, vol. ii., 1823, p. 40; J. K. F. Schlegel's Kirchen- und Reformations-Geschichte Hannovers, vol. ii., 1829, pp. 399–402; an. from Dr. Rheling, Celle, &c.)

Vischer was a somewhat voluminous writer. Bötermund gives the titles of 29 works by him. Only one hymn is known as his, viz.:—

Wir danken dir, Herr Jesu Christ, Dass du für uns [Easter] Geistliche Hymnen, Schmalkalden, 1569, in pt. ii. of the Dresden C. H., 1597 (Julius in Wackernagel, v. p. 967), marked as by M. C. V., and in 4 st. of 4 l., viz. st. i. as above, and

ii. Und litten dich, war Mensch und Gott.
iii. Und sind gestorben in dem Tod.
iv. Und dann schlafen die Entschlaft.

The only portion we have been able to find in any work of Vischer's is st. ii. This occurs in his Christliche und einfältige Erklärung der gewöhnlichen Sprüche, welche in den Sonntags-Evangelien, von Anfang des Jahrs bis zu Ende, auf jeglichen Sonntag ausgetheilet werden: Sammt schönen Hymnis Jhesu Christi, auch der Simeons des Heiligen Greises, &c., Schmalkalden, 1585 [Brit. Mus.], and is given there in forms x. of those on the Resurrection (Auferstehung) as follows:—

"Solcht Seufftzer erwecket der heilige Geist, stützet in uns die wir hoffen.

"Ach Herr Christe, war Mensch und Gott,
Durch dein heilig Fünf Wunden rot,
Erlös mich von dem ewigen Tod,
Und trän mich in meiner letzten Not."

The same stanza is found in the ed. Schmalkalden, 1585 (Berlin Library). The sentence on the Anfechtung seem to have appeared nowhere else than in the 1569 ed. (Dresden Library, collated with the copy in the Vatican Library at Rome). Mützell, No. 344, prints the four stanza form from the text given by J. C. Olearius, Jena, 1710, as a reprint of the original, and as entitled "A children's hymn composed by M. Vischer, Pastor and Probst at Schmalkalden, upon the strengthening use of the bitter sufferings and death of Christ Jesus our Saviour." It is also in the Dan. C. C., 1841, No. 123. The trs. are:—

1. We bless Thee, Jesus Christ our Lord. For ever [Easter] Geistliche Hymnen, Schmalkalden, 1585. By Dr. Zaremby, as No. 602 in his Hymn. Christ., 1865.

2. With thanks we glory in Thy Cross. This is No. 331 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. [J. M.]

Vital Spark of heavenly flame. A. Pope. [The Soul Immortal.] In the Spectator for Nov. 10, 1712, Steele gives a letter sent to him by Pope on the words spoken by Hadrian on his death-bed. This letter, in The Works of Alexander Pope, Esq. . . . Printed verbatim from the Octavo edition of Mr. Warburton. London, C. Bathurst, 1788. Vol. v., p. 185, is dated Nov. 7, 1712, and begins:—

"I was the other day in company with five or six men of some learning; where chancing to mention the famous verses which the Emperor Adrian spoke on his death-bed, every one present was pleased to make a version of that spirit in those circumstances. I could not but differ from this opinion: morientis it was by no means gay, but a very serious soliloquy to his soul at the point of his departure; in which sense I naturally took the verses at my first reading them, when I was very young, and before I knew what interpretation the critics would put upon them.

"'Animula vagula blandula,
Hospes comesque corporis,
Quae nunc abibis in loca?
Pallidula, rigida, nudula,
Nec (ut soles) dabis jocos!'"

The letter then proceeds with a prose translation of these lines, and a vindication of the same. At the foot of the letter, and after his signature, Pope added the following metrical rendering:—

"ADRIANI morientis ad ANIMAM TRANSLATIO.

"Ah fleeting Spirit! wand'ring fire,
That long hast warm'd my tender breast,
Must thou to more this frame inspire?
No more a pleasing cheerful guest?
Whither, ah whither art thou flying?
To what dark, undiscovered dying?
Thou seem'st all trembling, shiv'ring, dying,
And Wit and Humour are no more."

In the Spectator, Nov. 10, 1712, Steele gives this letter verbatim, with the exception of the metrical version at the end. On Nov. 29, 1712, Pope wrote to Steele expressing regret that no like letter was given in his name he had not an opportunity of setting forth his ideas more fully and accurately. This letter did not appear in the Spectator. On Dec. 4, 1712, Steele wrote to Pope:—

"This is to desire of you that you would please to let me have the Latin verses translated, that you say the Emperor Adrian's Animula vagula, &c., with two or three stanzas for music. If you comply with this, and send me word so, you will very particularly oblige. Yours, &c." (Works, v. p. 190.)

To this Pope gave answer in the following letter, which is undated in his Works, vol. v. p. 190, but was probably sent within a post or two after the receipt of Steele's communication:—

"I do not send you word I will do, but have already done the thing you desire of me. You have it (as Cowley calls it) just warm from the brain. It came to me the first moment I waked this morning: yet, you'll see, it is a long paraphrase, and almost a new thing. Not to say a word not only the verses of Adrian, but the fine fragment of Sappho, &c.

"The dying Christian to his Soul.
"Ode.

"'Vital spark of heav'nly flame!
Quit, oh quit this mortal frame:
Trembling, hoping, ling'ring, flying,
Oh the pain, the bliss of dying!
Cease, fond nature, cease thy strife,
And let me languish into life.

Hark! they whisper; angels say,
Sister spirit, come away!
What is this absorbs me quite,
Steals my senses, shuts my sight,
Drowns my spirits, draws my breath?
Tell me, my soul, can this be death?

"'The world recedes; it disappears!
Heav'n opens on my eyes! my ears
With sounds seraphic ring:
Lend, lend your wings! I mount! I fly!
O Grave! where is thy victory?
O Death! where is thy sting?'"
(Works, v. p. 196.)

What Steele did with this ode we cannot say. It was certainly not inserted in the Spectator, as is generally supposed. It was included in various editions of Pope's Works, and was taken from thence for use in the hymnals. Collyer included it in his Coll., 1812, No. 627, and since then it has been repeated in numerous hymn books. In the Cong. H. Bk., 1836, J. Conder gave Pope's original text as No. 612, and a rewritten form of the same, beginning with the same first line, as No. 613. This rewritten form was repeated in his Choir and Oratory, 1837, p. 246, and in his posthumous Hymns of Praise, Prayer, &c., 1856, p. 169.

The "fine fragment of Sappho" referred to in Pope's letter, formed the subject of Addison's article in the Spectator of Thursday, Nov. 22, 1711. Addison gives in his article a translation in Latin by Catullus, another in French by Boileau, and a third in English by Ambrose Phillips. It was doubtless to the original, and to these translations that Pope referred in his letter to Steele quoted above. As pointed out by R. Carruthers in his edition of Pope's Poetical Works, 1853, vol. ii., p. 178; and by Miller in his Singers and Songs of the Church, 1869, p. 140, Thomas Flatman's translation of the "Animula vagula, blandula," may have influenced Pope in his "Vital spark," but we are inclined to think that Addison's article in the Spectator, already referred to, had very much more to do with it than anything that Flatman had done.

[J. J.]

Vokes, Mrs. A long correspondence has failed to elicit any information concerning this hymn-writer beyond the facts that the earliest work in which her hymns are found is a Sel. of Missionary and Devotional Hys., edited by the Rev. J. Griffin, a Congregational minister at Portsea, and pub. in 1797. Several of these were repeated in J. Dobell's New Sel. of Seven Hundred Evangelical Hys., &c., 1806. There are also 7 of her hymns, all with the signature "Mrs. Vokes," in W. B. Gallyer's Coll., 1812. Of her hymns the following, all pub. in 1797, are still in C. U. :—

1. Behold the expected time draws near. Missions.
2. Behold the heathen waits to know. Missions. This begins with st. iii. of No. 1.
3. Proud Babylon yet waits her doom. Fall of Antichrist.
4. Ye messengers of Christ. Missions. [J. J.]

Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her. M. Luther. [Christmas.] This beautiful Christmas hymn first appeared in the Geistliche Lieder, Wittenberg, 1535, in 15 sts. of 4 l.; and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 23. Also in Schircke's ed. of Luther's Geistliche Lieder, 1854, p. 12, in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 50, &c. In King's G. B., 1543, it is entitled "A Child-Jesu's Hymn for Christmas Eve on the child Jesus, taken from the Second Chapter of the Gospel of St. Luke." It has sometimes been said to be derived, at least in part, from the Latin. To the "Puerulus natus nuncius" its resemblance is very slight; and this Latin hymn has not been traced earlier than the 1579 ed. of Lucas Lossius's Psalmodia (1st ed. 1553). To the "Nuntium vobis fero de supernis" (Brit. Mus. ms. of the 12th cent., Harl. 2928 f. 114), it has no relationship whatever. Of the origin of the German hymn, Lauxmann, in Koch, viii. 21, thus speaks :—

"Luther was accustomed every year to prepare for his family a happy Christmas Eve's entertainment . . . and for this festival of his children he wrote this Christmas hymn. Its opening lines are modelled on a song, 'Aus fremden Landen kumm ich her;' and throughout he employed the melody which was then customary. It is certain that Luther celebrated the festival in this home in this original fashion. By his orders the first seven verses of this hymn were sung by a man dressed as an angel, whom the children greeted with the eighth and following verses."

We may add that Luther took the first stanza almost entirely from the following folk-song :—

"Ich komme aus fremden Landen her,
Und bring euch viel der neuen Mähr,
Der neuen Mähr bring ich so viel,
Mehr denn ich euch hier sagen will."

From the rest of the song Luther did not borrow anything.

In King's G. B., 1543, it is set to the melody of "Aus fremden Landen," or rather as F. M. Böhme, in his Altdeutsches Liederbuch, 1871, No. 271, gives it "Ich komm aus fremden Landen her" In the Geistliche Lieder, Leipzig, V. Schumann, 1539, this was superseded by the beautiful melody still in use, which is sometimes ascribed to Luther, and is set to this hymn in the C. B. for England, 1863 (set also to No. 37 in H. A & M., 1875). Tr. as :—

1. From highest heaven good news I bring. By A. T. Russell, as No. 17 in the Dalston Hospital H. Bk., 1848. There st. i. is condensed from i., ii.; and st. ii.-v. are from iii., iv., viii., xv. In his own Ps. & Hys., 1851, No. 45, Mr. Russell omitted the tr. of st. xv. and added a tr. of st. vii.

2. From yonder world I come to earth. In full, by Dr. J. Hunt in his Spir. Songs of Martin Luther, 1853, p. 20. From this st. vi.-ix., xiii., xiv., beginning "Oh! let us all be glad to-day," were included in the Manchester S. S. H. Bk., 1853, the Bk. of Praise for Children, 1881, and the Cong. Church Hyl., 1887.

3. From heaven above to earth I come. This is a good and full tr., by Miss Winkworth in her Lyra Germanica, 1st Ser., 1855, p. 12, and in her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 30. Repeated in full in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880. Varying centos, beginning with st. vii., "Give heed, my heart, lift up thine eyes," are in Bp. Bickersteth's Ps. & Hys., 1858, and his Hyl. Comp., 1876, in the Church S. S. H. Bk., 1879, and others.

4. Good news from heaven the angels bring. This is No. 131 in the Pennsylvania Luth. Church Bk., 1868, in 7 st. (answering to st. i., iii., iv., viii., x., xiii., xv.), of which st. i.-iv., vii. are altered from A. T. Russell, and v., vi. from Miss Winkworth. Repeated in Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869, p. 56. St. i.-iii., v., vi., of this form are in the Hys. and Songs of Praise, N. Y., 1874, and the Church Praise Bk., N. Y., 1895.

Other trs. are :—

(1) "I come from lands to tell." In the Gods and Goddo Ballader, ed. 1868, f. 30 (1868, p. 43). Rewritten by H. S. Rosnicy, as No. 68 in his Rosnicy-Sainer Christmas Carols, New and Old, beginning "From highest heaven I come to tell." (2) "I come from heaven, to declare," as No. 305 in pt. i. of the New and Old, 1871. (3) "From heaven I come to you," as No. 1 in Bible H. Bk., 1885, beginning "Awake, my heart, my soul, my eyes." (4) "To-day we celebrate the birth," st. iv., vii., viii., iii. (partly founded on the 17th cent.), as No. 16 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1886 (1886, No. 47). (5) "From heaven above to earth I come," in Mac Pay., 1905, p. 7. (6) "Little children, sit down near." By T. Anderson, 1846, p. 2. (6) "From highest heaven, on joyous wing." By Fr. Morris, 1864, p. 3. (7) "From heaven high I sing my flight." By Dr. H. Bonar, in his Hymns of Faith and Hope, 1866, p. 1. (8) "From heaven high I've wandered forth." By Dr. R. W. Dale(an in his Golden Harp, 1864, p. 127. (9) "From heaven on high I come to you." By Dr. G. Macdonald in the Sunday Magazine, 1867, p. 256; altered in his Meth. Sun. Sch. Hymn Bk., 1877, beginning "From earth I come." In the Ch. of England Magazine, 1875, p. 44. (11) "From heaven on high I come to you." By the Rev. J. G. Tasker, in the Wes. Meth. Magazine, Dec., 1885.

It may be note that in J. C. Jacob's Prak. Ger., 1722, p. 73, there is a hymn for 8 vs., beginning "Es taget, die Lust zur Busse reizet," which is set to the melody of 1539. It is not however a tr. from Luther, but is merely a selection of stanzas from Isaac Watts's version of Ps. xcviii. [J. M.]

Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar. M. Luther. [Christmas.] This is founded on St. Luke ii. 10, 11, and St. Matt. ii. 6; and was apparently written in 1543, and meant for use when the other Christmas hymn ("Vom Himmel hoch") was thought to be too long. It was 1st pub. in the Geistliche Lieder, Wittenberg, 1543, in 6 st. of 4 l., and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 28. Also in Schircke's ed. of Luther's Geistliche Lieder, 1854, p. 15, and in the Unv. L. S., 1851. Tr. as :—

1. From you ethereal heavens. This is a paraphrase, in 54 lines, by Miss Fry, in her Hym. of the Reformation, 1845, p. 20. From this a cento in 5 st. of 8.M., recast and beginning, "Let all our hearts rejoice," in No. 5 in Whittemore's Supp. to All H. Bks., 1860.

2. To shepherds as they watched by night. In full, by R. Massie in his Martin Luther's Spir. Songs, 1854, p. 7. Included in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880, and by Dr. Bacon in his Hys. of Martin Luther, 1884, p. 66.

Other trs. are :—

(1) "A band of angels from the sky," as No. 146 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. (2) "Sing! sing! Ye ransomed mortals, sing." By Sir John Bowring in his Hymns, 1825, No. 81. (3) "The humble shepherds, watching." By Miss Cox, 1841, p. 16. (4) "From heaven there came an angel tuning." By Dr. J. Hunt, 1855, p. 35. (5) "From heaven angel hosts did fly." By Wm. Hewington, 1864, p. 25. (6) "The angels came down in their osiers so bright." By R. Garrett in his Hys. & Pts., 1867, p. 37. (7) "From heaven the angel-troop came near." By Dr. G. Macdonald in the Sunday Magazine, 1867, p. 256; altered in his Exodus, 1875, p. 48. [J. M.]

Vom Himmel kommt der starke Held. [Christmas.] This hymn appears in the Neues Hildburghäusisches G. B., 1807 (ed. 1808, No. 179), in 10 st. of 4 l. The two opening lines, but not much more, are taken from a hymn by Dr. Johann Christoph Stockhausen [b. October 20, 1725, at Gladenbach, Hesse; became in 1769 Lutheran superintendent at Hanau; d. at Hanau, Sept. 4, 1784], found in the Neue Hessen Münsterbergische G. B., 1779, and included in the Würtemberg G. B., 1791, in 6 st. The rest is a paraphrase, apparently by J. C. Wagner (q.v.), of the same passage of Holy Scripture as that used by Luther in his "Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar," but it has very little resemblance to Luther. The tr. from the text of Bunsen's Versuch, 1833, No. 118, in 9 st., are :—

1. "The mighty Saviour comes from heaven." By Miss Cox, 1841, p. 15. (2) "From Heaven comes the mighty Lord." By Lady E. Fortescue, 1848. [J. M.]

Vos ante Christi tempora. C. Coffin. [Septuagesima.] Appeared in the Paris Brev., 1736, for the Sundays from Septuagesima to Lent at Vespers; and in Coffin's Hymni Sacri, 1736, p. 48. The text is given in J. Chandler's Hys. of the Primitive Church, 1837, No. 58; Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865; and in L. C. Biggs's annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867. Tr. as :—

1. O ye who followed Christ in love. By J. Chandler, in his Hys. of the Prim. Church, 1837, p. 64, and his Hys. of the Church, 1841, No. 35. In 1852 it was given in an altered form (the opening with Chandler's first line) in Murray's Hymnal, No. 52. Murray's alterations were repeated in great part in the trial copy of H. A. & M., 1859, and in the 1st ed., 1861, where the tr. began :—

2. How blest were they who walked in love. In this rendering additional changes were made by the Compilers of H. A. & M., thus rendering it 8 cents by Chandler, Murray, and the Compilers of H. A. & M. This was repeated in a few collections, but omitted from the 1875 ed. of H. A. & M. In Mercer's Ch. Psalter & H. Bk., Oxford ed., 1864, No. 430, the opening line is "O ye who follow Christ in love," but the hymn as a whole is from Murray and H. A. & M. The Hymnary, 1872, is the H. A. & M. text with additional alterations.

3. Ye patriarchs all, and ancient sires. This, in Kennedy, 1863, No. 434, is a cento of which st. ii. ll. 1-4 are from Chandler; st. v., vi. from Murray's Hyl., 1852, the doxology from Bp. Ken, and the rest by the editor, partly from J. A. Johnston's English Hyl., 1856.

Other trs. are :—

1. Ye patriarchal saints and sires. J. Williams. 1858.
2. Ye patriarchs and ancient sires. J. A. Johnston. 1861.
3. O ye, ere Christ had sojourned here. J. D. Chambers. 1857.

Vos O virginei cum citharis chori. [Common of Virgins.] An anonymous hymn at 1st Vespers on the Feast of a Virgin not a Martyr, in the Sens Brev., 1726, and the Paris Brev., 1736. Also in Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865. Tr. as :—

1. Ye Virgin company. By I. Williams, in the British Magazine, 1835 (vol. viii. p. 519), and his Hys. tr. from the Parisian Breviary, 1839, p. 319.

2. Ye virgin choirs rejoice. By J. D. Chambers, in his Lauds Sion, Pt. ii., 1866, p. 43, and with alterations in the Hymnary, 1882.

3. Chant your hymns, ye choirs of Virgins. By T. I. Ball, in the 1872 Appx. to the N. Noted.

4. Ye Virgin choirs, with harps of gold. By E. P. Littledale, in the St. Margaret's Hymnal (East Grinstead), 1875. [J. J.]

Vox clara ecce intonat. [Advent.] This hymn has been ascribed to St. Ambrose, but is not assigned to him by the Benedictine editors. It is certainly ancient, possibly even of the 5th cent. It is assigned to Rom. xiii. 11 (the Epistle for the 1st S. in Advent), and St. Luke xxi. 25 (the Gospel for the 2nd S. in Advent in Anglican use, for the 1st S. in modern Roman use). It is an excellent summary of the leading ideas of Advent, and w.ll fitted for use throughout the season. Daniel, i. No. 73, gives the ancient text, in 4 st. of 4 l. (together with the recast of the Roman Breviary of 1632, which begins En clara vox redarguit), and at iv. p. 143 cites it as in a Rheinau ms. of the 11th cent. It is also in G. M. Dreves's Hymn. Moissiacenses, 1888, from a 10th cent. ms. In the use of Sarum it was assigned to Lauds on the 1st S. in Advent, and daily up to Christmas Eve. Also in the York, Aberdeen, ancient Roman (Venice, 1478), and other Breviaries. In the Monastic Breviary of 1502 it is the hymn at Vespers on Wednesday and Friday in the first and third weeks in Advent (see Migne's P.T. Lat., lxxvii. cols. 65, 85, 888). [W. A. S.]

It is found in five mss. of the 11th cent. in the British Museum, viz. those of the Ancient English Church (Vesp. D. xii. f. 3; Add. 30,851, f. 3), of Christ Church, Canterbury (Add. 30,849, f. 8 b; Add. 30,851, f. 11), and in the Old Gall. ms., No. 413, of the 11th cent., &c. In the Latin Church Hymns and Sequences, 1851, p. 97, it is printed from an 11th cent. ms. at Durham (B. iii. 32, f. 11). The ancient text is also in Wackernagel i. No. 84; Hymn. Sarisb., 1851, p. 9; and Hymn. Sarisb., No. 29; the text of the Roman Breviary of 1632 in Card. Newman's Hymni Ecclesiæ, 1838 and 1865; Bp. Woodford's annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867. [J. M.]

Both forms of this hymn have been tr. into English as follows :—

i. Vox clara, ecce, intonat.

1. In music, lo, you orb appears to rise. Synesarium Scoticum, 1823.
2. Lo! what a thrilling voice sounds forth. J. D. Chambers. 1852.
3. Hark, the clear voice, whose thrilling tone. W. J. Blew. 1852-55.
4. Hark! what a thrilling voice invades. J. D. Chambers. 1857.
5. Hark, a clear-toned voice, as thunder. J. W. Bicknell. 1859.
6. Give ear! the voice rings clear and true. J. Ribbe. 1861.
7. Hark to the voice whose thrilling tone. In the Hymnary, 1872. Largely indebted to W. J. Blew, as above.
8. Clear rings a voice; it chides the world. Lord Grimthorpe, in O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus. 1884.

ii. En clara vox redarguit.

1. Hark, a joyful voice is thrilling. By Card. Newman, in his Verses on Religious Subjects, 1853, p. 110, and his Verses on Various Occasions, 1868, p. 9. In O. Shipley's Annus Sanctus, 1884, and others.

2. Hark, an awful voice is sounding. By E. Caswall, in his Lyra Catholica, 1849, p. 46, and his Hys. and Poems, 1873, p. 26. It is in a large number of hymn-books. In Kennedy, 1863, it is given in a recast form as "Voice of mercy, voice of terror."

3. Hark, a gladsome voice is thrilling. By W. J. Blew, in his Church Hy. and Tune Bk., 1852-55, and Hirl's Sel. from the same, 1870, No. 1. It is based upon Card. Newman's tr. as above.

4. Hark to the voice that loudly cries. By J. A. Johnston, in his English Hyl., 1852, 1856, 1861.

5. Hark, a thrilling voice is sounding. This, which appeared in Murray's Hymnal, 1852, No. 2, is an altered form of Caswall's tr. as above. It was repeated with variations in the Salisbury H. Bk., 1857; H. A. & M., 1861 and 1875, and many others. The text in the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871, beginning with same line as H. A. & M., is a nearer approach to the original than that collection. Thring's text, also beginning with the same line, is Caswall with an adaptation of the best emendations of various editors.

6. Voice of mercy, voice of terror. By B. H. Kennedy, in his Hymns. Christiana, 1863, No. 47, is a recast of E. Caswall's tr. as above.

7. Hark, a trumpet voice of warning. By R. C. Singleton, in his Anglican H. Bk., 1868.

8. Hark, the Baptist's voice is sounding. In the Hymnary, 1872, is an altered version of Caswall's tr. as above.

Other trs. are:—
1. Hark! Voice and early Day. Primer, 1706.
2. Hark, a voice of warning, hark. Sp. S. Mond. 1857.
3. Lo, lastly hath the voice proclaimed. A. J. S. Bp. 1857.
4. Mark! how that voice swells clearly out. Sp. J. Williams. 1845.
5. Hark, louder through surrounding gloom. W. Palmer. 1848.
6. What thrilling voice through midnight peals. St. J. Coleridge. 1849.
7. Behold, a chilling voice and clear. F. Pepper. 1865.
8. Hark, hark, the voice of chanticleer. J. Wallace. 1871.

[J. J.]

Vox clarescat, mens purgetur. (Trinity Sunday.) Dr. Neale in his Sequentiæ, 1852, p. 67, gives this from the Sarisbs Missal of 1661, where it occurs in the Votive Mass for the Holy Trinity. Neale's text is repeated by Daniel, v. p. 207, and Kehrein, No. 146. Du Meril, in his Poésies Populaires Lat. du Moyen Age, 1847, p. 305, prints it from a MS. in the Bibl. Nat., Paris (Lat. 5132), of the beginning of the 12th cent. Tr. as:—

With haste succour, and cleansed from guilt of sin. By R. T. Scagan, in two cent. of H. A. & M., 1875, and again in his Hys. and Other Poetry of the Latin Church. 1888. [J. M.]

Vox sonora nostri chori. Adam of St. Victor I (St. Catherine.) A graceful sequence relating the history of St. Catharine of Alexandria, to be used on her festival, Nov. 25. Gautier, in his 1858 ed. of Adam's Oeuvres Poétiques, vol. ii., p. 320, gives it among the genuine prose of Adam, but in his ed. 1881, p. 245, he ranks it as doubtful for rhythmical reasons, and so does not print the text, but cites it as in a Gradual of St. Victor before 1239 (Bibl. Nat., Paris, No. 14452), a Paris Gradual of the 13th cent. (B. N. No. 15615), and other sources. Among Missals it is found in an early 14th cent. Paris in the British Museum (Add. 16905, f. 309), the Sainte 1491; the Sens 1529, and others. The printed text is also in Neale's Sequentiæ, 1852, p. 205; Daniel, v. p. 324; Kehrein, No. 812; and D. S. Wrangham's Liturgical Poetry of Adam of St. Victor, 1881. Tr. as:—

1. Let our choir with voice sonorous. By R. F. Littledale, in the Church Times, Nov. 19, 1864, in 12 st., and again in an altered form in the People's H., 1867, No. 304.

2. Loud and true our full-mix'd chorus. J. M. Neale, in the St. Margaret's Hyl. (East Grinstead), 1875.

Other trs. are:—
1. Come, let our choir with full accord. D. T. Morgan. 1871 and 1880.
2. Let our chorus' voice sonorous. D. S. Wrangham. 1881. [J. M.]

W

W., in Bristol Bap. Coll., by Ash & Evans, 1st ed., 1769, i.e. I. Watts.

W. B., in the Evangelical Magazine, 1795, i.e. William Baddon.

W. H. D., i.e. Mrs. Van Alstyne, in various of the American hymnals.

W. L., in the Bristol Bap. Coll., 1769, by Ash & Evans, i.e. I. Watts's Horæ Lyricæ.

W. L. A., in Dr. Alexander's Augustine H. Bk., 1865, i.e. W. L. Alexander.

W. S., in the Bristol Bap. Coll., 1769, i.e. Watts's Sermons.

Wach auf, mein Herz! und singe. P. Gerhardt. (Morning.) Included in the Red ed., 1648, of Crüger's Praxis, as No. 1, in 10 st. of 4 l. Thence in Wackernagel's ed. of his Geistliche Lieder, No. 39, and Bachmann's ed., No. 1. Repeated in the Criiger-Runge G. B., 1653, No. 1, and recently in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 1132. It is one of the finest and most popular of German morning hymns, and soon passed into universal use, at all. being a special favourite. Tr. as:—

My Soul, awake and tender. In full, by J. C. Jacobi, in his Psalmodia Germanica, 1720, p. 33 (1722, p. 104), repeated as No. 477 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. In the Moravian H. Bk., 1789, No. 744 (1886, Nos. 1158, 1159), begins "My soul awake and render," st. i., ii., iv., v. being from i.; v. ll. 3, 4; vi. ll. 1, 2; x.; viii.; while st. iii. ("Bless me this day, Lord Jesus," 1886, No. 1159), is st. iii. of No. 189, in pt. i. of the 1754 (a tr. by J. Gambold from the early Greek hymn, καθ' ἑκάστην ὥρίαν πλοκήτου σε, p. 1138, i.). From this 1789 text st. i., iii., ii. 1, 2; iv. 3, 4, were given in Bickersteth's Christian Psalmody, 1833.

Other trs. are: (1) "Thy Thanks, my Soul, be rendering," by B. Beddoe, 1845, p. 26. (2) "Wake, my heart, and sing His praises." by R. Massie, 1857. (3) "Awake, my heart, be singing," by J. Kelly, 1867. (4) "Wake up, my heart, clear," by N. L. Frothingham, 1870. [J. M.]

Wach' auf, wach' auf, du sieh'ra Weib. J. Rist. (Second Advent.) 1st pub. in his Neuer Himlischer Lieder sonderbahres Buch, Lüneburg, 1651, p. 248, in 13 st. of 8 l.

entitled, "True hearted Exhortation and Warning to the careless world that with genuine repentance she may prepare and secure herself against the near approaching Last Day." Founded on the Gospel for the 2nd S. in Advent (St. Luke xxi. 25-36), and is one of the finest of Rist's hymns. Repeated in Freylinghausen's G. B., 1704, No. 14 (8 st.); and in Bunsen's Versuch, 1833, No. 493 (Allg. G. B., 1846, No. 426), omitting st. ii.-v. Tr. as:—

1. Awake, thou careless world, awake! The day shall, &c. By A. T. Russell, in 3 st. The tr. of st. i. appeared as No. 108 in the Dalston Hospital H. Bk., 1848; the trs. of st. vii., xiii., were added in his Ps. & Hys., 1851, No. 39.

2. Awake, thou careless world, awake! The final day, &c. A good tr. of st. i., vii., xii., vi., iv., xi., xiii., by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 1st Ser., 1855, p. 4.

From this the trs. of st. vi., ix., xiii., altered and beginning, "The Lord in love delayeth long," were included as No. 113 in the Irvingite Hys. for the Use of the Church, 1864. Also the trs. of st. vii., ix., xiii., and of viii., ix., xiii., beginning "Lo, He, on whom all power is laid," in in H. L. Hastings's Hymnal, 1880.

For her C. E. for England, 1863, No. 27, Miss Winkworth reverts the tr. to the original metre, beginning "Awake, thou careless world, awake! That final Judgment day," omitting the trs. of st. viii., xi.

Other trs. are: (1) "The last of days will come indeed," by Miss Cox, 1841, p. 9, being st. i., vii., xii., xiii. (2) "Lo, the last day is coming," by Miss Dunn, 1845. (3) "Lift up, ye saints, your joyful heads," being st. ix., xi., xiii. (4) "Awake! awake! from careless ease," by Lady E. Fortescue, 1843, p. 1. [J. M.]

Wackernagel, Carl Eduard Philipp, D.D., was b. at Berlin, June 28, 1800. He studied and graduated PH. D. at the University of Berlin. In 1829 he became a master in the technical school (Gewerbeschule) at Berlin, and in 1839 master in a private school at Stetten in Würtemberg. He was then (1845) appointed professor in the Realgymnasium at Wiesbaden, and in 1849 director of the Realschule at Elberfeld. He received the degree of D.D. from the University of Breslau in 1861, and in the same year retired to Dresden, where he d. June 20, 1877 (Herzog's Real Encyklopädie, xvi. 588; Dr. Ludwig Schulze's Philipp Wackernagel, Leipzig, 1878, &c.).

Wackernagel was an enthusiastic and successful teacher, and his author of various works on mathematics, on crystallography, on German literature, &c. His chief work is his Das deutsche Kirchenlied von der ältesten Zeit bis zu Anfang des XVII. Jahrhunderts, the preface to the last volume being all that he did not live to complete. Volume I. contains 484 Latin hymns, and a Supplement of 100 hymns; Vol. II. contains 1,000 German hymns, which are (14 excepted) by German writers prior to the Reformation; Vol. III. (1870) has 1467 pieces of the Reformation period; Vol. IV. (1874) has 1537 pieces, all (3 excepted) by German writers from 1584 to 1704; and v. has 1668 pieces of the 17th and 18th centuries. This work is a great monument of care and research, and is indispensable to the student of early German hymnody. The present writer has gladly availed himself of it, and it is only in a very few cases that he has been able to supplement or correct its results.

Wackernagel had a share in editing the Elberfeld G. B. of 1857. He was also one of the original commission appointed to prepare the so-called Eisenach Conference G. B. (see Koch, vii. 112. It was meant to be a general hymn-book for use by the Lutherans over all Germany), but disagreeing with the critical canons of his colleagues, soon left. His afterwards pub. a small collection of standard German hymns, entitled Kleines Gesangbuch geistlicher Lieder für Kirche, Schule und Haus, Stuttgart, 1860, the greatest merit of which was the beauty of its type.

Wake the song, O Zion's daughter. (Palm Sunday.) This hymn appeared in E. W. Eddis's Irvingite Hymns for the Use of the Churches, in 1864, and is therein ascribed to "J. E. L." i.e. Jane E. Leeson. It is however a curious conto and is thus composed:—

St. i. Original, by Miss Leeson, based on Dr. Neale's tr. of "Gloria, laus, et honor," in the Hymnal Noted.

St. ii. Composed of st. iv. v. of the same tr. by Dr. Neale, with two or three verbal alterations.

St. iii. ll. 1-4. Altered from a doxology to the Creation hymn, "Benedicite omnia opera," in the Primer, 1706, in Dr. Neale, as above; and ll. 5-8 added by Miss Leeson.

This conto is of more than usual excellence, and might be used with advantage. [J. J.]

Wakefield, John. [Sandemanian Hymnbooks.]

Walker, George, F.R.S., b. 1735, at Newcastle-on-Tyne, educated by his uncle, Thomas Walker, dissenting minister at Durham, whom, after further study at Dr. Rotherham's academy at Kendal, and at Edinburgh and Glasgow, he succeeded in the pulpit there. From Durham Walker removed to Great Yarmouth, and thence in 1773 to the Warrington Academy. While there he pub. The Doctrine of the Sphere. This and his Treatise on Conic Sections are the chief of his mathematical works. From 1774 to 1798 he was minister at the High Pavement Chapel, Nottingham, and took a prominent part in the public life of the town. His sermons on political events of the time attracted widespread attention, as did his tract The Dissenters' Plea; or, an appeal of the Dissenters to the Justice, Honour, and Religion of the Kingdom against the Test Laws. This and other essays on religious and philosophical questions were republished after his death in two volumes of Essays on Various Subjects, with a Memoir, 1809. Four volumes of Sermons on Various Subjects were also published (1808), the first two volumes having first appeared in 1795, during his Nottingham ministry. In 1798 he removed to Manchester, as Professor of Theology in the recently founded Manchester Academy, and also became president of the Philosophical and Literary Society. His health giving way he spent the last months of his life in the neighbourhood of Liverpool, and d. in 1807, while on a visit to London. He was buried in Bunhill-fields. For his Nottingham congregation Walker pub.

A Collection of Psalms and Hymns for Public Worship, accordant with the disputed doctrines of any sect. Nottingham, Printed by W. Byron, for the Editor. 1796.

This is one of the chief of the collections made for congregations of Presbyterians in the period of their transition towards Unitarianism. Of the 387 psalms and hymns 141 are taken from Watts, and of the rest the names of 24 authors are given, including T. Scott, Barbauld and Kippis. Walker himself, holding a "tempered Arianism," freely altered the hymns adopted, both for doctrinal reasons, and "to improve the style" of the compositions. He also contributed hymns of his own. Of these the best known are:—

1. Enough of life's vain scene I've trod.
2. Though many faults do me reprove.
Part of "How foolish to appear to God."
3. The earth proclaims its Lord. [V. D. D.]

Walker, George, D.D., s. of Arthur Walker, a farmer at Hillton of Pitbladdo, near Cupar, Fife, was b. at Hillton, Jan. 6, 1783. He studied at the Universities of St. Andrews and Edinburgh; and after being licensed by the Presbytery of Cupar, in 1806, was appointed in 1815 parish minister of Kinnell, near Arbroath. In 1867 he received the degree of D.D. from the University of Edinburgh. He d. at Kinnell on Sept. 11, 1868. He was a scholarly and devout man, with great taste and modest and retiring manners. He pub.:—

(1) Hymns translated or imitated from the German: Lond., Partridge & Co., 1846. This contains 92 hymns from the German, with tr. of the "Dies Irae," in all 94. Of these 14 are original hymns. Dr. Walker does not limit himself to reproduce the matter, or even uniformly the ideas, of his originals. By the kindness of his representatives his MS. copy has been used to identify his trs., most of which are reduced throughout this volume to initials only. (2) The Psalms and Paraphrases: Edin., W. P. Nimmo, 1866. Besides 73 Prayers, &c., this contains 82 original hymns and 14 versions of the "Gloria Patri." A number of the prayers and 42 of the hymns last appeared in his Prayers and Hymns for the Mornings and Evenings of a Week, 1865. [J. M.]

Walker, John, D.D., s. of Matthias Walker, was b. at Silvermines, county Tipperary, in 1769, and educated at Trinity College, Dublin. He graduated in 1790, and was elected a Fellow on taking Holy Orders in 1791. Seceding from the Church of England he resigned his Fellowship in 1804, and founded the sect called "Walkerites." He d. Oct. 23, 1838. He was the author of several mathematical, classical, and other works. His Essays and Correspondence were pub. in 1838. Of two hymns written by him for the opening of the Bethesda Chapel, Dorset Street, Dublin, on June 22, 1794, and which appeared in the Sol. of Hym. for that time, 1814, one, "Thou God of Power and God of Love" (Opening of a Place of Worship), has passed into several collections, including the Irish Church Hym., 1873; the American Meth. Episco. Hymnal, 1878, and others. [G. A. C.]

Walker, Mary Jane, née Deck, daughter of Mr. John Deck, and sister of J. G. Deck (p. 288, ii.), was married in 1848 to Dr. Walker, for sometime Rector of Cheltenham, and editor of Ps. & Hys. for Public and Social Worship, 1855. Several of her hymns appeared as leaflets; others in her husband's Ps. & Hys., 1851. To that Coll. 9 bear her signatures "M. J. W." These are:—

1. Fix me, Saviour, where I may be. Praiseinvite.
2. I'll come, I'll come through sun and wind. The Journey of Life.
3. Jesus, I will trust Thee, trust Thee with my soul. Trust in Jesus.
4. Lord, Thou didst love Jerusalem. Mission to the Jews.
5. O God, our Saviour, from Thy birth. Praiseinvite.
6. O joyful tidings let us sing. Sunday School Anniversary.
7. O restless Lamb of God, in Thee. Peaceinvite.
8. The wanderer no more will roam. Reconciliation with God.
9. We are not left to walk alone. The Holy Spirit as Divine Guide.

Of these hymns Nos. 2 and 3 appeared in the 1864 Appendix to Dr. Walker's Coll., and Nos. 2 and 8 are the most popular. [J. J.]

Wallace, James Cowden, was b. at Dudley, circa 1793. He was brother of the Rev. Robert Wallace (1791–1880), Professor of Theology in Manchester New College, and author of Antitrinitarian Biography. J. C. Wallace was Unitarian minister at Totnes, 1824, and afterwards at Brighton and Wareham. He d. at Wareham in 1841. He was a prolific hymn-writer, and contributed various other poetical pieces to the Monthly Repository. In a Sel. of Hys. for Unitarian Worship, by J. Wallace, Chesterfield, 1822, there are 13 of his hymns, and in the 2nd ed. of the same, 1826, there are 29 more. There are also 10 of his hymns in the Dukinfield Sel. of Ps. & Hys. for Christian Worship, 1822 (still in use), and 64 in Beard's Coll. of Hys., 1837. Of these hymns the following are still in C. U.:—

1. Is there no balm to soften grief? The Efficacy of Prayer (1837).
2. It is not rank, or power, or state. The Universality of God's Love.
3. There's not a place in earth's vast round. God seen in Everything.
4. Through every clime God's care extends. Divine Care of all.
5. 'Tis not in eye that never sleeps. The Divine Helper in Need. [V. D. D.]

Wallin, Benjamin, s. of Edward Wallin, pastor of the Baptist Church, Maze Pond, Southwark, was b. in London in 1711. He received a good education under the care of the Rev. John Needham, of Hitchin (father of the hymn-writer of that name), and was for a time engaged in business. But in 1740 he responded to an earnest request to become pastor of the church over which his father had presided, and this position he retained until his death on Feb. 15, 1792. Mr. B. Wallin published nearly forty sermons, charges, and other small religious books and pamphlets. In 1790 he pub. a volume entitled,

Evangelical Hymns and Songs, in Two Parts: Published for the Use of Christians, and Intended to promote their Christian Conversation; with Anthems at large from the Scriptures. The hymns in this vol. are 700 in number, and are largely altered versions of Watts. Many are rejected in full in the three parts of the work, the versification is loosely and the rhymes are often faulty.

Two hymns from the work are in C. U.:—

1. Hail, mighty Jesus (Saviour) how divine. Divine Grace.
2. When I the holy grave survey. Easter.

These, with others, appeared in A. M. Toplady's Ps. & Hys., 1776. They are usually given with alterations, chiefly introduced by Toplady. [W. R. S.]

Walther, Johann, was b. in 1496 at a village near Cola (perhaps Kahla, or else Colleda, near Sachsenburg) in Thuringia. In 1524 we find him at Torgau, as bassist at the court of Friedrich the Wise, Elector of Saxony. The Elector Johann of Saxony made him "Sengermeister" (choirmaster) in 1526. When the Electoral orchestra (Kapelle) at Torgau was disbanded in 1530, it was reconstituted by the town, and in 1534 Walther was also appointed cantor (singing-master) to the school at Torgau. On the accession of the Elector Moritz of Saxony, in 1548, Walther went with him to Dresden as his Kapellmeister. He was pensioned by decree of Aug. 7, 1554, and soon after returned to Torgau, still retaining the title of "Sengermeister." He d. at Torgau, perhaps on March 25, or at least before April 24, 1570. (Monatshefte für Musikgeschichte, 1871, p. 8, and 1878, p. 85; Archiv für Litteraturgeschichte, vol. xii., 1884, p. 185; Dr. Otto Taubert's Pflege der Musik zu Torgau, 1868, and his Gymnasial Sänger-Chor zu Torgau, n.d., 1870, &c.)

Walther was more distinguished as a musician than as a hymn-writer. In 1524 he spent three weeks in Luther's house at Wittenberg, helping to adapt the old church music to the Lutheran services, and harmonising the tunes in five parts for the Geystliche gesangk Buchlein. In 1525 he published his Ein Christlich Lied, &c., printed in the Stadtbücke at Wittenberg, when, on Oct. 29, 1525, the service for the Holy Communion, as rearranged by Luther and himself, was first used in German. His hymns appeared mostly in his four christliche Lieder, Lat. und Deutsch, Wittenberg, 1524, &c. Auffs new zu recht bestellete, gemehrt, und mit etlichen schönen Christlichen Texten, Lateinischen und Teutschen Gesängen gemehret, &c., Wittenberg, 1566 (preface dated Torgau, St. Michael's Day, 1566). They are reprinted in full (except in his D. Kirchenlied, II. pp. 197–204 [Nos. 278–283]).

Those of Walther's hymns which have passed into English are:—

i. Herzlich lieb hab ich dich, mein Gott. Trinity Sunday. 1st pub. in 1566 as above, and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 204, in 4 st. of 8 l. In the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 190. Tr. as:—

O God, my Rock! my heart as Thee. This is a good tr. of st. i., iii., iv., by A. T. Russell, as No. 135 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851.

ii. Herzlich thut mich erfreuen. Eternal Life. 1st pub. separately, in 33 st., at Wittenberg, in 1552, entitled "A beautiful spiritual and Christian new minor's song, of the Last Day and Eternal Life" [Königsberg Library]. Thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 187, in 34 st., st. 33 being added from the Dresden reprint of 1557. It is set to the melody of a popular song on the Joys of Summer. It is a fresh and beautiful hymn, but is only partially available on account of its length. Wackernagel, in his Kleines G. B., 1860, selects 21 st. as No. 319. The most popular form is that in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 1530, beginning "Der Bräutigam wird bald reyen." This form has in order st. 31, 8, 9, 16, 18, 17, 15, and appeared in Melchior Franck's Rantzelian musicum, 1628; in Freylinghausen's G. B., 1705, No. 240, &c. Tr. as :—

1. Now fain my joyous heart would sing. This is a tr. of st. 1, 8, 5, 17, 33, 34, by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 223. Her trs. of st. 1, 4, 5, were included in the Eng. Presb. Ps. & Hys., 1867, No. 325.

2. Soon will the heavenly Bridegroom come. This is by Dr. Kennedy, in his Hymn. Christ., 1863, No. 1009, and follows the text of the G. L. S., omitting st. 19, 10, 13. It is repeated in the Lyradea Treasury, N. Y., 1884, &c.

3. The Bridegroom soon will call us. By Dr. M. Jay, from the G. L. S. text, but omitting st. 10, 13, as No. 24 in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

Another tr. from the G. L. S. text, is "Soon shall the Bridegroom call us," in the Hymnary of the Reformation, 1883, p. 56. His tr. is not found at the beginning, "Rejoice, the Lord doth guide us," in J. Whittemore's Suppl. to all C. Bks., 1846. [J. M.]

Wär Gott nicht mit uns diese Zeit. M. Luther. [Ps. xxxix.] This version of Ps. cxxiv. was 1st pub. in the Geystliche gesangk Buchleyn, Wittenberg, 1524, in 3 st. of 7 l., and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 17. Also in Schircke's ed. of Luther's Geistliche Lieder, 1854, p. 79, in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 230, &c.

Lauxmann, in Koch, viii. 115, relates that the Elector Johann Friedrich of Saxony, having been conferred by the Superintendent Aquila with this hymn during his imprisonment at Worms, 1546–1547, on his release on May 24, 1552, engraved the date of it with grateful heart, as a thanksoffering to God.

Tune in C. U. is:—

Had God not come, may Israel say. In full by R. Massie, in his Martin Luther's Spir. Songs, 1854, p. 55. Repeated in Reid's Praise Bk., 1872, the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880, and by Dr. Bacon, in his Hys. of Martin Luther, 1884, p. 46.

Other trs. are:—(1) "If God were not upon our side." By Miss Fry, 1845, p. 24. (2) "Had not the Lord been with us then." By Miss Cox, 1864, p. 66. (3) "Had not the Lord been on our side." By Dr. J. Kent, 1854, p. 66. (4) "Had God not been with us this time." By Dr. G. Macdonald, in the Sunday Magazine, 1867, p. 600. In his Exodus, 1878, p. 68, it begins "Were God not with us all the time," and is otherwise altered. [J. M.]

Wardlaw, Ralph, D.D. This venerable and (in his generation) influential Scottish divine contributed twelve hymns to the praises of the Church Universal that are likely to live in a humble and useful way. As having so done, and besides edited several collections of hymns, he claims a place of honour in this work. Critically, and regarded as literature, his hymns have little of poetry in them; no "winged words" to lift the soul heavenward. They reflect simply and plainly the lights and shadows of every-day experiences of the spiritual life, rather than its etherialities and saintdelate. His "Lift up to God the voice of praise" is the most widely known; and there is a certain inspiriting clangour about it when well sung; yet it is commonplace. His "Hail morning, known among the blest," is narrative and prosaic, though it filled a gap at the time in Sabbath morning worship. "At the time by God appointed," "Remember Thee! remember Clarke!" and "Contemplate, saints, the source divine," have vanishing gleams of imaginative light and fire and tender emotion. "O how good the hallowed union," "Where the sounds of plaintive wailing," and "See the Sun of truth arise," are melodious and singable, and pleasant but shallow. "Christ of all my hopes the ground," (Pt ii.) "When with wasting sickness worn," is much too long, but is a fairly good song of Zion. Wardlaw pub. in 1818 a Selection of Hymns, to displace what was called The Tabernacle Coll., 1800, that had been used by the Congregationalists of Scotland (see Scottish Hymnody), and to which he contributed a few hymns. He was assisted in the preparation of this compilation by Dr. Charles Stuart, of Dunearn. The 1st ed. contained 322 hymns. In 1817 a Supplement was added of 171, bringing up the number to 493. Of these eleven (or twelve strictly) were by Wardlaw. Two of these had previously appeared in the Scottish Missionary Magazine (vol. viii. 48). His hymns bear no very slight a proportion to Dr. Wardlaw's writings as a profound theologian and expositor and thoroughly-equipped controversialist on the chief problems of the period, as to make it necessary to refer the reader to his remarkable Life, by the Rev. Dr. W. L. Alexander, entitled, Memoirs of the Life and Writings of Ralph Wardlaw, D.D. (2nd ed., 1856). Wardlaw was b. at Dalkeith on December 22, 1779, where he received his early education, later attending Glasgow University. His only church was in Glasgow. He d. at Easterhouse near Glasgow on Dec. 17, 1853, and his public funeral is still remembered for the representative character of the vast multitude who attended it. [A. B. G.]

Of Dr. Wardlaw's hymns the following are still in C. U.:—

1. Glad when they saw the Lord. Easter.
2. Hail, morning known amongst the blest [saints]. Sunday Morning.
3. Rich up to God the voice of praise. Praise to the Father.
4. O Lord our God, arise. Missions.
5. Remember Thee, remember Christ. H. Communion.
6. See the Sun of Truth arise. Christ the Light.

Of these Nos. 3-5 appeared in the Tabernacle Coll. (noted above), 1800. [J. J.]

Ware, Henry, D.D., a of Dr. H. Ware, pastor of the Unitarian congregation at Hingham, Massachusetts, and afterward Hollis Professor of Divinity at Cambridge, U.S.A., was b. at Hingham, April 21, 1794. Before going to Harvard College, in 1808, he was under the care of Dr. Allyn, at Duxbury, and then of Judge Ware, at Cambridge. He graduated at Harvard in high honours, in 1812; and was then for two years an assistant teacher in Exeter Academy. He was licensed to preach by the Boston Unitarian Association, July 31, 1813; and ordained pastor of the Second Church of that city, Jan. 1, 1817. In 1829, in consequence of his ill health, he received the assistance of a co-pastor in the person of Ralph Waldo Emerson. In the same year Ware was appointed Professor of Pulpit Eloquence and Pastoral Care in the Cambridge Theological School. He entered upon his duties in 1830, and resigned in 1842. He removed to Framingham, and d. there, Sept. 25, 1843. His D.D. degree was conferred upon him by Harvard College in 1834. Dr. Ware's publications as set forth in his Memoir, pub. by his brother John Ware, M.D., were numerous and on a variety of topics. He edited the Christian Disciple, which was established in 1813, and altered in title to the Christian Examiner in 1824, for some years before the change of title, and gave it his assistance subsequently. The Rev. Chandler Robbins collected his works and pub. them in four volumes, in 1847. His hymns, many of which are of more than usual excellence, are given in vol. i. Of these the following are in C. U.:

1. All nature's works His praise declare. Opening of a Place of Worship. 1824. It is in Hedge's English Hymns, 1864.
2. Around the throne of God The host angelic throngs. Universal Praise. Dated 1823, and printed in the Christian Disciple, vol. v., and in Putnam, 1874. A fine hymn.
3. Father of earth and heaven, Whose arm upholds creation. Thanksgiving for Divine Mercies. Appeared in Cheever's American Common Place Book, 1851; and in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868.
4. Father, Thy gentle chastisement. In Sickness. Dated March, 1827, and in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868.
5. Great God, the Sidewalks of Thy Sea. Ordination. Written for the Ordination of Jared Sparks, the historian, as pastor of the Unitarian Church, May, 1814. Given in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868, and Putnam, 1874.
6. In this glad hour when children meet. Family Gatherings. Dated Aug. 30, 1838. In Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868, and Putnam, 1874.
7. Lift your glad voices in triumph on high. Easter. Dated 1817, and was pub. in the Christian Disciple of that year, in 2 st. of 8 l. It is in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868; Putnam, 1874, and numerous hymn-books. Sometimes it is given separately as, "Glory to God, in full anthems of joy."
8. Like Israel's hosts to exile driven. American National Hymn. Written for the Centennial Celebration of the Boston Thursday Lectures, Oct. 17, 1833, and given in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868, and Putnam, 1874. It is a good American National Hymn in praise of the Pilgrim Fathers.
9. O Thou in Whom alone is found. Laying Foundation Stone of a Place of Worship. In Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868, and Tarbay's English Coll., 1842.
10. O Thou Who as Thy chosen Son. Ordination. Dated 1817, and was pub. in the Christian Disciple of that year, in 2 st. of 8 l. It is in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868; Putnam, 1874, and numerous hymn-books.
11. Oppression shall not always reign. Against Slavery. "This was Mr. Ware's last composition in verse. It bears date March 16, 1843. In the original MS. it is entitled 'Oppression shall not reign.' It is to be sung to a church-book. The following stanzas, taken from one of the Collections (st. i., ii. are in Longfellow and Johnson's Book of Hymns, 1848) are a part of the original, altered and transposed, and thus adapted to the purposes of public worship." [J. J.]
12. To prayer, to prayer: for the morning breaks. Prayer. This poem of 3 st. of 8 l. is dated 1835, and is given in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868, and Putnam, 1874. Two cento therefrom are in C. U. The first is "To prayer, to prayer: for the morning breaks," and with st. ii., "To prayer, for the glorious sun is gone," for Evening.
13. Thy year not a temple, like Judah of old. Dedication of a Place of Worship. This is dated 1839, and is in Putnam, 1874.
14. While parent and pastor our gifts we bring. Opening of a Place of Worship. In Dale's English Hymn Bk., 1874.

With American Unitarians Dr. Ware ranks very high, and by them his hymns are widely used. [F. M. B.]

Waring, Anna Lætitia, daughter of Elijah Waring, and niece of Samuel Miller Waring, was b. at Neath, Glamorganshire, in 1820. In 1850 she pub. her Hymns and Meditations, by A. L. W., a small book of 19 hymns. The 4th ed. was pub. in 1854. The 10th ed., 1863, is enlarged to 38 hymns. She also pub. Additional Hymns, 1858, and contributed some pieces to the Sunday Magazine, 1871. Her most widely known hymns are: "Father, I know that all my life," p. 867, ii.; "Go not far from me, O my Strength," p. 430, ii. 1 and "My heart is resting, O my God," p. 784, i. The rest in C. U. include:—

1. Dear Saviour of a dying world. Resurrection. (1863.)
2. In heavenly love abiding. Safety in God. (1863.)
3. Jesus, Lord of heaven above. Love to Jesus desired. (1854.)
4. Lord, a happy child of Thine. Evening. (1858.)
5. My Saviour, on the (Thy) words of truth. Hope in the Word of God. (1863.) Sometimes st. iv., "It is not as Thou wilt with me," is given separately.
6. O this is blessing, this is rest. Rest in the Love of Jesus. (1858.)
7. O Thou Lord of heaven above. The Resurrection.
8. Source of my life's refreshing springs. Rest in God. (1858.)
9. Sunlight of the heavenly day. New Year (1854.)
10. Tender Shepherd, Saviour of Thy love. Safety and Comfort in God. (1858.)
11. Tender mercies on my way. Praise of Divine Mercies. (1858.)
12. Thanksgiving and the voice of melody. New Year (1854.)
13. Thou hast seen good things of lower worth. Love of God in Christ. (1858.)

These hymns are marked by great simplicity, concentration of thought, and elegance of diction. They are popular, and deserve to be so. [G. A. C.]

Waring, Samuel Miller, s. of Jeremiah Waring, of Allen, Hampshire, and uncle of Anna L. Waring, was b. at Alton, in March, 1792, and d. at Bath, Sept. 19, 1827. His hymns appeared in his Sacred Melodies, 1825; and from that work the following, which are in C. U., were taken:—

1. Now to Him who loved us, gave us. Praise to Jesus. Sometimes, "Unto Him Who loved us."
2. Thus, O Lord, to plead my cause. Prayer for Assistance Implored. [G. A. C.]

Warner, Anna, daughter of Henry W. Warner, and sister of Sarah Warner, author of Queechy, and other novels, was b. near New York city about 1822. She is the author of the novel, Say and Seal, 1859, and others of a like kind. She also edited Hymns of the Church Militant, 1858; and pub. Wayfaring Hymns, Original and Translated, 1869. Her original hymns in C. U. include:—

1. Jesus loves me, this I know. The love of Jesus. In Say and Seal. 1859.
2. O little child, lie still and sleep. A Mother's Morning Hymn. In Temple Christ. 1867.
3. One more day's work for Jesus. Evening. From Wayfaring Hymns. 1869.
4. The world looks very beautiful. A Child-Pilgrim. circa 1860.

For her translations see Index of Authors and Translators. [F. M. B.]

Warren, William Fairfield, D.D., was b. at Williamsburg, Massachusetts, in 1833, and graduated at the Wesleyan University in 1833. After spending some time in Germany, he was appointed Professor of Systematic Theology in the Methodist Episcopal Mission Institute at Bremen, in 1851. Returning to America in 1866, he held some important appointments there, ultimately becoming President of Boston University, in 1873. His hymn, "I worship Thee, O Holy Ghost" (Whitsuntide), was contributed to the American Meth. Episco. Hymnal, at the request of the editorial committee, in 1877, and was pub. therein in 1878 (Nutter's Hymn Studies, 1884, p. 111). It has passed into other collections. [J. J.]

Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz. [Cross and Consolation.] Wackernagel, iv. pp. 128-130, gives three forms of the text of this anonymous hymn: No. 130 as the first of Zwey schöne neue geistliche Lieder, Nürnberg, n. D., c. 1560; No. 131, from an Enchiridion printed at Hamburg, 1565; No. 132, from the Paulmus und Lieder, Lübeck, 1567. In his Bibliographie, 1855, p. 279, he had cited it as in Neun schöne geistliche Lieder, Nürnberg, n.D., which he then dated 1556—probably too early. According to Koch, v., 633, it had already appeared as "Cremonie troerzua," in a Polish hymn-book ed. by Pastor Schlaryan, and pub. at Königsberg in 1535.

This hymn has often been ascribed to Hans Sachs. So Ambrosius Hannemann in his Professorum Hymnologiae, Wittenberg, 1633. Second in, No. 9, entitles it "Cremonie Trostliches Trostlieben. Hans Sachs"; and in Jovius' Nürnberg Chronik, 1738, it is entitled "Hans Sachs's "On Famine. A good family Book. Written for the use of levels of households and their families, by Hans Sachs, of Nürnberg, the well-known German poet." The hymn has not however been traced in any of the works of Sachs, and the ascription to him seems to be without foundation.

In the 1560 Zwey schöne the hymn has 12 st.: in the 1565 Enchiridion there are 14 (Nos. viii., ix. not in 1560). The 1565 is the usual text as in the Unv. L.-S., 1851, No. 791; but st. v.-ix., in which the Old Testament examples of Elijah, Daniel, Joseph, and the Three Holy Children are cited, are omitted in some collections. It is one of the best German hymns of Cross and Consolation, and is in almost universal German use. Tr. as :—

1. Why art then thus cast down, my heart? By Miss Winkworth, omitting st. v.-ix., in her Lyra Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 187, and repeated in her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 143.

Other trs. are:

(1) "Why thus with grief oppress my heart," by J. C. Jacobi, in his Poems, 1722, p. 1, repeated in the Collection H. Bk., 1754, pt. i., No. 141, 21). (2) "Rejoice, my soul, God cares for thee," by P. H. Mühler, as No. 185, in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1864, No. 253). (3) "Why wa thyself with anxious fears," by Dr. M. Mills, 1834, p. 106. (4) "Why art thou cast down, my heart, and broken," by Madame de Frame, in her Poets and Poetry of Germany, 1856, vol. i. p. 324. (5) "My soul, why art thou troubled? why," by Dr. G. Miller, 1866, p. 91. (6) "Why dost thou vex thyself, my heart," by N. L. Frothingham, 1870, p. 166. (7) "Why throughout the season, dost thou mourn," by the Rev. Andrew Calvin, in the Quiver, 1871. [J. M.]

Warum sollt ich mich denn grämen. P. Gerhardt. [Cross and Consolation.] Founded on Ps. lxxiii. 23. Appeared in the Crüger-Runge G. B., 1653, No. 240, in 12 st. of 8 l. Thence in Wackernagel's ed. of his Geistliche Lieder, No. 64, and Bachmann's ed., No. 29. In Crüger's Praxis, 1656, No. 320, and the Unv. L.-S., 1851, No. 794. It is a beautiful hymn, but, like many of Gerhardt's, difficult to translate. It comforted the Salzburg emigrants on their way through Swabia in 1732; it soothed the dying bed of Friedrich Wilhelm I. of Prussia, May 31, 1740; and at. viii. was the last utterance of its author on June 7, 1676. See further, Koch, viii., 471-479. Tr. as :—

1. Why, my soul, thus trembling ever. A good Tr. of st. i., iv., vii., viii., xi., xii., as No. 253 in the Anglican H. Bk., 1868, marked as Tr. by the Rev. Angelo A. Benson, 1862.
2. Why should sorrow ever grieve me. In full by J. Kelly, in his P. Gerhardt's Spir. Songs, 1867, p. 214. His Tr. of st. i., v., v.-vii., are repeated in the Ohio Luth. Hymnal, 1880, No. 420.

Other trs. are: (1) "Why should I continue grieving," in the Suppl. to German Psalmody, ed. 1789, p. 56. (2) "Why should I be sad and mourning," by Miss Cox, Transactions, 1754, p. 81, and as No. 473 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. In the Suppl. of 1849 to the Moravian H. Bk., of 1801, st. vii., x., are repeated altered, and beginning "With undaunted resolution." (3) "Why should I be sad and mourning," by Dr. Winchester, 1845, p. 104. (4) "Wherefore, then, should I be gloomy," by N. L. Frothingham, 1870, p. 144. [J. M.]

Was Gott thut das ist wohlgethan, So denken Gottes Kinder. B. Schmolck. [Harvest.] 1st pub. in his Freuden-Öl in Trauerglocken, Breslau, 1720, No. 35, p. 98, in 6 st. of 8 l., entitled, "The contented heart in a scanty Harvest." In his Klage und Reigen, Breslau, n.D. [1724], No. 77, p. 96, he gave it in 9 st. (st. iv., v., ix., being new), and entitled it "The contented heart in a scanty harvest, 1721." The text of 1724 is No. 1393 in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863. The German has undergone various recensions, and as e.g. Miss Cox follows that in Bunsen's Versuch, 1833; Miss Warner that in the Berlin G. B., 1829. The text followed in H. A. & M. and the Hymnary is that in Bigg's annotated H. A. & M., 1867, which is based on st. i., iii., vii., viii. of the 1754. Tr. as :—

1. What our Father does is well. A free tr. from Bigg's text, by Sir H. W. Baker, as No. 227 in H. A. & M., 1861, with an original doxology. This has been repeated in the Irish Church Hymnal, 1873, in Porter's Coll., 1876, the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871, Supt. Hymnal, 1879, &c.; and in America in the Pennsylvania Luth. Ch. Bk., 1868, Presb. Hymnal, 1874, &c.

2. What God does is done aright. By Mrs. H. M. Chester, as No. 471 in the Hymnary, 1872, from the text of Bigg, with an original doxology. Repeated in the Wednesbury Meth. Fr. Bk., 1883.

Other trs. are: (1) "Whatever God does is well," by Miss Warner, 1854, p. 255, repeated in Sp. Hyde's Coll., 1880. (2) "O'tis God hath done is done aright," by Miss Cox, 1864, p. 120. [J. M.]

Washburn, Edward Abiel, D.D., was b. April 16, 1819; graduated at Harvard, 1838; studied theology at Andover and New Haven, and entered the Congregational ministry. In 1844, having been ordained in the Protestant Episcopal Church, he became Rector of St. Paul's, Newburyport, Mass., whom he remained till 1851. Spending 1851–52 in Europe, on his return he became Rector of St. John's, Hartford, 1852–62, and Professor of Church Polity in Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Connecticut; also Rector of St. Mark's, Philadelphia, 1862–65; and Calvary, New York, 1865–81. He d. Feb. 2, 1881. His works include Social Law of God, 1874, and tr. of Latin hymns. A selection from his poems was published in New York in 1881. Some of his tr. are given in Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869, and other collections. For those tr. see Index of Authors and Translators. [F. M. B.]

Washburn, Henry S., was b. at Providence, Rhode Island, June 16, 1813; spent his boyhood at Kingston, Massachusetts, and was educated at Worcester and Brown University. Subsequently he was a manufacturer at Worcester and Boston. Since 1873 he has been the President of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Co. Mr. Washburn has held some prominent posts, and has been active in public matters. He has written various hymns and songs, the best known of which is :—

Let every heart rejoice and sing. National Hymn. This was written for a celebration in Faneuil Hall, Boston, July 4, 1848, and sung by the Sunday School Children of the city." It was set to music by Garcia, and often subsequently used at home and abroad. The author altered it for The Psalmist, 1849, No. 1045; and in that form it has been generally known. [F. M. B.]

Waterbury, Jared Bell, D.D., was b. in New York city, Aug. 11, 1799, and graduated at Yale College, 1822. He was for some time pastor of a Congregational church at Hudson, N. York, and then of Bowdoin Street Congregational church, Boston. He d. at Brooklyn, Dec. 31, 1876. He pub. Advice to a Young Christian; The Officer on Duty, and other works. To the Rev. J. Leavitt's Christian Lyre, vol. i., 1830, he contributed the following hymns, each of which was headed, "Written for the Lyre," and signed "J. B. W.":—

1. My Jesus, Thou hast taught. The Love of Jesus.
2. Mine, O God, to ask Thy presence. Repentance.
3. O By, meaning winter, saith Jesus to us. Promise of Pardon.
4. 'Tis Salem wrapt in fire. Warning.
5. Sinner, is thy heart at rest? The Voice of Conscience.
6. Soldiers of the Cross, arise! Lo! your Leader from the skies. Soldiers of the Cross.
7. When, O my Saviour, shall this heart? Desiring Jesus.

In vol. ii. of the same work, 1830, also :—

8. I have fought the good fight; I have finished my race. Martyr's Death Song.

Another of his hymns is given in the Songs for the Sanctuary, 1865, as :—

9. Infinite love, what precious stores. Riches of Divine Grace. Sometimes dated 1842.

Of these hymns, Nos. 5, 6, and 9 are the best known. [F. M. B.]

Waterston, Robert Cassie, M.A., s. of Robert Waterston, was b. at Kennebunk, in 1812, but has resided from his infancy at Boston, Massachusetts. He studied Theology at Cambridge; had for five years the charge of a Sunday school for the children of seamen; was associated for several years with the Fifth Street Unitarian Chapel, Boston; and then pastor for seven years of the Unitarian Church of the Saviour in the same city. Much of his time has been given to literature, and a long list of his papers of various kinds is given in Putnam's Singers and Songs of the Liberal Faith, 1874. He also interested himself largely in educational matters. He contributed one hymn to the American Unitarian Cheshire Pastoral Association Christian Hymns, 1844; 8 to his own popular Supplement to Greenwood's Psalms and Hymns, 1845, and others to various works. Putnam gives 20 poetical pieces in his Singers and Songs, &c., 1874, amongst which are the following, which are in C. U. at the present time :—

1. In darkest hours I hear a voice. Looking unto Jesus. Contributed to Putnam's Singers and Songs, &c., 1874, and found in a few collections.
2. In such hours that wanders free. Nature and Art. Contributed to Putnam's Singers and Songs, 1874. The hymn "Sisters, with eternal youth," in Hedge and Huntington's Hys. for the Ch. of Christ, 1853, No. 158, is composed of st. i.–ii. of this piece.
3. One sweet (bright) flower has drooped and faded. Life and Death. Contributed to Putnam's Singers and Songs, 1874, and again in Putnam, 1874, as "One bright flower, &c." It is in several collections. In the Christian Hys. the heading is "Death of a Pupil;" and in Dale "On the Death of a Child. Sung by her classmates."

In Putnam there are other pieces by him which are worthy of attention. [F. M. B.]

Watson, George, s. of F. Watson, b. at Birmingham, 1816, and until the year 1806 was in business in London as a printer. From his office and with his co-operation originated the well-known publications, the Band of Hope Review, in 1851; and The British Workman, 1855, which were the pioneers of cheap illustrated publications. Mr. Watson's hymn-writing has been limited. Two (see below) appeared in Paxton Hood's Our Hymn Book, 4 R 2

1868; the rest have been issued as fly-leaves, or are still in MS. Those in C. U. are :—

1. O the deep mystery of that love. The Love of Jesus. 1st pub. in P. Hood's Our H. Bk., 1860, No. 124, st. i.–iii.
2. With the sweet word of peace. Parting. Written in 1867 to be sung at a meeting held in Brighton to say Farewell to the Rev. Paxton Hood on his leaving his church for a considerable time for change and rest. Originally it was not included in his collections, but in Ps. & Hys., No. 373, it is st. i., iii., iv. It was also contributed sometimes in the S. P. C. K. Church Hys. This text was repeated in the Scottish Evangelical Union Hymnal, 1878, and is the usually accepted form of the hymn. It has much tenderness and beauty, and is worthy of wide circulation. [J. J.]

Watts, Alaric Alexander, was born in London, Mar. 19, 1797, and educated at the collegiate school of Wye, Kent. After a short engagement as a private tutor, he devoted himself to literary pursuits. He was for some time editor of the Leeds Intelligencer, and then of the Manchester Courier. Subsequently returning to London, he edited 10 vols. of The Literary Souvenir, and 3 vols. of The Cabinet of Modern Art. He was also engaged for some time as editor of the United Service Gazette, and contributed to the Standard, and other newspapers. In 1833 he received a royal pension of £100 a year, and an appointment in Somerset House. He d. at Kensington, April 5, 1864. His hymns appeared in his Poetical Sketches, 1822. 2nd ed. 1824. Of these, "When shall we meet again," is found in a few collections. [J. J.]

Watts, Isaac, D.D. The father of Dr. Watts was a respected Nonconformist, and at the birth of the child, and during its infancy, twice suffered imprisonment for his religious convictions. In his later years he kept a flourishing boarding school at Southampton. Isaac, the eldest of his nine children, was b. in that town July 17, 1674. His taste for verse showed itself in early childhood. He was taught Greek, Latin, and Hebrew by Mr. Pinhorn, rector of All Saints, and headmaster of the Grammar School, in Southampton. The splendid promise of the boy induced a physician of the town and other friends to offer him an education at one of the Universities for eventual ordination in the Church of England; but this he refused; and entered a Nonconformist Academy at Stoke Newington in 1690, under the care of Mr. Thomas Rowe, the pastor of the Independent congregation at Girdlers' Hall. Of this congregation he became a member in 1693. Leaving the Academy at the age of twenty, he spent two years at home; and it was then that the bulk of the Hymns and Spiritual Songs (pub. 1707-9) were written, and sung from MS. in the Southampton Chapel. The hymn "Behold the glories of the Lamb" is said to have been the first he composed, and written as an attempt to raise the standard of praise. In answer to requests, others succeeded. The hymn "There is a land of pure delight" is said to have been suggested by the view across Southampton Water. The next six years of Watts's life were again spent at Stoke Newington, in the post of tutor to the sons of an eminent Puritan, Sir John Hartopp; and to the intense study of those years must be traced the accumulation of the theological and philosophical materials which he published subsequently, and also the life-long enfeeblement of his constitution.

Watts preached his first sermon when he was twenty-four years old. In the next three years he preached frequently; and in 1702 was ordained pastor of the eminent Independent congregation in Mark Lane, over which Caryl and Dr. John Owen had presided, and which numbered Mrs. Bendish, Cromwell's granddaughter, Charles Fleetwood, Charles Desborough, Sir John Hartopp, Lady Hertesham, and other distinguished Independents among its members. In this year he removed to the house of Mr. Hollis in the Minories. His health began to fail in the following year, and Mr. Samuel Price was appointed as his assistant in the ministry. In 1712 a fever shattered his constitution, and Mr. Price was then appointed co-pastor of the congregation which had in the meantime removed to a new chapel in Bury Street. It was at this period that he became the guest of Sir Thomas Abney, under whose roof, and after his death (1722) that of his widow, he remained for the rest of his suffering life; residing for the longer portion of these thirty-six years principally at the beautiful country seat of Theobalds in Herts, and for the last thirteen years at Stoke Newington. His degree of D.D. was bestowed on him in 1728, unsolicited, by the University of Edinburgh. His infirmities increased on him up to the peaceful close of his sufferings, Nov. 25, 1748. He was buried in the Puritan resting-place at Bunhill Fields, but a monument was erected to him in Westminster Abbey. His learning and piety, gentleness and largeness of heart have earned him the title of the Melanchthon of his day. Among his friends, churchmen like Bishop Gibson are ranked with Nonconformists such as Doddridge. His theological as well as philosophical fame was considerable. His Speculations on the Human Nature of the Logos, as a contribution to the great controversy on the Holy Trinity, brought on him a charge of Arian opinions. His work on The Improvement of the Mind, pub. in 1741, is eulogised by Johnson. His Logic was still a valued text-book at Oxford within living memory. The World to Come, pub. in 1745, was once a favourite devotional work, parts of it being translated into several languages. His Catechisms, Scripture History (1732), as well as The Divine and Moral Songs (1715), were the most popular text-books for religious education fifty years ago. The Hymns and Spiritual Songs were pub. in 1707-8, though written earlier. The Horæ Lyricæ, which contains hymns interspersed among the poems, appeared in 1706-9. Some hymns were also appended at the close of the several Sermons preached in London, pub. in 1721-24. The Psalms were pub. in 1719. The earliest life of Watts is that by his friend Dr. Gibbons. Johnson has included him in his Lives of the Poets; and Southey has echoed Johnson's warm eulogy. The most interesting modern life is Isaac Watts: his Life and Writings, by E. Paxton Hood. (For criticism of his work as a hymn-writer, see Hymnody, Early English, § xi. and Psalters, English, § xv.).

A large mass of Dr. Watts's hymns and paraphrases of the Psalms have no personal history beyond the date of their publication. These we have grouped together here and shall preface the list with the books from which they are taken.

(1) Horæ Lyricæ. Poems chiefly of the Lyric kind. In Three Books Sacred: i. To Devotion and Piety: ii. To Virtue, Honour, and Friendship: iii. To the Memory of the Dead. London: Printed for John Lawrence, 1706. (2) Hymns and Spiritual Songs. In Three Books: i. Collected from the Scriptures: ii. Composed on Divine Subjects: iii. Prepared for the Lord's Supper. By I. Watts, 1707. This contained in Bk i. 91 hymns; in Bk ii. 79 hymns; in Bk iii. 17 hymns. In the 2nd ed. 1709, Bk. i. was increased to 108; Bk. ii. to 174; Bk. iii. to 25 and 15 doxologies. (3) Divine and Moral Songs for the Use of Children. By I. Watts. London, 1715. (4) The Psalms of David Imitated in the Language of the New Testament, and Applied to the Christian State and Worship. By I. Watts. London: Printed by J. Clark, at the Bible and Crown in the Poultry, &c., 1719. (5) Sermons with hymns appended thereto, vol. i., 1721; vii., 1723; viii. 1727. In 1728 the hymns, which had been appended to the sermons, were reissued in two, in octavo. (6) Religious Journals: Miscellaneous Thoughts on Print and Verse, on Natural, Moral, and Divine Subjects. Written chiefly in Younger Years. By I. Watts, D.D., London, 1734. (7) Remnants of Time. London, 1736.

From these works the following hymns and versions of the Psalms have been taken. The sublines indicate altered texts or centos which have been taken from the original hymns.

I. From the Horæ Lyricæ, 1706-9:—

1. Alas, my aking heart. Lent.
(1) My sorrows like a flood.
2. Talents of all the lights above. Praise to God desired from Nature.
3. Death, king shall death, the tyrant reign? The Resurrection.
(1) Lo, I behold the scattering shades.
4. Infinite Power, Eternal Lord. Lent.
5. It was a brave attempt! adventurous he. Launch-Out, Christian, launch.
6. Keep silence, all created things. Predestination.
7. Lord, 'tis an infinite delight. Death of Moses.
(1) Sweet was the journey to the sky.
8. O the immense/Vile amazing height. The God of the Jews.
9. Of all the joys that mortals know. Love to Christ.
10. Oft have I sat in secret sighs. Peace in Affliction.
11. Praise ye the Lord with joyful tongue. Ps. cxlviii.
(1) Praise ye the Lord in joyful choir.
12. Some mortals, lend your heavenly tongue. Mystery of the living of God.
(1) Thy names, how infinite they be.
13. The heavens invite mine eyes. Looking upward (1707).
14. The Lord! how fearful is His Name. God, Sovereign and Gracious.
15. What is our God, or what His name. God Supreme and self-sufficient.
16. When shall Thy lovely face be seen? Desiring Christ.
17. Who dares attempt the Eternal Name? Worshipping with fear.

II. From Hymns and Spiritual Songs, 1707–9 :—

18. And [then] must this body die? Triumph over death in the Hope of the Resurrection.
19. Behold the blind their sight receive. The Miracles of Christ.
20. Behold the grace appears (1707). Christmas.
21. Behold the potter and the clay. Election.
22. Behold the woman's promised seed. Christ, the Father's Elect.
23. Blest are the humble souls that see. The Beatitudes.
24. Bright King of glory, dreadful God (1707). Divinity of Christ.
25. Broad is the road that leads to death. The Broad Way.
26. But few among the carnal wise. Election.
27. Christ and His Cross is all our theme. Ascents of the Gospel.
28. Come, all harmonious tongues (1707). Easter.
29. Come, happy souls, approach your God (1707). Praise for Redemption.
30. Come hither, all ye weary souls. Invitation to the Wearie.
31. Come, let us lift our voices high (1707). Holy Communion.
32. Do we not know that solemn word? Holy Baptism.
33. Down headlong from their native skies. The Fall.
34. Eternal Sovereign of the sky. Submission to Authorities.
35. Eternal Spirit, we confess. Whitsuntide.
36. Faith is the brightest evidence. Faith.
37. Father, I long, I faint, to see (1707). Heaven desired.
38. Firm and unmoved are they (1707). Ps. cxxv.
39. Firm as the earth Thy Gospel stands. Safety in Christ.
40. From Thee, my God, my joys shall rise (1707). Joy in God.
41. Gentiles by nature we belong. Abraham's blessing on the Gentiles.
(1) Now let the children of the saints.
42. Glory to God that walks the skies. Joy in God.
(1) When shall the time, dear Jesus, when?
43. Glory to God the Father's Name. Holy Trinity.
44. Go, messenger of mighty love. Jesus Worship.
45. Go, worship at Emmanuel's feet. Jesus Worship.
46. God is a Spirit, just and wise. God, the Searcher of hearts.
47. God, the eternal, awful Name. Praise to God the Father.
48. God, who in various methods told. Holy Scriptures.
49. Great God, how infinite art Thou (1707). God's eternal Dominion.
50. Great God, of throne eternal ages stood.
51. Great God, I own Thy sentence just. Triumph over Death.
52. Great God, Thy glories shall employ. The Divine Perfections.
53. Great God, to what a glorious height. Ministry of Angels.
54. Great King of glory and of grace. Lent.
55. Had I the tongues of Greeks and Jews. The Greatest is Charity.
56. Happy the Church, thou sacred place (1707). God, the Defence of the Church.
57. Hark, the Redeemer from on high. Invitation to Christ.
58. Hear what the voice from heaven proclaims (1707). Death and Burial.
59. Hence from my soul sad thoughts be gone. Holy Scriptures.
60. High on a hill of dazzling light. Ministry of Angels.
61. Hosanna to our conquering King. Praise to Christ.
62. Hosanna to the Prince of grace. Doxology.
63. Hosanna to the Prince of Light (1707). Easter and Ascensiontide.
64. Hosanna with a cheerful sound. Morning or Evening.
65. How beauteous are their feet (1707). Missions.
(1) How beautiful the feet of those.
(2) How welcome is their voice.
66. How can I sink with such a prop? Security in God.
67. How condescending and how kind (1707). Christ our Redemption.
68. How full of anguish is the thought (1707). Christ our Life.
(1) Lord, when I quit this earthly stage.
69. How hasty is the night. Christ our Righteousness.
70. How honorable is the place (1707). Safety of the Church. See also p. 338, i.
(1) Trust in the Lord, for ever trust.
71. How happy are our children dead. Holy Baptism.
(1) Jesus the ancient faith confirms.
72. How oft have sin and satan strove. Hope in the Covenant.
(1) The oath and promise of the Lord.
73. How rich are Thy provisions, Lord (1707). Holy Communion.
(1) What shall we pay the Eternal Son?
74. How shall I praise the eternal God. The Divine Perfections.
75. How short and hasty is our life (1707). Shortness and Vanity of Life.
76. How strong Thine arm is, mighty God. Song of Moses and the Lamb.
77. How vain are all things here below (1707). Love of God, Supreme.
78. How wondrous great, how glorious bright (1709). Divine Glories above Senses.

79. I cannot bear Thine absence, Lord. Divine Presence desired.
80. I love the windows of Thy grace. Desiring to see Christ.
81. I send the joys of earth away (1707). Consecration to God.
82. I sing my [the] Saviour's wondrous death. Good Friday.
83. I'm not ashamed to own my Lord. Not ashamed of Christ. See also p. 888, ii.
84. Jesus, how sweet the name! I know His Name.
85. In vain we tune our lifeless strains. Religion fallen.
86. In vain we lavish out our lives. The Promises of God.
(1) Come, and the Lord shall feed our souls.
87. In this great sacrificing woe. Good Friday.
88. In this the kind return I (1707). Ingratitude towards God.
89. Jehovah reigns, His throne is high. The Divine Perfections.
90. Jesus, in Thee our eyes behold. Jesus, our Great High Priest.
91. Jesus invites His saints (1707). Holy Communion.
92. Jesus is gone above the skies (1707). Holy Communion.
(1) The Lord of Life this Table spread.
93. Jesus, Thy blessings are not few (1707). None excluded from Hell.
94. Jesus, with all Thy saints above (1707). Redemption.
95. Jesus, we bless Thy Father's love [name]. Election.
96. Join all the Names of love and power. Offices of Christ.
97. Laden with guilt and full of fears. Holy Scripture.
98. Let all our tongues be one. Holy Baptism.
99. Let everlasting glories crown. Holy Scriptures.
100. Let every mortal ear attend (1707). The Gospel Banquet.
101. Let God the Father live. Holy Trinity.
102. Let Him embrace my soul and prove (1707). Holy Communion.
103. Let the last hear my Saviour say (1707). Christ our Strength.
(1) Since I have found my Saviour say.
104. Let mortal tongues attempt to sing. Fall and Redemption.
105. Now is the hour of darkness past.
106. Let others boast how strong they be (1707). Human Frailty.
107. Let the seventh angel sound on high. The Days of Judgment.
108. Let the whole race of creatures lie. God's Dominion.
109. Let them neglect Thy glory, Lord (1707). Creation and Redemption.
110. Let us adore the eternal Word (1707). Holy Communion.
111. Life is the time to serve the Lord. Life the Day of Grace and Hope. See also p. 888, ii.
(1) Life is the hour that God hath given.
112. Like sheep we went astray. Redemption.
113. Long have I sat beneath the sound. Thyself-wisdom.
(1) Long have I heard the joyful sound.
114. Lord, how divine Thy comforts are (1707). Holy Communion.
115. Lord, how secure my conscience was. Lent.
116. Lord, we adore Thy bounteous hand. Holy Communion.
117. Lord, we adore Thy vast designs (1707). Darkness of Providence.
118. Lord, we are blind, we mortals blind. God Invisible.
119. Lord, when my thoughts with wonder roll. Desiring to Praise Christ.
120. Man has a soul of vast desires. Men not content with Earth.
121. My dear [blest, great] Redeemer and my Lord. Christ, the Father's Elect.
122. My drowsy powers, why sleep ye so? (1707). Spiritual Sloth.
123. My God, my Life, my Love (1707). God, all-sufficient.
124. My God, permit me not to be. Bereavement.
125. My soul, come meditate the day (1707). Death anticipated.
(1) O could we do with those that die.
126. My soul forsakes her vain delight. Parting with Creatures.
(1) There's nothing round this spacious earth.
127. My thoughts on awful subjects roll. Death of a Sinner.
128. My thoughts surmount these lower skies. Hope of Heaven.
129. Naked as from the earth we came (1707). Submission. See also p. 796, ii.
(1) 'Tis God that lifts our comforts high.
130. Nature, with all her powers shall sing. National Fasts.
131. Nature with open volume stands (1707). Wonders of the Cross.
(1) O the sweet wonders of that Cross.
132. No more, my God, I boast no more. Christ our Righteousness.
133. Nor [he] eye hath seen, nor ear hath heard. Heaven.
134. Not all the outward forms on earth. Regeneration.
135. Not the malicious or profane. Nature and Grace.
136. Not with our mortal eyes. Christ unseen, yet beloved.
137. Now be the God of Israel blessed. The Benedictus.
(1) John was the Prophet of the Lord.
138. Now by the bowels of my God. Brotherly Love.
(1) Now by the blood of Christ I plead.
(2) Now by the love of Christ my God.
(3) The Spirit, like a peaceful dove.
139. Now for a [hymn] tune of lofty praise (1707). Christ's Sufferings and Glory.
140. Now have our hearts embraced our God. Near primitive Christians.
(1) Here we have seen Thy Face, O Lord.
141. Now, in the heat of youthful blood. Advice to Youth.
142. Now let our pains be all forgot. Holy Communion.
143. Now to the Lord a noble song (1707). Christ all and in all.
144. Now to the power of God supreme. Salvation through Christ.
145. O if my soul were formed for woe (1707). Lent.
(1) 'Twas for my sins, my dearest Lord.
146. O might I once mount up and see (1707). Faith and Prayer.
147. O the delights, the heavenly joys (1707). The Glories of Christ in Heaven.
148. Once more, my soul, the rising day (1707). Morning.
149. Our days, alas, our mortal days. Shortness of Life.
150. Our God, how firm His promise stands. Security in Christ.
151. Our sins, alas, how strong they be. Human Frailty.
(1) The waves of trouble, how they rise.
152. Our spirits join to adore the Lamb. Good Friday.
153. Praise, everlasting praise, be paid (1707). Promises of God.
(1) O for a strong and lasting faith.
154. Rise, my soul, my soul, fly up and run (1707). Human Ambitions.
(1) There, on a high majestic throne.
155. Rise, rise, my soul, and leave the ground. Eternity of God.
(1) Long as the lofty skies were spread.
156. Sacred, at your heavenly Father's word. Submission to Authorities.
157. Shall the vile [weak] race of flesh and blood? Man, Mortal.
158. Shall wisdom cry aloud? Christ, the Wisdom of God. See also p. 1035, ii.
159. She has a thousand treacherous arts. Deceitfulness of Sin.
160. Sin, like a venomous disease. Folly and Madness of Sin.
161. Sitting around our Father's board. Holy Communion.
162. So let our lips and lives express. Grace and Holiness.
163. Some new-born babes desire the breast. Character of the Children of God.
(1) As new-born babes desire the breast.
(2) We find access at every hour.
164. Stand up, my soul, shake off thy fears (1707). Christian Warfare.
(1) Stand up, my soul, thy fears dismiss.
165. Stop down, my thoughts, that used to rise (1707). Faith and Eternity.
166. Strait is the way, the door is strait. The Narrow Way.

164. That awful day will surely come (1707). Second Advent.
165. The glories of my Maker God (1707). Praise from the creatures.
166. The God of mercy be adored. Sunday.
167. The Law by Moses came. The Law and the Gospel.
168. The Law commands and makes us known. The Law and the Gospel.
169. The Lord declares His will. Holy Scripture.
170. The Lord descending from above. God glorified in the Gospel.
171. The Lord on high proclaims. Christ our Sacrifice.
172. The majesty of Solomon. Ministry of Angels.
(1) Now to the Hands of Christ our King.
173. The promise of my [the] Father's love (1707). Holy Communion.
174. The glorious Messiah now appears. Christ the fullness of the Law.
175. There is a house not made with hands. Heaven anticipated.
176. This is the word of truth and love. Power of Christ.
177. Thou, Whom my soul admires above (1707). The God Jehovah.
178. Thus did the sons of Abraham pass. Circumcision and Holy Baptism.
179. Thus far the Lord has [hath] led me on. Morning.
180. Thus saith the mercy of the Lord. Holy Baptism.
181. Thy favours, Lord, surprise our souls. Divine Worship.
182. Thine, what an empty vapour 'tis. Shortness of life.
(1) Yet, mighty God, our fleeting days.
(2) Our life is ever on the wing.
183. 'Tis by the faith of joys to come. Faith our Guide.
(1) It is by faith in joys to come.
184. 'Tis from the treasures of His word. Titles of Christ.
(1) From the rich treasures of His word.
185. To Him that chose us first. Holy Trinity.
186. 'Twas on that dark, that doleful night (1707). Holy Communion.
187. 'Twas the commission of our Lord (1707). Ministry.
188. Up to the fields where angels lie. Vision of God desired.
189. Up to the Lord that [who] reigns on high (1707). Condemnation of God.
190. We are a garden walled around. The Church of Christ.
191. We bless the prophet of the Lord. Offices of Christ.
192. Welcome, sweet day of rest. Sunday.
193. Well, the Redeemer's gone. Ascension; Christ, the Intercessor.
(1) The great Redeemer's gone.
194. What equal honours shall we bring? Christ's Humiliation and Exaltation.
195. What happy men or angels, these. Saints in Heaven.
196. What vain desires and passions vain. Flesh and Spirit.
197. When in the light of faith divine. Temptation.
198. When strangers stand and hear me tell. Christ's Omnipresence.
(1) My best-beloved keeps His throne.
199. When the Eternal bows the skies. Grace of God.
200. When the first parents of our race. Redemption.
(1) Behold what pity touched the heart.
(2) Infinite pity touched the heart.
201. Who can describe the joys that rise? Joy in heaven for the departing Saviour.
202. Who in this fair one is distrest? Christ's spouse, the Church.
(1) O let my name engraven stand.
203. Who shall the Lord's elect condemn? Triumph of Faith (1707).
(1) He lives! He lives, and sits above.
204. Why do mourn departing friends? Death and Burial (1707).
(1) Why do we mourn for dying friends?
205. Why does your face, ye humble souls? Sufficiency of Pardon (1707).
206. Why is my heart so far from Thee? Fluctuating Love (1707).
207. Why should this earth delight us so? The Judgment Day.
208. Why should we start and fear to die? Death contemplated (1707).
209. Zion rejoice, and Judah sing. Thanksgiving for Victory.

iii. From the Divine and Moral Songs, 1715.

210. Blest be the wisdom and the power. Praise for Redemption.
211. Great God, to Thee my voice I raise. Love of one's Country.
212. Great God, with wonder and with praise. Holy Scripture.
213. Happy the child whose youngest [tender] years. Youthful Piety.
(1) When we devote our youth to God.
(2) Youth when devoted to the Lord.
214. How bright these glorious spirits shine. Heavenly Glory.
215. How fast has the day been, how bright was the sun. Summer Evening.
216. How glorious is our heavenly King. Praise to God the Father.
217. How kind, my dear, lie still and slumber. Cradle Hymn.
218. Let dogs delight to bark and bite. Against Quarrelling.
(1) Let love through all your actions run.
219. How delightful 'tis to see. Divine Worship.
220. I give this sluggish body way. Industry.
221. Lord, I ascribe to Thy grace. Praise for the Gospel.
222. My God, Who makes the sun to know. Morning.
223. O life a lovely thing for youth. Death and Piety.
224. Our tongues were made to bless the Lord. Against Cursing.
225. The praises of my tongue. Praise to God for learning to read.
(1) Now I can read and learn.
226. There is a God Who reigns above. Death anticipated.
227. This is the day when Christ arose. Sunday Morning.
228. We sing the Almighty power of God. Praise for Creation and Providence.
229. What blest examples do I find. Early Piety.
230. Whenever heavish distrest. Inwardness. Inwardness.
231. Whene'er I take my walks abroad. Praise for Temporal and Spiritual Mercies.
232. Why should I deprive my neighbour? Against theft.
233. Why should I join with those in play? Against evil Company.
234. Why should I love my sport so well? The Sluggard.
235. Why should I say, 'Tis yet too soon? Danger of Delay.
236. Why should our garments, made to hide? Against Pride.
(1) How proud we are, how fond of show.

iv. From The Psalms of David, 1719.

237. Behold the morning sun. Ps. xix.
(1) I hear Thy word with love.
238. Behold the sure Foundation-Stone. Ps. cxviii.
239. Behold Thy waiting servant, Lord. Ps. cxix.
240. Blest are the humble souls that see. Ps. xxv.
241. Blest are the undefiled in heart. Ps. cxix.
242. Blest is the man who shuns the place. Ps. i.
243. Come, sound His praise abroad. Ps. xcv.
244. Consider all my sorrows, Lord. Ps. cxix.
245. Early, my God, without delay. Ps. lxiii. Sunday Morning.
246. Exalt the Lord our God. Ps. xcix.
247. Far as Thy Name is known. Ps. xlviii.
248. Father, I bless Thy heavenly grace. Ps. cxix.
249. Father, I sing Thy wondrous grace. Ps. lxxix.
250. Fools in their heart believe and say. Ps. xiv.
(1) The Lord from His celestial throne.
251. From deep distress and troubled thoughts. Ps. cxx.
252. Give thanks to God; He reigns above. Ps. cvi.
253. Give thanks to God; invoke His Name. Ps. cv.
254. Give thanks to God the Sovereign Lord. Ps. cxxxvi.
255. Givest the Lord, ye sons of fame. Ps. xcix.
256. God in His earthly temple lays. Ps. lxxxvii.
257. God, my Supporter and my Hope. Ps. lxxiii.
258. God of my childhood and my youth. Ps. lxxi.
259. God of my life, look graciously down. Ps. xxxix.
260. God of my mercy and my praise. Ps. cix.

261. Great God, attend, while Zion sings. Ps. lxxxvii.
262. Great God, the heavens well-ordered frame. Ps. xcix.
(1) I love the volumes of Thy word.
263. Great is the Lord, exalted high. Ps. cxxxv.
264. Great is the Lord, His works of might. Ps. cxl.
265. Happy the man who fears the Lord. Ps. cxxvii.
266. Happy the man whose cautious feet. Ps. i.
(1) How blest the man whose cautious feet.
267. He lives, the everlasting God. Ps. cxvii.
268. He reigns, the Lord, the Saviour, reigns. Ps. xcvii.
269. He that hath made his Refuge God. Ps. xci.
270. Hear me, O God, nor hide Thy Face. Ps. cii.
271. High in the heavens, eternal God. Ps. xxxvi.
272. How did my heart rejoice to hear. Ps. cxvii.
(1) Peace be within this sacred place.
273. How long, O Lord, shall I complain. Ps. xiii.
274. How lovely are Thy dwellings fair. Ps. lxxxiv.
275. How pleasant 'tis to see. Ps. cxxxiii.
276. How pleased and blest was I. Ps. cxxii.
277. How shall the young secure their hearts? Ps. cxix.
278. I love the Lord, He heard my cries. Ps. cxvi.
279. I waited patient for the Lord. Ps. xl.
280. I will extol Thee, Lord on high. Ps. xxx.
281. If God succeed not, all the cost. Ps. cxxvii.
282. I'll bless the Lord from day to day. Ps. xxxiv.
283. I'll sing the wonders of Thy love. Ps. lxxxix.
284. In all my vast concerns with Thee. Ps. cxxxix.
(1) Lord, where shall guilty souls retire.
285. In God's own house pronounce His praise. Ps. ci.
286. In Judah, God of old was known. Ps. lxxvi.
287. In robes of judgment, lo, He comes. Ps. xcvii.
288. Is there ambition in my heart? Ps. cxxxi.
289. It is the Lord our Saviour's hand. Ps. cix.
(1) Spare us, O Lord, aloud we pray.
290. Jehovah reigns, He dwells in light. Ps. xcviii.
291. Jesus, our Lord, ascend Thy throne. Ps. cx.
292. Judge me, O Lord, and prove my ways. Ps. xxvi.
293. Judges who rule the world by laws. Ps. lxxii.
294. Let all the earth their voices raise. Ps. xcvi.
295. Let all the heathen writers join. Ps. cxix.
296. Let children hear the mighty deeds. Ps. lxxviii.
297. Let every creature join. Ps. cxlviii.
298. Let every tongue Thy goodness speak. Ps. cxlv.
299. Let God arise in all His might. Ps. lxviii.
(1) Kingdoms and thrones to God belong.
300. Let sinners take their course. Ps. i.
301. Let Zion, and her sons, rejoice. Ps. xlv.
302. Let Zion in her King rejoice. Ps. xcvi.
303. Lo, what a glorious Corner Stone. Ps. cxviii.
304. Lo, what an entertaining sight. Ps. cxxxiii.
305. Lord, how secure and blest are they. Ps. xxxii.
306. Lord, I have found it good for me. Ps. xxiii.
307. Lord, I will bless Thee all my days. Ps. xxxiv.
308. Lord, in the morning Thou shalt hear. Ps. v.
309. Lord, Thou hast called Thy grace to mind. Ps. lxxvii.
310. Lord, Thou hast searched and seen me through. Ps. cxxxix.
311. Lord, Thou wilt hear me when I pray. Ps. lv.
312. Lord, 'tis a pleasant thing to stand. Ps. cxxii.
313. Lord, to my list'ning ear. Ps. xc.
(1) Our moments fly apace.
314. Lord, what a thoughtless wretch was I. Ps. lxxiii.
315. Lord, when I count Thy mercies o'er. Ps. cxxxix.
316. Lord, when Thou didst ascend on high. Ps. lxxiii.
317. Loud hallelujahs to the Lord. Ps. cxlviii.
318. Maker and sovereign Lord. Ps. ii.
(1) Why do the nations rage.
(2) Why did the Gentiles rage.
319. Mine eyes and my desire. Ps. xxv.
320. My God, accept my early vows. Ps. cxl.
321. My God, my everlasting Hope. Ps. lxxi.
322. My God, my King, Thy various praise. Ps. cxlv.
323. My God, permit my tongue. Ps. lxxii.
324. My God, the steps of pious men. Ps. xxxvii.
325. My heart rejoices in Thy name. Ps. xxxi.
326. My heart was troubled sore. Ps. lxxiii.
327. My Refuge and my God is He. Ps. xci.
328. My righteous Judge, my gracious God. Ps. cxliii.
329. My Saviour and my King. Ps. xlv.
330. My Saviour, my almighty Friend. Ps. lxxi.
331. My Saviour, my almighty word. Ps. cxxiii.
332. My soul, how lovely is the place. Ps. lxxxiv.
(1) With His rich gifts the heavenly Dove.
333. My soul lies cleaving to the dust. Ps. cxix.
334. My soul repeat His praise. Ps. ciii.
(1) Bless, O my soul.
335. My spirit looks to God alone. Ps. lxxi.
336. My spirit sinks within me, Lord. Ps. cxl.
337. Not to ourselves who are but dust. Ps. cxv.
338. Now be my heart inspired to sing. Ps. civ.
339. Now let the Gentile world rejoice. Ps. lxvii.
340. Now may the God of power and grace. Ps. xx.
341. Now shall my solemn vows be paid. Ps. lxvi.
342. O all ye nations, praise the Lord. Ps. cxvii.
343. O bless the Lord, my soul, let all, &c. Ps. ciii.
344. O come, loud anthems let us sing. Ps. xcv.
345. O Britain, praise thy mighty God. Ps. cxlvii.
346. O for a shout of sacred joy. Ps. xlvii.
(1) Now raise a shout of sacred joy.
347. O God of mercy, hear my call. Ps. lv.
348. O God, our help in ages past. Ps. xc.
349. O happy nation where the Lord. Ps. xxxiii.
350. O how I love Thy holy law. Ps. cxix.
351. O Lord, how many are my foes. Ps. iii.
352. O Lord, our heavenly King. Ps. viii.
353. O Lord our Lord [God], how wondrous great. Ps. viii.
354. O that the Lord would guide my ways. Ps. cxix.
355. O that Thy statutes every hour. Ps. cxix.
356. O Zion, haste, thy mission high. Ps. lxxxvii.
(1) Mercy and judgment my song.
357. O'er all the earth, ye saints, rejoice. Ps. cxxxi.
358. Praise waits in Zion, Lord, for Thee. Ps. lxv.
359. Praise ye the Lord, exalt His Name. Ps. cxxxv.
360. Praise ye the Lord, my heart shall join. Ps. cxlvi.
361. Praise ye the Lord, 'tis good to raise. Ps. cxlvii.
362. Preserve me, Lord, in time of need. Ps. vi.
363. Rejoice, ye righteous, in the Lord. Ps. xxxiii.*
364. Remember, Lord, our mortal state. Ps. lxxxix.
365. Return, O God of love, return. Ps. xc.
366. Salvation belongs unto the Lord. Ps. iii.
367. See what a living Stone. Ps. xcviii.
(1) This is the glorious day.
368. Sing, all ye nations, to the Lord. Ps. lxvi.
369. Sing to the Lord Jehovah's Name. Ps. xcv.
370. Sing to the Lord, ye distant lands. Ps. xcvi.
371. Songs of immortal praise belong. Ps. cxl.
372. Sons of the morning, sing His praise. Ps. cxlviii.
373. Sure there's a righteous God. Ps. lxxii.
374. Sweet is the memory of Thy grace. Ps. cxlv.
375. Teach me the measure of my days. Ps. xxxix.
376. The Almighty reigns, exalted high. Ps. xcviii.
(1) Jehovah reigns, His throne.
377. The earth for awe to the Lord's. Ps. xxix.
378. The God [great] Jehovah reigns. Ps. xcix.
379. The God of our salvation hears. Ps. lxv.
(1) At his command the morning ray.
(2) On God the race of man depends.
380. The heavens declare Thy glory, Lord. Ps. xix.
(1) Whene'er I take my walks abroad.
381. The heavens, O Lord, Thy rule obey. Ps. cxix.
382. The King, O Lord, with songs of praise. Ps. xxi.
383. The King of saints, how fair His Face. Ps. xlv.
384. The Lord has made the heavens known. Ps. xix.
385. The Lord, how wonderful His Name. Ps. cxiii.
386. The Lord is come, the heavens proclaim. Ps. xcvii.
387. The Lord Jehovah reigns, And royal state maintains. Ps. xciii.
388. The Lord my Shepherds, I shall be well-supplied. Ps. xxiii.
389. The Lord of glory is my Light. Ps. xxvii.
390. The Lord of glory reigns, He reigns on high. Ps. xcix.
391. The Lord, the Judge, before His throne. Ps. l.
392. The Lord, the [our] sovereign King. Ps. cxiii.
393. The praise of Zion waits for Thee. Ps. lxv.
394. The starry heavens Thy rule obey. Ps. cxix.
395. The sun that lights the day, The moon that shines. Ps. cxlviii.
396. This spacious earth in all the Lord's, And men, and worms, &c. Ps. cxvii.
(1) Replete, ye shining worlds on high.
397. Thou art my Portion, O my God. Ps. cxix.
398. Thou art the everlasting Word, The Lord. Ps. cxii.
399. Through every age, eternal God. Ps. xc.
400. Thus saith the Lord, your work is vain. Ps. xlvi.
(1) No blood of beasts on altars shed.

401. Thy mercies fill the earth, O Lord. Ps. ciii.
(2) When I confess'd my wandering ways.
402. Thy Name, almighty Lord. Ps. cxvi.
403. 'Tis by Thy strength the mountains stand. Ps. lxv.
404. To God I cried with mournful voice. Ps. lxxvii.
(1) Will God for ever cast me off?
405. To God I make my sorrows known. Ps. cxlii.
406. To God the great, the ever blest. Ps. cx.
407. To heaven I lift my waiting eyes. Ps. cxxi.
408. To Thee, my God, I tune my voice. Ps. cxl.
409. 'Twas in the watches of the night. Ps. lxxix.
410. Unshaken as the sacred hill. Ps. cxxv.
411. Up to the hills I lift mine [my] eyes. Ps. cxxi.
412. Upward I lift mine eyes. Ps. cxxi.
413. We bless the Lord, the just, the good. Ps. cix.
414. We bless the Lord, the just, the good. Ps. lxxxiv.
415. We love Thee, Lord, and we adore. Ps. xviii.
416. What shall I render to my God. Ps. cxvi.
417. When all Thy mercies, O my God. Ps. civ.
418. When God in ugly sin is strong. Ps. cvi.
419. When God restored our captive state. Ps. cxxvi.
420. When God revealed His gracious [precious] Name. Ps. cxxvi.
421. When I with pleasing wonder stand. Ps. cxxxix.
422. When man grows bold in sin. Ps. xxxvi.
(1) But there's a dreadful God.
423. When overwhelmed with grief. Ps. lxi.
(1) O lead me to the Rock.
424. When the great Judge, supreme and just. Ps. l.
425. When we behold the heavens [skies] spread.
426. Where'er the man is found. Ps. xxv.
427. Where shall the man be found. Ps. xxv.
428. Where shall we go to seek and find. Ps. xxxiii.
429. While men grow bold in wicked ways. Ps. xxxvi.
(1) Above the heaven's created rounds.
430. Who shall ascend Thy heavenly place? Ps. xv.
(1) Who shall ascend to the heavenly place.
431. With all my powers of heart and tongue. Ps. cxxxviii.
(1) Grace will complete what grace begins.
(2) To God I cried when troubles rose.
432. With sorrow laughter of the mind.
433. With my whole heart I'll raise my song. Ps. ix.
434. With reverence let the saints appear. Ps. lxxxix.
(1) With wonder and with awful fear.
435. With songs and honours sounding loud. Ps. cxlvii.
436. Would you behold the works of God? Ps. cvii.
437. Ye holy souls, in God rejoice. Ps. xxxiii.
438. Ye lofty minds, in God rejoice. Ps. xxxvi.
(1) Ye lands and isles of every sea.
(2) Ye shores and isles of every sea.
439. Ye nations round the earth rejoice. Ps. x.
440. Ye servants of the Almighty King. Ps. cxiii.
441. Ye sons of Adam, join. Ps. cxlviii.
442. Ye that delight to serve the Lord. Ps. cxiii.
443. Ye that obey the Immortal King. Ps. cxxxix.
444. Ye tribes of Adam, join. Ps. cxlviii.
445. Ye, saith the Lord, if David's race. Ps. lxxxix.

v. From Sermons, 1721-1727.

446. Be flesh and nature dread to die. Death.
447. Do I believe what Jesus saith. Courage and Heaven.
448. Father of glory to Thy Name. Holy Trinity.
449. How is our nature spoiled by sin. The Atonement.
450. Most friends and kindreds drop and die. Death.
451. O happy soul, that lives on high. Christian Life and Walking.
452. O that I knew the sacred place. Lord.
453. Our hopes and deaths be lived in more. Witness of the Spirit.
454. What shall the dying sinner do? The Gospel the Power of God to Salvation.

vi. From Reliquiæ Juvenilles, 1734.

455. Where shall the tribes of Abraham find. Christ our Life.
(1) Jesus, our Kinsman and our God.

vii. From Remnants of Time, 1736.

456. The mighty frame of glorious grace. Redemption.
(1) Proclaim inimitable love.

Those 454 Hymns and Versions of the Psalms, in addition to the centos which are indicated by the sublines, are all in C. U. at the present time. The more important and best known of Dr. Watts's Hymns and versions of the Psalms have separate annotations under their respective first lines. [See Index of Authors and Translators.] [J. J.]

Waugh, Benjamin, was b. at Settle, in Yorkshire, Feb. 20, 1839, and educated for the Congregational Ministry at Airedale College, Bradford. He has held pastorates at Newbury, Berkshire, Greenwich, and New Southgate. He has been for several years editor of The Sunday Magazine, and a large contributor to its pages. He has pub. (1) The Goal Cradle, Who rocks it; (2) Sunday Evenings with my Children; (3) The Children's Sunday Hour; (4) The Child of the English Savage; (5) Imperial Legislation and Street Children. Mr. Waugh's hymns have appeared from time to time in The Sunday Magazine, and have not been separately published. Those which have come into C. U. include:—

1. Jesus, the Friend of friendless men. Jesus the Sinner's Friend. 1874.
2. O happy pair of Nazareth, The Child Jesus.
3. O let me see Thy beauty, Lord. The Beauty of the Lord. This is based upon Psalm xxvii. 4, "One thing have I asked of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may see Thy beauty, Lord." In Herder's Gleanings, 1846, iv. 1.

Mr. Waugh's hymns are for children's use, and are exceedingly fresh and unconventional. Several others of merit might be selected from the Sunday Magazine with advantage to children's hymnody. [W. G. H.]

We all had sinned and gone astray. G. Thrupp. [The Good Shepherd.] This was the author's first hymn, and was written to the tune "Cambridge New," at his mother's request, in 1861. It was pub. in Morrell & How's Ps. & Hys., 1864; and in his own Hys. Couj. and Others, 1866, p. 11, in 4 st. of 6 l., and entitled, "The Love of Christ." Also given in his Hys. & Son. Lyrics, 1874, p. 86, and in his Coll., 1882. [J. J.]

We all, O Lord, have gone astray. [The Shepherd and His wandering Sheep.] This is based upon J. Merrick's version of the last part (Tau) of Ps. cxix., pub. in his Ps. of David, &c., 1765. It was given in Cotterill's Sel., 1819, p. 64, and has been repeated in a few collections in G. Britain and America. It was arranged from Merrick by Cotterill. [J. J.]

We are but little children poor [weak]. Cecil F. Alexander, née Humphreys. [Holy Baptism.] Pub. in Dr. Hook's Leeds Church S. S. H. Bk., 1850, in 9 st. of 4 l. It is in use, sometimes abbreviated, in its original form: as "We are but little children weak," in the 1868 Appendix to H. A. & M., and numerous other collections; and as, "O Lord, the Holy Innocents" (st. ii.), in the American Protestant Episcopal Hymnal, 1871. In these various forms it is in extensive use. [J. J.]

We bid Thee welcome in the Name. J. Montgomery. [Induction of a Minister.] This hymn is in the M. mss., but is undated. It was pub. in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 533, and again in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 305, in 6 st. of 8 l., and headed, "On the Appointment of a Minister."

It is found in many collections, but usually in an abbreviated form. [J. J.]

We bow before Thy gracious Throne. This, in the American Unitarian Hys. for the Church of Christ, 1853, No. 518, is a cento from two hymns by C. Wesley, st. i., iv. being from "Thou Son of God, Whose flaming eye"; and st. ii., iii. from "Come, O Thou all-victorious Lord (p. 249, ii.), as in the Wes. H. Bk. 1780. [J. J.]

We come, Lord, to Thy feet. [Opening of Sunday School.] This hymn, together with the companion hymn for the Closing of a Sunday School, "O Lord, our hearts would give Thee praise," appeared on a card printed for Sunday-school use by Dp. Pelham, when Incumbent of Christ Church, Hampstead. Both hymns were adapted by him from another and now unknown source. The Rev. E. H. Bickersteth included both hymns, with slight alterations, in his Ps. & Hys., &c., 1858, from thence they have passed into several collections. W. F. Stevenson attributes the former in his Hys. for Church and Home, 1873, to Lady Lucy Whitmore, 1824, but we have failed to find it in her Family Prayers, &c., 1824 (see p. 1886, ii.), and know of no authority for the ascription. [J. J.]

We give Thee but Thine own. Dp. W. W. How. [Offertory.] Written about 1858, and 1st pub. in the enlarged ed. of Morrell & How's Psalms & Hymns, 1864, No. 197, in 6 st. of 4 l. From thence it has passed into numerous collections, and now ranks in popularity with some of the best of modern hymns. Of the author's compositions in extensiveness of use it is exceeded only by his "For all Thy Saints who from their labours rest." Orig. text, Church Hymns, 1871. The doxology in (p. 126, i.) we gather that it was the joint production of Gurney and himself. This text is:—

"We saw Thee not when Thou didst tread,
In mortal guise, this sinful earth,
Nor heard Thy voice restore the dead,
Or bid the blind to see the light:
But we believe that Thou didst come,
And leave for us Thy glorious home.

"We were not with Thee on the wave,
When Thou the stormy sea couldst bind:
Nor saw the health Thy blessing gave
To lame and sick, to deaf and blind:
But we believe that Thou didst come,
Could give the darkened eye-ball sight.

"We did not mark the chosen few,
When Thou didst through the clouds ascend,
First lift to heaven their wondering view,
Then bless the earth which Thou didst bend:
But we BELIEVE in that great cloud,
Behold that journey to the skies.

"And now that Thou dost reign on high,
And throne Thy faithful people bless,
By ray of glory from the sky
Doth shine upon our wilderness:
But we believe that Thou dost hear;
And sing Thy praise, and lift our prayer."

3. The next recast was apparently by H. J. Buckoll, alone (see § 5). It appeared in Ps. & Hys. for use in the Rugby School Chapel (of which he was joint editor with Dr. Goulburn), 1843, No. 53, as follows:—

"We saw Thee not when Thou didst tread,
In mortal guise, this sinful earth,
Nor heard Thy voice restore the dead,
And wake them to a second birth:
But we believe that Thou didst come,
And quit for us Thy glorious home.

"We did not see the armed throng
Lead to the garden's midnight shade,
And mark the traitor's parting wrong,
Then quail beneath Thy glance afraid:
But we believe—Almighty love
Alone could such dark treasons prove.

"We did not see the darkness veil
With sudden gloom the noon-day skies;
Nor the fierce soldier's cheek grow pale,
And tremble as the earthquake rose:
When the priest Roman owned the power
Of heaven, 'twas in that awful hour.

"We did not hear the footsteps fall
Within that lonely garden ground,
Of the all-watchful sentinel,
Slow tracing there his watchful round;
Nor mark the moment, deep and dread,
Bursting that tomb, in glory shone.

"We were not with the chosen few
Who saw Thee through the clouds ascend,
Who gazed, and wished to follow too,
Then on the earth all prostrate bent;
But we believe that mortal eyes
Bridal the journey to the skies.

"Chase every shade of doubt away;
Light in the darkness! in mercy shine;
Blessed Lord, visit us to-day,
We would no worship own but Thine.
Bring us to heaven's peaceful shore,
And make us Thine for evermore!"

This text was republished in the April number of The Friendly Visitor, 1836, also printed at Kirkby Lonsdale, and edited by the Rev. W. Carus Wilson. It is signed "Anne R. Kirke-Lindsay." It is also found in Original and Select Hymns; A Companion to Select Poetry. Lond. John Van Voorst, 1837, No. 143 (2nd ed. enlarged 1838). The editor of this work was a Miss Little, of Bedford.

2. The first adaptation of this poem for congregational use appeared in J. H. Gurney's Lutterworth Coll. of Hys. for Public Worship, 1838, No. 264. It is signed "American," i.e. from an American source with alterations and additions. From the mss. of H. J. Buckoll (p. 126, i.) we gather that it was the joint production of Gurney and himself. This text is:—

"We saw Thee not when Thou didst tread,
In mortal guise, this sinful earth,
Nor heard Thy voice restore the dead,
Or bid the blind to see the light:
But we BELIEVE that Thou didst come,
And leave for us Thy glorious home.

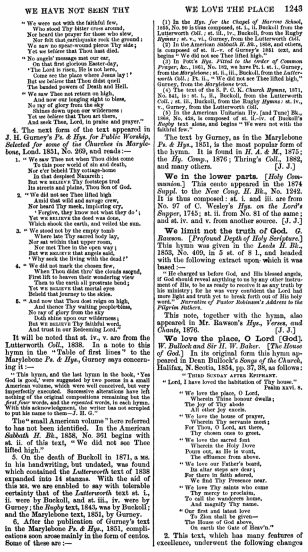
"We were not with Thee on the wave,
When Thou the stormy sea couldst bind:
Nor saw the health Thy blessing gave
To lame and sick, to deaf and blind:
But we believe that Thou didst come,
Could give the darkened eye-ball sight.

"We did not mark the chosen few,
When Thou didst through the clouds ascend,
First lift to heaven their wondering view,
Then bless the earth which Thou didst bend:
But we BELIEVE in that great cloud,
Behold that journey to the skies.

"And now that Thou dost reign on high,
And throne Thy faithful people bless,
By ray of glory from the sky
Doth shine upon our wilderness:
But we believe that Thou dost hear;
And sing Thy praise, and lift our prayer."

3. The next recast was apparently by H. J. Buckoll, alone (see § 2). It appeared in Ps. & Hys. for use in the Rugby School Chapel (of which he was joint editor with Dr. Goulburn), 1843, No. 53, as follows:—

"We saw Thee not when Thou didst tread,
In mortal guise, this sinful earth,
Nor heard Thy voice restore the dead,
And wake them to a second birth:
But we believe that Thou didst come,
And quit for us Thy glorious home.



" We were not with the faithful few,
Who stood Thy bitter cross around,
Nor heard the prayer for those who slew,
Nor felt that earthquake rock the ground:
Yet we believe that Thou hast died;
Yet we believe that Thou hast risen.

" No angels' message met our ear,
On that first glorious Easter-day,
'The Lord is risen, He is not here,
Come see the place where Jesus lay!'
But we believe that Thou didst quit
The tomb, and rise, and leave the hill.

" We saw Thee not ascend on high,
And now our longing sight to bless,
No ray of glory from the sky
Shines down upon our wilderness:
Yet we believe that Thou art there,
And seek Thee, Lord, in praise and prayer."

4. The next form of the text appeared in J. H. Gurney's Ps. & Hys. for Public Worship, Selected for use of the Churches in Marylebone, Lond. 1851, No. 209, and reads:—

1. " We saw Thee not when Thou didst come
To this poor world of sin and death,
Nor hear Thy pitying voice proclaim
In that despised Nazareth:
But we BELIEVE Thy footsteps trod
Its streets and plains, Thou Son of God.

2. " We did not see Thee lifted high
Amid that wild and savage crew,
Nor heard Thy meek, imploring cry,
'Forgive them, Father, they know not;'
Yet we BELIEVE the deed was done,
Which shook the earth, and veiled the sun.

3. " We stood not by the empty tomb
Where late Thy sacred body lay,
Nor saw the seraph's robe of light
Roll back Thy stone from day to day:
But we BELIEVE that angels said,
' Why seek the living with the dead?'

4. " We did not mark the chosen few,
When Thou didst turn' the clouds asunder,
Fired lift to heaven their wondering view
And see Thee pass the starry portal;
Yet we BELIEVE that burning eyes
Beheld that journey to the skies.

5. " And now that Thou dost reign on high,
And thence Thy waiting people bless,
No ray of glory from the sky
Shines down upon our wilderness:
But we BELIEVE Thy faithful word,
And trust in our Redeeming Lord."

It will be noted that st. iv., v. are from the Lutterworth Coll., 1838. In a note to this hymn in the "Table of first lines" to the Marylebone Ps. & Hys., Gurney says concerning it:—

"This hymn, and the last hymn in the book, 'Yes God, I have loved the habitation of Thy house,' are American volumes, which were well conceived, but very imperfectly executed. Successive alterations have left nothing of the original compositions remaining but the first line words, and the repeated words, in each hymn. The Editor regrets that the Author has not accepted to put his name to them.—J. H. G."

The "small American volume" here referred to has not been identified. In the American Sabbath H. Bk., 1858, No. 291 begins with st. ii. of this text, "We did not see Thee lifted high."

5. On the death of Bucknill in 1871, a ms. in his handwriting, but undated, was found which contained the Lutterworth text of 1838 expanded into 14 stanzas. With the aid of this ms. we are enabled to say with tolerable certainty that of the Lutterworth text st. i., ii. were by Bucknill, and st. iii., iv. were by Gurney; the Rugby text, 1843, was by Bucknill; and the Marylebone text, 1851, by Gurney.

6. After the publication of Gurney's text in the Marylebone Ps. & Hys., 1851, compilations soon arose mainly in the form of centos. Some of these are:—

(1) In the Hys. for the Chapel of Harrow School, 1855, No. 96 is thus composed, st. i., ii. Bucknill from the Lutterworth Coll.; st. iii., iv., Bucknill, from the Rugby Hymns; st. v., vi., Gurney, from the Lutterworth Coll.

(2) In the Hymnary, 1872, No. 91 is a cento from Gurney, is composed of st. ii.-iv. of Gurney's 1851 text, and begins "We did not see Thee lifted high."

(3) In Pott's Hys. Fitted to the Order of Common Prayer, &c., 1861, No. 102, we have Pt. I. st. i., Gurney, from the Marylebone text; st. ii., Bucknill, from the Lutterworth Coll.; Pt. II. "We did not see Thee lifted high," Gurney, from the Marylebone text.

(4) The text of the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871, No. 141, is: st. i., ii., Bucknill, from the Lutterworth Coll.; st. iii., iv., Bucknill, from the Rugby Hymns; st. iv., v., Gurney, from the Lutterworth Coll.

(5) In the American Unitarian Hy. [and Tune] Bk., 1868, No. 424, is composed of st. ii.-iv. of Bucknill's Rugby text alone, and begins "We were not with the faithful few."

The text by Gurney, as in the Marylebone Ps. & Hys., 1851, is the most popular form of the hymn. It is found in H. A. & M., 1875; the Hy. Comp., 1876; Thring's Coll., 1882, and many others.

We in the lower parts. [Holy Communion.] This cento appeared in the 1874 Supp. to the New Cong. H. Bk., No. 1242. It is thus composed: st. i. and iii. are from No. 97 of C. Wesley's Hys. on the Lord's Supper, 1745; st. ii. from No. 81 of the same; and st. iv. and v. from another source. [J. J.]

We limit not the truth of God. G. Rawson. [Profound Depth of Holy Scriptures.] This hymn was given in the Leeds H. Bk., 1853, No. 409, in 5 st. of 8 l., and headed with the following extract upon which it was based:—

"He charged us before God, and His blessed angels, if God should reveal anything to us by any other instrument of His, to be as ready to receive it as any truth by his ministry; for he was very confident the Lord had more truth yet to break forth out of His holy word."—Narrative of Pastor Robinson's Address to the Pilgrim Fathers.

This note, together with the hymn, also appeared in Mr. Rawson's Hys., Verses, and Chants, 1876. [J. J.]

We love the place, O Lord [God]. W. Bullock and Sir H. W. Baker. [The House of God.] In its original form this hymn appeared in Dean Bullock's Songs of the Church, Halifax, N. Scotia, 1854, pp. 37, 38, as follows:

"THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY.
" Lord, I have loved the habitation of Thy house." PSALM XXVI. 8.

" We love the place, O Lord,
Wherein Thine honour dwells;
The joy of Thy abode
All earthly joy excels.

" We love the house of prayer,
Wherein Thy servants meet;
For There, O Lord, art there
To bless the congregate.

" We love the sacred font,
Wherein the Holy Dove
Doth cleanse from sin and shame
The offspring from above.

" We love our Father's board,
Its altar steps are dear;
For there in faith adored,
We find Thy Presence near.

" We love Thy saints who come
From north and south and west,
To call the wanderers home,
And magnify Thy name.

" Our first and latest love
To Zion shall be given—
The House of God above,
On earth the Gate of Heav'n."

2. This text, which has many features of excellence, underwent the following changes at the hands of Sir H. W. Baker, in 1860, and was pub. in H. A. & M., 1861, as follows, the italics being Sir H. W. Baker's alterations and additions:—

" We love the place, O God,
Wherein Thine honour dwells:
The joy of Thine abode
All earthly joy excels.
" It is the House of prayer,
Wherein Thy servants meet:
And There, O Lord, art there
To bless the congregate.
" We love the sacred Font,
For there the Holy Dove
To pour in new wash
His blessing from above.
" We love Thine Altar, Lord:
Oh what on earth so dear?
For there by faith adored,
We find Thy Presence near.
" We love the Word of Life,
The Word that tells of peace,
Of comfort in the strife,
And joys that never cease.
" We love to sing below
Thy praises, Lord, in song;
But oh! we long to know
The triumph-song of heaven.
" Lord Jesus, give us grace
On earth to love Thee more,
In heaven to see Thy Face,
And with Thy saints adore."

This form of the hymn has passed into most extensive use in all English-speaking countries, and has been translated into several languages.

3. A third form appeared in Harland's Church Psalter and Hy., enlarged ed. 1867, the opening stanza of which begins:—

" O Lord, we love the place
Wherein Thine honour dwells;
The sweetness of Thy grace
All other joy excels."

This is based upon the H. A. & M. text; but is very inferior as a piece of literary workmanship.

4. A fourth form is given in Thring's Coll., 1882. Of this st. i., ii. are by Bullock, with "God" for "Lord," in st. i. l. 1; st. iii. ll. 1, 2, Bullock, l. 3, Bullock altered by Thring, l. 4, Bullock altered by Baker; st. iv. by Thring; st. v. ll. 1–3, by Thring, l. 4, Bullock altered by Baker. This is a good cento and worthy of more extensive use. [J. J.]

We love Thee, Lord! yet not alone. Julia A. Elliott, née Marshall. [Love for Christ.] This appeared in her husband's Ps. & Hys., 1835, in 6 st. of 4 double lines. Although not separately numbered as such, it is really a hymn in two parts, Pt. ii. beginning with st. iv., "We love Thee, Lord! because when we, &c." It has passed into a few collections. [J. J.]

We plan foundations for the dead. J. Montgomery. [Foundation Stone of a Cemetery Chapel.] The ms. of this hymn is dated "May 5, 1848." The hymn was written for the laying of the foundation-stone of the chapel for the Church of England portion of the Sheffield General Cemetery. Montgomery's hymn, "Father of glory, God of grace," was written for the Opening of the same, and is dated "June 27, 1850." Montgomery d. on April 30, 1854, and was buried under the shadow of the spire of this chapel. [J. J.]

We sing the praise of Him Who died. T. Kelly. [Passiontide.] Appeared in Hymns by Thomas Kelly, not before Published, Dublin, 1815, No. 52, in 2 st. of 4 l., and headed, "God forbid that I should glory save in the Cross: Gal. vi. 14." Here st. v. reads:—

" The balm of life, the cure of woe,
The measure and the pledge of love;
The sinner's refuge here below,
The angel's theme in heaven above."

In later editions of Kelly's Hymns this stanza is altered by Kelly to:—

" The balm of life, the cure of woe,
The measure and the pledge of love;
The sinner's refuge here below,
The angel's theme in heaven above."

This authorised text is that usually found in modern collections. In H. A. & M., 1861, an additional stanza was given by the Compilers. The use of this hymn in all English-speaking countries is extensive. It has also been tr. into several languages. The Rev. L. C. Biggs's rendering into Latin of the H. A. & M. text in his annotated edition of H. A. & M., 1867, begins "Laudes canamus mortui." Lord Selborne (Sir R. Palmer) said at the York Church Congress, 1866 [Report, Hymnody] that this hymn "is distinguished by a calm subdued power, rising gradually from a rather low to a very high key [quotes, and continues], I doubt whether Montgomery ever wrote anything quite equal to this." In several collections this hymn begins with st. ii., "Inscribed upon the Cross we see." An adaptation of the original text for use at Holy Communion is given in the Memoir of S. Medley, by his daughter, pub. in Liverpool in 1833. It begins with the same first line, and was probably made by Medley. [J. J.]

We sing to Thee Whose wisdom formed. [Divine Use of Music.] This appeared in The Whole Book of Psalms: with the Usual Hymns and Spiritual Songs. Together with all the Ancient and Proper Tunes sung in Churches, with some of Later Use. Composed in Three Parts. . . . By John Playford, London, 1677, p. 293, in 7 st. of 4 l. and a doxology. It was included in the 6th ed. of the Supplement to the New Version, 1708, but has fallen out of use. Its original title is, "On the Divine use of Musick." [J. J.]

We thank, Thee, Lord, for this fair earth. Bp. G. E. L. Cotton. [Flower Services.] Pub. in Hys. for use in the Chapel of Marlborough College, 1856, No. 94, in 4 st. of 4 l., and again in his enlarged edition of 1869. It has passed into numerous collections, and usually with the change of two or three words in the whole hymn. [J. J.]

We walk by faith and not by sight. H. Alford. [St. Thomas.] Appeared in his Ps. & Hys., &c., 1844, p. 126, in 4 st. of 4 l., and again in his Year of Praise, 1867, No. 249. It is also given in the Westminster Abbey H. Bk., 1883, and others. [J. J.]

Wearied in the strife of sin. Bp. E. H. Bickersteth. [Ascension.] This hymn was pub. as a leaflet, with music by Dr. Charles Vincent, in 1867. It is in 7 st. of 4 l., headed "Crucified and Crowned," and dated "Ascension Day, 1887." It is No. 236 in the 1890 ed. of the H. Comp. [J. J.]

Weary of earth, and laden with my sin. S. J. Stone. (Lent.) Written in 1866, and 1st pub. in the same year in his Lyra Fidelium, p. 44, in 8 st. of 4 l. It is based on Art. 10 of the Apostles' Creed, "The Forgiveness of Sins," and was written, originally, for a parochial mission. In 1868 Mr. Stone revised it for the Appendix to H. A. & M. Form II. A. & M. it has passed into numerous collections in G. Britain and America. It is one of the most tender and plaintive of Mr. Stone's hymns. In the American Londes Domini, 1884, it is divided into two parts, pt. i. being st. i.–v.; and pt. ii. st. vi.–viii., altered to "O Jesus Christ the righteous! live in me." [J. J.]

Weary of this wordy strife. C. Wesley. [For Unity.] 1st pub. in 7 st. of 6 l. at the end of J. Wesley's Sermon on 2 Kings x. 15, in 1755. (P. Works, 1868–72, vol. vi. 71.) Two centos are in C. U. (1) "Weary of this wordy strife," in the Westminster Abbey H. Bk., 1883; and (2) "My brethren, friends, and kinsmen these," in the American Church Praise Book, N. Y., 1882. [J. J.]

Webb, Benjamin, M.A., was b. in London in 1820, and was educated in St. Paul's School; whence he passed to Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1838, B.A. 1842, M.A. 1845. Ordained by the Bishop [Monk] of Gloucester and Bristol he was Assistant Curate of Kemerton in Gloucestershire, 1843–44; of Christ Church, St. Pancras, 1847–49; and of Bristol, Kent, 1849–51; at which date he was presented to the P.C. of Sheen in Staffordshire, which he held until 1862, when he became Vicar of St. Andrews, Wells Street, London. In 1881 the Bishop [Jackson] of London collated him to the Prebend of Portpool in St. Paul's Cathedral. Mr. Webb was one of the Founders of the Cambridge Camden, afterwards the Ecclesiological Society; and the Editor of the Ecclesiologist from 1842 to 1868, as well as the General Editor of the Society's publications. His first appearance in print was as joint editor of Bp. Montague's Articles of Inquiry in 1841; in 1843 he was joined with Mr. J. M. Neale in An Essay on Symbolism, and A Translation of Durandus; in 1847 he put forth his valuable work on Continental Ecclesiology; in 1848 he was joint editor with Dr. Mill of Frank's Sermons, for the Anglo-Catholic Library, and with the Rev. J. Fuller-Russell of Hierurgia Anglicana. After the decease of his father-in-law (Dr. Mill), he edited Dr. Mill's Catechetical Lectures, 1856; a second edition of Dr. Mill's Christian Advocates Publications on the Mythical Interpretation of the Gospels, 1861; and of Dr. Mill's Sermons on our Lord's Temptation, 1873. He was also one of the editors of the Burntisland reprint of the Sarum Missal. One of his most valuable works is Instructions and Prayers for Candidates for Confirmation, of which the third edition was pub. in 1882. Mr. Webb was one of the original editors of the Hymnal Noted, and of the sub-Committee of the Ecclesiological Society, appointed to arrange the words and the music of that book; and was also the translator of some of the hymns. In conjunction with the Rev. Canon W. Cooke he was editor of the Hymnary, 1872, for which office his habitual reconstruction and composition of the words of the anthems used at St. Andrew's, Wells Street, as well as his connection with the Hymnal Noted, eminently qualified him. His original hymns contributed to the Hymnary, 1871 and 1872, were:—

1. Assurgent to thy King. St. Bartholomew. In the Hymnary, 1872.

2. Behold Ye come, thy King most holy. Advent. Originally written to be sung in St. Andrew's Church, Wells Street, as an anthem to the music of Schumann's Advent-lied, and afterwards pub. in the Hymnary, 1872.

3. Praise God, the Holy Trinity. Hymn of Faith. Originally written for use in St. Andrew's, Wells Street, and afterwards pub. in the Hymnary, 1872.

4. Praise the Rock of our salvation. Dedication of a Church. Pub. in the Hymnary, 1872. Mr. Webb's editorial text is in the Westminster Abbey H. Bk., 1883.

5. Ye angel hosts above. Universal Praise to God. In the Hymnary, 1872.

Mr. Webb's trs. are annotated elsewhere (See Index of Authors and Translators.) He d. in London, Nov. 27, 1885. [W. C.]

Wedderburn, James, John and Robert, were the three sons of James Wedderburn, a Dundee merchant. James, the eldest, entered the University of St. Andrews in 1514. He afterwards went to France, and on his return produced tragedies and comedies in Scotch which roused the rage of the ecclesiastics, who forced him to flee, in 1540, to France, where he d., probably at Dieppe, about 1550. John, the second son, graduated M.A. at St. Andrews in 1538. Having entered the priesthood and officiated at Dundee, he fell under suspicion of heresy, and fled in 1539 to Wittenberg, where he associated with Luther, Melanchthon, and other Reformers. There in his exile, doubtless under Luther's influence, he wrote and translated many of the psalms, hymns and ballads commonly known as The Gude and Godlie Ballates. After the death of James v. (Dec. 13, 1542), he returned to Scotland, but was forced in 1546 again to flee. He d. in England in 1556. Robert, the youngest son, graduated M.A. at St. Andrews in 1550. He entered the priesthood, and was Vicar of Dundee in 1553. He seems to have written a number of the "Ballates" proper. To him Dr. Laing would ascribe the remarkable Complaynt of Scotland, a satirical poem first pub. at St. Andrews in 1549. (See Scottish Hymnody, § 3; and the works by Dr. Laing and Dr. Mitchell mentioned in the Appendix to that article.) [J. M.]

Weep, mourner, for the joys that fade. W. Knox. (Heaven.) 1st pub. in his Harp of Zion, 1825, in 2 st. of 11 l., and entitled "Heaven." It is based on Job xix. 25. It was also included in his Poems, &c., 1847, p. 181, but is unknown to the hymnals in that form. As early as 1844 it was given in an altered form as: "O weep not for the joys that fade," in the American Unitarian Christian Hymns, of the Cheshire Pastoral Association, and, later, in other American collections, in most of which it is ascribed to Knowles, in error. [J. J.]

Wegelin, Josua, D.D., s. of Johann Wegelin, or Wegelein, then superintendent

(Ephorus) of the Evangelical college at Augsburg, was b. at Augsburg Jan. 11, 1604. After studying at the University of Tübingen (M.A. 1626), he was for a short time pastor at Bschweiler, and was appointed in 1627 fourth diaconus of the Franciscan (Barfüsser) church at Augsburg. In 1629, along with 13 other Evangelical pastors, he was compelled to leave Augsburg by the decree of Restitution (see p. 1690, ii.) enacted by the Emperor Ferdinand III. After Gustavus Adolphus had become master of the city, in 1632, Wegelin was recalled to the Barfüsser Kirche as archidiaconus. In 1635 he was appointed preacher at the Hospital Church of the Holy Ghost, but in 1635, as a result of the battle of Nördlingen (Sept., 1634), he was again forced to flee from Augsburg. He found refuge at Presburg, in Hungary, where he became pastor, and afterwards Senior, Inspector, and Doctor of Theology. He d. at Presburg, Sept. 14, 1640 (Koch, iii. 169; Goedeke's Grundriss, vol. iii. 1887, p. 161, &c.).

Wegelin's hymns are simple and natural, and are the productions of an earnest, true-hearted and good pastor rather than of a skilful poet. Goedeke, as above, gives the titles of 3 collections of his hymns published at Nürnberg, 1658 (copy in possession of Pastor E. Kranse of Greifswald). There are also eds. which have the engraved title dated 1638, and the printed title dated 1640, a copy of the two ed. being in the Göttingen Library. Another ed. appeared at Nürnberg, 1642 (copy in Freiherr Seidlitz of Hannover), and from his (?) Abendländ. und Stand-Büchlein, Nürnberg, 1657 (Göttingen Library). Some 30 of his hymns were included in J. W. Ellhertz's G. B., Nürnberg, 1644 (p. 301, ii.), and other collections of the 17th cent.

The only hymn by Wegelin which has passed into English is:—

Allein auf Christi Himmelfahrt. Ascension. This is his most popular hymn. 1st pub. 1636, as above, p. 808 (Göttingen copy p. 852, Hannover copy p. 881), in 15 st. of 6 l., entitled "Auf Christi Himmelfahrt, oder Ascension of Christ," repeated in Ellhertz' G. B., 1654, p. 291. In the Lüneburg G. B., 1661, No. 112, it is recast and begins, "Auf Christi Himmel-Fart allein"; this recast being probably made by the compiler Ernst Christoph Homburg (1605–81), who was from 1637 to 1651 pastor of St. Alexander's Church at Ilsteck or Elsteck, in Hannover; d. at Eisleck, Nov. 17, 1681). Both forms are given in the Leipzig Gerwick, 1673, Nos. 300 and 389, and in the Ges. L. C., 1851. Tr. as:—

1. Alone on Christ's Ascension day. By C. C. Jacobi, in his Three Sermons, preached at Pyrmont, in his 3rd ed., 1732, p. 41. In 1722 it is marked as tr. from the second form of Wegelin's hymn; in 1733 as from J. Frick's Auf dieses Tag bedenken wir. It may be noted that Frick's hymn is in 15 st. of 6 l., and the first stanza taken from st. v., vi. of Isaac Watts's "Essay towards the Prince of Light." The 1733 text was included as No. 442 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, with a new tr. of st. iii. added. This tr. of st. iii. was repeated in the 1789 ed. of the same, and in the ed. of 1849, No. 170, only st. i., ii., of Jacobi are retained.

2. Since Christ is gone to heaven, His home. This is a good tr., from the second form, by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 2nd ser., 1858, p. 47; and in Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869, p. 324. In her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 64, it is altered in metre. [J. M.]

Wegleiter, Christoph, a. of Leonhardt Wegleiter, book-keeper at Nürnberg, was b. at Nürnberg, April 22, 1629. In 1676 he matriculated at the University of Altdorf, and so distinguished himself by his poetic gifts that he was, in 1679, received by S. von Birken as a member of the Pegnitz Shepherd and Flower order, and in 1680 was at once crowned M.A. and laureated as a poet. After studying at other German universities, and making a lengthened tour (1683–88) in Germany, Holland, and England, he was appointed, in 1688, Professor of Theology at the University of Altdorf, and also diaconus of the Town Church there; receiving from the University the degree of D.D. in 1697. He d. at Altdorf Aug. 16 (17?), 1706 (Koch, iii., 502; Blätter für Hymnologie, 1885, p. 178; 1886, p. 157; 1887, pp. 30, 31; Will's Nürnbergisches Gelehrten Lexikon, pt. iv. p. 187, &c.).

Wegleiter was a successful professor, and an edifying preacher of the school of Spener and Francke. His hymns, some 33 in all, are thoughtful, original, and devout, but somewhat artificial in style. His were contributed to the 2nd ed., 1691, of the Pegnitz Society's Geistliche Singe-Lust, and to the 3rd ed. the rest appeared in various hymn-books of the period.

The only hymn by Wegleiter which has passed into English is:—

Ich will mich halten zu dir Berge. Sunday Morning. 1st pub. in the Gesäcke Sprüche-Music, Schleusingen, 1691, No. 497, in 8 st. of 8 l., entitled "Sunday Hymn," and marked as by "J. Christ. Wegleiter." Included in the Unv. L. S., 1851. Sometimes erroneously ascribed to B. W. Marpurger. Tr. as:—

Encircled heart! lay by thy sorrow. This is a good tr. of st. i., iv., ii. 1–4; viii. ii. 1–4, beginning, "My God, I now appear before Thee," are included in the Rudge & Huntington Hym. for the Ch. of Christ, Boston, U.S., 1853, No. 4.

Other trs. are:—

(1) "O Unbarder'd Heart, thy Labour banish," by H. J. Buckell, 1843, p. 1. (2) "Now weary heart! lay care dismiss," by Lady E. Pattoun, 1845, p. 18. (3) "Now, lonely heart, weep with bitter tears," by Miss Borthwick, 1846, p. 7. (4) "Encircled heartmail heart, cast off thy sorrow," by Dr. J. Gaskell, 1869, p. 114. (5) "O barded heart, cast off thy sorrow." This is No. 1013 in Reid's Praise Bk., 1872. [J. M.]

Weingärtner, Sigismund. Very little is known of this author. His name appears as "Sigismund Weingart" in the Index of Authors prefixed to the 766 Geistliche Psalmen, &c., pub. at Nürnberg in 1697, but no biographical particulars are there given. He is generally said to have been a preacher in or near Heilbronn. But Koch, ii. 300, says that no preacher of that name ever held office in or near Heilbronn on the Neckar; and conjectures that he may have been of Heilbronn in Bavaria. As to Heilbronn, Dr. Zahn, now of Neuendettelsau in Bavaria, informs me that there was no preacher of that name near Heilbronn, and that he has been unable anywhere to trace this writer. Goedeke, in his Grundriss, vol. ii., 1884, p. 198, says, "he seems to have been of Basel," but for this also there is no clear evidence.

In the 1697 work as above, the Index of First Lines reads thus:—

"S. W. Auff Jesum Christum stets all mein Thun, 765."
"Auff meinen lieben Gott, trew ich, 434."

The latter has been tr. into English, viz.:—

Auf meinen lieben Gott. Trust in God. Included, 1867, as above, p. 658, in 3 st. of 8 l., entitled, "Another beautiful hymn"; but, as will be seen above, no initials are given in the 1697 Index, and no author's name. The compilers, however (such as Jeremias Weber in his G. B., Leipzig, 1698, p. 767), marked as "Another. Sigismund Weingärtners"), transferred the initials given in the 1697 Index, and so ascribed "Auf meinen lieben Gott" to Weingärtner, which ascription has been followed since. 2. Curtze in his D. Philipp Nicolai's Leben und Lieder, 1859, p. 18, ascribes the hymn to Friedrich Spanheim, since 1645 preacher at the same Heilbronn church, who, in 1664, published a work entitled "Geistliche evangel.-s. Lieder," which, given in an anonymous, printing is from M. Vulpius's G. B., 1609, with a second form from J. Addenbrger's Gebetbüchlein, Nürnberg, 1611. Whoever was the author the hymn is certainly a good one, and has been a great favourite in Germany. In the five,

L. S., 1862, No. 604, st. 1–3, vi. are as in 1667, and st. 4–6 are from the Geistliche Seelenmusik of Freylinghausen's Freylinghausen, 1710. The tr. in C. U. are:—

1. On God in all my woes. This is a good tr. of st. i.–iv. of the 1667, by A. T. Russell, as No. 231 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851.

2. In God my faithful God. This is a good and full tr. from the 1667, by Miss Winkworth, in her C. S. for England, 1863, No. 179, slightly altered in her Christian Singers, 1869, p. 134. Repeated, omitting st. iv., in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

Other trs. are:—

(1) "In God the Lord must join," by J. C. Jacobi, 1737, p. 42; repeated in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, pt. i., No. 474. (2) "I trust my blessed God," by N. L. Frothingham, 1870, p. 319. [J. M.]

Weisse, Michael (Weiss, Wiss, Wegs, Weyss, Weyss), was b. circa 1480, in Neisse, Silesia, took priest's orders, and was for some time a monk at Breslau. When the early writings of Luther came into his hands, Weisse, with two other monks, abandoned the convent, and sought refuge in the Bohemian Brethren's House at Leutomischl in Bohemia. He became German preacher (and apparently founder of the German communities) to the Bohemian Brethren at Landskron in Bohemia, and Fulneck in Moravia, and d. at Landskron in 1534 (Koch, ii. 113–120; Wackernagel's D. Kirchenlied, i. p. 727; Fontes rerum Austriacarum, Scriptores, vol. ii. pt. ii. p. 227, Vienna, 1863, &c.).

Weisse was admitted as a priest among the Brethren at the Synod of Brandeis, in 1531, and this year was appointed to translate the Bohemian hymns into German, and to write original hymns. In 1532 he was joined by Johann Horn, who had previously performed important missions for the Brethren. He was, e.g., sent by Bishop Lucas, in 1533, along with J. Huß or Horn, to explain the views of the Bohemian Brethren to Luther; and again, in 1534, when they had an interview with Luther at Jüterbock, on the doctrines and holiness of life of the followers of the German Reformers. He was also entrusted with the editing of the first German hymn-book of the Bohemian Brethren, which appeared as Ein New Gesengbüchlein etc. Jungen, 1531 (Wackernagel's Bibliographie, 1855, pp. 146, 147). This contained 100 hymns, all apparently either translations or else originals by himself. The proportion of trs. is not very clear. In the preface to the 1531, Weisse addressing the German Communities at Fulneck and Landskron says, "I have, to the utmost of my power, put forth all my ability, your old hymn-book as well as the Bohemian hymn-book (Cantionel) being before me, and have brought the same sense, in accordance with Holy Scripture, into German rhyme." So also in the preface to the 1533 edition, in which he describes himself as correcting "hymns which he (i.e. Weisse) transferred from Bohemian into German"; and the 1535 ed. speaks of Weisse as having "begun to translate the (Bohemian) Cantionel, and rendered 143 hymns into German." The Bohemian Cantionel of 1505 is the only one yet known to which these references can apply.

Luther called Weisse "a good poet, with somewhat erroneous views on the Sacrament" (i.e. Holy Communion); and, after the Sacramental hymns had been removed, he says, "Weisse's hymns are the best after Speratus's O. J., 1548. Many of his hymns possess considerable merit. The style is flowing and musical, the religious tone is earnest and manly, but yet tender and truly devout, and the best of them are distinguished by a healthy objectivity, and freedom from subjectivity." At least 112 passed into the German Lutheran hymn-books of the 16th and 17th centuries, and many are still in use. These are annotated in this Dictionary at pp. 398, ii.; 522, i.; and 595, i.

The following hymns by Weisse have also passed into English:—

i. Christus ist erstanden, Von des Todes Banden. Easter. 1st pub. 1531 as above, and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 273, in 7 st. of 4 l. It is suggested by the older hymn, "Christ ist erstanden" (p. 288, i.). In the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 129. The tr. in C. U. is:—

Christ the Lord is risen again: This is a full and very good tr., by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 37, and her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 58. It has been included in many recent English and American hymnals; generally omitting st. ii., as in H. A. & M., 1861; Hymnary, 1872; Thring's Coll., 1880–82; Comp. Ch. Hyl., 1887, and in America in the Epis. Hyl., 1871; Bapt. Service of Song, 1871, &c. Further abridged forms are in the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871; and in the Lambs Dominl, N. Y., 1884, and many others, especially in America.

Other trs. are:—

(1) "Christ (and 'tis no wonder")." This is No. 302 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. (2) "Christ our Lord is risen," by Dr. H. Mills, 1864, p. 222.

ii. Es geht daher den Tages Schein. Morning. 1531 as above, and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 318, in 7 st. of 4 l. In the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 455. The tr. in C. U. are:—

1. The Light of Day again we see. In full, by H. J. Buckell in his Hys. from German, 1845, p. 14. His trs. of st. iii., iv., vi., vii., beginning "Great God, eternal Lord of Heaven," were included in the Rugby School H. Bk., 1843.

2. Soon more the day-light shines abroad. This is a full and very good tr., by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 69, and her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 18. Repeated in Thring's Coll., 1880–82.

iii. Gelobt sei Gott im höchsten Thron. Easter. 1531 as above, and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 285, in 20 st. of 3 l., with Alleluia. In the Pfalz G. B., 1859, No. 19, five st. are given, and in Layriz's Kern, 1844, No. 139, there are six st. At p. 127 it is marked as from the Bohemian (1st pub. 1501), the Bohemian being suggested by the "Surrexit Christus hodie" (p. 1156, i.), and the German being based on both. The trs. in C. U. are:—

1. Praise God upon His heavenly throne. This is a free tr. of st. 1, 4, 10, 19, 20, by A. T. Russell, as No. 115, in his Ps. & Hys., 1851.

2. Glory to God upon His throne. By Mrs. H. R. Spotts, in the Southern Lutheran Service and Hys. for Sunday Schools, Philadelphia, 1883.

iv. Gott sah zu seiner Zeit. Circumcis. 1531 as above, and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 244, in 10 st. of 9 l. The tr. in C. U. is:—

When the due Time had taken place. By C. Kluchen, omitting st. v., as No. 169 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742 (1848, No. 20). In the ed. of 1886, No. 954 consists of st. x., beginning "At once, Lord Jesus, hear our prayer."

v. Lob sei dem allmächtigen Gott. Advent. 1531 as above, and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 230, in 14 st. of 4 l. Included in V. Babst's G. B., 1545, and recently as No. 12 in the Unv. L. S., 1851. In the larger ed. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1886, it is marked as a tr. from a Bohemian hymn, beginning "Cirkev Kristova Boha chvalí." The trs. are:—

1. Praise be to that Almighty God. By J. Gumbold, omitting st. xi.–xiii., as No. 246, in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. In the 1789 and later eds. (1886, No. 31), it begins "To God we render thanks and praise."

2. O come, th' Almighty's praise declare. By A. T. Russell, of st. i.–iii., v., as No. 26 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851.

vi. O Herre Jesu Christ, der du erschienen bist. For Children. On Christ's Example to His early years on earth. 1531 as above, and in Wackernagel, iii. p. 326, in 7 st. of 7 l. The first three st. are tr. as "Christ Jesus, Lord most dear," in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, pt. i., No. 275. The form in C. U. is that in Knapp's Ev. L. S., 1837, No. 2051 (1865, No. 2661), which begins "Nun hilf uns, o Herr Jesu Christ," and is in 3 st. of 4 l., entirely recast. This is tr. as:—

Lord Jesus Christ, we come to Thee. In full from Kaapp, by Miss Winkworth, in her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 179.

Hymns not in English C. U.:—

vii. Den Vater dort oben. Grace after Meat. 1531, and thence in Wackernagel, iii., p. 321, in 3 st. of 7 l. In the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1867, No. 1136. Tr. as, "Our Father, who dwellest above." In Mützell, 1st ed., 1733, p. 195, slightly altered, and thence in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, pt. i., No. 398.

viii. Die Sonne wird mit ihrem Schein. Evening. 1531, and thence in Wackernagel, iii., p. 225, in 6 st. of 8 l. In the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 1139. Tr. as, "The sun, with all its golden ray." In Mützell, 1st ed., 1733, p. 195, slightly altered, and thence in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, pt. i., No. 399.

ix. Komm, heiliger Geist, wahrer Gott. Whitsuntide. 1531, and in Wackernagel, iii., p. 285, in 6 st. of 5 l. From the Bohemian as noted at p. 127, and partly translated from the Latin "Veni Sancte Spiritus." Tr. as, "Come, Holy Ghost, Lord God to dwell." This is No. 295 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. (2) "Thou great Teacher, Whitsuntide." This is a tr. of st. vii., as No. 324 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1886 (1849, No. 30).

x. Nun bitten wir den heiligen Geist. Whitsuntide. Tie Creation, Regeneration, etc. 1531, and in Wackernagel, iii., p. 287, in 4 st. of 12 l. Tr. as, "Come, glory, Godlike, be ever paid," by Miss Winkworth, 1863, p. 137.

xi. O Jesu Christ, der Heiden Licht. Epiphany. 1531, and in Wackernagel, iii. p. 240, in 2 st. of 14 l. Tr. as, "O Jesus Christ, light of the Gentiles." This is No. 253 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1467, st. ii. was rewritten. This form begins, "Kindertes süss' Auszuwählen," and is in 4 st. of 8 l. Tr. as, "Lord, to Thy chosen ones appear." In Kennedy, 1863, No. 1167, st. ii.

xii. Singet Jesu Lieb. Redemption by Christ. 1531, and in Wackernagel, iii. p. 245, in 16 st. of 4 l. Tr. as, "Sing, be glad, ye happy ones." This is a tr. of st. xiv., by C. S. Greene, as No. 399 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, pt. i. (1886, No. 1049, st. i.–iii. and No. 447) it is given, "O rejoice, Christ's happy sheep."

Besides the above the following in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, are also from Weisse (the numbers in brackets being references to the complete hymns in vol. iii. of Wackernagel, in cases where the tr. does not begin with st. i. of the original), viz. Nos. 247, 248, 250, 255, 256 (iii., 236), 257, 261, 270, 271 (iii., 331), 272, 273 (iii., 401), 280 (iii., 355), 284, 288 (see p. 127. Trs. from the Bohemian). No. 2), 289 (iii., 378), 292. [J. M.]

Weissel, Georg, s. of Johann Weissel, judge and afterwards burgomaster at Domnau, near Königsberg, was b. at Domnau in 1590. He studied at the University of Königsberg, from 1608 to 1611, and thereafter, for short periods, at Wittenberg, Leipzig, Jena, Strasburg, Basel and Marburg. In 1614 he was appointed rector of the school at Friedland near Domnau, but resigned this post after three years, and returned to Königsberg to resume his studies in theology. Finally, in 1623, he became pastor of the newly erected Altroegart church at Königsberg, where he remained till his death, on August 1, 1635 (Koch, iii. 190; Altpreussische Monatsschrift, 1867, p. 430; Goedeke's Grundrisse, vol. iii., 1887, p. 122, &c.).

Weissel was one of the most important of the earlier hymn-writers of Prussia. His lyrics, about 20 in all, are good in style, moderate in length, and varied in metre. The earliest seem to have been written for use at the consecration of the Altroegart church on the 2nd Sun. after Trinity, 1623, and others for the various festivals of the Christian year. The best are No. 10 below, and those for the dying. They appeared mostly in the Königsberg hymn-books, 1628–1650, and in his Preussische Fest-Lieder, pt. i., Elbing, 1642; pt. ii., Königsberg, 1644 (Berlin Library).

Those of Weissel's hymns which have passed into English are:—

i. Im finstern Stall, o Wunder gross. Christmas. 1st pub. in B. Derschau's Annerirsame geistliche Lieder, Königsberg, 1639, p. 7, in 3 st. of 9 l. In the Preussische Fest-Lieder, pt. i., 1642, No. 14, it is entitled "On the Birth of Christ, laid in tenebris lucet," and in the Index is marked as by Georg Weissellus. Repeated in the Königsberg G. B., 1650, p. 66, and as No. 168 in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863. The tr. in C. U. is:—

O miracle of love and might! This is a somewhat free tr., omitting st. v., by Dr. Kennedy, as No. 104 in his Hymns, Christ., 1863.

ii. Macht hoch die Thür, das Thor macht weit. Advent. This is a Hymn of Triumph for the Entry of the King of Glory, founded on Ps. xxiv.; and is one of the finest German Advent hymns. 1st pub. in the Preussische Fest-Lieder, pt. i., 1642, No. 2, in 5 st. of 9 l., marked as "On the 1st S. of Advent," and in the Index marked as by Georgius Weissellus. Included in Crüger's Praxis, Frankfort-am-Main, 1662, and most later books, as e.g. the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 1109. The trs. in C. U. are:—

1. Lift up your heads, ye mighty gates. This is a good and full tr. by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 1st Ser., 1855, p. 10, and her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 25. In the Cong. Church Hyl., 1887, the Songs. Hyl., N. Y., 1880, and others, the original form is followed. In the Bapt. Ps. & Hys., 1858; Bapt. Hyl., 1879; Horder's Cong. Hys., 1884, and others, ii. 7, 8 of each stanza are omitted. In Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869, p. 17, ll. 1–4 of each stanza are given, and then ll. 6, 7 of st. iv., v. are added as a sixth st.—this form being followed in the Hys. & Songs of Praise, N. Y., 1874; Meth. Epis. Hyl., 1878, and other American Colls. Other forms are:—

(1) Behold Zion cometh from afar (L. alt.). This (partly from Mercer) is in the 1874 Supp. to the New Cong. H. Bk., and the 1876 Appx. to the Leeds H. Bk.

(2) Lift up your heads, ye gates, even wide. In J. L. Porter's Coll., 1854, altered from No. 1.

(3) Oh! hallowed is the land and blest (iii. 1, i, alt.). In the American Sabbath H. Bk., 1858, &c.

(4) O blest the souls, for ever blest (iii. 1, i, alt.). In Rev. T. Darling's Coll., 1867, No. 1.

(5) Thy gates with the portals of your heart (iv.). In the American Unitarian H. Bk., 1868.

2. The mighty gates of earth unbar. This is by W. Mercer, based on Miss Winkworth's tr., in his Church P. & H. Bk., 1857, No. 14 (Ox. ed., 1864, No. 71), repeated in Kennedy, 1863.

Another tr. is:—"Lift up, lift up your heads, ye gates," by G. Moultrie, in his Rhymes of a Parson, 1870.

iii. Wo ist dein Stachel nun, o Tod! Easter. Founded on 1 Cor. xv., 55–58. 1st pub. as No. 3 in pt. ii., 1644, of the Preussische Fest-Lieder, as 5 st. of 9 l., entitled "For the Easter festival," and in the index marked as by Georgius Weissellus. Thence in the Königsberg G. B., 1650, p. 193, and others. The form which has passed into English is that in the Hannover G. B., 1657, No. 74, in 10 st., repeated as No. 315 in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863. This, beginning "O Tod, wo ist dein Stachel nun," is entirely rewritten, probably by Justus Gerstius. Tr. as:—

O Death! where is thy cruel sting! This is a full and good version of the 1657 text, as No. 80 in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880, marked as a compilation. [J. M.]

Weissensee, Philipp Heinrich, was b. Feb. 6, 1675, at Vaihingen, near Gaildorf, Würtemberg, where his father was pastor and consistorialrath. He studied at the University of Tübingen, and, after acting as assistant to several clergymen, became, in 1697, a tutor to the court pages at Stuttgart. In 1703 he was appointed a tutor in the clergy training school at Maulbronn, and in 1708 in that at Blaubeuren. He was then appointed, in 1722, prelate at Blaubeuren, and in 1727 took up residence at Stuttgart as prelate of Hirsau and member of the Würtemberg consistory. For political reasons he was removed, in 1740, to Denkendorf near Esslingen, as Probst and General Superintendent. He d. at Denkendorf, Jan. 6, 1767, being then the Father and Senior of the Lutheran Church in Würtemberg (Koch, v. 79; B. Hoog's Lexikon der würtembergischen Landgeistlichkeit, 1796, p. 62, and Appx. ii., &c.).

Weissensee was one of the earliest friends of Foreign Missions, being specially interested in that to Malabar. He was a good poet, and 1715 puts a German metrical version of Ps. cxxxvii. on record. Some of the most important of his hymns were contributed to the 2nd ed. of J. A. Cramolich's Vierzig Betrachtungen von Christi Leiden und Tod, auf die Vierzig Tagen in den Fasten, Stuttgart, 1727 (Berlin Library. The 1st ed., 1720, has no hymns).

Those of Weissensee's hymns which have passed into English are:—

1. Der Tod kommt an: da soll ich ringen. Fer-tig. 1st pub. 1727 as above, p. 134, in 4 st. of 6 l., as the companion to Meditation xv. on St. Luke xxii. 44. Included in Knapp's Sa. L., 1837 and 1865. In Bonnet's Versuch, 1833, No. 102, it begins "Kommt an der Tod, da ich soll ringen." The tr. in C. U. is:

When the last agony draws nigh. This is a good tr. of st. i., iv., by Miss Winkworth in her Lyra Ger., 1st ser., 1855, p. 59, repeated in pt. iii. No. 540 in the Pennsylvania Luth. Church Bk., 1868.

2. Jesu, hilf betne! und bete du Treuer. Prayer. 1st pub. 1727 as above, p. 134, in 4 st. of 6 l., as the companion to Meditation x. on St. Luke xxii. 40. In Knapp's Sa. L., 1837 and 1865. In Bonnet's Versuch, 1833, No. 103. Tr. as "Help me to pray, Lord! and make supplication," by J. D. Burn in his Memoir and Remains, 1868, p. 535. [J. M.]

Welsh Hymnody. No reasonable doubt can exist as to hymns being sung in the early British Church. People whose muse always sang the praises of men, whether kings, warriors, or patriots, would scarcely fail to pour forth their feelings of devotion, and to give the highest scope possible to their muse in the form of hymns or sacred lyrics. In the works of Taliesin, who is supposed to be a bard of the sixth century, reference is made to the hymnology of that period, "Nid cerddor eil-fydd ni molwy Ddafydd: nid cywir coiniad ni molwy y Tâd"; that is, "No musician is skilful unless he extols the Lord, and no singer is correct unless he praises the Father."

In the works of Llewddun, a bard who took a prominent part in the reformation of Welsh poetry in the year 1451, some reference is also made to the hymnology of the mediæval period:—

> "Mi a lusiaf fen lawraith,
> Gywreinia' ochrau saith;
> Gwnaf gerdd, gwaith awdwr,
> A pheraidd gan i Fair fyth."

Tudur Aled, also, says that in heaven it will be a part of the saints' supremest joy to sing the Virgin's praises:—

> "Cawn wynfyd, cawn y Wenfair, > Cawn y nef oll, canwn i Fair."

In the year 1340, Dafydd Ddu o Hiraddug Vicar of Trevoelrhicin, and Canon of St. Asaph, composed some hymns, perhaps the first Welsh hymns, since the early Church hymns were lost. He also translated the Te Deum, in the Welsh metre known as Hyrpat or Vaulted Strain. His sacred poem, Am Ddiwedd Dyn o'i Gorph, is printed in the Myvyrian Archæology of Wales. Also a very poetical translation of the Officium B. Mariæ from Latin into Welsh by him, fills thirty columns of the first volume of the Myvyrian Archæology.

At the time of the Protestant Reformation the Welsh appeared to have lost the spirit of sacred song. On the Continent the Reformation was the signal for an outburst of vernacular hymnology. Luther's hymns and psalms fired the hearts of his followers, so that his opponents feared his hymns more than his sermons, and England and Wales caught the fire.

1. Established Church.—In the years 1540–62, Sternhold and Hopkins gave to the English people the Metrical Psalms; but Wales had to wait many years for the appearance of a poet whose name is now familiar to all Welshmen, as well as the task he so admirably performed—Archæos Edmund Prys.

1. Vicar Prichard, commonly known as Vicar Rees Prichard (p. 988, i.), did good service as a hymnologist. It appears that his book called Canwyll y Cymry; or, the Welshman's Candle, was at one time much used, and some of its quaint verses sung as hymns, probably for the want of something better, for in his days the voice of sacred song and praise was scarcely heard in Wales. His compositions were in use before Archdeacon Prys's Psalms were published. On the decay of religion in Wales, according to one author, when the recognised teachers of the people neglected their duty, The Welshman's Candle appeared and was extensively circulated. Much of it was sung, for it acted as a kind of Welsh hymnbook. It was the beginning of a new era. The following is one of his hymns, that was much used before and after Archdeacon Prys's Psalms appeared. The title is:—Mawlgan am gariad Crist at y Sayd (or, Praise for Christ's love for the world):—

> "Rhyfedd fawr parhad Mab Duw at y byd,
> Pan ddaeth efe i'w Nefoedd i'n prynu nor ddrud;
> Myfyriwn i gofio am gariad Mab Duw,
> A'i ffrâs wanadol tra bythom ni byw.
> Cyfarwyddid y Gythrudd, hoddiweddi ei Dad,
> Fe'n prynwyd ni gynnoch, i'n achub i'n rhad;
> Ni ddaeth ond un waith, ni ddichon i'n Duw,
> Molianem yr hwn tra bythom ni byw.
> Fe ddaeg ar y Croesbren ein pechod bob un,
> Fe'n gwledd o'i fwrdd ni bydd ar ol wael ar hyn;
> Fe'n prynwyd yn ffreinied offrwad i Ddiw,
> Molianem yr hwn tra bythom ni byw.
> A'r Ail Ddyn a'n hachubodd o'r byd pryd,
> A'r Ail Ddyn a'n dwg ni'n ol i'n gwlad ddrud;
> A marw glad a meiliad i'n Perynor a'n Pry,
> A d'wedd pob Cristion yn wastad, Amen."

This may be taken as a specimen of his style, and of the early hymns that were heard from every mouth in the Principality before the time of Archdeacon Prys.

"It is scarcely credible," says Canon Williams, "with what avidity and pleasure the work was received, read, repeated, and it may be said, sung by the people."

2. Archdeacon Prys (p. 913, ii.), however, is the connecting link between our Hymnology and the Reformation period. It was in the year 1621 that he turned the Psalms into a metrical shape, in order, as he quaintly puts it, "that the Welsh people might be enabled to praise God from their hearts." It was a glorious task. His version of the Psalms is still used. Some have thought it dry and stiff, but on the whole the task was admirably performed. The Ven. Archdeacon Prys was a man of deep learning and piety. He was educated at St. John's College, Cambridge, where he took his degree. He assisted Dr. Morgan in the translation of the Welsh Bible; and from his Metrical Psalms, Englynion, Cywyddau, and other things composed by him, we have abundant evidence that he was a man of culture, taste and capacity, and that he possessed the religious spirit that could enter into sympathetic relations with the authors of the Psalms, and interpret them from his inmost soul. In some cases, indeed, his rendering of the Psalms, and his recasting them as it were in his own mould, sheds a flood of light on their meaning. His version of the latter part of the 110th Psalm has been pointed out as an illustration of this: "He shall drink of the brook in the way, therefore shall he lift up the head."

> "O wir frys i'r ayfadau hen,
> Fe ŷf i'r afon nos,
> A gefn, ar d'ordd yn rhwydd
> Yr Arglwydd a'i dyrchafa."

That of itself is a sufficient commentary on the Psalm, and its reference to the sufferings and exaltation of the Messiah. It has been said that the Archdeacon's translation of the Psalms is dry and rugged, and that in several places he is guilty of breaking the fixed rules of poetry, and of frequently ignoring the principle of metres so thoroughly developed in Welsh poetry. This, I believe, is a mistake. The old poet, if fairly dealt with, shows that he understood and recognised the principles of rhyme and metre, and the various ways of measuring and adorning Welsh poetry, and their development into a system and rules of art. I do not say that his metrical Psalms are faultless, but I hold that he is not so guilty of the fault called cmacawniaid, as we have accused him of being. I believe he has respected the rules of rhyme and rhythm, and where he is thought guilty of trampling on those of metre, he is skilfully avoiding doing so by changing the metrical feet and antimeters [cyhyddedau a'r cyrfawnau]. The ninety-second Psalm, in which occurs the famous stanza—

> "Y rhai a blanwyd yn yby Ddiw,
> Yn gwedwlo fyw y gyfiaith,
> A'm nghyntedau ein Duw ni
> Y rhedwy a flodeuaith," is an excellent translation.

3. Next to the Archdeacon's comes the name of Rowland Vaughan (p. 1200, i.), a gentleman, a scholar, and an excellent poet, although his chief mark was made as a translator of hymns, &c. His translation of that beautiful hymn, "Veni Creator Spiritus," is well-known. Whether he translated the original Latin or the English of Bishop Cosin we are not able to decide. The English and Welsh metres, however, differ, the Welsh being a little shorter than the English, but in sweetness, vividness and strength the Welsh far surpasses the English. We quote the opening stanza of each, together with the original:—

> "Veni Creator Spiritus
> Mentes tuorum visita,
> Imple superna gratia,
> Quæ tu creasti pectora."
>
> "Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire,
> And lighten with celestial fire;
> Thou the anointing spirit art
> Who dost thy seven-fold gifts impart."
>
> "Tyr'd Tolygd Glân i'n c'lonau ni,
> A thod d'olewai nefol;
> Ti yw'r Iawn Ddyfodiad addawedig, dy ddawn
> Sydd fel yr hoen a rhagrodd."

Rowland Vaughan's tr. of the Veni Creator Spiritus, and Gobrwyad Prydyddion, ought to be remembered, for we have nothing more beautiful in the whole range of Welsh Hymnology.

4. Elis Wyn o Lanwyn (p. 1288, ii.) (or Ieuan Cyng) should be mentioned in connection with this period. One of the best Welsh hymns we have was composed by him, and was as much admired then as it is now. It is a funeral hymn, or, as the Welsh people call it, "Emyn Cynhalwaeg, neu Wylnos." It always appeared in Welsh editions of the Prayer-book after 1710:—

> "Myfi yw'r Adgyfodiad mawr.
> Myfi yw gwaeyd y bywyd;
> Cyffr pawb a'm rhoi, medd I'r Arglwydd Ddaw,
> Er trengu, fyw neum ethyd.
> A hwy a gredant yn fy Nyfodd grêd
> I nef, cyffl a'r wynfyd rediad.
> Na ofn'r Angau brenhin hiaw,
> Ddrwg ddaw yn drag 'wyddiad.
> Yn wir, yn wir, medd Gwir ei Ffun,
> Pob cyfrwy ddyn sy'n gwrando
> Fy Ngair, ac yn credu'n Nuw a'm hesu,
> Y mae ddi-ger gyntaf gaad
> A wnet ei cwrs'n ufuddhau,
> Trwy fyddi i'w gwrian hyfryd;
> Ni ddaw i farn, ond trwodd aeth,
> O angau caeth, i'r eyaf."

Some of his works are mentioned in his biographical notice, q.v.

5. The Rev. Griffith Jones (p. 666, ii.), of Llanddowror, published a hymn-book under the title of Coaplead a Hymnaeu, gan y Parch. Griffith Jones. (A Collection of Hymns by the Rev. Griffith Jones.) We have not been able to find any hymns composed by this celebrated clergyman. The hymns in his collection were selections from the works of different authors. The Rev. Griffith Jones has been called the morning star of the Reformation in Wales. His voice had been heard speaking against corruption and sins rampant in Wales more than twenty years before Rowland and Harris began to rouse the country. Williams of Pantycelyn refers to this in his elegy to the Rev. Griffith Jones:—

> "Dywedir fod cyn dyred allan,
> Ryw lais yn nodi cyn nos'i wawr;
> Had St Iacwsli, fe ogleuid,
> Fe ddaeth yn gyntaf'mwrr."

His collection of Hymns is not in use now, though some of the hymns it contained are still sung by Welsh congregations.

6. The Rev. Evan Evans (Glanpeirianglyd), is the chief hymnologist of this century. He published two books of hymns and tunes between the years 1822 and 1841. He was Vicar of Bleyl, and died in the year 1850. "Ar lan Iordonen ddofn," and "O Ddiw, rho i'm dy hedd," are two of his hymns that have been sung, and are still sung with motives by many Welsh congregations. Most of his hymns are tender and plaintive. His collections of hymns and tunes are not in use in the Welsh Church now, but in every edition of hymns published in Wales by Churchmen and Dissenters, since his time, his hymns always appear among the choicest.

Several hymn-books have appeared for use in the Established Church in Wales, from time to time, since the days of the Rev. Griffith Jones. Often clergymen composed and collected a number of hymns for one or two or more parishes. This seems to have been the state of things during the greater part of the seventeenth century. After that larger collections were published, but with no efforts to secure for the Welsh Church one general hymn-book. The hymns sung by the Church were much the same as those sung by Nonconformists throughout Wales.

7. The Rev. Robert Davies, M.A., published a collection of hymns which proved useful in parts of North Wales. It was called :—

Hymnau ar Hyfforddiant Aelwyd Lwyr, wedi eu casglu allan o amryw gasgliadau cenhedlaeth, yn nghyd ag amryw rai nevoyddiaeth; that is, "Hymns on the Feasts and Fasts of the Church of England, collected from various collections, together with a number of Hymns, by the Rev. Robert Davies, M.A., of Cambridge, and Curate of Llanddian, in Flintshire."

Singularly the book has no date. It was published at Denbigh. Several of its hymns are found in the collections of the present day.

Another hymn-book which was in use in many churches, was called Dewisol Joseph's Book. The Rev. Daniel Jones was a celebrated clergyman in South Wales. He was Vicar of St. Dogmell's in Pembrokeshire. His book is still used in some parts of Wales. Another collection was called The Bishops' Hymn-book. This was collected and published under the direction of the four Bishops, and was an attempt to provide a book for the general use of the Church in Wales. The attempt was not successful: for some reason or other the work failed to commend itself to the universal favour of the Welsh Church.

8. There are three collections which have had a large circulation, and are now used throughout the Principality. (1) Hymnau Hen a Newydd, or "Hymns Ancient and Modern," London, Haddon, 1868, 553 H.; enlarged in 1873 to 596 H., not to be confounded with the English hymn-book of the same name, though the Introits are added, and it is of a similar school. (2) The Rev. Canon Daniel Evans's book, Hymnau a Thonau, London, Novello, 1865, 504 H.; and the (3) Emynydd by the late Rev. T. Williams, Rector of St. George, dedicated to the Lord Bishop of St. Asaph.

These three books contain many of the same hymns, being selections from the works of Williams of Pantycelyn, Morgan Rhys, Ann Griffiths, Rev. E. Evans, and translations from English collections. These hymns as yet belong to no party in the Church, but are hymns that may be sung by all. Complaints are made by some clergymen that many of the hymns are of too subjective a cast, and that they should be replaced by hymns more objective in character, and there is also a demand for more Sacramental Hymns. There is now [1886] in course of preparation, by the Rev. Ellis Roberts, Vicar of Llangwm; and the Rev. W. G. Thomas, Vicar of St. Asaph, a new hymnal which is intended, in accordance with the Bishop of St. Asaph's desire, to be a good and acceptable hymnal for the use of the Church in Wales.

ii. Calvinistic Methodists.

1. During the latter part of the eighteenth century a complete change came over the country. The cold negligent spirit which had characterised the first half, disappeared, the people were shaken from a long deep sleep, and with the revival came a love for hymns and spiritual songs. The Methodist revival is a starting point from which has been unfolded a rich and pure literature that will bear comparison with anything of the same nature produced by the most cultured nations. Foremost in the rank of religious poets stands the Rev. W. Williams (b. 1717, d. 1791) of Pantycelyn. He was a most prolific writer. It is a matter of history that his sacred songs and hymns did more than anything else to arouse the people and create a taste for reading in all parts of Wales. The extensive circulation and the universal reception given to his hymns published at different times between the years 1744 and 1758, must lead us to believe that they carried a mighty influence, and were a great factor in the education of the people of Wales. People who could not themselves read soon learnt the hymns, and thousands of people knew a great many of them by heart. All his works appeared in one volume in 1758, and contained upwards of 800 hymns. They are still in general use in the Established Church, and among the different denominations.

2. Morgan Rhys, of Llanfaredd (d. 1776), worked well to build up Welsh hymnody. There are about two hundred of his hymns now extant. Many of them are the favourite hymns of Welsh congregations. The following :—

"O agor fy llygaid i weled."
"Dyma Gariad i'r colledig."
"O gariad, o gariad, anfeidrol ei fraint," &c.,

have found their way into every collection of hymns by Churchmen and Nonconformists. He was a contemporary of Williams of Pantycelyn, and belonged to the same religious body.

3. The Rev. David Morris, David Charles, and Thomas Charles, have contributed to the hymnology of Wales. The well-known hymn, "O fynnau Cacmalem eoir gweled," by the Rev. D. Charles, of Caermarthen, is to be found in all Welsh hymnals. The Rev. Thomas Charles, of Bala, the eminent divine, and one of the founders of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and organiser of the Sunday School as it now exists in Wales, has left behind him only one hymn, but of such a beautiful character as to make Welsh people wish he had done more in that direction. This hymn is in the Calvinistic Hymn-book, now in use among that body throughout the country. It begins, "Dyfais fawr trwy'r wyddol gurad." In that book it is divided into two parts with five verses in each part. The Rev. D. Charles, jun., is the translator of "Jerusalem, my happy home," as "O Salem, fy anwyl gartref."

4. The Calvinistic Hymn-book that we have just referred to, was published by the authority of the General Assembly of the Calvinistic Methodists, and is perhaps the most perfect hymnal in Wales. It is the only hymn-book used among the congregations of that body throughout the Principality. A list of the authors from whose works the hymns are selected is given in the beginning of the book, and the number of authors is over fifty, but by far the greatest number of hymns is taken from W. Williams of Pantycelyn. The book was prepared by a committee appointed by the General Assembly, and bears the date of 1860.

iii. Congregational.

1. One of the first editions of hymns, if not the first ever published, for the Congregationalists in Wales, was by the Rev. T. Beddy, in 1703, about 14 years before Williams of Pantycelyn was born, and about 82 years after the appearance of Archdeacon Prys's Psalms. Beddy published an edition of hymns under the title of Sacramental Hymns, and also a translation of Thomas Doolittle's Christian's Treasure, to which were added six hymns to be sung after receiving Holy Communion.

2. In the year 1714, the Rev. D. Lewis, Newport, published Heavenly Songs and Spiritual Hymns. Nothing is known of him beyond the fact that he was a minister of the gospel in South Wales.

3. In 1742, the Rev. Herbert Jenkins issued his Hymnau Dawid. Mr. Jenkins was a minister at Maidstone, where he d. in 1772, after a ministry of more than 24 years.

4. David Jones, of Caio, is known as the translator of Dr. Watts's works. He published his translation of Watts's Psalms in 1753, and soon afterwards a translation of Watts's Divine Songs.

5. The Rev. Iorwerth Thomas, of Rhaiadr, published many editions of hymns between the years 1776 and 1786, under the titles of Canidau Sion, and Hymnau yn perthyn i'r Drysorfa Ewyddol (or, "Hymns relating to the Golden Treasury" [a Magazine]). There are extant about 167 of his hymns, many of which are still used in many congregations.

6. The Rev. Thomas Williams (q.v.), of Bethesda'r Fro, was a prolific hymn-writer. He published his first collection of hymns in 1812. They became very popular among the Independents and other denominations in Wales.

7. The Congregationalists have had several collections of hymns since the publication of Watts's Hymns, &c. In 1840, Mr. Evan Edwards, of Mold, brought out a collection, and Dr. Rees published the Perganiedydd (or, "The Sweet Singer") in 1847. Another collection by the Rev. E. Griffiths, of Swansea, appeared in 1857; and Caledfryn's Collection, in 1861. Their best collection is Aberth Moliant, pub. in Liverpool (?), chief ed. Dr. W. Rees.

8. The collection known as S. R., published in 1841, is still used by some congregations.

9. The collection of hymns and tunes in general use among the Congregationalists at present, is Jesus & Stephens, published in 1868; and a 2nd ed. by Stephens in 1869. This last book contains the principal hymns of Williams of Pantycelyn; D. Jones, of Caio, D. Williams, Ann Griffiths, Edward Jones, B. Francis, and others.

iv. Baptists.

1. The first collection of hymns belonging to the Baptist denomination in Wales, was by the Rev. Joseph Harris (Gomer), 1821, and this was their only book for many years. The hymns it contained were principally selections, but it contained also many new hymns by "Gomer" himself and his talented son, Iemau Dda, also by the Rev. Benjamin Francis, Titus Lewis, and D. Saunders. It contained about 800 hymns.

2. Later the Rev. Daniel Jones, of Liverpool, made a large collection which was adopted by several congregations, but although it contained many excellent hymns, new and old, it never reached a second edition. After that, the Rev. Robert Jones, Llanllyfni, issued a collection containing new hymns by himself and others. This obtained considerable patronage among the churches in North Wales, and is still in use in some congregations.

3. In the year 1867 another collection made its appearance, compiled by the late Rev. Lewis Jones, of Pwllheli, containing about 1200 hymns. This is extensively used in both South and North Wales.

4. There are also several local hymn-books in use in a few churches in South Wales. In some cases a collection is confined to one congregation.

5. Lately, however, another candidate has made its appearance, and has secured a very large circulation. It is called Llawlyfr Moliant (or, "The Hand-book of Praise"), and was prepared by a committee appointed by the Carnarvon Association, and first published in 1881. It contains 422 hymns and 125 tunes. Between 30,000 and 40,000 copies of this book have been sold.

6. A new edition of J. Harris's (Gomer's) book was published, but arranged differently from the first. "Gomer's" arrangement was topical or doctrinal, but the arrangement of this edition is metrical.

v. Wesleyan Methodists.

1. The Wesleyan Body has a large collection of hymns from different sources which was pub. at Llanidloes in 1846. It contains 1040 hymns. This hymnal was prepared by persons appointed by the Synod. The work is also recommended by two Chief Ministers from North Wales, and two from South Wales. Some of the hymns are very good. Several of the hymns are by Williams, of Pantycelyn (with alterations), and other Welsh hymn-writers. Many of the Wesleys' hymns are translated in this hymnal, and with other translations from the English have become favourite hymns among the congregations of the Welsh Wesleyans.

vi. Unitarians.

The Welsh Unitarians, like their brethren in England, developed in the 18th cent. chiefly out of the old Presbyterian congregations; passing through the same stages of Arminian and Arian doctrine. [OF Unit. Hymnody.]

1. The first book to be used in their congregations appears to have been the translation of Watts's Psalms, by David Jones, of Caio, 1753.

2. In 1796 Rev. Josiah Rees, of Gellionen, pub. a collection of hymns, and the year following a selection from Watts's Psalms. The bulk of these are D. Jones's translations, but hymns are added from other authors, the editor himself, his father, Owen Rees, Sol. Herris, of Swansea, who contributed a translation of Addison's "Spacious firmament," Jenkin Jones, D. Lloyd, David Davis, &c. A new ed. was pub. in 1834 with considerable additions.

3. The great hymn-writer of the Unitarians is Edward Williams (Iolo Morganwg). (1745-1826). He pub. in 1812 a collection of 304 original Psalms, and in 1834 his son brought out a further collection, 211 in number. Them was a new ed. 1857. Iolo has also left a collection of about 2000 hymns in MS., besides those published.

4. In 1807, Rev. John Jones, of Aberdare, brought out a collection of hymns, 208 being by Edward Williams, 66 by Thomas Evans, and some by the editor and his brother Rees Jones.

5. But this and other earlier collections are now superseded in congregational use by the collection of his son, Rev. R. J. Jones, minister at Aberdare.

"Hymnau a Phsalmau Gwahdi; or, Hymns of Praise and Prayer," collected by R. J. Jones, Aberdâr. Imprint, Howell, Penner, 1876. Seconded, 1878.

This collection of 279 hymns is excellent, and is modelled on the plan of Dr. Martineau's Hymns of Praise and Prayer. It contains hymns from many sources, including translations of several in C. U. The translations of Dr. Newman's hymn, "Lead, kindly light"; "Nearer, my God, to Thee," and of "For ever with the Lord," are specially good. The names of the 64 authors from whom the hymns are taken, and a very useful glossary, form a part of the book. The bulk of the hymns are by Edward Williams. Other authors of original hymns are Thomas Evans, Owen Rees, Josiah Rees, Jenkin Jones, David Davis, Rees Jones (Anmon), William Thomas, the Editor, &c. In style, order and perspicuity, it is second to no book of the kind ever published in Wales.

vii. General Survey.—Passing from the Collections to the Hymns, we find that Welsh hymnody is, to a great extent, a home production, and is almost, but not entirely, confined to home use. There are a dozen or two of Welsh hymns which have become the favourite hymns of English congregations, most of which are by Williams of Pantycelyn. We give the first lines in Welsh and English. Some were composed in English, and have not been translated into Welsh, such as :—

(1) "Hark! the voice of my beloved."
(2) "Jesus, lead us with Thy power."
(3) "Lo, He comes with clouds descending." (Author unknown).
(4) "Jesus is all my hope."

The last is one of Williams's English hymns. The following Welsh and English hymns are also by Williams :—

(5) "Iesu, Iesu, 'rwyt ti'n ddigon."
" Jesus, Thou art all-sufficient."
(6) "Arglwydd, arwain trwy'r anialwch."
" Guide me, O Thou Great Jehovah."
(7) "O Iachawdwr pechaduriaid."
" Great Redeemer, Friend of sinners."
(8) "Guned bafel yn ogoniant Duw."
" Far, O Lord, a tent in Goshen."
(9) "Pe'm y caiff bwystfilod rheibus."
" May wild beasts not devour my flock."
(10) "Dros y bryniau tywyll ucheldir."
" Over the gloomy hills of darkness."

This last hymn is famous in the Missionary fields, and has been translated into many languages. In the Cashmere districts, in India, most successful Mission work is carried on under the care of Welsh Calvinistic Methodist Missionaries. The Khasi Hymnal, 1877, consists of 242 hymns, some original, but mostly translations from the latest collection of the Welsh Calvinistic Methodists, is the official hymn-book of the Mission.

Ewald says that Hebrew poetry has a simplicity and transparency that can scarcely be found anywhere else, and a natural sublimity that knows but little of fixed forms of art; that even when art comes into play, it ever remains unconscious and careless of it. Compared with the poetry of other nations and ancient peoples, it appears to belong to a simple and child-like age of mankind, overflowing with an internal fulness and grace that troubles itself but little with external ornament and nice artistic law. Much of this is applicable to Welsh religious poetry. In spirit, character, figures of speech, and emotional language, it may be aptly compared with the Hebrew. Williams of Pantycelyn, Morgan Rhys, D. Williams, and Glangwrannydd, and Ieb'yn, especially turned to the world of nature, attentively regarded it and used it; and entered into deep fellowship with it in its various phases, not for itself alone, but (like the Hebrew prophet), on account of its relation to their own souls. Nature to them spoke the language of heaven; all forces—animal, vegetable, and physical, attracted them to God. Williams of Pantycelyn, in some of his hymns, makes the most beautiful use of the final world, as well as of the physical. Nothing could exed the faithfulness to nature, the vividness and the graphic powers of these hymns :—

"Pleuau'r ogwyddorion hyny,
Yn fy nghalon fel yr eira,
Aq ardd sengis perarogleu
Yn ei mysg a'i blodau;
Blodau hyfryd i Dduw,
Fe'u dugbyttir dan'r a nen.
'Rwyf yn cael y gwirionedd
Ar y creigiau serch y sy,
Ar eu traed ar ei dywyniad
'N cnwlo diogan i fynu'r sy;
Ac yn ei ddwfn
Mineu dduf i ben y bryn."

Williams's true and intense admiration of the beauties of nature, and his reverence for its sublimities, may be seen in the use he made of it to express his own experience, which indeed has been the experience of humanity in all ages of the world.

Next to Williams of Pantycelyn comes another Williams, almost his equal as a poet—David Williams, of Llanbedr-y-Fro. Many of his hymns are popular, and some of them are very beautiful. Morgan Rhys, as a hymn-writer, stands almost abreast with those we have named. Several of his hymns have a sacred interest for thousands of Welshmen; and many have a grand martial sound which is most inspiriting. T. Williams, Bethesda'r-Fro, is another writer of great merit; often in his hymns we have the utterances of penitence and prayer, the breathings of a weary pilgrim, and the "yearning plaintive music of earth's sadder minstrelsy," followed by jubilant strains and peals of victory, as in :—

"Mae pen wedi 'i gael
Mewn dyry sodaf ele,
Yn glygu 'i frig, yn cymell pawb
I bytha 'i fwythau yno."

Welsh hymn-writers, in common with others, differ in style, but meet on the wide field of subjects suggested by the Gospel. Their works are rich in narrative and scriptural allusion, in praises for redemption, in utterances of penitence and self-abasement, and in vivid description of the Christian warfare. Williams of Pantycelyn surpasses all in the expression of the yearnings of the heavenly home-sickness; in devout tenderness, often rising into rapture, whosewith his faith clasps the crucified Saviour, when wrapt in contemplation of the glory of Jesus as the Head of the Church militant and triumphant; and also in the depth and maturity of his theological thoughts. [See Various.] [W. G. T.]

Wenn mein Stündlein fürhanden ist. N. Herman. (For the Dying.) This beautiful hymn, probably the finest of its author, appeared in his Historien von der Sündfluth, &c., Wittenberg, 1562, in 4 st. of 7 l., entitled, "A spiritual song, in which supplication is made for a happy final hour, on the saying of Augustine :—

'Verbeter, sol nos permeiteer,
Ons Hiernden Outeel moeteer.'"

Thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 1211, and in Ledderhose's ed. of Herman, p. 104. Wackernagel also gives the hymn as lengthened in the Bern G. B., 1573, to 11 st., being the above 4, the 5 st. of Herman's hymn, "Da nun Elias seinen Lauff," and 2 st. not by Herman, as v. and x. This st. v. (which Wittell, No. 247, quotes from Drei schöne geistliche Lieder, Cöln, 1574), as altered in the Leipzig G. B., 1682, is generally attached to Herman's original 4 st., as in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 845, in 5 st. Tr. as :—

1. When Thou shalt close my fleeting day. A good tr. of st. i.-iii., by A. T. Russell, as No. 247 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851. In Kennedy, 1863, it begins, "When death shall close our fleeting day," and this form is in Dr. Thomas's Augustine H. Bk., 1866, and the Irvine Hyl., 1871.

2. Mine hour appointed is at hand. A full and very good tr. by E. Massie, contributed as No. 482 to the 1857 ed. of Mercer's C. P. & H. Bk. (Or. ed., 1864, No. 385), and thence in his Lyra Domestica, 1864, p. 134. Repeated in the Wes. H. Bk., 1875, and the Moravian H. Bk., 1886.

3. When my last hour is close at hand. My last sad. &c. A full and very good tr. by Edgar Alfred Bowring, made at request of the Queen for use at the funeral of the Prince Consort in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, Dec. 23, 1861, and printed as the first of the Two Chorales then sung. St. iv., v., beginning "I shall not in the grave remain," are set to music and were sung. The full tr. is printed, without music, between the two chorales. The second chorale is, "To Thee, O Lord, I yield my spirit" (p. 201, ii.) in full in the H. Bk. for St. Aidan's College, 1864, and omitting st. iii., in Adam's Ch. Psalmody, 1864, the Luth. Ch. Bk., 1868, and others. St. iv., v. beginning "I shall not in the grave remain," are given as a separate hymn in Kennedy, 1863.

4. When my appointed hour is come To pass from earth, &c. A good and full tr. in the Eng. Presb. Ps. & Hys., 1867, No. 67; and repeated in Dale's Eng. H. Bk., 1874, and C. M. Hall's Christ Ch. Hyl., 1876. St. iv., v. are from the Bowring version, No. 3.

5. When my last hour is close at hand, And I must, &c. A good and full tr. by Miss Winkworth, in her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 193, rewritten and improved in her Christian Singers, 1869, p. 143. In Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

Other trs. are : (1) "Jesus, by Thy Almighty pow'r," as No. 822 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1849, No. 1048). (2) "When now the ransom hour is nigh," by Miss Bevis, in her Hymns for the Church Militant, and I must go," by Dr. E. Walker, 1860, p. 104. [J. M.]

Werde munter, mein Gemüthe, Und ihr Sinnen geht herfür. J. Rist. [Evening.] Probably Rist's finest hymn. 1st pub. in the "Dritte Zehen" of his Himlische Lieder, Lüneburg, 1642, p. 65, in 12 st. of 8 l., entitled, "A Christian Evening Hymn, with which to commit oneself to the protection of the Most High." Included in Criiger's Praxis, 1656, No. 26, and most later hymn-books, and in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 537. The sixth stanza has been a special favourite in Germany, and was (as Koch, viii. 191) repeated in their last moments by Johann Georg, Duke of Mecklenburg, 1675, and Moritz Wilhelm, Duke of Sachse-Zeitz, 1718. Tr. as :—

1. Rouse thy self my Soul and gather. In full, by J. C. Jacobi, in his Psalmodia Germanica, 1722, p. 113. In his ed., 1732, p. 176, slightly altered, and theme as No. 480, in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. In the Moravian H. Bk., 1789, a considerably altered form of st. vii., ix., v., beginning, "Author of the whole Creation," was included as No. 762 (1886, No. 1184), and this passed into J. Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, J. A. Latrobe's Coll., 1841, and P. Maurice's Choral H. Bk., 1861.

2. Sink not yet, my soul, to slumber. A very good tr., omitting st. viii., ix., by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 78. From this st. i.-v., vii., were repeated in Ps. & Hys., Bedford, 1859; i.-iii., in the Eng. Presb. Ps. & Hys., 1867; and i., ii., v., vii., in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880. Other cento are :—

(1.) Father, merciful and holy (st. ii.), in Kennedy, 1863, and Dr. Thomas's Augustine H. Bk., 1866, No. 174.
(2.) Have I, Lord, from Thee departed (st. vi.), in Dr. Thomas's Augustine H. Bk., 1866, No. 504.

In her C. B. for England, No. 167 (set to the beautiful melody of 1642, by J. Schop), Miss Winkworth omitted the tra. of st. iii., v., vi.

3. Now, awake, my soul, my senses. A tr. of st. i., v., vii., xii., contributed by Miss Borthwick to Dr. Pagenstecher's Coll., 1864, No. 130.

Other trs. are : (1) "Then, my Soul, thy Thoughts be raising!" by M. J. Buchel, 1843, p. 73. (2) "Be then glad, my inmost being," by N. L. Frothingham, 1870, p. 160. [J. M.]

We're strangers here below. J. Pope nett. (Life a Pilgrimage.) Pub. in his Hy Adapted to the Circumstances of Public Wor- ship, &c., 1782, No. 26, in 7 st. of 4 l., and headed, "Thro' much tribulation we must enter the kingdom of God: Acts xiv. 22." In Coudor's Cong. H. Bk., 1836, st. i.–iii. are given as "As strangers here below." This form has been repeated in later hymnals. [J. J.]

Wesley Family, The.—This very remarkable family is almost as interesting from the hymnologist's as from the Church historian's point of view. The father and his three sons all wrote hymns which are suited for public worship, while one of the daughters, Mehetabel, though not strictly speaking a hymn-writer, wrote poetry of a religious tendency, which sometimes rises to a higher level than that which her father or any of her brothers—with the possible exception of Charles—ever reached. The well-known history of the Wesleys at Epworth gives us a vivid picture of the good side of the life of a clergyman's family in the early part of the eighteenth century. Though the admirable wife and mother was unquestionably the central figure of the group, and perhaps the ruling spirit in the household, yet from the stand-point of this work, the father holds the more prominent place, because it was he and not Mrs. Wesley who both set the example of writing poetry himself, and transmitted the taste to his children. To him also, no less than to Mrs. Wesley, may be traced some of the characteristics which are more or less common to all the family. The chief of these characteristics were clear, vigorous, common-sense, a high standard of faith and morals, an acuteness of intellect sharpened to the finest possible point by education, a certain manliness and robustness of character, which is as conspicuous in the females as in the males, and an outspokenness and even brusqueness of manner which, did we not know the affectionate relationship which always subsisted between all the members, we might have expected to have led to ruptures between them. Owing to the great reputation which John Wesley has attained, and the vast numbers of those who revere him as their spiritual leader, the history of the Wesley family is tolerably familiar to most people, and it will therefore be sufficient in this article to touch briefly upon the leading events in the lives of those members of it who were writers of sacred poetry.

i. Samuel Wesley, M.A., the elder, was b. in 1662 at Whitchurch in Dorsetshire, of which parish his father, John Wesley, was Vicar until the Act of Uniformity caused him to resign his living. He was educated at a Dissenting academy by a Mr. Morton, and was designed for the Nonconformist Ministry. But having been, on account of his talents, selected as a champion to defend the dissenters against some severe invectives, and having commenced a course of controversial reading for this purpose, he was led by his studies to embrace the opposite views, and became, and continued through life, a pronounced churchman. With the impetuosity which was a family trait, he set forth on foot to Oxford, and entered himself at Exeter College. In spite of his straitened means, he managed to keep his terms and take his degrees at the University. He then received Holy Orders and took a curacy of 22*l.* a year. Having held this curacy for a year, he obtained a naval chaplaincy, and then took another curacy in London. About the year 1690 he married Susanna, daughter of Dr. Annesley, a famous Nonconformist minister, and a scion of the noble house of Anglesey. The wife, like the husband, had been brought up as a dissenter, but at the early age of 13 she had come over to the Church of England, and was afterwards a Jacobite in politics. In 1693 Mr. Wesley was presented to the living of South Ormsby in Lincolnshire. He was also chaplain to the Marquis of Normanby, afterwards Duke of Buckingham. In 1697 he was appointed by the Crown to the Rectory of Epworth, and there he spent the remainder of his life, nearly forty years. The first part of his residence at Epworth was marked by a series of troubles arising partly from his pecuniary embarrassments, which increased with his increasing family, partly from the animosity of his parishioners, who resented the part which he felt it his duty to take, as a staunch churchman, in politics, and partly from unfortunate accidents. These troubles reached their climax in 1705, when he was thrown into Lincoln gaol for debt. They are graphically described by his own pen.

"I have been thrown behind," he writes to his good friends at Oxford, "by a series of misfortunes. My Parsonage Barn was blown down as I had recovered it from the Dissenters, and almost all my Corn dried, down about 2 years since. My Pigs, great part of my Income now in my own Hands, I drove violently fir'd and burnt in 1° night, whilst I was last in London. My Income sunk about one half by the low price of Corn, and the Loss of Tithes, by the Dissenters Ingenuity. I was brought to Lincoln Gaol+ June 1705 last past. About 2 weeks since my very unkind People, thinking they had not yet done enough, have in 2° night shattered my 2 new, wch were a great part of my Remaining Family's Subsistence.—For wch God forgive them."

Some points in this letter require explanation. When he speaks of being in London, he means on Convocation business; for he was elected Proctor for the Diocese, and in one of his absences Mrs. Wesley instituted those religious meetings at the Rectory which are thought by some to have been the precursors of the Wesleyan Society Meetings. "His Regiment" was a Chaplaincy in the army which had been given him in reward for a poem in praise of the Duke of Marlborough. The last and worst of the many fires through which he suffered was in 1709, when the rectory was entirely burnt down, and the present house erected in its place. The latter part of his time at Epworth was more free from troubles. He met with many generous friends who enabled him to emerge from his pecuniary difficulties, the firmest and most constant of these friends being the admirable Archbishop of York, Dr. John Sharp; his sons grew up to be a comfort and a credit to him; his income was slightly increased by the addition of the neighbouring living of Wroot; and his parishioners gradually became more tractable. The annoyance caused by the famous Epworth Ghost can scarcely be reckoned among his serious troubles. In 1721 he met with an accident which probably hastened his end, and in 1735 he passed away and was buried in Epworth churchyard, leaving behind him the character of an excellent parish priest, a good husband and father, and a man of very considerable abilities and attainments.

Mr. Wesley was a somewhat voluminous writer. His first publication was a Latin poem on the Coronation of Charles II., but as no copy is known to exist, its merits cannot be discussed. It appeared in 1685. In 1691 he became the clerical correspondent to the Athenian Gazette (afterwards Mercury) pub. by his brother-in-law, John Dunton. In 1693 he published A Pindarick Poem upon the Birth of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. This was dedicated to Queen Mary, and led to his appointment to the living of Epworth. In 1696 he pub. Elegies on Queen Mary and Archbishop Tillotson; and in 1698 A Seventy Weeks' Chronology, and Dissertations on Daniel's Prophecy. The Elegies are rather fulsome and in bad taste according to the standard of the present day; but it should be remembered that high-flown panegyrics were the fashion of the age. The Sermon is a spirited and energetic defence of the "Seventy Weeks" theory of Daniel's prophecy, which was then high-churchman, one of which Mr. Wesley, like his friend Robert Nelson, was a warm supporter. In 1700 he published The Pious Communicant rightly prepared; or a Discourse concerning the Holy Sacrament, &c., with Prayers and Hymns for the Use of Communicants, of that Age either, which is similar in style to the Hymns of Dr. Watts. In this work appeared his version of the "Great Hallel," or "Paschal Hymn." In 1704 he pub. The History of the Old and New Testament in Verse, in three volumes, which he dedicated to Queen Anne. This, like the Elegies, is rather fulsome and in bad taste according to our standard of the present day. It is illustrated by numerous engravings. In 1705 he pub. a poem of nearly 600 lines on the "Battle of Blenheim," entitled Marlborough, or The Fate of Europe. For this he was rewarded with the Chaplaincy of Colonel Lepell's regiment; but his Jacobite sympathies soon made him resign it, and thus lose him deprived of this office. In 1707 appeared A Reply to Mr. Palmer's Vindication of the Learning, Loyalty, Morals, and most Christian Behaviour of the Dissenters towards the Church of England. This originated in a controversy between Mr. Palmer and Mr. Wesley. The latter he wrote to a friend Concerning the Education of the Dissenters in their Private Academies. The letter was attacked anonymously and defended by Mr. Wesley in a pamphlet (1704). The pamphlet was answered by Mr. Palmer in 1705, and Mr. Wesley's reply seems to have ceased for some time, but during the last ten years of his life he was engaged in his elaborate Dissertations on the Book of Job, his incessant labours upon which are said to have hastened his end. This work was published in 1736, and a second edition of it was also prepared for by John Wesley soon after the author's death.

Thus Samuel Wesley had the honour of dedicating works to three Queens. There is yet one more poem attributed to Mr. Wesley, but it seems very doubtful whether he was the real, or at any rate, the sole author. It is entitled Expedit' Hymn to the Creator, and is a sort of Cleveliau Pindaric Ode of considerable length, written in the classical style affected in the 18th century. Dr. Adam Clarke tells us that the ms. is partly in the hand-writing of Mehetabel Wesley; and internal evidence certainly points to her as the chief author; for it bears traces of a far more delicate and elegant touch than Mr. Wesley ever showed that he possessed; while Mehetabel's other writings are fully equal, if not superior, to it. In fact, it must be confessed that the bulk of Mr. Wesley's poetical writings are tedious and prosaic. He had the disadvantage of being over-praised at the outset, and of winning a reputation which he was unable to sustain. Nahum Tate, the Laureate, and others lauded his Heroic Poem in absurdly extravagant terms: Ralph Thoresby refers to him as "that noted poet Mr. Wesley," and Thomas Hearne alludes to him in similar terms. The reaction was sure to come, and his poetry began to be laughed at. Swift and Pope thought very slightly of it, and he appears to have narrowly escaped being pilloried in the Dunciad. But all that he wrote was in the service of virtue and religion; to use the words of his relative, Thomas Fuller,* he "had drunk more of Jordan than of Helicon." Perhaps if he had written less, and spent more time in elaborating what he did write, he might have been more successful; but, after all, the "Divine afflatus" must have been wanting; and the best service which he rendered to sacred poetry was in being father of his children.

ii. Samuel Wesley, M.A., the younger, was the eldest child of Samuel and Susanna Wesley, and was born in or near London in 1691. He received his early education from his mother, who always took a special interest in him as her first-born. In 1704 he went to Westminster School, where he was elected King's Scholar in 1707. Westminster had, under the mastership of Dr. Busby for 53 years, attained the highest reputation for scholarship, and Samuel Wesley, as a classical scholar, was not unworthy of his school. In 1709, Dr. Spratt, Bishop of Rochester, patronised the young scholar, and frequently invited him to Bromley. In 1711 he went with a Westminster studentship to Christ Church, Oxford, and having taken his degree, returned to Westminster as an Usher. He then received Holy Orders and became an intimate friend of Bishop Atterbury, who was then Dean of Westminster. His intimacy with this prelate was a bar to his advancement, and he was bitterly disappointed at not being appointed under-master at Westminster when that post was vacant. But he was faithful to his friend in his adversity, and the banished prelate warmly appreciated his attachment. In 1732 he was invited, without solicitation, to accept the head-mastership of the Free School at Tiverton, and here he spent the remainder of his life. He strongly disapproved of John and Charles Wesley's proceedings; but though the brothers expressed their opinions to one another with characteristic frankness, the disagreement did not cause any interruption in the friendly relations between them. Samuel Wesley was universally acknowledged to be an honest, conscientious and deeply religious man. He was a most uncompromising High Churchman both in the political and the theological sense of that term; and there is no doubt that he was the mainstay of the Wesley family at Epworth. His kindness to his father and mother was unbounded, and he acted like a father to his younger brothers and sisters. He also took a great interest in works of charity, and was one of the first promoters of the Westminster Infirmary. He died at Tiverton on the 49th year of his age, Nov. 6, 1739. His epitaph in the Tiverton Churchyard does not exaggerate his merits, when it describes him as—"a man for his uncommon wit and learning, for the benevolence of his temper, and simplicity of manner, deservedly loved and esteemed by all: An excellent Preacher; but whose best sermon was the constant tenour of a pious life, and whose brightest ornament employed in acts of beneficence and charity. That he truly followed His blessed Master's example in going about doing good; Of such scrupulous integrity, That he declined occasions of advancement in the world,

* Fuller, the Church historian, was Mr. Wesley's great uncle on the maternal side.

Through fear of being involved in dangerous compliances. And avoided the usual ways to preferment as studiously as many others seek them."

Samuel Wesley pub. in 1736 A Collection of Poems on several occasions, some of which are full of a rather coarse humour, but all of a good moral and religious tendency. This work was reprinted in 1743, and again by W. Nichols in 1862. Dr. Adam Clarke specifies eight hymns of S. Wesley's composition which were in use among the Methodists of that time (1862). The Wesleyan Hymn-book of the present day contains five, the best-known of which is "The Lord of Sabbath let us praise." His other writings are scarcely of sufficient importance to claim a notice in this brief sketch.

iii. John Wesley, M.A. The life of the next brother is, or easily might be, so familiar to every one in its every detail that it will suffice to give the barest outline of his career. John Wesley was b. at Epworth Rectory in 1703, and, like the rest of the family, received his early education from his mother. He narrowly escaped perishing in the fire which destroyed the rectory house in 1709, and his deliverance made a life-long impression upon him. In 1714 he was nominated on the foundation of Charterhouse by his father's patron, the Duke of Buckingham, and remained at that school until 1720, when he went up, with a scholarship, from Charterhouse to Christ Church, Oxford. Having taken his degree, he received Holy Orders from the Bishop of Oxford (Dr. Potter) in 1725. In 1726 he was elected Fellow of Lincoln College, and remained at Oxford until 1727, when he returned into Lincolnshire to assist his father as curate at Epworth and Wroot. In 1729 he was summoned back to Oxford by his firm friend, Dr. Morley, Rector of Lincoln, to assist in the College tuition. There he found already established the little band of "Oxford Methodists" who immediately placed themselves under his direction. In 1735 he went, as a Missionary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, to Georgia, where a new colony had been founded under the governorship of General Oglethorpe. On his voyage out he was deeply impressed with the piety and Christian courage of some German fellow-travellers, Moravians. During his short ministry in Georgia he met with many discouragements, and returned home saddened and dissatisfied both with himself and his work; but in London he again fell in with the Moravians, especially with Peter Böhler; and one memorable night (May 24, 1738) he went to a meeting in Aldersgate Street, where some one was reading Luther's preface to the Epistle to the Romans. There, "About a quarter before nine, while he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. I felt I did trust in Christ, Christ alone, for salvation; and an assurance was given me, that He had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death." From that moment his future course was sealed; and for more than half a century he laboured, through evil report and good report, to spread what he believed to be the everlasting Gospel, travelling more miles, preaching more sermons, publishing more books of a practical sort, and making more converts than any man of his day, or perhaps of any day, and dying at last, March 2, 1791, in harness, at the patriarchal age of 88.

In this sketch we are only concerned with one of the many phases of his infinitely varied life; but that, by no means the least important phase. The popular conception of the division of labour between the two brothers in the Revival, is that John was the preacher, and Charles the hymn-writer. But this is not strictly accurate. On the one hand Charles was also a great preacher, second only to his brother and George Whitefield in the effects which he produced. On the other hand, John by no means relegated to Charles the exclusive task of supplying the people with their hymns. When he speaks of the Evangelistic work, his general expression is, "My brother and I;" and when he speaks of the hymns, it is still, "My brother and I." John Wesley was not the sort of man to depute any part of his work entirely to another; and this part was, in his opinion, one of vital importance. With that wonderful instinct for gauging the popular mind, which was one element in his success, he saw at once that hymns might be utilized, not only for raising the devotion, but also for instructing, and establishing the faith of his disciples. He intended the hymns to be not merely a constituent part of public worship, but also a kind of creed in verse. They were to be "a body of experimental and practical divinity." "In that other publication," he asks in his Preface to the Wes. H. Bk., 1780 (Preface, Oct. 20, 1779), "have you so distinct and full an account of Scriptural Christianity; such a declaration of the heights and depths of religion, speculative and practical; so strong cautions against the most plausible errors, particularly those now most prevalent; and so clear directions for making your calling and election sure: for perfecting holiness in the fear of God?" The part which he actually took in writing the hymns, it is not easy to ascertain; but it is certain that more than thirty translations from the German, French and Spanish (chiefly from the German) were exclusively his; and there are some original hymns, admittedly his composition, which are not unworthy to stand by the side of his brother's. His translations from the German especially have had a wide circulation. Although somewhat free as translations they embody the fire and energy of the originals. (For further information see the article on Methodist Hymnody.)

iv. Charles Wesley, M.A. But, after all, it was Charles Wesley who was the great hymn-writer of the Wesley family,—perhaps, taking quantity and quality into consideration, the great hymn-writer of all ages. Charles Wesley was the youngest son and 18th child of Samuel and Susanna Wesley, and was b. at Epworth Rectory, Dec. 18, 1707. In 1716 he went to Westminster School, being provided with a home and board by his elder brother Samuel, then usher at the school, until 1721, when he was elected King's Scholar, and as such received his board and education free. While he was at Westminster, his father received a letter from a wealthy Irishman, asking him if he had a son named Charles, and if so offering to adopt him and make him his heir. The acceptance of the offer was left to Charles himself, who declined it. In 1726 Charles Wesley was elected to a Westminster studentship at Christ Church, Oxford, where he took his degree in 1729, and became a college tutor. In the early part of the same year his religious impressions were much deepened, and he became one of the first band of "Oxford Methodists." In 1735 he went with his brother John to Georgia, as secretary to General Oglethorpe, having before he set out received Deacon's and Priest's Orders on two successive Sundays. His stay in Georgia was very short; he returned to England in 1736, and in 1737 came under the influence of Count Zinzendorf and the Moravians, especially of that remarkable man who had so large a share in moulding John Wesley's career, Peter Böhler, and also of a Mr. Bray, a brazier in Little Britain. On Whitsunday, 1737, he "found rest to his soul," and in 1738 he became curate to his friend, Mr. Stonehouse, Vicar of Islington, but the opposition of the churchwardens was so great that the Vicar consented that he "should preach in his church no more." Henceforth his work was identified with that of his brother John, and he became an indefatigable itinerant and field preacher. On April 8, 1749, he married Miss Sarah Gwynne. His marriage, unlike that of his brother John, was a most happy one; his wife was accustomed to accompany him on his evangelistic journeys, which were as frequent as ever until the year 1756, when he ceased to itinerate, and mainly devoted himself to the care of the Societies in London and Bristol. Bristol was his head-quarters until 1771, when he removed with his family to London, and, besides attending to the Societies, devoted himself much, as he had done in his youth, to the spiritual care of prisoners in Newgate. He had long been troubled about the relations of Methodism to the Church of England, and strongly disapproved of his brother John's "ordinations." Wesley-like, he expressed his disapproval in the most outspoken fashion, but, as in the case of Samuel at an earlier period, the differences between the brothers never led to a breach of friendship. He d. in London, March 29, 1788, and was buried in Marylebone churchyard. His brother John was deeply grieved because he would not consent to be interred in the burial-ground of the City Road Chapel, where he had prepared a grave for himself, but Charles said, "I have lived, and I die, in the Communion of the Church of England, and I will be buried in the yard of my parish church." Eight clergymen of the Church of England bore his pall. He had a large family, four of whom survived him; three sons, who all became distinguished in the musical world, and one daughter, who inherited some of her father's poetical genius. The widow and orphans were treated with the greatest kindness and generosity by John Wesley.

As a hymn-writer Charles Wesley was unique. He is said to have written no less than 6500 hymns, and though, of course, in so vast a number some are of unequal merit, it is perfectly marvellous how many there are which rise to the highest degree of excellence. His feelings on every occasion of importance, whether private or public, found their best expression in a hymn. His own conversion, his own marriage, the earthquake panic, the rumours of an invasion from France, the defeat of Prince Charles Edward at Culloden, the Gordon riots, every Festival of the Christian Church, every doctrine of the Christian Faith, striking scenes in Scripture history, striking scenes which came within his own view, the deaths of friends as they passed away, one by one, before him, all furnished occasions for the exercise of his divine gift. Nor must we forget his hymns for little children, a branch of sacred poetry in which the mantle of Dr. Watts seems to have fallen upon him. It would be simply impossible within our space to enumerate even those of the hymns which have become really classical. The saying that a really good hymn is as rare an appearance as that of a comet is falsified by the work of Charles Wesley: for hymns, which are really good in every respect, flowed from his pen in quick succession, and death alone stopped the course of the perennial stream.

v. Mehetabel Wesley. Here, strictly speaking, the list of hymn-writers in the Wesley family ends; but the sketches would scarcely be complete without some mention of one who, if she did not write hymns, showed plainly that she could have done so with a success which might have rivalled Charles's own. Mehetabel Wesley had an exquisite poetic genius, which was cultivated by a careful study of the best models—Latin and Greek, as well as English, for she was an accomplished scholar. Like all the Wesleys, except Samuel and Charles, she was most unfortunate in her marriage; her husband, Mr. Wright, a plumber and glazier, was quite incapable of appreciating her refined mind, and, being a man of no principle, sought relief from society in which he must have felt uncomfortable in low company and pursuits. The neglected Hetty was most unhappy, but her very unhappiness lent a pathetic tenderness to her poetry, which is one of its chief charms. As her name is unknown among hymn-writers, one or two extracts from her poetry seem necessary to justify the mention of her in this connection at all. What glorious hymns might have been written by the author of the following exquisite lines!

A Mother's Address to her Dying Infant.

"Tender softness! infant mind!
Perfect, purest, brightest child!
Full of grace! for ever dear!
Smiling wonder of a day!
Ere the last convulsive start
Rends thy unresisting heart,
Ere the long enduring sword
Pierce my darling's bosom down;
Ah regard a mother's tears,
Anguish deeper than thy own.
Fairest eyes, whose dawning light
Late with rapture blest my sight,
Ere the cloud of death shall shed
Sound their trembling beams on me!
Drooping sweetness! verdant flower!
Blooming, withering in an hour!
Ere thy gentle breast consume
Ere the fever's rage benume
Hear a suppliant! let me be
Partner in thy destiny!
That where'er the fatal cloud
Must thy radiant temples shroud;

When deadly damps, impending now,
Shall lower round thy darkened brow,
Diffusive may their influence be,
And with the Heaven blest the tree!"

It is a great temptation to go on quoting this exquisite writer. Her "Lines written when in deep anguish of spirit"; her "Epitaph on herself"; "The Resignation: a penitent heart hoping in God" (which really might be used as a hymn); her "Farewell to the world"; her "Address to a Husband"—all maintain the same high level. But it must be remembered that Methodist Wesley was a hymn-writer only "in posse," not "in esse," and can therefore only claim a passing notice.
[J. H. O.]

The hymns by the Wesley family are naturally most extensively used in the Methodist Societies throughout the world. Usually they are given in the hymn-books with little or no alteration. The American Methodist Episcopalian Hymns of 1849 is an exception. The texts in that collection are more mutilated than in all other Methodist hymn-books put together. A large number of the Wesley hymns are annotated under their respective first lines. (See Index of Authors and Translators.) The following lists will complete the number in C. U.:—

i. Samuel Wesley, the Elder. Two of his hymns are in C. U. and are annotated as follows:—

1. Behold the Saviour of mankind, p. 120, i.
2. O Thou Who, when I did complain, p. 868, i.

ii. Samuel Wesley, the Younger. Six of his hymns are in C. U., and are annotated as follows:—

1. From whence these dire portents around, p. 400, ii.
2. Hail, Father, whose creating call, p. 877, ii.
3. Hail, God the Son in glory crowned, p. 877, ii.
4. Hail, Holy Ghost, Jehovah, Three, p. 877, ii.
5. The Lord of Sabbath, let us praise, p. 1240, ii.
6. The morning flowers display their sweets, p. 1186, i.

John and Charles Wesley. In the article on Methodist Hymnody, p. 736, ii., a full and detailed account of the hymns published by the two brothers is given. As a guide in indicating the sources of their hymns now in common use, and not annotated under their own first lines, we subjoin a Table of Titles, Dates, and Contents of their works which was compiled by the writer of the article on Methodist Hymnody. The Title-pages of those works which contain hymns by writers other than J. & C. Wesley are printed in italics.

THE POETICAL WORKS OF JOHN AND CHARLES WESLEY.

	Date of first Publication.	Title.	No. of Pages.	Size.	No. of Hymns.
1	1739	Collection of Psalms and Hymns, by John Wesley	84	12mo	70
2	1739	Hymns and Sacred Poems, by John and Charles Wesley, 2 editions same year.	223	12mo	139
3	1740	Hymns and Sacred Poems, by John and Charles Wesley	240	12mo	86
4	1741	Collection of Psalms and Hymns, by John and Charles Wesley	120	12mo	165
5	1741	Hymns for God's Everlasting Love, two parts, by Charles Wesley.	64	12mo	30
6	1742	Hymns and Sacred Poems, by John and Charles Wesley	304	12mo	166
7	1743	Collection of German Hymns, by John Wesley	36	12mo	34
8	1743	A Collection of Thirty-six tunes, set to music, as they are sung at the Foundery.	30	12mo	..
9	1743	Elegy on R. Jones, Esq., by Charles Wesley	..	..	1
10	1743	Collections of Psalms and Hymns, enlarged, by John and Charles Wesley.	138	12mo	136
11	1742	Poems on several occasions, 2nd edit., by Samuel Wesley, jun.	332	12mo	104
12	1744	Hymns for Times of Trouble and Persecution, by John and Charles Wesley.	47	12mo	23
13	1744	A Collection of Moral and Sacred Poems, 2 vols., by John Wesley.	1008	12mo	213
14	1744	Hymns for the Nativity of our Lord, by Charles Wesley	24	12mo	13
15	1744	Hymns for the Watch-night, by Charles Wesley	24	12mo	13
16	1745	Funeral Hymns, by Charles Wesley	24	12mo	13
17	1745	Hymns for Times of Trouble, for the year 1745, by Charles Wesley.	69	12mo	15
18	1745	A short view of the Differences between the Moravian Brethren and the People called Methodists.	24	12mo	6
19	1745	Hymns on the Lord's Supper, by Charles Wesley	161	12mo	166
20	1745	A Word in Season, &c., by John Wesley	8	12mo	2
21	1745	Hymns for Times of Trouble, &c., 2nd edit., additional, by Charles Wesley	23	12mo	15
22	1746	Hymns for Times of Trouble, by Charles Wesley	23	12mo	15
23	1746	Hymns and Prayers for Children (John and Charles Wesley)	12	12mo	9
24	1746	Gloria Patri, &c., Hymns to the Trinity, by Charles Wesley	12	12mo	24
25	1746	Hymns on the great Festivals and other occasions, by Charles Wesley, with music by Lampe	64	4to	24
26	1746	Hymns for the Fast-day, appointed for the Promise of the Father, Wilkinsonky, by John and Charles Wesley	36	12mo	22
27	1746	Hymns for Ascension Day, by Charles Wesley	12	12mo	7
28	1746	Hymns for Our Lord's Resurrection, by Charles Wesley	24	12mo	15
29	1746	Graces before and after Meat, by Charles Wesley	12	12mo	36
30	1746	Hymns for the Public Thanksgiving, October 8, 1746, by Charles Wesley.	12	12mo	7
31	1747	Hymns for those that seek and those that have Redemption in the Blood of Jesus Christ, by Charles Wesley	72	12mo	62
32	1749	Hymns on his Marriage, by Charles Wesley	..	..	17
33	1748	Hymns for the Use of Persons prosecuted in Ireland as a Vagabond, by Charles Wesley	..	..	3
34	1749	Hymns and Sacred Poems, 2 vols., by Charles Wesley	668	12mo	456

THE POETICAL WORKS OF JOHN AND CHARLES WESLEY—continued.

	Date of first Publication.	Title.	No. of Pages.	Size.	No. of Hymns.
35	1749	Hymns extracted from the Brethren's Book, by John Wesley	12	12mo	99
36	1750	Hymns for New Year's Day, 1751, by Charles Wesley	11	12mo	7
37	1750	Hymns occasioned by the Earthquake, March 8	24	12mo	19
38	1753	Select Hymns for the use of Christians of all Denominations, by John Wesley.	107	12mo	149
39	1753	Hymns and Spiritual Songs intended for the use of real Christians, &c.	132	12mo	116
40	1755	An Epistle to the Rev. Mr. John Wesley, by Charles Wesley	14	12mo	1
41	1755	An Epistle to the Rev. Mr. George Whitefield, by Charles Wesley (first published in 1771)	16	12mo	1
42	1756	Hymns occasioned by the Earthquake, 2nd edit.	36	12mo	29
43	1756	Hymns for the year 1756, particularly for the Fast Day, February 3, by Charles Wesley	24	12mo	17
44	1756	Hymns of Intercession for all Mankind, by Charles Wesley	24	12mo	49
45	1758	Hymns for the use of Methodist Preachers, by Charles Wesley	12	12mo	10
46	1758	Hymns for Children, by Charles Wesley	12	12mo	19
47	1759	Hymns on the expected Invasion, by Charles Wesley	12	12mo	8
48	1759	Hymns to be used on the Thanksgiving day, November 29, and after it, by Charles Wesley	24	12mo	15
49	1761	Hymns for those to whom Christ is all in all, by Charles Wesley	144	12mo	134
50	1761	Hymns for the Nativity, by Charles Wesley	264	12mo	173
51	1762	Short Hymns on Select Passages of Holy Scripture, 2 vols., by Charles Wesley	824	12mo	2030
52	1763	Hymns for Children, by Charles Wesley	84	12mo	109
53	1765	Hymns on the Gospels in MS., by Charles Wesley	..	..	..
54	1767	Hymns for the Use of Families, and on various occasions by Charles Wesley	176	12mo	198
55	1767	Hymns on the Trinity (including Hymns and Prayers to the Trinity), by Charles Wesley	132	12mo	103
56	1772	Preparation for Death, in several Hymns, by Charles Wesley	48	12mo	140
57	1779	Hymns for the Use of Families, by Charles Wesley	..	..	166
58	1780	Collection of Hymns for the use of the People called Methodists,	544	12mo	525
59	1780	Hymns written in the time of the Tumults, June, 1780, by Charles Wesley	19	12mo	13
60	1781	Protestant Association, written in the midst of the Tumults, June, 1780	24	12mo	7
61	1782	Hymns for the Nation, and Hymns for the National Fast Day, February 8, 1782, by Charles Wesley	47	12mo	32
62	1785	Prayers for condemned Malefactors, by Charles Wesley	12	12mo	10
63	1786	Pocket Hymn Book for the use of Christians of all Denominations.	240	..	950

It must be noted that the Wesleyan authorities, in the revised edition of their Col. of Hys. for the Use of the People called Methodists, 1875, decline to distinguish the hymns which appeared in the joint works of the two brothers. They say:—

"The letter W. is affixed to those hymns which first appeared in publications for which the Wesleys were jointly responsible; in this case it cannot be determined with certainty to which of the two brothers a hymn should be ascribed." (Preface to the "Index to the Hymns.")

It has been the common practice, however for a hundred years or more to ascribe all translations from the German to John Wesley, as he only of the two brothers knew that language; and to assign to Charles Wesley all the original hymns except such as are traceable to John Wesley through his Journals and other works. In this Dictionary this course has been adopted throughout.

Two works remain to be noted: (1) Collection of Psalms and Hymns. Charles Town, Printed by Lewis Timothy, 1737; and (2) The Poetical Works of John and Charles Wesley: Reprinted from the Originals, with the last corrections of the Authors; together with the Poems of Charles Wesley not before Published. Collected and Arranged by G. Osborn, D.D. Lond.: Wesleyan-Methodist Conference Office, 1868–72. In 13 vols. The first of these works has been reprinted in facsimile from the only known copy now existing, together with a Preface by Dr. Osborn. Lond.: T. Woolmer, 1882. The second contains facsimile reprints of the titles of the above Table of Titles; Introductions and notes by Dr. Osborn; the usual Index of first lines to vols. i.–viii.; and an Index to the first line of every verse (except the first in vols. i.–viii.), extending to 239 pages, the joint work of the Rev. Julius Brigg, then of Heaven, Yorkshire, and Mr. William Sugden, B.A., Head Master of the Wesleyan Normal Training Institution, Westminster. The accuracy and completeness of the latter Index merit the highest praise.

In addition to a large number of hymns from the above works which are annotated elsewhere in this Dictionary (see Index of Authors and Translators) the following are also in C. U. The sublines indicate altered texts of or centos from the hymns:—

I. From No. 2, Hymns and Sacred Poems, 1739:—

1. Captain of my salvation, hear! Help desired in the battle of life.
(1) Shall not to shame, reproach, disgrace.
2. Come, O my God, the promised Seed, Desiring Sir, Come, and in no delight, Mr. Whitefield.
3. Jesus, the sinner's Friend, to Thee. Love.
4. O Filial Deity, Accept my new-born cry. To God the Son.
5. Peace, fluttering soul! the storm is o'er. Recovery from sickness.
(1) When on the margin of the grave.
6. Saviour, the world's and mine. Passiontide.
7. See the day-spring from afar. Morning.
8. Sons of God, triumphant rise. Holy Communion.
(1) Ye that round our altars throng.
9. Thy summoned say labour to renew. Singing whilst at work.

WESLEY FAMILY WESLEY FAMILY 1261

10. Thee, O my God and King. Thanksgiving to the Father.
11. Weary of struggling with my pain. Lent.
(1) Lord, I despair myself to heal:
(2) With humble faith on Thee I call.
12. Why do the deeds of happier men? Against Indifference.
(1) God of my life and all its powers.

ii. From No. 5, Hymns and Sacred Poems, 1740 :—

13. Brethren in Christ, and well beloved. Admission into a Religious Society.
14. Come, Holy Ghost, our hearts inspire, Let us Thine influence prove. Before reading Holy Scripture.
15. Father of all, in Whom alone. Before reading Holy Scripture.
16. Ho! every one that thirsts, draw nigh [near]. Invitation to the Living Waters.
17. How do Thy mercies close me round. Morning.
(1) While I praise thee, my heart begins.
(2) While I then am intimately nigh.
18. Jesus, full in the name Thou art. Faith in the Promises of Jesus.
(1) While dead in trespasses I lie.
19. Jesus in Whom the Godhead's rays. Jesus, full of Power and Grace.
20. Jesus, in Whom the weary find. Parting with Friends.
(1) Parted from God, and far removed.
21. Jesus, my Life: Thyself apply. Holiness desired.
22. Jesus, the all-victorious Name. Morning.
23. Jesus, we look to Thee. Trinity Sunday.
(1) My God, my God, to Thee I cry. Thee only, &c.
(2) O could I lose myself in Thee!
24. Out of the depth of self I groan. Ps. cxxx.
25. Saviour, hear me while I pray. Faith in a Journey.
(1) Saviour, in me Thyself reveal.
(2) Speak with me, Lord, Thyself reveal.
(3) Talk with me, Lord, Thyself reveal.
26. Shepherd Divine, our wants relieve. In temptation.
27. Sinners, obey the gospel word. Invitation.
28. Sinners, your Saviour see. Looking unto Jesus.
(1) Author of faith, appear.
29. Where shall I lay my weary head? Desiring Christ.

iii. From No. 4, Coll. of Psalms and Hymns, 1741 :—

30. O Sun of Righteousness arise, with healing, &c. Light of Life desired.
31. We lift our hearts to Thee, O Day-star from on high. Morning.

iv. From No. 5, Hys. on God's Everlasting Love, 1741 :—

32. Gracious Saviour of my soul. Thanks for Salvation.
33. O all that pass by, To Jesus draw near. Invitation.
34. O my Offended God. Lent. For Pardon.

v. From No. 6, Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1742 :—

35. Be it according to Thy word. Holiness desired.
36. Behold how good a thing, It is to dwell in peace. Ps. cxxxiii.
37. Author of our dying Lord. Whitsuntide.
38. Fountain of Life, to all below. On entering a Religious Society.
39. Giver and Guardian of my sleep. Morning.
(1) Thy presence, Lord, the place shall fill.
40. Happy is to God above. Abating of Christian Friends.
41. Happy soul, who sees the day. Pardon and Peace.
42. Hearken to the solemn voice. Midnight.
43. Hear, Father, hear, and bless. Lent.
44. Jesu, friend of sinners, hear. Bettering Grace desired.
45. Jesu, take my sins away. Lent. For Pardon.
46. Jesu, the Life, the Truth, the Way. Jesus, the Object of Faith.
47. Jesu, Thy wandering sheep behold. The Good Shepherd.
48. Jesu, my King, to Thee I bow. The Fight of Faith.
49. Jesus, Thou hast bid us pray. Importunate Prayer.
50. John, all ye ransomed sons of grace. Old and New Year.
51. Let the world their virtue boast. Knowledge of Christ and Him Crucified.
52. Lord, I believe Thy work of grace. Peace and Holiness desired.
(1) O joyful sound of gospel grace.
53. Lord, and is Thine anger gone? Renewed Grace and Pardon.
54. Lord, I believe Thy every word. Renewal of Spiritual Strength.
55. Lord, I shall yet live! Thanksgiving.
56. Lord of the harvest, hear. Missions.
57. Lord, regard my earnest cry. Lent.
58. O but trust I, Lord, return? On approaching Danger.
(1) O Almighty God of love!
59. O for a thousand tongues to sing! Thanksgiving.
(1) I soon shall hear Thy quickening voice.
60. O great mountain, who art thou? Indwelling sin.
(1) Who hath slighted or contemned?
61. O Jesu, full of pity and love! Looking to Christ.
62. O Jesu, still, still shall I groan? Groaning for Redemption.
(1) Jesu, Thou knowest my emptiness.
(2) Break, stubborn heart, and sigh no more.
63. O Love, I languish at Thy stay. Holiness desired.
64. O my false, deceitful heart. The heart's deceitfulness.
(1) O my God, what must I do?
65. O that the day of sin were gone. Pardon and Holiness desired.
(1) Rest for my soul I long to find.
66. O that the life-infusing grace. Peace with God desired.
(1) Behold He comes, and every eye.
(2) I am the First and I the Last.
(3) Say, which of you would see the Lord?
67. O the cruel power of sin. Waiting for the Promise.
(1) O might I this moment cease.
68. O the dire effects of sin. Ps. lxxxix.
69. O Thou Whom fain my soul would love. Lent.
70. O what shall I do my Saviour to praise? Thanksgiving.
(1) O heavenly King, look down from above.
(2) My Father, my God, I long for Thy love.
71. O what a circle's mine! Old and New Year.
(1) Fountain of Life and all my joy.
72. Oft I in my heart have said. Righteousness by Faith.
73. Omnipotent Lord, my Saviour and King. The Lord our Righteousness.
74. Peace be to this house bestowed. Pastoral Benediction.
75. Prisoners of hope, lift up your heads. The Word of God unchangeable.
76. Prisoners of hope, be strong, be bold.
77. Sinners, your hearts lift up. Whitsuntide.
78. Son of God, if Thy free grace. After Recovery from Sin.
(1) By me, O my Saviour, stand,]
77. If Thou Thy grace impart. Ps. ce.
(1) Come, Lord, and claim me for Thine own.
79. Thee, Jesus, Thee the sinner's Friend, Desiring to Love.
(1) O glorious hope of perfect love.
79. Thee, Jesus, Thee, Thy Name be blest. On Leaving Even Holiness.
(1) If, Lord, I have acceptance found.
80. To the haven of Thy breast. Christ, the Rock of Ages.
(1) Now to the haven of Thy breast.
(2) Saviour, now in me perform.
81. Vain, delusive world, adieu. Faith in the Cross.
(1) Other knowledge I disdain.
82. Welcome, friend, in that great Name. Reception of a Friend.
(1) Jesus is our common Lord.
83. What shall I do, my God, my Lord? Faith in Christ.
(1) Jesus hath died that I might live.
84. What shall I do my God to love? Holiness desired.
85. When, dearest [gracious] Lord, when shall it be? Lent.
(1) Whom man forsaken Thou wilt not leave.
86. When, my Saviour, shall I be? Submission.
87. Who is this gigantic foe? David and Goliath.
88. Who is not! what tongue can tell? The Good Samaritan.
89. Ye happy [ransomed] sinners, hear. Rejoicing in Hope.

vi. From No. 10, Coll. of Ps. and Hys., 1743 :—

90. Clap your hands, ye people all. Ps. xlvii.
91. Have mercy, Lord, for man hath trod. Ps. lvi.
(1) Through God I will His word proclaim.
92. How long wilt Thou forget me, Lord? Ps. xiii.
93. My heart is full of Christ, and longs. Ps. xlv.
94. Now let Israel say, and tell it out. Ps. cxxxii.
95. See, O Lord, my Son increase. Ps. lxi.
(1) Then, Lord, art a shield to me.
96. Shepherd of souls, the Great, the Good. Ps. lxxx.
97. The earth with [and] all her fulness owns. Ps. xxiv.
(1) Our Lord is risen from the dead.
98. When Israel out of Egypt came. Ps. cxiv.
99. When our redeeming Lord. Ps. cxxxi.
100. Who is the Lord confess. Ps. cxxx.

vii. From No. 14, Hys. for the Nativity, 1744 :—

101. Glory be to God on high, And peace on earth descend. Christmas.
102. Let earth and heaven combine. Christmas.

viii. From No. 16, Funeral Hys., 1st Series, 1744 :—

103. Happy who in Jesus live. Burial.
104. O when shall we severly remove! Death and Burial.
(1) Not all the archangels can tell.
105. Mourns in Jesus on high. Burial.
106. Rejoice [weep] for a brother deceased. Burial.
107. We know, by faith we know. Death and Burial.
(1) We have a house above.

ix. From Nos. 12, 17, 22, Hys. for Times of Trouble, &c., 1744–6 :—

108. Lamb of God, Who bearest away. For the Nation. 1745.
109. Lord, Thou hast bid Thy people pray. For the King. 1745.
110. Safe in the fiery furnace. Confidence amid National Peril (1746).

x. From No. 13, Hys. on the Lord's Supper, 1745 :—

111. All praise to God above. After Holy Communion.
(1) O what delight is this!
112. Come all who truly hear. The Invitation to Holy Communion.
113. Come, Thou Everlasting Spirit. Before partaking of Holy Communion.
114. Come, O come Thy hands. Resignation.
115. Happy the souls to Jesus joined. Communion of Saints.
116. Hearts of Stone, relent, relent. Passiontide.
117. How happy are Thy servants, Lord. After Holy Communion.
(1) Who Thy mysterious Supper share.
118. In that sad memorial night. Institution of the Holy Communion.
119. Jesu, we thus obey. Before Holy Communion.
120. Jesus, all who truly hear. Invitation to Holy Communion.
121. Let Him to Whom we now belong. After Holy Communion.
122. Let Thine eye see of faith and see. All Saints and the Church Triumphant.
123. O Thou Whose offering on the tree. Holy Communion at Passiontide.
124. See there the quickening Cause of all. Good Friday.
(1) In sleeps; and from His open side.
125. See where our great High-Priest. Jesus, the Great High-Priest.
126. Son of God, Thy blessing grant. Before Holy Communion.
127. Thou, King of Saints, we praise. Holy Communion.
128. This, this is He that came. Good Friday.
129. Thou very Paschal Lamb. Passiontide.
130. Victim Divine, Thy grace we claim. Holy Communion.
131. What [Who] are these arrayed in white? All Saints.

xi. From No. 26, Hys. of Petition, &c., 1746 :—

132. Come, Holy celestial Dove. Whitsuntide.
133. Father, glorify Thy Son. Whitsuntide.
134. Father of everlasting grace, Thy goodness, &c. Whitsuntide.
135. Jesus, we on the word depend. Whitsuntide.
136. Sinners, lift your hearts. Whitsuntide.
(1) To God we lift our heart.
137. Spirit of Faith [Truth], come down. Whitsuntide.

xii. From Nos. 27, 28, Hys. for Ascension, &c., 1746 :—

138. Come then, (O Thou) Prophet of the Lord, Whose coming, &c. Ascension.
139. Father, God, we glorify. Easter.
140. God is gone up on high, With a triumphant noise. Ascension.
141. Jesus, to Thee we fly. Ascension.
142. Sinners, rejoice, your peace is made. Ascension.

xiii. From No. 31, Hys. for those that seek and those that have Redemption, &c., 1747 :—

143. Father of Jesus Christ the Just. Seeking Redemption.
144. Glory be to God on high, God in Whom we live and move. Faith.
145. Infinite God, to Thee we raise. To Jesus.
(1) When Thou hast rendered up Thy breath.
146. Jesus, accept the praise. Parting of Friends.
(1) Now, Lord, we part amain.
147. Jesus, full of power to save.
148. Jesus, my Strength and Righteousness. For a Minister's Use.
149. Jesus, take all the glory. Thanksgiving for Redemption.
150. O wondrous power of faithful prayer. Prayer.
151. Out of the deep I cry. Lent.
152. Rejoice evermore With angels above. Praise for Redemption.
153. Shepherd of souls, with pitying eye. Bread from Heaven.
154. Still out of the deepest abyss. Lent.
155. Thou great mysterious God unknown. Assurance of Faith desired.
156. Thou hidden God, for whom I groan. Lent.
157. Weary souls who wander wide. Invitation to such Christians.
158. What shall I do my God to love, My God, Who loved, &c. Lent.
159. Ye simple souls that stray. Expostulation with Sinners.
(1) Riches unsearchable In Jesu's love we know,

xiv. From No. 34, Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1749 :—

160. Come all whose'er have set. On a Journey.
(1) Nearer and nearer still.
161. Come, let us serve, Our journey pursue, With vigour arise, And run the race. Holiness enjoined.
162. Come, let us arise, And aim at the prize. Holiness enjoined.
163. Come, let us arise, And press to the skies. The Prize of the Eternal Reward.
164. Come, Thou omniscient Son of Man. Holiness desired.
165. Father, to Thee I lift mine eyes. Morning.
(1) O world'st Thou, Lord, Thy servant guard.
166. God of all grace and majesty. The Fear of God desired.
167. God of my life, how good, how wise. Resignation.
168. Hearken to Me, Who seek the Lamb. Children of Abraham.
(1) Thus saith the Lord "Who seek the Lamb,"
169. Head of Thy Church, Whose spirit fills. Intercession.
(1) Come, Lord, the glorious Spirit crire.
170. Help, Lord, to Whom for help I fly. In Temptation.
171. How can a sinner [sinners] know? Full Assurance of Faith.
172. How happy are they, Who the Saviour obey, For one Fallen from Grace.
173. How happy, gracious Lord, are we. Old and New Year.
174. How shall a lost sinner to pain? For one Fallen from Grace.
(1) O Jesu, in pity draw near.
175. I want a principle within. A Tender Conscience desired.
(1) Almighty God of truth and love.
176. Jesu, Lover of my soul. Full Assurance desired.
(1) Saviour of the sin-sick soul.
177. Jesu, let Thy pitying eye. St. Peter's Day.
(1) Saviour, Prince, enthroned above.
178. Jesu, Lord, we look to Thee. For Unity.

WESLEY FAMILY

179. Jesu, my Truth, my Way. Leaning on Jesus.
180. Jesu, Shepherd of the Sheep. The Good Shepherd.
181. Jesu, Thou sovereign Lord of all. Desiring to Pray.
(1) Our Father God, Who lovest all.
182. Jesu, to Thee our hearts we lift. Meeting of Friends.
183. Jesu, we look to Thee. Meeting of Friends
(1) Father, we look to Thee.
(2) Not in the name of pride.
184. Jesus comes with all His grace. Redemption.
185. Jesus, great Shepherd of the sheep. The Good Shepherd.
186. Jesus, I believe Thee near. For one Fallen from Grace.
187. Jesus the Conqueror reigns. Encouragement to Persevere.
(1) Urge on your rapid course.
188. Jesus, Thy far-extended fame. The Name of Jesus.
(1) Though eighteen hundred years are past.
189. Jesus, might love Thee well? Desirous of Penitence.
(1) Where'er my Heavenly Father wills.
190. Jesus, with kindest pity see. For Purity in Friendship, and in Married Life.
191. Let all men rejoice by Jesus restored. Simeon's Song of Praise.
192. Lift up your hearts to things above. Praise of Jesus.
193. Master, I own Thy lawful claim. Assigning all for God.
194. My brethren beloved, Your calling ye see. The Gospel preached unto the Poor.
195. O God, my Hope, my heavenly Rest. The Divine Presence desired.
196. O God of all grace, Thy goodness we praise.
197. O God, Thy faithfulness I plead. In Temptation.
198. O God, Thy righteousness we own, Judgment at Thy house begin. For one Fallen from Grace.
199. O how shall a sinner perform? After renewal of Covenant.
200. O Jesu, as Thy feet we wash. Holiness desired.
201. O Jesus, my Hope. For me offered up. Lent.
202. O my Advocate above. Jesus, the Advocate.
(1) After all that I have done.
203. Up, all ye people. Prayer against the World, the Flesh, and the Devil.
204. O that I could repent, O that I could believe. Lent.
(1) This is Thy will, I know.
205. O that I could repent, With all my idols part. Lent.
206. O that I could repent. Lent.
207. O Thou our Husband, Brother, Friend. Intercession.
208. O Thou Who hast in mercy sought. Lent.
(1) Fain would we love the God we fear.
209. O Thou, Whom once they flocked to hear. Lent.
210. O what an evil heart have I. After Recovery from Backsliding.
(1) Come quickly, gracious Lord, and take.
(2) Infinite unexhausted love.
211. Our mutual Hope arise. The Offer of Salvation.
212. Saviour, cast a pitying eye. Lent.
213. Saviour of all, what hast Thou done? Trial of Faith.
(1) Thy every suffering servant, Lord.
214. Saviour, Thy dying love we own. Lent.
(1) Jesus, seek Thy wandering sheep.
215. See how great a flame aspires. The spread of the Gospel.
(1) Saw ye not the cloud arise?
216. See, Jesus, Thy disciples see. For Religious Meetings.
217. Shepherd of Israel, hear. For Unity.
(1) God of all power and grace.
218. Still, Lord, I languish for Thy grace. Desiring to Love.
(1) O Jesu, let me blow Thy Name.
(2) O conquer this rebellious will.
219. Surrounded by a host of foes. Trust and Confidence.
220. The earth is the Lord's, And all it contains. Seek first the Kingdom of God.
221. The Lord of earth and sky. The New Year.
222. The light of the Lord, my [our] God. The Mission of Christ.
(1) Sinners, obey the heavenly call.
223. Thee, Jesus, full of truth and grace. In Affliction.
224. Thou God of truth and love, For Family Unity.
225. Thou hidden Source of calm repose. Trust and Confidence.

WESLEY FAMILY 1263

226. Thou Judge of quick and dead. Advent.
227. Thou very present aid. For Widows.
228. To Thee, great God of love, I bow. The Divine Presence desired.
229. Vouchsafe better far than one. For Unity.
230. Vouchsafe to keep me [us], Lord, this day. Trust and Confidence.
231. What sin I, O Thou Gracious God? Believers rejoicing.
232. Wherefore should I make my moan? Lords of the Earth.
233. Weary of wandering from my God. Lent.
234. Ye now, My chosen servants, hear. The Message of Christ.
(1) Thus saith the Lord of earth and heaven.
235. Ye virgin [waiting] souls, arise. Old and New Year.
236. Yet hear me, for Thy people hear. For use by a Minister.
(1) Forgive us for Thy mercies sake.

XV. From No. 56, Hys. for N. Year's Day, 1750 :—

237. Wisdom ascribe, and might, and praise. The New Year.
238. Ye worms of earth, arise. New Year.

XVI. From Nos. 57 and 62, Hys. occasioned by the Earthquake, March 8, 1750, 2nd ed. 1756.

239. How weak the thoughts and vain. Uncertainty of Life. 1756.
240. Woe to the men on earth who dwell. Uncertainty of Life. 1756.
(1) By faith we find the place above.
(2) Jesus, in Thy dear mercies we flee.

XVII. From No. 63, Hys. for the Year 1756, &c. :—

241. How happy are the little flock. Security in Jesus.
242. Righteous God, Whose vengeful plaint. National Humiliation.

XVIII. From No. 44, Hys. of Intercession, &c., 1758 :—

243. Father of faithful Abraham, hear. For the Jews.
244. He comes! He comes! the Judge severe. Advent.
245. Let God, Who comforts the distrest. Missions.
246. Lift your heads, ye friends of Jesus. Advent.
247. Now, Lord, Thy face on us display. Missions.
248. Our earth we now lament to see. For Universal Peace.
249. Sun of unclouded righteousness. Missions.

XIX. From No. 47, Hys. on the Expected Jubilee, 1758 :—

250. Let God, the mighty God. National Danger.

XX. From No. 51, Short Hymns, &c., 1762 :—

251. Be it my only wisdom here. The Fear of God described.
252. Hear us our everlasting Lord. Praise.
253. Branch of Jesse's stem, arise. The Holy Spirit desired.
254. Brightness of the Eternal Glory. The Divinity of Christ.
255. By faith I to the Fountain fly. Christ the Fountain of Life.
256. Called from above, I rise. Christ the Open Fountain.
257. Calmer of the troubled heart. Rest in Jesus desired.
258. Chastised and afflicted below. In Affliction.
259. Chastised by an indulgent God. Chastisement.
260. Christ, our Passover, is slain. Christ our Passover.
261. Christ, Whose glory fills the skies, That funeral Plant Then art. The Priest of Penance.
262. Come, Divine Interpreter. Before reading Holy Scripture.
263. Coming through our Great High Priest. Christ the Interpreter.
264. Deepen the wounds Thy hand has made. Lent.
265. Entered the holy place above. Christ the Advocate.
266. Expand Thy wings, celestial Dove. Holy Spirit's enlightenment desired.
267. Father, if Thou wast rejoyce. Chastisement.
268. Father of everlasting grace. Before Worship.
269. Father of everlasting grace. Before Worship.
270. Father, to me the faith impart. Faith desired.

WESLEY FAMILY

271. Forgive my Sins? It cannot be! Forgiveness.
272. Holy as Thee [Thou] O Lord, is none. Holiness of God.
273. How happy the sorrowful man. Chastisement.
274. I call the world's Redeemer mine. The Resurrection.
275. I long to behold Him arrayed. Heaven desired.
276. I seek the Kingdom first. Seeking the Kingdom of God first.
277. I the good fight have fought. The fight of Faith.
278. Inspire my [our] friend and me [us], divine. Sacramental.
279. Inspirer of the ancient seers. Inspiration of Holy Scripture.
280. It is the Lord, Who doth not grieve. Chastisement.
281. Jesu, th' irresistible word. Lent.
(1) I ask the gift of righteousness.
282. Jesus, the First and Last. Present Peace; anticipated joy.
283. Jesus, Thou dear redeeming Lord. Fulness of divine Grace desired.
(2) Jesu, Thou great redeeming Lord.
284. Jesus, descended from the sky. The words of Jesus giveth Life.
285. Jesus, from Thy heavenly place. On behalf of the Church.
286. Jesus, I fain would find. Zealousness.
287. Jesus, kind, inviting Lord. Holy Baptism.
288. Jesus, the gift divine I know. The Water of Life.
289. Jesus, the word of mercy give. Missions.
290. Let me Thy inmost presence know. Holy Living.
291. Let not the wise his [their] wisdom boast. The Lord our Righteousness.
292. Lord, I adore Thy gracious will. Chastisement and Submission.
293. Lord, I believe Thy mercy's power. Security in Jesus.
294. Lord, in the strength of grace. Personal Consecration.
295. May I throughout this day of Thine. Sunday.
296. Me, too, Thou justly may'st upbraid. Desiring to know Jesus.
(1) O would'st Thou now Thy Spirit breathe.
297. Messiah, full of grace. For the Jews.
298. Messiah, Prince of Peace. For Peace.
299. My soul, through my Redeemer's care. Personal Consecration.
300. No, Lord, it cannot shortened be. The Hand of God.
(1) Thy hand, Lord, cannot shortened be.
301. Not for a favoured form or name. Prosperity given and withheld.
302. Now, even now, I yield, I yield. Holiness desired.
303. O come, Thou radiant Morning Star. Missions.
304. O for that tenderness of heart. Humility desired.
305. O God, at Thy command we rise. Praise to God.
306. O God, most merciful and true. Holiness desired.
307. O God of peace, and pardoning love. Holiness desired.
308. O Jesu, let Thy dying cry. Good Friday.
309. O might [may] Thy powerful word. Holiness desired.
310. O Thou faithful God of love. For the Use of a dying Sinner.
311. Our days a few swiftly-flooting years. Burial.
312. Prince of universal peace. For Peace.
313. Quickened with our immortal Head. Pardon, and Liberty in Christ.
314. Redeemer of mankind. Jesus the Advocate and Intercessor.
315. Saviour, I now with shame confess. Lent.
316. Saviour, on me the grace bestow. Image of God desired.
(1) Father, on me the grace bestow.
317. Saviour, on me the want bestow. The Beatitudes.
318. Send then Thy servants forth. For the Jews.
319. Shall foolish, weak, short-sighted man? The Greatness of God.
320. See, see, she sits. The Fall.
321. Sole self-existent God and Lord. Omnipotent love of God.
322. That blessed law of Thine. The Divine Law in the Gospel.
323. That voice which spoke Jehovah near. The still Small Voice.
(1) The voice that spoke Jehovah near.
324. The Church in her brilliant state. Advent.
325. The eagle fond her charge awakes. God the Leader and Guide.
326. The great redeeming Angel, Thee. Holy Baptism.
327. The harvest of my joys is past. Lent.
328. The living principle of grace. Jesus, the Finisher of our Faith.
(1) Jesus, we steadfastly believe.
329. The men who slight Thy faithful word. For the enemies of the Church.
330. The name we still acknowledge. Jesus the Deliverer.
331. The past no longer in my power. Resignation and Security.
332. The people that in darkness lay, Tho confess, Lord, Thy name to know. Missions.
333. The saints who die of Christ possest. Burial.
334. The thirsty are called to their Lord. Water of Life.
335. Their earthly task who fail to do. Daily Duties, and Lawful Gain. See also Mr. Dilgish's Sermons.
336. Then God unsearchable, unknown. Lent.
337. Then, Lord, on Whom I still depend. Heaven anticipated.
338. Thou Man of griefs, remember me. Penitentials.
(2) Father, if I may call Thee so.
339. Thou Shepherd, of Israel and mine [divine]. The Good Shepherd.
340. Times without number have I prayed. Lent.
341. To me, to me, Almighty Saviour, give. A Reception into the Church.
342. Too strong I was to conquer sin. Lent.
343. True and Faithful Witness, Thou. The Faithful Witness.
344. Trusting in our Lord alone. Christ the Great High Priest.
345. Upright both in heart and will. The Fall and its consequences.
346. Us who clinch Thy holy hill. Missions.
347. Watched by the world's malignant eye. Walking as in the fear of God.
348. What now is my object and aim? Holiness desired.
349. When quiet in my house I sit. Holy Scriptures.
350. Where is the Hebrew's God? The Cloud and Fire.
351. Who can worthily commend? Penitentials.
352. Who now His Flesh and Blood partake. Holy Communion.
353. Why not now, my God, my God. Lent.
354. To faithful souls, who Jesus know. Alarm to Christ.
355. Ye thirsty for God, to Jesus give ear. Invitation by Christ.
356. Yes, from this instant now, I will. Lent.

XXI. From No. 52, Hys. for Children, 1763 :—

357. But who sufficient is to lead? Opening of a School.
358. Come Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, To Whom, &c. On behalf of Children.
359. Come, let us enthrone. Sixth Piety.
360. Come, let us join the hosts above. Children's Praise.
361. Come, let us join with one accord. Sunday.
362. Come, let us with our Lord arise. Sunday.
363. Come, let us with our Saviour rise. Sunday.
364. Glorious God, accept my heart. The Attributes of God.
365. God is Goodness, Wisdom, Power. The Attributes of God.
366. Hail, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Holy Trinity.
367. Happy beyond conception he. Sixth Piety.
368. Happy the well instructed youth. Against Lying.
369. Let all that breathe, Jehovah praise. The Creation.
370. Let children proclaim their Saviour and King. Christ, the Children's King.
371. Mater, Saviour of Mankind. Holiness desired.
372. Now I have learnt to read. Before reading Holy Scripture.
373. O that I, like Timothy. Before reading Holy Scripture.
374. Terrible thought! shall I alone? Eternal Punishment.
375. Thee, my God, art good and wise. Thanksgiving for Temporal and Spiritual Mercies.
(1) For my life, and clothes, and food.
(2) Gracious God, my sins forgive.

377. Thou, the great eternal Lord. Praise to the Father.
(1) Good Three art, and good Thou dost.
(2) Thou, the eternal Father.
(3) Thou, the eternal Lord.
378. Where shall true believers go? Saints glorified.
379. Young men and maidens, raise. Praise to Jesus as King.

xxii. From Hys. for Use of Families, &c., 1767 :—

380. Cast on the fidelity Of my redeeming Lord. Confidence in Christ.
381. Come, Thou all-inspiring Spirit! Wisdom and Holiness desired.
382. Come, wisdom, power, and grace divine. For Unity.
383. Except the Lord conduct the plan. Family Worship.
384. Father, by saints on earth adored. Evening.
385. Father of all, by Whom we are. A Parent's Prayer.
386. Father of lights, Thy needful aid. A Parent's Prayer.
387. Father of omnipresent grace. Private Worship.
388. Full of trembling expectation. Childbirth anticipated.
(1) Suffering Son of Man, be near me.
389. God may wise, almighty, good. A Parent's Prayer.
390. Holy Lamb, who Thee confess. Christ the Example.
391. How good and pleasant 'tis to see. Meeting of Families.
392. How happy are we Who in Jesus agree. Divine Worship.
393. How shall I walk my God to please? Head of a Household.
394. I, and my house will serve the Lord. Head of a Household.
395. Let the redeemed give thanks and praise. Pardon before Praise.
396. Master supreme, I look to Thee. For the Household.
397. Meet and right it is to praise. Praise for Divine Mercies.
398. O Saviour, cast a gracious [pitying] smile. For the Family.
(1) Jesus, fulfil our one desire.
399. Our Lord is risen from the dead. Lent.
(1) In answer to ten thousand prayers.
400. O that I, first of love possessed. Lent.
401. O Thou Who hast our sorrows borne. Pentecostide.
402. O Thou, Whose wise, Paternal love. In sickness.
403. The power to bless my house. Head of the Household.
404. Thou Son of God, Whose flaming eyes. Evening.
405. With glorious clouds encompassed round. Lent.

xxiii. From No. 55, Hys. on the Trinity, 1767 :—

406. Come, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Whom one, &c. Holy Trinity.
407. God, the glorified God most high. Ministers as Ambassadors.
408. Hail, co-essential Three. Holy Trinity.
409. Hail, Father, Son, and Spirit, great, Before the throne. Holy Trinity.
410. Hail, holy, holy Lord, One in Three, &c. Holy Trinity.
411. Holy, holy, holy Lord, God the Father, &c. Holy Trinity.
412. Jehovah, God the Father, bless. Holy Trinity.
413. Jesus, Jehovah, God. Jesuism; or, The Divinity of Jesus.
414. Spirit of truth, essential God. Inspiration of Holy Scripture.
415. The day of Christ, the day of God. Advent.
416. The wisdom owned by all Thy sons. Knowledge concerning the Trinity desired.
417. Whither shall a creature run? Omnipresence of the Holy Spirit.

xxiv. From No. 56, Preparation for Death, &c., 1772 :—

418. Jam, Thou hast to hoary hairs. Old Age.
419. Tremendous God, with humble fear. Death and Burial.
420. Warned of my dissolution near. Death anticipated.

xxv. From No. 61, Hys. for the Nation, 1782 :—

421. Saviour, Whom our hearts adore. Universal Reign of Christ desired.

xxvi. From The Wesley MSS.

422. Christ is the one foundation laid. Christ the Foundation.
423. Far off we need not rove. Providence.
424. Great is our redeeming Lord. Ps. xlviii. In the Arminian Mag., 1781.
425. How can the ancient colleague's aid. Missions.
(1) Lord of the Gospel harvest, send.
426. His Name is Jesus Christ, the Just. Trust in the Name of Jesus.
427. How lovely are Thy tents, O Lord. Ps. lxxxiv. In the Arminian Mag., 1781.
428. I know in Whom I have believed. Security in Jesus.
429. I know the power was Thine. Restraint from Sin. In Dr. Lettsom's Original Hys., 1843.
(1) Lord, I believe Thy power to save.
430. I mean deliverance to regain. St. Thomas's Day.
431. If but one faithless soul be lost. St. Thomas's Day.
432. In every time and place. The Narrow Path. In the Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk., 1830.
433. In Thee, O Lord, my patient hope. Ps. lxxi. In the Arminian Mag., 1781.
434. Jehovah reigns on high. Ps. xcvii. Pub. by Rev. H. Pitt, 1804.
435. Jehovah's Fellow and his Son. Divinity of Christ.
436. Jesus hath left His home below. Parable of the Man who went into a far country.
(1) Master, Thy grace vouchsafe to me.
437. Jesus I humbly seek. Transmitted.
438. Jesus, in earth and heaven the same. Holy Baptism.
439. Jesus the Good Shepherd is. The Good Shepherd. In the Arminian Mag., 1786.
440. Jesus, the infinite I Am. Divinity of Jesus.
441. Jesus, Thy wondrous name I gain. Divinity of Jesus seen in His Works. In the Arminian Mag., 1782.
442. Jesus, Thy servants bless. For Ministers. In the Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk., 1830.
443. Jesus, to Thee I would look up. In Temptation.
444. Jesus, Unity Thou mightest in holiness age. Death anticipated.
445. Lead me not into temptation. Against Temptations.
446. Lord, I believe Thou wilt forgive. Lent.
447. Lord, if at Thy command. The Saviour. In the Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk., 1830.
448. Lord of earth, and air, and sea. On going to Sea. In the Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk., 1830.
449. Lord of hosts, our God not Lord. Missions.
450. Lord, Thou hast called me, and I am going to sea. In the Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk., 1830.
451. Lord, with open heart and ear. Word of God gladly received.
452. Made by persecution strong. Boldness in Preaching the Gospel.
453. My field is our almighty Lord.
454. Not from a stock of corn, but Thine. Jesus the Giver of Gifts.
455. O Lord, Thy faithful servant save. Ps. cvi. In the Arminian Mag., 1788.
456. O what I would in every place. Omnipresence of God. In the 1836 Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk.
457. Omnipotent Redeemer, Our ransomed souls, &c. Praise for the Success of the Gospel.
458. Praise, O God, attends on Thee. Ps. lxv., and Harvest.
(1) Fall of Providential love.
459. Prostrate, with eyes of faith I see. Good Friday.
460. Pure baptismal Fire divine. Whitsuntide.
461. Saviour, I still to Thee apply. Before reading Holy Scripture.
462. Saviour, Thy balmy grace impart. The great Physician.
463. That health of soul I gasp to know.
464. Saviour, Thy sacred day. Sunday.
465. Sing we to our conquering Lord. Ps. xcviii. In the Arminian Mag., 1786.
466. Stupendous height of heavenly love. Christmas.
467. Still Angel, to the Wes. H. Bk.
468. Stupendous love of God most high. Rest for the Weary.
469. Tonight by our Lord, we will not pray To be, &c. Resignation. In the American Meth. Epis. Hymns 1849.

The translations by John Wesley from the German are given in vols. i. ii. of the Pastoral Works, and number 32. They can be easily identified and their history, together with the history of the originals, traced through the

Index of Authors and Translators.

The foregoing list of original hymns, in addition to those by the Wesleys annotated elsewhere, all of which are in C. U. at the present time, and most of which have formed an important part of Methodist hymnody for more than a hundred years, shows the enormous influence of the Wesleys on the English hymnody of the nineteenth century. [J. J.]

Wesleyan Methodist Association Hymnody. [Methodist Hymnody, § 6.]

Wesleyan Methodist Hymnody. [Methodist Hymnody, § ii.]

Wesleyan Reformers Hymnody. [Methodist Hymnody, § v.]

West, Robert Athow, an editor and author, was b. in England in 1802. In 1843 he went to America, and was the official reporter of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1844. He was also one of the committee appointed by that Conference to prepare a Standard edition of the Methodist Hymn Book. That collection appeared as Hymns for the Use of The Methodist Episcopal Church, in 1849. To it West contributed two hymns—(1) "Come, let us tune our loftiest song" (Praise of Jesus), and (2) "Now, Lord, fulfil Thy faithful word" (On behalf of Ministers). (Sutton's Hymn Studies, 1884, p. 32.) [J. J.]

Wetsel, Johann Caspar, s. of Johann Michael Wetsel, shoemaker at Meiningen, was b. at Meiningen, Feb. 22, 1691. He matriculated, at Easter, 1711, as a student of theology at the University of Jena, and afterwards went to Halle. After varied tutorial work, &c., he was appointed, in 1727, diaconus at Römhild, where he eventually became archidiaconus. While returning from a visit to the Bad Liebenstein he was unable to proceed further than Meiningen, where he d. Aug. 6, 1755 (Koch, v. 507, &c.).

Wetsel claims notice here as the best of the earlier German hymnologists. His two most important works, in which he gives notices of more than 1100 hymn-writers, are (1) Hymnopoeographia, pub. at Herrnschmidt, 1719-23, in 3 pts., each with its own title; and (2) Analecta Hymnica, pub. at Gotha, vol. i. pts. i.-ii 1731, pts. 4-8 in 1734; vol. ii. pt. i. in 1735, pts. 2-4 in 1744, pts. 5, 6 in 1752. The style of these works is encyclic, but they contain much useful matter, and still remain of considerable value.

Of Wetsel's original hymns, 62 in all, the most important appeared as his Heilige sind dem Herrn gerad with Andacht-Früchte, in 3 pts., each with its hymns, pub. at Coburg; i. in 1718; iii., iv. in 1721; v. in 1723. The following are the most widely known:—

Gut sorgt für mich, was soll ich sorgen. Trust in God. 1st pub. in pt. v., Coburg, 1723 as above, as No. vii., entitled a "Devotional hymn on the Providence of God," and in 8 st. of 8 l., each stanza beginning and ending with the words, "Gut sorgt für mich." In the Herrnhut Gesangbuch, 1735, No. 81 erroneously ascribed to B. Schmolck. Tr. as "God sees for me, so I'll not sorrow," by Miss Bevington, 1868, p. 39. [J. M.]

What ails my heart, that in my breast? G. Wither. [Sleeplessness.] 1st pub. in his Halleluiah; or, Britain's Second Remembrancer. London, 1641, Pt. i., No. 20, in 4 st. of 8 l. It is introduced by the following note :—

"When we cannot sleep at seasonable times, vain meetings and want of right meditating on God, is frequently chief cause of our watchfulness. Therefore this ordained, directed to the remedy of such untimely watchfulness."

The hymn is included in Farr's reprint of the Halleluiah in 1857, and thence it passed, with slight alterations, into Kennedy, 1863, No. 845. [W. T. B.]

What are these in bright array? J. Montgomery. [All Saints.] Pub. in his Greenland and other Poems, 1819, p. 185, in 3 st. of 8 l., and headed "Saints in heaven." It was repeated in Cotterill's Sel., 1819, No. 304; in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 359; and in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 207. It is given in several collections in G. Britain and America, and sometimes as, "Who are these in bright array?" In R. Bingham's Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871, it is rendered into Latin as "Quid stat cohortes lucidæ." [J. J.]

What care the saints of God, if they, G. Moultrie. [Confessors.] Pub. in his Hymns and Lyrics, 1867, p. 159, in 9 st. of 6 l., and headed "Hymn for Festival of Confessors." In an abbreviated form it is found in the 1869 Appendix to the S. P. C. K. Ps. & Hys. / Tiring's Coll., 1868, and others. [J. J.]

What countless crowd on Zion stands. J. Anstice. [All Saints.] 1st pub. in his posthumous Hymns, 1836, p. 37, in 6 st. of 4 l., and again in The Child's Christian Year, 1841. In the Bap. Ps. & Hys., 1858, st. i.-iii., vi., iv. are re-written (from 8.8.8.6.) in C. M. [J. J.]

What grace, O Lord, and beauty shone. Sir E. Denny. [The Love of Jesus.] Appeared in his Sol. of Hys., 1839, No. 32, in 3 st. of 4 l.; and again in his Hys. and Poems, 1846, p. 71, and later editions. It has passed into most of the hymn-books of the Plymouth Brethren, and also into several other collections. [J. J.]

What is earth with all its treasures?

467. The Church in ancient days. Christ Unchangeable. In the 1836 Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk.
(1) Thou, my Lord, my knew Thou art.
468. The holy unrestrained. Omnipotence.
469. Then will I praise with all my heart. Ps. ix.
470. Then art gone up on high, Our Saviour in the sky. Ascension.
471. Though God to me ask, and with the word. Lent.
472. Though God to Christ reveal. Use of Privileges.
473. To-day, while it is called to-day. Holiness desired.
474. To us a Child of Royal birth. Christmas. In the 1836 Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk.
475. Two or three in Jesu's Name. Open-air Service.
476. Unclean, of life and heart unclean. The tense of Blood; or Lent.
477. We know by faith, we surely know. Christ Unchangeable.
478. When ministers make known. Thanksgiving for the success of the Gospel.
(1) Thy messengers make known.
479. When Thou hast disposed a heart. Preaching Christ.
480. Who Jesus our Example know. Divine Worship.
481. Whom Jesu's blood doth sanctify. Security in Christ. In the 1836 Suppl. to the Wes. H. Bk. In the P. Works, ix. p. 113, it is prefaced by a new stanza from C. Wesley's son, beginning "The people out of Egypt led."
482. Why should I still to-morrow stay? Divine readiness to Forgive.

The translations by John Wesley from the German are given in vols. i. ii. of the Pastoral Works, and number 32. They can be easily identified and their history, together with the history of the originals, traced through the

Index of Authors and Translators.

The foregoing list of original hymns, in addition to those by the Wesleys annotated elsewhere, all of which are in C. U. at the present time, and most of which have formed an important part of Methodist hymnody for more than a hundred years, shows the enormous influence of the Wesleys on the English hymnody of the nineteenth century. [J. J.]

Wesleyan Methodist Association Hymnody. [Methodist Hymnody, § 6.]

Wesleyan Methodist Hymnody. [Methodist Hymnody, § ii.]

Wesleyan Reformers Hymnody. [Methodist Hymnody, § v.]

West, Robert Athow, an editor and author, was b. in England in 1802. In 1843 he went to America, and was the official reporter of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1844. He was also one of the committee appointed by that Conference to prepare a Standard edition of the Methodist Hymn Book. That collection appeared as Hymns for the Use of The Methodist Episcopal Church, in 1849. To it West contributed two hymns—(1) "Come, let us tune our loftiest song" (Praise of Jesus), and (2) "Now, Lord, fulfil Thy faithful word" (On behalf of Ministers). (Sutton's Hymn Studies, 1884, p. 32.) [J. J.]

Wetsel, Johann Caspar, s. of Johann Michael Wetsel, shoemaker at Meiningen, was b. at Meiningen, Feb. 22, 1691. He matriculated, at Easter, 1711, as a student of theology at the University of Jena, and afterwards went to Halle. After varied tutorial work, &c., he was appointed, in 1727, diaconus at Römhild, where he eventually became archidiaconus. While returning from a visit to the Bad Liebenstein he was unable to proceed further than Meiningen, where he d. Aug. 6, 1755 (Koch, v. 507, &c.).

Wetsel claims notice here as the best of the earlier German hymnologists. His two most important works, in which he gives notices of more than 1100 hymn-writers, are (1) Hymnopoeographia, pub. at Herrnschmidt, 1719-23, in 3 pts., each with its own title; and (2) Analecta Hymnica, pub. at Gotha, vol. i. pts. i.-ii 1731, pts. 4-8 in 1734; vol. ii. pt. i. in 1735, pts. 2-4 in 1744, pts. 5, 6 in 1752. The style of these works is encyclic, but they contain much useful matter, and still remain of considerable value.

Of Wetsel's original hymns, 62 in all, the most important appeared as his Heilige sind dem Herrn gerad with Andacht-Früchte, in 3 pts., each with its hymns, pub. at Coburg; i. in 1718; iii., iv. in 1721; v. in 1723. The following are the most widely known:—

Gut sorgt für mich, was soll ich sorgen. Trust in God. 1st pub. in pt. v., Coburg, 1723 as above, as No. vii., entitled a "Devotional hymn on the Providence of God," and in 8 st. of 8 l., each stanza beginning and ending with the words, "Gut sorgt für mich." In the Herrnhut Gesangbuch, 1735, No. 81 erroneously ascribed to B. Schmolck. Tr. as "God sees for me, so I'll not sorrow," by Miss Bevington, 1868, p. 39. [J. M.]

What ails my heart, that in my breast? G. Wither. [Sleeplessness.] 1st pub. in his Halleluiah; or, Britain's Second Remembrancer. London, 1641, Pt. i., No. 20, in 4 st. of 8 l. It is introduced by the following note :—

"When we cannot sleep at seasonable times, vain meetings and want of right meditating on God, is frequently chief cause of our watchfulness. Therefore this ordained, directed to the remedy of such untimely watchfulness."

The hymn is included in Farr's reprint of the Halleluiah in 1857, and thence it passed, with slight alterations, into Kennedy, 1863, No. 845. [W. T. B.]

What are these in bright array? J. Montgomery. [All Saints.] Pub. in his Greenland and other Poems, 1819, p. 185, in 3 st. of 8 l., and headed "Saints in heaven." It was repeated in Cotterill's Sel., 1819, No. 304; in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 359; and in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 207. It is given in several collections in G. Britain and America, and sometimes as, "Who are these in bright array?" In R. Bingham's Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871, it is rendered into Latin as "Quid stat cohortes lucidæ." [J. J.]

What care the saints of God, if they, G. Moultrie. [Confessors.] Pub. in his Hymns and Lyrics, 1867, p. 159, in 9 st. of 6 l., and headed "Hymn for Festival of Confessors." In an abbreviated form it is found in the 1869 Appendix to the S. P. C. K. Ps. & Hys. / Tiring's Coll., 1868, and others. [J. J.]

What countless crowd on Zion stands. J. Anstice. [All Saints.] 1st pub. in his posthumous Hymns, 1836, p. 37, in 6 st. of 4 l., and again in The Child's Christian Year, 1841. In the Bap. Ps. & Hys., 1858, st. i.-iii., vi., iv. are re-written (from 8.8.8.6.) in C. M. [J. J.]

What grace, O Lord, and beauty shone. Sir E. Denny. [The Love of Jesus.] Appeared in his Sol. of Hys., 1839, No. 32, in 3 st. of 4 l.; and again in his Hys. and Poems, 1846, p. 71, and later editions. It has passed into most of the hymn-books of the Plymouth Brethren, and also into several other collections. [J. J.]

What is earth with all its treasures?

[Missions.] Appeared anonymously in W. Urwick's Coll. of Hys. adapted to Cong. Worship, Dublin, 1829, No. 343, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed "The dark world enlightened by the Saviour's glory." In addition to an abbreviated form b ginning with st. i. there are also "Earth is but the land of shadows" (st. ii.), and "O Thou Sun of glorious splendour" (st. iii.) in C. U. [J. J.]

What is the thing of highest (greatest) price? J. Montgomery. [The Soul.] Pub. in his Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 594, in 6 st. of 4 l.; and again in his Original Hymns, 1853. It is found in a few modern books in G. Britain and America. [J. J.]

What is the world? a wildering maze. J. Montgomery. [Holy Scripture a Light.] In his Poetical Works, 1851, p. 304, Montgomery dates this hymn "1815"; but in his newspaper, the Sheffield Iris, of 1817, he printed it in 3 st. of 6 l., and dated it "February, 1817." Under these circumstances it is difficult to say which of these dates is correct. The hymn was repeated in Montgomery's Greenland and Other Poems, 1819, p. 187; his Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 348; his Poetical Works, 1828, and his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 26. It is also found in Cotterill's Sel., 1819, and in several of the older and modern hymn-books. It is not, however, a good example of Montgomery's powers as a writer of hymns. [J. J.]

What liberty so glad and gay? J. Kebl. [Forgiveness of Enemies.] Written Feb. 7, 1826, on the words "Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him?" St. Matt. xviii. 21, and pub. in his Christian Year, 1827, in 12 st. of 4 l. as the poem for the 22nd S. after Trinity. In Elliott's Pts. & Hys., 1835, st. x.-xii. were given as "Thou ransomed sinner, wouldst thou know?" This has been repeated in later collections, but is not in extensive use. [J. J.]

What! never speak one evil word? C. Wesley. [Holiness desired.] This cento is thus composed: St. i., ii. are from Wesley's Short Hymns, 1762, vol. ii., No. 733, on James iii. 2; and st. iii., iv. from the same, vol. i., No. 834, on Ps. cxli. 3. In this form it appeared in the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, No. 353, and has been repeated in several collections. Original texts in P. Works, 1868-72, vols. xiii. and ix.

What shall we ask of God in prayer? J. Montgomery. [Prayer.] Written in 1818, and first printed on a broadsheet with Montgomery's "Prayer is the soul's sincere desire," "Lord, teach us how to pray," and "Thou, God, art a consuming fire," for use in the Nonconformist Sunday schools in Sheffield and the neighbourhood. It was included in Cotterill's Sel., 1819, No. 281, in 4 st. of 8 l., and headed, "Ask and ye shall receive that your joy may be full." In Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 483, and in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 64, it was given with the change, in st. iv., l. 1 of "with" to by, and in 8 st. of 4 l. It is usually given in an abbreviated form. In some American hymn-books a cento from this hymn is given as "Father of all our mercies, Thou." [J. J.]

What shall we render. E. Perronet, née Bosher. [Praise.] 1st pub. in J. Curwen's Child's Own H. Bk., 1840; and subsequently in Mrs. Parson's Wilbye-Cross Hymns. It was composed for the Air by Mozart, commonly known as "Life let us cherish," and is given in several collections. [J. J.]

What sudden blaze of song. J. Keble. [Christmas.] Pub. in his Christian Year, 1827, in 11 st. of 6 l., as the poem for Christmas Day. In the American Church Psalmist, Boston, 1864, st. i., v., ix. are given in an altered form, but beginning with the same first line. [J. J.]

What tho' my frail eyelids refuse. A. M. Toplady. [At Night.] Pub. in the Gospel Magazine, Dec. 1774, in 6 st. of 8 l., entitled "A Chamber Hymn," and signed "Misnimus." Also in Sedgwick's reprint of Toplady's Hymns, &c., 1860. It was given in its original form in several of the older hymnbooks, but in Cotlyer's Coll., 1812, it was divided into two parts, Pt. i. being c mposed of st. i.-iii., and Pt. ii., beginning, "Inspirer and Hearer of prayer," of st. iv.-vi. From that date the first part fell gradually out of use, whilst the second part rose to great popularity, and has been rendered into several languages. The tr. into Latin by R. Bingham in his Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871, begins, "O Tu precum inspirator." [J. J.]

What various hindrances we meet. W. Cowper. [Exhortation to Prayer.] Appeared in the Olney Hymns, 1779, Bk. ii., No. 99, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed "Exhortation to Prayer." It has passed into numerous collections, and sometimes in an abbreviated form. Dr. Hatfield, in his Church H. Bk., N. Y., 1872, dates it 1772. By this he probably means the date of its composition. We cannot, however, find any authority for that date. In R. Bingham's Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871, 5 stanzas are rendered into Latin as "Si precibus solum Gentioris adire vellimus." [J. J.]

Whate'er to Thee, our Lord, belongs. [Holy Baptism.] This is the first of 13 "Single Verses on Baptism" given in Rippon's Bap. Sel., 1787, Nos. 455-476. The authors of these stanzas are: st. i., iii.-v., B. Beddome; ii. xi., J. Stennett; vi.-ix., H. F.; x., H.; xii., G.; and vi. and xiii. anonymous, but possibly by Rippon. The object of this arrangement of these stanzas is thus stated by Rippon in a note:—

"As it is now pretty common to sing by the water side, and as some of our brethren in the country give out a single verse at a time for the convenience of the audience, it is hoped these single verses will be acceptable."

In the American Bap. Hymns [and Tune] Bk., Philadelphia, 1871, st. iii., iv. and vi. are given as "Behold the grave where Jesus lay." The same arrangement with the addition of st. vii. had previously appeared in the Baptist edition of the Sabbath H. Bk., 1838. [J. J.]

When at this distance, Lord, we trace. P. Doddridge. [Transfiguration.] This hymn is No. 90 in the D. mss., but is undated. It was included, without alteration, in J. Orton's posthumous edition of Doddridge's Hymns, &c., 1755, No. 183, in 6 st. of 4 l.; and again, but with alterations, in J. D. Humphreys's edition of the same, 1839, No. 204. The original text is that in C. U. [J. J.]

When bending o'er [on] the brink of life. W. B. Collyer. [Death anticipated.] Pub. in his Coll., &c., 1812, No. 827, in 6 st. of 4 l. It is found in several modern hymnals, but usually in an abbreviated form. It presents death in its saddest form, and embodies a prayer for divine assistance. In several American collections, including the Meth. Epis. Hymn., 1849; their new Meth. Hymnal, 1878; and others, it is rewritten in s. as, s. as, "When on the brink of death." [J. J.]

When blooming youth is snatched away. Anne Steele. [Death and Burial of a Young Person.] 1st pub. in her Poems on Subjects Chiefly Devotional, &c., 1760, vol. i. p. 196, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed "At the Funeral of a Young Person." Also given in the 1780 ed. of the Poems, and in D. Sedgwick's reprint of her *Hymns, &c.*s 1863, p. 66. The form of the text usually found in American hymn-books is "When those we love are snatched away." This was given in the Prayer Bk. Coll., 1826, in 5 st., and is found in later hymnals. Another arrangement in 3 st. is in use in G. Britain. It appeared in Bickersteth's Christian Psalmody, 1833, as "When youth or age is snatched away." The text in Common Prayer, 1879, is in 3 st., the last of the original being omitted, and the rest somewhat altered. [J. J.]

When brothers part for manhood's race. J. Kebl. [St. Andrew.] Written Jan. 27, 1822, and included in his Christian Year, 1827, in 11 st. of 4 l. Two centos from it are in C. U.: the first beginning with the opening stanza, and the second with st. vi., "First seek thy [the] Saviour out, and dwell." Their use is limited. [J. J.]

When came in flesh the Incarnate Word. J. Austen. [Christmas.] Pub. in his posthumous Hymns, 1836, p. 17, in 6 st. of 4 l. It is given in Hys. for the Use of the University of Oxford in St. Mary's Church, 1872, and several other modern collections in G. Britain and America. [J. J.]

When Christ His body up had borne. H. More. [Whitsuntide.] This is the opening line of a hymn in 18 st. of 4 l., entitled "An Hymn upon the Descent of the Holy Ghost at the Day of Pentecost," which appeared in More's Divine Hymns appended to his Divine Dialogues, &c., Lond. 1668. This hymn was rewritten in 15 st. by J. Wesley, and included in the Wesley Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1739, beginning "When Christ had left his flock below." From this revision, st. vi.-xv., slightly altered, were given in the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, as, "Father, if justly still we claim" (No. 446); and "On all the earth Thy Spirit shower" (No. 445). These hymns have been repeated in many collections in G. Britain and America. Wesley's full revised text is in the P. Works, 1868-72, vol. i. p. 165. The first stanza of "Father, if justly still we claim" is by J. Wesley (1739). Dr. More's original text of the remaining stanzas of the two hymns is:—

vi. "The Spirits of holy Zeal and Love
And of Dilcerning give us, Lord;
The Spirits of Power from above,
Of Unity and good Accord:

vii. "The Spirit of convincing Speech,
Such as will every Confidence Smite,
And to the heart of each man reach,
And shake the Conscience with Might:

viii. "The Spirits of refining Fire,
Searching the inmost of the mind,
To purge all foul and foul desire,
And kindle Life more pure and kinde.

ix. "The Spirits of Faith in this thy Day
Of Power against the force of Sin,
That what we ask we may receive,
Against our Lords the Conquerin win.

x. * Pour down thy Spirits of inward Life,
Which in our hearts thy laws may write,
That without any pain or forth
We naturally may do what's right.

xi. * On all the Earth thy Spirit pour,
That Nations may no more
That Satan's Kingdome 'n may conquer'r,
And to Canaan's Bounds all Idolize.

xii. * Like mighty Winds or Torrent force
Let it Withstanders all o'erun,
And every wicked law reverse,
That Faith and Love may make all one.

xiii. * Let Mercy, Truth, and Righteousness,
And Righteousness, the Spirits fruits,
With Meekness, Friendship, and each thing
That with the Christian Spirit suits.

xiv. * Great this, O holy God and true,
Who th' ancient Prophets didst inspire:
Haste to perform thy Promise due,
As all thy Servants here desire."

A comparison of Wesley's version with this original shows most forcibly how a well conceived but indifferently executed composition may be turned to good account by an experienced hand. The rest of More's hymns, six in all, are worthy of attention. [J. J.]

When Christ the Lord would [shall] come on earth. H. Alford. [St. John Baptist.] In the Author's Hys. for the Sundays and Festivals throughout the Year, 1836, this hymn was appointed for St. John Baptist's Day; but on its transference to his Ps. & Hys., 1844, it was given for the 3rd S. in Advent, No. vi., and marked in error as having been pub. in that collection for the first time. It is found in his Year of Praise, 1867, and Poetical Works, in the 8th ed. of which it is dated 1853. Orig. text, in the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871. It is in somewhat extensive use, and sometimes in an altered form, as in the Murray's Hymnal, 1852, with the same first line, but much altered and with the addition of a new stanza. [J. J.]

When darkness long has veiled my mind. W. Cowper. [Peace.] 1st pub. in R. Conyer's Coll., 1772, in 4 st. of 4 l., and headed "Trials overcome by Hope." When included in the Olney Hymns, 1779, Bk. iii., No. 23, it was expanded into 6 st. of 4 l., and headed, "Peace after a Storm." In its full, or in an abbreviated form, it is found in several hymn-books in G. Britain and America, both old and new. Although not referred to, so far as we can find, in Cowper's Memoirs, it was evidently written at or about the same time as his "God moves in a mysterious way" (p. 488, i.). [J. J.]

When gathering clouds around I view. Sir R. Grant. [In Trial and Temptation.] Appeared first in the Christian Observer, Feb. 1806, in 6 st. of 6 l., and signed "E. Y. D. R."; and again in the same magazine in Feb. 1812, accompanied with a letter explaining that it had been sent in an altered form, and signed as before. In 1833, Elliott included it in his Pa. and Hys., No. 382, with a note in the Preface to the effect that it had been revised by the Author for that Collection. It was also given in the Author's Sacred Poems (pub. by his brother) in 1839, p. 3, the text being that of 1812. Three texts of this hymn thus exist, and all by the author: (1) the first in the Christian Observer, 1806; (2) the second in the same, 1812, and in the Sacred Poems, 1839; (3) and the third in Elliott's Pa. and Hys., 1835. Of these the second text is that usually received as authorized, and is given as such in Lyra Britannica, 1867, and in Lord Selborne's Book of Praise, 1862. The hymn is based on Heb. iv. 15, "For we have not a High Priest," &c., and is often given in an abbreviated form. In R. Bingham's Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871, 4 stanzas are rendered into Latin as: "Quum circumcirca glomerantia nubila cernam." [J. J.]

When God of old came down from heaven. J. Keble. [Whitsuntide.] 1st pub. in his Christian Year, 1827, in 11 st. of 4 l., as the poem for Whitsunday. In an abbreviated form it is in extensive use. A cento therefrom is given in a few American hymn-books as "Lo, when the Spirit of our God." In Bp. Wordsworth's (St. Andrews) Series Old-lestorum, &c., 1890, sts. i., iii., iv., vi., vii., ix., and xi. are rendered into Latin as "Olim cum Dominus superâ descendit ab arce." [J. J.]

When His lost sheep the Shepherd finds. [The Lost Sheep.] This appeared in the Uttoxeter Sel. of Ps. & Hys., 1805 (p. 1084, ii.), and is also in Cotterill's Sel., 1810, and later hymnals, and is sometimes given (but in error) as an altered form of J. Needham's "When some kind shepherd from his fold" (p. 788, ii.). [J. J.]

When I can read my title clear. I. Watts. [Assurance of Faith and Hope.] Appeared in his Hys. and Spiritual Songs, 1707, in 4 st. of 4 l. It is headed "The Hopes of Heaven our Support under Trials on Earth." Its use in G. Britain and America is very extensive. The text has undergone several alterations at the hands of Bickersteth in his Pa. & Hys., 1833; Elliott in his Pa. & Hys., 1835, and others. The most important is Bickersteth's rendering of st. iv.:—

> "There, anchor'd safe, my weary soul
> Shall find eternal rest,
> Nor storms shall beat, nor billows roll,
> Nor fears annoy my breast."

It is hard to see that this is an improvement upon Watts's original:—

> "There shall I bathe my weary soul
> In seas of heavenly rest,
> And not a wave of trouble roll
> Across my peaceful breast."

The original text of the whole hymn, as in the Hy. Comp., is that most commonly used. Miller's Singers and Songs, 1869, p. 140, points out that the opening lines of the hymn,—

> "When I can read my title clear
> To mansions in the skies," are used by Cowper in his poem on Truth (pub. in 1782), in his comparison of the lot of Voltaire and that of the poor and believing sedegcer, who

> "Just knows, and knows no more, her Bible true—
> A truth the brilliant Frenchman never knew;
> And in that charter reads with sparkling eyes,
> Her title to a mansion in the skies." [J. J.]

When I can trust my all with God. J. Conder. [Resignation.] Written on the death of one of his children, Jan. 1818, and included in his Star in the East, &c., 1824, p. 113, in 5 st. of 6 l., headed "On the death of an Infant Son," and accompanied with the footnote "C. J. C. ob. Jan. 1818." In Conder's Cong. H. Bk., 1836, 3 st. were given as No. 311; and these were repeated in his posthumous Hys. of Praise, Prayer, &c., 1856. This form of the hymn is that in C. U. in G. Britain and America. [J. J.]

When I resolved to watch my thoughts. Anne Steele. [Pa. xxxix.] Pub. in her Poems on Subjects chiefly Devotional, 1760, vol. ii., p. 168, in 13 st. of 4 l.; in the 2nd ed. of the Poems, 1780; and in Sedgwick's reprint of her Hymns, 1863, p. 171. It is not in C. U. in its original form; but from it the following are taken:—

1. Almighty Maker of my (our) frame. This cento, composed of st. iv.–vii. was given in Rippon's Sel., &c., 1787, as a hymn on "The Shortness of Life." It is sometimes altered to "Lord, how my life I view."

2. O God, in Whom my life I own. This, in the Primitive Methodist Hymnal, 1887, is the above cento with the opening stanza rewritten. [J. J.]

When I survey life's varied scene. Anne Steele. [Resignation.] 1st pub. in her Poems on Subjects chiefly Devotional, 1760, vol. i., p. 134, in 10 st. of 4 l., and entitled "Desiring Resignation and Thankfulness." It was repeated in the new ed. of her Poems, &c., 1780; and again in Sedgwick's reprint of her Hymns, 1863. As a whole it is not in C. U. From it, however, the following centos are found in modern hymn-books:—

1. When I survey life's varied scene. In the Irish Church Hymnal, 1871, is composed of st. i., ii., viii. and ix., slightly altered.

2. Father, whate'er of earthly bliss. This was given in Rippon's Sel., 1787, No. 1084, and has passed into use in the Church of England. From Rippon it passed into Bippon's Sup. Sel., 1791, and thence into modern Nonconformist collection. Its use is extensive. It is composed of st. viii., ix., slightly altered. In the Church Hymnal for Use in Christ Church, Lancaster, by the Rev. R. Maudsley, we find it in the Hymns Christ. Latina, 1871.

3. Lord, teach me to adore Thy hand. No. 178, in the Scottish Free Hymnal, 1876, is composed of st. ii., iii., iv., slightly altered.

4. My God, whate'er of earthly bliss. In T. Darling's Hym. for the Ch. of England, 1837. It is composed of st. viii.–x., and a doxology not in the original.

Taking these centos together this hymn has a wider circulation than any other of Miss Steele's compositions. [J. J.]

When I survey the wondrous Cross. I. Watts. [Good Friday.] This, the most popular and widely used of Watts's hymns, appeared in his Hys. and Spiritual Songs, 1707, and in the enlarged ed. 1709, as:—

"Crucifixion to the World, by the Cross of Christ." Gal. vi. 14.

It is headed "When I survey the wondrous Cross
On which the Prince of Glory dy'd,
My richest gain I count but Loss,
And pour Contempt on all my Pride.

2. Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast
Save in the Death of Christ my God;
All the vain Things that charm me most,
I sacrifice them to his Blood.

3. "See from his Head, his Hands, his Feet,
Sorrow and Love flow mingled down!
Did e'er such Love and Sorrow meet,
Or Thorns compose so rich a Crown!
4. "Were the whole Realm of Nature mine,
That were a Present far too small:
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my Soul, my Life, my All."

The first to popularize the four-stanza form of the hymn (st. iv. being omitted) was G. Whitefield in the 1757 Suppl. to his Coll. of Hys. It came rapidly into general use. In common with most of the older hymns a few alterations have crept into the text, and in some instances have been received with favour by modern compilers. Those include:

St. ii. l. 2. "Save in the Cross," Maiden, 1780.
St. iii. l. 2. "Love flow mingling," Salisbury, 1857.
St. iv. l. 2. "That were a Present," Cotterill, 1819.
" " " That were an offering," Stowell, 1831.

The most extensive mutilations of the text were made by T. Cotterill in his Sel., 1819; E. Bickersteth in his Christian Psalmody, 1833; W. J. Hall in his Mitre H. Bk. 1836; J. Koble in the Salisbury H. Bk. 1857; and T. Darling in his Hys. for the Church of England, 1867. Although Mr. Darling's text was the only one condemned by Lord Selborne in his English Church Hymnody at the York Church Congress in 1865, the mutilations by others were equally bad, and would have justified him in saying of them all, as he did of Mr. Darling's text in particular:—

"There is just enough of Watts left here to remind one of Homer's saying, that you may know the remains of a poet even when he is torn to pieces."

In the 1857 Appendix to Murray's Hymnal; in the Salisbury H. Bk. 1857; in H. A. & M. 1861 and 1875; in the Hymnary, 1872; and in one or two others a doxology has been added, but this practice has not been received with general favour. One of the most curious examples of a hymn turned upside down, and mutilated in addition, is Basil Woodd's version of this hymn beginning "Arise, my soul, with wonder see," in his undated Ps. of David, &c. (circa 1810), No. 198.

The four-stanza form of this hymn has been translated into numerous languages and dialects. The renderings into Latin include: "Quando admirandam Crucem," by R. Bingham in his Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871; and "Mirabilem videns Crucem," by H. M. Macgill in his Songs of the Christian Creed and Life, 1876. The five-stanza form of the text as in H. A. & M. (st. v. being by the compilers) is in R. Wordsworth's (St. Andrews) Series Oblectorum, 1890, as "Cùm mirum intuor, de quâ Præstantior omni." In popularity and use in all English speaking countries, in its original or in a slightly altered form, this hymn is one of the four which stand at the head of all hymns in the English language. The remaining three are, "Awake, my soul, and with the sun;" "Hark! the herald angels sing;" and "Rock of Ages, cleft for me." (See English Hymnody. Early. §§ xii. xiii., and the New Supplement.) [J. J.]

When Israel freed from Pharaoh's hand. I. Watts. [Ps. cxiv.] Written in 1712, and sent by Watts, with a letter, to the Spectator, in which it appeared on "Tuesday, August 10, 1712," No. 461, in 6 st. of 4 l. as a rendering of Ps. cxiv. In the letter Watts explained the origin of his rendering, it being to show the force and wisdom of retaining the Name of God to the end of the paraphrases as in the Psalm, and not to introduce it at the beginning as had been previously done by others. The paraphrase was given in Watts's Ps. of David, 1719, with the alteration of st. ii. ll. 3, 4 from—

> "The armies of Jordan saw, and fled
> With backward current to their head," to—

> "Jordan beheld their march, and fled
> With backward current to his head."

The Non Cong., 1820, and others give the text of 1719. [J. J.]

When Israel, of the Lord beloved. Sir W. Scott. [Unacquiescence.] This hymn appeared in Scott's Ivanhoe, 1817, Chap. 40. It is thus introduced:—

"It was in the twilight of the day when her trial, if it could be called such, had been given, that a low knock was heard at Rebecca's prison-chamber. It discovered the Jew Isaac, who entered, and chanted the evening prayer recommended by her religion, and which concluded with a hymn we have ventured thus to translate into English.

"When Israel, of the Lord beloved,
Out of the land of bondage came," &c.

The hymn extended to 4 st. of 8 l. The imaginary trial referred to was that of Rebecca the Jewess by a court of the Order of the Templars for sorcery, the charge being that she had bewitched one Brian de Bois-Guilbert, one of the Knights, into breaking several of the rules of the Order. When stripped of these romantic surroundings, it yet remains a striking hymn. It is based on Ps. cv. It is found in several modern collections; and has been rendered into Latin by H. M. Macgill in his Songs of the Christian Creed and Life, 1876, as "Exeunte Israele Servitute de crudeli." In the American Unitarian Hys. of the Spirit, pt. iii., is given as, "O present still, though still unseen." [J. J.]

When Israel press'd by Pharaoh, stood. J. Montgomery. [Thanksgiving on being rescued from Uncertainty.] Pub. in his Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 229, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed, "For a Sermon before a Society for the Recovery of persons apparently Drowned." It was repeated in his Grig. Hys. 1853, p. 308. [J. J.]

When Jesus left His Father's throne. J. Montgomery. [Child's Hymn.] From a flyleaf preserved with the "S. MS." we find this hymn was written for the Hallam Sunday School, near Sheffield, and is dated as having been used there on Oct. 26, 1816. In 1819 it was given in Cotterill's Sel., No. 238, in 3 st. of 4 l., and entitled "Children Praising Christ." In 1823 it was republished in a re-written and extended form of 8 st. in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, No. 337, with the new title, "Children recalling Christ's Example and His Love." This text and title were repeated in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 326, the added stanzas being iii., iv., and v. In Cotterill's Sel. the opening line is "When Jesus left the throne of God." In some collections the opening line is "When Jesus left His heavenly home." [J. J.]

When languor and disease invade. A. M. Toplady. [Affliction and Death.] In the Lady Huntingdon Coll. of Hys., 1780, there is no. 238, "When languor and disease invade," in 8 st. of 4 l., and headed "Meditation on God's Love," and as No. 263 "Sweet to rejoice in lively hope," in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed "Personal;" the two hymns thus making 14 st. of 4 l. These two hymns, with an additional stanza (x.), were given in the Gospel Magazine, Oct. 1776, as a single poem, with this note appended thereto:—

"This hymn was written for the late Countess of Huntingdon, at her request, when in illness, by the late Mr. Toplady, and kindly given to the publisher as it originally stood, by the Right Hon. Lady Ann Erskine."

From the poem as thus printed we find that No. 238 above was composed of st. i.–vii. and xiv., and No. 263 of st. viii., ix., xi.–xiii. and xv. Stanza x. was not used. The centos from this poem now in C. U. are:—

1. How blest to rest in lively hope (st. viii.). In Windle's Mtc. Psalter and Hymnal.
2. Sweet to collect how grace divine (st. ix.). In some American collections.
3. Sweet to rejoice in lively hope (st. viii.). In a few American collections.
4. The sweet to rest in lively hope (st. viii.). In C. U. in G. Britain and America.
5. When languor and disease invade (st. i.). In extensive use in most English-speaking countries.

The full text of the poem is in D. Sedgwick's reprint of Toplady's Spir. and Sacred Poems, 1860. [J. J.]

When like a stranger on our sphere. J. Montgomery. [Public Hospitals.] Of this hymn there are two texts, details of which are as follows:—(1) It was written for the opening of the Sheffield Infirmary, October, 1797, and printed in Montgomery's Iris newspaper, Oct. 6, 1797. In 1819 it was included in Cotterill's Sel., No. 246, in 4 st. of 8 l., and entitled "At a Sermon for an Infirmary." In 1825 this text was repeated, with slight alterations, in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, No. 521, broken into 8 st. of 4 l., entitled "For a Public Hospital." (2) Amongst the MS. MSS. there is a MS. of this hymn in 10 st., and thus dated: "Revised, June 2, 1844." It is this revised text which was given by Montgomery in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 286, under the heading "Hymn for the Opening of the Sheffield Infirmary, October, 1797," and from which Dr. Kennedy, in his Hymns, Christ., 1863, and other modern editors have taken their text. The older hymn-books have the text as in Cotterill's Sel., whilst most of the modern collections follow that of the Original Hymns, 1853. [J. J.]

When marshall'd on the nightly plain. H. K. White. [The Star of Bethlehem.] Appeared in Collyer's Sel., 1812, No. 862, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed "The Star of Bethlehem." It has much biographical interest, in that it gives a poetical version of the author's change of mind from a species of scepticism to the faith of Christ. The special personal interest is introduced with st. iii., "Once on the raging seas I rode." This also forms the beginning of a cento from this hymn given in one or two American hymn-books. [J. J.]

When my love to Christ (God) grows cold [weak]. J. R. Wreford. [Persistentide.] Contributed to J. R. Beard's Unitarian Coll. of Hys. 1837, No. 149, in 6 st. of 4 l., and headed "Christ's Agony and Crucifixion." In the American Unitarian Bk. of Hys. 1848, No. 144, it was given in a re-written form of 5 st. The alterations were made by S. Longfellow, one of the editors. This text has passed into several hymn-books in G. Britain, as in Thring's Coll., 1882; with a doxology, Horder's Cong. Hys. 1884, &c.; and as "When my love to God grows weak," in Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1873. [J. J.]

When on her Maker's bosom. Bp. R. Heber. [Epiphany.] Appeared in his posthumous Hymns, &c., 1827, p. 33, in 6 st. of 4 l. and appointed for the 2nd S. after Epiphany. It is found in a few modern hymn-books only. [J. J.]

When on the giddy cliff I stand. T. Haweis. [The Sea in the hands of God.] Pub. in his Carmina Christo, 1792, in 6 st. of 4 l., and based on Jeremiah v. 22. It passed into Collyer's Coll., 1812; H. W. Beecher's Plymouth Coll., 1855; and a few hymnals in G. Britain of a later date. [J. J.]

When our heads are bowed with woe. H. H. Milman. [Lifting up in Last Burial.] Appeared in Bp. Heber's posthumous Hymns, &c., 1827, p. 114, in 9 st. of 3 l., and the refrain, "Gracious Son of Mary, hear." It was appointed for the 16th S. after Trinity, and is based on the Gospel of that day, the raising of the widow's son at Nain, but deals only with the sad side of that event. Although it has become one of the most popular and widely used of Milman's hymns, yet it was not included by him in his Ps. and Hys., 1837, nor in any subsequent edition. In Bickersteth's Christian Psalmody, enlarged ed., 1841, No. 122, the hymn begins with st. v., "When the heart is sad within," and the text is re-arranged thus, st. v., vi., i., ii., iii., and a new stanza. This last stanza is repeated in Bp. Bickersteth's H. Comp., 1870. The refrain "Gracious Son of Mary, hear," has exercised the ingenuity of many editors of hymn-books. The following list of changes in that one line, although not complete, is yet sufficiently long to illustrate the difficulty of maintaining unity in these matters.

1. "Gracious Son of David, hear." Elliott. 1835.
2. "Son of Man, O Jesus, hear." Bickersteth. 1841.
3. "Son of Man, O Jesus, hear." English Hys. 1852.
4. "Jesu, Son of Mary, hear." Murray's Hys. 1852.
5. "Gracious Lord of Mercy, hear." S. Lewis's Hys. 1864.
6. "Jesu, born of Woman, hear." S. P. C. K. ed., 1863.
7. "Jesu, Man of Sorrows, hear." Alford. 1867.
8. "Jesu, Loving Saviour, hear." Windle. 1881.
9. "Gracious Saviour, hear." Scottish C. P. C. 1852.
10. "Gracious Son of David, hear." Horder. 1884.

The text of this hymn as in H. A. & M., 1861, has been re into Latin by the Rev. C. B. Pearson in Biggs's annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867, as "Triates, ortus lacrymantes." [J. J.]

When spring unlocks the flowers. Bp. R. Heber. [Spring.] 1st pub. in the Christian Observer, 1816, p. 27, in 4 st. of 8 l., headed "Spring," and signed "H." In Heber's posthumous Hymns, &c., 1827, p. 98, it was repeated, after revision by himself, in 4 st. of 4 double lines, and appointed, without any apparent reason, for the 7th S. after Trinity. The text in C. U. is that of 1827. [J. J.]

When the Architect Almighty fashioned had the heaven and earth. Bp. C. Wordsworth of Lincoln. [Consecration of a Church.] Appeared in his Holy Year, 1862, p. 221, in 10 double st. of 4 l., and headed "Consecration of Churches, or Laying the First Stone." In the 3rd ed. of the Holy Year it was repeated in two parts, Pt. ii. beginning "O'er the Font's baptismal waters may the Holy Spirit move." Usually this hymn is given in an abbreviated form, that adopted by the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871, being the most popular. For its special purpose, for use at the Consecration of a Church, it is one of the finest hymns in C. U. [J. J.]

When the earth was full of darkness. J. M. Neale. [St. Margaret.] Written for the use of the Sisters of St. Margaret's, East Grinstead, as a hymn for St. Margaret's Day, at Lauds, probably for the Festival of July 20, 1855, and first printed in the Church Times, July 15, 1855, where it is signed "J. M. N." In 1866 it was included, with slight alterations, in Dr. Neale's Original Sequences, Hymns, and Other Ecclesiastical Verses. With further alterations and the omission of st. v. it was also given in the People's H., 1867, No. 203. [J. J.]

When the Lord of Hosts ascended. Bp. C. Wordsworth. [Whitsunday.] 1st pub. in his Holy Year, 1862, p. 105, in 9 st. of 8 l. In the 3rd ed. of the Holy Year, 1863, it was given in two parts, Pt. ii. being "Not in fire from heaven descending," the text throughout being revised by the author. Three centos therefrom are in C. U.: (1) Opening with st. i.; (2) "O Guide of sinners, go before us;" (3) "Holy Ghost, Divine Creator." [J. J.]

When the wild (dark) waves round us roll. Bp. W. W. How. [St. Peter.] Pub. in the enlarged ed. of Morrell and How's Ps. and Hys., 1864, in 6 st. of 4 l. In the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871, Thring's Coll., 1882, and others, it reads, "When the dark waves round us roll." It is a very popular hymn and is found in many collections. [J. J.]

When this passing world is done. R. M. McCheyne. [Debtor to Christ.] Printed in the Scottish Christian Herald, May 20, 1837; and repeated, in his Songs of Zion appended to his Memoir and Remains, 1844, in 9 st. of 6 l., and headed "I am Debtor." As a whole it is not in C. U.; but the following centos therefrom are in C. U.:—

1. When this passing world is done. Various centos of unequal length, with this as the opening stanza are in C. U. in G. Britain and America.
2. When I stand before the throne. This cento, in Kennedy, 1863, and others begins with st. iii.
3. On the rapturous height. This cento is in extensive use. It begins with st. vi.
4. Oft I walk beneath the cloud. In use in G. Britain and America. It opens with st. vi.

When these centos are taken into account it is found that this is the best known and most widely used of the author's hymns. Original text in Lyra Brit., 1867. [J. J.]

When thy faith is sorely tried. J. Conder. [Divine Footprints.] This hymn appeared in his posthumous Hys. of Praise, Prayer, &c., 1856, in 8 st. of 4 l., and headed "Divine Footprints." The idea is to devote a stanza to events which took place at "Jehovah-jireh," "Bethel," "Mahanaim," "Peniel," "Jehovah-nissi," &c. Each stanza is headed with the name of the place, and a reference to the passage in Holy Scripture which is dwelt upon by the writer. The cento, "God is in the lonelisest spot," in the American Church Pastorals, 1864, is from this hymn. [J. J.]

When waves of trouble (sorrow) round me swell. Charlotte Elliott. ("In Affliction.") This hymn, based upon St. Matt. xiv. 27, appeared in the 1834 Appendix to the Invalid's H. Bk., No. v., in 4 st. of 4 l. Subsequently it was given in the body of that collection; and is also found, unaltered, in Snepp's Songs of G. & G., 1872. [J. J.]

When, within sight of danger's hour. H. Alford. [St. Peter.] 1st pub. in his Ps. & Hys., 1844, No. 85, in 3 st. of 4 l., and appointed for St. Peter's Day. It was repeated in his Year of Praise, 1867, No. 227, and is also found in other collections. [J. J.]

When wounded sore the stricken soul. Lord F. Alexander. [Penitentide.] Appeared in her Hys. Descriptive and Devotional, &c., 1858, No. 12, in 3 st. of 4 l., and headed "Passion Week." It was repeated without alteration in her Legend of the Golden Prayers and Other Poems, 1859, p. 141, with the new heading, "Touched with the feeling of our infirmities." It is found in many hymn-books in G. Britain and America, and usually in an unaltered form. [J. J.]

Whence do our mournful thoughts arise? I. Watts. [Consolation.] 1st pub. in his Hys. and Spiritual Songs, 1707, in 5 st. of 4 l., and based upon Is. xl. 27–30 (ed. 1709, Bk. i. No. 32). Another form of this hymn was given in the 1745 Draft of the Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, No. xvi., in 7 st. of 4 l. as "Why pour'st thou forth thine anxious plaint?" In the Draft of 1751 and 1781 further alterations were introduced until it assumed the authorised form as in the Trs. and Paraphs. of 1781. In the marklings by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 200, n.) the alterations of 1781 are said to be by him. The designation of the hymn is I. Watts, 1707; Trs. & Paraphs., 1745; W. Cameron, 1781. In the American Prayer Book Coll., 1826, and several later hymnals it begins "Why nourisest thou, my anxious soul?" Sometimes st. iv.–viii. are found as a separate hymn, beginning, "Supreme in wisdom as in power," as in W. F. Stevenson's Hys. for the Church and Home, 1873. In one or two American Unitarian hymnals a cento therefrom is also given as "Mere human power shall fast decay." In Jane E. Leeson's Paraphrases and Hys., 1853, the 1781 text is rewritten in three parts as:—(1) "Thus saith the Holy One, to Whom"; (2) "O Jacob and O Israel"; (3) "God giveth power unto the faint." [J. J.]

Where God doth dwell, sure heaven is there. J. Mason. [Praise to, and Joy in God.] This cento in Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866, and Dale's English H. Bk., 1874, is compiled from Mason's Spiritual Songs, or Songs of Praise, 1683, thus:—st. i. is from Song 23, st. v.; st. iii.–v. from Song 24, st.

i. ii.; st. v. from Song 27, st. iv., ll. 5–8 re-written. The result is a pleasing hymn of Praise and Joy. [J. J.]

Where high the heavenly temple stands. M. Bruce. [The Divine Mediator.] This hymn, which we have ascribed to M. Bruce on evidence given in his Memoir in this work (p. 187, i.) was written probably about 1764–65, for a singing class in Kinnesswood, Scotland, and was first published by J. Logan in his Poems, 1781, p. 117, No. 9, as his own. In the same year (1781) it was given, with slight alterations, in the Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, No. 58, as a second rendering of "Heb. iv. 14 to the end." The alterations extended only to the following:—

St. i. l. 4, "The Guardian," for "The Patron." St. ii., l. 1, "their needy," for "in sorry weed;" l. 2, "his mighty plan," for "his plan of grace;" l. 4, "Guardian God of man," for "The Guardian God of human race."

In the markings of the Tra and Paraphs. by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 220, ii.), the text of 1781 is ascribed to J. Logan. The hymn is found in numerous collections in G. Britain and America, and is of great merit. The hymn "His, Who for men their Surety stood," in Kennedy, 1863, No. 393, is st. ii., iv.–vi., in a re-written form. [J. J.]

Where shall my wondering soul begin? C. Wesley. [Praise for Pardon and Peace.] Written in May, 1738, together with the hymn, "And can it be that I should gain?" (p. 64, i.), on the occasion of the great spiritual change which the author then underwent. Minute details of the event are given in the author's Diary, May 21–23, 1738. Its biographical interests, together with that of "And can it be," &c., are not inconsiderable, showing as they do the struggles and triumphs of a sincere and cultured man. This hymn was 1st pub. in the Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1739, in 8 st. of 6 l., and again, with the omission of st. vi., in the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, No. 20, from whence it has passed into other collections. Original text P. Works, 1868–72, vol. i. p. 91. Dr. Osborn's note on this hymn, vol. i. p. 91, is:—

"Probably the hymn written on his conversion by Charles Wesley. Compare his Journal, under date May 21, 1738: 'Lead of all would he [the enemy] have us tell what things God has done for our souls . . . In public, therefore, will I confess Him, and openly perform my vows unto the Lord, of not hiding His righteousness within my heart, if it should ever please Him to plant it there' (vol. i. p. 94). The same hymn was probably sung next day, when his brother John was able to declare, 'I believe' (ib. p. 95)."

Further extracts from the Journal are given in G. J. Stevenson's Meth. H. Bk. Notes, 1883, p. 40, together with other comments which are worthy of attention, but are too lengthy to transcribe. [J. J.]

Where'er have trod Thy sacred feet. [Lent.] In the "Notes and Illustrations" to Church Hys., 1881, Mr. Ellerton says of this hymn, "It is hymn 205 in the enlarged edition of Morrell & How's Psalms and Hymns, 1861. Bishop How found it in a small hymnal compiled for All Saints' Church, Blackheath, where it is attributed to 'Neale.' But it is not in any publication of Dr. Neale's."

Beyond this we have no information, and the hymn must remain "Anon." [J. J.]

Where'er the Patriarch pitch'd his tent. J. Montgomery. [Abraham, the Father of the Faithful.] Written "Jan. 5, 1834" [in MS.], and pub. in Lathbill's Original Hymns, 1843, No. 25, in 6 st. of 4 l.; and again in Montgomery's Original Hymns, 1853, No. 39. It is given in a few modern hymn-books only. [J. J.]

Wherefore so heavy, O my soul? E. Cassell. [Resignation.] Pub. in his Manna of Mary, &c., 1858, p. 220, and again in his Hys. and Poems, 1873, p. 253, in 4 st. of 4 l., and entitled "Resignation." In some hymn-books it is given as, "O why so heavy, O my soul?" Its use is limited. [J. J.]

Wherefore, we sinners mindful of the love. W. Bright. [Holy Communion.] This hymn was pub. in The Monthly Packet for October 1873, in 6 st. of 6 l. without signature, and entitled "The Eucharistic Presentation." In the following year Canon Bright included it in his Hymns and Poems, 2nd ed., 1874. From thence st. iii.–vi. passed as "And now, O Father, mindful of the love," into the revised ed. of H. A. & M. in 1875. Full original text as above. [W. T. B.]

Wherewith, O God, shall I draw near? C. Wesley. [Lent.] 1st pub. in the Hys. & Sacred Poems, 1739, p. 88, in 13 st. of 4 l., and based on Micah vi. 6, &c. (P. Works, 1868–72, vol. i. p. 276). It is given in centos in the hymn-books as follows:—

1. Wherewith, O God, shall I draw near? In A. M. Toplady's Hymns for the Lord's Supper, 1776, and books in the Church of England. It embodies st. i.–iii., viii.–xiii. slightly altered.

2. Jesus, the Lamb of God, hath bled. In several modern collections. It begins with st. x.; but the text is considerably altered.

4. See, where before the throne He stands. Usually composed of st. xii., xiii.

Which of the (mighty) petty kings of earth? C. Wesley. [Guardian Angels.] Given from the Wesley mss. in Dr. Laidlaw's Original Hys., 1842, and again in the Wesley P. Works, 1868–72, vol. xiii., in 6 st. of 8 l. It is based on Heb. i. 14. A cento therefrom is sometimes found beginning with st. iii., "Angels, where'er we go, attend." [J. J.]

While carnal men, with all their might. B. Beddome. [God and Diligence.] This hymn appeared in Rippon's Baptist Sel., 1787, in two parts as follows: Pt. i. consisted of 3 st. of 4 l.; Pt. ii., beginning "If duty calls and suffering too," in 7 st. of 4 l. From Pt. ii. the hymn "Alike in happiness and woe," in the Bap. Ps. & Hys., 1858, is taken, the stanzas having been re-written throughout. In Beddome's posthumous Hymns, &c., 1817, portions of the hymn as in Rippon are given as Nos. 161 and 216. [J. J.]

While conscious sinners tremble. W. Jowett. [The Judgment.] This is in Verses written on Various Occasions for Friends. London, 1845. Printed for Private Distribution, p. 4, in 2 st. of 4 l. In a note to four hymns, of which this is the last, reads:—

"The four preceding hymns were written [by William Jowett] at the request of the late Dr. Jowett, to accompany some selections made by his dear and intimate friend, the Rev. C. J. Latrobe, from compositions of Michael Bruce."

This hymn has appeared in a few collections, as Kemble's Ps. & Hys., 1853, and others. The Verses, &c., 1845, also include "Thoughts suggested by the Collects." [J. J.]

While for Thy saints who poured abroad. Bp. R. Mant. [Thanksgiving for the Church Reformers.] Appeared in his Ancient Hymns, &c., 1837, p. 138, in 4 st. of 8 l., and headed "Hymn of Thanksgiving for the Church's Reformers" (ed. 1871, p. 232). In Common Praise, 1879, No. 304, "Lord, in Thy truth Thy church delights," is a cento from this hymn. [J. J.]

While health and youth and strength remain. [Early Piety.] This hymn appeared with three others including "Praise the Lord, ye hear'as adore Him," on a supplementary sheet appended to the musical ed. of the Foundling Coll., 1796, and to the book of words issued in 1801. In the 1809 ed. of that Coll. it was included in the body of the work, and thence passed, in 1810, into J. Kempthorne's Pa. & Hys., No. cxcviii. in 4 st. of 8 l., and somewhat considerably altered. Although still retained in the Foundling Coll., it has almost altogether fallen out of common use. On the authority of D. Sedgwick this hymn is usually ascribed to J. Kempthorne, but there is no evidence whatever in his favour. Its ascription is Anon. Foundling Coll., 1796. [W. T. B.]

While in sweet communion feeding. Sir E. Denny. [Holy Communion.] 1st pub. in his Sel. of Hys., 1839, No. 292, in 2 st. of 8 l. It was repeated in his Hys. and Poems, 1848, and 1870, and has also passed into several collections in G. Britain and America, including Snepp's Songs of G. & G., 1872; Hatfield's Church H. Bk., N. Y., 1872, and others. [J. J.]

While justice waves her vengeful hand. Anne Steele. [National Humiliation.] This hymn was written for the National Fast of Feb. 11, 1757, and pub. in her Poems on Subjects Chiefly Devotional, 1760, vol. i. p. 250, in 9 st. of 4 l., and headed "National Judgments deprecated. On the Fast. Feb. 11, 1757." It was also given in D. Sedgwick's ed. of her Hymns, &c., 1863, p. 116. This hymn is usually given in an abbreviated form as in the American Presby. Sel. of Hymns, Philadelphia, 1861. [J. J.]

While midnight shades the earth o'erspread. C. Wesley. [Midnight.] Pub. in the Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1739, p. 35, in 6 st. of 6 l. (P. Works, 1868–72, vol. i. p. 49), and entitled "A Hymn for Midnight." In the P. Works, Dr. Osborn adds this note on the title:—

"In some editions this title was changed to 'A Midnight Hymn for one convinced of Sin.' Whether this phrase had been misapprehended; and in a copy of the 6th edition now before her, it is corrected with his own hand to 'A Midnight Hymn for one convinced of Sin.'"

The hymn was written about 1737, and sets forth the unsettled state of his mind at that time. In the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, No. 148, J. Wesley gave it with the omission of sts. i., ii., and a few verbal changes. T. Jackson in his Memoirs of C. Wesley (small ed. 1848, p. 91) says:—

"On the 16th December, 1736, he [Wesley] says, 'I began my twenty-seventh year in a thorough, deep-centered agony, crying out, Who is sufficient for these things?' While in this state of mind, he wrote the 'Hymn for Midnight,' which is strikingly descriptive of his defective creed and gloomy feelings. He had no hope of pardon and happiness, but by the discretion of his passing fancy, and the dictation of his morbid feelings. To this first composition his brother afterwards gave an evangelical character [in the Wes. H. Bk. as above] by substituting the word 'faith' for 'death' in the line 'Since death alone confirms me His.' Thus altered, it was a hymn of deep penitential sorrow for sin, in a Christian, expecting to be made free from sin and its attendant misery only by the body's dissolution; but as the prayer of a weeping penitent, who is convinced of his guilt and corruption, and is looking for a present deliverance from them through faith in the blood of the atonement."

The Wes. H. Bk. form of the hymn begins with st. iii., "Fain would I leave the world below," and is that which is in C. U. in G. Britain and America. [J. J.]

While my Jesus I'm possessing. [Good Friday.] This hymn appeared in The Kendal H. Bk., edited by J. Allen (p. 16, i.), 1757, No. 58, in 6 st. of 8 l. In its original form it has almost entirely passed out of C. U. From this hymn 24 lines were re-written by W. Shirley, and included in the 1779 ed. of the Countess of Huntingdon's Coll. of Hymns, as "Sweet the moments rich in blessing," in 3 st. of 8 l. The original lines are:—

St. ii. "O how happy are the moments
Which I here in transport spend!
Life deriving from His torments
While my dying Lord I rend.
Hill, O Hill, for ever sacred,
How the blood flows from each vein;
Every stream, my soul bedewing
Mortifies the carnal fame.

St. iii. "Really blessed is the portion
Destined me by sovereign grace:
Still I'll view the crimson ocean
In the Saviour's bruised face.
'Tis my fixed resolution,
Jesus Christ, my Lord, to love;
At His feet to fix my station,
Nor from thence a hair's-breadth move.

St. iv. "Filled with sincere-like contrition,
While I view the bleeding Lamb;
Humble to the lowest position
Of my Saviour's painful death.

St. v. "May I still enjoy this feeling,
In all need to Jesus go;
Prove His wounds each day more healing,
And from hence salvation draw.

These lines were manipulated by W. Shirley into the following hymn:—

"Sweet the moments, rich in blessing
Which before the Cross I spend;
Life, and health, and peace possessing
From the sinner's dying Friend.
Here I'll sit for ever viewing
Mercy's streams in streams of blood;
Precious drops my soul bedewing
Flood and claim my peace with God.

"Truly blessed is this station
Low before the Cross to lie;
While I view my dying Saviour,
Flowing in this languid eye;
Here it is I find my heaven,
While upon the Lamb I gaze;
Love I much? I've much forgiven,
I'm a miracle of grace.

"Love and grief my heart dividing,
With my tears His feet I'll bathe;
Constant still as fresh subsiding,
Life deriving from His death.

May I still enjoy this feeling,
In all need to Jesus go;
Prove His wounds each day more healing,
And Himself more deeply know."

In Cooke and Denton's Church Hymnal, 1853, No. 72, Shirley's st. i. and ii., ll. 1-4 were given, with slight alteration, and the following lines were added to complete the hymn in 3 st. of 8 l.:—

"Lord, in conscious contemplation
Fix our hearts and eyes on Thee,
Till we taste Thy whole salvation,
And unveil'd Thy glories see.
"Then, the veil of sense removing,
For the griefs that wrought our peace;
Gracious Saviour! we implore Thee,
In our hearts Thy love increase.
Unto Thee, the world's Salvation,
Unto Thee, our only Lover,
Low we bow in adoration,
Ever-blessed One and Three."

This text, with one or two slight alterations, was repeated in the Hymnary, 1872. The alterations and additions in 1853, and the changes in 1872, were by Canon William Cooke and Mr. Webb. In R. A. & M., 1861, Canon Cooke's arrangement reduced to 4 st. of 4 l., was given as No. 95, st. i.-ii. being from Shirley, and st. iv. part of the additions by Canon Cooke as above. This text was repeated, with slight changes and the addition of st. iii., ll. 1-4, from Shirley as above, in the Hy. Comp., 1870; in the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871; Tiring's Coll., 1882, and many others. Other arrangements from Shirley's text are in C. U. in G. Britain and America, and can be traced by Shirley as above. The H. A. & M. text has been rendered into Latin by the Rev. R. Thornton, D.D., in Gibbs' and Thornton's Fasciculus, 1866, and L. C. Biggs's annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867, as "Suave tempus et serenum;" and by Hodges in his The County Palatine, &c., 1876, as "Per beate dulces horæ;" and the Hy. Comp. text, with the omission of st. iii., by the Rev. R. Bingham in his Hymns. Christ. Latina, 1871, as, "O quam dulce et beatum." Both these forms have also been rendered into other languages. The full original text by J. Allen of "While my Jesus I'm possessing," is in Lyra Britannica, 1867. [J. J.]

While saints and angels, glorious King. J. Montgomery. (Charitable Objects.) Pub. in Dr. Sutton's Fs. & Hys. . . . Sung at the Parish Church, Sheffield, 2nd ed., enlarged, 1816, No. 102, in 6 st. of 4 l. It was repeated in Cotterill's Sel., 1819, No. 255; in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 340, and in his Original Hymns, 1853, No. 345. In the last two works it is headed "For the Children in a Charity School." It was probably written to be sung at an anniversary of one of the Sheffield Charity Schools Sometimes it begins with st. iv. as "Father Thy heavenly gifts afford." [J. J.]

While shepherds watched their flocks by night. N. Tate. (Christmas.) Appeared in the Supplement to the New Version (p. 90, l.), in 1702, in 6 st. of 4 l., and in all later editions of the same. In full, or in an abbreviated form, it is found in most hymn-books in English-speaking countries. Original text in the Hy. Comp. In addition to the original, two additional versions are in C. U.:—

1. While humble Shepherds watched their flocks.
This was given in the 1745 Draft of the Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, the opening stanza reading:—

"While humble Shepherds watch'd their Flocks
In Bethlehem Plains by Night,
An Angel sent from Heav'n appear'd
And fill'd the Plains with Light."

The alterations in the second and eighth stanzas. On its adoption in the revised Draft of 1781, and again in the authorised issue of the Trs. and Paraphs., 1781, the concluding lines of the last stanza read:—

"Good-will is shown by Heav'n to men, and never more shall cease."

This arrangement of the text has been in C. U. for more than 180 years.

2. On Judah's plains as Shepherds kept. This is found in one or two American collections only.

The original has been tr. into several languages. Those in Latin include: (1) "Pastorum in pecudes noctu vigilantis cœtus," by Lord Lyttelton, 1808; and (2) "Nocturnos, arcilius humo, pastoris pubes," by C. S. Calverley, both in L. C. Biggs's annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867; (3) "Oves dum custodientes," by R. Bingham, in his Hymns Christ. Latina, 1871; and (4) "Pro gregis Pastores vigilabant noctu silenti," by Bp Wordsworth (St. Andrews) in his Series Collectarum, &c., 1890. [J. J.]

While with ceaseless course the sun. J. Needham. (New Year.) Pub. in his Twenty Six Letters on Religious Subjects, &c., by Omicron, 1774, in 3 st. of 8 l., and headed, "For the New Year." It was repeated, in R. Conyer's Fs. & Hys. the same year, and again in the Obvey Hymns, 1779, Bk. ii., No. 1. It is in extensive use in G. Britain and America. In some collections st. ii., iii. are given as, "As the winged arrow flies," but this is not so popular as the full text. [J. J.]

White, Henry Kirke, remarkable both for the early development of his genius and for the untimely termination of his brief life of splendid promise, was b. at Nottingham, March 21, 1785. His father was a butcher, but his mother must have been a superior woman, since for a number of years she successfully conducted a boarding-school for girls. The writing-master in her establishment was for some time Henry's teacher, and under his instruction he made remarkable progress in Latin and other subjects. At the age of 13 he composed the lines "To an early Primrose," which were subsequently printed with his poems. At 14 he left school, and was put to the stocking-frame in order to learn practically the business of a hosier; but, disliking the employment, he was removed to an attorney's office in Nottingham, with a view to the legal profession. All his spare time was now devoted to literary pursuits, the acquisition of languages, and the composition of poetical and other contributions for the periodicals of the day. At the age of 15 he obtained from the Monthly Preceptor a silver medal for a translation from Horace, and a pair of globes for the best description of an imaginary tour from London to Edinburgh. When only 17 he was encouraged to publish his Clifton Grove and other Poems, which were certainly excellent as the compositions of a mere boy. About this time he was inclined to scepticism, but through the perusal of Scott's Force of Truth and the arguments and appeals of a young friend, R. W. Almond (afterwards Rector of St. Peter's, Nottingham), he was led to earnest faith in Christianity. His well-known hymn "When mankind'd on the nightly plain" is understood to be a figurative description of his spiritual experience at this period. He now desired to become a Christian minister, and through the generosity of his employers he was released from his articles in 1804. With the help of the Rev. C. Simeon and other friends, he became a student of St. John's College, Cambridge. There he speedily distinguished himself, and the highest honours seemed within his grasp; but over application to study destroyed his health, and he fell ill and d. Oct. 19, 1806, in the 22nd year of his age. Universal regret was expressed at his untimely end. Southey published his Remains, accompanied by a short memoir. Lord Byron composed some beautiful lines on the sad event. Josiah Conder and others wrote commemorative verses. The entire literary young manhood of England and America seemed moved with sympathy. A monumental tablet, with a medallion by Chantrey, was erected in All Saints Church, Cambridge, at the expense of a citizen of Boston, in the United States. Ten hymns are ascribed to H. K. White, which were printed by the Rev. Dr. W. B. Collyer in his Suppl. to Dr. Watts's Psalms & Hymns Lond. 1812. Of these four of the most popular are annotated as follows: "Awake, sweet harp of Judah, wake," p. 103, ii.: "Christians, brethren, ere we part," p. 231, ii.: "Much in sorrow, oft in woe," p. 775, ii.; "When mankind on the nightly plain," p. 1271, i. These are all in extensive use. The rest, all in C. U. at the present time, are:—

1. O Lord, another day has flown. Evening. From this the hymn "O let Thy grace perform its part" is taken.
2. O Lord, my God, in mercy turn. Penitence and Pardon.
3. The Lord our God is full (footed in) of might. Divine Sovereignty.
4. The Lord our God is Lord of all. Divine Sovereignty.
5. Through sorrow's night and danger's path. The Resurrection. Sometimes given as "When sorrow's path and danger's road."
6. What is this passing scene? Human Frailty. This hymn consists of selected stanzas from No. "On Disappointment." [W. R. S.]

Whitfield, Frederick, B.A., s. of H. Whitfield, was b. at Throughwood, Shropshire, Jan. 7, 1829, and educated at Trinity College, Dublin, where he took his B.A. in 1859. On taking Holy Orders, he was successively curate of Otley, vicar of Kirby-Ravensworth, senior curate of Greenwich, and Vicar of St. John's, Bexley. In 1875 he was preferred to St. Mary's, Hastings. Mr. Whitfield's works in prose and verse number upwards of thirty, including Spiritual unfolding from the Word of Life; Voices from the Valley Testifying of Jesus; The Word Unveiled; Gleanings from Scripture, &c. Several of his hymns appeared in his Sacred Poems and Prose, 1861, 2nd Series, 1864; The Casket, and Quiet Hours in the Sanctuary. The hymn by which he is most widely known is "I read Thee, precious Jesu" (p. 407, i.). Other hymns by him in C. U. include:—

1. I have a Great High Priest above. Christ the High Priest.
2. I saw the Cross of Jesus. The Cross.
3. In spirit, Lord, we meet Thee now. Missions. This hymn, written for the Annual Meeting of the Irish Church Missions Ex one of their annual meetings in London.
4. Jesus, Thou Name of magic power. The Name of Jesus. Sometimes given as "Jesus, Thou Name of magic power."
5. The sprinkled blood is speaking. The Blood of Christ.
6. There is a day I long to see. Heaven Anticipated.
7. There is a Name I love to hear. The Name of Jesus. This is a free rendering of 1871, in various languages. From this the hymn "Jesus, the Name I love so well" is taken.
8. There's naught on earth to rest upon. God Unchangeable.
9. When dead in sin and far from God. Redemption.

All these hymns with the exception of No. 3, are in his Sacred Poems and Prose, 1861, and several of them have been printed as leaflets, and set to special music. The Sacred Poems, &c., contains 26 hymns, some of which are of considerable merit. [J. J.]

Whiting, John Bradford, M.A., s. of the Rev. James Whiting, M.A., Chaplain under the Hon. E. I. C., was b. at Cawnpore, India, and educated at Caius College, Cambridge, where he held a Scholarship and an Exhibition, and graduated B.A. 1850, and M.A. 1853. On taking Holy Orders he became Curate of Saffron Walden, 1851: Vicar of Bloomfield, 1861: and Vicar of St. Luke's, Ramsgate, 1875. He was also Chaplain to Bp. Wigram (Rochester), 1864-67, and Commissary to the Bishop of Niger, 1881. His Hymns for the Catholic Church was pub. in 1882. It contains 516 hymns, a few of which are new, but none are of his composing. (See England, Hymnody, Church of.) [J. J.]

Whiting, Mary Bradford, was b. at Bloomfield, Essex. She is daughter of the Rev. J. B. Whiting, Vicar of St. Luke's, Ramsgate. To her father's Hys. for the Church Catholic, 1882, she contributed:—

1. Come ye yourselves apart and rest awhile. The way is weary, &c. Holy Communion.
2. O Sun of truth and glory. Morning.
3. O word of love! O word of life. Holy Scripture.
4. Thou art coming, O my Saviour. Advent.
5. Thou is swiftly passing o'er us. New Year.
6. To Thee, Creator, in Whose love. Holy Trinity.
7. What was the holy joy, O Lord. Work.

The best of these hymns are Nos. 1 and 7, and all are worthy of attention. [J. J.]

Whiting, William, was b. in Kensington, London, Nov. 1, 1825, and educated at Clapham. He was for several years Master of the Winchester College Choristers' School. His Sacred Thoughts and other poems were pub. in 1851; but contained no hymns. His reputation as a hymn-writer is almost exclusively confined to his "Eternal Father, strong to save" (p. 388, i.). Other hymns by him were contributed to the following collections:—

i. To the 1869 Appendix to the S. P. C. K. Ps. & Hys.

1. O Lord the heaven Thy power displays. Evening.
2. Onward through life Thy children sing. Changing scenes of life.

ii. To an Appendix to H. A. & M. issued by the Clergy of St. Philip's, Clerkenwell, 1868.

3. Jesu, Lord, our children's Pastors. Jesus the Example to the Young.

4. Lord God Almighty, Everlasting Father. Holy Trinity.
5. Now the harvest toil is over. Harvest.
6. Our Father of abounding grace. Consecration of a Church.
7. We thank Thee, Lord, for all. All Saints Day.
iii. To The Hymnary, 1872.
8. Amen, the deed in faith is done. Holy Baptism.
9. Jesus Christ our Saviour. For the Young.
10. Now the billows, strong and dark. For Ore of Sea.
11. O Father, Who the traveller's way. For Travellers by Sea.
12. When Jesus Christ was crucified. Holy Baptism.

Mr. Whiting's hymns, with the exception of his "Eternal Father," &c., have not a wide acceptance. He d. in 1878. [J. J.]

Whitmore, Lady Lucy E. G. [Staffordshire Hymn-books. § v.]

Whittier, John Greenleaf, the American Quaker poet, was b. at Haverhill, Massachusetts, Dec. 17, 1807. He began life as a farm-boy and shoemaker, and subsequently became a successful journalist, editor and poet. In 1828 he became editor of the American Manufacturer (Boston), in 1830 of the New England Review, and in 1836 (on becoming Secretary to the American Anti-Slavery Society) of the Pennsylvania Freeman. He was also for some time, beginning with 1847, the corresponding editor of the National Era. In 1840 he removed to Amesbury, Massachusetts, where most of his later works have been written. At the present time [1890] he lives alternately at Amesbury and Boston. His first poetical piece was printed in the Newburyport Free Press in 1824. Since then his publications have been numerous, including:—Voices of Freedom, 1833; Songs of Labour, and other Poems, 1850; Ballads and other Poems, Lond., 1844; The Panorama, and other Poems, 1856; In War Time, and Lyrical Poems, 1864; Poetical Works, 1868; Complete Poetical Works, 1874; The Bay of the Seven Islands, and other Poems, 1883.

From his numerous poems the following hymns have been compiled, and have come into C. U., more especially amongst the American Unitarians:—

1. All as God wills, Who wisely heeds. Trust in God. This is st. xvi. of Whittier's poem, "The Psalm." In its work, The Panorama, and other Poems, 1856 (Complete P. Works, Boston, 1878, p. 119), and is given in Hymns for the Christian Church and Home, Unitarian, 1853; Hosmer's Cong. Hymn., 1864, &c.

2. All things are Thine: no gift have we. Opening of a Place of Worship. Written for the Opening of Plymouth Church, Minnesota, 1871 (Comp. P. W., p. 341). In Hosmer's Cong. Hymn., 1864.

3. Another hand is beckoning us. Bereavement. From his poem "The Vanishers" (Comp. P. W., p. 198). In Hosmer's Cong. Hymn., 1864.

4. Dear Lord and Father of mankind. Calmness as God desired. From his poem "The Brewing of Soma," beginning with st. xii. (Comp. P. W., p. 390). In Hosmer's Cong. Hymn., 1864.

5. God giveth existence at last. Death and Burial. This begins with st. xvii. of his poem, "The Singer," written in 1871 (Author's MS.), and included in the Comp. P. W., 1878, p. 265. In Martineau's Hymns, 1873.

6. Hast thou, 'midst life's empty noises. The Purpose of Life. Written in 1842. It is in Longfellow and Johnson's Unitarian Bk. of Hymns, Boston, 1846, and several other later American collections. Also in Lyra Sac. Americana, 1868.

7. I ask not now for gold to gild. Inspiration. From his poem "The Wind of To-Day." Written in 1840 (Author's MS.). In Hedge and Huntington's Unitarian Hys. for the Ch. of Christ. Boston, 1853; the Appendix to Longfellow's Hymns, 1864, &c.

8. Immortal love, for ever full. The Love of Jesus. This poem, entitled "Our Master," appeared in Whittier's work, The Panorama, and other Poems, 1856, in 35 st. of 4 l.; in Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869-70, p. 127; and in the Comp. P. W., 1878, p. 251, and others. From this poem the following centos have come into C. U.:—

(1) Immortal love for ever full. In the 1890 ed. of the Hy. Comp. and others.

(2) O Lord and Master of us all. Begins with st. xvi.

(3) O Love! O Life! our faith and sight. Begins with st. xxiv. In several American hymnals, including the Unitarian Hymns (and Tune Bk.), Boston, 1868, and others.

(4) Our Friend, our Brother, and our Lord. Begins with st. xxxiv. In Hosmer's Cong. Hys., 1864, &c.

(5) Our Father! hear, we chiefly ask. Begins with st. xxvi. In Hosmer's Cong. Hys., 1864, &c.

(6) We may not climb the heavenly steeps. Begins with st. v. In Lyra Sacra Americana, 1868; the Prim. Meth. Hy., 1887, &c.

The use of these centos shows that the lyrical element in Whittier's poem is the best and most popular.

9. Ye who would find the secret of the Master. Duty and its Reward. This begins with st. iv. of his poem "Seed-time and Harvest." Written circa 1840 (Author's MS.). Given in his Comp. P. W., p. 114. The hymn is in Lyra Sacra Americana, 1868, and other American collections.

10. May freedom's children, everywhere. Freedom Hymn. Written for and suggested to the Editor of Hys. of the Spirit. Boston, No. 505, Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, and other collections. In Whittier's Poetical Works, Boston, 1885, p. 91, it is given as, "Fight onward, O good is ill." [J. J.]

11. Now is the seed-time: God alone. Self-Sacrifice. In the Boston Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, No. 403.

12. O backward-looking son of time. New and Old. This begins with st. xii. of his poem "The Reformers," and is given in this form in the Boston Hys. for the Church of Christ, 1853, No. 160. It is not found in later collections. In full in the Comp. P. W., p. 79.

13. O beauty, old yet ever new. The Law of Love. This in the Boston Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, begins with st. xxi. of his poem on "The Shadow and the Light," written in 1847 (Author's MS.). [J. J.]

14. O Sacred hope of love and light. American National Hymn. This is from his poem "Democracy," which is dated "Boston Feb. 1845," and is in his Ballads and other Poems, Lond., 1844, p. 214, and his Poems, 1849.

15. O, he whom Jesus loves has truly spoken. True Worship. This in the 1848 Supplement to the Boston Hy. of Hys., 1846, No. 376, begins with st. xi. of his poem on "Worship," given in full in his Comp. P. W., p. 77. The poem is dated by the Author, 1848 (Author's MS.).

16. O holy Father, just and true. Freedom. "Lines written for the Celebration of the third Anniversary of British Emancipation at the Broadway Tabernacle, N. Y., August 1st, 1837." Given in his Comp. P. W., p. 73. Included in the Unitarian Christian Hys., Boston, 1844, and has been reprinted in later collections.

17. O Maker of the Fruits and Flowers. Flower Services. This begins with st. iv. of his "Lines for the Agricultural and Horticultural Exhibition at Amesbury and Salisbury, Sept. 28, 1848," as given in his Comp. P. W., p. 97. It is in Longfellow and Johnson's Unitarian Hy. Bk., 1846, and as "O Painter of the fruits and flowers," in Hosmer's Cong. Hys., 1864.

18. O not alone with outward sign. Divine Instinct. This begins with st. ii. of his poem, "The Tent on the Beach," written in 1867 (Author's MS.), and in his Lond., 1844, p. 166, and his Comp. P. W., p. 75. The hymn appeared in the Boston Hy. of Hys., 1846, and gets in later collections.

19. O pure and holy One, not in vain. Freedom. This begins with st. xii. of the poem "To the Reformers of England," as given in the Comp. P. W., p. 77. The hymn was included in the Boston Hy. of Hys., 1846, and has been reprinted in later collections.

20. Our fathers framed the law of right. Old and New. This is from his poem "The Chapel of the Hermits," 1840 (in 56 st. of 4 l.), and begins with st. xi. (Comp. P. W., p. 113.). The cento was given in the Boston Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, and reprinted in later collections.

21. O Thou, at Whose rebuke the grave. Mercy. This was given in the Boston Hy. of Hys., 1846, No. 441.

22. O (Dod) Thou, Whose presence went before. National Hymn. This hymn is dated by the Author, 1858 (Author's MS.), and was sung at the Anti-Slavery Meeting at Chatham Street Chapel, New York, "on the 4th of the 7th month, 1851." It is No. 704 in the Unitarian Christian Hys., 1864. It is sometimes given as "O God, whose presence went before."

23. O, what though our feet may not tread where Christ trod. Presence of Christ's Spirit. The author dates this 1857 (Author's MS.). It is No. 152 in the Boston Hy. of Hys., 1846. In their Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, No. 653, it begins: "O, wherefore the dream of the unholy abode." Both cento are from his poem in its entirety.

24. Shall we grow weary in our watch? Patience, or Resignation. This begins with st. x. of his poem "The Cypress-Tree of Cuyion." (Comp. P. W., p. 84.) This form of the text was given in the Boston Hy. of Hys., 1846, No. 379, in 7 st. of 4 l., and again in Hosmer's Cong. Hys., 1864, No. 1.

25. Spirit of the chargeful multitude. Persecution. This begins with line 6 of st. x. of his poem "Eschiel," and was given in the Boston Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, No. 641. In full in Comp. P. W., p. 47.

26. There is a temple which is not. Worship of Nature. The author dates this 1843 (Author's MS.). It is from his poem "The Worship of Nature," and was given in this form in the Boston Hys. for the Church of Christ, 1853, No. 160. The cento "The harp of Prophecy," appeared in the Christian Register (cited from Bp. Hy. Bk.), Boston, 1864, No. 181, is from the same poem. The cento No. 321 in the Boston Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, is also (altered) from this poem.

27. The path of life we walk to-day. The Shadowing Rock. This in the Boston Hys. of the Spirit, 1864, No. 511, is from his poem on "The Rock in Rebecca's Shadow," written in 1859 (Author's MS.). In full in Comp. P. W., p. 184.

28. Thine are all the gifts, O God. Children's Ministers, or Digging Schools. Written for the Anniversary of Hingham Sunday Schools, Boston, 1874. It is in Hosmer's Cong. Hys., 1864.

29. Then had fallen in thine armour. Death. From his poem "To the memory of Charles B. Storrs, late President of Western Reserve College," pub. in his Ballads and other Poems, Lond., 1844, p. 84. Dated by the Author, 1844 (Author's MS.). Abridged form in the Hys. of the Spirit, 1864.

30. To-day, beneath Thy chastening eye. Seeking Rest. This begins with st. iv. of his poem, "The Wish of To-Day," dated by the author 1847 (Author's MS.), and included in his In War Time, and Lyrical Poems, 1864, p. 129. The cento in Martineau's Hymns, 1873, and others.

31. We are not, know not; all our way. Resignation. "Written at the opening of the Civil War, 1861" (Author's MS.), and included in his In War Time, and Lyrical Poems, 1864, p. 120. In full in the Prim. Meth. Hymnal, 1887.

32. When on my day of life the night is falling. Old Age. Written in 1876 (Author's MS.), and included in his work The Bay of the Seven Islands, and other Poems, 1883, p. 1. In Martineau's Hymns, 1873.

33. With silence only as their benediction. Death. "1849. Written on the death of Sophia Storrs, sister of Joseph Storrs, of Birmingham, Eng." (Author's MS.). It is in several collections, including Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1873; Hosmer's Cong. Hys., 1864, and others.

Notwithstanding this extensive use of portions of Mr. Whittier's poems as hymns for congregational use, he modestly says concerning himself, "I am really not a hymn-writer, for the good reason that I know nothing of music. Only a very few of my pieces were written for singing. A good hymn is the best use to which poetry can be devoted, but I do not claim that I have succeeded in composing one." (Author's MS.) We must add, however, that these pieces are characterized by rich poetic beauty, sweet tenderness, and deep sympathy with human kind. (See also Index of Authors and Translators.) [J. J.]

Whittingham, William. [Old Version, § ix. 3.]

Whittingham, William Rollinson, D.D., LL.D., was b. in New York, Dec. 2, 1805. He received his early education from his mother, and subsequently graduated at the General Theological Seminary, New York, 1825. He was for some time Rector of St. Mark's, Orange, New Jersey; then of St. Luke's, New York; and afterwards Professor of Ecclesiastical History in the General Seminary, N. Y., 1835. In 1840 he was consecrated Bishop of Maryland, and d. in 1879. For talent, learning, and character, Bishop Whittingham is allowed to be one of the great American Bishops, if not the greatest. His contributions to hymnology were Specimens of a Church Hymnal, Baltimore, Dec. 1863, and two trs. from the German, which appeared in Hys. for Church and Home, 1820. (See Index of Authors and Translators.) [F. M. B.]

Who are these that come from far? T. Kelly. [Triumphs of the Gospel.] This hymn in Hatfield's Church Hymn Book, N. Y., 1872, and others, is composed of st. iii., iv. (rearranged) v., vi. of Kelly's "Hark! what sounds salute our ears," which appeared in the 1806 ed. of his Hymns, in 6 st. of 4 l. (ed. 1853, No. 6).

Who but Thou, Almighty Spirit? [Missions.] This hymn appeared in The Evangelical Magazine, 1821, in 3 st. of 6 l., and signed Evigna. It was reprinted in Nettleton's American Village Hymns, 1825, and subsequently in numerous collections in that country and elsewhere, as in Hatfield's Church H. Bk., N. Y., 1872; Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866, &c. [J. J.]

Who can resist the Almighty arm? J. Logan. [God Omnipotent.] Pub. in the Scottish Translations and Paraph., 1781, as a paraphrase of Job xxvi. 6, &c., in 9 st. of 4 l. It is rarely found outside of the Tra. and Paraphs. We have ascribed it to J. Logan on evidence given under Brown, R., p. 188, ii. [J. J.]

Who is this so weak and helpless? Bp. W. W. How. [Life and Death of Jesus.] This very beautiful hymn in the form of question and answer, on the Life and Death of our Blessed Lord, was pub. in the 1867 Supplement to Morrell and How's Fv. & Hys., in 4 st. of 8 l. It was revised by Bp. How for the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871. It is found in a large number of modern hymnals. [J. J.]

Who says, the wan autumnal sun? J. Keble. [Burial. The Widow at Nain.] Dated Sep. 27, 1822, and pub. in the 4th ed. of the Christian Year, 1828, in 13 st. of 5 l., and based upon St. Luke vii. 13, 14, "And when the Lord saw her, He had compassion on her," &c. In E. T. Lowe's Hys. for Christian Seasons, Gainsburgh, 1834, st. iv.-vi., ix. and x., were given as "Who says the widow's heart must break?" In Kennedy, 1863, No. 1328, there is another hymn from this poem and beginning with the same opening line. It is composed of st. iv.-vii. Each of these arrangements forms a good hymn. [J. J.]

Why dost thou beat so quick, my heart. F. W. Faber. [Prayer.] Pub. in his Jesus and Mary, &c., 1849, in 12 st. of 4 l. and headed, "Sweetness in Prayer." It was also given in his Hymns, 1862. In Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1873, the cento, "Thy home is with the humble, Lord," is composed of st. viii., ix., and xii. Sometimes it is given as "Thy home is with the humble soul." [J. J.]

Why march ye forth with hymn and chant? J. M. Neale. [Burial—and Burial at Sea.] This appeared in his posthumous Ori- ginal Sequences, Hymns, and other Ecclesiastical Verses, 1866, p. 75, in 4 st. of 8 l., and headed, "At a Funeral." The hymn for Burial at Sea, "We give his body to the surge," No. 516, in the Hymnary, 1872, is based thereupon. It is one of a very limited number of hymns adapted to that occasion. [J. J.]

Why should I fear the darkest hour? J. Newton. [Jesus All and in All.] Printed in the Gospel Magazine, June, 1771 in 8 st. of 3 l., headed "In uno Jesu omnia," and signed "Omicron." It was included in the Olney Hymns, 1779, Bk. iii., No. 66, with the heading "Jesus my All." It has passed into a large number of hymn-books both old and new. It is usually abbreviated. [J. J.]

Why should I sorrow more? (Confidence in the Promises.) This hymn in Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866, is W. Williams's hymn "My God, my Life, my All," rewritten for that collection by Mr. Spurgeon. Williams's original appeared in his Gloria in Excelsis, or Hys. of Praise to God and the Lamb, Carmarthen, 1772, No. 67, in 4 st. of 8 l. [J. J.]

Why should our tears in sorrow flow? [Death of a Minister.] Appeared in the Missionary Minstrel, Lond., 1826. It was by "O. P.," the anonymous compiler of that collection of missionary hymns. It was reprinted in Pratt's Ps. & Hys., 1829, No. 569, in 6 st. of 4 l. From that collection it passed into many hymn-books, especially in America, and is in somewhat extensive use. [W. T. B.]

Why should the children of a [the] King. I. Watts. [Assurance through Faith.] Pub. in his Hys. and Spiritual Songs, 1709, Bk. i., No. 144, in 4 st. of 4 l., and headed, "The Witnessing and Sealing Spirit." It was adopted by G. Whitefield in his Coll. of Hys., &c., 1753; A. M. Toplady in his Ps. & Hys., 1776, and others amongst the older compilers. It is also widely used in G. Britain and America. [J. J.]

Why will ye lavish out your years. P. Doddridge. [Care of the Soul.] In the posthumous Hys. founded on Various Texts of Scripture, 1755, No. 206, in 5 st. of 4 l., and again in J. D. Humphreys's ed. of the same, 1839, No. 229. It is given in most American hymn-books as "Why will ye waste in trifling cares?" [J. J.]

Whytehead, Thomas, M.A., s. of H. R. Whytehead, Rector of Cayley, and Prebendary of Lincoln, was b. at Thornasby, Nov. 30, 1815. He was educated at Beverley Grammar School, and St. John's College, Cambridge. He was Bell University Scholar; he also won the Chancellor's medal for English Verse twice; the Hulsean prize of 1835; and other distinctions. He was also twenty-second senior optime in the Mathematical Tripos, and second in the first class in the Classical Tripos; B.A. in 1837, and Foundation Fellow of his college the same year. In 1838 he was classical lecturer at Clare College, but left the University for the Curacy of Freshwater, Isle of Wight, on taking Holy Orders in 1839. In 1841 he was appointed Chaplain to Dr. Selwyn, Bishop elect of New Zealand, and sailed for that country in 1842. He was appointed the first Principal of the College which the Bishop established in New Zealand; but owing to the rupture of a blood vessel shortly after landing in New South Wales, he never took any duty in New Zealand. The little time and strength which remained to him he spent in correcting the Maori translation of the Bible and Prayer Book. The end came, however, only too soon, and he d. at Waimate, N. Zealand, March 10, 1843. The cetoom in which he was held is emphasised by the fact that "When the new chapel of his college (St. John's Cambridge) was erected and the vaulted roof was encrusted with carved figures, beautifully executed, standing in a sacred company, as the founder of Christian era, the fire which received the distinguished honour of being selected to represent the nineteenth century, all members of his college, were Henry Martyn, William Wilberforce, William Wordsworth, Charles Simeon, and Thomas Whytehead."—Christian Life, June 1875, p. 288.]

Whytehead's Poems were pub. by Rivingtons in 1842, and his College Life, posthumously in 1845. In the former there are seven "Hymns towards a Holy Week." Of these "Last of creation's days" (Sixth day) and the widely known "Sabbath of the saints of old" (q.v.). Five days before he died he wrote to a friend:—

"I took up the translation of the Evening Hymn (Abendlied, by one Gerhardt) into Short Metre, thinking that first of the kind of the same metre and rhythm as the English. Two hundred and fifty copies have been printed, and sung in church and school by the natives, and several of them came and sang under my window. They call it the 'new hymn for the sick minister.' Now, what do you think of it? Is it worth the pains it might? It is very hard for me to compress within the same bounds in a rude language. However it is done, and people seem pleased with it, and it is a comfort to think one has introduced Bishop Ken's beautiful hymn (Evening) into a heathen country. So with them this legacy when I could do no more for them."

A life so short and holy could have had no more beautiful ending. [J. J.]

Wie sin Vogel lieblich singet. (Morning.) This hymn, which Miss Winkworth appropriately entitles "A Morning Song of Gladness," is included as No. 207 in the Geistreiche Psalmen und Gesänge, Marburg, 1722, in 6 st. of 8 l. It had previously appeared in the ed. of 1690 (Marburg Universität Library). In J. Kelner's Christliches Hausbuch, Hamburg, 1849, p. 230, st. i., iv., vi. are given, marked as "from the year 1580"; and this text is in Knapp's Ev. L. S., 1850, No. 2253 (1865, No. 2325). We have failed to trace the hymn earlier than 1690. The tr. in C. U. is:—

As a bird in meadows fair. A good tr. from Knapp, 1850, No. 2253, by Miss Winkworth, in her C. F. for England, 1863, No. 161, p. 70, repeated in Mrs. Brock's Children's P. & Hys., 1881, beginning, "As the bird in meadows fair." In her C. & Fer England, 1863, No. 161, Miss Winkworth rewrote it to the original metre, and there it begins, "As a bird at dawning singeth."

[J. M.]

Wie gross ist des Allmächtgen Güte. C. F. Gellert. [Praise.] A beautiful hymn of thanksgiving for the goodness of God, one of the finest and most popular of Gellert's productions. First pub. in his Geistliche Oden und Lieder, Leipzig, 1757, p. 38, in 6 st. of 8 l., entitled, "The Goodness of God." In cluded in the Berlin G. B., 1765, No. 20, in almost all subsequent collections, and recently in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863. Tr. as:—

1. How beauteous our Creator's blessing! A good and full tr. by A. T. Russell, as No. 204 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851.

Other trs. are: (1) "How great the goodness of the Lord," in Madame de Pontes' Poetry and Poetry of Germany, 1860, vol. i. p. 472. (2) "How great Jehovah's love, how tender." by Mrs. Findlater, in S. S. L., 1862, p. 47 (1864, p. 312). (3) "My God, how boundless is Thy love," in the Song of Rest, 1877, p. 400, marked as by "A. R. Br." [J. M.]

Wie soll ich dich empfangen? P. Gerhardt. [Advent.] 1st pub. in the Crüger-Runge G. B., 1653, No. 77, in 10 st. of 8 l., reprinted in Wackernagel's ed. of Gerhardt's Geistl. Lieder, No. 3, Bachmann's ed., No. 22, and the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 21. It is founded on St. Matt. xxi. 1–9, the Gospel for the first S. in Advent. The allusions in st. vi.–ix. would suggest that it was written during the Thirty Years' War. It is one of Gerhardt's finest productions, and is probably the best German Advent hymn. Tr. as:—

1. How shall I meet my Saviour. In full, by J. C. Jacobi, in his Paulmodia Germanica, 1722, p. 3 (1732, p. 5, slightly altered). Included in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754, and repeated, altered, in later eds. (1886, No. 33). Varying entos under the original first line, but from the Moravian text, are found in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, Dr. Pagenstecher's Coll., 1864, Latrobe's Ps. & Hys., 1841, and Bp. Kyle's Coll., 1860. Other forms are (see also No. 3):—

(1) We go to meet Thee, Saviour (st. i. alt.), in Reid's Praise Bk., 1872, mainly from the Moravian H. Bk., 1801.

(2) Love caused Thine Incarnation (st. v. alt.), in Wigner's Offering of Christian Songs for G. & C., 1872, from the Moravian H. Bk., 1801.

2. Oh, how shall I receive Thee. A good tr. of st. i., ii., vii., viii., x., by A. T. Russell, as No. 36 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851. Repeated in Kennedy, 1863, and the People's H., 1867; and abridged in J. L. Porter's Coll., 1876, H. & Songs of Praise, N. Y., 1874, London Deniel, N. Y., 1884, &c.

3. Oh! how shall I receive Thee. This is No. 3 in the ed., 1857, of Mercer's C. P. & H. Bk. St. i., ii., are based on Russell, and st. iii.–v. (representing iv.–vi.), are based on Jacobi, as altered in the Moravian H. Bk., 1801. Slightly altered in Mercer, 1859, and thence in the Pennsylvania Luth. Ch. Bk., 1868; and (omitting Tr. of st. iv.) in Mercer's Ox. ed., 1864.

4. Ah! Lord, how shall I meet Thee. A tr. of st. i., ii., v., vi., viii., x., by Miss Winkworth, in her C. & Fer England, 1863, No. 21.

5. Say with what salutations. In full, by J. Kelly, in his P. Gerhardt's Spir. Songs, 1867, p. 10; repeated, abridged, in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

Other trs. are: (1) "Lord, how shall I be meeting," by Dr. J. W. Alexander, in Schaff's Kirchenfreund, 1840, p. 178, and his Christ in Song, 1869, p. 20, and his Thesaurus, Philadelphia, 1876, p. 20. (2) "Lord, how shall I meet Thee? How my heart," by Miss Winkworth, 1858, p. 7. (3) "How shall I come to meet Thee," by Miss Manington, 1883, p. 95. (4) "Lord, how shall I receive Thee," by St. Mundo, 1864, p. 93. [J. M.]

Wigner, John Murch, second s. of J. T. Wigner (see below), was b. at Lynn, June 19, 1844. He was educated at the Grammar School of Lynn, and afterwards graduated B.A. and M.C. in the London University. Mr. J. M. Wigner now resides near London, and has been for many years in the India Home Civil Service. He is connected with his father's church, and has done much to promote the spiritual welfare of the young. He is the author of several hymns, three of which are in the Baptist Ps. and Hys. for School and Home, 1889 :—

1. "Come to the Saviour now." Invitation.

2. "Lost one! wandering on in sadness." Return to God.

3. "Lo, a loving Friend is waiting." The Call of Jesus.

The first of these is in the Bap. Ps. and Hys., 1880, and included 1871. [W. R. S.]

Wigner, John Thomas, was b. at Harwich, in or about the year 1815. When a youth he removed to Burnham, in Essex, where he became a member of a Baptist church. In 1836 he entered Stepney College as a student for the ministry, and in 1840 became pastor at Lynn, in Norfolk. From Lynn he removed in 1861 to Brockley, near London, where very shortly a new chapel was built for him, in which he continues to minister. Mr. Wigner was one of the committee which brought out, in 1858, the well-known Baptist Hymn-book Ps. & Hys. He was the editor of the Supplement to that book, which appeared in 1880, and was also editor of the Baptist Ps. and Hys. for School and Home, 1889. In these books two of his hymns were included: (1) "Hark! 'tis the song of heaven" (The Angels' Song at the Birth of Christ), and (2) "O Lord, revive Thy work" (Prayer for a Revival). A third, which appears in the above-named School H. Bk. is an adaptation by Mr. Wigner of a well-known hymn by Mrs. Reed, "O do not let the word depart" (Expostulation with the Backslood). [W. R. S.]

Wilhelm (II. or IV.), Duke of Sachse-Weimar, s. of Duke Johann of Sachse-Weimar, was b. in the castle of Altenburg, April 11, 1598. He studied for some time at the University of Jena, devoting himself especially to music and mathematics. On the outbreak of the Thirty Years' War he espoused the cause of Friedrich V. of the Palatinate. At the battle of the Weisse Berg, near Prague (see p. 188, i.), he was severely wounded, and at the battle fought near Stadtlohn, in Westphalia (Aug., 1623), he was at first left for dead, and then taken prisoner by Tilly. In 1623 the Emperor allowed him to go free, and he assumed the government of Weimar. When Gustavus Adolphus came to Germany (1630), Wilhelm did not join him till after the battle of Breitenfeld (Sept., 1631), and in July, 1635, he was one of the consenting parties to the Peace of Prague, between Saxony and the Emperor, in consequence of which the Swedish troops made various inroads on his territory. When the final partition took place, in 1644, between himself and his surviving brother (Sachse-Weimar fell to Wilhelm, and Gotha to Ernst) he set himself earnestly to restore prosperity and godliness in the regions under his rule. He also found more time (especially after the peace of Westphalia, 1648), to devote to his studies in poetry and music, and to the adornment of Weimar. He d. at Weimar, May 17, 1662 (Koch, iii. 110; Wetzel, iii. 459; Bode, p. 172, &c.).

Wilhelm joined, in 1617, in founding the Fruitbearing Society, the great German Literary and Patriotic Union of the 17th cent.; and, after the death (1635) of Ludwig, became the recognised head of the Society, and transferred the centre of its operations, to the direction of which the Duke was assisted by Georg Neumark (p. 796, l.). Neumark, in his Palmenbaum, 1668, p. 446, speaks of the Duke as having "composed several hymns, as well-known in this place, especially the short Hymn of Peace 'Gott der Fürste hat gegeben.'"

Besides this hymn on Peace only one other is known as Wilhelm's, viz.:—

Herr Jesu Christ, dich zu uns wend. Public Worship. This was included as No. 124 in the 2nd ed., 1651, of pt. i. of the Cantionale Sacrum, Gotha (1st ed. 1646), in 4 st. of 4 l., entitled "To be sung before the Sermon." As no author's name is there given, and as it did not appear in any of the three parts of the original ed. of 1646–48, the Duke's authorship is decidedly doubtful. So far as yet traced the Duke's name was not attached to it until in the Altdorf Liederfreud of 1678 (Fischer's Supplement, p. 71). In J. Nicolai's Handbüchlein, 4th ed., 1655, p. 746, it appears without author's name (Nicolai, be it observed, was living at Altenburg), and entitled "A heartfelt petition of pious Christians for grace and the help of the Holy Spirit, during Divine Service, before the Sermon." Koch says it was in the 1st ed., 1618, of Nicolai, but this appears to be merely a guess, for the earliest ed. of Nicolai which he describes at iii., 109, is that of 1655; and if it were in Nicolai's 1618 ed., this circumstance would make the Duke's authorship still more unlikely. Whoever the author was the hymn soon became justly popular, and in 1678 was formally directed to be sung in all the churches in Saxony on all Sundays and festivals. It is a simple and forcible hymn, which survived the Rationalistic period, and is found in all recent German hymn-books, e.g. in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 356. Tr. as:—

1. Lord Christ, reveal Thy holy Face. In full by J. C. Jacobi, in his Prak. Got., 1729, p. 62 (1735, p. 69). Repeated as No. 322 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754 (1886, No. 754), and as No. 54 in J. F. Thrupp's Ps. & Hys., 1853.

2. Lord Jesu, to our prayer attend. This is good and full tr. by A. T. Russell, as No. 12 in his Ps. & Hys., 1851.

3. Lord Jesus Christ, be present now! This is a good and full tr. by Miss Winkworth, as No. 13 in her C. B. for England, 1863; repeated in the Pennsylvania Luth. Ch. Bk., 1868, No. 49.

4. Christ Jesus Lord, to us attend. In full by L. Heyl, as No. 3 in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

Other trs. are:—

(1) "Lord Jesus, turn to us, and down," by Dr. C. Walker, 1846, p. 46. (2) "Lord Jesus Christ, in mercy bend," by Miss Manington, 1845, p. 19. (3) "Lord Jesus Christ, now towards us bend," by N. L. Frothingham, 1870, p. 321.

[J. M.]

Willard, Emma C. (née Hart), teacher and educational writer, b. at Berlin Connecticut, 1787; resided in 1838 and sometime after at Hartford, and for many years conducted a well-known school at Troy, New York. She d. at Troy, 1870. Her hymn—

Rocked in the cradle of the deep (Sailor's Hymn), is sometimes said to have been pub. in 1838. It is found in Dearle's Plymouth Coll., 1859, No. 1285. Its earliest appearance has not been verified. It is a successful sailor's hymn. It is included in several collections in G. B.

[F. M. B.]

Williams, David, a contemporary of William Williams (1717–1791) and author of numerous Welsh hymns. He also wrote English hymns, some of which were pub. in a small tract of 24 pp., entitled, Joy in the Tents of Zion, or a Few Gospel Hymns, Brecknock, 1770. These hymns are rough, and in the style of W. Williams. There is a wild Welsh beauty about them which makes itself felt under the restraints of a gloomy Calvinism and a half foreign language. The original tract is very rare. [W. T. B.]

Williams, David, of Bethesda'r Fro, was a minister with the Independents in South Wales. He was b. at a farm-house, called Tredalyn, near Cowbridge, Glamorganshire. In 1812 he published a collection of hymns, which he called Llais y Deryn, or The Voice of the Turtle Dove. In 1824 he published a new edition under the title of Dyfrondd Bethesda, containing 143 hymns and 10 songs. Many of his hymns are still used by all denominations in Wales. [W. G. T.]

Williams, Edward, or Iolo Morysnaig, the greatest Welsh scholar of his time, published two vols. of hymns under the title Seinws yr Eglwys yn Anialwch, "The Psalms of the Church in the Wilderness." He is the chief author of the Myvyrian Archæology of Wales. His hymns were chiefly used by the Unitarians. [W. G. T.]

Williams, Helen Maria, daughter of Charles Williams, an officer in the Army, was b. in the North of England in 1762. Through the influence of Dr. A. Kippis (p. 622, l.) whose help she sought in London, her first poem, Edwin and Elfrada, a legendary tale, was pub. in 1782. This was followed by An Ode on the Peace, 1783, and Peru, a Poem. These were all included in her Poems, 2 vols., 1786, 2nd ed. 1791. Being connected by her sister's marriage with a French Protestant family, she resided in Paris during the period of the Revolution and the reign of Terror. There she became well known as a political writer of strong republican sympathies, but her too independent expressions of opinion led to her temporary imprisonment by Robespierre. Her Letters from France, 1790, were pub. in England and America, and in a French translation, in France. She also pub. Letters containing a Sketch of the Politics of France from the 31st May, 1793, till the 28th of July, 1794, 2 vols., 1795, and other works of a like kind; some additional Poems, and a tr. of Humboldt's Personal Narratives of his Travels, 1815. The closing years of her life were spent at Amsterdam, in the house of her nephew, Athanase Coquerel, a pastor of the Reformed Church there. Miss Williams d. in 1827. From her Poems, 1786, the following hymns have come into C. U.:—

1. Father of Jesus, turn Thy sway. Nature and God. In Martineau's Hymns, 1840.

2. While Thee I seek, protecting Power. Safety in God. This hymn was in Dr. Priestley's Birmingham Coll., 1780; in Kippis's Coll., 1795; the Exeter Coll., 1806; and in numerous other collections, both Unitarian and Orthodox. In the New Cong. H. Bk., 1859, it begins "While Thee I seek, Almighty Power;" and in several collections a cento beginning "Father, in all our [my] comforts here," is given as in Horsell's Ps. & Hys., 1845 and 1857, and several others. [V. D. D.]

Williams, Isaac, B.D., was b. at Cwmyefelin in Cardiganshire, Dec. 12, 1802, where his mother happened to be staying at her father's house at the time of his birth. But his parents' home was in Bloomsbury, London, his father being a Chancery barrister at Lincoln's Inn. He received his early education from a clergyman named Poldampton, with whom he was at first a day pupil in London, but whom he afterwards accompanied to a curacy at Worplesdon, near Guildford. All Mr. Poldampton's pupils (15), with the exception of Isaac Williams and his two elder brothers, were being prepared for Eton, where great stress was laid upon Latin versification; and it was in these early years that Isaac Williams acquired his fondness for, and proficiency in, this species of composition. In 1814 he was removed to Harrow, where Mr. Drury was his private tutor. He gained several school prizes, and became so used, not only to write, but to think, in Latin, that when he had to write an English theme he was obliged to translate his ideas, which were in Latin, into English. In 1821 he proceeded to Trinity College, Oxford, that college being chosen on the advice of Mr. Drury; and in his second term he was elected scholar of Trinity. In 1823 he won the University Prize for Latin Verse, the subject being Ars Geologica. The gaining of this prize was indirectly the turning point of his life, for it brought him into close relationship with John Keble, who may be termed his spiritual father. He had been previously introduced to Mr. Keble by the Vicar of Aberystwith, Mr. Richards, whom he had met at his grandfather's house. But there was no intimacy between them until he had won the Latin Verse Prize, when Mr. Keble came to his rooms and offered to look over the poem with him before it was recited and printed. This led to an intimate acquaintance which ripened into a warm friendship of infinite benefit to Isaac Williams's spiritual life. Mr. Keble offered to take him with him into the country and read with him during the Long Vacation, without any payment. Robert Wilberforce, then an undergraduate of Oriel, was also to be of the party. They settled at Southrop, near Fairford, a name familiar to the readers of Keble's Life. Here Isaac Williams made the acquaintance of Hurrell Froude, who was also reading with Mr. Keble, and this acquaintance also ripened into a friendship which was terminated only by death. Keble was like a boy with his pupils, entering with zest into all their amusements, but he also exercised a deep influence over their religious characters, especially that of Isaac Williams. Williams spent this and all his subsequent Long Vacations at Southrop, and became more and more influenced for good by Mr. Keble. He also became a great friend of Sir George Prevost, then an undergraduate of Oriel, who afterwards married his only sister. During one of these sojourns at Southrop, Keble showed Williams and Froude a MS. copy of the Christian Year, but, strange to say, the young men did not appreciate its beauties. Williams's intimacy with Keble caused alarm to Mr. Hughes, the successor of the Vicar of Aberystwith who had first brought the two together; Mr. Hughes was greatly shocked to hear that he was a friend of Mr. Keble of Oriel, and said he would introduce him to a most excellent and promising person there, a Mr. Newman, whom the evangelical vicar knew in connexion with the Church Missionary Society, and who would, he doubtless thought, supply an antidote to Keble's High Church opinions. While Williams was an undergraduate at Oxford, though he was a member of Trinity College, he spent much of his time at Oriel, attracted thither, not only because it was Keble's college, but also because he had many friends there, the chief of whom were the Wilberforces, Ryder, Anderson (now Sir C. Anderson), Harrell Froude, and Sir G. Prevost. As an accomplished scholar who had the benefit of Keble's tuition, it was naturally expected that he would take a high degree; and so, no doubt, he would have done, had he not attempted too much. In spite of the warnings of friends, he resolved to aim at a "double first," and, as mathematical studies were not to his taste, the labour over this uncongenial work in addition to the necessary preparation for the classical school was too severe for him; his health broke down, and he was obliged to be content with a pass degree. In 1829 he was ordained to the curacy of Windrush, about twelve miles from Fairford where Keble then lived, and about twenty from Bisley, where his brother-in-law, Sir George Prevost, who was now married, was curate. But he did not stay long at Windrush. Passman through he was, he competed successfully for a Trinity Fellowship, and had to return to Oxford the same year as college tutor. He lived on terms of great intimacy with Hurrell Froude, then Fellow of Oriel, and was introduced by him to J. H. Newman, to whom he was much attracted, like almost all who were brought into contact with that remarkable man. The attraction appears to have been mutual, and Williams became Newman's curate at S. Mary's, Oxford, which then included the village or rather hamlet of Littlemore. In 1842 he married Caroline, the third daughter of Arthur Champernown, of Dartington Hall, Devon, left Oxford, and went to Bisley as curate to Mr. T. Keble. So far as his outer life went, little more need be said. Nothing seems to have occurred to ruffle its placid course, except one episode which occurred in 1841–2. When John Keble resigned the Poetry Professorship at Oxford, he was naturally anxious that his friend Williams should be his successor. Not only was there a warm personal friendship and an entire sympathy of opinion on the most important of all matters between the two men, but on the score of poetical merit, Williams seemed to him obviously the proper person. He had already published several of his poetical works, and his reputation as a sacred poet was second only to that of Keble himself. But he was also identified in a peculiar way with the Tract writers. He had actually written the Tract which, next to the memorable Tract 90, had given the greatest offence of all, viz.: Tract 89, on Reserve in the Communication of Religious Knowledge, and he was also known as the especial friend and late confidant of Newman. It is not, therefore, surprising that vehement opposition was raised against his election. A rival candidate was found in the person of Mr. Edward Garbett, of Brasenose, a First Classman, but quite unknown in the domain of poetry. There was really no comparison whatever between the fitness of the two candidates, but that counted for little when men's minds were heated by the "odium theologicum." It became simply a party question; but a public contest was happily averted by a private comparison of votes, when it was found that there was a large majority of votes in favour of Mr. Garbett. Mr. Williams was much hurt—not by the opposition of the Low Churchmen, for he expected that,—but by the desertion of several whom he counted upon as friends. He withdrew from Oxford and from public life (which had never possessed much attraction to a man of his retiring and studious habits) altogether. He remained at Bisley until 1848, when he removed to Stinchcombe; and there he lived until his death. From time to time some cultured and thoughtful work from his pen was given to the world, but that was all; and when the announcement that he had quietly passed away on SS. Philip and James' Day, May 1, 1865, appeared, the outer world had almost forgotten that he was still living, though it had not forgotten, and will not, it is hoped, while the English language lasts, ever forget his writings. He died of a decline, the seeds of which had long been sown.

As a devotional writer both in prose and verse the name of Isaac Williams stands deservedly high, but as a writer of hymns for congregational use, he does not, either for quality or quality, at all reach the first rank. Indeed, it would have been very distressing to him if he had done so, for he shared the distaste which most of the early leaders of the Oxford movement felt for the congregational use of any metrical hymns apart from the Psalter, and it is said that he purposely made his translations of the Hymns from the Parisian Breviary rough, in order to prevent them from being so used. His poetical works are :—

(1.) The Cathedral, his first publication in verse, issued in the early part of 1838. It was written about the year 1835, and was the result of a visit to the Cathedrals of the same great object we had undertaken." (in the Poets for the Poor). What that object was is intimated in the alternative title, The Cathedral, or the Catholic and Apostolic Church in England. It followed the publication of the Tracts for the Times, and clearly it worked out the ideas for more in detail, connecting each part of the edifice with some portion of church doctrine or discipline. The whole volume is written in the true spirit of poetry, and some of the sonnets in it are very beautiful; but it contains scarcely any verses out of which even centos of hymns can be formed.

(2.) Later on in the same year (1838) he published a volume, entitled Thoughts on Holy Poetry, though, as the preface states, the greater part was written at an earlier date. In fact the composition ranged over a period of at least twelve years. In the writer's own opinion there was more true poetry in this volume than in The Cathedral, but the latter had the advantage of being a connected composition, whereas the former was a collection of detached poems. The connection between the four divisions of the volume was, that they were all suggested by the writer's surroundings. Thus the "Golden Valley" was the beautiful district in the neighbourhood of Isenal known by that name; "The Mountain Home" was the writer's own birthplace, Cumberland; "Lyrics of the Rhine" was the fact that it was the River Winthringen on the banks of which was the writer's first curacy; "The Sacred City" is Oxford. In a later edition (1842) there is an additional division entitled "The side of the Hill," that is, Stinchcombe Hill, where Williams resided. The volume contains 1 hymn, 2 versions of hymns and more than 7 poems by private use, than of hymns in the popular sense of the term. The same volume contains his Scripture Lessons; or Sermons School Exercises, and his Oxford Prize Poem, Ars Geologica. The Latinity of these poems fully bears out Newman's own remark that it is scarcely pure but was never to be found with that in which he wrote in language. It also contained a translation of the "Dies Iræ, Dies Illa," to which, in the revised and enlarged edition of 1846, were added, under the title of Lyra Mystica, a number of translations from other Latin hymns, and from the Greek Anthology. Of this latter part very few, and are not adapted, as they were certainly not intended, for congregational use.

(3.) His next publication was Hymns translated from the Parisian Breviary, 1839. He thought that "the new Church of England" was the best source from which to draw knowledge of Catholic hymnody, and that it should be supplied, as being much more suited to the spirit of our own Liturgy than those hymns which are too often made to take part in our ancient services," and he had already published many of the translations which appeared in this volume, and several of the hymns in the Lyra Mystica, in the British Magazine, a monthly which was edited by Hugh James Rose. A few hymns from this volume, e.g., "O Heavenly Jerusalem," "Dispose my heart," "Most of the above," have been adopted for congregational use, but most of them are too long for congregational use, and irregular metre, that they are not available for the purpose. Indirectly, however, they have been highly serviceable to the cause of congregational psalmody, for Mr. Chandler tells us in the Preface to his Hymns of the Primitive Church that Mr. Williams' translations in the British Magazine led him to produce that work.

(4.) The next little volume, Hymns on the Catechism, was written at Bisley and published in 1842. Its object was strictly practical: it was intended as "an aid to the Church Catechism in the Sunday Schools, which is so essential a part of the church system." It cannot be said that these hymns are likely to be so attractive to children, as, for example, those of Mrs. Alexander, but they are suitable for congregational, or family use. The hymn, "Lord, in this Thy mercy's day," and "Be Thou my Guardian and my Guide," has found its way deservedly into most collections.

(5.) In the same year (1842) a much more ambitious work, The Baptistery, also saw the light. One seems to have been published in parts, as in the case of Tract 90, the leading idea is very much the same as that of Tract 90, viz.: that earthly things are a shadow of heavenly. It is divided into thirty-two "Images," as the author terms them; it is not easy reading, but it well repays the perusal, and the hymn, "Hail to the Lord's Anointed," is not unworthy of the pen of a true poet. One of the "Images," the 26th, "The Day of Days, or the Great Manifestation," has supplied our well-known hymn, "Lord, in this Thy mercy's day," but the general merit of the work is not above mediocrity.

(6.) The same may be said of The Altar, published in 1847, which takes the second great Sacrament of the Gospel, as The Baptistery took the first, for the basis of a series of devout meditations, 34 in number. The 1st of these, "Behold the Lamb of God," is the finest of the set, after the fashion of a foreign book which the writer had seen; but the illustrations were thought unworthy of the subject, and the later editions appeared without them. The object of the work was to connect the Sacrament of the Altar with the Holy Eucharist and the Blessed Lord's Passion with the Eucharistic Service. It contains exclusively a series of sonnets, and supplies no hymns for congregational use.

(7.) In the same year (1848) appeared another work of a very different type. It is entitled Hymnal Companion to the Book of Common Prayer, and is the study of the classics, subservient to a higher tradition." It incidentally gives us an interesting insight into the author's own training under Mr. Keble, for he tells us in the Preface that he himself "derived, not merely encouragement, but actual religious training from this book in early life." The hymns are mostly of the Sarum type, "varying that renders its valuable." The plan of the book is, to a word, to take passages from all the chief classical authors, and to give Christian comments on each.

(8.) His only other poetical work was Ancient Hymns for Children, 1845, which consisted of a reprint, with additions, of the Hymns on the Catechism, and Latin, previously published in 1839 and 1838 as above.

Although Isaac Williams's prose writings are as valuable, and perhaps more popular than his verse, yet from the point of view of this article it will suffice to enumerate the principal of them. They include—

Several reviews for The British Critic at various dates; Thoughts on the Study of the Gospels, 1837; Sermons on the Characters of the Old Testament, 1838; The Beginning of the Book of Genesis, with Notes and Reflections, 1861; The Psalms interpreted of Christ, 1842; The Female Characters of Holy Scripture, 1842; Memoir of the Rev. R. A. Suckling, late Perpetual Curate of Brasige, 1852; A Harmony of the Four Gospels, 1854; Sermons on the Epistles and Gospels, 2 vols., 1852; Sermons on the Female Characters of Holy Scripture, 1854; The Apocalypse, 1861, and many other minor works.

Besides these, he edited a large number of Plain Sermons at different dates by various writers, and he also wrote some of the Tracts for the Times, notably Tract 80 (1838), and 87 (1840), on Reserve in Communicating Religious Knowledge. It is difficult to see why these should have given so much offence. The principles on which the conclusion is based are obviously correct. Perhaps the title Reserve was alarming when men's minds were excited by the fear that they were being led by the new Oxford school they knew not whither. These two Tracts, with Tract 88, also by Isaac Williams, would fill an octavo volume of more than 200 pages. Both the character and the writings of Isaac Williams are singularly attractive. They both present a striking combination of qualities which are not often found in union. He was as firm as a rock in the maintenance and expression of his principles, but so quiet and retiring that his personality came far less before the public than that of any of the other leaders of the Oxford movement. His writings are so Christian and unaggressive in their tone that we are won over to his side almost without knowing it. He was a most valuable ally on this very account to his party, and the hymnologist may well regret that he did not devote his exquisite poetical taste, his refined culture, and his ardent piety more to hymn-writing than he did.

(J. H. O.)

Isaac Williams's position in hymnody does not lie so much in the actual work which he did, as in the influence he had over others. His tra. from the Latin, mainly through the metres which he deliberately adopted, have not had a wide acceptance in the hymnody of the Church. J. Chandler, however, has left it on record that Williams's tra. in the British Magazine led him to undertake kindred work, and Chandler's tra. are amongst the most popular in the English language. Williams's Hymns on the Catechism, 1842, were with Dr. Neale's Hymns for Children of the same year the forerunners of the more popular productions in the same lines by later writers. Williams's tra. together with the more important of his original hymns may be traced through the Index of Authors and Translators. Of his original hymns the following are also in C. U. :—

1. How solemn, silent, and how still. Obedience. (1842.)
2. Jesus, most loving Lord. Hymn to Christ. (1844.)
3. Lord, Thou dost adhor the proud. Humility.
4. Lord, in this Thy mercy's day. Holy Spirit.
5. The child lean on the parent's breast. Trust in God. (1842.)
6. The High Priest once a year. Ascension. (1842.)

The dates here given indicate the works in which those hymns appeared.

(J. J.)

Williams, John, D.D., LL.D., was b. at Deerfield, Massachusetts, Aug. 30, 1817; graduated at Trinity College, 1835, and was ordained in 1838. From 1842 to 1848 he was Rector at Schenectady, New York, and President of Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, from 1848 to 1853. In 1861 he was consecrated Assistant Bishop of Connecticut, taking, in 1865, the full charge of that diocese. Bishop Williams is an eminent scholar. His contributions to hymnology were Ancient Hymns of Holy Church. Hartford, 1845, being trs. from the Latin: the "Additional Hymns," pp. 91–127, were selected from the trs. from the Latin by Isaac Williams. A few of Bp. Williams's trs. have come into C. U. (See Index of Authors and Translators.)

(J. J.)

Williams, William, of Pantycelyn, was the Sweet Singer of Wales. He was b. at Cefn-y-Coed, in the Parish of Llanfair-y-bryn, near Llandovery, in 1717. He was ordained a deacon of the Established Church in 1740, by Dr. Claget, Bishop of St. Davids, and for three years he served the Curacies of Llanwrtyd and Llanddewi-Aberywaen. He never received Priest's Orders. He became early acquainted with the revivalist Daniel Rowlands, and for thirty-five years he preached once a month at Llanillian and Caio and Llansawel, besides the preaching journeys he took in North and South Wales. He was held in great esteem as a preacher. In 1744 his first book of hymns appeared under the title of Hallelujah, and soon ran through three editions. In 1762, he published another book under the title of Y Mor o Wydr, which soon went through five editions. His son John pub. an excellent edition of his hymns in the year 1811. In addition to his Welsh hymns Williams also pub. several in English as :—

(1.) Hosannah to the Son of David: or, Hymns of Praise to God, for our glorious Redemption by Christ. Some few translated from the Welsh Hymn-Book, but mostly composed on occasion of the late Wonderful Success of the Gospel. 8vo. pp. 24. Printed by W. Strahan, Wine Street, 1759. This contains 31 hymns of which 11 are trs. from his Welsh hymns. This little book was reprinted by D. Sedgwick in 1860.

(2.) Gloria in Excelsis: or, Hymns of Praise to God and Christ. 8vo. pp. 36. Hymns W. Williams Carmarthen. Printed for the author by John Rose, removed to Priory Street, near the Church, M.DCC.LXII. This contains 34 hymns, not including parts.

From these volumes the following hymns are in C. U. :—

i. From the Hosannah, 1759 :—

1. Jesus, my Saviour is enough. Jesus, All in All.
2. My God, my God, Who art my all. Communion with God desired.
3. The enormous load of human guilt. God's love unquenchable.

ii. From the Gloria in Excelsis, 1772.

4. Awake, my soul, and rise. Pentecostal.
5. Beneath Thy Cross I lay me down. Penitential.
6. Hark! the voice of my Beloved. The Voice of Jesus

7. Jesus, lead us with Thy power. Divine Guidance
Invited. Sometimes given as "Father, lead us with Thy power."

8. Jesus, Whose Almighty sceptre. Jesus as King.

9. Saviour, look on Thy beloved. The Help of Jesus desired.

10. White and ruddy is my Beloved. Beauties of Jesus.

Williams is most widely known through his two hymns, "Guide me, O Thou great Jehovah," and "O'er those gloomy hills of darkness." Williams d. at Pantycelyn, Jan. 11, 1791. [Sec Welsh Hymnody.] [W. G. T.]

Willis, Nathaniel Parker, was b. at Portland, Maine, Jan. 20, 1807, and educated at Yale College, graduating in 1826. After writing for a time for the American Monthly Magazine, which he established, and the New York Mirror, into which the former was merged, he was attached to the American Legation at the French Court. His stay in Europe extended from 1831 to 1837. On his return he became in 1839 one of the editors of The Corsair. His works are numerous, and include Sacred Poems, 1843. He d. Jan. 29, 1867. His sister, Mrs. Parton, is the well-known "Fanny Fern." His hymn—"The perfect world by Adam trod" (Dedication of a Place of Worship), was "Written to be sung at the Consecration of Hanover Street [Unitarian] Church, Boston," in 1826, and since then has been widely used, although of no exceeding merit. [F. M. B.]

Willkommen unter deiner Schaar. N. L. von Zinzendorf. [Christian Church.] The origin of this hymn was somewhat remarkable. On May 10, 1737, Zinzendorf had been consecrated, at Berlin, by Daniel Ernst Jablonsky (see p. 786, ii.), as Bishop and Ordinary of the Moravian Brethren's Unity. In 1741 D. L. Dober, who had officiated as General-Elder (Generals-Aeltester) of the entire Moravian connexion, resigned his office. Zinzendorf then held (from Sept. 11 to Sept. 25, 1741) a noteworthy synodical conference at London at which the assembled brethren agreed that no suitable successor to Dober could be found in their midst. On Sept. 16, 1741, they therefore resolved to beseech the Lord Jesus Christ Himself to take the office of General-Elder of the entire Unity, and, as on casting lots the result was favourable to their wishes, they took for granted that He had assumed this position, and appointed 12 Assistant-Elders (Vice-Aeltesten) to form the directing General Conference of the Unity, Zinzendorf's power of general superintendence being abolished (see Koch, v. 394). It was on this occasion that Zinzendorf wrote this hymn. Albert Knapp in his ed. of Zinzendorf's Geistliche Gedichte (1845, p. 288), entitles it "When Jesus assumed the position of General-Elder," and dates it Sept. 16, 1741. It was included in Appar. ad., circa 1745, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1778, and in 14 st. of 8 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1099, st. vi.–viii. were omitted, and in the Hist. Nachricht thereto (ed. 1831, p. 189) it is dated "In London, 16 Sept., 1741." Tr. as :—

i. Welcome among thy flock of grace. This is a tr. of st. i., iv., v., vii., by Miss Cox, in her Hymns in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1864, No. 91). It was adopted, slightly altered and beginning, "We hail Thee, Lord, thy Church's Rock," as No. 271 in the 1827 ed. of Mercer's C. P. & H. Bk. (Un. ed., 1844, No. 495, in 8 st.). From Mercer st. i., v., vii. passed into the Pennsylvania Luth. Church Mk., 1868, No. 373.

ii. Welcome among thy chosen Flock. This is No. 294 in the Appr. of 1745 to the Moravian H. Bk., 1742 (ed. 1754, pt. ii., No. 222). [J. M.]

Wilson, Caroline, née Fry, daughter of a farmer, was b. at Tunbridge Wells, Dec. 31, 1787. In 1831 she was married to a Mr. Wilson, and d. at Tunbridge Wells, Sept. 17, 1846. Her publications were somewhat numerous, and included a History of England in Verse, 1801; a Poetical Catechism, 1821; Serious Poetry, 1822; Death, and other Poems, 1825, &c. Her Autobiography, Letters, and Reminiscences were pub. in 1845, and her Table of the Lord in 1850. Her best known hymns are :—

i. For what shall I praise Thee, My God and my King? Praise for Redeeming us from Affliction. In C. U. in G. Britain and America.

ii. When the clouds of deepest woe. Affliction leading to Glory. From her Poetical Catechism, 1825, p. 24. In Kennedy, 1863, it begins "Fall oft the clouds of deepest woe." [J. J.]

Wilson, Jane, known as Sister Beatrice, the Mother Superior of the Sisterhood of St. Thomas the Martyr, Oxford, was the daughter of a clergyman, and d. in 1872 aged 56 years. She pub. Legends Monastica, and other Poems (Oxford: Mowbray), which has passed through several editions. This work includes 16 hymns, originally written for Hymns used at the Church of S. Thomas the Martyr, Oxford, edited by the Vicar, the Rev. T. Chamberlain, 1861; enlarged ed., 1870, as follows :—

1. A Fast before a Feast. Shrove Tuesday.
2. A virgin heart she brought to Christ. St. Prideswide.
3. Again our Lent has come to us. Lent.
4. At eventide was light. Evening.
5. Behold, she comes, in silence. Conception of B. V. M.
6. Calm the saint's slumber. St. Peter ad Vincula; or, Lammas Day.
7. Deep thoughts were in her breast. Visitation of B. V. M.
8. I love the courts of Jesus. Love for the House of God.
9. Jesu, ever present With Thy Church below. Holy Communion.
10. Lead in exultation. St. George.
11. Love and death have wrestled fiercely. St. Mary Magdalene.
12. Make the bitter waters Moses. The Holy Cross.
13. The Church and world for once. SS. Philip and James.
14. The good, O Jesu, that alone with Thee. Advent.
15. The Lord of Hosts is with us. Christmas.
16. We cry to Thee, O Jesu. Evening. [J. J.]

Wilt Thou forgive that sin when I began. John Donne. [Lent.] Concerning this hymn, to which special reference is made in the article on Early English Hymnody, Izaak Walton says, in his Life of Donne, after quoting the hymn in detail :—

"I have the rather mentioned this hymn for that he caused it to be set to a most grave and solemn tune, and to be sung often to the organ by the choristers of St. Paul's (Cathedral) Church in his own hearing, especially at the evening service, and at his return from his customary devotions in that place, did occasionally say to a friend, 'the words of this hymn have restored to me the remembrance of the many sins of my youth, and my sickness, which I composed . . . And, O the power of Church-music! that harmony added to this hymn has raised the affections of my heart, and quickened my grace of zeal and gratitude; and I observe that I always return from it with an unspeakable tranquility of mind, and a willingness to leave the world."—Walton's Lives, 1670.

The special sickness during which this hymn was composed fell upon the author during the earlier part of his life. It was sung at St. Paul's Cathedral, at intervals from 1621 to 1631, when Donne died. It was published subsequently in Donne's Poems in 1633; again in 1635, and in later editions, and is usually entitled, "A Hymn to God the Father." Orig. text in Walton's Lives, 1670 (1830, pp. 58-4). [English Hymnody, Early, § viii.] [J. J.]

Winchester, Caleb Thomas, M.A., was b. in 1847. He is Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature in the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut. His hymn, "The Lord our God alone is strong" (Dedication of a Science Hall), was written for the opening of the Orange Judd Hall of Natural Science, Wesleyan University, Middletown. It was included in the Meth. Episco. Hymnal 1878 (Nutter's Hymn Studies, 1884). [J. J.]

Winckler, Johann Joseph, s. of Gottfried Winckler, town clerk of Leitz, Saxe-Altenburg, was b. at Leuta, Dec. 23, 1670. He became a student of Theology at the University of Leipzig, during the time when A. H. Francke and J. C. Schade were holding their Bible readings, and his sympathies henceforth were with the Pietistic movement. In 1692 he was appointed preacher to the St. George's Hospital at Magdeburg, and afternoon preacher at St. Peter's Church there. He became chaplain to the Prince Christian Ludwig regiment in 1695, and went with it to Holland and Italy. After the Peace of Ryswijk (Oct. 30, 1697) he made a tour in Holland and England. Returning to Magdeburg, he was appointed, in 1698, diaconus of the Cathedral, and in 1703 also inspector of the so-called Holzkreis. Finally, in 1714, he became chief preacher at the Cathedral, and in 1716, also Consistorialrath. He d. at Magdeburg, Aug. 11, 1722 (Wetzel, iii. 437; Grischow-Kirchner Nachricht to Freylinghausen, p. 53; Koch, iv. 383; Blätter für Hymnologie, 1888, p. 170, &c.).

Winckler was a man who had the courage of his opinions, and when he felt that a principle was involved he was willing to make what concessions he could. Not that he was fond of controversy, but rather the reverse. Twice however he raised considerable feeling against himself in Magdeburg, first by the position he took in the controversy between Spener and Francke, and next by his attempts to bring about a closer union between the Lutheran and Reformed churches in Prussia. But the opposition he encountered he bore patiently, and in the spirit of his hymn No. i. below. His hymns, some of which were published anonymously in the 2nd ed. of H. G. Neuss's Ehr-Tagliet (p. 788, ii.), in Porst's G. B., Berlin, 1708,* and in Freylinghausen's Neues geistreiches G. B., 1714. They rank among the better productions of the earlier Pietistic writers, and are distinguished by a fervent devotional spirit, combined with much of the somewhat lengthy and verbosity in unusual in them.

Those of Winckler's hymns which have passed into English are :—

i. Meine Seele seuftzet sich. Resignation. 1st pub. in the 1703 ed. of Neuss's Ehr-Tagliet, p. 248, in 6 st. of 6 l., entitled "Ps. 62 v. 1. My soul is still towards God." Repeated in Freylinghausen, 1714, No. 511, and in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 714. It is a fine hymn on patient waiting upon God's will. Tr. as :—

You, my spirit fain would sink. In full, by Miss Winkworth in her Lyra Ger., 1st Ser., 1855, p. 198. In her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 538, it is greatly altered, beginning "Thy heart and hands, my God"; and this form in No. 419 in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

Another tr. in :— "Wearily my spirit sinketh," by Mrs. Swan, 1868, p. 69.

ii. O einzer Stand, o selig Leben. Christian Simplicity. In Porst's G. B., 1708, p. 219 (1711, No. 642), in 8 st. of 8 l., repeated in Freylinghausen, 1714, No. 522, and in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 331. The tre. are :—

i. O sweet condition, happy Living. This, omitting st. iii., is No. 658 in pt. i. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754.

ii. O blest condition, happy living. This is a tr. of st. i., ii., vi., viii., based on the 1754 version, as No. 441 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1880, No. 584).

iii. Rings recht, wenn Gotten Gnade. Christian Warfare. A thoughtful and powerful hymn, included as No. 359 in Freylinghausen, 1714, in 23 st. of 4 l., and thence in the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 396. Wetzel, iii. 437, says it was written as a hymn on the three favourite Scripture passages of Ursula Maria Zorn, of Berlin, and was 1st pub. at the end of her funeral sermon by Johann Lysius, pastor of St. George's Church, Berlin. Thus st. i.–v. are founded on St. Luke xiii. 24; vi.–x. on Philipp. ii. 12; and xvi.–xxiii. on Gen. xix. 15–22. The tre. in C. U. are :

i. Strive, when thou art call'd of God. This is a good tr. of st. i., iii.–vii., xii., xiii., xv., xvi. by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 1st Ser., 1855, p. 46. Repeated, abridged, in Kennedy, 1863; the Harrow School H. Bk., 1866, and Rugby School H. Bk., 1876.

2. Strive aright when God doth call thee. This is a tr. of st. i., iii., iv., xii., xiii., xv., xvi., by Miss Winkworth, founded on her Lyra Ger., version, as No. 128 in her C. B. for England, 1863. Repeated in the Marlborough College H. Bk., 1869.

3. Thou must wrestle, when God's mercy. This is a tr. of st. i., ii., x., xxii, signed S. T. L., as No. 350, in Dr. Pagenstecher's Coll., 1864.

Another tr. is : "Wrestle on! for God is pleading," by Miss Burlingham in the British Herald, Sept., 1866, p. 127.

iv. Sollt ich aus Furcht vor Menschenkindern. Adherence to Christ. A hymn on Constancy, and against cowardice and time-serving. In Porst's G. B., 1708, p. 1153 (1711, No. 705), in 17 st. of 4 l. Repeated in Freylinghausen, 1714, No. 541 (entitled "For a Preacher"), in the Unv. L. S. 1851, No. 658, &c. The tr. in C. U. is :—

Shall I for fear of feeble man. This is a vigorous tr. in 10 st. (representing st. i.–iii., xii.–v., xvii.; st. iv. being freely from vi., vii., and st. v. from viii., ix.), by J. Wesley in the Hys. & Sac. Poems, 1739 (P. Works, 1868–72, vol. i. p. 177). Included in full in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754 (1849, No. 875 abridged). In the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, st. i.–vii. were included as No. 270; st. viii.–x. being added in the ed. of 1800 (1875, No. 270). The full form is in the Meth. N. Conn. H. Bk., 1863, and in Mercer's C. P. & H.

* Dr. J. F. Bachmann in his Zur Geschichte der Berliner Gesangbücher, 1895, was only able to describe the 3rd ed. of 1713. The present writer has examined the 2nd ed. of 1711 (Neu-ausgemerter geistreicher G. B.). The references to the 1st ed. of 1707 are from the marked copy by Professor Wetzel, in a copy of the 1708 ed., belonging to Dr. Bachmann, and now in the possession of the present writer.

St., 1857, and abridged in Morce's Oxford ed., 1864; Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866, and others. It is also found in the following forms:—

(1) Awed by a mortal's frown, shall I (Wesley's st. ii.). In W. Caran Wilson's Gen. Pmkr., 1842.

(2) Saviour of men, Thy searching eye (Wesley's st. vi.). In J. Latrobe's Ps. & Hys., 1841, and various American collections.

(3) Our Lord, our Head, we have present (Wesley's st. ix. xii.). In M. Madan's Ps. & Hys., 1760. [J. M.]

Winkler, Edwin Theodore, D.D., was b. in Savannah, Nov. 13, 1825, and educated at Brown University. He entered the Baptist ministry in 1846, and subsequently filled several important literary and other appointments in addition to his pastorates. He d. at Marion, Alabama, Nov. 10, 1883. He compiled The Sacred Lute, a Collection of popular Hymns, 1853 (enlarged ed., 1869), to which he contributed 8 hymns, the first lines of which are given in Burrage. (Burrage's Baptist H. Writers, 1888, p. 416.) Some of these have passed into other American collections, including "Our land with mercies crowned." (National Hymn.) [J. J.]

Winkworth, Catherine, daughter of Henry Winkworth, of Alderley Edge, Cheshire, was b. in London, Sep. 13, 1829. Most of her early life was spent in the neighbourhood of Manchester. Subsequently she removed with the family to Clifton, near Bristol. She d. suddenly of heart disease, at Monnetier, in Savoy, in July, 1878. Miss Winkworth pub.:—

Pro. from the German of the Life of Pastor Fliedner, the Founder of the Sisterhood of Protestant Deaconesses at Kaiserwerth, 1861; and of the Life of Amalia Sieveking, 1861.

Her sympathy with practical efforts for the benefit of women, and with a pure devotional life, as seen in these trs., received from her the most practical illustration possible in the deep and active interest which she took in educational work in connection with the Clifton Association for the Higher Education of Women, and kindred societies there and elsewhere. Our interest, however, is mainly centred in her hymnological work as embodied in her:—

(1) Lyra Germanica, 1st Ser., 1858. (2) Lyra Germanica, 2nd Ser., 1858. (3) The Chorale Book for England (containing trs. from the German, together with music), 1863; and (4) her charming biographical work, the Christian Singers of Germany, 1869.

In a sympathetic article on Miss Winkworth in the Inquirer of July 20, 1878, Dr. Martineau says:—

"The translations contained in these volumes are literal without being hard, and faithful without being delicate; and an admirable art is applied to the management of complex and difficult versification. They have not quite the fire of John Wesley's versions of Moravian hymns, or the wonderful fluidu and reproduction of spirit which Miss Cox has given to some of Gerhardt's flowing airs; but are more considerate than either, and attain a result as poetical as severe exactitude admits, being only a little short of 'native music.'"

Dr. Percival, then Principal of Clifton College, also wrote concerning her (in the Bristol Times and Mirror), in July, 1878:—

"She was a person of remarkable intellectual and social gifts, and very unusual attainments; but what specially distinguished her was her combination of rare ability and great knowledge with a certain tender and unobtrusive womanliness. These characterize the special charm of the true womanly character."

Dr. Martineau (as above) says her religious life afforded "a happy example of the piety which the Church of England discipline may implant. . . . The fast hold she retained of her discipleship of Christ was no example of 'feminine simplicity,' carrying on the childish faith of the nursery into the years of maturity, but a firm mind, familiar with the pretensions of anti-Christian schools, well able to test them, and undeterred by them from her firm love."

Miss Winkworth, although not the earliest of modern translators from the German into English, is certainly the foremost in rank and popularity. Her translations are the most widely used of any from that language, and have had more to do with the modern revival of the English use of German hymns than the versions of any other writer. [J. J.]

Winter reigneth o'er the land. Bp. W. W. How. [Winter.] Written for and first pub. in the S. P. C. K. Church Hymns, 1871, No. 64, and from thence has passed into numerous collections. In a few hymn-books, including Sir Josiah Mason's Birmingham Orphanage Hymnal, st. iii.–vi. are given as a hymn, "Sunny days are past and gone," but this mutilated text is not popular. [J. J.]

Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden. M. Luther. [Nicene Creed.] This very free setting of the Nicene Creed was 1st pub. in the Geystliche gesangk Buchlyn, Wittenberg, 1524, in 8 sts. of 10 l., and thence in Wackernagel, iii. p. 10. Also in Schircke's ed. of Luther's Geistliche Lieder, 1854, p. 55; the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 253, &c. During the Reformation period it was generally sung after the Sermon. Luther included it among the Christliche Gesenq . . . zum Begrebnis, 1542. It had been used at the funeral of the Elector Friedrich the Wise of Saxony, on May 5, 1525, and was often in later times sung before funeral sermons. Tr. as:—

1. We all are only God believe. By A. T. Russell, for his Ps. & Hys., 1851, No. 15.

2. We all believe in One true God, Maker of the earth and heaven, Who hath. By H. Mosis, in his Martin Luther's Spir. Songs, 1854, p. 59. Repeated in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880.

3. We all believe in One true God, Maker of the earth and heaven: The Father. By Miss Winkworth, in her C. B. for England, 1863, Appx., No. vi. Repeated, recast, by Dr. Bacon, in his Hys. of Martin Luther, 1884, p. 47.

Other trs. are:—(1) "We believe all upon one God." By Sp. Concordia, 1559 (Lemnius, 1846, p. 546). (2) "We trow in God almerthe." In the Crede and Goddis Zuliarye, ed. Lord Zouche, 1849, p. 1. (3) "We believe we all in one God." In Goostly Psalmes, &c. (1st ed. of the "Bay Psalm Book"), 1564. (4) "In God the all believe." In The Whole Psa., 1640, p. 54. (5) "We believe in God the Father." By T. Sternhold, 1646, p. 97 (1847, p. 70). (6) "We all believe in God Most High." In Ps. Book Rev., 1870, p. 222. (7) "We all in God we all believe." By J. Montgomery, in the Sunday Magazine, 1867, p. 571. Repeated, altered, in his Student, 1874, p. 98. [J. M.]

Wir loben, Herr' in deinem Namen. [Laying the Foundation Stone of a Church.] Included as No. 140 in the Ohio G. B., 1870, in 4 sts. of 6 l., entitled, "For the Festival of the Corner Stone laying." No author's name is given. Tr. as:—"In Thy dear name and by Thy favour," in full by C. H. L. Schaefer, as No. 126 in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880. [J. M.]

Wir singen dir Immanuel. P. Gerhardt. [Christmas.] Included in the Berlin Church of England collections, is from Toplady's Ps. and Hys., 1776, with additional alterations of a later date, the principal sources of which are Stowell, 1831; Bickersteth, 1833, and Elliott, 1835. In common with many of Watts's longer hymns, most forms of the text are abbreviated, and the number and arrangement of stanzas vary considerably. These can be traced by any modern edition of the Hys. & Spiritual Songs. In Harland's Ch. Psalter & Hyl., 1876, it begins, "With joy we celebrate the grace"; and in the Down and Connor H. Bk., 1865, "With joy we contemplate the grace."

Another form of this hymn was given in the 1745 Draft of the Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, No. 8. This began, "Jesus, the Lord, We once on earth," and was composed of st. i., ii., now, and the rest from Watts, st. i.–iv. and vi., with st. i. ll. 1, 2, altered. In the 1751 revised ed. of the Draft it was slightly altered, and there began, "Jesus, the Son of God, Who once." Stanza vii. was also rewritten as st. vii. viii. These alterations have been ascribed to Hugh Blair. The 1751 text was given in the authorized issue of the Trs. and Paraphrases, 1781, with st. v., vii., viii. rewritten. In the markings by the eldest daughter of W Cameron (p. 200. i.), the 1781 alterations are ascribed to him. In Miss Jane E. Leeson's Paraphs. & Hys., 1853, the text is reduced to 4 st., and begins with st. iii., "To human weakness not severe." [J. M.]

With praise to Thee my strain began. J. Williams. [Charity. Love.] This is the concluding piece of his Hys. on the Catechism, 1842, in 14 st. of 4 l. and is based on the concluding words of the Catechism, "And be in charity with all men." Two cento therefrom are in C. U.:—(1) "All that we know of saints above" (Quisquamquot-mus), and (2) "How shall we shew our love to Thee?" (Brotherly Love). These cento are of merit and will bear wider adoption than is now accorded to them. [J. J.]

With sin I would not make abode. T. H. Gill. [Early Piety.] Written in 1855, and first pub. in his Golden Chain of Praise, 1869, p. 154, in 8 st. of 4 l., and headed, "Early Love. 'How good it is to close with Christ betimes!' Oliver Cromwell." In Dale's English H. Bk., 1874, six stanzas are given as No. 1184, beginning with st. vi., "Lord! in the fulness of my might." This text is also given in other collections. [J. J.]

With solemn thanksgiving our Lord. H. Blair (?). (Christ's Invitation.) Interpreted as No. 26 in the Draft Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, 1745, as a version of Matt. xi. 25-30, in 8 st. of 4 l. In the Draft of 1781 included, considerably altered, as No. 34, and beginning, "Thus spake the Saviour of the world," and with st. ii., iii., condensed as ii. Thence with 10 lines altered in the public worship ed. of the Trs. and Paraphs., issued in that year by the Church of Scotland and still in use. In the markings by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 200. ii.) the original is ascribed to Blair, and the alterations in 1781 to Cameron. The revised text of 1781, omitting st. iii., was included as No. 99 in the Eng-

ed. of 1633 of Crüger's Praxis, No. 100, in 16 st. of 4 l. In Ebeling's ed. of Gerhardt's Geistliche Andachten, Fünffte Dutzet, 1667, No. 52, four st. were added as iv., viii., ix., xvii. The complete text in 20 st. is in Wackernagel's ed. of Gerhardt's Geistl. Lieder, No. 19; Bachmann's ed., No. 42, and the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 58. It is a beautiful hymn of praise to Emmanuel, the longed for by the Fathers and the Prophets. Tr. as:—

1. Emmanuel, we sing Thy praise. This tr. of st. i.–iii., v.–vii., xviii.–xx., appeared in the British Magazine, January, 1838, p. 35. Repeated, omitting the tr. of st. xix., and beginning, "Emmanuel, Thy Name we sing," in Ps. Lyrically, 1863.

2. Immanuel, we sing to Thee. A tr. of st. i.–iii., v., by A. T. Russell, as No. 12 in the Dalston Hospital H. Bk., 1848.

3. Immanuel, to Thee we sing. Of life, &c. A tr. of st. i.–iii., vi., xx., based on the earlier versions, as No. 35 in J. F. Thrupp's Ps. & Hys., 1853.

4. Thee, O Immanuel, we praise. A good tr. of st. i.–iii., v.–vii., xviii.–xx., by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 1st Ser., 1855, p. 28. In her 2nd ed., 1856, p. 24, she added a tr. of st. ix. and thus in her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 33. Repeated, abridged, in the Hyl. for St. John's, Aberdeen, 1870, and Flatt's Coll., Paisley, 1871, and, beginning, "With all Thy saints, Thee, Lord, we sing" (st. ii.), in Boardman's Sel., Philadelphia, 1861.

5. We sing to Thee, Emmanuel, The Prince, &c. A good tr. of st. i.–iii., v.–vii., xviii.–xx., by Miss Cox, contributed to Lyra Messianica, 1864, p. 55, and in her own Hys. from Ger., 1864, p. 35. In Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869, p. 56, it is in full, and in Jellicoe's Coll., 1867, omitting the tr. of st. v. In the Amer. Bapt. Hy. & Tune Bk., 1871, it begins, "All glory, worship, thanks and praise" (st. ii., iii., xix., xx.).

6. We sing to Thee, Immanuel! Thou Prince of Life. A tr. of st. i., ii., xix., xx., signed "F. C. C.," as No. 26 in Dr. Pagenstecher's Coll., 1864.

Other trs. are: (1) "We sing to Thee, Immanuel; Thou Prince of Life," &c., as No. 199, in pt. iii., 1745, of the Hymnists of St. Ab. (1756, pt. i., No. 428). (2) "Immanuel, to Thee we sing, Thou Prince of Life," &c., in Hymns for Worship, Wrexham, 1775, No. 42 (1805, No. 42). (3) "Immanuel! Thy praise we sing," by Miss Fry, 1805, p. 183. (4) "To Thee, Immanuel, we sing, The Prince," &c., by Miss Mannington, 1841, p. 36. (5) "Immanuel! to Thee we sing, The Prince," in Kitto, 1841, p. 97. [J. M.]

Wiedsma, Robert. [Old Version.] See A. 1.

With heart, and soul, with mind, and might. J. Montgomery. [Sunday Schools.] Printed on a broadsheet for use at a gathering of Sunday schools on Whit Monday, 1821, and included in Montgomery's Original Hymns, 1853, in 6 st. of 4 l. [J. J.]

With Joy we meditate the grace. I. Watts. [Our High Priest.] Pub. in his Hys. and Spiritual Songs, 1709, Bk. i. No. 125, in 6 st. of 4 l. J. Wesley included it with the omission of st. iii. in his Charlestown Ps. & Hys., 1736-7, and again in the Ps. & Hys., 1743. From the latter it passed into G. Whitefield's Coll. of Hys., 1753; M. Madan's Ps. & Hys., 1760, and others. This text, with slight alterations, was given in the Wes. H. Bk., 1875. Another text, found mostly in the Prob. Ps. & Hys., 1867, and slightly altered, and omitting st. iii., iv., vii., in Miss Jane E. Leeson's Parapha. & Hys. for Congregational Singing, 1855, as pt. i. of No. 66. In the American Sabbath H. Bk., 1858, No. 505, and Martineau's Hymns, 1873, No. 122, beginning with st. v. altered, "Come unto me, all ye who mourn." [J. M.]

With thankful hearts our songs we raise. [Holy Baptism.] This hymn in No. 278, in the 4th ed., 1828, of J. Bickersteth's Ps. & Hymns, is 4 st. of 4 l. In common with all the hymns in the collection, it is unsigned, and there is nothing to determine its authorship. It is sometimes attributed to "Bickersteth," but for this ascription we know of no authority whatever. It is in somewhat extensive use in America. [J. J.]

With Thee, Lord, will I walk by day. T. Davis. [Morning.] 1st pub. in his Devotional Verse for a Month, 1855, in 4 st. of 4 l.; and based upon the words "When I awake I am still with Thee," Ps. cxxxix. 18. In 1858 it was included, unaltered, in the Bap. Ps. & Hys., No. 911, and continued in later editions. When given in the author's Finally Hymnal, 1860, and Hymns Old and New, 1861, st. iv. l. 3, "give" was changed to grant. This rendering was repeated in his Anima Sacrata, 1877, p. 246, as the authorized text. [J. J.]

With years oppressed, with sorrow worn. Sir R. Grant. [Ps. lxxi.] Pub. in his posthumous Sacred Poems, 1839, p. 31, in 5 st. of 6 l. It is in C. U. in its full or abbreviated form, and also as "Thy mercy heard my infant prayer" (st. ii.). [J. J.]

Wither, George, or Wyther—spelled in both ways by himself, the first usually, the second occasionally, e.g. in Prince Henrie's Obsequies (1612), and erroneously Withers, was b. on June 11th, 1588, at Bentworth, near Alton, Hampshire. He was the only son of George Wither, of Bentworth. His early education was at the Grammar School of Colemore or Colemere, under its celebrated master, John Greaves. After thorough training and discipline here he was entered in 1604 at Magdalen College, Oxford. His tutor was John Warner, subsequently D.D. and Bishop of Rochester. He had only been three years at the University when malicious and ignorant persons persuaded his father that more learning was not required. And so, as he modestly tells us in his Abuses Stript and Whipt (1613), he was withdrawn "without taking any degree," being now destined, as he modestly puts it, "for the plough," that is, for rustic employment on the paternal estate. This proved utterly uncongenial. He is found next at one of the Inns of Chancery, afterwards at Lincoln's Inn, and intimate with William Browne, the poet, of Britannia's Pastorals. His title-pages from 1617 to 1629 self-describe him as "Gentleman," and as "of the Societie of Lincoln's Inne" (Philarete (1617), and 1st Psalme (1620), and Works (1620)). But Anthony à-Wood informs us:—

"still his geag after things more smooth and delightful, he fell into such unchastened bravery, that he could not be said to have written, but only by certain quaintness of poetry, which being dispersed in several books, became shortly after a public author and most admired by some in that age for his quick advancement in that faculty" (Athenæ. Oxon. e. v.).

How uncritical was this miserable criticism, will be understood when it is recalled that amongst these "certain specimens" was the Shepherds Hunting under the first form of "A new song of a young man's opinion of the difference between good and bad women" (Paygnion, and Prey Mⁿ.), Prince Henrie's Obsequies (1612), Epithalamia (1612), and his stinging and patriotically outspoken Abuses Stript and Whipt. The last drew down upon him the wrath of the monarch (James I.) and nobles, and cast him prisoner into the Marshalsea. Four large editions within a year, and numerous others up to 1622 and continuously onward (exclusive of the reproductions in his Works) was the answer of the People to the Upper Ten. While in prison he wrote some of the most delicious of his verse. He likewise composed A Satyre to the King (1613). The wisest fool in Christendom was shrewd enough to perceive that it would be safer to make such a subject a friend than an enemy. He had deftly aligned the dedication to the king "his Majesty's most loyall Subiect, and yet Prisoner in the Marshalsey." It procured him his release. From this time onward he was perpetually printing something, now in verse and now in prose, until the aggregate exceeded a hundred of books and pamphlets. There are several fairly accurate enumerations of them, e.g. British Bibliographer, i. 174–205, 305–32, 417–40; ii. 17–32, 278–91; Sir Egerton Brydges' Censura and Restituta; Hazlitt's Bibliography (1867). The Spenser Society reprinted a large portion of the Works in prose and verse; but there was really no editing and no annotation. His successive books are the main facts of Wither's life; yet was he an active member of the nation. Spite of his hard usage and imprisonments, he was loyal as any cavalier. When Charles I. proceeded to declare and carry war into his native Scotland against the Covenanters in 1639, George Wither served his Majesty as a captain of horse and quarter-master of his regiment under the Earl of Arundel. How sorrowful the wrong-headedness of the king who compelled such a true man as Wither to forsake him and prefer the kingdom to the king, as many others who with pathetic reluctance became Roundheads! In 1641-2 he sold his hereditary estates and raised a troop of horse for the Parliament, in whose army he was promoted to be major. On his colours he carried this motto, Pro Rege, Lege, Grege. Having been taken prisoner by the Royalists, a good-humoured jest of Sir John Denham it is alleged saved his life, to wit, that "his Majesty really must not hang George Wither, for so long as he lives no one will account him [Sir John] the worst poet in England." He was set free. Not long after he was constituted by the Long Parliament a Justice of Peace in quorum for Hampshire, Surrey and Essex. This he held for six years, and afterwards was made by Cromwell Major-General of all the horse and foot in the County of Surrey. On the title-page of his Rent Omnia Votum (1656) in the British Museum there is a contemporary MS. note,

"lately made Master of the Statute Office." At the Restoration he was shamefully dealt with, and by a vote of the Convention Parliament, was committed to Newgate because of his Vox Pacifi—a noble piece of fiery and idiomatic English, and manly pleading for respect to popular rights and liberties. For his Prisoner's Plea humbly offered (1661) he was again imprisoned, this time in the Tower. He married (Aubrey informs us) Elizabeth, eldest daughter of H. Ensomes of South Lamak, who, he says, was "a great wit and could write in verse too," and was of the same English Emersons from whom the great American Ralph Waldo Emerson descended. He had issue. He was at liberty when he died on 2nd May, 1667. Aubrey states that he was buried within the east doorway of Savoy Church in the Strand, having apparently lived near it, and either died in the church or in his own house (the phrasing being ambiguous).

This Dictionary is not a fitting place for any detailed criticism of the stupendundant writings of George Wither. James Montgomery, in his admirable Lectures on Poets and Poetry, thus sums up his estimate of him and them:—

"There are scattered throughout his multifarious and very unequal productions, many passages of great beauty and excellence. He was avowedly a christian poet, though he frequently ran his christian sentiments into the most puerile; but he was endued with it in every evil time, and was persecuted and suffered almost to martyrdom, both for his loyalty and his orthodoxy, in the troublous times in which he lived. That he was a poet can never be questioned by any reader who has taste and sensibility enough to understand and enjoy the following stanzas from his Shepherd's Hunting, 1615. Nine. That he was a Christian will be as little questioned by those who are most extensively acquainted with the character of his religious compositions" (p. v.).

Archbishop Trench, in annotating a charming sacred song entitled Vanished Blessings ("No voice which I did more esteem, Than music in her sweetest key," &c.), thus annotates:—

"I have detached these two stanzas from a longer poem of which they constitute the only valuable portion [?]. George Wither ('a most profuse pourer forth of English rhyme,' Phillips calls him) was indeed so voluminous a writer, and his productions are often of so indifferent a kind, that one may easily forget how real a gift he possessed, and sometimes showed that he possessed" (Household Book of English Poetry, 1868).

Mrs. Masson says of him—"he is remembered now-a-days as pre-eminently the Puritan poet, whose irrepressible Muse made herself heard even amid the din of civil war" (Three Centuries of English Poetry, p. 375). She quotes his delightful "Christmas" ("So now is come our joyfullest part"), and "Of Poesy" (which Milton did not disdain to utilize), and his "Shall I, wasting in despair," With reference to the "irrepressible Muse" of Wither, it is a felicitous characterization however regarded, inasmuch as so "irrepressible" was he that he actually set up the types and printed off at least one of his bulkier books. Wither's contributions to hymnology are to be found chiefly in the following:—

* (1) Exercises Upon the First Psalme . . . . (1623). A full version in a metrical paraphrase of Ecclesiastes xii. 1–7, and Psalm cxxxvii. 1–6. (2) The Psalms of David Paraph. (In Works 1620 separately 1630 and reasserted to be now "first printed 1"); (3) The Songs of the Old Testament, Translated into English Measures: preserving the Naturall Phrase and genuine Sense of the Holy Text . . . . . To every Song is added a new and short Poem . . . . (1632). This was reprinted in Sir Egerton Brydges' Library of Old Authors, 1815, as Songs of the Church (1856). This was published then Privileges Sapis Regale. It was reprinted like a, (4) The Psalmes of Dauid Translated, as Lyrick Verse, according to the scope of the Original . . . . (1632). This was reprinted in Sir Egerton Brydges' Library of the of the versified Psalmes which passed into the Censor Library; (f). A Collection of Emblemes, Ancient and Modern, Quickned with Metricall Illustrations both Morall and Divine . . . . (1635). This was a reissue of the Emblemes of 1634, with the addition of Second Remembrances, bringing to Remembrance (in prouinciall and parallelistall Hymns, Spirituall Songs, and Morall-Odes . . . . (1641). This was reprinted like c and d; (h) Three Graines of Spirituall Frankincense inflamed into Three Hymnes of Praise (1681). It is discreditable to the Church of England, of whom he was a devoted son to the close of his life, and to Nonconformity alike, that many, very many more of his Hymnes and Spirituall Songs have not found their way into their hymnals. A critical yet sympathetic reader would easily find a golden sheaf of musical, and well-wrought sacred song. (See Willmott's Lives of Sacred Poets; Gutch's Collection of Works in 3 vols. (1820); also Sir Egerton Brydges' reprints; Ellis; Holland's Psalmists; Campbell; Aitkens, s. v.; and several of his Hymnes elsewhere noticed, s. v. [A. B. G.]

Withington, Leonard, D.D., was b. at Dorchester, Massachusetts, in 1780, and graduated at Yale 1814. He was pastor of the First Congregational Church, Newburyport, Massachusetts, from 1819, and d. there, April 22, 1885. His hymn, "O Saviour of a world undone" (Panoplist), appeared in E. Nason's Cong. H. Bk. 1837. [W. M. B.]

Witness Divine, the Just and True. C. Wesley. [Confidence through Faith.] This poem was given in the Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1742, in 24 st. of 4 l., and divided into 4 parts:—

Pt. i. Witness Divine, the Just and True (8 st.).
Pt. ii. Come, O Thou greater than our heart (8 st.).
Pt. iii. Unchangeable Almighty Lord (3 st.).
Pt. iv. The Lord is King, the earth submits (5 st.).

From these parts the following centos have come into C. U.:—

1. Come, O Thou greater than our hearts. In several American collections.
2. Giver of peace and unity. Also in American hymnals.
3. The Lord is King, the earth submits. In the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, No. 37; and later collections.
4. Unchangeable Almighty Lord. In the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, No. 497, and subsequent editions.

This poem is a paraphrase of a part of Isaiah xxviii., and is given in full in P. Works, 1868–72, vol. ii. p. 350. [J. J.]

Witter, Will Ellsworth, was b. Dec. 8, 1854, near La Grange, New York, and educated at the Geneseo State Normal School, New York, and the University of Rochester. From the latter he passed in 1880 to the Rochester Baptist Theological Seminary, and in 1884 he entered the Baptist Ministry. He has written several songs and poems, one of which:—

While Jesus whispers to you (The Divine Call) was written in July 1874, and published in the Sunday Afternoon for July 1876, and originated mainly in the great anxiety of the author respecting two of his pupils. In 1878 it was set to music by H. R. Palmer, and included in his Book of Anthems, 1879: from whence it passed into Good as Gold, and I. D. Sankey's Sacred and Solos, Lond. 1891. [J. J.]

Woher kommt mir doch diese Zeit. [Cross and Consolation.] F. Hommel, in his Geistliche Volkslieder, Leipzig, 1864, No. 147, prints this, in 8 st. of 4 l., from the Neue aufgerichtete Sing-Schul, a Roman Catholic collection which he describes as "apparently of the second half of the 17th cent." It is tr. as "Why is it that life is no longer sad?" By Miss Winkworth, in her Christian Singers of Germany, 1869, p. 253 (she quotes the first line as "Woher denn kommt es zu dieser Zeit"). [J. M.]

Wohl dem, der in Gottes Furcht steht. M. Luther. [Ps. cxxviii.] This version of Ps. cxxviii. was 1st pub. in Ein Enchiridion, Erfurt, 1524, in 5 st. of 4 l., and thence in Wittenberg, iii. p. 8. Also in Schircks's ed. of Luther's Geistliche Lieder, 1854, p. 82, in the Unv. L. S., 1851, &c. Being the description of a pious household it was often sung at weddings. Tr. as "

(1) "Blessed are all that fears the Lord." By Sp. Greenleaf, 1810 (Supplement, 1817). He also gives a version of Ps. cxxviii. in 8 st. of 8 l., which contains many lines identical, but in form rather follows the version beginning "Wohl dem, der den Herren fürchtet," which Wackernagel, No. 644, gives from 1 of 1 l., from the Geistliche Lieder, Leipzig, 1627. (2) "Wohl dem, der Gottes Furcht ist gegeben." In the Gold und Gebet Psalmen, ed. 1800, folio 66 (ed. 1666, p. 112). (3) "Blest man! who walks in wisdom's way." By J. Anderson, 1846, p. 51 (1847, p. 95). (4) "Blest is the man who walks aright." By Rev. C. Wesley, 1744, p. 52. (5) "Blessed is he who fears God." In Spiritual Hymns, 1764, p. 81. Imposed by Dr. Bacon, in his Hym. of N. Luther, 1884. (6) "Happy who in the fear of God." By Dr. G. Macdonald, in the Sunday Magazine, 1867. In his Hymns, 1876, altered and beginning "Happy who in God's fear doth stay." [J. M.]

Wolcott, Samuel, D.D., was b. at South Windsor, Connecticut, July 2, 1813, and educated at Yale College, 1833, and Andover Theological Seminary, 1837. From 1840 to 1842 he was a missionary in Syria. On his return to America he was successively pastor of several Congregational congregations, including Belchertown, Massachusetts; Providence, Rhode Island; Chicago, &c. He was also for some time Secretary of the Ohio Home Missionary Society. He d. at Longmeadow, Massachusetts, Feb. 28, 1886. His hymn-writing began late in life, but has extended to more than 200 hymns, many of which are still in use. Those of his hymns which have come into C. U. include:—

1. All thy mercies, O my God, My rising soul surveyed. Missions. In the Christian Observer, 1834.

2. Christ for the world we sing. Missions. Written Feb. 7, 1869. Its origin is thus recorded by the author: "The Young Men's Christian Association of Ohio held a State Convention in Cleveland, and had chosen letters over the motto, 'Christ for the World, and the World for Christ.' This suggested the hymn 'Christ for the world we sing.'" It was when on his way home from that service that he composed the hymn. It is in many American collections, including Laudes Domini, 1884, &c.

3. Father, I own Thy voice. Trust and Aspiration. This, his first hymn, was written in 1864, more as an experiment in hymn-writing than anything else. It was pub. in the Advocate and Guardian, and the New Yorker, Chicago, 1865. It has since passed into other collections.

4. Gently were thy tents, O Israel. Missions. Written May 31, 1841, and included in Laudes Domini, 1884.

5. Lo! the faith which crossed the ocean. Missions. In the Oberlin Manual of Praise, 1880.

6. O gracious Redeemer! O Jesus our Lord. The Love of Jesus. Written in 1881.

7. On the works of His creation. God the Creator. In the Ohio Evangelical Association's Hymn. Book, 1883.

8. Tarrying Saviour, look with blessing. Prayer for the Promised Spirit. In the Ohio Evangelical Association's Hymn Book, 1883.

9. Tell me Whom my soul doth love. Opening of Divine Service. A paraphrase of Cant. i. 8. Written Feb. 6, 1876. Included in Laudes Domini, N. Y., 1884.

10. To us have distant ages. Saints Days. In Dale's English H. Bk., 1874.

11. This hymn, most holy Lord, is Thine. Opening of a Place of Worship. In Dale's English H. Bk., 1874.

For most of the information given above we are indebted to Duffield's English Hymns, N. Y., 1886. [J. J.]

Wolfe, Aaron Robarts, was b. at Mendham, New Jersey, Sep. 6, 1821, and educated at Williams College, 1844; and the Union Theological Seminary, New York, 1851. On April 9, 1851, he was licensed by the Third Presbytery of New York. For some time he had charge of a school for young ladies at Tallahassee, Florida; and in 1859 he established "The Hillside Seminary for Young Ladies" at Montclair, New Jersey. In 1858 he contributed 7 hymns under the signature "A. R. W." to Hastings's Church Melodies. These are:—

1. A Parting hymn we sing. Close of Holy Communion.

2. Complete in Thee, no work of mine. Complete in Christ. Pub. in the N. Y. Evangelist, 1856 (p. 46).

3. Dear text, O Holy Dove, thou text. Holy Communion.

4. How blest indeed are they. In the Likeness of Christ.

5. My God, I thank Thee for the guide. Conscience.

6. Mysterious infinite divine. The Cross of Christ.

7. Thou Maker of our mortal frame. Child and of Man.

The most popular of these hymns are Nos. 1, 2, and 3. [F. M. B.]

Wolff, Jakob Gabriel, LL.D., s. of Jakob Wolff, sometime corrector at Greifswald, was b. at Greifswald in 1684. He matriculated, in 1702, at the University of Greifswald, as a student of law. In 1705 went to Halle, where he graduated LL.D. In 1716 he was appointed extraordinary, and in 1724, ordinary professor of law at Halle, and afterwards received the title of Hofrath. He resigned his professorship in 1744, and d. at Halle, Aug. 6, 1754 (Koch, iv. 373; Bode, p. 174; the Gleichen-Kirchner Kurzgefasste Nachricht, Halle, 1771, p. 84, &c.).

Wolff's hymns were mostly written early in life, principally during his student years at Halle. He was in thorough sympathy with the characteristic teachings of the Halle Pietists, and his hymns share in their excellences and defects. Some of them are of considerable merit, and have attained to a position in their day, and have attained considerable popularity in Germany. Nineteen were contributed to Freylinghausen's Neues geistreiches G. B., 1714; and these, with nine others, were included in his autograph ms. (see No. iv. below).

Those of Wolff's hymns which have passed into English are:—

i. Es ist gewiss ein köstlich Ding. Patience. 1st pub. 1714 as above, No. 491, in 4 st. of 7 l. In the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 644. Tr. as "It is a precious thing," by Miss Winkworth, 1863, p. 59.

ii. O wie selig ist die Seel. Love to Christ. 1st pub. 1714 as above, No. 416, in 12 st. of 4 l. In the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 644. Tr. as "O how safe and happy the soul." As No. 644 in pt. i. of Die Herrnhuter G. Bk., 1754. (2) "O those souls are highly blest." As No. 394 in the Herrnhuter G. Bk., 1769. In the 1801 and later eds. (1886, No. 390) it begins "Blest are they, supremely blest."

iii. Sein, was erwählet du dich. Heavenly Mindedness. 1st pub. 1714 as above, No. 481, in 12 st. of 6 l., 11, 5, 6 of each st. being the popular refrain,

"Ruhe Jesum und sein Licht:
Jesus ist die Zuversicht."

In the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 238. Tr. as "O soul, why dost thou weary," by Miss Warner, 1869, p. 14.

iv. Wohl dem der sich mit Fleiss bemühet. Christian Warfare. On True and False Christianity. This hymn is ascribed in Wolff, by Count Christian Ernst of Solberg Wernigerode (d. 1771), see p. 906, ii.), and by Koch, viii. 373, to Wolff's father, Jakob Wolff. It is also given under Wolff's name; but Kirchner says that it was not to be found in the autograph ms. of Wolff's hymns which he had bought at Wolff's sale in 1755. It appears in the Berlin G. B., 1711, No. 825, in 11 st. of 6 l., and in Freylinghausen's Neues geistreiches G. B., 1714, Magdeburg, 1714 as above. In the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 644. The tr. in C. U. is: "O well for him who all things leaves." This is a good and full tr. by Miss Winkworth, in her Lyra Ger., 1st ser. 1855, p. 167. Also as "O well for him," beginning, "Who follows Christ, whate'er befall," as included in the Rugby Sel., 1876, No. 309. [J. M.]

Woodd, Basil, M.A., was born at Richmond in Surrey, Aug. 5, 1760. The influences of his home and of his widowed mother were most salutary, and produced the best results. As a boy he studied under the Rev. T. Clarke, of Chesham Bois, and at seventeen he entered Trinity College, Oxford. Taking Holy Orders in 1783, he was chosen lecturer of St. Peter's Cornhill, in 1784; morning preacher at Bentinck Chapel, Marylebone in 1785, and Rector of Drayton Beauchamp, Buckinghamshire, in 1806. Bentinck Chapel being a proprietary chapel, he purchased the lease in 1793, and held the Incumbency, together with the Rectory of Drayton, from 1806 to his death on April 12, 1851. He took a deep interest in the great religious societies, and in the anti-slavery movement. His prose works were not numerous or important. He is associated with hymnody through the publication of the following:—

1. The Psalms of David ... adapted to the Service of the Church of England, &c., 1794. 2nd ed. 1806. (2.) The Psalms of David and other portions of the Sacred Scriptures arranged according to the Order of the Church of England, for every Sunday in the Year, &c. London: Printed and sold by Watts and Bridge, 1810. (3.) The Psalms of David, &c. By the late "B. W." (3.) A New Metrical Version of the Psalms of David; with an Appendix of select Psalms and Hymns, adapted to the Service of the United Church of England and Ireland, &c. By the late Basil Woodd, Esq. London: Printed and sold by Watts and Bridge, 1821. Indicated to the Rp. of Durham. A portion of the preface of No. 2 was repeated; but the preface as a whole, was more historical than the preceding. With the exception of 4 hymns, and 4 doxologies at the end, this publication was the same as No. 3, but a new title-page, a dedication, and an enlarged preface.

Very few of Basil Woodd's hymns and paraphrases of the psalms are now in C. U. The best known is "Hail, Thou Source of every blessing" (p. 680, i.). The rest include:—

1. Blest be Jehovah, mighty Lord. Ps. cxlix. 1794.
2. Holy Ghost inspire our praises. Whitsuntide. circa 1810-20.
3. In Thee, O Lord, I trust, My hope is in Thy Name. Ps. xxxi. 1794.
4. Lord of glory and salvation. Praise. circa 1810-20.

A short Memoir of the Rev. Basil Woodd, M.A. By the Rev. B. C. Wills, M.A., was pub. by Hatchard & Son, London, 1831. [J. J.]

Woodford, James Russell, D.D., was b. April 30, 1820, and educated at Merchant Taylors School, and Pembroke College, Cambridge, of which he was a scholar; B.A. Senior Optime, and 2nd class in the Classical Tripos. He was ordained in 1843, and became second Master in Bishop's College, Bristol; and Canon of St. John the Baptist, Broad Street, in that city. He became Incumbent of St. Saviour's, Coalpit Heath, 1843; of St. Mark's, Easton, Bristol, 1848; and Vicar of Kempsford, Gloucestershire, 1855. In 1869 he was preferred by the Crown to the important vicarage of Leeds on Dr. Jelf's appointment as Bp. of Hereford. He was several times Select Preacher at Cambridge. He was also Hon. Chaplain to the Queen (1867). In 1873 he was consecrated, in Westminster Abbey, Bishop of Ely. He d. at Ely on Oct. 24, 1885. Bp. Woodford pub. Sermons, 1833; Lectures for Holy Week, 1833; Lectures on the Creed, 1853; Sermons, 1864; and Sermons, Charges, &c., at later dates. His Hymns arranged for the Sundays and Holy Days of the Church of England appeared in 1852 and 1855. He also joined H. W. Beadon, and Greville Phillimore in editing The Parish Hymn Book, 1863, and (enlarged) 1875. To these collections his original hymns, and his trs. from the Latin, were contributed. The originals include:—

1. Lamb of God, for sinners slain. Passiontide. 1852.
2. Not by Thy mighty hand. Epiphany. 1863.
3. O come, and with the early morn. Easter. 1852.
4. Within the Father's home. Epiphany. 1863.

Bp. Woodford's trs. are annotated under their respective Latin first lines (see Index of Authors and Translators). They are good and popular, the best known being "Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, Thee." [J. J.]

Woodhouse, Charles Goddard, B.A., son of George Windus Woodhouse, born Aug. 16, 1835, and educated at Allerghton and Christ Church, Oxford, graduating B.A. in 1860. He was for some time Vicar of Misterley, Diocese of Hereford. He d. Aug. 20th, 1876. He was the author of a very tender hymn for "Institution to a Parish," beginning "By the Cross upon thy brow," and consisting of 3 st. of 8 l. It was printed on a fly-leaf. In 1881, Prebendary G. Thring reset the hymn, added a doxology, and gave it as "Heavenly Shepherd, Thee we pray," in his Church of England Hymn Book, 1882. [J. J.]

Woodhull, Alfred Alexander, M.D., grandson of John Woodhull, M.D., of Freehold, New Jersey; was b. March 25, 1810, educated for the medical profession, and practiced at Princeton, where he d. Oct. 5, 1836. His hymn, "God of the passing year to Thee," appeared as No. 406 in the official edition of Presbyterian Psalms & Hymns Book, 1872, No. 1295. It is an American National Thanksgiving hymn. [F. M. B.]

Word supreme, before creation. J. Keble. [St. John Evangelist.] This hymn is dated "Hursley, April 19, 1856," and was first pub. in the Salisbury H. Bk., 1857, No. 43, in 7 st. of 6 l. It was repeated in Keble's posthumous Miscellaneous Poems, 1869, p. 111, and in several hymn-books. Mr. L. C. Biggs, in his annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867, has thus altered to the similarity between this hymn and a Sequence of the 11th cent., "Verbum Dei, Deo natum," which, according to Mr. Kehle, "probably suggested some of his ideas." It has also a trace of Adam of St. Victor's "Verbi vox substantivi." In his annotated ed. of H. A. & M., 1867, Mr. Biggs has rendered Kehle's hymn into Latin as, "Verbum Dei, Incnatum." [J. J.]

Wordsworth, Christopher, D.D., was b. at Lambeth (of which parish his father was then the rector), Oct. 30, 1807, and was the youngest son of Christopher Wordsworth, afterwards Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, and Priscilla (née Lloyd) his wife. He was educated at Winchester, where he distinguished himself both as a scholar and as an athlete. In 1820 he matriculated at Trinity College, Cambridge, where his career was an extraordinarily brilliant one. He swept off an unprecedented number of College and University prizes, and in 1830 graduated as Senior Classic in the Classical Tripos, and 14th Senior Optime in the Mathematical, won the First Chancellor's Medal for classical studies, and was elected Fellow of Trinity. He was engaged as classical lecturer in college for some time, and in 1836 was chosen Public Orator for the University. In the same year he was elected Head Master of Harrow School, and in 1838 he married Susan Hadley Frere. During his head-mastership the numbers at Harrow fell off, but he began a great moral reform in the school, and many of his pupils regarded him with enthusiastic admiration. In 1844 he was appointed by Sir Robert Peel to a Canonry at Westminster; and in 1848-49 he was Hulsean lecturer at Cambridge. In 1850 he took the small chapter living of Stanford-in-the-Vale cum Goosey, in Berkshire, and for the next nineteen years he passed his time as an exemplary parish priest in this retired spot, with the exception of his four months' statutable residence each year at Westminster. In 1869 he was elevated to the bishopric of Lincoln, which he held for more than fifteen years, resigning in a few months before his death, which took place on March 20th, 1885. As bearing upon his poetical character, it may be noted that he was the nephew of the poet-barrasis, William Wordsworth, whom he constantly visited at Rydal up to the time of the poet's death in 1850, and with whom he kept up a regular and lengthy correspondence. Christopher Wordsworth was a very voluminous writer, his principal works being :—

(1) Athens and Attica, 1836; (2) Pompeian Inscriptions, 1837; (3) Greece Pictorial and Descriptive, 1839; (4) King Edward VIth's Latin Grammar, 1841; (5) Stanley's Correspondence, 1845; (6) Theophilus Anglicanus, 1843; (7) Memoirs of William Wordsworth, D.C.L., 1851; (8) Diocesan Synods, 1854; (9) Holy Year, 1862; (10) A Commentary on the whole Bible, 1866-1874; (11) The Holy Year, 1862; (12) Church History, 1881-1883; many volumes of Sermons, and an enormous amount of Pamphlets, Addresses, Letters, Speeches, on Educational, Church, and Political questions. He was also a considerable contributor to periodical literature.

Of his many works, however, the only one which claims notice from the hymnologist's point of view is The Holy Year, which contains hymns, not only for every season of the Church's year, but also for every phase of that season, as indicated in the Book of Common Prayer. Dr. Wordsworth, like the Wesleys, looked upon hymns as a valuable means of stamping permanently upon the memory the great doctrines of the Christian Church. He held it to be "the first duty of a hymn-writer to teach sound doctrine, and thus to save souls." He thought that the materials for English Church hymns should be sought (1) in the Holy Scriptures, (2) in the writings of Christian Antiquity, and (3) in the Poetry of the Ancient Church. Hence he imposed upon himself the strictest limitations in his own compositions. He did not select a subject which seemed to him most adapted for poetical treatment, but felt himself bound to treat impartially every subject, and branch of a subject, that is brought before us in the Church's services, whether of a poetical nature or not. The natural result is that his hymns are of very unequal merit: whether his subject inspired him with poetical thoughts or not, he was bound to deal with it; hence while some of his hymns (such as "Hark! the sound of holy voices," &c., "See the Conqueror mounts in triumph," &c., "O, day of rest and gladness") are of a high order of excellence, others are prosaic. He was particularly anxious to avoid obscurity, and thus many of his hymns are simple to the verge of baldness. But this extreme simplicity was always intentional, and to those who can read between the lines there are many traces of the "ars celata artem." It is somewhat remarkable that though in citing examples of early hymn-writers he almost always refers to those of the Western Church, his own hymns more nearly resemble those of the Eastern, as may be seen by comparing The Holy Year with Dr. Mason Neale's Hymns of the Eastern Church translated, with Notes, &c. The reason of this perhaps half-unconscious resemblance is not far to seek. Christopher Wordsworth, like the Greek hymn-writers, drew his inspiration from Holy Scripture, and he loved, as they did, to interpret Holy Scripture mystically. He thought that "the dangers to which the Faith of England (especially in regard to the Old Testament) was exposed, arose from the abandonment of the ancient Christian, Apostolic and Patristic system of interpretation of the Old Testament for the frigid and servile modern exegesis of the literalists, who see nothing in the Old Testament but a common history, and who read it (as St. Paul says the Jews do) 'with a veil on their heart, which veil' (he adds) 'is done away in Christ.'" In the same spirit, he sought and found Christ everywhere in the New Testament. The Gospel History was only the history of what "Jesus began to do and to teach" on earth; the Acts of the Apostles and all the Epistles were the history of what he continued to do and to teach from Heaven; and the Apocalypse (perhaps his favourite book) was "the seal and colophon of all." Naturally he presents this theory, a theory most susceptible of poetical treatment, in his hymns even more prominently than in his other writings. The Greek writers took, more or less, the same view: hence the resemblance between his hymns and those of the Eastern Church. [J. H. O.]

During the time that Bp. Wordsworth was Canon of Westminster, and Vicar of Stanford-in-the-Vale cum Goosey, he published his collection of hymns as :—

The Holy Year; or Hymns for Sundays and Holydays, And other Occasions. Lond. Rivingtons, 1862.

This work contained an extended Preface; a Calendar of Hymns; 117 Original Compositions; and a Supplement of 82 hymns from other sources. In the 3rd ed., 1863, the Supplement was omitted, and the Original hymns were increased to 127. Several of these hymns are annotated under their respective first lines, the rest in C. U. are :—

From The Holy Year, 1st ed., 1862 :—

1. Five psalms from the book. Inspiration. Stanza ix. added in 1863.
2. Hear of law in God's (Thy) dear Son. Circumcision. Stanza added in 1863.
3. Draw us nearer, Holy Ghost. Quinquagesima.
4. Holy, holy, holy, Lord, God of Hosts, Eternal King. Holy Trinity.
5. Holy of Holies! awful name. Epistle 4th S. in Lent.
6. How blest are hearts which Christ the Lord. Holy Matrimony. In 1863 in two parts, Pt. i. being "Hear thou Thy servants, gracious Lord."
7. How blessed is the force of prayer. St. Peter. In 1863, in two parts, Pt. i. being "Behold! at hand is the time of prayer."
8. How wondrous and mysterious are. Holy Baptism. In the 1863 ed. it is divided into four parts :—Pt. ii. "In Jordan Thou didst sanctify"; Pt. iii. "Thou, risen in triumph from the grave"; Pt. iv. "Baptized in Thy death." Stanza ii. "Born again by Thy Water and the Holy Ghost," is also from this hymn.
9. In sorrow and distress. Ash Wednesday.
10. In Thy glorious Resurrection. Easter. In the 1863 ed. it begins, "Lord, Thy glorious Resurrection," and is in two parts, Pt. i. being
11. Lord, may we never, save to Thee. Spiritual Fasts Worship. Stanza viii. was added in 1863.
12. Lord not with (by) pow and policy gifts. Offertory.
13. Lord, Who didst the Prophets teach. Trad S. in Advent, or, Holy Scriptures. The doxology was added in 1862.
14. Man fell from grace by carnal appetite. Gospel 1st S. in Lent.
15. Mankind in Adam fell. Good Friday. In the 1863 ed. it is divided into three parts: Pt. i. being "All by Adam's sin;" and Pt. iii. "Thy Cross a Trophy be."
16. Not bound by chains, nor pent in cells. The Gifts of the Holy Ghost. This hymn is preceded by a special note on the Holy Spirit and His gifts.
17. O Christ, Thy presence can save. Self Discipline, or, Up after Prayer.
18. O Jerusalem beloved, joyful morn has dawned on Thee. Purification of B. V. M., or, The Presentation. In the 1863 ed. it is divided into two parts, Pt. ii. being "Lo! the Gentile world is lighted, and thy glory kindled."
19. O Saviour, Who at Nain's gate. The Raising of Jairus's Son.
20. O Son of God, the Eternal Word. The Queen's Accession.
21. Once all the nations were as one. Babel and Sion a Contrast.
22. Once I sang this blessed morn. Christmas. In the 1863 ed. a doxology was added, and the hymn was divided into two parts, Pt. ii. being "God comes down that man may rise."
23. The banner of the Cross. Missions. In the 1863 ed. it is in three parts, Pt. ii. being "For the Lord our God is Lord of all the earth from Zion hill."
24. The Galilean Fishers tell. Collect 4th S. in Advent. From this "O Lord, when storms around us howl" is taken.
25. The Lord of us on visit is distrese. The Promise of the Comforter, or, S. before Ascension. In the 1863 ed. it is in two parts, Pt. ii. being "At Thy first birth, Thou, Lord, didst walk."
26. Thou hast a Temple founded. The Christian Temple, or, Dedication. 1st after Trinity.
27. To-day, O Lord, the Holy Ascent. St. James. In the 1863 ed. in two parts, Pt. ii. being "God in His word does not display."
28. To-day with bright effulgence shine. Conversion of St. Paul. In the 1863 ed. it begins "To-day in Tuba Apostle shine," and in its two parts, Pt. i. being "From East to West, from North to South."
29. Upon the sixth day of the week. Easter Eve. Stanzas x., xi. of the 1845 text were added then, and the hymn was given in two parts, Pt. ii. being "By tasting the forbidden fruit."
30. We hear the tolling bell. Burial. The doxology was added in 1863. In 1862 the Tune was Dundee. "O gracious Lord, to Thee." The omits "We see the open grave" is from this hymn.
31. When from the City of our God. The Good Samaritan. From this is taken "What beams of grace and mercy, Lord."
32. When Thou, O Lord, didst send the Twelve. Missions. In the 1863 ed. it is in four parts, Pt. ii. being "Legions, "Lead, swollen with passion's cloudy stream."

ii. From the Holy Year, 3rd ed., 1863.

33. Heavenly Father, send Thy blessing. For Schools. In extensive use.
34. Holy, holy, holy Lord. Maker of this worldly frame. Quinquagesima. Based on the Epistle and Gospel for the day.
35. Lo He comes! Whom every nation. Advent. This is headed "The First Advent of Christ, coming to save."
36. O fear not though before thee lies. Communion of the Sick. Pt. ii. begins, "The Resurrection and the Life."
37. On every new-born babe of earth. Churching of Women. Pt. ii. begins, "Bright angels of the King of kings."
38. Peace to this house! O Thou Whose way. Visitation of the Sick. Pt. ii. "O Conqueror by suffering; Pt. iii. "Restore us to Thine house of prayer."
39. The day is gently sinking to a close. Evening. A beautiful hymn.
40. We all, O God, unrighteous are. The Lord our Righteousness. Stanza vi. "Lord, we all, O God, unrighteous are." Based upon the Epistle of the S. next before Advent. Pt. ii. begins "Behold the day, the glorious day."

In addition to many of the hymns in the 1863 ed. of The Holy Year being divided into parts, the texts of most of them were revised by the author, and are authorized. [J. J.]

Wordsworth, William, the poet, the s. of an attorney, was b. at Cockermouth in 1770, and educated at St. John's College, Cambridge, where he graduated B.A. in 1791. Devoting himself to literature, and especially to poetry, he gradually rose into the front rank of English poets. His works include Lyrical Ballads, 1798; Poems; The Prelude; The Excursion, 1814, &c. All his poetical productions were collected and republished under his own supervision in 7 vols., in 1842. He d. at Rydal Mount, near Grasmere, in 1850. Notwithstanding his rank and reputation as a poet, his pieces used as hymns are limited to the following extracts from his poems :—

1. Not seldom clad in radiant vest. Christ, the Unchangeable. This is No. v. of five "Inscriptions supposed to be found in and near a Hermit's cell." It is in 6 st. of 4 l. (P. Works, 1827, iii. 264; 1857, iii., p. 286. It is in Horsley's Coll. of Hys., 1851-77; the American Plymouth Coll., 1855, &c.

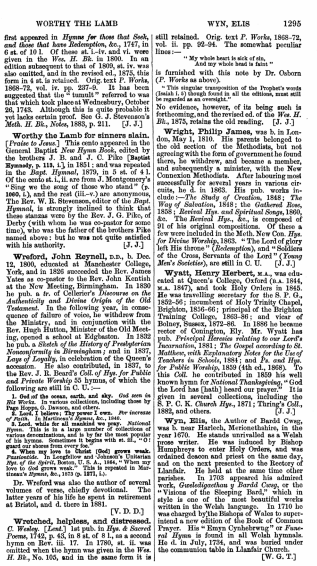
2. Up to the throne of God is borne. Sunday. This is entitled "The Labourer's Noon-Day Hymn," is dated 1824, and is in 6 st. of 4 l. (P. Works, 1827, iii. 264; 1857, iii., p. 286. It is in Horsley's Coll. of Hys., beginning with st. 1, and the latter part is also given in Martineau's Hymns, 1848, as "Look up to heaven, the industrious sun," as No. 153. [J. J.]

Worship, and thanks, and blessing. C. Wesley. [Confidence in Jesus.] This hymn "Written after a Deliverance in a Tumult,"



WORTHY THE LAMB WYN, ELIS 1295

first appeared in Hymns for those that Seek, and those that have Redemption, &c., 1747, in 6 st. of 10 l. Of these st. i.-iv. and vi. were given in the Wes. H. Bk. in 1780. In an edition subsequent to that of 1809, st. iv. was also omitted, and in the revised ed., 1875, this form in 4 st. is retained. Orig. text P. Works, 1868-72, vol. iv. pp. 237-9. It has been suggested that the "tumult" referred to was that which took place at Wednesbury, October 20, 1743. Although this is quite probable it yet lacks certain proof. See G. J. Stevenson's Meth. H. Bk., Notes, 1883, p. 211. [J. J.]

Worthy the Lamb for sinners slain. (Praise to Jesus.) This canto appeared in the General Baptist New Hymn Book, edited by the brethren J. B. and J. C. Pike (Baptist Hymnody, p. 119. i.), in 1851; and was repeated in the Bapt. Hymnal, 1879, in 5 st. of 4 l. Of the canto st. i., ii. are from J. Montgomery's "Sing we the song of those who stand" (a. 1805, i.), and the rest (iii.-v.) are anonymous. The Rev. W. B. Stevenson, editor of the Bapt. Hymnal, is strongly inclined to think that these stanzas were by the Rev. J. G. Pike, of Derby (with whom he was co-pastor for some time), who was the father of the brothers Pike named above: but he was not quite satisfied with his authority. [J. J.]

Wreford, John Reynell, D.D., b. Dec. 12, 1800, educated at Manchester College, York, and in 1826 succeeded the Rev. James Yates as co-pastor to the Rev. John Kentish at the New Meeting, Birmingham. In 1830 he pub. a tr. of Collette's Discourse on the Authenticity and Divine Origin of the Old Testament. In the following year, in consequence of failure of voice, he withdrew from the Ministry, and in conjunction with the Rev. Hugh Hutton, Minister of the Old Meeting, opened a school at Edgbaston. In 1832 he pub. a Sketch of the History of Presbyterian Nonconformity in Birmingham; and in 1837, Leaps of Loyalty, in celebration of the Queen's accession. He also contributed, in 1837, to the Rev. J. R. Beard's Coll. of Hys. for Public and Private Worship 35 hymns, of which the following are still in C. U.:—

1. God of the seas, earth, and sky. God seen in His Works. In various collections, including those by Dale Hayes, O. Dawson, and others.

2. Lord, I believe; Thy power I own. For increase of Faith. In Dale Hayes, O. Dawson, and others.

3. Lord, while for all mankind we pray. National Hymn. This is in a large number of collections of various denominations, and is by far the most popular of his hymns. Sometimes it begins with st. iii., "O God, our help in ages past."

4. When my love to Christ (God) grows weak. Fraternicide. In Longfellow and Johnson's Unitarian Hys. of the Spirit, Boston, U. S. A., 1864, "When my love to God grows weak." This is repeated in Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1873 (p. 187), &c.

Dr. Wreford was also the author of several volumes of verse, chiefly devotional. The latter years of his life he spent in retirement at Bristol, and d. there in 1881. [W. D. D.]

Wretched, helpless, and distressed. C. Wesley. (Lent.) 1st pub. in Hys. & Sacred Poems, 1742, p. 65, in 8 st. of 8 l., as a second hymn on Rev. iii. 17. In 1780, st. ii. was omitted when the hymn was given in the Wes. H. Bk., No. 105, and in the same form it is still retained. Orig. text P. Works, 1868-72, vol. ii. pp. 92-94. The somewhat peculiar lines:—

"My whole heart is sick of sin,
And my whole head is faint."

is furnished with this note by Dr. Osborn (P. Works as above).

"This singular transposition of the Prophet's words (Isaiah i. 5) though found in all the editions, must still be regarded as an oversight."

No evidence, however, of its being such is forthcoming, and the revised ed. of the Wes. H. Bk., 1875, retains the old reading. [J. J.]

Wright, Philip James, was b. in London, May 1, 1810. His parents belonged to the old section of the Methodists, but not agreeing with the form of government he found there, he withdrew, and became a member, and subsequently a minister, with the New Connexion Methodists. After labouring most successfully for several years in various circuits, he d. in 1863. His pub. works include:—The Study of Creation, 1848; The Way of Salvation, 1848; the Gathered Rose, 1858; Revival Hys. and Spiritual Songs, 1860, &c. The Revival Hys., &c., is composed of 91 of his original compositions. Of these a few were included in the Meth. New Con. Hys. for Divine Worship, 1863. "The Lord of glory left His throne" (Redemption), and "Soldiers of the Cross, Servants of the Lord" (Young Men's Societies), are still in C. U. [J. J.]

Wyatt, Henry Herbert, M.A., was educated at Queen's College, Oxford (B.A. 1844, M.A. 1847), and took Holy Orders in 1845. He was travelling secretary for the S. P. G., 1852-56; incumbent of Holy Trinity Chapel, Brighton, 1856-66; principal of the Brighton Training College, 1863-86; and vicar of Bolney, Sussex, 1872-86. In 1880 he became rector of Conington, Ely. Mr. Wyatt has pub. Perverted Heroism relating to our Lord's Incarnation, 1881; The Gospel according to St. Matthew, with Explanatory Notes for the Use of Teachers in Schools, 1884; and Pa. and Hys. for Public Worship, 1859 (4th ed., 1868). To this Coll. he contributed in 1859 his well known hymn for National Thanksgiving, "God the Lord has [hath] heard our prayer." It is given in several collections, including the S. P. C. K. Church Hys., 1871; Thring's Coll., 1882, and others. [J. J.]

Wyn, Elis, the Author of Bardd Cwsg, was b. near Harlech, Merionethshire, in the year 1670. He stands unrivalled as a Welsh prose writer. He was induced by Bishop Humphreys to enter Holy Orders, and was ordained deacon and priest on the same day, and on the next presented to the Rectory of Llanfair. He held at the same time other parishes. In 1703 appeared his admired work, Garddeigrethau y Bardd Cwsg, or the "Visions of the Sleeping Bard," which in style is one of the most beautiful works written in the Welsh language. In 1710 he was charged by the Bishops of Wales to superintend a new edition of the Book of Common Prayer. His "Emyn Cynhebrwng" or Funeral Hymn is found in all Welsh hymnals. He d. in July, 1734, and was buried under the communion table in Llanfair Church. [W. G. T.]

1296

X

Xavier, St. Francis, the great missionary saint of the Roman Catholic Church, was the s. of Don John Giasso and Donna Maria d'Aspilcueta y Xavier; he was b. at the castle Xavier, near Pamplona, Spain, on April 7, 1506, and is known to history by his mother's name. At the age of eighteen he entered the University of Paris, where in due course he graduated, and then devoted himself to teaching. It was here that he became acquainted with Ignatius Loyola the founder of the Jesuits, who was then planning the colossal work which he afterwards accomplished. Xavier became one of the first nine of Loyola's converts, and the most enthusiastic of the little band. The date of the formation of the Order of the Jesuits is given as Aug. 15, 1534, and the place as Montmartre near Paris. We find Xavier at Venice with Loyola in 1537, where the visitation of a hospital for incurables was assigned to him. Here in the discharge of his duties he gave early evidence of his enthusiasm and self-devotion. He subsequently visited Rome, where with Loyola and others of the Order he was brought, through the influence of the Rector of the University of Paris, who was then at Rome, to the notice of John III. of Portugal, who desired some of them for mission work in India. Circumstances led to the selection of Xavier for the work. He left Rome in March 1540, and set sail on April 7, 1541, for Goa, the chief city of the Portuguese possessions, where he arrived on May 6, 1542. From that time to the day of his death at Sanciau, near Canton, on Dec. 22, 1552, he devoted himself to his work in a most heroic and devoted manner, visiting Travancore, Ceylon, Malacca, Japan, and other heathen lands with Cross in hand, and a burning zeal in his heart. Xavier's life has been written by many hands. The roll of deeds which he is said to have done, and the miracles he is said to have wrought, even to the raising of the dead, is long, but many of the alleged facts are open to the gravest doubt, and others are beyond belief. The hymns which are associated with Xavier's name are, "O Deus ego amo Te, Nan prior Tu amasti me" (p. 886, i.), and "O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus me" (p. 886, ii.). That the first was written by him is most improbable, the evidence in his favour being absolutely nil. The second may possibly be his (see as above), it breathes his abnegation of self in every word, his spirit in every line. See Murray's Mag. for Oct. 1890, for an interesting account of Goa and its Cathedral, where Xavier lies buried. [J. J.]

Y

Ye boundless realms of joy. Tate & Brady. [Ps. cxlviii.] Appeared in the New Version, 1696, in 8 st. of 8 l. It is seldom if ever found in its full form in modern collections, but usually as a conclusion. The metre, which is now somewhat common, is an imitation of John Pullain's version of the same psalm in the Anglo-Genevan Psalter, 1561. Pullain's use of this metre is the first instance known in English Psalmody. [464 Version, § ix.] [J. J.]

Ye Christian heroes (heralds), go, proclaim. Draper, E. H. [Farewell to Missionaries.] This is one of two hymns compiled from a poem which first appeared in a newspaper as "Ruler of worlds, display Thy power:" then in Hys. Orig. & Select., &c., Portland, Maine, 1805, divided as two hymns; and again, as a complete poem, in the Baptist Magazine, vol. viii. 1816, p. 88, where it is given in 28 lines, and begins: "Sovereign of worlds, display Thy power." The hymns compiled therefrom are:—

1. Sovereign of worlds, display Thy power. This centos in 4 st. of 4 l. was given in Pratt's Pr. & Hys., 1829, No. 407, as a "Prayer for the Conversion of the World," and subsequently in the Plymouth Coll., 1855.

2. Ye Christian heroes (or, heralds), proclaim. This hymn is composed of ll. 17-28 slightly altered. It is found in several collections, including the Plymouth Coll., 1855; the Bap. Praise Bk., 1871, and others. In the Sabbath Bell Hymn Book, compiled for the Sanctuary, 1845; Hys. for Days of Humiliation, &c., it begins "Ye Christian heralds, go, proclaim."

The modern use of these hymns is mainly confined to America. [J. J.]

Ye indolent and slothful! rise. S. Martin. [Industry.] First appeared as No. 12 in the Draft Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, 1781, as a version of Proverbs vi. 6–12, in 4 st. of 4 lines. In the public worship ed. of the Trs. and Paraphs. issued in that year by the Church of Scotland, and still in use, ll. 1, 3, 4, 4 of st. iii. were altered. The markings of the Trs. and Paraphs. by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 890, ii.) ascribe the original to I. Watts (in whose works we have failed to find it), and the alterations of 1781, to Cameron. In the Free Church Magazine, for 1847, p. 271, it is pretty clearly shown to be by Martin. Martin is there said to have sent in to the Committee versions of other portions of Holy Scripture, which, though not inserted by them, in the Trs. and Paraphs., he probably justly enough regarded as superior to this. [J. M.]

Ye nations exult; Salvation is nigh. [Epiphany.] This hymn appeared in the British Magazine, May, 1832, p. 293, in 6 st. of 4 l., and signed "R. J. W." It has been republished in several collections, including Kennedy, 1863, &c. In Mercer's Ch. Ps and H. Bk., Oxford ed., 1864, it begins "Ye nations rejoice, Salvation is nigh." [J. J.]

Ye neighbours and friends Of Jesus, draw near. C. Wesley. [Thanksgiving for Success of the Gospel.] This is No. 4 of four hymns written after preaching to the Newcastle colliers, and was pub. in the Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1749, vol. i., and again in the P. Works, 1868-72, vol. v., p. 115. Under the date of Nov. 30, 1746, Jackson in his Memoir of the Rev. Charles Wesley, says:—

"The very spirited hymn beginning 'Ye neighbours, and friends of Jesus, draw near,' was written by Mr. Wesley, after preaching to the Newcastle colliers, and most probably during his present excursion to that town. Under the date of Sunday, Nov. 30, he uses in his journal the phraseology upon which the hymn is founded. On that day he preached in one of the streets of Newcastle to listening crowds, who forgot the sharpness of the frost while engaged in the worship of God.

and in hearing the word of life and mercy." (Small ed., 1848, p. 191.)

The hymn is in 12 st. of 4 double lines. In the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, sts. i., ii., viii.-xii. were given as No. 38, and this has become the recognized form in later collections. [J. J.]

Ye principalities and powers. C. Rawson. [Burial.] 1st pub. in the Locals H. Bk., 1833, No. 836, in 5 st. of 4 l., and again in the author's Hymns, Verses, &c., 1876, p. 114. In the Bap. Ps & Hys., 1858, No. 616, it was given with the omission of st. i., and began "Though tears will fall and hearts are stirred." This form of the text is repeated in later collections. [J. J.]

Ye royal priests of Jesus, rise. C. Wesley. [Holy Communion.] 1st pub. in his Hys. on the Lord's Supper, 1745, No. 127, in 7 st. of 4 l.; again in later editions of the same; and in P. Works of J. & C. Wesley, 1868-70, vol. iii. pp. 319-320. Its use is not extensive. This hymn is one of the most pronounced of C. Wesley's hymns on "The Lord's Supper." It is based on a portion of Dr. Brevint's work on The Christian Sacrament and Sacrifice, sect. vi. 2. "Concerning the Sacrament, as it is a Sacrifice. And first, of the Commemorative Sacrifice":—

"Nevertheless, this sacrifice, which by a real oblation was not to be offered more than once, is by a devout and thankful commemoration to be offered up every day. For this is the meaning of those words of our Saviour Christ, 'Do this for a memorial of me;' that is, as well before the eyes of God His Father as before the eyes of men: and what St. Austin explained, when he said the holy flesh of Jesus was offered in three manners: by prefiguring sacrifices under the Law; by the sacrifice of the cross; and by that upon the altar, which is a memorial or representative thereof: for by a commemorative sacrament after He ascended into heaven. All comes to this: (1) That the sacrifice in itself can never be repeated: (2) That nevertheless this sacrament, by our remembrance of it, is a sacrifice: (3) That by virtue thereof we do beseech God that for that perfect oblation of His Son once offered . . . And thus do we every day offer unto God the meritorious sufferings of our Lord, as the only sure ground whereon God may give, and we obtain, the blessings we pray for," &c. P. Works, 1868-72, vol. iii. p. 320.

It is curious to note how faithfully C. Wesley reproduces Dr. Brevint's views not only of this aspect of the Holy Communion, but also of its daily administration. It is desirable that all C. Wesley's Hys. on the Lord's Supper be read with the extracts from Dr. Brevint's work, upon which they are based, and with which they are published in the P. Works, as above. [J. J.]

Ye saints! in blest communion. J. S. B. Monsell. [Saints Days, Special and General.] Pub. in his Hys of Love and Praise, 1863, p. 188, and composed of 5 opening stanzas of 8 l.; 19 st. for special days, as St. Andrew, St. Thomas, and others; and a concluding doxology. In this form it was repeated in his Parish Hymnal, 1873, and in both instances directions were given in a note as to the use which might be made of those 28 st. for special festivals. This hymn suggested to Earl Nelson his well-known "From all Thy saints in warfare, for all Thy saints at rest," p. 399, i. [J. J.]

Ye servants of God, Your Master proclaim. C. Wesley. [Missions.] Pub. in Hys. for Times of Trouble and Persecution, 1744, in 6 st. of 4 l., as No. 1 of "Hymns to be sung in Tumult" (P. Works, 1868-72, vol. iv. p. 51). It is given in its full, or in an abbreviated form in several of the older collections, and especially those of the Church of England. In 1830 a cento was included in the Supplement of the Wes. H. Bk., No. 537, st. i.-v., being from this hymn, and st. vi. from C. Wesley's Funeral Hys., 1746, No. 6, st. v. In the revised ed. of the Wes. H. Bk., 1875, this last stanza was omitted. [J. J.]

Ye servants of the Lord, Each in his office wait. P. Doddridge. [Christian Activity and Zeal.] Appeared in J. Orton's posthumous ed. of Doddridge's Hymns, &c., 1755, No. 210, in 5 st. of 4 l., and headed, "The active Christian"; and again in J. D. Humphrys's ed. of the same, 1839, No. 294. It is in extensive use, and usually in its original form. Sometimes, however, st. v. l. 3, "And raise that favourite Servant's head," is altered to "And raise that faithful servant's head." [J. J.]

Ye simple souls that stray. C. Wesley (?). [Exhortation.] 1st pub. in Hys. for those that Seek and those that Have Redemption, 1747, in 7 st. of 8 l. In 1780 it was given in the Wes. H. Bk., No. 21, with considerable alterations, and the omission of st. iii. The authorship of this hymn has been a matter of dispute for many years, some claiming it for John Wesley on the authority of Mr. Henry Moore, and others for Charles on the word of Dr. Whitehead. The work in which it appeared is known to have been pub. by the two brothers, and the contents were unsigned. Under these circumstances the difficulty of determining the authorship is great. There is some probability in the suggestion that it was written by Charles, and that the extensive alterations made therein for the Wes. H. Bk., in 1780, were the work of his brother. Original text, P. Works, 1868-72, vol. iv. p. 230. [J. J.]

Ye sons of earth, prepare the plough. W. Cowper. [The Sower.] Pub. in the Olney Hymns, 1779, Bk. i., No. 65, in 6 st. of 4 l., and entitled, "The Sower." It is in several modern collections, but it does not rank in popularity with many of Cowper's hymns. [J. J.]

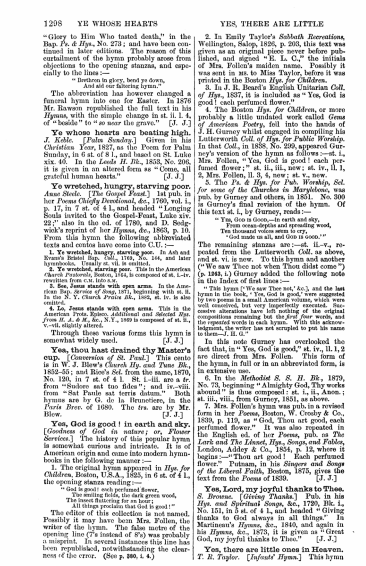
Ye that pass by, behold the man. C. Wesley. [Good Friday.] 1st pub. in Hys. and Sacred Poems, 1742, in 18 st. of 4 l., and entitled "Z. Passion. Hymn 2." (P. Works, 1868-72, vol. ii. p. 70). In the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, 15 st. were given as No. 24, the omitted st. being ii., iv., and vii. In the 1889 ed. of that collection the hymn is divided into two parts, pt. ii. beginning with "O Thou dear suffering Son of God." Many expressions in the hymn, such as "Give me to feel Thy agonies," and others, have been much criticised from time to time, and this may possibly account for the omission of the hymn from the revised edition of the Wes. H. Bk., 1875. Both parts, however, are still in use in G. Britain and America.

Ye that put on the heavenly crown. C. Rawson. [Burial. Easter.] Contributed to the Locals H. Bk., 1833, in 6 st. of 4 l., No. 856. In 1858 sts. iii.-vi. were given as

1296

1297

1298



1298 YE WHOSE HEARTS YES, THERE ARE LITTLE

"Glory to Him Who tasted death," in the Bap. Ps. & Hys., No. 273; and have been continued in later editions. The reason of this curtailment of the hymn probably arose from objections to the opening stanzas, and especially to the lines:—

"Brethren in glory, bend ye down,
And add our faltering hymn."

The abbreviation has however changed a funeral hymn into one for Easter. In 1876 Mr. Rawson republished the full text in his Hymns, with the simple change in st. ii. l. 4, of "beside" to "so near the grave." [J. J.]

Ye whose hearts are beating high. J. Keble. [Palm Sunday.] Given in his Christian Year, 1827, as the Poem for Palm Sunday, in 6 st. of 8 l., and based on St. Luke xix. 40. In the Leeds H. Bk., 1853, No. 206, it is given in an altered form as "Come, all grateful human hearts." [J. J.]

Ye wretched, hungry, starving poor. Anne Steele. [The Gospel Feast.] 1st pub. in her Poems Chiefly Devotional, &c., 1760, vol. i., p. 17, in 7 st. of 4 l., and headed "Longing Souls invited to the Gospel-Feast, Luke xiv. 22," also in the ed. of 1780, and D. Sedgwick's reprint of her Hymns, &c., 1863, p. 10. From this hymn the following abbreviated texts and centos have come into C.U.:—

1. Ye wretched, hungry, starving poor. In Ash and Evans's Bristol Coll., 1769, No. 18, and later hymnbooks. Usually st. vii. in centos.

2. Ye wretched, starving poor. This in the American Church Pastorals, Boston, 1854, is composed of st. i.–iv. rewritten from Cotterill into 4 st.

3. Jesus stands with open arms. In the American Prot. Episc. Church Hymn Book, 1857, beginning with st. ii. In the N. Y. Church Praise Bk., 1868, st. iv. is also omitted.

4. Jesus stands with open arms. This in the American Prot. Episc. Additional and Selected Hys. &c. to Bk. &c., 1869 is composed of st. ii., v.–viii., slightly altered.

Through these various forms this hymn is somewhat widely used. [J. J.]

Yes, thou hast drained thy Master's cup. [Conversion of St. Paul.] This cento in in W. J. Blew's Church Hy. and Tune Bk., 1852–55; and Rice's Sel. from the same, 1870, No. 120, in 7 st. of 4 l. St. i.–iii. are a tr. from "Sudore ut tuo fides"; and iv.–viii. from "Sat Paule sat terris datum." Both hymns are by G. de la Feunetiere, in the Paris Brev. of 1680. The tr. are by Mr. Blew. [J. J.]

Yes, God is good! in earth and sky. [Goodness of God in nature; or, Flower Services.] The history of this popular hymn is somewhat curious and intricate. It is of American origin and came into modern hymnbooks in the following manner:—

1. The original hymn appeared in Hys. for Children, Boston, U.S.A., 1833, in 6 st. of 4 l., the opening stanza reading:—

"God is good!" I hear it given
The smiling fields, the dark green wood,
The sweet flickering fir on high;
All things proclaim that God is good!"

The editor of this collection is not named. Possibly it may have been Mrs. Follen, the writer of the hymn. The false metre of the opening line ("I'm instead of S'o) was probably a misprint. In several instances this line has been republished, notwithstanding the clearness of the error. (See p. 280, i. 4.)

2. In Emily Taylor's Sabbath Recreations, Wellington, Salop, 1836, p. 203, this text was given as an original piece never before published, and signed "E. L. C.," the initials of Mrs. Follen's maiden name. Possibly it was sent in as to Miss Taylor, before it was printed in the Boston Hys. for Children.

3. In J. R. Beard's English Unitarian Coll. of Hys., 1837, it is included as "Yes, God is good! each perfumed flower."

4. The Boston Hys. for Children, or more probably a little undated work called Gems of American Poetry, fell into the hands of J. H. Gurney whilst engaged in compiling his Lutterworth Coll. of Hys. for Public Worship. In that Coll., in 1838, No. 299, appeared Gurney's version of the hymn as follows:—st. i., Mrs. Follen, "Yes, God is good! each perfumed flower;" st. ii., iii., now: st. iv., ll. 1, 2, Mrs. Follen, ll. 3, 4, new: st. v., new.

5. The Ps. & Hys. for Pub. Worship, Sel. for sems of the Churches in Marylebone, was pub. by Gurney and others, in 1851. No. 300 is Gurney's final revision of the hymn. Of this text st. i., by Gurney, reads:—

"Yes, God is Good,—in earth and sky,
From ocean-depths and spreading wood,
Ten thousand voices seem to cry,
"God made us all, and God is good."

The remaining stanzas are:—st. ii.–v., repeated from the Lutterworth Coll. as above, and st. vi. is new. To this hymn and another ("We saw Thee not when Thou didst come") (p. 1283, i.) Gurney added the following note in the Index of first lines:—

"This hymn ("We saw Thee not," &c.), and the last hymn in the book, "Yes, God is good," were suggested by a previous hymn, which, though in many respects very well written, is not well adapted for public use. Successive alterations have left nothing of the original compositions remaining but the first four words, and the repeated words in each hymn. With this acknowledgment, the writer has not scrupled to put his name to them."

In this note Gurney has overlooked the fact that, in "Yes, God is good," st. iv., ll. 1, 2 are direct from Mrs. Follen. This form of the hymn, in full or in an abbreviated form, is in exclusive use.

6. In the Methodist S. S. H. Bk., 1879, No. 73, beginning "Almighty God, Thy works abound" is thus composed: st. i., ii., Anon.; st. iii., viii., from Gurney, 1851, as above.

7. Mrs. Follen's hymn was pub. in a revised form in her Poems, Boston, W. Crosby & Co., 1839, p. 110, as "God, Thou art good, each perfumed flower." It was also repeated in the English ed. of her Poems, pub. as The Lark and The Linnet, Hys., Songs, and Fables, London, Ashley & Co., 1854, p. 12, where it begins:—"Thou art good! Each perfumed flower." Putnam, in his Singers and Songs of the Liberal Faith, Boston, 1875, gives the text from the Poems of 1839. [J. J.]

Yes, Lord, my joyful thanks to Thee. S. Bronze. [Giving Thanks.] Pub. in his Hys. and Spiritual Songs, &c., 1720, Bk. i., No. 151, in 5 st. of 4 l., and headed "Giving thanks to God always in all things." In Martineau's Hymns, &c., 1840, and again in his Hymns, &c., 1873, it is given as "Great God, my joyful thanks to Thee." [J. J.]

Yes, there are little ones in Heaven. T. R. Taylor. [Infants' Hymn.] This hymn appeared in the Protestant Dissenters Juvenile Magazine, 1833, and again in T. R. Taylor's Memoirs and Select Remains, 1836, p. 245, in 5 st. of 6 l. It is found in C. U. in its original form; and also rewritten as "Children's voices high in heaven," in the Bapt. Ps. & Hys., 1858, No. 959, and later collections. The rewritten form of the text is by Mr. George Rawson, and was made for the Bapt. Ps. & Hys., 1858. [J. J.]

Yet a little while: the Lord gave His saints this precious word. Lady Campbell, née Malcolm. [Second Advent.] The first stanza was written early in Nov., and the remaining two on Dec. 26, 1830, and subsequently pub. in lithograph from the author's MS. It was included in J. G. Deck's Ps. and Hys., Lond., D. Walther, 1842, Pt. i., No. 189; in Walker's Cheltenham Ps. & Hys., 1855; in Harland's Ch. Psalter & Hyl., and others. [J. J.]

Yet there is room! The Lamb's bright hall of song. H. Bonar. [Parable of the Marriage Supper.] This most appropriate hymn for Home Missions appeared in 1873. It has been somewhat widely adopted, and is given in the collections of Sharpe, Stanley, Thring, and others, and is worthy of this attention. [J. J.]

Yonge, Charlotte Mary, dau. of William Crawley Yonge of the 32nd Regiment, was b. at Otterbourne, Hants, in 1823. Miss Yonge is widely known as the author of The Heir of Redclyffe, The Daisy Chain, and other popular tales: of a series of historical works for the young, including Stories of English History, 1874, Stories of Greek History, 1876, &c.; of the Life of Bishop Patteson; and as the Editor of the Monthly Packet. In 1841 Miss Yonge contributed two hymns to The Child's Christian Year, which was edited by her mother (see below). The hymns are:—(1) "Into Christ's flock we are received" (Holy Baptism); (2) "Why lived I not in those blest days?" (St Thomas). [J. J.]

Yonge, Frances Mary, née Bargus, was b. Jan. 13, 1795, was married to William Crawley Yonge of the 32nd Regiment, and d. Sep. 23, 1868. Mrs. Yonge pub. in 1841, The Child's Christian Year, with a Preface by John Keble. The contents are mainly by J. Austice, J. H. Newman, I. Williams, and Mrs. Yonge, with a few hymns by Miss Yonge, Mrs. Mosley, T. Whytehead, J. Keble, and others. Mrs. Yonge's hymns are:—

1. Behold a Prophet,—yea, and more. St. John Baptist.
2. He sets on the left. All things for God.
3. Not only a sacrifice. Jesus the Example.
4. Put far from us, O Lord, we pray. Advent.
5. The Assyrian King in splendour came. Defeat of the Assyrians.

The use of these hymns is limited. [J. J.]

You now must hear my voice no more. W. Robertson. [Ascensiontide.] First appeared as No. 15 in the Draft Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, 1745, as a version of John xiv., 25–29, in 6 st. of 4 l., and slightly altered in the revised ed. issued in 1751. In the Draft of 1781 it was included as No. 43, considerably altered, and with st. v., vi. omitted. In the public worship ed. of the Trs. & Paraphs. issued in that year by the Church of Scotland and still in use, st. ii. was re-written, and st. i., ii. 3, st. iii., i. 1, were altered from the Draft. In the markings by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron (p. 880, ii.) the original is ascribed to Robertson, and the alterations in 1781 to Cameron. The revised text of 1781 is included in the Eng. Presb. Ps. & Hys., 1867, and a few other modern hymnals. (Compare the version of the same passage of Holy Scripture "Peace—it was our Saviour's blessing," No. 73, in Miss Leeson's Paraphs. & Hys. for Cong. Singing, 1853.) [J. M.]

You who dwell above the skies. G. Sandys. [Ps. civiii.] This fine rendering of Ps. civiii. appeared in his Paraphrase of the Psalmes, 1636, in 69 l. It was republished in his Paraphrases upon the Divine Poems, 1638, and in later editions. Also in the Library of Old Authors. In the Wes. H. Bk., 1875, No. 689, it is given in 9 st. of 4 l. as "Ye, who dwell above the skies," where the text is but slightly altered. It is worthy of more extended use than is accorded to it in modern hymnals. (See Psalms, English, § x.) [J. J.]

You who the Name of Jesus bear. [Humiliation and Exaltation of Christ.] First appeared as No. 7 in the Draft Scottish Translations and Paraphrases, 1745, as a version of Phil. ii., 6–12, in 7 st. of 4 l. The author is unknown. In the revised edition, issued in 1751, st. iii. vii. were altered, and this form was included, slightly altered, as No. 52 in the Draft of 1781 beginning "Ye who the Name of Jesus bear." In the public worship ed. of the Trs. and Paraphs. issued in that year by the Church of Scotland, and still in use, st. v. was re-written, and st. ii., ii. 2–4, st. vi. l. 1 altered. In the markings by the eldest daughter of W. Cameron, (p. 880, ii.) the original is ascribed to Isaac Watts (in whose works it is not to be found) and the alterations of 1781 to Cameron. The revised text of 1781 is included in Pratt's Coll., 1829, the Eng. Presb. Ps. & Hys., 1867, and a few other modern hymnals. St. v.–vii. beginning "Hence God this generous love to men," were included, with an added doxology, in the Twickenham Chapel Coll., 1845, p. 36. In Miss Leeson's Paraphs. and Hys. for Cong. Singing, 1853, it is slightly altered as pt. i. of No. 81: her pt. ii., beginning "Hail, name of Jesus! glorious name," being partly from "All hail the power of Jesus' name." [J. M.]

Young, Andrew, second s. of David Young, for more than fifty years a most efficient teacher in Edinburgh, was b. at Edinburgh, April 23, 1807. After passing through a distinguished eight years' literary and theological course at the University of Edinburgh, he was appointed in 1830, by the Town Council, Head Master of Niddry Street School, Edinburgh, where he began with 80 pupils, and left with the total at 600. In 1840 he became Head English Master of Madras College, St. Andrews, where he was equally successful. He retired from St. Andrews in 1858, and lived in Edinburgh, where he was for some time the Superintendent of the Greenside Parish Sabbath School. He d. Nov. 30, 1880. Many of Mr Young's hymns and poems were contributed to periodicals. A collected edition of these was published in 1876, as The Scottish Highlands and Other Poems. His poems entitle him to rank in the first order of Scottish minor poets. Some of his hymns are very sweet. His "There is a happy land" (q. v.) has attained great popularity. He d. July 18, 1851. [J. M.]

1300

Young children once to Jesus came, Jane Taylor. [Christ receiving little children.] This hymn was given in the 1st ed. of Hymns for Infant Minds, 1810, as "As infants once to Christ were brought." In the 4th ed., 1812, the opening line was altered to "Young children once to Jesus came," and this is repeated in the revised ed. of 1886. It is in 6 st. of 4 l., and based upon the words "Suffer little children to come unto me." It is given in several modern collections for children. [J. J.]

Your harps, ye trembling saints, A. M. Toplady. [Encouragement to Believers.] Printed in the Gospel Magazine, Feb. 1772, in 8 st. of 8 l., and headed "Weak Believers Encouraged." It was included in his Hym. on Sacred Subjects, &c., London, W. H. Collingridge, 1836; and in D. Sedgwick's ed. of his Hym. and Sacred Poems, 1860. Several abbreviated forms of the text, all beginning with the original first line, are in C. U. in G. Britain and America. There is also in American use a coda beginning "If through unruffled seas," in 4 st. of 4 l., of which st. ii.–iv. are from this hymn, and stanza i. is by another hand. It is given in the Songs for the Sanctuary, 1865, the London Examiner, 1884, and others. [J. J.]

Z

Zage nicht wenn sich der Himmel. [Cross and Consolation.] Included in J. Kübner's Christliches Hausfreudiges. Hamburg, 1840, p. 150, in 6 st. of 8 l., entitled "Gutlassen." No author's name is given. The tr. in C. U. is "Trouble not, though darkly gather." A good tr. expanding st. ii. as in iii., by Miss Borthwick, in H. L. L., 1st ser., 1854, p. 19 (1884, p. 24). Included in Gilfillan's Sel., Dundee, 1876, No. 51. [J. M.]

Zeller, Christian Heinrich, s. of Christian David Zeller, Hofrath at Hohentübingen, near Tübingen, was b. at Hohentübingen, March 29, 1779. He matriculated at the University of Tübingen in 1797, as a student of law. After completing his studies he chose, however, the profession of teaching. He became director of the Latin School at Zofingen, Switzerland, in 1809, and finally removed in April, 1820, to Beuggen on the Rhine (Baden), near Basel, as director of the newly founded Institution there, meant for the education of poor children and for the training of teachers for poor children. He d. at Beuggen, May 18, 1860 (Koch, viii. 188, &c.).

Zeller was best known as an educationist, and in connexion with the working of the Institution at Beuggen. His hymns, which are simple, Scriptural and earnest, were written primarily for use at Beuggen, and mostly appeared in the Monatsblatt (begun in 1818), and other publications of the Institution. They came into notice through their reception into Knapp's Ev. L. S., 1837. They were collected by Zeller's son, and pub. in 1871, as Lieder der armenschulen-Anstalt Beuggen, 58 being original. Two of these hymns have passed into English, viz.:—

i. Gott bei mir an jedem Orte. Omnipresence. On the joy of God's Presence with us. This appeared in the Monatsblatt in 1828, and was included in the 1871 ac above, p. 88. In Knapp's Ev. L. S., 1837, No. 32 (1865, No. 32), in 6 st. of 6 l.; in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 1554, &c. The tr. in C. U. is:—

My God with me in every place. This is a good tr., omitting st. v., by Mrs. Findlater in H. L. L., 1st Ser., 1854, p. 30 (1884, p. 35); repeated, omitting st. iv., in Holy Song, 1869, No. 588. In Miss Warner's Hym. of the Ch. Militant, 1858, it begins, "My God is with me every place."

Another tr. is: "God in every place is near me." By R. Massie, in the British Herald, May, 1865, p. 70, and in Reid's Praise Bk., 1872, No. 626.

ii. Treue Heiland, wir sind hier. Public Worship. This is in the 1871 ac above, p. 64. Included in Knapp's Ev. L. S., 1837, No. 857 (1865, No. 1256), in 3 st. of 7 l.; and repeated in the Württemberg G. B., 1842, No. 255. For this hymn Conrad Kocher wrote the well-known melody which in H. A. & M. is called Dix, and which 1st appeared, set to Zeller's hymn, in Kocher's Stimmen aus dem Reiche Gottes, Stuttgart, 1838, No. 201. Tr. as:—

Saviour, here in Thee we come. This is a free tr. of st. i., ii., v., marked as by "F. C. C." as No. 155 in Dr. Pagenstecher's Coll., 1864. [J. M.]

Zeuch ein zu deinen Thoren, P. Gerhardt. [Whitsuntide.] Appeared as No. 127 in the Crüger-Runge G. B., 1653, in 12 st. of 8 l., viz. st. i.–viii., xii., xiii., xiv., xvi. of the full form. St. xv. was added in J. G. Ebeling's ed. of Gerhardt, 1666–67, No. lxxx., and st. ix.–xi. in J. H. Feustking's edition of the same, 1707. The full form in 16 st. is in Wackernagel's ed. of his Geistliche Lieder, No. 29, in Bachmann's ed., No. 25, and the Unv. L. S., 1851, No. 184. It was probably written during the Thirty Years' War. The trs. in C. U. are:—

i. Retake thy own Possession. A free tr., omitting st. x.–xii., in pt. ii., 1725, of J. C. Jacobi's Pentecosta Germanica, p. 9. In his ed. of 1732, p. 46, it is greatly altered, and begins, "In me resume thy dwelling." From this form the trs. of st. i., vi., xvi. were included unaltered in the Scottish Evang. Union H. Bk., 1856.

ii. Come to Thy temple here on earth. A good tr. omitting st. iv. by Miss Winkworth in her Lyra Germanica, 1st Ser., 1855, p. 113. From this the trs. of st. i., ii., viii., xii., were repeated in the Pennsylvania Luth. H. Bk., 1865.

iii. O enter, Lord, Thy temple. A good tr. of st. i., ii., v.–viii., xiv., xvi. based on her L. G. version by Miss Winkworth in her C. B. for England, 1863, No. 71. Included in full and unaltered as Nos. 482, 483 in Dr. Thomas's Augustine H. Bk., 1866; No. 483, beginning "All love is thine, O Spirit" (st. vii.). In the Pennsylvania Luth. Ch. Bk., 1868, No. 250 is st. i.–iii., vi., viii., and in the Ohio Luth. Hyl., 1880, No. 106 is st. i., ii., v., xiv., xvi.

Other trs. are: (1) "Retake thy own possession. Thou glorious Guest of Hearts," in Select H. from var. Pud. Transcriber, 1754, p. 45, and the Suppl. to do., Pud. or Lond., 1756, p. 27. (2) "Come, O Thou Holy Dove," by Miss Burlington, p. 16. (3) "Come, enter Thine own portal," by Miss Cox, 1864, p. 117. [J. M.]

1301

Zihn, Johann Friedrich, was b. Sept. 7, 1650, at Suhl, in Thuringia. After studying for some time at the University of Leipzig, he went to Wittenberg, where he graduated M.A. in 1675; and in 1679 was appointed rector of the school at Suhl. In 1690 he became diaconus, and in 1708 archidiaconus at Suhl, and d. there, Jan. 16, 1719 (Wetzel, iii. 470; Koch, v. 419, &c.). Zihn contributed five hymns (Nos. 526–530) to the Schleusingen G. B., 1698, the title of which begins, Der himmlischer Freude zeitlicher Vorschmack. One has been tr., viz.:—

Gott lebet noch, Seele was verzagst du doch. Cross and Consolation. 1698 as above, No. 529, in 8 st. of 19 l., marked as by M. J. F. Z. In each stanza ll. 1, 2 are as quoted above, and ll. 9, 10 are the refrain,

"Seele! so gedenke doch;
Lebt doch unser Herr Gott noch."

It is a free hymn, founded on Jer. x. 10. Koch says it was written in 1682. Included in Freylinghausen's Neues geistreiches G. B., 1714, and recently in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1863, No. 844. The tr. in C. U. is:—

God liveth ever! This is a good and full version, by Miss Winkworth in her Lyra Ger., 1st Ser., 1855, p. 53. Repeated in full in Miss Warner's Hym. of the Church Militant, 1858, and in Bp. Ryle's Coll., 1860. Varying centos are included in the Cumbrae H. Bk.; Pitt's Coll., Paisley, 1871, and the Dear Hyl., 1871. The form beginning "Our God is good; in every place," in the Hym. of the Spirit, Boston, U. S., 1864, is from ll. 5–6 of st. i., iii., vi., viii.

Other trs. are:—

(1) "God liveth still! Trust," &c. By Miss Cox, 1864, p. 126; repeated in the Gilman-Schaff Lib. of Rel. Poetry, 1881. (2) "God liveth still! Wherefore," &c. By R. Massie, in the Sing of Time, 1871, vol. vi. p. 248. [J. M.]

Zinzendorf, Christian Renatus, Count von, second s. of Nicolaus Ludwig von Zinzendorf, was b. Sept. 19, 1727, at Hermhut, in Saxony. He received his education from his parents, and from Johann Langguth and others of the Brethren. He was the only son that survived his boyhood, early accompanied his father on his journeys, and was, e.g., in 1745, for sixteen days imprisoned with him at Riga. From 1744 to 1750 he lived mostly at Herrnhaag in Wetterau, ministering specially to the single Brethren. When the community at Herrnhaag was dissolved in 1750, his father summoned him to London. He brought with him the seeds of consumption, which developed in England. He d. in London, May 28, 1752 (Koch, v. 312; Hist. Nachricht (to the Brüder G. B., 1778), 1835, p. 192, &c.).

C. R. von Zinzendorf's hymns were principally written during his residence in London. They are by no means equal to those of the previous productive, original, and fantastic period of Moravian hymn-writing; and their range of subjects is very limited. Their burden is a deep and intense personal devotion to the crucified Saviour; the spirit being that of his favourite saying, "I will be nothing but a child of the Lamb." They were collected by his father, and pub. (with a preface dated March 18, 1752), as the 1st Appendix to the London G. B. of 1754, with 21 (34) pieces, 9 of which consist of only one stanza, the rest 10 (the p. 788, &c.). Most of these were repeated in the 1789 G. B., and have passed into English use in non-Moravian hymn-books.

Three of these hymns may here be referred to:—

i. Ach lass auf allen Tritten. Sanctification. Written in 1751. Included in the Kleine Brüder G. B., London, 1754. It is No. 64 in the 2nd ed., 1760, of the Appx. of 1754, and repeated as st. ii.–iv. No. 380, in the Brüder G. B., 1778. The tr. in C. U. is:—

Lord Jesus, Thy atonement. This is No. 427 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1849, No. 588), repeated in Bickersteth's (Christ. Psalmody, 1833.

ii. Für uns ging mein Herr in Todesnöthen. Passiontide. This is included as No. 168 in the Brüder G. B., 1778, in 10 st. of 8 l. It is a cento from three hymns in the Appx. of 1754, as above, viz. st. i.–5, 8 are st. 13–15, 17, 18, of No. 28 (this hymn begins "Ach du unaussprechlich nahes Herze"); st. 6, 7 are st. 3, 5, of No. 10; while st. 10 is No. 17. The text of 1778 is in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1853, No. 230. The tr. in C. U. is:—

My Redeemer, overwhelm'd with anguish. By J. Swertner, in full, from the 1778 text, as No. 78 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1849, No. 93). The trs. of st. 1, 2, 6–8, were included in Walker's Coll., Cheltenham, 1835. In the Moravian H. Bk., 1886, No. 82, it begins with st. vi. "Our enraptured hearts shall ne'er be weary."

iii. O süsse Seelenwaide. This is noted at v. 467, ii.

Not including the above the English Moravian H. Bk., 1886, gives seven hymns with his name, and ascribes portions of four others to him.

Zinzendorf, Nicolaus Ludwig, Count von, was b. at Dresden, May 26, 1700; was educated at the Paedagogium at Halle (1710–1716), and at the University of Wittenberg (1716–1719); became Hof- und Justizrath at the Saxon court at Dresden in the autumn of 1721; received a license to preach from the Theological Faculty of the University of Tübingen in 1734; was consecrated Bishop of the Moravian Brethren's Unity at Berlin, May 10, 1737; and d. at Hermhut, May 9, 1760.

An adequate sketch of the life and labours of this remarkable man would far exceed the limits of our space. The details of his life are fully given in his Lebens, by A. G. Spangenberg, 8 vols., Barby, 1772–75 (English version, abridged, by Samuel Jackson, London, 1838); and good sketches, with references to the fuller biographies, will be found in Koch, v. 248, Herzog's Real-Encyklopädie, xvii. 513, &c. The English reader may also consult T. Kübler's Hist. Notes to the Lyra Germanica, 1865, p. 107; Josiah Miller's Singers and Songs, 1869, p. 160; Miss Winkworth's Christian Singers of Germany, 1869, p. 305, &c. It is impossible to speak of Zinzendorf apart from the religious Communion of which he was the Second Founder; and accordingly an account of his life and labours is given in this Dictionary in the article Moravian Hymnody (see pp. 765–766).

Zinzendorf's first hymn was written at Halle in 1719, and his last at Hermhut, May 4, 1760. Between these dates he wrote more than 2000 hymns. He himself pub. an edition of his poems as his Teutsche Gedichte at Hermhut, 1735 (2nd ed., Barby, 1746), but this only contains 128 hymns. The fullest representation of them is in Albert Knapp's

1302

Geistliche Gedichte des Grafen von Zinzendorf, pub. at Stuttgart in 1845 (hereafter, in this article, referred to as Knapp, 1845). This contains 770 pieces, arranged in three books, with an introduction and a biographical sketch by Knapp.

In preparing this edition Knapp had access to much unpublished material in the archives at Herrnhut, and found there many of the hymns in Zinzendorf's autograph. But too much of the labour he bestowed thereon was spent in endeavouring, not so much to reconstruct the text, as to improve the hymns in accordance with his own views. In various instances the hymns are altogether rewritten, so that the form in which they appear is not that in which, as a matter of fact, Zinzendorf did write them, but that in which he might have written them had he lived in 1845. Hence, while the hymns are not to be taken as much to this the case, that comparatively few of the hymns are given in Knapp's ed. in their original form. If not altered they are often either abridged or else combined with others.

The bulk of Zinzendorf's hymns, and of his religious character, was a deep and earnest personal devotion to and fellowship with the crucified Saviour. This is seen even in his worst pieces, where it is his perverted fervour that leads him into objectionable familiarity. His hymns are the outcome of a mind of rare power, of vivid emotional and keen insight into the inner life, and productive powers, he would have united the best of the greatest German hymnwriters. As it is, most even of his best pieces err in some way or other, for if they are reverent and in good taste, they are not, by such consideration as to be too familiar, or if they are not familiar they are too affected. The most popular hymns and English beyond the Moravian connection, are those of the period prior to 1734. Among the 1734 hymns are also some of the best of the later productions, especially from 1743 to 1750, are somewhat one-sided, unreal, and exaggerated in sentiment, and debased in style; exemplifying a tendency inherited from Scheffler (see p. 1006, i.), and suffered to run to riot. Without doubt he wrote too much (especially considering the time he had to spare for the writing of his hymns), and gave too little care to revision and consideration. Yet many of his hymns are worthy of note, and are distinguished by a certain noble simplicity, true reverence, lyric grace, confident faith in the reconciling love of God, and personal appropriation of the same, as opened and be spent in the Master's service, and fervent brotherly love.

The hymnbooks in which Zinzendorf's productions mainly appeared, or with which they have been associated, are described at length at pp. 707, 708. The more important may for convenience be briefly noted here, as follows:—

(1) Sammlung geistlicher und tröstlicher Lieder, Leipzig, 1725, vols. viii. 956 hymns. The 2nd ed. was pub. circa 1730, and contains an Anhang with Nos. 957-1076 (Berlin Library, 21. 2617), while some copies have a Supplem with Nos. 1079-1109 (Berlin, 21. 2616), and others a Nachtrag with Nos. 1077-1078. The 3rd ed. has 1 hymns i.-vi., bound up with them (Berlin, 21. 2614, and Brit. Mus.). The 3rd ed., with 1454 hymns in all, was pub. at Görlitz in 1731. A copy of this, now in the Hamburg Library, has bound up with it a Nachlese (Supplement) of 1732 (Knapp, 1845, p. 1).

(2) Herrnhut G. B. 1739 (Das Gesang-Buch der Gemeine in Herrn-Huth) with its various Anhänge and Supplem up to 1746.

(3) London G. B. 1753-54 (Hymns von Lieb, Musik und Ehre unsers Heylandes Gesänger-Gesang, &c.), pub. at London, vol. i. 1753, ii. 1754.

(4) Brüder G. B. 1778 (Gesangbuch zum Gebrauch der evangelischen Brüdergemeinen), pub. at Barby in 1778.

Zinzendorf's hymns passed into German non-Moravian use mainly through the Eberdorf G. B., 1742 (Evangelisches Gesangbuch zu einem heilsamlichen Anfang der Alten, Neuern und Neuesten Lieder, &c.), and in recent times through Knapp's Ev. L. S., 1837-1865. Comparatively few are found in non-Moravian English hymnbooks prior to 1840, save in the versions made by John Wesley. The translations made by the English Moravians have been very little used by others, except by those who were connected by birth with the Moravians, such as James Montgomery (through whose influence several were included in Mercer's C. P. & H. Bk., 1855 and 1857), J. A. Latrobe and C. H. Bateman. The versions made by English non-Moravians since 1840 have been mostly of hymns which the Moravians themselves had not thought good to translate.

A number of Zinzendorf's hymns are noted in this Dictionary under their German first lines (see Index of Authors and Translators). In the larger ed. of the English Moravian H. Bk. of 1886 those which are by Zinzendorf may easily be traced, his name being added to them, and the first line of the original German prefixed. The others which have passed into use outside the Moravian connection, or have been tr. by non-Moravians, are here noted as follows:—

i. Ach Sein von seinen Beinen. Longing for Heaven. Written circa 1750 (Knapp, 1845, p. 976). Included in the Kleine Brüder G. B., but not Barby, 1761, No. 2216, in 3 st. of 8 l.; repeated, altered, in the Gemeine G. B., 1778, No. 1284, in 4 st.

1. The wounds, Lord! are Thine—how seen. A free version as No. 479 in J. A. Latrobe's Ps. & Hys., 1841.

2. How soon, exalted Jesus. This is No. 310 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1886, No. 1235).

ii. Ach wie ist doch unser Bund. Union with Christ. Written Aug. 1727 (Knapp, 1845, p. 135). 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B. as No. 1197, and in 4 st. of 6 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 774, st. iv. was omitted.

iii. Ach wie so gut. Jesus. In 4 st. of 8 l., and noted at p. 558, i. Another tr. is "My wounded Prince embraced on high," by C. Kinchen, as No. 66 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742. In the 1849 and later eds. (1886, No. 1235), st. iii. altered to "Lord, take my sinful, worthless heart" is given.

iii. Der Gott von unserm Bunde. Supplication. Written in 1727 (Knapp, 1845, p. 231). 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1201, in 5 st. of 6 l., entitled, "Hymn for the Hours of Prayer." In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1, st. i.-iii. C. is based on st. i., ii., and is noted at p. 558, i., ii. Other tr. are (1) "The God to whom we homage pay." This in No. 97 in pt. iii. 1748 of the Moravian H. Bk. (2) "O may the God of mercies," in No. 1 of Hymns for Missionaries, 3rd ed., 1801. In the 4th ed. 1849, No. 704, it begins with st. iii., "Lord, our High Priest and Saviour."

iv. Die Stunde bläset ab. Autumn. In the Teutsche Gedichte, 1735, No. 12, dated Autumn, 1731, and entitled "Autumn, or the Resemblance of Death." It is in Knapp, 1845, p. 1. Further use under "Wie wird mir einst doch, wenn es," q.v. p. 827, ii. 2.

v. Du Vater aller Kreatur. Work for Christ. Written 1722 (Knapp, 1845, p. 285). 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1213, in 13 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1713 consists of st. viii.-xiii. beginning, "Des Lebens abgemachten Ziel." Tr. as:—

Whether the period of this life. This is a tr. of st. viii., by C. Kinchen, as No. 20 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742. In 1754 (1886, No. 1235) st. xiii was added. This is "Lord may I live to Thee by faith," and is a tr. of an anonymous 17th cent. stanza, "Herr Jesu! dir leb ich," which is No. 1604 in the Brüder G. B., 1778.

vi. Du bist mein Leben. Christ our Life. Written in 1727 (Knapp, 1845, p. 234), entitled, "Christ our Life." 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, in the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1217, and in 8 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1714, st. i.-iii. are given as "Gemüt des Inhalts" (see No. xxvii. below). Tr. as:—

Grace! how great, how cheap, how free. This is a tr., by C. Kinchen, of st. v., as No. 35 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742. Included in Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866.

vii. Du Wunderbarer, Du Gekreuzigter. Christ. Written circa 1725 (Knapp, 1845, p. 1). In Teutsche Gedichte, 1735, p. 25. In 9 st. of 6 l., entitled, "Christmas Thoughts," and dated 1731, and in the Herrnhut G. B., 1735, No. 197. In Knapp, 1845, p. 21. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1, st. i.-iii. are given with st. vi., "Was allen dein zu allen Welt."

My all things more than earth and sky. This is a tr. of st. vi., by C. G. Clemens, as No. 306 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789. In 1801 altered to "My all to Thee I give," and in 1849 (1886, No. 1235) to "My all to Jesus I give." From this form a conte is 9 st. of 8 l., beginning, "O Lord! Thee am my own, my guide," was included in Dr. Martineau's Hys., 1840.

viii. Du Wunderbarer, Du Mitler. Christian Church. Written in 1727 (Knapp, 1845, p. 233, as Zu gutem und auch Ende). 1st pub. in Appx. vi., circa 1727, in the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1210, in 6 st. of 6 l., entitled, "Hymn of the witnesses." In the Brüder G. B., 1778, st. iv. is given as No. 1042.

Christ, Thou art all we want. This is a tr. of st. iv. by C. G. Clemens, as No. 307 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1886, No. 907, 1849, No. 796, beginning, "Lord Jesus Christ"). Included in Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866.

ix. Selige Veh der Seegenwelt. Holy Communion. Written in 1729 (Knapp, 1845, p. 126, beginning, "Selig sind die Seegenwelt"). 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1240, in 14 st. of 4 l., entitled, "Hymn at the Feast of Love." In the Brüder G. B., 1778, as Nos. 1137 and 1459, the latter beginning, "Wenn die Welt." In the Gemeine G. B., 1778, st. i. ("Was die Welt" So hoist der Fürst"), xiii., xiv. Tr. as:—

1. Would the world our passport see. This is a tr. of st. xi., xii. as No. 1113 in the 1888 Suppl. to the Moravian H. Bk., 1886. In 1849 (1886) included as No. 919 in J. A. Latrobe's Ps. & Hys., 1841.

2. Flock of Grace, ye Witnesses. This is No. 49 in pt. iii. 1748 of the Moravian H. Bk.

3. Happy race of witnesses. By C. Kinchen as No. 661 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. In 1886 this is also given as No. 661, altered, but beginning, "Ye flock of grace, ye witnesses" (st. viii.) as No. 1052.

xvii. Was hätten wir für Freude oder Ehre. Repentance. Written in 1739 (Knapp, 1845, p. 139). 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B. as No. 1346, and in 48 st. of 3 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1139, st. i.-iii. are given as:—

What Joy or Honour could we have. In full as No. 161 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742; abridged in 1789 to 13, and in 1801 to 7 st. The 1801 version, which represents st. I.-IV., viii., ix., xi. was included in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 230, and in the Moravian H. Bk., 1849, No. 624. It begins with the tr. of st. iii., "None is so holy, pure, and just."

xviii. Was ist doch unser Wandel hier. Christian Work. Written about 1742 (Knapp, 1845, p. 179, as "Wenn wir uns kindlich freuen"). Included as No. 2181 in the London G. B. (Hymns von Lieb, Musik, &c.), 1753, in 15 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 499 it begins with st. iv., "Wenn wir uns kindlich freuen." "Wenn wir uns kindlich freuen." Tr. as:—

1. When we seek with loving heart. By Miss Borlswick, in full from the 1778 (with an original st. as st. iv.) to the Family Treasury, 1861, pt. ii., p. 112, and thence in the Sunday Treasury, 1864. Repeated, abridged, in E. T. Prout's Suppl. to Hys., 1869.

2. When the children joyful are. This is No. 323 in pt. ii. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1789.

3. When children are rejoicing. This is st p. 373 of pt. ii. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1789.

xx. Wir sind nur Sam. Christian Warfare. Written in 1734 (Knapp, 1845, p. 112). 1st pub. in Appx. iii., circa 1737, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1870, and in 31 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1140 it begins with st. iv., "Wir sind nur Sam." The "Sentinels" is given as st. v. of No. 1354. Tr. as:—

Warrior, on thy station stand. This is a tr. of st. xvii. as No. 1105 in the 1888 Suppl. to the Moravian H. Bk., circa 1741, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1436, in 27 st. of 5 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 663. Tr. as:—

Lord, when Thou assist, Be let it be. This is a tr., by C. G. Clemens, of st. iii., as No. 168 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1849, No. 196). Included in the Cong. H. Bk., 1836, and in Dr. Martineau's Hys., 1840 and 1873.

ix. Heiliger, heiliger, heiliger Herr Zebaoth. Eternal Light. Heaven Anticipated. The Rev. J. T. Miller, of Hermhut, informs me that this was written in 1733 on the occasion of the death of Christian Renatus, Count Zinzendorf's youngest son, and was translated, ill. c. was translated, Knapp, 1845, p. 195, dated 16 Oct. 33, 1733. 1st pub. as No. 1970 (37 in the 2nd ed., circa 1739, of the Sammlung in 7 st. of 7 l., entitled, Closing Hymn. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, st. ii., iii., are given as "Heilig, heilig, heilig ist," and "Ihr Seelen wir," are included as st. i., ii., of No. 1156. Tr. as:—

Had we sought, had we sought. This is a tr. of st. ii., iii., by W. O. Krüger, as No. 1160 in the 1849 Suppl. to the Moravian H. Bk., 1801 (1849, No. 1196), and altered in 1886, No. 1235. Included in the Leeds H. Bk., 1853, and in Dr. Martineau's Hys., 1840 and 1873.

x. Ich bin ein kleines Kindelein. Children. This is No. 1022 in the 3rd ed., 1731, of the Sammlung, in 13 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1154, and in the Mor. Nachricht therein (1823, p. 146) marked as a favourite hymn. It is included in Knapp, 1845, p. 1848, as Jesus Kind, 1733, and alters it to Oct. 16, 1733. 1st pub. as No. 1970 (37 in the 2nd ed., circa 1739, of the Sammlung in 7 st. of 7 l., entitled, Closing Hymn. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, st. ii., iii., are given as "Heilig, heilig, heilig ist," and "Ihr Seelen wir," are included as st. i., ii., of No. 1156. Tr. as:—

Had we sought, had we sought. This is a tr. of st. ii., iii., by W. O. Krüger, as No. 1160 in the 1849 Suppl. to the Moravian H. Bk., 1801 (1849, No. 1196), and altered in 1886, No. 1235. Included in the Cong. H. Bk., 1836, and in Dr. Martineau's Hys., 1840 and 1873.

xi. Ich bin ein Kindlein, arm und klein. It is a simple and beautiful hymn, and is contained in a number of recent German non-Moravian collections, e.g. in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1865, No. 1496. Tr. as:—

1. Saviour, who shall from thrones come down. This is a tr. of st. iii., by C. Kinchen, as No. 1 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742, and contributed to Lord Selborne's Bk. of Praise, ed. 1866, Appx., No. 27, with the note at p. 606, "I am indebted for this to the kindness of the translator." Repeated in D. D. Major's Bk. of Praise for Children, 1871, No. 15; in Mrs. Bevan's Book of Hymns for Sunday Services of Song, 1871, &c. In M. W. Shuyler's Christian Chorals, 1874, and Church Song, 1889, it is altered, beginning, "O Saviour, Who from Heav'n came down."

2. I am a little child you see. By C. Kinchen, as No. 2 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742. In 1754 st. iii. was followed in the 3rd ed. of 1886, No. 1235, and in the 1849 H. Bk., 1849. In the Moravian H. Bk., 1789, it begins with st. ii., "Thou, gracious Saviour, for my good;" and this form altered to, "My Saviour dear, Thou for my good," in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825.

xi. Kommt, Sünder, und blicket dem ewigen Salem. Jerusalem. Written in Aug. 1736, at Herrnhut, near Berlin, while Zinzendorf was journeying between Berlin and Königsberg. Knapp, 1845, p. 130, dates it Nov. 22, 1738. 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1739, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1244, in 8 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 751. Tr. as:—

Sinners! come the Saviour see. This a good and full tr. by C. Kinchen, as No. 136, in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742 (1886, No. 226). Of this st. i., ii. are included in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 230, as (1) "Ask you formed a concern now" (st. v.). In the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1886, No. 1240), Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, &c. (2) "Rise, go forth to meet the Lamb" (st. viii. alt.). In J. A. Latrobe's Ps. & Hys., 1841, No. 1.

xii. Kyrie und Lobe bekenter Ringer. The Sanctuary. Founded on St. Matt. v. 5-12. In the Teutsche Gedichte, 1735, p. 41, dated, Sept. 7, 1732 (his marriage day), and entitled, "Thoughts on my own marriage." It is in Knapp, 1845, p. 1. Further use under "Ihr Kinder," q.v. p. 827, i. 1. In Knapp, 1845, p. 90. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 513, beginning, "Jesu, der du uns erworben." Tr. as:—

Jesu! Lord so great and glorious. This, omitting st. iii., is No. 1 in pt. ii. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1754 (1886, No. 782, as "Jesus, Lord most great and glorious"). The versions of st. i., ii., xvii., from the Moravian H. Bk., 1789, were included in the Indiana Hospital H. Bk., 1849.

xiii. Lasset uns singen der lieben Glieder. Holy Communion. Written in 1733 (Knapp, 1845, p. 212). 1st pub. in the 3rd ed., 1731, of the Sammlung as No. 1416 in 16 st. of 4 l. Also in the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1148. Tr. as:—

Jesus, Jesus Jesus, new draw near. This is a free tr., omitting st. v., vi., viii.-x., xiv., by Miss Borlswick in H. L. L., 4th ser., 1862, p. 87 (1864, p. 352), the German being quoted as "Kommt heraus, ihr Lieben Glieder." This tr. is repeated in full in Lyra Eucha., 1864, and in the Sunday Treasury, 1864. Repeated, abridged, in E. T. Prout's Suppl. to Hys., 1869.

2. Come, approach to Jesu's table. This is No. 556 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1849, No. 895).

xiv. O du Hüter Ephraim. Supplication for Grace. In his Teutsche Gedicht, 1735, p. 156, dated 1726, entitled, "On his wife's 26th birthday" (she was b. Nov. 7, 1704, see No. 26, i.), and with the note, "This poem was written for the birthday festival of his mistress, and sung by a number of voices." Further use under "Ihr Kinder," q.v. p. 827, i. 2. In Knapp, 1845, p. 1. In the Teutsche Gedichte, 1735, p. 25. In 9 st. of 6 l., entitled, "Christmas Thoughts," and dated 1731, and in the Herrnhut G. B., 1735, No. 197. In Knapp, 1845, p. 21. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1, st. i.-iii. are given with st. vi., "Was allen dein zu allen Welt."

My all things more than earth and sky. This is a tr. of st. vi., by C. G. Clemens, as No. 306 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789. In 1801 altered to "My all to Thee I give," and in 1849 (1886, No. 1235) to "My all to Jesus I give." From this form a conte is 9 st. of 8 l., beginning, "O Lord! Thee am my own, my guide," was included in Dr. Martineau's Hys., 1840.

xv. Ihr Seelen wir sind Wunderlar. Christian Church. Written in 1727 (Knapp, 1845, p. 233, as Zu gutem und auch Ende). 1st pub. in Appx. vi., circa 1727, in the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1210, in 6 st. of 6 l., entitled, "Hymn of the witnesses." In the Brüder G. B., 1778, st. iv. is given as No. 1042.

Christ, Thou art all we want. This is a tr. of st. iv. by C. G. Clemens, as No. 307 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1886, No. 907, 1849, No. 796, beginning, "Lord Jesus Christ"). Included in Spurgeon's O. O. H. Bk., 1866.

xvi. Selige Veh der Seegenwelt. Holy Communion. Written in 1729 (Knapp, 1845, p. 126, beginning, "Selig sind die Seegenwelt"). 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1240, in 14 st. of 4 l., entitled, "Hymn at the Feast of Love." In the Brüder G. B., 1778, as Nos. 1137 and 1459, the latter beginning, "Wenn die Welt." In the Gemeine G. B., 1778, st. i. ("Was die Welt" So hoist der Fürst"), xiii., xiv. Tr. as:—

1. Would the world our passport see. This is a tr. of st. xi., xii. as No. 1113 in the 1888 Suppl. to the Moravian H. Bk., 1886. In 1849 (1886) included as No. 919 in J. A. Latrobe's Ps. & Hys., 1841.

2. Flock of Grace, ye Witnesses. This is No. 49 in pt. iii. 1748 of the Moravian H. Bk.

3. Happy race of witnesses. By C. Kinchen as No. 661 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1754. In 1886 this is also given as No. 661, altered, but beginning, "Ye flock of grace, ye witnesses" (st. viii.) as No. 1052.

xvii. Was hätten wir für Freude oder Ehre. Repentance. Written in 1739 (Knapp, 1845, p. 139). 1st pub. in Appx. viii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B. as No. 1346, and in 48 st. of 3 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1139, st. i.-iii. are given as:—

What Joy or Honour could we have. In full as No. 161 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742; abridged in 1789 to 13, and in 1801 to 7 st. The 1801 version, which represents st. I.-IV., viii., ix., xi. was included in Montgomery's Christian Psalmist, 1825, No. 230, and in the Moravian H. Bk., 1849, No. 624. It begins with the tr. of st. iii., "None is so holy, pure, and just."

xviii. Was ist doch unser Wandel hier. Christian Work. Written about 1742 (Knapp, 1845, p. 179, as "Wenn wir uns kindlich freuen"). Included as No. 2181 in the London G. B. (Hymns von Lieb, Musik, &c.), 1753, in 15 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 499 it begins with st. iv., "Wenn wir uns kindlich freuen." "Wenn wir uns kindlich freuen." Tr. as:—

1. When we seek with loving heart. By Miss Borlswick, in full from the 1778 (with an original st. as st. iv.) to the Family Treasury, 1861, pt. ii., p. 112, and thence in the Sunday Treasury, 1864. Repeated, abridged, in E. T. Prout's Suppl. to Hys., 1869.

2. When the children joyful are. This is No. 323 in pt. ii. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1789.

3. When children are rejoicing. This is st p. 373 of pt. ii. of the Moravian H. Bk., 1789.

xx. Wir sind nur Sam. Christian Warfare. Written in 1734 (Knapp, 1845, p. 112). 1st pub. in Appx. iii., circa 1737, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1870, and in 31 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1140 it begins with st. iv., "Wir sind nur Sam." The "Sentinels" is given as st. v. of No. 1354. Tr. as:—

Warrior, on thy station stand. This is a tr. of st. xvii. as No. 1105 in the 1888 Suppl. to the Moravian H. Bk.,

1304 ZINZENDORF, NICOLAUS L. ZINZENDORF, NICOLAUS L

1801 (1886, No. 694). Adopted by Dr. Martineau in his Hymns, 1840 and 1873, altered to "Warrior" to tag duty stand.

Hymns not in English C. U.:—

xxi. Auf, auf, es ist geschehen. Holy Communion. In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 2. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1184 it begins "Ich eil in Jesu Armen" (5 st. being added, and st. viii., xi. omitted), and in the Ibid. Nachricht thereto (ed. 1835, p. 193) is marked as written on the occasion of the Synod at Hennsdorf in 1744. In the Ibid., 1849, p. 6, it begins "Ach! ja, es ist geschehen." Tr. as "Happy, thrice happy hour of grace." By L. T. Nyberg, of st. i., xiii., as No. 893 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1789 (1886, No. 1051); and as No. 1 in Holmes's Moravian Hymns, 1849.

xxii. Christen sind ein göttlich Volk. Christian Life. In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 231, dated 1721, and entitled, "Hymn for a Royal Princess-apparent," viz. for Charlotte Amelia, daughter of King George II., born 1721, died 1757. It is appointed to the Christian of 1727 in the 1731 ed. of it named on the title, p. 15, in 6 st. of 8 l. In Knapp, 1845, p. 97, and in the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 648. Tr. as "Christians are a holy band, Gathered by the Saviour's hand." This is by Dr. J. F. Hurst in his Tr. of R. E. Hagenbach's Hist. of the Ch. on the 18th and 19th Centuries, N. Y. 1870, ii. 344.

xxiii. Das kranke Schäflein wälzet sich. For those at Sea. 1st pub. in the Zugabe, circa 1744, to Apost. xi. In the Herrnhut G. B. as No. 1053, in 10 st. of 4 l., entitled, "Hymn for the ships company, February, 1747, when they were preparing to sail from Pennsylvania to Germany." In Knapp, 1845, p. 198. The Tr. are: (1) "Our ship upon the surging sea." In the British Herald, Aug. 1866, p. 313, repeated in Snell's Praise Bk., 1872. (2) "Our little bark, it rocks itself" In the Family Treasury, 1866, p. 208.

xxiv. Die Christen gehn von Ort zu Ort. Burial of the Dead. In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 113, as part of No. 65, which is entitled "Over the grave of the grandmother" (Henriette Catharine von Gersdorf. She died 1726). In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1183 it is itself is entitled, "Air after the funeral rites." It had appeared in the Andere Zugabe, circa 1736, to the Sionsharfe, as No. 6 (ed. 1731, No. 1045), in 3 st. of 4 l., entitled, "Funeral Hymn." In Knapp, 1845, p. 72, and in the Brüder G. B., 1849, p. 6. Tr. as "Christians (1) "Believers go from place to place." By Dr. J. Hunt in his Spiritual Songs of Martin Luther, 1853, p. 146. (2) "Through scenes of woe, from place to place." By Dr. G. Walker, 1866, p. 94. (3) "From place to place the Christian goes." By Miss Fry, 1870, in the Memoir & Remains, 199, p. 283. (4) "From land to land the Christian goes." This is No. 1251 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1886.

xxv. Du innig geliebter Erlöser der Sünder. Penitence. In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 1, dated 1721, and p. 2271, 1st pub. in Appar. ex., circa 1743, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1885, and in 8 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1336. Tr. as "Sinner! Redeemer whom we truly love." This is a Tr. of st. i. by Miss Fry, 1870, in the Memoir & Remains, 199, p. 284. In the 1789 and later eds. (1886, No. 941), it begins, "Sinner! Redeemer, gracious Lamb of God." The text of 1789, slightly altered, is No. 506 in Lady Huntingdon's Sel., 1794.

xxvi. Ein Lämmlein geht der Meister. Morning. In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 1b, entitled, "Evening Thoughts," and dated Oct. 1721. It is No. 497 in the Sionsharfe, 1735, in 6 st. of 4 l. In Knapp, 1845, p. 15, and in the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 370. Tr. as "Father of mercies, in Thy word." By Miss Fry, 1870, p. 281.

xxvii. Sammle den Heilands den seligen Sieg. Christian Work. Written in 1727 (Knapp, 1845, p. 2387) 1st pub. in Appar. ex., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B. as No. 1318, and in 16 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1318. Tr. as "Gather the spoils of the slaughter'd Lamb." In full as No. 174 in the Hungarian H. Bk., 1742 (1754, pt. ii., No. 295). Repeated, abridged, in the Bible Ch. Bk., 1840, No. 594.

xxviii. Ich will dich, mein Heiland, nicht lassen. Love to Christ. Written in Oct. 1721 (Knapp, 1845, p. 102, as "Ein selig Herz fährt diese Strass"), 1st pub. in Appar. ex., circa 1743, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1178, and in 12 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1178. Tr. as "Ah! Lord, I will not, will not let Thee go." By Miss Fry, 1870, in the Memoir & Remains, 199, p. 284. "When heavenwards my best affections move." By Miss Borthwick (from the 1778), dated April, 1861, in the Family Treasury, 1861, p. 328. In S. S. S., 4th ser., 1863, p. 60 (1864, p. 223), altered to "When towards heaven."

xxix. O du Ritter Ephraim. Burial of the Dead. This is included at p. 55 in the Nachlese of 1743 to the 3rd ed. 1741, of the Sionsharfe, and in 1 st. of 4 l., entitled, "Hymn for the Ships Company." In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 245, entitled, "In the name of the community." Included as No. 685 in the Herrnhut G. B., 1735, beginning with st. ii. altered to "Tödten ist dem Herrn erlaubt." In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1183 it is entitled "Hymn for the Ships Company, gestorben sein," and in the Ibid. Nachricht thereto (1838, p. 192) is marked as written on the death of Matthäus Lötzner in 1735. In Knapp, 1845, p. 161. Tr. as "Once the sentence justly sounded." By Miss Borthwick (from the 1778), dated 1861, in the Family Treasury, 1861, p. 328.

xxx. O Liebe, die in Jesu Weh. On Unity. In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 94, dated 1724, and entitled, "On the Saviour's faithfulness." In pt. ii. No. 194 (i) in the 1725 Sionsharfe, in 18 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1194. Tr. as "O Love, beginning, O'er the earth by stir intent." Rather freely altered in the Moravian hymn; and this form is repeated in the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 714, the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1905, No. 1037, &c. In Knapp, 1845, p. 74. The tr., all of st. i., is: (1) "Lord Jesus, who that very night." By J. H. Mohler, as st. ii., iii. of No. 307 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1849. (2) "Lord Jesus, in that night." By Miss Fry, 1870, p. 151. (3) "Then Who didst die for all and each." By Miss Cox, 1841, p. 147. (4) "O Then, Who with Thy latest breath." By Lady E. Cornwallis, 1845, p. 66. (5) "Then who in that bitter night." By Miss Fry, 1870, p. 151. (6) "O Thou who in that last sad night." By Miss Fry, 1859, p. 151. (7) "Then who upon that last sad night." In the Family Treasury, 1863, p. 208. (8) "O Thou who didst on that last night." By E. Massie in the British Herald, 1866, p. 24. (9) "O Thou, who on that last sad eve." By E. Massie, 1866, p. 60.

xxxi. O wie so glücklich wären wir. Love to Christ. On the blessedness of union with Christ. 1st pub. in Appar. ex., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B. as No. 1247, and in 8 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1247, and in the Ibid. Nachricht thereto (1838, p. 196) marked as written for J. A. Rothe (p. 978, i.), and dated 1737. In Knapp, 1845, p. 236. Tr. as "How full our cup of joy would be." By Miss Burlingham in the Family Treasury, Sept. 1865, p. 152, and in Snell's Praise Bk., 1872.

xxxii. Reiner Brüdigam meiner Seelen. Invite for Holiness. Written in 1731 (Knapp, 1845, p. 21). Included in the 3rd ed., circa 1739, of the Sionsharfe as No. 1045, and in the Christ-Catholischer Singe- und Seelen-Harffen, 1751, p. 135, in 10 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1045. Tr. as "Jesus, Lord, my heart I love." This is a free tr. of st. i., v., viii., xvi., by J. Wesley in Ps. & Hys., Charlestown, 1737, and Hys. and Sac. Poems, 1739 (P. Works, 1868-72, vol. i., p. 170). Repeated in the Wes. H. Bk., 1780, No. 49 (1877, No. 51), Methodist Hymn-Book, 1794, Pocket Hymn-Bk., Manchester, 1798, Spurgeon's Comp. Psalmist, 1868, 1869-70, vol. i., p. 1067.

xxxiii. Schau von deinem Thron. Supplication. Written in 1730 (Knapp, 1845, p. 15), and founded on the Lord's Prayer. 1st pub. in the Sionsharfe, 1735, No. 443, in 6 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 443. Tr. as "Jesus, By J. Wesley in Hys. & Sac. Poems, 1739 (P. Works, 1868-72, vol. i., p. 186).

xxxiv. Ich will der Königin küssen. Humility. Month 1st appr. vii., circa 1730, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1267, and in 4 st. of 4 l. Mr. Miller informs me that it was written for 1730, and was dedicated to Eva Maria Immig von Engelfluser, who on the 1st of the month was 19 years old. In Spangenberg (ii. 1079, 11.) in the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1267 (ii. 407, ex. ii., l., iv. of this hymn, and in the Ibid. Nachricht thereto (1838, p. 196) it is dated 1730. Engl., 1845, p. 89 dates it 1726. The Tr. are:—(1) "I'm such the Lamb will deep to seek." By Miss Fry, 1870, in the Memoir & Rem. 1849 (1784, pt. ii. No. 83). (2) "His loving kindness those shall richly share." This is No. 488 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1801. (3) "Such the King will stoop to and embrace." By Jos. Williams, 1886, p. 60.

xxxv. Verlobte, du Bräutigam. Love to Christ. 1st pub. in the Appar. ex., circa 1737, to the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1272, in 4 st. of 8 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1102 (beginning "Verlobter in die selige Schaar"), and in the Ibid. Nachricht thereto (1838, p. 196), dated 1737. The Tr. are:—(1) "Betrothed, O Bridegroom, whose care." By J. Wesley, in Hys. & Sac. Poems, 1739 (P. Works, 1868-72, vol. i., p. 192), as a "Prayer to Christ before the Sacrament." Included in the Church-man's Altar Manual, ed. 1825, p. 437. (2) "Thou, who with unseen endless act." This is No. 148 in the Moravian H. Bk., 1742 (1754, pt. ii., No. 165).

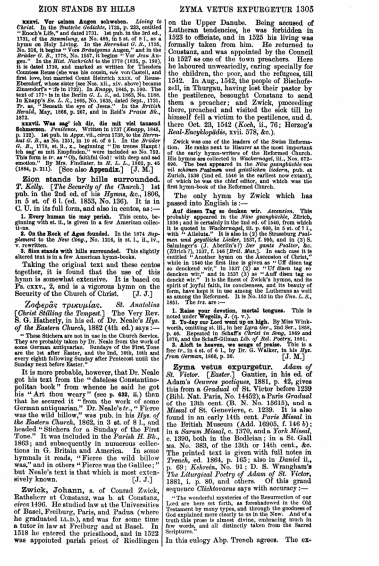
1305



ZION STANDS BY HILLS ZYMA VETUS EXPURGETUR 1305

xxxvi. Wer seinen Augen schweben. Living to Christ. In the Pentade Geistliche, 1725, p. 220, entitled "Enoch's Life," and dated 1721. 1st pub. in the 3rd ed., 1731, of the Sionsharfe, as No. 408, in 8 st. of 8 l., as a hymn on Holy Living. In the Herrnhut G. B., 1735, No. 408, and in the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1197, and in the Brüder G. B., 1778, No. 1197, it begins "Vor dem Angesicht." In the Ibid. Nachricht to the 1778 (1835, p. 193), it is dated 1730, and marked as written for Theodore Gottlieb Hase (for whom see Koch, viii. 100; Gerdes, Florilegium, iii. 1, 2; Varrentrapp, Hase und Hasen, 1869, Elsendorf, whose sister (see No. xii., xiv. above) became Zinzendorf's "Tante" in 1722). In Knapp, 1845, p. 168. The text of 1778 is in the Berlin G. L. S., ed. 1905, No. 1108. In Knapp's Ps. & Hys., 1865, No. 1838, dated Sept., 1725. The Tr. are:—(1) "Whose eyes are fixed." By Miss Fry, in the Herald, May, 1866, p. 287, and in Snell's Praise Bk., 1872.

xxxvii. Was sag' ich dir, du mir mit viel tausend Schmerzen. Providence. Written in 1727 (Knapp, 1845, p. 2387), 1st pub. in the Sionsharfe, 1735, No. 1264, and in the Herrnhut G. B., as No. 1264, in 10 st. of 4 l. In the Brüder G. B., 1778, st. ii., x., beginning "De treuse Hanpt! Ich sag' an mit Empfinden," were included as No. 734. This form is in as "Oh, faithful God! with deep and sad emotion." Tr. as "O, faithful God! with deep and sad (1886, p. 311). [See also Appendix.] [J. M.]

Zion stands by hills surrounded. T. Kelly. [The Security of the Church.] 1st pub. in the 2nd ed. of his Hymns, &c., 1806, in 5 st. of 6 l. (ed. 1853, No. 136). It is in C. U. in its full form, and also in centos, as:—

1. Every human tie may perish. This cento, beginning with st. ii., is given in a few American collections.

2. On the Rock of Ages founded. In the 1874 Supplement to the New Cong., No. 1164, in st. i., ii., iv., v. rewritten.

3. Zion stands with hills surrounded. This slightly altered text is in a few American hymn-books.

Taking the original text and these centos together, it is found that the use of this hymn is somewhat extensive. It is based on Ps. cxxv., 2, and is a vigorous hymn on the Security of the Church of Christ. [J. J.]

Ζωδεφὰς τρικυμίας. St. Anatolius [Christ Stilling the Tempest.] The Very Rev. S. G. Hatherly, in his ed. of Dr. Neale's Hys. of the Eastern Church, 1862 (4th ed.) says:—

"These Stichera are not in use in the Church Service. They are probably taken by Dr. Neale from the work of some German antiquarian. Sundays of the First Tone are the 1st after Easter, and the 2nd, 10th, 18th and 26th after Pentecost, and the Sunday after Pentecost until the Sunday next before Easter."

It is more probable, however, that Dr. Neale got his text from the "Δοκίδιον Constantinopolitan book" from whence he said he got his "Art thou weary" (see p. 632, ii.) then that he secured it "from the work of some German antiquarian." Dr. Neale's tr., "Fierce was the wild billow," was pub. in his Hys. of the Eastern Church, 1862, in 3 st. of 8 l., and headed "Stichera for a Sunday of the First Tone." It was included in the Parish H. Bk., 1863; and subsequently in numerous collections in G. Britain and America. In some hymnals it reads, "Fierce the wild billow was," and in others "Fierce was the Galilee;" but Neale's text is that which is most extensively known. [J. J.]

Zwick, Johann, a of Conrad Zwick, Ratsherr at Constanz, was b. at Constanz, circa 1496. He studied law at the Universities of Basel, Freiburg, Paris, and Padua (where he graduated LL.D.), and was for some time a tutor in law at Freiburg and at Basel. In 1518 he entered the priesthood, and in 1522 was appointed parish priest of Riedlingen on the Upper Danube. Being accused of Lutheran tendencies, he was forbidden in 1523 to officiate, and in 1525 his living was formally taken from him. He returned to Constanz, and was appointed by the Council in 1527 as one of the town preachers. Here he laboured unwearedly, caring specially for the children, the poor, and the refugees, till 1542. In Aug., 1542, the people of Bischofszell, in Thurgau, having lost their pastor by the pestilence, besought Constanz to send them a preacher; and Zwick, unseeding there, preached and visited the sick till he himself fell a victim to the pestilence, and d. there Oct. 29, 1542 (Koch, ii., 76; Herzog's Real-Encyklopädie, xvii. 578, &c.).

Zwick was one of the leaders of the Swiss Reformation. He ranks next to Hausser as the most important of the early hymn-writers of the Reformed Church. His hymns are collected in Winkelmeyer, iii., Nos. 672-679. The most important is that which was originally entitled "Ein christlich Psalm, Gebätt und Lobgsang," pub. in Zurich, 1536 (2nd ed. 1566 in the earliest now extant), of which he was the chief editor, and which was the first hymn-book of the Reformed Church.

The only hymn by Zwick which has passed into English is:—

Auf diesen Tag so denken wir. Ascension. This probably appeared in the Nine gmeyndsiche, Zürich, 1536; and is certainly in the 2nd ed. of 1566, from which it is quoted in Wackernagel, iii. p. 400, in 5 st. of 7 l., and in Mone, ii. p. 400. In the Gesangbuch der Herzogen von und zu Wirtemberg, Ludwigsburg, 1827, ii. 895, and iii. (?) Salzburger (J. J. Abelin's?) Jer gantz Psalter, &c. (Zürich?), 1637, fl. ins [Brit. Mus.]. In each case it is entitled "Another hymn on the Ascension of Christ," while in 1540 the first line is given as "Uff disen tag so denckend wir." In 1537 (?) as "Uff disen tag so denckend wir." In 1535 (?) as "Uff disen tag so denckt wir." It is the finest of Zwick's hymns, and its spirit of joyful faith, its conciseness, and its beauty of form, have kept it in use among the Lutherans as well as among the Reformed. It is No. 104 in the Ges. L. S., 1851. The tr. are:—

1. Raise your devotion, mortal tongues. This is No. 1 in Kennedy, 1863.

2. To-day our Lord went up on high. By Miss Winkworth, omitting st. iii., in her Lyra Ger., 2nd Ser., 1858, p. 48. Repeated in Schaff's Christ in Song, 1869 and 1870, and the Schaff-Gilman Lib. of Rel. Poetry, 1881.

3. To-day we celebrate and sing. This is st. i. of a free tr., in 4 st. of 8 l., by Dr. G. Walker, in his Hys. from German, 1866, p. 26. [J. M.]

Zyma vetus expurgetur. Adam of St. Victor. [Easter.] Gautier, in his ed. of Adam's Oeuvres poétiques, 1881, p. 42, gives this from a Graduel of St. Victor before 1239 (Bibl. Nat. Paris, No. 14402), a Paris Graduel of the 13th cent. (B. N. No. 15615), and a Missel of St. Geneviève, c. 1250. It is also found in an early 14th cent. Paris Missal in the British Museum (Add. 16905, f. 146 b); in a Sarum Missal, c. 1370, and a York Missal, c. 1390, both in the Bodleian; in a St. Gall MS. No. 383, of the 13th or 14th cent., &c. The printed text is given with full notes in Trench, ed. 1864, p. 165; also in Daniel ii., p. 60; Kehrein, No. 91; D. S. Wrangham's The Liturgical Poetry of Adam of St. Victor, 1881, i. p. 80, and others. Of this grand sequence Chèkhowius says with accuracy:—

"The wonderful mysteries of the Resurrection of our Lord are here set forth, as foreshadowed in the Old Testament by many types, and through the goodness of God explained more clearly to us in the New. And of a truth this prose is almost divine, embracing much in few words, and all distinctly taken from the Sacred Scriptures.

In this eulogy Alsp. Trench agrees. The explanation of the Scriptural allusions is given by Abp. Trench, Dr. Neale in his Med. Hym., and Mr. Wrangham in his Liturgical Poetry of Adam of St. Victor. In the Sarum use this was the Sequence on Monday in Easter Week; Paris on the Tuesday; York on the Friday; St. Victor and St. Genevieve on the octave of Easter. [J. M.]

1306

The trs. of this Sequence include :—

1. Purge we out the ancient leaven. By J. M. Neale, in his Mediæval Hys., &c., 1851, p. 88, in 13 st. of 6 l., the text used being that in Daniel ii., 69. Interesting notes are added explanatory of various and in some cases obscure references in the sequence to figures applied by the early Fathers to Christ and His holy work; and also of the typical teaching of certain historical events recorded in Holy Scripture and referred to in the sequence.

2. Purge out the leaven old of sin. By E. H. Plumptre, made for and included in the Hymnary, 1872, in two parts of 7 st., and 2 additional stanzas to be sung at the end of each part. Pt. ii. begins "Shadows of good the law doth show." This rendering is less literal than Dr. Neale's, and the obscure passages are omitted. Dean Plumptre tr. from the Sarum Missal.

Other trs. are :—

1. Let the old leaven be purged out. By C. B. Pearson in the Sarum Missal in English, 1868; and his Sequences from the Sarum Missal, 1871.

2. Purge the old leaven out, that we. By C. B. Pearson in his Sequences from the Sarum Missal, 1871.

3. Purge the old leaven all away. By S. T. Morgan, 1881.

4. Purge away the former leaven. D. S. Wrangham, 1881. [J. J.]

INDICES.

I. CROSS REFERENCE INDEX OF FIRST LINES IN ENGLISH, FRENCH, GERMAN, LATIN, AND OTHER LANGUAGES.

N.B. For Bohemian and Latin First Lines see also the Articles:—
Bohemian Hymnody; Breviaries; Hymnarium;
Latin, Translations from the; and Sequences.

A BABE

A Babe is Bethlehem is born, 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A babe is born, all of a maid, 212, ii., Carols
A band of angels from the sky, 1207, ii., Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar
A band of wandrin pilgrims, 421, ii., Guadey, T.
A blessing for you, will you take it?, 1206, ii., C. J. P.
A blessing for you, will you take it?, 1206, ii., Von Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
A blest city is Jerusalem, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
A Child is born in Bethlehem, 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A brave new song alood we sing, 326, ii., Ein neues Lied wir heben an
A broken heart, my God, my King, 851, i., O Thou whose tender mercy hears
A car of fire is on the air, 542, i., Hull, W. W.
A castle is our God, a tower, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A celui qui nous a sauvés, 201, ii., French hymnody
A Child is born in Bethlehem, Alleluia is in Jerusalem, 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A Child is born in Bethlehem, and joyful is Jerusalem, 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A Child is born in Bethlehem; Exult for joy, 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A Child is born in Bethlehem, Sejnite and sing, 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A Child is born in Bethlehem, Sejnite, rejnite, Jerusalem, 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A Child is born in Bethlehem, Sofire is glad Jerusalem, 960, i., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A Child is born in Bethlehem, There's joy in all Jerusalem, 961, i., Puer natus in Bethlehem
A child of sin and wrath I'm born, 215, ii., Conrad, J.
A Christ we have, O what a Christ have I, 278, i., I've found the Pearl of greatest price
A crash fills the court of the temple, 631, ii., Goadby, F. W.
A crown of glory bright, 214, i., Cary, Alice
A day of joy and gladness, 1, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
A day of mark to me, 1172, ii., Cowper, W.
A day of wrath, a dreadful day, 299, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
A day of wrath and woe, that day, 300, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
A day of wrath that day shall glow, 300, i., Dies iræ, dies illa
A day of wrath, that dreadful day, 299, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
A dear friend taken when from on high, 1166, i., Tholuck, F. A. G.
A debtor! For the love of God unbounded, 1094, i., Hook, Sarah G.
A dread hath come on me, 277, i., Dach, S.
A Father in the heaven who hath Michale mundo constituerit, 91, ii., Ambrose of Milan
A faithful friend is waiting yonder, 1012, i., Schmolck, B.
A faithful promise Thou hast made, 914, i., Promittis, Deus, tuis
A fast before a Feast, 1266, ii., Wilson, Jane
A fast firm fortress is our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott

A LAMB

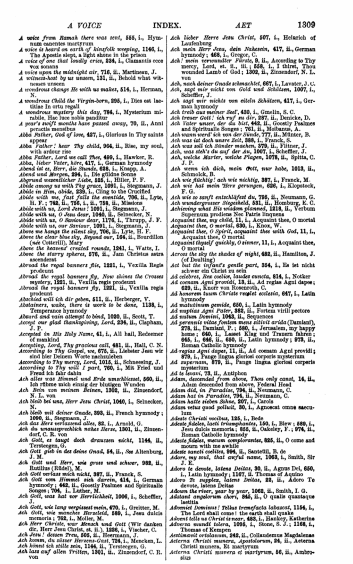
A fast-set Bulwark is our God, 326, ii., Ein fest Burgs ist unser Gott
A father's voice, with reverence set, 121, ii., Behold what witnesses unseen
A feathered and that lifted G, 1116, i., Taylor, Helen
A few bright leaders of her host, 763, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
A few more conflicts, toils, and tears, 819, ii., Steemer (née Schweitzer), Meta
A few more days, a few more years, 609, i., Gellert, C. F.
A few more years shall roll, 161, ii., Bonar, H., 709, ii., Masonic
A few short days of trial here, 608, i., Gellert, C. F.
A few short days of trial past, 609, i., Gellert, C. F.
A few short hours of transient joy, 609, i., Gellert, C. F.
A firm defence our God is still, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A fitly spoken word, 190, ii., Bubier, G. B.
A Fortalez firm and steadfast Rock, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A fortress firm is God our Lord, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A fortress strong is God our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A friend in glory, our King, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A gentle angel walketh, 355, ii., Es sieht ein stiller Engel
A gentle angel wendeth, 355, ii., Es sieht ein stiller Engel
A glorious hymn of praise we sing, 145, i., Hamilton, A. N.
A glorious light has burst around us, 1126, i., Temperance hymnody
A glorious Paradise, sacred page, 1127, ii., The Spirit of Paradise upon the wall
A great and mighty wonder, 232, ii., Χριστὸς γενόμενος ἀρχιερεύς; 795, i., Μέγα καὶ παράδοξον θαῦμα
A greater, holier work than this day, 679, ii., Jam maxima quæque prior
A happy, happy Christmas, 702, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
A happy New Year! Even such may it be, 827, i., Havergal, Frances R.
A heavenly Voice and early Day (Ein clara vox redur-gunt), 1127, i., Lutheran Hymnody
A holy air is breath'ng round, 1301, ii., Liverpool, A. A.
A holy and a happy youth, 117, i., Bateman, H.
A holy, pure, and spotless Lamb, 326, i., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
A holy, pure, and spotless Lamb, 326, i., Ouseeuwen, E.
A home in heaven; what a joyful thought, 243, i., Hunter, W.
A hymn for martyrs recently slay, 666, i., Hymnum canimus martyrum
A hymn of glory let us sing, 666, i., Hymnum canamus gloriæ
A hymn of martyrs let us sing, 666, i., Hymnum canamus martyrum
A Ja Se de cette journée, 202, ii., French hymnody
A Lamb goes forth and bears the guilt of Adam's, 326, i., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
A Lamb goes forth and bears the guilt of Adam's, 326, i., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld

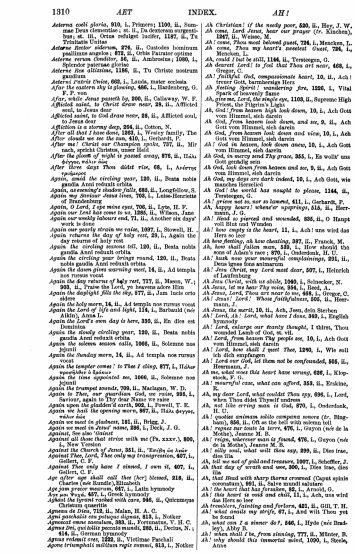
A LAMB

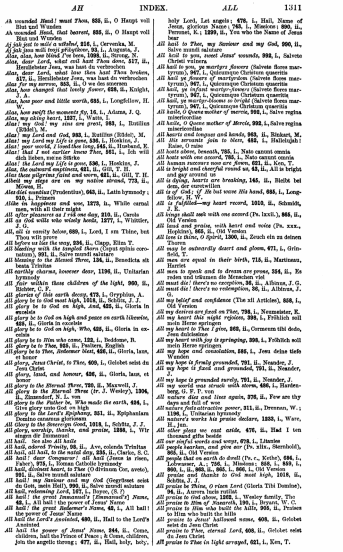
A Lamb goes forth and bears the guilt of all the world, 326, i., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
A Lamb goes forth—for all the dues, 326, i., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
A Lamb goes forth: the sins its bears, 326, ii., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
A Lamb goes forth to suffer pain, 326, ii., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
A Lamb went forth and bears the guilt of all the world, 326, ii., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
A light streams downward from the sky, 626, ii., Hymnum canamus gloriæ
A little child in bulrush ark, 326, i., Fox, W. J.
A little child may know, 676, i., Lewis, Jane E.
A little child the Saviour came, 968, ii., Robertson (of Monkwearmouth), W.
A little flock, a well, 'tis well, 2, ii., A little flock! 'tis safe 'tis thee
A little pilgrim on life's way, 224, ii., Clapham, J. P.
A little while and every tear, 670, i., Greville, E. K.
A little while! so spake our gracious Lord, 620, i., Shooter (née Schwieter), Mina
A little word in kindness spoken, 242, ii., Colesworthy, D. C.
A living stream as crystal clear, 960, i., English hymnody; 782, ii., My soul doth magnify the Lord
A long time I wandered in darkness, 156, ii., Hine, T.
A loud and sin'ful world is gone, 670, i., Greville, E. K.
A mighty fortress is our God, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mighty Bulwark is our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mighty fortress is our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott; 326, ii., Hedge, F. H.
A mighty fortress is our God, A bulwark, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mighty fortress is our God, A shield, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mighty fortress is our God, A trusty, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mighty fortress is our God, To shelter, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mighty fortress is our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mother may forgetful be, 1153, i., The Lord forgets His wearied grace
A mountain fastness is our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mountain Fastness is our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A mystery strange and wondrous (Μυστήριον ξένον), 232, ii., Χριστὸς γενόμενος ἀρχιερεύς
A new and living way, 1153, ii., Reese, H. G.
A new song have shall be begun, 326, ii., Ein neues Lied wir heben an
A new song I design to sing, 326, i., Ein neues Lied wir heben an
A new song now raise we voice and sing, 330, i., Ein neues Lied wir heben an
A new song to the Lord we'll raise, 326, i., Ein neues Lied wir heben an
A noble river, wide and deep, 127, i., Bateman, H.
A number of the heavenly host, 1, i., Three glorious words how bright they shine
A os namadia ipe oni (When I survey the wondrous cross, Welsh), 761, i., Missions
A parting hymn we sing, 1291, ii., Wolfe, A. R.
A Pilgrim and a Stranger, 560, i., Ich bin ein Gast auf Erden
A Pilgrim constantly abode, 155, ii., Bonar, H.
A pilgrim and a stranger, 560, i., Ich bin ein Gast auf Erden
A pilgrim for his new abode, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
A pilgrim here I wander, 560, i., Ich bin ein Gast auf Erden
A pilgrim stands on Jordan's brink, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
A pilgrim through this lonely world, 293, i., Denny, H.
A quiet eve at Bolkeny, 1305, ii., Soden, A. J.
A quiet heart, submissive, meek, 709, i., Macdonald, G.
A rest here have I never, 560, i., Ich bin ein Gast auf Erden
A Refuge and Refuge is our God, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A rough and shapeless block of iron is my heart, 1145, i., Tennegen, G.
A safe stronghold our God is still, A trusty shield and weapon, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A safe stronghold our God is still, A sure defence, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A saint! to would that I could claim, 716, i., Marriott, J.

A VOICE

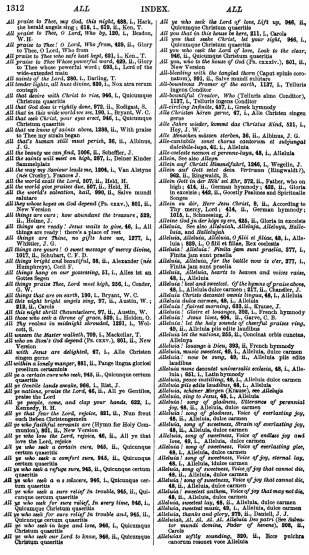
A ship comes sailing towards, 1116, i., Taylor, J.
A silent angel wanders, 355, ii., Es sieht ein stiller Engel
A sinner, Lord, behold I stand, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
A small and feeble band, 169, ii., Bray, J. G.
A sound of thunder is heard around (Clubview), 1084, ii., Staffordshire hymnbooks
A sola oratio saepe ad exortum, 814, i., Notker
A solis ortus cardine, Ad usque, 6, i., A solis ortus cardine Et usque, 961, ii., Χριστὸς γενόμενος ἀρχιερεύς; 795, i., Μέγα καὶ παράδοξον θαῦμα; 1027, i., Μόνοι δεσπότου φῶς; 1027, i., Solitus, C.
A song, a song of gladness (Ἐν Νικαίᾳ), 218, ii., Χαρᾶς τέρμων ἄλλο, 625, i., Greek hymnody
A Song of songs there is, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
A spotless Lamb was slain for me, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A sparrow with its plain brown coat, 127, i., Bateman, H.
A special theme of praise to read, 923, ii., Lutela Sion Salvatorem
A Spirit, mighty God, Thou art, 1062, ii., Soden, A. J.
A spotless Lamb to slaering, 326, i., Ein fest ein Ros ist worden
A star shall go forth in heaven suddenly, 1115, ii., Syriac hymnody
A stilly angel wanders, 355, ii., Es sieht ein stiller Engel
A storm-cloud o'er us sat and lowd, 1116, ii., Unitarian hymnody
A stranger, in the world below, 837, ii., How happy every child of grace
A strong tower is our God's great name, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A stronghold sure is our God, To shelter, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A stronghold, firm, a trusty shield When raging, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A stronghold sure our God remains, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A sure defence, a fort, a tower, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A sure stronghold our God is He, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott; 326, ii., Gerhoh, W.
A sure stronghold our God is still, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A sweetly solemn thought, 214, i., Cary, Phœbe
A tempest of affliction, 666, ii., Sancti dolorum turbine
A thought is but a little thing, 177, i., Bateman, H.
A thousand blessings on the plant, 271, i., Jackson, C. H.
A thousand oracles divine, 199, i., By faith the upper chair we mark
A thousand years have come and gone, 706, i., Lynch, T. T.
A thousand years have fleeted 925, i., Fouqué, F. H. C. de la Motte
A time shall come when constant faith, 1030, ii., Scottish hymnody
A tower of strength is our God, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A Tower of safety is our God, a goodly, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A tower of safety is our God, His sword, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A tower of strength is God our Lord, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A tower of strength is God's great name, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A tower of strength is our God's name, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A tower of strength our God doth stand, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A tower of strength our God is still, 326, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A tower of strength our God is still, A mighty, 326, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
A trysting& heart and pleasant thought, 117, i., Bateman, H.
A tree grows on a mountain, 113, ii., Barth, C. G.
A tree stood on a mountain, 113, ii., Barth, C. G.
A triple light of glory shines, 206, ii., In humble faith and holy love
A type of those bright rays on high, 260, ii., Coelestis urbs Jerusalem, 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
A Virgin most pure, as the prophets do tell, 211, i., Carols
A Virgin unspotted, the Prophet foretold, 213, i., Carols
A virgin-heart she brought to Christ, 1260, ii., Wilson, Jane
A voice by Jordan's shore, 665, ii., Longfellow, S.
A voice comes from Ramah, 620, i., Knox, W.
A voice from the desert comes sinful and sh-rill, 313, i., Drummond, W. H.







Ah wounded Head! wast Thou, 859, ii., O Haupt voll
Blut und Wunden
Ah wounded Head, Gad bearest, 859, ii., O Haupt voll
Blut und Wunden
Ai jak jest to mało o chwale, 216, i., Czerwicka, M.
Ai Jesu, Jesu, philyderon, 10, i., Augustus, J.
Alas, how have blood I've born, 1008, ii., Strong, M.
Alas, dear Lord, what evil hast Thou done, 517, ii., Heydlebacr Jesu, was hast du verbrochen
Alas, dear Lord, what hast thou done? Thou broken, 517, ii., Heydlebacr Jesu, was hast du verbrochen
Alas, how soon doth earthly power, 1, i., Abbott, E. A.
Alas, how changed that lovely flower, 695, ii., Knight, J. A.
Alas, how poor and little worth, 693, i., Longfellow, H. W.
Alas, how swift the moments fly, 16, i., Adams, J. Q.
Alas, my shiny heart, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Alas! my God! my sins are great, 503, i., Bustlius (Bible), W.
Alas! my Lord and God, 503, i., Bustlius (Bible), M.
Alas! my Lord and God, 503, i., Bustlius (Bible), M.
Alas! your world, I loved thee long, 541, ii., Husband, E.
Alas! that I not earlier knew Thee, 951, i., Ich will dich lieben, nun so Sehre
Alas! the Lord my Life is gone, 536, i., Hoskins, J.
Alas! those pilgrims quiet and warm, 611, ii., Hill, T. H.
Alas! those pilgrims quiet and warm, 611, ii., Hill, T. H.
Albeit my steps are on my native shroud, 773, ii., Moses, D.
Alea diei nostrae (Prudentius), 963, ii., Latin hymnody; 1196, i., Ursticius
Alcibe to happiness and woe, 1273, ii., White cornel men, with all their might
All after pleasures as I rid one day, 219, ii., Carels
All as God wills who wisely heals, 1277, i., Whittier, J. G.
All, all is surely below, 609, i., Lord, I am Thine, bus Thou will prove
All before us like the way, 596, ii., Capp, Elias T.
All blending with the tangled thorn (Caput spinis coronatum), 961, ii., Salve mundi salutare
All Bonn to the Blessed Three, 138, ii., Benedicta eh Trinitas
All earthly charms, however dear, 1196, ii., Ursticius hymnody
All fair within those children of the light, 960, ii., Richter, C. H.
All flesh is this earth decay, 672, i., Greyhäus, A.
All glory be to God most high, 1018, ii., Schütz, J. J.
All glory be to God on high, And, 622, ii., Gloria in excelsis
All glory be to God on high and peace on earth likewise, 622, ii., Gloria in excelsis
All glory be to God on high, Who, 622, ii., Gloria in excelsis
All glory be to Him who came, 122, i., Doddone, R.
All glory be to Thee, 955, ii., Psalter, English
All glory be to Thee, Redeemer blest, 626, ii., Gloria, laus, et honor
All glory, Jesus Christ, be Thine, 609, i., Gelobet seist du Jesu Christ
All glory, laud, and honour, 626, ii., Gloria, laus, et honor
All glory to the Blessed Three, 720, ii., Maxwell, J.
All glory to the Blessed Three (tr. J. Wesley), 1306, ii., Rammelsberg, R. L. von
All glory to the Father be, Who made the earth, 626, i., Gloria in excelsis Deo
All glory to the Lord's Epiphany, 351, ii., Epiphanium Domino canamus gloriosum
All Glory to the Sovereign God, 1018, i., Schütz, J. J.
All glory, worship, thanks, and praise, 1288, i., Wir singen dir Heiligkeit
All hail! the also All hails
All hail, adored Trinity, 59, ii., Ave, colenda Trinitas
All hail, all hail, to the natal day, 233, ii., Clarke, S. C.
All hail! dare Conqueror! all hail Queen in risen, 961, ii., Salve mundi salutare
All hail, dividual heart, to Thee (Individua Cor, ecce), 961, ii., Salve mundi salutare
All hail! my Saviour and my God (Gegrüsst seist du Gott, mein Heil), 960, ii., Salve mundi salutare
All hail the power of Jesus' name, 64, i., All hail!
All hail! the great Redeemer's Name, 64, i., All hail! the power of Jesus' Name
All hail the Lord's anointed, 480, ii., Hail to the Lord's Anointed
All hail the power of Jesus' Name, 244, ii., Come, children, hail the Prince of Peace; & Come, children, join the angelic throng; 677, ii., Hail, holy, holy, holy Lord, Let angels; 676, i., Hail, Name of Jesus, glorious Name; 763, i., Meekest; 990, ii., Perronet, E.; 1299, ii., You who the Name of Jesus sing
All hail to Thee, my Saviour and my God, 960, ii., Salve mundi salutare
All hail to you, sweet Jesus' wounds, 998, i., Salvete Christi vulnera
All hail to you, ye martyrs flowers (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All hail to you, ye martyrs' flowers (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All hail, ye infant martyr-flowers (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All hail, ye martyr-flowers so bright (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All hail, ye virgin mother of mercy, 992, i., Salve regina misericordiae
All hails, O Queen mother of Mercie, 992, i., Salve regina misericordiae
All hearts and tongues and hands, 963, ii., Rinkart, M.
All hearts to praise in thine, 684, i., Hallelujah! Esine, O name
All hosts above, beneath, 795, i., Nate canore omnia
All hosts with one accord, 795, i., Nate canore omnia
All human sorrows now are flown, 622, ii., Kem, T.
All in the wilderness I stand, round us, 91, ii., All is bright and gay around us
All is dying, hearts are breaking, 145, ii., Heilig bei dem, der entstehlen
All is of God! if He but wave His hand, 885, i., Longfellow, H. W.
All is faithless—my heart record, 1013, ii., Schmidt, J. E.
All kings shall oath with one accord (Ps. lxxii.), 866, ii., Old Version
All kings shall worship with heart and voice (Ps. xxx., Hopkins), 866, ii., Old Version
All love is thine, O Spirit, 1300, ii., Zeuch ein zu deinen Thoren
All may be outwardly dusrt and gloom, 671, i., Grimbold, T.
All men are equal in their birth, 713, ii., Marriman, Mrs.
All men to speak and to dream are prone, 564, ii., Es reden und träumen die Menschen viel
All must die! there's no exception, 36, ii., Allstron, J. G.
All must die! there's no redemption, 36, ii., Allstron, J. G.
All my belief and confidence (The all in Christ), 808, i., Old Version
All my desires are fixed on Thee, 734, i., Neumeister, E.
All my heart this night rejoices, 398, i., Fröhlich soll mein Herze springen
All my heart to Thee I give, 895, ii., Comenius tibi dedo, Deus dulcissime
All my heart with joy is springing, 398, i., Fröhlich soll mein Herze springen
All my hope and foundation, 585, i., Jesu deine tiefe Wunden
All my hope is firmly grounded, 791, ii., Neander, J.
All my hope is fixed and grounded, 791, ii., Neander, J.
All my hope is grounded surely, 791, ii., Neander, J.
All my world was struck with stone, 608, i., Hardenberg, G. F. von
All nature dies and lives again, 276, ii., Few are thy days and full of woe
All nature's works his power, 311, ii., Brennan, W.; 1196, i., Ursticius hymnody
All nature's works his praise declare, 1233, i., Ware, H., jun.
All other plans we cast aside, 478, ii., Hail I on Jesus' name to call
All our angels, saints and seraf, 672, i., Lisenius
All people hasten, and give ear (Ps. xlix., Sternhold), 866, ii., Old Version
All people that on earth do dwell (Ps. c., Kethe), 686, i., Old Version; 866, ii., Old Version; 867, i., Ravenscroft, T.; 869, i., Old Version
All praise and thanks to God most high, 1018, ii., Schütz, J. J.
All praise be Thine, O risen Lord (Gloria Tibi Domine), 1018, ii., Schütz, J. J.
All praise to God above, 1018, i., Woolsey family, The
All praise to Him of Nazareth, 190, i., Bennett, W. C.
All praise to Him who built the hills, 995, ii., Prince of Wales
All praise to Him who built the hills
All praise to Jesus' blessed name, 609, ii., Gelobet seist du Jesu Christ
All praise to Thee, eternal Lord, 600, ii., Gelobet seist du Jesu Christ
All praise to Thee in light arrayed, 621, i., Kem, T.



All praise to Thee, my God, this night, 688, i., Hark, the herald angels sing; 818, i., 875, ii., Kem, T.
All praise to Thee, O Lord, Who by, 120, i., Bonlus, W. H.
All praise to Thee! O Lord, Who from, 693, ii., Glory to Thee, O Lord, Who from
All praise to Thee who safe hast kept, 631, i., Kem, T.
All praise to Thee Whose powerful word, 620, ii., Glory to Thee whose powerful word; 693, i., Lord of the worlds above, The
All saints of the Lord, 260, i., Darling, T.
All tender lights, all hues divine, 230, i., Nox aeta rerum contegit
All that desire with Christ to rise, 965, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All that do walk uprightly dwell, 972, ii., Rodigast, S.
All that in this wide world are we, 190, i., Bryant, W. C.
All that seek Christ, poor eyes erect, 966, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All that we know of ancient skies, 1288, ii., With praise and fear, Eye, Ear and Mind
All that's human shall treat perish, 26, ii., Allstron, J. G.
All the beauty we can find, 1006, ii., Schaffer, J.
All the saints will meet on high, 207, i., Deiner Kinder wird sich
All the way my Saviour leads me, 1304, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
All the world exalt the Lord, 207, ii., Heil, H.
All the world give praises due, 207, ii., Heil, H.
All the world's salvation, hail, 960, ii., Salve mundi salutare
All they whose hopes on God depend (Ps. cxxv.), 861, ii., New Version
All things are ours; how abundant the treasure, 229, i., Cowper, W.
All things are ready! Jesus waits to give, 66, i., All things are ready! there's a place of rest
All things are Thine, no gifts have we, 1277, i., Whittier, J. G.
All things are yours! O sweet message of mercy divine, 1277, i., Whittier, J. G.
All things, how beautiful, 39, ii., Alexander (née Humphreys), Cecil F.
All things hang on our possessing, 51, i., Alles ist an Gottes Segen
All things praise Thee, Lord most high, 256, i., Conder, J.
All things that are on earth, 190, i., Bryant, W. C.
All this night bright angels sing, 97, ii., Austin, W.; 218, ii., Carell
All this night shrill Chanticleers, 97, ii., Austin, W.
All this night shrill Chanticleers, 97, ii., Austin, W.
All thy vaulted, 1227, i., Watts, I.
All to the midnight shrouded, 1227, i., Watts, I.
All unseen the Master walketh, 709, i., Mackellar, T.
All who on Zion's God depend (Ps. cxxv.), 861, ii., New Version
All with Jesus are delighted, 67, i., Alle Christen singen gerne
All within a lonely manger, 981, ii., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
All ye people there who rest, 963, ii., Quicunque certum quaerit
All ye Gentile lands awake, 866, i., Sing, ye nations, praise the Lord, 66, ii., All ye Gentiles, praise the Lord
All ye people, clap and clap your hands, 622, i., Kimbolt, S. H.
All ye that love the Lord, rejoice, 881, ii., Non front each Sabbe Christengemeth
All ye who faithful servants are (Hymn for Holy Communion), 1304, ii., Van Alstyne
All ye who love the Lord, rejoice, 66, ii., All ye that love the Lord, rejoice
All ye who seek a certain cure, 966, ii., Quicunque certum quaeritis
All ye who seek a comfort sure, 966, ii., Quicunque certum quaeritis
All ye who seek a refuge sure, 966, ii., Quicunque certum quaeritis
All ye who seek a u e salacere, 966, i., Quicunque certum quaeritis
All ye who seek a sure relief in trouble, 965, ii., Quicunque certum quaeritis
All ye who seek for sure relief, in every time, 966, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All ye who seek for sure relief in trouble and, 965, ii., Quicunque certum quaeritis
All ye who seek in high and lowe, 966, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All ye who seek our Lord to know, 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All ye who seek the Lord of love, Lift up, 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All you that's in this house be here, 211, i., Carols
All you that's in this house be here, let your light, 966, i., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All you who seek the Lord of love, Look to the clear, 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
All you, who to the house of God (Ps. cxxxiv.), 861, ii., New Version
All blending with the tangled thorn (Caput spinis coronatum), 961, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Allbarmherzige Fromme der Erde, 1125, i., Tellurio ingens Conditor
Allbarmherziger Schöpfer, Who (Tellurio almo Conditor), 1125, i., Tellurio ingens Conditor
Allbeherrschend, Jehovah, 422, ii., Greek hymnody
Alle Christen kreuz garne, 87, i., Alle Christen singen gerne
Alle Jahre wieder, kommt das Christus Kind, 531, i., Joy, J. W.
Alle müssen sterben, 36, ii., Allstron, J. G.
Alle-cantabile sonat chorus canorum et solpugnat dulcibile-lepra, 61, i., Allelula
Alle-cordate nomen et persona-lupa, 61, i., Allelula
Allele, See also Alleja
Allele, Gott, Jehovah, Emanuel-Jahre, 1046, i., Wegelin, J.
Alleles auf Gott sein Lob, Vertrau (Hängwahl!), 968, ii., Bingwald, B.
Alleles Gott in der Höh' sei Ehr, 972, ii., Psalter, who on high: 414, ii., German hymnody; 622, ii., Gloria in excelsis; 665, ii., Greatly Psalms and spirituals longer
Alleles zu dir, Herr Jesu Christ, 9, ii., According to Thy mercy, Lord; 414, ii., German hymnody; 1015, i., Schneeweiss, J.
Allelujah! Lasset uns singen, 622, ii., Gloria in excelsis
Alleluia, See also Alleluiah, Allelujia, Alleluja, Hallelujah, and Hallelujah
Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia, O Alfa et Alpha, 63, i., Alleluia; 629, i., O Alfa et Alpha, Rex coelestis
Alleluia! Alleluia! Psallite pari exsul gratia, 577, i., Psallite pari exsul gratia
Alleluia! Alleluia! Sing to the battle now ta e'er, 277, i., Psallite pari exsul gratia
Alleluia, Alleluia, hearts to heaven and voices raise, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia! hail and received. Of the hymns of praise above, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia Christo dicamus omnia linguae, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia Christo dicamus omnia linguae, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia dulce carmen, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia! Fairest morning, 633, ii., Evans, J.
Alleluia! Gloire et louanges, 295, i., French hymnody
Alleluia! Hail the day so bright, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia! let the holy sounds of cheerful praises ring, 63, ii., Alleluia pia edite laudibus
Alleluia let the nations, 253, ii., Conditat orbis cuncta, Alleluja
Alleluia, Lobet und preiset ihn, 393, ii., French hymnody
Alleluia, mente memori, 63, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia! now be sung, 63, ii., Alleluia pia edite laudibus
Alleluia nunc decantet universitas eccleria, 63, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, pange lingulding, 63, i., Alleluia dulce carmen
Alleluia pia edite laudibus, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia, scherer Morgen (Kreuz), wo sinnig
Alleluia, sing to Jesu, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia, sing to Jesu, His Church's canticle of perennial joy, 63, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia! song of gladness, Voice of everlasting joy, 63, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, song of sweetness, Strain of everlasting joy, 63, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, song of sweetness, Voice of endless joy and love, 63, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia! song of sweetness, Voice of everlasting glee, 63, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, song of sweetness, Voice of joy, eternal joy, 63, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, song of sweetness, Voice of joy that cannot die, 63, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia! song of sweetness, Voice of joy that cannot die, 63, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia! sweetest anthem, Voice of joy that may not die, 63, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, sweetest lay, 63, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, sweetest music, 63, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluia, the sweetest song, 63, i., Alleluia
Alleluia, ut, ut, ut, Alleluia hic patri (See Johannes mundi domine, Psalat ut Nevens), 298, ii., Carols
Alleluiae softly sounding, 299, ii., Hoc psalcra cancrum consent voce Alleluia

Alleluia sound ye, In strains of holy 1ines (tr. Neale), 1, i.
Alleluia, sing to Jesus, His name of 1ove, 1, i.
Alleluja, Lob, Preis, und Ehr, 805, i., Binkert, M.
Alleluja schöner Morgen, 688, ii., Krause, J.
Alleluja! song of sweetness, Voice of everlasting joy, 46, i., Alleluia, dulce carmen
Alleluja, unser Heil und Leben, 1, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Allen sy gedi kaye und trauw, 962, i., Engelsch, B.
Aller Glaubigen Sammelplatz, 986, ii., Deiner Kinder Sammelplatz: 617, i., German hymnody
Alles ist eure! o Worte der reichen Lehre, 1017, ii., Schubert, C. F.
All-glorious Lord of 1ife, Jesu Christ, 1015, i., Schwedler, J.
All-gracious, the glowing light, 709, ii., Lynch, T. T.
Allgemach aus Dämmerung und Nacht, 594, i., Kriemacher, F. A.
Allmächtiger Vater, 417, ii., German hymnody: 1146, ii., Treutlein, J.
All-glorious King of martyrs Thou, 916, ii., Rex gloriose martyrum
All-good, all-great, all-mighty, Three in One, 1100, ii., Sublime names ter potens ter maximum
All-gracious, all-victorious Lord, 556, i., Come, O Thou all-victorious Lord
All-gracious Lord, I own Thy right, 781, i., My gracious Lord, I own Thy right
All-gracious Lord, we look to Thee, 1133, i., Temperance hymnody
All-gracious Spirit, Fount of love, 820, ii., O fons amoris, Spiritus
All-holy, ever-living One, 124, i., Hill, T.
All-holy God on high, 241, i., Cœli Deus sanctissime
All-holy Sovereign of the sky (Rom. Brev. text), 241, i., All-holy God on high
All-knowing God, Yet Thine to know, 1009, ii., Scott, T.
All-present Framer of the sky, 563, i., Immense cœli Conditor
All-ruling God, unerring Way (tr. in the Primer, 1706), 1009, ii., All-knowing God, 'tis Thine to know
All-seeing God, 'tis Thine to know, 63, ii., All-knowing God, 'tis Thine to know
All-sufficient Being, 1144, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Allvriendaer, wellcommer Gast, 351, i., Rambach, E. E.
Alma chorus Domini compagnet, 814, i., Notker
Alme Lux, inter media tenebrae, 999, i., Lead, kindly light, amid the encircling gloom
Alme Redemptoris Mater quae pervia coeli, 73, i., Antiphons, 9, ii., Ave regina coelorum: 695, ii., Latin hymnody
Alma Redemptoris mater quem de coelo misit Pater, 24, i., Alma Redemptoris mater quae pervia coeli
Alma virgo Maria, 73, i., Antiphon
Almighty and immortal King, 586, i., Eternal and immortal King
Almighty Author of the earth (Telluris alme Conditor), 1127, i., Telluris ingens Conditor
Almighty Father, gracious Lord, 1000, i., Sheir, Anne
Almighty Father, God of grace (Cotterill), 1000, ii., Supplication hymnbook
Almighty Father, hear our cry, 1452, i., Bickersteth, E. H.: 600, ii., Lord of the years, hear our cry
Almighty Father, heaven and earth, 252, ii., Thyman, E. E.
Almighty Father, just and good, 1136, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Almighty Father of mankind! Jehovah, self-existent Lord, 1136, i., Unitarian hymnody
Almighty Father of mankind, On Thee (Bruce), 189, ii., Bruce, M.
Almighty Father, while we earn, Thy saving power, 1136, i., Temperance hymnody
Almighty Founder of the world, 1127, i., Tellurie ingens Conditor
Almighty Fount of love, 900, i., Powell, T. E.
Almighty God, Christ Jesus, 1009, i., Scott, T.
Almighty God, to Thee our praise, 855, ii., O that Thou wouldst the heavens rend
Almighty God, before Thy throne, 1007, ii., See, gracious God, before Thy throne
Almighty God, I call to Thee, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
Almighty God, in prayer to Thee, 977, ii., Rouse, W. S.
Almighty God, in Whom combine, 217, i., Here der gütigste Vater
Almighty God, Thou art love divine, 343, ii., Bourne, H.
Almighty God of truth and love, 1005, ii., Wesley family, The Almighty God, our King, 668, i., Gregory, J. G.
Almighty God, this truth we own, 1003, ii., Scales, T.
Almighty God, thy piercing eye, 321, i., Children's hymns

Almighty God, Thy throne above, 900, ii., Rerum Deus tenax vigor
Almighty God, Thy truth shall stand, 9, ii., Ach Gott vom Himmel sieh darein
Almighty God, Thy word is cast, 216, i., Conrad, J.
Almighty God, Thy works showed, 1000, ii., Yet, God Thy works showed Almighty God, to Whom we vow, 1003, ii., Soden, A. J.
Almighty God, we cry to Thee, 132, i., Beddome, H.
Almighty God, we praise and own, 1135, i., Te Deum laudamus
Almighty God, Who dwellest high, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Almighty God, Who from the flood, 711, i., Magnae Deus potentiae
Almighty God, Whose love displayed, 1100, ii., Summae Deus clementiae: st. ii., tis desterum
Almighty God, whose mighty reign, 26, i., Aeterne rector siderei
Almighty God, Whose sovereign will, 711, ii., Magnae Deus potentiae
Almighty host we raise, 189, ii., Bryant, W. C.
Almighty King, Eternal Sire, 1002, i., Schaffer, J.
Almighty King, whose wondrous hand, 446, i., Graves
Almighty, listen while we raise, 189, ii., Bryant, W. C.
Almighty Lord, before Thy throne, 1007, ii., See, gracious God, before Thy throne
Almighty Lord of earth and heaven, 207, ii., Denicke, D.
Almighty Maker, Thou shalt fold, 1147, ii., The starry firmament on high
Almighty Ruler of my frame, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne: 1005, ii., When I resolved to watch my thoughts
Almighty Ruler of our frame, 1089, ii., When I resolved to watch my thoughts
Almighty Maker of the heaven, 563, i., Immense cœli Conditor
Almighty Ruler, God of Truth, 983, ii., Rector potens, verax Deus
Almighty Saviour, how Thine ear, 169, ii., Bragg, J. G.
Almighty Saviour, here we stand, 198, ii., Baldwin, T.
Almighty Shepherd, Who didst give, 1007, i., Stowell, H.
Almighty Sovereign of the skies, 1098, ii., Strong, N.
Almost persuaded now to believe, 155, i., Bliss, P.
Als ich bei meinen Schafen wacht (tr. G. Walker), 1005, ii., Zwick
Alone in God put thou thy trust, 862, i., Hingsvidt, B.
Alone the dreadful race He ran, 1127, ii., The Sun of Righteousness appears
Alone the Saviour's sorrow, 406, i., Gloria in excelsis
Alone with Thee, Thee alone, 43, ii., Gill, T. H.
Alone, yet not alone, as again, 896, ii., Nicholson, H. L.
Along my earthly way, 355, i., Kitzenton, J.
Along the mountain track of life, 214, i., Grey, Alice
Already the bright sun departs, 862, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
Already the bright sun departs, 881, i., Fuge lingua gloriam cymbalum cernuicie
Als der betrübte Tag an Ende kommen, 673, i., Gryphius, A.
Also hat Gott die Welt geliebt, 411, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Although a host of foes, 1009, ii., Scott, T. Sacrosancta servet, 1139, i., Tempora feriges cuncta dicentia servet
Altho' temptations threaten round, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
Altho' the vale hathe sharply bene (Tr. Isill., Kethe), 1032, ii., Scottish hymnody
Although. See also Altho' and Altough
Although the flowers blossom out, 1045, i., So firm the saints' foundation stand
Although the mouth of the infant, 355, i., Es spricht der Unweisen Mund wohl
Although the mouth any of the wicked, 355, i., Es spricht der Unweisen Mund wohl
Although the wine tis fruit deny, 870, i., Onderdonk, Jane
Alto et triquetro throno: Parentis Filius, 1109, i., Tybe beata, Hierusalem
Altus Prosator, vetustus dierum et ingenitus, 666, ii., Latin hymnody
Always and always by night, 127, i., Bateman, H.
Always with me (tr), always with me (tr), 799, i., Nevin, E. H.
Am frish der Christen singet man, 893, ii., Pfeil, C. G. L. von
Am I a stranger here, on earth alone, 937, ii., Reamer, C.
Am I called, and can it be? 631, ii., Gray (née Lowes), Jane
Am I my brother's keeper? Yes, 1136, i., Temperance hymnody
Am I on earth a lone and friendless stranger, 937, ii., Reamer, C.

Ama Jesu et tuo gremio dilecta, 141, i., Nazaro da Siena
Amazing night, the dreamer stands, 44, i., Allitt, H.
Amen, Amen, to Thy name, 1077, i., Whiting, W.
Amen, the deed to finish is done, 1077, i., Whiting, W.
Amen, this the conclusion, 624, i., Keinen hat Gott verlassen
Amid light's wild commotion, 86, ii., Auchenbrüh, C. C. J.
Amid the trembling gloom and unrest, 217, ii., Chapin, H.
Amid the heaven of heavens, 116, ii., Bartram, J. P.
Amid the press, with men of might (Ps. lxxxii., Hopkins), 955, ii., Old Version
Amid the world's tempestuous sea, 998, i., Hippon, J.
Amid the various scenes of ill, 304, ii., Gotsch, N.
Amid the world's vexations, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Amid this world's commotion, 86, ii., Auchenbrüh, C. C. J.
Amid Thy wrath remember love, 61, ii., Amidst Thy wrath remember love
Amidst a world of hopes and fears, 1100, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Amidst a world of woe oppressed, 986, ii., Sacro dolorum turbine
Amidst the mighty, where is he, 1094, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Amidst this world's profaneness, 631, ii., Kolrose, J.
Amidst us our beloved stands, 1081, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Among the deepest shades of night, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Among the men, men of might (Ps. lxxxii.), 955, ii., Old Version
Among the saints of God, 816, ii., Chamberlain, T.
Among the saints on earth, 975, ii., Let party names no more
Among the saints that fill Thine house, 1261, i., Watts, I.
Amongst the deepest shades of night, 61, ii., Among the deepest shades of night
Amor Jesu dulcissime, 704, ii., Lux alma Jesu mentium
Amor Jesu dulcissime, 1009, ii., Lux alma Jesu mentium
Amor meus crucifixus est, 781, ii., My Lord, my Love was crucified
Amour que mon âme est contente, 670, i., Guyon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M.
An Gottes Segnen, wen er mißt (Ps. lxxxii.), 955, ii., Old Version
An sie der schein, an sie hält sich gnadenlicht, 697, i., Gellert, C. F.
An unto for the faith, 609, i., Fama tyrenni pro fide
An Gott will ich gedenken, 1013, ii., Schneckl, B.
An Jesum, wen er mißt, und sucht, 193, i., Jesu dulcis memoria: 955, ii., Old Version
An Seelenfreuden Religion, 307, ii., Dachstein, W.; 682, ii., Geistly Psalmes and Spirituelle Songes
Ἀναστάσιμον ὕμνον, 999, ii., Greek hymnody
Anbetungswürdig Gut, Bleicher, Heinrich, J. J.
And a voice was heard in Ramah, 574, ii., Cantate hominum posilitiae angelum
And art thou nigh departing, 90, i., Arndt, E. M.
And be it so, shall life thus have, 620, ii., Gibbons, T.
And can I yet delay, 97, i., And will Thou yet be found?
And can it be that I should gain? 1273, i., Where shall my wondering soul begin?
And can mine eyes without a tear? 806, ii., Heginbotham, G.
And can we forbear, to taking our food, 647, ii., Graves
And can we forget, to taking our meat? 647, ii., Graves
And canst thou, sinner, sight, 566, i., Hyde (née Bradbury), Mary Ann
And dare I longer thee, O Lord, 1009, i., Steadfold (née Saint), Charlotte
And didst Thou, Jesus, condescend? 595, i., Jesus, and didst Thou condescend!
And didst Thou, Lord, our sorrows take? 631, ii., Gill, T. H.
And dost Thou always love provision, 60, i., Arndt, E. M.
And dost Thou ask me, dearest Lord, 665, ii., Hosband, E.
And dost Thou come, O blessed Lord, 697, ii., I wijsers
And dost Thou say Ask what thou wilt? 603, i., If Solomon for wisdom prayed
And have I, Christ, no love for Thee? 1002, i., Stennett, S.
And is it true as I am told, 142, i., Hall, Amelia M.
And is it true that Jesus came?, 121, i., Bateman, H.
And it be yet, dear Lord, a doubt?, 979, ii., Cottesdon, E.
And it my soul and Jesus are, 60, i., And is my soul with Jesus one
And is the gospel peace and love, 1000, i., Steele, Anne
And is there, Lord, a cross for me, 16, ii., Addiscott, H.
And is there, Lord, a rest for me, 297, ii., Palmer, Ray
And is there no hope for me? 1267, i., Wesley, S. W.
And must this body die? 1267, i., Watts, I.
And now again at night, 1056, ii., Zu uns wir chloyfelen
And now another day is gone (Jacobi), 834, i., Herrnig, J. F.
And now another day is gone (Watts), 321, i., Children's hymns: 834, i., Herrnig, J. F.
And now another day is past, 816, ii., Herrnig, J. F.
And now another week begins, 1045, i., Another week begins
And now, beloved Lord, Thy soul reinjoices, 36, i., Ahlfeldt (née Dyhrn), Elisa S.
And now, by God's rare word discreet, 1098, ii., Statuta decreta Dei
And now emerging from the storms, 220, ii., Emergit ex procellis
And now heaven's greeting light is waned fast, 233, i., Christus cruciatu cluitur
And now, 'mid myriad worlds enkrowned, 1176, i., Turing, G.
And now, O Father, mindful of the love, 102, ii., Bright, W.: 1272, ii., Whitefield, Mrs. Elizabeth
And now, O God, Thy mind resolves, 575, i., Jam sanctus movens opus
And now the day is past and gone, Holy God, 460, ii., Tristis, potestis jam dii
And now the day is past and gone, We sing, 631, i., Tristis, jamdu jam dii
And now the mind by where dread pains, 216, ii., Chamberlain, T.
And now the season grave and deep, 1006, ii., Solemnis desertus loci
And now the shining orb of day, 636, i., Labente jam sole rota
And now the six-days work is done, 1114, ii., Tandem senatu, O Deus
And now the six-days deed is done, 1003, ii., Smith, S. F.
And now the solemn rite is past, 870, i., Cromwell, W.
And now the sun's meridian beams, 575, ii., Jam sole cacelesti jubar
And now the wants are told, 189, ii., Bright, W.
And now, O Father, mindful, 631, ii., Hosband, E.
And now Thy kingdom word, are done, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann (probably, O Deus)
And now we go every and leave the hallowed place, 272, i., Jackson, E.
And now we rise; the symbols disappear, 613, i., Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face
And now, while shades of night appear, 566, i., In noctis umbra desides
And oft I think, if e'en earth's sin-stained ground, 656, ii., Gill, ann, nunc Herr, und nache Freud
And shall I share the sacred light? 555, ii., I will take the cup of salvation
And shall I sit alone, tyrant's, 193, i., Beddome, B.
And shall we dwell together? 1218, i., Taylor, Helen
And shall we sit alone, tyrant's, 193, i., Beddome, B.
And shall we then go on in sin? (Watts, old), 1033, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases: 1056, i., Shall we go on to sin?
And Thou art growing up, O Child divine, 902, ii., Thrice crucified Pure
And what though now we part, 65, ii., And let our souls be knit
And will the God Who reigns as high (tr. Mrs. Bunter), 194, ii., Bunter, G.
And will the mighty God, 952, i., Rawson, G.
And will the offended God again? 1002, i., Stennett, S.
And will Thou, O Lord? 1181, ii., Tue kaerande ord ne skader
And will Thou, O Eternal God? 66, ii., And will the great Eternal God?
And will Thou, pardon, Lord? 1181, ii., Tue kaerande ord ne skader
Andreae pie, 79, ii., Auxue Christe sanctorum Deusus
Ανέστημεν τρόπαιον, 865, ii., Greek hymnody
Angel bands in strains most sounding, 883, i., DeWolf, J.
Angel of God, thy wings expanded, 830, i., Hood, E. P.
Angel, roll the rock away, 1127, ii., Angels
Angeli, regem venientem magnum (tr. Bingham), 69, i., Angels roll the rock away
Angelis, sonora regione facta (tr. Bingham), 69, i., Angels from the realms of glory
Angelorum exercitus sanctus, 1139, i., Tempora feriges cuncta dicentia
Angelorum et sanctorum, 680, ii., Latin hymnody
Angels bending from the sky, 877, i., Hall, all hail, the joyful morn
Angels, come on joyous pinion, 20, i., Adeste, cedibum pii
Angels from the realms of glory, 704, ii., Montgomery, J.

Angels holy, high and lowly, 194, i., Benedictis, 146, ii., Blackie, J. S.
Angels, sinners, behold your God, 701, ii., Logate, pacis angeli
Angels, look down and weep, 702, i., Logate, pacis angeli
Angels warbled with wondering pain, 358, ii., Ever round
Thy glorious throne
Angels, sinners, beware, 702, i., Logate, pacis angeli
Angels of peace, sinners, 701, ii., Logate, pacis angeli
Angels of peace, look down from heaven and mourn, 701, ii., Logate, pacis angeli
Angels of peace, ye seraphs here, 702, i., Logate, pacis angeli
Angels our march oppose, 688, i., Hark! how the watchmen cry
Angels rejoice o'er sinners saved, 724, i., Midlane, A.
Angels rejoiced and ransom'd sang, 345, ii., Hurn, W.
Angels, sweet angels, are praising, 880, ii., Person (née Barker), Elizabeth
Angels singing, Church bells ringing, 514, ii., Hernaman (née Dickes), Claudia F.
Angels to our jubilee (tr. Blew), 20, i., Adonis, cacilium nostra
Angels, wherefor we go, attend, 1275, ii., Which of the petty kings of earth?
Angels who the throne surround, 293, i., De Courcy, B.
Angels your march oppose, 688, i., Hark, how the watchmen cry
Angel-voices ever singing, 901, ii., Pott, F.
Angenehmer Erzieherbeistand, 525, i., Hiller, F. E.
Angelica Fundamentum, 1150, i., Bruun, E. W.
Angelorio Fundamentum (Thein Brev. text), 1200, ii., Urbs beata Hierusalem
Animae claro lucentis (tr. Mengil), 1168, i., Thou glorious minds, how bright they shine
Animarum Conditor, 1, i., Adam of St. Victor
Anthracis regalis, Homilia, 1280, i., Vital spark of heavenly flame
Ante fundum sanguineum (tr. Bingham), 34, i., Ainst and did my Saviour bleed
Anni recurso tempore, 104, ii., Jesu corona celsior
Anno quo vita Thu blessed love, 62, i., Arnold, G.
Anno, Thy work is done, 972, ii., Upon perpetui Trans.
Ἀναβὰς σωθεὶς, Βαβὶ ἐγερέσιμον ἔργον, 653, ii., Greek hymnody
Another day is at an end, 833, ii., Klastendorfer, P.
Another day is done and gone, 833, ii., Ibid.
Another day is past and gone; it glad we have, 833, ii., Gunton, pereis jam dis
Another day its course hath run, 866, i., Pierpont, J.
Another fleeting day is gone, 341 ii., Coxhyr, W. F.
Another night is hastening on, 1275, ii., Palmer, J. G.
Another Sabbath closes, 138, i., Bell, C. D.
Another Sabbath ended, 1190, i., Tyrone, T. V.
Another six days' work is done, 111, ii., Baptist hymnody
Another step is made with God, 309, i., Francis, A. H.
Another week of cares has fled, 1275, ii., Ibid.
Another week of cares has run, 72, ii., Another six days' work is done
Another year, another year, 1071, ii., Dearmer, Mrs. H.
Another year, another year, flieth apace, 307, ii., Downton, H.
Another year, another year, the unceasing rush, 810, ii., Norton, J.
Another year has fled: renew, 79, i., Another year hath fled: renew
Another year has glided past, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Another year is dawning, 1097, i., Ibid.
Another year is gone, and now, 1280, ii., Semmelroth, J.
Another year is swallowed by the sea, 328, ii., Elliott, Ebenezer
Another year is well nigh gone, 810, ii., Chamberlain, T.
Another year of grace, 815, i., Grimhof (nee von Friesen), Hermine C.
Another year we now have entered, 960, i., Pachia, C. E. S.
Another year with mercies strewn, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Ante Deum genitrix (tr. Bingham), 599, ii., Hermann (nee Brown), Fidelia C.
Ante Ichovam tremendum (Before Jehovah's awful throne), 1280, ii., Sing to the Lord with joyful voice
Antra deserti teneris sub annis, 1202, ii., Ut videant fideles denique
Apart from every worldly care, 794, ii., Midlane, A.
Apostle and Evangelist, 216, ii., Chamberlain, T.
Apostolorum gloriae, 124, i., Ibid.
Apprehend repentance, 666, ii., Latin hymnody
Appropriate exercise, 1280, ii., Hymnody
Appointed by Thee, we meet in Thy Name, 508, i., How happy the pair when Jesus unites

Apprehends crave, 1107, ii., Thomas of Kempen
Approach, my soul, the mercy seat, 1, i., Adam, Thee, who in this Approach, my soul, the mercy seat, 21, i., Adams Sidney Approach all ye faithful—sk. tr. The Sun Everlasting, 21, i., Adams Sidney Approach, ye faithful, and with glad accord, 21, ii., Adams Sidney Approach, ye faithful, come with exultation, 21, ii., Adams Sidney
Appropriavit enim deus, 513, i., Heu! Heu! mala mundi vita
Ar fan forddonen ddu'n (E. Evans), 1250, ii., Welsh hymnody
Arch-angel trumpet rangar, 460, ii., Hall to the Lord's Anointed
Arbor decora et fulgida, 1200, i., Venilis regis prodeunt
Archangels! fold your wings, 129, ii., Behold the Lamb of God
Archivolum mirum magnum, 666, i., Latin hymnody
Are our foils and woes decreasing?, 232, ii., Ei sai ra ragiova
Are the saints predestinated, 271, i., Irons, J.
Are there any wounds for me?, 746, ii., Hinsdale (née Hankey), Grace W.
Are thy toils and woes increasing?, 232, i., Ei sai ra ragiova
Are we the soldiers of the Cross, 16, ii., Am I a soldier of the Cross?
Are we the work of a creature now, 1203, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Arglwydd, arwain trwy'r anialwch (W. Williams), 1253, ii., Welsh hymnody
Arglwyddi gwael, dyw fyngkri-ais gridfanna, 396, i., Welsh hymnody
Arise again, arise again, 93, i., Aufersteh, ja aufersteh nicht wirst du Arise, and bless the Lord, 1095, ii., Stand up and bless the Lord
Arise and hail the happy day, 1019, ii., Scott, Elizabeth
Arise and hail the sacred day, 78, i., Arise and hail the happy day
Arise, arise, with joy survey, 793, i., My soul with sacred joy survey
Arise! for the day is gaining, 913, ii., Procter, Adelaide
Arise, great God, and let Thy grace, 876, ii., Our eyes, great God, have seen Thy grace Arise in all Thy splendour, Lord, 196, i., Bacon, L.
Arise, my soul, arise, The Saviour's sacrifice, 75, ii., Arise, my soul, arise, Thy Saviour's sacrifice
Arise, my soul, arise, Thy Saviour's sacrifice, 580, ii., Arise, my soul, arise, Thy Saviour's sacrifice
Arise, my soul, arise, my soul, to Him, 580, ii., Arise, my soul, fly up and rise
Arise, my soul, on wings sublime, 817, ii., Now let our souls on wings sublime
Arise, my soul, with rapture rise, 1004, i., Smith, S. J.
Arise, my soul, with rapture rise, 1004, ii., Ibid.
Arise, my soul, with wonder see, 1275, i., When I survey the wondrous Cross
Arise, my spirit, bless the day, 905, ii., Rist, J.
Arise my spirit, leap with joy (tr. Gambold, alt.), 905, ii., Rist, J.
Arise, O God, and let Thy grace, 876, ii., Our eyes, great God, have seen Thy grace
Arise, O King of grace, arise, 806, ii., No sleep, no slumber, to his eyes
Arise, O Lord, arise, 545, ii., Herz, W.
Arise, O Lord, with healing rod, 688, i., Kennedy, B.H.
Arise, O Sion, from the dust, 580, ii., Daughter of Sion, from the dust
Arise, O Sion, rise and shine, 166, ii., Bourne, H.
Arise, shine, for thy light is come, 84, i., Arise, shine, for thy light is come Arise, Thou bright and morning Star, 122, i., Beddome, B.
Arise we in the nightly watches waking, 609, i., Nacht ist vergangen, Christ ist
Arise, ye hungering saints, arise! 645, ii., Gutter, L. A.
Arise, ye people, and adore, 20, ii., Aider, Hannah
Arise, ye saints, arise, arise! 645, ii., Gutter, L. A.
Arise, yes, yes, arise, O Sion, my dear, 80, ii., Aufstehn, ja aufstehn wirst du Ark of the Covenant! not that, 202, ii., Or arca legem continens
Arm of the Lord, awake, awake, 1, i., Hernaman (nee Dickes), Claudia F.
Arm of the Lord, awake, awake. Put on Thy strength, 1260, ii., Heckmann, W.
Arm of the Lord, awake, awake, Thine (?), 79, i., Arm of the Lord, awake, awake. Put on Arm of the Lord, awake! Assail the Saviour thine, 945, ii., Hurditch, C. E.

Arm thou Thy soldiers, mighty Lord, 368, i., Father of all, in Whom we live
Armies of God! in union, 181, ii., Bridges, M.
Around Bethesda's healing wave, 118, i., Barton, B.
Around me all is joy—and oh, my God, 1010, ii., Smith, S. J.
Around the Saviour's lofty throne, 1016, ii., See where the Lord His glory spreads
Around the throne in circling band, 92, ii., Around the throne of God, a band
Around the throne of God in heaven, 1044, i., Shepherd (nee Headlich), Anne Around the throne of God the host angelic throngs, 1258, i., Wace, H., Jun.
Around Thy throne, O God, 902, i., Powell, T. E.
Arouse thee up! my Heart, my Thought, my Mind, 183, ii., Bickes, S. von Arouse Thy Church, Almighty God, 1099, i., Stryker, W. W.
Arrayed in majesty divine, 229, i., Clothed in majesty divine
Arrayed in mortal flesh, 608, i., Join all the glorious names
Art pure? in all thy toiling (Thätlich ernste sei), 841, i., Haz ad montem Calvariae
Art thou a child of heav'n, 1158, ii., The year begins with Thee
Art thou weary with us, gracious Lord, 64, i., And art Thou with us, gracious Lord
Art thou weary, art thou languish? 323, i., Coster, G. T., 666, i., Greek hymnody 681, i., Kelly, F. W., 753, ii., Κόπιε τι κὰι κάμνεις; 709, ii., Lyra Davidica, 1, ii., Maude, Mary F., 1097, i., Stowell, J. M., 1258, ii., O happy band of pilgrims, 1262, ii., Sais homs, mâh homs in port; 1262, ii., Σοβαρὸς προσκύνει
*As a bird at dawning sing*eth, 1279, ii., Wie ein Vogel frühlich singet
As a bird to mendour fair, 1279, ii., Wie ein Vogel frölich singet
As a traveller returning, 1276, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
As an eagle wonderlated (Volat avis sine meta), 1217, i., Verbum Dei, Deo natum
As at noon's peaken ray (Les sens sont assis autres), 821, i., Ah! how sweet the calm of
As down the wind, and in its flight, 219, ii., Cobbin, I.
As bright the star of morning gleams, 807, i., Nicolai, P.
As by the light of opening day, 673, ii., Let worldly minds the world pursue
As by the wondrous working of the blessed holy Dove, 135, ii., Bennett (nee Dampier), M. E.
As calmly in the gloaming west, 1189, ii., Tuttiett, L.
As changing as the moon, 89, ii., As various as the moon
As chief among ten thousand are, 289, i., Darling, T.
As children we are owned by Thee, 514, i., Herman, N.
As down in the sunless retreats of the ocean, 793, i., Hosmer
As empty Christmas, 251, i., Hoy, J. W.
As eight-winging hybrid Night (Volat avis sine meta), 1217, i., Verbum Dei, Deo natum
As earth's pageant passes by, 181, i., Beaumont, Joseph
As even the lightest stone was dear, 609, i., O! day of rest and gladness
As every day Thy mercy spares, 1255, ii., Strobach, W.
As flows the rapid river, 1063, ii., Smith, S. F.
As for some dear familiar strain, 541, ii., Hues of the rich stained window
As God doth lead me, will I go, 856, i., Godicke, L.
As God leads me, will I go, 856, i., Godicke, L.
As God shall lead, I'll take my way, 856, i., Godicke, L.
As helpless as a child who clings, 55, ii., As helpless as a child who clings to his mother's breast
As he feeds the shepherd tends, 1156, i., Trinitarian hymnody
As in Eastern lands afar, 96, i., As with gladness men of old
As in the silent vernal showers, 55, i., As showers on meadows newly mown
As infants once to Christ were brought, 1300, i., Young children come to Jesus came
As dawns the throat with glowing red, 1060, i., Singlehurst, J.
As Jesus died and rose again, 1114, i., Take comfort, Christians, when your friends
As Jesus sought His wandering sheep, 977, ii., Fragrans rosarum, pectoris
As Jesus Christ arose from his three days' tomb (Σκόλοψαν τοῦτο), 232, i., Χριστὸς ἀνέστη.—Refrayne
As kings and priests we hope to shine, 126, i., Bertram, E. A.
As long as life its term extends, 676, i., Life is the time to serve the Lord
As long as life its term extends, 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
As Mary sat at Jesus' feet, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
As mourns a widowed bride, 80, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
As mounts on high the orb of day, 877, ii., Jam lucis orto sidere
As new-born babes desire the breast, 1060, ii., So new-born babes desire the breast; 1255, ii., Wade, J.
As nigh Babel's streams we sat, 918, i., Peabore, Mrs. C.
As night departing brings the day, 806, i., Paulo Sapientia, veritas divina
As now departs the light of day, 1150, ii., To hads ante terminum
As now the sun's declining rays, 636, i., Labente jam sole rota
As now the sun's departing rays, 636, i., Labente jam sole rota
As o'er the past my memory strays, 703, ii., Middleton, Lord
As on a vast eternal shore, 868, i., Prentiss (née Payson), Elizabeth
As on the Cross the Saviour hung, 1092, i., Bennett, S.
As on the night before this Synod meets, 211, i., Carnie
As pants the hart for cooling brook His cast, 185, i., Brown (née Hundale), Flank
As panting on the mighty beam, 186, i., Bowdler, J.
As pants the hart for cooling streams (Ps. xlii.), 800, ii., New Version; 919, i., Pauker, English
As pants the hind for cooling streams, 532, i., Kennedy, B. H.
As pilgrims here we wander, 805, i., Ich bin ein Gast auf Erden
As rain and rose on earth below, 227, ii., He! ye that pastors be, attend
As saints depart they sing, 216, ii., Hernaman (nee Dickes), Claudia F.
As shadows cast by cloud and sun, 193, i., Bryant, W. C.
As small birds use A hole to chuse (Gleich wie sich ein Vögelein), 865, i., Hartlieb (Elder), M.
As strangers here below, 1255, i., We're strangers here below
As sure I live, thy Maker saith, 1005, ii., So wahr ich lebe, spricht dein Gott
As the bird in mendour fair, 1279, ii., Wie ein Vogel frölich singet
As the bird in the early rejoices (Hanc dies cancris diuris), 1261, i., Spreus Christi quae per orbem
As the eagle fondly hovers (Wie ein Adler sein Gefieder), 1007, i., Salt ich meinem Gott nicht singen
As the eastern hills are glowing, 819, ii., Charlesworth, W. J.
As the gardener Him addressing (Aretimavit orientem), 265, i., Columbanus Magdalenae
As the good shepherd tends his fleecy care, 901, i., Pott, F.
As the hart for water pantels, thy soul, 927, i., Tavaiet, J. C.
As the hart with longing looks, 189, ii., Brunquell alter Glitze
As the leaves of old were given, 328, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
As the sea-monster vomited (Σκόλοψαν τοῦτο), 232, i., Χριστὸς ἀνέστη.—Refrayne
As the sweet flower that scents the morn, 273, ii., Cunningham, Mrs.
As the tree falls, be must it lie, 193, i., Days and moments quickly flying
As the winged arrow flies, 1272, ii., While with ceaseless course the sun
As thick as the breath of day, 1182, i., The rich Hebe Shore-Scarrow
As thou didst rest, O Father, 116, ii., Barry, A.
As thou wilt, my God! I ever say, 791, i., Sonnentaler, G.
As through this wilderness we stray, 1038, ii., Seelenbräutigam, O du Gottessohn
As Thy chosen people, Lord, 90, ii., Asher, Harriet
As thy mercy waits for ours, 823, i., Kennedy, B. H.
As Thy will, O my Saviour (tr. C. G. Clemens), 696, i., Wie du willst, o mein
As Thy cross, dear Lord, we see, 695, i., Lord, as to Thy dear cross we flee
As travellers when the twilight's come, 1266, i., Vaughan, H.
As true as I live, God saith, 1005, ii., So wahr ich lebe, spricht dein Gott
As twilight's gradual veil is spread, 1003, i., Smith, Sir J. E.

AWA INDEX. BED 1319

Awake, Thou Spirit, Who of old, 153, i., Bogatzky, C. G., von
Awake to the duty, prepare for the strife, 146, i., Blatchford, A. N.
Awake, ye saints, and lift your eyes, 109, ii., Awake, ye saints, and raise your eyes
Awake, ye saints, and raise your eyes, 1052, i., Servants of God, awake, arise
Awake, ye saints, awake, and hail, 105, i., Awake, our drowsy souls
Awaked by Sinai's awful sound, 883, ii., Occom, S.
Away from earth my spirit turns, 977, i., Palmer, R.
Away from earth my spirit turns, 977, ii., Palmer, R.
Away my doubts, begone my fears, 1006, ii., Shocker, J.
Away with all our trouble, 967, ii., Grosse.
Away with all sorrow and fear, 104, ii., Away with our drowsy souls
Awoke with our fears! The glad morning appears, 106, ii., Away with my fears
Away with sorrow's sigh, 977, i., Fan finstaust vangsta
Awed by a mortal's frown, shall I, 1007, i., Winckler, J.
Awful doxology, day of anger, 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Awful Power, whose birth place lies, 1126, i., Unitarian hymnody
Awful thought of endless doom, 1061, ii., Seneca quis suadente
Awhile the speculation, 126, i., Behold the divine Wage
Awhile to quiet, Lord, to Thee, 1179, i., Thrupp, J. F.

Balaam de qua criticorum, 351, ii., Epiphanium Domino
Bald ist die Nacht vorbei, 1166, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Bald naht ich überwunden; Zu euer Nacht, o Welt, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
Banners of our King are streaming, 1232, i., Vexilla Regis prodeunt
Baptist Savior blessed, John august and holy (O vincis Felix martirque celsa), 1205, ii., Ut queant laxis tuorum fibris
Baptized in Christ we put on Christ, 1294, i., Wordsworth, C.
Baptized into our Saviour's death, 937, i., Crosby, J.
Baptized into our Saviour's death, our souls (Dodridge), 982, ii., Bleaden, ye children of your God
Baptized into his Name, 981, ii., Davis, T.
Baptized into Thy Savior's death, 1146, ii., That holy rite, that solemn vow
Baptized into Thy name most holy, 960, ii., Ich bin getauft auf meines Namen
Baarkol hyiaw, hoy vaadayaw, 238, ii., Clemens, T. F.
Battled in many a sad bereavement (Doom lies), 93, i., Alone but o-dower rises
Battled in many and deeply grieving, 1083, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
Be blyth, all Christin men, and sing, 831, ii., Nun wend wir ein liebes Christkindlein
Be brave, my brother, 151, ii., Neale, H.
Be calm, my spirit, fixed (O Gottheid), 965, ii., Bird, J.
Be glad now, all ye christen men, 840, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituelle Songes: 831, ii., Nun freut euch liebes Christengemein
Be Thy bounding to Thy merit, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
Be ti my only wisdom here, 1003, ii., Wesley family, The
Be known to us in breaking bread, 643, i., Grosse
Be light and glad, in God rejoice (Ps. lxxxii., Hopkins), 866, ii., Old Version
Be merciful, O God of grace, 256, ii., Conder, J.
Be merciful to me, O God, 1022, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Be merciful to us, O God, 256, ii., Conder, J.
Be mercifull to me, o God (Psalm lvii., Scot), 1022, ii., Scottish hymnody
Be mine the wings of faith to rise, 624, ii., Give me the wings of faith to rise
Be near us, Prince of peace, 133, ii., Bell, C. D.
Be not afraid to pray: to pray is right, 942, i., Coleridge, H.
Be not grieved, ye little flock, 1102, i., Summi pastilos gregis
Be not disheartened, little flock, 93, i., Alsenberg, J. M.
Be not disheartened in time of need, 413, i., Gerhardt, P.
Be not dismayed, thou little flock, although the foe (Dr. Mrs. Charles), 93, i., Alsenberg, J. M.
Be not dismayed, thou little flock, for (Dr. E. Mantle), 93, i., Alsenberg, J. M.
Be not weary, toiling Christian, 734, ii., Midlane, A.
Be of good cheer in all your wants, 411, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Be our God with thanks adored, 807, ii., Held, H.
Be present at our table, Lord, 216, i., Cennick, J.; 967, i., Grosse
Be present, Holy Father, Th. ii., Adsit Pater supremus
Be present, Holy Father, to bless our work to-day, 963, i., Roberts (née Blakney), Martha S.
Be present, Holy Trinity! Th-equal Light, 22, i., Adesto Sancta Trinitas
Be present, Holy Trinity: Like splendour, 22, i., Adesto Sancta Trinitas
Be present, ye faithful—ii. O God of God, 21, i., Adesto fidelis
Be present, ye faithful—ii. O Very God of Very God, 21, i., Adesto fidelis
Be silent, O sad lamentation, 291, ii., Dem Irgen sein nämen
Be still, be still, impatient soul, 309, i., Cody, G.
Be still, my heart, these anxious cares, 998, i., Newton, W. D.
Be still, my soul, for God is near, 709, ii., Maclagan, W. D.
Be still, my soul, Jehovah leads thee, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
Be still, my soul! the Lord is on thy side, 1009, ii., Gerhardt, Catherine A. F., von
Be strong, my heart, be high thy vow, 334, i., Es ist nichts schwer ein Christ zu sein
Be Thou our theme and story, 664, ii., Landes creatis Christicolae
Be the life of Christ thy Saviour, 1107, ii., Thomas of Kempen
Be the Eulogy By the Choir, 626, ii., Lauteuhrnbe exultet fidelis chorus: Alleluia. Regem regum
Be thou content: he still before, 412, i., Gerhardt, P.
Be thou faithful unto death, 1107, ii., Thomas of Kempen
Be Thou exalted, O my God, 794, i., My God, in Whom are all the springs
Be thou faithful to the end, Let not, 906, i., Pritorius, B.
Be thou faithful unto death, 644, ii., Gough, B.
Be thou faithful unto death, and all troubles our deliverance, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
Be thou glad, my inmost being, 1264, ii., Werde munter, mein Gemüthe, Und lass dein Grämen gehn herfür
Be Thou my Friend, and look upon my heart, 699, ii., Bickersteth, E.
Be Thou my Guardian and my Guide, 119, ii., Be Thou our Guardian and our Guide: 1283, ii., Williams, Is.
Be Thou my Judge, and I will strive, 833, i., Kentucky, N. H.
Be Thou, the first on every tongue (Te lingua primum canitur), 1067, i., Sancte referris ortubus
Be Thy word with power fraught, 705, ii., Lynch, T. T.
Be tranquil, O my soul, 645, ii., Hastings, T.
Be with me, Lord, where'er I go, 216, i., Cennick, J.
Be with us all for ever more, 275, i., Faucett (nee Bond), Alice
Be with us, precious Lord, to-day, 133, ii., Bell, C. D.
Be with us, Holy Trinity (Te Trinitatis), 22, i., Adesto Sancta Trinitas
Be with us, Lord, where'er we go, 216, i., Cennick, J.
Beam of supernal glory bright, 1060, ii., Splendor paternus gloriae
Bear Jesus Christ the Lord in mind, 474, i., Gitcher, C.
Bear me on Thy royal wing, 416, i., Kempenfelt, E.
Bear the burden of thy life, 1107, ii., Thomas of Kempen
Bear the troubles of thy life (Advena transit Adam), 1035, i., Rome, S. J.; 1165, i., Thomas of Kempen
Bear Thou my burden, Thou Who bor'st my sin, 142, i., Neagle, H.
Beata Christiani vita Lauretius, 1167, ii., Thomas of Kempen
Beata Christi gemis, 1197, i., Tu qui velatus facis
Beata nobis gaudia, anni reducti arbiter, 252, ii., Hilary; 642, ii., Latin hymnody; 1207, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus mentes
Beata nobis gaudia dant solitum solemnia, 191, ii., Beata nobis gaudia Anni reducti arbiter
Beate pastor Petre clemens surge, 89, i., Antra hinc et decore nunc
Beatus ille procul negotiis ut eremi, 1060, ii., Splendor paternae gloriae
Beautiful as earth appear, 939, i., Robinson (of London), R.
Beautiful, desired, and dear, 953, i., Rawson, G.
Beautiful mansions, home of the blest, 1203, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
Beautiful Source, O King of Creation, 1016, ii., Schindler Herr Jesu
Beautiful Star, whose heavenly light, 139, ii., Bute, H. J.
Beautiful valley of Eden, 274, i., Cushing, W. O.
Because for me the Saviour prays, 672, i., Let me alone with Jesus
Because I am not finely adorning, 1097, ii., Schaffer, J.
Because this day is at an end (tr. Moravian H. B., 1754), 626, ii., Klantenberbe, F.
Bed of richness! thou art sweet, 886, i., Hiller, P. F.

1320 BED INDEX. BEH

Bedenk, o Mensch, die grosse Gnad, 414, ii., German hymnody
Befohl du deine Wege, 412, i., German hymnody
Before conversion of the heart, 979, i., Hulse, J. A.
Before Jehovah's awful throne, 1059, ii., Sing to the Lord of harvest, sing
Before the all-creating Lord, 698, i., Jubilemus omnes una
Before the Almighty began, 623, i., Kent, J.
Before the Almighty power began, 239, ii., Cobbin, I.
Before the dawning of the day, 1155, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Before the closing of the day, Creator, Thee, 1155, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Before the feast of Him Who died, 779, i., My God, accept my heart this day
Before the day shroud wear its ending, 327, i., Ellerton, J.
Before the ending of the day—i. 3, Seventh Thy blood, 1155, i., Te lucis ante terminum
Before the ending of the day—i. 3, That with Thy wonted, 1155, i., Te lucis ante terminum
Before the ending of the day—i. 3, That Thou with wonted, 1155, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Before the great Three-One, 1195, i., The God of Abraham praise
Before the heavens were spread abroad, 852, ii., Ere the heavens were spread abroad
Before the lightsome day departs, 1155, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Before the Lord God with my voice (Ps. cxiii., Norton), 866, i., Old Version
Before the Lord our Maker we, 1195, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Before the Lord we bow, 626, i., Key, F. S.
Before the throne of God, 216, ii., Chamberlain, T.
Before the throne of God above, 109, ii., Barcroft (née Hankey), Anna
Before the waning light decay (tr. sonic), 1155, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Before the waning of the light, 1155, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Before Thine awful throne, O Lord, 1, i., Bathurst, W. H.
Before Thine awful presence, Lord, 540, ii., How, W. W.
Before Thy cross, my dying Lord, 177, ii., Bathurst, W. H.
Before Thy Face, O God of old, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
Before Thy festival bowing, 696, ii., Hastings, T.
Before Thy mercy-seat, O Lord, 117, ii., Bathurst, W. H.
Before Thy mercy's throne, O Lord, 1, ii., Bell, H.
Before Thy throne, eternal King, 332, ii., Francis, B.
Before Thy throne I now appear, 510, ii., Hedenberg, B. von
Before Thy throne in fetters bound, 670, i., Greville, F.
Before Thy throne, O Lord, we bend, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Before Thy throne of grace, O Lord, 263, ii., Cotterill, T.
Before Thy throne with humbled eyes, 277, ii., Palmer, R.
Before to Sin and death He went, 931, ii., Jesus went before to Sin and death
Before us our King's banner goes, 1231, ii., Vexilla Regis prodeunt
Begin a joyful song, 213, i., Cawood, J.
Begin, my soul, some heavenly theme, 150, ii., Begin, my soul, some heavenly theme
Begin, my soul, the exalted day, 664, ii., Ogilvie, J.
Begin the glorious tap, Worthy the Lamb, 272, i., Jackson, S.
Begin the glorious tap, The Lord is risen to-day, 620, i., Jackson, S.: 620, ii., Let joyous fifes
Begone, dark night, no voice disperse, 830, ii., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila
Begone, O lord of care, begone, 819, ii., Hensel, Luise
Begone, unbelief, my Saviour is near, 804, i., Newton, J.
Behind a cloud the edges bright, 1264, ii., Wesley hymnody
Behind and before, 1256, i., Steele, Sarah G.
Behold, a chilling voice and clear (Ein clara von reiergeist, tr. Trapps), 1233, i., Vox clara ecce intonat
Behold a humble train, 631, ii., Harford, E.
Behold a little child, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Behold a little child, 543, i., How, W. W.
Behold a Prophet, yea, and more, 1180, i., Yonge (née Bargus), Frances M.
Behold a Rose of Jesse's stem! tender Babe, 210, ii., Carols: 213, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Behold a stranger at the door, 479, ii., Grigg, J.
Behold a wretch in woe, 1020, ii., Scott, T.
Behold, according to Thy word, 818, i., Now let Thy servant die in peace
Behold an Israelite indeed, 966, ii., Cope, A. C.
Behold, and have regard (Ps. cxxxiv., Keble), 866, i., Old Version
Behold and so forget not this, 663, i., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituelle Songes
Behold, behold, the mighty dawn mined, 1189, ii., Two clouds before the summer gate
Behold! at Herod's Herod's doom, 1264, i., Wordsworth, C.
Behold, behold, he cometh, 514, ii., Hermann (née Hoheisel), Catharina
Behold, behold! what wonders here, 611, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Behold Christ's heralds through all time, 231, i., Christi germines exorti
Behold From heaven a Saviour sent, 709, i., Missum imperat Angelum
Behold He comes, and every eye, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Behold He comes, the glorious King, 1186, i., Tritton, J.
Behold He comes, Thy King most holy, 1242, ii., Webb, B.
Behold, I build an house for God, 1207, ii., Ho! ye that thirst, approach the spring
Behold the cometh from afar, 1246, ii., Whitsel, G.
Behold how glorious is my joy (Ave, Ave), 877, i., Nicolai, P.
Behold how good a thing, it is to dwell in peace, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Behold, how good a thing it is, 127, ii., Behold how good a thing it is, And how Behold how sweet it is to see, 776, ii., Miller, M.
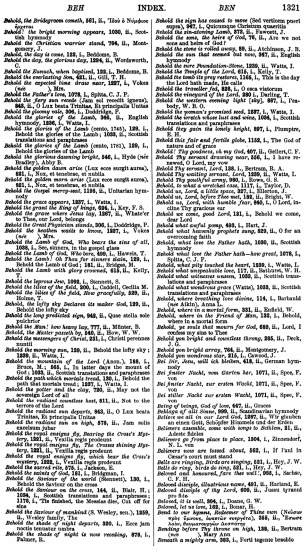
Behold I come, and with me bring, 230 i., Darling, T.
Behold I come with joy to do, 883, ii., Lo, I come with joy to do
Behold, O shiney, the golden light (Lux ecce surgit aurea), 880, ii., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila
Behold! long-wished-for spring is come, 145, ii., Hleak winter is subdued at length
Behold, my God, the stormy seas, 1097, ii., Sieh hier o sieh ich Herr Jesu!
Behold me, Lord, and if Thou find, 989, i., Cody, O.
Behold me standing at the door, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
Behold my Beloved cometh to the Lord, 128, ii., Behold my Saviour! see Him rise
Behold my Servant, see Him rise (Anon.), 188, ii., Bruce, M.: 1235, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Behold my Servant! see him rise (anon), 128, i., Behold my Saviour! see him rise
Behold my Servant, Whom I send, 1030, ii., Scottish hymnody
Behold, my soul, the narrow bounds, 865, ii., Remark, how narrow the narrow bounds
Behold, now is the Saviour near, 622, ii., Grogor, C.
Behold! night's shadows fade, 597, i., Ecce jam noctis tenuatur umbra
Behold, now is the accepted time, 290, ii., Ecce tempus acceptabile
Behold, O God, for Thou alone (Ps. lxxiv.), 900, ii., New Version
Behold, O God, how lawless hosts (Ps. lxxiv.), 900, ii., New Version
Behold, O God, we thankful to Thy praise, 227, i., Clayton (née Steele), Dominator Deus
Behold, O Lord, before Thy throne, 1037, ii., See, gracious God, before Thy throne
Behold, O Lord, my days are made, 1093, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Behold, O World, thy Light, thy Lord, 843, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Licht
Behold one cometh from afar, 1246, ii., Wetsel, G.
Behold, the comet, in silence, 1255, ii., Wilson, Jane
Behold the Bridegroom cometh, 1241, ii., Hinge sikh, B.
Behold that bright, that hallowed ray, 1197, ii., Ubi stratis ne Lucis der Ewigkeit
Behold the accepted time appear, 321, i., Ecce tempus idoneum
Behold the amazing gift of love (Watts, verse), 1035, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Behold the amazing height of love, 131, ii., Behold what wondrous grace
Behold! the ambassador divine (Trans), 127, ii., Behold the ambassador divine, Who brings
Behold the appointed time is now, 321, i., Ecce tempus idoneum
Behold the ark of God, 778, i., Muhlenberg, W. A.
Behold, the Baptist's warning sounds, 606, ii., Jordan's sacred stream
Behold the blood-besprinkled train, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Behold the Bridegroom cometh, 1246, ii., Whitsel, G.
Behold, the bread of angels sent (Ecce panis angelorum), 696, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem



Behold, the Bridegroom cometh, 861, ii., 'Ιδού ὁ Νυμφίος ἔρχεται.

Behold! the bright morning appears, 1090, ii., Scottish hymnody

Behold! the Christian warrior stand, 794, ii., Montgomery, J.

Behold, the day is come, 139, i., Beddome, B.

Behold the day, the glorious day, 1264, ii., Wordsworth, C.

Behold the Messiah, when baptized, 138, i., Beddome, B.

Behold the everlasting Son, 631, ii., 632, T. H.

Behold the sepulchre drear mass, 1227, i., Yokes ton) Mrs.

Behold the Father's love, 1278, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

Behold the fiery sun reside (Jam sol recedit igneus), 865, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Behold the glad eventide, 1090, ii., Scottish hymnody

Behold the glories of the Lamb, 555, ii., English hymnody, 1836, i., Watts, I.

Behold the glories of the Lamb (omits, 1785), 139, i., Behold the glories of the Lamb ; 1033, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Behold the glories of the Lamb

Behold the glorious dawning bright, 546, i., Hyde (née Bradley), Abby B.

Behold the golden morn arise (Lux eoa nunpit aurea), 865, i., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila

Behold the golden morn arise (Lux eoa nunpit aurea), 865, i., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila

Behold the Gospel mercy-seat, 1196, ii., Unitarian hymns

Behold the grace appears, 1327, i., Watts, I.

Behold the grand the King of kings, 624, i., Kay, F. S.

Behold the grave where Jesus lay, 1327, ii., Whate'er to Thee, our Lord, belongs

Behold the great mysterious mistake, 208, i., Doddridge, P.

Behold the healing words to know, 1327, i., Voke ton) Mrs.

Behold the Lamb of God, Who bears the sins of all, 1033, i., See, sinners, in the gospel glass

Behold the Lamb of God, Who bore, 630, i., Hawais, T.

Behold the Lamb of God ; 141, ii., Bridges, M. ; 1033, i., Behold the Lamb of God ; 141, ii., Bridges, M. ;

Behold the Lamb with glory crowned, 612, ii., Kelly, T.

Behold the leprous Jew, 1098, i., Bennett, S.

Behold the lilies of the field, How gracefully, 529, ii., Holme, T.

Behold, the lofty sky Declares its maker God, 129, ii., Behold the lofty sky

Behold the long predicted sign, 960, ii., Quæ stella sole fulgidior

Behold the Man! how heavy lay, 777, ii., Münter, B.

Behold, the Master passeth by, 1440, ii., How, W. W.

Behold the messengers of Christ, 231, i., Christi personam nuntii

Behold the morning sun, 139, ii., Behold the lofty sky ; 1090, ii., Wade, J.

Behold the mountain of the Lord (Amen.), 168, i., Brice, M., 561, i., In latter days the mount of God ; 1033, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Behold the mountain of the Lord, 1033, ii., Behold the mount that mortals touch ; 1227, i., Watts, I.

Behold the potter and the clay, 720, ii., May not the sovereign Lord of all

Behold the radiant countless host, 811, ii., Not to the world alone

Behold the radiant sun departs, 865, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Behold the radiant sun on high, 879, ii., Jam solis cacumen jubar

Behold the radiant vestiges fly, Bearing the Cross's Mystery, 1261, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt

Behold the regal ensigns fly, The Cross's Mystery, 1261, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt

Behold the regal ensigns fly, which bear the Cross's Mystery, 1261, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt

Behold the sacred rite, 979, i., Jackson, S.

Behold the saints of God, 185, i., Bridgman, I.

Behold the Saviour of the world (Slumber), 130, i., Behold the Saviour on the cross

Behold the Saviour of the world, 544, ii., Hale, H. ; 1034, Scottish translations and paraphrases ; 1179, i., The finished, the Messian dies, Cut off for sins

Behold the Saviour of mankind (S. Wesley, sen.), 1260, i., Behold the Saviour on the cross

Behold the shade of night departs, 880, i., Ecce jam noctis tenuatur umbra

Behold the shade of night is now receding, 879, i., Palmer, R.

Behold the sign has ceased to move (Sol vestimen pueri supra), 967, i., Quicumque Christum quæritis

Behold the sin-atoning Lamb, 975, ii., Fawcett, J.

Behold the sons, the heirs of God, 76, ii., Are we not nearer and better of God?

Behold the stone is rolled away, 89, ii., Atchinson, J. R.

Behold the sure that cement but two, 967, ii., English hymnody

Behold the sure Foundation-Stone, 1259, ii., Watts, I.

Behold the Temple of the Lord, 613, i., Kelly, T.

Behold the tents of pray pastures, 1166, i., This is the day the Lord hath made, we will

Behold the traveller fed, 624, i., O cara visitatio

Behold the vineyard of the Lord, 980 i., Darling, T.

Behold the western morning light (sky), 897, i., Thackeray, W. B. G.

Behold the Word's promised seed, 1227, i., Watts, I.

Behold the wretch whose lust and wine, 1090, i., Scottish translation and paraphrases

Behold they pass the lonely height, 597, i., Plumptre, E. H.

Behold this fair and fertile globe, 1152, i., The God of nature and of grace

Behold! Thy goodness, oh my God, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.

Behold Thy servant dreaming near, 557, ii., I have reserved, O Lord, my vow

Behold Thy servant, Lord, 1238, ii., Bertram, R. A.

Behold Thy smiting servant, Lord, 1238, ii., Watts, I.

Behold Thy youthful army, 990, i., Rowe, G. S.

Behold, to what a wretched case, 1117, i., Taylor, D.

Behold us, Lord, a little space, 327, i., Ellerton, J.

Behold us, Lord, with humble fear, 1238, ii., Bertram, W.

Behold us, Lord, with humble fear, 80, ii., O Lord, incline Thy gracious ear

Behold we come, good Lord, 121, i., Behold we come, dear Lord

Behold what fearful pomp, 626, i., Hart, J.

Behold what heavenly prophets sung, 123, ii., O for an overcoming faith

Behold, what love the Father hath, 1090, ii., Scottish hymnody

Behold what love the Father hath—how great, 1076, i., Cook, J. P.

Behold what pity touched the heart, 1239, i., Watts, I.

Behold what unspeakable love, 1117, ii., Bathurst, W. H.

Behold what unlimited wisdom, 1033, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Behold what wondrous grace (Watts), 1033, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Behold, where breathing love divine, 114, i., Berkedal (nee Aitin), Anna L.

Behold, where in a mortal form, 321, ii., Riddell, W.

Behold, where in the Friend of Man, 132, i., Behold, where in the Friend of Man

Behold, ye souls that mourn for God, 692, ii., Lord, I confess my sins to Thee

Behold you bright and excellent throng, 986, ii., Peck, J. T.

Behold you bright array, 766, ii., Montgomery, J.

Behold yon wondrous star, 816, i., Caswall, J.

Bei Dir, Jesu, will ich bleiben, 618, ii., German hymnody

Bei Jesu Tuchl, von Gottes her, 1071, ii., Spee, F. von

Bei Jesuter Nachl, zur ersten Wachl, 1071, ii., Spee, F. von

Bei stiller Nachl zur ersten Wachl, 1071, ii., Spee, F. von

Beings of beings, God of love, 647, ii., Graves

Bellagio of all times, 999, ii., Sandilands, hymnody

Beliete we all to our Lord God, 1297, ii., Wir gleuben an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden

Belimers assemble, come with songs to Bethlem, 81, ii., Come with songs

Believers go from place to place, 1304, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von

Believers now are tuned about, 562, i., If I rod in Cæsar's court must stand

Believers, rejoice and sing, 231, i., Hey, J. W.

Bells in cray, Words in song, 837, i., Hey, J. W.

Beloved and honoured, fair thee well ; 866, i., Sachse, C. F. H.

Beloved disciple, Glastonian name, 401, ii., Harland, R.

Beloved, in the height of the Lord, 699, ii., Jones hymnid Sion

Beloved, it is well, 904, i., Dunn, G. W.

Beloved, let us love, 162, i., Bonar, H.

Bend to our hymns, Redeemer of Time sum (Veleur Deus, tuorum temporum), 861, ii., Rerum Deus tenax vigor

Bending before Thy throne on high, 138, ii., Bertram ous) Mary Ann

Beneath a mighty arm, 360, i., Forti tegemur brachio

Beneath Moriah's rocky side, 707, ii., McCheyne, R. M.

Beneath our feet, and o'er our head, 556, i., Bidder, H.

Beneath the altar of the Lord, 588, ii., Everett, J.

Beneath the Church's hallowed shade, 1179, i., Thring, G.

Beneath the cross of Jesus, 238, ii., Clephane, Elizabeth C.

Beneath the eye of Jesus, 1205, i., Dannehoff, T. I. von

Beneath the fig-tree's gently'ad shade, 1060, i., Bingham, R. C.

Beneath the shadow of the Cross, 668, ii., Longfellow, S.

Beneath the star-lit arch, 321, i., Ere ever with the Lord

Beneath this starry arch, 712, ii., Martineau, Harriet

Beneath Thine banner, Lord, I lie, 998, ii., Hodge, F. H.

Beneath Thy Cross, I lay me down, 1264, ii., Williams, W.

Beneath Thy gracious care, O Shepherd dear, 1180, i., Thebaud, F. S.

Beneath Thy wings, O God, I rest, 1190, ii., Under Thy wings, O God, I rest

Benedicta semper sancta sit Trinitas, 816, i., Notker

Benedicta sit beata Trinitas, 816, i., Notker Balbulus

Benedicte precibus fer, Sacrificemus, 816, i., Notker

Bénit soit à jamais le grand Dieu d'Israel (Benedictus), 291, ii., French hymnody

Benigne Creator, Auctor, 97, ii., Audi benigne Conditor

Benjamin dum Joseph adhuc vivit, 1146, i., Quicumque, G.

Bereit sie dann, diese ängstlich Brust, 513, i., Hermann, Sr

Bescherrte Herr, lap ab die Sorgen, 1366, ii., Wagner, Ch. G.

Beside the tree grows standing, 55, ii., Am Grabe steht ein Baum

Beside the shore of Galilee, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody

Besprinkle with Thy blood, my heart, 646, i., Hutton, J.

Bestow, O Lord, upon our youth, 138, ii., Bestow, dear Lord, upon our youth

Bete nur! bete nur (Kühler), 316, i., Dunn, Catherine H.

Betet an, weltarme Sünder, 625, i., Hiller, F. F.

Bethlehem, above all cities blest, 813, ii., Keble, J.

Bethlehem! earth's noblest cities, 966, ii., Quicumque Christum quæritis

Bethlehem hath opened Eden, 976, ii., Bonaventura

Bethlehem! of noblest cities, 966, ii., Quicumque Christum quæritis, 975, i., Roman Catholic hymnody

Bethlem, not the least of cities, 966, ii., Quicumque Christum quæritis

Betlemet O hearts, ye children, well, 620, ii., Knapp, A.

Betrachte wir heut zu dieser Fest, 979, i., Rob, J.

Betrothed in love, are time begun, 822, i., Kent, J.

Beware, O man, lest endless life, 272, ii., Dach, S.

Beweg' Vater's Word, 1126, i., To keep the lamp alive

Beyond, beyond that boundless sea, 139, ii., Beyond, beyond the boundless sea ; 556, ii., Conder, J.

Beyond, beyond the starry skies, 140, i., Beyond the starry skies, beyond

Beyond the bounds of time and space, 910, ii., Come on, my partners in distress

Beyond the dark and stormy bound, 185, i., Bowdler, J.

Beyond the dark river a land I behold, 861, i., Corgrave, G. T.

Beyond the glittering starry skies, 140, i., Beyond the glittering, starry globes ; 304, i., Fasch, J. ; 1126, L. Turnel, D.

Beyond the holy city walls, 140, ii., Beyond the wicked city walls

Beyond the starry skies, 140, i., Beyond the glittering, starry globes

Beyond the veil, 360, i., English hymnody

Beyond this glittering starry sky, 140, i., Beyond the glittering, starry skies

Bidge of man, 779, i., Mackrin, D.

Bhaskian rémède, 1159, ii., Syriac hymnody

Blandis vocibus laeti celebremus, 816, i., Notker

Bleeding hearts defiled by sin, 684, ii., Hastings, T.

Bless and keep us, Lord, 1126, i., Turner, D.

Bless God, my soul ; Thou, Lord, alone (Ps. ciii.), 900, ii., New Version

Bless God, that towards eternity, 399, i., Francke, A. H.

Bless God, ye servants that attend (Ps. cxxxiv.), 901, i., New Version

Bless, Lord, Thy holy Church, 279, ii., Father, we humbly pray

Bless me this day, Lord Jesus, 1220, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz ! und singe

Bless, O bless, in opening year, 818, ii., Now may fervent prayer arise

Bless, O Lord, each opening year, 818, ii., Now may fervent prayer arise

Bless, O Lord the opening year, 818, ii., Now may fervent prayer arise

Bless, O Lord, this opening year, 818, ii., Now may fervent prayer arise

Bless the Lord of glory, 771, ii., Monle, H. C. G.

Bless thou Thy servant, gracious Lord, 1296, i., Wordsworth, C.

Bless us, Father, this solemn praise record, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.

Blest'd. See also Blessed and Blest

Blest'd are the feet which bring the news, 202, ii., Fair are the feet which bring the news

Blest be this day, fair Chertsy, 1090, ii., Scottish hymnody

Blest'd be the everlasting God (Watts), 1033, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Blest'd is the man whom Thou, O Lord (Ps. xxiv.), 900, ii., New Version

Blest'd Jesu, here at my side, 806, i., Dear Angel ever at my side

Blest'd Lord, my wandering heart recall, 655, i., Great God, where'er we pitch our tent

Blest'd morning, whose young dawning rays, 1036, i., Scottish hymnody, 1090, Scottish hymnody

Blest'd Spirit of truth, Sanctifier, 327, i., Eternal Spirit, Source of truth ; 1273, ii., Spirit of Truth, Thy grace impart

Blest'd who with generous pity glows, 311, ii., Drennan, W.

Blest'd with the presence of their God, 85, i., Around Thy table, Holy Lord ; 1036, ii., Shaftesbury hymnbook ; 1165, i., This is the feast of heavenly wine

Blessed, See also Blest'd, Messit, and Most

Blessed are all that fear the Lord, 643, ii., Goudy

Blessed are all that fear the Lord, 644, ii., Goudy

Blessed Jesus, Judah's glory, 235, i., Clara dist gesalla

Blessed are all that fear the Lord, 643, ii., Goudy

Blessed are all that fear the Lord, 644, ii., Goudy

Blessed are all that fear the Lords, 642, ii., Goudy

Psalmes and Spirituale Songes (No. 36) ; 1201, i., Wohl dem, der in Gottes Furcht steht

Blessed are the dead who die, 645, ii., Gough, B.

Blessed are the heirs of heaven, 626, ii., Klopstock, F. G.

Blessed are the humble souls that see, 166, i., Blest'd are the humble souls that see

Blessed are the pure in heart, They have, 103, ii., Bonar, H.

Blessed are the sons of God, 643, i., Humphreys, J.

Blessed are they that perfect are (Ps. cxix., Whittingham), 900, i., Old Version

Blessed are they to whom the Lord (Ps. xxxii.), 902, ii., New Version

Blessed are they who have not seen, 912, i., Bowers, G.

Blessed are they who mourn for sin, 203, ii., Cotterill, T.

Blessed art thou that feared God (Ps. cxxviii., Sternhold), 900, ii., New Version

Blessed be for ever more, 622, i., Hallelujah ! Raise, O raise

Blessed be God, He is not strict, 256, ii., Conder, J.

Blessed be God, our God, 162, ii., Bonar, H.

Blessed be the everlasting God, 1033, ii., Scottish hymnody

Blessed be the everlasting God, 146, ii., Blest'd be the everlasting God

Blessed be the Lord most High, 715, ii., Mant, R.

Blessed be Thy love, dear Lord, 691, i., Lord, now the storm is o'er Blessed be Thy Name for ever, 626, ii., Hopp, J.

Blessed city, heavenly Salem, Land of glory, 926, ii., O beata Hierusalem, præclarata civitas

Blessed City, Heavenly Salem, Vision voice, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Blessed city, heavenly Salem, Vision dawn of peace and love, 1199, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Blessed city, heavenly Salem, Vision fair of peace and rest, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Blessed city, heavenly nation, 677, ii., Hierusalem dilecta of these are spoken

Blessed City, holy Salem, Home of peace, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Blessed city, holy Salem, Vision fair, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Blessed city, mission true (Urbs beata, vera pacis), 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Blessed Comforter, come down, 1206, i., Saviour, I Thy Church defend Blessed Father, Great Creator, 815, ii., Carswell, J.

Blessed feasts of blessed martyrs, 606, ii., O beata beatorum

Blessed Fountain, full of grace, 615, i., Kelly, T.

Blessed Jesu, hold we the Fallen [wo?e], 760, ii., Mercer, S. D. H.

Blessed is he who hath built for His Church a house not made with hands, 1113, i., Dykes hymnody

Blessed is the faithful heart, 845, ii., Dawson

Blessed Jesu, at Thy word, 827, ii., Cennick, C. H.

Blessed Jesus, at Thy word, 827, ii., Cennick, C.

Blessed Jesus, blessed Jesus, 1188, ii., Turner, E.

Blessed Jesus, even part, 98, ii., Are Jesu! Ere we part

Blessed Jesus, here we stand, 670, ii., Liebster Jesu, wir sind hier, Liebster Jesu, wir stehen

Blessed Jesus, Lord and Master, 605, i., Havergal, W. H.

Blessed Jesu, Lord and Master, 218, ii., Charlesworth, J.

Blessed Jesus, we are here, 228, i., Clausnitzer, T.

Blessed Jesus, we are here, Faith and hope and love generating, 675, ii., Liebster Jesu wir sind hier Indem Wirke nachstehen (Schmolck)

Blessed Jesus, while Thou hear'st us, 168, ii., Benedikt Schmolck, Salomo Franck

Blessed Lord, our hearts are panting, 893, i., Peters (né Bowly), Mary

Blessed Lord, our souls are longing, 893, i., Peters (né Bowly), Mary

Blessed Saviour, Thou hast sought us, 975, ii., Liebster Jesu, wir sind hier Indessen Wirte nachstehen

Blessed Lord, who Thee receive, 900, i., Dobe (né Schlueter), Anna

Blessed morning, whose young dawning rays, 146, ii., Into the heaven of the heavens hath he gone

Blessed mother for all other, 1205, ii., O Jerusalem cernus unius sanctam desideret

Blessed night, when Bethlehem's plain, 147, ii., Blessed night, when first that plain

Blessed Sabbath of our [the] Lord, 1119, i., Taylor, John

Blessed Saviour, long expected, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Blessed Saviour, hear us when we cry, 1207, ii., Stowell, T. A.

Blessed Saviour, I would praise Thee, 1119, i., Taylor (né Bowly), Sabbath H.

Blessed Saviour, Thou I love, 315, ii., Duffield, G.

Blessed Saviour, Thou hast sought us, 1179, i., Thrupp, G.

Blessed souls in heaven rejoice (Harum laudium presentia), 23, i., Autorei lumi gaudia

Blessed Son, whose splendour, 839, ii., O Jesu, meine Freude

Blessing and honour and glory and power, 469, ii., Into the heaven of the heavens hath he gone

Blessing and honour, praise and love, 365, ii., Father of all, Whose powerful voice

Blessing, and honour, and power, 907, ii., Salvation, O the joyful sound

Blessing to God, for ever blest, 647, ii., Grace

Blessit sir they that sit in Goddis dreid, 1201, i., Wald dem, der in Gottes Furcht sitzt

Blest are the dead, 1208, ii., Blessed

Blest are ye Thine afflicted congregation, 699, i., Liverantera, W. A. van

Blest angels who adoring wait, 140, i., Beyond the glittering, starry globes

Blest are the humble souls, 1209, ii., Montrie, J.

Blest are the humble souls that see, 146, i., Blessed are the humble souls that see; 1207, i., Watts, I.

Blest are the pure in heart (mundo), 146, ii., Blessed are the pure in heart

Blest are the sons of peace, 1230, ii., Watts, I.

Blest are the souls who hear and keep, 144, i., Blest are the souls that hear and know

Blest are the undefiled in heart, 1225, ii., Watts, I.

Blest are they for all evasion, 939, i., Christe, qui lux es et dies

Blest are they, supremely blest, 1201, ii., Wolff, J. G.

Blest are ye, ye chosen Saviour, 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

Blest be Jehovah, Mighty Lord, 1202, i., Wrook, B.

Blest be my God that I was born, 713, ii., Mason, J.

Blest be the everlasting God, 166, ii., Blessed be the everlasting God

Blest be, O Lord, the grace of Love, 71, i., Anna-Christus sanctorum Domino

Blest be our everlasting Lord, 1203, ii., Wesley family, The

Blest be the everlasting God, 166, ii., Blessed be the everlasting God

Blest be the God of love, 130, ii., Bakker, G. B.

Blest be the hour when friends shall meet, 1186, ii., Turner, E.

Blest be the Lord, my Strength, that doth (Ps. cxliv., Norton), 966, i., Old Version

Blest be the Lord Who heard my prayer, 317, i., Dwight, T.

Blest be the tie that binds, 118, i., Baptist hymnody; 278, ii., Fawcett, J.

Blest is the wisdom and the power, 1208, ii., Watts, I.

Blest be Thou, the [O] God of Israel, 978, i., Onderkiek, H. G.

Blest be Thy love, dear [great] Lord, 691, i., Lord, now be the tiny retinue

Blest Comforter! come, Lord our God!, 691, ii., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott

Blest Comforter Divine, 1204, i., Sigourney (née Huntley), Lydia

Blest Creator of the light, 799, ii., Lucis Creator optime

Blest Day of God, most calm, most bright, 149, ii., Blest day of God, most calm, most bright

Blest day on which the Saviour rose, 276, ii., Felix dies, quam propitia

Blest day when dawn'd to die no more, 276, i., Felix dies, quam propitia

Blest day when From the Saviour flowed, 276, ii., Felix dies, quam propitia

Blest day when our ascended Lord, 140, ii., Blest season when our risen Lord

Blest Feast of love divine, 1197, i., Sweet feast of love divine

Blest Framer of the starry height (Creator alme siderum), 205, i., Conditor alme siderum

Blest be whose timely mercies heal, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.

Blest hour, when mortal man retires, 943, i., Raffles, T.

Blest hour when virtuous friends shall meet, 1186, ii., Unitarian hymns

Blest in Thyself, crowned things, 932, ii., Zebus creatis omnia

Blest inhabitants of Zion, 627, ii., Glorious things of thee are spoken

Blest Instructor, from Thy ways, 640, ii., God, the heavens aloud proclaim; 721, ii., Magrick, J.

Blest is our joy! The time have come, 1205, ii., Urbs beata vera pacis, Dei cives, Hierusalem

Blest is the man that fears the Lord, 1209, ii., Butcher, E.

Blest is the man that [who] fears the Lord, 1209, i., Butcher, E.

Blest is the man who knows the Lord, 792, ii., Lyte, H. F.

Blest is the man who shuns the plain, 1210, ii., Watts, I.

Blest is the man who walks with God, 1209, i., Wald dem, der in Gottes Furcht sitzt

Blest is the man who walks with God, 536, i., How blest the man who never trod

Blest is the man whose heart doth move, 140, i., Blest hour when virtuous friends shall meet

Blest is the man whose mercies move, 140, i., Blest is the man whose bowels move

Blest is the man whose pitying eye, 1195, i., Unitarian hymnody

Blest is the man whose softening heart, 132, i., Behold where breathing love divine

Blest is the man whose spirit shares, 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.

Blest is the man whose tender heart, 132, i., Behold where breathing love divine

Blest is the tie that binds, 118, ii., Blest be the tie that binds

Blest is the work in wisdom's ways, 140, i., Blest is the man whose heart expands

Blest Jesu, come Thou gently down, 907, i., Reiter, rein Jesu, komm herunter

Blest Jesu, to Thy gracious Board, 598, i., Jesu, an Whose supreme command

Blest Jesu! what delicious fare, 964, ii., Far from my thoughts, vain world, begone

Blest Jesu, when we marring thoughts, 606, i., Hogtebolsum, O

Blest Jesus, while in mortal flesh, 781, ii., My Jesus, while in mortal flesh

Blest joys for mighty wonders wrought, 120, ii., Beata cuncta pro mirabilibus

Blest Lamb of God, Whose dying love, 636, ii., Lamb of God, Whose bleeding love

Blest Light, eternal Trinity, 965, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

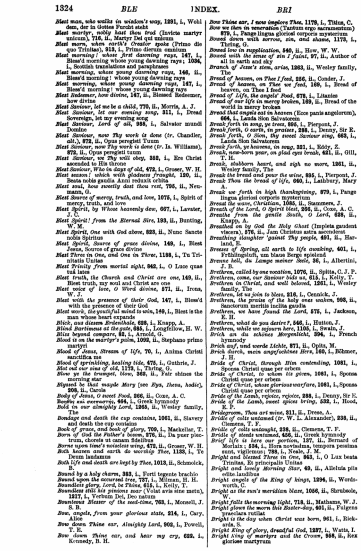
Blest Lord, Thy Church is Thine, 1098, ii., Strong, N.

Blest Lord, the crown of great renown, 994, i., Sacrorum meritis laudis gaudia

Blest Maker of the light, 791, i., Lucis Creator optime

Blest Maker of the light, by Whom, 701, i., Lucis Creator optime

Blest Maker of the radiant light, 701, i., Lucis Creator optime



Blest man, who walks in wisdom's way, 1201, i., Wohl dem, der in Gottes Furcht sitzt

Blest Martyr, Christ's own witness true (Invicte martyr ardens), 716, ii., Martyr Dei qui unicum

Blest morn, when earth's Creator spoke (Primo die quo Trinitas), 813, i., Primo dierum omnium

Blest morning! whose first dawning rays, 147, i., Blessed morning! whose young dawning rays; 1206, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Blest morning, whose young dawning rays, 146, ii., Blessed morning! whose young dawning rays

Blest morning, whose young dawning rays, 147, i., Blessed morning! whose young dawning rays

Blest Redeemer, true divine, 167, ii., Blessed Redeemer, how divine

Blest Saviour, let me be a child, 779, ii., Morris, A. J.

Blest Saviour, let our evening song, 211, i., Dread Sovereign, let my evening song

Blest Saviour, Lord of all, 988, i., Salvator mundi Domine

Blest Saviour, now Thy work is done (tr. Chandler, alt.), 972, ii., Opus peregisti Tuum

Blest Saviour, now Thy work is done (tr. Ps. Williams), 972, ii., Opus peregisti tuum

Blest Saviour, Who to dregs of old, 972, i., Ere Christ ascended to His throne

Blest Saviour, Who to dregs of old, 973, i., Greaney, W. H.

Blest season! which with gladness Evangel, 120, ii., Beata nobis gaudia Anni reducis curriculo

Blest Spirit, how sweetly dost thou rest, 700, ii., Newcomen, J.

Blest Source of mercy, truth, and love, 1078, i., Spirit of mercy, truth, and love

Blest Spirit, by Whose heavenly dew, 907, i., Lavater, J. C.

Blest Spirit! from the Eternal Sire, 193, ii., Burning, W. H.

Blest Spirit, One with God above, 893, ii., Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus

Blest Trinity, Source of grace divine, 149, i., Blest Jesus, Source of grace divine

Blest Three in One, and One in Three, 1198, i., Tu Trinitatis Unitas

Blest Trinity From mortal sight, 963, i., O Lux quæ latebras

Blest [Truth, for Church and Christ are one, 149, ii., Blest truth, my soul and Christ are one

Blest voice of love, O Word divine, 271, ii., Irons, W. J.

Blest with the presence of their God, 147, i., Blessed with the presence of their God

Blest word, the prayerful mind to win, 149, i., Blest is the man whose heart expands

Blick, zum diesem Erdenthale, 628, i., Knapp, A.

Blind Bartimæus at the gate, 881, i., Longfellow, H. W.

Blise beyond compare, 82, i., Arnold, S.

Blissit be that martyr's pains, 1202, ii., Stephano primo martyri

Blood of Jesus, Stream of life, 70, i., Anima Christi sanctifica me

Blood of sprinkling, lasting tide, 676, i., Gutheir, J.

Blow ye the trumpet, blow, 592, i., Fair shines the morning star

Blyssit be the bonyde Mary (see Ryn, thens, bodie), 205, ii., Dun

Body of Jesus, O sweet Food, 966, ii., Cosa, A. C.

Boadhs an eaccnarrig, 624, i., Greek hymnody

Bold to our almighty Lord, 1205, ii., Wesley family, The Bond and death the cup contrives, 1021, ii., Slavery

Book of grace, and book of glory, 720, i., Mackellar, T.

Born of God the Father's Source, 976, ii., In puer piorum, dextra sedens Sabbatis

Borne triumphant, sainted army, 672, ii., Gruner, W. H.

Both hymn and sermon do worship Thee, 1159, i., Ye Deum laudamus

Both life and death are kept by Thee, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.

Bound by a holy charm, 393, i., Forti tegmin benitatis

Bound upon the accursed tree, 727, i., Mitchell, A. H.

Boundless glory, Lord, is Thine, 618, i., Kelly, T.

Boundless skill for princes nor (Vulnt aves sine nata), 1211, i., Verbum Dei, Deo natum

Brahmins! Master of the soul-time, 703, i., Mossell, J. H.

Bow, angels, from your glorious state, 216, i., Cary, Alice

Bow down Thine ear, Almighty Lord, 903, i., Powell, T. E.

Bow down Thine ear, and hear my cry, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.

Bow Thine ear, I now implore Thee, 1179, i., Thiua, C.

Bow us then in veneration (Tantum ergo sacramentum) 1211, i., Tantum ergo sacramentum, Veneremur cernui

Bowed down with sorrow, and shame, 1210, i., Thring, G.

Bowed low in supplication, 940, ii., How, W. W.

Bowed with the sense of sin I faint, 97, ii., Author of faith eternal, The Branch of Aaron's stem, arise, 1203, ii., Wesley family, The Bread of heaven, on Thee I feed, 595, ii., Conder, J.

Bread of heaven, on Thee we feed, 599, i., Bread of heaven, on Thee I feed

Bread of life, the angels' food, 672, i., Litanies

Bread of our life in mercy broken, 599, ii., Bread of the world in mercy broken

Bread that angels eat on heaven (Esca panis angelorum), 599, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem

Bread, forth to sing, ye priests, 1211, i., Pierpont, J.

Bread, forth to sing, ye priests, 1211, i., Dewing, Sir E.

Break forth, O Sion, thy sweet Saviour sing, 603, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem

Break forth, ye heavens, in songs, 321, i., Eddy, Z.

Break, new-born year, on glad eyes break, 631, ii., Gill, T. H.

Break, stubborn heart, and sigh no more, 1201, ii., Wesley family, The Break the bread and pour the wine, 595, i., Pierpont, J.

Break Thou the bread of life, 660, i., Lathbury, Mary A.

Break we forth in high thanksgiving, 979, i., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium

Bread lie more, Christians, 1205, ii., Hammers, J.

Breath of the Lord, O Spirit blest, 206, ii., Cosa, A. C.

Breathe on me, Breath of God, 1206, ii., Burton, Elizabeth A.

Breathed on by God the Holy Ghost (Inspirés gardent vîmes), 276, ii., Les Christes soits accordent

Breathing slaughter 'gainst Thy people, 691, ii., Harmer, J.

Breath of Spring, all earth to life awaking, 601, i., Frühlingsluft, um blaue Berge spielend

Breeze hat die Lange meiner Seele, 26, i., Albertini, J. B.

Brethren, called by one vocation, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Brethren, come, our Saviour bids us, 613, i., Kelly, T.

Brethren in Christ, and well beloved, 1201, i., Wesley family, The Brethren, let us join to bless, 216, i., Cennick, J.

Brethren, the praise of the holy race unites, 960, ii., Unitarian metrische lieder gedicht

Brethren, we have found the Lord, 670, i., Jackson, W. H.

Brethren, what do you desire? 946, i., Heaton, J.

Brethren, while we sojourn here, 1190, i., Swain, J.

Brich an dir schönes Morgenlicht, 598, i., French version

Brich mir!, und werde bleiche, 871, ii., Opitz, M.

Brich thrich, mein angefochtnes Herz, 180, i., Böhmer, J. H.

Bride of Christ, through Him contending, 1081, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

Bride of Christ, to whom He gives, 1081, i., Spouse Christi quæ per orbem

Bride of Christ, whose glorious warfare, 1081, i., Spouse Christi quæ per orbem

Bright and blessed scene, rejoice, 288, i., Denny, Sir E.

Bride of the Lamb, sweet spouse living, 538, i., Hood, E. P.

Bridegroom, Thou art mine, 211, ii., Dress, A.

Bridegroom's voice entoned (Pr. W. L. Alexander), 338, ii., Dawson, J. F.

Bridle of calm assuaging, 218, ii., Clemens, T. F.

Bridle of steeds untamed, 626, ii., Greek hymnody

Bright lights to save our portion, 127, ii., Servant of God, well done; 1207, i., Watts, I., Unitarian hymnody, Isaiah ix. 2

Bright and blessed scene, rejoice, 288, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Bright and lovely morning Star, 93, ii., Allerlei pia cithe laudibus

Bright as the King of kings, 1206, ii., Wordsworth, C.

Bright as the sun's meridian blaze, 1066, ii., Steinhofel, W.

Bright falls the morning light, 718, ii., Mathams, W. J.

Bright flowers of Judah's root, 1204, ii., Unitarian hymnody, Isaiah xi. 1

Bright is the day when Christ was born, 901, i., Riekards, S.

Bright King of glory, dreadful God, 1207, i., Watts, I.

Bright the vision that delighted (Quem terra, pontus), 1212, ii., Sex glorious martyrs

Bright Parent of celestial Name, 886, i., Pater supreme luminis

Bright Presence! may my soul have part, 631, ii., Gill, T. H.

Bright Queen of heaven, 1206, i., Vaughan, H.

Bright Queen of saints, 182, i., Bright Queen of heaven

Bright rose! in you that Easter-day (Paschale mane), 1206, i., Aurora lucis rutilat

Bright shadows of true rest! Some shoots of blest, 1206, i., Vaughan, H.

Bright Source of everlasting love, 121, ii., Boden, J.

Bright sunbeams do (Sol lucis orbem cedunt), 1206, i., Aurora lucis rutilat

Bright the vision that delighted, 666, i., Lord, Thy glory fills the heaven; 715, ii., Mant, R.

Bright Thy presence when it brandish, 631, ii., Gill, T. H.

Bright was the guiding star that led, 96, ii., Anter, Bridges, M.

Bright were the mornings first departed, 181, ii., Bridges, M.

Bright with all His crowns of glory, 208, i., Denny, Sir E.

Brighter, still, and brighter, 995, ii., Saviour, blessed Saviour

Brighter than meridian splendour, 696, i., Havergal, W. H.

Brightest and best of the sons of the morning, 603, ii., Heber, R.

Brightly beams our Father's mercy, 146, ii., Bliss, P.

Brightly gleams our banner, 908, i., Potter, T. J.

Brightly hopeful for the future, 785, i., Maxwell, J. S. B.

Brightly shines the morning star, 877, ii., Jam lucis orta sidere

Brightness of Eternal Day, 630, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, Christian

Brightness of the Eternal Glory, 1060, ii., Wesley family, The Brightness of the Father's Face, 440, i., Hammond, W.

Brightness of the Father's glory, 1060, ii., Splendor paternæ gloriæ

Brightness of the Father's glory, Light of Light, 921, ii., Consors Paterni luminis; 956, i., Deane, G. W.

Brightness of the Father's glory: Of His light, 985, i., O Splendor paternæ gloriæ

Brilliant and transparent, 392, ii., French hymnody

Bring, all ye dear-bought nations, bring, 1258, i., Virginae Panchali

Bring near Thy great salvation, 1142, i., Ten thousand times ten thousand

Bring us, O Lord, the fast, 773, ii., Medcalf, J.

Bring to Christ your last oblation, 411, i., Gerhardt, P.

Bringt her den Herren Lob und Ehr, 476, i., Günther, C.

Broad is the road that leads to death, 1297, i., Watts, I.

Brooding o'er the nether gloom, 1206, i., Aurora lucis

Brother, hast thou wandered far? 335, ii., Clarke, J. F.

Brother, was thy toils are o'er, 819, i., Now the labourer's task is o'er

Brother, thou art gone before us, 727, i., Mitman, H. H.

Brothers, hail the joyful day, 159, i., Bancroft, J. H.

Brothers, trust the holy portals, 1098, i., Strutzlitzki (née Saint), Charlotte

Brunnende Lieb, du steuer Flam, 170, i., Brennende Liebe, du steuer Flam

Brunswick's noble nation, 1179, i., Thring, G.

Burden of shame and sin, 336, i., Bulfinch, S. G.

Burdened with guilt, and pale with fear, 189, i., Bedford, R.

Burdened with guilt, wouldst thou be blest? 202, i., Bogue, D.

Buried beneath the yielding wave, 121, ii., Bedelyon, B.

Burst forth, O Bridegroom, 1099, i., Steyker, M. W.

Burst thy shackles! drop thy clay, 295, i., Doddridge

Burthen of a mournful note, 1241, i., Watts, I.

But, above all, lay hold, 1066, i., Soldiers of Christ, arise

But few among the earnest who, 1307, i., Watts, I.

But 'tis a grand reflection (Ps. lxviii., Kethe), 1241, i., Watts, I.

But there's a dreadful day, 1241, i., Watts, I.

But who shall see the glorious day, 768, i., Moore, T.

But who sufficient is to hear? 1266, ii., Wesley family, The

By Balm's fall was so fortune, 442, ii., Goudly

By Christ redeemed, in Christ restored, 960, i., Bowden, J. E.

By Christ redeemed, in God restored, 188, ii., By Christ redeemed, in Christ restored

By cool Siloam's shady rill, 199, i., By cool Siloam's shady fountain

By faith, for ever, day, 890, ii., Darling, T.

By faith I am united, 163, ii., Bourne, H.

By faith I see the land, 290, i., Jesus, at Thy command

By faith I to the Fountain fly, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The

By faith we, day to day, 1146, i., The God of Abraham praise

By faith we find the place above, 727, ii., Methodist hymnody; 1263, ii., Wesley family, The

By God's right arm stretched forth to save, 381, i., Forti tegmine brachio

By heavenly love constrained, come let our tongues relate, 993, ii., Salutarem matris inclita gaudia

By help of God I fain would tell, 199, i., His arms Lord vir beben so

By His Cross the Mother stood, Hanging on its fatal wood, 1060, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By Jordan's waters calm and clear, 1263, ii., Smith, J. G.

By my, it my Saviour, stand, 1261, i., Wesley family, The

By mystic leaves untimely taught, 359, ii., Ex more docti mystico

By new path untried before, 793, ii., Neale, J. M.

By our own strength there's nothing done, 283, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott

By pain, and weariness, and death, 793, i., Neale, J. M.

By Paul at war in Gentile lands, 1084, i., Stone, S. J.

By Peter's preaching, part, Again the fast, 331, ii., Ex more docti mystico

By prompts taught of open zeal, Now let us, 359, ii., Ex more docti mystico

By pressing dangers compassed round, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

By rule religious bound, 359, ii., Ex more docti mystico

By Shepherds first was heard, 1265, i., Stone, S. J.

By sufferings only can we know, 676, ii., Impia (ubi de la Mollet), Joanna M. B.; 1198, i., Upham, T. C.

By tasting the forbidden Tree, 1264, ii., Wordsworth, C.

By the angel's word alone, 676, i., Lilanius

By the Cross and vigil keeping, Stood the Mother, 1060, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross her station keeping, 1060, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross, in anguish sighing, 1064, i., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross in anguish weeping, 1064, i., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross of anguish, 1063, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross on which suspended, 1063, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross and vigil keeping (tr. Lord Lindsay), 1060, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross and vigil keeping, Stood the Mother, doleful, weeping, 1060, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross, and vigil keeping, Stood the mourning [mournful] Mother weeping, 1060, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the cross and vigil keeping, Stood the mournful Mother weeping, 1060, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa

By the Cross upon the brow, 1265, ii., Woolhouse, C. G.

By the first bright Easter-day, 676, i., Lilanius

By the holy bills surrounded, 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

By the Name which Thou didst take, 676, i., Lilanius

By the Saviour's precious blood, 1265, ii., Stone, S. J.

By the prayer that Jesus made, 676, i., Lilanius

By the word to Mary given, 676, i., Lilanius

By Thee, Jesus, will I ship, 148, ii., But By Jesu, will I ship hitches

By Thy birth, Lord of Heaven, 408, i., Gellert, C. F.

By Thy birth, and by Thy tears, 897, i., Saviour, when to dust to Thee

By Thy birth and early years, 897, i., Saviour, when to dust to Thee

By Thy birth, Lord of all, 677, ii., 676, i., Lilanius

By Thy love which shone for ayes, 1264, i., Sone, G. J.

By vows of love together bound, 277, ii., Fish, E. T.

By Water and the Holy Ghost, 1264, i., Wordsworth, C.

By whom shall Jacob now arise, 612, i., Kelly, T.

Call all who love Thee, Lord, to Thee, 197, i., Bailey, P. J.

Call Jehovah thy Salvation, 921, i., Paulus, Eyglish

Call me, O God; I come; for I, 70, ii., Anton-Ulrich of Brunswick

Call the Lord thy sure salvation, 920, i., Call Jehovah thy salvation

Call thou from the dead, 256, ii., Fox, W. J.

Call thou us, the poor, the wretched, 1015, ii., Shipton, Anna

Called from above, I rise, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The

Called to Thy service, Lord, 1096, i., Short, Sarah G.

Calling us to Thy holy Mountain, 315, i., Hermanas (née Polonel), Claudia F.

Calm us, blest Spirit, keep us calm, 260, ii., Calm me, my God, and keep me calm

Calm on the bosom of Thy God, 599, ii., Homans (née Browne), Felicia D.

Calm on the listening ear of night, 1058, i., Sears, R. H.

Calm the mariner's slumber, 1262, ii., Wilson, Jane

Calm they sit with closed door, 262, ii., Dickinson, W.

Calmed be our grief's, hushed every sigh, 277, i., Jam desinat suspiria

Calmed each soul, and closed each door, 262, ii., Dickinson, W.

Calmer of the troubled heart, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Calmly, calmly, lay him down, 600, i., Gaskell, W.

Camp-meetings God has richly owned, 169, i., Bourne, H.

Campaigning with success are crowned, 185, i., Bourne, H.

Can any sin, I do believe? 734, i., Midlane, A.

Can earthly verses fitly sing, 271, ii., Evans, W. J.

Can guilty men indeed believe? 90, ii., Auber, Harriet

Can I by faith of Jesus' blood be forgiving, 1097, i., Selfe ich meinem Gott nicht singen

Can I find my God to praise, 1097, i., Selfe ich meinem Gott nicht singen

Can I my fate no more withstand, 710, i., Mag ich mein Schicksal nicht

Can I this world adore, 893, i., Pfeffercorn, G. M.

Can it, Master, can it be? 720, i., Neale, J. M.

Can it then be that late should Eve be loved, 979, i., Flemming, F.

Can it, heaven-born soul submit, 1183, i., Toplady, A. M.

Can sinners hope for heaven, 183, i., Bokkenoo, B.

Can we have our hearts in heaven, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

Can you tell the countless number, 931, i., Hoy, J. W.

Canst thou count the stars that twinkle, 931, i., Hoy, J. W.

Canst Thou reject our dying prayer? 831, i., O Thou that hangest on the tree

Canst thou sum up such brilliant star, 931, i., Hoy, J. W.

Cantemus Christo regi terræ, 814, i., Notker

Cantemus cuncti mediatum nunc Jillesia, 65, i., Alfred, H., 966, i., Latin hymnody; 814, i., Notker

Cantemus Domino Deoque nostro, 967, i., Latin hymnody

Cantemus in omni die consistentes varie, 666, ii., 666, ii., Latin hymnody

Captain Mere God, 809, i., Genal mir, ewiger Gott

Captain and Saviour of the host, 902, i., Rawson, G.

Captain of my salvation, hear, 1260, ii., Wesley family, The Captains of salvation, 693, i., Littledale, R. F.

Captains of Thine enlisted host, 113, i., Batty, C.

Captains of the saintly band, 995, i., Coelestis aulæ principes

Captivum Israel, hear, 305, i., Doddridge, P.

Caput spinis coronatum, 695, i., 914, ii., Salve mundi salutare

Care, O Father, care for me, 701, ii., Lotzinillo-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt

Carmen Deo nostro Resonet Christi caussa, 813, i., Notker

Carol, brothers, carol, 776, ii., Mühlenberg, W. A.

Carol, carol, Christians, 267, i., Cox, A. C.

Cast me not in wrath away, 27, i., Altman, J. G.

Cast off the Lord, not from Thy sight (Ps. l.), 966, ii., Old Version

Cast on the fidelity Of my redeeming Lord, 1260, i., Wesley family, The Cast out from Eden's happy home, 942, i., Putnam Mrs. Caroline

Cast thy burden on the Lord, 216, i., Conrath, J.

Cast thy burden on the Lord, 258, i., Hill, R.

Cast thy sad spirit, my brother, 118, ii., Baxter (née Dix), Lydia

Castis At, aspera mordens, 320, ii., Exorcizo te, ille

Caterva matrona personat (Sancta Herodes impie), 8, i., A mille urbis sacrilice Ad unque

Cause of all causes, and the source, 940, i., Steffe, T.

Cause of my heart, my Saviour, my God, 1, i., Adam, J.

Cease love longer to detain me, 315, ii., Cecil, R.

Cease, my soul, thy tribulation, 260, i., Pro dish sehr, e unins Seele

Cease, weary mortals, cease to sigh, 276, ii., Jam desinat suspiria

Cease, ye mournful mourners, 291, ii., Deus ignes fove mitissimus

Celebra Juda festa Christi pandus, apostolorum, 666, ii., French hymnody

Celebrons, Dieu des, 669, ii., Latin hymnody

Celebrons tous par ses bontés, 391, ii., French hymnody

Celestial City, Salem blest (Coelestis urbs, Jerusalem), 1207, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Celestial Child, strong to quell, 1106, i., Supreme Rector coelitum

Celestial seat, Jerusalem (Coelestis urbs, Jerusalem), 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Celsi pueri corrigenda, 668, i., Latin hymnody

Celsorum civium excitis gaudio, 360, i., Exsultemus omnes Christi

Centre of our hopes Thou art, 98, ii., Author of peace unknown

Cerne hignum servatum, 892, ii., Petersen, J. W.

Certainly I will be with thee, 697, i., Havergal, Frances R.

Ceux fidèles, c'est le Calvaire, 393, i., French hymnody

C'est moi, c'est moi, qui vous console, 393, i., French hymnody

C'est un banquet que notre Dieu, 392, i., French hymnody

Change is our portion here, 333, i., Evans, J. H.

Chant your hymns, mothers of virgins, 1235, ii., Vos O virginal cum cithara chori

Chanting in sad and official tone, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The

Chastised by an indulgent God, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The

Cheer up, desponding soul, 783, i., My spirit longeth for Thee

Cheering my soul, there is a mercy seat, 76, ii., Approach, my soul, the mercy seat

Cheerfully to work proceed, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

Chef, concert de Mesures, 393, ii., French hymnody

Chief 'mongst the cities of the plain, 995, ii., Quicumque Christum quæritis

Chief of martyrs, Thou whose name, 666, ii., O qui tuo fuit martyrio

Chief Shepherd of the chosen fold, 220, ii., Clyne, N.

Chief Shepherd of Thy chosen sheep, 806, i., Newton, J.

Chief Shepherd, Thy people, Viz., Monk, H. C. G.

Chief Shepherd, Thy people to prize, 220, ii., Homans (née Browne), Felicia D.

Child born without sin (tr. Mercatan H. D. App. 1743), 393, i., Dobar (not Schindler), Anna

Child by God's sweet mercy given, Syriac hymnody

Child dear, just like Thy mother, 1235, i., Virginia Pryles, Opthargue maria

Child of God! remember thou (Cuther Dei memento), 19, ii., Adm, Peter supreme

Child of sin and sorrow, Filled with dismay, 696, ii., Havergal, W. H.

Child of sin and sorrow, Where will thou flee? 696, ii., Hastings, T.

Child of sorrow, child of care (sor), 696, ii., Hastings, T.

Child of the earth, O lift thy glance, 999, ii., Homans (née Browne), Felicia D.

Child of the Virgin, Maker of Thy mother, 1235, i., Virginia Pryles, Opthargue maria

Child that kneelest meekly there, 994, i., Deane, G. W.

Childhood's years are passing o'er us, 893, ii., Dickinson, W.

Children, hear the waiting story, 422, i., Hastings, T.

Children of a heavenly Father, 606, ii., Jucundare pietæ Sanis

Children of earth, for heaven we sack, 271, ii., Iona, Abbot of Children of God, awake, 103, i., Awake, our drowsy souls

Children of God, in all your need, 258, i., Denny, Sir E.

Children of God, O blessed name, 151, ii., Duckworth, J.

Children of God, rejoice and sing, 422, i., Hastings, T., 422, i., O Gij ei Silas, Sus cachenta, Sus glorias

Children of God, who pacing [Paint and] sleet, 166, i., Bowdler, J.

Children of Jerusalem, 410, i., Hawley, J.

Children of light, awake, awake, 258, i., Denny, Sir E.

Children of light, awake, awake, 258, i., Denny, Sir E.

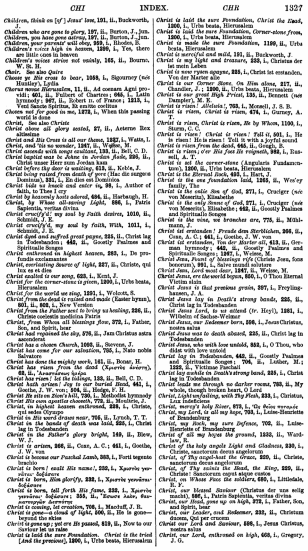
Children of men, rejoice and sing, 422, i., O Gij ei Silas, Sus cachenta, Sus glorias

Children of old, hosanna sing, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

Children of the heavenly King, 1150, i., Swain, J.

Children of the King of grace, 1150, i., Swain, J.

Children, rejoice, for God is come to earth, 1142, ii., Tersegnes, G.



Children, think on [it!] Jesus' love, 101, ii., Buckworth, J.

Children who are gone to glory, 197, ii., Burton, J., jun.

Children, your parents' will obey, 599, i., Rhodes, S.

Children's voice high on heaven, 1200, ii., Yet, there am little room in heaven.

Children's voices strive not vainly, 163, ii., Bourne, H.

Choir. See also Quire

Choose ye His cross to bear, 1068, i., Sigourney (née Huntley), Lydia

Chorus novus Hierusalem, 11, ii., Ad coenam Agni provocati

Christ ascended, Christ the Lord, 1200, ii., Urbs beata, hymnody; 1207, ii., Robert II. of France; 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et nostris cordibus

Chosen not for good in me, 1273, i., When this passing world is done

Christ. See also Christe

Christ adore all glory seated, 87, ii., Aeterne Rex altissime

Christ and His Cross to all our shame, 1482, i., Watts, I.

Christ, and 'tis no wonder, 1387, ii., Waller, E.

Christ arose and set us free, 1200, ii., Urbs beata, C. D.

Christ baptist must be down in Jordan flods, 595, ii., Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam

Christ before thy door is waiting, 618, ii., Kelly, J.

Christ being raised from death of yore (Hac die surgens Christus), 1200, ii., In die est Dominica

Christ bids us live and exist ye, 20, i., Author of faith, to Thee I cry

Christ by heavenly hosts adored, 594, ii., Harbaugh, H.

Christ, by Whose all-seeing Light, 606, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina

Christ, crucified, my soul by faith desires, 1010, ii., Schmidt, J. J.

Christ died and suffered great pains, 224, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden; 446, ii., Goudy Psalmes and Spirituale Songes

Christ entombed in highest heaven, 265, i., De profundis exclamantes

Christ, everlasting Source of light, 627, ii., Christe, qui lux es et dies

Christ, Father, to our song, 638, i., Kent, J.

Christ for the corner-stone is given, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ for the world we sing, 1021, i., Wesley, S.

Christ from the dead is raised and made (Easter hymn), 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ, from His Father sent to bring us healing, 226, ii., Christe coelestis medicina Patris

Christ, From Whom all blessings flow, 272, i., Father, Son, and Spirit, hear

Christ, full of mind the ship, 976, ii., Jam Christus astra ascendebat

Christ has a chosen Church, 1009, ii., Stevens, J.

Christ has come for our salvation, 705, i., Nate nobis Salvator

Christ has made the mighty work, 161, ii., Bonar, H.

Christ has risen from the dead (Resurrexit Auctorij), 88, ii., Assurexerunt hodie

Christ has risen! let the tidings, 135, ii., Bell, C. D.

Christ hath arisen! Joy to our buried Head, 465, i., Cennick, J.; 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ He rose (= rises) bail, 720, ii., Bachofen hymnody

Christ His own agonies closeth, 770, ii., Mendlein, J.

Christ, in highest heaven enthroned, 225, i., Christe, qui nobis Olympo

Christ in the grave saw near, 766, ii., Lynch, T. T.

Christ in the hands of death was held, 224, i., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Christ in the Father's glory bright, 149, ii., Hice, W. J.

Christ is arisen, 366, ii., Case, A. C.; 461, i., Gostlin, W. van

Christ is become our Paschal Lamb, 203, i., Forti tegenia brachio

Christ is born! exalt His name!, 233, i., Xpovòs γεγέννηται!

Christ is born, Him glorify, 233, i., Χριστὸν γενέθλιον δοξάσατε

Christ is born, let forth His fame, 233, i., Χριστὸς γενέθλιος δοξάσατε; 235, ii., Χριστὸς λαὸς ἐκφανέντος

Christ is coming, let creation, 708, i., Manchiff, J. R.

Christ is gone—a cloud of light, 200, ii., His is gone—beyond the skies

Christ is gone up; yet are His passed, 219, ii., Now to our God above

Christ is laid the sure Foundation. Christ is the tried (And the precious), 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ is laid the sure Foundation, Christ the Head, and Corner-stone, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ is laid the sure foundation, Corner-stone from, Thee, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ is made the sure Foundation, 1199, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ is merciful and mild, 191, ii., Buckworth, J.

Christ is my light and treasure, 253, i., Christus der ist mein Leben

Christ is now risen again, 224, i., Christ ist erstanden, Von der Marter alle

Christ is our Corner Stone, On Him alone, 217, ii., Chandler, J.; 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ is our great High Priest, 130, ii., Bennett (nee Dampier), M. S.

Christ is risen! Alleluia!, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.

Christ is risen, Christ is risen, 676, i., Gurney, A. B.

Christ is risen, Christ is risen, He by Whom, 1190, i., Stern, C. C.

Christ is risen! Christ is risen! Full it, 501, i., He is risen! He is risen! Tell it with a joyful sound

Christ is risen from the dead, 665, ii., Gough, B.

Christ is risen; see His foe fast in (= Christ, He has fast in) regions, 224, i., Resurrexit, A.

Christ is set the corner-stone (Angularis Fundamentum), 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ is the Eternal Rock, 625, i., Hart, J.

Christ is the sure Foundation land, 1202, ii., Wie'ey [= Yah]

Christ is the only Son of God, 271, i., Crasiger (nee von Meseritz), Elisabetha

Christ is the only Source of God, 272, i., Crasiger (nee von Meseritz), Elisabeth; 446, ii., Goudy Psalmes and Spirituale Songes

Christ is the rose, we branches are, 770, ii., Mihlmann, J.

Christ ist erstanden! Freude dem Herrlichen, 206, ii., Cosa, A. G.; 461, i., Gostlin, C. W. von

Christ ist erstanden, Von der Marter all, 413, ii., Gerhardt, P.; 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ ist Jesus, Fount of blessings rife (Christus Jesu, Sons benorum), 892, i., Salve mundi salutare

Christ Jesu, Lord most dear, 1247, ii., Weisse, M.

Christ Jesus, Lord to the world hopes, 895, i., O Thou Eternal Virtus sanctæ

Christ Jesus is that precious grain, 297, i., Freylinghausen, J. A.

Christ Jesus lay in Death's strong bands, 223, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Christ Jesus Lord, to us ariseth (= Heyl), 1201, i., Wilhelm of Sachsen-Weimar

Christ Jesus, our Redeemer born, 206, i., Jesus Christus, nostra salus

Christ Jesus rose to death abased, 235, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Christ Jesus, who with love unbold, 892, i., O Thou, who didst with love unfold

Christ lag in Todesbanden, 442, ii., Goudy Psalmes and Spirituale Songes; 706, ii., Luther, M.; 1202, ii., Virtuose Psalter

Christ lag zuhilt in Death's strong band, 223, i., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Christ leads me through no darker rooms, 703, ii., My soul, content with heaven's best heart, O Lord

Christ, Lord, Redeeming, with Thy Flesh, 833, i., Christus, Dominator Deus

Christ, mercy's holy Giver, 870, i., Da Gnos mercaede

Christ, my Lord, to all my hope, 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Christ, my Rock, my sure Defence, 702, ii., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Christ of all my hope the ground, 1232, ii., Wordsworth, C.

Christ, of Thy bright angels Light and Gladness, 230, i., Christe, sanctorum decus angelorum

Christ, of Thy angel-host the Grace, 229, ii., Christe, sanctorum decus angelorum

Christ, of Thy saints the Head, the King, 229, ii., Christe, sanctorum decus angelorum

Christ on Whose Vow the soldiers, 695, i., Littledale, H. W.

Christ, our blessed Saviour (Christus der uns selig macht), 595, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina

Christ, our Hope up on high, 272, i., Father, Son, and Spirit, hear

Christ, our Leader, and Redeemer, 225, ii., Christum dicens, Qui per crucem

Christ our Lord and Saviour, 596, i., Jesus Christus, nostra salus

Christ our Lord, enthroned on high, 669, i., Gregory, J. D.

Christ our Lord is risen (tr. H. Mills), 1207, ii., Weisse, M.

Christ our Lord is risen to-day (Erstanden ist der heilige Christ), 1198, ii., Surrexit Christus hodie

Christ our Lord is risen to-day, Sons of men (G. Wesley, alt.), 205, i., Christ the Lord is risen to-day, Sons of men

Christ our Lord, who died to save, 238, i., Jesus Christus, unser Heiland, Der den Tod überwand

Christ, our Pioneer, is risen, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Christ, our song we lift to Thee, 690, i., Littledale, R. F.

Christ, our Sun, as we arose, 630, i., Littledale, R. F.

Christ, Redeemer of our race, 229, i., Christe, Redemptor omnium, Ex Patre

Christ that ever reigneth, 954, ii., Hagenbach sempiterna

Christ, the Father's mighty Son, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ, that only begotten, 271, i., Crasiger (née von Meseritz), Elisabetha

Christ, the Author of our peace, 686, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina

Christ the Corner-stone is made (Angularis Fundamentum), 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ the eternal Lamb of God, 170, i., Breithaupt, J. J.

Christ, the Father's Son Eternal, 244, i., Come, and hear the grand old story

Christ, the Father's mirrored brightness, 1177, i., Tidd, Christe, splendor Patris

Christ, the glory of the sky, 88, ii., Aeterna coeli gloria

Christ the good Shepherd, God's own Son, 1005, i., Schaffer J.

Christ, the holy angels' Grace, 229, ii., Christe, sanctorum decus angelorum

Christ, the key-stone of the corner (Angularis Fundamentum), 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ the King, the world's Creator, 229, i., Christe Rex, mundi Creator

Christ the Lamb of God is living, 631, ii., Homburg, E. C.

Christ, the Light that knows no waning, 233, ii., Christus, Lux indefectus

Christ, the Lion of royal Judah, 602, ii., Jewett, W. H.

Christ, the Lord, in death-bonds lay, 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Christ the Lord is risen again, 1207, i., Weisse, M.

Christ the Lord is risen, Out of, 225, i., Christ ist erstanden, Von der Marter alle

Christ the Lord is risen to-day, Christians, hasts, 227, ii., Jesus Christ is risen to-day; 1200, i., Urbs beata, Jesu H.; 1223, i., Victimae Paschali

Christ the Lord is risen to-day, He is risen indeed, 227, ii., Jesus Christ is risen to-day; 1200, i., Yah Adonjas (see Crosby), Frances J.

Christ the Lord is risen to-day, Our triumphand, 227, ii., Jesus Christ is risen to-day

Christ the Lord is risen to-day, Sons of men, 227, ii., Jesus Christ is risen to-day

Christ the Lord to-day is risen, 226, ii., Jesus Christus, unser Heiland, Der den Tod überwand

Christ the Lord, Whose mighty hand, 660, i., Littledale, H. W.

Christ the Lord will come again, 1198, i., Swain, J.

Christ, the Rock on which I build, 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Christ the Saviour, our Prince all-hailed, 238, ii., Jesus Christus, unser Heiland Der den Tod

Christ the Son of God must high, 793, ii., Moore Xavier

Christ the spring of endless joys, 1207, ii., Scheffler, J.

Christ the Source and Saviour, 1202, i., Stone, S. J.

Christ, the summer and the year, 978, i., Lössing, C.

Christ, Thou the Champion of the land who own, 699, i., Löwenstern, M. A. von

Christ, Thou the Champion of that war-worn host, 699, i., Löwenstern, M. A. von

Christ, Thou who art the Light and Day, 627, ii., Christe, qui Lux es et Dies

Christ Thou's Wisdom unto me, 81, ii., Arnold, O.

Christ, those art the light, but and the day, 627, ii., Christe, qui Lux es et Dies

Christ, through grief and toil we come, 695, ii., Pantimono, G.

Christ, Thy holy Wounds and Passion (Jesu deine heilge Wunden), 885, i., Jesu deine tiefe Wunden

Christ, Thy sacred wounds and passion (Jesu deine heilge Wunden), 885, i., Jesu deine tiefe Wunden

Christ, Thy wounds and bitter passion, 886, i., Jesu deine tiefe Wunden

Christ to know is mine before, 933, i., Rawson, G.

Christ to my heart true joy can give (Mein Herzenstrost), 16, ii., Ach Gott, wie manches Herzeleid

Christ to the young man said, "Yet one thing more," 660, i., Littledale, H. W.

Christ, to Thee, the Father's glory, 1177, i., Tidd, Christe, splendor Patris

Christ, to Thee, the Father's glory, 1177, i., Tidd Christe, splendor Patris

Christ is Whose enthroned is heaven, 225, i., Christe, qui nobis Olympo

Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam, 706, i., Luther, M.

Christ was laid in Death's strong bands, 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Christ was laid in Death's strong bands, 227, ii., Buckworth, J.

Christ was to death abased, 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Christ watches o'er the embers, 1163, ii., They whom the Father giveth

Christ, we adore Thy Cross, 1188, i., Thompson, H. J.

Christ, we sing Thy saving passion, 1199, ii., Νικόλαε σὺν Χριστῷ, εὐ σωτῆρος πάθος

Christ, we turn our eyes to Thee (Maya ve yeeripaye), 87, i., Αναγεν νάγενε λαοί

Christ, wenn die armen menschenal, 920, ii., Hey, J.

Christ, who art above the sky, 876, ii., Palgrave, F. T.

Christ, Who art both our Light and Day, 627, ii., Christe, qui Lux es et Dies

Christ, who came my soul to save, 895, ii., Phelps, S. D.

Christ, Who didst for sinners suffer, 695, i., Littledale, H. W.

Christ who from our souls from danger, 596, i., Jesus Christus, nostra salus

Christ, who in Death's night of darkness, 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Christ, Who on heaven Thy palace gate, 225, i., O Christe qui mater poli

Christ, who of holy angels Honour art, 229, ii., Christe sanctorum decus angelorum

Christ, Who once among us, 185, ii., Bourne, W. St. H.

Christ, Who on the Cross didst, 695, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina

Christ, Who set free the children three, 73, ii., Αδιαστον θείων

Christ, whom the Virgin Mary bore (Christum wir sollen loben schon), 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Christ whose first appearance lighted, 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Christ, Whose glory fills the skies, Christ the true, 227, i., O dioclear Thy lovely face

Christ, Whose glory fills the skies, Christ, Thy famous Plant thou art, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The

Christ, Whose mercy goadeth still, 672, i., Lisanias

Christ, Whose mercy lasts for aye, 672, i., Lisanias

Christ, whose redemption all doth free, 226, ii., Christe coelestis medicina Patris

Christ will gather in His own, 287, i., Deiner Kinder Gemeinplatz

Χριστὸς ἀνέβη, εἰ κράτος, 227, i., Greek hymnody

Christe, cujus gloria (Dr. Bingham), 226, ii., Christe, qui lux es et dies

Christe, du Beistand deiner Kreuzgemeine, 225, i., Lateinische hymnody; 883, ii., Patris aeterni Sobolem coaeva

Christe, der du bist Tag und Licht, 627, ii., Christe, qui lux es et dies

Christe, du bist Ianifica spoxaxm Iesus Ecclesium, 213, i., Notker

Christe, du Beistand deiner Kreuzgemeine, 415, i., German hymnody; 699, i., Löwenstern, M. A. von

Christe, du bist der helle Tag, 94, ii., Alber, E.; 227, ii., Christe, qui lux es et dies; 414, i., German hymnody

Christe, du Vist Licht und der Tag, 643, i., Goudy Psalmes and Spirituale Songes

Christe, du Lamm Gottes, 31, i., Agnus Dei qui tollis

Christe is now risen agayne, 665, ii., Goudy Psalmes and Spirituale Songes

Christe Jesu Sons benorum, 890, i., 891, i., Salve mundi salutare

Christe Jesu Pastor bone, 890, i., 891, i., Salve mundi salutare

Christe lumen perpetuum, 215, ii., Duffield, S. A. W.; 351, i., Ennodius, M. F.

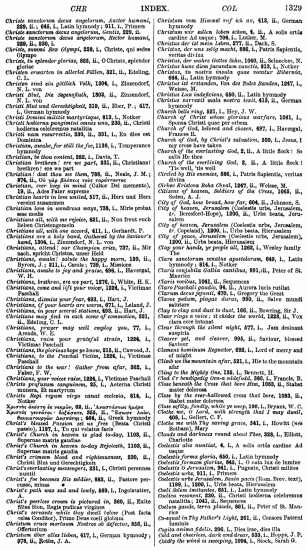
Christe promotor omnis, 215, ii., Duffield, S. A. W.; 351, i., Ennodius, M. F.

Christe, qui lux es et dies, 244, ii., English hymnody; 414, ii., German hymnody; 514, ii., Herman, N.; 702, ii., Monsel, W.; 895, i., O splendor aeterni Patris

Christe Redemptor, 246, ii., English hymnody

Christe Redemptor omnium, Ex Patre, 228, ii., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre Patris unice

Christe, sancta unxia spes, salus, vita, 618, i., Notker



CHR INDEX. COL 1329

Christe sanctorum decus angelorum, Auctor beatæ, 1, Latin hymnody
Christe sanctorum decus angelorum, Auctor beatæ, 1, Latin hymnody
Christe sanctorum decus angelorum, Auctor beatæ, 1, Latin hymnody
Christi, summi Rex Olympi, 228, i., Christe, qui sedes Olympo
Christi, tu splendor gloriæ, 229, ii., O Christe, splendor gloriæ
Christian crusaders in allerlei Fällen, 321, ii., Kisling, C. L.
Christian, und ein göttlich Volk, 1306, i., Zinnendorf, N. L. von Christ Jesu, Du Sagenhaft, 1303, ii., Zinnendorf, N. L. von Christ Und und Gerechtigkeit, 229, ii., Eber, P.; 417, i., German hymnody
Christi famosa militat martyrioque, 813, i., Notker
Christ ist erstanden von der Marter alle, 230, ii., Christ hodierna catéfennæ natalitia
Christ vom rauretrotz, 230, ii., 231, i., Es dies est Dominica
Christian, awake, for still the fire, 1139, i., Temperance Hymns
Christian, O thou content, 1305, i., Davis, T.
Christian brethren! are we part, 231, ii., Christians! brethren! are we part
Christian! dost thou see them, 795, ii., Neale, J. M.; 1305, ii., Cawood, J.
Christian, our king to mend (Gaker Dei memento), 19, ii., Adm Faict supreme Christian hearts in love united, 217, ii., Here und Hers vereint zusammen
Christian, seek not yet repose, 726, i., Mitte pedasi sese tenta
Christians all, with me rejoice, 231, ii., Nun freut euch lieben Christengemeine
Christians all, with me accord, 411, i., Gerhardt, P.
Christians, arise, and hail the morn! prepare the Saviour's hand, 1304, i., Zinnendorf, N. L. von Christians, attend: our Champion cries, 727, ii., Mit lauch, spricht Christus, unser Held Christians, awake! salute the happy morn, 199, ii., Faber, F. W.; 231, i., Cawdy; 726, i., Mant
Christians, awake to joy and praise, 698, i., Havergal, W. H.
Christians, brethren, ere we part, 1276, i., White, H. K.
Christians, come and lift your voice, 1284, i., Vicinus Paschali
Christians, dismiss your fear, 693, i., Hart, J.
Christians, in your sacred stations, 693, i., Leland, J.
Christians, in your sacred stations, 693, ii., Hart, J.
Christians may find in each scene of commotion, 321, ii., Kisling, C. L.
Christians, prayer may well employ you, 727, i., Mant, R.
Christians, raise your grateful strain, 1284, i., Vicinus Paschali
Christians, the glorious hope to know, 212, ii., Carwood, J.
Christians, to the Paschal Victim, 1284, i., Vicinus Paschali
Christians to the war! Gather from afar, 322, i., Faber, F. W.
Christians, your voices raise, 1284, i., Vicinus Paschali
Christe gratissime sanguinem, 35, i., Æterna Christi munera
Christe, Rex regum unge sanct ecclesia, 814, i., Notker
Χριστὲ σωτὴρ τῶν ναυτῶν, 68, ii., Ἀναστάσιμα ᾠδῶν
Χριστὸς γενέσθω· ἐκδέχεσθε, 344, ii., Ἔσωσε λαὸν
Christe, Sanctorum decus Angelorum, 1, i., Christe Sanctorum
Christe! blessed Passion set us free (Domine Christe pamele), 1107, i., Tu qui velatus facie
Christe! Church on heaven is glad to-day, 1109, ii., Supernae matris gaudia
Christe! Church on heaven to-day rejoiceth, 1109, ii., Supernae matris gaudia
Christe! crimson blood and righteousness, 230, ii., Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit
Christe! everlasting messengers, 231, i., Christi perennes nuntii
Christe! for because His soldier, 888, ii., Tueton peccame, tritus
Christe! pack was and and lowly, 469, i., Ingelmatter, C. J.
Christe! peerless crown is pictured in, 369, ii., Exite filiæ Sion, Regis pulchræ virginis
Christe! servants while they dwell below (Post facta rutim Conditor), Primo Deus coeli gloriam
Christen crave martyrum Nostrum ob defectur, 856, ii., Christe, Rex
Christen über alles loben, 417, i., German hymnody; 970, ii., Rodin, J. A.
Christen von Himmel ruf ich an, 413, ii., German hymnody
Christen wir sollen loben schon, 6, ii., A solis ortis cardine Ad usque; 706, i., Leisler, M.
Christus der ist mein Leben, 277, ii., Dach, S.
Christus, der uns selig macht, 886, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas
Christus, der uns're Gräber hebt, 1060, ii., Schneckn, N.
Christus hanc diem jucundum cantis, 813, i., Notker
Christus, tu nostra tunula quæ vocatur Silvensis, 686, ii., Latin hymnody
Christus und sein gestanden, Von des Todes Banden, 1287, i., Wesley, C.
Christus Lux indefectus, 650, ii., Latin hymnody
Christus servanti nulla nostra lucri, 615, ii., German hymnody
Church hath rest, 825, i., Hoyt, J. W.
Church of Christ, whose glorious warriors, 1061, i., Church of Christ militant and victorious
Church of God, beloved and chosen, 697, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Church of God, by Christ's salvation, 250, i., Jesus, I my cross have taken
Church of the everlasting God, 2, ii., A little flock! So calls He thee
Church of the everlasting God, 2, ii., A little flock! 'Tis well, 'tis well
Circled by His enemies, 886, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas et virtus
Citoyen Evêques Jobs Chant, 1287, ii., Weber, M.
Citizens of heaven, Soldiers of the Cross, 1060, ii., Noble, A. J.
City of God, how broad, how far, 606, ii., Johnson, S.
City of God, how broad, how far, 606, ii., Urbs beata, Jerusalem (Hyde), 1290, ii., Urbs beata, Jerusalem
City of heaven, Jerusalem (Coelestis urbs, Jerusalem, Et Copeland), 1290, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
City of heaven, Jerusalem (Coelestis urbs, Jerusalem), 1290, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
Clap your hands, ye people all, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Clare sanctorum senatus apostolorum, 640, i., Latin hymnody
Clarifica me, Pater, 1, ii., Sequences
Clarid resplendis Gallia caudibus, 891, ii., Peter of St. Maurice
Claris vocibus, 1061, ii., Sequences
Clare Paschali gaudio, 34, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
Clarum decus jejunii, 679, i., Gregory the Great
Classe potens, piegas dirum, 992, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Clear as clay and dust to dust, 105, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Clear reign o vere : si clokes the world, 1228, ii., Vox clara ecce intonat
Clear through the silent night, 277, i., Jam desinant morari
Clearer yet, and clearer, 993, ii., Saviour, blessed Saviour
Clemens hominum Imperator, 632, i., Lord of mercy and of might Climb the mountain afar, 231, i., Hie to the mountain afar
Cling to the Mighty One, 136, i., Bennett, H.
Clod t'r handgudy Gwen addyfed, 595, i., Francis, B.
Close beneath the Cross that bore Him, 1003, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
Close by the ever-hallowed cross that bore, 1003, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
Close softly, fondly, while ye weep, 196, i., Bryan, W. C.
Clothe me, O Lord, with strength that I may dwell, 1, ii., Adm Faict supreme Clothe me with Thy saving grace, 561, i., Hewitt (née Bottam), Mary
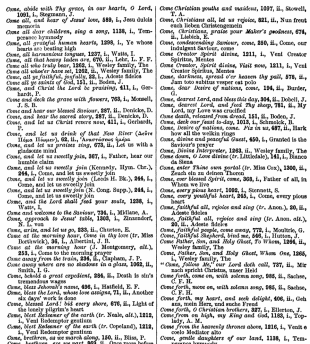
Clouds and darkness round about Thee, 838, i., Elliott, Charlotte
Coelestis urbs sanctus, 4, i., A solis ortis cardine Ad usque
Coelestis forma gloria, 650, i., Latin hymnody
Coelestis Jerusalem gloriæ, 962, i., O vatis lux de lumine
Coelestis O Jerusalem, 961, i., Pugnate, Christi milites
Coelestis urbs Jerusalem, 1290, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
Coelestis urbs Jerusalem, Beate pacis (Sum Deus meus), 1199, i., 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
Coeli decus lucisatus, 651, i., Latin hymnody
Coelos ascendit, 230, ii., Christi hodierna celebremus gaudia
Coelum gaude, terra plaude, 961, ii., Peter of St. Maurice
Co-equal in Thy Father's Light, 201, ii., Consors Paterni luminis
Cœlum, terramque Adsis, 296, i., Tiro fuse, dies ille
Cold and cheerless, dark and drear, 533, i., Hoppe, J. P.
Coldly the wind is sweeping, 1096, i., Stock, Sarah G.



1330 COM INDEX. COM

Come, abide with Thy grace, in our hearts, O Lord, 1001, i., Hagenauer, J.
Come all, and hear of Jesus' love, 889, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
Come all dear children, sing a song, 1138, i., Temperance hymns
Come, all ye precious hearts, 1259, i., Ye whose hearts are beating high
Come, all harmonious tongues, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Come, all that heavy laden are, 670, ii., Lobe, L. F. F.
Come all who love hear, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Come all who love hear me, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Come all with humility and fear, 23, i., Adm Faict supreme Come all ye saints of God, 121, ii., Boden, J.
Come, and Christ the Lord be praising, 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
Come and deck the grave with flowers, 703, i., Mossell, N. F.
Come and hear our blessed Saviour, 297, ii., Deutzke, D.
Come, and hear the sacred story, 287, ii., Deutzke, D.
Come, and let us Christ renew now, 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
Come, and let us drink of that New River (Active Diem Hosanni), 69, ii., Ἀναστάσιμα ᾠδῶν
Come, and let us praises sing, 673, ii., Let us with a gladsome mind
Come, and let us sweetly join, 307, i., Father, hear our prayer
Come, and let us sweetly join (Kennedy, Hym. Chr.), 306, i., Come, and let us sweetly join
Come, and let us sweetly join (Lords H. Th.), 306, i., Come, and let us sweetly join
Come, and let us sweetly join (Long. Supp.), 306, i., Come, and let us sweetly join
Come, and the Lord shall feed your souls, 1236, i., Watts, I.
Come and welcome to the Saviour, 724, i., Mollaire, A.
Come, attack in Jesus' name, 1305, i., Zinnendorf, N. L. von
Come, arise, and let us go, 333, ii., Christes, E.
Come at the morning hour, Come in thy love (tr. Miss Borwick), 30, i., Albertini, J. B.
Come at the morning hour (J. Montgomery, alt.), 30, i., Come in the morning hour
Come away, my soul, with speed, 1236, ii., Graham, P. P.
Come away where are no shadows on a plain, 1305, ii., Smith, I. G.
Come, behold a great expedient, 296, ii., Death in sin's tremendous reign
Come, behold the news, 826, i., Hatfield, E. F.
Come, bless the Lord, whose love assigns, 71, ii., Another six days' work is done
Come, blessed Lord: bid every shore, 676, ii., Light of the lonely pilgrim's heart
Come, blest Redeemer of the earth (tr. Neale, alt.), 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come, blest Redeemer of the earth (tr. Copeland), 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come, brethren, as we march along, 120, ii., Bliss, P.
Come, brethren, ere we part, 997, ii., Once more before we part
Come, brethren, let us pray, 825, i., Norman, N.
Come, brethren, let us pray, 825, i., Kommt, Kinder, lasst uns gehen
Come, brethren, let us hurry, 632, i., Kommt, Kinder, lasst uns gehen
Come, brethren, let us sing, 218, ii., Charlesworth, V. J.
Come, brothers, let us onward, 632, i., Kommt, Kinder, lasst uns gehen
Come, brethren, let us pray and praise, 960, i., Rowe, G. S.
Come, children, and join with ardour divine, 640, ii., Gough, B.
Come, children ere we part, 997, ii., Once more before we part
Come, children, join the heavenly throng, 266, ii., Come, children, join the angelic throng
Come, children, join to sing, 117, i., Bateman, C. H.
Come, children, learn your God to praise, 983, ii., Come, little children, learn to praise
Come, children, let us go, 825, i., Kommt, Kinder, lasst uns gehen
Come, children, let's be going, 632, i., Kommt, Kinder, lasst uns gehen
Come, children, till your voices, 516, ii., Hermanan Von Hohenberg, Elizabeth F.
Come, children! on; this way, 632, i., Kommt, Kinder, lasst uns gehen
Come, children, the Jesus commands, 105, ii., Brackenbury, C.
Come, Christian brethren, ere we part, 231, ii., Christians! brethren! are we part
Come, Christian children, come and raise, 266, ii., Come, happy children, come and raise Come Christian youths and maidens, 1097, ii., Stowell, T. A.
Come, Christians all, let us rejoice, 821, ii., Nun freut euch lieben Christengemeine
Come, Christians, praise your Maker's goodness, 678, ii., Come, ye saints
Come, condescending Saviour, come, 260, ii., Come, our Indulgent Saviour, come
Come Creator Spirit divine, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come Creator, Spirit divine, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, dearest Lord, descend o'er heaven thy veil, 879, ii., Jam tuto sublime vesper sub polo
Come, dear Desire of nations, come, 196, ii., Border, J.
Come, dearest Lord, and bless this day, 304, ii., Doleff, J.
Come, dearest Lord, and feed Thy sheep, 701, ii., My Lord, my Love was crucified
Come death, released from dread, 121, ii., Boden, J.
Come, dark our feast to-day, 1013, i., Schneckn, N.
Come, desire of nations, come. Fix in us 697, ii., Hark the glad sound! the Saviour comes Come, divine and peaceful Dove, 620, i., Granted to the Saviour's prayer
Come, Divine Interpreter, 1283, ii., Wesley family, The Come down, O Love divine (tr. Littledale), 161, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus
Come, enter Thine own portal (tr. Miss Cox), 1060, ii., Zeuch ein zu deinen Thoren
Come, ever blessed Spirit, come, 303, i., Father of all, in Whom we live
Come, faithful, raise the strain, 1222, i., Sherwell, S.
Come, every prayerful heart, 245, i., Come, every pious heart
Come, Faithful all, rejoice and sing (tr. Anon.), 90, ii., Adeste fideles
Come, faithful all, rejoice and sing (tr. Anon. alt.), 90, ii., Adeste fideles
Come, faithful people, come away, 772, i., Mazitelo, G.
Come, faithful Shepherd, lead me, 566, i., Hutton, J.
Come Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, To Whom, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The Come, Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost, Whom One, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The  Come, follow Me, our Lord hath call, 727, ii., Mit nach spricht Christus, unser Held Come forth, come on, with solemn song, 266, ii., Sachse, C. F. H.
Come forth, my muse on, with solemn song, 266, ii., Sachse, C. F. H.
Come forth, my heart, and seek delight, 606, ii., Gehe aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Come forth, O Christian brothers, 327, i., Elkerton, J.
Come forth, ye saints, my King and God, 1135, i., Doddridge, A. M.
Come from the heavenly thrones above, 1215, i., Veni e cœlis Mediator alto
Come, gentle daughters of our land, 1138, i., Temperance hymns
Come God, Creator, Holy Ghost! And visit every, 1209, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, God, Creator, Holy Ghost, And visit Thou, 1209, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come God, Creator, Holy Ghost! Thy, 1209, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come God, Creator, Holy Ghost, Visit, 1209, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, gracious Lord, descend and dwell, 256, ii., Come, our Indulgent Saviour, come Come, gracious Saviour, from above, 100, ii., Bourg, J. D.
Come, gracious Saviour, manifest Thy glory, 133, ii., Ball, C. H.
Come, gracious Spirit, gift of love, 266, ii., Come, Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove, My sinful maladies
Come, gracious Spirit, heavenly Dove, 186, ii., Browne, S.; 266, ii., Come, Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove, My sinful maladies
Come, gracious, gracious Saviour, come, 260, ii., Come, our Indulgent Saviour, come Come, great Conqueror of the nations, 262, i., Come, Thou Conqueror of the nations
Come, great Father, mighty Lord (Cuthor Dei memento), 19, ii., Adm Faict supreme Come, guilty souls, and flee away, 243, i., Humphreys, J.
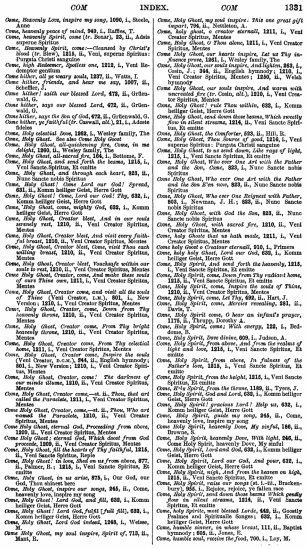
Come, happy hour of death, and close, 1018, ii., Schütz, J. J.
Come, happy souls, adore the Lamb, 109, ii., Baldwin, T.
Come, happy souls, approach your God, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Come, heavenly Dove, inspire my song, 265, ii., Come, heavenly love, inspire my song



COM INDEX. COM 1331

Come, Heavenly Love, inspire my song, 1060, i., Steele, J.
Come, heavenly peace of mind, 940, i., Steffen, T.
Come, heavenly Spirit, come (tr. Bonar), 32, ii., Admin superne Spiritus
Come, Heavenly Spirit, come:—Cleansed by Christ's blood, 1211, i., Veni, superne Spiritus: Purpuris Christi sanguine
Come, high Redeemer, Spotless one, 1213, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come hither, all ye weary souls, 1327, ii., Watts, I.
Come hither, friends, and hear me say, 1007, ii., Steele, J.
Come hither! assis our blessed Lord, 672, ii., Grünewald, G.
Come hither, says our blessed Lord, 672, ii., Grünewald, G.
Come hither, says the Son of God, 672, ii., Grünewald, G.
Come, Holy Ghost, by faith's fat (tr. Caswall, alt.), 31, i., Adeste fideles
Come, Holy celestial Dove, 1068, i., Wesley family, The Come, Holy Ghost. See also Come Holy Ghost
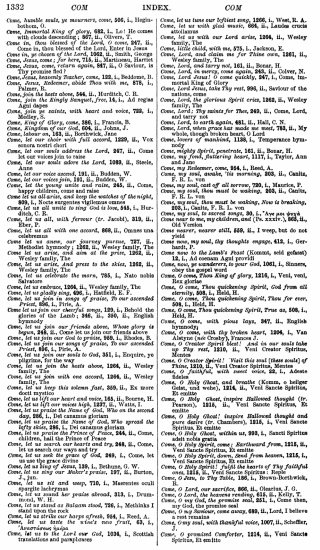
Come, Holy Ghost, all-quickening fire, Come, to me (tr. Wesley, alt.), 1208, i., Veni, vivifica me
Come, Holy Ghost, all-sacred fire, 124, i., Bethune, F.
Come, Holy Ghost, and send forth the beams, 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, Holy Ghost, and through each heart, 823, ii., Komm heiliger Geist
Come, Holy Ghost! Come Lord our God! Spread, 681, ii., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Ghost! Come, Lord our God! Thy, 681, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Ghost, Almighty God, 682, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest, And in our souls 1210, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes serenely rest
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest, And visit every faithful breast, 1210, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest, Come, visit Thou each 1210, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes waiting breast
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator blest, Vouchsafe within our 1210, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes souls to rest
Come Holy Ghost, Creator, come, come, and make these 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes souls of ours Thine own
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come, and visit all the souls 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes of Thine Veni Creator, t.n.), 921, i., New Version
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come, Come from Thy 1210, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes heavenly throne
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come, From Thy bright 1210, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes heavenly throne
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come, From Thy celestial 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes home
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator come, Inspire the souls 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes of Thine Veni Creator, t.n.), 921, i., New Version
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator, come!—ii. Thou, that art 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes called the Paraclete
Come Holy Ghost, Creator, come!—ii. Thou, Who art 1210, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes called the Paraclete
Come Holy Ghost, eternal God, Proceeding from above, 1209, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come Holy Ghost, eternal God, Proceeding from God 1209, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Holy Ghost, fill the hearts of Thy faithful, 1212, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Reple
Come, Holy Ghost! in love, Shed on us from above, 977, ii., Palmer, R., 1815, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, Holy Ghost, to us arise, 878, i., Our God, our God, Thou almost hero
Come, Holy Ghost, inspire our songs, 965, ii., Come, heavenly love, inspire my song
Come, Holy Ghost, Lord God, fulfil, 680, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Ghost! Lord God, fulfill (Voll Ait), 680, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Ghost, Lord God inbred, 1208, i., Wesley, C.
Come Holy Ghost, my soul inspire, Spirit of, 718, ii., Mant, R.

Come, Holy Ghost, my soul inspire. This one great gift 1208, i., Wesley, C. impart
Come, Holy Ghost, Creator adored, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Holy Ghost, O Thou above, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Holy Ghost, our hearts inspire, Let us Thy in- 1208, i., Wesley family, The finences know
Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire, and lighten, 803, i., Comfort, J., 344, ii., English hymnody: 1819, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes; 1200, ii., Welsh hymnody
Come Holy Ghost, our souls inspire, And warm with 1208, i., Wesley family, The Thy sacred fire (cr. Cosin, alt.), 1218, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Holy Ghost! rule Thou within, 683, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Ghost, send down those beams, Which sweetly 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite flow in streams
Come, Holy Ghost, the Comforter, 693, ii., Hill, E.
Come, Holy Ghost, Thou Source of good, 1216, i., Veni superne Spiritus: Purpuris Christi sanguine
Come, Holy Ghost, Who ever One Art with the Father 1213, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite and the Son
Come, Holy Ghost, Who ever One Art with the Father 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite and the Son Thou
Come, Holy Ghost, Who ever One Art with the Father 803, i., Nunc Sancte nobis and the Son Thou now, 803, ii., Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus
Come, Holy Ghost, Who ever One Enjoined with Father, 803, i., Newman, J. H., 803, ii., Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus
Come, Holy Ghost, with God the Son, 803, ii., Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus
Come, Holy Ghost, with sacred fire, 1210, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Holy Ghost, Your hearts make, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come holy Ghost o Creatour eternall, 910, i., Primers
Come, holy holy Ghost, Lord our God, 682, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, holy Spirit, come, Come, forth the heavenly, 1213, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, Holy Spirit, come, Down from Thy radiant home, 1213, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, Holy Spirit, come, Inspire the souls of Thine, 1211, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Holy Spirit, come, Let Thy, 692, ii., Hart, J.
Come, Holy Spirit, come, Mercies revealing, 951, ii., Davis, J.
Come, Holy Spirit come, O hear an infant's prayer, 1175, ii., Thrupp, Dorothy A.
Come, Holy Spirit, come; With energy, 122, i., Bedford, A.
Come, Holy Spirit, from above, 809, i., Judson, A.
Come, Holy Spirit, From above, And from the realms of 1213, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite light and love
Come, Holy Spirit, From above, In Salem of the 1213, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite Father's love
Come, Holy Spirit, from the height, 1213, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, Holy Spirit, from the throne, 1189, ii., Tyrer, J.
Come, Holy Spirit, God and Lord, 683, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Spirit, God, precious Lord! Help us, 810, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Spirit, grace we sing, 965, ii., Come, heavenly love, inspire my song
Come Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove, My sinful, 186, ii., Brewin, J.
Come, Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove, With light, 940, ii., Come Holy Spirit, heavenly Dove, My sinful
Come, Holy Spirit, Lord and God, 683, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Spirit, Lord our God, and pour, 810, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, Holy Spirit, on us rest, Let the heaven on high, 1213, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, Holy Spirit, raise our songs (st. i.–ii., Brackenbury), 966, i., Rejoice, rejoice, ye fallen race
Come, Holy Spirit, send down those beams Which gently 1213, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite flow in streams
Come, holy Spirits, west blessed Lords, 662, ii., Gently Psalmes and Spirituelle Songes: 1625, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Come, humble sinner, in whose breast, 111, ii., Baptist hymnody: 1828, ii., Jones, E.
Come, humble soul, receive the food, 700, i., Ley, M.

1332



1332 COM INDEX. COM

Come, humble souls, ye mourners, come, 506, i., Hopkins, S.
Come, immortal King of glory, 683, i., Lo! He comes with clouds descending; 807, ii., Olivers, T.
Come in, thou blessed of the Lord, O come, 267, ii., Come in, thou blessed of the Lord, Enter in Jesus
Come in, ye chosen of the Lord, 1062, ii., Smith, George
Come, Jesus, come, and be our guest, 1060, ii., Steele, J.
Come, Jesus, come, return again, 687, ii., O Saviour, in Thy promise fail!
Come, Jesus, heavenly Teacher, come, 123, i., Beddome, B.
Come, Jesus, Redeemer, abide Thou with me, 875, i., Come, Jesus, come Come, join the hosts above, 594, ii., Horsfield, C. B.
Come, join the Almighty Samuel, free, 14, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
Come, join ye saints, with heart and voice, 726, i., Come, ye saints
Come, King of Glory, come, 166, i., Francis, B.
Come, Kingdom of our God, 606, ii., Johns, J.
Come, labour on, 143, i., Bortkewitz, Jane
Come, let our choir with full accord, 1230, ii., Veni sancte Spiritus
Come, let our hearts address the Lord, 267, ii., Come in, thou blessed of the Lord, Enter in Jesus
Come, let our souls adore the Lord, 1088, ii., Steele, Anne
Come, let our voice accord, 191, ii., Bubden, W.
Come, let our voices join, 191, ii., Bubden, W.
Come, let us all arise, 1204, ii., Wesley, C., 945, ii., Come, happy children, come and raise
Come let us all arise, and keep the watches of the night, 859, i., Nocte surgentes vigilemus omnes
Come, let us all unite to sing God is love, 945, i., Hurditch, C. H.
Come, let us all, with fervour (tr. Jacob), 313, ii., Ehre, P.
Come, let us all with one accord, 868, ii., Omnes una celebremus
Come, let us cease, our journey pursue, 727, ii., Methodist hymnody: 1742, ii., Wesley family, The Come let us arise, and sow at the prim, 1204, ii., Wesley family, The Come, let us arise, And press to the skies, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The Come, let us celebrate the morn, 795, i., Nato nobis Salvatore
Come, let us embrace, 1204, ii., Wesley family, The Come, let us gladly sing, 696, i., Hatfield, E. F.
Come, let us join our cheerful songs, 1204, ii., To our ascended Head, 1205, i., Price, S.
Come let us join our cheerful songs, 129, i., Behold the glories of the Lamb!; 946, ii., 950, ii., English hymnody
Come, let us join our friends above, Whose glory is 1205, ii., Come let us join our friends above
Come, let us join our God to praise, 958, i., Rhodes, S.
Come, let us join our songs of praise, To our ascended 1205, i., Price, S. Priest
Come, let us join our songs to God, 331, i., Enquire, ye pilgrims, for the way
Come; let us join the hosts above, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The Come, let us join with one accord, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The Come, let us leap this odious feat, 868, ii., Ex more dorii mystico
Come, let us lift our heart and voice, 185, ii., Bourne, H.
Come, let us lift our voices high, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Come, let us lift our voices high, Who on the second 1206, i., Veni canamus gloriam day
Come, let us praise the Name of God, Who spread the 1206, i., Veni canamus gloriam lofty skies
Come, let us praise the Prince of Peace, 564, ii., Come, let us praise the Prince of Peace
Come, let us search our hearts and try, 305, ii., Come, let us search our ways and try
Come, let us seek the grace of God, 240, i., Come, let us use the grace divine
Come, let us sing, 1206, i., Bethune, G. W.
Come, let us sing our Maker's praise, 127, ii., Burton, J. [alt.
Come, let us sit and weep, 716, i., Mauretus scali spargite lachrymas
Come, let us spread her praise abroad, 313, i., Drummond, W. H.
Come, let us stand as Balaam stood, 726, i., Methinks I stand upon the rock
Come, let us strike our harps afresh, 504, i., Reed, A.
Come, let us taste the whole new fruit, 83, i., Countess of Huntingdon
Come, let us to the Lord our God, 1034, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Come, let us tune our lyfsiest song, 1206, i., West, R. A.
Come, let us with glad mouth, 666, ii., Landas cracis Dominum
Come, let us with our Lord arise, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The Come, little child, with me, 875, i., Jackson, E.
Come, Lord, and claim me for Thine own, 1201, ii., Wesley, C. H. [Thine
Come, Lord, and tarry not, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
Come, Lord, in mercy, come again, 263, ii., Cudney, N.
Come, Lord Jesus! O come quickly, 367, i., Come, heavenly King of Glory
Come, Lord, to-day, take Thy rest, 996, ii., Saviour of the nations, come Come, Lord, the glorious Spirit crave, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The Come, Lord; Thy saints for Thee, 240, ii., Come, Lord, and tarry not Come, Lord, to earth again, 631, ii., Hall, C. N.
Come, Lord, when grace has made me meet, 793, ii., My whole, though broken heart, O Lord
Come, lovers of mankind, 1130, i., Temperance hymnody
Come, mighty Spirit, penetrate, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
Come, my Beloved, fluttering heart, 1121, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Come, my Redeemer, come, 994, i., Reed, A.
Come, my soul, awake, 'tis morning, 205, ii., Cunlin, F. H. L. von
Come, my soul, cast off all sorrow, 730, i., Maurice, F.
Come, my soul, thou must be waking, 205, ii., Cunlin, F. H. L. von Come, my soul, thou must be waking, Now is breaking, 205, i., Cunlin, F. H. L. von Come near to me, my children, and (tr. anon.), 968, ii., Old Version [tr. anon.),
Come nearer, nearer still, 669, ii., I weep, but do not grieve
Come, my soul, thy thoughts engage, 613, i., Gerhardt, P.
Come now to the Lord's Feast (Komm, sold gehast) 13, i., Ad coenam Agni provisi
Come, now, ye wanderers, to your God, 1061, i., Sinnen, Rudolph Stephen
Come, O come, Thou King of glory, 1216, i., Veni, veni, Rex gloriae
Come, O come, Thou quickening Spirit, God from all eternity, 208, i., Reid, H.
Come, O come, Thou quickening Spirit, Thou for ever 208, i., Reid, H. art God
Come, O come, Thou quickening Spirit, True as, 208, i., Reid, H.
Come, O come, with pious lays, 947, ii., English hymnody
Come, O come, with thy broken heart, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
Come, O Creator Spirit blest! And in our souls take 1202, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes up Thy rest
Come, O Creator Spirit! Visit this soul (these souls) of 1215, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes Thine
Come, O faithful, with sweet voice, 52, i., Adeste fideles
Come, O Holy Ghost, and breathe (Komm, o heiliger Geist, und wehe), 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, O Holy Ghost, inspire Hallowed thought (or Pearson), 1215, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite pure desire
Come, O Holy Ghost! inspire Hallowed thought and 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite pure desire (tr. Chambers),
Come, O Holy Ghost, within us, 993, i., Sancti Spiritus 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite adsit nobis gratia
Come, O Holy Spirit, come; Enchanted from, 1215, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite above
Come, O Holy Spirit, down, Send from heaven, 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite
Come, O Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove, Of faithful hearts 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite the Light Divine
Come, O Jesu, to Thy Table, 1205, i., Brown-Borthwick, S.
Come, O Lord, our sacrifice, 802, ii., Glaeiae, J. G.
Come, O my God, the promise seal, 811, i., Come thee, my God, the promise seal
Come, O my God, the promise seal, 811, i., Come thee, my God, the promise seal
Come, O my Saviour, come away, 689, ii., Lord, I believe a rest remains Come, O my soul, with thankful voice, 1007, ii., Scheffler, J.
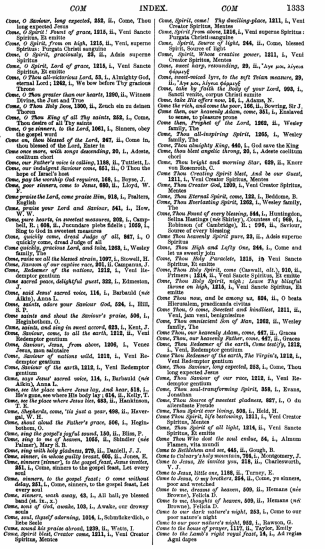
Come, O promised Comforter, 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et mittite

1333



COM INDEX. COM 1333

Come, O Saviour, long expected, 810, ii., Come, Thou long expected Jesus
Come, O Spirit! Source of grace, 1213, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Come, O Spirit, from on high, 1215, ii., Veni, superne Spiritus: Purgata Christi sanguine
Come, Spirit, graciously, 99, ii., Adsis superne lumine
Come, O Spirit, Lord of grace, 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Come, O Thou all-victorious Lord, 53, i., Almighty God, eternal Lord: 1262, i., We bow before Thy gracious throne
Come, O Thou greater than our hearts, 1200, ii., Witness Divine, the Just and True
Come, O Thou Holy Dove, 1200, ii., Ecoh ein zu deinem Thron
Come, O Thou King of all Thy saints, 803, i., Come, Thou long expected Jesus
Come, ye sinners, to the Lord, 1001, i., Sinners, obey the gospel word
Come on, then Steward of the Lord, 847, ii., Come in, thou blessed of the Lord, Enter in Come, our brethren, with songs descending, 20, i., Adeste cantibus chori
Come, our Father's voice is calling, 1180, ii., Tuttleti, L.
Come, our indulgent Saviour come, 821, ii., O Thou the hope of Israel's land
Come, poor sinners, God requires, 169, i., Bigge, J.
Come, poor sinners, come to Jesus, 690, ii., Lloyd, W. F.
Come praise the Lord, come praise Him, 918, i., Psalters, English
Come, praise your Lord and Saviour, 941, i., How, W. W.
Come, pure hearts, in sweetest measures, 208, i., Campbell, R.: 608, ii., Jerusalem pleke Sabbi.: 1050, i., Sing to God in sweetest measures
Come, quickly, Lord of all, 847, i., O quickly come, dread Judge of all Come quickly, gracious Lord, and take, 1203, i., Wesley family, The Come, raise we all the blessed strain, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Come, redeemer of the earth, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come, Redeemer of the nations, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come sacred peace, delightful guest, 222, i., Edmonton, J.
Come, said Jesus' sacred voice, 114, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.
Come, saints, adore your Saviour God, 524, i., Hill, R. F.
Come saints and shout the Saviour's praise, 800, i., Hughenden, O.
Come, saints, and sing in sweet accord, 823, i., Kent, J.
Come, Saviour, Jesus, from all the earth, 1212, ii., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come, Saviour, Jesus, from above, 1206, i., Veni Jesu, mox salvator
Come, Saviour of nations wild, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come, Saviour of the earth, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come, sayst Jesus' sacred voice, 114, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.
Come, see the place where Jesus lay, And hear, 819, i., He's gone, see where His body lay: 814, ii., Kelly, T.
Come, see the place where Jesus lies, 883, ii., Hankinson, T. E.
Come, shepherds, come, 'tis just a year, 696, ii., Heverdon, O.
Come, shout aloud the Father's grace, 806, i., Hughenden, O.
Come, sing the gospel's joyful sound, 150, ii., Bliss, P.
Come, sing to Jesus' praises, 1055, ii., Shindler (née Mary S. B.
Come, sing with holy gladness, 979, ii., Daniell, J. J.
Come, sinner, in whose guilty breast, 600, ii., Jones, E.
Come, sinners [sinner], to the gospel feast, Jesus invites, 831, i., Come, sinners to the gospel feast, Let every soul
Come, sinners, to the gospel feast: O come without delay, 831, i., Come, sinners, to the gospel feast, Let every soul
Come, sinners, work away, 63, i., All hail, ye blessed days of God
Come, soul of God, awake, 195, i., Awake, our drowsy souls
Come, thyself adorning, 1054, i., Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele
Come, sound his praise abroad, 1220, ii., Watts, I.
Come, Spirit Holy, Creator come, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes

Come, Spirit, come! Thy dwelling-place, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Spirit from above, 1214, i., Veni superne Spiritus: Purgata Christi sanguine
Come, Spirit, Source of light, 264, ii., Come, blessed Spirit, Source of light
Come, Spirit, Thou creative power, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, sweet harp, resounding, 29, ii., 'Aye ton, hieren ôdaorôd
Come, sweet-voiced lyre, to the soft Thian measure, 29, ii., 'Aye ton, hieren ôdaorôd
Come, take thy offers now, 16, i., Adams, N.
Come the rich, and come the poor, 166, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Come then, our heavenly Adam, come, 351, i., Enslaved to sense, to pleasure prone Come, Thou Comforter of the Lord, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The Come, Thou all-inspiring Spirit, 1205, i., Wesley family, The Come, Thou almighty King, 693, i., God save the King
Come, Thou blest angelic throng, 20, i., Adeste cantibus chori
Come, Thou bright and morning Star, 639, ii., Knerr von Rosenroth, C.
Come, Thou Creating Spirit blest, And be our Guest, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Thou Creator God, 1205, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Thou Eternal Spirit, come, 1201, i., Beddome, B.
Come, Thou Everlasting Spirit, 1202, i., Wesley family, The Come, Thou Hand of every blessing, 344, i., Huntingdon, Selina Hastings (née Shirley), Countess of: 969, i., Robinson (of Cambridge), R.: 1198, ii., Saviour, Source of every blessing
Come, Thou heavenly Spirit pure, 23, ii., Adsis superne Spiritus
Come, Thou High and Lofty One, 366, i., Come and let us sweetly join
Come, Thou Holy Paraclete, 1210, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Come, Thou Holy Spirit, come (Caswall, alt.), 910, ii., Primers: 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Come, Thou Holy Spirit, might: Leave Thy blissful throne on high, 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Come, Thou now, and be among us, 224, ii., O beata Hierusalem, præclarum civitas
Come Thou, O come, theorist and bloodliest, 1211, ii., Veni, jam veni, benignissime
Come, Thou omniscient Son of Man, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The Come, Thou our heavenly Adam, come, 647, ii., Graces
Come, Thou, our heavenly Father, come, 667, ii., Graces
Come, Thou Redeemer of the earth, Come testify, 1212, i., Veni, Redemptor gentium
Come Thou Redeemer of the earth, Thy Virgin's, 1212, i., Veni, Redemptor gentium
Come, Thou Saviour, long expected, 810, i., Come, Thou long expected Jesus
Come, Thou Saviour of our race, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Come, Thou soul-transforming Spirit, 208, i., Evans, Jonathan
Come, Thou Source of sweetest gladness, 807, i., O du fröhliche Freude
Come, Thou Spirit, ever loving, 208, i., Hall, H.
Come, Thou Spirit of heavenly, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Come, Thou Spirit of all light, 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Come, Thou Who dost the soul endue, 96, i., Almsm Planen, vita mundi
Come to Bethlehem and see, 641, ii., Gough, B.
Come to Calvary's holy mountain, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
Come to Jesus, to Jesus you, 818, ii., Charlesworth, M. L.
Come to Jesus, little one, 1186, ii., Turney, E.
Come to Jesus, O my brothers, 554, ii., Coles, ye sinners, poor and wretched
Come to me, Source of heaven, 809, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Come to the Comforter of heaven, 809, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Come to our dark nature's night, 353, i., Come to our nature's night
Come to our nature's midnight night, 353, i., Dawson, G.
Come to the house of prayer, 1179, ii., Taylor, Reality
Come to the Israel's regal feast, 18, i., Ad regias Agni dapes

Come to the land of peace, 809, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Come to the royal feast, 794, i., Midlane, A.
Come to the Saviour now! 1200, ii., Wigner, J. M.
Come to the Saviour, make no delay (Root), 796, i., Minslow
Come to Thy Church, O Lord our God, 977, i., Hooker, R.
Come to Thy temple here on earth, 1200, ii., Teach ein zu deinem Thron
Come, trembling sinner, in whose breast, 602, ii., Jones, E.
Come, 'tis Israel once more the path with song, 905, ii., Sachse, C. F. N.
Come tune, ye saints, your noblest strains, 1039, ii., Steele, Anne
Come, tune your harps, 213, ii., Carols: 407, ii., Hymns
Come, unite in praise and singing, 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
Come unto Me all ye who mourn, 1202, i., With solemn thanksgiving, our Lord
Come unto Me, and rest, 779, ii., Morris (née Gosh), Eliza F.
Come unto Me, the Saviour speaks [said], 189, i., Baillere, W. G.
Come unto Me, ye weary, 202, ii., Ive, W. C.
Come unto Me, ye weary, come, 213, i., Kent, J.
Come unto us, Holy Ghost, 913, ii., 911, i., Primers
Come unto us, O Lord, with Thy grace from heavenly
Come up hither, come away, 795, i., Bevin, E. H.
Come, ye shepherds, whose blest sight, 711, i., Carols
Come we that love the Lord, 393, ii., English hymnody
Come, weary sinner, in whose breast, 603, ii., Jones, E.
Come, weary souls, with sin distressed, Come to your Lord, 1001, i., Sinners, obey the gospel word
Come, weary souls, with sins distressed, 853, ii., Come, weary souls, with sin distressed: 1050, i., Steele, Anne Come, wisdom, power, and grace divine, 1205, i., Wesley family, The Come, with your sore disease, 165, ii., Burton, H.
Come, ye children, list to me, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Come, ye children, sweetly sing, 1021, ii., Campbell, Elen.
Come, ye Emmanuels, wherever ye tarrynish, 780, i., Moore, T.
Come, ye faithful choirs on earth, 630, i., Lustabundus cantate fidelis chores: Alleluia: Regem regum
Come ye faithful, raise the anthem, 113, ii., Baptist hymnody, 324, i., Come, ye saints, and raise an anthem
Come, ye faithful, raise the strain, 87, i., 'Arwain waered laoi.: 866, i., Greek hymnody
Come, ye heavenly choirs descending, 20, i., Adeste cantibus chori
Come, ye humble, contrite souls, 123, i., Bethune, B.
Come, ye lofty, come ye lowly, 213, ii., Carols
Come, ye men of rank and station, 1126, i., Temperance hymnody
Come, ye sinners, thankful own, 30, ii., Agnostus omnes cantate
Come ye saints and raise an anthem, 113, i., Baptist hymnody: 324, ii., Hopson, J.
Come, ye saints, behold and wonder, 254, ii., Come, ye saints, look here and wonder Come, ye saints, draw nigh and wonder, 254, ii., Come, ye saints, look here and wonder
Come, ye sinners, hasty laden, 254, ii., Come, ye sinners, poor and wretched
Come, ye sinners, poor and wretched, 493, ii., Hart, J.
Come, ye sinners, and and weary, 254, ii., Come, ye sinners, poor and wretched
Come, ye souls, by sin affected, 1164, i., Swain, J.
Come, ye thankful people, come, 39, ii., Alford, H.: 1126, i., Temperance hymnody
Come ye that fear the Lord, 794, ii., Montgomery, J.
Come ye that know and fear the Lord, 194, ii., Bridge, G.
Come ye that love the Lord, 393, i., Come, ye that love the Lord
Come, ye that love the Saviour's Name, 1000, i., Steele, Anne
Come, ye weary, hasty laden, 254, ii., Come, ye sinners, poor and wretched
Come ye who bow to sovereign grace, 1061, ii., Sparrow, S.
Come ye who love the Lord, 213, i., Come, ye that love the Lord
Come, ye who love the Lord, And feel His, 393, i., Come, every pious heart
Come, ye who mourn apart and rent awhile, 182, i., Bickersteth, E. H.
Come ye yourselves apart, and rest awhile. The way is weary, 1270, ii., Whiting, Mary B.

Come, yes and quickly come, 1211, ii., Veni, jam veni, benignissime
Come to us in the dreadful night, 603, i., Jones, white Ho dwelt below
Comet ist kinne a stillness as of even, 1002, ii., Smith, I. G.
Comet it again, the sweet and solemn hour, 995, i., Smith, I. G.
Comet over more the mystical night, 603, i., Jones, white Ho dwelt below
Comets manches affre rain, 450, i., Gerhardt, P.
Cometh that day, that day of ire, 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Comfort, comfort ye, my people, 807, i., Oberlin, Johannes Comfort, ye ministers of grace, 689, ii., Lord, I confess my sin to Thee
Comfort ye, ye people of the Lord: for He, 643, i., Hull, T.
Comforter from both together (tr. Wrangham), 948, i., Qui procedis ab utroque
Comforter, present and cheer us (Connolator alme, veni), 1202, ii., Wesley family, The Coming, through your great High Priest, 1203, ii., Wesley family, The Commend thy ways, O mortal, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
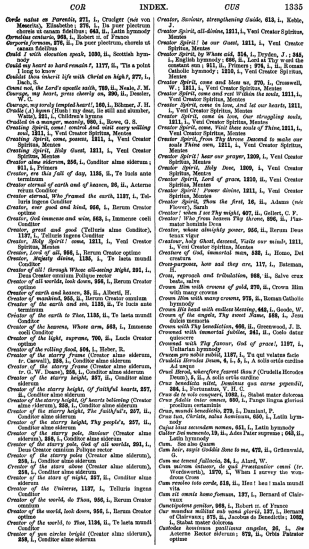
Commit thy way before thee, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thou all thy griefs, 126, ii., Befiehl du deine Wege: 1139, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Commit thou all thy ways, and all, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thou every sorrow, and care take His hand, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thou thy each grievance, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy cares and longing, 126, ii., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy every grief, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy way, confiding, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy ways, O weeper, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy way, O weeping, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy way to God, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy way unto the Lord, thy hurry, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy ways and pangs, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit thy ways, thy sorrows, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Commit whatever grieves thee, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Completed with Christ, in all besides, 1185, i., Topliady, A. M.
Complete in Thee, no work of mine, 1201, ii., Wolfe, A. R.
Comrades of the heavenly calling, 207, i., Conder, J.
Conceived and born of Virgin Mary, 1235, i., Virginis Proles, Opifexque matris
Concordi laetitia, Maria, venerantes popules, 813, i., Quotquot
Condemned are all the sons, 1117, i., Taylor, D.
Confida si compunta (Pent not your soul white doubt and fear, Miss Frozier), 976, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Confessor gloriosa, Virginis Virginei, 813, i., Confessor
Conquering kings their titles take, 1104, i., Virgo-nisi cognoscitus
Conquering Prince and Lord of glory, 1146, i., Tiverton, W.
Consider all my sorrows, Lord, 1250, ii., Watts, I.
Consolator alme veni, 795, ii., Les Jacrolis, lux insignis
Consors Paterni luminis, 56, ii., Ambrosius: 304, i., Creator alme, siderum: 918, i., Primers
Constancy of paternal light, 261, ii., Consors paterni luminis
Constrained by love so warm and tender, 1146, ii., Tiverton, W.
Constrained by love we fellow where, 1003, ii., Smith, R. F.
Contemplate, saints, the source divine, 1230, ii., Wardlaw, R.
Content, and glad I'll ever be, 1131, i., Batty, W.
Cor, mane figens cardinem, 965, ii., Cor Quicunque certum quaerite
Cor meum Filii dulci, 878, i., Palmer, R.



Corde natus ex Parentis, 271, i., Crudger (né von Mauerin), Elisabeth; 276, i., In paar plectrum chorale et canum fidelium; 642, ii., Latin hymnody
Cornelius census, 983, i., Robert st. of Frauen
Corpora sanctorum, 976, ii., In paar plectrum, chorale et canum fidelium
Could I with elevation speak, 1090, ii., Scottish hymnody
Could my heart so hard remain?, 1177, ii., 'Tis a point I long to know
Could we but rekrist life with Christ on high?, 977, i., Bach, S.
Count not, the Lord's specific saith, 789, ii., Wesley, J. M.
Courage, my heart, press cheerly on, 390, ii., Dessler, H.
Courage, my sorely tempted heart!, 149, i., Rückert, J. H.
Cradled (A) hymn (Hush! my dear, lie still and slumber, Watts), 831, i., Children's hymns
Cradled on a manger, manicle, 980, i., Rowe, G. S.
Creating Spirit, come! couldst dost unto every willing heart, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus
Creating Spirit, come, possess, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus
Creating Spirit, Holy Guest, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator alme siderum, 256, i., Conditor alme siderum; 811, i., Primers
Creator, ere this fall of day, 1156, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Creator eternal of earth and of heaven, 26, ii., Aeterne rerum Conditor
Creator eternal, Who framed the earth, 1137, i., Te lucis ante Conditor
Creator, ever good and kind, 866, i., Rerum Creator optime
Creator, God immense and wise, 869, i., Immense coeli Conditor
Creator, great and good (Tellaris alme Conditor), 1197, i., Tellaris ingens Conditor
Creator, Holy Spirit! come, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator, Lord of all, 866, i., Rerum Creator optime
Creator, Mighty divine, 1156, i., Te lucis ante Conditor
Creator of all! through Whose all-seeing Might, 1201, i., Deus Creator omnium Polique rector
Creator of all worlds, look down, 866, i., Rerum Creator optime
Creator of earth and heaven, 26, ii., Aeterni, H.
Creator of mankind, 866, ii., Rerum Creator omnium
Creator of the earth and sea, 1135, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Creator of the earth to Thee, 1135, ii., Te lucis ante Conditor
Creator of the heavens, Whose arm, 883, i., Immense coeli Conditor
Creator of the light, supreme, 700, ii., Lucis Creator optime
Creator of the rolling food, 108, i., Heber, R.
Creator of the starry frame (Creator alme siderum, tr. Caswall), 256, i., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry frame (Creator alme siderum, tr. Primers), 811, i., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry height, 257, ii., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry height, O faithful hearts, 257, ii., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry height, Thy people's hearts believing (Creator alme siderum), 256, i., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry height, Thy faithful's, 257, ii., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry height, Thy people's, 257, ii., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry pole, Saviour (Creator alme siderum), 256, i., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the starry pole, God of all worlds, 256, i., Deus Creator omnium Polique rector
Creator of the stars aloft (Creator alme siderum), 256, i., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the stars alone (Creator alme siderum), 256, i., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the stars of night, 257, ii., Conditor alme siderum
Creator of the Universe, 1197, i., Tellaris ingens Conditor
Creator of the world, do Thou, 866, i., Rerum Creator omnium
Creator of the world, look down, 866, i., Rerum Creator optime
Creator of the world, to Thee, 1136, ii., Te lucis mundi Conditor
Creator of yon circles bright (Creator alme siderum), 256, i., Conditor alme siderum
Creator, Saviour, strengthening Guide, 613, i., Kelle, J.
Creator Spirit, all-divine, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit! be our Guest, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, by Whose aid, 214, i., Dryden, J.; 344, i., English hymnody; 626, ii., Lord at Thy word the Creator Spirit, come! 911, ii., Primers; 978, i., ii., Roman Catholic hymnody; 1210, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus
Creator Spirit, come and bless us, 979, i., Cromwell, W.; 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus
Creator Spirit, come and rest Within the souls, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, come, and let our hearts, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, come in love, Our struggling souls, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, come, Visit those souls of Thine, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, from Thy throne Descend to make our souls Thine own, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus
Creator Spirit! hear our prayer, 1209, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, Holy Dove, 1208, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, Lord of grace, 1210, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, Source divine, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus Creator Spirit, Thou the first, 16, ii., Adams (né Flavel), Sarah Creator! when I see Thy weight, 907, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Creator, who dost from Thy throne, 256, ii., Ussumaar humilis Deus
Creator, whose almighty power, 256, ii., Rerum Deus tenax vigor
Creatour, holy Ghost, descend, Visite our minds, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentus
Creatour of God, immortal man, 866, i., Rerum, Deus creatura
Cross-purposes, love and they are, 117, i., Bateman, H.
Cross, reproach and tribulation, 968, ii., Salve crux sacra
Crown Him with crowns of gold, 270, ii., Crown Him with many crowns
Crown Him with many crowns, 270, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Crown this land with endless blessing, 643, i., Goode, W.
Crown Thy good with brotherhood, Thy sweet Name, 248, i., Jan dulcis memoria
Crown with Thy benediction, 866, ii., Greenwood, J. D.
Crowned with immortal jubilee, 261, ii., Coelo datur quicunque
Crucifix, Church Thy favour, God of grace!, 1197, i., Unitarian hymnody
Cruxem gre nobis subsit, 1197, i., Te qui velates facie
Cruxdilis Herodes Deum, 6, i., 2, i., A solis ortis cardine Ad usque
Cruxdilis Herodes interfers fecerat then I (Crudelis Herodes Deum), 6, ii., A solis ortis cardine
Crux benedicta nitet, Dominus qua carne pependit, 264, i., Fortunatus, V. H. C.
Crux de te vola conquers, 1062, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Crux fidelis inter omnes, 265, i., Pange lingua gloriosi praelium certaminis
Crux, mundi benedicta, 279, i., Damiani, P.
Crux lux, Christe, salus hominum, 650, i., Latin hymnody
Cum Jesus secundum nomen, 631, i., Latin hymnody
Cultor Dei memento, 13, ii., Adam Peter regressus; 665, ii., Latin hymnody
Cum. Sus also Quum
Cum heir, sepis inskilla Sone to me, 479, ii., Grünwald, C.
Cum no trowst fallacia, 24, i., Lord, W.
Cum solemn Saviour, de qua Praesentior cunst (tr. Wordsworth), 1270, i., When I survey the wondrous Cross
Cum Thalee tuis corde, 218, ii., Hee! hee! mais mundi vita
Cum sit omnis homo fumum, 127, i., Bernard of Clairvaux
Cunctipotens genitor, 969, i., Robert st. of France
Custos Israel, nec dormitat, 1, ii., Adam Peter; Bernard of Clairvaux; 275, ii., Jacobus de Benedictis; 1002, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Custodes hominum psallamus angelos, 32, i., See Aeterne Rector siderum; 979, ii., Orbis Patrator optime

Cut id down, cut it down, 130, ii., Hine, P.
Cuxsu sic transeges, 1256, i., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Da, Christe, nos tecum sum—Qui victor ad coelum redis, 239, ii., Decologus
Da Christo, nos tecum sum—Sit Iesu Patri, Iesu Filio, 239, i., Decologus
Da Christus geboren war Freuden zieht der Engel schar, 1, i., Danish Hymns
Da Jesus Lazarum flevit, 670, i., Gunther, M.
Da Jesus zu dem Herrn stund, 104, i., Bienlemeritz, J.; 413, i., Gerhardt, J., No. xviii.
Da Jesus zu des Kreuzes Stamm, 104, i., Bienlemeritz, J.
Da nun Jesus sahen Lazaß, 1204, i., Herman, N.
Da sacred Jasmine, 206, ii., Caplin, W.; 704, ii., Luther, M.; 889, ii., 892, i., Old Version
Da your plectrum, 1000, i., Sing, ye faithful, sing with gladness
Daily, daily sing the praises, 114, ii., Baring-Gould, S.
Dal Gud i Himlen, 1, i., Danish Hymns; 1202, i., Ubi sacerdos servus unde sertanus desiderat
Daily, O Lord, our prayer be said, 442, i., Graves
Daniel was right as right could be, 127, i., Bateman, H.
Danket dem Herrn, denn sie ist freundlich, 1190, i., Herrn, C.
Danke sei Gott in der Höhe, 779, ii., Mühlmann, J.
Dankt dem Herrn heut und allezeit (N. Herman), 1040, i., Schecker, N.
Dann ist die Seele der göttlichen Liebe, 518, ii., Hauser (né Schreiner), Mona Dankt Gott dem Herrn, 979, i., Jaicky, J.
Dans l'alme des saisons, 252, ii., French hymnody
Dans le désert, où je pourrais me rendre, 202, ii., French hymnody
Dare we indulge in wrath and strife?, 1020, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Dark and dim the daylight now, 782, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
Dark Death looked the grave would be, 602, ii., Gaskell, Mary
Dark is the night, and cold the wind is blowing, 1204, i., Van Alstyne (né Crosby), Frances J.
Dark is the sky that overhangs my soul, 1205, i., Stone, S. J.
Dark, mighty Queen, calling to our feet, 285, i., Pouqué, F. H. C. de la Motte
Dark night arrays in hostile veil, 930, i., Nox atra rerum contegit
Dark night, beneath her noble wings, 930, i., Nox atra rerum contegit
Dark 'tis to die, death, that is (art) flowing, 322, i., Edmeston, J.
Dark was the night and cold the ground, 499, i., Hastings, T.
Dark was the night, and cold the wind was blowing, 1205, i., Van Alstyne (né Crosby), Frances J.
Dark were the paths our Master trod, 602, ii., Gaskell, Mary
Darkling Frowns the evening sky, 985, ii., Phillimore, G.
Darkness over the world was brooding, 402, ii., Gaskell, Mary
Darkness overspreads us here, 924, i., Newton, J.
Darkness reigns—the hum of life's commotion, 519, ii., Hauser (né Schreiner), Mona Darkness shrouded Calvary, 16, ii., Adams (né Flavel), Sarah
Darkness was on the deep, O Lord, 793, i., Louis Creator optime
Das alte Jahr vergangen ist, Wir danken dir, Herr Jesu Christ, 1055, i., Neander, J.
Das ewige dahinfern walgert sich, 1304, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Das ewige Sonnenlicht ist da, 1144, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Das Erdreich quillt, das Lebenswasser fliesset, 59, i., Allendorf, J. L. C.
Das Furchtbar an den frohen Tieben trat, 486, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von Das ist der, der das Grab ist leer, 256, ii., Clandius, M.
Das ist der Gemeine Stärke, 908, i., Freiwerth, S.
Das ist mir lieb, dass meine Stimm und Flöten, 135, i., Berigan-Maria of Rauss
Das Leben ging zum Sterben, 1144, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Das Leben ras Erzvaterstamm, 525, i., Hiller, F. F.
Das Leben ist gleich wie ein Strom, 798, i., Neander, J.
Das Leben wird oft trübe, 1276, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Das neugeborne Kindelein, 1018, ii., Schlegel, C.
Das Paradies muss schön sein, 1274, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Das soll dein Vater und dein Adam, 121, i., Behm, M.
Das sollen deine Wunden, 631, ii., Kolrau, J.
Daughter of Zion, come thy bitter tears, 1216, i., Venit e coelo Mediator alto
Daughters of pity, tune the lay, 1196, ii., Unitarist hymnody
Daughters of Zion! Royal maids, 200, ii., Exite filiae Sion, Regis pudicae virgines Daughters of Zion, who're so merry, 81, ii., Arnold, G.
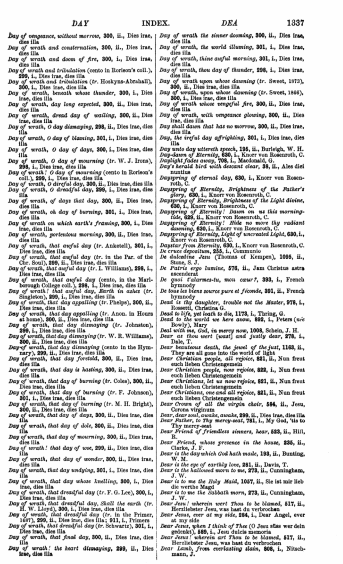
Dawn, far eastward on the mountain, 666, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
Dawn (Now salute all the East with light), 96, i., Aurora jam rejargit polum
Dawn (Now salute all the East with light), 96, i., Aurora jam rejargit polum
Dawning was the first of days, 713, i., Miles prima dierum
Dawns the day, the day of dread, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day again is dawning, 461, ii., Hall, C. N.
Day all-polished, all-splendid, 705, ii., Lux jucunda, lux insignis
Day by day (Year by year by year), 231, ii., Davis, T.
Day by day the manna fell, 256, ii., Conder, J.; 697, ii., Lord's (The) prayer
Day by day we magnify Thee, 1152, ii., The hours of school are over
Day dawns, the day was wont noted, 705, ii., Lux jucunda, lux insignis
Day dieses[1] when in the temple, 421, ii., Gill, T. H.
Day divine! when sudden streaming, 621, i., Hill, R.
Day fearful, that day of ire, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day is dying in the west, 985, i., Lathbury, Mary A.
Day is past and gone, 690, i., Littledale, R. F.
Day of anger, all arresting, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa; 998, ii., Robertson, W. B.
Day of anger, day of mourning (tr. W. J. Irons, alt.), 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, day of mourning (tr. Bents), 399, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, day of sighing, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, day of weeping, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, dreadful day, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, sinners dooming, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, that dread day shall the reign, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, that dread day, When the earth, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of anger, that great day, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of awful wrath, great day, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of days the prince, on thee, 204, i., Die dierum principio
Day of death! in silence speeding, 451, ii., Gravi me terrore prima vitae dies ultima
Day of doom, O day of terror, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of doom, that day of ire, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of doom, the last, the greatest, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of dread, in wrath assoiling, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of fury when earth dying, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of ire, that day impending, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of ire, woe worth that day, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of Judgment, day appalling, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of Judgment, day of ire, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of Judgment, day of mourning, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of Judgment, day of "wrack," 201, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of life, all sorrow ending (Dies illa, dies vitae), 819, i., Heu! Heu! mais mundi vita
Day of mercy, day of wonder, 705, ii., Lux jucunda, lux insignis
Day of prophecy, O fearful, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of terror, day of doom, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of the Lord's sweeping ire, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of threatened wrath, O woe heaven, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of vengeance, and of warning, 200, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of vengeance, and of wages, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of vengeance, day of burning, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of vengeance, day of fire, 201, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Day of vengeance, day of sorrow, 200, i., Dies irae, dies illa



Day of vengeance, without mercy, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath and consternation, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath and doom of fire, 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath and tribulation (canto in Horlem's coll.), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath and tribulation (tr. Hoskyns-Abrahall), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, beneath whose thunder, 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, day long expected, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, dread day of wailing, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, O day dismaying, 298, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, O day of blaming, 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, O day of days, 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, O day of mourning (tr. W. J. Irons), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath! O day of mourning (canto in Horlam's coll.), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, O dreadful day, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, O dreadful day, 1000, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, oh days that day, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, oh day of burning, 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath on which earth's framing, 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, perilous morning, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that awful day (tr. Anstett), 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that awful day (tr. in the Par. of the Chr. Scal), 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that awful day (tr. I. Williams), 298, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that awful day (canto, in the Marlborough College coll.), 298, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath! that awful day, Earth to ashes (tr. Singleton), 299, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day appalling (tr. Fisher), 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day appalling (tr. Anon. in Hours of Sarum), 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day dismaying (tr. Johnston), 299, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day dismaying (tr. R. Williams), 299, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Dayof wrath, that day dismaying (canto in the Hymnary), 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day foretold, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day is hasting, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day of burning (tr. Coles), 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day of burning (tr. F. Johnson), 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day of burning (tr. M. H. Bright), 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day of days, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day of dole, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day of mourning, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath! that day of woe, 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day of wonder, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day undoing, 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that day whose loadless, 299, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. F. G. Lee), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that dreadful day, Shall the earth (tr. of W. Lloyd), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. in the Primer, 1687), 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa; 811, i., Primers

Day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. Schwartz), 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, that final day, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath! the heart dismaying, 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath the sinner damning, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, the world illuming, 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, thine awful morning, 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, thou day of thunder, 298, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath upon whose dawning (tr. Sweet, 1872), 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, upon whose dawning (tr. Sweet, 1865), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath whose vengeful fire, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day of wrath, with vengeance glowing, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day shall dawn that has no morrow, 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Day the awful day affrighting, 301, i., Dies irae, dies illa

Day unto day uttereth speech, 126, i., Burleigh, W. H.

Daß dawn & Eternity, 620, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

Daylight fades away, 703, i., Macdonald, G.

Daylight is gone! bird with dewsoot clear, 34, ii., Alex ziet aanstaat

Dayspring of eternal day, 630, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

Dayspring of Eternity, Brightness of the Father's Light shine, 630, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

Dayspring of Eternity, Brightness of the Light shine, 630, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

Dayspring of Eternity! Soon on us this morning-tide, 628, ii., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

Dayspring of Eternity, Splendour of thy radiant dawning, 630, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

Dayspring of Eternity, Light of uncreated Light, 630, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

Daystar from Eternity, 630, i., Knorr von Rosenroth, C

De Christo gentium Redemptore, 1000, i., Ambrose, St.

De dulcissimo Jesu (Chanson of Kempen), 1086, ii., Stone, S. J.

De Patris ergo lumine, 278, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat

De profundis clamare-tu, mon cœur?, 393, i., French hymnody

De tous les biens soyez pure et fécondé, 251, ii., French hymnody

Dead is thy daughter, trouble not the Master, 979, i., Thring, G.

Dead is the world we have come, 892, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary

Deal with me, God, in mercy now, 1008, Schein, J. H.

Dear Christ, thou wert (was) and justly dost, 278, i., Dale

Dear beauteous death, the jewel of the just, 1168, ii., They are all gone into the world of light

Dear Christian people, all rejoice, 881, ii., Nun freut euch lieben Christengemein

Dear Christian people, all rejoice, 882, i., Nun freut euch lieben Christengemein

Dear Christian people, all rejoice, 882, ii., Nun freut euch liebes Christengemeine

Dear Christians, let us now rejoice, 881, ii., Nun freut euch liebes Christengemein

Dear Christians, one and all rejoice, 881, ii., Nun freut euch liebes Christengemein

Dear Christ, the virgin Mother's choir, 586, ii., Jesu, Corona virginum

Dear, dear soul, awake, awake, 290, ii., Dies irae, dies illa

Dear Father, to Thy mercy-seat, 784, i., My God, 'tis to Thy mercy-seat

Dear friend of friendless sinners, hear, 883, ii., Hill, E.

Dear Friend, whose presence in the house, 886, ii., Wesley, C.

Dear is the day which God hath made, 182, ii., Bunting, W. H.

Dear is the eye of earthly love, 281, ii., Davis, T.

Dear is the hallowed morn to me, 272, ii., Cunningham, J. W.

Dear is to me the Holy Maid, 1057, ii., Sie ist mir lieb die werthe Magd

Dear is to me the Sabbath morn, 272, ii., Cunningham, J. W.

Dear Jesus, wherein were Thou to be blamed, 617, ii., Herzliebster Jesu, was hast du verbrochen

Dear Jesus, ever at my side, 284, i., Dear Angel, ever at my side

Dear Jesus, when I think of Thee (I Jesu stäs wer dein gedenkt), 617, ii., German hymnody

Dear Jesus! wherein are Thou to be blamed, 617, ii., Herzliebster Jesu, was hast du verbrochen

Dear Lamb, from corrlating skies, 808, i., Nicolai, J.

Dear Lord, a lonely life was Thine, 772, ii., Moultrie, J.

Dear Lord, amid the throng that pressed, 288, i., Denny, J. G.

Dear Lord and Father of mankind, 1277, i., Whittier, J. G.

Dear Lord and Master mine, 421, ii., Gill, T. H.

Dear Lord, and shall Thy Spirit rest, 1096, i., Steele, Anne

Dear Lord, and will Thy pardoning love, 798, i., Dear Lord, Thy condescending love; 972, i., Fellows, J.

Dear Lord, in Thee alone, 626, ii., Kimball, Harriet Mott

Dear Lord, Thou art not sorry, 421, ii., Gill, T. H.

Dear Lord, though bitter is the cup, 125, i., Baddeley, B.

Dear Lord, Thy light Thou dost not hide, 421, ii., Gill, T. H.

Dear Lord, to hear Thee and Thy word, 258, i., Chancellor, T.

Dear Maker of the starry skies (Creator alme siderum), 246, i., Conditor alme siderum

Dear Master, what can children do, 718, i., Matheson, Annie

Dear Redeemer, we are here, 258, i., Chancellor, T.

Dear Refuge of my weary soul, 790, i., My God, my Refuge of my weary soul

Dear Saviour, bless us ere we go, 1127, ii., Sweet benediction, bless us ere we go

Dear Saviour, ever at my side, 284, i., Dear Angel, ever at my side

Dear Saviour, if these lambs should stray, 106, i., Bacon, L.; 586, i., Hyde (nee Bradley), Abby H.

Dear Saviour of a dying world, 1255, ii., Waring, Anna L.

Dear Saviour, prostrate at Thy feet, 1002, i., Stennett, S.

Dear Saviour, Thou my faithful Shepherd, come, 595, ii., Herrmann, J.

Dear Saviour, in Thy little lambs, 679, i., Lennox, Jane E.

Dear Saviour, we are Thine, 306, i., Doddridge, P.

Dear Saviour, when to Thy Church clasp, 592, i., Ere Christ ascended to His Throne

Dear Saviour, while I here am bleat (Mein Heiland, wenn mein Gmüt erfreut), 1130, i., Sherm, C. C.

Dear Saviour, Who for me has borne, 592, i., Herrmann, J.

Dear Shepherd of Thy people, hear, 860, ii., O Lord, our helpful souls inspire

Dear soul, couldst thou become a child, 1144, i., Turnbull, C. H.

Dear Spirit, eternal succour bind, 190, i., Bryant, W. C.

Dear to Thee, O Lord, and precious, 520, i., Hauser (nee Schwetzer), Meta

Dearest Immanuel, Prince of the lowly, 675, ii., Liebster Immanuel, Herzog der Frommen

Dearest Jesu, we are here, for to hear (tr. Moravian Hymn Bk., 1754), 258, i., Chancellor, T.

Dearest Jesu, we are here, Thee to hear, 258, i., Chancellor, T.

Dearest Jesus, come to me, 595, i., Jesu, komm' doch mich zu mir

DearestJesus, we are here; o Thy tender prae-ervelging, 258, i., Liebster Jesu wir sind hier Deinem Worte nachzuleben

Dearest of Names, our Lord and King, 722, ii., Medley, S.

Death cannot make my soul afraid, 288, ii., Death cannot make our souls afraid

Death could make my soul afraid, 1099, i., Stryker, M. W.

Death has no bidding to divide, 422, ii., Gill, T. H.

Death hold our Lord in prison, 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Death in all this world prevaileth, 36, ii., Alliteus, J. G.

Death is an awful word, 122, i., Baddeus, B.

Death is but a messenger sent, 1132, ii., Bowie, W. W.

Death is no more adequate for, 722, i., Medley, S.

Death may dissolve my body now, 1026, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Death o'er all his song maintaineth, 36, ii., Alliteus, J. G.

Death shall be thy birthday morn, 813, ii., Hort rounton exultavit

Death shut the gates of paradise, 1178, ii., Thring, S.

Death, 'tis an awful word, 122, i., Baddeus, B.

Deathless principle, arise, 1182, ii., Peabody, A. M.

Deathless spirit, now arise, 286, i., Deathless principle, arise

Deck thyself, my soul, with gladness—1, i., Thou Him, whose boundless grace, 1014, ii., Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele

Deck thyself, my soul, with gladness—1, i., Thou Him, whose wondrous, 1014, ii., Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele

Decked with robes such state befitting, 1068, i., Stola regni lucentior

Decus eximium meritalis aurorae, 93, i., Aurea luce et decore roseo

Decus eximium nominis, 662, ii., Latin hymnody

Deem not that they are blest alone, 189, ii., Bryant, W. C.

Deem we consistent, spirit-shaken, 1179, i., Tittan, C.

Deep are the wounds which sin has made, 1085, ii., Steele, Anne

Deep down beneath the unresting surge, 161, ii., Bonar, H.

Deep hidden by divine decree, 1068, ii., Statuta decreto Dei

Deep in our hearts, let us record, 1232, ii., Watts, I.

Deep sorrow on the Apostles came (Venus cunct apostoli), 95, i., Aurora lucis rutilat

Deep slumber were in her bones, 1265, ii., Wilson, J.

Deepen the wounds Thy hand has made, 1085, ii., Wesley family, The Deeply dark and deeply still, 1050, ii., Stone, S. J.

Deeply laid a new foundation (Legitare fundamentum), 1230, i., Vitæ beata, Hermannes

Defend me, Lord, from shame (Ps. xxxi.), 800, i., New Version

Defend the poor and destitute, 797, i., Milton, J.

Defye not, dear God, 623, i., Gregory, J. G.

Defye 'sghalen, defye 'sghalen! dilgeshafye, 800, i., Dutch Ps.

Dein ew'ge Liebe entzündt mich, 1007, i., Schaffer, J.

Dein Heil, o Christ! sucht zu verscheren, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.

Dein König kommt in niedern Hüllen, 418, i., German hymnody

Dein König kommt, o Zion, 418, i., German hymnody

Dein Zion tat grosn, 211, i., Dreieinigkeit, der Gottheit wahre Spiegel

Dein sind wir Gott, in Ewigkeit, 626, i., Klopstock, F. G.

Dein Wort, o Herr, ist milder Thau, 604, ii., Garve, C. B.

Deine heilige Gebart, 626, i., Klopstock, F. G.

Deinen Frieden gib uns Herr, 618, i., German hymnody

Dein Heiland ruft sei, o sünner diese wort, 594, ii., Spangenberg

Delight and joy of earth, 873, i., Optatus votis cunctorum

Delight of all the earth, 873, i., Optatus votis cunctorum

Delight of all the earth, the Lord, 873, i., Optatus votis

Deliver us, my God of weight (Ps. lxi. Port), 1093, ii., Scottish hymnody

Deliver me, O Lord my God (Ps. lx.), 800, ii., New Version

Delivered! dost dream of heaven, 760, i., Mistaken souls that dream of heaven

Dem Gott'gen Lamme, das mich, 672, ii., Grünbeck (née Naverdsky), Esther

Demeure dans la grâce (Ach Bleib mit deiner Gnade), 260, ii., French hymnody

Den strand haerpan fig tyggir (Drottin), 1093, i., Scandinavian hymnody

Den himmels-Fursthemach hab' ich auf der Erde, 791, ii., Neander, J

Den himmels-Fürstenmach hab' ich schon hienieden, 791, ii., Neander, J.

Den Vater dort oben, 1246, i., Weber, M.

Depart, my child! 284, ii., Hoffmann, G.

Depth of mercy can there be, 307, i., Father, God, Who ever art one

Depths of love with power divine, 236, i., Charles decus pigmiti

Der am Kreuz ist meine Liebe (Rube), 980, i., Rube, J. G.

Der am Kreuz ist meine Liebe, Meine Lieb ist Jesus Christ (Fritsch), 980, i., Rube, J. C.

Der am Kreuz ist was ich weiss, Und sonst nichts in aller Welt, 980, i., Rube, J. C.

Der beste Freund ist in dem Himmel, 617, i., German hymnody

Der Bräutigam kommt bald mehr, 1252, i., Walther, J.

Der du bist drei in Einigkeit, 706, i., Luther, M.; 863, i., O Lux beata Trinitas et principalis Unitas

Der Du der Herren König bist (N. L. von Zinzendorf), 1197, i., Thring, G.

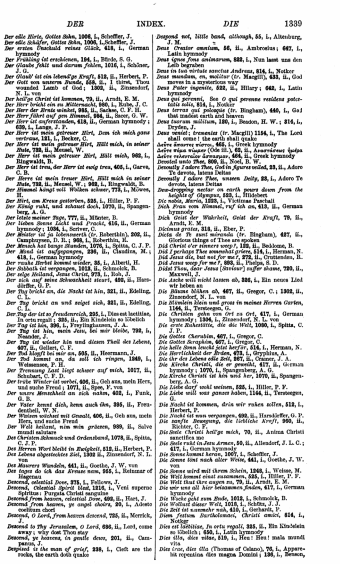
Der Du Herr Jesu, sich und Gott (Qui Jesciel auctore) 1197, i., Tu qui volatus facis

Der du in der Nacht der Oelen, 1275, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Der du in Todesnächten, 418, i., German hymnody

Der du in der letzten Nacht, 1264, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L.

Der du trugst die Schmerzen aller, 519, ii., Hauser (nee Schwetzer), Meta



DER INDEX. DIE 1339

Der alte Heide, Golden Rühe, 1866, L., Schreiber, J.
Der alte Weg durch Sünde, Schuld, 1866, L., Hupfeld, F.
Der armen Seelenhirt weiset Allen, 618, L., German hymnody
Der Frühling ist erschienen, 194, L., Bitsch, S. G.
Der Glaube hilft und darum faßte, 1016, L., Schiner, M.
Der Gnade ist ein lebendige Kraft, 813, L., Herbert, P.
Der Gott von unserm Bunde, 668, L., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God, 1302, L., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Der Herr Christ ist kommen, 79, L., Arndt, E. M.
Der Herr bricht ein zu Mitternacht, 580, L., Rothe, J. C.
Der Herr der Heide weidet, 286, L., Jacken, C. F. H.
Der Herr fährt auf gen Himmel, 204, L., Snow, G. W.
Der Herr ist auferstanden, 218, L., German hymnody; 1026, L., Lange, J. P.
Der Herr ist mein getreuer Hirt, Dem ich mich ganz ergeben, 181, L., Becker, C.
Der Herr ist mein getreuer Hirt, Hilft mich, in seiner Huth, 720, L., Menzel, W.
Der Herr ist mein getreuer Hirt, Hilft mich, 969, L., Hingwalt, B.
Der Herr ist treu, der Herr ist ewig treu, 460, L., Garve, C. F.
Der Herrn ist mein treuer Hirt, Hilft mich in seiner Huth, 720, L., Menzel, W.; 969, L., Hingwalt, B.
Der Himmel hängt voll Wolken schwer, 773, L., Nicolai, P.
Der Herr, von Ewigkeit, 218, L., Hiller, P. F.
Der König wohl, und schaut doch, 1070, L., Spangenberg, A. G.
Der letzte meiner Tage, 777, L., Mörter, D.
Der Mensch hat lange Stunden, 1070, L., Riedel, 816, L., German hymnody; 1295, L., Sartor, C.
Der Meister ist zu Jahrsmarkt (tr. Rabenlied), 309, L., Campbegan, D. L.; 969, L., Rabenlied, E.
Der Mensch hat lange Stunden, 1070, L., Spitta, C. J. P.
Der Mond ist aufgegangen, 230, L., Claudius, M.; 618, L., German hymnody
Der rauhe Herbst kommt wieder, 25, L., Alberti, H.
Der Schlaub ist vergangen, 1012, L., Schneider, D.
Der selge Heiland, Jesus Christ, 973, L., Roh, J.
Der Sonne Pracht, des Himmels Herrlichkeit stirbt, 689, L., Hornschuher, G. F.
Der Tag bricht an, die Nacht ist hin, 321, L., Kindleg, C. L.
Der Tag bricht an und neigt sich, 321, L., Kindleg, C. L.
Der Tag der ist so freudenreich, 235, L., Dieses heitliss, D. (tr. engl.); 309, L., Ein Kindelein so löblich
Der Tag ist hin, 336, L., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Der Tag ist hin, mein Jesu, bei mir bleibe, 793, L., Rothe, J. C.
Der Tag ist wieder hin und diesen Theil des Lebens, 627, L., Gellert, C. F.
Der Tod klopft bei mir an, 835, L., Herrmann, J.
Der Tod kommt an, da soll ich ringen, 1040, L., Schmidt, J. C.
Der Donnerung Land liegt schwer auf mich, 1017, L., Schubert, C. F. D.
Der treue Winter ist verbei, 636, L., Ach ans, mein Herr, und meine Freud; 1071, L., Spee, F. von Der wegen Menschheit an sich nahm, 823, L., Funk, J.
Der Vater kennt dich, kennt auch dich, 395, L., Fenchtmill, W. N.
Der Weisen wünscht mit Gemüt, 606, L., Ach ans, mein Herr, und meine Freud
Der Welt bekannt, nun mein gnädiges, 989, L., Salve mundi salutare
Der Christen Schmuck und Ordensband, 1079, L., Spitta, C. J. P.
Der Leben Abgeschieden hat, 1302, L., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Des Meisters Wandeln, 641, L., Goethe, J. W. von
Des Segen du Gott Abrams nam, 552, L., Reinmar of Zweter
Descend, celestial Dove, 275, L., Fellows, J.
Descend, Celestial Spirit Mind, 1214, L., Veni superno Spiritus: Purgata Christi margine
Descend from heaven, celestial Dove, 689, L., Hurt, J.
Descend, Holy Spirit, we implore, 20, L., Adam Schöne
Descend, O Lord, from heaven descend, 725, L., Merrick, J.
Descend to Thy Jerusalem, O Lord, 690, L., Lord, come away, why dost Thou stay
Descend, ye heavens, in gentle dews, 231, L., Campegius, J.
Despised is the man of grief, 238, L., Cleft are the rocks, the earth doth quake
Despond not, little band, although, 53, L., Altenburg, J.
Deus Creator omnium, 66, L., Ambrosius, 667, L., Latin hymnody
Deus igneus Pius animarum, 223, L., Nun lasst uns den Leib begraben
Deus misericors, qui sanctus Andreas, 216, L., Notker
Deus omnium, ex, auctor (tr. Mangill), 440, L., God moves in a mysterious way
Deus Pater regnetis, 220, L., Hilary; 662, L., Latin hymnody
Deus tuorum militum, 130, L., Beaton, H. W.; 216, L., Trydin, J.
Deus, Deus meus (tr. Mangill) 1134, L., The Lord shall come; the earth shall quake
Δεῦτε πάντες πίστοι, 662, L., Greek hymnody
Δεῦτε πάντες πίστοι (Ode 3), 62, L., Ἀναστάσεως ἡμέρα
Δεῦτε πάντες πίστοι (Ode 3), 62, L., Greek hymnody
Dewsol unto Thee, 600, L., Noel, B. W.
Dextera Dei sapientiam, 220, L., Sapientia aedificat, 23, L., Adore Te devote, latens Deitas
Devoutly I adore Thee, unseen Deity, 23, L., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Dew-dropping nectar on earth pours down from the heavens, 1134, L., The Lord shall come
Die edle Mutter, 1295, L., Ytalienar Psalter
Dich Frau vom Himmel, ruf' ich an, 613, L., German hymnody
Dich freut der Wahrheit, Geist der Kraft, 79, L., Arndt, E. M.
Dichtung preise, 314, L., Eber, P.
Dicis de Te sunt miranda (tr. Bingham), 467, L., Glorious things of Thee are spoken
Did Christ o'er sinners weep? 120, L., Beddome, B.
Did Christ o'er sinners weep? 1134, L., The Lord shall come
Did Jesus die, but not for me? 272, L., Cruttenden, R.
Did Jesus weep for me? 809, L., Phelps, S. D.
Didst Thou, dear Jesus (Saviour) suffer shame, 720, L., Maxwell, J.
Die du Gottes Wahrheit lassen ab, 326, L., Ein neues Lied wir heben an Die Bäume blühen ab, 467, L., Gregor, C.; 1302, L., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Die Blumlein Blein und grun in meines Herren Garten, 1302, L., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Die Christen gehn von Ort zu Ort, 617, L., German hymnody; 1302, L., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Die erste Sichenstirn, die die Welt, 1295, L., Spitta, C. J. P.
Die Gnaden Cherubim, 467, L., Gregor, C.
Die Gnaden Seraphim, 467, L., Gregor, C.
Die helle Sonn leuchtt jetzt herfür, 614, L., Herman, N.
Die Herrlichkeit der Erden, 671, L., Gryphius, A.
Die ihr des Lebens alle seid, 867, L., Cramer, J. A.
Die Kirche Christi ist hoch und weit, 1070, L., Spangenberg, A. G.; 1302, L., Zinzendorf, N. L. von; 617, L., German hymnody
Die Kirche Christi ist hoch und weit, 1070, L., Spangenberg, A. G.
Die Liebe darf und weinen, 235, L., Hiller, P. F.
Die Liebe will und gnaden haben, 1144, L., Vermögen, G.
Die Nacht ist kommen, drin wir ruhen sollen, 812, L., Herbert, P.
Die Nacht ist vom vergangen, 660, L., Herrnhöffer, G. F.
Die Sonne hebt sich prangend, die lichtlich Kraft, 995, L., Hiller, P. F.
Die Seele Christi heil'ge mich, 70, L., Anima Christi sanctifica me
Die Seele ruht in Jesu Armen, 80, L., Allendorf, J. L. C.; 1302, L., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Die Sonne leuchtet hell, 1067, L., Schaffer, J.
Die Sonne lief nach aller Welt, 641, L., Goethe, J. W. von Die Sonne wird mit ihrem Schein, 1302, L., Weiss, M.
Die Tag die gehen und kommen, 1302, L., Weiss, M. P.
Die Welt that ihre augen zu, 73, L., Arndt, E. M.
Die wir uns all hier beisammen finden, 617, L., German hymnody
Die Woche geht zum Ende, 1013, L., Schmidt, D.
Die Zeit ist kommen nun, 614, L., Herman, N.
Die Zeit ist sonnehr nun, 614, L., Gerhardt, P.
Diem festum Bartholomaei, Christi amici, 216, L., Notker
Dies est laetitiae, in ortu regali, 25, L., Ein Kindelein so löblich; 309, L., Ein Kindelein so löblich
Dies illa, dies irae, 519, L., Herr! Herr! mein mordt vrie
Dies irae, dies illa (Thomas of Celano), 76, L., Apparebit repentina dies magna Domini; 136, L., Benson,

E. W.; 214, L., Dryden, J.; 344, E., English hymnody; 393, L., Jam dulcis memoria; 666, E., Latin hymnody; 673, E., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium; 811, L., Primero; 861, E. (Sea Most merely at the appointed time), Ringwaldt, B.; 868, E., Thou King of mercy, all creating; Robertson, W. B.; 1000, E., Venit, O Jesu, ad vocantum; Wesley, C.; 1031, L., Walther, G. (of Hitton); 1302, L., Wilhelm, D.
Dies est der Tag den Gott gemacht, 627, L., Gellert, C. F.
Dies irae, dies illa (tr. Bingham), 1, Day of Judgment, 467, L., Gregor, C.
Dies irae, dies illa, solvet saeclum, 666, L., Goestly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Dieses ist der Gemeinde Stärke (Den Dag ist der Gemeine Stärke), 993, L., Trutzwerk, S.
Dieses ist der Tag, den Gott gemacht, 618, L., German hymnody
Dieses ist die Nacht, da mir erschienen, 796, L., Nachtenhöfer, C. F.
Dieses sind die heiligen zehn Gebot, 704, E., Luther, M.
Dignare me laudare, 73, L., Antiphon
Dilecte mi, tu mihi, 1134, L., The Lord shall come Dim and dark our prayers ascend, 118, L., Barton, B.
Dim eyes for ever closed, 888, E., Stephens, Elizabeth C.
Dimitte nos, Jesu, Pacis, 666, E., Lord, cleanse us with Thy blessing
Dir, Gott, will ich singen, Herz, die Jauchzt mein Lied, 1016, L., Schiner, J. M.
Dir, dir, du Gober aller Gaben, 676, E., Lisnich, E.
Dir, dir, Jehovah will ich singen, 980, L., Cramelius (Crasmir), B.
Dir, dir, Jehovah will ich singen, 1031, L., Hippel, T. G. von
Dirge, 73, E., Antiphon
Dismal, dreary scene, 141, L., Hanco da Siena
Dismiss me not Thy service, Lord, 702, E., Lynch, T. T.
Dismiss us with Thy blessing, Holy Ghost, 1000, E., Wesley, J.; 666, E., Lord, cleanse us with Thy blessing
Dismissal of Sinners, by man opprest, 697, E., Joyce, J.
Dispenser of the gifts of heaven, 1100, E., Hamiel largiter promiet
Dixit Dominus, he hath wings over, 882, E., Nun ruhen alle Wälder
Dispenser supreme, And Judge of the earth, 1100, E., Supreme cause, Arbiter; 1302, E., Williams, Ia
Divine object, august and adjet what'soever, 676, L., Dupuy
Divine Physician of the soul, 666, L., Hail, O, Emmanuel, here we are Divine Protector, Lord, and Sire, 904, L., Captian, Herr Gott, Vater meine
Divinum mysterium, 1, Hie ad montem Calvariae
Do Christmas behaven naer Friesden sich der Engel acker, 666, E., In natali Domini
Do flesh and nature dread to die, 395, E., English hymnody; 1262, L., Watts, I.
Do I delight to serve? dress, 393, L., Attend and mark the solemn fast
Do I not love Thee, Lord most high, 662, L., O Deus ego amo Te, Nam prior Tu amasti me
Do not forsake me, O my God, 1067, L., Neuchenstein, J.
Do not I love Thee, oh! my Lord? 666, E., Doddridge, P.; 666, E., English hymnody
Do not, O God, reprove Thy tongue (Ps. lxxxiii., Hopkins), 665, E., Old Version
Do not, O God, reprove Thy tongue, Blackhall, C. R.
Do Thou, O God, in mercy help (Ps. lvi.), 666, E., New Version
Do we mourn for friends departed? 699, L., Lange, J. J.
Do you not know that sisters ward? 1337, E., Watts, I.
Do we only give Thee hand? 661, L., Gill, T. H.
Do you ask what most I prize, 1012, L., Schneller, J. C.
Do you see the Hebrew captive? 126, L., Blue, F.
Doctor egregie, Paule (Ἔξοχε), 93, L., Aurea luce et decore roseo
Does one small voice within the soul? 811, L., Davis, T.
Does the Gospel-word proclaim, 806, L., Newton, J.
Does the Lord my profit seek? 126, L., Beddome, B.
Does the Lord of glory speak? 117, L., Bathurst, W. H.
Does the Lord of glory speak? 1262, L., Watts, I.
Domel, Filii! thrones, Hear, 813, L., Cawin, J.
Dost thou bow beneath the burthen? 393, L., Cotter, G. T.
Dost Thou my profit seek? 126, L., Beddome, B.
Dost thou see the world's temptation? 1262, E., See new-born babes desire the breast
Doth Jesus him? why am I sad, 935, L., Frühmorgens An die Sonn aufgieht
Doubt'st to eat—then be shalt come (tr. Miss Borthwick), 19, L., Hexaver (see Schweizer), Sara
Douce de langage des anges, 396, L., French hymnody
Down of purity sanctioned (Cadix St., square section), 209, L., Exempli undis et Deo
Down from the realms of glory driven, 941, L., Putnam supernis sedibus
Down from their native skies, 1297, L., Watts, I.
Down in adoration falling (Tantum ergo sacramentum), 673, L., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Down in humility worship bending (Tantum ergo sacramentum), 673, L., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Down in the pleasant pastures, 1054, E., Shipton, Anna
Down in the valley with my Saviour I would go, 276, L., Cheney, W. W.
Down upon the Jordan's bank we wander, 140, L., Blue, F.
Down the dark future, through long generations, 644, L., Longfellow, H. W.
Down to the sacred wave, 1002, L., Smith, S. F.
Down towards the twilight drifting, 967, L., Robbins, S.
Down with the rosemary and the bays, 811, L., Carols
Draco, Holy Spirit, source, 1077, L., Syria, C. J. P.
Draw me, O draw me, gracious Lord, 1013, L., Schneider, J.
Draw, O Father, to the Son, 988, E., Cramelius (Crasmir), B.
Draw near, all ye faithful, 81, L., Adams Schöne
Draw near, O holy Dove, draw near, 1001, L., Wolfe, A. R.
Draw near, thou lowly Christian, 214, L., Carr, T. W.
Draw near, ye faithful Christians, 81, L., Adams Schöne
Draw near, ye saints, with sweetest praise, 555, L., Hearn, W. W.
Draw nigh, all ye faithful, 81, L., Adams Schöne
Draw nigh, and take the body of the Lord, 993, L., Sancti venite, Corpus Christi sumite
Draw nigh, draw nigh, Immanuel (Veni, veni Emmanuel, 76, L., Antiphon; 795, E., Mission
Draw nigh, draw nigh, Immanuel (tr. Cooke), 76, L., Veni, Emmanuel Draw nigh to the Holy, 709, L., Mackellar, T.
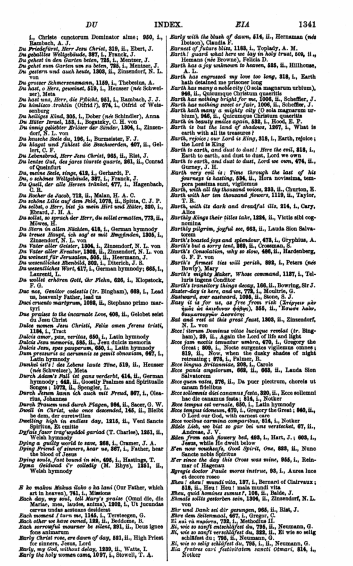
Draw nigh to Thy Jerusalem, O Lord, 690, L., Lord, come away, why dost Thou stay
Draw out, and hasst, thy melody, 913, L., Prunes voces, Jesu, dulcis
Draw us, Saviour, then will we, 666, L., Francke, F.
Draw us to Thee, in mind and heart, 666, L., Francke, F.
Draw us to Thee, Lord Jesus, 602, L., Francke, F.
Draw us to Thee, Lord Jesus, 666, L., Francke, F.
Draw us to Thee, then will we flee, 1007, L., Schaffer, J.
Dread Framer of the earth and sky, 26, L., Asterne rerum Conditor
Dread King, to Whom the angelic hosts do cry, 1104, L., Rex supreme, Dominator
Dread Majesty above (Dr. H. Mills), 951, E., Bambach, J. J.
Dread Maker of whate'er we see, 666, L., Rerum Creator optime
Dread Maker of the universe, 26, E., Asterne rerum Conditor
Dread Trinity in Unity, 1197, E., To Trinitatis Unitas
Dread Triune Mystery, 1197, E., To Trinitatis Unitas
Dread Unity in Trinity, 1197, E., To Trinitatis Unitas
Dread Word, Who from the Father And (Verbum Supernum prodiens, N. Patris), 1218, L., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
Dread Word, Who from the Father And (Verbum Supernum prodiens, N. Patris), 1218, L., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
Drechtsplatt der Gallard wahrer Apostel, 986, L., Franck, J.
Drop of the Spirit, and thou shalt be filled, 1031, L., Scottish hymnody
Drop thy still dews, quiet parthway lost, 961, L., Pulcan supernis sedibus
Drooping souls, no longer mourn, 666, L., Hastings, T.
Drop, drop, slow tears, 867, L., English hymnody
Drop the limpid waters now, 188, E., Severing, Sr J.
Drowned in sin and misery sunking (W. Williams), 1263, E., Welsh hymnody
Drümb my gebrett die kleiner Herr, 56, L., See Altenberg, J. W.
Du augustsmer Tag, 1013, L., Schmidt, D.
Du bist der Weinstock, Herr, und wir, 1013, L., Schmidt, D.
Du bist mein mein und bleibst mein, 618, L., Gerhardt, P.
Du blutiger Verräther, 548, L., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God; 668, L., Nitschmann, J.
Du, dem der Himmel und die Erd' nach beugt, 827,



L, Christe conctorum Dominator alme; 900, i,
Hautsch, A. J.
Du Freudefürst, Herr Jesu Christ, 819, ii., Ebert, J.
Du gehst zu Lust und Ruh, 1000, ii., Knapp, A.
Du gehest in den Garten heute, 724, i., Meuzier, J.
Du gehst zum Garten um zu beten, 705, i., Meuzier, J.
Du gutters und auch heute, 1300, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Du grosser Schmerzensmann, 1140, i., Thebesius, A.
Du hast, o Herr, gesattet, 818, i., Hennor (nee Schweidler), Maia
Du hast uns, Herr, die Fülsch, 851, i., Rambach, J. J.
Du hinkles trahtin (Gothic?), 976, i., Ostrof of Weissenburg
Du heiliges Kind, 956, i., Dober (nee Schindler), Anna
Du Hüter Israel, 1851, i., Bogatzky, C. H. von Du ewig gnädiger Brünner der Sünder, 1304, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Du Jesu Christ, mein, 1306, i., Burmeister, F. J.
Du klagst und fühlest die Seelsnerben, 697, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Du Lebendbrod, Herr Jesu Christ, 965, ii., Eliot, J.
Du lenzter Gut, das jurze tiserste quarte, 961, ii., Conrad von Würzburg
Du, meine Seele, singe, 618, i., Gerhardt, P.
Du, o schönes Weltgebäude, 897, i., Franck, J.
Du Quell, der alle Herzen trönket, 977, i., Hagenbach, K. R.
Du Retter des Lands, 718, ii., Melan, H. A. C.
Du schönes Licht auf Jens Feld, 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Du selbst, o Herr, hast zu mein Hirt und Hüter, 820, i., Rhesa, J. H. A.
Du selbst, so sprach der Herr, du mildst ermalten, 772, ii., Stolle
Du Stern in allen Nächten, 618, i., German hymnody
Du treues Hungst, ich sagt in mit Bangkeiten, 1305, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Du Vater aller Gnaden, 1304, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Du wahres Jerusalem, 1306, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Du weinest für Jerusalem, 800, ii., Herrnan, J.
Du wesentlicher Ebenbild, 902, i., Dietrich, J. B.
Du wesentlicher Wort, 671, i., German hymnody; 865, i., Lauxtel, L.
Du, Gott erhöhren Gott, der Plehn, 620, i., Klopstock, F. G.
Duc nos, Genitor ecclestis (St. Bingham), 669, i., Lead us, heavenly Father, lead us
Duci crucenti martyrum, 1008, ii., Stephano primo martyri
Due primus in Sin innumeris Leon, 608, ii., Gelobet seist du Jesu Christ
Dulce nomen Jesu Christi, Pulce omen firmis tristi, 1104, i., Tract
Dulcis amor pax, service, 620, i., Latin hymnody
Dulcis Jesu memoria, 1241, ii., See dulcis memoria
Dulcis et memorabilis, 620, i., Latin hymnody
Dum pressuris se sarcuscis et gravi obsessione, 627, i., Latin hymnody
Dunkel wär' der Lebens lenste Tiree, 819, ii., Hennor (nee Schweidler), Maia
Durch Adams Fall ist ganz verderbt, 414, ii., German hymnody; 644, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes; 1073, ii., Spengler, L.
Durch Jesum kenn ich auch mit Freud, 867, i., Cönrad, Johannes Durch Trübsal und durch Plagen, 994, ii., Sauer, G. W.
Dwell in Christ, who once descended, 146, ii., Bloke
Dwelling high in endless day, 1215, ii., Veni fancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Dyfed gyfoeth ymerodraeth (T. Charles), 1851, ii., Welsh hymnody
Dying a guilty world to save, 960, i., Cramer, J. A.
Dying Friend of sinners, hear us, 627, i., Father, hear the prayer we make Dying souls, fast bound in sin, 666, i., Hastings, T.
Dyma Gariawd Yr eulaidig (M. Rhys), 1851, ii., Welsh hymnody

E he wedeu Mishon Sicke a Sa lassi (Our Father, which art in heaven), 761, i., Mission
Each day, my soul, doll Mary's praises (Omai dia, dia Marise, tiene, lautes, anima), 1302, i., Un jaculate concerning the Virgin Mary
Each hour that I turn me, 1346, i., Tersteegen, G.
Each other we have served, 1291, ii., Beddome, B.
Each sorrowful mourner be silent, 201, ii., Deus igitur fletus removeto
Early the morning we dawn of day, 861, ii., High Priest of ministry, Jesus, Lord
Early, my God, without delay, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Early the holy women came, 1097, i., Stowell, T. A.
Early with the blush of dawn, 674, ii., Hermann (nee Herrnut), Claudia F.
Earnest of future bliss, 1188, i., Trophaly A. M.
Earth has a joy unknown to heaven, 885, ii., Hillhouse, Heavenly (nee Brereton), Felicia D.
Earth has a joy unknown to heaven, 885, ii., Hillhouse, A. L.
Earth has expressed my love too long, 818, i., Earth has expressed my love too long
Earth has many a solemnity (Unda magnarum urbium), 960, ii., Quinquagesse Christum quaerite
Earth has nothing bright for me, 1266, ii., Schaffer, J.
Earth has nothing sweet or fair, 1000, ii., Schaffer, J.
Earth has many a solemnity (Unda magnarum urbium), 960, ii., Quinquagesse Christum quaerite
Earth in beauty smiles again, 838, i., Rowe, E. P.
Earth is but the land of shadows, 1207, i., What is earth with all its treasures?
Earth is not my home, Lord to sing, 818, i., Earth, rejoice; the Lord is King
Earth is earth, and dust to dust! Here the evil, 818, i., Earth is earth, and dust to dust, Lord we own Earth is earth, and dust to dust, Lord we own, 674, ii., Hermann (nee Herrnut), Claudia F.
Earth very cold is: Time through the last of his journeys is hasting, 536, ii., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
Earth, with all the thousand voices, 293, ii., Chrétien, E.
Earth with her ten thousand flowers, 1119, ii., Taylor, T. H.
Earth, with its dark and dreadful ills, 316, i., Cary, Alice
Earthly Kings their lilies take, 1204, ii., Victis sibi cognitum
Earthly palaces, joyful see, 961, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Earth's busiest joys and splendour, 673, i., Gryphius, A.
Earth's but a sorry test, 999, ii., Cromman, E.
Earth's delights depart, why so flee, 695, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von Earth's firmest ties will perish, 866, i., Peters (nee Berg), Mary
Earth's mighty Maker, Whose command, 1197, i., Telford, Thomas
Earth's transitory things decay, 186, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Easter-day is here, and we, 778, i., Monkhouse, C.
Eastward, ever eastward, 1040, ii., Heber, R. J.
Easy it is for us, as free from risk (Σκόρρων ἀν ἡμῖν ἐστι καὶ ἀκίνδυνον βούλευ), 344, ii., Ἔτεκτε λαὸν, θεομακαρστὸν Δαυείδ
Eat and drink us this great feast, 1360, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Ecce! iterum Dominus ridet lucisque revelat (tr. Stagbam), 99, ii., Again the Lord of life and light
Ecce jam noctis tenuatur umbra, 620, i., Gregory the Great
Ecce, quam bonum et quam jucundum habitare fratres, 819, ii., How, when the dusky shades of night retreating, 979, i., Palmer, R.
Ecce tempus Divinonis, 999, i., Carols
Ecce, perfectum Inquirorum, 668, ii., 669, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Ecce quem vates, 276, ii., De puer plectrum, choreis ut canam fidelibus
Ecce solemnis dies consumat finis, 320, ii., Ecce solemni hac die consumat finis, Lux, Nobis
Ecce tempus idoneum, 620, i., Latin hymnody
Ecce tempus idoneum, 670, i., Gregory the Great; 866, ii., O Lord our God, with earnest care
Ecce vocitor carnem consumere fatis, 316, i., Notker
Elder Lord, we trust as yor ben were vernehed, 67, ii., Jesus, while He dwelt below
Elder, From each flowery bed, 668, i., Hart, J.; 668, i., Jesus, while He dwelt below
Elder now wonderful, Great Spirit, One, 668, ii., Stone
Elder, Saviour, hail!, 1216, i., Bernard of Cluny
Elder, the Cross was mine, 866, i., Reinmar of Hagenau
Egregie doctor Paule mores institue, 90, i., Aurea luce et decore roseo
Eia, recolamus vitte, 127, i., Bernard of Cluny
Eia, ii., Herr! Herr! meine Seele! 1214
Eian, quid hoccine cessas?, 129, ii., Bede, J.
Eiwedl sollis pectoribus iste, 1304, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Ein Fest hat sich dir gesungen, 668, ii., Eliot, J.
Ehre dem Gottesmann, 620, i., Gregor, C.
Ei sei ein wunder, 722, i., Methodius II.
Ei, wie so sanft entschläfet du, 722, ii., Neumann, G.
Ei, wie so sanft verstirbst du, 722, ii., Ei wie so selig entschläfet du Ei, wie so selig entschläfet du, 722, ii., Neumann, G.
Eia Festiva cari flatitudinis sancti Clementi, 316, i., Notker

Ein barmonisch, sanft, lieblich rauscht, 316, i., Notker
Ein evidenter kindlicher sein Gläubo, 316, i., Notker Labeo
Ein Hirt, 1845, i., Latin hymnody
Eighteen hundred years ago, 726, ii., Hillson, A.
Ein, ein, meine Seele, 697, i., Heinrich, E.
Ein ander Jahr sein Verbrauch, 726, i., Leise-Herrlein of Brandenburg
Ein' feste Burg ist unser Gott (Ps. xl. Luther), 305, i., Carlyle, T.; 626, ii., Gaskell, W.; 644, i., German hymnody; 644, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes; 704, i., Hedge, F. H.; 1001, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott; 1001, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Ein Jäger schickt sich an zur Fahrt, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Ein Jahr der Herrlichkeit, 818, i., Gerstorf (nee von Frisen), Henriette C. von Ein Kind geboren zu Bethlehem, 240, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
Ein' kleine Herd' ist Jesu Christ, 1304, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Ein kindlich Lieb ist uns gefallen, 1076, i., 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Ein neues Jahr ist angefangen, 960, i., Praitis, C. H. H.
Ein neues Lied wir heben an, 1001, ii., Ein neues Lied wir heben an Ein neues Leben, 704, ii., Luther, M.; 921, ii., Win from each forbid Christengemeln
Ein Pilger schickt sich an zur Fahrt, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Ein Prediger in der Wüst, 1150, i., Sturm, C. C.
Ein reiner Herz, Herr, schaff in mir, 799, i., Brunn, H. G.
Ein solges Herz fährt dies Sprach, 1304, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Ein solges Herz fährt diese Sprach, 1304, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Ein starker Held ist uns kommen, 973, i., Rob, J.
Eine Harfe und ein Herz, 618, i., German hymnody; 636, i., Krummacher, F. A.
Einen Freund hab ich erfunden, 1346, i., Tersteegen, G.
Einer Mutter Herzen, wenn alles erlegt, 183, i., Bogatzky, C. H. von
Einer mönch ist nur vor allem andern, 618, i., German hymnody; 620, i., Knapp, A.
Eins Christen Herz, 186, ii., Bowmer, Maria M.
Eins ist noth! 1346, i., Tersteegen, G.; 1417, i., German
Einst, wenn ich sterben soll, 1218, ii., Schröder, J. H.
Einst führen wir uns Vaterlands, 620, i., Knapp, A.
Einst wird's geschehn, dass auf der Erde, 1166, i., Thebesius, F. A. G.
Ἐκ τοσούτου ἔρους ἀναστησάμην πλεκτὴ (Ode v.), 852, ii., Ἐκ τοσούτου ἔρους ἀναστησάμην πλεκτὴ
Ἐκ τοσούτου κρίβαμεν (Ode v.), 27, ii., Ἐκ τοσούτου πόνου λαοὶ
Ἐλέησον ἡμᾶς, ὁ Θεός, 661, i., God the Lord, in mercy look on us
Elizabeth, thy royal wealth and fame, 871, i., Opes decoraque regium refulgentes
Embrace your fall salvation, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
Emerging, by from Jordan's flood, 823, ii., Emergit tandem ex Jordane
Emmanuel, Deus fortissime, 151, i., Bede
Emmanuel, Thy Name we sing, 1206, i., Wir singen dir, Immanuel
Emmanuel, we sing Thy praise, 1206, i., Wir singen dir, Immanuel
En Deus en redemptor, 1238, ii., Vox clara ecce intonat
En nullus in den lebens sept, 721, i., Media vita in morte sumus
En Paraice ex orbis sinu, 967, i., Quinquagesse Christum quaerite
En regnator coelestium et terrarum, 818, i., Notker
En tot superbis criminum, 262, ii., Ste Cor arca legem continens
Encore cette journée d'ilverni la voie, 302, ii., French of ministry
Encouraged by Thy gracious word, 191, i., Bourne, H.
Encumbered heart! lay by thy sorrow, 1266, ii., Wreford, G.
England, English, muse at dock, 1012, ii., Schmidt, H.
Englisch, englisch, werst auch du, 618, ii., Hennor (nee Schweidler), Maia
Enlighten me, my Light, 121, i., Baddeldier, E. W.
Enough, enough, Thy voice and tread, 823, i., Nunc satis est
Enough, O Paul, enough, and now, 998, i., Sai Paule, sat verte datum
Enough, O Paul, on earth no more, 998, i., Sai Paule, sat verte datum
Enough, Thy voice and tread I've trod, 1231, i., Walker, G. (of Newcastle)
Enquire, my soul, enquire, 202, i., Peters (nee Bowly), Mary
Enslaved by sin, and bound in chains, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Enslaved to sense, to pleasure prone, 667, ii., Grace
Entendons-nous toujours nuisire, 695, ii., French hymnody
Enter our hearts, Redeemer blest, 860, ii., Come, our redeemer from on high
Enter, O mighty saviour waits, 1148, i., The deluge, at the Almighty's call Enter with thanksgiving, 562, ii., Bourne, W. St. H.
Entered the holy place above, 1351, ii., Wesley family, The Entwined in heaven, Thy mansions fair, 909, ii., Noble Olympo eadibus
Entwined in Jesus' woe, 600, i., Jaffitt, T. J.
Enthroned on high, almighty Lord, 626, i., Haweis, T.
Enthrones dans ce jour un Cantique nouveau, 291, ii., Ce jour un Cantique
Ἐπάρατον κύμα, 33, i., Ἀκάτου πρόλογος
Ἐπάρατον ἡ ὑμῶν (Ode iv.), 1152, i., Τὸν ὑμῶν τὸν ἄρατον
Ἐπεὶ τὸν θεῖον ἐφίκανθε (Ode iv.), 69, ii., Ἀναστάσιμος κανών
Epiph me for the new year, 626, i., O all-seeing Lamb
Er ist in Gottesbaus geboren, 961, i., Richter, F.
Er ruft der Sonn, und schafft den Mond, 627, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Erect, my soul, mein, o Herr Gott, 662, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes; 808, i., Hagenwald, K.; 1083, i., Show pity, Lord, O Lord, forgive
Erc darkling sunset the day, 1136, ii., To taste unto termineus
Erc Christian foundations yet were laid (tr. Miss Winkworth), 113, ii., Hermann, J. G.
Ere I sleep, for every favour, 316, i., Cosmic, J.
Ere now the daylight fades away, 1136, ii., To taste unto termineus
Ere now the night lends I say, 262, ii., Coleridge, S. T.
Ere that solemn hour of doom, 292, ii., Dickinson, W.
Ere the evening light decay, 1136, i., To taste unto termineus
Ere the world, with light invested, 117, ii., Bathurst, W. H.
Ere we sleep, for every favour, 316, ii., Ere I sleep, for every favour
Ere yet the dawn hath filled the skies, 621, i., Frühmorgens da die Sonn aufgeht
Ere yet the shades forsaken the light, 1136, ii., To taste unto termineus
Erect, my soul, eternal gates (Ps. xxiv)., 806, i., New Version
Erhalt' in mir den Lebenstrieb, das Glauben, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Erhalt uns Herr bei deinem Wort (Luther), 276, ii., Erhalt uns Herr bei deinem; 626, ii., Gaskell, W.; 666, ii., Jonas, J.; 704, ii., Luther, M.; 802, i., Old Version
Erhob, erhob, O meine Seele, 827, ii., Cramer, J. A.
Erhebe den Herren, der Alles in Allen, 1016, ii., Schröder, J. G.
Erhebe dich, du Tuch der Herrn, 115, ii., Barth, C. G.
Erhebt euch, frohe Jubeliieder, 1018, ii., Schöner, J. G.
Erhebt euch, frohe Jubeljubel, 1018, ii., Schöner, J. G.
Erinnre dich, mein Gott, erfreut, 697, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Erlöser der du bist, 1304, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Erlöscht mein Herz, mein Licht, 121, i., Buchdolzer, E. W.
Ermuntert euch, ihr Frommen, 627, i., German hymnody; 665, i., Laurent, L.
Ermuntre dich, mein schwacher Geist, 966, ii., Hint, J.
Erquicke mich du Heil der Sünder, 665, i., Lütter, L. A.
Erschein, du Morgenstern, 83, i., Arnold, G.
Erschein allen Auserwählten, 1343, i., Weimo, M.
Erscheinen ist der herrliche Tag, 814, i., Herman, N.
Erschienen ist der herrliche Tag, 814, i., Herman, N.; 1136, ii., Servati Christus hodie
Erwach, o Mensch, erwache, 305, ii., Cranelius (Cranach), E.
Erwachet, Herr und Preiter, 668, i., Cramer, J. A.
Erwachet, ihr Christen, mit mächt'ndem (Ps. 77), 1074, i., Spengler, L.
Erwachet vom Schlafe, 886, ii., Franck, J.
Es dankt mein Herr! Er pochet mein Lied, 1016, i., Schöner, J. G.
Es ging ein Mann zu seinem Gotte Hand, 811, i., Drei Könige
Es ging ein Mann zu seinem Gotte Hand, 811, i., Drei Könige
Es gehet wunder Weg und Bahn, 65, i., Arnold, G.
Es geht daher des Vaters Schein, 1247, ii., Weimo, M.
Es giebt ein Lied der Lieder, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J.
Es ist so lange Zeiten, 695, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von Es ziengen drei Gesellen, 304, i., Es giengen trew Dreiheit also fil

ES INDEX. ETE 1343

Es glänzet der Christen auserwählte Leben, 618, ii., Schmolck, B.
Es hält sie Hand fest um Hand, 1076, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Es ist das Heil uns kommen her, 614, ii., German hymnody: 665, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes: 1079, ii., Spreuger, F.
Es ist gewisslich an der Zeit, 615, ii., Heuner (sub Silvester), 1542.
Es ist gewiss ein Köstlich Ding, 1201, ii., Wolf, J. G.
Es ist gewisslich an der Zeit, 615, i., German hymnody: 615, ii., O God, what do I see and hear?; 951, ii., Selnecker, N.
Es ist in keinem andern Heil, 618, ii., German hymnody
Es ist nichts schwer wo Christ zu sein, 196, ii., Hewitt, M.: 618, ii., German hymnody: 960, i., Richter, C.
Es ist noch eine Ruh vorhanden, 626, ii., Kunth, J. S.: 1010, ii., Schlegel, J. A.
Es ist nun nichts verdammlich, 620, i., Lange, J. P.
Es ist vollbracht! Gottlob es ist vollbracht (Urquhart's), 316, ii., Dunn, Catherine H.: 672, ii., Urquhart, A.
Es ist vollbracht: vergiss ja nicht, 1010, ii., Schmidt, C. F.
Es kommt ein Schiff geladen, 1116, i., Taylor, J.
Es lassst viel ein Christ zu sein, 306, i., Es ist nichts schwer ein Christ zu sein; 618, ii., German hymnody
Es mag gesse Wohl, 1010, i., Schlegel, J. A.
Es ist ein Ding, durch welchen alles lebt, 79, ii., Arndt, E. M.
Es ruht die Nacht auf Erden, 677, i., Josephson, G. G.
Es sind der Trauben Mund wohl (Ps. 14, Luther), 643, i., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes: 704, i., Luther, M.
Es war die graue Welt, 666, ii., Osterlen, J. G.: 1010, i., Schlegel, J. A.
Es wird ein Herr mit Freuden nach, 1076, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Es wollt uns Gott gnädig sein (Ps. 67, Luther), 643, i., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes: 704, i., Luther, M.: 893, i., Old Version
Esprit du Dieu vivant, 1176, i., Thrupp, J. F.
Esprit divin, vous daignez me rouvrir, 879 i., Guyon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
Est hodierna lucis dies, 1193, i., There is a blessed hour
Est homini felici illius qui carnis perfugit ansam, 1126, i., There is a hole, who runs may read
Et casse tranditur, 1126, i., There is a happy land
Et Jam Tegellis, 972, i., Oppositis, Jove, micat
Et simul illicorum cendor, 834, i., Notker
Eternal Son Asterna
Eternal Son Architect ætitiæ, 1127, i., Tellaris ingrati conditor
Eternal day hath dawned, 1009, i., Stryker, M. W.
Eternal depth of Love divine, 256, ii., Du ewiger Abgrund der seligen Liebe
Eternal election preserves we aware, 1005, ii., Stevens, A.
Eternal Father, God of love, 128, i., Being of beings, God of love
Eternal Father, hear, we pray, 133, i., Bell, C. C.
Eternal Father, strong to save, 695, ii., Lord of the sea and sky: 760, i., Monsell, J. S. B.: 1276, ii., Whiting, W.
Eternal Father, Thou hast said, 977, i., Palmer, R.
Eternal Father, throned above, 962, i., Raffles, T.
Eternal Father, when to Thee, 404, i., Gaunt, H. D.
Eternal Maker of the worlds, 20, ii., Asterne rerum Conditor
Eternal gifts of Christ our King, 331, i., Christi perennes munera Eternal glories of Christ the King (Asterna Christi munera), Apostolorum gloriosa, &c. Blew), 96, ii., Asterna Christi munera, Et Martyrum victorias
Eternal glory of the heavens, 20, ii., Asterna coeli gloria
Eternal glory of the heavens, 20, ii., Asterna coeli gloria
Eternal glory of the skies (O glorious virginity), 984, i., Quem terra, pontus, sethera
Eternal glory of the sky, Blest hope, 20, ii., Asterna coeli gloria Eternal glory of the sky, Hope, 20, ii., Asterna coeli gloria Eternal God, Almighty Ones, 126, ii., Browne, S.
Eternal God, where Thy throne, Three nations, 332, i., Edmeston, J.
Eternal God, eternal King, 754, i., March, H.
Eternal God, of beings First, 126, ii., Browne, S.
Eternal God, our wandering souls, 266, i., Doddridge, P.
Eternal God, the primal Cause, 20, ii., Asterno rerum Conditor
Eternal God, Thou Light Divine, 388, i., Eternal Beam of Light Divine
Eternal God, Thy dwelling-place, 951, ii., Rambach, J. J.
Eternal Lord, Thy word was light, 20, ii., Asterno rerum Conditor
Eternal God, we look to Thee, 132, ii., Behold you new-born Infant grieved; 726, i., Merrick, J.
Eternal God, Who built the ship, 20, ii., Asterno rerum Conditor
Eternal Hallelujahs Be to the Father given, 1193, i., Trinity, A. M.
Eternal hands! Creation's ever sure stability, 207, ii., Salus æterna, indefectum mundi vita
Eternal health! man, 207, ii., Salus æterna, indefectum mundi vita
Eternal King of all the spheres (Rex sempiterne coelitum), 555, i., Tax æterne Domine
Eternal King of heaven on high, 27, i., Asterne Rex altissime
Eternal King of heaven, Whose word (Rex sempiterne coelitum), 555, i., Tax æterne Domine
Eternal King, whose equal reign (Rex sempiterne coelitum), Rex æterne Domine
Eternal life, how sweet the sound, 420, ii., Gibbons, T.
Eternal life! how well it reigns, 420, ii., Gibbons, T.
Eternal Light, Eternal Light, 1276, i., Whiting, W.
Eternal Light! Eternal Light, 548, i., Hussey, T.
Eternal love's the darling song, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
Eternal Maker, at Whose will, 20, ii., Asterno rerum Conditor
Eternal Maker of the world, 20, ii., Asterno rerum Conditor
Eternal Monarch, King most high, 27, i., Asterne Rex altissime
Eternal Monarch, Lord of all, 559, i., Tax æterne Domine
Eternal Monarch, Lord supreme, 27, ii., Asterne Rex altissime
Eternal Power, almighty God, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round, 216, ii., Chadwick, J. W.
Eternal Ruler of the constant round, 216, ii., Chadwick, J. W.
Eternal Shepherd, God most high, 680, i., Littledale, H. F.
Eternal Son of God, O Thou, 207, i., Christe conterum Dominator alme
Eternal Source of every good, 128, ii., Beddome, B.
Eternal Source of every joy, 320, ii., English hymnody
Eternal Source of joys divine, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Eternal Source of life and light, 1126, i., Unitarian hymnody
Eternal Source of life and light, Unutterable, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Eternal Source of life and thought, 266, i., Doddridge, P.
Eternal Source of light and grace, 989, ii., Perpetual source of light and grace
Eternal Source of Light Divine, 388, i., Eternal Beam of Light Divine
Eternal Source of light's clear stream, 701, i., Lucis Creator optime
Eternal Spirit, Lord of all, 728, i., Medley, S.
Eternal Sovereign of the sky, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
Eternal Spirit, by whose power, 117, ii., Bathurst, W. H.
Eternal Spirit, God of truths, 1, ii., Holt, W. W.
Eternal Spirit, God of grace, 379, i., Irons, W. J.
Eternal Spirit, God of truth, 327, i., Eternal Spirit, Source of truth
Eternal Spirit, Source of light, 281, i., Davies, S.
Eternal Spirit, Source of Truth, 1079, ii., Spirit of Truth, Thy grace impart
Eternal Spirit, Voice Thy breath, 1080, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Eternal Spirit, we confess, 1227, ii., Watts, J.
Eternal, ineffable Lamb of God, 503, ii., Father of all, Whose powerful voice
Eternal Son of righteousness, 985, i., Cosin, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, One God; 1072, i., Spirit of Truth, Thy grace impart
Eternal Sovereign of eternal Might, 993, ii., Rector potens, verax Deus
Eternal Wisdom, God most high, 680, i., Littledale, H. F.
Eternal Word! Incarnate Light, 1176, i., Thrupp, J. F.
Eternal Word, Who dost coexist (Verbum Supernum prodiens, N. Patris), 1216, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
Eternal Word! Who ever wast, 1176, i., Thrupp, J. F.
Eterne, Deus sempiterne
Eterni patris Unice, 96, i., Asterni Patris Unice
Eternis, tender Five, 984, ii., French hymnody
Eternis, Sex æternis
Eternity! delightful award, 518, i., Heginbotham, C.
Eternity! Eternity! How long art thou, Eternity! 1270, ii., Wren Jarvis, of the Lord beloved
Eternity! Eternity!—Far still, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit! o Ewigkeit
Eternity! Eternity!—Ich kenntch, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit! o Ewigkeit
Eternity! Eternity!—Ewigkeit, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit! o Ewigkeit
Eternity! Eternity!—Ja kenntch, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit! o Ewigkeit
Eternity! Eternity!—Yet ennerd, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit! o Ewigkeit
Eternity! how long art thou, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit! o Ewigkeit
Eternity! how long! how near, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit! o Ewigkeit
Eternity o'ercast at hand, 510, i., Hence, vain intruding spectre
Eternity! mar ewfal word, 889, i., O Ewigkeit, du Donnerwort
Eternity! O word of joy, 510, i., Heginbotham, C.
Eternity! terrific word, 889, i., O Ewigkeit, du Donnerwort
Eternity! that word, that joyful word, 510, i., Heginbotham, C.
Eternity, then word of fear, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit, du Donnerwort
Eternity! tremendous word, Stone-striking point, Anerkennt, Ewigkeit, Wort, Ja, Ewigkeit, Ja, Ewigkeit
Eternity, tremendous word, The sound of mysteries yet unheard, 889, ii., O Ewigkeit, du Donnerwort
Ethelwerth Saxon, 698, i., Greek hymnody
Europe, quail the mighty name, 697, i., Lawson, J.
Evening and morning (Abend und Morgen), 594, i., Die gülden Sonne
Evening comes, may we, O Lord, 151, ii., Hunt, A. G. W.
Evening hymn (Sweet Saviour, bless us we we go, Faber), 979 i., Roman Catholic hymnody
Ever blessed Trinity, 1171, ii., Three in One and One in Three Ever by my love be earned (Set mir unwandmal gegrlmet), 995, ii., Saive mundi salutare
Ever find I joy in reading, 510, ii., Hensel, Luise
Ever, Lord, be Thine the glory, 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Ever, O my God, my soul, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Ever patient, loving, meek, 953, i., Ever patient, gentle, meek
Ever sparkling, ever mounting, 521, i., His reparandum et redemptorem
Ever would I bless the Lord, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How would I fain be reading, 510, ii., Hensel, Luise
Everlasting arms of love, 794, i., Mandiff, J. R.
Everlasting, changing never, 421, ii., Gill, T. H.
Everlasting God, whose power, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne Everlasting Love secured for Jesus, 790, i., Noah, J. H.
Every hour is passing, 625, i., Gregory, J. G.
Every human tie may perish, 1262, i., Zion stands by hills surrounded
Every knee shall bow before Him, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Every morn the glowing sun, 359, i., Every morning the red sun
Every morning mercies new, 359, i., Every morning the red sun
Every morning the red sun, 359, ii., Children's hymns
Every morning they are new, 359, ii., Phillimore, G.
Every year that endeth, 221, i., Hay, J. W.
Evil and few our mortal days, 1019, ii., Scott, Elizabeth
Ex more docti mystico, 965, i., Quod tu, almatrix virtus
Ex more docti mystico, 965, i., Quod tu, almatrix virtus
Exalt, exalt, the heavenly paths (Καθαρὸν νεῖον), 58, i., Ἀνάστα τρίζουσα
Exalted Saviour Church, to-day, 669, ii., Lands, Mater Ecclesia
Exalt the Lord our God, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Exalted high at God's right hand, 62, ii., All hail! the power of Jesus' Name
Exaltet ihr gepriis dich Jesu neue reign, 468, i., Gerhardt, P.
Exalted Prince of Life, we own, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
Except the Lord conduct the plan, 1305, i., Winter family, The Except the Lord do build the house, 166, i., Birks, T. R.

1344 ETE INDEX. FAI 1344

Except the Lord our labours bless, 117, ii., Bathurst W. H.
Except the Lords had been with us, 468, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Except the Lord the house do (Gobi) make (Ps. cxxvii. Sternhold & Hopkins), 1305, i., Winter family
Excita in me, O Lord, ex ardenti Nervi, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Excuta Israels Servitude de cruddel (tr. Macgill), 1270, ii., Wren Jarvis, of the Lord beloved
Exhaustless source of life and light, 1126, i., Unitarian hymnody
Exiled from Paradise and Heaven, 841, i., Palmer, supersis exilium
Expand Thy wings, celestial Love, 1283, ii., Wesley family, The Exsultemus in hac die festivo Exsolemus, 1062, ii., Sequentia
Exsultemus in isto festivo solemnitate, 834, i., Notker
Exsultet omnis ustus, omne ulterius, 834, i., Notker
Exsut terra grandi sanctis habitatis lucis (tr. Bingham), 1111, ii., Thou in a land of pure delight
Exsultet, iam, caro cum tuo, 834, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
Exult all lands right gladly, 951, i., Exultet cor præcordia
Exult all hearts, 951, i., Exultet cor præcordia
Exult, all hearts, with gladness, 951, i., Exultet cor præcordia
Exult, thou world, exult with praise, 951, i., Exultet cor præcordia
Exultet cœlum laudibus, 966, ii., Latin hymnody
Exultet jam angelica turba ceelorum, 965, ii., Latin hymnody
Exultet orbis gaudiis, 966, ii., Exultet cœlum laudibus
Exulting, triumphant, come from every nation, 32, i., Adams Sidnie
Eyn, Jhesu bone status est de virgine. Signed be that maydo Mary, 998, ii., Carew
Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, 788, i., Neale, J. M.: 793, i., Nec oculus vidit nec auris audivit
Eye of God's Word, whene'er we turn, 829, i., Hold up thy mirror to the sun

Fade, fade, each earthly joy, 163, ii., Bonar (sub Lindis), Jane C.
Fader that art in heaven bliss, 697, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Fader, the hour the sent the farewell light, 126, ii., Burleigh, W. H.
Fading like a lightsome ends another day, 1002, ii., Stephenson, T. B.
Fadir we, that ar in heven, 697, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Faire first, faire first, 1013, ii., Schmidt, J. R.
Fain, O my babe, I'd have thee know, 967, i., Saffery (née Hovey), Maria G.
Fain would I leave the world below, 1276, ii., White family, The Fain would I love the world creighted
Fain would we love the God we fear, 1305, i., Winter family, The Fain would we love Thee, Lord, for Thou, 686, i., O Deus ego amo Te, Nam prior Tu amasti me
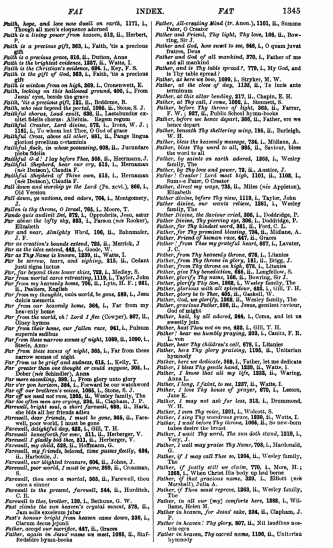
Faint, O ye Christians, though the road, 324, i., Brown, J. B.
Faint not, poor traveller, though thy way, 810, ii., Norton, A.
Faint the earth and parched with drought, 502, ii., Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, One God; 1072, i., Spirit of Truth, Thy grace impart
Fair as a luminous, tender flower, 1264, ii., How few receive with cordial faith
Fair Bethlehem's star again appears, 1127, i., The scene around me disappears
Fair dawns the day, the stars be bright, 258, i., Conditor alme siderum
Fair is the morning land, 978, i., Cushing, W. O.
Fair queen of cities, star of earth (O mira magnarum urbium), 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quæritis
Fair Sion, bend to ready, 992, ii., Sanctus Syon adsint cincta
Fair Sion's King, we supplicat bow, 655, ii., Great King of saints, enthroned on high
Fair Spring, thou dearest season of the year, 921, ii., Sweet Spring, full fair
Fair sword the golden corn, 676, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Fairest Lord Jesu, 1018, ii., Silchester Bier Jesu
Fairest of all beauties, 191, ii., Bernstein, C. A.
Fairest of all the lights above, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
Fairest of the lights above, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
Faisons retentir cieux et terre, 321, i., French hymnody
Faith adds new charms to earthly bliss, 1188, i., Turner, D.
Faith alone breathes calm devotion, 281, ii., Davis, T.
Faith's foes; Turn in the dark, 1216, ii., Schlegel, J. G.



Faith, hope, and love now dwell on earth. 1171, i., Ch. Wesley
Faith is a living power from heaven. 618, ii., Herbert, G.
Faith is a precious gift. 303, i., Faith, 'tis a precious gift
Faith, O precious grace. 216, ii., Dutton, Anne
Faith to the brightest evidence. 1302, ii., Watts, I.
Faith is the Christian's evidence. 694, i., Key, F. S.
Faith is the gift of God. 303, i., Faith, 'tis a precious gift
Faith, O maiden from on high. 289, i., Cruttenden, E.
Faith, looking on this hallowed ground. 696, i., From Jesus' eyes, beside the grave
Faith, 'tis a precious gift. 131, ii., Boddens, R.
Faith, who last legged the portal. 1204, ii., Stone, S. J.
Faithful Creator, Lord divine. 678, i., Jesus, W. J.; 1181, i., To whom but Thee, O God of grace
Faithful Creator, whose all other. 681, ii., Pange lingua pro gratiarum actionis
Faithful God, whose possessing. 938, ii., Jerusalem Coelo Edicta
Faithful God! I lay before Thee. 858, ii., Hermann, J.
Faithful Shepherd, hear our cry. 813, i., Hernaman (see Steinert), Claudia T.
Faithful Shepherd of Thine own. 813, i., Hernaman (see Steinert), Claudia T.
Fall down and worship ye the Lord (Ps. xcvi.), 866, i., Old Version
Fall down, ye nations, and adore. 706, i., Montgomery, J.
Fallen is thy throne, O Israel. 705, i., Moore, T.
Fando quis audivit Deo. 872, i., Oppenheim, Jean, saint
Far above the lofty sky. 833, i., Parson (not Hooker), Elizabeth Far and near, Almighty Word. 106, ii., Bahnmaier, J. F.
Far as creation's bounds extend. 705, ii., Merrick, J
Far as the tides extend. 662, i., Goode, W.
Far as Thy Name is known. 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Far be sorrow, fears, and sighing. 813, ii., Cedant Tristitia et Luctus
Far, far beyond these lower skies. 752, i., Nunley, S.
Far from mortal care retreating. 1113, i., Taylor, John
Far from my heavenly home. 705, ii., Lyte, H. F.; 981, ii., Peaslee, Eaglen
Far from the world, vain world, be gone. 589, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
Far from our heavenly home. 366, i., Far from my heavenly home
Far from the world, oh! Lord I flee (Cowper). 807, ii., Hymns, O. T.
Far from their home, our fallen race. 961, i., Palmam aspernis sublimes
Far from these narrow scenes of night. 1090, ii., 1090, i., Steele, Anne
Far from these narrow scenes of night. 366, i., Far from these narrow scenes of night
Far from us be grief and sadness. 613, i., Kelly, T.
Far greater than our thought or could suppose. 366, i., Weber (née Schlatter), Anna
Far in the heavens. 1239, ii., From glory unto glory
Far o'er yon horizon. 884, i., Forward be our watchword
Far off our brethren's voices. 1095, i., Sone, S. J.
Far off we send our vows. 1255, ii., Wesley family, The Far the fallen men are crying. 834, ii., Clapham, J. P.
Farewell, dear friends, farewell, farewell. 624, ii., Hark, the bells all her friends adieu
Farewell, dear friends, I must be gone. 865, ii., Farewell, your watch, I must be gone
Farewell, delightful day. 626, i., Gill, T. H.
Farewell, dear friends, farewell. 624, ii., Hebergey, V.
Farewell! I gladly bid thee. 811, ii., Hebergey, V.
Farewell, my child. 625, ii., Hoffmann, G.
Farewell, my friends, beloved, true praises fastly. 624, ii., Harbeldig, J.
Farewell, my hoarded treasure. 604, ii., Johns, J.
Farewell, poor world, I must be gone. 589, ii., Cousmaker, R.
Farewell, thou vain a marital. 365, ii., Farewell, thou vain a sinner
Farewell to the present, farewell. 544, ii., Hurditch, G. H.
Farewell to thee, brother. 130, i., Bathurst, G. W.
Fast climbs the sun heaven's crystal mount. 876, ii., Jam sulis ignoscens jubar
Fast fleeting years their hours hence came down. 336, i., Carum fecun jejuris
Father, accept our sacrifice. 647, ii., Graves
Father, again in Jesus' name we meet. 1265, ii., Staffordshire hymn-books
Father, all-creating Mind (tr. Anon.). 1160, ii., Nimmo
Father and Friend. 1255, ii., Wesley family, The Father and Friend, Thy light, Thy love. 186, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Father and God, how sweet is rest. 866, i., O grant javat fraires, Deus
Father, author of all mankind. 270, i., Father of me and all mankind
Father, and is Thy table spread? 779, i., My God, and is Thy table spread
Father, as here we bow. 1099, i., Stryker, W. W.
Father, at the close of day. 1120, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
Father, at this altar bending. 217, ii., Chaplin, E. H.
Father, at thy call, I come. 1260, i., Bennett, S.
Father, before Thy throne of light. 363, ii., Farrer, Austin, D.D., Rector of Lydford
Father, before we leave depart. 992, ii., Father, ere we leave depart
Father, beneath Thy sheltering wing. 194, ii., Burleigh, W. H.
Father, bless the heavenly message. 796, i., Midlane, A.
Father, bless Thy word to all. 995, i., Saviour, bless the word to all
Father, by saints on earth adored. 1260, i., Wesley family, The Father, by Thine own word and power. 72, ii., Anstice, J.
Father! Creator! Lord most high. 1101, ii., Hide, i., Sum-o Pater, O Creator
Father, direct my ways. 794, ii., Miles (née Appleton), Elizabeth
Father, dismiss before Thy wise. 1119, i., Taylor, John Father divine, our vests relieve. 1261, i., Wesley family, The Father Divine, the Saviour cried. 356, i., Doddridge, P.
Father Divine, Thy piercing eye. 356, i., Doddridge, P.
Father, for Thy kindest care. 81, i., Ford, C. S.
Father, from Thy throne above. 1255, ii., Wellshire, A.
Father, Friend of helpless race. 647, ii., Graves
Father! from Thee my grateful heart. 827, i., Lavater, J. C.
Father, from Thy heavenly throne. 672, i., Litanies
Father, from Thy throne in glory. 141, ii., Grigg, J.
Father, from Thy throne on high. 1255, ii., Wesley family, The Father, give Thy benedictions. 884, ii., Langhorne, S.
Father, glorify Thy name. 146, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Father, glorify Thy Son. 1255, i., Wesley family, The Father, glorious in majesty. 631, i., Gill, T. H.
Father, God, my Father. 1260, i., Bennett, S.
Father, God, we glorify. 1255, ii., Wesley family, The Father, gracious Father. 160, ii., Jesus, gentlest saviour, God of might Father, hail, by all adored. 264, i., Come, and let us sing of Thee
Father, hear! Thou not on me. 625, i., Gill, T. H.
Father! hear me humbly praying. 203, i., Cantic, F. R. L. von
Father, hear Thy children's call. 672, i., Litanies
Father, hear Thy glory praising. 1180, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Father, here we dedicate. 248, i., Talley, let me dedicate
Father, I bless Thy gentle hand. 1230, ii., Waite, J.
Father, I know that all my life. 1203, ii., Waring, Anna L.
Father, I long, I faint, to see. 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Father, I love Thy house of prayer. 670, i., Lemon, Jane E.
Father, I may not ask for less. 313, i., Drummond, Jane E.
Father, I now Thy voice. 1261, i., Wolcott, S.
Father, I sing Thy wondrous grace. 1230, ii., Watts, I.
Father, I wait before Thy throne. 1266, ii., In new-born babes desire the breast
Father, I will tell Thy word. The sun doth stand, 1219, i., Ware, J.
Father, I will may praise Thy Name. 708, i., Macdonald, G.
Father, if I may call Thee so. 1264, ii., Wesley family, The Father, if justly still we desire. 779, i., Mote, H.; 1265, i., When Christ His body up had borne
Father, if that precious name. 329, i., Elliott (née Marshall), Julia A.
Father, in Thee went repose. 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Father, in all our (my) comforts here. 1262, i., Wilkinson, Helen W.
Father in heaven, for Jesus' sake. 284, ii., Clapham, J. T.
Father in heaven! Thy glory. 907, ii., Nil inaditum nostris oris
Father in heaven, Thy sacred name. 1196, ii., Unitarian hymnody

Father in heaven, to Thee my heart. 602, ii., Furness, W. H.
Father in heaven, to Whom our hearts. 602, ii., Furness, W. H.
Father, in high heaven dwelling. 756, ii., Mineken; 762, i., Raven, A.
Father, in my life's young morning. 709, i., Macfarlan, D.
Father, in the house I pray. 696, i., Lord, I magnify Thy power
Father, in these round Thy Son. 945, i., Come, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Honour the season
Father, in Thy mysterious presence kneeling. 604, ii., Johnson, S.
Father, in us Thy dwelling be. 643, ii., Gott der Vater wohn uns bei
Father, into Thy hands. 1262, i., Wesley family, The Father, into Thy loving hands. 997, ii., Selby (née Harvard), Jane E.
Father, in our Thy promise pledged. 620, ii., Gibbons, T.; 653, ii., Great God, the nations of the earth
Father, lead me day by day. 859, i., Happy, J. P.
Father, lead us with Thy power. 1265, i., Williams, W.
Father, let me dedicate. 1180, i., Tuttiett, L.
Father, let me day to come. 626, ii., Kingsbury, F. G.
Father, let Thy benediction. 1004, i., Shelly (née Jackson), Mary
Father, let Thy kingdom come. 159, i., Happy, J. P.
Father, let us Thy mercy see. 302, i., Ee veilt van Gods pickling win
Father, in, we consecrate. 217, ii., Chaplin, E. H.
Father, Lord of mercy (tr. Anon.). 1240, i., Weber, M.
Father, Lord of mercy in me. 866, ii., Father, God, I present to Thee
Father, make me Thy child. 193, ii., Bernardo, C. A.
Father, merciful and holy. 1204, ii., Words mutter, mute thankless, That Thy Sirenes gain hortly
Father most high, Who didst us make. 1181, ii., Nimmo (tr. Anon.)
Father most holy, merciful and loving. 866, ii., O Pater sancte, unice atque pie
Father, my cup is full. 1262, ii., Shipton, Anna
Father, my lifted eye. 626, i., God of Almighty love
Father, my spirit owns. 1119, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Father, Name of love and fear. 327, i., Elliston, J.
Father, O hear me. 197, i., Bruce, C.
Father, O hear me, Pardon grant. 1265, ii., Spare me (Gott, sei mir gnädig), Ps. li. (Luther's version)
Father, O hear mid the blessing. 1126, i., Tregelles, S. P.
Father of all, and God of love. 995, ii., Pope, A.
Father of all, before Thy throne. 627, i., Elliston, J. H.
Father of all, by Whom we are. 1265, i., Wesley family, The Father of all created (tr. F. C. C.). 624, i., Garve, C. B.
Father of all, from Whom we trace. 713, ii., Hunt, R.
Father of all! in every age. 997, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer; 999, ii., Pope, A.
Father of all, in heaven above. 1265, i., Water inner in Elizabethan
Father of all in Whom alone. 88, i., Almighty God, eternal Lord; 1265, i., Wesley family, The Father of all, omniscient mind. 186, ii., Hamilton, T.
Father of all, our wants Thou. 1267, i., What shall we ask of God in prayer?
Father of all, Thou God of love. 995, ii., Pope, A.
Father of all, Thy care we blest. 272, ii., Father of man, Thy care we bless
Father of all, to Thee we. 1265, i., Father, in Whom we live
Father of all, to Thee we bow. 268, ii., Father of all, we bow to Thee; 627, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Father of all, to Thee we pray. 696, i., Lord's (The) Prayer; 1265, i., Father of all
Father of all, to Thee we raise. 1126, ii., Te Deum Patrem colimus
Father of all, we bow to Thee. 146, ii., Blair, H.; 627, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer; 1265, ii., Scottish translations and versions
Father of all, where shall we find. 198, ii., Buckley, E.
Father of all, Who dwell'st above. 627, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Father of all, Who from Thy throne. 845, i., Hull, J. D.
Father of all, Whose love from heaven. 999, ii., Father of heaven, Whose love profound
Father of all, Whose merciful voice. 647, ii., Graves; 627, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Father of all, Whose seat of rest. 627, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Father of all, Whose wondrous grace. 303, ii., Father of heaven, Whose love profound
Father of all, Whose wondrous love. 303, ii., Father of heaven, Whose love profound
Father of all, wondrous I sing. 719, ii., Mason, W. J.
Father of boundless grace. 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Father of celestial light. 284, i., Pater superni luminis
Father of earth and heaven. 647, ii., Graves
Father of earth, O hear our cry. 1260, ii., Hymns ophobis creation, 1255, i., Wyatt, T., jun.
Father of earth and sky. 895, i., Father of me and all mankind
Father of eternal love. 999, i., Father of eternal grace
Father of everlasting grace. 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Father of everlasting grace, Thy goodness. 1262, i., Wesley family, The Father of faithful Abraham, hear. 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Father of glory, God of grace. 1266, i., We plan foundations for the dead
Father of glory, that dost dwell. 960, ii., O Lucs qui mortalibus
Father of heaven, to Thy Name. 1265, i., Watts, I.
Father of graces above. 142, i., Bridgewater, H. H.
Father of heaven, all nature upholding. 1265, i., Darling, T.
Father of heaven, Who hast created all. 628, i., Knapp, A.
Father of heaven, Whose gracious hand. 200, i., Carlyle, J. E.
Father of heaven, whose love profound (R. Cooper). 1266, ii., 1265, i., Staffordshire hymn-books
Father of Jesus Christ, my Lord. 266, i., Father, behold with gracious eyes
Father of Jesus Christ the Just. 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Father of Jesus, God of love. 1126, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Father of Jesus, Lord of Love. 193, i., Bertram, H. A.
Father of life, and God of love. 1265, ii., Father, O
Father of light and life. 279, i., Faustus, S.
Father of lights, conduct my (our) feet. 939, ii., Psalters, English
Father of light! one glance of Thine. 884, i., Pater superni luminis
Father of light, that shinest above. 884, i., Pater superni luminis
Father of lights by Whom each day. 700, ii., Lucis Creator optime
Father of lights, from Whom proceeds. 307, ii., Father, I was a thankful heart
Father of lights, Thy needful aid. 1265, i., Wesley family, The Father of lights, Who dwell'st in light (Jam sol recedit igneus), Ps. li. O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
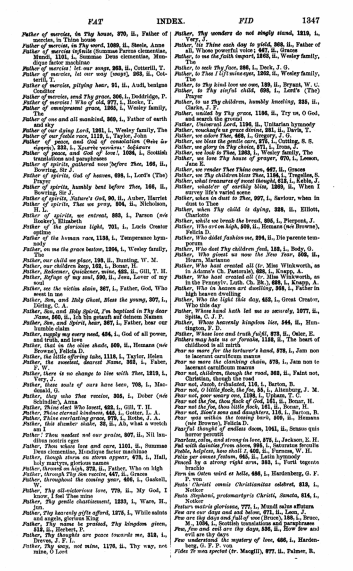
Father of living Nature. 1264, i., Emmendorf, N. L. von
Father of love, our friends and Friend. 272, i., Irons, W. J.
Father of man, Thy care we bless. 272, ii., Father of men, Thy care we bless
Father of men, Whose sovereign will (Hospitale superne Consilium), 696, ii., Piscenator homines Deus
Father of mercies, bow Thine ear, Attentive to. 132, ii., Fawcett, John
Father of mercies, condescend To hear our fervent prayer. 697, i., Lawson, J.; 778, i., Morell, T.
Father of mercies, condescend (Morell), 778, i., Morell, T.
Father of mercies! deign to hear. 905, ii., From the cross uplifted high, Behold the Saviour
Father of mercies, God of love, O hear a humble. 893, i., Heffles, T.
Father of mercies, God of love, Our Father. 270, ii., Father of mercies, God of love, My Father; 696, i., Lord's (The) Prayer; 0.; 1180, i., Thou beneficent Source of every good
Father of mercies, God of love, Send down. 120, ii., Beddome, B.
Father of mercies, God of love, Whose gifts (Xtes, benedicte), 696, ii., Fountain of mercy, God of love
Father of mercies, God of love, Whose kind compassions. 736, ii., Medley, S.
Father of mercies, hear, before Thy throne. 82, ii., Burton, J., jun.
Father of mercies, hear; for us. 197, ii., Burton, J., jun.
Father of mercies, hear the song Thy children raise. 130, i., Burton, J., jun.
Father of mercies, hear, Thy pardon. 91, ii., Auld, benigne Genitor; 695, ii., Cosin, D. W.
Father of mercies, heavenly Friend. 230, i., Holmes, O. W.



Father of mercies, in Thy house, 270, ii., Father of mercies, in Thy word, 1260, ii., Steele, Anne
Father of mercies (Summae Parens clementiae, Mitis), 1181, i., Summae Deus clementiae, Wenceslaus factor machinae
Father of mercies! let our song, 363, ii., Cotterill, T.
Father of mercies, let our song (sequi), 363, ii., Cotterill, T.
Father of mercies, pitying hear, 91, ii., Auth, benigne Conditor
Father of mercies, send Thy grace, 266, i., Doddridge, P.
Father of mercies! Wha of old, 277, i., Hooker, T.
Father of remembrance, rear, 1355, i., Wesley family, The Father of one and all mankind, 869, i., Father of earth and sky
Father of our dying Lord, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Father of peace, and God of love, 11, i., Taylor, Jane
Father of peace, and God of consolation (Mein Zeit verwirf), 333, i., Xaverie verwirf: Judasve
Father of peace, and God of love! 1256, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Father of spirits, cluthered sons before Thee, 186, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Father of spirits, God of heaven, 699, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Father of spirits, humbly bent before Thee, 186, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Father of spirits, Nature's God, 90, ii., Auber, Harriet
Father of spirits, Thee we pray, 804, ii., Nicholson, H. L.
Father of spirits, we entreat, 860, i., Parson (we raise), Catherine
Father of the glorious light, 291, i., Loch Creator spiritus
Father of the heaven vast, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Father, we ma the grace bestow, 1264, i., Wesley family, The Father, our child we place, 198, ii., Bunting, W. M.
Father, our children keep, 193, i., Bonar, H.
Father, Redeemer, Quickener, unto, 625, ii., Gill, T. H.
Refuge of my soul, 280, ii., Jones, Lover of my soul
Father, see the victim slain, 367, i., Father, God, Who seest in me
Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Bless the young, 277, i., Hooker, T.
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, I'm baptized in Thy dear Name, 860, ii., Ich bin getauft auf deinen Namen
Father, Son, and Spirit, hear, 207, i., Father, hear my humble claim
Father, supply my every need, 484, i., God of all power, and love, and grace
Father, that in the olive shade, 609, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Father, the little offering take, 1118, i., Taylor, Helen Father, the resolved Name, 283, i., Father, God
Father, there is no change to live with Thee, 1219, i., Very, J.
Father, these souls of ours have been, 708, i., Mackonochie, A.
Father, they who Thee receive, 804, i., Dober (née Anna Nitschmann)
Father, Thine ebil We lament, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
Father, Thine eternal kindness, 625, i., Gotter, L. A.
Father, Thine everlasting grace, 270, i., Steele, Anne
Father, Thine slumber shade, 59, ii., Ah, what a weight of woe
Father, Thou needest not our praise, 907, ii., Sil hundillus nostris ego
Father, Thou spakest love and care, 1101, ii., Nunnae Deus clementiae, Mitis(que factor machinae
Father, though storm on storm appear, 678, i., Hall, Lily matryrs, glorious names
Father, throned on high, 272, ii., Father, Who on high
Father, through Thy ten mercies, 447, ii., Elliott, C.
Father, throughout the coming year, 606, i., Sadolet, J.
Father, Thy all-sidedness love, 779, ii., My God, I know, I feel Thee mine
Father, Thy gentle chastisement, 1233, i., Ware, H.
Father, Thy heavenly gifts afford, 1272, i., While saints and angels, glorious King
Father, Thy name be praised, Thy kingdom given, 1264, i., Wesley family, The Father, Thy thoughts are peace towards me, 818, i., Downe, J. F. I.
Father, Thy way, not mine, 1179, ii., Thy way, not mine, O Lord
Father, Thy wonders do not simply stand, 1215, i., Very, J.
Father, We Thine each day to yield, 808, ii., Father of all, Whose powerful voice; 867, ii., Grosse
Father, to me the faith impart, 1205, ii., Wesley family, The Father, to seek Thy face, 886, i., Duck, J. G.
Father, to Thee I fly, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Father, to Thy kind love we owe, 139, ii., Bryant, W. C.
Father, to Thy sinful child, 698, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Father, to us Thy children, humbly bending, 228, ii., Clarke, J. F.
Father, unclad by Thy grace, 1196, ii., Try us, O God, and search the ground
Father, Universal Lord, 1136, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Father, vouchsafe to keep, 1261, ii., Davis, T.
Father, we adore Thee, 862, i., Gregory, J. G.
Father, we bless the gentle care, 878, i., Cuming, S. S.
Father, we glory in Thy choice, 272, i., Irons, J.
Father, we look to Thee, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Father, we love Thy house of prayer, 270, i., Lomax, J. F.
Father, we render Thee Thine own, 827, ii., Graves
Father, we Thy children bless Thee, 1154, i., Tregelles, S.
Father, what treasures of sweet thought, 812, i., Kelly, J.
Father, whatever of earthly bliss, 1269, ii., When I can read my title clear
Father, when in dust to Thee, 207, i., Sexton, when in dust to Thee
Father, when Thy child is dying, 228, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
Father, Who our bread the bread, 866, i., Pierpont, J.
Father, Who art on high, 698, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Father, Who ridest fashion on, 204, ii., Die parente temporum
Father, Who dost Thy children feed, 128, i., Body, G.
Father, Who grantst us now the free hour, 228, ii., Hearn, Marianne
Father, Who hast created all (tr. Miss Winkworth, as in Adams's Ch. Pastorals), 699, ii., Knapp, A.
Father, Who hast created all (tr. Miss Winkworth, as in the Evangelic Luth. Ch. Hy.), 699, ii., Knapp, A.
Father, Who in heaven art dwelling, 204, i., Father in high heaven dwelling
Father, Who the light this day, 623, i., Great Creator, who this day
Father, Whose hand hath led us so securely, 1277, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Father, Whose heavenly Kingdom lies, 564, ii., Huntington, F. D.
Father, Whose one and truth fulfil, 279, ii., Osler, E.
Fathers may take us or forsake, 1148, ii., The heart of childhood is all mirth
Fear no more for the torturer's hand, 678, i., Jam non te laceravit carnifices manus
Fear not, Christian, though the road, 679, i., Jam non te laceravit carnifices manus
Fear not, children, though the road, 862, ii., Faint not, Christian, though the road
Fear not, Jacob, befriended, 118, i., Barton, B.
Fear not, O little flock, 1261, ii., Mant, R., Montgomery, J. M.
Fear not, poor negative one, 1266, ii., Upchurch, C.
Fear not the foe, thou flock of God, 142, ii., Bonar, H.
Fear not the foe, thou little flock, 141, ii., Bonar, H.
Fear not, Zion's sons and daughters, 115, i., Barton, B.
Feast of the Lord, the morning burst, 699, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Fearful thought of endless doom, 1061, ii., Sensus quis horror potest!
Fearless calm, and strong to love, 272, i., Jackson, E. H.
Fecisti nos, Domine, ad Te, 1, ii., Augustine of Hippo, St.
Fedele, helpless, how shall I, 822, ii., Pierson, W. H.
Felse per sensus fruitum, 665, ii., Latin hymnody
Fenced by a strong right arm, 285, i., Furit vegrum brachio
Fern von mir und Asche, 666, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
Festi Christi comis Christianitas celebret, 615, i., Notker
Festa Stephani, protomartyris Christi, Sancta, 814, i., Notker
Festum nuncia gloriosum, 772, i., Mundi salus adfuit
Few are our days and those full, 271, ii., Lyon, J.
Few are thy days and full of woe (Brunn), 155, i., Bruce, M., 1596, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Few, few are thy days, and full, 155, ii., Bruce, M., 1596, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Few understand the mystery of love, 666, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von Fides Te non spectat (tr. Mangil), 877, ii., Palmer, R.

Fiend Herod, why those frantic fears? (Was fürchst du Feind Herodes sehr), 5, i., A solis ortis cardine Ad saeptr
Fiend Herod! why with fears art sore (Was fürchst du Feind Herodes sehr), 5, i., A solis ortis cardine Ad saeptr
Fierce raged the storm of wind, 276, ii., Pierce was the path I trod
Fierce the wild billows roar, 1205, i., Zabgnie tyrannice
Fierce was the Galilee, 1205, i., Zabgnie tyrannice
Fierce was the storm of wind, 128, i., Deakin, W. H.
Fierce was the wild billows, 63, i., Anatolius; 798, ii., Neale, J. M., 1854, i., Scottish translations
Fiercely came the tempest ranging, 1205, ii., Shindler (née Palmer), Mary S. B.
Fight the good fight with all thy might, 793, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Fili, quae meremur, cantatis (tr. Bingham), 219, ii., Children of the heavenly King
Fill Thou my life, O Lord my God, 163, i., Bonar, H.
Finding no place of rest, 665, ii., Groscurd, J. S.
Finish thy work, the time is short, 152, i., Bonar, H.
Fins autem de bellis sunt, 277, i., Finita jam sunt praelia
Firm and unmoved are they, 1237, ii., Watts, I.
Firm as the earth Thy Gospel stands, 1237, ii., Watts, I.
Firm is my hope of future good, 606, i., Gellert, C. F.
First and second and third wherein arranged, 913, i., Primo dierum omnium
First day of days! wherein were made, 913, i., Primo dierum omnium
First martyr, Stephen, this is he, 993, i., Sancte Dei pretiose
First of martyrs! thee whose name Assures to thy crown, 986, ii., O qui tuo, dux martyrum
First of martyrs! thee whose name hath thy golden crown, 986, ii., O qui tuo, dux martyrum
First of martyrs! whose own name, 986, ii., O qui tuo, dux martyrum
First of the twelve-fold bond that God, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
First seek the Saviour out, and dwell, 1268, i., When brothers part for sunbeam's tone
First seek the Saviour out, and dwell, 1268, i., When brothers part for sunbeam's tone
First-born of many brethren, Thou, 224, i., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God, et. viii.; 808, i., Nitschmann, Anna
Fit sorte Christi parcus, 1, ii., A solis ortis cardine
Fix me, O Lord, a tent in Goshen (W. Williams), 1265, ii., Welsh hymnody
Fixed on the Word, foundations keep, 277, ii., Fixed firmly His foundations keep Flamst the Angel, flamst von Thronen, 665, ii., Lassenius, L.
Flieg mit the banner, lat O float, 206, i., Dosne, C. W.
Flock of Jesus, gathered at heart (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1262, ii., Wesley, C.
Flock of Jesus, ye Witnesses, 1262, ii., Ziesendorf, N. L. von Flock of Jesus, be united, 517, ii., Here und Hera
Flock of the Redeemer, 1262, ii.
Flocks of waters, high in air, 223, i., Innocens coeli Conditor
Flocks swell around me, angry, appalling, 221, i., Bidy, F.
Flores in Fronde; Meiner Seelenweide, 221, ii., Jesu meine Freude
Flos pudicitiae Judo mundities, 651, i., Latin hymnody
Flow fast my tears, the cause is great, 1266, i., Shirley, Hon. W.
Flow, my contrite tears, flow faster, 665, ii., Laurentii, L.
Flow my tears, flow still faster, 665, ii., Laurentii, L.
Flowers of martyrdom, all hail (Christo flores martyrum), 987, ii., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
Flowers, Christ's flowers garden have a place, 1266, ii., Trevelyan, S.
Flung to the heedless winds (Die Anche will nicht lassen), 666, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
Fluxit labor decimus, 913, i., Primo dierum omnium
Fly, ye seamen, fly still faster, 624, i., Kelly, T.
Follow me, to me ye sins, 595, i., Folget mir, ruft uns der Leben
Followers of Christ, arise, 164, i., Hackall, C. H.
Followers of Christ, arise, 1260, i., Soldiers of Christ, arise, And put your armour on Followers of Christ of every name, 266, ii., Conder, J.
Following Thy words of grace, 675, ii., Lieber Jesu wie sind hier Deinen Worte nachsinnen
Fondly my foolish heart essays, 95, ii., Ah, my dear Lord, Whose chastise love
Fons est sanguine redemtrix (tr. Bingham), 1161, i., There is a Fountain filled with blood
Food, raiment, dwelling, health, and friends, 666, i., Gregor, 796, ii., Montgomery, J.
Fools, for their transgression, see, 1144, ii., Thank and praise for pardoning love
Fools in their heart believe and say, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
For a season called to part, 68, i., As the sun's enlivening eye
For all the saints to heaven and earth, 665, ii., Gough, J. B.
For all the saints who from their labours rest, 230, ii., For all Thy saints who from their labours rest; 665, ii., How, W. W.
For all the vows that I have done (Ps. xxxix.), 995, ii., Sternhold, T.
For all Thy countless bounties, 827, i., Plumptre, E. H.
For all Thy gifts we praise Thee, Lord, 226, ii., Clarke, J. F.
For all Thy kindness lend I Thee, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
For all Thy saints to heaven and earth rest, 665, ii., Gough, J. B.
For all Thy saints, O God, 230, ii., For all Thy saints, O Lord
For all Thy saints, O Lord, 713, ii., Mant, R.
For all Thy saints who from their labours rest (How), 1262, i., We praise Thee that Thou art
For ape shall mortals bless the day, 274, i., Felix dies mortalibus
For Christ's dear sake with courage bear, 24, i., Advena viator
For Brin placed us, God of love, 139, ii., Bell, C. D.
For ever and for ever, Lord, 228, ii., Havergal, W. H.
"For ever," humble word, 627, i., O how the thought that we shall know
For ever I will bless the Lord, 863, i., Congreve, G. T.
For ever blessed be God the Lord (Ps. cxlv.), 891, i., New Version
For ever here my rest shall be, 895, i., Jesu, Thou art my Righteousness
For ever I will bless the Lord, 861, i., For ever will I bless the Lord
For ever, Lord, Thy faithful word, 233, ii., Charton, E. J.
For ever nigh me, Father, stand, 688, i., Peace, doubting heart, my God's I am
For ever, O delightful word, 271, i., Irons, J.
For ever shall my fainting soul, 1238, i., Scott, Elizabeth
For ever to behold Him shine, 627, i., O how the thought that we shall know; 1139, i., Swain, E.
For ever will I bless the Lord, 256, ii., Conder, J.
For faith, Thy gift, O Lord, 329, i., Elliott, H. V.
For faith, Thy gift, O Lord, 329, i., Elliott, H. V.
For help, O whither shall I flee? 726, i., Stander, J.
For his Lord a soldier glorious, 231, i., Christ miles gloriosus
For Jesus' agony and death, 1277, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
For Jesus' sake, to lonely lands, 909, ii., Jones tyranni pro fide
For Judah's Lion bursts His chains, 294, i., Chorus Angelorum
For lack of love I languish, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
For life, and light, and wants supplied, 633, i., Kennedy, B. H.
For life's eternal spring, 13, ii., Ad perennis vitae fontem
For life's eternal spring, 13, ii., Ad perennis vitae fontem
For man the Saviour died, 960, i., Ex quo, salus mortalibus
For me, O love in Jesus, 223, i., Christus, der ist mein Leben
For me watching'd the unspotted Lamb, 653, ii., Renewed pledge, to-day
For mercies filed on mercies and on, 668, i., Graces
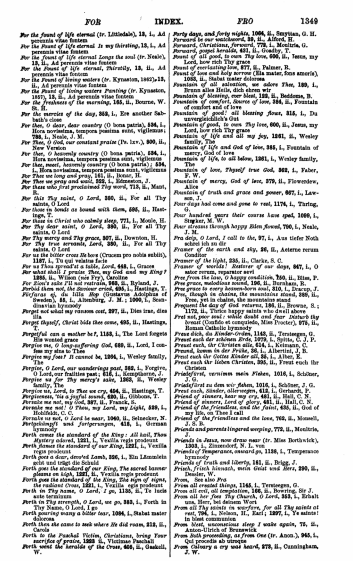
For mercy, Lord, I cry, 1178, i., Thring, G.
For my life, and clothes, and food, 647, ii., Graces; 1264, ii., Wesley family, The
For mirth, and Zion, and universe delight, 229, ii., Holland, J. G.
For that amazing love and grace, 664, ii., Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet
For the apostles' glorious company, 260, ii., For all Thy saints who from their labours rest
For the beauty of the earth, 276, i., Pierpoint, F. S.
For the bread and for the Wine, 125, i., Bonar, H.
For the dear love that kept us through the night, 196, ii., Burleigh, W. H.



FOR INDEX. FRO 1349

For the fount of life eternal (tr. Littledale), 13, i., Ad perennia vitæ fontem
For the fount of life eternal. It my thirsting, 13, i., Ad perennis vitæ fontem
For the fount of life eternal Longs the soul (tr. Neale), 13, ii., Ad perennis vitæ fontem
For the Fount of life eternal, Thirsting, 13, ii., Ad perennis vitæ fontem
For the fountain of living waters (tr. Kynaston, 1867),13, ii., Ad perennis vitæ fontem
For the Fount of living waters Panting (tr. Kynaston, 1867), 13, ii., Ad perennis vitæ fontem
For the freshness of the morning, 150, ii., Bourne, W.
For the mercies of the day, 959, i., Ere sanctior Sabbatis close
For thee, O dear, dear country (O bona patria), 194, i., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
For Thee, O God, our greatest praise (Te lov.), 990, ii., New Version
For thee, O heavenly country (O bona patria), 194, i., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
For thee, O heavenly country (O bona patria), 194, i., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
For Thee we long and pray, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
For Thee we pray and seek, 225, i., Edmeston, J.
For thou who first proclaimed Thy word, 713, ii., Mant, R.
For Thy saint, O Lord, 680, ii., For all Thy saints, O Lord
For those to bonds so bound with them, 680, ii., Hastings, T.
For Thy dear Christ who calmly slept, 771, i., Monk, H.
For Thy dear saint, O Lord, 680, ii., For all Thy saints, O Lord
For Thy mercy and Thy grace, 307, ii., Downton, H.
For Thy true servants, Lord, 680, ii., For all Thy saints, O Lord
For to the bitter cross He bore (Crucem pro nobis subiit), 1127, i., Tu qui volatus facis
For we Thou spread'st a table, Lord, 643, i., Grace
For what shall I praise Thee, my God and my King? 1, ii., Adam of St. Victor, Tr. from the Latin
For Zion's sake I'll not restrain, 963, ii., Rytand, J.
Forbid them not, the Saviour cried, 680, i., Hastings, T.
Förbrast ej, lilla flock (Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden), 83, i., Almeborg, J. H.: 1800, 1., Scott-Hjelm, C. C.
Forget not what my reason cost, 327, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
Forget thyself, Christ bids thee come, 680, ii., Hastings, T.
Forgetful can a mother be? 1153, i., The Lord forgets His wonted grace
Forgive us, O long-suffering God, 669, ii., Lord, I confess my sins to Thee
Forgive my fear? It cannot be, 1006, i., Wesley family, The Forgive, O Lord, our wanderings past, 963, i., Forgive, O Lord, our severing ways, 963, i., Rytand, J.
Forgive us for Thy mercy's sake, 1005, ii., Wesley family, The Forgive us, Lord, to Thee we cry, 464, ii., Hastings, T.
Forgiveness, 'tis a joyful sound, 430, ii., Gibbons, T.
Förlåt oss, Herre, för Jesu skull, 963, ii., Rytand, J.
Formate me sol! O Thou, my Lord, my Light, 599, i., Holdfish, C. C.
Formate us sol, O Lord be near, 1060, ii., Selnecker, N.
Förgiftendigt sind förtgerungen, 618, i., Ormsun Nicolai
Forth comes the standard of the King: All hail, Thou Mystery adored, 1251, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
Forth comes the standard of our King, 1251, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
Forth goes a dear, devoted Lamb, 256, i., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
Forth goes the standard of our King, The sacred banner shines forth, 1251, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
Forth in the standard of the King, The royal ensign, 1251, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
Forth on Thy name, O Lord, I go, 1136, ii., Tu iuste acte terminum
Forth on Thy strength, O Lord, we go, 883, i., Forth in Thy name, O Lord, I go
Forth goeth my sorry o'better tear, 1006, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Forth then the cause to seek where He did reason, 253, ii., Ecce Deus
Forth to the Paschal Victim, Christians, bring Your sacrifice of praise, 1262 ii., Victimæ Paschali
Forth went the heralds of the Cross, 668, ii., Gladell, W.
Forty days, and forty nights, 1006, ii., Stephan, G. H.
Forward, Christians, forward! 778, i., Monkhouse, J.
Forward, Christians, forward! 778, i., Monkhouse, J.
Forward, gospel heralds, 403, ii., Goadby, T.
Fount of all good, to cure Thy love, 990, ii., Teese, my Lord, how rich Thy grace
Fount of all salvation, we adore, Palmer, R.
Fount of love and holy sorrow (Ihn mater, fons amoris), 1262, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
Fountain of all salvation, we adore Thee, 189, i., Brunn alles Heils, dich ehren wir
Fountain of comfort, hail to thee, 1262, ii., Beddome, B.
Fountain of comfort, source of love, 344, ii., Fountain of comfort and of love
Fountain of good! all blessing flows, 315, i., Du unvergleichlich's Gut
Fountain of good, to cure Thy love, 990, ii., Jones, my Lord, how rich Thy grace
Fountain of life and all my joy, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Fountain of life and God of love, 986, i., Fountain of mercy, God of love
Fountain of life, to all below, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Fountain of love, Thyself true God, 881, i., Faber, F. W.
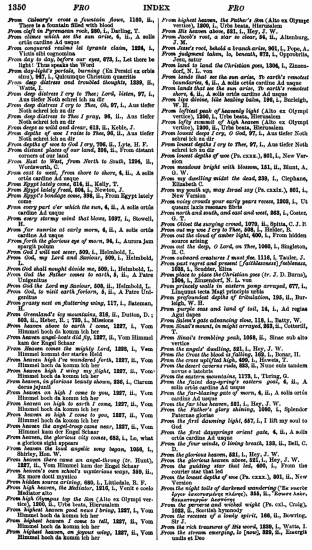
Fountain of mercy, God of love, 979, ii., Flowerdew, Alice
Fountain of truth and grace and power, 967, i., Lawson, J.
Four days had come and gone to rest, 1174, i., Turing, G.
Four hundred years their course have sped, 1040, i., Ein feste Burg
Four streams through happy Eden flowed, 766, i., Neale, J. M.
Fra dalje, O Lord, I call to the, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
Fram the north and sky, 26, ii., Asterte rerum Conditor
Framer of the light, 338, ii., Clarke, S. C.
Framer of worlds! Ruler of our days, 967, i., O salve rerum, rupertor noster
Fram grace, meditative mind, 1262, ii., Hine, P.
Fram grace, meditative mind, 1262, ii., Burnham, S.
Fram grace to every heaven-born soul, 310, i., Draper, J.
Fram, though in chains, the messenger stood, 1262, ii., Fram, yet in chains, the messenger stood
Fram the cross uplifted high, 629, i., Howels, T.
Fram the heights of heavenly love, 1178, ii., Three happy saints who dwell above
Fret not, poor soul: whilst doubt and fear Distract thy bread (Conflits et craintes), Miss Procter), 979, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Fremd, komm in der Fröhe, 1142, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Fremd nach der irdischen Brot, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Fremd nach, thr Christen alle, 624, i., Kittmann, C.
Fremd, komm in der Fröhe, 56, i., Albertus, J. S.
Fremd nach thr Gottes Kinder all, 56, i., Albert, E.
Fremd nach thr lieben Christen, 262, ii., Fremd nach thr Christen
Fremd, o verirrtes mein Fleben, 1016, i., Schäfer, J. G.
Fremdlfürst zu dem wir fahen, 1016, i., Schäfer, J. G.
Fremd nach, Sünder, allerargen, 618, i., Gerhardt, P.
Friend of sinners, hast my cry, 481, ii., Hall, C. W.
Friend of sinners, hear my cry, 481, ii., Hall, C. W.
Friend of the friendless, and the faint, 630, ii., God of my life, on Thee I call
Friend of the Trinities and the love, 762, ii., Mossell, N.
Friends and parents lingered weeping, 772, ii., Monkhs, J.
Friends in Jesus, now draw near (tr. Miss Borbwick), 1262, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
Friends of Temperance, comrades, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Friends of Truth and liberty, 181, ii., Briggs, J.
Frisch, frisch hinaus, mein Geist und Herz, 289, ii., Frisch, frisch hinaus
From this altar Fra
From all created things, 1144, i., Tersteegen, G.
From all evil, all temptation, 166, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
From all her foes Thy Church, O Lord, 353, i., Rebalt wer, bei Gottes Wort
From all Thy foes in warfare, for all Thy saints at rest, 706, i., Nelson, H., Earl, 1677, i., Ye saints! in blest communion
From blest, unconscious sleep I wake again, 70, ii., Quo procedis ab utmque
From Bath proceeding, as From One (tr. Anon.), 985, i., Qui procedis ab utroque
From Calvary a cry was heard, 979, ii., Cunningham, J. W.



1350 FRO INDEX FRO

From Calvary's cross a fountain flows, 1160, ii., There is a fountain filled with blood
From cliff to Pyrenaean rock, 250, i., Darling, T.
From climes which see the sun arise, 6, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From dark dungeons and tyrants chains, 1264, i., Ye who still captivation
From day to day, before our eyes, 673, i., Let there be light! Thus spake the Word
From deep-laid's portals, burning (Ex Deusi ex orbis sinu), 927, i., Quicunque Christum quæritis
From deep distress and troubled thoughts, 1259, ii., Psalm cxxx.
From deep distress I cry to Thee, Lord, listen, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
From deep distress I cry to Thee, Oh, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
From deep distress I cry to Thee, I pray, 96, ii., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
From deeps so wild and drear, 618, ii., Keble, J.
From depths of woe I raise to Thee, 96, ii., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
From depths of woe I raise my cry, 756, ii., Lyte, H. F.
From distant places of our land, 326, ii., From distant corners of our land
From East to West, From North to South, 1206, ii., Wordsworth, C.
From east to west, From shore to shore, 4, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From Egypt lately come, 614, ii., Kelly, T.
From Egypt lately Freed, 668, i., Newton, J.
From Egypt's bondage come, 396, ii., From Egypt lately freed
From every part our which the sun, 6, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From every stormy wind that blows, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
From far sonorise at early morn, 4, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From forth the glorious age of morn, 94, i., Aurora jam spargit polum
From God I will not sever, 939, i., Helmbold, I.
From God, my Lord and Saviour, 939, i., Helmbold, I.
From God shall naught divide me, 939, i., Helmbold, I.
From God the Father come to earth, 4, ii., A Patre Unigenitus
From God, our Lord my Saviour, 939, ii., Helmbold, I.
From God, to visit earth forlorn, 3, ii., A Patre Unigenitus
From grassy nest on fluttering wing, 177, i., Salomon, H.
From Greenland's icy mountains, 318, ii., Dutton, D.; 662, ii., Heber, R.: 799, i., Montgomery, J.
From heaven above to earth, I come, 1027, i., Vom Himmel kam der Engel schaar
From heaven angel-host did fly, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar
From Heaven comes the mighty Lord, 1008, i., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From heaven high I've wandered forth, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From heaven high I wing my flight, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From heaven the glorious beauty shines, 806, i., Charmis jucunt
From heaven on high I come to you, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From heaven on high I've come, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From heaven so high I come to you, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From heaven the heavenly comes near, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From heaven the glorious song comes, 685, i., Lo, what a glorious sight appears
From heaven the lord angelic song began, 1006, i., Mary, Hail!
From heaven there came an angel-throng (tr. Text), 1027, ii., Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar
From heaven's own school's mysterious ways, 349, ii., Ex more docti mystico
From high Olympus' top the dew, 1260, ii., Ros cæli
From high heaven, the Mediator, 1216, i., Venit e cœlo Mediator alto
From high Olympus' top the dew (Alto ex Olympi vertice), 1260, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
From highest heaven I come to bring, 1027, i., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From highest heaven I come to tell, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From highest heaven, on joyous wing, 1027, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her
From highest heaven, the Father's den (Alto ex Olympi vertice), 1260, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
From His heaven above, 631, i., Hey, J. W.
From Jacob's root, a star is come, 24, ii., Altenburg, J. M.
From Jacob's root, behold a branch arise, 901, i., Pope, A.
From judgment taken, to beneath, 878, i., Oppenhein, John, satur
From land to land the Christian goes, 1306, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
From lands that on the sun arise, 27 earth's remotest boundaries, 6, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From lands that on the sun arise, 27 earth's remotest shore, 6, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From low devotes, like kneeling babes, 196, i., Burleigh, W. H.
From loftiest peak of heavenly light (Alto ex Olympi vertice), 1260, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
From lofty summit of high heaven (Alto ex Olympi vertice), 1260, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
From lowest depth I cry, O God, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
From lowest depths I cry to Thee, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
From lowest depths of woe (Ps. cxxx.), 861, i., New Version
From mansions bright with blessed, 121, ii., Hunt, A. M.
From my dwelling midst the dead, 239, i., Clephane, Elizabeth C.
From my youth up, may Israel say (Ps. cxxix.), 861, i., New Version
From our sad hearts your early years rouse, 1260, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
From north and south, and east and west, 863, i., Cotter, G. T.
From Olivet the surging crowd, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
From out the cloud of pain and woe, 629, i., Howels, T.
From out the cloud of under night, 629, i., From hidden scarce arising
From out the deep, O Lord, on Thee, 1005, i., Singleton, R. C.
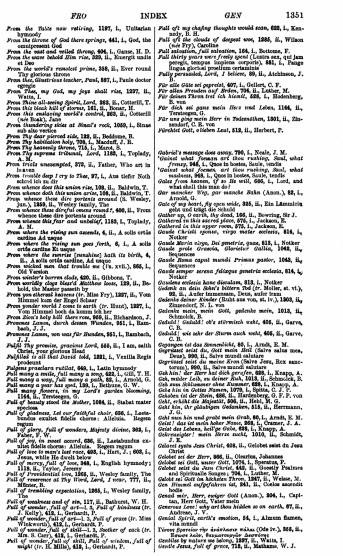
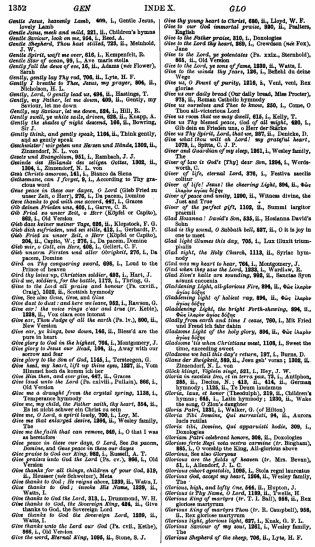
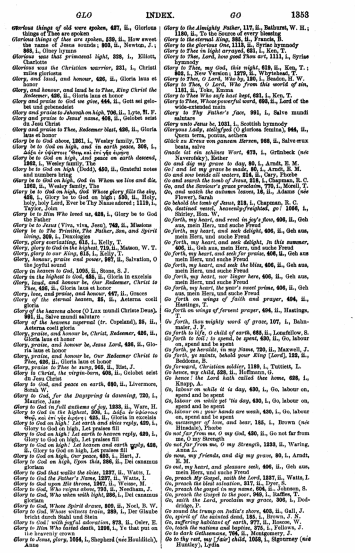
From outward creatures I must flee, 1116, i., Tauler, J.
From past regret and present (Gelâbenenzi) fachenzi, 1262, i., Scudder, Ellen
From place to place the Christian goes (tr. J. D. Burns), 1264, i., Strandbert, N. L. von
From Pride's dark path to matters pomp arrayed, 677, i., Beyond vain Pride's dark pomp arrayed
From profoundest depths of tribulation, 186, ii., Burleigh, W. H.
From purple seas and land of toil, 14, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
From Salem's gate advancing slow, 118, i., Baxter, W.
From Satan's wrath, to might arrayed, 321, ii., Cotterill, T.
From Sinai's trembling peak, 1066, ii., Stune sub alto vertice
From the angels' dwelling, 321, i., Hey, J. W.
From the cross uplifted high, 629, i., Bonar, H.
From the cross uplifted high, 629, i., Howels, T.
From the desert camera rode, 865, ii., Nunc suis tandem nectar a tandem
From the eastern mountains, 1178, i., Turing, G.
From the fair-blazing gate of morn, 4, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From the fair-blazing gate of morn, 4, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From the fair blue heaven, 321, i., Hey, J. W.
From the fields of glory shining, 1260, i., Splendor Patrius gloriæ
From the first dawning light, 667, i., I lift my soul to God
From the first dayspring orient gate, 4, ii., A mille orbis castles Ad usque
From the four winds, O living breath, 125, ii., Bell, C. D.
From the glorious heaven, 321, i., Hey, J. W.
From the glorious heaven above, 321, i., Hey, J. W.
From the guiding star that led, 699, i., From the center that that led
From the lowest depths of woe (Ps. cxxx.), 861, ii., New Version
From the night tide of darkened wandering (The sacrist of Jesus' consecrative widow), 580, ii., Newer hour, Resurrexerunt Auctrices
From the perverse and wilful might (Ps. cxl., Cruly), 1262, ii., Scottish hymnody
From the recesses of a lowly spirit, 196, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
From the rich treasures of the word, 1259, i., Watts, I.
From the stream emerging, he (now), 889, ii., Emergit unda et Deo







GLO INDEX. GO 1353

Glorious things of old were spoken, 427, ii., Glorious things of Thee are spoken
Glorious things of Thee are spoken, 229, ii., How sweet the name of Jesus sounds; 303, ii., Newton, J.; 305, i., Glory hymns
Glorious was that primeval light, 259, i., Elliott, Charlotte
Glorious was the Christian warrior, 321, i., Christi milites gloriosa
Glory, and land, and honour, 420, ii., Gloria laus et honor
Glory, and honour, and land be to Thee, King Christ the Redeemer, 420, ii., Gloria laus et honor
Glory and praise to God we give, 666, ii., Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet
Glory and praise to Jehovah on high, 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Glory and praise to Jesus' name, 668, ii., Geistet sind in Jesu Christ
Glory and praise to Thee, Redeemer blest, 420, ii., Gloria laus et honor Glory be to God above, 1302, i., Wesley family, The Glory be to God and Father, 1302, i., Wesley family, The Glory be to God on high, and peace on earth descend, 1302, i., Wesley family, The Glory be to God on high (Dodd), 420, ii., Grateful notes of praise
Glory be to God on high, God on Whom we live and die, 1302, ii., Wesley family, The Glory be to God on high, God Whose glory fills the sky, 420, i., Glory be to God on high: 420, ii., Holy, holy, holy, Ever be Thy Name adored: 1119, i., Taylor, John Glory be to Him Who loved us, 428, i., Glory be to God the Father
Glory be to Jesse (Virx, virx, Jesu), 742, ii., Missione
Glory be to the Father, Son, and Spirit, 420, i., Hastings
Glory, glory everlasting, 614, i., Kelly, T.
Glory, glory to God on the highest, 712, ii., Mason, W. T.
Glory, glory to our King, 615, i., Kelly, T.
Glory, honour, praise and power, 427, ii., Salvation, O the joyful sound!
Glory in heaven to God, 1005, ii., Stone, S. J.
Glory on the highest to God, 681, ii., Gloria in excelsis
Glory, land, and honour be, Our Redeemer, Christ is Thee, 420, ii., Gloria laus et honor
Glory, love, and praise, and honour, 647, ii., Omnes
Glory of the eternal heaven, 91, ii., Aeterna coeli gloria
Glory of the heavens above (O Lux mundi Christe Deus), 361, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Glory of the heavens supernal (tr. Copeland), 91, ii., Aeterna coeli gloria Glory, praise, and honour be, Christ, Redeemer, 420, ii., Gloria laus et honor
Glory, praise, and honour be, Jesus Lord, 420, ii., Gloria laus et honor
Glory, praise, and honour be, Our Redeemer Christ to Thee, 420, ii., Gloria laus et honor
Glory, praise to Thee be sung, 262, ii., Zinn, J.
Glory, to Christ, the virgin-born, 420, ii., Geistet sind in Jesu Christ
Glory to God and peace on earth, 295, ii., Livermore, Anna W.
Glory to God, for the Dayspring is dawning, 720, i., Maurice, Jane
Glory to God in full anthems of joy, 1233, ii., Ware, H.
Glory to God in the highest, 420, i., Glory be to God the Father
Glory to God in the highest; 712, ii., Mason, W. T.
Glory to God in the highest, Let praises fill the sky, 420, i., Glory to God on high, Let praises fill
Glory to God in the highest, Let praises fill
Glory to God on high, 420, i., Glory be to God the Father
Glory to God on high, Let heaven and earth reply, 420, i., Glory to God on high, Let praises fill
Glory to God on high, Let praises fill
Glory to God on high, Let praises fill the sky, 420, i., Glory to God on high, Let praises fill
Glory to God on high, Let heaven and earth reply, 420, ii., Glory to God on high, Let praises fill
Glory to God on high, Our peace, 420, i., Del cunctorum gloria Glory to God that walks the skies, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Glory to God the Father's Name, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Glory to God, the Father, Son, 420, i., Glory be to God
Glory to God, the virgin-born, 703, ii., Needham, J.
Glory to God, Who arms with light, 1205, i., Del cunctorum gloria
Glory to God, Whose Spirit draws, 893, ii., Noel, B. W.
Glory to God, whose word is true, 339, i., Der Glaube heisst durch Gnad und Huld
Glory to God! with joyful adoration, 973, ii., Oehr, E.
Glory to Him Who died death, 1206, i., 'Tis that put on the heavenly crown
Glory to Jesus, glory, 1064, i., Shepherd (née Hewlditch), Anna

Glory to the Almighty Father, 1177, ii., Baltzarel, W. H.; 1180, ii., To the Source of every blessing Glory to the eternal King, 262, ii., Francis, B.
Glory to the glorious One, 1113, ii., Syriac hymnody
Glory to Thee in light arrayed, 521, i., Kitt, T.
Glory to Thee, Lord, love good Thou art, 1111, i., Syriac hymnody
Glory to Thee, my God, this night, 819, ii., Ken, T.; 860, i., New Version; 1279, ii., Wrightwell, T.
Glory to Thee, O Lord, Who by, 130, i., Beaufoy, M. W.
Glory to Thee, O Lord, Who from this world of sin, 1279, ii., Wrightwell, T.
Glory to Thee Who safe hast kept, 681, i., Ken, T.
Glory to Thee, Whose powerful word, 680, ii., Lord of the wide-extended realm
Glory to Thy Father's Love, 991, i., Salve mundi salutare
Glory unto Jesus be, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
Gloryous Lady, stellyfyed (O glorious Semina), 986, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Glück zu Abreu von ganzen Herzen, 989, ii., Salve crux sancta, salve
Gnade ist ein schöner Wort, 679, i., Gottschalk (née Navernicky), Esther Go and dig my grave to day, 93, i., Arndt, E. M.
Go! and let my grave be made, 93, i., Arndt, E. M.
Go, and make thee ready, 1279, ii., Wrightwell, T.
Go and search the book of Jesus, 313, i., Chapman, R. C.
Go, and the Saviour's grace proclaim, 779, i., Morell, T.
Go, and watch the autumn leaves, 18, ii., Adams (née Flower), Sarah
Go bid thy mother Jesus, 818, i., Chapman, R. C.
Go, darkened mind, knowledge-freighted, go! 1066, i., Shirley, Hon. W.
Go forth, my heart, and rend in joy's fear, 606, ii., Geh aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go forth, my heart, and seek delight, 606, ii., Geh aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go forth, my heart, and seek delight, In this summer, 606, ii., Geh aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go forth, my heart, and seek for repose, 606, ii., Geh aus mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go forth, my heart, and seek the bliss, 606, ii., Geh aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go forth, my heart, our bager here, 606, ii., Geh aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go forth, my heart, the year's chief prime, 606, ii., Geh aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go forth on wings of faith and prayer, 694, ii., Hastings, T.
Go forth on wings of fervent prayer, 694, ii., Hastings, T.
Go forth, thou mighty word of grace, 107, i., Bakewell, J. P.
Go forth to life, O child of earth, 693, ii., Lonefellow, S.
Go forth to toil, to spend, be spent, 630, ii., Go, labour on, spend and be spent
Go for he have, to my Home, 720, ii., Maxwell, J.
Go forth, ye saints, behold your King [Lord], 132, ii., Baldwin, S.
Go forward, Christian soldier, 1189, i., Tuttiett, L.
Go home, my child, 598, ii., Hoffmann, G.
Go home, the Lord hath called thee home, 598, i., Schiegg, J.
Go, labour on while it is day, 630, i., Go, labour on, spend and be spent
Go, labour on, labour on while yet 'tis day, 630, i., Go, labour on, spend and be spent
Go, labour on, spend and be spent, our hands are weak, 630, i., Go, labour on, spend and be spent
Go, messenger of love, and bear, 168, i., Brown (née Bowdler), Anne
Go not far from me, O my God, 630, ii., Go not far from me, O my Strength
Go not far from me, O my Strength, 1233, ii., Waring, Anna L.
Go on, my friends, and dig my grave, 93, i., Arndt, E. M.
Go out, my heart, and pleasure seek, 606, ii., Geh aus, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Go, preach My Gospel, saith the Lord, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Go, preach My Gospel, saith the Lord: 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Go, preach the gospel to my name, 678, ii., Johnson, S.
Go, preach the Gospel to the poor, 960, i., Saffin, T.
Go, saith the Lord, proclaim my grace, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
Go, seek the swamp on India's shore, 403, ii., Gall, J.
Go, spirit of the sainted dead, 193, i., Brown, J. B.
Go, suffering habitant of earth, 977, ii., Roscoe, W.
Go, teach the nations and baptize, 272, i., Follows, J.
Go to dark Gethsemane, 766, ii., Montgomery, J.
Go to thy rest, my [fair] child, 1050, i., Sigourney (née Huntley), Lydia

Go, tune thy voice to sacred song, 680, ii., Hastings, T.
Go up, go up, my heart, 145, ii., Bonar, H.
Go, wearied body, to thy rest, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
Go when the morning shineth, 1056, ii., Simpson (née Bell), Jane L.
Go where your Master hath never trod, 766, ii., Montgomery, J.
Go where your Master's glory, 767, ii., Que vos Magister gloria ipse mittat
Go, work for God, and do not say, 715, ii., Methams, Mrs. J.
Go, work in my vineyard, there's plenty to do, 116, ii., Baxter (née), Lydia
Go, worship at Immanuel's feet, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
God Almighty and All-seeing, 850, i., Platpoint, J.
God Almighty heareth ever, 1097, i., Bradford, Elizabeth
God and Father, King of nations, 627, i., Havergal, Frances R.
God and Father, great and holy, 866, ii., Turner, F. W.
God and man indeed, 811, ii., Stone, A.; 979, i., Father, Who on high
God, Almighty, Holy Ness, 682, i., Kennedy, B. H.
God be blessed, and God be praised, 644, ii., Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet
God be gracious to a sinner, 796, i., Midlane, A.
God be merciful to me, 796, i., Montgomery, J.
God be merciful unto us, and grant, 355, i., Es wolle uns Gott genädig sein
God be merciful unto us, and speak, 355, i., Es wolle uns Gott genädig sein; 645, i., Crossby Psalters and Spirituale Songes
God bless our native land, See God-begotten
God bless our dear old England, 631, ii., Hall, C. N.
God bless our native land, 106, i., Brooks, C. T.; 439, ii., God save the King
God bless our noble King, 439, i., God save the King
God bless our native land, 439, i., God save the King
God bless the brave and true, 1208, ii., Wade
God bless the Church of England, 414, ii., Hernaman (nee Bonham), Claudia F.
God bless the little children, 838, i., Hoppe, J. P.
God calling yet!—and shall I never hearken? 163, ii., Borthwick, Jane; 666, i., Gott ruft noch, soll ich nicht endlich hören
God calling yet!—shall I not hear, 666, i., Gott ruft noch, soll ich nicht endlich hören
God came, for me; why need I sorrow, 1266, ii., Wetzel, C.
God comes, and who shall stand before His face (O wisen fyuren), 1145, i., The harbour for desyre
God comes down that man may rise, 1206, ii., Wordsworth, C.
God cometh! and e'en now is near, 949, i., Instantis adventus
God cometh, in the heart prepared, 303, i., Ibi, V. C.
God counts the moment of His return, 980, ii., O Thou, Whose justice reigns on high
God, Creator and Preserver, 627, i., Hiersten, J.
God, Creator, Lord of earth and heaven, 627, i., Havergal, H.
God doth not half that want, 627, i., Havergal, Frances R.
God doth not leave His sons, 644, ii., Gott verlässt die Seinen nicht!
God drapes a cloud over each gloaming morn, 230, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
God ended all the world's array (Post facta cuncta creator), 918, ii., Prima Deus coeli globum
God eternal, infinite, 626, i., Leibnitz, B. F.
God eternal, Lord of all, 1133, ii., Te Deum laudamus
God for His dear Son's sake, 791, ii., Hillard, J. E.; 1126, ii., Te Deum laudamus
God for thy grace (Ps. lxxxiii.), 1032, ii., Scottish Translat.
God from on high hath heard, 977, i., Jam desinant fletus
God, From Whose each mumbled Ark springs, 996, ii., Plantator humilis Deus
God gave His word in holy men, 700, i., Lee, M.
God gives to every child, 1276, ii., Whence do the thoughts arise
God giveth quietness at last, 1277, i., Whittier, J. G.
God has formed my grief to gladness, 615, i., Kelly, T.
God hath laid the sure foundation (Angulare Fundamentum), 1200, i., Von Senn, Hermanien
God His own glory hides, 626, i., God in heaven His glory hides
God, hold us up by Thy strong word, 353, ii., Rehalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
God, Holy Ghost, Thy mercy, we preserve, 631, i., Nun bitten wir den Heiligen Geist
God in every place is near us, 1300, ii., Zeller, C. H.
God in His Church is known, 766, ii., Lyte, H. F.
God in His earthly temple lays, 1233, ii., Watts, I.
God in His word does not display, 1206, i., Wordsworth, C.

God in Judah's homes is known, 630, i., Kennedy, B. H.
God in the great assembly stands, Of kings, 707, i., Milton, J.
God in the great assembly stands, Where His (Ps. lxxxii.), 908, ii., New Version
God in the highest heaven above, 766, i., Montgomery, J.
God in Three spheres all glorious, 156, ii., Burnham, R.
God, on Whom all grace doth dwell, 1192, ii., Summas, Dean, clear-star, Septem dolores Virginis
God, on Whom I have my being, 1146, ii., Torrington, G.
God, Our Father, Christ our Redeemer, 627, i., Havergal, H.
God is a King, of power unknown, 333, i., Can creatures to perfection find
God is a Spirit, just and wise, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
God is always near us, 151, i., Bliss, P.
God is Love: let heaven adore Him being, 644, i., Gott ist und heisst gütig
God is gone up on high, Alone ye, 273, i., Jackson, E.
God is gone up on high, With a triumphant noise, 41, i., All hail, triumphant Lord; 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
God is good, such perfumed flower, 230, i., Follen (née Cabot), Eliza L.; 1208, i., Yea, God is good: in earth and sky
God is Goodness, Wisdom, Power, 1264, ii., Wesley family, The God is here, let us our homage, 233, i., Hinsman, J.
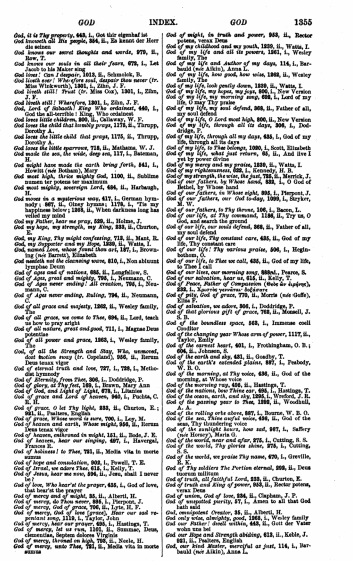
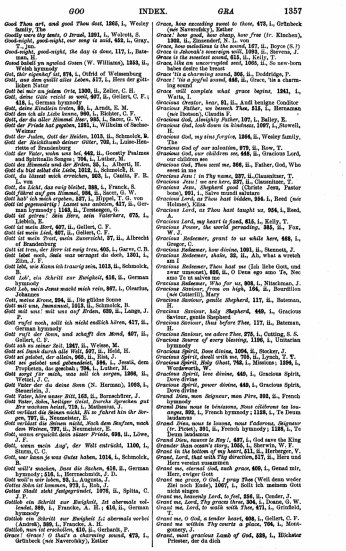
God is in heaven! Can he hear? 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
God is in His temple, 719, ii., Mason, W. T.
God is in the mountains yet, 1275, ii., When thy faith is sorely tried
God is in this and every place, 64, ii., And have I measured half my days?
God is Love: by Him upholden, 633, ii., God is love; let saints declare
God is love, His mercy brightens, 1227, i., Burton, J. Jun.
God is love, His mercy brightens, 166, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
God is love, His word has said it, 614, ii., Kelly, T.
God is love, sing loud before Him, 525, ii., Illmani, F. T.
God is love: that anthem olden, 700, ii., Mozart, J. G. B.
God is love, the heavens declare (ed. 3), 633, ii., God is love; that anthem olden
God is love—then sing His praises, 633, ii., Hiller, P. F.
God is much to be admired, 727, ii., Miraillis Deus in sanctis
God is my comfort and my tower, 37, ii., Albrecht of Brandenburg
God is my song, His praises I'll repeat, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
God is my song, With sovereign, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
God is our refuge and defence, 633, i., Kennedy, B. H.
God is not in the earthquake: but behold, 625, i., Keble, J.
God is our fortress firm and sure, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our refuge and defence, Our Shield, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our Refuge; God our Strength, 633, i., Rawson, G.
God is our Refuge and our Rock, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our refuge and strong fence, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our Refuge; God our Strength, 633, i., Rawson, G.
God is our Refuge in distress, A present Help (Ps. xlvi.), 633, ii., New Version
God is our refuge, our defence, Our Shield, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our Refuge in distress, Our strong Defence, Ever, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our Refuge, tried and proved, 726, ii., Lyte, H. F.
God is our Refuge, unfailing strength, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our rock and Tower of strength, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our Refuge, Source and cure, 325, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is our sure defence, our aid, 633, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
God is our tower of strength and grace, 325, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is so good that He will hear, 1127, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
God is the city of our strength, 324, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
God is the Lord; around His throne, 1030, i., Sing a new song unto the Lord
God is the only God and adored, 633, i., God is a Name my soul adores
God is to be adored in all His acts, 727, ii., Miraillis Deus in sanctis
God is very good to me, 894, i., Lord, teach a little child to pray, Thy grace bestows



God, it is Thy property, 663, i.
God blesse Thy people, 304, ii.
God bless our sacred thoughts and words, 979, ii.
God bless our souls in all their fears, 979, i.
God bless us, every one, 1171, i.
God bless you, dear children, 1305, i.
God breathe still! Wherefore, 1301, i.
God, Lord of Sabaoth! King Who ordainest, 460, i.
God the all-terrible! King, Who ordainest
God loves little children, 300, ii.
God loves the child that lonely prays, 1178, ii.
God loves the little child that prays, 1179, ii.
God loves the little sparrows, 713, ii.
God made the sea, the wide, deep sea, 117, i.
God might have made the earth bring forth, 841, i.
God most high, thrice mighty God, 1100, ii.
God most mighty, sovereign Lord, 606, ii.
God never in a mysterious way, 617, i.
God, O God of my salvation, 606, ii.
God of ages and of nations, 652, ii.
God of all grace and majesty, 1302, ii.
God of all grace, we come to Thee, 696, ii.
God of all nature, great and good, 711, i.
God of all power and grace, 1305, i.
God, of all the Strength and Stay, Who,
God of eternal truth and love, 797, i.
God of Eternity, from Thee, 306, i.
God of glory, of Thy fear, 100, i.
God of grace and God of heaven, 993, i.
God of grace, O let Thy light, 833, ii.
God of heaven, hear our singing, 697, i.
God of hosts! to Thee, 781, ii.
God of hope and consolation, 998, i.
God of Israel, we adore Thee, 618, i.
God of love, hear me now, 594, ii.
God of love, Who hear'st the prayer, 635, i.
God of mercy, God of love, 98, ii.
God of mercy, God of peace, 98, ii.
God of mercy, God of power, 98, ii.
God of mercy, God of Thy name, 98, ii.
God of mercy, hear us now, 1305, i.
God of mercy, let us rest, 1305, ii.
God of mercy, throned on high, 796, ii.
God of mercy, unto Thee, 781, ii.
God of might, in truth and power, 903, ii.
God of my childhood and my youth, 1305, ii.
God of my life and all its powers, 1301, i.
God of my life, and Author of my days, 114, i.
God of my life, how good, how wise, 1305, ii.
God of my life, look gently down, 1305, ii.
God of my life, my hope, my joy, 996, i.
God of my life, O may my every song, 592, i.
God of my life, and all its powers, 1301, i.
God of my life, look gently down, 1305, ii.
God of my life, my hope, my joy, 996, i.
God of my life, my soul defend, 909, ii.
God of my life, O Lord most high, 800, ii.
God of my life, through all the days, 888, i.
God of my life, through all my days, 888, i.
God of my life, through all the days
God of my life, to Thee belongs, 1300, i.
God of my life, to Thee I call, 606, ii.
God of my righteousness, 626, i.
God of my strength, the wise, the just, 795, ii.
God of our fathers, be with us still, 1301, i.
God of our fathers, our God to-day, 1301, i.
God of our fathers, to Thy throne, 106, i.
God of our life, at Thy command, 1156, ii.
God of our life, our soul defend, 909, ii.
God of our life, Thy constant care, 635, ii.
God of our life! Thy various praise, 800, i.
God of our life, to Thee we call, 606, ii.
God of our sires, our morning sing, 1020, i.
God of peace, hear us, 1305, ii.
God of power, Father of compassion
God of pity, God of grace, 775, ii.
God of salvation, we adore, 305, i.
God of their glorious gift of grace, 793, ii.
God of the boundless space, 949, i.
God of the changing year Whose arm of power, 1117, ii.
God of the eternal heart, 601, i.
God of the earth and sky, 951, ii.
God of the fatherless, 997, i.
God of the morning, at Thy voice, 636, ii.
God of the morning, at Whose voice
God of the morning ray, 636, ii.
God of the mountain, God of the sea, 1305, i.
God of the ocean, earth, and sky, 1305, i.
God of the passing year to Thee, 1299, ii.
God of the rolling orbs above, 627, i.
God of the sea, Whose hand controls, 630, ii.
God of the whole world, near and afar, 972, i.
God of the world, Thy glories shine, 972, i.
God of the world, we praise Thy name, 970, i.
God of Thy sisters The Puritan eternal, 999, ii.
God of truth, all faithful Lord, 625, ii.
God of truth and King of power, 903, ii.
God of years, God of love, 594, ii.
God, omnipotent Creator, 32, ii.
God our Father, Christ our Lord, 1302, i.
God our help in ages past, 1302, ii.
God our help and strength abiding, 813, ii.
God, our tired Master, merciful as just, 114, i.
God our Light and Comforter (Heiliger Geist, du Tröster wahr), 1214, ii.
God, our own God, is a strong tower, 305, i.
God reveals His presence, 664, i.
God, Saviour of the nations, now, 1302, ii.
God, the all-merciful and Almighty, 32, ii.
God, the eternal, mighty Lord, 1227, ii.
God, the everlasting God, 625, i.
God the Father, All, and One, 1055, ii.
God the Father, be Thou near, 952, i.
God the Father, dwell we by, 383, ii.
God the Father, from on high, 678, i.
God the Father, from Thy throne, 678, i.
God the Father, full of grace, 683, ii.
God the Father, give us grace, 678, i.
God the Father, God the Son, Holy Spirit, Three in One, 1178, i.
God the Father, hear and pardon, 678, i.
God the Father, hear our prayer, 678, i.
God the Father, to the sky, 678, i.
God the Father of all might, 678, i.
God the Father, our Infants, 683, ii.
God the Father, Son, and Spirit, 678, ii.
God the Father, throned on high, 678, i.
God the Father, with us be, And, 663, ii.
God the Father, with us be, Let, 663, ii.
God the Father! with us be. Shield us, 663, ii.
God the Father, with us be, Still, 663, ii.
God the Father's Only Son, 1092, ii.
God the Holy Ghost, by Whom, 678, i.
God the Lord a king remaineth (Ps. 93. Keble), 951, ii.
God the Lord hath (hath) heard our prayer, 1305, ii.
God the Lord is King—before Him, 951, i.
God, the Lord of the nations, 32, ii.
God, the Lord of the universe, 32, ii.
God, the offended God most high, 1305, i.
God, the Omnipotent! Mighty Avenger, 660, ii.
God, the Sovereign Lord, 1305, ii.
God, Thou art good, each perfumed flower, 302, i.
God, Thou Lord of earth and heaven, 32, ii.
God thrice holy, God of might, 1140, i.
God to correct a guilty world, 630, ii.
God to my soul benighted, 599, i.
God to us a lower call is, 325, i.
God touch our nature upon Him, 979, i.
God unto our right practices be, 355, i.
God, what a great and awful name, 1137, i.
God, Who died the torturous cross, 779, ii.
God, Who hath made the deaf'ning, 592, i.
God, who knows and earth upholdest, 32, ii.
God, who the unapproached light, 662, ii.
God, Who in various methods told, 1227, ii.
God, Who to wondrous might, 711, i.
God, who wondrous earth and heaven (Heber), 660, i.
God, who wondrous earth and heaven (tr. R. Massie), 32, ii.
God, who wondrous earth and heaven, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost (tr. Miss Winkworth), 32, ii.
God, whom I so love have known, 980, i.
God, whose thunder shakes the sky, 1301, i.
God will never leave thee, 974, i.
God will take care of you, All through the day, 697, i.
God with us! O glorious Name, 1302, i.
God with us! In flesh combining, 630, ii.
God with us! Thy will, and lent it G. 97, ii.
God wounds the heart, and He makes whole, 303, i.
God-Inspirer, God the Word, 1217, i.
Godlike sublime! Thrice great, 1100, ii.
God's angels! not only on high do they sing, 16, i.
God's ark is in the field, 145, ii.
God's Church upon earth militant
God's dear Son without beginning, 211, ii.
God's furnace doth in Zion stand, 626, i.
God's holy word, which ne'er shall cease, 812, ii.
God's love is a mysterious thing, 627, ii.
God's pastures dun the circling year (Ps. lxv.), 800, ii.
God's perfect law converts the soul (Ps. xix.), 800, i.
God's pilgrim am I here, on earth below, 627, i.
God's reformed call, 697, i.
God's Sole-Begotten came, b. ii., A Para Unigenitus
God's Son once descending, 978, i.
God's temple crowns the holy mount (Ps. lxxxvii.), 800, ii.
God's will be done! with joy of heart, 705, i.
God's will to serve, I dare not stray, 145, ii.
Golden and glorious, 994, ii.
Golden harps are sounding, 696, i.
Golden harps are sounding, 696, ii.
Gone are those great and good, 824, i.
Good and pleasant 'tis to see, 776, ii.
Good Christian men, rejoice, 212, ii.
Good Christian men, rejoice, 212, ii.
Good Joseph would not cease to pray, 1116, ii.
Good, kind, whose psalms have so often been sung, 1127, i.
Good Lord, and gracious King, 1305, ii.
Good to the Lord, our heavenly King, 641, ii.
Good it is to sing the, 800, ii.
Good Lord! we deliver, 626, i.
Good Lord! who hast the weighty seat, 1000, i.
Good news from heaven the angels bring, 1227, ii.

God's dear Son without beginning, 211, ii.
God's furnace doth in Zion stand, 626, i.
God's holy word, which ne'er shall cease, 812, ii.
God's love is a mysterious thing, 627, ii.
God's pastures dun the circling year (Ps. lxv.), 800, ii.
God's pilgrim am I here, on earth below, 627, i.
God's reformed call, 697, i.
God's Sole-Begotten came, b. ii., A Para Unigenitus
God's Son once descending, 978, i.
God's temple crowns the holy mount (Ps. lxxxvii.), 800, ii.
God's will be done! with joy of heart, 705, i.
God's will to serve, I dare not stray, 145, ii.
Golden and glorious, 994, ii.
Golden harps are sounding, 696, i.
Golden harps are sounding, 696, ii.
Gone are those great and good, 824, i.
Good and pleasant 'tis to see, 776, ii.
Good Christian men, rejoice, 212, ii.
Good Christian men, rejoice, 212, ii.
Good Joseph would not cease to pray, 1116, ii.
Good, kind, whose psalms have so often been sung, 1127, i.
Good Lord, and gracious King, 1305, ii.
Good to the Lord, our heavenly King, 641, ii.
Good it is to sing the, 800, ii.
Good Lord! we deliver, 626, i.
Good Lord! who hast the weighty seat, 1000, i.
Good news from heaven the angels bring, 1227, ii.



God Thou art, and good Thou dost, 1865, i., Wesley
Godly were thy tears, O Israel, 1891, i., Wolfrum, S.
Good-night, good-night, our song is said, 655, i., Gray, T., Jun.
Good-night, good-night, the day is done, 117, i., Bateman, H.
Gud hjelpe os ogsaa! Gaaen (W. Williams), 1855, ii., Welsh hymnody
Gut, thät eigenlief ist, 874, i., Orbil of Weimarburg
Gott, aus dem quillt alles Leben, 817, i., Herr der göttlichen Liebe
Gott hat mir zu jedem Orte, 1300, ii., Zeller, C. H.
Gott, deine Güte reicht so weit, 907, ii., Gellert, C. F., 818, i., German hymnody
Gott, deines Eindrücken Gräben, 95, i., Arndt, E. M.
Gott der du Liebe bist, 900, ii., Lange, J. P.
Gott der du alle Stämme, 1867, ii., Rose, G. W.
Gott der Friede hat gegeben, 1861, i., Wilhelm of Saxe-Weimar
Gott der Juden, Gott der Heiden, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
Gott der du Himmel deiner Ehre, 702, i., Lobe-Lieder in Gesangbuch
Gott der Vater, unser Heil, 862, ii., Goetly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes, 704, i., Leisler, M.
Gott des Himmels und der Erden, 56, i., Alberti, H.
Gott du hast selbst die Liebe, 1813, i., Schmolck, B.
Gott, du kömmst mich erwecken, 1863, i., Conlin, F. B.
Gott, du Licht, das ewig bleibet, 989, i., Franck, S.
Gott führet auf gen Himmel, 998, ii., Stern, G. W.
Gott hat's mich ergeben, 827, i., Hilpert, T. T. von
Gott ist gegenwärtig! Lasset uns anbeten, 417, ii., Gerhardt, P., Lasset uns anbeten, 417, ii.
Gott ist gütig. Sein Herz, aus Vaterherz, 672, i., Liebich, E.
Gott ist mein Hort, 827, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Gott ist mein Lied, 827, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Gott ist unsre Zuversicht, mein Zuversicht, 27, ii., Albrecht of Brandenburg
Gott ist treu, der Herr ist nahe treu, 605, i., Garve, C. B.
Gott lebet noch. Seele was verzagst du doch, 1361, i., Elias, J. F.
Gott, lehre uns Knien ich traurig sein, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
Gott, lob, ein Schritt zur Ewigkeit, 616, ii., German hymnody
Gott Lob, mein Jesus macht mich rein, 897, i., Oeserius, J. F.
Gott, meine Ehren, 224, ii., Die gläubte Seele
Gott mit uns, Immanuel, 1613, ii., Schmolck, B.
Gott mit uns! mit uns auf Erden, 699, ii., Lange, J.
Gott rufet noch, eilt ich nicht endlich hören, 617, ii., German hymnody
Gott ruft der Seele, und schafft den Mord, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Gott sah es seiner Zeit, 1367, ii., Weiss, M.
Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet, 1696, i., Jesuit, H.
Gott sei gelobet, der alles, 962, ii., Eisi, J.
Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet, 1696, i., Jesuit, dem Propheten, the gentiles; 708, i., Lobet, M.
Gott sorgt für mich, was soll ich sorgen, 1906, ii., Hiller, J. A.
Gott Vater der du deine Soen (N. Herman), 1869, i., Serenten, J.
Gott Vater, höre unser Bitt, 1618, ii., Burmeister, J.
Gott Vater, Sohn, heiliger Geist, Starcke Sprachen gut Gesang, 1867, ii., Rose, G. W.
Gott verlässt die Seinen nicht, Er ist führt hin der Bergen, 797, ii., Neumeister, E.
Gott verlässt die Seinen nicht, Noch dem Sturm, nach den Weinen, 797, ii., Neumeister, E.
Gott, was ergnicht dein zarter Friede, 698, ii., Löwe, J. F.
Gott, wenn mein Aug', der Welt entreicht, 1100, i., Storm, C. C.
Gott, wer kann je was Gutes haben, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
Gott will's machen, Jesu die Sachen, 618, ii., German hymnody; 516, i., Herrnschmidt, J. D.
Gott will's wir leben, 98, i., Angelus, J.
Gottes Sohn ist kommen, 973, i., Toth, J.
Gottlob, es hat Sabbatgeruhet, 1876, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Gottlob ein Schritt zur Ewigkeit, 1st abermals vollendet, 980, i., Francke, A. H.; 616, ii., German hymnody
Gottlob, ein Schritt zur Ewigkeit 1st abermals vollendet (Andrae), 980, i., Francke, A. H.
Gottlob, was ist erschollen, 610, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Grace! Grace! O that's a charming sound, 879, i., Gethbeck (née Nawrotsky), Esther
Grace, how exceeding rarest to those, 879, i., Gethbeck (née Nawrotsky), Esther Grace! how good, how sharp, how free (tr. Klocker), 1903, ii., Dinnendorf, W. L. von
Grace, how melodious is the sound, 197, ii., Bryce (S.?)
Grace in Jehovah's sovereign will, 1892, ii., Stevens, J.
Grace is a glorious thing indeed, 1892, ii., Stevens, J.
Grace, like an unrecognised soul, 1903, ii., To save here below desire the breast
Grace 'tis a charming sound, 956, ii., Doddridge, P.
Grace! 'tis a joyful sound, 640, ii., Grace, 'tis a charming sound
Grace will complete what grace begins, 1861, i., Watts, I.
Gracious Creator, hear, 81, ii., Aufl heiligte Creatior
Gracious Father, we beseech Thee, 513, i., Hernannan (see Bohemia), Claudia, J.
Gracious God, Almighty Father, 127, i., Bailey, R.
Gracious God, look down in kindness, 1897, i., Harrell, H.
Gracious God, my sins forgive, 1866, ii., Wesley family, The Gracious God of our salvation, 979, ii., Row, T.
Gracious God, our children see, 640, ii., Gracious Lord, our children see Gracious God, Thou sent me, 866, ii., Father, God, Who sent in to Gracious Jesu! in Thy name, 627, ii., Clausnitzer, T.
Gracious Jesu, we are here, 627, ii., Clausnitzer, T.
Gracious Jesu, Shepherd good (Christe Jesu, Pastor bone), 991, i., Sève reinvil salutare
Gracious Lord, ere Thou hast hidden, 956, i., Reed (née Holme), Eliza
Gracious Lord, ne Thou hast taught us, 956, i., Reed, Lord
Gracious Lord, my heart is fixed, 613, i., Kelly, T.
Gracious Power, the world pervading, 885, ii., Fox, W. J.
Gracious Redeemer, grant to us while here, 668, i., Cooper, C.
Gracious Redeemer, how divine, 1091, ii., Bennett, J.
Gracious Redeemer, shake, 35, ii., Ah, what a wretch am I
Gracious Redeemer, Thou hast me (Ich liebe Gott, und zwar sanssat), 626, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Boc amo Te ut salvos me
Gracious Redeemer, Who for us, 903, i., Nitschman, J.
Gracious Saviour, from on high, 106, ii., Beardillon (née Hall), Mary
Gracious Saviour, gentle Shepherd, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
Gracious Saviour, holy Shepherd, 669, i., Gracious Saviour, gentle Shepherd
Gracious Saviour, thou before Thee, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
Gracious Saviour, we adore Thee, 272, i., Cutting, S. S.
Gracious Source of every blessing, 1186, i., Unitarian hymnody
Gracious Spirit, Dove divine, 1004, ii., Stocker, J.
Gracious Spirit, dwell with me, 724, i., Leach, T. W.
Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost, 788, i., Mission: 1096, i., Wordsworth, W.
Gracious Spirit, love divine, 669, i., Gracious Spirit, Dove divine
Gracious Spirit, power divine, 669, i., Gracious Spirit, Dove divine
Gracious Thou, sous te louons, Nous célébrons tes louanges, 892, i., French hymnody; 1138, i., To Deum laudamus
Gracious Thou, sous te louons, nous t'adorons, Seigneur (tr. Pictet), 891, ii., French hymnody; 1138, i., To Deum laudamus
Grand Dieu, sauvez le Roy!, 427, i., God save the King
Grander than ocean's story, 1005, i., Sherwin, W. F.
Grant in the bottom of my heart, 211, ii., Herberger, V.
Grant, Lord, that with Thy direction, 517, ii., Herr und ewiger Gott
Grant me, eternal God, such grace, 600, i., Gerad mir, Herr, ewiger Gott
Grant me grace, O God, I pray Thee (Woll dem weder Gut noch Ehre), 1067, i., Soll ich meinem Gott nicht singen
Grant me, heavenly Lord, to feel, 916, ii., Conder, J.
Grant me, Lord, Thy grace (Ihm, 504, i., Doane, G. W.
Grant me, Lord, to walk with Thee, 671, i., Grinfield, E. W.
Grant me, O God, a tender heart, 668, i., Gellert, C. F.
Grant me within Thy courts a place, 708, i., Montgomery, J.
Grant, most gracious Lamb of God, 888, i., Hickmer Prisner, der da dich

Grant, O Christ, my God and Lord (Christus, der uns selig macht, ch. viii.), 696, i., Paris Septetia, veritas divina
Grant, O Saviour, to our prayers, 226, ii., Conder, J.
Grant the abundance of the sea, 185, ii., Brown (née Hinsdale), Phebe
Grant us, Lord, our preparation, 696, i., Kingsbeck, J. G.
Grand us, Lord, some precious token, 805, i., Of Thy love some gracious token
Grant us, O God, Thy gracious presence, 613, i., Kelly, T.
Grant us, O God, Thy light to see, 1178, i., Thring, G.
Grant us Thy light, that we may know, 1186, ii., Tuttiett, L.
Grateful hearts and voices bring, 640, ii., Grateful notes and numbers bring Gratias agamus Domino Deusco Jesu Xto, 606, i., Gather ein zu Jesu Christo
Gratias, peracto jam die, 1247, ii., The day is past and gone, Great God we bow to Thee
Gratulantes ut regi Christo (no source), 613, i., Gratulantes
Gratus libi Jesu noster, 96, ii., Ambrosius
Gratia nostri Salvatoris, 780, ii., May the grace of Christ our Saviour; and the Father's Gratia, quam dulcis sua nostris cordibus ille (tr. Bingham), 666, ii., Grace, 'tis a charming sound
Gratia, quam dulcis sua nostris cordibus infert, 196, ii., Bambrick, R. C.; 879, ii., Tremlett, T.
Great Alpha and Omega, hail, 677, i., Hail! Alpha and Omega, hail
Great Architect of worlds unknown, 1173, i., Thring, G.
Great author of the immortal mind, 780, ii., Steelman, J.
Great Captain of God's armies, 1095, ii., Stone, S. J.
Great Captain of Salvation, 606, i., Beck, J. G.
Great Creator of the sky, 583, i., Immense coeli Creditor
Great Creator, this is day, 223, i., Elliott (née Marshall), Julia A.
Great Creator, wise and good, 1137, i., Tellurio ingens Conditor
Great day of wrath, of days the day, 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Great Father of mankind, 956, i., Doddridge, P.
Great Father of our feeble race, 652, ii., Great Father of each perfect gift
Great Father of our race, 881, ii., Davis, T.
Great Father, we Thy children, 1186, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Great First of beings, mighty Lord, 186, ii., Browne, S.
Great Framer of unnumbered worlds, 217, ii., Dyer, S.; 1186, i., Unitarian hymnody
Great God, spread on wings of light, 660, ii., How, W.
Great Giver of all good, to Thee again, 226, ii., Clarke, S. G.
Great God, amid the darksome night, 1099, i., Bennett, J.
Great God, and will Thou condescend, 1117, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Great God, as seasons disappear, 198, ii., Sandiver, E.
Great God, at Thy command, Samoa in order rise, 1186, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Great God, attend, while Zion sings, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Great God, assert from us the thought, 606, ii., Johns, J.
Great God, awes this keen Thine ears, 1193, ii., Tyrer, W.
Great God, beneath whose piercing eye, 977, ii., Reece, W.
Great God, create my heart anew, 689, i., Lord, I am vile, conceived in sin
Great God, eternal Lord of heaven, 1207, ii., Wolfson, M.
Great God, exalted on Thy throne, 1186, ii., Unitarian hymnody; Mendl, 1245, i., Salomon Dein clementine, Mendlyne factor unclione
Great God, from infinite art Thou, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
Great God, I bow before Thy face, 665, i., Gellert, C. F.
Great God, in whom we live and move, 1186, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Great God, inspire our trifling minds, 194, i., Hunter, A.; 696, i., Lord, scientia our trifling minds
Great God! in heaven and earth supreme, 615, i., Great God, in heaven and earth supreme
Great God, in whom we live and move, 1186, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Great God, in vain man's narrow view, 695, ii., Kippis, A.
Great God, it not Thy promise pledged, 615, ii., Great God, the nations of the earth
Great God, let all your (my) tuneful powers, 596, i., Magdeburg, C.
Great God, let children to Thy throne, 185, i., Bickersteth, J.
Great God, my Father and my Friend, 880, i., Jesu, my Saviour, Brother, Friend
Great God, my grateful thanks to Thee, 186, ii., Browne, S.; 1203, ii., Yes, Lord, my joyful thanks to Thee
Great God, my sinner-zeal my King, 126, ii., Beddome, B.
Great God, now condescend, 972, i., Fellows, J.
Great God, o'er all things ever reigning, 595, ii., Herum Gott im Himmel
Great God, of heaven and earth supreme, 673, ii., Osler, E.
Great God of Ages! by Whose power, 796, ii., Noxmann, J.
Great God of angels, we adore, 956, i., Doddridge, P.
Great God of boundless mercy, hear, 1193, i., Sussman (see Composition, Mündliche factor sinclitus
Great God of clemency supreme, 1191, ii., Hermme, Dean, clementiae, Septein dolores Virginis
Great God of heaven and earth, arise, 625, i., Great God of heaven and nature, rise
Great God of mercy, we have heard, 860, ii., O Lord, our fathers oft have told; 873, ii., Osler, E.
Great God of nations, now to Thee, 1232, ii., Woodruff, C. J.
Great God of power, at Thy command, 711, ii., Magnus Deus potens
Great God of Providence, Thy ways, 180, ii., Bobbone, B.
Great God of wonders, all Thy ways, 201, i., Davies, S.
Great God, our Father, and our Friend, 880, i., Jesu Saviour, Brother, Friend
Great God, our voice to Thee we raise, 618, ii., Great God, our infant voices raise Great God, our grateful voices raise, 613, ii., Great God, our infant voices raise
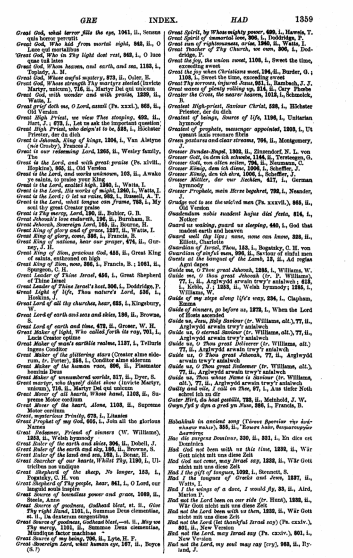
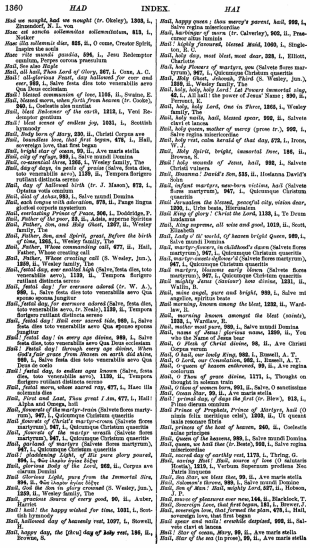
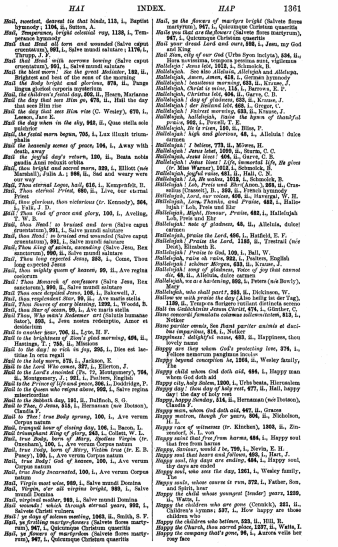
Great God, our humble claim, 653, i., Great God, indulge my humble claim
Great God! preserve us by Thy word, 1820, ii., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
Great God, the followers of Thy Son, 1233, i., Ware, H.
Great God, the heavens' self-ordered frame, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Great God, the nations of the earth, 620, i., Gibbons, T.
Great God, the world is full of Thee, 117, i., Bateman, H.
Great God, Thine attributes divine, 606, ii., Jervis, T.
Great God, this hallowed day of Thine, 653, ii., Great God, this sacred day of Thine
Great God, Thou Giver of all good, 653, i., Grace
Great God, Thy glorious name we bless, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
Great God, Thy glories shall awake, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
Great God, Thy peerless excellence, 186, ii., Browne, S.
Great God, Thy penetrating eye, 1020, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Great God, Thy people's dwelling-place, 133, ii., Bell, C.
Great God, Thy presence we implore, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Great God, Thy watchful care we bless, 66, ii., And now, O God, this great Eternal God
Great God, this from Thy sovereign grace, 132, ii., Bodenstein, J.
Great God, to Thee, a lowly band, 1201, ii., Slater, J.
Great God, to Thee I'll wake, 130, ii., Beddome, B.
Great God, to Thee my evening song, 1202, ii., Steele, Anne
Great God, to Thee my grateful tongue, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody
Great God, to Thee my voice I raise, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Great God, to Thee our songs we raise (Anon.), 618, i., Gesangbuch, d
Great God, to Thee we fly, 868, i., Russell, A. T.
Great God, to what a glorious height, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
Great God, to-day Thy grace impart, 725, ii., Medley, S.
Great God, we hear Thy care, 645, i., Grace; 653, i., Great God, we hear
Great God, we have not lost the loss, 1007, i., Stovell, H.
Great God, we in Thy courts appear, 972, i., Fellows, J.
Great God, we praise Thee, Thee we Lord, 1193, ii., To Deum laudamus
Great God, we sing Thy precious care, 645, i., Grace
Great God, we praise Thy mighty hand, 654, i., Great God, we sing that mighty hand
Great God, we sing that mighty hand, 300, i., Doddridge, P.
Great God, we sing Thy mighty hand, 654, i., Great God, we sing that mighty hand
Great God, we would in Thee make known, 185, ii., Brown (née Hinsdale), Phebe
Great God, what boots of angels strand, 1002, i., Herbert, G.
Great God, what lasts of angels stand, 1002, i., Herbert, G.







Hail, sweetest, dearest tie that binds, 113, i., Baptist Noel, B. W.

Hail, the day so calm and bright, 1136, i., Temperance hymnody

Hail thee Head all torn and wounded (Salve caput cruentatum), 991, i., Salve mundi salutare; 1176, i., Salve mundi

Hail thee Head with sorrows bowing (Salve caput cruentatum), 991, i., Salve mundi salutare

Hail the blest morn! See the great Redeemer, 182, ii.

Hail the Sun of Righteousness, 974, ii., Tangs and Jackson's collection of hymns

Hail, the children's friend dog, 602, ii., Rosen, Marianne

Hail the day that sees Him go, 676, ii., Hail the day that sees Him rise

Hail the day that sees Him rise (C. Wesley), 679, i., Ascension

Hail the day when in the sky, 962, ii., Quae stella sole pulchrior

Hail, the festal morn begun, 705, i., Lux illuxit triumphalis

Hail the heavenly ocean of peace, 106, i., Away with melancholy

Hail the joyful day's return, 120, ii., Beata nobis gaudia anni reducti orbita

Hail, thou bright and sacred morn, 393, i., Elliott (née Marshall), Julia A.; 986, ii., Sad and weary were the night

Hail, Thou eternal Logos, hail, 614, i., Kamphuis, H.

Hail, Thou eternal Friend, 660, ii., Live, for eternal Priest

Hail, thou glorious, thou victorious (tr. Kennedy), 504, ii., Ascension

Hail! Thou God of grace and glory, 100, i., Aveling, F. W. B.

Hail, thou Head so bruised and torn (Salve caput cruentatum), 991, i., Salve mundi salutare

Hail thee Head all torn and wounded (Salve caput cruentatum), 991, i., Salve mundi salutare

Hail, Thou King of saints, ascending (Salve Jesu, Rex mansurum), 990, ii., Salve mundi salutare

Hail, Thou long expected Jesus, 103, i., Cone, Thos Hastings, and Sacred Lyrics

Hail, thou mighty queen of heaven, 99, ii., Ave regina coelorum

Hail! Thou Monarch of sorrowes (Salve Jesu, flos sanctorum), 990, ii., Salve mundi salutare

Hail, thou once despised Jesus, 103, ii., Bakewell, J.

Hail, thou resplendent Star, 98, ii., Ave maris stella

Hail, Thou Source of every blessing, 1232, i., Wood, B.

Hail, thou Star of ocean, 99, i., Ave maris stella

Hail Thou, Who mirst Redemer art (Salutis humanae Sator), 1205, i., Jam nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Hail to eventide year, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.

Hail to the brightness of Zion's glad morning, 404, ii., Hastings, T.; 755, ii., Mission

Hail to the day! as rich in joy, 206, i., Dies est laetitiae sparsa super

Hail to the Lord's anointed, 375, i., Jackson, E.

Hail to the Lord Who comes, 371, i., Ellerton, J.

Hail to the Lord's anointed (Ps. Ix. Montgomery), 764, ii., Montgomery, J.; 921, i., Psalms, English

Hail to the Prince of life and peace, 306, i., Doddridge, P.

Hail to the Victim who reigns alone, 989, i., Salve regina misericordiae

Hail to the Sabbath day, 181, ii., Duffield, S. S.

Hail to Thee, O Jesus, 313, i., Hermanas (née Dobson), Amelia J.

Hail, Thou! true Body virgin, 100, i., Ave verum Corpus natum

Hail, triumphal hour of closing day, 106, i., Bacon, L.

Hail, triumphant King of glory, 548, i., Ware, H., jun.

Hail, true Body born of Mary, 100, i., Ave verum Corpus (tr. Dorsbach), 100, i., Ave verum, Corpus natum

Hail, true body, born of Mary, Victim true (tr. E. B. Pusey), 100, i., Ave verum Corpus natum

Hail, true Body! God of heaven, 100, i., Ave verum Corpus natum

Hail, true Body Incarnated, 100, i., Ave verum Corpus natum

Hail, Virgin most wise, 989, i., Salve mundi Domina

Hail, Virgin than all virgins bright, 989, i., Salve mundi Domina

Hail, virginal mother, 989, i., Salve mundi Domina

Hail wounds! which through eternal years, 992, i., Salvete Christi vulnera

Hail, we hasting hasting, 1068, ii., Smith, S. F.

Hail, ye fruitful martyr-flowers (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis

Hail, ye flowers of martyrs (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis

Hail, ye the flowers of martyrs bright (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis

Hail ye you that are the flowers (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis

Hail your dread Lord and cure, 198, i., Jam, my God and King

Hail, the unity of our God (Urbs Syon inclyta), 836, ii., Urbs sanctorum, turmata precibus acri, eglorum

Hallelujah! Jesus lebt, 1052, i., Schmolck, B.

Hallelujah has this Alleluia, alleluiah and allelujah, Hallelujah, Amen, Amen, 418, i., German hymnody

Hallelujah, Christ ist erstanden, 418, i., Cruciger, C.

Hallelujah, Christ ist erstanden, 418, i., Luther, D.

Hallelujah, Christus lebt, 604, ii., Garve, C. B.

Hallelujah! day of gladness, 625, ii., Kramer, J.

Hallelujah! der Heiland lebt, 668, i., Gregor, C.

Hallelujah! Eternal morning, 633, ii., Krauss, J.

Hallelujah, for Jesus reigns, the hymn of thankful praise, 866, i., Newton, J.

Hallelujah, He is risen, 126, ii., Rice, P.

Hallelujah! high and glorious, 46, i., Alleluia! dulce carmen

Hallelujah! hebove, 272, ii., Mieses, H.

Hallelujah! Jesus lebt, 1052, ii., Gerok, C. C.

Hallelujah, Jesus lives! 668, ii., Garve, C. B.

Hallelujah! Jesus lives! Life, immortal life, He gives (tr. Miss Warner), 1052, i., Schmolck, B.

Hallelujah, Jesus reigns, 681, ii., Hall, C. D.

Hallelujah! Jesus reigns, 681, ii., Hall, Newman B.

Hallelujah! Lob, Preis und Ehre (Amen), 382, ii., Cruciger (Unsere), D., 389, ii., French hymnody

Hallelujah, Lord, our voices, 630, ii., Havergal, W. H.

Hallelujah, Love, Thanks, and Praise, 443, i., Bailey (née Berly), Mary

Hallelujah! Might, Honour, Praise, 681, i., Hallelujah Lob, Preis und Ehr

Hallelujah! sons of gladness, 48, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen

Hallelujah! Praise the Lord, 466, i., Hatfield, E. F.

Hallelujah! Praise the Lord, 1136, ii., Trentini (née Dodd), Elizabeth E.

Hallelujah! Praise to God, 109, i., Bull, W.

Hallelujah, raise ob raise, 922, i., Psalters, English

Hallelujah! Sing to Jesus, 1052, ii., Cook, F. G.

Hallelujah! song of gladness, Voice of joy that tuneful die, 48, ii., Alleluia, dulce carmen

Hallelujah, we as a hai-loving, 695, i., Peters (née Berly), Mary

Hallelujah, who shall part? 595, ii., Dickinson, W.

Hallow we with praise the day (Also heilig ist der Tag), 1120, ii., Trompeta finitimi cultiatis sonore

Hail im Gnadenkreuz Jesum Christ, 674, i., Gilmher, C.

Hanc concordi famulatu columnas *salicemsistentes, 813, i., Ambrose

Hanc pariter cernis, hic fluxit pariter cruoris et decibae imparibus, 814, i., Notker

Happiness! delightful voice, 633, ii., Happiness, thou lovely name

Happy are they whom God's protecting love, 376, i., Hart, Joseph

Happy beyond conception is, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The Happy child whom God doth call, 644, i., Happy man whom God doth call

Happy city, holy throng, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Happy day! happy day of holy rest, 877, ii., Hall, happy day! the day of holy rest

Happy, happy Sunday, 514, ii., Hermanas (née Dobson), Claudia F.

Happy soul whom God doth call, 627, ii., Grace

Happy sunbeam, though for years, 806, ii., Nicholson, M. B.

Happy race of witnesses (tr. Kitchen), 1203, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. Graf von

Happy saint that free from harms, 644, i., Happy soul that free from harms

Happy, Saviour, would I be, 795, i., Nevin, E. H.

Happy soul that hears and believes, 600, i., Hart, J.

Happy soul that now is resting, 644, i., Happy soul, thy days are ended

Happy soul, who sees the day, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Happy souls, whose cares is run, 272, i., Father, Son, and Holy Ghost

Happy the child whose youngest [tender] years, 1259, i., Watts, I.

Happy the children who are gone (Cornish), 221, ii., Children's hymns; 537, i., How happy are those Christ receives

Happy the children who believe, 223, ii., Hill, R.

Happy the Church, thou sacred place, 1237, ii., Watts, I.

Happy the company that's gone, 96, i., Anyone with but easy face

Hark, hark, the voice of chandelier (Ein clara von redargui), 1235, i., Von clara non intenai

Hark! hark! what news the angels bring? 211, ii., Carols

Hark! hark! with harps of gold, 317, ii., Chapin, E. H.

Hark, hear the sound of the tender song, 1179, i., Unity, C.

Hark, hear the sweet melodious voices (C. Wesley), 208, i., 211, i., Carols

Hark, how heaven is calling, 276, ii., Jacque, G.

Hark, how sweet those infant voices, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

Hark, how the glowing hosts, 129, i., Behold the glories of the Lamb

Hark, how the blood-bought host above, 625, i., Kent, J.

Hark, how the choir around the throne, 271, i., Bone, J.

Hark! how the choral song of heaven, 707, ii., McAll, R.

Hark, how the glorious hosts above, 577, i., Jones, J.

Hark! how the heavenly anthem clearly rings (Ein clara von redargui, tr. John Williams), 1235, i., Von clara non intenai

Hark! how the winds have changed their note, 1158, i., The winds of God have changed their note

Hark, how they sweetly sing, 1261, ii., Wesley, Williams, A.

Hark, in the wilderness, 356, i., Channels soon vox nonans

Hark! in the wilderness a cry, 1054, i., Sibley, Hon. W.

Hark! hoarse and what a cry (Tum[Clemamintesem, Clamantes], 1054, i., Sibley, Hon. W.

Hark! louder through the resounding plains (Ein clara von redargui, tr. W. Palmer), 1235, i., Von clara non intenai

Hark, my dull soul, how everything, 686, i., Hark, my soul, how everything

Hark, my soul, how everything, 686, ii., English hymnody

Hark! my soul, it is the Lord, 305, i., Cowper, W.

Hark now, thou sinner, Jesus calls, 1066, i., Soden, H. von

Hark! on the midnight air, 277, i., Jam distenet sanguis

Hark, ten thousand voices crying, 279, ii., Darby, J. N.

Hark, ten thousand voices sounding, 680, ii., Hark, ten thousand voices crying

Hark! that shout more than mortal joy 616, i., Kelly, T.

Hark, the angel cheirs, 365, ii., In natali Domini

Hark, the baptist's voice is sounding (Ein clara von redargui, tr. Caswall, alt.), Von clara non intenai

Hark! the bird of day sings clear, 39, i., Also did Christ arise

Hark, the Church proclaims her honour, 908, i., Preisewerk, S.

Hark, the clear voice, whose thrilling tone (tr. Blew), 1236, ii., Von clara non intenai

Hark! the cry, Behold He cometh, 704, i., Midlane, A.

Hark! the distant isles proclaim, 127, ii., Ballmer, W. H.

Hark, the evening call to prayer, 626, i., Blanks, T.

Hark, the gentle Shepherd's voice, 705, ii., Lunt, W. P.

Hark, the glad sound, the Saviour comes, 205, ii., Doddridge, P. [Also in Scottish translations and paraphrases]

Hark, the Gospel news is sounding, 1058, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Hark, the Gospel news is sounding, 163, ii., Beames, H.

Hark! the heavenly hosts proclaim, 185, ii., In natali Domini

Hark! the heavens' sweet melody, 260, i., Coelestis organum laudis sacrati in terra

Hark! the herald angels sing (C. Wesley, alt.), 179, i., Hail the day that sees Him rise, 675, i., Hark, how all the welkin rings; 205, i., New Version; 1261, i., Wesley family, The

Hark, the lists of heaven are ringing, 796, ii., Vain earnest cavils

Hark, the judgment-trumpet sounding, 126, i., Benson, R. F.

Hark the loud Shamrocks! 906, ii., Nicholson, M. L.

Hark, the loud trumpet of our God, 686, ii., Bagshawbottom, O.

Hark, the notes of angels singing, 613, i., Kelly, T.

Hark, the Redeemer from on high, 1207, ii., Waite, I.

Hark! the sound of holy voices, 1262, ii., Wordsworth, C.

Hark! the sound of joy and gladness, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane

Hark! the sound of the fight, 302, i., Faber, F. W.

Hark! the strong of God doth sound, 1260, ii., Scottish hymnody

Hark! the trimpy of God is sounding, 806, ii., Nicolai, P.

Hark! the small of heaven is ringing, 1273, ii., Thring, G.

Hark! the voice of love and mercy, 366, i., Evans, Jonathan

Hark! the voice of my beloved, 1242, i., Welsh hymnody: 1294, ii., Williams, W.

Hark, hark, the voice of chandelier (Ein clara von redargui), 1235, i., Von clara non intenai

Hark! hark! what news the angels bring? 211, ii., Carols

Hark! hark! with harps of gold, 317, ii., Chapin, E. H.

Hark, hear the sweet melodious voices (C. Wesley), 208, i., 211, i., Carols

Hark, how heaven is calling, 276, ii., Jacque, G.

Hark, how sweet those infant voices, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

Hark, how the glowing hosts, 129, i., Behold the glories of the Lamb

Hark, how the blood-bought host above, 625, i., Kent, J.

Hark, how the choir around the throne, 271, i., Bone, J.

Hark! how the choral song of heaven, 707, ii., McAll, R.

Hark, how the glorious hosts above, 577, i., Jones, J.

Hark! how the heavenly anthem clearly rings (Ein clara von redargui, tr. John Williams), 1235, i., Von clara non intenai

Hark! how the winds have changed their note, 1158, i., The winds of God have changed their note

Hark, how they sweetly sing, 1261, ii., Wesley, Williams, A.

Hark, in the wilderness, 356, i., Channels soon vox nonans

Hark! in the wilderness a cry, 1054, i., Sibley, Hon. W.

Hark! hoarse and what a cry (Tum[Clemamintesem, Clamantes], 1054, i., Sibley, Hon. W.

Hark! louder through the resounding plains (Ein clara von redargui, tr. W. Palmer), 1235, i., Von clara non intenai

Hark, my dull soul, how everything, 686, i., Hark, my soul, how everything

Hark, my soul, how everything, 686, ii., English hymnody

Hark, my soul, it is the Lord, 305, i., Cowper, W.

Hark now, thou sinner, Jesus calls, 1066, i., Soden, H. von

Hark! on the midnight air, 277, i., Jam distenet sanguis

Hark, ten thousand voices crying, 279, ii., Darby, J. N.

Hark, ten thousand voices sounding, 680, ii., Hark, ten thousand voices crying

Hark! that shout more than mortal joy 616, i., Kelly, T.

Hark, the angel cheirs, 365, ii., In natali Domini

Hark, the baptist's voice is sounding (Ein clara von redargui, tr. Caswall, alt.), Von clara non intenai

Hark! the bird of day sings clear, 39, i., Also did Christ arise

Hark, the Church proclaims her honour, 908, i., Preisewerk, S.

Hark, the clear voice, whose thrilling tone (tr. Blew), 1236, ii., Von clara non intenai

Hark! the cry, Behold He cometh, 704, i., Midlane, A.

Hark! the distant isles proclaim, 127, ii., Ballmer, W. H.

Hark, the evening call to prayer, 626, i., Blanks, T.

Hark, the gentle Shepherd's voice, 705, ii., Lunt, W. P.

Hark, the glad sound, the Saviour comes, 205, ii., Doddridge, P. [Also in Scottish translations and paraphrases]

Hark, the Gospel news is sounding, 1058, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Hark, the Gospel news is sounding, 163, ii., Beames, H.

Hark! the heavenly hosts proclaim, 185, ii., In natali Domini

Hark! the heavens' sweet melody, 260, i., Coelestis organum laudis sacrati in terra

Hark! the herald angels sing (C. Wesley, alt.), 179, i., Hail the day that sees Him rise, 675, i., Hark, how all the welkin rings; 205, i., New Version; 1261, i., Wesley family, The

Hark, the lists of heaven are ringing, 796, ii., Vain earnest cavils

Hark, the judgment-trumpet sounding, 126, i., Benson, R. F.

Hark the loud Shamrocks! 906, ii., Nicholson, M. L.

Hark, the loud trumpet of our God, 686, ii., Bagshawbottom, O.

Hark, the notes of angels singing, 613, i., Kelly, T.

Hark, the Redeemer from on high, 1207, ii., Waite, I.

Hark! the sound of holy voices, 1262, ii., Wordsworth, C.

Hark! the sound of joy and gladness, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane

Hark! the sound of the fight, 302, i., Faber, F. W.

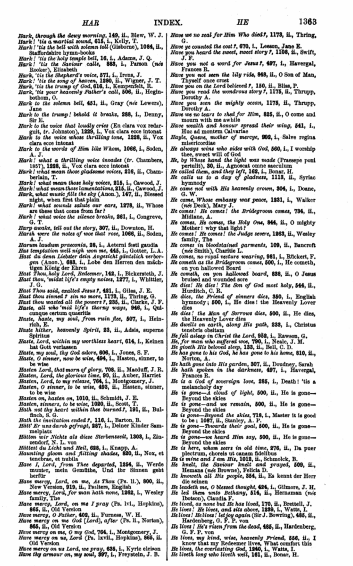
Hark! the strong of God doth sound, 1260, ii., Scottish hymnody

Hark! the trimpy of God is sounding, 806, ii., Nicolai, P.

Hark! the small of heaven is ringing, 1273, ii., Thring, G.

Hark! the voice of love and mercy, 366, i., Evans, Jonathan

Hark! the voice of my beloved, 1242, i., Welsh hymnody: 1294, ii., Williams, W.



Hark, through the dewy morning, 149, ii., Rice, W. J.
Hark! 'tis a voice divine, 1, Kelly, T.
Hark! 'tis the bell with solemn toll (Glöcklein), 1004, ii., Staffordshire hymn-books
Hark! 'tis the holy temple bell, 16, i., Adams, J. Q.
Hark! 'tis the Saviour calls, 1005, i., Parson (née Hopkins), Emily
Hark, 'tis the Shepherd's voice, 272, i., Irons, J.
Hark! 'tis the song of heaven, 1006, ii., Wigner, J. T.
Hark, 'tis the trump of God, 818, i., Kemp-child, E.
Hark, 'tis your heavenly Father's call, 596, ii., Hopkins, E. J.
Hark to his solemn bell, 631, ii., Gray (née Lowen), Jane
Hark to the trump! behold it breaks, 598, i., Denny, Sir T.
Hark! the voice that loudly cries (Es clara vox redarguit, tr. Johnson), 1256, i., Vox clara ecce intonat
Hark! in the voice whose thrilling tone, 1258, ii., Vox clara ecce intonat
Hark to the words of Him like Whom, 1006, i., Soden, A. J.
Hark! what a thrilling voice sounds (tr. Chambers, 1857), 1256, ii., Vox clara ecce intonat
Hark! what mean those gladsome voices, 216, ii., Chamberlain, T.
Hark! what mean those holy voices, 213, i., Cawood, J.
Hark! what mean those loud exclamations, 213, i., Cawood, J.
Hark! what sounds like sky (Anon.), 167, ii., Blessed night, when first that glad
Hark! what sounds salute our ears, 1273, ii., Whose are those that come from far?
Hark! what voice the silence breaks, 861, i., Congreve, W.
Harry awake, tell not the story, 207, ii., Bowmar, H.
Harsh were the notes of war that rent, 1006, ii., Soden, A. J.
Harum laudum preconia, 39, i., Antoni fleni gaudia
Hast du denn Jesaiden dein jugendlich gebrechlich (Anon.), 883, i., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Hast Thou, holy Lord, Redeemer, 162, i., Hickeringill, J.
Hast Thou, tender life's empty notes, 1277, i., Whittier, John
Hast Thou said, exalted Jesus? 621, i., Gilse, J. K.
Hast thou sinned? sin no more, 1173, ii., Tinting, G.
Hast thou wasted all the powers? 255, ii., Clark, J. T.
Hast thy cheerful hours (Morning verse, 1st), 940, i., Quicunque vult ad regna
Haste, haste, my soul, from ruin flee, 807, i., Heinrich, E.
Haste hither, heavenly Spirit, 23, ii., Adam, auperus
Haste Lord, within my worthless heart, 614, i., Kethen (née Goth verfassen)
Haste, my soul, thy God adore, 606, i., Jones, S. F.
Haste, O sinner, now be wise, 604, i., Hasten, sinner, to be wise
Hasten Lord, that morn of glory, 709, ii., Mantoff, J. B.
Hasten, Lord, the glorious time, 60, ii., Auber, Harriet
Hasten, Lord, to my release, 705, i., Montgomery, J.
Hasten, O sinner, to be wise, 605, ii., Hasten, sinner, to be wise
Hasten sinner, to be wise, 1010, ii., Schmidt, J. E.
Hasten sinners, to be wise, 1009, ii., Scott, T.
Hath not thy heart within thee burned? 191, ii., Baldwin, S. G.
Hath resolution ended? 116, i., Barton, B.
Hätt' ich nur Gottes gefragt, 887, i., Unser Kinder Sammlung
Hätten wir Nichts als diese Sterbeszeit, 1305, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Haupt voll Blut und Wunden, 451, i., Knapp, A.
Haunting gloom and filling shades, 930, ii., Vox, et tenebrae, et umbla
Have I, Lord, Thee departed, 1254, ii., Wrede
Have mercy, Lord, on me, as Thou (Ps. li.), 900, ii., New Version, 919, ii., Psalters, English
Have mercy, Lord, for man hath sworn, 1282, i., Wesley family, The Have mercy, Lord, on me I pray (Ps. li.), Hopkins), 903, ii., Old Version
Have mercy, O Father, 899, ii., Parsons, W. H.
Have mercy on me, God (Lord), after (Ps. li., Norton), 866, ii., Old Version
Have mercy on me, O my God, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
Have mercy on me, Lord (Ps. li., Hopkins), 866, ii., Old Version
Have mercy on me Lord, on pray, 624, i., Kyrie eleison
Have thy armour on, my soul, 597, i., Ferguson, J. B.
Have we no soul for Him Who died? 1179, ii., Thring, Godfrey
Have ye counted the cost? 979, i., Lomas, Jane E.
Have you heard the sweet, sweet story? 1256, ii., Swift, J. F.
Have you not a word for Jesus? 697, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Have you not seen the lily-vale, 985, ii., O Son of Man, Thyself once cast
Have you on the Lord believed? 710, ii., Bliss, P.
Have you read the wondrous story? 1179, ii., Thrupp, Dorothy A.
Have you seen the mighty scene, 1179, ii., Thrupp, Dorothy A.
Have we no tears to shed for Him, 825, ii., O come and mourn with me awhile
He always feeds His flock, 1007, i., Schmolck, B.
He always wins who sides with God, 660, i., I worship Thy sweet will at last
He, by whose birth the night was made (Trumpet yuul pernehl), 20, ii., Agnoscat omne sanctitas
He called them, and they left, 1126, i., Bonar, H.
He calls us to a day of gladness, 1113, ii., Syriac hymnody
He came not with His heavenly crown, 306, i., Doane, W. C.
He came, Whose embassy was peace, 1251, i., Walker (née Dwin), Mary J.
He comes! He comes! the Bridegroom comes, 796, ii., Midlane, A.
He comes in clouds, the Holy One, 966, ii., O mighty Mother! why that light?
He comes! He comes! the Judge severe, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The
He comes in thunderstorm pavements, 109, ii., Bancroft (née Schwieter), Anna
He comes, no regal vesture wearing, 991, i., Bickert, F.
He cometh as the Bridegroom comes, 600, i., He cometh, as you hallowed Feast
He cometh, on yon hallowed board, 893, ii., O Jesus Christ, on Thy throne
He dies! He dies! The Son of God must help, 966, ii., Hurditch, C. R.
He dies, the Friend of sinners dies, 320, i., English hymnody, 500, i., He dies! the Heavenly Lover dies
He dies! the Man of Sorrows dies, 320, ii., He dies, the Heavenly Lover dies
He dwells on earth, along His path, 320, i., Christus terrestris obstans
He, Faithful and True, of the Lord, 959, i., Rawson, G.
He, for mine sake suffered woe, 780, i., Neale, J. M.
He goeth His beloved sleep, 139, ii., Bell, C. D.
He has gone to his God, he has gone to his home, 810, ii., Norton, A.
He has gone into His garden, 307, ii., Tredway, Sarah
He hath spoken in the darkness, 697, i., Havergal, Frances R.
He is a God of sovereign love, 320, i., Death! 'tis a melancholy day
He is gone—a cloud of light, 500, ii., He is gone—Beyond the skies
He is gone—he remains, 500, ii., He is gone—Beyond the skies
He is gone—beyond the skies, 713, i., Master is it good to be here? Hastings, Sarah F.
He is gone—he wends their goal, 500, ii., He is gone—Beyond the skies
He is gone—we hasted Him way, 500, ii., He is gone—Beyond the skies
He is gone, the Shepherd on old time, 270, ii., Da poor ghettoes, shrouds in cancer fidelities
He it writes and I am His, 1252, ii., Schmolck, B.
He knelt, the Saviour knelt and prayed, 500, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
He knows all His people, 324, ii., Se kennt der Herr die seinen
He kindest me, O blessed thought! 626, i., Gilmore, J. H.
He led them unto Bethany, 514, ii., Hemmann (née Thelen), Claudia F.
He lifted up His hands, He has lived, 170, ii., Bonnell, J.
He lives, he lives, and sits above, 1259, i., Watts, I.
He lives! He lives! he lay again (Ile J. Bowring), 486, ii., Hardenberg, C. F. G. von
He lives! He's risen from the dead, 486, ii., Hardenberg, C. F. G. von
He lives, he lived, wins, heavenly friend, 326, ii., I know that my Redeemer lives. What comfort this
He lives, the everlasting God, 1260, i., Watts, I.
He liveth long who liveth well, 161, ii., Bonar, H.

He lost his ancient colleague's aid, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The
He loved me, and gave Himself for me, 275, ii., Ferguson, F.
He never yet has made mistake, 660, ii., Ich singe dir mit Herz und Mund
He reigns, the Lord our Saviour reigns (Watts), 279, ii., Jacobi, J. C., 1727, ii., Vom Himmel hoch da Komm ich her
He reigns, the Lord, the Saviour reigns, 1260, i., Watts, I.
He reigns! he ceases, exalt your strains, 1155, i., The Lord is King! lift up thy voice
He rises from the warr, and sees, 220, ii., Energia verbi et Deo
He saw Jesus He said, 778, i., Midlane, A.
He sendeth fair the great showers, 1266, i., Sternenfels (née Sidel), Charlotte
He sendeth rain, He sendeth showers, 16, ii., Adams (née Flower), Sarah
He sends to his Virgin no lovelier angel, 760, ii., Mittit ad Virginem
He shall feed His flock from His open side, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
He spake! and gathering rain ceased, 607, ii., Jubus: et in praecepto again
He speaks the words; the floods obey, 607, ii., Jubus: et in praecepto again
He that complies to his Creator, 726, i., Neumark, G.
He that goeth forth with weeping, 695, ii., Hastings, T.
He that has God his guardian needs (Ps. xci.), 850, ii., New Version
He that trusteth His Refuge God, 1240, i., Watts, I.
He that is down needs fear no fall, 193, ii., Bunyan, J.
He that is the great profoundic Sapience, 886, i., Paris Sapientia, veritas divina
He that walketh the secret place (Ps. xci., Hopkins), 865, ii., Old Version
He, the Conqueror of the Lord, with triumph, 273, ii., Iste Confessor Domini sacratus
He the Word of God, the Fixed, 1217, i., Verbum Dei. Deo natum
He that walketh his way to God, 727, i., Neumark, G.
He who doth glad salvation render, 726, ii., Neumark, G.
He who for Christ hath left behind, 266, ii., Coxe, A. C.
He, Who for man their Surety stood, 1272, i., Whose are those that come from far?
He, Who in earth chose to have a home, 824, i., Newton, J.
He Who once in righteous vengeance, 870, i., Ira Judæ Conditoris
He who surveys the heart of man, 1031, i., Scottish Paraphrases
He who the blessed God trusts can, 726, ii., Neumark, G.
He who the earth's foundations laid, 606, ii., Gebet wird du Jesu Christ
He, who the living God hath chosen, 726, ii., Neumark, G.
He who the rule to God hath yielded, 727, i., Neumark, G.
He who to death maintaineth, 233, ii., Hiller, P. P.
He who walks in God's true way, 651, ii., He who walks in virtue's way
He who with pure and pity glows, 724, ii., Merrick, J.
He, whom the Church could celebrate the faithful, 273, ii., Iste Confessor Domini sacratus
He whom the Father sent to die, 944, i., Quem misit in terras Deus
He whom the Father sent to earth, 944, i., Quem misit in terras Deus
He whom the land, the sea, the sky (Quem terra, pontus, aethera), 945, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
He whom the earth, the sea, and skie, 944, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Head, all hail, with gore-drops scattered (Salve caput cruentatum), 291, i., Salve mundi salutare
Head of the Church and Lord of all, 1186, i., Tritton, J.
Head of the Church, our risen Lord, 252, ii., Conder, J.
Head of the Church triumphant, 561, i., Head of Thy Church triumphant
Head of the hosts in glory, 181, ii., Bridges, M.
Head of Thy Church triumphant, 561, i., O God, Who hear'st the prayer
Heal, Lord, by Thy power, Whose Spirit fills, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Heal us, O my Saviour, hear, 1179, ii., Thring, G.
Heal us, Emmanuel! hear our prayer, 592, i., Heal us, Emmanuel, here we are Heal us, Emmanuel, here we are, 592, i., Heal us, Emmanuel, here we are Heal us, Immanuel, we are here, 592, i., Heal us, Emmanuel, here we are Healer Divine, O hear our prayer, 592, i., Heal us, Emmanuel, here we are Hear, gracious God! a sinner's cry, 722, ii., Medley, S.
Hear, gracious God, and from Thy throne, 970, i., Hellmuth (né Lemlein), T.
Hear, gracious God, my humble prayer, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Hear, gracious Lord, my humble moan, 1089, ii., 1095, i., Steele, Anne Hear, gracious Sovereign, from Thy throne, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
Hear, holy Father, God of heaven, 542, i., Hull, W. W.
Hear, kind Lord, my tears, 1148, ii., Symington, A. J.
Hear me, my friends: the hour has come, 773, ii., Mowes, J.
Hear me, O God, nor hide Thy face, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Hear me, O Lord, in my distress, 705, i., Montgomery, J.
Hear my prayer, O heavenly Father, 882, ii., Farr, Harriet
Hear, O Lord, our supplication, 796, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Hear, O my God, with pity hear, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Hear, O my people: to my law (Ps. lxxviii.), 899, ii., New Version
Hear, O sinner, mercy hails you, 984, i., Reed, A.
Hear, our Father, heavenly Father, here, 91, ii., Andelegte Gaudtor
Hear our prayer, O heavenly Father, 882, ii., Farr, Harriet
Hear, Saviour Sovereign, from Thy throne, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
Hear the Father's ancient promise, 697, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Hear the gospel's joyful sound, 564, ii., Hurditch, C. R.
Hear the heralds of the Gospel, 50, i., Allen, Jonathan
Hear the joyful sound, the Lord, Jesu Xristes (Ps. lxxi), 823, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Hear Thou my prayer, O Lord, and let (Ps. cii.), 906, i., Old Version
Hear us, holy Jesus, 272, i., Jackson, E.
Hear us, Lord, hear, hear before Thee, 1093, ii., Stephenson, T. B.
Hear us, Son of God, O hear, 678, i., Litanies
Hear us, Thou who lovest, 1179, ii., Thring, G.
Hear what the voice from heaven proclaims, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.
Hear ye the glad good news from heaven, 180, ii., Bliss, P.
Heard ye holy women say, 598, ii., Nicholson, H. L.
Hearst thou, my soul, what saviour things, 299, ii., Hearst thou, my soul
Heardan, Lord, to my complaints, 705, i., Montgomery, J.
Heardan, soul, it is the Lord, 626, ii., Hark, my soul, it is the Lord
Heardan to Me, Who seek the Lamb, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Heardan to the solemn voice, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Heart and heart together bound, 837, ii., Herz und Herz vereint zusammen
Heart be still! 319, ii., Hemmer (née Schweizer), Nina
Heart in heart, and hand in hand, 703, i., Monod, J. E.
Heart of Christ my King! I greet Thee (Sammi Hagin cor sveko), 991, i., Salve mundi salutare
Heart of Jesus, make me holy, 79, i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Heart, thou hast long been weeping, 319, ii., Hemmer (née Schweizer), Nina
Heart to heart, and side by side, 722, i., Monkton, G.
Heart to heart by love wedded, 319, ii., Charlesworth, M. L.
Heart to heart in love united, 577, ii., Herz und Herz vereint zusammen
Heart-broken and weary, where'er thou may'st be, 319, ii., Hemmer, Nina
Heart-broken daughter, poor, cast down, 827, i., I left the God of truth and light Hearts of stone relent, relent, 271, ii., Colyer, J.: 1862, i., Wesley family, The Heaven and earth, and sea and air, all their, 326, i., Himmel, Erde, Luft und Meer
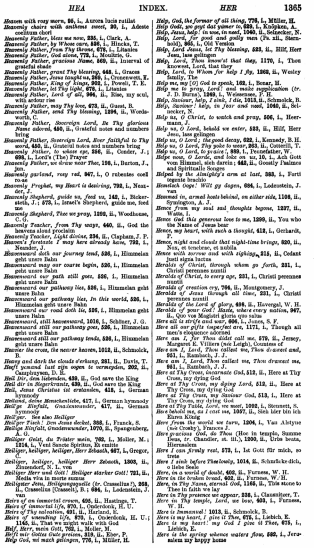
Heaven and earth, and sea and air, 326, i., Himmel, Erde, Luft und Meer
Heaven and earth, and sea and air, Still their, 326, i., Himmel, Erde, Luft und Meer
Heaven and earth, earth and air, 326, i., Himmel, Erde, Luft und Meer
Heaven, earth, land, and sea, 326, i., Himmel, Erde, Luft und Meer
Heaven is a place of rest from sin, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
Heaven is here, its hymns of gladness, 16, i., Adams, J. Q.
Heaven with alleluias ringing, 320, ii., Eoe polchra caterva resonat voce Alleluia



HEA INDEX. HEB 1365

Heaven with rosy morn, 86, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
Heavenly choirs with anthems sweet, 92, i., Adeste coelitum chori
Heavenly Father, bless me now, 235, i., Clark, A.
Heavenly Father, by Whose care, 236, i., Hinkle, T.
Heavenly Father, From Thy House, 679, i., Lilenius
Heavenly Father, God alone, 772, i., Monilla, G.
Heavenly Father, gracious Name, 949, ii., Interval of Rest
Heavenly Father, grant Thy blessing, 648, i., Graun
Heavenly Father, Jesus taught us, 265, i., Crosswell, E.
Heavenly Father, King of kings, 252, i., Powell, T. E.
Heavenly Father, let Thy light, 979, i., Lilenius
Heavenly Father, Lord of all, 986, ii., Rise, my soul, with active vim
Heavenly Father, may Thy love, 272, ii., Gaun, B.
Heavenly Father, send Thy blessing, 1206, ii., Worshworth, C.
Heavenly Father, Sovereign Lord, In Thy glorious Name adored, 635, ii., Grateful notes and numbers bring Heavenly Father, Sovereign Lord, Ever faithful to Thy word, 650, ii., Grateful notes and numbers bring Heavenly Father, we draw near, 266, ii., Cundiff, J.; 698, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Heavenly Father, we draw near The, 199, i., Burton, J., jun.
Heavenly garland, rosy red, 947, i., O rubentes coeli rosa
Heavenly Prophet, my Heart is desiring, 792, i., Neander, J.
Heavenly Shepherd, guide us, feed us, 142, i., Bickersteth, J.; 272, i., Israel's Shepherd, guide me, feed me
Heavenly Shepherd, Thee we prop, 1260, ii., Woodhouse, J.
Heavenly Teacher, from Thy ways, 640, ii., God the heavens aloud proclaim Heavenly Teacher, Light divine, 234, ii., Clapham, J. P.
Heaven's foreseen I may have already been, 792, i., Neander, J.
Heavenward doth our journey tend, 598, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavenward may our course begin, 220, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavenward still our path we see, 596, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavenward our pathway lies, 598, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavenward our pathway lies, In this world, 598, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavenward our road doth lie, 598, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavenward, still heavenward, 1016, i., Schlüer, J. G.
Heavenward still our pathway goes, 596, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavenward still our pathway tends, 598, i., Himmelan geht unsre Bahn
Heavier the cross, the nearer heaven, 1012, ii., Schmolck, B.
Heavy and dark the clouds o'erhang, 281, ii., Davis, T.
Heavy! grasped but ripe ears to corruption, 202, ii., Campbytown, D. E.
Heil Dir, dem hallenden, 439, ii., God save the King
Heil dir in Siegerkranz, 439, ii., God save the King
Heil, dieses Christus ist erstanden, 415, i., German hymnody
Heiland, deine Menschenliebe, 417, i., German hymnody
Heil'ge Einfalt, Gnadenwunder, 417, ii., German hymnody
Heiliger sei also Heiliger
Heiliger Fluss! des Jesus Seufzer, 1068, i., Franck, S.
Heilige Einfalt, Gnadenwunder, 1070, ii., Spangenberg, A. G.
Heiliger Geist, du Tröster mein, 760, i., Möller, M.; 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Jerusalem
Heiliger, heiliger, heiliger Herr Zebaoth, 687, i., Gregor, C.
Heiliger, heiliger, heiliger Herr Zebaoth, 1303, ii., Dresenius, S. L.
Heiliger Jesu, heiliger, heiliger starker Gott! 721, ii., Heida via in morte sumus
Heiliger Jesu, Heiligungsquelle (Sr. Cassellus?), 268, ii., Cassellus (Cassell), S.; 686, i., Lobwasser, J. von Here's an immortal crown, 606, ii., Hastings, T.
Here's if immortal life, 870, i., Cederbaum, H. U.
Heirs of Thy salvation, 681, ii., Harland, E.
Heirs of unending life, 870, i., Cederbaum, H. U.; 1140, ii., That we might walk with God
Hell and her allies, 1260, ii., Hall, J.
Help me Jesus find peace, 218, ii., Eyer, P.
Help God, we much perceive, 776, i., Möller, H.

Help, God, the former of all thing, 776, i., Möller, H.
Help God, we spot the power in, 888, i., Kirkham, A.
Help, Jesus, help! to woe, in need, 1060, ii., Selnecker, N.
Help, Lord, for godly men are daily rare (Dr. Ad., Smithold), 966, i., Old Version
Help, Lord Jesus, for Thy blessing, 683, ii., Hill, Herr Jesu, lass gelingen
Help, Lord, Thou knowst that duty, 1170, i., Thou knowest, Lord, the weariness Help, Lord, to Whom for help I fly, 1208, ii., Wesley Samuel, The Help me, my (O) God to speak, 162, i., Bonar, H.
Help me to pray, Lord! and voice supplication (Dr. Ad., Smithold), 966, i., Old Version
Help, Saviour, help, I faint, I die, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
Help, Saviour! help, in fear and need, 1060, ii., Selnecker, N.
Help us, O Christ, to watch and pray, 906, i., Heermann, J.
Help us, O Lord, behold we enter, 233, ii., Hill, Herr Jesu, lass gelingen
Help us, O Lord; the good decay, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Help us, O Lord, Thy yoke to wear, 263, ii., Gunnell, T.
Help us, O Lord, to learn, 1208, ii., Wesley, S. S.
Help, we vow, O Lord, and take us, 1013, ii., Ach Gott vom Himmel, sieh darein; 443, ii., Goudy's Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Helped by the Almighty's arm at last, 383, i., Furet maintenant bientôt
Henceforth (age! Will ye dagers, 868, i., Lobwasser, J. von Hesmad ye, armed hosts behind, on either side, 1148, ii., Symington, A. J.
Here, Lord, I lay my soul and thoughts bygone, 1227, ii., Walker, J.
Hence glad this generous love to me, 1209, ii., You who the Name of Jesus bear
Hence, my heart, with such a thought, 412, i., Gerhardt, P.
Here, by night and clouds that night-time brings, 820, ii., Ich stehe hier, o süsses
Here with sorrow and with sighing, 814, ii., Cobat Jesu signa lectus
Heralds of Christ, through whom ye forth, 321, i., Christi permones nuntii
Heralds of Christ, to every age, 321, i., Christi permones nuntii
Heralds of creation cry, 704, ii., Montgomery, J.
Heralds of Jesus through all time, 321, i., Christi permones nuntii
Heralds of your God! of glory, 688, ii., Hovergal, W. H.
Heralds of your God! Rests, where every nation, 967, ii., Quo vos Magistri gloria spes salus
Here all is strife and war, 606, ii., Jones, S. F.
Here all our gifts together are, 1171, i., Though all our gifts together are Here am I, for Thou didst call me, 879, ii., Jessop, Margaret E. Villiers (née Leigh), Countess of Here am I, Lord, Thou called me, Thou drawest and, 963, i., Ramsbotham, J. J.
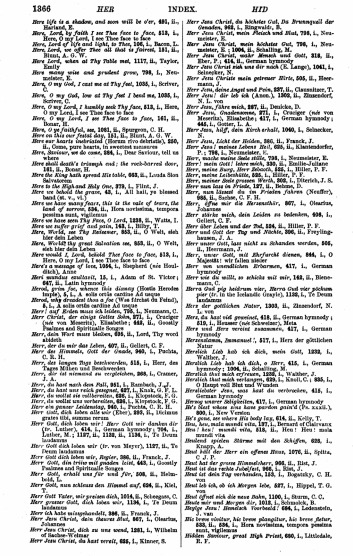
Here am I, Lord, Thou called me, Thou drawest me, 963, i., Ramsbotham, J. J.
Here at Thy Cross, Incarnate God, 513, ii., Here at Thy Cross, my dying God
Here at Thy Cross, my dying God, 513, ii., Here at Thy Cross, my dying God
Here at Thy Cross, my dying Lord, 513, ii., Here at Thy Cross, my dying God
Here at Thy Cross, my Saviour God, 513, i., Here at Thy Cross, my dying God
Here at Thy Fields, Lord, we wait, 1024, i., Hensett, S.
Here behold me, as I cast me, 1097, ii., Mich hier tief ich werfe
Here by Thy temple, Lord, we bow, 693, i., Furness, W. H.
Here from the world we turn, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Here gracious God, do Thou (Hor in templo, Summe Deus, tr. Chandler, cf. ii.), 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Jerusalem
Here I am, lonely rest, 879, i., Le Goût für mich, so trete
Here I wish before Thee lowly, 1014, ii., Schmücke dich, o liebe Seel
Here in a world of doubt, 602, ii., Furness, W. H.
Here in the broken bread, 602, ii., Furness, W. H.
Here, in Thy Name, eternal God, 1166, ii., Title stone to Thee in faith we lay
Here in Thy presence we appear, 226, i., Classbitzer, T.
Here in Thy temple, Lord, we bow, 693, i., Furness, W. H.
Here is immanuel! 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
Here is my heart, I give it Thee, 878, i., Labich, E.
Here, is my heart! my God I give it Thee, 878, i., Labich, E.
Here is the spring whence waters flow, 200, i., Jerusalem my happy home

1366



1366 HER INDEX. HID

Here life is a shadow, and soon will be o'er, 681, ii., Harland, E.
Here, Lord, by faith I see Thee face to face, 818, i., Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face
Here, Lord of life and light, in Thee, 196, i., Bacon, L.
Here, Lord, we offer Thee all that is Thine, 181, ii., Bland, A. O. W.
Here, Lord, when at Thy Table met, 1117, ii., Taylor, Emily
Here many wise and prudent grow, 798, i., Neumeister, E.
Here, O my God, I cast me at Thy feet, 1035, i., Scriver, J.
Here, O my God, low at Thy feet I bend me, 1035, i., Scriver, J.
Here, O my Lord, I humbly ask Thy face, 818, i., Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face
Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
Here, O ye faithful, see, 1061, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Here on this our Festal day, 151, ii., Blunt, A. G. W.
Here our hearts inebriated (Horum vires debetalis), 250, ii., Cassellus (Cassell), S.; 686, i., Lobwasser, J. von
Here, Saviour, we do come, 198, i., Dear Saviour, tell us Thy Name
Here shall death's triumph end: the rock-barred door, 181, ii., Bonar, H.
Here the King hath opened His table, 662, ii., Londa Sion Salvatorem
Here, Thou great and Holy One, 279, i., Flint, J.
Here we behold the grave, 46, i., All hail, ye blessed band (St. v., vi.)
Here we have many fears, this is the sale of tears, the land of sorrow, 534, ii., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
Here we have seen Thy Face, O Lord, 1225, ii., Watts, I.
Here we suffer grief and pain, 142, i., Bilby, T.
Here, World, see Thy Saviour, 263, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
Here we wait for great Salvation we, 835, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
Here would I, Lord, behold Thee face to face, 818, i., Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face
Here's a message of love, 1004, i., Shepherd (née Houghton), Lucy
Hervé mirabilis, 15, i., Adam of St. Victor; 967, ii., Latin hymnody
Herod, grim fox, whence this dismay (Tendis Herodes impie), 8, i., A solis ortis cardine Ad usque
Herr, wie du willst, so schicks mit mir (Herzlich lieb Fürst), 1233, i., Walther, J.
Herr! auf Erden muss ich leiden, 796, i., Neumann, C.
Herr Christ, der einige Gottes Sohn, 271, i., Creutziger (née von Meseritz), Elisabethe; 648, ii., Goudy Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Herr, dein Wort muss bleiben, 695, ii., Lord, Thy word abideth
Herr, der du mir das Leben, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Herr des Himmels, Gott der Gnade, 960, i., Pardia, C. H. H.
Herr, der langen Pein barmherzen, 818, i., Herr, den ich lange Zeit
Herr, die du vormals hast versöhnet, 988, i., Cramer, J. J.
Herr, du hast nun dein Fell, 951, i., Ramsbach, J. J.
Herr, du hast nur mich gesuchet, 827, i., Koch, G. T. L.
Herr, du weilst zur rechterzeit, 633, i., Klopstock, F. G.
Herr, du weilst zur rechterzeit, 633, i., Klopstock, F. G.
Herr ein grosser Leidentag, 949, i., Pardia, C. H. H.
Herr sieh dein leben alle wer (Text), 230, ii., Helaus wer sieh dein
Herr, dich loben wir (tr. von Meyer), 1127, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Herr, dich loben wir! Herr Gott wir danken dir (tr. Luther), 414, i., German hymnody; 798, i., Luther, M.; 1127, ii., 1132, ii., 1134, i., Te Deum
Herr, dich loben wir (tr. von Meyer), 1127, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Herr Gott dich loben wir, Segler, 286, ii., Franck, J.
Herr Gott, dein Lösse mit gnaden leist, 645, i., Goudy Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Herr Gott, erhalt uns für und für, 808, ii., Steinhofer, C.
Herr Gott, nun schleuss den Himmel auf, 696, ii., Kiel, J. C.
Herr Gott Vater, wir preisen dich, 1014, ii., Schongen, C.
Herr, grosser Gott, dich loben wir, 1134, i., Te Deum laudamus
Herr ich habe missgehandelt, 398, ii., Franck, J.
Herr Jesu Christ, dein theurer Mut, 667, i., Cleartus, C.
Herr Jesu Christ, dich zu uns wend, 1221, i., Wilhelm of Hirsau
Herr Jesu Christ, du hast verrit, 688, i., Rinser, S.

Herr Jesu Christ, du höchster Gut, Du Brunnquell der Genaden, 962, i., Ringwaldt, B.
Herr Jesu Christ, mein fleisch und Blut, 798, i., Neumeister, E.
Herr Jesu Christ, mein höchst Gut, 798, i., Neumeister, E.; 1004, ii., Schalling, M.
Herr Jesu Christ, wahr' Mensch und Gott, 218, ii., Eber, P. F.; 1060, ii., Selnecker, N.
Herr Jesu Christ wahr und für wahr (S. Lange), 1041, i., Selnecker, N.
Herr Jesu Christe mein getreuer Hirte, 502, ii., Heermann, J.
Herr Jesu, deine Angst und Pein, 697, ii., Clausnitzer, T.
Herr Jesu! dir ich ich (Amen.), 1005, ii., Ehrendorf, N. L. von Herr Jesu, Filtre mich, 697, ii., Denicke, D.
Herr Jesu, Gnadensonne, 271, i., Creutziger (née von Meseritz), Elisabethe; 617, i., German hymnody; 686, i., Lobwasser, J. von Herr Jesu, hilf, dass Kirch erhalt, 1060, i., Selnecker, N.
Herr Jesu, Licht der Heiden, 260, ii., Franck, J.
Herr Jesu! meines Lebens Heil, 695, i., Khelenhorfer, P.; 798, i., Neumeister, C.
Herr! mein Gott! lass mich, 233, ii., Neumeister, E.
Herr! mein Gott! lass mich, 233, ii., Zacilla-Juliane
Herr, meine Burg, Herr Zebaoth, 1225, i., Hiller, P. F.
Herr, meine Zuversicht, 695, i., Hiller, P. F.
Herr, meiner Sünd grosses Meere, 1035, i., Dieterich, J. S.
Herr, nun lässt du in Frieden fahren (Nunflet), 960, ii., Sachse, C. F. H.
Herr, nun lässt du in Frieden fahren (Nunflet), 960, ii., Sachse, C. F. H.
Herr, Öffne mir die Barmherzigkeit, 807, i., Cleartus, Johannes
Herr, schicke mich, dein Leiden zu bedenken, 698, i., Gellert, C. F.
Herr über Leben und Tod, 284, ii., Hiller, P. F.
Herr und Gott der Tag und Nächte, 396, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Herr, unser Gott, lass nicht zu Schanden werden, 866, ii., Heermann, J.
Herr, unser Gott, mit Ehrfurcht dienen, 866, i., O Magnifici wir loben sieder
Herr von unendlichen Erbarmen, 417, i., German hymnody
Herr wie du willst, so schicks mit mir, 1233, ii., Heermann, C.
Herre Gott wir loblernen wier, Herre Gud vier pickum pier (tr. in the Icelandic Graple), 1126, i., Te Deum laudamus
Herr der göttlichen Natur, 1300, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Herr, du hast viel gemehret, 618, ii., German hymnody; 810, i., Heussel (née Schweizer), Meta
Herr und Herr vereint zusammen, 617, i., German hymnody
Herrlich, Immanuel', 417, i., Herr der göttlichen Natur
Herrlich lieb hab ich dich, mein Gott, 1233, i., Walther, J.
Herrlich lieb hab ich dich, o Herr, 615, i., German hymnody; 1233, i., Walther, J.
Herrlich thut mich erfreuen, 1232, i., Walther, J.
Herrlich thut mich verlangen, 626, i., Knoll, C.; 695, i., O Hangt voll Blut und Wunden
Herrlicher Jesu, was hast du verbrochen, 612, i., German hymnody
Herzog unserer Jubiläens, 417, i., German hymnody
Hes't thout whose eies have garden gainst (Ps. xxxiii.), 320, i., New Version
He's gone, we where His body lay, 614, ii., Kelly, T.
He's gone, who seem'd so dear to us, 1, ii., Bernard of Clairvaux
Hes' hou' mandi vela, 215, ii., Hes' Herr mein mundi vita
Heulend spielen Stürme mit den Schiffen, 629, i., Knapp, A.
Hewn down, ye Herr ein offenes Haus, 1076, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Hezi hat der grosse Himmelsherr, 996, ii., Hist, J.
Hezi ist das edele Jubiljel, 996, i., Hist, J.
Hezi ist dein Tag verbunden, 135, i., Bogatzky, C. H. von Hezi ich ich, ob ich Morgen lebe, 697, i., Hippel, T. G. von Hezi öffnet sich die neue Bahn, 1100, i., Storm, C. C.
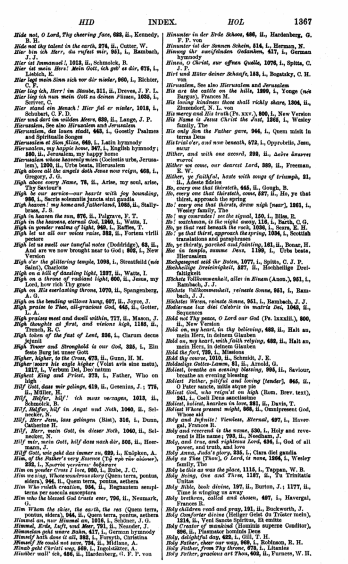
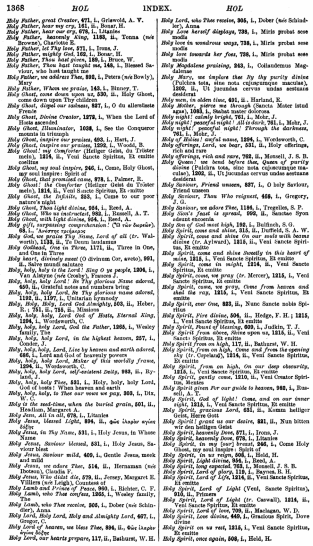
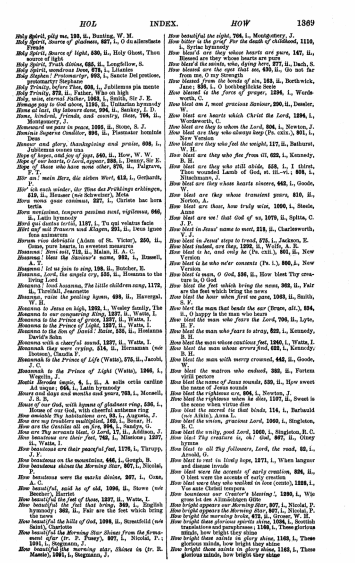
Hezis mir und Morgen dir, 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
Hezis mir und Morgen dir, Himelsch Vorbraut! 698, i., Lobwasser, J. von
Hic breve vivitur, hic breve plangitur, hic breve fletur, 533, ii., 536, i., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
Hic est Sacerdos, great High Priest, 660, i., Littledale, R. F.

1367







HOL INDEX. HOW 1369

Holy Spirit, pity me, 180, ii., Bentley, W. M.
Holy Spirit, Source of gladness, 827, i., O da allenthalve Fäder,
Holy Spirit, Source of light, 830, ii., Holy Ghost, Thou source of light
Holy Spirit, Truth divine, 626, ii., Longfellow, S.
Holy, Thou art Lord alone, 278, i., Litanies
Holy, Holy, Holy!, 280, i., Sanctus (1st portion, Compline)
Holy Trinity, before Thee, 606, i., Jubilemus pia mente
Holy Trinity, 272, ii., Father, Who on high
Holy, wise, eternal Father, 1362, i., Smith, Sir J. E.
Homage pay to God above, 1180, ii., Ultima hymnody
Home of the soul, 1366, ii., Smith, Sir J. E.
Home, kindred, friends, and country, Hem, 766, ii., Montgomery, J.
Homeward we pass in peace, 1056, ii., Stone, S. J.
Homini Superne Conditor, 996, ii., Pientaner homine Fäder
Honour and glory, thanksgiving and praise, 609, i., Jubilemus omnes una
Hope of hopes, and joy of joys, 660, ii., How, W. W.
Hope of our hearts, O Lord, appear, 288, i., Denny, Sir E.
Hope! for there who have none else, 976, ii., Palgrave, F. T.
Hör' an! mein Herz, die sieben Wort, 413, i., Gerhardt, P.
Hör' ich auch wieder, die Töne der Prüfungs erklingen, 1367, ii., Schmolck, B.
Horæ nona jam sonabant, 327, i., Ubrides hac hora tertia
Horæ novissimæ, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus, 660, ii., Latin hymnody
Hora novissima, 1197, i., Tu qui volatus facis
Hört ihr das neid Frauen und Kinder, 251, ii., Iesu iuvos fons auinorum
Horum vice abbratis (Adam of St. Victor), 250, ii., Cœna, pure lucris, in sweetest measures
Hosanna, blest are they, 751, ii., Waite, J.
Hosanna! blest the daviour's name, 681, i., Russell, Jane
Hosanna! let us join to sing, 198, ii., Butcher, E.
Hosanna, Lord, the angels cry, 195, ii., Hosanna to the living
Hosanna, loud hosanna, The little children sang, 1178, ii., Threlfall, Jeannette
Hosanna, raise the pealing hymn, 698, ii., Havergal, W. H.
Hosanna to Jesus on high, 1023, i., Wesley family, The Hosanna to our conquering King, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
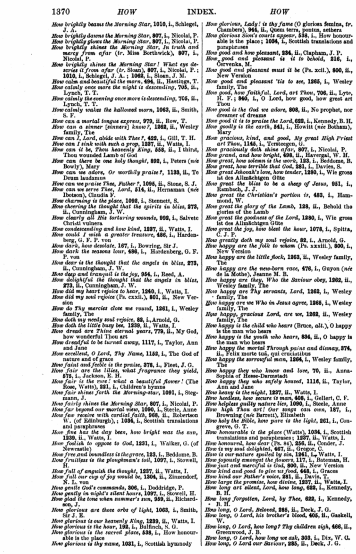
Hosanna to the Prince of grace, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Hosanna to the Prince of Light, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Hosanna to the Son of David! Rome, 195, ii., Hosanna David's Sohn
Hosanna with a cheerful sound, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
Hosanna, to the living King, 218, ii., Hermanns (née Bonnet), Claudia F.
Hosannah to the Prince of Life (Watts), 275, ii., Jacobi, J. C.
Hosannah to the Prince of Light (Watts), 1366, i., Smith, Sir J. E.
Hostis Herodes impie, 4, i., A mille ortis carlise Ad usque: 965, i., Latin hymnody
Hours and days and months and years, 763, i., Mcneill, J. B.
How blest the God, with ligaments of gladness ring, 630, i., Hosea of our God, with cheerful anthems ring
How amiable Thy habitations are, 83, i., Augusta, J.
How are my troublers multiplied, 1361, i., Bonar, H.
How are the Gentiles all on fire, 984, i., Sandys, S.
How beauteous are their feet, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How beauteous are their feet, 766, i., Mansion, 1207, ii., Watts, I.
How beauteous are their peaceful feet, 1176, i., Thrupp, J.
How beauteous on the mountains, 666, i., Gough, B.
How beauteous shines the Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How beauteous were the marks divine, 207, i., Cone, A. L.
How beautiful, said he of old, 1096, ii., Stowe (née Beecher), Harriet
How beautiful the feet of those, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How beautiful the feet that bring, 223, i., English hymnody; 302, ii., Fair are the feet which bring the news
How beautiful the hills of God, 1096, ii., Sumsfield (née Saint), Charlotte
How beautiful the Morning Star Shines from the firmament afar (tr. from Tersteegen's Geistliche Blumengärtlein), 907, i., Nicolai, P. I.
How beautiful the morning star, shines to (tr. R. Mants), 1091, i., Bergmann, J.
How beautiful the sight, 706, i., Montgomery, J.
How blest are they who trust in God, 1110, i., Syrian hymnody
How blest are they whose hearts are pure, 147, ii., Blessed are they whose hearts are pure
How blest the saints, who, dying here, 277, ii., Dach, S.
How blest the souls that hear and see, 830, ii., Go not far from us, O my strength
How blessed from the bonds of sin, 163, ii., Berthwick, Jane; 584, i., O lootlegfichkie here
How blessed is the form of prayer, 1296, i., Wordsworth, C.
How blest am I, most gracious Saviour, 230, ii., Dessler, J.
How blest are hearts which Christ the Lord, 1296, i., Wordsworth, C.
How blest are they to whom the Lord, 806, i., Newton, J.
How blest are they who always keep (Ps. cxix.), 801, i., Kethe, W.
How blest are they who feel the weight, 127, ii., Ballard, W. H
How blest are they who fee from ill, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How blest are they who still abide, 658, i., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God, 0 sin, 0 Nitschmann, J.
How blest are they whose hearts sincere, 662, i., Goode, W.
How blest are they whose transient years, 810, ii., Norton, A.
How blest are those, how truly wise, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
How blest are we! that God of ws, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
How blest in Jesus' name to rest, 218, ii., Charlesworth, V. J.
How blest in Jesus' steps to tread, 276, i., Jackson, E.
How blest indeed, are they, 1292, ii., Wolfe, A. E.
How blest is he, and only he (Ps. cxii.), 802, ii., New Version
How blest is he who ne'er consents (Ps. i.), 800, i., New Version
How blest is man, O God, 330, ii., How blest Thy creatures are, O God
How blest the feet which bring the news, 302, ii., Fair are the feet which bring the news
How blest the hour when first we pave, 1363, ii., Smith, S. F.
How blest the man that heads the ear (Tersen, alt.), 804, i., O happy is the man who hears
How blest the man who fears the Lord, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
How blest the man who fears to stray, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How blest the man whose cautious feet, 1260, i., Watts, I.
How blest the man whose errors fled, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How blest the man with merry crossed, 642, ii., Goode, W.
How blest the waiters who endeed, 302, ii., Fortes Fortunati
How blest the terms of Jesus sounds, 230, ii., How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
How blest the righteous are, 804, i., Newton, J.
How blest the righteous when he dies, 1107, ii., Sweet is the work, my God, my King
How blest the sacred tie that binds, 154, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.
How blest the voices, gracious Lord, 1000, i., Singleton, R. C.
How blest the unity, good Lord, 1000, i., Singleton, R. C.
How blest Thy creatures is, oh! God, 807, ii., Olney hymns
How blest to all Thy followers, Lord, the road, 88, i., Arnold, G.
How blest, how blest is timely hope, 1271, i., When languor and disease invade
How blest were the accents of early creation, 806, ii., O blest were the accents of early creation
How blest were they who walked in love (omit), 1288, i., Wesley family, The
How boundless our Creator's blessing!, 1288, i., Wesley family, The
How bright appears our Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How bright appears the Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How bright these glorious spirits shine, 1098, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1168, i., These glorious minds, how bright they shine
How bright these saints in glory shine, 1168, i., These glorious minds, how bright they shine
How bright these saints in glory shine, 1168, i., These glorious minds, how bright they shine
How beautiful the sight, 706, i., Montgomery, J.
How blest are they whose hearts are pure, 147, ii., Blessed are they whose hearts are pure
How blest the souls, who, dying here, 277, ii., Dach, S.
How blest are they who fee from ill, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How blest are they who still abide, 658, i., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God, 0 sin, 0 Nitschmann, J.
How blest are they whose hearts sincere, 662, i., Goode, W.
How blest are they whose transient years, 810, ii., Norton, A.
How blest are those, how truly wise, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
How blest are we! that God of ws, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
How blest in Jesus' name to rest, 218, ii., Charlesworth, V. J.
How blest in Jesus' steps to tread, 276, i., Jackson, E.
How blest indeed, are they, 1292, ii., Wolfe, A. E.
How blest is he, and only he (Ps. cxii.), 802, ii., New Version
How blest is he who ne'er consents (Ps. i.), 800, i., New Version
How blest is man, O God, 330, ii., How blest Thy creatures are, O God
How blest the feet which bring the news, 302, ii., Fair are the feet which bring the news
How blest the hour when first we pave, 1363, ii., Smith, S. F.
How blest the man that heads the ear (Tersen, alt.), 804, i., O happy is the man who hears
How blest the man who fears the Lord, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
How blest the man who fears to stray, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How blest the man whose cautious feet, 1260, i., Watts, I.
How blest the man whose errors fled, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How blest the man with merry crossed, 642, ii., Goode, W.
How blest the waiters who endeed, 302, ii., Fortes Fortunati
How blest the terms of Jesus sounds, 230, ii., How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
How blest the righteous are, 804, i., Newton, J.
How blest the righteous when he dies, 1107, ii., Sweet is the work, my God, my King
How blest the sacred tie that binds, 154, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.
How blest the voices, gracious Lord, 1000, i., Singleton, R. C.
How blest the unity, good Lord, 1000, i., Singleton, R. C.
How blest Thy creatures is, oh! God, 807, ii., Olney hymns
How blest to all Thy followers, Lord, the road, 88, i., Arnold, G.
How blest, how blest is timely hope, 1271, i., When languor and disease invade
How blest were the accents of early creation, 806, ii., O blest were the accents of early creation
How blest were they who walked in love (omit), 1288, i., Wesley family, The
How boundless our Creator's blessing!, 1288, i., Wesley family, The
How bright appears our Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How bright appears the Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How bright these glorious spirits shine, 1098, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1168, i., These glorious minds, how bright they shine
How bright these saints in glory shine, 1168, i., These glorious minds, how bright they shine
How bright these saints in glory shine, 1168, i., These glorious minds, how bright they shine

1370



1370 HOW INDEX. HOW

How brightly beams the Morning Star, 1010, i., Schlegel, J. C.
How brightly beams the Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How brightly glows the Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How brightly shines the Morning Star, in truth and mercy from afar (tr. Miss Borthwick), 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How brightly shines the Morning Star! What eye declared it from afar (tr. Stone), 907, i., Nicolai, P.; 1010, i., Schlegel, J. A.; 1066, i., Stone, J. M.
How calm and beautiful the morn, 694, ii., Hastings, T.
How calmly once morn the night is descending, 705, ii., Lyte, H. F.
How calmly the evening once more is descending, 705, ii., Lynch, T. T.
How calmly rushes the balloonel morn, 1062, ii., Smith, S. F.
How can a mortal tongue express, 979, ii., How, W.
How can a sinner (sinners) know?, 1288, ii., Wesley family, The
How can I, Lord, abide with Thee?, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
How can I rest with such a prop, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How can I sink with such a prop, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How can sinners be saved (tr. Stone), 907, i., Nicolai, F.; 1010, i., Schlegel, J. A.; 1066, i., Stone, J. M.
How can such a sinner (sinners) know?, 1288, ii., Wesley family, The
How can there be one holy thought, 891, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary
How can we adore, Or worthily praise?, 1138, ii., Te Deum laudamus
How can we rejoice Thee, Father?, 1066, ii., Stone, S. J.
How can we serve Thee, Lord, 614, ii., Hermanns (née Bonnet), Claudia F.
How charming is the place, 1062, i., Bennett, S.
How cheering the thought that the spirits in bliss, 273, ii., Cunningham, J. W.
How condescending and how kind, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How could I want a greater treasure, 626, i., Hankinson, T. E.
How cool, how desolate, 197, i., Bowring, Sir J.
How dark the seasons bear, 698, i., Heidenberg, G. F. W.
How dear is the thought that the angels in bliss, 273, ii., Cunningham, J. W.
How dear to the heart is the hour, 956, i., Reed, A.
How delightful the thought that the angels in bliss, 273, ii., Cunningham, J. W.
How did my heart rejoice to hear, 1260, i., Watts, I.
How did my soul rejoice (Ps. cxxii.), 802, ii., New Version
How do Thy mercies close me round, 1301, i., Wesley family, The
How doth my needy soul rejoice, 88, i., Arnold, G.
How doth the little busy bee, 1259, ii., Watts, I.
How dreadful are Thine awful parts, 779, ii., My God, how wonderful Thou art
How dreadful to be turned away, 1117, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
How excellent, O Lord, Thy Name, 1126, i., The God of Abraham praise
How faint and feeble is its praise, 273, i., Fleet, J. G.
How fair are the lilies, what fragrance they yield, 276, i., Jackson, E. H.
How fair is the rose! what a beautiful flower! (Christian Year), 1301, i., Wesley family, The
How fair is our birth the Morning-star, 1061, i., Scagnasn, C.
How fairly shines the Morning Star, 907, i., Nicolai, P.
How far beyond our mortal view, 1066, i., Steele, Anne
How fast the moments roll away (tr. from Gellert), 0., (of Edinburgh), 1084, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
How fee but the day lees, how bright was the sun, 1330, ii., Watts, I.
How fit we speak to God, 1231, i., Walker, G. (of Newcastle)
How free and boundless is the grace, 155, i., Beddome, B.
How fruitless is the ploughman's toil, 1097, i., Sorrell, H.
How full of anguish the thought, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How full our cup of joy would be, 1306, ii., Elmendorf, S. L. van
How gentle God's commands, 806, i., Doddridge, P.
How gently in night's silent hours, 1297, i., Sorrell, H.
How glad the lone when summer's sun, 599, ii., Richards, J.
How glorious are those orbs of light, 1033, i., Smith, Sir J. E.
How glorious is our heavenly King, 1230, ii., Watts, I.
How glorious is the mercy-seat, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How glorious is the sacred place, 598, i., How honourable is the place
How glorious is thy name, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
How glorious, Lady! is thy fame (O glorious femina, tr. Caswallon), 965, ii., Queen term, poetess, esteem
How glorious does's sacred appear, 598, i., How honourable is the place; 1098, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
How good and how pleasant, 806, ii., Clapham, J. P.
How good and pleasant 'tis to behold, 816, i., Montgomery, J.
How good and pleasant must it be (Ps. xxii.), 800, ii., New Version
How good and pleasant 'tis to see, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
How good is the faithful, Lord, art Thee, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.; 806, i., O Lord, how good, how great art Thou
How good is the God we adore, 808, ii., No prophet, nor dreamer of dreams
How good is the man who fears the Lord, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How goodly is the earth, 241, i., Hewitt (née Bolman), Mary
How gracious, kind, and good, My great High Priest art Thou, 1145, i., Tersteegen, G.
How great and glorious is the Lord, 1227, ii., Nicolai, P.
How grand, and how bright, 698, ii., Havergal, W. H.
How great, how solemn is the work, 125, i., Beddome, B.
How great, how terrible that God, 321, i., Davies, S.
How great Jehovah's love, how tender, 1290, i., We cross to our Redeemer's tribe
How great the bliss to be a sharp of Jesus, 951, i., Hamilton, J. J.
How great the Christian's portion is, 625, i., Hammond, W.
How great the glory of the Lamb, 138, ii., Behold the throne of the Lamb
How great the goodness of the Lord, 1230, i., We cross to our Redeemer's tribe
How great the joy, how blest the hour, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
How happy are we and royal rejoice, 88, i., Arnold, G.
How happy are we to talk to whom (Ps. xxiii.), 800, i., New Version
How happy are the little flock, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The
How happy are the seven-born sons, 676, i., Gryon (née Elizabeth), Jemima
How happy are they, Who the Saviour obey, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The How happy are Thy servants, Lord, 1262, i., Wesley family, The How happy are they to Jesus agree, 1262, i., Wesley family, The How happy, gracious Lord, are we, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
How happy is the child who learns (Brace, alt.), O happy is the man who hears
How happy is the youth who hears, 804, ii., O happy is the man who hears
How happy the mortal Through pains and dismay, 276, ii., Felix morte ish, qui cruciatus
How happy the sorrowful men, 1306, i., Wesley family, The
How happy they who know and love, 70, ii., Anna-Sophia of Hesse-Darmstadt
How happy they who safely bound, 1116, ii., Taylor, Jane and Ann
How keep'd the night, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How kindless, how secure is man, 666, i., Gellert, C. F.
How helpless guilty nature lies, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
How high Thou art! Our songs can own, 197, i., Bowring, Sir J.; 1098, i., Scottish translations
How holy the Bible, how pure is the light, 921, i., Congreve, G. T.
How honourable is the place (Watts), 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How humble was the Lord of life, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How in my soul delighted, 627, ii., Sturges, T.
How is our nature spoiled by sin, 1267, i., Watts, I.
How joyously amongst the flowers, 117, i., Bateman, H.
How just and merciful is God, 800, ii., New Version
How kind our Father's voice, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How kind our Father's voice, 561, ii., Davis, T.
How large the promise, how divine, 1227, ii., Watts, I.
How long art silent, Lord, how long, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How long forgotten, Lord, by Thee, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
How long, O Lord, Beloved, 288, ii., Dark, J. G.
How long, O Lord, his brother's blood, 655, ii., Gaskell, S.
How long, O Lord, how long? Thy children sigh, 666, ii., Greenwood, J. B.
How long, O Lord, how long we ask, 289, i., Dix, W. C.
How long, O Lord our Saviour, 285, ii., Isaac, J. G.

1371

I CANNOT INDEX. I LOVE 1373

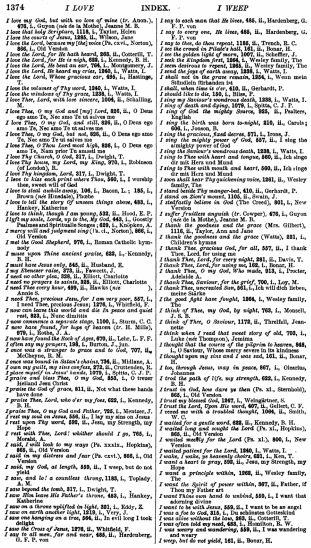
I cannot always trace the way, 1179, ii., 'Tis seldom we
I cannot bear Thine absence, Lord, 1018, i., Watts, I.
I cannot find Thee! Still on restless pinion, 1093, i., Scudder, Eliza
I cannot ill suggests, or quell, 710, i., Mag bh Uaghfach
I cannot make it clear, 1015, i., Thoburn, J.
I cannot, no, I will not let Thee go, 776, i., Dunlop, T.
I cannot plainly see the way, 574, i., Cary, Alice
I cannot share the stroke of death, 188, ii., Brewin, S.
I close my tearful eye, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
I come, O Vater, mit verlangen, 1287, ii., Von Himmel hoch da komm ich her
I come from haste to rest, 1287, ii., Von Himmel hoch da komm ich her
I come, I come! from you celestial clime (tr. Miss Fry), 1, i., Gerhardt, P. Neumond kam in unsern sch her
I come, O Father blind, 1186, ii., Twisleton, E.
I come, O Lord, and wait for Thee, 605, i., Gellert, C. F.
I come to Thee once more, O God, 302, i., Faber, F. W.
I could not do without Thee, 697, i., Havergal, Frances R.
I cried unto the Lord most just, 766, i., Montgomery, J.
I cry to Thee, my dearest Lord, 32, i., Agricola, J.
I cry to Thee, O Christ our Lord, 32, i., Agricola, J.
I did, in heart rejoice (Ps. cxxiii., Kethe), 989, i., Old Version
I did not part from those to go, 1018, i., Schubart, C. F. D.
I did Thee wrong, my God, 589, ii., I weep, but do not yield
I do not ask, O Lord, that life may be, 913, i., Procter, Adelaide A.
I do not love Thee, Lord, To win Thy, 827, i., O Dess ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salves me
I faint, my soul doth faint, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
I find a way in Jesus' name, 819, ii., Eber, P.
I feel within a want, 602, ii., Furness, W. H.
I first resented in Thy praise, 916, i., Ηρώτα νόμον σέβεσθαι
I gave my life for thee, 696, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
I give my heart to Thee, 302, ii., Du warst Mir Gott, der mich erschuf
I give my soul to prayer, 780, ii., Lynch, T. T.
I give Thee back Thine own again, 1077, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
I give Thee hands unfriend (tr. Gambold, st. viii., alt.), 1, i., Gerhardt, P. Mit Hand will Mich und Wunden
I glory in nothing, but in the wounds bloody, 560, ii., Ich rühme mich einzig der blutigen Wunden
I go from grief and sighing, 940, i., Lasset Klag und Trauern fahren
I got no flowers to strew Thy way, 969, ii., Rhe, heart; I grieve, I grieve, my Saviour dear, 1076, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
I grod Thee, my Redeemer sure, 279, i., Je Ta sains, mon certain Redempteur
I grod Thee, who may sure Redeemer art, 279, i., Je Ta sains, mon certain Redempteur; 1069, i., Sanin Sail), Jane C.
I had a message to send her (Sent to heaven, Miss Procter), 915, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
I had a sister dear whom I loved well, 1186, ii., Phebe
I had once four lovely children, 778, ii., Moore, H.
I had one only thing to do, 685, ii., Rice, T.
I have a great High Priest above, 1070, ii., Whitfield, F.
I have a heritage of joy, 783, i., My heart is resting, O my God
I have a home above, 126, i., Bennett, H.
I hear a little trembling light, which still, 1166, i., Sutton, H. D.
I have a work, O Lord, 913, i., Jackson, S. H.
I have a work which Thou hast given, 1166, i., Y. F.
I have fought the good fight; I have finished my race, 1056, ii., Wemyss, J. B.
I have had my days of blessing, 606, i., Gellert, C. F.
I have heard of a land far away, 1041, i., Cousin, E. G.
I have known the Lord, for He has heard, 1035, ii., Gurney, T.
I have no help but Thee, nor do I need, 613, i., Sinn, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face.
I have not hid walkin my breast (Ps. xl.), 985, ii., Old Version
I have heard of a beautiful city, 89, ii., Atchinson, J. B.
I have read of a world of beauty, 799, i., Stevin, E. H.
I have read of the Saviour's love, 1056, i., Shepherd (née Heddibh), Anne
I hear a sound that comes from far, 615, i., Kelly, T.
I hear a sound that comes from far, 615, i., Kelly, T. P.
I hear a voice that comes from far, 615, i., I hear a sound that comes from far; 615, i., Kelly, T.
I hear my Shepherd calling, 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
I hear the accents of Thy love, 1, ii., Steele, Anne
I hear that speak of the better land, 599, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
I hear Thy word with love, 1189, ii., Watts, I.
I heard a voice from heaven, 73, i., Antiphon
I heard the voice of Jesus say, 1041, ii., From heart soon, beside the grave
I heard the Voice of Jesus say, 141, ii., Bonar, H.
I hold the sacred book of God, 972, ii., Usher, E.
I hope ere long to leave behind, 1190, ii., Unitarian Hymnody
I hoped and with the brave and strong, 183, ii., Brontë, Anne
I hunger and thirst, 763, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
I into God's own heart and mind, 613, i., Gerhardt, P.
I journey forth rejoicing, 1190, ii., Evans, L.
I know a Flower so sweet and fair, 1191, i., Walker (née Duck), Mrs. J.
I lay, but translucingly, 695, ii., Klopstock, F. G.
I leave Thee in the land of drought, 769, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
I leave a Saviour to mount and fair, 560, ii., Ich weiss ein Blümlein hübsch und fein, Ich weiss
I know a road and silent god, 692, ii., Lange, J. P.
I know full well death must befall me, 388, i., Franck, S.
I know in Whom I have believed, 1185, ii., Wesley family, The
I know not how I put my trust, 80, i., Arndt, E. M.
I know my end must surely come, 388, i., Franck, S.
I know, my God, and rejoice, 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
I know no life divided, 598, ii., O Jesu, nostre tenne
I know not one hope left to draw me, 686, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
I know not the hour when my Lord will come, 130, ii., Bliss, P.
I know not what I could desire (tr. Miss Lowe), 686, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
I know not what I should long for, 686, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
I know that my Redeemer lives: He is my life already, 397, i., Döring, C. A.
I know that my Redeemer lives, In this my faith is fast, 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
I know that my Redeemer lives, This hope, 610, ii., Gerhardt, P.
I know that my Redeemer liveth, And as He lives, 795, i., Neumeister, E.
I know that my Redeemer liveth, 772, i., Moultrie, G.
I know the doom that must befall me, 388, i., Franck, S.
I know the power was Thine, 1035, ii., Wesley family, The
I know Thy thoughts are peace towards me, 312, i., Downe, J. P. L.
I know Thy voice, my Shepherd, 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
I know Thy words with gladness, 213, ii., Hensser (née Schweizer), Mrin
I know who makes the daisies, 681, ii., Hall, C. N.
I know Whom I believe in, 91, i., Arndt, E. M.
I lay me down with Thee to sleep, 1188, i., Spitzer, C.
I lift my heart to Thee, 1188, i., Spitzer, C.
I lift my heart to Thee, My God and Guide (Ps. xxv., Sternhold), 985, i., Old Version
I lift mine eyes unto the hills, 682, i., Kennedy, B. H.
I lift mine heart to Thee, My God and Guide (Ps. xxv., Sternhold), 985, i., Old Version
I lift my eyes to Thee, My God, my hope, and Stay, 233, ii., Charles, E.
I lift my eyes to Zion hill, From whence I do attend (Ps. cxxi., Whittingham), 986, i., Old Version
I lift my eyes to Zion's hill, For there enthroned I see, 986, i., Old Version
I lift my heart to Thee, My God and Guide (Ps. xxv., Sternhold), 985, i., Old Version
I lift my heart to Thee, Saviour divine, 776, i., Mudie, Mary E.
I long to hear the folk of God, 1056, ii., Streatfeild (née Sale), Charlotte
I long for rest, 1198, ii., Symington, A. J.
I long to behold Him arrayed, 1204, i., Wesley family, The
I look to Thee in every need, 686, ii., Longfellow, S.
I looked, and to my raptured eyes, 1013, ii., Schiefeld, J.
I love a royal only Son, 810, ii., Hensel, Luise
I love her dearly, precious maid, 1037, ii., Sie ist mir lieb und werth, Sie ist
I love, I love Thee, Lord most high, 598, i., O Dess ego amo Te, Nam prior Tu amasti me



I love my God, but with no love of mine (tr. Anon.), 678, i., Gryan (see de la Motte), Joanne M. B.
I love that holy Scripture, 1118, i., Taylor, Helen
I love the church of Jesus, 1285, ii., Wilson, Jane
I love the Lord, because my [the] voice (Ps. cxvi., Norton), 985, i., Old Version
I love the Lord, for He hath heard, 985, ii., Connolly, T.
I love the Lord, for He is nigh, 696, i., Kennedy, B. H.
I love the Lord, He heed no ear, 706, i., Montgomery, J.
I love the Lord, He heard my cries, 1040, i., Watts, I.
I love the Lord, Whom gracious air, 699, i., Hastings, T.
I love the calmness of Thy word, 1040, i., Watts, I.
I love the windows of Thy grace, 1189, i., Watts, I.
I love Thee, Lord, with love sincere, 1006, ii., Schalling, M.
I love Thee, O my God and [my] Lord, 598, ii., O Dess ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvos me
I love Thee, O my God, and still, 598, ii., O Dess ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvos me
I love Thee, O my God, and still, 598, ii., O Dess ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvos me
I love Thee, O Thou Lord most high, 598, i., O Dess ego amo Te, Nam prior Tu amasti me
I love Thy Church, O God, 317, i., Dwight, T.
I love Thy house, my Lord, my King, 975, i., Robinson Crusoe
I love Thy kingdom, Lord, 317, i., Dwight, T.
I love to hear such print where Thou, 590, i., I worship thee, sweet will of God
I love to steal awhile away, 190, i., Bacon, L.; 185, i., Brown (née Hunsale), Phebe
I love to tell the story of unseen things above, 683, i., Hankey, Katherine
I love to think, though I am young, 833, ii., Hood, E. P.
I lift my soule, Lorde, up to Be, My God, 643, i., Gwenly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes; 628, i., Knöpken, A.
I make a perfect judgment sing (Ps. ci., Norton), 985, i., Old Version
I met the Good Shepherd, 976, i., Roman Catholic hymnody
I mine upon Thine ancient pearle, 643, i., Kennedy, B. H.
I must love Jesus only, 560, ii., Husband, R.
I my Maweser raise, 273, ii., Fawcett, J.
I need no other plea, 826, i., Elliott, Charlotte
I need no prayers to screen, 388, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
I need my every hour, 695, ii., Hawkin (née Taylor)
I need Thee, precious Jesus, for I am very poor, 567, i., I need Thee, precious Jesus; 1276, i., Whitfield, F.
I now can leave this world and die In peace and quiet, 1031, ii., Von Himmel
I now rejoice, my voice I raise, 1190, i., Storrs, C. C.
I now have found the Rock of ages, 979, ii., Lyte, L. F. F.
I often say my prayers, 158, i., Barton, J. Jun
I only am a stranger to grace and to God, 707, ii., McGuire, C. E.
I once was bound in Satan's chains, 794, ii., Whitaker, A.
I oon my guilt, my sins confess, 272, ii., Crutteuden, H.
I place myself in Jesus' hands, 1075, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
I praise Thee, Lord, Thee, O my God, 855, i., O treuer Gott, dein Lob
I praise the God of grace, 811, ii., Not what these hands have done
I pray Thee, Lord, who o'er my foes, 682, i., Kennedy, B. H.
I praise Thee, O my God and Father, 766, i., Meuzer, J.
I rest my soul on Jesus, 560, ii., I lay my sins on Jesus
I rest upon Thy word, 590, ii., Jesu, my Strength, my Hope
I rest with Thee, Lord: whether should I go, 708, i., Mendall, A.
I sail, I sail look to my ways (Ps. xxxiii., Hopkins), 985, ii., Old Version
I sail in my distress and fear (Ps. cxvi.), 986, i., Old Version
I said, my God, at length, 589, ii., I weep, but do not yield
I saw, and lo! a countless throng, 1180, i., Toplady, A. M.
I saw beyond the tomb, 577, i., Dwight, T.
I saw Him leave His Father's throne, 620, i., Hankey, Katherine
I saw on a throne uplifted in light, 282, i., Kitty, Z.
I saw one birth another light, 1179, i., Very, J.
I saw one hanging on a tree, 506, ii., In evil long I took delight
I saw the Cross of Jesus, 1276, ii., Whitfield, F.
I say to all men, far and near, 688, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
I say to each man that He loves, 688, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
I say to every one, He loves, 688, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
I say to thee, do thou repent, 1126, ii., Trench, R. C.
I see a people on their way, 1191, i., Bonar, H.
I see the golden light of morn, 1007, ii., Schaffer, J.
I seek the Kingdom first, 1204, i., Wesley family, The
I seen desirous to repent, 1035, i., Wesley family, The
I send the joys of earth away, 1188, i., Watts, I.
I set my heart to seek Thy face, 1204, i., Von mein Herzen
Sehnlichen Trachten ist
I shall, when time is o'er, 610, ii., Gerhardt, P.
I should like to die, 193, i., Bliss, P.
I sing my Saviour's wondrous death, 1189, i., Watts, I.
I sing the almighty power of God, 577, ii., Watts, I.
I sing of God the mighty source, 1035, ii., Cawdell (née Walters), Leighton
I sing the birth was born to-night, 810, ii., Carolin; 695, i., Jonson, B.
I sing the precious blood decree, 271, i., Isaac, J.
I sing the almighty power of God, 577, ii., I sing the almighty power of God
I sing the Saviour's wondrous death, 1189, i., Watts, I.
I sing to Thee with heart and tongue, 560, ii., Ich singe dir mit Herz und Mund
I sing to Thee with mouth and heart, 560, ii., Ich singe dir mit Herz und Mund
I soon shall hear Thy blessing more, 1201, ii., Wesley family, The
I stand beside Thy manger-bed, 810, ii., Gerhardt, P.
I stand on Zion's mount, 1105, ii., Swain, J.
I stepped before in God (The Creed), 801, i., New Version
I suffer fruitless anguish (tr. Cowper), 676, i., Guyon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
I think the goodness and the grace (Mrs. Gilbert), 1201, ii., Wesley family, The
I thank the goodness and the grace (Watts), 221, i., Children's hymns
I thank Thee, gracious God, for all, 557, ii., I thank Thee, Lord, for using me
I thank Thee, Lord, for every sight, 261, ii., Davis, T.
I thank Thee, Lord, for using me, 126, i., Bonar, H.
I thank Thee, O my God, Who made, 213, i., Procter, Adelaide A.
I thank Thee, Saviour, for the grief, 700, i., Lee, M.
I thought the sorrowful Son, 681, i., Ich will dich lehren, mein Kind
I the good fight have fought, 1056, i., Wesley family, The
I think of Thee, my God, by night, 703, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
I think of Thee, O Saviour, 1179, ii., Threlfall, Jonathan
I think when I read that sweet story of old, 793, i., Luke (née Thompson), Jemima
I thought that the course of the pilgrim to heaven, 868, i., O Saviour, Whose mercy saves in its kindness
I thought upon my sins and I was sad, 121, ii., Bonar, H.
I to, through Jesus, way in peace, 967, i., Gisecius, Johannes
I trod the path of life, my strength, 682, i., Kennedy, B. H.
I trust in God, how have ye then (Ps. xi., Sternhold), 985, i., Old Version
I trust my blessed God, 1047, i., Weingärtner, S.
I trust the Lord, Upon His word, 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
I walk with a troubled thought, 1036, ii., Smith, C. C.
I waited for a gentle word, 682, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
I waited long and sought the Lord (Ps. xl., Hopkins), 985, ii., Old Version
I want to be really for the Lord (Ps. xl.), 806, i., New Version
I waited patient for the Lord, 1040, i., Watts, I.
I wake, I wake, to hear my duty, 621, i., Kelly, T.
I want a heart to pray, 590, ii., Jesu, my Strength, my Hope
I want a principle within, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The
I want the Spirit of power within, 907, ii., Father, if in thee my Father art
I want Thee now bend to unbind, 649, i., I want that adorning divine
I want to be with Jesus, 809, ii., I want to be an angel
I was a foe to God, 313, i., Da schlimme Gottesfeind
I was alive without the law, 802, ii., Gutsell, T.
I was a wandering sheep, 1191, ii., Bonar, H. W.
I was weary and wandering, 699, ii., I was wandering and weary
I weep, but do not yield, 161, ii., Bonar, H.

Immortal principles forbid, 1066, ii., So saw-born babes
Immortelle vie hope remains, 1183, i., Tréfadz, A. M.
Impart Thy light, 181, i., Hankinson, E. W.
Imperial Monarch! Judge divine [tr. Chatchert], 1154, i., Συγγενὲς ψυχὴ, λιτάζει
Implora Mored, whereafore tremble (Hostis Herodes impie, tr. Mactill), 5, i., A mois ortis cantins Ad
Impleth goodest viscera, 976, ii., Jam Christus astra ascendorat
Impostors shrinks from light, 1080, ii., Scott, T.
In secrets thanet thy might thout Germans blando anhelo, 1, i., Ausonius Iacta rutilo
In storeth soft the angel mind (hermone blando angelus), 95, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
In all mornings To Thee let there be praise, 1100, ii., Syrian hymnody
In all my cares especiated ways, 904, i., Ryland, J.
In all my sad sentrows with Thee, 1200, i., Watts, I.
In all the paths my feet pursue, 1040, ii., Shrubsole, W.
In eye and feeldeous sstrous, 528, ii., I ten, forwarned by Jesu' is
In his dwelling Thou Highest, 973, ii., Flemming, P.
In all my troubles, sharp and long, 698, ii., Killingball, J.
In all my troubles, sharp and strong, 694, ii., Killingball, J.
In all my troubles, sharp and strong, 694, ii., Killingball, J.
In all the ways, O God, 123, i., Beddome, B.
In all the ways and works of God, 265, ii., Cotterill, T.
In all things like Thy brethren, Thou, 72, ii., Anstice, J.; 695, i., Lord, Thou in all things like unto made
In all Thou didst while here on earth, 236, i., Clarke, S.
In allen unsren Thaten, 978, ii., Flemming, P.; 413, i., German hymnody
In answer to ten thousand prayers, 1068, i., Wesley family, The
In Babylon shall living waters spring, 217, i., Dwight, T.
In battleden He first arose, 981, i., Rhinart, F.
In battleden the Lord of glory, 981, i., Rhinart, F.
In Bathlehem the Lord was born, 981, i., Rhinart, F.
In Bethlem's hill, in time of old, 983, ii., Pearse, M. G.
In cares of the lone wilderness thy youth (Astra deserti inserta ab annis), 1205, i., Ut quanti laxis resonare fibris
In Christ my life abideth (tr. Russell), 233, i., Christus Est his nach Leben
In Christ my life is hidden (tr. Frothingham), 233, i., Christus dat ist mein Leben
In Christi Wunden schlief ich ein (Ehe?), 230, i., Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit; 312, ii., Rhee, P.; 987, i., Schmolck, B. Christe
In Christ's dear bloom with courage bear, 96, i., Advertus mundi bilem
In countless pictures I beheld thee, 696, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
In darker days and nights of storm, 982, i., Parker, T.
In days gone bears I hear a voice, 1035, ii., Watsonian, H.
In darkness as in light, 981, i., For ever with the Lord
In days of old on Sinai, 594, i., Καρὰ Ἰησοῦ : 969, i., Syrian hymnody
In death's dark prison Jesus lay [tr. H. Mills], 230, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
In death's strong bonds Christ Jesus lay, 230, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
In death's strong bonds our Saviour lay, For our offences, 230, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
In death's strong grasp the Saviour lay, For our offences, 230, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
In deep affliction I cry to Thee, Lord, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
In deep distress I cry to Thee, O Lord, my God (tr. F. C.), 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
In deepest distress I cry to Thee, 97, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
In deepest distress I sore cried (Ps. cxx.), 801, i., New Version
In deep distress to God I cried, And He scanned my sorrows, 1180, i., To God with mournful voice
In deep distress to God I poured my cares and grief, 1180, i., To God with mournful voice
In deep humiliation, 733, ii., Millard, J. E.
In den lasst jener Freuden, 57, i., Allendorf, J. L. C.
In der angst der Welt will ich nicht klagen, 1076, i., 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
In dieses Jammerthal, 216, ii., Verbum caro factum est, Ex virgine Maria
In dich hab ich gehofft, Herr, 955, i., Reinser, A.
In die Segel setzt Gott Lindo, 593, i., Feugel, F. H. C. de la Motte
In dieser Abendstunde, erhör ich, 216, ii., Cünz, H.
In die ist Freude, 977, i., Lindemann, J.
In dieser stillesten verbleiben Zeit, 1040, i., Selnecker, N.
In Gottes Wort ist, Jerusalem luminosa; 930, ii., Latin hymnody
In shadd and dread dismay, 699, ii., Haverpal, W. H.
In dulci jubilo, 413, ii., German hymnody
In dulci jubilo, nun singet und seid froh, 504, i., In dulci jubilo singet und sei vroh
In dulci jubilo, now let us sing with mirth and joy, 504, i., In dulci jubilo singet und sei vro
In dulci jubilo, sing and shout, all below, 504, i., In dulci jubilo singet und sei vro
In dulci jubilo—our the house of God we'll go, 504, i., In dulci jubilo singet und sei vro
In duties and its sufferings for, 125, i., Beddome, B.
In each breeze that wanders from, 1230, ii., Watterston, G.
In Eden's garden, fair and bright, 117, i., Bateman, H.
In every deed and word, 972, ii., Flemming, P.
In every time and place, 1253, ii., Wesley family, The
In every trouble, sharp and strong, 694, ii., Killingball, J.
In every trying hour, 698, ii., Killingball, J.
In eyele here we wander, 502, i., Ich bin ein Gast auf Erden
In expectation sweet, 1150, i., Swain, J.
In faith and hope we bring this child, 603, i., Gregory, T.
In faith, O teach us, 979, i., Jolesky, J.
In faith we sing this song of thanksgiveness, 512, ii., Herbert, J.
In fellowship alone, 1066, i., Soldiers of Christ, arise, and put your armour on
In flowing measures sweetly to sing, 1203, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
In form I long had heard the hour, 618, i., Kelly, T.
In Gethsemane Jesus prayed, 1035, ii., Schmolck, B.
In Gnaden's hand a mighty store, 1199, i., Watts, I.
In garments bright of nuptials white (tr. Bethune), 14, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
In garments digbt of virgin white (tr. Copeland), 13, ii., Ad regias Agni dapes
In God, O God, Thou Exalted (tr. H. Mills), 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
In God I trust, for as I want, 633, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall songes; 1076, ii., Spenser, E.
In God I trust, Lord Jesus, 921, ii., O Jesu, Du aus reiche Gnade
In God my faithful God, 1267, i., Weingärtner, S.
In God the Lord be glad and light (Ps. v., Anon.), 806, i., Old Version
In God the Lord I put my trust (Ps. xi.), 965, i., Old Version
In God the Lord must just, 1267, i., Weingärtner, S.
In God's holy dwelling, 1097, ii., Harwell, T. A.
In God's name let us on our way, 594, ii., In Gottes Namen fahren wir
In God's name we our way do go, 594, ii., In Gottes Namen fahren wir
In God's own house precannot His praise, 1205, i., Watts, I.
In God's right hand, in countless numbers, 723, ii., Montgomery, J.
In Gottes Reich darf nur ist gut nicht, 443, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall songes; 1074, i., Spenser, E.
In heavenly love abiding, 573, ii., Ist Gott für mich, so trete
In heaven the rapturous song begins, 723, ii., Medley, S.
In heavenly love abiding, 1253, ii., Waring, Anna L.
In His mother's pure embrace, 86, ii., Ave, plena gratia
In His temple now behold Him, 949, i., Pye, H. J.
In hoc anni circulo, 1216, ii., 1217, i., Verbum caro factum est, Ex virgine Maria
In holy books we read how God hath spoken, 942, i., Old Version
In holy contemplation, Give me, 911, ii., Davis, T.
In holy contemplation, we recently now gazing, 1067, i., Sometimes a light surprises
In hope against all human hope, 309, ii., Father of Jesus Christ, and Lord
In humble adoration, 1256, i., Clarke, S. C.
In hunger, watch, and prayer, 599, ii., Jesu quadragenarius
In hymns of joy your voices raise, 181, i., Blomfield, C. J.
In Israel's fane, by silent night, 815, i., Cawood, J.
In Jesus' arms for soul doth rest (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 51, i., Allendorf, J. L. C.
In Jesu. See also In Jes.

In Jordan Thou didst sanctify, 1094, i., Wordsworth, C.
In joy and peace I onward fare, 700, i., Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin
In Judah, God of old was known, 1200, i., Watts, I.
In Judah the Almighty's known (Ps. lxxvi.), 900, ii., New Version
In Judah's land let Zion's sons, 939, i., How honourable is the city
In Jury land God is and known (Ps. lxxvi., Post), 1059, ii., Scottish hymnody
In latter days the mount of God (Anon.), 168, ii., Bruce, M.; 1098, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
In life's fair Spring, 679, i., Gwyllim, A.
In life's gay dawn, when sprightly youth, 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
In life's gay morn, when sprightly youth, 146, ii., Hall, J.; 505, ii., In life's gay dawn, when sprightly youth
In land confined strodes, 385, ii., Francis, B.
In love, the Father's sinless Child, 1187, i., The Son of God in mighty love
In lovely Thy living appeareth, 981, i., Rhinart, F.
In manig a form I see thee oft, 696, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
In mansuetis suspiremus, 886, ii., Hilary; 960, i., Latin hymnody
In my place Thy dwelling (tr. Jacobi, 1732), 1300, ii., Syrian hymnody
In me ye may have peace, 150, i., Bliss, P.
In meiner ersten Hölle, 679, i., Gwyllim, A.
In meiner Noth ruf ich zu dir, 804, i., Binder, B.
In memory of the Saviour's love, 147, i., Steed's visit to the Sacrament of the Church
In memory of Thy love, 668, i., Gregory, J. G.
In mercy, Jesus, Thou hast brought, 1216, ii., Verbogne Gotten liebe da
In mercy, Lord, remember me, 816, ii., Hertzog, J. F.
In mercy, not in wrath, rebuke, 804, i., Newton, J.
In mercy, not in wrath, rebuke (tr. Dostoïefsky), 1208, ii., Vos clara sine inanes
In my distress I sought my God (Ps. xviii.), 805, i., Old Version
In my Father's house on high, 804, i., In domo Patris mansiones sunt
In my soft bed, when quite alone, 127, i., Bateman, H.
In Nineveh in olden time, 99, ii., Alexander (née Hamilton), Cecil F.
In Night's dim shadows lying, 660, i., In noctis umbrâ latentes
In numbers, and but these few (Hervick), 210, ii., Carols
In oderen ungenderten, 79, i., Antiphon
In our fraternal bond of love, 1185, i., The glorious universe around
In Ost und West we believe (tr. Miss Fry), 1287, ii., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
In one true God we all believe (tr. Macdonald), 1287, ii., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
In our common celebration, 893, ii., Omnes una celebremus
In our Lord's atoning grief, 668, i., In passione Domini, qua datur salus brutis
In our Lord's grief and anxiety, 985, i., Fouqué, F. H. C. de la Motte
In our work and in our play, 803, i., Dix, W. C.
In Paradise repairing, 660, i., Lilliedale, R. F.
In passione Domini, qui datur salus brutis, 168, i., In passione Domini
In patient faith old Christ shall come, 778, ii., Mendelsohn, J.
In peace and joy sunny I go, 700, i., Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin
In peace and joy I now depart, according to, 700, i., Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin
In peace and joy I now depart, Ja, 700, i., Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin
In peace and joy I now depart, It is, 700, i., Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin
In peace and joy I now depart, Now, 700, i., Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin
In peace I'll lie down to sleep, 1056, i., Sutton, C.
In pleasant lands have fallen the lines, 979, i., Flint, J.
In praise to God, let all the people join (Ps. cxvii.), 1, i., Old Version
In prayer all reverence let us Fall (Omnes ut orem censeo), 966, i., Quod hoc adunitatis votus
In prayer together let us Fall, 966, ii., Ex more docti mystico
In prayer our voices raise ye (tr. J. Kelly), 611, i., Gebhardt, F.
In realms of everlasting light, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody
In robes of judgment, he, He comes, 1060, i., Watts, I.
In regal robes of splendour, 1095, i., Hosa regni splendore
In shadowy night, whilst drowsy sleep, 696, i., In nocte umbrâ densâ
In Shiloh, where thine ark was stored, 1196, i., Tyrone, C. E.
In sicht's sorens oblivion hid, 680, i., Hawksworth, J.
In solem curae, ad holy love, 959, ii., Ex more docti mystico
In songs of glad thanksgiving, 680, i., Littledale, R. F.
In songs of sublime adoration and praise, 537, i., How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
In sorrow and distress, 1206, i., Wordsworth, C.
In sorrow steeped, with harris forlorn (Tristes erant spoliati), 95, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
In sweetest silence do we hold (Ps. civ., Norton), 1100, i., Syrian hymnody
In Thyself, Lord, we must Thee rest, 1276, ii., Whitfield, G.
In sisters grave the heavenly Child, 986, ii., Divina consolus Puer
In the blessings of the gates (Lagan), 198, ii., Bruce, M.; 1098, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
In their ensured let all the anthem sing, Alleluia, 954, i., Cantemus omnes melodum nunc, Alleluia
In their graves while they lie, 1253, ii., Waring, Anna L.
In there soul trials we must see, 709, ii., Lyte, H. F.
In tenderest pastor solitudines from haunts of men (Astra deserti inserta ab annis), 1205, i., Ut quanti laxis resonare fibris
In tenebris nostris et dram caligine nemis (Cameracensis), 1, i., Ausonius Iacta rutilo
In thankful songs our hearts we lift, 120, i., Bell, C. C.
In that book so old and holy, 210, ii., Hemel, Luise
In that dim and sinful day, 803, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
In that sad memorial night, 1265, i., Wesley family, The
In the bonds of death Christ lay, Prisoner, 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
In the bonds of death He lay, Christ, 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
In the homing-drove of Moses, 772, ii., Moultrie, J.
In the luminous earth regions yet, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
In the beginning was the Word, 688, ii., Longfellow, S.
In the bonds of death He lay, Who, 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
In the bonds of life, when youth, 505, ii., In life's gay dawn, when sprightly youth
In the Christian's home in glory, 605, i., Harmer, G. T.
In the Cross of Christ I glory, 166, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
In the Cross of Christ we glory, 166, ii., In the Cross of Christ I glory
In the dark and cloudy day, 881, i., Rawson, G.
In the dark and silent night, 670, i., Lowes, Jaye E.
In the day of my (thy) distress, 827, i., Conder, J.
In the day of thy distress in days, 127, i., Bowring, Sir J.
In the early morning hours, 1217, i., Verbum caro factum est, Ex virgine Maria
In the evening there is weeping, 697, i., Havergal, Frances R.
In the Father spring-time, 119, ii., Baxter (née), Lydia
In the far celestial land (tr. Mrs. Chester), 966, ii., O qualis cunctarum laetitia
In the fields with their flocks abiding, 985, ii., Farrer, W.
In the fonds of tribulation, 698, i., Pearse, S.
In the Feast of life perennial, 13, ii., Ad perennis vitae fontem
In the glad morn of life, when youth, 505, ii., In life's gay dawn, when sprightly youth
In the Garden of perfection, 670, i., Rea, T.
In the garden of the Saviour, 1217, i., Verbum caro factum est, Ex virgine Maria
In the grey of the morning when shadow pass away, 697, i., Ἡλιουργὸς ἐκ ἐν Νοτὶς κυβρεῖ
In the hollow of Thine hand, 595, i., Dix, W. C.
In the land of Judah (Ps. lxxvi.), 1059, ii., Scottish hymnody
In the hour of deep distress, 803, ii., In the hour of my distress
In the hour of doubt and sorrow, 956, i., Nicholson, H. H.
In the hour of my distress, 977, ii., Litanies
In the hour of trial (Montgomery), 691, ii., Harland, E.; 874, i., Dewald, H. S.
In the light, Lord, of Thy cross, 630, ii., Lange, J. P.
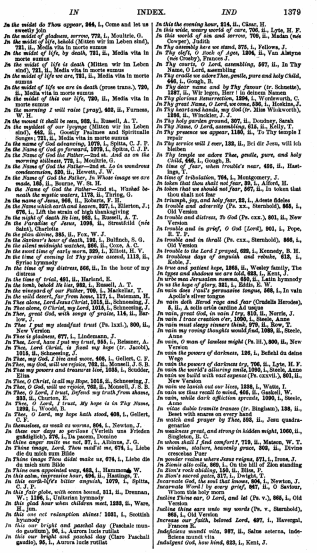
In the lone deserts, in the caves and coverts (Astra deserti inserta ab annis), 1205, i., Ut quanti laxis resonare fibris
In the Lord's atoning grief, 668, i., In passione Domini, qua datur salus brutis



In the midst do Thou appear, 866, i., Come and let us worship God
In the midst of darkness, sorrow, 772, i., Moultrie, G.
In the midst of life, behold (Mitten wir im Leben sind), 721, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
In the midst of life, by death, 721, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
In the midst of life to death (Mitten wir im Leben sind), 721, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
In the midst of life we are, 721, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
In the midst of life we are in death (prose trans.), 720, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
In the midst of this our life, 720, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
In the morning I will raise (pray), 460, ii., Furness, W. H.
In the morning it shall be seen, 883, i., Russell, A. T.
In the name of God advancing, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P. (Mitten wir im Leben sind), 665, ii., Goudy Psalms and Spirituals Singers, 721, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
In the name of God advancing, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
In the Name of God go forward, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
In the name of God we rise (Wir stehen auf zu an the morning stillness, 775, i., Moultrie, G.
In the Name of God the Father—and pt. 2a ca soundness condemnation, 220, ii., Hewett, J. W.
In the Name of God the Father, In Whose image we are made, 1173, ii., Tiring, G.
In the Name of God the Father—God at., Wisdom beneath the mystic watery, 1173, ii., Tiring, G.
In the name of Jesus, 866, ii., Roberts, F. H.
In the Name which earth and heaven, 227, i., Elleton, J.
In the night of death, 1024, i., Bonar, H.
In the midst of death, In this, 1024, i., Bonar, H. T.
In the Paradise of Jesus, 1059, ii., Stracklin (née Sabin), Charlotte
In the plain dismay, 285, ii., Fox, W. J.
In the sad midnight's watches, 892, ii., Bulfinch, S. G.
In the silent midnight watches, 892, ii., Cross, A. G.
In the sweet time of early morn, 220, i., Elliott, H. V.
In the time of earning let Thy praise sound, 1119, ii., Syriac hymnary
In the time of my distress, 666, ii., In the hour of my distress
In the time of trial, 461, ii., Harford, E.
In the tomb, behold its law, 892, i., Russell, A. T.
In the vineyard of our Father, 709, i., Mackellar, T.
In the valley dost Thou from home, 1171, i., Bateman, H.
In Thee alone, Lord Jesus, 1059, i., Schoenefeld, J.
In Thee, O Christ, my Lord, 1059, i., Schoenefeld, J.
In Thee, great God, with songs of praise, 118, ii., Service, J.
In Thee I put my steadfast trust (Ps. lxxi.), 800, ii., New Version
In Thee, Jesus, 877, i., Lindemann, Z.
In Thee, Lord, have I put my trust, 595, i., Belmer, A.
In Thee, Lord Christ, is Israel my hope (tr. Jacob), 1015, ii., Schoenefeld, J.
In Thee, my God, I live and move, 426, i., Gellert, C. F.
In Thee, O Christ, in all my Hope, 1012, ii., Schoenefeld, J.
In Thee my powers and treasures live, 1058, i., Scudder, Elias
In Thee, O Christ, in all my Hope, 1012, ii., Schoenefeld, J.
In Thee, O God, will we rejoice, 762, ii., Mossell, J. S. S.
In Thee, O Lord, I trust, My hoped my truth from shame, 253, ii., Clayton, E.
In Thee, O Lord, I trust, My hope is in Thy Name, 1202, i., Wrodd, B.
In Thee, O Lord, my hope hath stood, 603, i., Gellert, C. F.
In thematics, as much as nurses, 956, i., Newton, J.
In thine our days so perilous (Verleih uns Frieden gnädiglich), 276, i., Im pearls, Dessins
In thine anger make me not, 27, i., Altenau, J. G.
In thine anger make me not, 27, i., Altenau, J. G.
In thine image Thou didst make us, 674, i., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
In Thine image Thou didst make us, 674, i., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
In Thine own appointed way, 625, i., Havergal, W.
In this earthly life, 1084, ii., Hemming, W.
In this earth-life's bitter anguish, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
In this Judge, with scorn bowed, 311, ii., Drennan, —, 1156, i., Victorian hymnary
In this glad hour when children meet, 1080, ii., Ware, H., jun.
In this our redemption shines! 1005, i., Scottish Paraphrases
In this our bright and painful day (Punkuh mun-da-gunkinj), 20, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
In this our bright and painful day (Clara Punkuh gundin), 20, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
In this the evening hour, 214, ii., Clear, H.
In this world of care and sorrow, 766, ii., Lyte, H. F.
In this world of sin and sorrow, 766, ii., Mahan (née Cowper), Judith
In Thy assembly here we stand, 275, i., Fellows, J.
In Thy depth, O truth of type, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
In Thy courts, O Lord, kneeling, 367, ii., In Thy House, O Lord, we kneel
In Thy cradle we adore Thee, gentle, pure and holy Child, 695, i., Gough, B.
In Thy dear name and by Thy favour (tr. Schmolck), 1187, ii., We begin, Here I to-day, Honour
In Thy fear, O Lord, we worship, 1187, ii., Wordsworth, C.
In Thy great Name, O Lord, we come, 536, i., Hoskins, J.
In Thy heart and hands, my God (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1203, ii., Winkler, J. J.
In Thy holy garden grazed, 307, ii., Dunbar, Sarah
In Thy name we are gathered, 1180, ii., To Thy Temple I repair
In Thy name we appear, 1180, ii., To Thy Temple I repair
In Thy service will I rest, 133, ii., Bei dir Jesu, will ich Ruhen
In Thy temple we adore Thee, gentle, pure, and holy Child, 695, i., Gough, B.
In time of fear, when trouble's near, 425, ii., Hastings, T.
In time of tribulation, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
In times that we should not fear, 227, ii., Elleton, J. H.
In times that we should not fear, 227, ii., In times that thou shalt not fear
In triumph, joy and holy fear, 22, i., Adeste fideles
In trouble and adversity (Ps. xx., Sternhold), 868, i., Old Version
In trouble and distress, To God (Ps. cxx.), 901, ii., New Version
In trouble and in grief, O God [Lord], 895, i., Pope, C. W. F.
In trouble I cried in thrall (Ps. cxx., Sternhold), 866, i., Old Version
In trouble to the Lord I prayed, 698, i., Kennedy, B. H.
In troubling days of anguish and rebuke, 813, i., Leslie, J.
In trustful patient hope, 1060, ii., Wesley family, The
In types and shadows we are told, 923, i., Kent, J.
In vain [In vaine] we take in hand (Ps. cxxvii., Sternhold), 901, i., Old Version
In vain we build with vast expense (Ps. cxxvii.), 901, ii., New Version
In vain we lavish our vows, 1188, i., Watts, I.
In vain, while dark affliction spreads, 1202, i., Steele, Anne
In vain, while dark affliction spreads, 1202, i., Steele, Anne
In Thine adobe tramite transes (tr. Bingham), 138, ii., Ware, H.
In union with sweet accord, 1060, ii., Wesley family, The
In unum sub omne and prayer by Thee, 252, ii., Jam quadragesime
In weakness great, and strong in hidden might, 1060, ii., Bingham, R. C.
In whom shall I find comfort, 719, ii., Mason, W. T.
In yonder realms of heavenly green, 909, ii., Divine covenant Poor
In yonder realms where Jesus reigns, 271, i., Jesus, J.
In Zion's city abiding, 180, ii., Ware, H.
In Zion's vast abiding, 180, ii., Ware, H.
Incarnate God, the soul that knows, 956, i., Newton, J.
Incarnate Word! by every grief, 667, ii., O Saviour, Jesus with holy tears
Incline Thine ear, O Lord, and let (Ps. v.), 866, i., Old Version
Incline thine ears unto my words (Ps. v., Sternhold), 868, i., Old Version Increase our faith, beloved Lord, 627, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Indefinite unselfish vain, 597, ii., Saint saviour, indefinite Rejoice unreal vita
Indulgent God, how kind, 833, i., Kent, J.

1380

Infant born in Bethlehem, Born to save Jerusalem, 940, ii., Pour natus in Bethlehem
Infantem, nobis natus ad the world to free, 777, i., Mundi salus qui nascitur
Infant sorrow, infant weakness, 668, ii., Gracious Saviour, gentle Shepherd
Infantis excellence is Thine, 273, ii., Fawcett, J.
Infantis Jesu, Thy greatness spanned, 693, i., Lord of the wide-extended main
Infantis Jesu, Thy greatness spanned, 693, i., Lord of the wide-extended main
Infantis God, to Thee we raise, 1193, i., To Deum laudamus, to Thee we raise Infantis proof, consoling one, 1188, ii., Watts, I.
Infantis tongues beyond the sky, 690, ii., Lord, we are blind, we mortals blind
Infantis love, what precious stores, 1035, ii., Waterbury, J. E.
Infirmity touched the heart, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Infinite Power, eternal Lord, 1237, i., Watts, I.
Infinite Spirit, who art round us over, 231, ii., Clarke, C. F.
Infinite, unashamed love, 1203, i., Wesley family, The Inheritance, oh cause dark heaven, 218, i., Green, J.
Inn, thou pilgrims, for the way, 251, i., Enquire, ye pilgrims, for the way
Inscribed upon the Cross we see, 1264, ii., We sing the praise of Him Who died
Inscrutable to me although, 202, i., Cranmer, J. A.
Insect, that feeds on every leaf, 1207, ii., What though my frail eyelids refuse
Inspirers of the ancient seers, 1266, i., Wesley family, The Instruct me in Thy statutes, Lord (Ps. cxix.), 901, i., New Version
Intende qui regis Israel, 1211, ii., Veni Redemptor gentium
Interni Patri gaudia, 27, ii., Aeterni Patri gaudia
Interval of grateful shade, 300, ii., English hymnody
Into a world of sighs sent, 220, i., Jesu, my Mother and my Love
Into Christ's flock we are received, 1209, i., Yonge, Charlotte M.
Into His summer garden, 226, i., Cleghorn, Elizabeth C.
Into the Holy Paradise (Ins Paradeis gehn alle), 1059, ii., Ins Paradeis gehn alle seligkeit, 72, iii., Innerstes begin
Into the garden-shade to pray, 725, i., Monsur, J.
Into the silent land, 683, i., Longfellow, H. W.
Into the silent land, 683, i., Longfellow, H. W.
Invenite rutilii dum lucet luminis, 643, ii., Latin hymnody
Invicte martyr unicum (Rom. Brev. text), 25, i., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum; 716, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et Innocent we, 73, ii., Anstyces
Ipse venit, generis Judex conclusione nostri, 967, i., O quickly come, Great Judge of all
Ir Bleiden, was tibt ir uns nait, 443, i., Goostly Psalmes and spirituall Songes
Iste Confessor Domini sacratus, Salvete Christi vultores
Is earth too fair, is youth too bright?, 622, i., Gill, T. H.
Is God for me? I fear not, 573, ii., Ist Gott für mich, so trete
Is God for me? I fear not, 573, ii., Ist Gott für mich, so trete
Is God for me? what is it, 573, ii., Ist Gott für mich, so trete
Is God His strong salvation, 573, ii., Ist Gott für mich, so trete
Is God withdrawing? all the cost (Watts), 575, ii., Jacob, J. C.
Is heaven a clime where diamond dews, 572, ii., Is heaven a place where diamond streets, 572, ii., Is heaven a place where pearly streams, 572, ii., Is heaven a place where pearly streams, 572, ii., Is heaven a place where pearly streams, 572, i., Bailey, T. C.
Is it for me, dear Saviour?, 497, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Is not my spirit filled with Thine, 622, i., Gill, T. H.
Is not this our King and prophet?, 272, i., Jesus, W. J.
Is qui prius habitum mortalem induit, 824, i., Notker
Is there a clime where purer beams, 572, ii., Is there in heaven and earth who can
Is there a lone and dreary hour?, 625, ii., Gilman (née Howard), Caroline
Is there a mourner true?, 1158, ii., The year begin with sighs
Is there a thing too hard for Thee, 960, ii., O that Thou wouldst the heavens rend
Is there a time when moments flow, 332, i., Edmeston, J.
Is there ambition in my heart?, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Is there man could ever reckon?, 967, ii., Quisquis valet numerare
Is there no balm to soften grief?, 1251, ii., Wallace, J. C.
Is there no hope for those who lie?, 1095, ii., Stone, S. J.
Is there one heart, dear Saviour, here?, 893, i., Parson Is there one who sees my face
Is there one who sees my face, 798, i., Neale, J. M.
Is this the kind return?, 1238, i., Watts, I.
Is this the Son of God?, 884, i., Gause, H. D.
Is this the standard of a King?, 1251, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
Is thy cross of comfort wanting, 778, ii., Is the cross of comfort wanting
Is thy heart stirred to know, 662, ii., Lamvell, L.
Is Thy work all ended, Lord?, 772, ii., Moore, H.
Isaiah, seer, that prophet old, 1264, i., Isaiah, dem Propheten, das geschah
Isles of the deep, rejoice, rejoice, 288, ii., Denny, Sir E.
Isles of the South, your redemption is nearing, 292, i., Isles of the South, your Israel beneath her Freedom goes, 607, ii., Joyce, J.
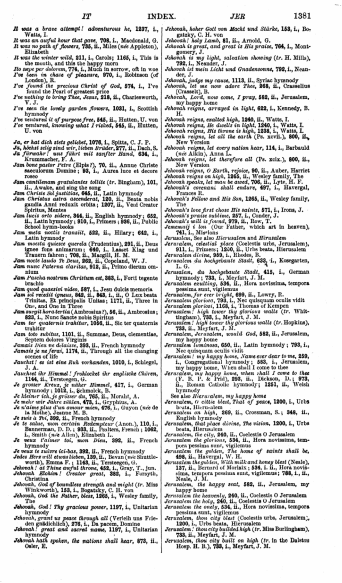
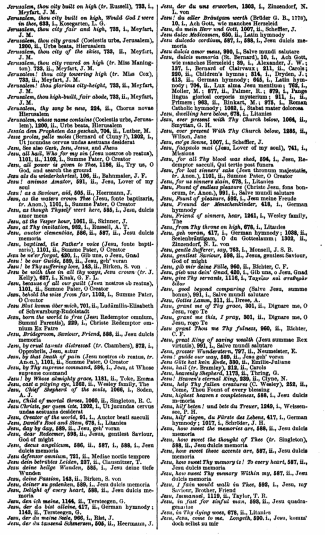
Israel of God, awaken, 627, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Israel of God, be Christ your Guide, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Israel's Shepherd, guide me, feed me, 142, i., Bickersteth, E.
Ist genug für deinen Simon, 779, ii., Moore, H.
Ista confessor Domini colendo, 273, ii., Iste confessor Domini sacratus
Iste confessor Domini sacratus, 266, ii., Latin hymnody
Iste Confessor Domini sacratus, 266, ii.,
Isti 't ja ist gutchen, 1264, i., Ehrenfried, S. J., von Isti mirificis, hanc tibi sanctissima gaudet aula, 278, ii., Venantius, F.
It came upon the midnight clear, 1036, i., Sears, E. H.
It is a day of gladness, 1215, i., Herrmann (née Bowen), Claudia F.
It is a day of gladness, 1215, i., Herrmann (née Bowen), Claudia F.
It is a precious priestly Meet, 1078, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
It is a thing both good and weal (Ps. xcii., Hopkins), 868, ii., Old Version
It is a thing most wonderful, 661, i., How, W. W.
It is a time of joy to-day, 611, ii., Gerhardt, P.
It is an easy thing to say, 638, ii., Kimball, Harriet McE.
It is an unknown way, 527, ii., Hobson, J. P.
It is by faith Enoch walked, 1188, i., Watts, I.
It is by faith Enoch walked with God, 1188, i., Watts, I.
It is complete. My God, I thank Thy care, 679, ii., Gryphius, A.
It is evening, and the hour, Lord, 698, i., Knapp, A.
It is finished! Babylon is fallen! 295, ii., Bonar, H.
It is finished, blessed Jesu (Passion), 709, i., Maclagan, W. D.
It is finished! finished! yes, 272, ii., Gryphius, A.
It is finished! Glorious word, 195, i., Bulfinch, S. G.
It is finished! He hath seen (sept), 209, i., Caddall, Martha W.
It is finished, Man of Sorrows! From Thy cross, 506, ii., Hedge, F. H.
It is finished! sinners, hear it, 813, i., Kelly, T.
It is finished! sinners, hear it, 813, i., Kelly, T.
It is my constant comfort, Lord, 975, i., Roman Catholic hymnody
It is to earthly summer's ray (Incerta hæc), 94, i., Aurea hæc ut decora rosa
It is well with my soul, 806, ii., Offord, H. M.
It is well with my soul, 1235, ii., Waring, Anna L.
It is not death to die, 139, i., Bethune, G. W.; 718, ii., Malan, H. A. C.; 815, i., Non, ce n'est pas mourir
It is not death to die, 139, i., Bethune, G. W.; 718, ii., 1145, i., To whom but Thee, Lord, shall we go?
It is not words or power, or state, 1231, ii., Wallace, J. C.
It is not that the voice can wash our God, 809, ii., Non It is not the Lord that reigneth, 1206, i., Wesley family, The
It is the Lord, Who doth not grieve, 1206, i., Wesley family, The
It is the solemn midnight hour, 722, i., Medias noctis tempore
It is the sun-less light, 1117, ii., Taylor, Emily
It is winter. All seems dead or dying (tr. E. Manks), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
It is winter; and the wide domain (tr. Maguire), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
It is winter. The wide realm of Nature, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
It may not be our lot to wield, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.

1381





JES INDEX. JES 1383

Jesu, Jesu, komm zu mir, 590, i., Jesu, komm' doch zu mir

Jesu, King of sinless infancy, 578, ii., Litanies

Jesu, King of Salem, Whose Name (Salve Jesu Sanctorum), 590, ii., Salve mundi salutare

Jesu, let Thy pitying eye, 1855, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesu, let Thy sufferings ease me, 590, i., By the picture of Thy cross

Jesu, Life of those who die, 578, ii., Litanies

Jesu! life! the life of heaven, 851, ii., Montgomery, R. C.

Jesu, Light of souls indwelling, 705, i., Lux alma Jesu mentis

Jesu, Lord and Master great (Jesu Deus et magister, fr. Anon.), 1193, ii., Summa Patre, O Creator

Jesu, Lord and Saviour, 598, ii., Jesu, gentlest Saviour, God of might

Jesu, Lord, at dead of night, 1861, ii., Skinner, J.

Jesu, Lord, at home, 1862, ii., Skinner, J.

Jesu, Lord, enthroned on high, 578, i., Litanies

Jesu, Lord, for sins of mine, 1861, ii., Skinner, J.

Jesu, Lord most mighty, Humbly we adore (Russell), 878, ii., Litanies; 959, i., Russell, A. T.

Jesu, Lord of life and glory, 600, i., Jesu, Lord of life and glory, bend to us

Jesu! Lord so great and glorious, 1303, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von

Jesu, Lord, Thy praise we sing, 1209, ii., Stephano Novello Soli Deo

Jesu, Lord, to me impart, 301, ii., Dignare me, O Jesu, rogo Te

Jesu, Lord, we kneel before Thee, 600, i., Jesu, Lord of life and glory

Jesu, Lord, we look to Thee, 1855, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesu, Lord, Who three long hours, 1861, ii., Skinner, J.

Jesu, Lord, with dazzling brow, 1861, ii., Skinner, J.

Jesu, Lover of my soul (C. Wesley), 479, i., Hail the day that sees Him rise; 590, i., Jesu, Lover of my soul; 796, ii., Methodist hymnody; 799, ii., 761, i., Missions

Jesu Salvatorne (Jesus Sospitor mi), 995, ii., Saviour breathe an evening blessing

Jesu, saviour, doth me call, 1855, ii., Tyrone, G. R.

Jesu, soul and body, 982, ii., Collins, H.

Jesu, sein Erlasmer! hire, 1145, ii., Tuntegem, G.

Jesu, seine Freud und Wonne, 614, i., German hymnody

Jesu, seine Freude, deines Herzens Weide, 596, ii., Franck, J.; 614, i., German hymnody

Jesu meine Hoffnung, 1007, i., Schaffer, J.

Jesu, meine Zuversicht, 599, ii., Jesus bleib mit ihm auch ich

Jesu, meiner Seele Leben, 616, ii., German hymnody

Jesu, mother Jesus Triune, 979, i., Jesus, M.

Jesu, meines Lebens Leben, 985, i., Gerber, L. A.; 831, ii., Homburg, E. C.

Jesu! memorial name so sweet, 597, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, mihi dulcissime, Dumine conservem, 599, ii., Domes jesu, animæ, invitalium spiritu

Jesu, most loving God, 985, ii., Petits enterni Scholes cœurs

Jesu, most loving One, Who from Thy glory's throne, 599, ii., Jesu dulcissime, e throno gloriæ

Jesu, my all in all, 1855, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesu, my Bridegroom, 1855, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesu, my heart, my light, my joy, 10, ii., Ach Gott, wie manches Herzeleid

Jesu, my only Friend above, 907, ii., Father, I cast a thankful heart

Jesu! my heart's most joyful tone, 628, ii., Lange, J. C.

Jesu, my joy-giving, 598, i., Jesu mentæ Fronde

Jesu, my King, to Thee I bow, 1861, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, my light and sure defence, 127, i., Rohm, M.

Jesu, my Lord and God, Thou art (tr. Russell), 59, i., Ach Gott, wie manches Herzeleid

Jesu, my Lord, my God, my Friend, 1861, ii., Collins, H.

Jesu, my Lord, my Shepherd, 1861, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Jesu, my Truth, my Way, 1855, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesu, Name all names above, 1149, i., Translations of the Studium

Jesu, Name of sweetest thought, 597, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, save the hard crust bearing (Jesu, crucem dum portitas, fr. Anon.), 1191, ii., Summa Patre, O Creator

Jesu, Saviour, Thy once-mangled soldier, 590, ii., Hewett, J. W.

Jesu, of mercy throne above, 597, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu! so Thee to be thinking (Jesu dulcor no gedenken), 599, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, our bright and morning Star, 129, ii., Bell, C. D.

Jesu, our Captain and our King, 795, i., Medias noctis tempore

Jesu, our hope, our heart's desire, 599, ii., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, our Joy and loving Friend, 599, ii., Nun ruhen alle Wesen

Jesu, our Lenten feast of Thee, 980, ii., Jesu quadragesimale

Jesu, our Lenten feast to Thee, 980, ii., Hewett, J. W.

Jesu, our Ransom from above, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, our Redemption, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, our Redemption blest, 599, ii., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu our risen King, Glory to Thee we sing, 620, i., Glory to God on high, we praise Thy

Jesu, our Saviour (Jesu Redemptor omnium quem laudi), 599, i., Christe Redemptor omnium, Ex Patre

Jesu, precious treasure, 951, ii., Jesu, meine Freude

Jesu, Prince of life and Lord (Jesu salutaris Rex quæ vitæ), 599, ii., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu quadragesimale, 980, ii., Hilary, 5th c., Latin hymnody; 980, ii., O Lord our God, with earnest care

Jesu, Redeemer of the earth (Jesu Redemptor omnium quem laudat), 599, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu, Redeemer of the earth (tr. Littledale), 594, ii., Jesu Redemptor mundi, Veritas Patris altissimi

Jesu, Redeemer of us all (Jesu Redemptor omnium quem laudat), 599, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu, Redeemer of the world (Jesu Redemptor omnium, quem laudat), 599, ii., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu, Redeemer, Be the ransom, 599, ii., Jesu Redemptor omnium, Pergas corona præmium

Jesu, Redeemer, Thee we praise, 594, i., Jesu Redemptor mundi, Qui tertio post funera

Jesu, Redeemer, Thou of all, 599, ii., Jesu Redemptor omnium, Pergas corona præmium

Jesu, Redeemer, Thou Who art, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, Redemption, all divine, 599, ii., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, Redemption blest, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, Redemptor omnium, Pergas corona præmium (Anon.), 138, i., Benson, R. M.; 644, ii., Latin hymnody

Jesu, Redemptor omnium Quem laudi cuncta sæculum, 599, ii., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre Patris unice

Jesu, Redemptor omnium, Summi Parentis, 599, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre Patris unice

Jesu, Refuge of my soul, 599, ii., Jesu, Lover of my soul

Jesu, remembrance passing sweet, 597, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu Rex admirabilis, 596, ii., 597, i., 598, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, Salvator sæculi Redemptis ope subvenit, 873, ii., Salvator mundi, Domine

Jesu, Salvator sæculi, Veritas Patris altissimi, 11, ii., Ad coenam Agni providi; 594, i., Jesu Redemptor mundi, Qui tertio post funera

Jesu, Saviour, ever-watchful, 578, ii., Litanies

Jesu, Saviour, Shepherd bringing, 1861, i., Bialy, W.

Jesu, Shepherd of the sheep, 1855, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, Sun for earth's release, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, solace of the soul, 599, ii., Dumes jam, anima, lætitiam aspecto

Jesu, Son of God most high, 578, ii., Litanies

Jesu, Son of Mary, Lord, 578, ii., Litanies

Jesu! source of gladness, 599, i., Jesu meine Freude

Jesu, Source of my salvation, 598, i., Homburg, E. C.

Jesu summus Rex virtutis, 990, i., 991, i., Salve mundi salutare

Jesu, Spring of our salvation, 870, i., Jam Christe, sol justitiæ

Jesu, stimm Licht, 620, ii., Lange, Joachim

Jesu, sweet memories of Thy Name, 597, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, Thee from love away, 1861, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesu, thou crown of kings art Thou, 598, ii., Jesu corona celsior

Jesu, the angels' Light and Song, 598, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, the Author of our life, 305, i., Father and Lord of our whole life

Jesu, the blest and sweet Reward, 595, i., Jesu, Corona virginum

Jesu, the Crown of virgins, Whom, 595, i., Jesu, Corona virginum

Jesu, the earthly Redeemer Thou, 594, i., Jesu, Redemptor omnium, Quem laudat, 599, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu, the Father's Only-Son, 598, ii., Christe Redemptor omnium De Patre Patris unice

Jesu, the heart's own Sanctuary and true Light, 595, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, the King all wonderful, 1855, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, the King all wonderful, 598, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, the Law and Pattern, whence, 595, i., Jesu quadragesimale

Jesu, the Light, the Truth, the Way, 1861, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, the only thought of Thee, 814, i., Dryden, J.; 951, i., Prisons

Jesu, the Redeemer of man (Jesu Redemptor omnium, Quem laudat, fr. certo from the Printers, 1491 & 1780), 599, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu, the Redeemer of us (Jesu, Redemptor omnium, Quem laudat), 599, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu, the very thought is sweet (Jr. Neale, 1853), 597, ii., (tr. Neale, 1865), 598, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, the very thought of Thee (tr. Caswall, 1849), 597, i., (tr. Caswall, 1858), 598, i., Jesu, dulcis memoria

Jesu, the very thought of Thee (tr. Caswall, 1849), 597, i., (tr. Caswall, 1858), 598, i., Jesu, dulcis memoria

Jesu, the very thought of Thee-sweet, in no sound, or harmony or pay (tr. in Hys. for the year), 598, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, the very thought of Thee (tr. in the Primer, 1644 and 1685), 812, i., Prisons

Jesu, the virgins' servant, 595, i., Jesu, Corona virginum

Jesu, the virgins' crown, do Thou, 595, ii., Jesu, Corona virginum

Jesu, the virgins' Crown, to love, 595, i., Jesu, Corona virginum

Jesu, the world's Redeemer, hear, 599, ii., Jesu Redemptor omnium, Pergas corona præmium

Jesu, the world's redeeming Lord, Eternal Son, co-equal Word, 594, ii., Jesu Redemptor sæculi, Veritas Patris altissimi

Jesu, the world's redeeming Lord, Of Him most high, 594, i., Jesu Redemptor sæculi, Veritas Patris altissimi

Jesu, the world's redeeming Lord, The Father's co-eternal Word, 594, ii., Jesu Redemptor sæculi, Veritas Patris altissimi

Jesu, Thou Fount of mercy, hail, 597, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu! Thou from earth hast vanished, 599, ii., Nobis Deus ascendens

Jesu, Thou great redeeming Lord, 1864, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, Thou hast to hoary hairs, 1865, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, Thou heavenly my simpleness, 1861, ii., Wesley family, The Jesu, Thou my heart's pleasing Feast, 620, ii., Lange, J. C.

Jesu, Thou our pure (chief) delight, 960, i., Russell, A. T.

Jesu, Thou Redeemer dear, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, Thou sovereign Lord of all, 1865, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, Thou sweetest pure and blest, 596, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, Thou wounded Lamb of God, 595, ii., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God

Jesu, Thy blood and righteousness (tr. J. Wesley), 230, i., (tr. J. Wesley), 230, ii., Blood and righteousness

Jesu, Thy boundless love to me (J. Wesley), 809, i., Peace, doubting heart, my God's I am

Jesu, Thy light again I view, 620, ii., Lange, Joachim

Jesu, Thy sorrows are untold, 597, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, Thy saints' eternal prize, 598, ii., Jam, sacerdotum decus

Jesu, Thy soul renew my eyes (Die Seele Christi), 79, ii., Anima Christi sanctifica me

Jesu, to Thy throne above, 1861, ii., Jam throneum majestatis, 1191, ii., Summa Patre, O Creator

Jesu, Thy wandering sheep behold, 1861, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, tibi sit gloria, Qui victor in cœlum redis, 599, ii., Domine, quo vadis

Jesu, to my dear Saviour flinden, 606, ii., Heermann, J.

Jesu! to earth the dawning given, 594, ii., Jesu Redemptor sæculi, Veritas Patris altissimi

Jesu, to my heart most precious (De dulcissime Jesu), 1699, ii., Stone, S.

Jesu, to Thee our hearts we bow (tr. J. Wesley), 1806, ii., Neander, J.

Jesu, to Thee our hearts we lift, 1865, i., Wesley family, The Jesu, to Thy table led, 119, i., Bayton, H. H.

Jesu, true life of souls (Jesu vita animarum), 870, i., Jam Christe, sol justitiæ

Jesu, Tua dilectio, 599, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu tui memoria, 130, note, Bohemian hymnody

Jesu, united by Thy grace, 1186, ii., Try us, O God, and search the heart

Jesu Verbum, qui superbum, 1865, i., Ut jucunda cervus undas sentiunt desiderat

Jesu, Victor over sin, 595, ii., Heermann, J.

Jesu, vota hæc dicit gratulans, 652, ii., Laurenti, L.

Jesu, vota Tibi fiant, 514, ii., Hermann (nee Duderm), Isabella G.

Jesu, we are far away, 672, ii., Litanies

Jesu, we look to Thee, 1865, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, we praise Thee for his word, 1158, i., The virtues of the Studium

Jesu, we thy promise claim, 264, i., Come, and let us sweetly join

Jesu, we thus obey, 1865, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, we Thy promise plead, 647, ii., Grace

Jesu, Well-spring of all mercy, 597, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, when I think on Thee, 960, i., Russell, A. T.

Jesu, when Thou once returnest (tr. Miss Winkworth), 195, ii., Babionski, J. F.

Jesu, Who broughtest redemption nigh, 594, i., Jesu Redemptor sæculi, Veritas Patris altissimi

Jesu, Who didst the world to save, 979, i., Sanctis collibi

Jesu, Who didst stoop to prove, 595, ii., Heermann, J.

Jesu, who didst Thy pasture crown, 595, ii., Jesu, mearum decus

Jesu, who for true joys longest (tr. Anon.), 597, i., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesu, Who for my transgression, 960, i., Russell, A. T.

Jesu, Who for us didst bear Hunger, Thirst (Lenten), 980, ii., Hilary, 5th c.; 1191, i., To Whom hell Thine, Hand of grace

Jesu, Who for us didst bear scorn and sorrow (Littledale), 979, ii., Litanies

Jesu, Who from Thy Father's throne (Jesu, thronum majestatis), 1191, ii., Summa Patre, O Creator

Jesu! Who in sorrow dying, 960, i., Hall, ---

Jesu, Who our Redemption art, God, Maker of all things, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, Who our Redemption art, Who On the deep Jew, 599, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Jesu, Who this our Lenten tide, 980, ii., Jesu quadragesimale

Jesu, Who when Adam fell, 979, ii., Litanies

Jesu, whose blood and righteousness, 230, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

Jesu, Whose glory's streaming rays, 290, i., Dessler, W.

Jesu, Whose grace inspires Thy priest, 1193, i., Summe Deus clementiæ

Jesu, Whose holy life displays, 595, ii., Jam quadragesimale

Jesu, Whose pure limbs for me, 1861, ii., Skinner, J.

Jesu, with Thy Church abide, 979, ii., Litanies

Jesu, with Thy Church abide, 1865, i., Wesley family, The

Jesu, Word of God Incarnate, 613, ii., Hail mundus exultavit

Jesu. See also Jesu, and Yesu.

Jesus, accept the praise, 1862, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesus, adorned with grace divine, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody

Jesus, all-atoning Lamb, 609, i., Gentle Jesus, lovely Lamb

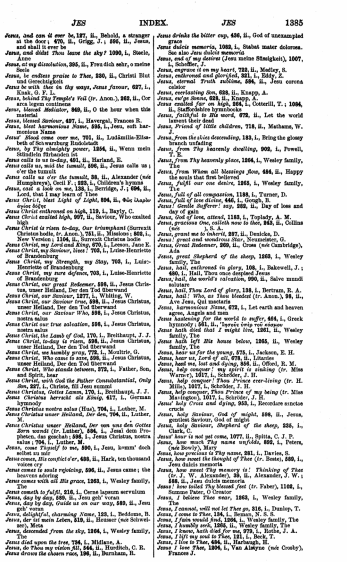
Jesus, all praise is due to Thee, 609, ii., Goldet seist du Jesu Christ

Jesus! all-sufficiency, 1896, i., Stock, Sarah G.

Jesus along the Calvary road (Jesu, crucem dum portas), 1192, i., Summe Patre, O Creator

Jesus along the Calvary road (Jesu, crucem dum portabat), 1191, ii., Summa Patre, O Creator

Jesus, along Thy fearful road (Jesu, crucem dum portabat), 1191, ii., Summe Patre, O Creator



JES INDEX. JES 1385

Jesus, and can it ever be, 127, ii., Behold, a stranger at the door; 675, ii., Grigg, J.; 695, ii., Jesus, and shall it ever be

Jesus, dear child! Thou leavest the sky? 1090, i., Steele, Anne

Jesus, ist mir Abendsonne, 306, ii., Frau Sich mehr, o meine Sonn

Jesus, be endless praise to Thee, 220, ii., Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit

Jesus be with Thee on thy ways, Jesus former, 627, i., Rink, G. F. L.

Jesus, behind Thy Temple's Veil (tr. Anon.), 962, ii., Our Area legem continens

Jesus, blessed Mediator, 940, ii., O the hour when this material

Jesus, blessed Saviour, 427, i., Havergal, Frances R.

Jesus, blest harmonious Name, 598, i., Jesu, soft harmonious Name

Jesus calls us o'er the tumult, 792, ii., Lodimilla-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt

Jesus, by Thy almighty power, 1356, ii., Wenn mein Stündlein Hinscheidet ist

Jesus calls us to-day, 661, ii., Harland, E.

Jesus calls us o'er the tumult, 696, ii., Jesus calls us; o'er the tumult

Jesus calls us o'er the tumult, 38, ii., Alexander (née Humphreys), Cecil F.; 823, i., Children's hymns

Jesus, cast a look on me, 138, i., Berridge, J.; 696, ii., Lord, that I may learn of Thee

Jesus, Christ, my Sure Light of Light, 696, ii., 966 Ouale nomine Christe

Jesus Christ enthroned on high, 119, i., Barty, C.

Jesus Christ exalted high, 207, ii., Saviour, Who exalted high

Jesus Christ is risen to-day, Our triumphant Chorus to Christian bells, be Added, 781, ii., Whitefield, G.; 802, i., New Version; 1156, ii., Norwich Christian bells

Jesus Christ, my Lord and King, 670, i., Lesson, Jane E.

Jesus Christ, my Saviour, hear! 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Jesus Christ, my Strength, my Stay, 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Jesus Christ, my sure defence, 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Jesus Christ, our great Redeemer, 159, ii., Jesus Christus, unser Heiland, der den Tod

Jesus Christ, with God the Father Consubstantial, Only Son, 827, i., Christe, Fili Jesu summe

Jesus Christus, Gottes Lamm, 170, i., Breithaupt, J. J.

Jesus Christus herrscht als König, 417, i., German Anonymous

Jesus Christus meine Ruhe (Text), 704, i., Luther, M.

Jesus Christus unser Heiland, der den, 704, ii., Luther, M.

Jesus Christus unser Heiland, der von uns den Gotte, 704, ii., Luther, M. Jesus Christus, unser Heiland, der den Tod Sterben. Am gleichen, 704, i., Jesus Christus, unsere Sünde, 704, i., Luther, M.

Jesus, come Thyself to me, 260, i., Jesu, komm' doch selbst zu mir

Jesus conflict'st for me, 688, ii., Hark, ten thousand voices cry

Jesus comes in souls rejoicing, 206, ii., Jesus came; the heavens adoring

Jesus comes with all His grace, 1363, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus cometh to Judah, 218, i., Gens laymen servitium

Jesus, day by day, 260, ii., Jesu geh' voran

Jesus, day by day, Guide us on our way, 260, ii., Jesu geh' voran

Jesus, dearest, charming Name, 123, i., Beddome, B.

Jesus, der ist mein Leben, 518, ii., Hensser (née Schweitzer), Mina

Jesus, descended from the sky, 1366, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, dost upon the tree, 796, i., Midlane, A.

Jesus, du Theil my vision bist, 704, ii., Herdich, C. R.

Jesus drums the chasers runs, 199, ii., Burnham, H.

Jesus drinks the bitter cup, 400, ii., God of unexampled grace

Jesus dulcor memoria, 1062, i., Stabat mater dolorosa.

Jesus, end of my desires (Jesu meine Ständigkeit), 1007, i., Schaffer, J.

Jesus, end of my desires (Jesu meine Ständigkeit), 1007, ii., Schaffer, J.

Jesus, engrave it on my heart, 722, ii., Medley, S.

Jesus, enlivened and glorified, 321, i., Eddy, Z.

Jesus, Emanuel Truth sublime, 596, ii., Jesu corona mentis

Jesus, everlasting Son, 628, ii., Knapp, A.

Jesus, ew'ge Sonne, 628, ii., Knapp, A.

Jesus exalted far on high, 564, i., Cotterill, T.; 1094, ii., Exalted far on high

Jesus, faithful to Thy word, 672, ii., Let the world lament their dead

Jesus, Friend of little children, 718, ii., Mathams, W.

Jesus, from the skies descending, 183, i., Bring the glossy branch unfading

Jesus, from Thy heavenly dwelling, 902, i., Powell, T. E.

Jesus, from Thy heavenly place, 1364, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, From Whom all blessings flow, 686, ii., Happy the souls that first believed

Jesus, fulfil our one desire, 1365, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, full of all compassion, 1198, i., Turner, D.

Jesus, full of love divine, 645, i., Gough, B.

Jesus, full of sympathy, 399, ii., Day of loss and day of gain

Jesus, God of love, attend, 1143, i., Topladv, A. M.

Jesus, gracious One, unlock now to-day, 262, ii., Collins (née Bowly), Mary

Jesus, grand me to tokovrit, 327, ii., Dencken, D.

Jesus' grand and wondrous Star, Resplendent, O.

Jesus, Great Redeemer, 269, ii., Cross (née Cambridge), Ada

Jesus, great Shepherd of the sheep, 1362, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, hail! our one desire, 1365, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, hail, enthroned in glory, 109, i., Bakewell, J.; 680, i., Hall, Thou once despised Jesus

Jesus, hail, the world's salvation, 990, ii., Salve mundi salutare

Jesus, hail! Thou Lord of glory, 136, i., Bertram, R. A.

Jesus, hail! Who, as Man blendest (tr. Anon.), 94, ii., Ave Jesu, Qui mentaris

Jesus, harmonious Jesus, 672, i., Let earth and heaven agree, Angels and men

Jesus hastens to the world to suffer, 684, i., Greek hymnody; 851, ii., Turvis (née) van Sommer

Jesus hath died that I might live, 1361, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesus hath left His home below, 1365, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesus, hear us for the young, 270, i., Jackson, E. H.

Jesus, hear us, Lord of all, 270, ii., Litanies

Jesus, hast me, lost and dying, 555, ii., Offord, R. M.

Jesus, help conquer! my spirit is sinking (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1017, i., Schröder, J. H.

Jesus, help conquer! Thou Prince ever-living (tr. H. Mills), 1017, i., Schröder, J. H.

Jesus, help conquer, Thou Prince of my being (tr. Miss Mackrodt), 1017, i., Schröder, J. H.

Jesus, how Cross and dying, 353, i., Recordare sanctæ crucis

Jesus, holy Saviour, God of might, 160, ii., Jesus, gnadiu Heiland, God of might

Jesus, holy Saviour, Shepherd of the sheep, 356, i., Jesus, Hirte

Jesus' hour is not yet come, 1077, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Jesus, how much Thy name unfolds, 822, i., Peters, (née Bowly), Mary

Jesus, how precious to Thy name, 261, i., Davies, S.

Jesus, how sweet Thy memory is! Thinking of Thee (tr. J. W. Alexander), 35, ii., Alexander, J. W.; 102, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Jesus, how sweet Thy name! (tr. Faber), 1106, i., Summe Pater, O Jesu

Jesus, I believe Thee near, 1363, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, I cannot, will not let Thee go, 324, i., Dunlop, T.

Jesus, I fain would find, 1366, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, I fain would find, 1366, i., Wesley family, The

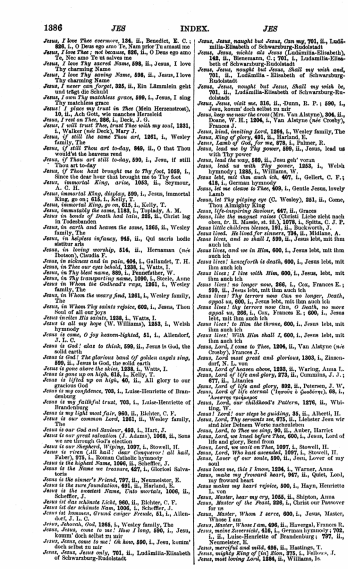
Jesus, I humbly seek, 1366, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesus, I know, hath died for me, 772, i., Burke, J. A.

Jesus, I lift my soul to Thee, 121, i., Beck, T.

Jesus, I live to Thee, 1366, ii., Van Alstyne

Jesus, I love Thee, 1366, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.



1386 JES INDEX. JES

Jesus, I love Thee evermore, 126, ii., Benedict, E. C.; 826, i., O Deus ego amo Te, Nam jubet Te etiamsi me

Jesus, I love Thee evermore, 826, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec ame Te si salvus non

Jesus, I love Thy sacred Name, 598, ii., Jesus, I love Thy charming Name

Jesus, I love Thy saving Name, 598, ii., Jesus, I love Thy charming Name

Jesus, I never can forget, 935, ii., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld

Jesus, I see Thy matchless grace, 160, i., Jesus, I sing Thy matchless grace

Jesus, I will seek Thy face in Thee (Mein Herzensstern), 18, ii., Ach Gott, wie manches Herzeleid

Jesus, I rest on Thee, 266, i., Deck, J. G.

Jesus, I will trust Thee, trust Thee with my soul, 1031, i., Walker (née Deck), Mary J.

Jesus, in Thy Name Thou art, 1361, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, if still Thou art to-day, 960, ii., O that Thou would'st the heavens rend

Jesus, if Thou art still to-day, 599, i., Jesu, if still Thou art to-day

Jesus, in Thy Name brought me to Thy feet, 1359, i., Jesus, in Thy name brought me to Thy feet, 1359, i., Immortal King, arise, 1093, ii., Sequeira, A. C. H.

Jesus, immortal King, arise, 1093, ii., Jesus, immortal King, go on

Jesus, immortal King, go on, 513, i., Kelly, T.

Jesus, immortal King, go on, 513, i., Kelly, T.

Jesus, immortality the same, 1159, i., Topladv, A. M.

Jesus in bonds of Death had fain, 293, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden

Jesus, in north and heaven the same, 1360, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesus, in Thee our eyes behold, 1359, i., Watts, I.

Jesus, in Thy dying anguish, 1099, i., Steele, Anne

Jesus, in Thy transporting name, 1099, i., Steele, Anne

Jesus in Whose the Godhead's reign, 1361, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, in Whom the mercy God, 1361, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, in Whom Thy saints rejoice, 602, i., Jesus, Thou Soul of all our joys

Jesus, in Whom we live, 1358, i., Watts, I.

Jesus is all my hope (W. Williams), 1359, i., Welsh hymnody

Jesus is come, O joy heaven-lighted, 81, i., Allendorf, J. L. C.

Jesus is God! alone to think, 599, ii., Jesus is God, the solid earth

Jesus is God! The glorious band of golden angels sing, 599, ii., Jesus is God, the solid earth

Jesus is gone above the skies, 1358, i., Watts, I.

Jesus is lifted up on high, 46, ii., All glory to our gracious God

Jesus is my confidence, 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Jesus is my faithful trust, 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg

Jesus is my light most fair, 965, ii., Richter, C. F.

Jesus is our common Lord, 1361, ii., Wesley family, The

Jesus is our God and Saviour, 459, i., Hart, J.

Jesus is our great salvation (J. Adams), 1360, ii., Sure we are through God's election

Jesus is our Shepherd, Wiping, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

Jesus is risen (All hail! Jesus' Conqueror! all hail, 1156, ii., Norwich Christian bells

Jesus is the highest Name, 1360, ii., Schaffer, J.

Jesus is the Name we treasure, 627, i., Glorious Salvation

Jesus is the sinner's Friend, 797, ii., Neumeister, E.

Jesus is the sweetest Name, 1360, ii., Schaffer, J.

Jesus is the sweetest Name, Unto mortals, 1360, ii., Schaffer, J.

Jesus let the schlimste Licht, 960, ii., Richter, C. F.

Jesus let der schlimste Hass, 1036, i., Schaffer, J.

Jesus, Jesus, Grand corner Friends, 61, i., Allendorf, J. L. C.

Jesus, Jehovah, God, 1364, i., Wesley family, The

Jesus, Jesus, come to me! Hear I beg, 260, i., Jesu, komm' doch selbst zu mir

Jesus, Jesus, come to me! Oh hear, 260, i., Jesu, komm' doch selbst zu mir

Jesus, Jesus, Jesus only, 792, ii., Lodimilla-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt

Jesus, Jesus, naught but Jesus, Can say, 792, ii., Lodimilla-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt

Jesus, Jesus, naught but Jesus, Can say, 792, ii., Lodimilla-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt (Lodimilla-Elisabeth), 792, ii., Hennessey, C.; 792, ii., Lodimilla-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt

Jesus, Jesus, naught but Jesus, shall my wish end, 792, ii., Lodimilla - Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt

Jesus, Jesus, naught but Jesus, Shall my wish be, 792, ii., Lodimilla-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt

Jesus, Jesus, visit me, 516, ii., Dunn, B. P.; 160, ii., Jesus, gnadiu Heiland, God of might

Jesus, Jesus, visit me, 516, ii., Dunn, B. P.; 160, ii., Jesus, gnadiu Heiland, God of might

Jesus, King most wonderful, 1360, ii., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.

Jesus, kind, greeting Lord, 1364, i., Wesley family, The Jesus, King of glory, 261, ii., Harland, E.

Jesus, Lamb of God, for me, 270, i., Palmer, R.

Jesus, lead me by Thy power, 260, ii., Jesu, lead us with Thy power

Jesus, lead the way, 260, ii., Jesu geh' voran

Jesus, lead us with Thy power, 1353, i., Welsh hymnody; 1353, i., Williams, W.

Jesus, lead us with Thy power, 1077, i., Gellert, C. F.; 413, i., German hymnody

Jesus, let me cleave to Thee, 603, i., Gentle Jesus, lovely Lamb

Jesus, let Thy pitying eye (C. Wesley), 263, ii., Come, O Thou traveller unknown

Jesus, life-inspiring Saviour, 667, ii., Grace

Jesus, like the magnet vaunt (Christ) Lieht zieht mich ihm, tr. H. Mills, a. 16.), 1078, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

Jesus little children blesses, 1361, ii., Bankworth, J.

Jesus, Lord, and shall I ever die, 1365, ii., Schaffer, J.

Jesus, Lord, and so shall I, 1365, ii., Jesu lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord, and we in Him, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord, henceforth is death, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord; I live with Him, 600, i., Jesus, lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord; I live with Him, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus' Lord! no longer now, 266, i., Cox, Frances E.; 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord! Thy terrors now can no longer, Death, appal us, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord! thy terrors now Can, O Death, no more appal us, 266, i., Cox, Frances E.; 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord! to Him the throne, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord! With Him shall I, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich

Jesus, Lord, we come to Thee, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.

Jesus, Lord, most great and glorious, 1303, i., Zinzendorf, N. L., von

Jesus, Lord of heaven above, 1233, ii., Waring, Anna L.

Jesus, Lord of life and glory, 272, ii., Cummins, J. J.; 677, ii., Litanies

Jesus, Lord of life and glory, 892, ii., Petersen, J. W.

Jesus, Lord of life eternal (Yesous o Kyrios), 68, i., Λογος ενδιαθετος

Jesus, Lord of our salvation, 1076, ii., Whitefield, W.

Jesus! Lord! our steps be guiding, 31, ii., Alberti, H.

Jesus, Lord, Thy servants am, 972, ii., Lützner Jesu wir sind hier Deinen Worte nachsinnen

Jesus, Lord, to Thee we fly, 1365, ii., Hall, Harriet

Jesus, Lord, we find before Thee, 603, i., Jesus, Lord of life and glory, Bend from Jesus, Lord, we omit no Time, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

Jesus, Lord, Who hast ascended, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

Jesus, Lover of our souls, 190, ii., Jesu, Lover of my soul

Jesus loose me, this I know, 1356, i., Warner, Anne

Jesus, make my frenzied heart, 997, ii., Quist, Lotz, my fervent heart

Jesus, make my heart rejoice, 800, i., Hayn, Henrietta L. von

Jesus, Master, hear my cry, 1052, ii., Shipton, Anna

Jesus, Master of the Feast, 226, i., Christ our Passover for us

Jesus, Master, Whom I serve, 600, i., Jesus, Master, Whose I am

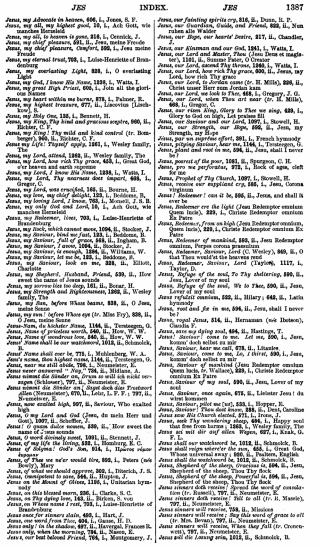
Jesus, Master, Whose I am, 600, ii., Havergal, Frances R.

Jesus, meine Zuversicht, 518, i., German hymnody; 703, i., Luise-Henriette of Brandenburg; 707, ii., Schaffer, J.

Jesus, merciful and mild, 696, ii., Hastings, T.

Jesus, mighty King of Zion, 272, i., Palmer, J.

Jesus, most loving Lord, 1366, ii., Williams, D.



Jesus, my Advocate in heaven, 696, i., Jones, S. F.
Jesus, my all, my highest good, 59, i., Ach Gott, wie manches Herzeleid
Jesus, my chief pleasure in gone, 818, i., Cronick, J.
Jesus, my chief pleasure, 651, ii., Jesu, meine Freude
Jesus, my chief pleasure, Comfort, 1005, i., Jesu meine Freude
Jesus, my eternal trust, 709, i., Leine-Henriette of Brunswick
Jesus, my everlasting Light, 838, i., O everlasting Light
Jesus, my God, I know His Name, 1259, i., Watts, I.
Jesus, my great High Priest, 660, i., Join all the glorious names
Jesus, my heart within me burns, 879, i., Palmer, R.
Jesus, my highest treasure, 977, ii., Lisovius (Liebkov), S.
Jesus, my Holy One, 136, i., Bennett, H.
Jesus, my Lord, Thy kind and gracious aspire, 900, ii., Hatcher, C. F.
Jesus, my King! Thy mild and kind control (tr. Bonsinger), 905, ii., Richter, C. F.
Jesus my Life! Thyself apply, 1061, i., Wesley family, The Jesus, my Lord, attend, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Jesus, my Lord, hear rich Thy grace, 625, i., Great God, Ere heaven and earth supreme Jesus, my Lord, I know His Name, 1259, i., Watts, I.
Jesus, my Lord, Thy mourners dare request, 882, i., Wright, T.
Jesus, my Lord, was crucified, 165, ii., Bourne, H.
Jesus, my love, my chief delight, 120, i., Doddridge, P.
Jesus, my loving Lord, I know, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Jesus, my only God and Lord, 59, i., Ach Gott, wie manches Herzeleid
Jesus, my Redeemer lives, 703, i., Leine-Henriette of Brunswick
Jesus, my Rock, which cannot move, 1006, ii., Stocker, J.
Jesus, my Saviour, bind me fast, 123, i., Bakhmeier, B.
Jesus, my Saviour, Fall of grace, 866, ii., Ingham, B.
Jesus, my Saviour, I am Thine, 1, i., Adam, C.
Jesus, my Saviour, is enough, 1266, ii., Wilson, W.
Jesus, my Saviour, let me be, 130, i., Beddome, B.
Jesus, my Saviour, look on me, 324, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
Jesus, my Shepherd, Husband, Friend, 639, ii., How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
Jesus, my sorrow-lies too deep, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
Jesus, my Strength and Righteousness, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Jesus, my sun! before Whose beams, 888, ii., O Jesu, meine Sonne
Jesus, my sun! before Whose eye (tr. Miss Fry), 888, ii., O Jesu, meine Sonne
Jesus-Nam, du höchster Name, 1144, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Jesus, Name of sweetness true, 1262, ii., Bowe, W. W.
Jesus, Name of wondrous love, 1262, ii., Bowe, W. W.
Jesus! Name shall be our watchword, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
Jesus! Name shall ever be, 773, i., Middlebrey, W. A.
Jesus, name so full of grace, 1262, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Jesus, near me still abide, 798, i., Neumeister, Erdmann
Jesus never answered "Nay," 706, ii., Midlane, A.
Jesus nimmt die Sünder an, Jesus es will sich nicht verjagen (Schlosser), 797, ii., Neumeister, E.
Jesus, nothing but Jesus, Jesus my only Trustword (Jesu! Nennenswert), 670, i., Lehr, L. F. W., 797, ii., Neumeister, E.
Jesus, now exalted high, 797, ii., Saviour, Who exalted high
Jesus, o my Lord and God (Jesu, du mein Herr und Gott), 1007, ii., Schaffer, J.
Jesu! O grant dulce sonare, 239, ii., How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
Jesus, O word divinely sweet, 1262, ii., Bennett, J. C.
Jesus of Bethel! God's Son, 514, i., Hymns Ancient and Modern
Jesus of Bethel! God's Son, 514, i., Hymns ancient and modern
Jesus, of Thee we ne'er would tire, 856, i., Peters (née Hoyle), Mary
Jesus, of Thy love should suppress, 262, i., Hitchin, J. S.
Jesus, omnipotent to save, 566, ii., Hughes, J.
Jesus on the Mount of Olives, 1150, i., Unitarian hymnody
Jesus, on this blessed morn, 290, i., Clarke, S. G.
Jesus, on Thee my hope I rest, 703, i., Bonar, H.
Jesus, on Whom mine I rest, 703, i., Leine-Henriette of Brunswick
Jesus once for sinners slain, 460, i., Hart, J.
Jesus, our word from Thee, 634, i., Hatter, H. D.
Jesus, rest of my soul, 1262, ii., Tersteegen, Gerhard E.
Jesus only, when the morning, 724, ii., Sigers, E.
Jesus, our best beloved Friend, 705, i., Montgomery, J.
Jesus, our fainting spirits cry, 516, ii., Dunn, R. P.
Jesus, our Guardian, Guide, and Friend, 852, ii., Nun ruhen alle Wälder
Jesus, our Hope, our hearts' desire, 217, ii., Chandler, J.
Jesus, our Kinsman and our God, 1261, i., Watts, I.
Jesus, our Lord and Master, Thou (Jesu Jesu es magistor), 1101, ii., Smyttan Peter, O Creator
Jesus, our Lord, how rich Thy grace, 625, i., Watts, I.
Jesus, our Lord, how rich Thy grace, 625, i., Jesus, my Lord, how rich Thy grace
Jesus, our Lord, to darkness came (tr. H. Mills), 668, ii., Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam
Jesus, our Lord, we look to Thee, 1262, ii., Gregory, J. G.
Jesus, our Lord, when Thou art near (tr. H. Mills), 668, i., Gregor, C.
Jesus, our risen King, Glory to Thee we sing, 629, i., Glory to God on high, Let praises fill
Jesus, our Shepherd, Guardian, Friend, 1262, ii., Stowell, H.
Jesus, our Strength, our Hope, 586, ii., Jesu, my Strength, my Hope
Jesus, pur un supreme effort, 951, i., French hymnody
Jesus, pytying Saviour, hear me, 1146, i., Tersteegen, G.
Jesus, quiet and rest in me, 598, ii., Jesu, shall I never be?
Jesus, quench of the poor, 1262, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Jesus, qui me perfectus, 972, i., Rock of ages, cleft for me
Jesus, Prophet of Thy Church, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Jesus, quem vor supplicat erp, 1262, i., Jesu, Corona Virginum
Jesus! Redeemer! rest of he, 895, ii., Jesu, and shall it ever be Jesus, Redeemer ere the light (Jesu Redemptor omnium Quem luci), 229, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre
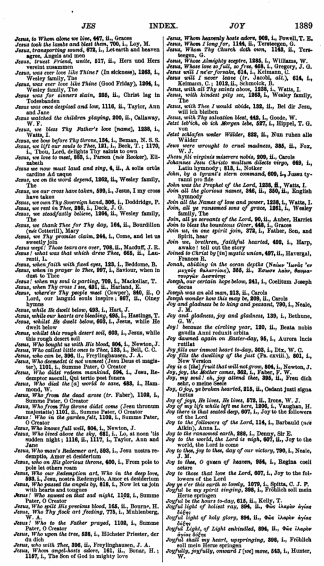
Jesus, Redeemer, From on high (Jesu Redemptor omnium, Quem lucis), 229, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre
Jesus, Redeemer of mankind, 229, ii., Jesu Redemptor omnium Quem lucis, Ex Patre
Jesus, Redeemer, Saviour, Lord (J. Wesley), 262, ii., O that Thou would'st the heavens rend
Jesus, Redeemer, Saviour, Lord (Taylor), 1117, i., Taylor, D.
Jesus, Refuge of the soul, To Thy sheltering, 266, ii., Jesu, Lover of my soul
Jesus, Refuge of the soul, We to Thee, 266, ii., Jesu, Lover of my soul
Jesus refulsit omnium, 232, ii., Hilary: 645, ii., Latin Hymns
Jesus, rest and fix in me, 598, ii., Jesu, shall I never be?
Jesus, royal Jesus, 514, ii., Hermannus (née Bestech), Caroline J.
Jesus, Saviour, dying soul, 456, ii., Hastings, T.
Jesus! Saviour! come to me. Let me, 266, i., Jesu, komm' doch selbst zu mir
Jesus, Saviour, hear me call, 972, ii., Litanies
Jesus, Saviour, come to me, Lo, I thirst, 590, i., Jesu, komm' doch selbst zu mir
Jesus, Saviour of mankind (Jesu Redemptor omnium Quem lucis, Ex Wallace), 229, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre
Jesus, Saviour of my soul, 266, ii., Jesu, Lover of my soul
Jesus, Saviour, one again, 972, ii., Lisbeter Jesu! du wirst kommen
Jesus, Saviour, point me (sic), 523, i., Hopper, E.
Jesus, Saviour! Thou dost know, 262, ii., Dent, Caroline
Jesus, Saviour, Shepherd, Friend, 639, ii., How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
Jesus, Saviour, sons



Jesus, to Whom alone we live, 607, ii., Graves
Jesus took the lunch and blest them, 700, i., Lee, M.
Jesus, transporting sound, 672, i., Let earth and heaven agree, Angels and men
Jesus, truest Friend, waste, 217, ii., Hern and Hern
Jesus, we look to Thee, 695, i., Thomas (née Bonar), Elizabeth
Jesus, was ever love like Thine? (In sickness), 1305, i., Wesley family, The Jesus, was ever love like Thine (Good Friday), 1306, i., Wesley family, The Jesu Salvator saeculi, 886, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
Jesus was once despised and low, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Jesus watched the children playing, 900, ii., Callaway, Mrs.
Jesus, we bless Thy Father's love [name], 1339, i., Waite, J.
Jesus, we bow before Thy throne, 126, i., Beman, N. S. S.
Jesus, we lift our souls to Thee, 121, i., Beck, T.; 1170, i., Rippon, T. G. and Others
Jesus, we look to Thee, 695, i., Thomas (née Bonar), Elizabeth
Jesus we now must laud and sing, 4, ii., A wits artis cardine Ad usque
Jesus! what a friend for sinners, 1302, ii., Wesley family, The Jesus, we our cross have taken, 699, i., Jesus, I my cross have taken
Jesus, we sons Thy Sovereign hand, 895, i., Doddridge, P.
Jesus, we rest on Thee, 695, i., Thomas (née Bonar), Isabella
Jesus, we stand fainly believe, 1306, ii., Wesley family, The Jesus, we thank Thee for Thy day, 164, ii., Beardsley (née Cotterill), Mary
Jesus, we Thy promise claim, 344, i., Come, and let us sweetly join
Jesus weep! Those tears are over, 709, ii., Manfuff, J. E.
Jesus! what was that which drew Thee, 661, ii., Leicester, L.
Jesus, when Faith with fixed eyes, 125, i., Beddome, B.
Jesus, when to prayer to Thee, 697, i., Inwater, when in anguish, 1255, i., Symme Peter, O Creator
Jesus! when my soul is parting, 709, i., Mackellar, T.
Jesus, where'er Thy people meet (George), 980, ii., O Lord, our languid souls inspire; 987, ii., Olney Hymns
Jesus, while He dwelt below, 695, i., Hart, J.
Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding, 695, i., Hastings, T.
Jesus, whilst He dwelt below, 695, i., Jesus, while He dwelt below
Jesus, who trod this rough desert soil, 699, i., Jesus, while this rough desert soil
Jesus, Who bought us with His blood, 906, i., Newton, J.
Jesus, Who called little ones to Thee, 125, i., Bell, C. C.
Jesus, who con be, 396, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Jesus, Who dwelt with men below, 1255, i., Inwater, when in anguish, 1255, i., Symme Peter, O Creator
Jesus, Who didst redeem mankind, 596, i., Jam, Redemptor mundi, Qui tertia post lumina
Jesus, Who dost the [a] world to save, 683, i., Hamilton
Jesus, Who from the dead arose (or Father), 1138, i., Symme Peter, O Creator
Jesus, Who from Thy throne didst come (Jesu thronum relinquisti) 1167, ii., Symme Peter, O Creator
Jesus, Who in the garden fell, 1138, i., Symme Peter, O Creator
Jesus, Who knows full well, 906, i., Newton, J.
Jesus, Who lived above the sky, 681, i., Lo, at noon 'tis sudden night; 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Jesus, Who mare's Redemer art, 595, i., Jam nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium
Jesus, who on this glorious throne, 600, i., From pole to pole let others roam
Jesus, Who Redemption art, Who in the deep love, 595, i., Jam, nostra Redemptio, Amor et desiderium
Jesus, Who passed the angels by, 815, i., Now let us join with hearts and tongues
Jesus! Who scanned on dead and night, 1139, i., Symme Peter, O Creator
Jesus, Who with His precious blood, 152, ii., Bunyan, H.
Jesus, Who Thy flock art feeding, 773, i., Muhlenberg, W. A.
Jesus! Who to the Father prayed, 1138, i., Symme Peter, O Creator
Jesus, Who upon the tree, 328, i., Hinchcliffe Priester, der da sich
Jesus, who with Thee, 396, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Jesus, Whom angel-hosts adore, 261, ii., Bonar, H.; 1187, i., The Son of God in mighty love
Jesus, Whom heavenly hosts adore, 906, i., Powell, T. E.
Jesus, Whom I long for, 1146, ii., Trotsenpen, D.
Jesus, Whom Thy Church doth own, 1263, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Jesus, Whose Almighty mystery, 1305, i., Williams, W.
Jesus, Whose glory reigns, 1305, i., Wesley, C. and Others
Jesus will I never forsake, 614, i., Kittmann, C.
Jesus will I never leave (Jr. Jacobi, sel.), 614, i., Kittmann, C.; 1012, ii., Schmolck, B.
Jesus, with all Thy saints above, 1305, i., Watts, I.
Jesus, with kindest pity see, 1305, i., Wesley family, The Jesus, with Thee I would abide, 152, ii., Bei dir Jesus will ich bleiben
Jesus, with Thy salvation blest, 643, i., Goode, W.
Jetzt lobet, ob ich Sünder bin, 1271, i., Rippel, T. G.
Jetzt schlafen unter Wilder, 888, ii., Nun ruhen alle Wälder
Jews were wrought to cruel madness, 288, ii., Fox, J.
Jhesu, fili virginis miserere nobis, 598, ii., Carols
Jhesumet Jam Christo mullum dilecte virgo, 969, i., Latin hymnody
John, by a tyrant's stern command, 609, i., Jesus tyrannis ense jussus
John was the Prophet of the Lord, 1233, ii., Watts, I.
Join all the glorious names, 266, ii., 269, ii., English hymnody
Join all the Names of love and power, 1216, i., Watts, I.
Join, all ye humbled sons of grace, 1261, i., Wesley family, The John, all ye servants of the Lord, 96, ii., Asher, Harriet
Join to hear the bounteous Giver, 648, i., Grace
Join us, as one spirit join, 372, i., Father, Son, and Spirit, bless
Join workers, faithful hearted, 422, i., Harp, awake: tell out the story Joined to Christ by [in] mystic union, 697, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Jonah, abiding in the ocean depths (Neuter Iunde 'us noyete Saeculum), 599, ii., Neuere hohe, Sonne der Gerechtigkeit
Joseph, our certain hope below, 241, i., Collitus Joseph decus
Joseph was an old man, 213, ii., Carols
Joseph wonder how this may be, 209, ii., Carols
Joy all Thy kindness be to king and peasant, 190, i., Neale, J. M.
Joy and gladness, joy and gladness, 130, i., Bethune, G. W.
Joy! because the circling year, 120, ii., Beata nobis gaudia anni recurrentis
Joy dawned again on Easter-day, 84, i., Aurea luce rutilat
Joy fills our inmost heart to-day, 202, i., Dix, W. C.
Joy fills the dwelling of the just (Ps. cxviii.), 801, i., Montgomery, J.
Joy is a [the] fruit that will not grow, 604, i., Newton, J.
Joy, Joy, the Mother comes, 962, i., Faber, F. W.
Joy, my soul! oh, joy attend thee, 395, ii., Wen dich wär, o meine Seele
Joy, O ye broken hearted, 213, ii., Ombani Jesu signa latina
Joy of joys, He lives, He lives, 272, ii., Irons, W. J.
Joy of my life while left me here, 1305, i., Vaughan, H.
Joy there is that sealed day, 697, i., Joy to the Followers of the Lord
Joy to the followers of the Lord, 114, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.
Joy to the ransomed earth, 888, i., Denny, Sir E.
Joy to the world, the Lord is nigh, 607, ii., Joy to the world, the Lord is come
Joy to thee, joy to thee, King of our misery, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
Joy to thee, O queen of heaven, 964, i., Regina coeli laetare
Joy to you, whose that love the Lord, 697, i., Joy to the followers of the Lord
Joy ye o'er this earth so lowly, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Joyful be my spirit singing, 395, i., Fröhlich soll mein Herze springen
Joyful hope of holiest rest, 696, ii., Kelly, T.
Joyful light of holiest rest, 696, ii., Sie klopfet deine Liebe
Joyful light of holy glory, 696, ii., Sie klopfet deine Liebe
Joyful light of Light embodied, 696, ii., Sie klopfet deine Liebe
Joyful shall my heart, upspringing, 260, i., Fröhlich soll mein Herze springen
Joyfully, joyfully, onward I [we] move, 663, i., Hunter, W.

Jubilemus omnes uno, 1068, ii., Sequence
Jucundare plebs fidelis, 12, i., Adam of St. Victor; 250, ii., Come, ye saints, lift up your voices; 682, i., Latin hymnody
Judaea, thou blessed land, 268, i., Robert II. of France
Judaea tunc incredula, 276, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Judea's desert heard a sound, 236, i., Clamantis eco vox sonans
Judge me, O God (defend) my cause, O Lord (Ps. xliii., Hermisch), 805, ii., Old Version
Judge me, O God, maintain my cause, 822, i., Kennedy, E. H.
Judge me, O Lord, and prove my ways, 1260, i., Wesley, C.
Judge me, O Lord, and try my heart, 796, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Judge me, O Lord, for I the paths (Ps. xxvi.), 800, i., New Version
Judge me, O Lord, in righteousness, 794, i., Montgomery, J.
Judge me, O Lord, to Thee I fly, 796, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Judges who rule the world by laws, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Judicium hoc inexcusabile, cryptis sordis, 813, i., Notker
Jura regum in Judae chaos, 267, i., Quicunque Christum quaerit
Just and devout old Simeon lived (canto by Logan in Scot. Ch. & Pats. 1781), 180, ii., Bryce, M.; 812, i., Now let Thy servant die in peace; 1036, i., Scottish traditional and paraphrases
Just as I am and look to thee, 499, i., Gribble, I.
Just as I am, without one plea (Miss C. Elliott), 268, i., Cook, R. S.; 269, i., Elliott, Charlotte; 720, ii., 745, ii., 755, ii., Mimicus; 779, i., My God and Father, while I stray
Just as Thou art—how wondrous fair, 1005, i., Smith, J.
Just as thou art, without one trace (Cook), 269, i., Cook, R. S.; 609, ii., Just as I am, without one plea
Just Judge of heaven, against my foes (Ps. lxiii.), 800, i., Montgomery, J.
Just o'er the ocean I hang, 817, i., Dwight, T.
Just when Thou will, O Master, call, 697, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Justi Judex, 276, ii., Da puer plectrum, chorals ut lyram fidelem
Justify Thee baptized in holiness ago, 1305, ii., Wesley family, The Kann ich helfen, bet ich Sünden, 80, i., Arndt, E.

Kar'ligen Jesu, Gottes Lamm (From Gerhard's 19 meditations, Hebet), 799, i., Mentzer
Kartliche de reis sanwerkroe, 68, ii., Jesaerdenen Jesus hoff belangt tyntjen behoyptes ys, 1320, ii., Wrath self, mein Herr! und sings
Kein Lüftlein rühret sich, 1271, i., Rippel, T. G.
Keep silence, all created things, 1227, i., Watts, I.
King, silence, all ye sons of men (Watts, alt.), 1224, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1263, ii., Shall heavenly wisdom cry aloud
King, to Thy praise and glory we, 888, i., Davis, T.
King we, Lord, and keep us ever, 812, ii., Kelly, T.
King, we, O Lord, by Thy pure word, 855, i., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
King we, Lord, O keep us ever, 812, ii., Kelly, T.
King Christ, der du zur Marterzeit, 615, ii., German hymnody; 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
King Christ sei uns das die Reihnung machen, 577, i., Isach, C.
Kleine Schönheit bei die Welt, 1060, ii., Scheffler, J.
Kleinod des Himmels Passion (Jesu, Leuter, 1611), 595, ii., French hymnody
Kept by the power of God, 704, ii., Midlane, A.
Key of the House of David, come, 78, i., Antiphon
Kind and gracious Saviour, lead us, 660, i., Gregory, C. S.
Kind are the words that Jesus speaks, 791, ii., Needham, J.
Kind Framer of the Armament (tr. Blew), 858, i., Conditor alme siderum
Kind Guardian of Thy people, hear, 961, i., O Lord, our languid souls inspire
Kindly mother of the Redeemer, 52, i., Alma Redemptoris mater quae
Kindness, as to Him given, 696, ii., Kindred in Christ, for His dear sake
King and Redeemer! to Thee be the glory, 616, i., Gloria laus et honor
King Eternal and Immortal, 697, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
King Eternal, King Immortal, 304, ii., Cousin (née Cundell), Anne R.
King eternal, Power unbounded, 27, i., Aeterne Rex altissime
King Messiah, long expected, 227, i., Elkerton, J.
King o'er all worlds the Saviour shone, 213, i., Coward, W.
King of glory, no more Thee, 1307, ii., Ach hier bin ich Elende König
King of glory sit on high, 218, i., Chapman, R. C.
King of kings, and will Thou deign, 775, i., Muhlenberg, W. A.
King of mercy, King of love, 1305, i., Vaughan, H.
King of saints, all saints outshining (tr. Blew), 1023, i., Shalat mater dolorosa
King of saints and King of glory, 670, i., Lenox, C. H.
King of saints, O Lord incarnate, 595, i., Sacrosancta Dominae Sanctitatis praecosia
King of saints, to Whom the number, 267, i., Elkerton, J.
King Solomon of old, 1117, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
King supreme, of power unbounded, 27, i., Aeterne Rex altissime
King, to Jesse and Gentiles given, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
Kingdoms and thrones to God belong, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Kingdom to Jesus Christ belongs (where Zion, 620, ii., Hail to the Lord's Anointed
Knocking, knocking, who is there, 1096, ii., Stowe (née Beecher), Harriet
Know, my soul, thy full salvation, 699, i., Jesus, I my cross have taken
Know ye the Lord hath borne away? 1160, ii., Twells, H.
Known long! dich thät sagte Herz und Sinn, 81, ii., Arndt, G.
Known, O Lord, unto Israelite, 666, ii., Glorius, J. G.
Known, und dächten, heiliger Geist, 414, i., German hymnody; 706, i., Luther, M.; 1300, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Known, Heiden-Heiland, Lämpeld, 201, ii., Camparus, J.; 1213, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Known, Jesus, Heiland, Lämpeld, 201, ii., Camparus, J. Psalmen und Spirituales Liedes, 1540, i., Luther, M.
Known, heiliger Geist, walter dich!, 1213, i., Weiss, M.
Known, Himmelsfürst, komm Wunderkind, 1213, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Known, mein Hirr, in dem Leiden, 417, i., German hymnody
Known, o heiliger Geist, send mehr, 1214, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Known, o komm, du Geist der Lehren, 608, i., Held, M.
Known Jagen aus der Höh, 135, i., Benigna-Maria of Reuss
Known on der Nat, du Gott all rufen, 1305, i., Wichmann, F. H.
Known, Christen, Gottes Huld zu feiern, 976, ii., Lindemann, F. H.
Known, ihr, du hohelen Himmelsheln, 514, i., Herman, N.
Known her zu mir, sagt Gottes Sohn, 672, ii., Grienwald, O.
Known herein, ihr lieben Glieder, 1303, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Known hast an unsren Stahn, 1015, i., Schubart, C. F. D.
Known the Christen, known und hirst, 207, ii., Denicke, D.
Known, Kinder known was gehen, 417, ii., German hymnody
Known, known nach den Herren lehren, 207, ii., Denicke, D.
Known, meine Freund, und hirst an, 1007, ii., Scheffler, J.
Known, Sünder, geffent euen Lammsmahl, 12, ii., Ad coenam Agni provati, 699, ii., Knott von Rosenroth, C.
Known, Sünder, und Nichel den meinen Jahen, 1303, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Known, wir heut hast Christum ehren, 411, i., Gerhardt, P.
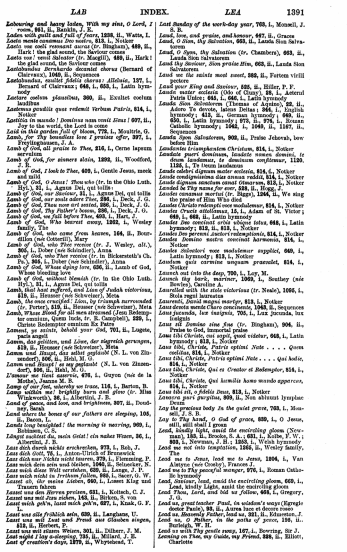
Known und hast uns Jesum lehren, 207, ii., Denicke, D.
Kreus, wie grimm dich uns Herzen, 593, ii., Salve crux sancta, salve
Kreus, wie hehersterer Ringer, 1305, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Kyrie eleison, 706, ii., Luther, M.

La fontaine dans un oreore, 676, i., Guyon (née de la Mothe), Jeanne M. B.
Labour on! late and early, 626, i., Klopstock, F. G.
Labourers of Christ, arise, 1308, i., Bigorney (née Hankey), Lydia
Labouring and heavy laden, Wanting help in time of need, 672, ii., Lisenius; 703, i., Monod, J. S. B.



Labouring and heavy laden, With my sins, O Lord, I 1392, ii.
Laden with guilt and full of fear, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Lamb mein gesammel ins nahre, 813, i., Nokker
Lamb, me call resonant aurea (tr. Bingham), 469, ii., Hark! the glad sound, the Saviour comes Lamb, me call resonant aurea (tr. Caswall), 530, ii., Hark! the glad sound, the Saviour comes Lambebudus Bernhardo decantat chorus (Bernard of Clairvaux), 1068, ii., Sequences
Lambebudus, exultet fidelis chorus Alleluia, 127, i., Bernard of Clairvaux; 668, i., 825, i., Latin hymns
Lantare caelum jucundum, 300, ii., Exultet coelum laudibus
Lantemus paradisi quae redemit Verbum Patris, 814, i., Nokker
Lapidibus in mundo Dominus non venit Jesus! 977, ii., Jesus, in the world, the Lord never came Laid on this garden full of bloom, 778, i., Monkton, G.
Lamb, for thy bountiful love I praises offer, 397, i., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Lamb of God, all praise to Thee, 816, i., Cerne lapsum Adae
Lamb of God, for sinners slain, 1092, ii., Woodford, J. R.
Lamb of God, I look to Thee, 409, i., Gentle Jesus, meek and mild
Lamb of God, O Jesus! Thou who (tr. in the Ohio Luth. Hyl.), 81, i., Agnus Dei, qui tollis
Lamb of God, our saviour, 81, i., Agnus Dei, qui tollis
Lamb of God, our souls adore Thee, 398, i., Duck, J. G.
Lamb of God, Thou now art seated, 398, i., Duck, J. G.
Lamb of God, we fall before Thee, 398, i., Duck, J. G.
Lamb of God, we fall before Thee, 409, i., Hart, J.
Lamb of God, Who bearest away, 1092, i., Wesley family, The Lamb of God, who came from heaven, 106, ii., Bourdillon, F. W.
Lamb of God, who Thou reignest (tr. J. Wesley, alt.), 805, i., Dober (see Schneider), Anna
Lamb of God, who Thou reignest (tr. in Hickenstath's Ch. Pa.), 805, i., Dober (see Schneider), Anna
Lamb of God, whose bleeding love, 696, ii., Lamb of God, Whose bleeding love
Lamb of God, without blemish (tr. in the Ohio Luth. Hyl.), 81, i., Agnus Dei, qui tollis
Lamb, Hail hast suffered, and Lion of Judah victorious, 1, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre
Lamb, the once crucified! Lion, by triumph surrounded (tr. Porter), 219, ii., Hosmer (see Schwenter), Meta
Lamb, Whose blood for all men streamed (Jesu Redemptor omnium, Quem lucis, tr. R. Campbell), 229, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre
Lamaut, ye saints, behold your God, 701, ii., Logan, Martha
Lamm, das gelitten, und Löwe, der siegreich gerungen, 819, ii., Hosmer (see Schwenter), Meta
Lamm und Hengst, das selbst geglaubt (N. L. von Zinzendorf), 696, ii., Heil, M. C.
Lamm und Hengst, das selbst geglaubt (N. L. von Zinzendorf), 696, ii., Heil, M. C.
L'amour me tient agarrée, 679, i., Guyon (née de la Mothe), Jeanne M. B.
Lamp of our feet, whereby we trust, 113, i., Barton, B.
Lamp of our feet, whereby we trust (tr. Miss Winkworth), 29, i., Allerlieb, J. H.
Land of peace, and love, and brightness, 207, ii., Doddridge, Sarah
Land of the noble, home of our fathers are sleeping, 195, ii., Bacon, L.
Lands long benighted! the morning is nearing, 960, i., Robinson, C. S.
Langst suchtet du, mein Geist! ein nahes Wesen, 56, i., Eberhard, J.
Lass dich Gott, mein schönes erschrecken, 272, i., Reh, J.
Lass dich Gott, Tit. i., Anton-Ulrich of Brunswick
Lass dich nur Yickts nicht irren, 272, i., Flemming, P.
Lass mich dein sein und bleiben, 1240, ii., Selnecker, N.
Lass mich dir Wall verneinen, 696, ii., Lange, J. D.
Lass mich dir Wall verneinen, 696, ii., Lange, J. W.
Lasset ab, die meine Länder, 592, i., Lower King and Transeu fabem
Lasset uns den Herren preisen, 631, i., Kotsch, C. J.
Lasset uns mit den ruhen, 183, ii., Birken, S. von
Lasst mich gehn, lasst mich gehn, 627, i., Knak, G. F.
Lasst uns alle FREUDE sehn, 620, ii., Langhans, U.
Lasst uns mit Freuden und Freud aus Gläuben singen, 1241, ii., Herbert, —
Lasst uns mit einem Weisen, 301, ii., Dilherr, J. M.
Last night I lay a-sleeping, 782, ii., Millard, J. E.
Last of creation's days, 1879, ii., Wrytsdael, T.
Last Sunday of the week-day year, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Laud, love, and praise, and honour, 667, ii., Grace
Laud, O Zion, thy Salvation, 663, ii., Landa Sion Salvatorem
Laud, O Zion, thy Salvation (tr. Chambers), 663, ii., Landa Sion Salvatorem
Laud thy Saviour, Zion praise him, 663, ii., Landa Sion Salvatorem
Laud we the saints most sanct, 663, ii., Patrem virtiti pectore
Laud your King and Saviour, 525, ii., Hiller, P. F.
Laudate dominum salutis (Ps. cxvii.), 31, i., Arterial Pietis Unite; 644, i., 666, i., Latin hymns
Laudes Sion Salvatorem (Thomas of Aquino), 23, ii., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas; 266, i., English hymnody; 613, ii., German hymnody; 663, ii., 670, i., Latin hymnody; 673, ii., 676, i., Rouse hymnody; 1042, i., 1060, ii., 1107, ii., Sequences
Laudes Sion Salvatorem, 900, ii., Praise Jehovah, low before Him
Laudetcke triumphantem Christum, 814, i., Nokker
Laudet dominum in sanctis ejus, 1135, i., Laudate te dnum laudemus, te dominum confitemur, 1135, i., Te Deum laudamus
Laude cedeti dignum matter ecclesia, 814, i., Nokker
Laude confessionis dat unum rabbi, 814, i., Nokker
Laude confessionis dat unum rabbi, 814, i., Nokker
Lauded be Thy name, for ever, 324, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Lauder consonus mortis (tr. Riggs), 1066, ii., We sing the praise of Him Who died
Lauder Christo redempti non mollemur, 814, i., Nokker
Lauder Deo patrem sanctum mentes sincerae, 814, i., St. Victor; 668, i., 825, ii., Latin hymnody
Lauder Jon concinat urbs alegre laus, 668, i., Latin hymnody; 814, ii., 815, i., Nokker
Laudes Jon parenni Justoru redemptoris, 814, i., Nokker
Laudemkcio sanctis mentes sincerae harmonia, 814, i., Nokker
Laudes Salandori non malalemur supplici, 640, i., Latin hymnody; 813, i., Nokker
Laudum quis carmine unquam praeculat, 814, i., Nokker
Launch out into the deep, 793, i., Lee, M.
Launch thy bark, mariner, 1009, i., Southey (née Bowles), Caroline A.
Laurelled with the stole victorious (tr. Neale), 1066, i., Sequences
Laurentii, Spesid magnus martyr, 813, i., Nokker
Laus decora mente Claro concinente, 1042, ii., Sequences
Laus jucunda, hoc tempore, 705, i., Lux jucunda, hoc tempore
Laus sit Domino sine fine (tr. Bingham), 906, ii., To God, immortal praise
Laus tibi Christe, nec aegri, quod victor, 668, i., Latin hymnody; 813, i., Nokker
Laus tibi, Christe, Patris optimi Nate . . . . Quem cecinit, 814, i., Nokker
Laus tibi Christe, Patris optimi Nate . . . . Qui hodie, 814, i., Nokker
Laus tibi, Christe, Qui es Creator et Redemptor, 814, i., Nokker
Laus tibi, Christe, Qui humilis homo mundo apparuisti, 814, i., Nokker
Laus tibi sit, o fidelis Jesu, 813, i., Nokker
Lauseyn gari pargitus, 800, ii., Non alienat lympine Deum
Lay the precious body In the quiet grave, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Lay to Thy hand, O God of grace, 669, i., O Jesus, still, still shall I grieve
Lead, blissful light, amid the encircling gloom (Novissima), 120, ii., Brooke, S. A.; 621, i., Kelke, F. W.; 1061, i., Newman, J. B.; 1153, i., Welch hymnody Lead, kind Light, amid the encircling gloom, 1061, ii., Wesley family, The Lead me to Jesus, lead me to Jesus, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Lead me to Thy peaceful manger, 970, i., Roman Catholic hymnody
Lead, Saviour, lead, amid the encircling gloom, 669, i., Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom
Lead, Thou, Lord, and bid us follow, 685, i., Gregory, T.
Lead us, great teacher Dead, in wisdom's ways (Egregie doctor Paule), 99, ii., Alma hos et decora mane
Lead us, Heavenly Father, lead us, 321, ii., Edmeston, J.
Lead us, O Father, lead us to the paths of peace, 195, ii., Bullock, W. H.
Lead us with Thy gentle sway, 127, i., Bowring, Sir J.
Leaning on Thee, my Guide, my Friend, 598, ii., Elliott, Charlotte

Leave all to God, 70, ii., Anton-Ulrich of Brunswick
Leave thy sin in order all thy ways, 726, ii., Neumark, G.
Leave me, dear ones, to my slumber, 214, i., Carr, Lisa
Leave, my soul, the shades of darkness, 1014, ii., Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele
Leave to his sovereign sway (tr. J. Wesley), 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
Leave to thy God to order, 727, i., Cowper, J.
Leaves have their times to fall, 589, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Lebendig! ach Erde wurfst dein, 966, i., Sachse, C. F. H.
Lebendig will ich dir gehen, 811, ii., Hofmann, J. C. K.
Led by a mighty arm, 393, i., Ferri tegmen brachio
Led by a mighty arm, 393, i., Ferri tegmen brachio
Led by the God of truth and grace, 165, ii., Scurfield, H.
Led by Thy figure prefigured, 300, ii., Exite filiae Sion, Regis pulchae virginis
Left behind, ye pilgrims darkly falling, 818, ii., Charlesworth, V.
Let cisse instrument, 956, ii., Psalters, French
Lass thau the land of all, 708, ii., Montgomery, J.
Lassens sonst of spring returning, 613, i., Kobbe, J.
Lest the former terry long, 589, ii., Isaiahth adventum
Let all believe in concert sing, 868, ii., Come let us join our friends above
Let all creation praise our God, 816, i., Herman, N.
Let all my soul praise the Lord, let all conspire (Ps. civii., Anthem), 1035, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Let all men know that all men sinner, 1166, ii., Trench, R. C.
Let all men praise the Lord, 180, i., Darling, T.
Let all men praise the Lord, In worship lowly bending (tr. A. Scratch), 960, ii., Herbert, G.
Let all men rejoice by Jesus restored, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Let all mortal flesh keep silence, 1007, ii., Liturgies of St. James
Let all on earth their voices raise, 300, ii., Exultet coelum laudibus
Let all on earth with songs rejoice, 300, ii., Exultet coelum laudibus
Let all our hearts be awake (tr. Miss Fry), 1127, ii., Von allen meinen Sinnen bin Engel bitwar
Let all our tongues be one, 1238, i., Watts, I.
Let all that are to earth inclined, 211, ii., Carols
Let all that breathe, Jehovah praise, 1204, ii., Wesley family, The Let all the earth her King adore, 703, i., Mimm Regem adorate omnes
Let all the earth their voices raise, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Let all the heathen writers join, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Let all the just to God with joy, 800, i. (Ps. xxxiii.), New Version
Let all the world with shouts of joy (Ps. lxvi.), 800, ii., New Version
Let all the listening world attend (Ps. xlix.), 800, ii., New Version
Let all the world confess from heaven (tr. Shew), 80, ii., Anton-Ulrich of Brunswick
Let all the world in every corner sing, 267, i., English hymnody; 813, i., Herbert, G.
Let all the world with prayer and praise (tr. Pearson), 813, ii., Grosthat orbe concinat, Latin hymn
Let all things now living a song intend, 1, ii., Addison, N.
Let all who truly love, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Let Alverna's holy mountain (tr. Caswall), 872, ii., Gratia Christi mons Alvernae
Let anarchy, from shore to shore, 1262, i., Bennett, S.
Let angels prostrate fall, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Let bolder hearts the strife require, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
Let children hear the mighty deeds, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Let children proclaim Their Saviour and King, 1204, ii., Wesley family, The Let Christ, in their God draw near, 378, i., First, C. G.
Let Christian faith and hope dispel (Anon. alt.), 188, ii., Bruce, R.; 817, ii., Now let our souls ascend above; 1034, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Let Christians grateful hymns of praise, 1204, i., Wesley family, The Let Christ's blood vanish from the heavens now, 878, ii., Jam tota sedibus vapet ex polo
Let David, Lord, a constant plan (Ps. cxxxii.), 601, i., New Version
Let dogs delight to bark and bite, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Let earth and heaven combine, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Let earth and skies rejoicing sing (tr. Chambers), 1197, ii., Tellus cuncta jubilant
Let earth be glad and joyful sing, 300, ii., Exultet coelum laudibus
Let earthly monarchs titles gain, 1256, i., Vicis sibi cognomina
Let earthly tyrants title claim, 1256, i., Vicis sibi cognomina
Let everlasting glories crown, 1258, i., Watts, I.
Let every age and nation own (tr. Neale), 30, ii., Agnoscat omne saeculum
Let every heart exulting feel, 1263, i., Watts, I.
Let every heart exulting feel, 361, i., Exultet cor praecordiis
Let every heart rejoice and sing, 1256, i., Washburn, H.S.
Let every mortal ear attend, 1258, i., Watts, I.
Let every nation know, 1263, i., Wesley family, The
Let every voice for praise ascend, 251, ii., Davis, T.
Let followers of the Apostles' faith, 817, ii., Now let our souls ascend above
Let Gentiles raise the thankful lay (tr. Neale), 807, i., Exultet coelum laudibus
Let glory be to God on high, 625, ii., Gloria in excelsis
Let go the where of Judaism, 365, i., English hymnody; 625, i., Goudly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Let God arise, and then His foes (Ps. lxviii., Sternhold), 1034, i., Scottish Psalter
Let God arise in all His might, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Let God be blest, be praised, and be thanked, 666, ii., Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet
Let God be praised, blessed and upraised, 666, ii., Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet
Let God, the God of battles, rise (Ps. lxviii.), 800, ii., New Version
Let God the Father live, 1258, i., Watts, I.
Let God, the mighty God, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Let God the Spirit complete the distract, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Let hearts and tongues unite, 804, i., Newton, J.
Let heaven arise, let earth appear (Watts, recast), 816, ii., Now let a spacious world arise; 1031, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Let heaven rejoice and earth be glad, 327, ii., Edgeumbe-Agnew (a reprint)
Let heaven resound with praises, 300, ii., Exultet coelum laudibus
Let heaven with Hallelujahs ring, 361, i., Exultet cor praecordiis
Let Him enthrone my soul and grace, 1258, i., Watts, I.
Let Him to Whom we now belong, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Let Israel in the Prince of Peace, 726, i., Messiah ! at Thy glad approach
Let Jesus rule the skies, and hearts in rapture flow, 224, i., In dulci jubilo singet und nis ere Let love through all your actions run, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Let love sway,—it cometh (tr. Miss Warner), 696, ii., Love sways, it cometh
Let me alone another year, 878, i., Let me alone this only year
Let me be Thine for ever, My gracious (tr. Lay), 1060, ii., Sebastian, F.
Let me go, let me go, Saviour say, 1259, i., Watts, I.
Let me close, let me close, 627, i., Knak, G. F. i.
Let me go, let me go, dear Jesus (tr. Mrs. Spenth), 627, i., Knak, G. F. i.
Let me go! ah, let me go, 627, i., Knak, G. F. i.
Let me go, let me go, dear Jesus to have to know (tr. Mrs. Spenth), 627, i., Knak, G. F. i.
Let me go, Oh me go, Lord to see (tr. Mrs. Spenth), 627, i., Knak, G. F. i.
Let me go, the day is breaking, 704, ii., Montgomery, J.
Let me leave of Jesus, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Let me leave to-day be shed, 603, i., Tuscri me dare clamorem
Let me not a thought ev pain thee (tr. J. Kelly), 1060, ii., Sebastian, F.
Let me to Thy bosom fly (their) wisdom boast, 1206, i., Wesley family, The Let not your hearts be troubled now, 879, ii., Let not your hearts with anxious thoughts
Let not your hearts with anxious thoughts, 879, ii., Let not your hearts with anxious thoughts
Let not your hearts with anxious thoughts, 869, ii., Robertson (of Edinburgh), W.; 1036, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases

Let nothing make the end or fruitful (tr. Miss Wink-worth), 979, i., Flemming, F.
Let now all honour due to love (tr. Hunt), 4, ii., A solis ortis cardine Ad usque
Let our choir new anthems raise, 866, ii., Pearse, S.
Let old things pass away (tr. Caswall), 898, i., Sacris solemniis juncta sint gaudia
Let other cities strive, which most (O sola magarum urbium, tr. in the Primer, 1706), 960, ii., Qui-cunque Christum quaeritis
Let others boast how strong they be, 1038, i., Watts, I.
Let others boast their ancient line, 878, ii., Critchlow, E.
Let others in their wealth delight, 783, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Let our choir new anthems raise, 866, ii., Greek hymn-ody, 967, ii., Litaniae
Let our choir with voice concordant (tr. Littledale), 1039, ii., Vox nostra resti cieri
Let our chorus raise innocuae (tr. Wrangham), 1039, ii., Vox nostra resti cieri
Let the names of prayer ascending, 903, i., Powell, J. E.
Let our loud song of praise arise, 977, ii., Reece, W.
Let party names no more The Christian world, 131, ii., Perronet, E.
Let praises fill the mighty theme, 877, ii., Irons, J.
Let rebellious no more be known, 877, ii., Irons, J.
Let glorious grace descend on those, 903, i., Newton, John
Let reason saintly boast her power, 613, i., Kelly, T.
Let saints below join saints above, 866, ii., Come, let us join our friends above
Let saints on earth in concert sing, 866, ii., Come, let us join our friends above
Let saints on earth their anthems raise, 41, ii., All hail the power of Jesus' Name
Let saints on earth their anthems raise, 672, ii., Let saints on earth their anthems raise
Let sighing cease and woe (tr. Blew), 977, i., Jam finitum suspiria
Let sinners speak give thanks and sing, 613, ii., Kelly, T.
Let sinners take their course, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Let songs of praises fill the sky, 906, i., Cotterill, T.
Let such as feel oppression's load, 95, i., Attend and mark the solemn fact
Let the bright seraphim dwell, 1038, i., Scottish Translations and paraphrases
Let thankful worlds confess from heaven (tr. Chambers), 30, ii., Apocal cimus sacrotum
Let the saints their breath resign, 1061, i., Stanzas, Sir Walter, Bart.
Let the children Christ said, 902, ii., Hoare, Marianne
Let the choir devoutly bring (tr. Pearse), 964, ii., Hagemnem sempiterna per saecula saecorum
Let the Church new anthems raise, 1135, i., Vox laeta ebullimus
Let the Church now anthems sing, 1186, i., Vox laeta ebullimus
Let the Church sing Alleluia (tr. Littledale), 49, i., Alleluia, voce decora
Let the Church's vault sometimes enter, 899, i., Oddities and eccentricities legit
Let the earth now praise the Lord, 897, ii., Reid, H.
Let the elders praise the Lord, 1166, ii., Thank and praise, Lord, we Let the loud mourn through all its coasts, 976, i., It is the Lord, behold His hand
Let the old houses be purged out (tr. C. B. Pearson), 1036, ii., Zyma vetus expurgetur
Let the people thanks and praise, 1265, i., Wesley family, The
Let the round world sing songs rejoice, 960, ii., Exultet coelum laudibus
Let the saints all rejoice and exult in their King, 1031, i., Wesley family, The Let the seventh angel sound on high, 1218, i., Watts, I.
Let the solemn organ blow, 640, ii., Grateful notes and numbers bring
Let the splendour of Thy word, 977, ii., Denicke, D.
Let the whole creation cry, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Let the voice of glad thanksgiving, 967, ii., Frölich soll mein Herze springen
Let the voices of blessing rise, 724, ii., Mitjana, A.
Let the whole creation cry, 183, ii., Brooks, S. A.
Let the whole world clap hands, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Let the whole world chant and sing (tr. Finnigin), 866, ii., Omnicant orbis cuncta, Alleluia
Let the world their virtue hoast, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Let us before Thy glory, Lord, 1038, i., Watts, I.
Let there be light, Jehovah said, 191, ii., Bonar, H.
Let this our solemn Feast (tr. Chambers), 996, i., Sacris solemniis juncta sint gaudia
Let Thy grace, Lord, make me (At) lively, 668, i., Goode, W.
Let Thy light on me be shining (tr. B. Manie), 139, ii., Dat Gij Jesu, uwlicht
Let Thy own voice, O Father, say, 709, i., Macdonald, G.
Let Thy spirit, Lord, descending, 668, ii., Hankinson, T. R.
Let trust and patient faith be thine (tr. to the German Hungarian, 17th), 439, i., Hiller, J. H. C.
Let those take their haughty names, 1264, i., Victis sibi cognomina
Let us adore the eternal Word, 1038, i., Watts, I.
Let us adore the grace that saves, 926, i., Newton, J.
Let us all in chorus sing (tr. Singleton), 304, i., Cantemus cuncti melodum nunc, Alleluia
Let us all in concert sing (tr. Allen), 304, i., Cantemus cuncti melodum nunc, Alleluia
Let us all in God rejoice (tr. Cox), 985, i., Laughare, U.
Let us all rejoice together, 939, i., Jubilemus omnes una
Let us all with gladness praise, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Let us all with grateful praises, 939, i., Bach, J.
Let us arise and watch by night, 939, i., Nocte surgentes vigilemus omnes
Let us arise and watch are drawn of light, 939, i., Nocte surgentes vigilemus omnes
Let us arise from night and slumber waking, 939, i., Nocte surgentes vigilemus omnes
Let us cancle our joys, 939, i., Kingsbury, W.
Let us be glad, and we more sad, 939, ii., Non frout each to the Lord's Supper
Let us be with one accord, 939, ii., Hamblen, C. B.
Let us celebrate this day, Christ the Lord's nativity, 939, ii., Christi hodiernia celebremus natalitia
Let us decently pray, 939, ii., Ela recolamus laudibus pia gesta
Let us duly magnify, 939, ii., Epistolarum Domino canamus glorioseo
Let us fam'd acts and triumphs sing, 939, ii., Sanctorum merita inclita gaudia
Let us hear a high ascending (tr. Russell), 183, ii., Birken, S. v.
Let us his praise unfold, 939, i., Furi tegente brachia
Let us join, (to God commands, 939, i., Come, and let us sweetly join
Let us keep constant guard, 998, i., Rerum Creator optime
Let us keep the feast, 939, ii., Hiller, Emily E. S.
Let us now with Christ be dying, 143, ii., Birken, S. von
Let us pray, the Lord is willing, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
Let us sing of our Saviour's Name, 939, i., Sanctorum merita inclita gaudia
Let us raise our grateful [gladsome] voices, 186, i., Brown-Borthwick, S.
Let us rejoice in Christ the Lord, 904, i., Newton, J.
Let us sing, (tr. Hymns Ancient and Modern), Laetemur laudes canentes, 939, i., Sanctorum merita inclita gaudia
Let us sing how martyrs bled (Christes profanum sanguinem, tr. Walker), 33, i., Asterna Christi munera Et martyrum victorias
Let us sing with one accord, 1179, ii., Thrupp, Dorothy Let us that followers be the glorious hosts around out, 939, ii., Sanctorum merita inclita gaudia
Let us, the scholars of Christ's school, 939, ii., Ex more docti mystico
Let us to Jesus' throne (tr. Pratt), 939, i., Clapham, J. D.
Let us with a gladsome mind (Ps. 136, Milton), 727, i., Milton, J.; 732, ii., Nineteen; 903, ii., Fuller, G
Let us with a gladsome mind (Stanley), 1097, ii., Stanley, Dean
Let us with a joyful mind, 727, i., Milton, J.
Let us with hearts renewed (tr. Caswall), 996, i., Sacris solemniis juncta sint gaudia
Let us with lowly voice, 606, ii., Laudes Salvatori voce modulemur supplici
Let who will in this rejoice, 307, i., Franck, J.
Let whosoever will enquire, 1036, i., Scudder, Elias
Let Zion and her sons rejoice, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Let Zion in her King rejoice, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Let Zion's watchmen all awake, 939, i., Watts, I.
Let Zion's sons and daughters sing (tr. Porter), 939, i., O filii et filiae, hoc caelestis, Rex gloriae
L'Eternel est mon part, 392, i., French hymnody
Lieveaanaan, friets, 992, ii., French hymnody
Licht von Licht, erbarme mich, 1012, ii., Schmicki, B.
Lie down, frail body, here, 191, ii., Bonar, H.
Light of life, celestial Fire, 976, i., Light of life, seraphic Fire
Light of life so softly shining, 103, i., Bonar, H.
Light of Light, enlighten me, 1012, ii., Schmicki, B.
Light of the anxious heart, Jesus, Thy supplicants cheer (tr. Newman), 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the anxious heart, Jesus, Thy supplicants cheer (tr. Campbell), 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the Gentile nations, 307, i., Franck, J.
Light of the Gentile nations, 307, i., Franck, J.
Light of the Gentile world, 307, i., Franck, J.
Light of the Immortal, Father's glory, 126, i., Bethune, G. W.; 994, ii., Non impulsi ream culpa
Light of the lonely pilgrim's heart, 988, i., Denny, Sir Edward
Light of the soul, O Saviour blest, 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the troubled heart, Jesus, Thy supplicants cheer (tr. Campbell), 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the world, for ever, ever shining, 183, i., Bonar, H.
Light of the world, O shine on us, 209, ii., Cross (nee Cambridge), Ada
Light of the world, shine on our souls, 161, ii., Bicker-steth, E.
Light of the world, we hail Thee, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Light of the world: Whose kind and gentle care, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
Light of the world! sit on darkness, 856, i., Ow those of misery veils of darkness
Light shall from the dark abyss, 143, ii., Birks, E. R.; 979, ii., Litaniae
Light the candle world to lighten, and thy glory kernel, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Light up this house with glory, Lord, 893, i., Harris, J.
Light wells for us in heaven, 214, i., Carr, Alice
Lightly bound my bones, ringing, 306, i., Frölich soll mein Herze springen
Light's abode, celestial Salem, 979, ii., Jerusalem coelestis
Light's glittering dawn bedecks the sky (tr. Neale, alt.), 98, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
Light's glittering morn bedecks the sky (tr. Neale), 98, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
Light's rich morn its tenure displays (tr. Chambers), 98, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
Like a river glorious is God's perfect peace, 676, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Like as a father his own children loves, 698, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Like Christ, Jesus ye to blood or death, 131, ii., Behold what witnesses unseen
Like freshfall Aberdeen's holy child (tr. B. Campbell), 1, ii., Adam Aberdonensis
Like Israel's hosts to safe shrines, 1213, ii., Ware, H., jun.
Like mist on the mountains, 707, ii., McCheyne, R. M.
Like morning when her early breeze, 704, i., Quarles, F.
Like Moses' brazen serpent, 1, i., Adams, Sarah Flower
Like shadows gliding o'er the plains, 1118, i., Taylor, John
Like sheep we went astray, 1238, i., Watts, I.
Like to the damask rose you see, 704, i., Quarles, F.
Like to the falling of a star, 272, i., How, W. W.
Longua mea, die trophaea virginis purpurea, 1202, i., Ut Jesumdae cervus ardes sentiscus desiderat
Longwood beata Magi, 625, i., Latin hymnody
Listen, sinner, mercy knids you, 956, i., Reed, A.
Listen to the exulting lyre, 1261, i., Wesley, W. M.
Listen to those happy voices, 703, i., Lyte, H. F.
Little bernes of rosy light, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
Little children, all those were, 1227, ii., Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar
Little children, God above, 1145, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Little flock, be not afraid (tr. D. T. Morgan), 1150, i., Sionael pusillus grex Patris
Little flowers of martyrdom (Salvete flores martyrum), 1, ii., Adam Aberdonensis
Little footsteps, lightly falling, 1204, i., Sigourney (nee Huntley), Lydia
Little travellers Homewards, 302, i., Edmeston, J.
Little vessels on life's ocean, 274, i., Jackson, E. H.
Little waves on life's ocean, 274, i., Jackson, E. H.
Living bread from heaven, 995, i., Hin, J.
Living, but in midst of death (Mitten wir im Leben sind), 781, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
Living or dying, Lord, I would be Thine, 16, ii., Adams (nee Flower), Sarah

Ide open, soul! around thee press, 1196, ii., Unitarian Hymnody
Lidde, die du mich zum Bilde (Scheffler), 616, ii., Germ-an hymnody, 627, ii., O Du Liebe meiner Liebe
Lieber Herre Gott, wecke uns, 1012, ii., Schmicki, B.
Liebet Gott, o liebet Lust, 812, ii., Herbert, G.
Liebster Jesu in den Tagen, 318, i., Trem, Catherine M.
Liebster Jesu, labetes Leben, 892, ii., Petersen, J. W.
Liebster Jesu wir sind hier, Dich und Dein Wort anzuhören, 227, ii., Clausnitzer, T.
Liebwerther, sinner Gottes-Will, 1164, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Life and strength of all Thy servants (To splendor et Virtus Patris), 1177, i., Vita Christe, splendor Patris
Life from the dead, eternal life, 724, ii., Mitjana, A.
Life in the Lamb, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Life is a span, a fleeting hour, 1202, i., Steele, Anne
Life is real! Life is earnest, 693, i., Longfellow, H. W.
Life is the hour that God hath given, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Life is the time to serve the Lord (Watts), 1264, i., Watts, I. translations and paraphrases: 1265, i., Watts, I.
Life of ages, richly poured, 976, ii., Johnson, S.
Life of our life, and light of all our seeing!, 1035, i., Scudder, Elias Life of the soul, come down, 447, ii., Graves
Life of the world, I hail Thee, 999, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Life of the world unfailing (tr. A. M. Morgan), 997, ii., Salve aeterna, indefectum mundi vita
Life's fleeting hours are few, 1265, i., Steiner, C. F. P.
Life-light cometh to an end, 939, i., Crippman, Elizabeth G.
Life's course must recommence to-day (tr. Miss Cox), 1160, i., Sirens, C. C.
Lift thy head, thou weary soul, voice (tr. Miss Cox), 969, ii., Hickson, M.
Lift hand and voice above, 772, ii., Steele, H. C. G.
Lift high a festal canticle, 260, i., Darling, T.
Lift my soul, thy voice harmonious (tr. Mercer ?), 813, ii., Herbert, George, Sir, of Cherbury
Lift thou the weary one, 1265, i., Dunn, O. W.
Lift the angel banner, 666, i., Gough, B.
Lift the strain of high thanksgiving, 977, i., Elliston, J.
Lift thine eyes from home to heaven, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Lift thy longing eyes to heaven, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Lift thy song among the nations, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
Lift up, lift up your hands, ye gates (tr. G. Moultrie), 1848, ii., Webster, G.
Lift up my soul to Him, O Lord, 321, ii., Edeling, C. L.
Lift up the Advent strain, 949, ii., Instantis adventus cano
Lift up thyself, my soul, 29, ii., Are ou dreyd
Lift up to God the voice of praise, 1232, ii., 1233, i., Werther, H.
Lift up ye saints your joyful heads, 1230, i., Wach auf, wach auf, du deutsches Land
Lift up your heads, eternal gates (Ps. xxiv.), 900, i., New Version
Lift up your heads, eternal gates, 901, ii., Pott, F.
Lift up your heads, rejoice, 709, i., Lynch, T. T.
Lift up your heads, ye gates, and wide, 784, i., Montgomery, J.
Lift up your heads, ye gates of light, 329, i., Cosby, G.
Lift up your heads, ye gates, your psalms bingen wave, 329, i., Cosby, G.
Lift up your heads, ye mighty gates, 1266, ii., Wrangham, W.
Lift up your hearts to things above, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Lift up your songs, ye thankful, 903, i., Dow, W. C.
Lift up your voice and thankful sing, 703, ii., Merrick, J.
Lift up yourselves, ye joyous strains, 1218, i., Schöner, G. G.
Light, your eyes of faith, and see, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Light your glad voices in triumph on high, 1233, ii., Ware, H., jun.
Light your hands, ye Friends of Jesus, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Light after darkness, Gain after loss, 687, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
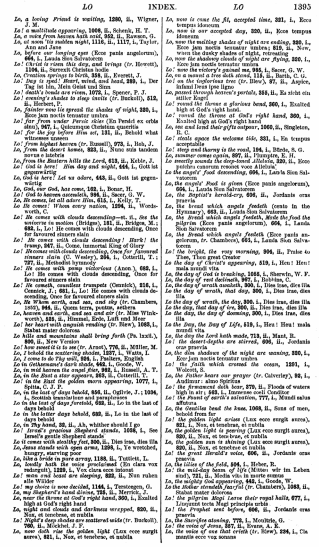
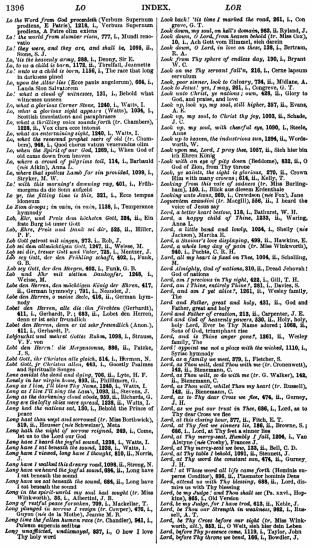
Light and comfort of my soul, 1203, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
Light as heaven, we walk in its brightness, 169, i., Bonar, H.
Light in the darkness, sailor, day is at hand, 150, i., Hine, T.
Light of gladness, Sacra divina (tr. Bright), 996, ii., Sacra divina lucis fulgor
Light of Nature's eternal day! (tr. Russell), 629, ii., Rivers von Sonnenlicht, O
Light of life, celestial Fire, 976, i., Light of life, seraphic Fire
Light of life so softly shining, 103, i., Bonar, H.
Light of Light, enlighten me, 1012, ii., Schmicki, B.
Light of the anxious heart, Jesus, Thy suppliants cheer (tr. Newman), 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the anxious heart, Jesus, Thy suppliants cheer (tr. Campbell), 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the Gentile nations, 307, i., Franck, J.
Light of the Gentile nations, 307, i., Franck, J.
Light of the Gentile world, 307, i., Franck, J.
Light of the Immortal, Father's glory, 126, i., Bethune, G. W.; 994, ii., Non impulsi ream culpa
Light of the lonely pilgrim's heart, 988, i., Denny, Sir Edward
Light of the soul, O Saviour blest, 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the troubled heart, Jesus, Thy suppliants cheer (tr. Campbell), 709, i., Lux alma Jesu mentibus
Light of the world, for ever, ever shining, 183, i., Bonar, H.
Light of the world, O shine on us, 209, ii., Cross (nee Cambridge), Ada
Light of the world, shine on our souls, 161, ii., Bicker-steth, E.
Light of the world, we hail Thee, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Light of the world: Whose kind and gentle care, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
Light of the world, sit on darkness, 856, i., Ow those of misery veils of darkness
Light shall from the dark abyss, 143, ii., Birks, E. R.; 979, ii., Litaniae
Light the candle world to lighten, and thy glory kernel, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Light up this house with glory, Lord, 893, i., Harris, J.
Light wells for us in heaven, 214, i., Carr, Alice
Lightly bound my bones, ringing, 306, i., Frölich soll mein Herze springen
Light's abode, celestial Salem, 979, ii., Jerusalem coelestis
Light's glittering dawn bedecks the sky (tr. Neale, alt.), 98, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
Light's glittering morn bedecks the sky (tr. Neale), 98, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
Light's rich morn its tenure displays (tr. Chambers), 98, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
Like a river glorious is God's perfect peace, 676, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Like as a father his own children loves, 698, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Like Christ, Jesus ye to blood or death, 131, ii., Behold what witnesses unseen
Like freshfall Aberdeen's holy child (tr. B. Campbell), 1, ii., Adam Aberdonensis
Like Israel's hosts to safe shrines, 1213, ii., Ware, H., jun.
Like mist on the mountains, 707, ii., McCheyne, R. M.
Like morning when her early breeze, 704, i., Quarles, F.
Like Moses' brazen serpent, 1, i., Adams, Sarah Flower
Like shadows gliding o'er the plains, 1118, i., Taylor, John
Like sheep we went astray, 1238, i., Watts, I.
Like to the damask rose you see, 704, i., Quarles, F.
Like to the falling of a star, 272, i., How, W. W.
Longua mea, die trophaea virginis purpurea, 1202, i., Ut Jesumdae cervus ardes sentiscus desiderat
Longwood beata Magi, 625, i., Latin hymnody
Listen, sinner, mercy knids you, 956, i., Reed, A.
Listen to the exulting lyre, 1261, i., Wesley, W. M.
Listen to those happy voices, 703, i., Lyte, H. F.
Little bernes of rosy light, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
Little children, all those were, 1227, ii., Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar
Little children, God above, 1145, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Little flock, be not afraid (tr. D. T. Morgan), 1150, i., Sionael pusillus grex Patris
Little flowers of martyrdom (Salvete flores martyrum), 1, ii., Adam Aberdonensis
Little footsteps, lightly falling, 1204, i., Sigourney (nee Huntley), Lydia
Little travellers Homewards, 302, i., Edmeston, J.
Little vessels on life's ocean, 274, i., Jackson, E. H.
Little waves on life's ocean, 274, i., Jackson, E. H.
Living bread from heaven, 995, i., Hin, J.
Living, but in midst of death (Mitten wir im Leben sind), 781, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
Living or dying, Lord, I would be Thine, 16, ii., Adams (nee Flower), Sarah



LO INDEX. LO 1395

Lo, a loving Friend is waiting, 1280, ii., Wigner, J. M.
Lo! a multitude appearing, 1008, ii., Schuh, H. T.
Lo, a voice from heaven hath cried, 332, ii., Reese, G.
Lo, at noon 'tis sudden night, 1118, ii., 1117, i., Taylor, J. G.
Lo, before our longing eyes (Ecce panis angelorum), 864, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Lo! Christ is risen this day, and brings (tr. Hewett), 1104, ii., Surrexit Christus hodie
Lo, Christ is risen this day, 1104, ii., Ernest, J.
Lo! 'beg to spoil,' Heart, mind, and hand, 289, i., Der Tag ist hin, Mein Geist und Sinn
Lo! death's bonds are riven, 1079, i., Spencer, F. J.
Lo! evening's shades in deep tints (tr. Burkett), 612, ii., Ecce tempus idoneum
Lo, falsehood sees to spread the shades of night, 289, i., Ecce jam noctis tenuator umbra
Lo! from highest heaven (tr. Russell), 972, i., Hah, J.
Lo, from the desert howls, 893, ii., Nunc mihi tandem novus e labebis
Lo, God's anointers kills the Lord, 613, ii., Kehle, J.
Lo! God is here! Let us adore, 645, ii., Gott ist gegenwärtig
Lo, God is here! Let us adore, 645, ii., Gott ist gegenwärtig
Lo, our God, has come, 522, i., Bonar, H.
Lo! God in heaven ascended, 984, ii., Sarn, G. W.
Lo, He comes, let all adore Him, 615, i., Kelly, T.
Lo He comes! Whom every nation, 1256, ii., Wordsworth, C.
Lo! He comes with clouds descending—as, of old, the prophet saw a nation (Bridges), 181, ii., Bridges, M.; 686, i., Lo! He comes with clouds descending, Once for favoured sinners slain
Lo! He comes with clouds descending! Hark! the tramp, 907, ii., Come, immortal King of Glory
Lo! He comes with clouds descending, Once for favoured sinners slain, 686, i., Lo! He comes with clouds descending, 727, ii., Methodist hymnody
Lo! He comes with pomp victorious (Anon.), 686, i., Lo! He comes with clouds descending, Once for favoured sinners slain
Lo! He comes with sounding trumpets (Cennick), 256, i., Cennick, J., 921, i., Lo! He comes with clouds descending, Once for favoured sinners slain
Lo, He Who earth, and sea, and sky (Dr. Chambers, 1803), 984, ii., Queen terra, pontus, aethera
Lo! He Who gave the word of old (Dr. John Wilkinson), 121, ii., Hinaus, Ihr Lieb und Leut' Hier
Lo! her heart with anguish rending (tr. Rice), 1068, i., Flebat mater dolorosa
In hills and mountains shall bring forth (Ps. lxxii.), 1, ii., Addison, J.
Lo! how sweet it is to see (tr. Arnot), 778, ii., Möller, M.
Lo, I behold the scattering shades, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Lo, I come to do Thy will, 916, i., Packers, English
Lo to Gethsemane's dark shade, 662, i., Goode, W.
Lo, in the East a star appears, 1077, i., Cennick, J.; 1077, ii., Methodist hymnody
Lo! in the East a star appears, 861, ii., Cotterill, T.
Lo! in the East the golden morn appearing, 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Lo, in the last days behold, 890, ii., Ogilvie, J.; 1094, i., Cennick, J.; 1094, ii., Methodist hymnody
Lo in the last days foretold, 632, ii., Lo in the last of days behold
Lo in the latter days behold, 632, ii., Lo in the last of days behold
Lo, in the last of days behold, 92, ii., Ah, whither should I go
Lo! Israel's gracious Shepherd stands, 1256, i., See Israel's gentle Shepherd stands
Lo it comes with stealthy fear, 800, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Lo, Jesus stands with open arms, 1268, i., Ye wretched, hungry, starving poor
Lo, like a bride in pure array, 1110, ii., Tyrlich, L.
Lo, loudly hath the voice proclaimed (Ein klarn vox redargut), 1225, i., Von Gnra sein bekannt
Lo! man and beast are sleeping, 822, ii., Nun ruhen alle Wälder
Lo! my choice is now decided, 1156, i., Tersteegen, G.
Lo, my Shepherd's found divine, 722, ii., Merrick, J.
Lo, near the throne of God's right hand, 300, i., Exalted high at God's right hand
Lo, on a narrow neck of land, 1268, ii., Jesus stands with arms wrapped, 850, ii., Hall, at sundries, et subtilia
Lo! Night's dusky shades are scattered wide (tr. Burkett), 760, ii., Michiel, J. F.
Lo, now doth rise the golden light (Lux ecce surgit aurea), 851, i., Nun, et tenebras, et subtilia
Lo, now is come the fit, accepted time, 321, i., Ecce tempus idoneum
Lo, now is our accepted day, 320, ii., Ecce tempus idoneum
Lo, now the melting shades of night are sailing, 289, i., Ecce jam noctis tenuator umbra, 289, i., Now, now the dusky shades of night, retreating
Lo, now the shadowy clouds of night are flying, 289, i., Ecce jam noctis tenuator umbra
Lo! now the victory's gained me, 985, i., Sarr, G. W.
Lo, now the wonder sounds the deep-toned Alleluia, 320, ii., Soon sweetly victorious resounds voon Alleluia
Lo on the leafy tree (tr. Blew), 97, ii., Anyte, Schnell laun ipse ligno
Lo, pierced through heaven's portals, 334, ii., Es strömt ein selber Regen
Lo! rapt with fervour a glorious band, 300, i., Exalted high at God's right hand
Lo! raised the throne at God's right hand, 300, i., Exalted high at God's right hand
Lo, the sad land their gifts outpour, 1060, ii., Singleton, H.
Lo! shall upon the welcome tide, 321, i., Ein trupos acceptable
Lo! sings and harmy in the road, 196, i., Hinde, S. G.
Lo, summer comes again, 597, ii., Plumptre, E. H.
Lo sweetly sounds the deep-toned Alleluia, 320, ii., Soon sweetly victorious resounds voon Alleluia
Lo the angels' food descending, 596, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Lo, the angels' Food is given (Ecce panis angelorum), 596, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Lo, the baptist's herald-cry, 696, ii., Jordanis oras praevia
Lo, the bread which angels feedeth (rests in the Hymnary), 863, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Lo, the bread which angels feedeth, Made the food the pilgrim (Ecce panis angelorum), 864, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Lo, the bread which angels feedeth (Ecce panis angelorum, tr. Chambers), 863, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Lo! the bridal the cry warning, 906, ii., Praise to our God be raised
Lo the day of Christ's appearing, 819, i., Hoc: Hoc! mala sentit vita
Lo, the day of God is branding, 1064, i., Charsetz, W. F.
Lo, the day of rest declineth, 362, i., Robinson, G.
Lo, the day of wrath, that day, 800, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Lo the day of wrath, that day, 800, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Lo the day of wrath, the day, 800, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Lo the day, that day of ire, 800, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
Lo the day, the day of doom, 800, i., Dies irae, dies illa
Lo the Day, the Day of Life, 819, i., Hoc: Hoc! mala sentit vita
Lo, the day the Lord hath made, 713, ii., Must, R.
Lo! the golden Alpha are stirred, 696, ii., Jordanis oras praevia
Lo, the dim shadows of the night are waning, 289, i., Ecce jam noctis tenuator umbra
Lo! the faith which crowned the cross, 1201, i., Wesley, C.
Lo, the Father hears our prayer (tr. Calvetley), 98, i., Auditur: alme Spiritus
Lo! the firmament doth bear, 879, ii., Floods of waters high in air; 882, i., Immense coeli Conditor
Lo! the God of earth's salvation, 779, i., Mendi entus efficeus
Lo, the Gentiles head the Sons, 1008, ii., Sons of men, behold from far
Lo! the golden light arises (Lux ecce surgit aurea), 851, i., Nun, et tenebras, et subtilia
Lo, the golden light is gracing (Lux ecce surgit aurea), 850, ii., Nun, et tenebras, et subtilia
Lo, the golden sun is shining (Lux ecce surgit aurea), 850, ii., Nun, et tenebras et subtilia
Lo! the great Herald's voice, 696, ii., Jordanis oras praevia
Lo, the lilies of the field, 898, i., Heber, R.
Lo! the melody hours of life (Mitten wir im Leben sind), 732, ii., Mocht ich in mein ende
Lo, the Morning Star ascending, 1008, ii., Sons of men, behold from far
Lo, the pilgrim Host leave their royal halls, 677, i., Hinpiont tern Magi principia urbis
Lo! the prophet soul before, 696, ii., Jordanis oras praevia
Lo, the Sacrifice atoning, 773, i., Monfalu, G.
Lo! the voice of Jesus, 527, ii., Evans, A. R.
Lo, the voice of one that cries (tr. Blew), 294, i., Un mentin cero vos nouuo



1396 LO INDEX. LOR

Lo the Word from God proceedeth (Verbum Supernum prodiens, E Patris), 1213, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
Lo! the world from slumber rises, 777, i., Mundi consurgit vita
Lo! they wave, and they are, and shall be, 1095, ii., Stone, S. J.
Lo, 'tis heavenly array, 288, i., Denny, Sir E.
Lo, to us a child is born, 1172, ii., Tirrell, Jeannette
Lo! to us the Lord is born, 1136, i., The race that long in darkness plod
Lo, upon the altar lies (Ecce panis angelorum), 594, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Lo! what a cloud of witnesses, 121, i., Behold what a cloud of witnesses
Lo, what a glorious Corner Stone, 1086, i., Watts, I.
Lo, what a glorious sight appears (Watts), 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Lo, what a thrilling voice sounds forth (tr. Chambers), 1225, i., Von Gnra sein bekannt
Lo, what an overwhelming light, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lo, what the renewed prophet saw of old (tr. Cumberland), 968, i., Quos cluvine vatum veneratio olim
Lo, when the Spirit of our God, 1209, i., When God of old came down from heaven
Lo, where a crowd of pilgrims rest, 114, i., Barnard (nee Aitkin), Anna L.
Lo, where that gushing Lamb for sin provided, 1098, i., Stryker, M. W.
Lo! with a marvellous dawning ray, 401, i., Frith-Harrold, Miss Rose Ashford
Lo, ye the Killing Lion to this, 321, i., Ecce tempus idoneum
Lo Zion droops; its ruin, its ruin, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Loh, Kir, was Freis dem kichsten Gott, 324, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Loh, Herr, Freis und Dank sei dir, 688, ii., Hiller, P. F.
Loh Gott gelenk mit singen, 272, i., Rob, J.
Loh mi dem allmächtigen Gott, 1262, ii., Werne, M.
Loh mir, treuer Gott und Vater, 722, i., Meister, J.
Loh mi Gott, der den Frühling schafft, 600, i., Funk, G. B.
Loh mi Gott, der den Morgen, 402, i., Funk, G. B.
Loh mi Gott, der mit steten Beistande, 1262, i., Werne, M.
Lohe den Herren, den mächtigen König der Ehren, 617, ii., German hymnody; 781, i., Neander, J.
Lohe den Herren, o meine Seele, 616, ii., German hymnody
Lohet den Herren, alle die ihn Fürchten (Gerhardt), 611, i., Gerhardt, P.; 615, ii., Lobet den Herren, denn er ist sehr freundlich
Lohet den Herren, denn er ist sehr freundlich (Anon.), 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
Lohet den Herrn! die Morgensterne, 896, ii., Fabricius, J. L.
Lohet Gott, die Christen alle gleich, 614, i., Herman, N.
Lohet Gott mit Herz und Mund, 483, i., Sweetly Psalms and Spiritualle Songes
Lonas amidst the dead and dying, 795, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Long as I live, my song shall flow, 830, ii., Hastings, T.
Long as I live, will I bless Thee, 830, ii., Hastings, T.
Long as I live I'll sing the Lord, 1092, ii., Reeves, J.
Long as the threatening cloud abode, 923, ii., Richards, G.
Long are the holy skies were spread, 1259, ii., Watts, I.
Long had the nations sat, 138, i., Behold the Prince of Peace!
Long had thou wept and sorrowed (tr. Miss Borthwick), 319, ii., Hammer (nee Schweizer), Mrs.
Long hath the night of sorrow reigned, 949, i., Cause, Sir W. G.
Long have I heard the joyful sound, 1259, i., Watts, I.
Long have I sat beneath the sound, 1259, i., Watts, I.
Long have I sinned, long have I thought, 618, i., Norris, J.
Long have I walked this dreary road, 1098, ii., Strong, N.
Long have we heard the joyful sound, 696, ii., Long have I sat beneath the sound
Long have we sat beneath the sound, 696, ii., Long have I sat beneath the sound
Long is the night, long is the way and hard weight (tr. Miss Winkworth), 33, i., Arentini, F. S.
Long of restful peace Paradise, 799, i., Mackellar, T.
Long plunged in sorrow I resign (tr. Cooper), 676, i., Gleyre (née de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
Long shall the fallen heaven rest (tr. Chandler), 941, i., Polus novus et nova Long, unaffected, unalamayed, 857, i., O how I love Thy holy word
Look back! 'tis time I marked the road, 261, i., Congreve, G. T.
Look down, my soul, on hell's domain, 969, ii. Rylend, J.
Look down, O Lord, from heaven behold (tr. Miss Cox), 1, i., Ach Gott vom Himmel, sieh darein
Look down, O Lord, in love on these, 176, i., Bertram, R. A.
Look from Thy sphere of endless day, 190, i., Bryant W. C.
Look on us Thy servant falls, 816, i., Cerne lapsum servitium
Look, poor sinner, look to Calvary, 794, ii., Midlane, A.
Look to Jesus! yes, I may, 261, i., Congreve, G. T.
Look unto Christ, ye nations! cease, 488, ii., Glory to God in the highest Look up, look up, my soul, still higher, 337, ii., Evans, A. R.
Look up, my soul, to Christ thy joy, 1003, ii., Schade, J. C.
Look up, my soul, with cheerful eye, 1000, i., Steele, Anne
Look up to heaven, the industrious sun, 1096, ii., Wordsworth, W.
Look upon me, Lord, I pray thee, 1007, ii., Sich hier bin ich vor deinem Thron
Look with an eye of pity down (Dedicene), 832, ii., O God of Zion, from Thy throne
Look, ye saints, the sight is glorious, 270, ii., Owen
Lord, a better heart bestow, 118, i., Ballaret, W. H.
Lord, a happy child of Thine, 1235, ii., Waring, Anna
Lord, a little band and lowly, 1004, i., Bailey (nee Jackson), Martha H.
Lord, a shower's now displaying, 699, ii., Hawkins, E.
Lord, ach mich, ach mich (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1, ii., Ach Gott, sieh darein
Lord, all my heart is fixed on Thee, 1004, ii., Schilling, M.
Lord Almighty, God of nations, 310, ii., Deoul Jehovah! God of nations
Lord, am I precious to Thy sight, 622, i., Gill, T. H.
Lord, am I Thine, entirely Thine? 321, i., Davies, S.
Lord, and am I yet alive? 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, and Father, great and holy, 693, ii., God and Father of mankind
Lord and Father of creation, 313, ii., Carpenter, J. E.
Lord and God of heavenly powers, 530, ii., Holy, holy, holy Lord, Bear be Thy Name adored; 1068, ii., Sons of God, triumphant rise
Lord, and hast Thou begot gone? 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Lord! opposed we not a place with the wicked, 1110, i., Syriac hymnody
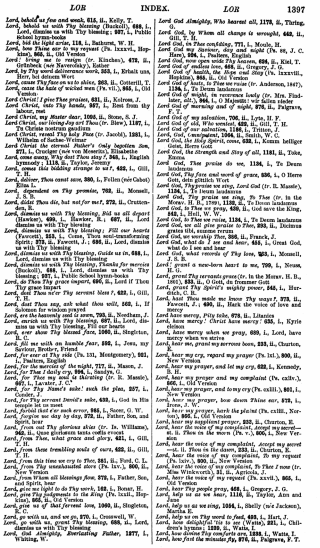
Lord, as a family we meet, 979, i., Fletcher, S.
Lord, as I wake, I find that Thou with me (Dr. Osmonwell), 242, ii., Hammond, W.
Lord, as Thou will, so do with me (tr. G. Walker), 162, ii., Hammond, W.
Lord, as to Thy dear cross we flee, 676, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Lord, as we past our trust in Thee, 686, i., Lord, as to Thy dear cross we flee
Lord, at this closing hour, 277, ii., Finch, E. T.
Lord, at Thy feet we sinners lie, 186, ii., Browne, S.; 686, i., Lord, at Thy feet a sinner lies
Lord, at Thy mercy-seat, humbly I fall, 1204, i., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Mrs. Frances J.
Lord, at Thy table I behold, 1262, ii., Bell, C. D.
Lord, at Thy table I behold, 1262, ii., Bennett, J.
Lord, at Thy word the constant sun, 676, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Lord, at Whose word all life came forth (Hominis ex preces Conditor), 855, ii., Hamilton Scottish Use
Lord, attend us with Thy blessing, 698, ii., Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing
Lord, be Thy pledge saved Thou shalt see (Ps. xxvi., Hogg, James), 1, ii., Arentini, F. S.
Lord, be we pledge, for I have trod, 613, ii., Kehle, J.
Lord, be Thou our Strength in weakness, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Lord, be Thy Cross before our sight (tr. Miss Winkworth), 333, ii., O Welt, ich muss dich also lieben
Lord, before Thy presence come, 1119, i., Taylor, John
Lord, before Thy throne we bend, 186, i., Bowdler, J.



Lord, behold us foes and weak, 816, ii., Kelly, T.
Lord, behold us with Thy blessing (Burkitt), 666, i., Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing; 597, i., Public school hymn-books
Lord, bid the night arise, 118, i., Bathurst, W. H.
Lord, bow down Thine ear (Ps. lxxxvi., Hopkins), 800, ii., Old Version
Lord! bring me to resign (tr. Richter), 672, ii., Gerhardt (not Zeuxerleyn), Eckart
Lord by Thy most fervent love, 503, i., Ertsil: see Lord, in mercy look Lord, cause Thy face on us to shine, 805, ii., Cotterill, T.
Lord, cause the hate of wicked men (Ps. vii.), 866, i., Old Version
Lord Christ! I give Thee praises, 431, ii., Kistner, J.
Lord Christ, as Thy hands, 927, i., from thy Mother, and Lord Christ, my Master dear, 1005, ii., Stone, S. J.
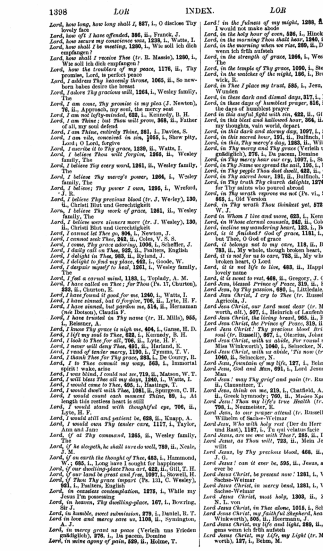
Lord Christ, our living Joy art Thou (tr. Herr), 1137, i., Du Christe nostrain gaudium
Lord, Creator, Father, Friend (tr. Jacobi), 1031, i., Wilhelm of Sachse-Weimar
Lord Christ the eternal Father's Only begotten Son, 271, i., Crasiger (not von Meseritz), Elisabeths
Lord, come away, Why dost Thou stay? 940, i., English Hymnal, The: see Thy kingdom come
Lord, cannot this bidding strange to me? 622, i., Gill, T. H.
Lord, deliver, Thou canst save, 800, i., Fellin (née Cabel) Miss L.
Lord, dependent on Thy promise, 703, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
Lord, didst Thou die, but not for me? 272, ii., Crutteden, E.
Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing, fed as all depart (Hawker), 665, ii., Hawker, R.: 667, ii., Lord dismiss us with Thy blessing
Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing; Fill our hearts (Fawcett), 668, i., Come, Thou soul-transforming Spirit; 672, ii., Fawcett, J.: 666, ii., Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing
Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing, Guide us in, 668, i., Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing
Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing, Thanks for mercies (Bucknall), 668, i., Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing: 597, i., Public School hymn-books
Lord, do Thou Thy grace impart, 606, ii., Lord if Thou Thine grace impart
Lord, dost Thou see Thy servant lose? 622, i., Gill, T. H.
Lord, dost Thou say, ask what thou will, 502, i., If Solomon for wisdom prayed
Lord, enter not into strife, 793, ii., Needham, J.
Lord, enrich us with Thy blessing, 667, ii., Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing, Fill our hearts
Lord, ever show Thy blessed face, 1080, ii., Stegleton, J.
Lord, fill me with an humble fear, 806, i., Jones, my Saviour, Brother, Friend
Lord, for ever at Thy side (Ps. lxi., Montgomery), 861, i., Paulus, English
Lord, for the mercies of the night, 777, ii., Mason, J.
Lord, for Thine own sake, 1031, i., Wesley, C.
Lord, for Thy word we bless Thee (tr. S. Mandel), 667, i., Lawler, J. C.
Lord, for Thy Name's sake! seek the plan, 827, i., Cosser, J.
Lord, forbid Thy servant David's robe, 633, i., God in His temple let us meet
Lord, forbid that e'er such error, 886, i., Scott, G. W.
Lord, forgive me day by day, 772, ii., Father, Son, and Spirit, hear
Lord, from Thy glorious skies (tr. Ir. Williams), 362, ii., Quae gloriosum lustra coelis evocat
Lord, from Thee, what grace and glory, 621, i., Gill, T. H.
Lord, from these trembling wails of ours, 622, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, from this time we cry to Thee, 921, ii., Ford, C. L.
Lord, from Thy unexhausted store (Ps. lxv.), 800, ii., New Version
Lord, from Whom all blessings flow, 772, i., Father, Son, and Spirit, hear
Lord, give me light to do Thy work, 1031, i., Noon, H.
Lord, give Thy judgments to the King (Ps. lxxii., Hopkins), 865, ii., Old Version
Lord, give us of that fervent love, 1060, ii., Stegleton, J.
Lord, go with us, and we go, 979, i., Cromwell, W.
Lord, go with us, grant Thy blessing, 668, ii., Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing
Lord, God Almighty, Everlasting Father, 1077, i., Whiting, W.
Lord God Almighty, Who hearest all, 1179, ii., Thring, G.
Lord God, by Whom all change is wrought, 662, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord God, in Thee confiding, 771, i., Meade, H.
Lord God, in Thy compassion (Ps. lxxxvi., Ps. 99, J. C. Jane), 798, i., Psalter, English
Lord God, now open wide Thy heaven, 696, ii., Kiel, T.
Lord God of endless love, 668, ii., Gregory, J. G.
Lord God of hosts, the Hope and Stay (Ps. lxxxviii., Hopkins), 866, ii., Old Version
Lord God of hosts, in Thee we rejoice (tr. Anderson, 1847), 1138, i., Te Deum laudamus
Lord God of might, in reverence lowly (tr. Mrs. Findlater, abt.), 966, i., O Majestät: wir fallen nieder
Lord God of morning and of night, 672, ii., Palgrave, F. T.
Lord God of my salvation, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Lord God of old, Who seemest, 422, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord God of our salvation, 1136, i., Tritton, J.
Lord God, the almighty Lord, 1044, ii., Smith, W. C.
Lord God, the Holy Ghost, come, 632, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott
Lord God, the strength and Stay of all, 1181, ii., Tate, Nahum
Lord God, Thee praise do we, 1136, i., Te Deum laudamus
Lord God, Thy face and sword of grace, 696, i., O Herre Gott, mein gütelich Wort
Lord God, Thy praise we sing, Lord God (tr. H. Maseie), 1136, i., Te Deum laudamus
Lord God, Thy praise we sing, to Thee (tr. to the Morse, Ps. cxlviii., Ps. 99, J. C. Jane), 1136, i., Te Deum
Lord God, to Thee we pray, 630, ii., God save the King
Lord God, to Thee we raise, 1136, i., Te Deum laudamus
Lord God, to Thy praise we praise to Thee, 893, ii., Dichtens gates tilt, eines Herrn Lob
Lord God, we worship Thee, 356, ii., Franck, J.
Lord God, what do I see and hear, 624, i., Great God, what do I see and hear
Lord God, what records of Thy love, 503, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Lord! grant a tear-born heart to me, 709, i., Noon, H. U.
Lord, grant Thy servants grace (tr. in the Morse, H. B., 1845), 880, ii., O God, du frommer Gott
Lord, hear Thy spirit's mighty power, 845, i., Herrick, C. T.
Lord, hast Thou made me know Thy ways? 973, ii., Fawcett, J.: 697, ii., Hark the voice of love and mercy
Lord, have mercy, Pity take, 979, ii., Litanies
Lord, have mercy: Christ have mercy 853, i., Kyrie eleison
Lord, have mercy when we pray, 699, i., Lord, have mercy when we strive
Lord, hear me, grant my sorrows ease, 233, ii., Charton, E.
Lord, hear my cry, regard my prayer (Ps. lxi.), 800, ii., New Version
Lord, hear my prayer, and let my cry, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord, hear my prayer and my complaint (Ps. cxlv.), 801, i., Old Version
Lord, hear my prayer, and to my cry (Ps. cxliii.), 801, i., New Version
Lord, hear my prayer, bow down Thine ear, 272, i., Irons, J. W.
Lord, hear my prayer, hark the plaint (Ps. cxiii., Kethe), 802, i., Old Version
Lord, hear my suppliant prayer, 233, ii., Charton, E.
Lord, hear the righteous cry (Ps. xvii., Hopkins), 800, ii., New Version
Lord, hear the voice of my complaint, Accept my secret sigh, ii. Thou in the morn (Ps. v.), 800, i., New Version
Lord, hear the voice of my complaint, In the dawn, 233, ii., Charton, E.
Lord, hear the voice of my complaint, To Thy throne (Ps. lxxv.), 800, ii., New Version
Lord, hear the voice of my complaint, To Thee I now (tr. Miss Winkworth), 31, ii., Aptrida, J.
Lord, hear the voice of my request (Ps. xxvii.), 865, i., Old Version
Lord, hear Thy people pray, 448, i., Gregory, J. G.
Lord, help us as we hear, 1110, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Lord, help us as we sing, 1004, i., Shelly (née Jackson), Mrs. C.
Lord, help us on Thy word to feed, 469, i., Hart, J.
Lord, how delightful 'tis to see (Watts), 231, i., Children's hymns, 1859, ii., Watts, I.
Lord, how divine Thy comforts are, 1184, i., Watts, I.
Lord, how first the mistake Thy, 874, ii., Palgrave, F. T.

1398



Lord, how long, how long shall I, 857, i., O disclose Thy lovely face
Lord, how oft I have offended, 986, ii., Franck, J.
Lord, how secure my conscience was, 1035, i., Watts, I.
Lord, how shall I be meeting, 1200, i., We will lift dish cagliapen!
Lord, how shall I receive Thee (tr. H. Maseie), 1200, i., We will lift dish cagliapen!
Lord, how the troublers of my peace, 1176, ii., Thy kingdom come, O Lord, Amen
Lord, I address Thy heavenly throne, 1005, ii., So nevborn babes desire the breast
Lord, I adore Thy gracious will, 1264, i., Wesley family, The Lord, I am come, Thy promise is my plea (J. Newton), 76, ii., Approach, my soul, the mercy seat
Lord, I am vile lufts-minded, 623, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord, I am Thine: but Thou wilt prove, 868, ii., Father of all, my soul defend Lord, I am Thine, my loving Father, 891, i., Dawies, S.
Lord, I am Thine, unaccited in sin, 1040, i., Have pity, Lord! O Lord, forgive
Lord, I ascribe it to Thy grace, 1259, ii., Watts, I.
Lord, I believe Thou wilt forgive, 1260, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, I believe Thy every word, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, I believe Thy mercy's power, 1264, i., Wesley family, The Lord, I believe; Thy power I own, 1264, i., Wreford, J. B.
Lord, I believe Thy precious blood (tr. J. Wesley), 130, ii., Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit
Lord, I believe Thy work of grace, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, I bless Thy sinners sure (tr. J. Wesley), 130, ii., Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit
Lord, I cannot let Thee go, 998, i., Newton, J.
Lord, I cannot and Thou, 262, ii., Coles, V. S. S.
Lord, I come, Thy grace exhorting, 1036, i., Schaffer, J.
Lord, I delight in Thee, 503, i., Psalters, English
Lord, I delight to read, 625, i., Lyte, H. F.
Lord, I delight to find my place, 625, i., Goode, W.
Lord, I despair myself to heal, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Lord, I feel a cursed mind, 1183, i., Topiady, A. M.
Lord, I find Thy love exceed (tr. J. Wesley), 130, ii., Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit
Lord, I have found it good for me, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lord, I have sinned, but O forgive, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Lord, I have sinned, but pardon me, 814, ii., Hernaman, C. T.: 1040, i., Have pity, Lord!
Lord, I have trusted as Thy name (tr. H. Mills), 865, i., Reinecz, A.
Lord, I know Thy grace is nigh me, 604, i., Gause, H. D.
Lord, I lift my soul to Thee, 858, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord, I long to see Thy face, 1040, i., Have pity, Lord!
Lord, I now will deny Thee, 871, ii., Harland, E.
Lord, I read of tender mercy, 1130, i., Tymms, T. V.
Lord, I thank Thee for Thy grace, 264, i., De Courcy, H.
Lord, I to Thee commit my way, 503, i., Immortal Love, for ever full
Lord, I was blind, I could not see, 719, ii., Matson, W. T.
Lord, I will bless Thee all my days, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lord, I would come to Thee, 695, i., Hastings, T.
Lord, I would dwell with Thee, 1031, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Lord, I would own Thy tender care, 1127, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Lord, I would stand with thoughtful eye, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Lord, I would still and patient be, 626, ii., Kingo, A.
Lord, I would own Thy tender care, 1127, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Lord, if Thy commend, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, if be sleepeth, he shall awake well, 780, ii., Neale, J. M.
Lord, if to earth the thought of Thee, 685, i., Hammond, W.: 695, i., Long have I sought for happiness
Lord, if our dwellings place Thou art, 622, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, if our land be great and free, 1097, i., Hewett, H.
Lord, if Thou art my Shepherd true (Ps. xxiii, C. Wesley), 861, i., Psalters, English
Lord, in contrite contemplation, 1275, i., While my hope I'm possessing Lord, in heaven, Thy dwelling-place, 107, i., Bowring, J.
Lord, in humble, need submission, 279, i., Daniel, H. T.
Lord in love and mercy save us, 1150, ii., Symington, A. J.
Lord, in mercy grant us peace (Verleih uns Frieden gnädiglich), 979, i., Ich bete zu Gott
Lord, in mine agony of pain, 230, ii., Holme, T.
Lord! in the fulness of my might, 1260, ii., With sin I would not make abode
Lord, in the morning, 886, i., Hincks, T.
Lord, in the morning Thou shalt hear, 1005, i., Watts, I.
Lord, in the morning when we rise, 695, ii., Das Morgen wenn ich früh erblicke
Lord, in the strength of grace, 1006, i., Wesley family, The Lord, in the temple of Thy grace, 1030, i., Beach, Anne
Lord, in the watches of the night, 185, i., Brown-Borthwick, S.
Lord, in Thee I place my trust, 885, i., Jesu, deine tiefe Wunden
Lord, in thee dark and dismal days, 317, i., Dwight, T.
Lord, in the morning Thou shalt hear: 858, i., Now are the days of humblest prayer
Lord in this sinful light with me, 623, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, in this blest and hallowed hour, 264, ii., Far from my thoughts, vain world, depart
Lord, in this Thy mercy's day, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Lord, in this sacred hour, 191, ii., Bulfinch, S. G.
Lord, on this, Thy mercy's day, 1263, ii., Williams, D.
Lord, in Thy mercy and Thy grace (Verleih uns Frieden gnädiglich), 979, i., Ich pauses, Domine
Lord, in Thy mercy's day, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Lord, in Thy name we ground the suit, 136, i., Bergson, G.
Lord, in Thy people Thou dost dwell, 422, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, in Thy sacred hour, 191, ii., Bulfinch, S. G.
Lord, in Thy truth Thy church delights, 1276, i., White Hymns, Original and Selected
Lord, in Thy wrath rebuke me not (Ps. vi., Sternhold), 862, i., Old Version
Lord, in Thy wrath Thou hinderst yet, 272, i., Irons, W. J.
Lord, in Whom I live and move, 623, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord, in Whose eternal counsels, 242, ii., Colet, V. S. S.
Lord, incline my wandering heart, 1251, i., Bethune, B.
Lord, is it finished? God of grace, 1181, i., To whom but Thee, O God of grace
Lord, it belongs not to my care, 118, ii., Baxter, R.: 1, ii., My whole, though broken heart, O Lord
Lord, if it be Thy will, 793, ii., My whole, though broken heart, O Lord
Lord, it is not life to live, 603, ii., Happiness, thou lovely name
Lord, it is meet to rest, 448, ii., Gregory, J. G.
Lord, it is sweet to retreat, 1264, ii., Ellerton, J.
Lord Jesu, by Thy passion, 980, i., Littmann, E. F.
Lord Jesu Christ, I cry to Thee (tr. Russell), 51, ii., Agricola, J.
Lord Jesu Christ, our Lord most dear (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1040, i., Herr Jesu Christ, du höchstes Gut
Lord Jesu Christ, the loving bread, 903, ii., Bird, J.
Lord Jesu Christ, the Prince of Peace, 310, ii., Ebert, J.
Lord Jesu Christ! Thy precious blood (tr. Russell), 1040, i., Herr Jesu Christ, du höchstes Gut
Lord Jesu Christ, with us abide, 'Tis now (tr. Bucknall), 1040, ii., Selnecker, N.
Lord Jesu Christ, with us abide, 'Tis now (tr. Bucknall), 1040, ii., Selnecker, N.
Lord Jesu, fountain of my life, 127, i., Telon, M.
Lord Jesu, God and Man, 691, i., Lord Jesus, God and Man
Lord Jesu! may Thy grief and pain (tr. Russell), 227, ii., Chemnitzer, M.
Lord Jesu, think on me, 219, i., Cartwright, A. W.: 437, ii., Jesu, gedenke mein, Herr, in deinem Reich
Lord Jesu! Thou my lofty tree Hewith (tr. Bucknall), 705, i., Neumeister, S.
Lord Jesu, to our prayer attend (tr. Russell), 1281, i., Wilhelm of Sachse-Weimar
Lord Jesu, turn Thy face (Der du Herr Jesu, Ruh und Rast), 1127, i., Du vyt voluntas facie
Lord Jesus, are we one with Thee? 285, ii., Deck, J. G.
Lord Jesus, as Thou wilt, 723, ii., Mein Jesu, wie du willst
Lord Jesus, by Thy precious blood, 466, ii., Gregory, J. G.
Lord Jesus! can it ever be, 595, ii., Jesus, and shall it ever be Lord Jesus Christ, be present now: 1281, i., Wilhelm of Sachse-Weimar
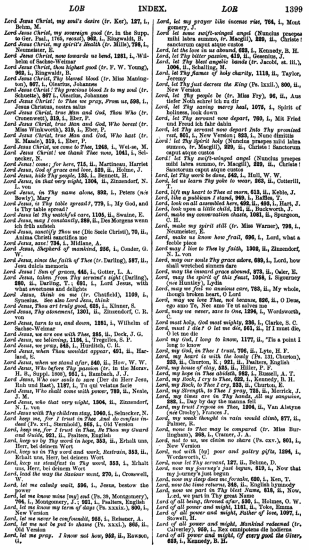
Lord Jesus Christ, in mercy tend, 1281, i., Wilhelm of Sachse-Weimar
Lord Jesus Christ, must holy, 1303, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L.
Lord Jesus Christ, on Thee alone, 1018, i., Schenning, J.
Lord Jesus Christ, my faithful Shepherd, hear (tr. Miss Winkworth), 999, ii., Herrmann, J.
Lord Jesus Christ, my life and light, 985, ii., Des Morgens wenn ich früh erwache
Lord Jesus Christ, my Life, my Light (tr. Miss Winkworth), 127, i., Telon, M.

1399



LOB INDEX. LOB 1399

Lord Jesus Christ, my soul's desire (tr. Ker), 127, i., Belon, M.
Lord Jesus Christ, my sovereign good (tr. in the Supp. to Ger. Psal., 1765, verse), 262, i., Kingsmith, H.
Lord Jesus Christ, my spirit's Health (tr. Mills), 724, i., Montemelier, E.
Lord Jesus Christ, now towards us bend, 1281, i., Wittenberg or Sachse-Weimar
Lord Jesus Christ, the highest good (tr. F. W. Young), 1, i., Cruciger, C.
Lord Jesus Christ, Thy blessed blood (tr. Miss Mastlop-ton), 907, i., Otterbin, Johannes Lord Jesus Christ! Thy precious blood Is to my soul (tr. Schoeffer), 907 i., Otterbin, Johannes
Lord Jesus Christ, to us draw nigh, From us, 600, i., Jesus Christus, natus adest
Lord Jesus Christ, true Man and God, Thou Who (tr. Crummerell), 313, i., Eber, P.
Lord Jesus Christ, true Man and God, Who bored (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 313, i., Eber, P.
Lord Jesus Christ, true Man and God, Who hast (tr. K. Mandel), 313, i., Eber, P.
Lord Jesus Christ, we come to Thee, 1263, i., Wei-se, M.
Lord Jesus Christ! we thank Thee now, 1041, i., Selnecker, N.
Lord Jesus! Jesus, for love, 713, ii., Martineau, Harriet
Lord Jesus, God of grace and love, 529, ii., Heiner, J.
Lord Jesus, hide Thy people, 135, i., Berends, H.
Lord Jesus, in that very night, 1304, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L.
Lord Jesus, in Thy name alone, 600, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary
Lord Jesus, in Thy table spread!, 779, i., My God, and is Thy table spread?
Lord Jesus, in Thy sacred care, 1195, ii., Swaine, E.
Lord Jesus, may I seamlessly, 980 ii., Du Moulins veen ich früh sehnely
Lord Jesus, mauritly Thou are (Die Seele Christi), 79, ii., Anima Christi sanctifica me
Lord Jesus, near! 794, i., Midlane, A.
Lord Jesus, shepherd of mankind, 606, i., Conder, G. A.
Lord Jesus, since the faith of Thee (tr. Darling), 167, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
Lord Jesus! Sun of grace, 646, i., Gotter, L. A.
Lord Jesus, taken from Thy servant's sight (Darling), 1, ii., Cruciger, C. Lord Jesus, with what sweetness and delights
Lord Jesus, thirst on me (tr. Chatfield), 1169, i., Synesius. See also Lord Jesu, thirst
Lord Jesus, Thou art truly good, 623, i., Kinner, S.
Lord Jesus, Thy atonement, 1201, ii., Zinzendorf, C. R. von
Lord Jesus, turn to us, and down, 1281, i., Wilhelm of Sachse-Weimar
Lord Jesus, we are one with Thee, 295, ii., Deck, J. G.
Lord Jesus, we look back and pray, 1304, ii., Zinzendorf, C. R.
Lord Jesus, we pray, 263, i., Humbach, C. R.
Lord Jesus, when Thou wouldst appear, 401, ii., Hacland, G.
Lord Jesu, when we stood after, 240, ii., Hoe, W. W.
Lord Jesus, Who art evermore, 1304, ii., Zinzendorf, H. L., Nepal tract, 1811, i., Bendlen, J. J.
Lord Jesus, Who our souls to save (Der du Herr Jesu, Ruh und Rast), 1197, i., Tu qui velatus facie
Lord Jesus, Who shalt come with power, 789, ii., Neale, J. M.
Lord Jesus, who dost very night, 1304, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Lord Jesus with Thy children stay, 1040, i., Schneider, N.
Lord keep us, for I trust in Thee, and do confess in-deed, 1197, i., Tu qui velatus facie
Lord, keep us, for I trust in Thee, in Thee my cleared and Guide, 921, ii., Psalmes, English
Lord, keep us by Thy word in hope, 353, ii., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
Lord, keep us steadfast in Thy word, 353, i., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
Lord, keep us steadfast in Thy word, 353, i., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
Lord, lead the way the Saviour trod, 270, i., Cromwell, J.
Lord, let me calmly wait, 286, i., Jesus, beatus the peace
Lord, let me know mine [my] end (Ps. 39, Montgomery's), 796, i., Montgomery, J., 921, i., Psalmes, English
Lord, let me not my term of days (Ps. lxxxix.), 900, i., New Version
Lord, let us never be comfortable, 265, i., Behmer, A.
Lord, let us not be put to shame (Ps. lxxxi.), 900, ii., Old Version
Lord, let me pray. I know not how, 903, ii., Havaco, G.
Lord, let my prayer like incense rise, 704, i., Most primary, J.
Lord Jesus! Thou soul's-assigned angel (Stancina prenges mihi laica summa, Dr. Macgill), 920, ii., Christe! Sanctorum capui atque custos
Lord, let the love in us abound, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord, let Thy bitter passion, 410, ii., Gesenius, J.
Lord, let Thy blest angelic hands (tr. Jacobi, at. ii.), 1000, ii., Schalling, M.
Lord, let the flames of holy charity, 1118, ii., Taylor, Jeremy
Lord, let Thy just decrees the King (Ps. lxxii.), 900, ii., New Version
Lord, let Thy people be (tr. Miss Fry), 96, ii., Ass Christus, natus ex Maria
Lord, let Thy saving mercy heal, 1079, i., Spirit of holiness, look down
Lord, let Thy servant now depart, 760, i., Mit Fried und Freud ich fahr dahin
Lord Jesu! Thou soul's-assigned Jobs Thy promised rest, 921, i., New Version; 920, i., Nun-dimitis
Lord! let Thy spirit holy (Stancina prenges mihi laica summa, tr. Macgill), 920, ii., Christe! Sanctorum capui atque custos
Lord Jesu! Thou soul's-assigned angel (Stancina prenges mihi laica summa, tr. Macgill), 920, ii., Christe! Sanctorum capui atque custos
Lord, let Thy work be done, 562, i., Hull, W. W.
Lord, let us learn Thy pain to wear, 903, ii., Cotterill, T.
Lord, lift my heart to Thee at morn, 813, ii., Noble, J.
Lord, like a publican I stand, 969, i., Hoffan, T.
Lord, look on all assembled here, 606, ii., 628, i., Hart, J.
Lord, look upon a little child, 191, ii., Duckworth, J.
Lord, make my conversation chaste, 1061, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Lord, make my spirit still (tr. Miss Warner), 799, i., Neumeister, E.
Lord, make us know how frail, 696, i., Lord, what a feeble piece
Lord, may I flee to Thee by faith, 1303, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Lord, may our souls Thy grace adore, 699, i., Lord, how shall wretched sinners dare
Lord, may the eternal grace abound, 973, ii., Oder, E.
Lord, may the spirit of this feast, 1038, i., Signatory Lord, may the spirit of Lord, may we feel no anxious care, 795, ii., My whole, though broken heart, O Lord
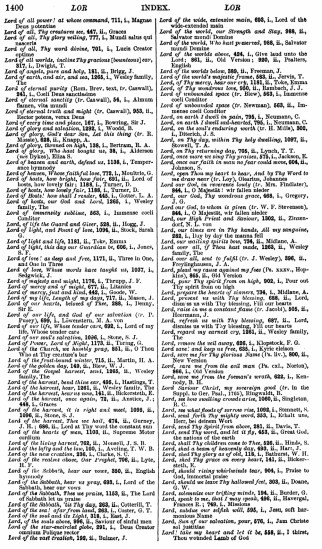
Lord, may we love Thee, not because, 626, ii., O Deus, ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvas me
Lord, may we never, more to live, 1296, i., Wordsworth, C.
Lord must help, God must mightily, 238, i., Clarke, S. C.
Lord, must I die? O let me die, 861, ii., If I must die, O let me die
Lord, my God! I long to know, 1177, ii., 'Tis a pain I long to know
Lord, my God, as Thee I trust, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Lord, my heart is with the lowly (Ps. lxi, Chorton), 333, ii., Chorton, E., 921, ii., Psalmes, English
Lord, my hope is Thee alone, 333, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord, my hope in Thee abideth, 333, i., Russell, A. T.
Lord, my flesh, I cry to Thee, 622, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord, my flesh, to Thee I cry, 333, ii., Chorton, E.
Lord, my Strength, to Thee I pray, 724, ii., Mercick, J.
Lord, my trust is Thee alone, 1061, ii., Spurgeon, all my sympathies, 265, i., Day by day the seasons fly
Lord, my trust I repose on Thee, 1294, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
Lord, my weak thought in vain would climb, 877, ii., Mant, R.
Lord, none to Thee may be compared (tr. Miss Burlingham), 309, i., Cramer, J. A.
Lord, not to us, we claim no share (Ps. cxv.), 901, i., New Version
Lord, now Thy poor and paltry gifts, 1296, i., Wordsworth, C.
Lord, now let Thy servant, 127, ii., Behmer, D.
Lord, now my journey's just begun, 813, i., Now that my journey's just begun
Lord, now Thy servants dismiss, 600, i., Kerr, T.
Lord, now the time returns, 345, ii., English hymnody
Lord, now we part in Thy Most Name, 816, ii., Now, Lord, we part in Thy great Name
Lord of all being, throned afar (Alt.), i., Holmes, O. W.
Lord of all power and might, 1147, ii., Wesley, C.
Lord of all power and might, Author of love, 1297, i., Sorrell, H.
Lord of all power and might, Mankind redeemed (tr. Cabrolley), 600, i., Rex omnipotens de bolterra
Lord of all power and might, of every good the Giver, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.

1400



1400 LOB INDEX. LOB

Lord of all power! at whose command, 711, i., Magnae Deus potentiae
Lord of all, Thy creatures see, 647, ii., Grace
Lord of all, Thy glory veiling, 727, i., Mundi salus qui nascris
Lord of all, Thy word divine, 701, i., Lucis Creator optime
Lord of all worlds, (unless Thy precious (luminous) ears, 317, i., Dwight, T.
Lord of angels, pure and holy, 181, ii., Brigg, J.
Lord of earth, and air, and sea, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Lord of eternal purity (Rom. Brev. text, tr. Caswall), 283, i., Conf Deus sanctissime
Lord of eternal sanctity (tr. Caswall), 94, i., Almith fauces, vita mundi
Lord of eternal truth and might (tr. Caswall), 955, ii., Immense coeli Conditor
Lord of every time and place, 167, i., Bowring, Sir J.
Lord of glory and salvation, 1295, i., Woodd, B.
Lord of glory, God's dear Son, Let this thing (tr. R. Mendel), 926, ii., Knapp, A.
Lord of glory, throned on high, 138, i., Bertram, R. A.
Lord of hosts, Almighty King! behold us, 39, i., Allmächtiger Herr Zebaoth, Elias
Lord of hosts and earth, defend us, 1138, i., Temperature tyrannis
Lord of hosts, Whose faithful law, 778, i., Monferis, G.
Lord of hosts, with Thee before, 1263, i., Wei-se, M.
Lord of hosts, how lovely fair, 1188, i., Turner, D.
Lord of hosts! how shall I render, 650, i., Gotter, L. A.
Lord of hosts, our God and Lord, 1260, i., Wesley family, The Lord of immensity sublime, 955, i., Immense coeli Conditor
Lord, of life the Guard and Giver, 220, ii., Hogg, J.
Lord of light, and Fount of love, 1096, ii., Stock, Sarah
Lord of light and life, 1193, ii., Tyler, Bonar
Lord of light, this day our Guardian be, 656, i., Jones, S. F.
Lord of love! as deep and free, 1171, ii., Three in One, and One in Three
Lord of love, Whose words have taught us, 1227, i., Salgnick, J.
Lord of majesty and might, 1176, i., Thrupp, J. F.
Lord of mercy and of might, 977, ii., Litanies
Lord of mercy, hear my pray'r, 1263, i., Wei-se, M.
Lord of my life, Length of my days, 372 ii., Moore, J.
Lord of our hearts, friend of Thee, 388, i., Denny, Sir E.
Lord of our life, and God of our salvation (tr. P. Gerhardt), 1263, i., Wei-se, M. See also Lord of my life, Whose tender care
Lord of our soul's salvation, 1026, i., Shaw, S. J.
Lord of Power, Lord of Might, 1173, ii., Tiernay, G.
Lord of the Church, we humbly pray, 931, ii., O Thou, to us Thy counsels keep Lord of the first-fruits'd winter, 715, ii., Martin, H. A.
Lord of the golden day, 149, ii., Shaw, W. J.
Lord of the Gospel harvest, send, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Lord of the harvest, bend thine ear, 625, i., Hastings, T.
Lord of the harvest, hear, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Lord of the harvest, hear us now, 141, ii., Hickerseth, E.
Lord of the harvest, once again, 72, ii., Anstice, J.; Alt.
Lord of the harvest, O it right and meet, 1263, ii., 1266, ii., Stone, S. J.
Lord of the harvest, Thee we hail, 674, ii., Gurney, J. H., 696, ii., Lord as Thy word the constant rain
Lord of the hearts of men, 1123, ii., Supreme Monarch of Kings
Lord of the living harvest, 702, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
Lord of the lofty and the low, 195, i., Aveling, T. W. B.
Lord of the new creation, 284, i., Clarke, S. C.
Lord of the realms above, Our frighted, 796, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Lord of the Sabbath, hear our vows, 950, ii., English Hymnody
Lord of the Sabbath, hear us pray, 693, i., Lord of the Sabbath hear us pray
Lord of the Sabbath, Thee we praise, 1149, ii., The Lord of Sabbath let us praise
Lord of the Sabbath, 'tis Thy day, 903, ii., Cotterill, T.
Lord of the soul! after from bond, 903, i., Custer, G. T.
Lord of the souls above, 596, ii., Saviour of sinful men
Lord of the star-encircled globe, 291, i., Deus Creator omnium Polique rector
Lord of the vast Creation, 190, ii., Bulmer, J.
Lord of the wide extensive main, 695, i., Lord of the unbounding main
Lord of the world, our Strength and Stay, 988, ii., Salvator mundi Domine
Lord of the world, Who hast preserved, 988, ii., Salvator mundi Domine
Lord, on Thy people above, 456, i., Give land unto the Lord; 921, ii., Old Version; 920, ii., Psalmes, English
Lord of the worlds below, 189, ii., Freeman, J.
Lord of the world's majestic frame, 683, ii., Jarvis, T.
Lord of Thy mercy, Jesu, look, 1193, ii., Tyler, Bonar
Lord of Thy mercy, look on me, 193, ii., Blanchard, J. J.
Lord of transcended space (tr. Blew), 953, i., Immense coeli Conditor
Lord of unbounded space (tr. Newman), 953, ii., Immense coeli Conditor
Lord on earth I dwell in space, 723, i., Neumeister, C.
Lord, on earth I dwell unhindered, 723, i., Neumann, C.
Lord, on the soul's enduring worth (tr. H. Mills), 953, i., Dimitch, J. S.
Lord, on Thy Day, within Thy holy dwelling, 1097, ii., Scorelli, D.
Lord, on the returning day, 705, ii., Lynch, T. T.
Lord, once more we sing Thy praises, 873, i., Jackson, E.
Lord, once our faith in sun so fast could move, 604, ii., Johnson, C.
Lord, open Thou my heart to hear, And by Thy Word to know (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1297, ii., Spangenberg, J.
Lord our God, as onward bound (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 964, i., O Majestät! wir fallen nieder
Lord our God, Thy wondrous grace, 695, i., Gregory, O.
Lord our God, to whom is given (tr. W. F. Stevenson), 964, i., O Majestät, wir fallen nieder
Lord, our High Priest and Saviour, 1302, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Lord, our times are in Thy hands, All my enquiries, 265, i., Day by day the seasons fly
Lord our God, us evermore lead (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 964, i., O Majestät! wir fallen nieder
Lord over all, of Thou hast made, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Lord over all, out to fulfil (tr. J. Wesley), 1266, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, plead my cause against my foes (Ps. xxxv., Hopkins), 965, ii., Old Version
Lord, pour Thy Spirit from on high, 902, i., Pour out Thy spirit from on high
Lord, prepare and make me sincere, 734, i., Midlane, A.
Lord, present us with Thy blessing, 626, ii., Lord, Jesu'm us with Thy blessing, Fill our hearts
Lord, raise us as a comfort frame (tr. Jacobi), 995, ii., Herrmann, J.
Lord, refresh us with Thy blessing, 697, ii., Lord, Jesu'm us with Thy blessing, Fill our hearts
Lord, regard my earnest cry, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, remove the evil enemy, 625, i., Klopstock, F. G.
Lord save! and keep us free, 921, i., Kyrie eleison
Lord, save us for Thy glorious Name (Ps. lxv.), 900, ii., New Version
Lord, save me from the evil man (Ps. cxl., Norton), 965, i., Old Version
Lord, save us from the foeman's wrath, 623, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Lord Saviour Christ, my sovereign good (tr. in the Supp. to Ger. Psal., 1765), Klingsihn, H.
Lord, see how exulting crowds arise, 1060, ii., Singleton, H.
Lord, see what floods of sorrow rise, 1262, i., Stennett, S.
Lord, send forth Thy mighty word, 353, i., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
Lord, send Thy Spirit from above, 261, ii., Davis, T.
Lord, send Thy Spirit now to dwell (tr. Ky), 621, ii., Great God, the nations of the earth
Lord, shall Thy children come to Thee, 126, ii., Hinde, S.
Lord, shed a beam of heavenly day, 693, ii., Har., J.
Lord, shed Thy glory as of old, 118, i., Bathurst, W. H.
Lord, shed Thy grace on every heart, 181, ii., Hickerseth, E.
Lord, should rising wickedness rage, 906, i., Praise to God, immortal praise
Lord, should we leave Thy hallowed fire, 302, ii., Doane, W. C.
Lord, solemnize our trifling minds, 196, ii., Baxter, G.
Lord, speak to me, that I may speak, 696, ii., Havergal, Frances R.; 760, i., Winslow
Lord, subdue our selfish will, 265, i., Jesu, soft harmonious name
Lord, Sun of our salvation, pour, 870, i., Jam Christe sol justitiae
Lord! take my heart and let it be, 556, ii., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God

1401

LOR INDEX. LOR 1401

Lord, take my sinful, worthless heart, 1305, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Lord, teach a little child to pray, and thee accept my feeble love, Taylor, Jane, 1809, i., Lord, teach a little child to pray, Thy grace bestows; 941, i., O Lord, with Thee teach me to pray
Lord, teach a little child to pray, Thy grace bestows (Sylvan), 883, ii., Sylvan, C.
Lord, teach a little child to pray (Jane Taylor), 941, ii., O Lord, with Thee teach me to pray
Lord, teach me to adore Thy hand, 1309, ii., When I survey life's varied scene
Lord, teach us how to pray aright (Montgomery), 907, i., Lord, teach us how to pray aright, Author: 1307, i., What shall we ask of God in prayer?
Lord, That I love with all my heart (tr. H. Mande), 1004, ii., Schelling, M.
Lord, there is a throne of grace, 239, ii., Cobbin, I.
Lord, Thine eyes are ever on the righteous, 1, ii., Barker, J.
Lord, Thine epistle dated 8th ult., 1040, i., Lambert, A. J.
Lord, Thine image Thou hast lent me, 679, i., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
Lord, Thine omniscience I adore, 209, i., Cronenwett, E.
Lord, the day Thy children meet, 560, ii., Hiles, W.
Lord, Thou art good; all nature shows, 1305, ii., Browne, S.
Lord, Thou art my hope of strength (tr. Miss Wink worth, alt.), 669, ii., Francke, A. H.
Lord, Thou hast Jerusalem, 1331, i., Walker (née Locke), Mary
Lord, Thou dost either the proud, 1296, ii., Williams, Ja.
Lord, Thou hast been our dwelling place, 685, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, Thou hast been Thy children's God, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Lord, Thou hast bid Thy people pray, 1009, ii., Sovereign of all, Whom still obtain, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Lord, Thou hast bid us labour, bid us toil (tr. Miss Wrnter), 861, i., Bamlach, J. J.
Lord, Thou hast called Thy grace to mind, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lord, Thou hast formed my every part (Ps. 139, tr. A. Reed), 893, ii., Psalters, English
Lord, Thou hast given Thy faithful word (tr. Miss Wink worth, alt.), 1307, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Lord, Thou hast promised to Thy land (Ps. lxxxv.), 905, ii., New Version
Lord, Thou hast planted with Thine hands, 446, i., Great Shepherd of Thine Israel
Lord, Thou hast redeemed our kingdom, 809, ii., Noel, B. W.
Lord, Thou hast scourged our guilty land, 514, ii., Barbor, J.
Lord, Thou hast searched and seen me through, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Lord, Thou hast searched me out and known, 613, ii., Kelly, J.
Lord, Thou hast taught our hearts to glow, 978, i., Palmer, R.
Lord, Thou in all things like want made, 600, i., Lord, Thou in all things like want made, Author: 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lord, Thou on earth didst love Thine own, 978, i., Palmer, R.
Lord, Thou that ever wast and art (tr. in the Bell. Mag.), 807, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Lord, Thou wouldst have us live to Thee, 622, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, though bitter is the cup, 123, i., Beddome, B.
Lord, thrice denied yet thrice beloved, 1170, ii., Thou, thrice denied, yet thrice beloved
Lord, thrice holy and supreme, 1146, i., Ter sanctu, ter justus Deus
Lord, thrice holy, God of might, 1140, i., Ter sanctu, ter justus Deus
Lord, thrice holy! Lord of might!, 1140, i., Ter sanctu, ter justus Deus
Lord, to the desert drear and wide, 880, i., Peters (née Berly), Mary Lord, Thy best blessing shed (Lyte), 996, i., Saviour, But a Shepherd, lind to Lord, Thy cleansing hand we fear, 1180, i., Christless and unholy
Lord, Thy children guide and keep, 560, ii., How, W. W.
Lord, Thy children lowly bending, 1097, ii., Stowell, H.
Lord, Thy Church hath seen Thee rise, 662, i., Goode, W.
Lord, Thy Church her watch is keeping, 699, i., Lord, her watch Thy Church is keeping Lord, Thy Church without a pastor, 1061, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Lord, Thy death and passion give, 345, i., Jesu deine Passion
Lord, Thy glorious Resurrection, 1204, i., Wordsworth, C.
Lord, Thy gracious voice hath spoken, 462, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, Thy heart on love hath yearned, 613 ii., Kelly, J.
Lord, Thy holy habitation, 1040, ii., Weakley, alt.), 1260, i., Christ Hid and Unrealized
Lord, Thy love and truth I praise, 622, i., Kennedy, A. H.
Lord, Thy ransomed Church is waiting, 1194, ii., Stock, John
Lord, Thy solemn Passion past, 606, i., Jesu, S. F.
Lord, Thy voice hath spoken, 278, i., Irons, W. J.
Lord, 'tis a pleasant thing to stand, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Lord, 'tis an infinite delight, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Lord, to my heart and voice attending (Ps. 27, Clayton), 1, ii., Clayton, E.; 921, ii., Psalters, English
Lord to mine humble suit give ears (Ps. cii., Craig), 1022, ii., Scottish hymnody
Lord, to Thee I make my moan, 787, ii., Evans, A. R.
Lord, to Thee I make my moan, 788, ii., Francis, J.
Lord to Thee I make my moan (Ps. cxxx., Whittingham), 806, i., Old Version
Lord, to Thee I make my vows, 713, ii., Mant, R.
Lord, to Thee, Thou dost invite, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Lord, to Thee with tears of shame, 1, i., Barker, J.
Lord! to Thy beauteous arts we rise, 699, ii., Cobbin, I.
Lord, to Thy charm ever appear, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Lord, to us be merciful, 606, i., Es walle uns Gott gnädig sein
Lord, to whom except to Thee? 723, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
Lord, to-day we bring to Thee, 772, i., Moultrie, G.
Lord, touch my heart with that great Consummation (Mein Herr und Heiland lass mire gehn zu Herzen), 395, i., Sauer, G. W.
Lord, unto Thee I make my moan (Ps. cxxx.), 806, i., Old Version
Lord, upheld me day by day, 505, i., Heavenly Father, to Whose eye
Lord, upon our lives we fall, 855, i., Nicholson, H. L.
Lord, wind Thy formless vesse (sea), 607, ii., Joyce, J.
Lord, we adore Thee, Bend, 1205, i., Bull, G.
Lord, we adore Thy boundless grace, 1205, ii., Steele, Anne
Lord, we adore Thy bounteous hand, 1235, i., Watts, I.
Lord, we adore Thy vast designs, 1235, i., Watts, I.
Lord, we all look up to Thee, 899, i., Jesu, Lord, we look to Thee
Lord, we are blind, we mortals blind, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Lord, we are Thine, to Thee we live, 598, i., Dick, J. G.
Lord, we are Thine, our God Thou art, 595, ii., Dock, P.
Lord, we believe to us and ours, 955, i., Dejaiz, rejoice, ye fallen race
Lord, we kneel before Thee now, 885, i., Parson (née Booker), Elizabeth
Lord, we kneel before Thy throne, 491, ii., Harland, E.
Lord, we bless Thee, Who hast given, 959, i., Bowen, G.
Lord, we come before Thee now, 663, i., Hammond, W.
Lord, we come to-day to Thee, 772, i., Moultrie, G.
Lord, we confess our numerous faults (Watts), 906, i., Lord, we confess our numerous faults, Author: 1256, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Lord, we do not ask to know, 651, ii., Hall, C. N.
Lord, we know that Thou art near us, 905, i., Crewdson (née Fox), Jane
Lord, we lift Thy feet, 693, i., Hart, J.
Lord, we lift our eyes above, 676, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Lord, we meet to pray and praise, 596, i., Cleghorn, Emma Lord, we obey Thy kind command, 9, i., Accepting, Lord, we obey Thy kind
Lord, we raise our cry to Thee, 686, i., Lord, we sit and cry to Thee
Lord, we raise our feeble voices, 833, ii., Hill, R.
Lord, we see the day approaching, 893, i., Peters (née Berly), Mary
Lord, we shout before Thy throne, 885, i., Parson (née Booker), Elizabeth
Lord, we thank Thee for the pleasure that our happy lifetime gives, Author: Jes-Hoke, T. W., 1 907, ii., Lord, we thank Thee for the pleasure
Lord, weary of a graceful way, 1126, ii., Trench, R. C.
Lord, we've tasted Thy rich blessing, 627, i., Khak, G. T. L.
Lord, what a fickle frame is ours, 196, ii., Browne, S.
Lord, what a feeble piece, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Lord, what a fleeting breath, 895, i., Lord, what a feeble piece

1402 LOR INDEX. LOV

Lord, what a season of saving grace, 304, ii., Far from my thoughts, vain world, begone
Lord, what a thoughtless wretch was I, 1265, i., Watts, I.
Lord, what a wretched land is this, 897, i., Saviour, we seek Thy high abode
Lord, what amazing love and grace, 444, ii., Gott sei Lob und Dankbarkeit
Lord, what blessed consolation, 118, i., Bathurst, W. H.
Lord, what is life? 'tis like a flower (the bow), 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Lord, what offering shall we bring? 1119, i., Taylor, Jane
Lord, what Thy goodness denies, 793, i., My God, my Father, blissful Name
Lord, when before Thy righteous throne, 696, ii., Lord, when we bend before Thy throne
Lord, when before Thy throne we stand, 804, ii., Nicholson, J.
Lord, when beside the grave we mourn, 902, i., Powell, T. E.
Lord, when earthly comforts flee, 691, ii., Harland, E.
Lord, when I all things would possess, 622, ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, when I count Thy mercies o'er, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lord, when I quit this earthly stage, 1237, ii., Watts, I.
Lord, when I think upon the love, 726, ii., Midlane, A.
Lord, when in silent hours I muse, 793, ii., Lytch, T. T.
Lord, when iniquities abound, 809, i., Help, Lord, for godly men cease
Lord, when my ragtured thought surveys, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Lord, when my soul her secrets doth reveal, 978, i., Palmer, R.
Lord, when my thoughts delighted rove, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Lord, when my thoughts with wonder roll, 1238, i., Watts, I.
Lord, when our breath shall fail in death, 960, i., Lord, when our offerings we present, 118, i., Bathurst, W. H.
Lord, when our ragtured thought surveys, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Lord, when Thine avenging dart (tr. Bortens), 1150, i., Christless too undone
Lord, when Thou didst ascend on high, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lord, when Thou didst come from heaven, 266, ii., Coxe, A. C.
Lord, when Thou mad'st Thy presence full (tr. Miss Winkworth), 683, ii., Heidenberg, G. F. P. von
Lord, when Thou saidst, be fed it be, 1305, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Lord, when Thy kingdom comes, remember me, 709, ii., Buchanan, W. J.
Lord, when to Thee this Gentile came, 1086, i., Soden, A. J.
Lord, when we bend before Thy throne, 695, i., Carlyle, J. D.
Lord, when we come at Thy dear call, 633 ii., Gill, T. H.
Lord, when we creation view, 255, i., Carlyle, J. D.
Lord, when we have not any light, 719, ii., Matheson, Annie
Lord, when with dying lips my prayer is said, 709, ii., Buchanan, W. J.
Lord, where shall guilty souls retire, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Lord, while for all mankind we pray, 1216, i., Wreford, R.
Lord, while Thy chastening arrows fall, 1150, i., Christless too undone
Lord, Who didst bid Thine angel shields, 772, i., Moultrie, G.
Lord, Who didst bless Thy chosen band (Asterna Christ Regnanti Exercitus Sanctus), 1, i., Asterna Christi miranda, Et Martyrum victrix
Lord, Who didst the prophets teach, 1106, i., Wordsworth, C.
Lord, Who hast formed me, 893, i., Russell, A. T.
Lord, Who hast kept us all, 599, ii., Salvator noster Domine
Lord, who hast sought us out unsought, 209, i., Cosby, G.
Lord, Who in pain and weariness, 690, i., Littledale, R. F.
Lord, who ordainest for mankind, 196, i., Bryant, W. C.
Lord, who the stars of night (tr. Hewett), 318, i., Creditor alme siderum
Lord, who throughout these forty days, 214, ii., Herrman (née Dobner), Cleaths F.
Lord, who Thy words and works obey, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, who's the happy man that may (Ps. xv.), 800, i., New Version
Lord, Whose goodness is ever sure, 685, i., Littledale, R. F.
Lord! Whose love and power excelling, 697, i., Lord! Whose love is power excelling
Lord, Whose temple once did plenish, 1205, ii., Vaughan, C. J.
Lord, why are thus our British youth, 839, ii., Holland, H.
Lord, with a grieved and aching heart, 125, i., Beddome, B.
Lord, with fervour I would praise Thee, 624, i., Key, F. S.
Lord, with glad and grateful spirits, 772, ii., Moultrie, J.
Lord, with glowing heart I'll praise Thee, 624, i., Key, F. S.
Lord, with grief and sin oppressed, 902, i., Powell, T. E.
Lord, with open heart and eye, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The Lord, with what courage and delight, 1240, i., Vaughan, H.
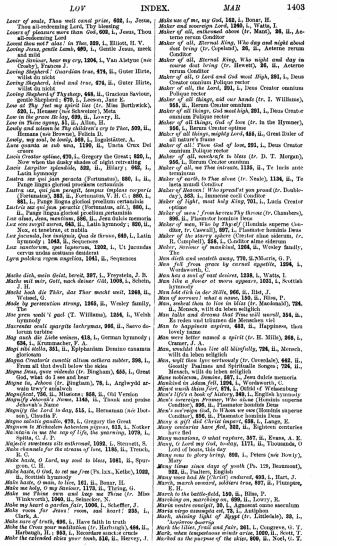
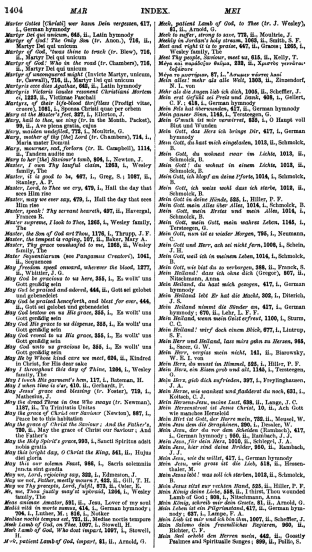
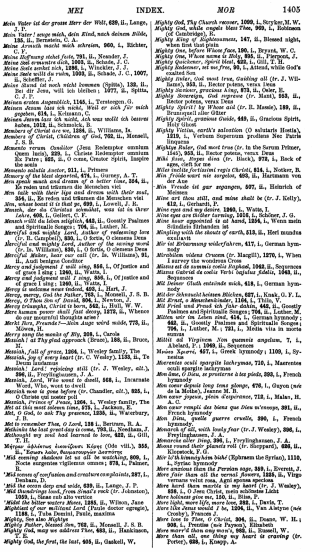
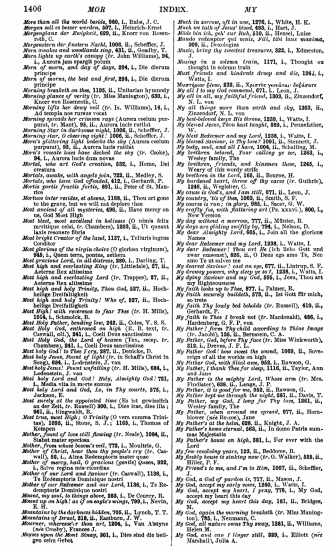
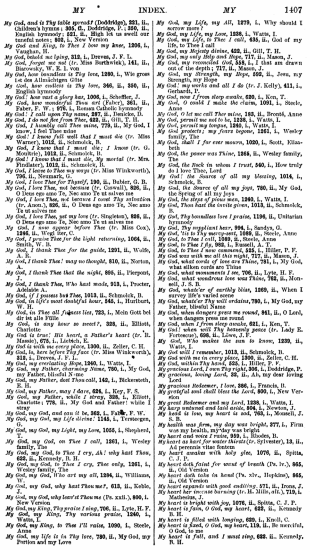
Lord, with what zeal did Thy first martyr breathe (Miss Winkworth), 311, i., Carols
Lord! withdraw the dreadful storm (tr. Jacobi), 37, i., Ahlfeld, J. G.
Lord, without Thy constant blessing, 165, i., Hatchford, A. N.
Lordlings, listen to our lay, 216, ii., Carols
Lost in the darkness, grief with tempers, 1164, i., Terrapets, /
Lost one! wandering on in sadness, 1260, ii., Wigner, J. M.
Loud and true our full-voiced chorus, 1229, ii., Vox clara ecce intonat
Loud hallelujahs to the Lord, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Loud is exultation, 1260, ii., Wilson, Jane
Loud let the tuneful trumpet sound, 256, i., Doddridge, P.
Loudly sing, my tongue! proclaiming (tr. Bunz), 279, i., Lobe den Herren, meine Seele
Loud sicha du creis, 999, ii., Grüobt mich du Jesu Christ
Love and a cross together bear, 275, i., Venzberg, J. M.
Love and death have wrestled fiercely, 1265, ii., Wilson, Jane
Love and kindness we may measure, 1122, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Love caused Thine Incarnation, 1260, i., Wie soll ich dich empfangen?
Love divine, all loves excelling (C. Wesley), 636, ii., Lamb of God, that in the bosom, 905, i., Praise the Lord, Whose mighty wonders; 905, i., Praise to Thee, Thou great Creator
Love divine and tender, 763, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
Love divine, how sweet thou art, 679, i., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
Love divine! my love commanding (tr. Miss Burlingham), 827, ii., O du Liebe meiner Liebe
Love divine! 'mid human features, 679, ii., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
Love for all, and ease of heart, 685, ii., Longfellow, S.
Love, honour, thanks to Thee we raise (tr. H. Mills), 595, ii., Hiller, F. F.
Love, how mysterious are Thy ways, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Love is the fountain whence, 123, ii., Beddome, B.
Love is the sweetest bud that blows, 1166, i., Swain, J.
Love is the Lord whom I sing (tr. Cowper), 678, i., Gayon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M. G.
Love is the sweetest bud that blows (tr. Littledale), 141, i., Blatez du Sens
Love me, O Lord, forgivingly, 709, ii., Lynch, T. T.
Love of Jesus, all divine, 184, ii., Bateman, F.
Love over the departed, 883, i., Hiller, F. F.
Love, sovereign love, the Saviour brought (tr. Littledale), 141, i., Blatez du Sens
Love suffers long, love excuses not, 1171, i., Though all men's eloquence adorned
Love we freely, blessed Jesus, 736, ii., Midlane, A.
Love, which to Thine Image made me, 679, i., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
Love, which to Thine Image made me, 679, ii., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
Love, Who is the first beginning, 679, ii., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
Loved by God the Father, 126, ii., Burnham, H.
Loved by God the Father, 795, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
Loved One! who by grace hast wrought me, 679, ii., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde





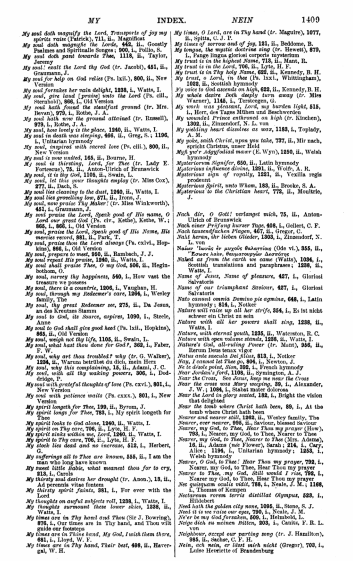






My God, and is Thy table so—? (Doddridge), 292, ii.
Children's hymns: 1838, ii., Doddridge, F., 1839, ii., English hymnody: 1851, ii., High tide on sands our tasteful notes; 1866, i., New Version
My God and King, to Thee I bow my knee, 1206, i., Vaughan, H.
My God, and my Spring, 313, i., Dryden, J. F. i.
My God, forgot me not (tr. Miss Borthwick), 141, ii., Bingwerdy, W. E. von
My God, how boundless is Thy love, 1295, i., Wie groß ist das Allmächtigen Güte
My God, how endless is Thy love, 966, ii., 966, ii., English hymnody
My God! how vast a glory has, 1006, i., Schaffer, J.
My God, how wonderful Thou art (Faber), 981, ii., Faber, F. W., 979, i., Roman Catholic hymnody
My God, I call, Thou hear'st, 327, ii., Steele, D.
My God, I call to Thee, 852, ii., Gill, T. C.
My God, I humbly call Thee mine, 779, ii., My God, I know, I feel Thee mine
My God! I know full well that I must die (tr. Miss Warner), 1015, ii., Schmolck, B.
My God! I know that I must die, I know (tr. G. Scriven), 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
My God! I know that I must die, My mortal (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 1012, ii., Schmolck, B.
My God, I know to Thee my ways (tr. Miss Winkworth), 796, ii., Gerhardt, P.
My God, I love Thee, not Thyself, 190, ii., Bubier, G. B.
My God, I love Thee, not because (tr. Caswall), 826, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salves me
My God, I love Thee, not because I want Thy salvation (tr. Anon.), 826, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salves me
My God, I love Thee, not my love (tr. Singleton), 826, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salves me
My God, I now appear before Thee (tr. Miss Cox), 1246, ii., Wegt, Ger. C.
My God, I pray Thee for the light returning, 1004, ii., Seagle, W. S.
My God, I thank Thee for the guide, 1201, ii., Wolfe, A. R.
My God, I thank Thee! may no thought, 810, ii., Norton, J.
My God, I thank Thee that the night, 895, ii., Tiverpool, J.
My God, I thank Thee, Who hast made, 913, i., Procter, Adelaide A.
My God, in Adams lost Plain, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
My God, in life's most doubtful hour, 245, i., Hurlburt, W. H.
My God, in Thee all fulness lies, 723, i., Mein Gott bei dir ist alle Fülle
My God, is any hour so sweet?, 328, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
My God in true! His heart, a Father's heart (tr. R. Hassell), 675, i., Liebich, E.
My God is with me every place, 1200, ii., Zeller, C. H.
My God, I've found Thy face (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
My God, my everlasting Hope, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My God, my Father, charming Name, 760, i., My God, my Father, blissful Name
My God, my Father, dost Thou call, 142, i., Nickerstein, J.
My God, my Father, may I dare, 624, i., Key, F. S.
My God, my Father, while I stray, 328, i., Elliott, Charlotte; 778, ii., My God and Father! while I stray
My God, my God, and can it be, 323, i., Faller, F. W.
My God, my God, my life divine! 1164, i., Terstegen, G.
My God, my God, my Light, my Love, 1055, i., Shepherd, J.
My God, my God, on Thee I call, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
My God, my God, to Thee I cry, Ah! why hast Thou, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
My God, my God, to Thee I cry, Thee only, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
My God, my God, Thou art my all, 1206, ii., Williams, W.
My God, my God, why hast Thou me?, 613, ii., Keble, J.
My God, my God, why hast Thou me (Ps. xxii.), 899, i., New Version
My God, my King, Thy praise I sing, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
My God, my King, Thy various praise, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My God, my King, to Thee I'll raise, 1000, i., Steele, Anne
My God, my life is in Thy love, 780, ii., My God, my Portion and my Love
My God, my life, my All, 1079, i., Why should I sorrow more?
My God, my life, my Love, 1236, i., Watts, I.
My God, my life, to Thee I call, 635, ii., God of my life, to Thee I call
My God, my Maker, 420, ii., Gill, T. H.
My God, my Maker and my King, 1206, ii., Vaughan, H.
My God, my reconciled God, 519, i., I shall am drawn out of the depth; 717, ii., Mason, J.
My God, my Strength, my Hope, 695, ii., Jesu, my Strength, my Hope
My God, my Treasure and all I do (tr. J. Kelly), 411, i., Gerhardt, P.
My God, now I from sleep awake, 630, i., Ken, T.
My God, O would I make the claim, 1001, i., Steele, Anne
My God, let me call Thee mine, 165, ii., Brontë, Anne
My God, permit me not to be, 1236, i., Watts, I.
My God, permit my tongue, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My God protects, my fears bygone, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
My God, shall I for ever mourn, 1020, i., Scott, Elizabeth
My God, the power was Thine, 1264, ii., Wesley family, The
My God, the track in whom I trust, 940, i., How truly do I love Thee, Lord
My God, the Source of all my blessing, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
My God, the Source of all my joys, 780, ii., My God, the Spring of all my joys
My God, the steps of grace were mine, 1240, i., Watts, I.
My God, Thou hast the tactile given, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
My God, Thy boundless love I praise, 1136, ii., Unitarian hymnody
My God, Thy resplendent hare, 996, i., Sandys, G.
My God, 'tis by mercy's part, 1013, ii., Steele, Anne
My God, to Thee, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
My God, to Thee I fly, 835, i., Russell, J. T.
My God, to Thee I now commend, 445, i., Hiller, P. F.
My God was with me all this night, 727, ii., Mason, J.
My God, what words of love are Thine, 781, i., My God, my Father, blissful Name
My God, what monuments I see, 796, ii., Lyte, H. F.
My God, what wondrous love was Thine, 762, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
My God, whate'er of earthly bliss, 1009, ii., When I survey the wondrous Cross
My God, whate'er Thy will ordains, 795, i., My God, my Father, blissful Name
My God, when dangers press me round, 961, ii., O Lord, when dangers press me round
My God, where'er Thy glories shine, 631, i., Ken, T.
My God, when will Thy heavenly peace (tr. Lady E. Fortescue), 626, ii., Löwe, J. B.
My God, Who makes the sun to know, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
My God, will I remember, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
My God with me in every place, 1200, ii., Zeller, C. H.
My God, within Thy hand, 625, i., Hiller, P. F.
My gracious Lord, I own Thy right, 301, i., Doddridge, P.
My gracious, loving Lord, 58, ii., Ah, my dear loving Lord
My gracious Redeemer, I love, 260, i., Francis, B.
My grateful soul shall bless the Lord, 660, i., New Version
My great Redeemer and my Lord, 1239, i., Watts, I.
My heart ascends and bears me, 1264, ii., Wesley, S.
My heart and love, my heart is sick, 764, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
My health was firm, my day was bright, 977, i., Firm was my health, my day was bright
My heart and flesh cry out, 1239, i., Watts, I.
My heart as heart for ever thirsts (tr. Spitta), 13, ii., All perennis vitae fontem
My heart awakes with holy joy, 1276, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
My heart, bless, extol for ever of triumph (Tr. Iv.), 965, ii., Old Version
My heart doth calls on bend (Tr. xiv., Hopkins), 965, ii., Old Version
My heart expands with good endeavour, 571, ii., Dean, J.
My heart is drawn, is burning (tr. H. Hills, alt.), 713, i., Methesius, J.
My heart is bright with joy, 1076, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
My heart is false, O God, my heart, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
My heart is filled with longing, 620, i., Knill, C.
My heart is fixed, O God, my heart, 113, ii., Be tran'ed, O God, to me
My heart is full, and I must sing, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
My heart is full of Christ, and longs, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
My heart is resting, O my God, 1233, ii., Waring, Anna L.
My heart its incense burning, 713, i., Methesius, J.
My heart, my flesh cry out (tr. Miss Cox), 1246, ii., My heart lies dead, and no increase
My heart, O God, be wholly Thine, 713, ii., Methesius, J.
My heart, O Lord, its love on Thee (tr. Russell), 1006, ii., Schaffer, N.
My heart rejoices in Thy name, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My heart! the trees words hear (tr. J. Kelly), 813, i., Gerhardt, P.
My heart, this vile, I give for aye (tr. Littledale), 368, ii., Our names Tyll dale, Jean dalaunne
My heart makes with a joyful lay (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 1276, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
My heart with deep emotion, 713, i., Methesius, J.
My heart's warm gush breaks forth in words, 540, ii., Ich singe dir mit Herz und Mund
My heavenly home is bright and fair, 943, i., Hunter, W.
My Helper, aid; Thy mercy show (tr. Russell), 1040, ii., Schneider, N.
My home is in heaven, my rest is not here, 699, ii., Hall, E.
My hope is built on nothing less, 771, i., Mote, E.
My hope, my steadfast trust (Ps. xxxi.), 890, i., New Version
My inmost heart now raises, 719, i., Methesius, J.
My Jesus, as Thou wilt, 733, ii., Mein Jesu, wie du willt
My Jesus, of the seraphim, 290, i., Doudney, W.
My Jesus, on Thy heart of perfect love (tr. Lady Durell), 1272, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
My Jesus the sinner receives (tr. Miss Warner), 797, ii., Gerhardt, P.
My Jesus, Thou hast taught, 1233, ii., Waterbury, J. B.
My Jesus, Whom the seraph hail (tr. B. Manie), 290, i., Doudney, W.
My joy is wholly banished (tr. Miss Winkworth), 597, ii., Ahn, F. A.
My joy and my'er anguished with care (tr. Miss Winkworth), 493, ii., Hartmann von der Aue
My King, 527, ii., Holmes, J. D.
My languid spirit, upward spring, 965, ii., Bird, J.
My life a cumbrous load was made, 1264, ii., Wesley, S.
My life I vow to God receive (tr. Jacob), 871, i., Lem, J.
My life is but a pilgrim-stand, 627, i., Lange, F. A.
My life is hid in Jesus (tr. Miss Winkworth), 333, i., Christus der ist mein Leben
My life is hid with Christ (Freeman), 309, ii., Crossman, S., 966, ii., English hymnody
My Lord and God, go not away, 1006, i., Schatz, J. H.
My Lord and my God, blessed word that declared, 601, ii., Harland, E.
My Lord, my light, my all of sweet content (tr. Cowper, alt.), 676, i., Lagrace (tr. de la Mothe), Jeanne M. B.
My Lord, my God, in all distress (Ps. lxxi., Hopkins), 965, ii., Old Version
My Lord, my Life, your crucified, 781, ii., My Lord, my Life, your crucified
My Lord, my love was crucified, 966, i., O Love divine, what hast Thou done!
My Maker and my King! What thanks to Thee I owe, 780, i., My Maker and my King; to Thee my whole heart
My Maker, at Thy holy throne, 1209, i., Stryker, M. W.
My never-ceasing songs shall show, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My only Saviour, when I feel, 329, i., Elliott, Charlotte
My parents gave me, Lord, 328, i., Hill, R.
My peaceful hours I once enjoyed, 711, ii., Kemper, W.
My portion is the living God, 1, ii., Kemper, D. H.
My portion, Thou my cup, 1170, ii., Thy way, not mine, O Lord
My praise again I offer Thee, 1238, i., Sorrey, C.
My prayer, my sacrifice, my song, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My race is run, my warfare's o'er (Watts, sensed), 594, ii., Death may disolve my body now; 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
My Redeemer knoweth me, 783, i., Mein Erlöser kennet mich
My Redeemer overwhelmed with anguish (tr. Swertner), 1301, ii., Zinzendorf, C. R. von
My Redeemer quit I not, 618, i., Kriemers, C.
My refuge is the God of love, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My rest is in heaven, my rest is not here, 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.
My restless heart with anguish mourning (tr. Miss Cox), 698, ii., Löwe, J. B.
My righteous Judge, my gracious God, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My rising soul with strong desires, 125, ii., Beddome, B.
My soul doth magnify the Lord, 966, i., Pollio, S.
My Saviour and my King, 1262, ii., Watts, I.
My Saviour, as Thou wilt, 733, ii., Mein Jesu, wie du willt
My Saviour, be Thou near me, Through life's night, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
My Saviour, be Thou near me, When I lie down, 1097, ii., Stowell, T. A.
My Saviour, can it ever be?, 613, i., Keble, J.
My Saviour dear, Thou for my good, 1263, i., Zinzendorf, C. R. von
My Saviour, how shall I proclaim (tr. J. Wesley), 852, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
My Saviour, I am Thine, 300, i., Doddridge, P.
My Saviour! I behold Thy life, 1005, ii., Stone, S. J.
My Saviour, my Redeemer Thou, 1110, i., Taylor (née Moriey), Sabinah
My Saviour is gone up to heaven, 557, ii., I sojourn in a vale of tears
My Saviour is the living Lord, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
My Saviour, my God, my life, my light (tr. Miss Winkworth), 387, ii., Dietrich, J.
My Shepherd lives, I shall not perish (tr. Russell), 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
My Saviour lives! I will rejoice, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich
My Saviour, make me closer to Thee (tr. Miss Cox), 1246, ii., Wegt, Ger. C.
My Saviour, my almighty Friend, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
My Saviour, on the [Thy] words of truth, 1233, ii., Waring, Anna L.
My Saviour sinners doth receive, Whom under burden (tr. in the Manx. H. B., 1766), 670, ii., Lete, L., F. V.
My Saviour, that I without Thee (tr. Foster), 597, ii., Nitschmann, Anna
My Saviour, Thou hast love to me (tr. J. Wesley), 838, i., O Jesu Christ, mein schönstes Licht
My Saviour, what Thou didst of old (tr. Miss Winkworth), 385, i., Fremyot, F. B. C. de la Motte
My Saviour when in heavenly places (tr. Sheppard), 1264, ii., Wesley, S.
My Shepherd is the living Lord, And He that doth me feed (Rous), 1154, i., The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want
My Shepherd is the living God, 613, ii., Keble, J.
My Shepherd is the living Lord, and nought (Ps. xxiii., Sternhold), 959, i., 965, i., Old Version
My Shepherd is the living Lord, So I can never need (Skerton, 1876), 1156, i., The God of love my Shepherd is
My Shepherd is the Lord: I know, 613, ii., Keble, J.
My Shepherd is the Lord, no more, 626, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
My Shepherd is the Saviour dear, 181, i., Becker, C.
My Shepherd will supply my need, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
My sins, my sins, my Saviour, 703, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
My sins, my sins, O God, my sins, 634, ii., Lisle, J.
My sins have taken such a hold on me, 676, ii., Litanies; 703, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
My sins, my sins, my Saviour, 703, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
My soul, be on thy guard, 1264, ii., Wesley, S.
My soldiers! the kind and gracious aspire (tr. in the Manx. H. B., 1764), 966, ii., Bickar, C. V.
My song is love unknown, 262, ii., Crossman, S.
My soul, be on thy guard, 1264, ii., Van Alsayne (née Crosby), Frances J.
My sorrows like a flood, 1237, i., Watts, I.
My soul, See also My souls
My soul adores the might of loving (tr. Mrs. Ashby), 1154, ii., Sheppard, H. R.
My soul, amid this stormy world, 618, i., Chapman, R. W.
My soul and spirit, filled with joy My God and Saviour praise (Take), 711, ii., Magnificat; 801, i., New Version, 1696, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
My soul, arise in joyful lays, 722, ii., Mozley, S.
My soul awake and render, 1259, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz! und singe
My soul, be on thy guard (tr. Jacobi), 1259, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz! und singe
My soul, come meditate the day, 1236, i., Watts, I.
My soul before Thee prostrate lies, 631, i., Herr legt mein Sinn sich vor dir nieder
My soul, exalt the Lord, His wonders extends, 698, ii., Hinsdale (née Hadduck), Grace W.
My soul doth magnify the Lord, And God my Saviour sing (W. J. Irons), 711, ii., Magnificat
My soul doth magnify the Lord, My spirit overmore (Old Version), 711, ii., Magnificat

My heart is full of Christ, and longs, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
My heart is resting, O my God, 1233, ii., Waring, Anna L.
My heart its incense burning, 713, i., Methesius, J.
My heart, my flesh cry out (tr. Miss Cox), 1246, ii., My heart lies dead, and no increase
My heart, O God, be wholly Thine, 713, ii., Methesius, J.
My heart, O Lord, its love on Thee (tr. Russell), 1006, ii., Schaffer, N.
My heart rejoices in Thy name, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My heart! the trees words hear (tr. J. Kelly), 813, i., Gerhardt, P.
My heart, this vile, I give for aye (tr. Littledale), 368, ii., Our names Tyll dale, Jean dalaunne
My heart makes with a joyful lay (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 1276, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
My heart with deep emotion, 713, i., Methesius, J.
My heart's warm gush breaks forth in words, 540, ii., Ich singe dir mit Herz und Mund
My heavenly home is bright and fair, 943, i., Hunter, W.
My Helper, aid; Thy mercy show (tr. Russell), 1040, ii., Schneider, N.
My home is in heaven, my rest is not here, 699, ii., Hall, E.
My hope is built on nothing less, 771, i., Mote, E.
My hope, my steadfast trust (Ps. xxxi.), 890, i., New Version
My inmost heart now raises, 719, i., Methesius, J.
My Jesus, as Thou wilt, 733, ii., Mein Jesu, wie du willt
My Jesus, of the seraphim, 290, i., Doudney, W.
My Jesus, on Thy heart of perfect love (tr. Lady Durell), 1272, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
My Jesus the sinner receives (tr. Miss Warner), 797, ii., Gerhardt, P.
My Jesus, Thou hast taught, 1233, ii., Waterbury, J. B.
My Jesus, Whom the seraph hail (tr. B. Manie), 290, i., Doudney, W.
My joy is wholly banished (tr. Miss Winkworth), 597, ii., Ahn, F. A.
My joy and my'er anguished with care (tr. Miss Winkworth), 493, ii., Hartmann von der Aue
My King, 527, ii., Holmes, J. D.
My languid spirit, upward spring, 965, ii., Bird, J.
My life a cumbrous load was made, 1264, ii., Wesley, S.
My life I vow to God receive (tr. Jacob), 871, i., Lem, J.
My life is but a pilgrim-stand, 627, i., Lange, F. A.
My life is hid in Jesus (tr. Miss Winkworth), 333, i., Christus der ist mein Leben
My life is hid with Christ (Freeman), 309, ii., Crossman, S., 966, ii., English hymnody
My Lord and God, go not away, 1006, i., Schatz, J. H.
My Lord and my God, blessed word that declared, 601, ii., Harland, E.
My Lord, my God, my all of sweet content (tr. Cowper, alt.), 676, i., Lagrace (tr. de la Mothe), Jeanne M. B.
My Lord, my God, in all distress (Ps. lxxi., Hopkins), 965, ii., Old Version
My Lord, my Life, your crucified, 781, ii., My Lord, my Life, your crucified
My Lord, my love was crucified, 966, i., O Love divine, what hast Thou done!
My Maker and my King! What thanks to Thee I owe, 780, i., My Maker and my King; to Thee my whole heart
My Maker, at Thy holy throne, 1209, i., Stryker, M. W.
My never-ceasing songs shall show, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My only Saviour, when I feel, 329, i., Elliott, Charlotte
My parents gave me, Lord, 328, i., Hill, R.
My peaceful hours I once enjoyed, 711, ii., Kemper, W.
My portion is the living God, 1, ii., Kemper, D. H.
My portion, Thou my cup, 1170, ii., Thy way, not mine, O Lord
My praise again I offer Thee, 1238, i., Sorrey, C.
My prayer, my sacrifice, my song, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My race is run, my warfare's o'er (Watts, sensed), 594, ii., Death may dissolve my body now; 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
My Redeemer knoweth me, 783, i., Mein Erlöser kennet mich
My Redeemer overwhelmed with anguish (tr. Swertner), 1301, ii., Zinzendorf, C. R. von
My Redeemer quit I not, 618, i., Kriemers, C.
My refuge is the God of love, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My rest is in heaven, my rest is not here, 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.
My restless heart with anguish mourning (tr. Miss Cox), 698, ii., Löwe, J. B.
My righteous Judge, my gracious God, 1260, i., Watts, I.
My rising soul with strong desires, 125, ii., Beddome, B.
My soul doth magnify the Lord, 966, i., Pollio, S.
My Saviour and my King, 1262, ii., Watts, I.
My Saviour, as Thou wilt, 733, ii., Mein Jesu, wie du willt
My Saviour, be Thou near me, Through life's night, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
My Saviour, be Thou near me, When I lie down, 1097, ii., Stowell, T. A.
My Saviour, can it ever be?, 613, i., Keble, J.
My Saviour dear, Thou for my good, 1263, i., Zinzendorf, C. R. von
My Saviour, how shall I proclaim (tr. J. Wesley), 852, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
My Saviour, I am Thine, 300, i., Doddridge, P.
My Saviour! I behold Thy life, 1005, ii., Stone, S. J.
My Saviour, my Redeemer Thou, 1110, i., Taylor (née Moriey), Sabinah
My Saviour is gone up to heaven, 557, ii., I sojourn in a vale of tears
My Saviour is the living Lord, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
My Saviour, my God, my life, my light (tr. Miss Winkworth), 387, ii., Dietrich, J.
My Shepherd lives, I shall not perish (tr. Russell), 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
My Saviour lives! I will rejoice, 600, i., Jesus lebt, mit ihm auch ich
My Saviour, make me closer to Thee (tr. Miss Cox), 1246, ii., Wegt, Ger. C.
My Saviour, my almighty Friend, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
My Saviour, on the [Thy] words of truth, 1233, ii., Waring, Anna L.
My Saviour sinners doth receive, Whom under burden (tr. in the Manx. H. B., 1766), 670, ii., Lete, L., F. V.
My Saviour, that I without Thee (tr. Foster), 597, ii., Nitschmann, Anna
My Saviour, Thou hast love to me (tr. J. Wesley), 838, i., O Jesu Christ, mein schönstes Licht
My Saviour, what Thou didst of old (tr. Miss Winkworth), 385, i., Fremyot, F. B. C. de la Motte
My Saviour when in heavenly places (tr. Sheppard), 1264, ii., Wesley, S.
My Shepherd is the living Lord, And He that doth me feed (Rous), 1154, i., The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want
My Shepherd is the living God, 613, ii., Keble, J.
My Shepherd is the living Lord, nought (Ps. xxiii., Sternhold), 959, i., 965, i., Old Version
My Shepherd is the living Lord, So I can never need (Skerton, 1876), 1156, i., The God of love my Shepherd is
My Shepherd is the Lord: I know, 613, ii., Keble, J.
My Shepherd is the Lord, no more, 626, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
My Shepherd is the Saviour dear, 181, i., Becker, C.
My Shepherd will supply my need, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
My sins, my sins, my Saviour, 703, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
My sins, my sins, O God, my sins, 634, ii., Lisle, J.
My sins have taken such a hold on me, 676, ii., Litanies; 703, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
My sins, my sins, my Saviour, 703, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
My soul, be on thy guard, 1264, ii., Wesley, S.
My Solomon! thy kind and gracious aspire (tr. in the Manx. H. B., 1764), 966, ii., Bickar, C. V.
My song is love unknown, 262, ii., Crossman, S.
My soul, be on thy guard, 1264, ii., Van Alsayne (née Crosby), Frances J.
My sorrows like a flood, 1237, i., Watts, I.
My soul, See also My souls
My soul adores the might of loving (tr. Mrs. Ashby), 1154, ii., Sheppard, H. R.
My soul, amid this stormy world, 618, i., Chapman, R. W.
My soul and spirit, filled with joy My God and Saviour praise (Take), 711, ii., Magnificat; 801, i., New Version, 1696, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
My soul, arise in joyful lays, 722, ii., Mozley, S.
My soul awake and render, 1259, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz! und singe
My soul, be on thy guard (tr. Jacobi), 1259, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz! und singe
My soul, come meditate the day, 1236, i., Watts, I.
My soul before Thee prostrate lies, 631, i., Herr legt mein Sinn sich vor dir nieder
My soul, exalt the Lord, His wonders extends, 698, ii., Hinsdale (née Hadduck), Grace W.
My soul doth magnify the Lord, And God my Saviour sing (W. J. Irons), 711, ii., Magnificat
My soul doth magnify the Lord, My spirit overmore (Old Version), 711, ii., Magnificat



1410

1411

NOT INDEX. NOW 1411

Not in this simple rite alone, 605, ii., Gaskell, W.
Not in Thy duty, Lord, rejoice, 633, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Not in vain I poured my supplication, 191, ii., Berleigh, W. H.
Not, Lord, Thine ancient works alone, 622, ii., Gill, T. H.
Not made, nor yet created, once, 1217, i., Verbum Dei, Monk of
Not more than I have strength to bear (tr. Miss Warner), 106, i., Bibdy, S. G.
Not now, my child!, a little more rough training, 883, ii., Pennefather (née King), Catherine
Not only as a disciple, 1295, i., Yeap (née Bargen), Frances M.
Not only doth the watchful day, 195, ii., Burleigh, W. H.
Not Thou clad in radiant vest, 1296, ii., Wordsworth, W.
Not to darkly, not to deep, 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
Not the malicious or profane, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Not Thee, from us, O Lord, but us, 1185, ii., Trench, R. C.
Not Thy garment's hem alone, 258, i., Cosser (née Thomas), Jane E.
Not to condemn the sons of men (Watts) 1006, ii., So did the Hebrew prophet raise
Not to ourselves alone, 1241, i., Topiady, A. M.
Not to ourselves again, 744, i., Reed, H.
Not to ourselves we owe, 1181, i., Topiady, A. M.
Not to ourselves who are but dust, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
Not to the second that harvest with fire (came), 704, ii., Montgomery, J.
Not to thine instructed eyes, 923, ii., Pope, A.
Not words in, Almighty Lord (God), 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Not words us but Thee alone, Richard Lewis (Venning), 218, i., Cornick, J., 434, i., God of all consolation, take; 973, ii., Let us the sheep in Jesus trusted
Not soul of mine! Thee, O Lord! Ne pensée aux, 633, ii., Not what these hands have done
Not words us but Thy name, Grant God, be glory given (Cotterill), 673, ii., Let us the sheep in Jesus named; 1008, ii., Staffordshire hymn-books
Not unto us, Lord, not to us (Ps. cxv., Norton), 866, i., Not unto us, not unto us, O Lord, 670, i., Gentiles, M.
Not unto us, o Lord (Ps. cxv., Whittingham), 1032, ii., Scottish hymnody
Not words us, O Thee, O Lord, Be praise and (C. Wesley), 1, i., Addington, Sarah, Countess of
Not vain, O Lord, Thy lasting word, 632, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Not what I am, O Lord, but what Thou art, 163, i., Bonar, H.
Not what I do, O God or do, 811, ii., Not what these hands have done
Not what these hands have done, 163, i., Bonar, H.
Not willingly dost Thou afflict, 826, i., Elliot, Charlotte
Not with our mortal eyes, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Not yet I love my Lord, 633, ii., Gill, T. H.
Not yet, ye people of His grace, 632, ii., Gill, T. H.
Not Ziona, sed Dei ye ara, 697, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Nothing but leaves, the Spirit grieves, 99, ii., Akerman, John Yonge
Nothing but Thy blood, O Jesus, 609, i., Hart, J.
Nothing but the voice of God can speak, 794, ii., Middlete, A.
Nous célébrons tes louanges, 0 Dieu, et nous reconnaissons que tu es le Seigneur, 1139, i., Te Deum laudamus
Nous portons un deuil inexplorable, 676, i., Guyon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
Nous lay bonne dieu nous toy rapyrons soignier (tr. in the Anglo-Norman Bible), 1127, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Nous n'habiterons, O Lord, 679, ii., Jam sanctus novus opus
Now a new year opens, 236, i., Clarke, S. C.
Now all chafery cares shall cease, 483, i., Hamilton, John
Now all give thanks to God, Henri, 863, ii., Rinkart, M.
Now all give thanks to God, With heart, and hand, and voice (tr. Singleton), 863, ii., Rinkart, M.
Now all men thank ye God, 863, ii., Rinkart, M.
Now all the woods are sleeping, 892, ii., Nun ruhen alle Wälder
Now all to God give thanks, 863, ii., Rinkart, M.
Now ancient shadows flee, 285, ii., Delilla cessent elementa legis
Now are our labours ended with quiet sleep (tr. Jones), 1007, ii., Nocte surgentes, vigilemus omnes
Now are three hes sacro completed (Lauda sion qui jam peracta, tr. Chambers), 981, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Now as long as here I roam, 610, i., Gerhardt, P.
Now at length our bells are muzzled, 876, i., Lib. it gently to the steeple
Now at the banquet of the Lamb (tr. Johnston, 1852), 14, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
Now at the banquet of the Lamb, 14, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
Now at the banquet of the Lamb (tr. Carwall), 13, ii., Ad regias Agni dapes
Now at the Lamb's high royal feast, In rules of festal while we sing (tr. Copeland alt.), 13, ii., Ad regias Agni dapes
Now at the Lamb's imperial feast (tr. Mant), 14, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
Now at the manger here I stand (tr. J. Kelly), 410, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Now beneath the trees on every plain, 909, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Now awake, my soul, my senses, 1264, ii., Weeks
Now be my heart inspired to sing, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Now be the thanks and praise, ascending, 863, i., Russell, J.
Now be the God of Israel blessed, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Now be the gospel banner, 694, ii., Hastings, T.
Now begin the heavenly theme, 639, ii., Langford, J.
Now bless the King of glory, 1027, ii., Sidi iter bin in Mitte
Now blessed be Thou, Christ Jesu, 606, ii., Celebet sint in Jesu Christi., 662, ii., Gentily Psalmes and Spiritualle Songes
Now blest be Israel's Lord and God (Benedictus), 861, i., See Version
Now bring us, good cheer (Seale), 813, i., Carols
Now by the beauty of my God, 1256, ii., Watts, I.
Now by the love of Christ my God, 1256, ii., Watts, I.
Now (by Thy) to the faithful choirs, 626, ii., Laudibus hostes exultet fidelis chorus: Alleluia. Regem cui
Now Christ above the starry skies, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ ascending whence He came, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ beyond the stars is gone, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ beyond the stars had gone (tr. Copeland), 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ beyond the stars is gone (tr. Wallace), 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ, gone up to whence He came, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ had climbed the starry skies, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ the Lord (jacent the skies to claim, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now Christ our Passover is slain, 393, i., Forti tegentis benitis
Now Christ, the very Son of God, 1040, ii., Scandor, N.
Now Christ, Thy starry stars above, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now come ye Christians all and bring, 831, ii., Nun freut euch lieben Christengemeine
Now comes salvation from above, 1076, ii., Speratus, P.
Now comes the Gentiles' Redeemer, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Now condescend, almighty King, 1117, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Now come us of the Holy Ghost, 821, ii., Nun bitten wir den Heiligen Geist
Now dieby shines the sun more fair (Pascha nostrum gaudium, tr. Caswall), 98, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
Now darkness over all is spread (tr. Miss Winkworth), 627, i., Josephson, L. C. E.
Now day is over, night is nigh for days (tr. Hurt), 80, i., Adeste fideles laeti
Now day's bright star is risen afar, 670, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
Now doth the fiery sun decline (Jam sol recedit igneus), 1256, ii., Watts, I., 1260, ii., Watts, I., 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Now doth the fiery sun retire (Jam sol recedit igneus), 965, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
Now doth the sun descend the sky, 877, ii., Jam lucis orto sidere
Now, eternal Father, bless, 1186, ii., Tuttiett, L.
Now, eternal sun, I yield, 1256, i., Wesley family, The

1412 NOW INDEX. NOW

Now every evensound sleepeth, 892, ii., Nun ruhen alle Wälder
Now fain my joyous heart would sing (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1252, i., Walther, J.
Now family smile day's hasty hours, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
Now far above the starry plain, 670, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
Now for a (hymn) tune of lofty praise, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Now for the Lord our God, 1256, i., Wordsworth, C.
Now for Thy holy Name (Ps. xxv.), 962, i., Old Version
Now for Thy mighty banners go, 1221, ii., Venite exi prodeunt
Now from earth rising, my heart, 861, i., Richter, G.
Now from labour and from care, 694, ii., Hastings, T.
Now from the altar of my heart, 311, i., Dread Sovereign, let my evening
Now from the garden in the cross, 625, i., Hart, J.
Now from the rising of the sun (tr. Wallace), 4, ii., A solis ortus cardine Ad usque
Now from the slumbers of the night arising, 899, i., Nocte surgentes, vigilemus omnes
Now full thirty years are past (Lustra sex, qui jam peregit, tergus impleta corpora, tr. Walker), 981, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Now gird your patient loins again, 270, i., Cromwell, W.
Now glory unto God be given (tr. Jacob), 1005, ii., Gloria sit Deo excelsa
Now go forth and dig my grave, 20, i., Arndt, E. M.
Now God be praised, and God alone, 995, i., Bax, J.
Now God be with us, for the night is closing (tr. Miss Winkworth), 812, ii., Herbert, F.
Now hath arisen the star of day, 277, ii., Jam lucis orto sidere
Now have I found the ground wherein (tr. J. Wesley, alt.), 979, i., Rothe, J. A.
Now have our hearts endeared our God, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Now have we met thee we weep not, 705, ii., Lynch, T. T.
Now, heavy heart, away with sorrow (tr. Miss Hastings), 1260, ii., Wegleiter, C.
Now He's ascended high, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Now, Holy Ghost, to Thee we pray (tr. John Williams), 1256, i., Schirmer, J. G.
Now hot with heat assembling, 218, i., Chapin, E. H.
Now hush your cries, and shed no tear, 292, i., Dem ipsos fons amisarum
Now hushed are woods and water, 892, ii., Nun ruhen alle Wälder
Now I can read and learn, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Now I close my tired eyes (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 810, ii., Hensel, Luise
Now I find a lasting joy, 260, ii., Das ist meine Freude
Now I have found a friend, 103, i., Bonar (née Lundie), Jane C.
Now I have found the blessed ground (tr. J. Wesley, alt.), 979, i., Rothe, J. A.
Now I have found the firm foundation (tr. Knapp), 979, i., Rothe, J. A.
Now I have found the ground wherein (tr. Sheppard), 979, i., Rothe, J. A.
Now I have found the ground wherein (tr. J. Wesley), 979, i., Rothe, J. A.
Now I know the great Redeemer, 196, ii., Burnham, R.
Now I lay me down to sleep, 1099, i., Stryker, M. W.
Now I rise; 'tis night (tr. Miss Warner), 827, i., Hippel, T. G. von
Now I to my welcome sleep is Thee (tr. in the Moravian Hymn Book), 798, i., Neander, J.
Now, in a song of grateful praise, 795, ii., Medley, S.
Now in Christian love and union, 836, ii., Cleghorn, J. P.
Now in His manger He so humbly lies, 266, i., Fellrich
Now in the days of youth, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Now in numbers soft and ruffling flowing, 903, i., Tate, W. C.
Now in parting, Father, bless us, 103, i., Bonar, H.
Now in peace go on your ways, 827, i., Klak, G. F. L.
Now in the days of youth (tr. Miss Cox), 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Now in the name of God we go, 104, ii., In Gottes Namen fahren wir
Now, in the peace of God (tr. Miss Borthwick), 826, i., Hensel (née Schwinar), Mets
Now in this presence I appear (tr. H. Mills), 608, i., Gerhardt, P.
Now is born our great Salvation, 795, i., Nato nobis Salvatore
Now is Christ risen (tr. Russell), 825, i., Christ ist erstanden von der Marter alle
Now is cure health come from above (tr. Cosenhan), 662, ii., Gentily Psalmes and Spiritualle Songes, 1076, ii., Speratus, P.
Now is the accepted time, 206, ii., Dobell, J.
Now is the hour of darkness past, 1235, i., Watts, I.
Now, Lord, we send time: God alone, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.
Now Israel may say, and that truly (Ps. cxxiv., Whittingham), 866, i., Old Version
Now it belongs not to my care, 118, ii., Baxter, R., 949, i., Now it belongs not to my care
Now Jesus, for Thy broken heart, O Lord
Now Jesus lifts His prayer on high, 329, i., Emergit unda et Deo
Now, just a word for Jesus, 1204, ii., Van Alstyne (née Knapp), Frances J.
Now lay us calmly in the grave, 622, i., Nos laeti sus deo Lab begraben
Now let a great effectual door, 618, ii., Kelly, T.
Now let a spacious world arise (Watts), 1256, i., Scottish Translations and Paraphrases
Now let each heart conspire to voice, 168, ii., Bradberry, D.
Now let each humble creature, 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
Now let Jehovah's covenant love, 671, i., Irons, J.
Now let mournful sighing cease, 877, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
Now let my soul, eternal King, 806, ii., Heglesbothen, G.
Now let my soul with God retreat, 679, ii., Litanies
Now let our heavenly plants and flowers, 238, i., Elliott, Charlotte
Now let our hearts conspire to voice, 168, ii., Bradberry, D.
Now let our mournful songs record, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Now let our pains be all past, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Now let our praise be given, 194, i., Burton, J., jun.
Now let our sighs be all past, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Now let our souls ascend above (Anon.), 198, ii., Bruce, M., 1256, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Now let our tearful eyes survey, 817, i., Now let our cheerful eyes survey
Now let our voices join, 1260, i., Doddridge, P.
Now let our voices join, 206, i., Doddridge, P.
Now let the children of the saints, 1237, ii., Watts, I.
Now let the earth with joy resound, 361, i., Exultet coelum laudibus
Now let the slumbering church awake, 983, ii., Hyland, J.
Now let the world with joy abound, 361, i., Exultet coelum laudibus
Now let Thy servant die in peace, From this vale of sorrow, 1256, i., Wesley family, The, 1256, i., Nunc dimittis, 1256, i., Scottish translations, and paraphrases
Now let us all to God (tr. Russell), 953, ii., Rinkart, M.
Now let us loudly Praise God, the Merciful (tr. Miss Winkworth), 863, ii., Rinkart, M.
Now let us praise the Lord (tr. Jacob), 963, ii., Rinkart, M.
Now let us praise with fervour, 939, ii., Helmbold, L.
Now let us pray the Holy Ghost (tr. Miss Winkworth), 821, ii., Nun bitten wir den Heiligen Geist
Now let us pray to the Holy Ghost, 821, ii., Nun bitten wir den heiligen Geist
Now let us see Thy beauty, Lord, 1241, ii., Waugh, B.
Now let us sing the angels' song, 887, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Now let us sit and weep (tr. Caswall), 719, i., Maestorum nobis sparglie lachrymas
Now let your mingling voices rise, 977, ii., Jevons (née Simcox), Mary Ann
Now, Lord, for Christ's dear sake arise (tr. Miss Cox, alt.), 1016, i., Schirmer, J. G.
Now, Lord, for Thy sake, Lord (Miss Leeson), 818, i., Now let Thy servant die in peace
Now Lord fulfil Thy faithful word, 1266, i., West, T.
Now, Lord, I on Thy truth depend, 195, ii., Bourne, H.
Now, Lord, the heavenly seed is sown, 698, ii., Lord, ere the heavenly seed is sown; 799, ii., Needham, J.
Now, Lord, Thy blessing we implore, 105, ii., Bourne, H.
Now, Lord, to every heart make known, 691, ii., Haeseli, E.
Now, Lord, we part awhile, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Now, Lord, we part in Thy blest Name, 818, ii., Now, Lord, we part in Thy great Name
Now may Christ's blissful Passion cure (Sosta Christi passio), 1187, i., Te qui solutis fidis
Now may He Who from the dead, 806, i., Newton, J.
Now may the God of all my hope, 258, i., In welk' een God gedag ein
Now may the God of power and grace, 1260, ii., Watts, I.

O ALL INDEX. O CHRIST 1415

O all ye works of the Lord, 134, i, Benedicite
O all-creating Wisdom, God, Word, The
O all-holy Saviour, 799, i, Neander, J.
O almighty God of love, 1261, ii, Wesley family, The O amor quam suavissima, 72, i, Appendix hymnorum
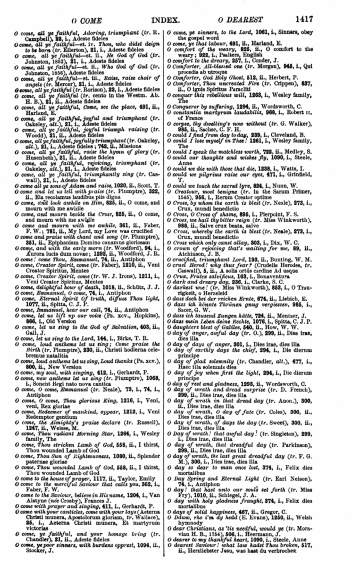
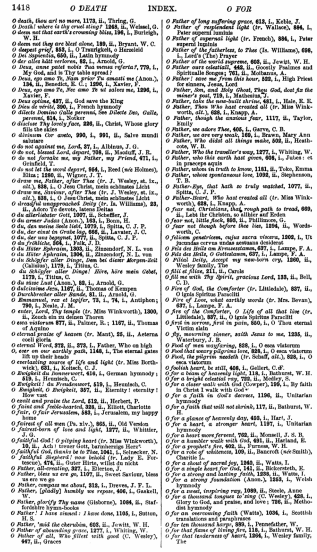
O ancient of eternal days, 470, i, Hewitt, R. A.
O and shall I see my soul decay, 1261, ii, O God's right hand in covenant remembers, 467, ii, Gregor, C.
O anxious care that weighs me down (tr. Miss Burlingham), 410, ii, Hensel, Luise
O arm me with the mind, 838, i, O all-atoning Lamb
O as the dew-drops, 1261, ii, Wesley, Miss A.
O at last I did discover, 272, ii, Jacob, M.
O! at last I've found my Saviour, 272, i, James, M.
O auferstanden Siegesfürst, 180, i, Rönnau, J. H.
O autumn, fair pensive evening, 1080, i, Spitta, C. J. P.
O backward-looking son of time, 1271, ii, Whittier, J. G.
O be glad, faithful nation, 606, ii, Jocundare, pietà Gallia
O be joyful in the Lord, 866, ii, 867, i, Conder, J.
O be not angry, Lord, with those (Placare, Christe, servulis, tr. Walker), 238, ii, Christe Redemptor omnium Conserva tuos famulos
O be not thus dismayed, Believing little band (Lass dich durch nichts erschrecken), 275, i, Rob, J.
O beata beatorum, 620, i, 621, i, Latin hymnody
O beata Jerusalem, 620, ii, Latin hymnody
O beauty, old yet ever new, 1277, ii, Whittier, J. G.
O beauty, old yet ever new, 1277, ii, Whittier, J. G.
O Bethlehem! O Bethlehem! To envied honours greening (tr. H. Mills), 798, i, Meinhold, J. M.
O Bethlehem! O Bethlehem! Was ist in dir geschehen, 798, i, Meinhold, J. M.
O Bethlehem, of cities blest (O urbs magnarum urbium), 966, ii, Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O Bethlehem! thou dost surpass (O urbs magnarum urbium), 966, ii, Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O bless the Lord, my soul, His grace to all proclaim, 967, ii, Hart, Joseph
O bless the Lord, and praise, 968, i, Hart, Joseph
O bless the Lord, my soul! His grace to thee proclaim, 708, i, Montgomery, J.
O blest the Lord, my soul, 1260, ii, Watts, I.
O bless the Lord, my soul, 1165, i, This is the land of heaven
O blessed news ye messengers, sent forth (tr. Lady Dunsa), 1077, i, Spitta, C. J. P.
O blessed Bible divine, 196, ii, Burgenlied, F. J.
O blessed blessed amends of grace, 1261, ii, Wesley, M. M.
O blessed Christ, come, 1261, ii, Wesley, C. & W. M.
O blessed day, 1261, ii, Wesley, Miss
O blessed day when first was poured (tr. Chandler, alt.), 276, ii, Felix dies quam propitia
O blessed house, whose favoured inmates know, 968, i, O salig Haus, wo man sich entkommenen
O blessed house, whose favoured inmates know (tr. Magrath), 968, i, O salig Haus, wo man sich entkommenen
O blessed Jesus, Lamb of God, 896, i, Beck, J. G.
O blessed Jesus! This, 818, i, Gerhardt, P.
O blessed Life, the heart at rest, 719, ii, Monod, W. T.
O blessed Light, O Trinitie, that (tr. Lady Dunsa), 1077, i, Spitta, C. J. P.
O blessed light, O Trinitie, that (tr. the Primer, 1615), 965, ii, O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
O blessed light, O Trinitie, that (tr. the Primer, 1685), 965, ii, O Lux beata, Trinitas
O blessed news ye messengers, sent forth (tr. Lady Dunsa), 1077, i, Spitta, C. J. P.
O blessed Rule divine, 196, ii, Burgenlied, F. J.
O blessed blessed amends of grace, 1261, ii, Wesley, M. M.
O blessed Christ, come, 1261, ii, Wesley, C. & W. M. Alexander
O blessed day, 1261, ii, Wesley, Miss
O blessed day when first was poured (tr. Chandler, alt.), 276, ii, Felix dies quam propitia
O blessed house, whose favoured inmates know, 968, i, O salig Haus, wo man sich entkommenen
O blessed house, whose favoured inmates know (tr. Magrath), 968, i, O salig Haus, wo man sich entkommenen
O blessed Jesus, Lamb of God, 896, i, Beck, J. G.
O blessed Jesus! This, 818, i, Gerhardt, P.
O blessed Life, the heart at rest, 719, ii, Monod, W. T.
O blessed Light, O Trinitie, that (tr. Lady Dunsa), 1077, i, Spitta, C. J. P.
O blessed





O for the eye of faith divine, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
O for the faith that dares to doubt, 1173, ii., Turing, G.
O for the happy hour, 138, i., Bellman, G. W.
O for the peace which floweth as a river, 268, ii., Crewdson (nee Fox), Jane
O for the pearly gates of heaven, 1156, i., The rosate (nee Smith), Charlie I.
O for the voice of whiteness, 109, ii., Bancroft (nee Smith), Charlie I.
O for the time when on the world, 702, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
O, for my spirit, holy John, once more (tr. Copeland), 1868, i., Ut spiritu laeto renovare fletu
O for thy spirit, holy John, to chasten (tr. Hew), 1868, i., Ut spiritu laeto renovare fletu
O for thy spirit, holy John, to chasten, Liget ut-(tr. Copeland), 1868, i., Ut spiritu laeto renovare fletu
O Fount of love! Most Spirit (tr. Hew), 1868, ii., O fons amoris, Spiritus
O Fount of love! Thou Spirit blest (tr. Chambers), 1868, ii., O fons amoris, Spiritus
O fountain of love, 206, ii., Fountain of mercy, God of love
O fountain eternal of life and of light (tr. in the Manx H. B. Supp. 1846), 631, i., Kelbrick, C. J.
O frail spirit, what speck, 1867, ii., Shanley, A. P.
O friend of souls! how dear the dame (tr. Matheson, 1st), 1868, ii., Summe
O from the world's cold sleep of woe, 290, ii., Dexter, W. C.
O from the world's vile slavery, 253, i., Cotterill (nee Boak), Jane
O from those sadness, dark and dreary, 116, ii., Bartrum, J. J.
O fröhner und getreuer Gott Aller die auf dich hoffen (Ringwaldt), 830, ii., O treuener und getreuer Gott Ich lob getrosten dein Gebot
O gentes Cretenses cur gnatal (D. Charles), 1851, ii., Welsh hymnody
O Gabriel, Lord Soldier, 255, i., Communio
O garish, O spotted, unpleasant of fruits! (M. Rhys), 1851, ii., Welsh hymnody
O Gott des Herrn! nur deine Kraft, 666, ii., Lavater, J. C.
O Gott der Lichter, deren herrscher, 970, i., Palast, J.
O gentle Saviour, Guide unseen, 827, i., O Holy Saviour, Friend unseen
O gentle shepherd, by Thy staff directed, 1106, i., Thirlwall, J. A. G.
O gentle Spirit, guided by Thy hand, My soul hath found her everlasting rest, 1146, i., Thodrick, F. A. G.
O gentle Teacher, ever near, 198, i., Baldwin, W. F.
O Gift o' gifts! O grace of Faith (Taler, att.), O Faith! How certain miracles
O give thanks unto the Lord (Isaiah), 1027, i., Conder, J.
O give thanks unto the Lord (Sarbiere), 118, i., Sarbiere, W. H.
O give thanks unto the Lord (Irons), 971, ii., Irons, J.
O give ye thanks unto [to God] the Lord (Ps. cxviii., 1), 1027, i., Conder, J.
O glorious Light of the Father Immortal (tr. H. W. Longfellow), 696, ii., Quo claudis aurea fides
O gloria virginum, 966, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O gloriosa virginum, sublimis inter sidera, 966, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O glorious Father, Elevator Super sidera, 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O glorious virginum, 966, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O glorious Head, Thou livest now, 1145, i., Tersteegen, G.
O glorious hope of perfect love, 1301, ii., Wesley family, The
O, glorious is the song, 48, ii., Alleluia dulce carmen
O glorious King, O happy abide (tr. Duffield), 966, ii., O quanta qualis erit illa Sabbata
O glorious King of martyr-hosts (tr. Littledale), 966, ii., Rex gloriose martyrum
O glorious King of martyrs (tr. Hew), 966, ii., Rex gloriose martyrum
O glorious Lady, Queene of might (O gloriosa femina), 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O glorious Lady, throned on high (O gloriosa femina), 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O glorious, O triumphal day, 1145, i., Bennett, A. T.
O glorious Saviour, conquering King (tr. Frothingham), 1851, ii., Homburg, E. C.
O glorious scene, and passing fair (tr. Chambers), 1868, ii., Summe Dies tam clara
O glorious Virgin, ever blest (O gloriosa femina, tr. Littledale), 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O glorious Virgin, throned on high (O gloriosa virginum), 966, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O glory of Thy chosen race, 202, ii., Campania, J.
O God, accept my heart this day, 778, i., My God, accept my heart this day
O God, accept our early praise, 129, ii., Bruce, J. G.
O God, accept the sacred hour, 825, ii., Gilman, S.
O God, all holy and all just (L. Carpenter), 1166, ii., Holy and all just
O God, all-merciful, Almighty, Who ordainest, 640, i., God, the all-merciful, Almighty, Who ordainest
O God Almighty, Father, Son (tr. Burkitt), 127, i., Beha, M.
O God, as Thy table spread?, 779, i., My God, and is Thy table spread?
O God, at Thy command we rise, 1206, i., Wesley family, The O God, be kind; let no distress (tr. G. Walker), 409, i., Deus, ne simus dura
O God, be mercyful to me, 633, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
O God, be mercyful to me, 652, ii., Grosely Psalmes and Spirituall Songes, 566, i., Hopwood, E.
O God, be mercyful to us (tr. in the G. & G. Ballads), 1851, ii., Welsh hymnody was still unsung
O God, be Thou no longer still, 1042, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
O God be present and inspire, 1067, ii., Summa rebecte arcana
O God, before the close of day, 1138, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
O God, before the sun's bright barner, 894, i., Hutchinson, J.
O God, before Whose radiant throne (Hippo), 1051, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
O God, beside, my heart and tongue (Ps. cviii., Craig), 1032, ii., Scottish hymnody
O God, beyond that boundless sea, 186, i., Bacon, L.
O God, beyond that boundless sea, 130, ii., Beyond, beyond the boundless sea
O God, by Whom the seed is given, 604, i., Heber, R.
O God, by Whose almighty hand, 832, i., O God of Bethel, by Whose hand
O God, by Whose command to suspend, 1106, ii., Summae Deus clementiae,—6. ii., Da dexterum suppeditas
O God, by Whose command is suspend (Summae Parens clementiae, Mundi), 1101, i., Summae Deus clementiae, Mundi
O God, creation's sacred Force (tr. Daniel), 958, ii., Rerum Deus tenax vigor
O God, do Thou Thy folk prepare (tr. G. Walker), 692, i., Klopstock, F. G.
O God, eternal Bond of Light, 940, ii., Hew, W. W.
O God, enshrined in heavenly might (tr. Chambers), 962, ii., O Lux qui meritis
O God, eternal Bond of Light, 932, i., Powell, T. E.
O God for ever near, 194, ii., Brown, A. W.
O God, for Thine own name we pray, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The O God, forsake me not! Thine hand, 587, ii., Franck, S.
O God from God, and (O) Light from Light (tr. Newman), 1851, ii., Welsh hymnody
O God, from Whom our every breath (tr. Young), 10, i., Ach Gott vom Himmel, sieh darein
O God, from Thee alone, 675, ii., Grenfell, R. E.
O God, from Whom alone proceeds, 961, i., Elckards, S.
O God, give ear and do apply (Ps. lv., Hopkins), 925, i., Give ear
O God, give ear and speedily (Ps. lv.), 661, ii., Old Version
O God, how boundless is Thy love, 779, i., My God, how endless is Thy love
O God, how boundless is Thy love, 779, i., My God, how endless is Thy love
O God, how constant is Thy love, 779, i., My God, how endless is Thy love
O God, how endless is Thy love, 779, i., My God, how endless is Thy love
O God, how many enemies have, 10, ii., Ach Gott, wie manches Herzeleid
O God! how many thankful songs (tr. Miss Winkworth), 410, ii., Verbreit, F.
O God, how often hath Thine ear, 193, ii., Bunting, W. H.
O God, I long Thy light to see (tr. Miss Winkworth), 91, ii., Anton-Ulrich of Brunswick
O God, I love Thee; not with hope (tr. Hewett), 827, i., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, I love Thee; not with hope (tr. Littledale), 827, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, I thank Thee that the night, 886, i., Serpent, J.
O God, if Thou art love indeed, 832, ii., O be enough, my God, my God
O God, in Whose all-searching eyes, 968, i., Father of all, in Whom we live
O God, in Whose almighty hand, 832, i., O God of Bethel, by Whose hand
O God, in Whose blest sight, 940, ii., Hew, W. W.
O God, in Whose eternal Mind (tr. Chambers), 962, ii., O Lux qui meritis
O God, in Whose eternal Sight, 940, ii., Hew, W. W.
O God, in Whose eternal Sight, 932, i., Powell, T. E.
O God, in Whose mighty hand, 832, i., O God of Bethel, by Whose hand
O God, in Whose sight (tr. Miss Winkworth), 91, ii., Anton-Ulrich of Brunswick
O God, in Whose sight (tr. Miss Winkworth), 827, i., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, in Whose sight (tr. Littledale), 827, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, I thank Thee that the night, 886, i., Serpent, J.
O God, if Thou art love indeed, 832, ii., O be enough, my God, my God
O God, in Whose all-searching eyes, 968, i., Father of all, in Whom we live
O God, in Whose blest sight, 940, ii., Hew, W. W.
O God, in Whose eternal Mind (tr. Chambers), 962, ii., O Lux qui meritis
O God, in Whose eternal Sight, 940, ii., Hew, W. W.
O God, in Whose eternal Sight, 932, i., Powell, T. E.
O God, in Whose mighty hand, 832, i., O God of Bethel, by Whose hand
O God, in Whose sight (tr. Miss Winkworth), 91, ii., Anton-Ulrich of Brunswick
O God, in Whose sight (tr. Littledale), 827, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, in Whose sight (tr. Littledale), 827, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, I thank Thee that the night, 886, i., Serpent, J.
O God, I Thee Thee; not with hope (tr. Hewett), 827, i., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, I Thee Thee; not with hope (tr. Littledale), 827, ii., O Deus ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sis
O God, I thank Thee that the night, 886, i., Serpent, J.
O God, I Thee Thee; not with hope (tr. Hewett), 827, i

O HEAVENLY INDEX. O HOW 1423

O heavenly Jerusalem, Of (tr. In Williams), 240, ii., 1
Coelestis O Jerusalem i. 1880, ii., Williams, Is.
O heavenly Jerusalem, city (tr. Is. Williams, alt.), 240, ii., Coelestis O Jerusalem
O heavenly Jerusalem, Thou city of my God, 163, i., Jerusalem, my happy home
O heavenly Jerusalem, Thou city of the Lord, 491, ii., Hatfield, T.
O heavenly King, look down from above, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The O heavenly Lamb, Thou hast made me Thy dwelling, 696, ii., Bonar, H. (appendix, 1st line only)
O heavenly Queen, high Salem (Urbs Jerusalem beata, tr. Hive), 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
O heavenly Queen, Hail Salem (tr. Is. Williams, alt.), 240, ii., Coelestis O Jerusalem
O Herr, ich bin dein Eigen, 1720, i., Neale, J. M.
O Heavenly Word, Eternal Light (Verbum Supernum prodiens, E Patris), 1818, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
O heavenly Zion, rise and shine, 145, ii., Brorson, H.
O heiliger Geist, kehre bei uns ein, 1725, i., Neale, J. M.
O heiliger Geist kehr bei uns ein, 834, i., German hymnody: 1909, i., Schirmer, H.
O Heilige Dreifaltigkeit, 126, ii., Behm, M.
O heiliger Vater, gütiger Herr, 972, ii., Rob, J.
O help us, Lord, ere we perish, 1867, i., O help us, Lord; each hour of need
O help us, when our spirits bleed, 930, i., O help us, Lord; each hour of need
O Herkel, du Almodterode, 1595, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O Herr, ich bin dein Eigen, 1720, i., Taylor, Emily
O Herr gieb Acht, 577, i., Flint, L.
O Herr, ich möchte stille sein, 838, ii., Krapp, A.
O Herr lass unser Augen Augen hören, 315, ii., Herr, lasse unser Schöffen hören
O Herr, mein Gott, durch den ich bin und lebe, 408, i., Gerhardt, C. F.
O Herr, we dein rich Erd' und Himmel bespot, 527, i., Christe, conditorum dominator alme
O Herr, wir wirst sein Wahrzeug kan, 977, ii., Dachstein, M.
O Herre Gott, dein gütlich Wort
O his, ye believers, raise the song of triumph (tr. Cox), 1837, ii., Hymns of Praise
High and Holy Trinity (tr. Littledale), 508, i., Hochheiliger Dreifaltigkeit
O highest comfort, Holy Ghost, 512, ii., Herbert, P.
O highly blessed servant (tr. Lady Dunsel), 886, ii., O Knecht hochgelobt
O himmlische Liebe! du hast mich ergriffen, 591, i., O himmlische Liebe! du hast mich besessen
O Schöner Trost, heiliger Geist, 513, ii., Herbert, P.
O holy Babe, our prayer receive (tr. Chandler), 797, i., Infans sancte, nostras preces
O holy, blessed Priests, Divine, 197, i., Beton, M.
O Holy Comforter, I hear, 972, i., Palmer, R.
O Holy Father, Friend unseen, 927, i., O Holy Saviour, Friend unseen
O holy Father, gracious and benign (tr. Chambers), 966, ii., O Pater sancte, nitide atque pie
O holy Father, just and true, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.
O Holy Father, let my song, 511, i., Dread Sovereign, let my song ascend
O holy Father, merciful and loving (tr. Hive), 965, ii., O Pater sancte, nitide atque pie
O Holy Father, send the coins, 195, ii., Burleigh, W. H.
O fount of light on high (O wuellen Licht der Christenheit, tr. F. C. Cox), 966, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
O Holy Ghost, Creator, come, 1211, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
O Holy Ghost, dearest, we pray, 1909, ii., Schirmer, M.
O Holy Ghost, from our windy (wind) land down Thy heavenly light, 1510, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
O Holy Ghost, the Comforter, 977, ii., Saxby (née Browne), Jane E.
O Holy Ghost! Thou fire divine (Heiliger Geist du Tröster mein), 1216, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Jhr emitte
O Holy Ghost! Thy heavenly dew (tr. Miss Cox), 606, ii., Lavater, J. C.
O Holy Ghost, Who down dost come, 633, i., Gill, T. H.
O Holy Ghost, Who ever One (tr. Caswall, alt.), 944, i., Qui procedis ab utroque
O Holy Ghost, Who with the Son (tr. Caswall, alt.), 944, i., Qui procedis ab utroque
O holy, holy Father, 1891, i., Pentecostian, W.
O holy, holy, holy Lamb of God (tr. Caswall), 1867, i., O sacrum, sacrum convivium
O holy, holy, holy Lord, Bright is Thy dawn, 313, ii., Kelham, J. W.
O holy, holy, holy Three (tr. Bucke†), 127, i., Salus, M.
O holy, holy, holy, Prince of Peace, 126, i., Brown-Borthwick, S.
O holy Light, of Light engendered, 972, i., Optic, M.
O Holy Lord, conduct to death, 696, ii., O Holy Lord, consent to live
O holy Lord, consent to die, 696, ii., O Holy Lord, consent to live
O holy Mother, pierced with many a sword, 1867, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
O holy Sabbath day, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
O Holy Spirit! deign to come, 1211, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
O Holy Spirit, from whom we mourn †, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
O Holy Spirit, enter in, 1009, ii., Schirmer, M.
O Holy Spirit, ever blest (tr. Wallace), 959, ii., Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus
O Holy Spirit, Friend of love: Most Source (tr. Miss Cox), 1510, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
O Holy Spirit, Friend of love, Unlock Thy temple door (tr. J. Williams, alt.), 959, i., O Sancte nobis Spiritus
O Holy Spirit, God most high (tr. Cooke), 23, ii., Adsis superne Spiritus
O Holy Spirit, grant us grace, To make our hearts, 959, i., Nunc Sancte nobis nobis gratia
O Holy Spirit, Lord of grace (tr. Chandler), 959, i., O Sancte nobis Spiritus
O Holy Spirit now With all Thy (tr. Miss Fry, alt.), 959, i., O Sancte nobis Spiritus
O Holy Spirit, now descend on me, 942, i., Forsyth, Christina
O Holy Spirits our comforters, 662, ii., Gourly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
O Holy Trinity, be present (tr. Pott), 32, i., Adesto sancta Trinitas
O holy salvation bringing (O salutaris Hostia), 1219, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens: Nec Patris linquens
O how blessed, faithful souls are ye (tr. Miss Winkworth), 277, ii., Dach, S.
O how blessed, O how quickening (tr. Toule), 880, i., Quickening Spirit
O how blest are ye lapsed our talking (tr. Miss Winkworth), 277, ii., Dach, S.
O, how blest are ye whose toils are ended (tr. H. W. Longfellow), 277, ii., Dach, S.
O how blest the living who now sojourn, 1 Russell, 277, ii., Dach, S.
O how blest who, all resigning, 82, i., Arnold, G.
O, how can a criminal feast ? 467, ii., Grace
O how could I (tr. Bp. Keeling, In (tr. Sir J. Bowring), 277, ii., Thrush, M.
O how delightful is the road, 1119, i., Taylor, John
O how divine, how sweet the joy, 795, ii., Needham, J.
O how fair and how great (tr. Chambers), 966, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
O how fair the morning breaks, 277, ii., Ellerton, J.
O how good the hallowed waists, 1288, ii., Wardlaw, R.
O how happy a thing it is (Ps. cxxxiii., Whittingham), 606, ii., Old Version
O how happy are they in moments, 1276, ii., While my Jesus I'm presenting O how happy at the most, 1201, ii., Wolff, J. G.
O how I fear Thee, living God, 792, ii., My God, how wonderful Thou art
O how I love Thy law, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
O how joyous is the music of the missionary song, 606, ii., Have you ever brought a penny to the missionary box
O how kindly hast Thou led me (sc), 670, ii., Grinfield, E. W.
O how long, how long, 272, i., Irons, W. J.
O how many an hour of gladness (tr. Lady Durant), 1276, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O how many a day of beauty, 1276, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O how many hours of gladness, Hath the Lord (tr. R. Massie), 1276, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O how narrow is the way, 977, i., Finn, E.

1424

1424 O HOW INDEX. O JESU

O how safe and (how) happy he, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
O how shall a sinner perform, 1205, i., Wesley family, The
O how shall feeble flesh and blood, 207, i., Conder, J.
O how should those to cleave who bear, 257, i., Conder, J.
O how surpassing fair (tr. Chambers, alt.), 966, ii., O quanta qualis erat illa tubatus
O how sweet it is to pray, 877, ii., Gellert, C. F.
O how sweet the wondrous story! (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 513, ii., Herbert, P.
O how sweet when we mingle, 1136, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
O how the hearts of those revive, 636, i., Hoskins, J.
O how the thought of God attracts, 302, i., Faber, F. W.
O how the thought of God attracts, 302, i., Faber, F. W.
O how the thought that we shall know, 1124, ii., Swain, E.
O heaven here! thou hast a song, 16, ii., Adams (née Flower), Sarah
O how the thought, the sounds of woe, 605, ii., 606, i., Bidgood, W.
O I could sing a song of praise, 16, ii., Adams (née Flower), Sarah
O Isaiahsher parkadevaiah (W. Williams), 1253, ii., Williams, Is.
O it was very formal for sure, 1228, ii., Watts, I.
O if we know the joyful sound, 181, ii., Bickersteth, E.
O iyesu Spiritus surendini, 810, ii., Hillingotis i, 1818, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte coelitus
O, in the days of my youth, 951, ii., In life's early days, when bright hopes gush
O injured Majesty of heaven, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
O it is naught to you who trust, 1905, ii., Singleton, R. C.
O Israel's Keeper, David's Key (tr. Karl Nelson), 76, i., Israels Hyrde
O Israel's Shepherd, Joseph's Guide (Ps. lxxx.), 900, ii., New Version
O, it is joy for those to meet, 877, ii., O it is joy in coe to meet
O it is sweet to think of those that are departed, 903, i., Bonar, H.
O Jacob cast it forth, 1279, ii., Whence do our mournful thoughts arise?
O Jerusalem beloved, joyful morn has dawned on Thee, 1194, i., Wordsworth, C.
O Jerusalem, fair dwelling, 239, ii., Hiller, F. C.
O Jerusalem, fair dwelling, 239, ii., Hiller, F. C.
O Jerusalem, the blest'd, 1200, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
O Jerusalem, the golden city bright, 150, i., Bliss, P.
O Jerusalem the golden, City of, 234, ii., Hiller, F. C.
O Jesu, as Thy Son we seek, 1205, i., Wesley family, The O Jesu, blest is he Who Thine abideth, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
O Jesu! Bridegroom of my soul (tr. Jacob), 806, i., Jesu, mea sponsa
O Jesu, bruised and wounded sore, 895, i., He cometh on yon hallowed Board
O Jesu Christ! all praise to Thee (tr. Russell), 606, ii., Gelobet seist du Jesu Christe
O Jesu Christ, dein Kripplein ist, 412, i., Gerhardt, P.
O Jesu Christ, der du mir bist, 1907, ii., Schaffer, J.
O Jesu Christ, der Hirten Licht, 1883, i., Weimar, M.
O Jesu Christ, ein Lämmlein das, 1116, i., Fuzler, J.
O Jesu Christ, if aught there be, 982, i., If there be any special thing
O Jesu Christ, if sin there be, 982, i., If there be any special thing
O Jesu Christ, Incarnate Word (tr. Caswall, alt.), 966, ii., O qui perpetua tua nascitur dapsi
O Jesu Christ, mein schönstes Licht, 1116, ii., Hiller, P. F.
O Jesu Christ, meins Lebens Licht, 126, ii., 127, i., Behm, M.
O Jesu Christ, most Good, most Fair, 1116, i., Tauler, J.
O Jesu Christ, the loving, 141, i., Blanco da Siena
O Jesu Christ, wahres Licht, 1116, ii., Hiller, P. F.
O Jesu Christe, wahres Licht (tr. E. Massie), 808, ii., O Jesu Christe, wahres Licht
O Jesu Christ, Thou Shepherd good (Christe Jesu, Pastor bone), 991, i., Salve mundi salutare
O Jesu Christe, wahres Licht, 613, i., German hymnody
O Jesu, Conqueror (tr. Neale, alt.), 184, ii., Jesu, Corona Virginum
O Jesu, Crown of virgins, Whom (tr. Littledale), 204, ii., Jesu, Corona Virginum
O Jesu, crowned with all renown, 822, ii., O throned, O crowned, O Jesu, all
O Jesu, crucified for man, 145, ii., Hoe, W. W.
O Jesu dear, how sweet Thou art, 688, i., Jesu, dulcis memoria
O Jesu der du dich, 1611, i., Schmidt, J. E.
O Jesu, du meine Brautigam, 806, i., Herrmann, J.
O Jesu, ere all ages known (Jesu Redemptor omnium Quem laeta, tr. Trapnell), 688, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre
O Jesu, ever present, 1116, ii., Tuttiett, L.
O Jesu! Fore solace radiation, 290, ii., Tessier, W. C.
O Jesu, fount of heavenly love, 1116, ii., Tauler, J.
O Jesu, full of truth and grace (tr. conte), 1890, ii., Splendor paternae gloriae
O Jesu, full of truth and grace (C. Wesley), 1261, ii., Wesley family, The O Jesu, gentle King, Thy servants, 1116, i., Tegnér mi Jesu, God and Man (Faber), 693, i., Lord Jesus, God and Man
O Jesu, Saviour of Thy priests (tr. Chambers), 206, ii., Jesu, Corona Virginum
O Jesu, I long (sonnet), 51, ii., Bode, J. E.
O Jesu, in pity from men, 1205, ii., Wesley family, The O Jesu, in this solemn hour, 263, ii., Collyer, W. B.
O Jesu, in Thy bitter pain, 690, i., Littledale, R. F.
O Jesu, in Thy bitter pain, 615, i., German hymnody: 909, ii., Herrnhut
O Jesu, joy of loving hearts (tr. R. Palmer, alt.), 688, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, King adorable (tr. Caswall, alt.), 688, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, King most wonderful (tr. Caswall, 1849) 867, i., (tr. Caswall, 1849), 688, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, King of glory, 127, i., Behm, M.
O Jesu, King of mercy (tr. Mant), 688, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, King sent to heaven, 1146, i., Tersteegen, G.
O Jesu, let men Thy Name, 1205, i., Wesley family, The O Jesu, let Thy dying cry, 1205, i., Wesley family, The O Jesu, life-light of my way, 127, i., Behm, M.
O Jesu! life-spring of the soul (To splendor et virtus Patris), 1177, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
O Jesu, light most sweet, 688, ii., Lange, Joachim
O Jesu, Light of heavenly day (tr. Russell, alt.), 688, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, Lord, enthroned in glory, 205, i., Tessier, W. C.
O Jesu, Lord, gone up on high, 207, i., Eternal Spirit, gone up on high
O Jesu! Lord most merciful, 683, ii., Hamilton, J. (1787)
O Jesu, Lord, most mighty King (tr. Aylward), 688, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, Lord of heavenly grace (tr. Chandler), 217, ii., Chandler, J., 205, i., Jesu, nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium, 1890, ii., Splendor paternae gloriae
O Jesu, Lord of heavenly grace (tr. conte in Ch. Hys.), 1890, ii., Splendor paternae gloriae
O Jesu, Lord of heavenly grace (tr. conte alt. in Tring's Collection), 1890, ii., Splendor paternae gloriae
O Jesu, Lord of light and Grace (tr. conte in H. A. & M.), 1890, ii., Splendor paternae gloriae
O Jesu, Lord, the Way, the Truth, 205, i., Johnston, J. A.
O Jesu, Lord, Who ever for me, 205, i., Herrmann, J.
O Jesu, Lord, Who the name (tr. Neale), 1890, ii., Splendor paternae gloriae
O Jesu, maiden Bloom, for me the Father, 1276, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O Jesu meine Wonne, Die alle Noth, 1276, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O Jesu, meine Wonne, 806, i., Tim, J.
O Jesu meine Zuversicht, 845, ii., Gerter, L. A.
O Jesu, most equal : From Thy glorious throne (tr. Hewett), 1890, ii., Jesu dulcissime, e throno gloriae
O Jesu, most wonderful, 688, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, our beloved King, 688, ii., O Jesu, my beloved King
O Jesu, our Redemption, Love (tr. Caswall, re-written), 205, ii., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium
O Jesu, our Salvation, Live at Thy Cross, 688, ii., Jesu, Salvator saeculi
O Jesu, our Salvation, Our Prophet, 135, ii., Bell, C. D.
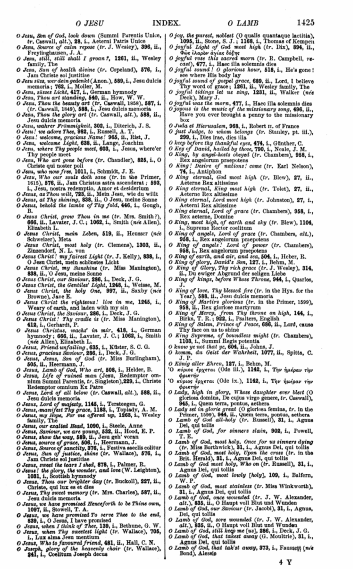
O Jesu, pierced for love of us (tr. Miss M.), 96, i., Ave Lucis Virgo: vorwunder Jesu holy
O Jesu, Saviour of the earth (tr. Littledale), 978, i., Jesu, Redemptor saeculi
O Jesu, Saviour of the last, 146, i., Bickersteth, E. H.: 839, i., O Jesu, Saviour of the last
O Jesu, Saviour of us all (Jesu Redemptor omnium Summi Parentis, tr. Singleton), 1890, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre

1425



O Jesu, Son of God, look down (Samuel Parnelle Unke, Sr. Carnwall, alt.), 23, i.. Auterel Parnu Unce
O Jesu, Source of calm repose (tr. J. Wesley), 390, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, still shall I groan ?, 1861, ii., Wesley family, The O Jesu, Son of health divine (tr. Copeland), 676, i., Jan Christe sol justitiæ
O Jesu, Son of Mary (Anon.), 689, i., Jesu dulcis memoria ; 703, i., Moller, M.
O Jesu, sinner licht, 827, i., German hymnody
O Jesu, Thou art standing, 840, ii., Hine, W. W.
O Jesu, Thou the beauty art (tr. Carwall, 1856), 887, i.
O Jesu, Thou the beauty art (tr. Carwall, alt.), 888, ii.
O Jesu, Thou the glory art (tr. Carwall, alt.), 888, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, unhere Priesanighiel, 905, i., Diterich, J. S.
O Jesu ! we adore Thee, 905, i., Russell, A.
O Jesu, welcome Light, 828, ii., Lange, Joachim
O Jesu, welcome Light, 828, ii., Lange, Joachim
O Jesu, where Thy people meet, 893, i., Jesu, where'er Thy people meet
O Jesu, Who art gone before (tr. Chandler), 883, i., O Jesu, qui mundum
O Jesu, who wore Pen, 1011, i., Schmidt, J. K.
O Jesu, Who our souls doth asse (tr. in the Primer, 1615), 879, ii., Jam Christus astra ascendens : 882, i., Jesu, nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium
O Jesu, ze Thou wilt, 726, ii., Mein Jesu, wie du willt
O Jesu, at Thy showing, 830, ii., O Jesu, meine Sonne
O Jesu, behold the tombe of Thy Child, 866, i., Gough, H.
O Jesu Christ, grose Thou in me (tr. Mrs. Smith ?), 886, ii., Lyndar, J. C. ; 1862, i., Smith (nee Allen), Elizabeth L.
O Jesu Christ, mein Leben, 519, ii., Heemer (nee Schneider), Hera
O Jesu Christ, mein holy (tr. Clemens), 1303, ii., Zimmbert, M. L. von
O Jesu Christ ! my fairest Light (tr. J. Kelly), 898, i., Jesu dulcis memoria : Jesu, nostra redemptio
O Jesu Christ, my Sunshine (tr. Miss Manington), 888, ii., O Jesu, meine Sonne
O Jesu Christ, our Saviour, 886, i., Duck, J. G.
O Jesu Christ, the Gentiles' Light, 1240, i., Weisse, M.
O Jesu Christ, Thy holy Cross, 927, ii., Bailey (nee Bonar), Jane E.
O Jesu Christ the righteous ! live in me, 1260, i., Weary of earth, and laden with my sin
O Jesu Christ, the Saviour, 886, i., Duck, J. G.
O Jesu Christ, Thou wells to (tr. Miss Harington), 613, i., Gerhardt, P.
O Jesu Christus, wachst in mir, 613, i., German hymnody ; 695, ii., Lavater, J. C. ; 1060, i., Smith (nee Allen), Elizabeth L.
O Jesu, dear Lord, 1225, i., Kibler, S. C. G.
O Jesu, gracious Saviour, 886, i., Duck, J. G.
O Jesu, Jesu, Son of God (tr. Miss Burlingham), 885, ii., Herrmann, J.
O Jesu, Lamb of God, Who art, 868, i., Hebler, B.
O Jesu, Lamb of God, Who didst Thy precious ores-sitzen Schmuck bereiten, to Schgeben, 1225, i., Christe Redemptor omnium Ex Patre
O Jesu, Lord of all below (tr. Carwall, alt.), 888, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, Lord of majesty, 1146, i., Tersteegen, G.
O Jesu, manifest Thy grace, 1146, i., Tryplett, A. M.
O Jesu, Master, for we offered up, 1868, i., Wesley family, The O Jesu, our exalted Head, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
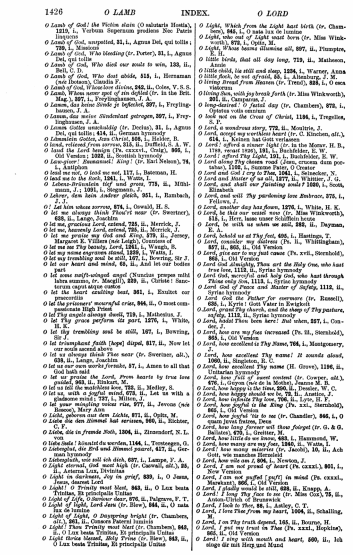
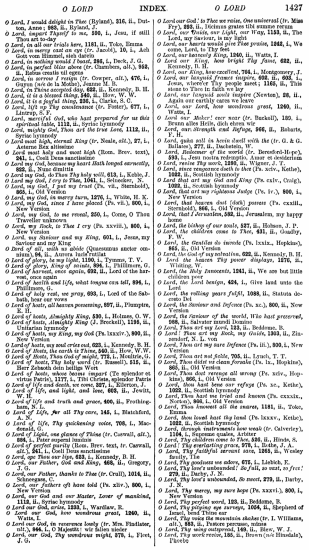
O Jesu, Redeemer, Saviour, 1225, i., Bailey, C. P.
O Jesu, shew the way, 825, ii., Jesu geh voran
O Jesu, source of grace, 886, i., Herrmann, J.
O Jesu, Source of sanctity, 876, i., Pastira sanctis cultor
O Jesu, Son of justice, shine (tr. Wallace), 876, i., Jesu, corde mitis
O Jesu, sound the hours I chal, 878, i., Palmer, R.
O Jesu ! the glory, the wonder, and love (W. Leighton), 1861, i., Scottish hymnody
O Jesu, Thou our brightest day (tr. Bucholt), 827, ii., German hymnody
O Jesu, Thy sweet memory (tr. Mrs. Charles), 887, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
O Jesu, we have promised Henceforth to be Thine own, 1097, ii., Bicknell, T.
O Jesu, we have promised To serve Thee to the end, 889, i., O Jesu, I have promised
O Jesus, when I think of Thee, 120, i., Bathmon, G. W.
O Jesus, when Thy scented light (tr. Wallace), 705, i., Lux alma Jesu mentium
O Jesus, Who our Lord, 441, ii., Hall, C. N.
O Jesus, Worthy of the heavenly choir (tr. Wallace), 861, i., Coelitum Joseph decus





O Lord, I would delight in Thee (Bylund), 316, ii., Dutton, Anne: 905, ii., Bylund, J.
O Lord, inquant Thyself is me, 506, i., Jean, if still thou live
O Lord, in all our trials here, 1181, ii., Tobe, Emma
O Lord, in mercy cast an eye (tr. Jacob), 10, i., Ach Gott vom Himmel, sieh darein
O Lord, in nothing would I boast, 286, i., Deck, J. G.
O Lord, in Thee I place my trust (tr. Chandler, alt.), 940, ii., Hallo'emmih til egnes
O Lord, in sorrow I rejoice (tr. Cowper, alt.), 676, i., Ingrat (wie du in Mutter), Jammer ist. It.
O Lord, in Thine accepted day, 625, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
O Lord, in Thy dear love abiding, 1181, ii., Tobe, Emma
O Lord, it is a joyful thing, 235, i., Clarke, S. G.
O Lord, lift up Thy countenance (tr. Potter), 677, i., Lazarus, S. F.
O Lord, merciful God, who hast prepared for us this habitation, 1181, ii., Tobe, Emma
O Lord, mighty God, Thou art the true Lord, 1112, ii., Syriac hymnody
O Lord most high, eternal King (tr. Neale, alt.), 37, i., Aeterne Rex altissime
O Lord my God, O most high Ruler (Hom. Brev. text), 961, i., Cook Dean sanctissime
O Lord my God, because my heart hath longed earnestly, 625, ii., Wace dimittis
O Lord my God, do Thou Thy holy will, 613, i., Kelpius, J.
O Lord my God, I am Thine alone, 613, i., Kelpius, J.
O Lord, my God, I put my trust (Ps. vii., Sternhold), 805, i., Old Version
O Lord, my God, in mercy turn, 1270, i., White, H. K.
O Lord, my God, since I have placed (Ps. vii.), 800, i., Old Version
O Lord, my God, to me reveal, 520, i., Come, O Thou Traveller unknown
O Lord, my Rock, to Thee I cry (Ps. xxviii.), 800, i., New Version
O Lord, my Saviour and my King, 603, i., Jesus, my Saviour and my King
O Lord, so one with us abide (Quamvisnon ancor consistea), 96, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
O Lord of glory, be my light, 1190, i., Tymms, T. V.
O Lord of glory, King of might, 996, i., Phillimore, G.
O Lord of harvest, once again, 632, ii., Lord of the harvest, once again
O Lord of hosts and life, what tongue can tell, 994, i., Phillimore, G.
O Lord of holy rest, we pray, 993, i., Lord of the Sabbath, hear our vows
O Lord of hosts, all heaven possessing, 897, ii., Plumptre, E. H.
O Lord of hosts, Almighty King, 530, i., Holmes, O. W.
O Lord of hosts, Almighty King (J. Beckett), 1191, ii., Unitarian hymnody
O Lord of hosts, King, my God (Ps. lxxxiv.), 800, ii., New Version
O Lord of hosts, my soul cries out, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
O Lord of Hosts, the earth is Thine, 560, ii., How, W. W.
O Lord of Hosts, Thou God of might, 772, i., Madeira, G.
O Lord of life, and light, and love (tr. Russell), 212, ii., Herr Jehovah dein heilige Wort
O Lord of life, whose heavenly conquest (Te splendor et virtus Patris), 1177, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
O Lord of life and death, we cower, 327, i., Elkerton, J.
O Lord of life, and light, and love, 605, ii., Jewitt, J. J.
O Lord of life and truth and grace, 606, ii., Frothingham, N. L.
O Lord of Life, Her all Thy care, 145, i., Hutchford, G. W.
O Lord of life, Thy quickening voice, 705, i., Macdonald, G.
O Lord of Light, one glance of Thine (tr. Caswall, alt.), 895, i., Pater noster lucidus
O Lord of light, who makest day (Hom. Brev. text, tr. Caswall, alt.), 841, i., Cœli Deus sanctissime
O Lord, open Thou our lips, 623, i., Kennedy, B. H.
O Lord, our Father, God and King, 868, ii., Gregory, C. S.
O Lord, our Father, thanks to Thee (tr. Crull), 1014, ii., Schongauer, C.
O Lord, our fathers oft have told (Ps. xliv.), 800, i., New Version
O Lord, our God and our Master, Lover of mankind, 1192, i., Unitarian hymnody
O Lord our God, arise, 1235, i., Wardlaw, R.
O Lord our God, how wondrous great, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
O Lord our God, in reverence lowly (tr. Mrs. Findlater, alt.), 1181, ii., Tobe, Emma; Thornhill, war Mein Gebet
O Lord, our God, Thy wondrous might, 1274, i., Flint, J. G.
O Lord our God! to Thee we raise, One universal (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1260, ii., Walton's Psalms and Hymns
O Lord, our Rock, our Light, our Way, 1130, ii., The Lord, my Saviour, is my light
O Lord, our hearts would give Thee praise, 1246, i., We come, Lord, to Thy feet
O Lord, our heavenly King, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
O Lord, our King, how bright Thy fame, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
O Lord, our King, how excellent, 798, i., Montgomery, J.
O Lord, our languish'd Prince inspire, 602, ii., 603, i., Jesus, victorious Thy people meet: 1185, ii., This mean to Thee in faith we say
O Lord, our Lord, how excellent (Sweden), 28, ii., Adjds our exhibit namn wa hvar
O Lord, our Lord, how wondrous great, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
O Lord our Maker! ever near (tr. Burkell), 120, i., Herr, der du immer nahe bist
O Lord, our strength and hope, 866, ii., Roberts, F. H.
O Lord, pain still in kevic dwell with the (tr. G. & D. Bellaire), 277, ii., Dachstein, W.
O Lord, preserve us safely this night (tr. Bernhel-Hope), 910, i., Jesu tuoris redemptis. Amor et desiderium
O Lord, revive Thy work, 1266, ii., Wigner, J. T.
O Lord, stern conscience doth it vex (Ps. xxiv., Kethe), 1022, ii., Scottish hymnody
O Lord, that dwellest in Thy King (Ps. cxlv., Craig), 1022, ii., Scottish hymnody
O Lord, that art my righteous Judge (Ps. iv.), 800, i., New Version
O Lord, that heaven dost (doth) possess (Ps. cxxiii., Kethe), 1022, ii., Scottish hymnody
O Lord, that I Jerusalem, 240, ii., Jerusalem, my happy home
O Lord, the bishop of our souls, 577, ii., Holmes, J. P.
O Lord, the children come to Thee, 631, ii., Goadby, J.
O Lord, the Gentiles do invade (Ps. lxxix., Hopkins), 805, ii., Old Version
O Lord, the God of my salvation, 620, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
O Lord the haters Thy power displays, 1276, ii., Whiting, W.
O Lord, the Holy Innocents, 1241, ii., We are but little children weak
O Lord, the Lord besides, 824, i., Give land unto the Lord
O Lord, the rolling years fulfil, 1088, ii., Statuta decreta, Thy
O Lord, the Saviour and Defence (Ps. xc.), 800, ii., New Version
O Lord, the Saviour of the world, Who hast preserved, 960, ii., Salvator mundi Domine
O Lord, Thou art my Lord, 123, ii., Beddome, B.
O Lord, Thou art the mighty Rock, my Guide, 1260, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
O Lord, Thou art my sure Defence (Ps. iii.), 800, i., New Version
O Lord, Thou art not feble, 703, ii., Lynch, T. T.
O Lord, Thou art the mighty Lord (Ps. xxiv., Hopkins), 805, ii., Old Version
O Lord, Thou dost revenge all wrong (Ps. xciv., Hopkins), 805, i., Old Version
O Lord, thou hast been our refuge (Ps. xc., Kethe), 1022, ii., Scottish hymnody
O Lord, Thou hast my trust and heaven (Ps. cxxxix., Norton), 805, i., Old Version
O Lord, Thou knowest all the snares, 1181, ii., Tobe, Emma
O Lord, thou hast thy land (Ps. lxxxv., Kethe), 1022, ii., Scottish hymnody
O Lord, through instruments low usual (tr. Calvetiey), 1158, i., Supreme quales, Artifex
O Lord, Thy children come to Thee, 630, ii., Hinds, S.
O Lord, Thy faithful servant rest, 1241, ii., Wesley family, The O Lord, Thy faithful servant rests, 1241, ii., Wesley family, The O Lord, Thy goodness we adore, 677, i., Liebich, F.
O Lord, Thy law's unbounded! Be full, so vast, to free! (tr. Miss Cox), 1260, ii., Watts, I.
O Lord, Thy mercy, my sure hope (Ps. xxxvi.), 800, i., New Version
O Lord, Thy sacred word, 125, ii., Beddome, B.
O Lord, Thy pitying eye surveys, 1058, ii., Shepherd of Israel, bend Thine ear
O Lord, Thy voice the mountains shakes (tr. I. Williams, alt.), 893, ii., Pontem pervium, minas
O Lord, Thy work revive, 1260, ii., Watts, I.; Brewer (not Hinsdale), Phoebe 1428

O Lord, 'tis joy to look above, 286, i., Deck, J. G.
O Lord, to my relief draw near (Ps. lxx.), 800, ii., New Version
O Lord, to whom the spiritual no., 630, i., Littledale, R. F.
O Lord, turn not Thy face away From him that has transgressed (Marckant, alt.), 841, i., O Lord, turn not away Thy face
O Lord, turn not Thy face away From him that lonely lie (Marckant, alt.). See Oh Lord, turn not Thy face away
O Lord, turn not Thy face from me Who lie in woeful state (The Lamentation of a Sinner, Marckant, alt.), 801, ii., New Version; 841, ii., O Lord, turn not away Thy face From him
O Lord, turn not Thy face from us (Marckant, alt.), 841, ii., O Lord, turn not away Thy face
O Lord, unto my voice give ear (Ps. lxxv., Hopkins), 805, ii., Old Version
O Lord, upheld us by Thy word, And break (tr. Reynolds), 583, i., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
O Lord, when do I call (Ps. cxli., Norton), 805, i., Old Version
O Lord, we come before Thee now, 799, ii., Neale, J. M.
O Lord, we know it matters not, 892, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary
O Lord, we love the place, 1246, i., We love the place, O Lord
O Lord, we would delight in Thee, 903, ii., Bylund, J.
O Lord, what records of Thy love, 763, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
O Lord, what sorrows past expression (tr. R. Massie), 1278, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
O Lord, when condemnation And guilt afflict my soul (tr. Jacobi, alt.), 615, ii., Gesetzes, 5.
O Lord, when condemnation And guilt oppress my soul (tr. Mercer), 619, ii., Gesetzes, 5.
O Lord, when my sins grieve me (tr. Russell), 619, ii., Gesetzes, 5.
O Lord, when near the appointed hour, 622, i., Ken, T.
O Lord, when storms around us howl, 1264, i., Wordsworth, C.
O Lord, when tempted to despair, 1020, ii., Scottish hymnody
O Lord, when on the path retrace, 286, i., Deck, J. G.
O Lord, where'er Thy people meet, 603, i., Jesus, where'er Thy people meet
O Lord, whilst we confess the wrath, 892, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary
O Lord, who art enthroned on high (tr. Chandler, alt.), 940, ii., Hehre crastis sit egnes
O Lord, Who by Thy presence hast made light, 215, i., Herr, der Tages Mühen und Beschwerde
O Lord, who dost Thy children train (Ad salutaria Homini), 1213, i., Verbum supernum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
O Lord, Who hast my place assigned, 705, i., Loy, M.
O Lord, Who in Thy wondrous love, 560, ii., How, W. W.
O Lord, who shall hold and see (tr. Miss Cox), 841, i., Sandwich, J. J.
O Lord, Who throned in the holy height (Hom. Brev. text), 961, i., Cœli Deus sanctissime
O Lord, who when Thy cross was nigh, 978, ii., Faber, F. W.
O Lord, with one accord, 889, i., Pennefather, W.
O Lord, with vengeance clad, 142, i., Rise in the vast who feels
O Lord, within Thy sacred gates, 890, ii., O God, my God, my all I here set
O Lord, within Thy tabernacle (Ps. xv., Sternhold), 805, i., Old Version
O Lorde God, haveworthy on me, 662, ii., Goostly Psalmes
O Lorde God, Thou hast us taught, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
O Lorde, the worlde devowre Wracke hast preserved, 960, ii., Salvator mundi Domine
O love, divine and golden, 705, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
O Love Divine, lay on me burdens if Thou will, 544, ii., Lyra Eucharistica
O love divine, O matchless grace, 1188, ii., Turner, R.
O Love divine that stoop'd to share, 250, i., Holmes, O. W.
O Love divine, what hast Thou done? (C. Wesley), 250, i., Holmes, O. W.
O love God, ye people dear, 612, ii., Herbert, F.
O Love, how cheering is thy ray (tr. J. Wesley, alt. St.), 838, i., O Jesu Christ mein schönstes Licht
O Love, how deep, how broad, how high (O amor quam ardens), 1178, ii., Thomas à Kempis
O Love, I languish at Thy stay, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The O Love! O Life! our faith and sight, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.
O love of God, how strong and true, 163, i., Bonar, H.
O love that casts out fear, 163, i., Bonar, H.
O Love, thou bottomless abyss (tr. J. Wesley), 978, ii., 979, i., Rothe, J. A.
O Love! thou makest all things even, 16, ii., Adams (nee Vowes), Sarah
O Love, who formedst me to spire Thee nigh, 613, ii., Kelpius, J.
O Love, Who formedst me to wear (tr. Miss Winkworth), 679, ii., Liebe die du mich zum Bilde
O Love! who gav'st Thy life for me (tr. Miss Winkworth, st. vi.), 827, ii., O du Liebe meiner Liebe
O Love, who hast the spirit (including, 1261, ii., Scottish hymnody
O lovely voices of the sky, 809, ii., Hemans (nee Browne), Felicia D.
O loving Maker of mankind (tr. Caswall, alt.), 21, ii., Lord, kindly Light, amid the O lux aima, bona gratiosa auspice, 699, i., Lord, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom
O lux beata Trinitas (Trinitatis beata Custos) (Ambrosian), 24, ii., Antelucana, 1182, ii., Bunsen, C. C. J.; 211, i., Dreieinigkeit, der Gottheit wahre Spiegel; 704, i., Luther, H.; 1208, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
O lux beatissima dux (tr. Macgill), 669, i., Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom
O lux et fons Trinitas, 652, ii., Latin hymnody
O lux mundi Christe lucis fons, 999, i., 991, ii., Salve mundi salutare
O maiden and stripplings, hear how's story (tr. Kant), 1260, ii., Watts, I.
O make us truly wise, 224, ii., Clapham, J. S.
O Maker of the Fruits and Flowers, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.
O Maker of the world, give ear (tr. Neale), 21, ii., Audi, benigne Conditor
O Maker of Heaven, Thy prophetic eye, 285, ii., Dayman (tr. of)
O Maria voll Ave, 962, ii., Collenbrenus Magdalenae
O Maria, wisse wie, 1260, i., Us parandas cervus undas sentimus desiderus
O Mary! hail to the lovely glory (O glorious virginum, tr. Wallace), 962, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O Mary! whilst thy Maker liked (tr. in the Primer, 1706), 962, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
O Master, at Thy feet, 696, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
O Master, let me walk with Thee, 696, ii., Gladden, Washington
O Master! when Thou callest, 1096, ii., Stork, Sarah G.
O may my heart, by grace renewed, 554, ii., Religion in the chief concern
O may the God of mercies (tr. in the Morav. H. B., 1754), 1260, ii., Watts, I.
O may the Gospel's conquering force, 613, i., Kelly, T.
O may the Gospel's conquering power, 613, i., Kelly, T.
O may the truths that day has taught, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody
O may we ever faithful be, 861, ii., O Lord, Who in Thy love divine
O may Thy powerful word, 1266, i., Wesley family, The O Mind the pilgrim's comfort, 628, i., O mea viatorum mens, Mira, quo dick refrendes, 1090, i., Strauss, G. A.
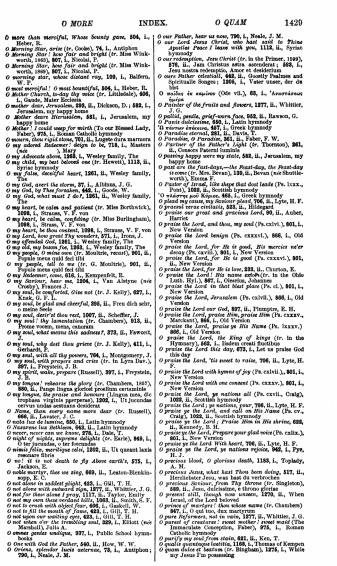
O Minde, that hast kend kinne (tr. Bell), 979, i., Bell, J.
O merciful Creator, hear our prayers (tr. Drummond), 91, ii., Audi, benigne Conditor
O merciful Creator, hear, Regard our (tr. Chamlen), 91, ii., Audi, benigne Conditor
O merciful Creator, hear, Thy (tr. Chamlen), 91, ii., Audi, benigne Conditor
O merciful Creator, hear, To us in pity (tr. cento in H. A. & M.), 91, ii., Audi, benigne Conditor
O merciful Creator, lend (tr. Hewett), 91, ii., Audi, benigne Conditor
O merciful Creator, look up and see, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
O might I this moment cease, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
O might this worthless heart of mine, 1185, i., Tripleby, T.
O might Thy powerful word, 1266, i., Wesley family
O mighty Maker of the land, 1197, i., Tollicie ingens Conditor
O Mighty God, Creator, King, 1179, ii., Thring, G.
O mighty Joy to all (O grande cunctis gaudium, tr. Riley), 1178, ii., Thomas à Kempis
O mighty Rock, O source of life, 1009, ii., Schirmer, W.
O mighty Spirit! Source whence all things spring (tr. Miss Winkworth), 911, ii., Sandwich, J. J.
O miracle of love and might! 1261, ii., Wetmore, G.
O mirum mysterium, 1178, ii., Thomas à Kempis; In Mysterium salutis, The lore sides pandimus
O mirunda caritas, 127, i., Bernard of Clairvaux
O more than blessed, merit high attaining (O nimis felix meritique celsi, tr. Anon.), 1260, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris

1429



O more than merciful, Whose bounty pure, 804, i., Heber, R.
O Morning Star, arise (tr. Cooke), 76, i., Antiphon
O Morning Star! how fair and bright (tr. Miss Winkworth, 1863), 307, i., Nicolai, P.
O Morning Star, how fair and bright (tr. Miss Winkworth, 1869), 307, i., Nicolai, P.
O morning star, whose distant ray, 109, i., Baldwin, W. F.
O most merciful. O most bountiful, 804, i., Heber, R.
O most mighty God, whose voice (tr. Lithuanian), 806, i., Gaehr, Mayer Ezekiel
O mother dear, Jerusalem, 893, ii., Dickson, D. ; 893, i., Jerusalem, my happy home
O Mother dear Jerusalem, 881, i., Jerusalem, my happy home
O Mother! I could weep for mirth (To our Blessed Lady, Faber), 973, i., Roman Catholic hymnody
O mourn, thou rapid stone, 792, ii., Legate dicta mœrens
O my adored Redeemer! deign to be, 713, i., Masters and Others
O my Advocate above, 1865, i., Wesley family, The O my child, my best beloved one (tr. Hewett), 1113, ii., Syriac hymnody
O my false, deceitful heart, 1861, ii., Wesley family, The O my God, assert the cause, 87, i., Allison, J. G.
O my God, by Thee forsaken, 668, i., Goode, W.
O my God, what must I do?, 1861, ii., Wesley family, The O my heart, be calm and patient (tr. Miss Borthwick), 1098, i., Strauss, T. F. von
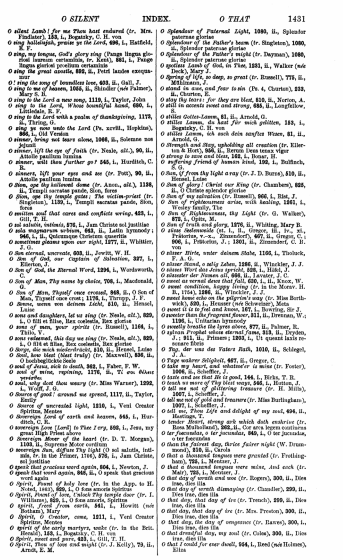
O my heart, be calm, confiding (tr. Miss Burlingham), 1098, i., Strauss, T. F. von
O my heart, be thou content, 1098, i., Strauss, T. F. von
O my heart, why dost thou grieve (tr. Kelly), 411, i., Gerhardt, P.
O my soul, arise, and shine, 660, ii., Montgomery, J.
O my soul, what means this sadness?, 273, ii., Fawcett, J.
O my soul, why dost thou grieve (tr. J. Kelly), 411, i., Gerhardt, P.
O my soul, with all thy powers, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
O my Saviour, hear me, 1504, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
O my soul, be comforted, Give not (tr. J. Kelly), 697, i., Gerhardt, P.
O my soul, be glad and cheerful, 366, ii., Frei dich sehr, o meine Seele
O my soul, dare'st thou rest, 1007, ii., Schaffer, J.
O my soul! thy lamentation (tr. Chambers), 913, ii., Veni vocem, tuum, omnem
O my soul, what means this sadness?, 273, ii., Fawcett, J.
O my soul, why dost thou grieve (tr. J. Kelly), 411, i., Gerhardt, P.
O my soul, with all thy powers, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
O my people, O mine own (tr. Mauleon, renair), 901, ii., Popule meus quid feci tibi
O my people, what have I done (tr. G. Moultrie), 901, ii., Popule meus quid feci tibi
O my Redeemer, come, 616, i., Kemp-Welch, E



O silent Lamb! for me Thou hast endured (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 125, i.
O sing hallelujah, praise ye the Lord, 696, i. Hatfield, T. C.
O sing, my tongue, God's glory sing (Tunga lingua gloriosi laurum certaminis, tr. Kelt), 861, i. Fauge lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
O sing the great months, 892, ii. Petit landau exsurgamus
O sing the song of boundless love, 631, ii. Gall, J.
O sing to me of heaven, 1066, ii. Shindler (née Palmer), Mary S. B.
O sing to the Lord a new song, 1119, i. Taylor, John
O sing to the Lord, Whose bountiful hand, 690, i. Tillotson, J.
O sing to the Lord with a psalm of thanksgiving, 1179, ii. Thring, G.
O sing ye once unto the Lord (Ps. xcviii., Hopkins), 1179, ii. Old Version
O sinner, being set incare alone, 1066, ii. Solomon non judicat
O sinner, lift the eye of faith (tr. Neale, alt.), 90, ii. Attolle pauillum lumina
O sinner, wilt thou further go? 545, i. Hurditch, C.
O sinners, lift your eyes and see (tr. Pott), 90, ii. Attolle pauillum lumina
O Sion, que thy hallowed dome (tr. Anon., alt.), 1138, ii. Templi sacrata pandit, Sion, fores
O Sion, ope thy temple gate! The victim-priest (tr. Caswall), 1138, i. Templi sacrata pandit, Sion, fores
O smitten soul that cares and conflicts wring, 623, i. Gill, T. H.
O sol salutis, intima, 870, i. Jam Christe sol justitiae
O sol salutis, intima (tr. Neale, alt.), Hymnody: 868, i., Quicunque Christum, 868, ii. Christe, 1138, i.
O sometimes gleams upon our sight, 1077, ii. Whittier, J. G.
O Son eternal, uncreate, 603, ii. Jewitt, W. H.
O Son of God, our Captain of Salvation, 327, i. Elerton, J.
O Son of God, the Eternal Word, 1294, i. Wordsworth, C.
O Son of Man, Thy name by choice, 706, i. Macdonald, G.
O Son of Man, Thyself once crowned, 903, ii. O Jesu of Man, Thyself once crown'd; 1170, i. Thrupp, J. F.
O Sonne, sonne we dotsome Licht, 810, ii. Hensel, Luise
O sons and daughters, let us sing (tr. Neale, alt.), 899, i. O filii et filiae, hac cantemus, Rex gloriae
O sons of men, your spirits (tr. Russell), 1166, i. Thou, V
O sons redeemed, this day we sing (tr. Neale, alt.), 899, i. O filii et filiae, hac cantemus, Rex gloriae
O Spirit, this soul awakening, 510, ii. Hensel, Luise
O Soull, how blest (blest truly) (tr. Maxwell), 856, ii. O hochbeglückte Seele
O soul of Jesus, sick to death, 962, i. Faber, F. W.
O soul of mine, rejoicing, 1178, ii. Tu eo Mihael cor mi
O soul, why dost thou weary (tr. Miss Warner), 1202, i. Wolff, J. G.
O Source of good! around me spread, 1117, ii. Taylor, Jane
O Source of successful light, 1210, i. Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
O Sovereign Lord of earth and heaven, 940, i. Hurditch, C. R.
O Sovereign One, [Lord] to Thee I cry, 666, i. Jesu, my great High Priest above
O Sovereign Mover of the heart (tr. D. T. Morgan), 1150, ii. Supreme Motor cordium
O sovereign Sun, Aglaus Thy light (O sol salutis, intima Christe, Immane Primus, 1185), 870, i. Jam Christe, sol justitiae
O speak that gracious word again, 804, i. Newton, J.
O speak that word again, 805, ii. O speak that gracious word again
O Spirit and Bride of holy love (tr. in the App. to H. Scriv., 1st ed.), 626, i. O Sanctissima Sapientia
O Spirit, Friend of love, Unlock Thy temple door (tr. I. Williams), 558, i. O Sanctissima Sapientia
O spirit, freed from earth, set, 1, Howitt (née Botham), M.
O Spirit, O Creator, come, 1211, i. Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
O spirit of the early martyrs, smite (tr. in the Brit. Herald), 135, i. Rugeley, C. B. and
O spirit of the pure, 624, ii. Gill, T. H.
O Spirit, Thou art lone and night (tr. J. Kelly), 79, ii. Attoh, E. M.

O Splendour of Paternal Light, 1080, ii. Splendor paternae gloriae
O Splendour of the Father's beam (tr. Singleton), 1080, ii. Splendor paternae gloriae
O Splendour of the Father's might (tr. Dayman), 1080, ii. Splendor paternae gloriae
O spotless Lamb of God, in Thee, 1251, ii. Walker (née Beck), Mary J.
O Spring of Love, so deep, so great (tr. Russell), 779, ii. Williamson, J.
O stand in awe, and fear to sin (Ps. 4, Claxton), 233, ii. Claxton, E.
O stay thy tears: for they are blest, 812, ii. Norton, A.
O still in accents sweet and strong, 831, ii. Longfellow, H. W.
O stiller Gotte-Lamm, 61, ii. Arnold, G.
O stiller Lamm, die hast für mich gelitten, 193, i. Bagnitzky, C. H. von
O stille Nacht, o heilige Zeit, ich dein sanftes Weben, 81, ii. Arnold, G.
O Strength and Stay, upholding all creation (tr. Elerton & Hort), 558, ii. Rerum Deus tenax vigor
O strong to save and bless, 552, i. Bonar, H.
O suffering Friend of human kind, 192, i. Bulfinch, S. G.
O Sun, if from thy light a ray (tr. J. D. Burn), 510, ii. Hensel, Luise
O Sun of glory! Christ our King (tr. Chambers), 695, ii. O Christe splendor gloriae
O Sun of my salvation (tr. Russell), 902, i. Riis, J.
O Sun of Righteousness, arise, with healing, 1261, i. Wesley family, The O Sun of Righteousness, thy Light (tr. G. Walker), 875, i. Opitz, M.
O Sun of truth and glory, 1276, ii. Whiting, Mary B.
O sunlight of the spirit, 1, ii. Bode, J. E. and Frincke, v. a. Strandberg, 827, ii. Gregor, C.; 906, i. Pelkofer, J.; 1301, ii. Zimmdorf, C. B. von
O silener Hirte, unter deinem Stabe, 1156, i. Theinck, E. M. L.
O silener Hirte, o salig Leben, 1266, ii. Winckler, J. J.
O silener Wort des Jenes spricht, 838, i. Hiltl, J.
O silender der Nonnen alt, 666, ii. Lauer, J. C.
O sweet as sweet dawn that fall, 630, i. ii. Knox, W.
O sweet Jesus, Thou art mine, 1266, ii. Tr. to Moser, H. (1841), 1266, ii. Winckler, J. J.
O sweet home safe on the pilgrim's way (tr. Miss Borthwick), 630, i. Heimat (see Schweizer), Mein
O sweet it is to feel and know, 107, i. Bowring, Sir J.
O sweet Redeemer, Jesus dear, 511, ii. Brenton, W.; 1198, i. Unitarian Hymnody
O sweetly breathe the lyric shore, 877, ii. Palmer, R.
O sylvan Prophet whose eternal lyre, 313, ii. Dryden, J.; 911, ii. Primer; 1263, i. Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
O Tag der von der Vater Ruth, 1018, ii. Schlegel, J. A.
O Tage wahrer Seligkeit, 667, ii. Gregor, C.
O take my heart, and substitute in mine (tr. Foster), 1207, i. Schaffer, J.
O take my heart, and treasures (tr. Miss Burlingham), 1207, i. Schaffer, J.
O teach us more of Thy blest ways, 846, i. Hutton, J.
O tell me not of glittering treasure (tr. H. Mills), 1207, i. Schaffer, J.
O tell me not of glittering treasure (tr. Miss Burlingham), 1207, i. Schaffer, J.
O tell me, Thou Life and delight of my soul, 694, ii. Hastings, T.
O tender Heart, strong ark which doth enclose (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1266, ii. Winckler, J. J.
O ter faecundus, o ter jucundus, 845, i. O ter jucundus, o ter fecundus
O thou the Fairest days, thrice fairer night (W. Drummond), 510, ii. Carols
O thou, for whom tears were granted (tr. Frothingham), 793, i. Mentzer, J.
O that a thousand tongues were mine, And each (tr. Mair), 793, i. Mentzer, J.
O that day of wrath and woe (tr. Rogers), 300, ii. Dies iræ, dies illa
O that day of wrath dismaying (tr. Chandler), 299, ii. Dies iræ, dies illa
O that day, that day of ire (tr. Trench), 299, ii. Dies iræ, dies illa
O that day, that day of ire (tr. Mrs. Preston), 300, ii. Dies iræ, dies illa
O that day, the day of vengeance (tr. Reeves), 300, i. Dies iræ, dies illa
O that dreadful day, my soul (tr. Coles), 300, ii. Dies iræ, dies illa
O that I could for ever sit, 934, i. Reed (née Holmes), Miss

O that I could for ever sit, 942, i. O Love divine, how sweet Thou art
O that I could in every place, 1265, ii. Wesley family, The O that I could my Lord receive, 1265, i. Wesley family, The O that I could repent, O that I could believe, 1263, i. Wesley family, The O that I could repent, With all my whole part, 1263, i. Wesley family, The O that I could rescue, 1263, i. Wesley family, The O that I, first of love possessed, 1264, i. Wesley family, The O that I know the secret place, 1261, i. Watts, I.
O that I, like Timothy, 1266, ii. Wesley family, The O that I were a little child (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 59, ii. Ach! hätte mich ein Kindlein weg
O that the day of the sacred fire, 779, ii. My God, I know, I feel Thee near O that my heart was right with Thee, 1183, i. Topladdy, A. M.
O that my load of sin were gone, 1261, ii. Wesley family, The O that once more to sinful men descending, 1263, i. Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
O that the life-infusing grace, 1261, ii. Wesley family, The O that the Lord would guide my ways, 1240, ii. Watts, I.
O that the Lord's salvation, 706, ii. Lyte, H. F.
O that Thou wouldst the heavens rend and comfort, 135, ii. Brooke, S. A.
O that Thy statutes every hour, 1260, ii. Watts, I.
O that to conquer once again (tr. T. I. Ball), 1263, i. Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
O the Cross, above all other (tr. cento in Johnston's Engl. Hyl.), 861, ii. Fauge lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
O the cruel power of sin, 1261, ii. Wesley family, The O the depth of love Divine (tr. Wallace), 309, i. Dies iræ, dies illa
O the deep mystery of that love, 1236, i. Watson, G.
O the delight, the heavenly joys, 1259, ii. Watts, I.
O the dire effects of sin, 1261, ii. Wesley family, The O the fathomless depth of love, 1264, i. Wesley family, The O the immense, the amazing height, 1257, i. Watts, I.
O the joy, the exultation (O quam felix, quam festiva, fr. Calvoley), 705, ii. Lux jucunda, lux insignis
O the love wherewith I'm loved (tr. in the Moray. H. B., 1754, alt. 1784), 1264, ii. Wesley family, The O the mighty passing wonder, 604, i. Greek hymnody: 1190, i. Ye who worship
O the most wonders of that Cross, 1236, ii. Watts, I.
O the transcendent love, 107, ii. Boyce (b. ?)
O the vast mansions of the north rejoice, 78, i. Arise and hail the happy day
O this is blessing, this is rest, 1233, ii. Waring, Anna L.
O this soul, how dark and blind, 1261, i. Bonar, H.
O thou, from whom all goodness flows (tr. Hamilton Macleod), 1, ii. Thou God of love, Thou holy God
O Thou above all praise, 1036, ii. Stand up and bless the Lord
O Thou, at Whose rebuke the grave, 1277, ii. Whittier, J. G.
O Thou before the world began, 859, i. O Thou eternal Vitality
O Thou before whom Father's face (Crediti), 851, ii. Children's hymns: 1
O Thou, Eternal Spirit of Light, 1213, ii. Schmeick, B.
O Thou, Man Lamb of God, 778, ii. Morris (née Hoffe), Eliza T.
O Thou, by long experience tried (tr. Cowper), 476, i. Guyon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M.
O Thou, by Whom the tides to hover, 351, ii. Ford, G. Thy
O Thou by whom the healing art, 491, ii. Harland, E.
O Thou by Whom the seven! abide, 1261, ii. Stone, S. J.
O Thou, by Whom the worlds were framed (tr. based on Ps. civ.), 1, ii. Thou God of love, Thou holy God
O Thou, by Whom the worlds were made (tr. Chambers), 960, i. Rerum Creator omnium
O Thou, Before Whom the waters were made (tr. Morgan), 960, i. Rerum Creator omnium
O Thou, by Whom we coming now (Doddridge, alt.), 891, ii. O God of Bethel, by Whose hand
O thou chosen Church of Jesus, 837, ii. Havergal, F. R.
O Thou dear indwelling Son of God, 1207, ii. Ye that pass by, behold the ark
O Thou divine High Priest, 327, i. Cooke, J.
O Thou essential Word, Who from (tr. Miss Winkworth), 953, i. Lauxtell, L.
O Thou essential Word, Who sentst (tr. Miss Winkworth), 953, i. Lauxtell, L.
O Thou eternal Father, Maker, Captain, Infinite, 1099, i. Stryker, M. W.
O Thou eternal King most high (tr. Caswall), 27, i. Aeterne Rex altissime
O Thou eternal Source of love,—et. II., Be might to me (tr. Caswall), 1101, i. Summum Deus clementiae,—et. II., Da dextrorum auxiliatrix
O Thou eternal Source of love,—et. II., For Thy dear mercy's sake (Summum Deus clementiae, Munsell, tr. Caswall), 1101, i. Summum Deus clementiae
O Thou from heaven, 1233, ii. Waring, Anna L.
O Thou how ever pure, yet Fruitful, 1263, i. Ut jucundas cervus undas solitus desiderat
O Thou everlasting Father, 934, i. O be joyful every nation
O Thou everlasting Maker (tr. Banks), 26, ii. Aeterne rerum Conditor
O thou faithful God of love, 1266, i. Wesley family, The O Thou from Whom all gifts proceed, 1130, i. Temperance Hymnody
O Thou from Whom all goodness flows, 699, i. Hawels, T.; 946, ii. In the hour of my distress
O Thou God of my salvation, 907, ii. Gilvers, T.
O Thou God, Who hearest prayer, all shall come to Thee, 1264, ii. Wesley family, The O Thou, God of my salvation, hear, 1186, ii. Tibbs (née Hunt), Mary Ann
O Thou, great Householder (tr. In Williams), 885, i., O Christe qui mauet poli
O Thou God Shepherd, 892, ii. Bowen, G.
O Thou great living! what Thou art, 197, i. Burns, H.
O Thou great Friend of all the sons of men, 892, i. Bowen, G.
O Thou great Jehovah, land set (tr. Williams, alt.), 77, ii. Argyleß arwain trwy'r anialwch
O Thou great Ruler of the sky, 1186, i. Upham, T. C.
O Thou great Teacher from the skies, 1186, ii. Upham, T. C.
O Thou health-giving Sacrifice (O salutaris Hostia), 1219, i. Verbum Supernum prodiens Nec Patris Imperes
O Thou Holy God, come down, 868, ii. Omnipresent God, Thy name
O Thou immortal light divine (tr. Caswall), 25, ii. Aeterna Lux, Divinitas
O Thou in Whose all our upright, 273, ii. Jacque, Mrs.
O Thou in Whom our love doth find (tr. Caswall, alt.), 888, ii. Jesu dulcis memoria
O Thou in Whom Thy mind repose, 327, ii. Elerton, J.
O Thou, in Whose Eternal Name, 564, ii. Huntington, W.
O Thou in whose presence my soul takes delight, 1105, ii. Swain, J.
O Thou Lord of heaven above, 1233, ii. Waring, Anna L.
O Thou Most High! Eternal King (tr. Caswall, alt.), 27, i. Aeterne Rex altissime
O Thou Most Highest! Guardian of mankind (tr. Miss Winkworth), 793, i. Neander, J.
O Thou most Holy God of heaven (tr. Hope), 941, i. Sancte Deus, Sancte
O Thou most Holy Trinity, O truly satisfy'd (tr. Russell), 127, i. Schon, M.
O Thou most Holy Trinity, Praise, glory, thanks (tr. Russell), 165, ii. Bernardine, S.
O Thou most Holy Virgin (tr. Marshman), 633, ii., Kristen Pig
O Thou not made with hands, 976, ii. Palgrave, F. T.
O Thou of all Thy warriors Lord (tr. Caswall), 202, ii. Deus tuorum militum
O Thou of Whom the nations (Gentiles) send (tr. Neale), 1, ii. Thou God of love, Thou holy God
O Thou, once told within the grave (tr. Bethell), 666, ii. Larsater, J. C.
O Thousand Fathom Brother (tr. in the Morav. H. B., 1754, alt. 1784), 609, i. Winckelmann, Anna
O Thou to whom all hearts (who hearest prayer), 1184, i. To whom but Thou, O God of grace
O Thou our Husband, Brother, Friend, 1260, i. Wesley family, The

O Thou, our only Teacher and true Friend (tr. Ja. Wilkinson), 866, ii., O qui perpetuo nos sanctior docto.
O thou Passion Week (tr. in the Mercer, H. B., 1754), 62, ii., Arnold, G.
O Thou Prophet of the Lord, 1866, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou pure light of souls that love (tr. Caswall), 555, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium
O Thou, Redeemer of our race, 1815, ii., Yeul Redemptor gentium
O Thou Shepherd of Thine Israel, hear us, 1009, i., Tate, Nahum
O Thou, sole Fountain of all good, 1197, ii., Unus bonorum fons, Deus sanctus
O Thou Sun of glorious splendour, 1207, i., What is earth with all its treasures?
O Thou that hearest the sickness (tr. Jacobi), 607, i., O du allerstarkste Freude
O Thou that didst ordain the word, 817, ii., Chaplin, E. H.
O Thou that dwellest in the heavens high, 608, ii., Hedge, F. H.
O Thou that hearest, let our prayer, 527, i., Hinton, J. H.
O Thou that hearest prayer, 197, ii., Burton, J., jun.
O Thou that hearest the prayer of faith, 1180, i., Tripp, D. T.
O Thou that hear'st when sinners cry, 1005, i., Shrubsall, Lord; O Lord, forgive
O Thou that in the heavens dost dwell (Ps. cxxiii.), 866, i., Old Version
O Thou that hast rested upon the bleeding tree (tr. I. Williams), 816, ii., Dum, Christe, confixus cruci
O Thou that once on Horeb stood, 944, ii., Huntington, F. D.
O Thou the Brightness of the Father's glory, 1090, ii., Splendor paternæ gloriæ
O Thou the eternal Father's Word (tr. Caswall), 866, ii., O qui perpetuo nos sanctior docto
O Thou the Eternal Son of God, 859, i., Dix, W. C.; 866, ii., No sooga shall break our gloom to-day
O Thou the Father's eternal Image (tr. Caswall), 1090, i., Splendor paternæ gloriæ
O Thou the first, the greatest Friend, 197, ii., Burns, R.
O Thou, the heaven's eternal King (Rex sempiterne coelitum, tr. Caswall), 958, i., Rex æterne Jesu
O Thou, the helpless orphan's hope, 943, ii., Culliper, Thos.
O Thou, the King of saints, all-conquering Word (tr. Chatfield), 826, ii., Clemens, T. F.
O Thou, the Lord and Life of them, 873, ii., Osler, E.
O Thou the Maker of each star (tr. Lord Bute), 859, i., Conditor alme siderum
O Thou, the Martyrs' glorious King, Of confessors (tr. Caswall), 555, i., Jesu gloriosa martyrum
O Thou the Martyrs' glorious King, The Crown (tr. in the Primer, 1615), 555, ii., Iste gloriosa martyrum
O Thou, the One Supreme o'er all (tr. Chatfield), 943, i., Unus potens Deitatis; 1035, ii., Si vis, videre paradisum
O Thou, the Splendor of the Father's glory, 1090, ii., Splendor paternæ gloriæ
O Thou, the true and only Light, Jésus! (tr. W. Bull), 555, ii., O Jesu, Christe, wahres Licht
O Thou, the true and only Light! Enlighten (tr. J. F. Thrupp), 555, i., O Jesu Christe, wahres Licht
O Thou, the woman's promised Seed, 943, i., Hull, W.
O Thou, the Word of truth divine, 351, ii., Ἐδεόμεσθα σου τῶν ἀληθειων, Λογε
O Thou, the Word, supreme and blest (Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patris), 1213, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
O Thou, the world's redeeming Lord (tr. Copeland, alt.), 594, ii., Jesu, Redemptor sæculi, Verbum Patris altissimi
O Thou, through all Thy works adored, 231, ii., Erdich, J.
O Thou, Thy mother's Maker, hail, 1225, i., Virginis Proles, Opifexque matris
O Thou to whom all creatures bow (Ps. viii.), 800, i., New Version
O Thou, to Whom in ancient time, 950, ii., Pierpont, J.
O Thou to whose all-searching sight, 1035, i., Newton, 921, i., Jesus, my Saviour and my King; 1216, ii., Seelenbräutigam O du Gottessohn
O Thou to Whose all-seeing eye, 1181, ii., Take, Emma O Thou, through fadeless perfect made, 940, i., Hew, W. W.
O Thou true God alone, 791, ii., Neander, J.
O Thou, true Life of all that live (tr. Caswall), 866, ii., Iterum Tuos voco
O Thou unknown, Almighty Cause, 197, ii., Burns, R.
O Thou, who all things canst control (tr. J. Wesley), 826, i., Omnia, O C.
O Thou Who art alone all height, 866, ii., Pierpont, J.
O Thou, Who art crowned in light, 866, ii., Eternal Light, eternal Light
O Thou, Who art enthroned on high, 199, i., Sallum, Mary P.
O Thou Who art in every place, 1031, i., Burns, Mary Ann
O Thou Who art the Gift unpriced (Stone), 979, ii., Chandler
O Thou Who calledst forth the light (tr. John Williams), 702, i., Lucis Creator optime
O Thou, Who comest down of old (to call), 790, i., Neale, J. M.
O Thou, Who dejected from above, 883, i., O Thou, Who in Thy love divine
O Thou, Who didst at Pentecost, 861, ii., O Lord, Who in Thy love divine
O Thou Who didst my burden share (tr. Maguire), 516, i., Herr, der Tage Mühen und Beschwerden
O Thou, Who didst the Maid exalt (tr. B. Mantle), 1004, ii., Stonestreet, N. L. von
O Thou who didst ordain the word, 817, ii., Chaplin, E. H.
O Thou Who didst prepare, 1180, ii., Torna (née Browne), Miss A. M.
O Thou, who didst this vile vessel, 939, i., Elliot (née Marshall), Julia A.
O Thou Who didst through heavens, 1181, ii., Take, Emma
O Thou, Who didst Thy glory leave, 1183, i., Topliady, A. M.
O Thou, Who didst with love untold, 1181, ii., Take, Emma
O Thou, who didst to give us life (tr. Miss Winkworth), 59, ii., Ach bleibe doch, lerbarmung ihre
O Thou, who dwellest in the deep (tr. Caswall), 1197, i., 1198, i., In Trinitatis Unitate
O Thou Who dost to man accord, 180, ii., Hewett, J. W.
1238, ii., Sonnet laughter prayed
O Thou, who dryest the mourner's tear (T. Moore), 788, i., Moore, T., 972, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
O Thou Who dry'st the mourner's tear. See O Thou Who dried
O Thou Who dwellest bright on high (tr. Chandler), 866, i., O lux quæ tibi idem
O Thou, who dwellest in realms of light, 1179, ii., Thring, G.
O Thou who dwellest in eternity, 298, i., Clarke, S. C.
O Thou, Who every change of human life, 1179, ii., Thring, G.
O Thou, Who every hour (tr. Chambers), 866, ii., O qui perpetuo nos sanctior docto
O Thou, Who for our fallen race, 694, i., Hastings, Lady Flora
O Thou, Who from one blood didst make, 1179, ii., Thring, G.
O Thou, from the infant's tongue, 151, i., Hemstead, C. J.
O Thou! Who gav'st Thy servant grace, 883, i., O God, Who gav'st Thy servant grace
O Thou Who grant all their food, 827, i., Corder, J.
O Thou, who hast a right to the tree, 851, i., O Thou that bargain'st on the tree
O Thou, Who hast of Thy command, 363, i., Cotterill (not Bond), Jane
O Thou Who hast died to redeem us from hell, 106, i., Thring, G.
O Thou Who hast in mercy taught, 1208, i., Wesley family, The O Thou Who hast our sorrows borne, 1205, i., Wesley family, The O Thou Who hast Thy children taught, 883, i., O Thou Who hast Thy servants taught
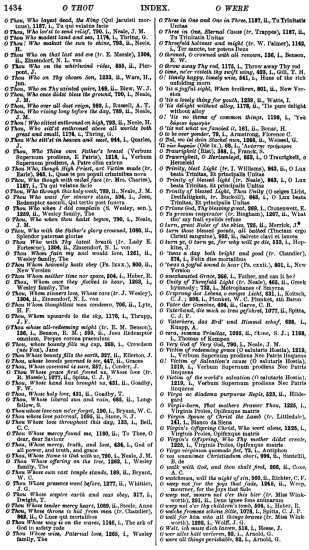
O Thou Who hidden art in Thine own light (tr. in Williams), 862, i., O luce qua mentalitas
O Thou, who hidden in my heart (tr. H. Mantle), 1079, ii., Stonestreet, N. L. von
O Thou Who in Jordan didst bow Thy meek head, 130, i., Bellynge, G. W.
O Thou, Who in the form of God, 600, ii., Jesus, exalted far on high
O Thou, Who in the grave once lay (tr. B. Mantle), 666, ii., Lazarz, J. G.
O Thou Who in the light dost dwell (tr. Ja. Williams), 866, ii., O Lux vel mentalitas
O Thou, who in the Saviour dwell (tr. Ja. Williams, 1 exercises), 862, ii., O Luce qui mentalitas
O Thou, Who in the olive shade, 599, ii., Hosmer (née Browne), Felicia D.
O Thou, Who in the power of death (tr. Cooke), 818, ii., Dum, Christe, confixus cruci



O Thou, Who layest dead, the King (Qui jacuisti mortuus), 1197, i., Tu qui velatus facie
O Thou, Who lov'st to send relief, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
O Thou Who mankind lead and see, 1178, i., Thring, G.
O Thou! Who makest the sun to shine, 795, ii., Neale, J. M.
O Thou Who on that last and eve (tr. B. Mantle), 1004, ii., Stonestreet, N. L. von
O Thou Who on the whirlwind rides, 886, ii., Stennett, J.
O Thou Who on Thy chosen Son, 1233, ii., Ware, H., jun.
O Thou, Who on Thy anointed squire, 169, ii., Blew, W. J.
O Thou, Who once didst bless the ground, 795, i., Neale, J. M.
O Thou, Who over all dost reign, 969, i., Russell, A. T.
O Thou, Who rising long before the day, 793, ii., Neale, J. M.
O Thou! Who sittest enthroned on high, 793, ii., Neale, H.
O Thou, Who still'st enthroned above all worlds both great and small, 1178, i., Thring, G.
O Thou Who still'st in heaven and seat, 944, i., Quarles, F.
O Thou, Who Thine own Father's bosom (Verbum Supernum prodiens, E Patris), 1213, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
O Thou Who, though High Priest, art Victim made (tr. Caswall), 1197, ii., Tu qui velatus facie
O Thou, Who though with veiled face (tr. Mrs. Charles), 1197, i., Tu qui velatus facie
O Thou, Who through this holy week, 793, ii., Neale, J. M.
O Thou Who want for sinners state, 598, i., Jones, Griffith, Llanddowror, and Williams, Peter
O Thou Who when I did complain (S. Wesley, sen.), 1209, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, Who when thou hadst begun, 795, i., Neale, J. M.
O Thou, Who with the Father's glory crowned, 1090, ii., Splendor paternæ gloriæ
O Thou Who with Thy latest breath (tr. Lady E. Fortescue), 1206, ii., Stonestreet, N. L. von
O Thou Whose faith my soul would test, 1201, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou Whom heavenly hosts obey (Ps. lxxx.), 800, ii., New Version
O Thou Whom neither time nor space, 956, i., Heber, R.
O Thou, Whom once they flocked to hear, 1203, i., Wesley family, The O Thou, Whose sinners love (tr. J. Wesley), 1206, ii., Stonestreet, N. L. von
O Thou Whose thoughtless sea condemn, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
O Thou, Whose upwards to the sky, 1176, ii., Thrupp, J. F.
O Thou whose all-redeeming might (tr. B. M. Bensen), 126, i., Bensen, B. M.; 193, ii., Jam indesperate omnium, Perges corona præstitum
O Thou, whose heavenly fire my cup, 985, i., Crowdson Thos., Jesu
O Thou Whose heavenly Rills the earth, 207, ii., Elleston, J.
O Thou, whose bounds pourest to us, 647, ii., Graces
O Thou, Whose covenant is sure, 227, i., Cosdry, J.
O Thou Whose grace first fixed in, Whose love (tr. B. M. Bensen), 1073, ii., Spiritus, O
O Thou, Whose hand has brought us, 631, ii., Goadby, F. W.
O Thou Whose holy love, 631, ii., Goadby, T.
O Thou Whose liberal sun and rain, 695, ii., Longfellow, S.
O Thou whose love can ne'er forget, 190, i., Bryant, W. C.
O Thou whose love patternal, 1005, ii., Stone, S. J.
O Thou Whose love throughout this day, 193, i., Bell, J.
O Thou Whose mercy found me, 1199, ii., To Thee, O dear, dear Saviour
O Thou, Whose mercy, truth, and love, 694, i., God of all power, and truth, and grace
O Thou Whose name is love, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
O Thou Whose offering on the tree, 1205, i., Wesley family, The O Thou Whose own vast temple stands, 189, ii., Bryant, W. C.
O Thou Whose presence went before, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.
O Thou Whose empire earth and vast sky, 317, i., Dwight, T.
O Thou Whose tender mercy hears, 1080, ii., Steele, Anne
O Thou Whose word from sin and death, man (tr. Chandler), 962, ii., O Luce qui mentalitas
O Thou Whose way is on the waves, 1146, i., The ark of God is safely rode O Thou Whose wise, Paternal love, 1205, i., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wilt thine anger stay, 1208, i., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wilt not leave us, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who will Thy people free, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wilt to all impart, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst not have, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy people save, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants bless, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants keep, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants save, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants spare, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants teach, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants train, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants turn, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants use, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants warn, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants wean, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants win, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants wrong, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants yield, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The O Thou, who wouldst Thy servants yoke

O werther Tähl der Christenheit (tr. Löwenstern), 943, 1.
O ye Leu beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
O what a blest hope is ours, 537, ii., How happy every child of grace
O what a bright and blessed world, 398, i. Denny, Sir R.
O what a gift the Father gave, 726, i. Midlane, A.
O what a glorious truth is this, 726, ii. Midlane, A.
O what a happy lot is mine, 868, i. Forsyth, Christian
O what a happy thing it is (Ps. cxxxiii.), 966, i. Old Version
O what a mighty change, 806, ii., Saviour of sinful men
O what a Saviour is Jesus the Lord, 726, i., Midlane, A.
O what amazing words of grace, 726, ii., Medley, S.
O what an evil heart have I, 1203, i. Wesley family, The O what are the ungen of sin? 562, i. Fisher, F. W.
O what are you going to do, brother? 1206, i. Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
O what attractive beauties in Jesus, 310, ii., Norton, A.
O what delight is this? 1262, i., Wesley family, The O what everlasting blessings God out-poureth on His own, 697, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
O what has Jesus done for me? 276, i., Curwen, J.
O what hath not my Saviour that means on me now? 362, i., Fisher, F. W.
O what joy for them is stored (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 960, ii., Richter, C. F.
O what joy, O what joy cometh on (tr. in the Moravian Hymn Book), 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
O what light and glory (tr. T. Bell), 965, i., O quam gloriosa luce cernuus
O what must be the solitude (tr. Morgan), 966, ii., O quanta qualis erunt Illa Sabbata
O what rest remains (tr. Howard), 960, ii., O quanta qualis erat Illa Sabbata
O what shall be, O when shall be (tr. Duffield), 815, ii., Duffield, S. A. W.; 965, ii., O quanta qualis erat Illa Sabbata
O what shall we do my Saviour to praise? 1261, ii., Wesley family, The O what shall we in, when the conflict o'er (tr. Magrath), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
O what shall we poor children give, 668, i., Graces; 668, i., Gregory, C.
O what shouts of exultation (Quam dispectus, quam laetitiae), 1052, i., Concentus caelestis
O what splendour, O what beauty (tr. Neale), 967, ii., Quisquis valet numerare
O what terror in the forethought, 451, ii., Erat me terrens pulsus vitae dies ultima
O what their joy and their glory must be (tr. Neale), 966, i., O quanta qualis erat Illa Sabbata
O, what though our feet may not tread where Christ trod, 1276, i., Whittier, J. G.
O what will be the day, when you at last (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 960, ii., Richter, C. F.
O when from all the ends of earth, 144, i., Bibb, T. R.
O when my righteous Judge shall come, 944, i., Huntingdon, Selina Hastings (née Shirley), Countess of
O when shall Christ's noble name, 833, ii., Great God, the nations of the earth
O when shall I have that grilar favour (tr. Mollter, alt.), 607, ii., Gregor, C.
O when shall I see Jesus? 671, i., Leland, J.
O when shall we recently remove? 1262, i., Wesley family, The O when the hours of life are past, 897, i., Peabody, W. B. O.
O when will Thou my Saviour be, 1188, i., Topladv, A. M.
O where does Sin's union rise? 166, ii., Baldwin, T.
O where are kings and empires now? 307, i., Cook, A. C.
O where can the soul find relief from its fears, 316, ii., Burton, D.
O where can the soul find the sea, 795, ii., Lynch, T. T.
O where is now that glowing love, 615, i., Kelly, T.
O where is the land of the blest? 443, i., Hamilton, E. W.
O where shall we deliverance seek, 1276, i., Turnpy, T.
O where's the path my spirit loves? 625, i., Gill, T. H.
O wherefore, Lord, doth Thy dear praise, 621, ii., Gill, T. H.
O, wherefore the dream of the earthly abode, 1276, i., Whittier, J. G.
O whither shall I fly, 899, i., Herrmann, J.
O who are they so pure and bright? 578, i., Tree, W. J.
O who can comprehend the rest, 295, ii., Duncan, S.
O who is like the Mighty One, 781, ii., Moir, D. M.
O who is like Thee, so calm, so bright, 327, i., Cox, A. C.
O who is like Thee, so calm, so bright, 327, i., Cox, A. C.
O who shall dare in this frail home? 613, i., Kelly, T.
O why art thus sorrowful, servant of God? 362, i., Fisher, F. W.
O why do we so thoughtless grieve (Watts), 1090, ii., Hinton, O why so thoughtless grieve
O why should Israel's sons, once blest (Tryon, alt.), 251, ii., Discov'd of Heaven, by man oppress; 257, ii., Tryon, J.
O why should Israel's sons, once blest (in Elliott's Ps. & Hys.), 251, ii., Discov'd of Heaven, by man oppress;
O why so heavy, O my soul? 1273, ii., Wherefore so heavy, O my soul?
O wie Freue wir uns der Stunde, 413, ii., German hymnody; 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O wie ist der König so schön, 1271, i., Schmolck, B.
O wie ist der König so schön!, 272, i., Fiex, B.
O wie manche schöne Stunde, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
O wie sehr leidtich sind all dein Widersag (tr. Gelnicky), 95, i., Argenta, P.
O wie selig sind die Seelen, 1091, ii., Wolff, J. G.
O wie selig sind die todt, die Frommen, 277, i., Pach, S.
O wie selig sind die Todten, 960, ii., Richter, C. F.
O wie so gleichlich wären wir, 1266, ii., Ehrendorf, N. L. von
O wie überaus preislich schön, 1015, i., Schmolck, B.
O wie wollt ich Ihn'n, 627, ii., Gregor, C.
O Will of God, all sweet and perfect (tr. Lady Durand), 1146, i., Trevelyan, G.
O will Thou pardon, Lord?, 1181, iii., Vor knapsäe
O will Thou rather, 1181, i., Vor knapsäe
O wir armen Leute, 103, i., Boye, H.
O wir frye Cy ygfaylen lan (Tryd), 1295, i., Welsh hymnody
O wisdom of the God of grace (tr. Chambers), 886, i., Tersteegen, G.
O Wisdom, ordering mightily (tr. Earl Nelson), 74, i., Antiphon
O Wisdom, who on earth below, 74, i., Antiphon
O Wisdom, whose unfailing power, 6, iii., Abashed be the devil's power
O will that overcomest let us all (Ps. cxxxii.), 861, i., New Version
O with what glorious lustre resplendent (tr. Chambers), 966, i., O quam gloriosa luce cernuus
O with what glorious lustre thou shinest, 966, i., O quam gloriosa luce cernuus
O wonder for amending (tr. Jacob), 419, iii., Gerenius, Jacobus
O wondrous Conqueror and great (tr. Miss Bartlingham), 231, ii., Hamberg, E. C.
O wondrous joy to all mankind (tr. Skinner), 972, i., Antiphon of the Nativity
O wondrous love of Christ! how bright (tr. G. Walker), 627, i., Lange, F. A.
O wondrous love, that reads in tears (tr. Kynaston), 943, i., Quae te pro pepuli crimitibus arva
O wondrous power of faithful prayer (tr. Mrs. Merrifield from Mrs. Sherwood's "Lucretia"), 232, iii., Lucretia's power of faith and prayer
O wondrous power of faithful prayer, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The O wondrous type, O vision fair (tr. Neale, alt.), 240, ii., Quam dilecta tabernacula
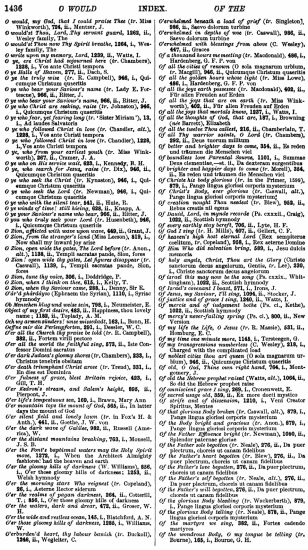
O Wort adantal, Du Ehr rat (Verbum Supernum prodiens, E. Fabri), 1213, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
O Wort of God above (tr. Ja. Williams), 985, ii., Patris sapientia, veritas divina, 1 Pet. i. 25, Ps. cxix. 89
O Wort Gottes heilsames, 985, ii., Rew, W. H.
O Wort of God, reign everywhere (tr. G. Walker), 197, i., Babtauzet, J. F.
O word of love! O word of life, 1176, iii., Whiting, Wm.
O World, proceeding from Thy home (Verbum Supernum prodiens, E. Fabri), 1213, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
O Word Supreme, created not, 1217, ii., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
O World! salvation lend it (tr. Gambold), 615, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
O World! behold upon the tree (tr. Miss Whitworth), 615, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
O World of time, could mortal eyes, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
O World! we have suspended (tr. by Enth's Praise Hy.), 615, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
O World, see thy Creator (tr. Gambold, alt.), O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
O World! see the Life languish (tr. J. D. Burns), 615, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
O world I leave thee; for I go, 318, i., Hume, J.
O world, I must forsake thee, 318, ii., Hume, J.
O world, I must forsake thee, 318, ii., Hume, J.
O World so vain, I leave thee, 411, ii., Herbergen, V.
O worship the King, 450, i., Grant, Sir R.



O would, my God, that I could praise Thee (tr. Miss Winkworth), 724, ii., Mentzer, J.
O would the Lord Jesus Christ my servant guard, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The O would'st Thou save Thy Spirit tremble, 1264, i., Wesley family, The O wrde wynn my sauery, Lord, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
O ye, all ye that pass by (tr. Chandler), 1228, i., Via sacra Christi tempora
O ye Halls of Sion, 277, ii., Dach, S.
O ye the truly wise (tr. E. Campbell), 966, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O ye who bear your Saviour's name (tr. Lady E. Fortescue), 966, ii., Elmo, J.
O ye who bear your Saviour's name, 966, ii., Bitter, J.
O ye who Christ are seeking, rains (tr. Johnston), 966, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O ye who Christ are seeking (tr. "Sister Miriam"), 19, i., Ad lucida laboramus
O ye who followed Christ in love (tr. Chandler, alt.), 1228, i., Via sacra Christi tempora
O ye who followed Christ in love (tr. Chandler), 1228, i., Via sacra Christi tempora
O ye, who sorrow for your sinful youth (tr. Miss Winkworth), 207, ii., Cramer, J. A.
O ye who on His service wait, 833, i., Kennedy, B. H.
O ye, who search for Jesus, rains (tr. Ust), 966, ii., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O ye who seek the Christ (tr. Kynaston), 966, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O ye who seek the Lord (tr. Newman), 966, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O ye who with the silent tear, 443, ii., Hale, R.
O ye winds of time! still blowing, 686, ii., Kemp, A.
O ye, whose souls are filled with fear, 966, ii., Bonar, J.
O ye who truly seek your Lord (tr. Blumfield), 966, i., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
O Zion, afflicted with sore upon sore, 662, ii., Grant, J.
O Zion, from the stranger's land (Miss Lemon), 819, i., Zion, from the stranger's land
O Zion, open wide the gates, The Lord before (tr. Anon., alt.), 1136, iii., Tempii sacratas pande, Sion, fores
O Zion, open wide thy gates, Let figures disappear (tr. Caswall), 1139, i., Tempii sacratas pande, Sion, fores
O Zion, tune the voice, 906, i., Doddridge, P.
O Zion, when I think on thee, 813, i., Kelly, T.
O Zion, when thy Saviour came, 295, i., Denny, Sir E.
O'er'd pairdepo (Ephraem the Syrian), 1116, i., Syriac Liturgies
O'er Bramley King and swain asia, 798, i., Newmeister, E.
Object of my first desire, 683, ii., Happiness, then lovely name; 1180, ii., Topladv, A. M.
Och wy arwen sinders! wae wasmidolf, 163, i., Bonn, H.
Oculi sempiternum, 1052, i., Concentus caelestis
O'er all the Church thy praise is told (tr. E. Campbell), 966, ii., Fortem virili pectore
O'er all the world the faithful sing, 879, ii., late Canon Rowse Dominic sacratus
O'er Bramley King and swain shown (tr. Chambers), 833, i., Christum insuetis obvium
O'er death triumphant Christ arose (tr. Trend), 331, i., Ex imo ne Dominica
O'er Judaea of grace, blest Britain rejoice, 623, i., Kelly, T.
O'er Malvern's stream, and Salem's height, 856, ii., Pierpont, J.
O'er life's tempestuous sea, 169, i., Brown, Mary Ann
O'er mountain tops the messen of God, 965, ii., In later days by glorious messen
O'er silent field and lonely leave (tr. in Fox's H. & Anth.), 661, ii., Gostlie, J. W. von O'er the dark wave of Galilee, 982, ii., Russell (Anderson), W.
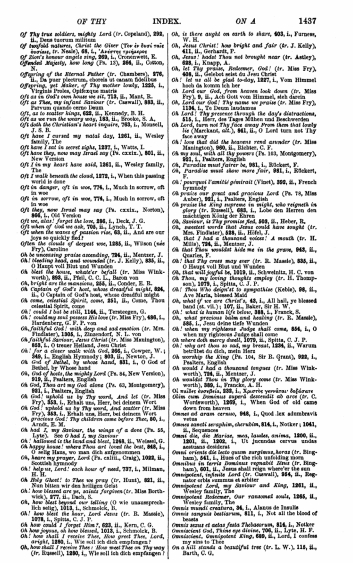
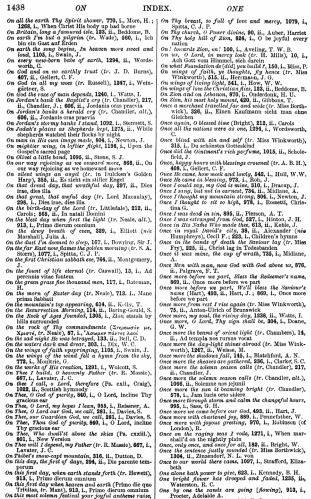
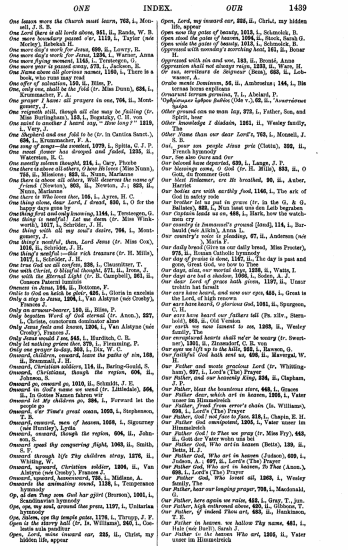
O'er the distant mountains breaking, 703, i., Mussell, J. G. R.
O'er the Fen's baptismal waters may the Holy Spirit move, 1275, i., When the Architect Almighty fashioned had the heaven and earth
O'er the gloomy hills of darkness (tr. Williams), 866, i., O'er those gloomy hills of darkness; 1263, i., Welsh hymnody
O'er the morning stars Who reignest (tr. Copeland), 26, i., Aeterne Rector siderum
O'er those gloomy hills of darkness, 866, ii., Cotterill, T.; 866, i., O'er those gloomy hills of darkness
O'er the waters, dark and drear, 672, ii., Grower, W. H.
O'er the wide and restless ocean, 745, i., Blatchford, A. N.
O'er those gloomy hills of darkness, 1263, i., Williams, Ja.
O'erburden'd heart, thy labour banish (tr. Bucknall), 1266, ii., Weghlder, C.
O'erwhelmed beneath a load of grief (tr. Singleton), 966, ii., Sacro dolorum turbine
O'erwhelmed by sorrow's mighty woe (tr. Caswall), 966, ii., Sacro dolorum turbine
O'erwhelmed with blessings from above (C. Wesley), 697, ii., Graces
Of a thousand hours me meeting (tr. Macdonald), 606, i., Tausend Stunden vor dir
Of all the cities of renown (O mia magnarum urbium, tr. Maggi), 966, ii., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
Of all the golden hours whose light (tr. Miss Lowe), 686, i., Hartenberg, G. F. P. von
Of all the golden hours whose light (tr. Macdonald), 603, ii., D'alle diesen Freuden auf Erden
Of all the joys that are on earth (tr. Miss Winkworth), 603, ii., Für allen Freuden auf Erden
Of all the joys that mortals know, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Of all the mighty men that are, 1271, i., Browning (née Barrett), Elizabeth
Of all the tasks Thou callest, 315, ii., Chamberlain, T.
Of all Thy warrior saints, O Lord (tr. Chambers), 966, ii., Deus tuorum militum
Of bread alone is life denied to me, 354, ii., Ne zeden wort man alein lebt dennoch nit
Of boundless love Parental Source, 1101, i., Summas Deus clementias.—st. ii., Da dantrum augustitus
Of brightest and happier days to come (tr. Monell), 324, i., Es toben und tränenn die Menschen viel
Of Christ, the holy Bridegroom's name (tr. Kynaston, 1846), 966, i., Fungi lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Of Christ's Body, ever glorious (tr. Caswall, alt.), Fungi lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Of exultant song! Thou sanctal (tr. Hare), 968, ii., Sactus creatus ut agnus
Of faithful men in numerous crowds (Ps. cxxxii., Craig), 1092, ii., Scottish hymnody
Of many earthly days bereft, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Of God I sing (tr. H. Hill), 977, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Heaven's high host elevated Lord (Nos cantamus Domine), 966, ii., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
Of Him Who did salvation bring, 295, i., Jesu nobis mercris
Of holy angels, Christ, Thou art the Glory (Christo sanctorum decus angelorum, Gentis, O Lux), 230, ii., Christe sanctorum decus angelorum
Of Israel this song now to the song (Ps. cxxiii., Whittingham), 1092, ii., Scottish hymnody
Of Israel's remnant I boast, 271, i., Irons, J.
Of Jesus, my Saviour, I'll sing, 1206, ii., Stocker, J.
Of Jesus, the Mighty Redeemer, I sing, 1206, ii., Stocker, J.
Of mercy and of judgment both (Ps. ci., Kethe), 1092, ii., Scottish hymnody
Of mercy's never-failing spring (Ps. cl.), 800, ii., New Version
Of Me and the Life, O Jesus (tr. R. Massie), 631, ii., Homburg, E. C.
My time one minute more, 1146, i., Tersteegen, G.
My transgressions numberless (C. Wesley), 318, i., Charged with the complicated load
Of nobel ordne thee art yaste (O mia magnarum urbium), 966, ii., Quicumque Christum quaeritis
Of old, O Lord, Thou own right hand, 798, i., Montgomery, J.
Of the Hebrew prophet raised (Watts, alt.), 1086, ii., Scottish hymnody
Of unrelated grace I sing, 205, ii., Crosswell, E.
Of sacred songs old, 559, ii., Ex more docti mystico
Of strife and of dissension, 1213, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentis
Of the Body broken (tr. Caswall, alt.), 979, i., Fungi lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Of the Body bright and gracious (tr. Anon.), 979, i., Fungi lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Of the Father Sovereign bright (tr. Newman), 1080, ii., Fortem virili pectore
Of the Father sole begotten (tr. Neale), 276, ii., In pure plectrum, chorois ut canam fidelibus
Of the Father's heart begotten (tr. Blew), 276, ii., In pure plectrum, chorois ut canam fidelibus
Of the Father's Love begotten (tr. Neale), 276, ii., In pure plectrum, chorois ut canam fidelibus
Of the Father's self begotten (tr. Neale, alt.), 276, ii., In pure plectrum, chorois ut canam fidelibus
Of the Father's will begotten, 276, ii., In pure plectrum, chorois ut canam fidelibus
Of the glorious Body bleeding (tr. Wackernagel), 979, i., Fungi lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Of the glorious Body telling (tr. Neale), 979, ii., Fungi lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Of the heavenly host we sing, 282, ii., Fortes cadendo cherubim
Of the wondrous Body, O my tongue be telling (tr. Bourne), 165, i., Bourne, G. H.



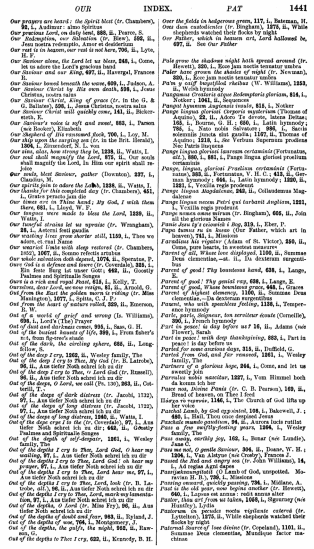


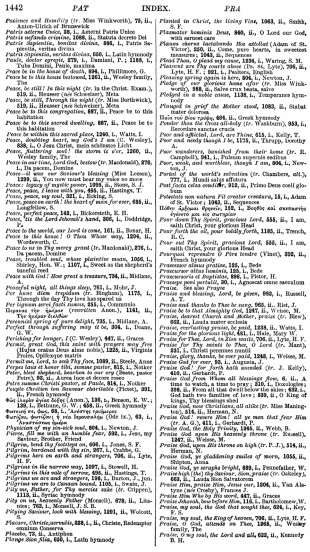


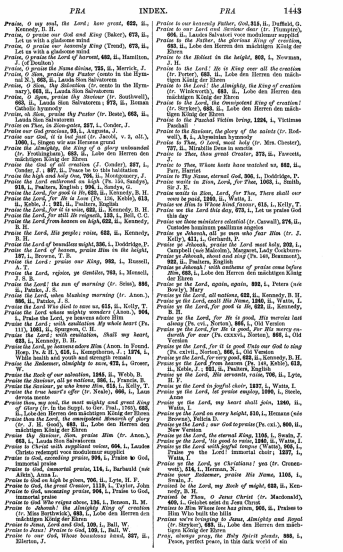
ONE INDEX. OUR 1439

One lament more the Church must learn, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
One Lord there is all lords above, 881, ii., Rankin, W. B.
One more day's work for Jesus, 1139, i., Taylor (née Morley), Imbrie, H.
One more day's work for Jesus, 600, ii., Lowry, R.
One more day's work for Jesus, 1258, i., Warner, Anna
One more flying moment, 1145, i., Tersteegen, G.
One more step along the world I go, 1145, i., Mote, E.
One Name alone all glorious names, 1180, i., There is a book, who runs may read
One offer of salvation, 139, ii., Bliss, P.
One, only one, shall be the fold (tr. Miss Dunn), 636, i., Bonar, Horatius
One prayer I have: all prayers in one, 708, ii., Montgomery, J.
One requisite still, though all else may be failing (tr. Miss Burlingham), 158, i., Bogatzky, C. H. von
One sweetly solemn thought I heard say, "How long?" 1219, i., Very, J.
One Shepherd and one fold to be (tr. in Caroline Sanct.), 636, i., Krummacher, F. A.
One song of songs—the crowned, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
One there is above all others, O how he loves! (Miss Nunn), 756, ii., Missions; 823, ii., Nunn, Marianne
One there is above all others, Well deserves the name of friend (Newton), 560, ii., Bowton, J.; 823, ii., Nunn, Marianne
One there is Who loves thee, 162, i., Ayres, H. C.
One thing alone, dear Lord, I dread, 850, i., O for the pen of inspiration!
One thing first and only learning, 1184, i., Tersteegen, G.
One thing is needful! Let me deem (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1017, i., Schröder, J. H.
One thing with all my soul's desire, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
One thing's needful, then, Lord Jesus (tr. Miss Cox), 1016, ii., Schröder, J. H.
One thing's needful—dear rich treasure (tr. R. Mills), 1017, i., Schröder, J. H.
One true God we all confess, 338, i., Clausnitzer, T.
One with Christ, O blissful thought, 671, ii., Irons, J.
One with Christ, O thought divine (tr. Hanschell), 951, ii., Common Pateroi hanjish
Ornament in Jesus, 554, ii., Bottome, F.
Osée to God on high be glory, 825, i., Gloria in excelsis
Only a step to Jesus, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), F. J.
Only an armour-bearer, 130, ii., Bliss, P.
Only begotten Word of God eternal (tr. Anon.), 527, i., Christe, cunctorum dominator alme
Only Jesus fade and leaven, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), F. J.
Only Jesus would I see, 845, i., Hardisch, C. G.
Only let nothing grieve thee, 979, i., Fleming, P.
Only one prayer to-day, 953, i., Dix, W. C.
Onward, children, onward, loose the pants of sin, 103, ii., Johnson, S.
Onward, Christian soldiers, 134, ii., Baring-Gould, S.
Onward, Christians, though the region, 606, ii., Johnson, S.
Onward go, onward go, 1010, ii., Schmidt, J. E.
Onward, onward, Christian soldiers (tr. Littledale), 206, ii., In Gottes Namen fahren wir
Onward let thy children go, 206, i., Forward let the people go
Onward, o'er Time's great ocean, 1009, i., Stephenson, J. B.
Onward, onward, men of heaven, 1049, i., Sigourney (née Huntley), Lydia
Onward, onward, though the region, 606, ii., Johnson, S.
Onward, upon Thy conquering flight, 1063, ii., Smith, S. F.
Onward through life Thy children stray, 1270, ii., Whiting, W.
Onward, upward, Christian soldier, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), F. J.
Onward, upward, homeward, 726, i., Midlane, A.
Onwards the animating sound, 1138, i., Tersteegen hymnody
Op, al den Toep wen God har gjivt (Bronsen), 1001, i., Norwegian hymnody
Ope, ope, my soul, ground Our grace, 1197, i., Unitarian hymnody
Ope, Salem, ope the temple gates, 1176, i., Thrupp, J. F.
Open is the starry hall (tr. in Williams), 260, i., Coelestis urbs Jerusalem
Open, Lord, mine inward ear, 325, ii., Christ, my hidden life, appear
Open, Lord, my inward ear, 325, ii., Christ, my hidden life, appear
Open now thy gates of beauty, 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
Open now thy gates of beauty, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), F. J.
Open unto the gates of beauty, 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
Oppressed with noonday's scorching heat, 161, ii., Bonar H.
Oppressed with sin and woe, 143, ii., Brown, Anna
Or ever the knightly years were gone, 1180, i., Tait, C.
Or vas, versitzen in Angesst (Bohm), 825, ii., Leibwasser, A.
Orabo mente Dominum, 56, ii., Ambrosian, 164, i., Ite versus horas septimas
Orando Salvatorem sæculi, 7, i., Abelard, P.
Orbis Factor lucem Jubilus (Ode v.), 25, ii., Auroræque lucem
Other ground can no man lay, 272, i., Father, Son, and Spirit, hear
Other knowledge I disdain, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Other Name than our dear Lord's, 763, i., Mcneil, J. S. B.
Ouï, pour ses peuple Jésus pris (Chéta), 320, ii., Christe, cunctorum
Our foe also there and One
Our beloved home departed, 839, i., Lange, J. P.
Our blessings come, O God (tr. H. Mills), 853, ii., O Gott, du frommer Gott
Our breath is fleetness, we its breather, 90, ii., Auber, Harriet
Our bodies are with earthly food, 1146, i., The ark of God is safely rode
Our brother let us put in grave (tr. in the G. & G. Hymnal), 1, i., A Mon frère on a fait la fosse
Our Captain leads us on, 685, i., Hark, how the watchmen cry
Our country is heaven's promised land (Isaac), 114, i., Barnard (née Alkin), Anna L.
Our country's God, our Leading, 27, ii., Anderson (née Mackay), Mrs. J.
Our daily bread (Give us our daily bread, Miss Procter), 775, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Our day of praise is done, 1147, ii., The day is past and gone, thine God, we have to Thee
Our days, alas, our mortal days, 1208, ii., Watts, I.
Our dear Lord of grace hath given, 1197, ii., Unitarian
Our dear Lord of grace hath given, 1197, ii., Unitarian
Our ears have heard, and now our eyes, 625, i., Great is the Lord, of high renown
Our ears have heard, O glorious God, 1051, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Our ears have heard our fathers tell (Ps. xliv., Sternhold), 925, ii., Old Version
Our earth we now lament to see, 1203, ii., Wesley family, The
Our enraptured hearts shall rest: be weary (tr. Swanwick), 1261, ii., Zinzendorf, C. R. von
Our eyes we lift up to the hills, 321, i., Rawson, G.
Our faithful God hath sent us, 696, ii., Havergal, W. H.
Our Father and mosts gracious Lord (tr. Whittingham), 697, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father, and our heavenly King, 956, ii., Clapham, I. P.
Our Father, blest the bounteous store, 648, i., Grosse
Our Father, dear, which art in heaven, 1205, i., Vater unser im Himmelreich
Our Father, freed from error's chain (Jo. Williams), 698, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father, God, we pray (tr. Miss Fry), 643, ii., Gott der Vater wohn uns bei
Our Father God, Who art in heaven (Bettis), 139, ii., Bettis, H. J.
Our Father God, Who art in heaven (Judson), 609, i., Judson, A.; 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father God, Who art in heaven, To Thee (Anon.), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father God, Who hears all, 1205, i., Wesley family, The
Our Father, hear our longing prayer, 708, i., Macdonald, G.
Our Father, here again we raise, 643, i., Gray, T., jun.
Our Father, high enthroned above, 698, ii., Gillman, T.
Our Father, if indeed Thou art, 683, ii., Henkinson, T. E.
Our Father in heaven, we hallow Thy name, 681, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father in the heaven Who are, 1205, ii., Vater unser im Himmelreich

Our Father in the heavenly realm, 1205, i., Vater unser im Himmelreich
Our Father in the heavens above, 1205, i., Vater unser im Himmelreich
Our Father, lent in Thy dear lien (Jo. Williams), 698, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father Lord, Who art in heaven (Judson), 609, i., Judson, A.; 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father, our Father, Who dwellest in light, 697, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Our Father site on yonder throne, 612, i., Kelly, T.
Our Father, Thou in heaven above, 1205, i., Vater unser im Himmelreich
Our Father, through the coming year, 699, i., Gaskell, W.
Our Father, which in heaven art, And hallowed be all (tr. R. Cox), 697, i., Lord's (The) Prayer; 1205, i., Vater unser im Himmelreich
Our Father, which in heaven art, Lord hallowed be thy name (tr. in Ge. V., 1861), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father, which in heaven art, Lords' hallowed be (tr. H. Lok), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father, Who dost dwell above (J. Williams), 698, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our Father! Who from heaven above (tr. Jacobi), 1205, i., Vater unser im Himmelreich
Our Father, Who from heaven above (tr. Anderson), 1205, i., Vater unser im Himmelreich
Our Father, Who in heaven art, Thy name be hallowed (tr. in the N. V.), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer; 901, i., New Version
Our Father, Who in heaven art, Thy name be hallowed (tr. in the N. V.), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer; 901, i., New Version
Our Father, Whose eternal sway (Stephan), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our fathers were high-minded men, 672, ii., Gunn, H. M.
Our fatal worn is come, 699, ii., Havergal, W. H.
Our feet are standing, Lord, within (tr. Miss Borthwick), 1r. Neale), 27, ii., 28, i., Arbeits fest gegründ
Our few remaining years, 125, ii., Beddome, B.
Our few short years of trial o'er (tr. Gadsby), 609, i., Gellert, C. F.
Our God, Almighty, who formedst us? (tr. Mew), 825, i., O Christe uns unser pell
Our friend, our Brother, and our Lord, 1277, ii., Wimber, J. G.
Our Friendship sanctify and guide, 99, i., Author of Evening Hymn, The
Our God, a tower of strength is He, A good defence (tr. in Dulcken's Bk. of Ger. Songs), 885, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God is a tower of strength is He, A goodly wall (tr. Longfellow), 885, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God and our Redeemer, 1099, i., Stryker, M. W.
Our God approaches from the skies (tr. Jo. Williams), 868, i., Instantis adventum Dei
Our God, as all with mercy and loss (Ps. lxvii.), 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Our God He is a castle strong (tr. Macdonald), 885, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God, He is a fortress tower (tr. Prettingham), 885, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God, how firm His promise stands, 1259, ii., Watts, I.
Our God in glory sits on high, 818, ii., Kelly, J.
Our God, in His celestial seat (tr. Chandler), 963, ii., Ein Lämmlein geht
God is a strongheld indeed (tr. Fisher), 885, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God is good, in every place (In Hymns of the Spirit), 1261, i., Zinn, J. F.
Our God, Lord, we do not go, 893, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary
Our God lo love, O sweetly sing, 881, ii., Davis, T.
Our God is true! Then He will save forsake (tr. H. Mills), 879, i., Liebich, E.
God, our God, Thou blessed here, 621, ii., Gill, T. H.
Our God, our Father, with us stay (tr. Miss Warner), 643, ii., Gott der Vater wohn uns bei
Our God, our help in ages past (Ps. 90, Watts), 920, ii., Old Version, The
Our God stands firm, a rock and tower (tr. Singleton), 886, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God that is lord (Ps. lxvii., Whittingham), 1262, i., Scottish hymnody
Our God, the Lord, a Tree, Who hast made, 913, i., Proctor, Adelaide A.
Our God's a fastness sure indeed, A trusty (tr. McLintock), 885, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God's a fortress all secure (tr. Anon.), 886, ii., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God's a tower of strength (tr. Brooks), 886, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our God's a tower and shield (tr. Hunt), 886, i., Ein feste Burg ist unser Gott
Our gracious Father, which on his (tr. Whittingham), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our great High Priest is standing, 773, i., Monkhouse, G.
Our great High Priest we sing, 151, ii., Boden, J.
Our hearts and voices let us raise, 351, i., Father of all, in Whom we live
Our hearts are glad to hear, 600, ii., From year to year in love we greet
Our hearts, if God we seek to know, 249, i., Come, let us to the Lord our God
Our hearts shall praise Thee, God of love, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Our hearts still joy in Thee, 139, i., Bertram, B. A.
Our hearts with rapture, Lord, our voices proclaim, 262, ii., Hull, W.
Our heavenly Father! hear The prayer we offer now (Montgomery), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer; 708, i., Montgomery, J.
Our heavenly Father, hear our prayer (Montgomery), 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Our helper, God, we bless His [Thy] name, 781, i., My helper, God, I bless His name
Our Holy Saviour now shall come, 608, ii., Gregory, T. S.
Our hymn of thanks we sing to-day, 51, ii., Allnutt, S. S.
Our Jesus freely did appear, 1059, i., Since Jesus freely did appear
Our Jesus is gone up on high, 955, i., Rejoice, rejoice, ye fallen race
Our Jesus now at God's right hand (tr. H. Mills), 825, ii., Hiller, P. F.
Our journey is a thorny maze, 690, i., Lord, what a thorny wilderness
Our lamps are gone out, and the daylight is past, 218, ii., Charlesworth, V. J.
Our land, O Lord, with songs of praise, 114, ii., Barlow, J.
Our land with mercies crowned, 1287, i., Winkler, R. T.
Our leave of country now is taken (tr. H. Mills), 886, ii., Klein Zaboen wir von Vaterlande
Our life is ever on the wing, 1259, i., Watts, I.
Our limbs refreshed with slumber new, 1267, i., Neale, J. M.
Our limbs refreshed with sleep (tr. Hewett), 1267, ii., Somno refecta artubus
Our limbs refreshed with slumber new (tr. Neale), 1267, ii., Somno refecta artubus
Our limbs refreshed with slumber sweet (tr. Johnston), 1267, ii., Somno refecta artubus
Our limbs refreshed with wholesome sleep (tr. Mant), 1267, ii., Somno refecta artubus
Our limbs refreshed with healthful rest (tr. Copeland), 1267, ii., Somno refecta artubus
Our limbs with grateful sleep refreshed (tr. Chambers, 1267, ii., Somno refecta artubus
Our limbs with tranquil sleep refresh'd (tr. Caswall), 1267, ii., Somno refecta artubus
Our little bark, O rocks timf, 1306, i., Zinzendorf, N. L.
Our lives, our blood, we here present (tr. J. Wesley), 1287, i., Winckler, J. J.
Our Lord be praising, All His glory raising (tr. Miss Cox), 1016, ii., Schröder, J. H.
Our Lord Christ hath risen, 877, ii., Plumtre, W. C.
Our Lord is risen from the dead, 1265, i., Wesley family, The
Our Lord, the Death of suffering trod (tr. I. Williams), 205, i., Es ist vollbracht
Our Lord wept for Jerusalem (tr. H. Mills), 866, ii., Herrmann, J.
Our Lord, Who knows full well, 806, i., Newton, J.
Our lot is fallen in pleasant places (tr. B. Mandel), 805, i., Es ist uns ausgemessen
Our mansions fly apace, 1246, i., Watts, I.
Our mortal eyes are all too dim, 772, ii., Monkhouse, J.
Our nature fell in Adam's fall, 1272, ii., Spangler, L.
Our Paschal Lamb is risen, dwelling for, 630, ii., Litermann, Paul
Our portion is not here, 1006, ii., Smith, W. C.
Our praise Thou need'st not, but Thy love (tr. I. Williams), 807, ii., Ich bezahlen nothin eges
Our praise, Lord, Thou dost not need (tr. Chandler), 46, ii., Anthem: Nothing
Our prayer is heard: the holy Dove (tr. Chandler), 59, i., Anthem: Alme Spiritus







PRA INDEX. PRA 1443

Praise, O my soul, the Lord; how great, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praise, O praise our God and King (Baker), 673, ii., Let us with a gladsome mind
Praise, O praise our heavenly King (Tisdall), 677, ii., Let us with a gladsome mind
Praise, O praise our Lord of harvest, 662, ii., Hamilton, J. M.
Praise, O praise the Name divine, 725, ii., Merrick, J.
Praise, O Sion, praise thy Pastor (omits in the Hymnary), 665, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Praise, O Sion, thy deliverer (tr. omits in the Hymnary), 665, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Praise, O Sion, thy Redeemer (tr. Scottish), 665, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem; 675, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Praise, oh Sion, praise thy Pastor (tr. Bone), 665, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Praise our God, all creatures, 377, i., Conder, J.
Praise our God gracious, 99, i., Argenta, J.
Praise our God, it is but just (tr. Jacob), v. 3, alt.), 1060, i., Singen wir aus Herzens grund
Praise thy Almighty, the King of a glory unbounded (tr. Winkworth), 643, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise the God of all creation (J. Conder), 377, i., Conder, J.; 377, ii., Peace be to this habitation
Praise the high and holy One, 705, ii., Montgomery, J.
Praise the Lamb, praise the Lamb (Tr. Lib. Keble), 618, i., Psalters, English; 994, i., Santys, W.
Praise the Lord, for good is He, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praise the Lord, for He is kind (Tr. Lib. Keble), 613, ii., Keble, J.; 921, ii., Psalters, English
Praise the Lord, for mighty is the Lord, Kennedy, D. H.
Praise the Lord, for still He reigneth, 139, i., Bell, C. C.
Praise the Lord from heaven on high, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praise the Lord, His people; raise, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praise the Lord of boundless might, 336, i., Doddridge, P.
Praise the Lord of heaven, praise Him in the height, 127, i., Stevens, T. S.
Praise the Lord: praise our King, 993, i., Russell, A. T.
Praise the Lord, rejoice, ye Gentiles, 763, i., Monsell, J. S.
Praise the Lord! the sun of morning (tr. Sohn), 886, ii., Panke, J. S.
Praise the Lord, when blushing morning (tr. Anon.), 886, ii., Panke, J. S.
Praise the Lord Who died to save us, 615, ii., Kelly, T.
Praise the Lord whose mighty wonders (Anon.), 904, i., Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore Him
Praise the Lord; with exultation My whole heart (Ps. 111), 1061, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Praise the Lord, ye creatures, Shall my heart, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore Him (Anon. in Evang. Hymn. Ps. & H.), 615, i., Kempthorne, J.; 1276, i., While health and youth and strength remain
Praise the Redeemer, almighty to save, 679, i., Grosser, W.
Praise the Rock of our salvation, 1285, ii., Webb, B.
Praise the Saviour, all ye nations, 336, i., Francis, B.
Praise the Saviour, ye who know Him, 615, ii., Kelly, T.
Praise the Shepherd's gifts (tr. Neale), 999, i., Laus tibi detur tenue
Praise then, my soul, the most mighty and great King of Glory (tr. in the Suppl. to Ger. Pss.), 1060, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise then the Almighty, the King of creation (tr. J. H. Good), 643, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise then the Saviour, ye who know Him (tr. Anon.), 615, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Praise to Christ with exultant voice, 604, i., Laudes Christo redempti voce modulemur supplici
Praise to God, exceeding praise, 999, i., Praise to God, immortal praise
Praise to God, immortal praise, 114, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.
Praise to God on high be given, 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Praise to God, the great Creator, 1118, i., Taylor, John
Praise to God, unceasing praise, 999, i., Praise to God, immortal praise
Praise to God Who reigns above, 136, i., Bonnet, R. M.
Praise to Jehovah! the Almighty King of creation (tr. Miss Borthwick), 643, i., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise to Jesus, Lord and King, 139, i., Bell, W.
Praise to Jesus, Praise to God, 139, i., Bell, W.
Praise to our God, Whose bounteous hand, 927, ii., Ellerton, J.
Praise to our heavenly Father, God, 313, ii., Duffield, G.
Praise to our Lord, the Saviour dear (tr. Plumptre), 208, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem; 675, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Praise to the Father, the glorious King of creation, 643, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise to the Holiest in the height, 803, i., Newman, J. H.
Praise to the Lord! He is King over all the creation (tr. Porter), 643, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise to the Lord! the Almighty, the King of creation (tr. Winkworth), 643, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise to the Lord, the Omnipotent King of creation! (tr. Stryker), 643, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise to the Paschal Victim bring, 1226, i., Victimæ paschali
Praise to the Saviour, the glory of the saints (tr. Bodwell), 2, i., Abyssinian hymnody
Praise to Thee, O Lord, most holy (tr. Mrs. Chester), 727, ii., Miraklin Deus in sanctis
Praise to Thee, thou great Creator, 373, ii., Faweett, Jane
Praise to Thee, Whom hosts have watched us, 882, ii., Farr, Harriet
Praise to Thy Name, eternal God, 266, i., Doddridge, P.
Praise waits for Thee in Zion, Lord, for Thee, 1060, i., Smith, Sir J. E.
Praise waits in Zion, Lord, for Thee, There shall our vows be paid, 1265, ii., Watts, I.
Praise we Him in Whose kind favour, 615, i., Kelly, T.
Praise we the Lord this day, 878, i., Let us praise God this day
Praise we these ministers celestial (tr. Caswall), 276, ii., Custodes hominum psallicum angelos
Praise ye Jehovah, all ye men who fear Him (tr. J. Kelly), 615, ii., Kelly, T.
Praise ye Jehovah! praise the Lord most holy, 202, i., Campbell (nee Malcolm), Margaret, Lady Cockburn
Praise ye Jehovah, shout and sing (Ps. 148, Brammer), 922, ii., Psalters, English
Praise ye Jehovah! with anthems of praise come before Him, 643, i., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Praise ye the Lord, again, again, 221, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary
Praise ye the Lord, all nations, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praise ye the Lord, exalt His Name, 1262, ii., Watts, I.
Praise ye the Lord, for good is He, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praise ye the Lord, for He is good, His mercies last always (Ps. cvii., Norton), 886, i., Old Version
Praise ye the Lord, for He is good, For His mercy endureth for ever (Ps. cxxxvi., Sutton), 886, i., Old Version
Praise ye the Lord, for it is good Unto our God to sing (Ps. cxlvii., Norton), 886, i., Old Version Praise ye the Lord, for very good, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
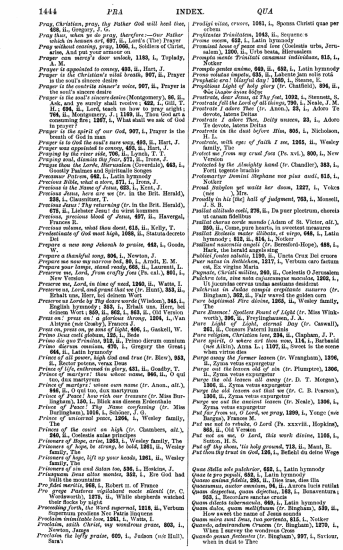
Praise ye the Lord, from heaven (Tr. Lib. Keble), 613, ii., Keble, J.; 921, ii., Psalters, English
Praise ye the Lord, His servants, raise, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Praise ye the Lord in joyful choir, 1327, i., Watts, I.
Praise ye the Lord, for praise employ, 1099, i., Stein, Anne
Praise ye the Lord, my heart shall join, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Praise ye the Lord on every height, 610, i., Heurnes (née Hall), Sara
Praise ye the Lord; our God to praise (Ps. cxl.), 886, ii., New Version
Praise ye the Lord, the eternal King, 1153, i., Neale, J.
Praise ye the Lord, 'tis good to raise, 1262, ii., Watts, I.
Praise ye the Lord with joyful tongue (Watts), 886, i., Praise ye the Lord! immortal choir; 1327, i., Watts, I.
Praise ye the Lord, ye Christians! yea (tr. Crosswell), 614, i., Herman, N.
Praise ye the Redeemer, praise His Name, 1100, i., Swain, J.
Praised be the Lord, my Rock of might, 622, ii., Kennedy, D. H.
Praised be Thou, O Jesus Christ (tr. Macdonald), 805, i., Gelobet seist du Jesu Christ
Praises to Him Whose love has given, 805, ii., Praise to Him Who built the hills
Praise we to-morning to Jesus, Almighty and Royal (tr. Winkworth), 643, ii., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
Pray, always pray, the Holy Spirit pleads, 888, i., Peace, perfect peace, in this dark world of sin



1444 PRA INDEX. QUA

Pray, Christian, pray, thy Father God will heed thee, 628, ii., Gregory, J. G.
Pray thus, when ye go pray, therefore:—Our Father which in heaven art, 697, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Pray without ceasing, pray, 1060, i., Soldiers of Christ, arise, and put your armour on Prayer (an weary's door unlock, 1193, i., Tuplady, A. M.
Prayer is appointed to convey, 623, ii., Hart, J.
Prayer is the Christian's vital breath, 907, ii., Prayer is the soul's sincere desire
Prayer is the contrite sinner's voice, 907, ii., Prayer is the soul's sincere desire
Prayer is the soul's sincere desire (Montgomery), 90, ii., Ask, and ye surely shall receive; 622, i., Gill, T. H.; 698, ii., Lord, teach us how to pray aright; 706, ii., Montgomery, J.; 1180, ii., Thou God art a God of strong love; 1267, i., What shall we ask of God in prayer?
Prayer is the spirit of our God, 907, i., Prayer is the breath of God in man
Prayer is to God the soul's sure way, 623, ii., Hart, J.
Prayer, mighty prayer, Sent down from heaven, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Praying by the river side, 726, ii., Lynch, T. T.
Praying soul, dismiss thy fear, 371, ii., Iverz, J.
Praye thus the Lorde, Hierusalem (Coverdale), 643, i., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Precious Bible, what a treasure, 271, i., Ivers, J.
Precious Bible, what a store, 271, i., Ivers, J.
Precious is the Name of Jesus, 623, i., Kent, J.
Precious Jesus, here are we (tr. in the Brit. Herald), 230, i., Clausthaler, T.
Precious name, O how charming (tr. in the Brit. Herald), 679, ii., Lichter Jesu! du wirst kommen
Precious, precious blood of Jesus, 497, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Precious volumes, what then dost, 613, ii., Kelly, T.
Preparation of God must high, 1060, ii., Statuta decreta Dei
Prepare a new song Jehovah to praise, 662, i., Goode, W.
Prepare a thankful song, 906, i., Newton, J.
Prepare for battle, stand to arms, 1237, i., Watts, I.
Prepare your lamps trimmed ready, 663, ii., Lauweli, L.
Preserve me, Lord, from crafty foes (Ps. cxl.), 801, i., New Version
Preserve me, Lord, in time of need, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Preserve us, Lord, by Thy dear word (tr. Hunt), 353, ii., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort
Preserve us Lorde by Thy deare worde (Winkon), 345, i., Erhalt uns, Herr, bei deinem Wort; 859, ii., 862, i., 863, ii., Old Version
Preserve us, O Lord, in gladness strong, 1256, i., Vos laudes nunc Deus gloriose
Press on, press on, ye sons of light, 606, i., Gaskell, W.
Prima Jesu cunctis gloria, 126, i., Bede
Primo die quo Trinitas, 312, ii., Primo dierum omnium
Primo dierum omnium, 676, i., Gregory the Great, Pope
Prince of Life, enthroned in glory, 631, ii., Goadby, T.
Prince of martyrs, blest was the day, 1061, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Prince of martyrs; sweet sun came (tr. Anon., alt.), 986, ii., O qui tuo, dux martyrum
Prince of Peace! how rich our treasure (tr. Miss Burlingham), 1016, i., Schuyler, J. G.
Prince of Peace! Thy Name confessing (tr. Miss Burlingham), 1016, i., Schuyler, J. G.
Prince of universal peace, 1266, i., Wesley family, The Prince of the desert on high (tr. Chambers, alt.), 240, ii., Custodis nitide principes Prisoners of Hope, arise, 1265, i., Wesley family, The Prisoners of hope, be strong, be bold, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Prisoners of sin, lift up your heads, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Prisoners of sin and Satan too, 336, i., Hopkins, J.
Priusquam Jesu alme mundo, 312, i., Ere God had built the mountains
Pro pace regnum, Robert rt. of France
Pro pace Pastores, vigilabant nocte silenti (tr. C. Wordsworth), 1272, ii., While shepherds watched their flocks by night
Proceeding forth, the Word supernal, 1218, ii., Verbum supernum prodiens, nec Patris
Proclaim tremendous love, 1261, i., Wesley
Proclaim, salute Christ, my wondrous grace, 803, i., Newton, John Proclaim the lofty praise, 609, i., Judson (née Hall), Sara

Prodigi vitæ, crucem, 1061, i., Spoems Christi quæ per crucem
Prophetiæ Trinitatem, 1043, ii., Sequence s
Prima nocte, 632, i., Latin hymnody
Promised home of peace and love (Coelestis urbs, Jerusalem), 1266, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
Pro quibus nobis Trinitati cæsarea individuæ, 615, i., Nicker
Promptis pectus excitus, 949, ii., 950, i., Latin hymnody
Prono solatus impetu, 633, ii., Labente jam solis rota
Prophetic eye! blissful day! 1050, i., Simon, S.
Propitious light of holy glory (tr. Chatfield), 594, ii., Lucis creator optime
Prostrate, dear Jesus, at Thy feet, 1, i., Sarnett, S.
Prostrate fell the Lord of all things, 799, i., Neale, J. M.
Prostrate I adore Thee (tr. Anon.), 59, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Prostrate I fall before Thee, Deity unseen, 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Prostrate in the dust before Him, 805, i., Nicolaus, H. L.
Prostrate, with eye of faith I see, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The Protect me from my cruel foes (Ps. xvi.), 800, i., New Version
Protected by the Almighty hand (tr. Chandler), 283, i., Forti tegmine lucidus
Protector noster Jesum Stephane vos pius audi, 815, i., Nokter
Proud Solyman yet waits her doom, 1227, i., Vokes (née), Mrs.
Proudly in Air [the] ball of judgment, 763, i., Monsell, J. S.
Psallat ecclesia cœli, 276, ii., De pure plantum, chorea ut cæsum fidelibus
Psallat chorus corde mundo (Adam of St. Victor, alt.), 250, ii., Come, pure hearts, in sweetest measures
Psallat ecclesia mystica, 276, ii., Psallat ecclesia, 666, i., Latin hymnody; 818, ii., 819, i., Nokter
Psallitet saluentis angeli (tr. Beresford-Hope), 488, i., Hark, the herald angels sing
Psallite fontes salutis, 1190, ii., Uncta Crux Dei cruces
Psallite regi gloriæ, 1277, i., Verbum caro factum est, En virgo Maria
Pugnate, Christi milites, 240, ii., Coelestis O Jerusalem
Pulchre tuis, rex sanctæ cæsarumque manibus, 1262, i., Ut jucundus cervus undas sentiens desiderat
Purest of the pure, and strongest of the mighty (tr. Bingham), 333, ii., Fac, o potens, quidquid cum
Pure Baptismal Fire divine, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Pure Heaven! Spotless Feast of Light (tr. Miss Winkworth), 382, i., Hell'ge Himmel, Jesu, dein
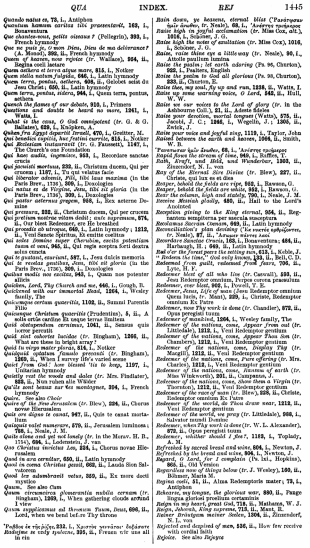
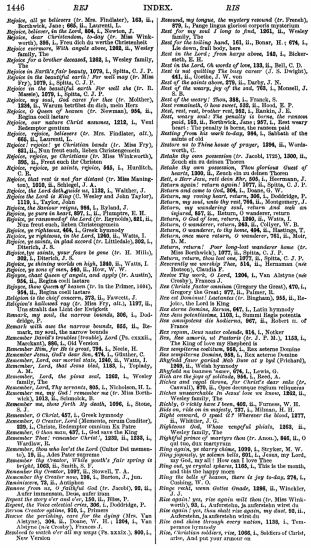
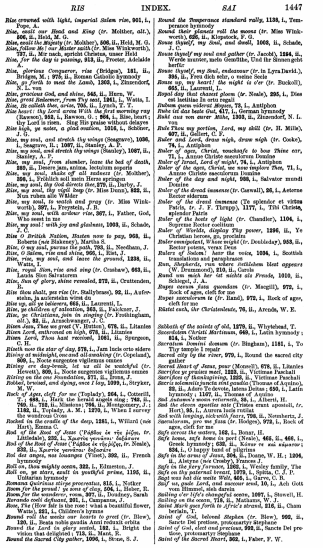
Pure in heart, O Lord, we pray (tr. Caswall), 261, ii., Corpora Patrem laudata
Pure religion, Christian love, 234, ii., Clapham, J. P.
Pure spirit, O where art thou now, 114, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.; 1197, ii., Sweet is the scene my infant view
Purge away the former leaven (tr. Wrangham), 1266, ii., Zyma vetus expurgetur
Purge away the sins that dim the light (tr. Plumptre), 1266, ii., Zyma vetus expurgetur
Purge, O Lord, our hearts and consciences (tr. D. T. Morgan), 1266, ii., Zyma vetus expurgetur
Purge the old leaven out that we (tr. C. B. Pearson), 1266, ii., Zyma vetus expurgetur
Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be (tr. Neale), 1266, i., Zyma vetus expurgetur
Put far from us, O Lord, we pray, 1266, i., Yonge (née Bargus), Frances M.
Put me not to rebuke, O Lord (Ps. xxxviii., Hopkins), 1266, ii., Sutton, H. S.
Put not me to rebuke, O Lord, this week divine, 1266, i., Sutton, H. S.
Put off thy shoes, 'tis holy ground, 713, ii., Mant, R.
Put thou thy trust in God, 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege

Quæ stella sole pulchrior, 633, ii., Latin hymnody
Quæ te pro pectis, 633, ii., Latin hymnody
Quanto anima fidelis, 885, ii., Tibi iran, dies ilia
Quam dilecta tabernacula, 1265, ii., Latin hymnody
Quam dispectus, quam dejectus, 183, i., Benaventura; 963, i., Recordare sanctae crucis
Quam dilecta tabernacula, 885, i., Latin hymnody
Quam dulce, quam mellifluum (tr. Bingham), 330, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria, dans vera
Quam velox mihi Jesus, tua pertesa, 815, i., Nokter
Quando, admirandum Crucem (tr. Bingham), 1270, i., When I survey the wondrous Cross
Quando genus flebentis (tr. Bingham), 997, i., Saviour, when in dust to Thee







Rise crowned with light, imperial Salem rise, 901, i., Pope, A.
Rise, O my soul! Blest and King (tr. Mobber, alt.), 1000, ii., Hold, M. G.
Rise, send the Majesty (tr. Mobber), 606, ii., Hold, M. G.
Rise, follow Me! our Master saith (tr. Miss Winkworth), 727, ii., My task, sprites Christus, unser Held Rise, for the day is passing, 913, ii., Procter, Adelaide A.
Rise, glorious Conqueror, rise (Bridges), 181, ii., Bridges, M. ; 976, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Rise, go forth to meet the Lamb, 1305, i., Ehrenfort, C. Von Rise, grace from God, and shine, 945, ii., Herx, W.
Rise, great Redeemer, from Thy seat, 1361, i., Watts, I.
Rise, its salleth thee, arise, 705, ii., Lynch, T. T.
Rise heart! thy Lord arose With the first morning ray (Easter), 932, i., Rawson, G. ; 958, i., Rise, heart; thy Lord is risen. Sung without the Alleluias Rise high the joy notes, a glad creation, 1016, ii., Schäfer, J. C.
Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings (Seagrave), 1026, i., Seagrave, R. ; 1097, ii., Stanley, A. P.
Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings (Stanley), 1097, ii., Stanley, A. P.
Rise, my soul, from slumber, leave the bed of death, 920, ii., Denza jam, scitius, lectulum exporta
Rise, my soul, shake off all sadness (tr. Mobber), 606, ii., Hold, M. G. Sweeter Herre springen
Rise, my soul, thy God doth call thee, 979, ii., Derby, J.
Rise, my soul, thy vigil keep (tr. Miss Dunn), 922, ii., Von ruhen alle Wälder
Rise, my soul, to watch and pray (tr. Miss Winkworth), 597, i., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Rise, my soul, with ardour rise, 307, i., Fuller, God, thy Saviour lives
Rise, my soul! with joy and gladness, 1005, ii., Schaeb, J. C.
Rise O British Nation, Nineveh now to pay, 969, ii., Roberts (née Hickman), Martha E.
Rise, O Jerusalem, rise and shine, 1024, ii., Needham, J.
Rise, O Salem, rise and shine, 969, i., Eliot, J.
Rise, rise, my soul, and leave the ground, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Rise, royal Sion, rise and sing (tr. Cranbaw), 863, ii., Jam lucis orto sidere
Rise, Sun of glory, shine revealed, 272, ii., Cruttenden, H.
Rise thou shalt, yea rise (tr. Hallylmas), 92, ii., Auferstehn, ja auferstehn wirst du Rise, ye children of salvation, 1305, i., Lavenstedt, L.
Rise, ye children of salvation, 305, ii., Faichney, J.
Rise, ye Christians, join in singing (tr. Frothingham, alt.), 92, ii., Auferstehungs-J. C.
Risen Jam, Thee we greet (V. Breton), 679, ii., Litanies
Risen Lord, Thou hast received, 1001, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Risen Lord, Thou hast received, 1001, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
Risen now the star of day, 878, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
Rising at midnight, succeed all awaking (tr. Copeland), 1, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
Rising on day-break, let us all be watchful (tr. Hewett), 809, i., Nocte surgentes vigilemus omnes
Rising on the one Foundation, 371, ii., Evans, J.
Robbed, bruised, and dying, once I lay, 1009, i., Stryker, D. J.
Rock of Ages, cleft for me (Toplady), 956, i., Cotterill, T. ; 958, i., Hark the herald angels sing ; 782, ii., 783, ii., 792, ii., Hawkes ; 794, ii., Montgomery, J. ; 1182, ii., Toplady, A. M. ; 1270, i., When I survey the wondrous cross
Rocked in the cradle of the deep, 1281, i., Willard (née Hart), Emma C.
Rod of the Root of Jesse (Ραδίξ ἐκ τῆς ῥίζης, tr. Littledale), 222, i., Χαιρέτε γενέσεις· Ἐκδέχετε
Rod of the Root of Jesse (Ραδίξ ἐκ τῆς ῥίζης, tr. Neale), 838, ii., Χαιρέτε γενέσεις· Ἐκδέχετε
Rod des ampes, nos louanges (Vinet), 202, ii., French hymnody
Roll on, thou mighty ocean, 322, i., Ellerton, J.
Roll on, thou mighty ocean of time, 1195, ii., Unitarian hymnody
Romana Quiritis stirpe procreatus, 815, i., Notker
Room for the proud! ye sons of clay, 576, i., Heber, R.
Room, for the wonders; room, 3027, ii., Doudney, Sarah
Rose, The (Wer hat die rose), 1281, i., Willard
Rose, The (Wer hat die rose: what a beautiful flower, Watts), 281, i., Children's hymns
Rowed well the weeks our hearts to greet (tr. Blew), 120, ii., Beata nobis gaudia Anni reducit orbita
Rowed well the year our hearts to greet, 120, ii., Bright the orbits that delight us', 718, ii., Mant, R.
Round the Sacred City gather, 1006, i., Stone, S. J.
Round the Tempestuous standard rally, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Rouse! then, O mind, call the muses (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
Rouse thyself, my heart, and weep, 1005, ii., Schade, J. C.
Rouse thyself my soul and gather (tr. Jacob), 1244, ii., Werde munter, mein Gemüthe, Und ihr Sinnen gebt Acht
Rouse thyself, my soul, redeemer (tr. in Lyra David), 999, ii., Frez dich sehr, o meine Seele
Rouse ye, my heart! the night is o'er (tr. Buckoll), 665, ii., Laurenti, J.
Rouse ye, my heart! the morn (tr. Neale), 295, i., Dies est laetitiae In orto regni
Rubum quem viderat Moyses, 73, i., Antiphon
Ruhe ist das beste Gut, 677, i., German hymnody
Ruht nur von eurer Mühe, 1303, ii., Ehrenfort, N. L. jun.
Rule Thou my portion, Lord, my child (tr. H. Mills), 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Ruler and Lord, draw nigh, draw nigh (tr. Cooke), 74, i., Antiphon
Ruler of heaven, God, vouchsafe to hear Thine ear, 71, i., Antiphon
Ruler of Israel, Lord of might, 74, i., Antiphon
Ruler of the ages, Christ, we now implore Thee, 71, i., Antiphon
Ruler of the day and night, 668, i., Salvator mundi Domine
Ruler of the dread nemesis (tr. Caswall), 50, i., Aeterne Rector siderum
Ruler of the grand cameras (Tu splendor et vittus Patris, tr. J. F. Thrupp), 1177, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
Ruler of the spirits of light (tr. Chandler), 1106, i., Supreme Rector coelitum
Ruler of Worlds, display Thy power, 1206, ii., Ye Christian heroes, go, proclaim Ruler omnipotent, Whose might (tr. Doddridge), 985, ii., Rector potens, verax Deus
Rulers of Salem! hear the voice, 1024, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Run, shepherds, run where Bethlehem blest appears (W. Drummond), 219, ii., Carols
Rust, The, will not tarnish all her wealth als Fremde, 1010, ii., Skinglas, J. A.
Rupes corum fons quondam (tr. Macgill), 972, i., Rock of ages, cleft for me
Rupes sanctorum te (tr. Hand), 972, i., Rock of ages, cleft for me
Rüstet euch, ihr Christenheer, 76, ii., Atrede, W. E.

Sabbath of the saints of old, 1279, ii., Whytehead, T.
Sabbath of the soul, the, 1279, ii., Latin hymnody ; 814, i., Notker
Sacratissimi Domini diem (tr. Bingham), 1161, i., To Thy temple I repair
Sacred city by the river, 979, i., Round the sacred city groups
Sacred dawn of Jesus, peace (Monod), 679, ii., Litanies
Sacrifice for praises meet, 1233, ii., Victimae Paschali
Sacrifice of thanksgiving, 1233, ii., Victimae Paschali
Sacris solemniis juncta sint gaudia (Thomas of Aquino), 1233, ii., Victimae Paschali ; 1240, i., Latin hymnody ; 1307, ii., Thomas of Aquino, S.
Sad Judaea's woes returneth, 59, i., Albert, H.
Sad the eleven apostles mix (Tristes erant apostoli, tr. Hort), 95, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
Sadness, sighing, sorrow, weeping, 1009, ii., Nowhertz, J.
Sanctorum, you we Jesu (tr. Hodges), 972, i., Rock of ages, cleft for me
Safe across the waters, 163, i., Bonar, H.
Safe home, safe home in port (Neale), 402, ii., 406, i., Safe home, safe home in port ; Σῶστε τὸν κε κερατε ; 624, i., O happy band of pilgrims
Safe in the arms of Jesus, 988, ii., Doane, W. H. ; 1206, ii., Alwyn (née Cosby), Frances J.
Safe in the fiery furnace, 1202, i., Wesley family, The Safe in the hollow of His hand, 1009, ii., Bliss, P. P.
Safe was God His only Child, 662, i., Spitta, C. H.
Safe! ist, gnade Lord, und ausserer send, 10, i., Ach Gott vom Himmel, sieh darein
Sailing o'er life's changeful scene, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Saint Mark goes forth to Alva's shrine, 216, ii., Chambers, J.
Saint Mark goes forth to Alva's shrine, 216, ii., Chambers, J.
Saint of God, beloved Stephen (tr. Blew), 996, ii., Sancte Dei pretiose, proloeantor stephane
Saint of God, elect and precious, 996, ii., Sancte Dei pretiose, proloeantor stephane
Saint of the Sacred Heart, 962, i., Faber, F. W.

Saints, at your heavenly Father's word, 1258, ii., Watts, I.
Saints die, and we should gently weep, 782, ii., Medley, S.
Saints crowned high in glory, 609, i., Unite, J.
Saints in glory, see together, 16, i., Adams, N.
Saints, in highest realms of glory, 307, i., Saints, exalted high in glory
Saints of God, whose faith united, 795, i., Neale, J. M.
Saints, the glorious Mother greeting (tr. Chambers), 976, i., Fontem matris gloriosa
Saints' whom in heaven our glory doth await (tr. Pott), 241, ii., Coeio quos eadem gloria consecrat
Salem, the mighty city (Jerusalem, the golden), Mother, John
Salir was mid dainer Liebe Lauen, 1, ii., Lenzeit, G.
Salem to shouting with her children (tr. Mrs. Charles), 1113, ii., Syrie hymnody
Salt of the earth, ye virtuous few, 114, i., Barbauld (née Aikin), Anna L.
Salve, festa dies, toto venerabilis aevo (Bingham), 998, i., Salvation, O the joyful sound
Salvete ostensae Matris, 976, i., Festiva saecla colitur
Salutis humanae Sator, 220, ii., 221, i., Jam nostra
Salve mundi salutare, 1161, i., To Thy temple I repair
Salve nos, Jesuiste, vigilantes, 665, i., God that madest earth and heaven
Salvation by grace, how charming the song, 623, ii., Kent, J.
Salvation hath come down to us, 1076, ii., Spratus, P.
Salvation is a loan, 1272, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Salvation is for ever nigh, 1286, ii., Watts, I.
Salvation is of God alone, 815, ii., Kelly, T.
Salvation, Lord, is Thine, 734, i., Whitaker, A.
Salvation, O the joyful sound, 998, i., Bingham, T.
Salvation to our God, 833, i., Dean (née Bewly), Mary
Salvation, what a glorious plan, 804, i., Newton, J.
Salvation! What a precious word, 794, ii., Millner, A.
Salvation's knocking Spring! to Thee (tr. Buckoll), 140, ii., Laurenti, J. ; Latin hymnody, 814, i.
Salvation's song to pilgrims (tr. Hurlbut), C. R.
Salvation's star, the heavens glows, 976, i., Jam Christe sol justitiae
Salvator mundi, Domine, 998, ii., Carols ; 821, ii., Latin hymnody ; 1110, i., Primers ; 1206, ii., Public School hymn-books
Salve arca fenderis, 1093, i., Salve mundi Domina
Salve Caput cruentatum (St. Bernard), 29, i., Alexander, J. W. ; 1091, ii., French hymnody ; 1113, ii., German hymnody ; 1264, i., O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden ; 1265, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Salve, cruz lucis, salve (Petrarca), 1045, i., Gerlet, L. A. ; 1091, ii., Petrarca, F. V.
Salve Crux sancta, Salve mundi gloria, 680, i., Latin hymnody
Salve festa dies toto venerabilis aevo Qua Deus de coelo victor ad inferos, 1093, i., Salve festa dies
Salve festa dies toto venerabilis aevo Qua Jesus ecclesiam dicit heavre suam, 1093, i., Salve festa dies
Salve festa dies toto venerabilis aevo Qua Jesus ex mortuis surrexit et astra tenet, 998, ii., Salve festa dies
Salve festa dies toto venerabilis aevo Qua Jesus ascendit et astra tenet (Fortunatus), 998, i., Latin hymnody ; 998, ii., Salve festa dies ; 1130, i., Translations and paraphrases
Salve festa dies toto venerabilis aevo Qua spiritus almificus Discipulis, 998, i., Salve festa dies
Salve Jesu Christe, misericordiae, 998, i., Salve regina misericordiae
Salve, patrie bone, 999, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Salve Jesu Nazarene, 998, i., Salve mundi salutare
Salve Jesu, Rex sanctorum, 999, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Salve Jesu, summe bonus, 999, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Salve, O Virgo Virginum, Stella matutina, 1.8, i., Adam de Victore ; 1264, i., Salve mundi salutare
Salve mea O patrona Cruce, 680, ii., Latin hymnody
Salve mecum obtinere, 999, i., Salve mundi salutare
Salve mi Jesuitice, 680, ii., Latin hymnody
Salve, mundi salutare (St. Bernard), 127, i., Bernard of Clairvaux ; 815, i., Latin hymnody ; 1.7, 685, i., Jam dulcis amor nostri ; 968, i., Latin hymnody ; 998, i., O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden
Salve, nomen potestatis (tr. Bingham), 62, ii., All hail! in the name of Jesus' Name
Salve porta per quam lucis fulgida, 813, i., Notker
Salve regina, misericordiae, 998, ii., Salve, regina misericordiae
Salve regina misericordiae, 81, ii., Alma Redemptoris
Salve regina misericordiae, 680, ii., Latin hymnody ; 1213, i., Vos laeste Spiritus, Benedicte coelestium
Salve flos sanctae misericordiae, 998, i., Salve regina misericordiae
Salve salutifere, 680, ii., Latin hymnody
Salve salve mea, Jesu, 999, ii., Salve mundi salutare

Salve, salve, Jesu pie, 169, i., Bonaventura
Salve, trigonum glorie, 135, i., Sedo
Salvete agni electi turbe, 813, i., Notker
Salvete flores martyrum (Prudentius), 683, ii., Latin hymnody ; 815, i., Primers ; 966, i., ii., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
Salvete mentes, lumen regnat, 1003, i., Dulcet mater fulgorum
Samela per orbem ecclesia venerabilis, 815, i., Notker
Sancta Dei pretiose, 683, ii., Latin hymnody
Sancti Baptistae Christi gramenta, 814, i., Notker
Sancti bella subdomans triumphans, 814, i., Notker
Sancti merita Benedicti excelsa, 814, i., Notker
Sancti, venite, Christi corpus sumite (Thomas of Aquino), 680, i., Latin hymnody ; 814, i., Notker ; 967, ii., Robert II. of France ; 1060, ii., Sequences ; 1207, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes ; 1213, ii., 1215, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Sancti venite Christi corpus sumite, Quo fecundatis, 1060, ii., Sequences
Sancti venite Corpus Christi sumite, 646, i., Latin hymnody
Sanctify us wholly, Dost of Christ adored (tr. T. I. Ball), 1206, ii., Public School hymn-books
Sanctorum meritis inclyta gaudia, 815, i., Latin hymnody
Sanctus Petrus non vos hey, 443, i., Gott der Vater wohn uns bei
Sanctus, sanctus, sanctus (Heilig ist Gott der Vater), 295, ii., Declus, N.
Sanguis ex Emmanuelis (tr. Macgill), 1163, i., There is a fountain filled with blood
Sat Paule sat terris datum (S. de la Bruniere), 1206, ii., Public School hymn-books
Saturnius Veranius, 815, ii., Latin hymnody
Save me, o God, for thy waters side (Ps. lix., Keble), 1232, ii., Scottish hymnody
Saul, why seek furious hate, nach Mündel soul? 894, i., Watts, I.
Saule, tenuis vox la hostes, 949, i., Quos in hostes Saule, tendis
Save. See also Safe and Save
Save me by Thy glorious name, 727, i., Lyte, H. F.
Save me, O God, for Thy Name's sake (Ps. liv.), 901, ii., Old Version
Save me, O God, and that with speed (Ps. lxix., Hopkins), 903, ii., Old Version
Save me, O God, from waves that roll (Ps. lxix.), 800, ii., New Version
Save, O God, the dangerous billows roll, 632, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Save me through Thy name, O God, 632, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Saved from the damning power of sin, 605, ii., Kent, J.
Saviour abide with us (canto Cooke & Neale), 1147, ii., The day, O Lord, is spent
Saviour, again to Thy dear Name we raise, 327, ii., Ellerton, J. ; 1147, i., The day is past and gone, O our God, we pray to Thee
Saviour, and Master, here we kneel, 1118, i., Taylor, T. R.
Saviour and Master, here we kneel (Tibi), 632, ii., Hood, E. P.
Saviour bless a little child, 1204, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Saviour, blest Thy word to all, 1405, ii., Bruay, J. G.
Saviour, breathe an evening blessing, 321, ii., Edmeston, J.
Saviour,' by Thy holy birth (tr. W. L. Alexander), 626, i., Klopstock, F. G.
Saviour, by Thy sweet compassion, 869, ii., Cross (née Cantrinige), Ada
Saviour, cast a pitying eye, 1203, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, blessed Wise all below, 124, ii., Jesu Redemptor mundi, Verbum Patris silentium
Saviour, come, Thy friends [saints] await Thee (ere waiting), 632, ii., Kelly, T.
Saviour dearest, Thou art my King, 927, ii., Hobson, J. J.
Saviour, Father, Brother, Friend, 1197, ii., United prayers ascend to Thee
Saviour, for Thy love we praise Thee, 888, ii., Pearse, M. A.
Saviour from sin, I want to prove, 820, i., O Jesu, still will shall I prove ; 1202, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, guide this little band, 1207, i., Stowell, H.
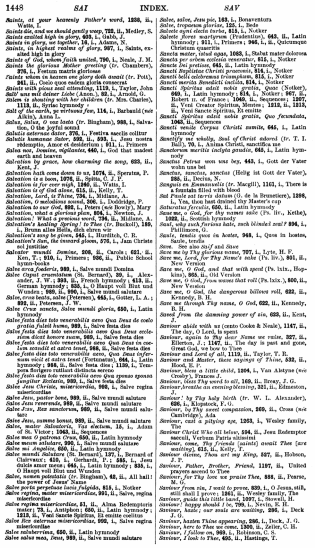
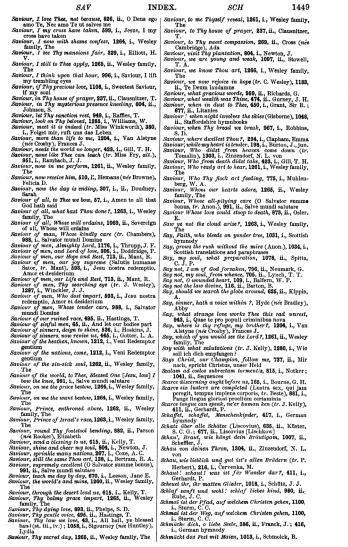
Saviour! happy should I be, 799, i., Nevin, E. H.
Saviour, hark! our souls are waiting, 396, i., Beck (née Cox), Sarah
Saviour, hasten Thine appearing, 296, i., Duck, J. G.
Saviour, here to Thee we come, 1305, ii., Zeller, C. H.
Saviour, I follow on, 962, i., Robinson, C. S.
Saviour, I look to Thee, 655, ii., Hastings, T.





Saviour, I love Thee, not because, 886, ii., O Deus ego amo te nec quia
Saviour, I my cross have taken, 599, i., Jesus, I my cross have taken Saviour, I now with shame confess, 1006, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, in Thy mansions fair, 320, i., Elliott, H.
Saviour, I still to Thee apply, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, I think upon that hour, 996, i., Saviour, I lift my trembling eyes
Saviour, if my precious love, 1108, i., Sweetest Saviour, if my Saviour, in Thy house of prayer, 297, ii., Clausnitzer, T.
Saviour, in Thy mysterious presence kneeling, 604, ii., Johnson, S.
Saviour, let Thy mention not 949, i., Baffles, T.
Saviour, may Thy feeling soul 1262, ii., Wesley, W.
Saviour, meet it is ordain'd (tr. Miss Winkworth), 380, i., Folget mir, ruft nun das Leben
Saviour, more than life to me, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Saviour, more than tongue can sing, 603, i., Gill, T. H.
Saviour, none like Thee can teach (tr. Miss Fry, alt.), 901, i., Bambach, J. J.
Saviour, now in me perform, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, now receive him, 510, ii., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
Saviour, now the day is ending, 307, i., ii., Dunlavy, Sarah
Saviour of all, to Thee we bow, 57, i., Amen to all that Thou dost
Saviour of all, what hast Thou done? 1263, i., Wesley family, The Saviour of all, Whose will ordains, 1069, ii., Sovereign of all, Whose will ordains
Saviour, on Thy friendly care (tr. Chambers), 895, i., Salvator noster! Domine
Saviour of men, almighty Lord, 1176, i., Threpp, J. F.
Saviour of men, and Lord of love, 966, i., Doddridge, P.
Saviour of men, our Hope and Best, 713, ii., Mant, R.
Saviour of men, Thy dying love (tr. Miss Winkworth), 380, i., Salve, tr. Mant), 895, i., Jesu mentis redemptio, Amor et desiderium
Saviour of men, our life and Rest, 713, ii., Mant, R.
Saviour of men, Thy surviving eye (tr. J. Wesley), 1262, ii., Wesley, W.
Saviour of men, Who dost impart, 895, i., Jesu mentis redemptio, Amor et desiderium
Saviour of men, Whose tender care, 900, i., Salvator noster! Domine
Saviour, my wearied eyes, 695, ii., Hastings, T.
Saviour of sinful men, 61, ii., And we our bodies part
Saviour of sinners, deign to shine, 236, i., Hoskins, J.
Saviour of sinners, woo receive us, 895, i., Gotter, L. A.
Saviour of the heathen, known, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Saviour of the nations, come, 1212, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
Saviour of the sin-sick soul, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour of the world, to Thee, blessed One (Jesu, lux! for love true), 901, i., Salve mundi salutare
Saviour on us the grace bestow, 1264, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, on us the wont bestow, 1264, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, Prince, enthroned above, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, Prince of Israel's race, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, round Thy footstool bending, 883, ii., Parson (née Rucker), Elizabeth
Saviour, send a blessing to us, 214, ii., Kelly, T.
Saviour, shine and cheer my soul, 694, i., Newton, J.
Saviour, sprinkle many nations, 307, i., Cone, A. G.
Saviour, still Thy grace bestow, 1264, i., Bertram, R. A.
Saviour, teach me (O Salvator mentem bene), 901, i., Salve mundi salutare
Saviour, teach me day by day, 675, i., Leeson, Jane E.
Saviour, the world's dead mists, 1260, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, through the desert land us, 214, i., Kelly, T.
Saviour, Thy balmy grace impart, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, Thy dying love, 893, ii., Phelps, S. D.
Saviour, Thy gentle voice, 892, ii., Hall, Leigh, T.
Saviour, Thy mercies I adore, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The (tr. ii., iv.); 1004, i., Signatory (nee Huntley), Lydia
Saviour, Thy sacred step, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, to me Thyself reveal, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, to Thy house of prayer, 297, ii., Clausnitzer, T.
Saviour, to Thy most compassion, 900, ii., Crum (née Cantebridge), Ada
Saviour, send Thy plantation, 964, i., Newton, J.
Saviour, we are young and weak, 1097, ii., Sherwill, J.
Saviour, we know Thou art, 1265, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, we now rejoice in hope (tr. C. Wesley), 1133, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Saviour, what sacred words, 969, ii., Richards, G.
Saviour, what wealth was Thine, 678, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Saviour, when in dust to Thee, 460, i., Grant, Sir R.; 477, ii., Lisarius
Saviour! when night involves the skies (Osborne), 1060, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, when Thy bread we break, 987, i., Robbins, S. B.
Saviour, where dwellest Thou? 234, i., Clapham, Emma Saviour, while my heart is tender, 199, i., Bevan, J.; Jun.
Saviour, who Thy soul didst lay, 1265, ii., Wesley family, The (tr. Tomaltz), 1303, i., Dannehorf, R. L. van Saviour, Who from death didst take, 460, i., Gill, T. H.
Saviour, Who vastly art to hear, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Saviour, Who Thy flock art feeding, 775, i., Muhlenberg, W. A.
Saviour, Whom our hearts adore, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The Saviour, Whose all-glorying cure (O Salvator summe gloriosa), 901, i., Salve mundi salutare
Saviour! whose love could stoop to death, 972, ii., Osler, E.
Saw ye not the cloud arise? 1265, i., Wesley family, The Say, Parish, who bleeds on yonder tree, 1031, i., Scottish Translation
Say, ground the rush without the wire (Anon.), 1034, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Say, my soul, what preparation, 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Say not, "I am of God formed," 793, ii., Neumark, G.
Say not, my soul, from whence, 700, ii., Lovell, A.
Say not, O wounded heart, 199, i., Bathurst, W. F.
Say not the love divine, 116, ii., Burton, B.
Say, should we search the globe around, 634, ii., Klopis, K.
Say, sinner, hath a voice within ? Hyde (née Bradley), Abby
Say, what strange love works Thee sad unrest, 243, i., Quat to pay papal criminibus tura
Say, where is thy refuge, my brother? 1004, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Say, which of you would die Lord? 1261, ii., Wesley family, The Say with what salutations (tr. J. Kelly), 1260, i., Wie soll ich dich empfangen?
Saye, Lord, Thy mercy follow me, 727, ii., Mir nach, spricht Christus, unser Held
Scalon od coelos subvectum tormenta, 818, i., Notker; 1061, ii., Sequenza
Scarce discerning night before us, 163, i., Bourne, G. H.
Scarce the world's Redeemer just, 1266, i., Wesley family, The Scharf hinein ans Gebot, 1018, i., Schlitte, J. J.
Schlaf sanft und wohl! sohlaf' lieber kind, 980, ii., Suhe, J. C.
Schmeil ist der Lauf, auf welchem Christen gehen, 1100, i., Starke, C. G.
Schmeil ist der Lauf, auf welchem Christen gehen, 1100, i., Starke, C. G.
Schmücke dich, o liebe Seele, 386, ii., Franck, J.; 416, i., German hymnody
Schmückt des Fest mit Maien, 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
Schon von denen Thron, 1266, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Schon, wie lieblich und gut ist's allen Brüdern (tr. P. Herbert), 216, i., Carvosso, M.
Schöpfer! was ist für Wunder dar? 411, i., Gerhardt, P.
Schreit thr, thr matten Glieder, 1018, i., Schlitte, J. J.
Schlaf sanft und wohl! schlaf' lieber kind, 980, ii., Suhe, J. C.
Schwer ist der Pfad, auf welchem Christen gehen, 1100, i., Starke, C. G.
Schwer ist der Weg, auf welchem Christen gehen, 1100, i., Starke, C. G.
Schwicke dich, o liebe Seele, 386, ii., Franck, J.; 416, i., German hymnody
Schmückt des Fest mit Maien, 1013, i., Schmolck, B.

1450

Schon ist der Tag von Gott bestimmt, 360, i., Dietrich, J. S.; 655, i., Great God, what do I see and hear
Schöne Jesus, kommst du endlich wieder, 699, ii., Lange, J. J.
Schöner Blumenstand, 977, ii., Dach, S.
Schönster Immanuel, 1266, ii., Zinzendorf, C. A.
Schöpfer Immanuel, Herzog der Frommen, 815, ii., Leicster Immanuel, Herzog der Frommen
Schöpfer meines Lebens, 618, i., German hymnody
Schuf! mich Gott für Augenblicke, 208, i., Cramer, J. A.
Schwenge still, 819, ii., Hrosner (nee Schreiber), Mina
Schwingt Seraph! Seraph! schwingt die Harfe, 1010, ii., Schmolck, B.
Schwindet ihr! ihr meinen Sünden, 628, ii., Knapp, A.
Sein Is lauter? sein langweilen ?, 632, ii., Nimm es mit einander
Scrigture says Where sin abounded, 734, ii., Midlane, A.
Scrutator alme siderum, Quadragesimae 1139, 1186, i., Te Deum laudamus
Si vis Sabbata ponigere, 827, i., Greek hymnody
Sickness to the world—march all around (tr. Hunt), 468, ii., Ffr alten Freuden auf Erden
Sie ist dahin, sie ist gestorben, 1267, i., Doddridge, P.
Sinclair of hearts! from wine exiled, 771, i., Morris, G. P.
Sinclair of hearts, to Thee are known, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
Sing, ye faithful, celestial tones (tr. Neale, alt.), 466, i., Jerusalem luminosa
Secretis miranda viis aperis numen (tr. Bingham), 450, ii., God moves in a mysterious way
Secure the street's foundation stands, 1066, i., So firm a foundation
Sed veritas posuit regem, 861, i., Quinamque Christum quaerilis
See a poor sinner, dearest Lord, 722, ii., Medley, S.
See another year [week] to gone, 804, ii., Newton, J.
See, Father, see [behold] on what we build, 1267, i., Rhodes, J.; 1268, i., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
See for food to pilgrims given (Ecce panis angelorum, tr. Anon.), 906, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
See, forward the King's banners go, 1031, ii., Venilla regis prodeunt
See from on high a light divine, 1195, ii., Unitarian hymnody
See from on high, arrayed in truth and grace, 88, i., Angius ut Verbum Patris a superis
See from the Source of saving grace, 88, i., Angius ut Verbum Patris a superis
See from the East the golden morn (tr. Maguire), 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
See from Zion's fountain rises, 271, i., Irons, J.
See, from Zion's sacred mountain, 613, i., Kelly, T.
See, gracious Lord, Thy servant lying (Miss Steele), 1066, ii., Behold the creditor's prayer
See, her hastening steps are bent, 892, i., Nicholson, H. L.
See how great a flame aspires, 1263, i., Wesley family, The
"See how he loved," exclaimed the Jews, 1130, ii., Unitarian hymnody
See how the frontless fabric stands, 694, ii., Hartnette, J.; 1259, i., See in the vineyard of the Lord
See how the infant sailing rest, 793, ii., Needham, J.
See how the morning sun, 1037, ii., See how the rising sun
See how the rising sun, 1037, ii., See how the rising sun
See how the patient Jesus stands, 603, i., Hart, J.
See how the sailing vessels toss, 1261, ii., Hancock, J.
See, in the mountain of the Lord, 143, ii., Borrus, H.
See in yonder manger low, 1267, ii., See amid the winter's snow
See Israel's gentle Shepherd stand (Doddridge), 121, i., Behold what condescending love; 892, ii., Thy flock, O Christ, 1268, i., Heinlenlik hyrancky; 970, i., Underkeit, H. U.
See, Jesus stands with open arms, 1208, i., Ye wretched, hungry, starving, poor
See, Jesus, Thy disciples see, 1263, i., Wesley family, The See, Lord, before Thy mercy-seat, 972, ii., Osler, E.
See, Lord, Thy willing subjects bow, 1260, i., Steele, Anne
See Mercy, Mercy, from on high, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
See, mighty God, before Thy throne, 506, ii., Heginbotham, O.
See, my child, the mighty scene, 1170, ii., Thrupp, Joseph F.
See now the golden light appear (Lux ecce surgit aurea, tr. Wallace), 827, i., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila
See, O Lord, my foes increase, 1262, i., Wesley family, The See, O ye, what love the Father, 1078, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
See, see the royal banners fly, 1031, ii., Venilla regis prodeunt
See Solem erupit in ira, 1235, ii., Waterbury, J. B.
See the blessed Saviour dying, 736, i., Midlane, A.
See the bread of angels lying (Ecce panis angelorum, tr. Anon.), 906, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
See the Conqueror mounts in triumph, 1203, ii., Wordsworth, C.
See the corn opens in ear, 806, ii., Newton, J.
See the dog-spring from afar, 1260, ii., Wesley family, The
See the blessed day arise (tr. Mant), 383, ii., Fortunatus, V. H. C.; 831, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
See the gentle Shepherd standing, 150, ii., Bliss, P.
See, the golden dawn is gleaming (Lux ecce surgit aurea), 821, i., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila
See the golden dawn appears (Lux ecce surgit aurea, tr. Lord), 821, i., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila
See the good Shepherd, Jesus, stands, 1038, ii., See the kind Shepherd, Jesus, stands
See the lowest ground to falling, 333, i., Horne, G.
See the Lord's Anointed Keeper, stand, 1148, ii., To the hills I lift mine eyes
See the Mother stands deploring (tr. Wackernarth), 1083, ii., Sabat mater dolorosa
See the ransomed millions stand, 227, i., Conder, J.
See the Saviour stand to receive you (Behold the Saviour), 320, ii., Come, poor hearts, in sweetest measures
See the royal banner streaming, 1031, i., Venilla regis prodeunt
See the sun high heaven ascending, 1176, i., Thrupp, G.
See the Son of truth arise, 1202, ii., 1203, i., Warther, H.
See the sun's glorious light (tr. E. Massie), 206, ii., Die gülden Sonne
See the Sun of Redeeming Caste of all, 1262, i., Wesley family, The See! triumphant over death, 208, ii., Jesus Christus, unser Heiland, Der den Tod überwand
See! vanished are the pale ing shades of night (tr. Chandler), 1268, ii., Ein Lämmlein geht und trägt die Schuld
See we will beyond the portal ?, 118, i., Barton, B.
See what a living stone, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
See what a man is this, O glorious, 1018, i., Schmolck, B.
See, what a man is this! How tasteful to His glances
See! what a sight for sore eyes, 1268, ii., Mant, R.
See! what unbounded and vast love, 1136, ii., The Saviour, what a noble flame
See! what wondrous love, how wonderful (tr. Miss Warrington), 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
See, when before the throne he stands, 1079, ii., Wherewith, O Saviour, can we requite
See, where on Calvary's top the cup of glory hangs (tr. Cawood), 87, ii., Angius, infami lecus ipso ligno
See where our Great High-Priest, 1262, i., Wesley family, The See where the gentle Jesus reigns, 1004, i., Shepherd (née Hamilton), Janet
See where the great Incarnate God, 693, i., Lo, what a glorious sight appears
See where the lamb, the ball, the blood, 1030, i., See, Saviour, in the garden alone
See the Shepherd's banner (tr. J. Kelly), 883, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
See, World, upon the bloody tree (tr. Mollier), 883, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
See, World, upon the shameful tree (tr. Mollier, alt.), 883, ii., O Welt, sieh hier dein Leben
Seeing I am Jesus' lamb (tr. Miss Winkworth), 380, i., Hayn, Henriette L. von Seek, my soul, the narrow gate, 870, i., Osterhoff, H. J.
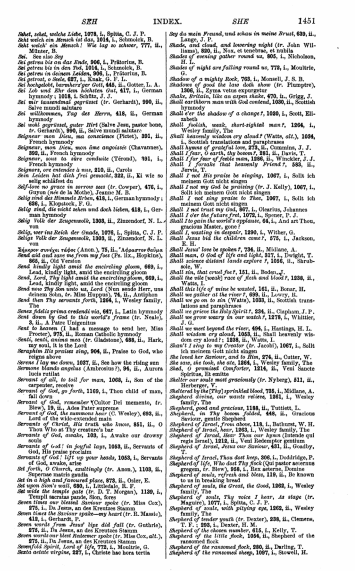
Seek we Jehovah's house, they said, 632, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Seek ye the Lord, while yet His ear (Eng. Presb. P. and H.), 627, ii., He, ye that thirst, approach the spring
Seek ye the Lord, while yet His ear, 627, ii., He, ye that thirst, approach the spring
Seeking no fame who seek the day, 1193, i., Tis woh hüne hüne hüwara wori le vidge
Seeking, Lord, Thy word to hear, 126, i., Bertram, R. A.
Seele ein neues meister werden, 200, i., Canitz, F. R. L. von
Seele, nun ermuntre dich, 1202, i., Wolf, J. G.
Seelenbräutigam, Jesus, Gottes Lamm, 211, ii., Zeus, A.; 376, i., Father, Who on high, 417, i., German hymnody
Seelenbräutigam, o du Gottes Lamm, 380, ii., Zeus geh' voran: 381, i., Jesus, my Saviour and my King
Seems it in my anguish love, 1179, i., Tittus, C.
Segne, Vater, dein und Gotte, 207, i., Düring, C. A.

1451



Sehet, sehet, welche Liebe, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Sehnlich ist mein Verlangen, 1014, i., Schneckig, B.
Sei wieder zu Gnaden! Wie lag so schwer, 777, ii., Münster, B.
Sei. See also Sey
Sei getreu bis an das Ende, 966, i., Pelkuhn, B.
Sei gelobet Jesus Christ, 1015, i., Schneckig, B.
Sei getreu in deinem Leiden, 993, i., Pelkuhn, B.
Sei getreu, o Seele, 627, i., Noak, G. F.
Sei hochgelobt, barmherziger Gott, 445, ii., Gotter, L. A.
Sei Lob und Ehre dem höchsten Gut, 617, i., German hymnody
Sei nur unerschüttert getrost (tr. Gerhardt), 990, ii., Bunsen, C. C. J.
Sei willkommen, Tag der Herrn, 618, ii., German hymnody
Sei wohl gepriesen, guter Hirt (Salve Jesu, pastor bone, tr. Gerhardt), 966, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Seigneur, accorde-moi ta conscience (Thiers), 931, ii., French hymnody
Seigneur, mon Dieu, mon âme angoissée (Chavannes), 955, ii., French hymnody
Seigneur, sous tes ailes cendrées (Vinet), 931, i., French hymnody
Seigneurs, ave entendu à vous, 819, ii., Carols
Sein Leiden hat dich frei gemacht, 322, ii., Ki wie no selig schlafen ds
Sein Leiden hat dich frei gemacht, 322, ii., Ki wie no selig schlafen ds
Sein Lob, Ehr dem höchsten Gut, 617, i., German hymnody
Sein wir einmüthig gepflanzt (tr. Gerhardt), 990, ii., Bunsen, C. C. J.
Sein willkommen, Tag der Herrn, 618, ii., German hymnody
Sei wohl gepriesen, guter Hirt (Salve Jesu, pastor bone, tr. Gerhardt), 966, ii., Salve mundi salutare
Sei wohl für Sorgenvoll, 1303, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Seine, vers les Bords des Grands, 1076, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Seine Teile der Sorgenvolk, 1303, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Seine werden; vilden (Anon.), 79, ii., "Adaverse Belgas
Send cold and save from my foe (Ps. lix., Hopkins), 860, ii., Old Version
Send kindly light amid the encircling gloom, 689, i., Lead, kindly light, amid the encircling gloom
Send kindly light, amid the encircling gloom, 689, i., Lead, kindly light, amid the encircling gloom
Send now Thy Son unto us, Lord (Nun sende Herr, uns deinen Sohn, tr. Miss Hopper), 75, ii., Antiphon
Send thou Thy servants forth, 1054, i., Wesley family, The Senet fidelis primus credendi vox, 667, i., Latin hymnody
Sent down by God in this world's frame (tr. Neale), 8, ii., A Patre Unigenitus
Sent to hasten (I had a message to send her, Miss Winkworth), 1306, i., German Catholic hymnody
Sent, sweet, sweet, sweet (tr. Gladstone), 688, ii., Hark, my soul, it is the Lord
Seraphim His praises sing, 206, ii., Praise to God, who reigns above
Serene I lay me down, 1027, ii., See how the rising sun
Sermones blandi angelus (Ambrosius?), 96, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
Servant of all, to toil for man, 1009, i., Son of the carpenter, receive
Servant of God, go forth, 1169, i., Thou child of man, fall down
Servant of God, remember (Unser Tod memento, tr. Hoe), 18, ii., Adm Fate supreme Servant of God, the summons hear (C. Wesley), 695, ii., Lord of the wide-extended man
Servants of Christ, His truth who know, 851, ii., Jesus Christ is risen to-day
Servants of God, awake, 193, i., Awake our drowsy souls
Servants of God! in joyful lays, 1049, ii., Servants of God, His praise proclaim
Servants of God! lift up your hands, 1035, i., Servants of God, awake, arise
Set forth, O Church, excellingly (tr. Anon.), 1109, ii., Supreme matris gaudia
Set on a high and favoured place, 873, ii., Osler, E.
Set on the temple gate (tr. D. T. Morgan), 1130, i., Templi sacrasan parde, Sion, fores
Seven times our Samiel Saviour spoke (tr. Miss Cox), 772, ii., Die Jesus, an den Kreuzen Stamm
Seven times our Samiel spoke—my heart (tr. R. Mants), 613, i., Gerhardt, P.
Seven words from Jesus' lips did fall (tr. Gottlieb), 772, ii., Die Jesus, an den Kreuzen Stamm
Seven times our Samiel spoke (tr. Miss Cox, alt.), 772, ii., Die Jesus, an den Kreuzen Stamm
Sevenfold Spirit, Lord of life, 772, i., Maurice, G.
Shalt astute virgine, 127, i., Christe hac hora terita
Shy du mein Freund, und schau in meine Brust, 633, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Shade, and cloud, and hovering night (tr. John Williams), 820, ii., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila Shades of evening gather round us, 905, i., Nicholson, H. L.
Shades of night are falling round us, 779, i., Mozirie, G.
Shadow of a mighty Rock, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Shadows of good the law doth show (tr. Plumptre), 1266, ii., Zyma vetus expurgetur
Shall a sinner, like an open shelter, 870, ii., Grigg, J.
Shall carnivore man with God contend, 1030, ii., Scottish hymnody
Shall ever the shadow of a stranger?, 1030, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Shall Judah, weak, short-sighted man?, 1266, i., Wesley family, The
Shall Jesus bear the scoffer's story aloud? (Watts, alt.), 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Shall hymns of grateful love, 273, ii., Commins, J. J.
Shall I fear, O earth, thy bones?, 761, ii., Harris, T.
Shall I for fear of feeble man, 1266, ii., Winckler, J. J.
Shall I, like a traitor that honestly Friend?, 695, ii., Jervis, T.
Shall I not His praise be singing, 1007, i., Solt ich meinem Gott nicht singen
Shall I not my God be praising (tr. J. Kelly), 1007, i., Solt ich meinem Gott nicht singen
Shall I not sing praise to Him, 1007, i., Solt ich meinem Gott nicht singen
Shall I not trust my God, 977, i., Olearius, Johannes Shall I for the future fret, 1070, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Shall Jesus bear the scoffer's story aloud? (Watts, alt.), 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Shall I, wanting in despair, 1290, i., Wither, G.
Shall Jesus bid the children come?, 278, i., Jackson, E. H.
Shall our love be spoken?, 736, ii., Midlane, A.
Shall scarce distant lands explore?, 1266, ii., Winckler, J. J.
Shall science distant lands explore?, 1266, ii., Sarabaite, W.
Shall sin, that cruel foe?, 121, ii., Beder, J.
Shall the fruit of the vassal vine of flesh and blood?, 1230, ii., Watts, I.
Shall this life of mine be wasted, 1251, ii., Bonar, H.
Shall we gather at the river?, 699, ii., Lowry, R.
Shall we go on to sin (Watts), 1033, ii., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Shall we grieve the Holy Spirit?, 238, ii., Clapham, J. P.
Shall we grow weary in our watch?, 1278, i., Whitter, J. G.
Shall we meet beyond the river, 696, i., Hastings, H. L.
Shall we suffer long and hope?, 1267, ii., Shall heavenly elevation soar and fall?, 1266, ii., Winckler, J. J.
Shall I sing to my Creator (tr. Jacobi), 1007, i., Solt ich meinem Gott nicht singen
She loved her Saviour, and he Him, 274, ii., Cutler, W.
She sees, sic tuch, she sin, 1266, i., Wesley family, The Shed, O promised Comforter, 1216, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Reple tuorum
Shelter our souls most graciously (tr. Nyberg), 211, ii., Herberger, V.
Sheltered by the [Thy] sprinkled blood, 725, i., Midlane, A.
Shepherd divine, our wants relieve, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Shepherd, good and gracious, 1184, ii., Tattlet, L.
Shepherd, in Thy bosom folded, 646, ii., Gracious Saviour, gentle Shepherd
Shepherd of Israel, from whom, 118, i., Bathurst, W. H.
Shepherd of Israel, Lord of hosts, 1054, i., Wesley family, The Shepherd of Israel, Saviour Thou our hopes (Jesus qui regis Israel), 1212, ii., Veni Redemptor gentium
Shepherd of Israel, Jesus our Saviour, 681, ii., Gaudy, T.
Shepherd of Israel, Thou dost keep, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
Shepherd of life, Who dost Thy flock (Qui pastor aeterne gregum, tr. Hoe), 918, i., Rex aeterne, Domine
Shepherd of souls, refresh and bless, 119, ii., He knows to us to breaking bread
Shepherd of souls, the Great, the Good, 1093, i., Wesley family, The Shepherd of souls, Thy voice I hear, As stags (tr. Maguire), 1071, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Shepherd of souls, with pitying eye, 1093, ii., Wesley family, The Shepherd of tender youth (tr. Dexter), 230, ii., Cleanse, T. F. : 238, i., Dexter, H. M.
Shepherd of the fallen number, 613, i., Kelly, T.
Shepherd of the little flock, 1054, ii., Shepherd of the scattered flock
Shepherd of the ransomed flock, 990, ii., Darling, T.
Shepherd of the ransomed sheep, 1097, i., Stowell, H.

Shepherd of those scalit mountains, 109, i., Baldern, W. F.
Shepherd sweet, and fair, and holy, 861, i., Congreve, G. T.
Shepherd, who Thy life didst give, 815, i., Hermanus Herman, N. : 979, ii., Jacobi, J. C.
Shepherds rejoice, lift up your eyes (Watts), 814, ii., Herman, N. : 979, ii., Jacobi, J. C.
She's dear to me—the worthy maid, 1097, ii., She let me live, she worths Magd
She was, O Lord, 997, ii., Sanby (née Browne), Ann E.
Shew pity, Lord! O Lord, forgive (tr. Jacobi), 806, i., Hagenbach, K.
Shine forth, eternal Source of light, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
Shine, heavenly Dove, descend, and dwell, 1215, i., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte
Shine, mighty God, on this our land, 1055, ii., Shine, mighty God, on Britain shine
Shine on our land, Jehovah shine, 1055, ii., Shine, mighty God, on Britain shine
Shine on our souls, eternal God, 306, i., Doddridge, P.
Should conscious nature kindly pour, 1035, i., Sandell, B.
Should famine o'er the mourning field, 1089, ii., 1090, i., Steele, Anne
Should I not be meek and still, 1245, i., Tersteegen, G.
Should I not in meek adoring, 1007, i., Solt ich meinem Gott nicht singen
Should Nature's charms to please the eye, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
Shout, for the blessed Jesus reigns, 123, ii., Beddome, B.
Shout, O earth: from silence waking, 626, ii., Havergal, F. R.
Shout, ye gold tidings, exultingly sing, 778, i., Mahlenberg, W. A.
Shout, ye people, clap your hands, 707, i., Lyte, H. F. Also See also there
Show forth Thy mercy, gracious Lord, 233, i., Day after day, Lord, I sing
Show us not only Jesus dying, 984, ii., O show me not my Saviour dying
Showers of blessing, gracious promise, 750, i., Midlane, A.
Shut out from heaven's glory, 1096, ii., Study, Sarah G.
Shwey yane hoang-pin (Golden country of heaven), 765, ii., Missions
Si praelius adsum Cantoris adire volumen, 1267, ii., (tr. Hughan), What various hindrances we meet
Si quis in Christo renatus, 1267, ii., Si quis in Christo renatus
Sie in mundo prodit morem, 772, i., Missit salus effutura
Sie stalla Pharaonis mali, 947, i., Quicunque Christum quaerritis
Sie thronet da wertha Magd, 706, ii., Luther, M.
Siegesfürst, Ehrenkönig, 617, ii., German hymnody: 1246, i., Tersteegen, G.
Sieh, hier bin ich, Messiasheld, 617, ii., German hymnody: 781, ii., Neander, J.
Sieh, wie sie laufen, 772, ii., Müller, M.
Sieket sich gefangener Messias (tr. Gotter), 816, i., Corte legerun servatium
Sign of a glorious life after (tr. Miss Winkworth), 988, ii., Salve crux beata, salve Silent, like men in solemn band, 163, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Silent, like men in solemn band, 163, i., Bonar, H.
Silent night! hallowed night. Land and deep, 761, i., Mohr, J.
Silent night, holiest night. All asleep, 761, i., Mohr, J.
Silent night! holy night! Shepherds (tr. Brooks), 761, i., Mohr, J.
Silent night! holy night! All is calm, 761, i., Mohr, J.
Silent night; holy night! Slumber reigns (tr. Matson), 761, i., Mohr, J.
Silently the shades of evening, 905, i., Cox, C. C.
Sin has a thousand treacherous arts, 1038, ii., Watts, I.
Sin, like a venomous disease, 1230, ii., Watts, I.
Since a Saviour is born for us (tr. Wrangham), 793, i., Ein Kind ist uns geboren
Since all the downward tracts of time, 617, i., Hervey, J.
Since all the downward tracts of time, 617, i., Hervey, J.
Since Christ His gracious life-blood gave (tr. Chambers), 260, i., Ex quo, salus mortalium
Since Christ is gone to heaven, His home (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1306, i., Wegelin, J.
Since Christ, our Passover, is slain (Easter hymn), 661, ii., New Version
Since first Thy word [grace] awaked my heart, 705, i., Moore, T.
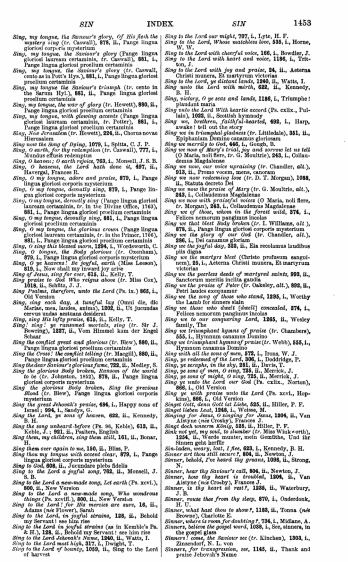
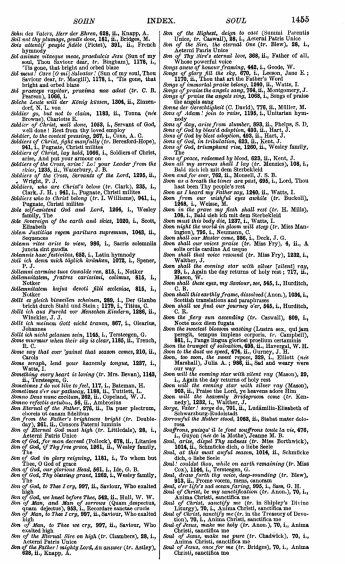
Since godly men decay, O Lord (Ps. xii.), 860, i., New Version
Since I have heard my Saviour say, 1238, i., Watts, I. : 1239, i., Since I have found my trust in God (Ps. xc.), 860, i., New Version
Since I on day from yonder sleeping (tr. Miss Warner), 626, ii., Klopstock, F. G.
Since I'm Jesus' sheep I can (tr. R. Mants), 600, i., Ich bin ein Schaf Jesu
Since in a land not barren still, 1266, i., Vaughan, H.
Since I've known a Saviour's Name, 892, ii., Lo! I come with joy to do
Since Jesus died, my guilty soul to save, 795, i., Neander, J.
Since Jesus freely did appear, 130, i., Berridge, J.
Since Jesus is my friend (tr. Miss Winkworth, alt.) 979, i., Ist Gott für mich, so trete
Since Jesus truly did appear, 130, i., Berridge, J.
Since Jesus was by Simon healed (Quum Jesus apud Simonem, [see de la Motte], Jeanne M. B.
Since now the day hath vanished its rays (tr. in the Ohio Luth. Hyl.), 516, ii., Hertzog, J. F.
Since o'er Thy footsteps here below, 778, i., Mahlenberg, W. A.
Since the heavenly Lamb hath stood (tr. Hoe), 809, ii., Non abierunt lymphae fluvii
Since the fire hath made me free, 966, ii., Hoe, my soul, with ardour rise
Since the time that first we came, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
Since, then, my God, art Thine (Dir du bist das ich bleibe), (tr. Miss Fry), 943, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
Since thy Father's arm sustains thee (tr. H. A. P.), 677, i., Hagenbach, C. R.
Since this the Lord's command, 130, ii., Behold the throne of grace
Sinful, sighing to be blest, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
Sing a hymn to Jesus when the heart is faint, 332, ii., Head, E. T.
Sing a new song unto the Lord, 633, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Sing, all ye nations, to the Lord, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Sing Alleluia, all ye lands, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
Sing Alleluia forth in duteous praise, 65, ii., Alleluia pia cette laudibus : 327, ii., Elkanah, D.
Sing, and make melody, 1090, i., Steele, Anne, tr.
Sing, and the mystery declare (tr. R. Palmer), 979, i., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Sing, be glad, ye happy sheep (tr. Cennick), 1048, i., Weber, M.
Sing, harps and melodies, 1090, i., Stryker, M. W.
Sing, for the dark 2nd tea is gained (tr. Osterhaus), 14, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
Sing forth, O Sion, sweetly sing (tr. Aylward), 663, ii., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
Sing glorious hosts, in heaven who live, 668, i., Gregor, C.
Sing Hallelujah, honour, praise (tr. to the Mozar, H. B., 1780), 665, i., Hallelujah! Lob, Preis und Ehr
Sing Hallelujah, sing, 278, i., It is the Lord, behold His hand
Sing, my heart, for the Lord your strength, 1039, i., Stryker, M. W.
Sing loud for joy, ye saints of God, 138, i., Berrens, R. A.
Sing, my tongue, the glorious battle (Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis), 880, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Sing, my tongue, the glorious combat (Pange lingua gloriosi certaminis), tr. Cronshaw), 882, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Sing, my tongue, the glorious conflict (tr. Caswall, alt.), 880, ii., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Sing, my tongue, the glorious contest (Pange lingua gloriosi certaminis, tr. Beale), 881, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Sing, my tongue, the glorious lowfal (Pange lingua gloriosi lauream certaminis), 881, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Sing, my tongue, the glorious strife (tr. Anon.), 880, ii., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Sing, my tongue, the joyful mystery (tr. Aylward), 979, ii., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Sing, my tongue, the mystery telling (tr. Neale, alt.), 979, ii., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Sing, my tongue, the Saviour's battle (Pange lingua gloriosi lauream certaminis, tr. Caswall, alt.), 881, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis





SOHN INDEX. SOUL 1455

Sohn des Vaters, Herr der Ehren, 6[illegible] ii., Knapp, A.
Soir, ami fidèle du voyageur, Le, 1[illegible] ii., Lamartine, A.
Sois attentif peuple Public (Prose), 1[illegible] ii., French hymnody
Sol animæ dilecte meæ, præsidaris Jux (Sun of my soul, Thou Saviour dear, tr. Bingham), 1179, i., Sarum Primer, 1[illegible]
Sol meus Christus est salutisque vitam et my soul, Thou Saviour dear, tr. Mercill), 1179, i., The gems, that bright and orbed blaze
Sol præsage regalior, præsima mea adest (tr. C. B. Pearson), 1[illegible], i.
Soldat Jesus will nur Einzig können, 1[illegible] ii., Zinzendorf, N. L.
Soldier go, but not to claim, 1[illegible] ii., Teena (née Browne), Charlotte E.
Soldier of Christ, well done, 1[illegible] i, Servant of God, well done! Rest from thy loved employ Soldiers of Christ, arise, 1[illegible], i., Cole, A. C.
Soldiers of Christ, rightly marshalled (tr. Bevesford-Hope), 961, i., Pagnate, Christi milites
Soldiers of Christ, lay hold, 1[illegible] i., Soldiers of Christ, arise, And put your armour on Soldiers of Christ, stand, gird your Leader from the skies, 1[illegible] i., Weatherly, J. B.
Soldiers of the Cross, Germans of the Lord, 1[illegible] ii., Wright, T. J.
Soldiers, who are Christ's below (tr. Clark), 1[illegible] i., Soldiers who to Christ belong (tr. L. Williams), 961, i., Pagnate, Christi milites
Sole self-existent God and Lord, 1[illegible] i., Wesley family, The Solemn sings of the earth and skies, 1[illegible] ii., Scott, Elizabeth
Solem Justitiæ vagens partitura supremum, 1[illegible] ii., Sequences
Solemn vitæ arcis in vices, 9[illegible] i., Sacris solemniis juncta sint gaudia
Solemnis hanc festivitas, 6[illegible] i., Latin hymnody
Soll ich denn mich täglich trösten, 1[illegible] i., Spener, P. J.
Sollemni carmine hanc Ecclesiæ res, 8[illegible] i., Notker
Sollemnium, fratres carissimi, celebrat, 8[illegible] i., Notker
Sollemnitatem hujus decori Sibi ecclesiæ, 8[illegible] i., Notker
Sollt es gleich bisweilen scheinen, 1[illegible] i., Der Glaube [illegible] Stahl und Stein; 1[illegible] i., Thine, O Christ, shall not the world vor Aberglauben Kindern, 1[illegible] ii., Winckler, J. C.
Sollt ich meinem Gott nicht trauen, 9[illegible] i., Gerstius, Johannes Sollt ich nicht gelassen sein, 1[illegible] i., Terstegen, G.
Some murmur when their sky is clear, 1[illegible] ii., Trench, R. C.
Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes, 8[illegible] ii., Carols
Some weigh, lend your heavenly tongue, 1[illegible] i., Watts, I.
Something there is sweeter higher still, 6[illegible] i., Joan, my God, my all! How can I love Thee
Sometimes I do not like to feel, 1[illegible] i., Bateman, H.
Sometimes o'er me gathering, 1[illegible] ii., Tuttiett, L.
Somno Deus nunc excitare, 8[illegible] ii., Copeland, W. J.
Son Eternal of the Father, 6[illegible] i., Du pour plectrum, chœurs et canons fidèlères
Son from the Father's brightness bright (tr. Doubleday), 3[illegible] ii., Consors Patrem jumbris
Son of God, eternal King (tr. Littledale), 2[illegible] i., Aeterni Patris Unice
Son of God, for man decreed (Pollock), 6[illegible] ii., Litanies
Son of God, of Thy free grace, 1[illegible] ii., Wesley family, The Son of God in glory reigning, 1[illegible] i., To whom but Thee, O God of grace
Son of God, our glorious Head, 6[illegible] i., Ido, O. B.
Son of God, Thy blessing grant, 1[illegible] i., Wesley family, The Son of God, to Thee I cry, 9[illegible] ii., Saviour, Who exalted high
Son of God, we heard before Thee, 5[illegible] ii., Hull, W. W.
Son of Man, and Man of sorrows (Quam dispecta, quam dejecta), 8[illegible] i., Recordare sanctæ crucis
Son of Man, to Thee we cry, 9[illegible] ii., Saviour, Who exalted high
Son of the Eternal Sire on high (tr. Chambers), 2[illegible] ii., Consors Patrem unicus
Son of the Father's mighty Lord, An answer (tr. Astley), 6[illegible] ii., Knapp, A.
Son of the Highest, deign to visit (Iterum) Veronia (tr. Caswall), 1[illegible] i., Aeterni Patris Unice
Son of the Sire, the eternal One (tr. Blew), 2[illegible] i., Aeterni Patris Unice
Son of Thy Sire's eternal love, 2[illegible] ii., Father of all, Whose powerful voice
Songs of praise the angels sang, 6[illegible] i., Goode, W.
Songs of glory fill the sky, 6[illegible] i., Lester, Jane E.; 1[illegible] ii., Thou that art the Father's Word
Songs of immortal praise belong, 1[illegible] ii., Watts, I.
Songs of praise the angels sang, 7[illegible] ii., Montgomery, J.
Songs of praise the angels sang, 1[illegible] i., Songs of praise the angels sang
Sonne der Gerechtigkeit (C. David), 7[illegible] ii., Miller, M.
Sons of Adam! join to raise, 1[illegible] i., Unitarian hymnody
Sons of God, arise from slumber, 8[illegible] ii., Phelps, S. D.
Sons of God by blood adoption, 4[illegible] ii., Hart, J.
Sons of God by blest adoption, 4[illegible] ii., Hart, J.
Sons of God, in tribulation, 8[illegible] ii., Kent, J.
Sons of God, triumphant rise, 1[illegible] ii., Wesley family, The Sons of grace, redeemed by blood, 6[illegible] ii., Kent, J.
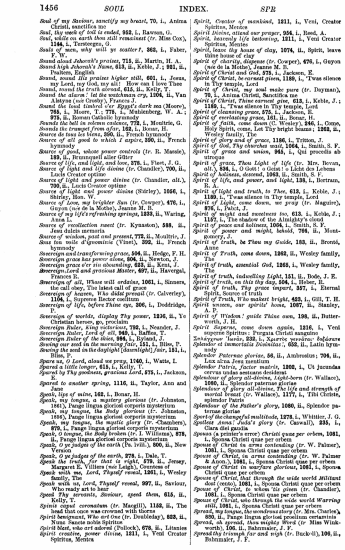
Sons of men, behold from high (tr. Ivy Maude), 1[illegible] i., Bald rich ich mit dem Sterbekleid
Soon end for ever, 7[illegible] ii., Mossell, J. S. B.
Soon as o'erah the lower sea past, 9[illegible] ii., Lord, Thou hast been Thy people's rock
Soon as the evening shades prevail, 1[illegible] ii., Watts, I.
Soon from our wishful eyes awhile (tr. Bucknall), 1[illegible] i., Watson, M.
Soon in the grave my flesh shall rest (tr. H. Mills), 1[illegible] i., Bald rich ich mit dem Sterbekleid
Soon night the world in gloom will sleep (tr. Miss Manington), 7[illegible] i., Neumann, C.
Soon shall our Master come, 1[illegible] i., Dodd, J. G.
Soon shall our voices praise (tr. Miss Fry), 4, ii., A Mother's Hymn Book
Soon shall that voice be silent (tr. Miss Fry), 1[illegible] i., Winkley, J.
Soon shall the evening star with silver [silent] ray, 29, i., Again the day returns of holy rest; 777, ii., Hymns, Original
Soon shall those eyes, my Saviour, see, 8[illegible] i., Burdick, C. B.
Soon shall this earthly frame, dissolved (Anon.), 1[illegible] i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Soon will we find our journey o'er, 8[illegible] i., Burdick, C. B.
Soon the fiery sun ascending (tr. Caswall), 8[illegible] i., Nunc nox diem fugata
Soon the nocturnal blossom nesting (Lustra nox, qui jam latuit, tangens lucifera cuspida, tr. Campbell), 8[illegible] i., Parge lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Soon the sun shall end his race (tr. Miss Fry), 1[illegible] i., Winkley, J.
Soon in the dusk we speed, 8[illegible] ii., Gurney, J. H.
Soon, too soon, the sweet repose, 8[illegible] i., Elliott (née Marshall), Julia A.; 9[illegible] ii., Sad and weary were our way
Soon will the evening star with silver ray (Mason), 29, i., Again the day returns of holy rest
Soon will the evening star with silver ray (Mason), 9[illegible] ii., Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore Him
Soon will the heavenly Bridegroom come (tr. Kornelius), 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Sorge, Vater! sorge du, 7[illegible] ii., Leidmilz-Elisabeth of Schwartzburg-Rudolstadt
Sorrowful the Mother stood, 1[illegible] ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
Sorrow, pourquoi tu le fuis soupirons toute la vie, 6[illegible] i., Gaytan (not de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
Soul, arise, dispel Thy sadness (tr. Miss Borthwick), 1[illegible] ii., Schlafe fein, o liebe Seele
Soul, at this most awful season, 1[illegible] ii., Schmolke [illegible]
Soul! wouldst thou, while on earth remaining (tr. Miss Cox), 1[illegible] i., Terstegen, G.
Soul, drive forth thy vain, day-wandering (tr. Blew), 9[illegible] ii., Prime vocem, tetras, excute
Soul, for thy sins and sorrow grieve, 1[illegible] i., Sam, O. H.
Soul of Christ, be my sanctification (tr. Anon.), 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Soul of Christ, sanctify me (tr. in Shipley's Divine Liturgy), 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Soul of Christ, sanctify me (tr. Trevena of Devonshire), 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Soul of Jesus, make me holy (tr. Anon.), 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Soul of Jesus, sanctify me (tr. Chadwick), 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Soul of Jesus, save for me (tr. Bridges), 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me

1456



1456 SOUL INDEX. SPR

Soul of my Saviour, sanctify my heart, 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Soul, thy seek o' toil is ended, 9[illegible] i., Rawson, G.
Soul, while on earth thou still remainest (tr. Miss Cox), 1[illegible] i., Terstegen, G.
Soul, why will ye scatter?, 8[illegible] i., Faber, F. W.
Sound aloud Jehovah's praises, 7[illegible] ii., Martin, H. A.
Sound high Jehovah's Name, 6[illegible] ii., Kelly, J.; 9[illegible] ii., Psalms, English
Sound his praises, exalt his power higher still, 6[illegible] i., Joan, my God, my all! How can I love Thee Sound, sound the truth abroad, 6[illegible] ii., Kelly, T.
Sound the alarm!' let the watchmen cry, 1[illegible] ii., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Sound the battle-cry, see the foe advance (Moore), 7[illegible] i., Moore, T.; 7[illegible] ii., Waldenberg, W. A.; 9[illegible] ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
Sounds the bell its solemn evidence, 9[illegible] i., Mountain, G.
Sounds the trumpet from afar, 1[illegible] i., Bonar, H.
Source of all good to which I aspire, 2[illegible] ii., Trench, R. C.
Source of all good to which I aspire, 2[illegible] ii., French hymnody
Source of good, whose power controls (tr. H. Mantle), 1[illegible] ii., Brunnquell alter Gitte
Source of light and life divine, 6[illegible] i., Vint, J. G.
Source of light and life divine (tr. Chandler), 7[illegible] i., Lucis Creator optime
Source of light and power divine (tr. Chandler, alt.), 7[illegible] i., Lucis Creator optime
Source of light and power divine (Stirling), 1[illegible] i., Stirling, Mrs. W.
Source of Love, my brighter Sun (tr. Cowper), 6[illegible] i., Guyon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
Source of my life's refreshing springs, 1[illegible] ii., Waring, Frances E.
Source of meditation sweet (tr. Kynaston), 1[illegible] ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
Source of wisdom, good and present, 7[illegible] ii., Mouldin, J.
Sous ton voile d'gnominie (Vinet), 2[illegible] ii., French hymnody
Sovereign and transforming grace, 1[illegible] ii., Hodge, F. H.
Sovereign grace has power alone, 8[illegible] ii., Newton, J.
Sovereign grace o'er sin abounding, 6[illegible] ii., Kent, J.
Sovereign Lord and gracious Master, 6[illegible] ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Sovereign of all, Whose will ordains, 1[illegible] i., Kinnen, Emily C. E. The blessed will of grace
Sovereign of heaven, Who didst prevail (tr. Calverley), 1[illegible] i., Supreme Rector coelitum
Sovereign of life, before Thine eye, 8[illegible] i., Doddridge, P.
Sovereign of worlds, display Thy power, 1[illegible] ii., Ye Christian heroes, go, proclaim Sovereign Ruler, King victorious, 7[illegible] i., Neander, J.
Sovereign Ruler, Lord of all, 9[illegible] i., Raffles, T.
Sovereign Ruler of the Skies, 9[illegible] i., Hyland, J.
Sovereign Ruler of the world, 1[illegible] i., Bilby, F.
Soaring the sun in its daylight [Sunnelight], fair, 1[illegible] i., Bliss, P.
Spare us, O Lord, aloud we pray, 1[illegible] i., Watts, I.
Spared a little longer, 6[illegible] i., Kelly, T.
Spared by Thy goodness, gracious Lord, 8[illegible] i., Jackson, S.
Spared to another spring, 1[illegible] ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Speak, lips of mine, 1[illegible] i., Bonar, H.
Speak, my tongue, the Body glorious (tr. Johnston, 1867), Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Speak, my tongue, the Body glorious (tr. Johnston, 1867), Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Speak, my tongue, the mystic glory (tr. Chambers), Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Speak, O tongue, the Body broken (tr. I. Williams), 9[illegible] ii., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Speak, O ye judges of the earth (Ps. lviii.), 9[illegible] ii., New Version Speak, ye judges of the earth, 9[illegible] i., Dale, T.
Speak the truth, for that is right, 8[illegible] ii., Jessop, Margaret E. Villiers (née Leigh), Countess of Speak with me, Lord, Thyself reveal, 1[illegible] i., Wesley family, The Speak with me, Lord, Thyself reveal, 9[illegible] ii., Saviour, Who really art to hear
Speed Thy servants, Saviour, speed them, 6[illegible] ii., Scully, J.
Spiritual coronation (tr. Mercill), 1[illegible] ii., The seed that once was crowned with thorns
Spirit benignant, Who art One (tr. Doubleday), 8[illegible] ii., Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus
Spirit blest, who art adored (Pollock), 6[illegible] ii., Litanies
Spirit creating, power divine, 1[illegible] i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Spirit, Creator of mankind, 1[illegible] i., Veni, Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Spirit Divine, attend our prayer, 3[illegible] i., Head, A.
Spirit, heavenly life bestowing, 1[illegible] i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Spirit, in the hands of clay, 1[illegible] ii., Spirit, leave Thine house of clay
Spirit of charity, dispense (tr. Cowper), 6[illegible] i., Guyon (née de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
Spirit of Christ and God, 2[illegible] i., Jackson, E.
Spirit of Christ, descend from heaven above, 1[illegible] i., Twas silence in Thy temple, Lord
Spirit of Christ, my soul make pure (tr. Dayman), 7[illegible] i., Anima Christi, Sanctifica me
Spirit of Christ, Thine earnest give, 6[illegible] i., Kelly, J.; 1[illegible] ii., Thou that art the Father's Word
Spirit of cleansing grace, 2[illegible] i., Jackson, E.
Spirit of everlasting grace, 1[illegible] ii., Bonar, H.
Spirit of faith, come down (C. Wesley), 3[illegible] i., Come, Holy Spirit, come, Let Thy bright beams; 1[illegible] ii., Come, Holy Spirit, come Spirit of glory and of grace, 1[illegible] i., Tritton, J.
Spirit of God, Thy churches unite, 1[illegible] i., Smith, S. F.
Spirit of grace and union, 9[illegible] i., Qui piscodia ab utroque
Spirit of grace, Thou Light of life (tr. Mrs. Bevan, alt.), 1[illegible] i., O Geist! o Geist! o Licht des Lebens Spirit of holiness, descend, 1[illegible] i., Smith, S. F.
Spirit of life and power, and light, 1[illegible] i., Bortrum, R.
Spirit of light and truth, be Thou, 6[illegible] i., Kelly, J.; 1[illegible] i., 'Twas silence in Thy temple, Lord
Spirit of Light, come down, we pray (tr. Maguire), 8[illegible] i., Pelch, J.
Spirit of might and sweetness too, 6[illegible] i., Kelly, J.
Spirit of peace and holiness, 1[illegible] i., Smith, S. F.
Spirit of power and might, behold, 7[illegible] ii., Montgomery, J.
Spirit of Truth, be Thou my Guide, 1[illegible] ii., Bronté, A.
Spirit of Truth, come down, 1[illegible] ii., Wesley family, The Spirit of truth, essential God, 1[illegible] i., Wesley family, The Spirit of truth, indwelling Light, 1[illegible] ii., Bode, J. E.
Spirit of truth, on this thy day, 1[illegible] i., Heber, R.
Spirit of truth, Thy gracious impart, 1[illegible] i., Eternal Spirit, Source of truth
Spirit of Truth, Who makest bright, 6[illegible] i., Gill, T. H.
Spirit unseen, our spiritual home, 1[illegible] ii., Stanley, A. P.
Spirit of Wisdom! guide Thine own, 1[illegible] ii., Butterworth, J. H.
Spirit Supreme, come down again, 1[illegible] i., Veni supreme Spiritus: Pergata Christi sanguine
Σπλαγχνων ἅγιος, 2[illegible] i., Χριστὸς γενούσιν ἐκδέκτοις ἐμοὶ ἐν ἀνθρωποις ἐκ ἀνθρωπων, 6[illegible] ii., Latin hymnody
Splendor Paternæ gloriæ, 6[illegible] ii., Ambrosius; 7[illegible] ii., Lux alma Jesu mansiones
Splendor Patris, fulsit mundo, 1[illegible] i., Ut jucundas habitationes
Splendor sempiternæ gloriæ, 6[illegible] ii., Latin hymnody
Splendour of glory all-divine, bright-born (tr. Wallace), 1[illegible] ii., Splendor paternæ gloriæ
Splendour of glory all-divine, The life and strength of mortal breast (tr. Wallace), 1177, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
Splendour of the Father's glory, 1[illegible] ii., Splendor paternæ gloriæ
Sport of the changeful multitude, 1[illegible] i., Whittier, J. G.
Spotless Jesus! Jacob's glory (tr. Caswall), 2[illegible] i., Agnes beatæ gloria Spouse (a printer's error) Christi quæ per orbem, 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spouse of Christ in sorrow contending (tr. W. Palmer), 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spouse of Christ, in sorrow toiling (tr. W. Palmer & Anon.), 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spouse of Christ in sorrows glorious, 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spouse of Christ, in strife contending, 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spouse of Christ, in strife with the wide world 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spouse of Christ, to whom 'tis given (tr. Chandler), 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spouse of Christ, with the wide world warring (tr. ——), 1[illegible] i., Sponsa Christi quæ per orbem
Spread, my tongue, the wondrous story (tr. Mrs. Charles), 8[illegible] ii., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis Spread, oh spread, thou mighty Word (tr Miss Winkworth), 1[illegible] ii., Sahnenlied, F. Y.
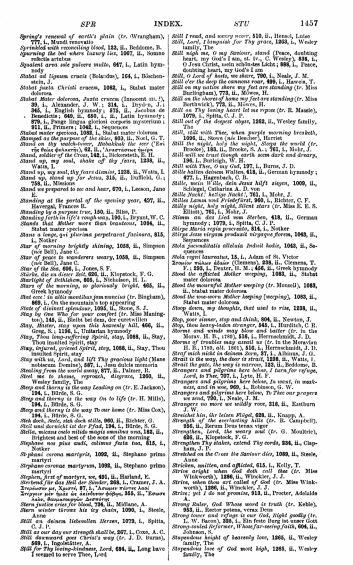
Spread thy triumph far and nigh (tr. Bucke-ll), 1[illegible] ii., Sahnenlied, F. Y.

1457



SPR INDEX. STU 1457

Spring's renewed at earth's plain (tr. Wrangham), 1773, ii., 1
Spring with unceasing cheer, 123, ii., Beddome, B.
Springing the bed where luxury lies, 1067, ii., Summa rebella artatus
Squalent arva sole pulvere multo, 667, i., Latin hymnody
Stabat iuxta Christi crucem, 1093, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Stabat Mater dolorosa, Juxta crucem lacrumosa, 71, 30, i., Alexander, J. W. ; 314, i., Dryden, J.
Stabat Mater dolorosa, 1274, i., Latin hymnody
Benedictus ; 660, ii., 668, i., ii., Latin hymnody ; 979, i., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium ; 911, ii., Primers ; 1042, i., Sequences
Stabat mater speciosa, 1093, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Stand by my soul, shake off thy fears, 1236, ii., Stand by my soul, shake off thy fears
Stand on the watch-tower, Abdiahiah the seer (Tate, rie foise dechaerb), 62, ii., Anonymous lyrics
Stand, soldier of the Cross, 142, i., Duhorstadt, R. M.
Stand up, my soul, shake off thy fears, 1236, ii., Watts, I.
Stand up, up soul, thy foes dismay, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
Stand up, stand up for Jesus, 818, ii., Duffield, G., 759, ii., Missions
Stand ye prepared to see and hear, 979, i., Lemon, Jane
Standing at the portal of the opening year, 627, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
Standing by a purpose true, 150, ii., Bliss, P.
Standing forth in life's rough sea, 190, i., Bryant, W. C.
State of clement grandeur, 1086, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Stat mater speciosa
Stanz a lange, gut pferdine perpetrant fusiaera, 815, i., Notker
Star of morning brightly shining, 1069, ii., Simpson (nee Bell), Jane C.
Star of peace to wanderers weary, 1069, ii., Simpson (nee Bell), Jane C.
Star of the Sea, 666, i., Jones, S. F.
Stärke, die zu dieser Zeit, 620, ii., Klopstock, F. G.
Stars of the morning, 865, i., Nicholson, H. A.
Stars of the morning, so gloriously bright, 865, ii., Greek hymnody
Stat cum ; to alio mordilus jam exercise (tr. Bingham), 869, i., On the mountain's top appearing
State of clement grandeur, 1086, i., Notker
Stay with us, Lord, for it is eventide (tr. Miss Maxse), 745, ii., Bielfeld, von dem, die eventelliet
Stay, Master, stay upon this heavenly hill, 666, ii., Gregory, S., 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody
Stay, Thou long-suffering Spirit, stay, 1068, ii., Stay, Thou troubled Spirit, stay
Stay, Thou troubled Spirit, stay, 1068, ii., Stay, Thou troubled Spirit, stay
Stay with us, Lord, and lift Thy gracious light (Mane nobiscum Domine), 927, i., Sana dulcis memoria
Stealing from the world away, 877, ii., Palmer, R.
Steh auf, du Schwert, vergnadt, dispersa, 1262, ii., Weber family, The Steig und lauraj is the way Leading on (tr. E. Jackson), 194, i., Hirte, G. G.
Steig und lauraj is the way On to life (tr. H. Mills), 194, i., Hirte, G. G.
Steig und lauraj is the way To our home (tr. Miss Cox), 194, i., Hirte, S. G.
Stets dank, Herr, für Ich stille, 960, ii., Richter, G.
Still and blessèd dove Fled, 794, i., Hirte, S. G.
Still, mit unbewegtem Herzen, 1183, ii., Brightest and best of the sons of the morning
Stephane nos pius audi, salamus facta tua, 815, i., Notker
Stephanus coronat martyrii, 1090, ii., Stephane prima martyrii
Stephane coronat martyrem, 1090, ii., Stephano primo martyri
Stephen, first of martyrs, we, 481, ii., Harland, E.
Sternbeschaffer die Welt hier Staubet, 204, ii., Cramer, J. A.
Steuere, Jugend, 97, ii., Jacques de Dicuil
Strapace sie tacke au autchmer dolfen, 944, ii., Tauern Lake, Bonaventure Lawrence
Stern laisse crier for blood, 794, ii., Midlane, A.
Stern winter throws his icy chain, 1090, i., Steele, Anne
Still ex decora Iudeorum Sterner, 1073, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Still for by day our strength shall be, 627, i., Cone, A. C.
Still downward pass Christ's warp (tr. J. D. Burns), 869, i., Ingoldsbee, A.
Still for Thy loving-kindness, Lord, 694, ii., Long have I seemed to serve Thee, Lord
Still I read, and every word, 510, ii., Hensel, Luise
Still, still with Thee, when purple morning breaketh, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Still night me, O my Saviour, stand (Pace, dostising heart, my God's I am, at in., C. Wesley), 816, i., O Jesu Christ, mein schön'es Licht, 986, i., Prace, Jesu, meine Freude, my Jesus
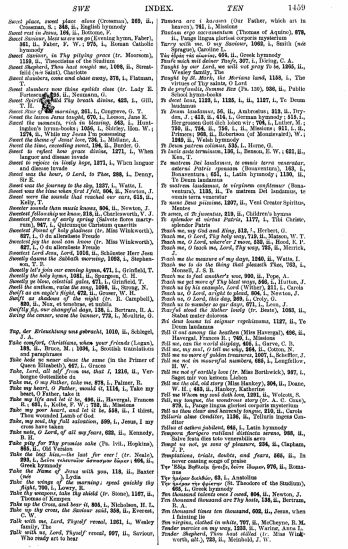
Still, still with Thee, when purple morning breaketh, 794, i., Neale, J. M.
Still for the deep the summer roar, 699, i., Hawker, T.
Still on my watch shore my feet are standing (tr. Miss Burlingham), 773, ii., Mowe, H.
Still on the shores of home my feet are standing (tr. Miss Burlingham), 773, ii., Mowe, H.



Sweet place, sweet place alone (Crossman), 249, ii., Crossman, S.; 255, ii., English hymnody
Sweet rest in Jesus, 106, ii., Bethune, G.
Sweet sacrament divine, 1, ii., Caswall (tr. from Faber), 361, ii., Faber, F. W.; 975, i., Roman Catholic hymnody
Sweet Saviour, in Thy pitying grace (tr. Moorson), 1159, ii., Translation of the Sinaitica
Sweet Saviour, we Thy name adore, 1168, ii., Sternhold [and Hall], Clarkson
Sweet slumbers, come and chase away, 378, i., Flatman, T.
Sweet slumbers soon (like eyelids close (tr. Lady E. Stanley), 1159, ii., Translation
Sweet Spirit, hear Thy breath divine, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
Sweet Star of the morning, 261, i., Cosgrove, G. T.
Sweet the lesson Jesus taught, 670, i., Lomax, Jane E.
Sweet the moments, rich in blessing, 1066, i., Montgomery's hymn-books, 1068, i., Shirley, Hon. W.; 1076, ii., While my Jesus I'm possessing Sweet the theme of Jesus' love, 726, i., Midlane, A.
Sweet the time, ascending ever, 196, ii., Barbier, G.
Sweet the time, the season fair, 1271, i., When leagues and climes divide
Sweet to rejoice in lovely hope, 1271, i., When leagues and climes divide
Sweet was the hour, O Lord, to Thee, 988, i., Penny, J.
Sweet was the journey to the sky, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Sweet was the time when first I felt, 804, ii., Newton, J.
Sweet were the sounds that reached our ears, 513, ii., Kelly, T.
Sweeter and sweeter (in music let me be), Newton, J.
Sweetest Fellowship we have, 213, ii., Charlesworth, V. J.
Sweetest flowers of early spring (Salvete flores martyrum), 967, i., Christophe Christum quærito
Sweetest Friend of fully gladness (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1, ii., Caswall, Bp. Synesius, Cyrene
Sweetest joy that earth can know (tr. Miss Winkworth), 827, i., O du allersüsste Freude
Sweetest Lord Jesus, Lord, 1216, ii., Schlosser Herr Jesu
Sweetly dawns the Sabbath morning, 1032, i., Stephanson, W.
Sweetly let hymn our evening hymn, 471, i., Grenfell, T.
Sweetly the holy hymn, 1242, i., Thompson, J.
Sweetly ye blest, celestial gales, 471, i., Grinfield, T.
Swell the anthem, raise the song, 1088, ii., Strong, N.
Swift as an eagle's flight, 472, ii., Lyrae, W. H.
Swift as the shadows of the night (tr. E. Campbell), 1, ii., Caswall, Bp. Synesius, Cyrene Swiftly fly our changeful days, 138, i., Bertram, R. A.
Swing the censer, waste the banner, 772, i., Monsell, J. S.

Tag, der Erleuchtung uns gebracht, 1010, ii., Schlegel, J. A.
Take comfort, Christians, when your friends (Logan), 198, ii., Bruce, M.; 1006, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Take from us, gracious Lord, the sense (in the Primer of Queen Elizabeth), 967, i., Graces
Take, Lord, all self from me, that I, 1216, ii., Verborgne Gottesliebe du Take me, O my Father, take me, 978, i., Palmer, R.
Take me, O my Father, I would fain, 1118, i., Take my heart, O Father, take it
Take my life and let it be, 696, ii., Havergal, Frances R.; 695, i., Kelly, F. W.; 726, ii., Whitney
Take my soul and body, all it be, 589, ii., I thirst, Thou wounded Lamb of God
Take, my soul, thy full salvation, 599, i., Jesus, I my cross have taken Take, O Lord, all my sin away, 620, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Take pity for Thy promise sake (Ps. lvii., Hopkins), 985, ii., Old Version
Take the last kiss,—the last for ever! (tr. Neale), 1, ii., Bruce, M.; 1006, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Take the Name of Jesus with you, 118, ii., Baxter (see Lyte)
Take the voice of the morning; speed quickly thy flight, 1271, i., When leagues and climes divide
Take thy weapons, take thy shield (tr. Stone), 1167, ii., Theodore of Kuinpen
Take up the Cross, and bear it, 804, i., Nicholson, H. I.
Take, ye thy cross, the Saviour said, 809, ii., Everest, C.
Talk with me, Lord, Thyself reveal, 1001, i., Wesley family, The Talk with us, Lord, Thyself reveal, 607, ii., Saviour, Who ready art to hear
Teasten are i heaven (Our Father, which art in heaven), 761, ii., Wiclifite
Tecum ergo sacramentum (Tecum et Angelis), 979, i., Roman Catholic hymnody (see Sacramentum)
Tarry with me, O my Saviour, 1002, i., Smith (née Sprague), Caroline L.
Tas ekpes tou stauros, 684, ii., Greek hymnody
Thee's nuich wil deiner Treyh, 307, i., Diering, C. A.
Taught by Thy Spirit, I will not pray (tr. Ms. 1850), ii., Wesley family, The Taught by Te Spirit, the Marines lord, 1168, i., The virtues of Thy saints, O Lord
Te de profundis, Domine Jesu (Ps. 130), 986, ii., Public Worship, Prayers for Te deum laud, 1128, i., 1135, i., ii., 1137, i., Te Deum laudamus
Te Deum laudamus, 56, ii., Ambrosius; 313, ii., Dryden, J.; 413, ii., 414, i., German hymnody; 513, i., Hymns for Special Occasions; 701, i., 702, i., 703, i., 704, ii., 705, i., 706, ii., 707, i., ii., Metrical; 811, i., ii., Primers; 903, ii., Robertson (of Monzievaird), W.; 1282, ii., Watts hymnody
Te Deum patrem colimus, 535, i., Horne, G.
Te Deum laudamus immensum, 136, i., Benson, R. W.; 631, ii., Kan, J.
Te matrem Dei laudamus, te eximiis terræ venerandam, salutes Patris ignotam (Benaventius), 163, i., Bonaventura; 631, i., Latin hymnody; 1130, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Te matrem laudamus, te virginem confitemur (Bonaventura), 1135, ii., Te matrem Dei laudamus, te omnis terra veneratur
Te nunc Jesu poscimus, 1207, ii., Veni Creator Spiritus, Hymns on Te sanctorum Jesu (tr. Jesu), 813, ii., Children's hymns
Te sanctorum, O virtus Patris, 1171, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
Teach me, my God and King, 515, i., Herbert, G.
Teach me, O Lord, Thy holy way, 713, ii., Ridley, W. T.
Teach me, O Lord, wherein I move, 825, ii., Hood, E. P.
Teach me, O teach me, Lord, Thy way, 792, ii., Herrick, R.
Teach me the measure of my days, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
Teach me to do the thing that pleaseth Thee, 793, i., Newton, J. B.
Teach me, my Father's woe, 990, ii., Pope, A.
Teach me my days of Thy blest wane, 566, i., Hutton, J.
Teach us by his example, Lord (Wither), 811, i., Carols
Teach us, O Lord, aright to plead, 804, i., Newton, J.
Teach us, O Lord, this day, 989, i., Cecil, R.
Teach us to number our days aright, 1240, i., Watts, I.
Tear'ful stood the Mother lonely (tr. Jesu), 1083, ii., Mother under dolorosa
Tel Gost hunni tei mignar ropbiinnna, 1127, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Tell it out among the heathen (Miss Havergal), 696, ii., Havergal, Frances R.; 760, i., Missions
Tell me, can the world slighting, 805, i., Gerve, C. B.
Tell me, my soul, O tell me who, 804, i., Cotton, N.
Tell me no more of golden treasures, 1007, i., Scheffler, J.
Tell me the mournful numbers, 695, i., Longfellow, H. W.
Tell me of worthly love (tr. Miss Borthwick), 907, i., Sagst mir von keinem Lieben
Tell me the old, old story (Miss Hankey), 804, ii., Doane, W. H.; 1006, i., Scottish translations
Tell me Whom my soul doth love, 1201, ii., Wolcott, S.
Tell, my tongue, the wondrous story (tr. A. C. Coxe), 975, i., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Tell us thou clear and heavenly tongue, 210, ii., Carols
Tellinge time Comforte, 1136, ii., Trifolia impia Gunthar
Tellus et æthera jubilent, 966, i., Latin hymnody
Tempora fortiter ruitibant distincta nervea, 988, ii., Naive hora dies tota venerabilis aera
Tempt me not, ye sons of pleasure, 804, ii., Clapham, T.
Temptations, trials, doubts, and fears, 665, ii., In terror coming songs of praise
Ter Bliss Buffalo bowfs, beire Thapor, 979, ii., Romanes
Ter Λαμπαν διαθεον, 65, i., Aquinius
Ter Λαμπαν της Θεοτητος, 65, i., Greek hymnody
Ten thousand talents once I owed, 804, ii., Newton, J.
Ten thousand thousand are Thy hosts, 198, ii., Bertram, R. A.
Ten thousand times ten thousand, 602, ii., Jones, when I fainting lie
Ten virgins, clothed in white, 707, ii., McCheyne, R. M.
Tender Babe, sleeping on the hay, 1006, i., Scottish Tender Shepherd, Thou hast stilled (tr. Miss Winkworth, alt.), 720, ii., Meinhold, J. W.

Tender infants' infant maid (Miss Wesley), 1218, ii., Wesley family, The Tenderly He leads us, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (a.k.a Crosby), Frances J.
Tenderly the Shepherd, 150, ii., Bliss, P.
Te Sanna Gabriel herse (tr. Hedger), 1275, i., While yet the Cock doth persevere
Terrible thought! (tr. Wesley), 1061, i., Sinners, the call obey, The latest call of grace Terrible thought! shall I alone?, 1066, ii., Wesley family, The Te Sanna O Sion send infantis (Prise), 231, ii., French Hymnody
Than granted olim greater far (O sola magnarum urbium, tr. Bernhard-Hoyer), 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quæritis
Than weightiest olim mightier far (O sola magnarum urbium, tr. Copeland), 965, ii., Quicunque Christum quæritis
Thank and praise Jehovah's name, 706, i., Montgomery, J.
Thank God! another stage of time (tr. H. Mills), 803, i., Greek hymnody
Thank God, it hath remained, 618, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Thank God, that towards eternity (tr. Miss Winkworth), 339, i., Francke, A. H.
Thank God! towards Eternity (tr. Gambold), 339, i., Francke, A. H.
Thank the Lord Who made the earth, 815, i., Harcourt, W. Vernon
Thankful for our every blessing, 447, ii., Graces
Thanks be to God for mest and rigbt, 572, i., Irons, W. J.
Thanks be to God, Whose truth we prove (C. Wesley), 847, ii., Graces
Thanks be to Thee, Thou slaughtered Lamb (tr. in the Mozar. H. B., 1742), 977, i., Rothe, J. A.
Thanks, blessing, honour, power (tr. in the Moravian H. B., 1801), 703, ii., Winkhof, J. F.
Thanks, thanks be to Thee for Thy pity, 279, ii., Dank, Dank, sy ihr fein Schaaren
Thanks, thanks unto God! Who in mercy hath spoken, 606, i., Gaskell, W.
Thanks to God for them who come, 804, ii., Johns, J.
Thanks to Thy name, O Lord, that we, 919, i., Bruce, M.
Thanksgiving and the voice of melody, 1259, ii., Waring, Anna L.
Thanksgiving, prayer, praise, and might (tr. in the Moravian H. B., 1754), 907, ii., Preis, Lob, Ehr, Ruhm, Dank, Kraft und Macht
That careful day will surely come, 1239, i., Watts, I.
That blessed tale of Thine, 1204, i., Wesley family, The
That city shall perish for ever (Ps. lxxxviii., Hopkins), sea suspended, (tr. Neale), 273, i., Cras tenebris nitet, Dominus qua carne reposcit
That city shall full well endure (Ps. lxxxviii., Hopkins), 985, ii., Old Version
That day of wrath shall glow (tr. Warren), 300, i., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath and grief and shame (tr. Aylward), 300, i., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, dreadful and stern (tr. J. M. Neale), 301, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, that day of doom (tr. J. Ross), 303, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, that direful day (tr. Aveu.), 300, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. Sir W. Scott), 297, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. Sir W. Scott), 298, i., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. Crewdson and Sadler), 299, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. Wingfield), 300, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. W. G. Dix), 300, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That day, that awful day the last (tr. Coles), 300, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That Death is at my door (tr. Miss Winkworth), 555, ii., Herbert of Cherbury
That faithful night before His death, 803, ii., Hart, J.
That dread day of wrath and sorrow (tr. Aylward), 299, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That dreadful day, 666, i., Greek hymnody
That dreadful day, that day of sorrow, 300, ii., Dies iræ, dies illa
That dreadful day, that day of tears and fire (tr. Neale), 1141, ii., Tu lacrymæ vir dyerip

That God, Whose awful power can take (tr. Doddridge), 711, i., Magnus ille potentiæ
That glorious form, that light unsufferable (tr. Neale), 76, i., Apparebit repentina dies magna Domini
That health of soul I pray to know, 1056, ii., Wesley family, The
That I shall die full well I know (tr. H. Mills), 1012, ii., Greek hymnody
That kind eye which caused dogs, 198, i., Burton, J., Jun.
That love is mighty love indeed, 796, i., Neale, J. M.
That man is ill wherever placed, 197, ii., Burns, R.
That man's a fool who cannot find, 1, ii., Caswall (tr. anon.), 800, ii., Sax Versus
That man a godly life might live (tr. R. Massie), 301, i., Dies sind die heiligen alten Gebot
That men to truth might not be strangers (tr. H. Mills), 803, i., Greek hymnody
That mystic word of Thine, O sturdings Lord, 1006, ii., Stowe (née Beecher), Harriet
That rage whereof the Psalm doth say, 811, i., Carols
That so thy blessed birth, O Christ, 211, i., Carols
That the Lord is good and upright, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
That thy wise design, O blest Jesu, we pray that, 1235, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
That voice which 'gainst Jehovah rose, 1208, i., Wesley family, The
That we may, before, O sinner, hear, 694, i., Hastings, T.
That we may worthy be in tempiful crave, 1235, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
That we might walk with God (Bodtorne), 876, i., Onderdijk, H. U.
That we should ever forget (tr. C. J. Latrobe, et. 5.), 138, i., Jesu Christus, nostra salus
That we Thy servants may with joy declare, 1235, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
That we with deep-toned strings may sound, 1235, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
That we with tuneful voice may sound Thy fame, 1235, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
That which of old the reverend choir of prophets, 946, i., Quod chorus vatum venerandus olim
That which the prophets' reverend assembly, 946, i., Quod chorus vatum venerandus olim
That with the blessed saints above (Miss Steele), 1205, i., Ut queant laxis resonare fibris
Thatet sent uns wichti en Leid, 772, ii., Moser, H.
Thauiema lmpheen h Iapaphhen (Otfr Vitr.), 235, i., Aparere yesukhu fidiarare
The advent hymn our voices pour (tr. Neale), 196, ii., Bulbo hosannarum
The advent noon shines cold and clear, 976, i., Rossetti, Christina G.
The advent of our God and King (tr. C. Mountier), 1, ii., Caswall, Bp. Synesius, Cyrene
The Advent of our God at hand (tr. Kurz), 189, ii., Instantis adventus Dei
The Advent of our God! Behold, the Lord is near (tr. Ira Williams), 189, i., Instantis adventus Dei
The Advent of our God, the Lord (tr. Miss Cox in Church Hymns), 202, ii., Instantis adventus Dei
The Advent of our God. Let us watch prepare (tr. Johnston), 189, ii., Instantis adventus Dei
The Advent of our God, our prayers (tr. Chandler), 189, ii., Instantis adventus Dei
The Advent of our King! For this prepare the song, 196, ii., Instantis adventus Dei
The Advent of our King. Our prayers (tr. Chandler, alt.), 189, ii., Instantis adventus Dei
The Advent of the Lord begins (tr. Miss Cox), 202, ii., Instantis adventus Dei
The almighty King, victorious on this day (tr. Pearson), 198, i., Rex omnipotens in die hodierna
The Almighty reigns, exalted high, 1235, ii., Watts, I.
The almighty Word is gone forth, 129, i., Bethune, G. W.
The ancient days were days of might, 1146, i., The days of old were days of might
The angel Gabriel from heaven (tr. in H. A. & M.), 285, i., Gabriel ceoroeal Gemenda ingeb
The angel Gabriel (tat from Jar) from afar, 285, ii., Caswall, Bp.
The angel spake (spoke) the word (tr. Caswall), 240, i., Cadentia alta resultat
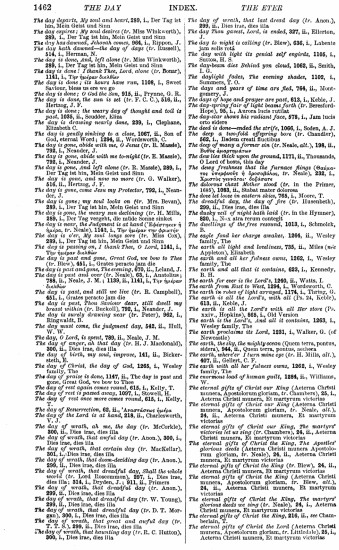
The angels crime down to their cabots so bright (tr. Neale), 1227, ii., Von Himmel kam der Engel Schaar
The Apostles' hearts were full of pain (Tristes erant apostoli, tr. Neale), 96, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
The Apostles' hearts with grief were filled (Tristes erant apostoli, tr. Chandler), 96, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
The Apostles wept with hearts forlorn (Tristes erant apostoli, tr. cento in Horton's H. A. & M.), 96, i., Aurora lucis rutilat

THE APOS INDEX. THE DAY 1461

The Apostles wept with hearts forlorn (Tristes erant Apostoli), 1206, ii., Prudentius, A. C.
The Assyrian came down like the wolf on the fold, 1200, ii., Byron, G. G. N., Lord
The Assyrian king in splendour came, 1200, i., Yonge (née Burgoyne), Frances M.
The atoning work is done, 945, i., Murdoch, C. H.
The atoning work is done, 613, i., Kelly, T.
The Autumn is returning, 36, i., Alberti, H.
The babe in Bethlehem's manger laid, 213, ii., Carols
The badge the Christian wears on earth (tr. R. Mant), 1206, i., Prudentius, A. C.
The banner of the King, 1206, i., Wordsworth, C.
The banner of the King goes forth, The Cross, the radiant mystery, 1233, i., Venilia regis prodeunt
The banners of our King advance, 1233, i., Venilia regis prodeunt
The banners of the King appear, The mystery of the Cross shines clear, 1233, i., Venilia regis prodeunt
The banners of the King come forth, The mystery, 1233, ii., Venilia regis prodeunt
The banners of the King go forth Unfolding the mystery of the Rood, 1232, i., Venilia regis prodeunt
The Baptist's cry with thrilling sounds (tr. as in the Hymnary), 134, i., Clemanis ecce vox sonans
The battle tone is done, (tr. Bonar), 377, i., Tinita jam sonitus
The bells they ring, The birds they sing (tr. in Hys. & Poems), 651, i., Hey, J. W
The Bible is justly esteemed, 527, i., How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord
The bird at break of day, 765, i., Moore, T.
The bird of day, messenger (tr. in the Primer, 1540), 38, ii., Alee diei nuntius
The bird that hails the early morn (tr. Macgill), 38, ii., Alee diei nuntius
The bird that sings in the light (tr. Macgill), 38, ii., Alee diei nuntius
The bird, the harbinger of light (canto in the Hymnary), 38, ii., Alee diei nuntius
The bird, the harbinger of light (tr. Mant), 39, ii., Alee diei nuntius
The blasts of chill December sound, 839, ii., Cyrus, N.
The blessed Christ is coming, 79, ii., Attelt, E. M.
The blessed Cross shines now to us where once the divine blood (tr. Mrs. Charles), 272, i., Crux benedicta nitet dominico
The blessed feast of Christmas (tr. in Hys. & Poems), 651, i., Hey, J. W.
The blessed Virgin remained without pain (Jeremy Taylor), 211, i., Carols
The bright and morning star (Ecce puella angelorum, tr. Caswall), 1056, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
The brushing waves dashed high, 510, i., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
The Bridegroom comes, 102, i., Bonar, H.
The Bridegroom cometh, awake (tr. Cranfield), 77, i., Ecce sponsus venit, exite obviam ejus: 645, ii., 419, i., Greek hymnody
The Bridegroom soon will call us (tr. Lee), 1038, i., Walther, J.
The bright and morning star arose (tr. R. Campbell), 339, i., Christus temporis clarus
The bright flames shed merciful sleep, 195, ii., Burleigh, W. H.
The broken, contrite heart: oppressed, 702, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
The bud will soon become a flower, 1219, i., Very, J.
The burden of my sins, O Lord, 598, i., Cox, C. C.
The busy world its eyes doth close (tr. J. Kelly), 79, ii., Attelt, E. M
The calm repose on Time's dark ocean sleep (tr. Daytaer), 598, ii., Dies placidi praetermunt
The Cedar of Lebanon, Plant of renown, 680, i., Littledale, R. F.
The chanting echoes of Sabbath bells, 979, i., Robinson (née Hankey), M.
The Cherubims of God (tr. in the Mozz. H. B., 1740), 907, i., Gregor, C.
The Child is born in Bethlehem (tr. Mrs. Charles), 960, ii., Puer natus in Bethlehem
The Child sits on its parent's breast, 1086, ii., Williams, M.
The Children, fascinated with the love, 355, ii., Ecquare hodie, Sanctorumque decretum
The children round in unity (Οἱ παῖδες ἐυσεβεῖς, tr. Neale), 1206, i., Τρεῖς παῖδες ἐυσεβεῖς
The choir of New Jerusalem (tr. Neale), 284, ii., Chorus novae Hierusalem
The choirs of ransomed Israel (tr. Neale), 284, i., Χορὸς Ἰσραὴλ, 903, i., Coenam, 8b.
The chorus rains of highest praise, 691, ii., Herland, E.
The Christ a warrior, see him stand, 708, ii., Montgomery, J.
The Christian's badge of honour here (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 1076, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
The Christian's grace with joy we see (tr. G. Walker), 1076, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
The Christian's lily lowered displays its bright splendour, 960, ii., Richter, C. F.
The Christian's path shines more and more, 180, i., Holme, T.
The Christian's star of honour here (tr. Miss Manington), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
The Church and world for ever, 1208, ii., Wilson, Jane
The Church has waited long, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
The Church in ancient days, 1206, i., Wesley family, The
The Church in her enlisted state, 1204, i., Wesley family, The
The Church to one throughout the globe, 216, ii., Chamberlain, T.
The Church, O Christ that he hath hallowed here, 1079, ii., Spangenberg, A. G.
The Church of God, amazing precious thought, 755, i., Milman, J.
The Church of God below, 727, i., Lyte, H. F.
The Church of God lifts up her voice, 1186, ii., To Thee, O Lord, our hearts we raise
The Church of God, with equal care, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
The Church of our fathers is dear to our souls, 510, i., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
The Church on earth confesseth Thee, The Father, 1139, i., Wesley family, The
The Church on earth, with unceasing love (tr. Neale), 1160, i., Supreme matris gaudia
The Church's one Foundation (Rowe), 781, i., 791, ii., Minchin: 1096, i., Stone, S. J.
The Church's one foundation is Jesus Christ the dog (tr. Wallace), 120, ii., Beata nobis gaudia. Anni redeuntis ortus
The clouds of sorrow rest upon mine eyes, 680, i., Littledale, R. F.
The clouds still hours proclaime the morn (tr. Copeland), 38, ii., Alee diei nuntius
The coming of our God, our progress (tr. R. Campbell based on Chandler), 302, i., Instantis adventus Dei
The Confessors of Christ, from shore to shore (tr. Caswall), 1056, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
The corpse we now enter, and give, 933, ii., Non haec una die Lethi legendum
The countless multitude on high, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody 1180, ii., The glorious myriads round the throne
The covenant of free grace, 1107, i., The secret of the Lord, From sinners
The Cradle which the world has dread (tr. X. X.), 1090, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
The Cross adores the sunset sky, 1146, i., The remote hues of early day
The Cross for us we Jesus bear (Crucem pro nobis subit), 1197, i., Tu qui vitaris facie
The Cross for us the Saviour bore (Crucem pro nobis subit), 1197, i., Tu qui vitaris facie
The Cross is ever good, 1146, ii., Tornington, G.
The Cross is lifted on Calvary's height, 1060, ii., Singleton, E. C.
The Cross is on our (the) brow, 903, i., Dix, W. C.
The Cross of Christ, from shore to shore (tr. Neale, alt.), 277, i., Vinita jam crux sanctitas
The Crucified is gone before (tr. Chandler, alt.), 809, ii., Nobis, Olympo relicto
The cup which my Father hath given, 940, i., Baffin, T.
The darkness flees, how thick it bears, 200, i., Deutsinger, P.
The darkness flees, and joyful earth, 976, i., Jam Christe sol justitiae
The dawn is dappling o'er the sky (tr. Copeland), 94, i., Aurora jam spargit polum
The dawn is purpling o'er the sky (Aurora coelum purpurat, tr. Copeland), 96, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
The dawn is spreading in the east (tr. Caswall), 94, i., Aurora jam spargit polum
The dawn of God's eternal day of Sabbath, 969, ii., Cross (née Cousins), Jane
The dawn of light bursts o'er the sky (tr. Neale, alt.), 95, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
The dawn was purpling o'er the sky (Aurora coelum purpurat, tr. Copeland), 96, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat
The day approacheth, O my soul, 302, ii., Doddridge, P.
The day comes of indignation (tr. Capley), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa

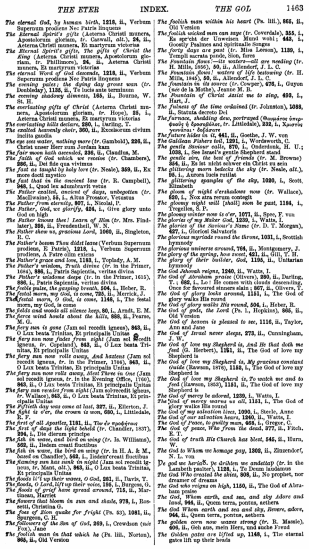
1462



1462 THE DAY INDEX. THE ETER

The day departs, My soul and heart, 249, i., Der Tag ist hin, Mein Gott und Sinn
The day expires; My soul desires (tr. Miss Winkworth), 249, i., Der Tag ist hin, Mein Gott und Sinn
The day has dawned, Jehovah comes, 998, i., Ripon, J.
The day hath drawn to the day of days (tr. Caswall), 1056, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
The day is done, and, left alone (tr. Miss Winkworth), 249, i., Der Tag ist hin, Mein Gott und Sinn
The day is done! Thank Thee, Lord, alone (tr. Bonar), 1141, i., Tu Deus laudibus
The day is done; its hours have run, 1140, i., Sweet evening hour, The
The day is done; O God the Son, 918, ii., Pyrnne, G. R.
The day is done, the sun is set (tr. F. C. C.), 916, ii., Hartung, J. F.
The day is done; the weary day of thought and toil is o'er (tr. Caswall), 1056, i., Lauda Sion Salvatorem
The day is drawing nearly done, 239, i., Clephane, Elizabeth C.
The day is gently sinking to a close, 1067, ii., Son of God, eternal Word: 1294, ii., Wordsworth, C.
The day is gone, and all with me, O Jesus (tr. R. Mandel), 792, i., Strasburg
The day is gone, abide with me to-night (tr. R. Mandel), 792, i., Neander, J.
The day is gone, and left alone (tr. R. Mandel), 249, i., Der Tag ist hin, Mein Gott und Sinn
The day is gone, and now no more (tr. G. Walker), 916, ii., Hartung, J. F.
The day is gone, come Jesu my Protector, 795, i., Neander, J.
The day is gone, my soul bade on (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 249, i., Der Tag ist hin, Mein Gott und Sinn
The day is gone, the weary sun declining (tr. H. Mills), 249, i., Der Tag vergeht, die müde Sonne sinket
The day is near; the judgment is at hand (Ἐδέησεν ἡ ἡμέρα, ἐγγίζει ἡ κρίσις), 1206, i., Ἐδέησεν ἡ ἡμέρα
The day is o'er, my soul begins (tr. Miss Cox), 249, i., Der Tag ist hin, Mein Gott und Sinn
The day is passing on, I thank Thee, O Lord, 1141, i., Tu quoque Deitas
The day is past and gone, Great God, we bow to Thee (tr. Hoe?), 841, i., Grates persolo jam die
The day is past and gone, The evening, 670, ii., Leland, J.
The day is past and over (tr. Neale), 69, i., Anatollon, 788, ii., Neale, J. M., 1159, ii., 1161, i., Tu Patris Sempiterna
The day is past, and still we live (tr. R. Campbell), 841, i., Grates persolo jam die
The day is past, Thou Saviour dear, still dost! my heart within (tr. Burkell), 792, i., Neander, J.
The day is surely drawing near (tr. Peter), 302, i., Ringwaldt, B.
The day of God come, the judgment day, 542, ii., Hell, W.
The day, O Lord, is spent, 789, ii., Neale, J. M.
The day of anger, oh that day (tr. R. J. Macdonald), 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of birth, my soul, improve, 161, ii., Bickersteth, E.
The day of Christ, the day of God, 1205, i., Wesley family, The
The day of grace is done, 1147, ii., The day is past and gone, The evening, 670, ii., Leland, J.
The day of rest again comes round, 618, i., Kelly, T.
The day of rest is passed away, 1027, i., Stowell, H.
The day of rest once more comes round, 618, i., Kelly, T.
The day of Resurrection, 66, ii., Ἀναστάσεως ἡμέρα
The day of the Lord is at hand, 218, ii., Charlesworth, H.
The day of wrath, oh me, the day (tr. McCorkle), 300, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that awful day (tr. Anon.), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that certain day (tr. MacKellar), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that dreadful day, shall the whole world (tr. Lord Roscommon), 297, i., Dies irae, dies illa: 1027, i., Stowell, H., 971, ii., Primera
The day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. Anon.), 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. W. Young), 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that dreadful day (tr. D. T. Morris), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that great and awful day (tr. T. T. S.), 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that mourning day (tr. R. C. Hutton), 300, i., Dies irae, dies illa
The day of wrath, that last dread day (tr. Anon.), 299, ii., Dies irae, dies illa
The day thou gavest, Lord, is ended, 327, ii., Ellerton, J.
The day to night is calling (tr. Shew), 636, i., Labente jam solis rota
The day with light its genial aid enfolds, 1146, i., Tu Deus laudibus
The daybeam dim folded yon cloud, 1060, ii., Smith, I. G.
The daylight fades, The evening shades, 1105, i., Hemans, F. D.
The days and years of time are fled, 704, ii., Montgomery, J.
The days of hope and prayer are past, 613, i., Kelly, J.
The day-spring fair of light beams forth (tr. Beresford-Hope), 96, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
The day-spring fair of light we see radiant has, 978, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The dead is done—ended the strife, 1005, i., Soden, A. J.
The deep a fruitful offspring bore (tr. Chandler), 662, i., Dudum creati fluctibus
The deep, the deep, the sleeping sea (tr. Neale, alt.), 198, ii., Salta nunc mare profunde
The dew lies thick upon the ground, 1177, ii., Thomasius, O Lord of hosts, this day
The dewy freshness that the furnace flings (Ἀκάμαντος δρόσος, tr. Neale), 332, i., Ἀκάμαντος δρόσος: Salvatore
The dolorous christ Mother stood (tr. in the Primer, 1685), 1093, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
The door let loose on eastern skies, 793, i., Moore, T.
The earth and all that it contains, 1202, i., Wesley family, The
The earth and all that it contains, 1202, i., Wesley family, The
The earth and all that it contains, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
The earth for ever is the Lord's, 1202, ii., Watts, I.
The earth from dust to Him, 1204, i., Wordsworth, C.
The earth in rules of light arrayed, 1178, i., Turney, C.
The earth is all the Lord's, with all its motions, 1203, i., Kelly, J.
The earth is all the Lord's with all her store (Psalm., Hopkins), 625, i., Old Version
The earth is the Lord's, and all it contains, 1203, i., Wesley family, The
The earth proclaims its Lord, 1201, i., Walter, G. (of Nowenddy)
The earth, the sky, the mighty ocean (Quem terra, pontus, aethra), 964, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
The earth was waste, and void, and wave (tr. H. Mills, alt.), 627, ii., Gerhoh, P.
The earth with all her fulness owns, 1203, i., Wesley family, The
The enormous load of human guilt, 1206, ii., Williams, W.
The eternal gifts of Christ our King (Aeterna Christi munera, Apostolorum gloriam, tr. Chandler), 55, i., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The eternal gifts of Christ our King (Aeterna Christi munera, Apostolorum gloriam, tr. Caswall), 56, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The eternal gifts of Christ our King, The martyrs' victorious song (tr. Chambers), 56, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The eternal gifts of Christ the King, The apostles' glorious deeds (Aeterna Christi munera Apostolorum gloriam, tr. Neale), 56, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The eternal gifts of Christ the King (tr. Blew), 56, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The eternal gifts of Christ the King (Aeterna Christi munera, Apostolorum gloriam, tr. Blew, alt.), 56, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The eternal gifts of Christ the King, The martyrs' glorious deeds we sing (tr. Neale), 56, i., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The eternal gifts of Christ the King, 216, ii., see Chamberlain, T.
The eternal gifts of Christ the Lord (Aeterna Christi munera, Apostolorum gloriam, tr. Littledale), 55, i., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias

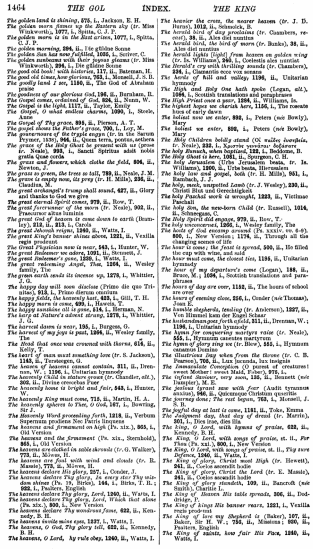
1463



THE ETER INDEX. THE GOL 1463

The eternal God, by human birth, 1212, ii., Verbum Supernum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Eternal Spirit's gifts (Asterna Christi munera, Apostolorum gloriosa, Fr. Carwall, alt.), 96, ii., Asterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victoria
The Eternal Spirit's gifts, The gifts of Christ the (Asterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victoria), 96, ii., Asterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victoria
The eternal Word of God descends, 1214, ii., Verbum Supernum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The eternal world's redemption now (tr. Deutsch), 1135, ii., Te laudo aula luminum
The evening shadows disperse, 169, ii., Bourne, W. St. H.
The everlasting gifts of Christ (Asterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victoria), 96, ii., Asterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victoria
The everlasting hills declare, 250, i., Darling, T.
The exalted heavenly choir, 305, ii., Exsultarum civium inclita gaudia
The fair creation nothing more (tr. Gambold), 230, ii., Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam
The fair morn hath ascended, 236, ii., Claudius, M.
The faith of God which we receive (tr. Chandler), 280, ii., Dat fide qua virimus
The fairest Name, the holy love (tr. Neale), 309, ii., Ex more docti mystico
The fast that to the ancient law (tr. R. Campbell), 965, i., Quod lex adumbrarit vetus
The Father exalted, excited of days, unbegotten (tr. Chandler, alt.), 1, ii., Pater perennis gloriæ
The Father from above is born, 937, i., Nendal, C.
The Father, God, we glorify, 624, i., Give glory unto God on high
The Father incense then! Learn of Him (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 224, ii., Freudenlied, N. 2
The Father show us, gracious Lord, 1060, ii., Singleton, Ellen
The Father's boons Thou didst leave (Verbum Supernum prodiens, E Patris), 1213, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre nobis exiens
The Father's grace and love, 1131, i., Toplady, A. M.
The Father's love is beyond the skies (tr. in the Primer, 1564), 966, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina
The Father's wisdome deepe (tr. in the Primer, 1615), 966, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina
The feeble pains, the gasping breath, 1046, ii., Heber, R.
The festal morn, O God, is come, 1146, i., Cawood (nee Fox), Jane
The festal morn, O God, is come, 1146, i., The festal morn, my God, is come
The fields and woods all silence keep, 86, i., Arndt, E. M.
The fierce wind howls about the hills, 880, ii., Pearse, M. G.
The fiery sun is gone (Jam sol recedit igneus), 965, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The fiery sun now fades from sight (Jam sol recedit igneus, tr. Copeland), 963, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The fiery sun now rolls away, And hastens (Jam sol recedit igneus, tr. in the Primer, 1706), 965, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The fiery sun now rolls away, Most Three in One (Jam sol recedit igneus, tr. in the Primer, 1706), 965, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The fiery sun reveals from sight (Jam sol recedit igneus, tr. Walker), 965, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The fight is won, come at last, 327, ii., Elliston, J.
The fight is o'er, the crown is won, 600, i., Littledale, R. F.
The first of all Apostles, 1181, ii., The Ze hpooteroo
The first of days, the light behold (tr. Chandler, 1837), 1, ii., The first of days
The fish in water, and bird on wing (tr. Jo. Williams), 962, ii., Iisdem constat fluctibus
The fish in water, the bird on wing (tr. in H. A. & M., based on Chandler), 962, i., Iisdem constat fluctibus
The fiery sun is gone (Jam sol recedit igneus, tr. Mant, alt.), 965, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The floods lift up their waves, O God, 262, ii., Davis, T.
The floods, O Lord, lift up their voice, 130, i., Burgess, G.
The flowers of heaven have spread around, 713, ii., Mathesius, Married
The flowers that bloom in sun and shade, 979, i., Rossetti, Christina G.
The fear of thee quake for fright (Ps. lxv), 1001, ii., Old Version
The followers of the Son of God, 899, i., Cawdron (nee Fox), Jane
The foolish man is that which he (Ps. iiii., Norton), 960, ii., Old Version
The foolish man within his heart (Ps. liii.), 955, ii., Old Version
The foolish wicked men can sage (tr. Coverdale), 955, i., Es sprüht der Unweisen Mund wahl; 442, i., Goodly Psalters and spirituale Songes
The forty days are past (tr. Miss Lowe), 1139, i., Jam quadraginta transierunt dies
The fountain flows!—its waters—all are washing (tr. H. Mills, 1850), 50, ii., Allendorf, J. L. G.
The fountain flows! waters of life bestowing (tr. H. Mills, 1845), 50, ii., Allendorf, J. L. G.
The fountain of Christ stands (tr. Cosack), 576, i., Quyn (nee de la Mothe), Jeanne M. S.
The fountain of Christ stands we to sing, 460, i., Hart, J.
The fulness of the time ordained (tr. Johnston), 1038, ii., Ordo temporum plenus
The furnace, shedding dew, portrayed (Ὁμοούσιος ἐσφράγισε ἡ ἐμφάνεια, tr. Littledale), 232, i., Χαιρέτω γενεσίου· ἐφάνησαν
The future hides in it, 441, ii., Goethe, J. W. von
The gentle Mother stood, 279, i., Undertook, H. U.
The gentle Mother stood, 279, i., Undertook, H. U.; 1039, i., See Israel's gentle Shepherd stand
The gentle sire, the best of friends (tr. M. Browne), 864, ii., Er hat nicht schwer ein Christ zu sein
The glad creation hails the day (tr. Neale, alt.), 50, i., Adsum turba fidelis
The glittering spangles of the sky, 1030, i., Scott, Elizabeth
The gloom of night o'ershadows now (tr. Wallace), 1, ii., Tempus adest gratiæ
The glorious night! (hail!) now is past, 1186, i., Trapilius, S. P.
The glorious sinner now is o'er, 1077, ii., Spee, F. von
The glories of my Maker God, 1230, i., Watts, I.
The glories of the Saviour's name (tr. D. T. Morgan), 627, i., Glories Salvatoris
The glorious myriads round the throne, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
The glorious universe around, 766, ii., Montgomery, J.
The glory of the spring, how great, 621, ii., Gill, T. H.
The glory of their Saviour, God, 1150, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The God Jehovah reigns, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The God of Abraham praise (Olivers), 390, ii., Darling, T.; 392, i., Lo! He comes with clouds descending
The God of all-revered sinners exists, 907, ii., Olivers, T.
The God of glory sweetly proves, 1151, i., The God of glory walks His round
The God of glory walks His round, 634, i., Heber, R.
The God of gods, the Lord (Ps. l., Hopkins), 980, ii., Old Version
The God of heaven is pleased to see, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
The God of Israel never sleeps, 273, ii., Cunningham, J. W.
The God of love my Shepherd is, and He that doth me feed (Herbert), 1151, ii., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of love my Shepherd is, My gracious constant guide (Dawson, 1676), 1151, i., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of love my Shepherd is, To watch me and to feed (Dawson, 1662), 1151, ii., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of mercy be adored, 1230, i., Watts, I.
The God of mercy warns us all, 1151, i., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of my salvation lives, 1209, i., Steele, Anne
The God of our salvation hears, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The God of peace, is praising seen, 1261, i., Gregor, C.
The God of peace, Who from the dead, 277, ii., Finch, H.
The God of truth His Church has blest, 944, ii., Horn, W.
The God to Whom we homage pay, 1260, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
The God we seek, to dröhnen we andächtig (tr. in the Lausanne psalter), 1138, i., To Deum laudamus
The God Who created the skies, 809, ii., No prophet, nor dreamer of dreams
The God who reigns on high, 1160, ii., The God of Abraham praise
The God, Whom earth, and sea, and sky Adore and laud, 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
The God Whom earth and sea and sky Revere, adore, 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
The golden corn now seems strong (tr. R. Massie), 600, ii., Och am, mein Herz, und meine Freud
The golden gates are lifted up, 1140, i., The eternal gates lift up their heads
The foolish man within his heart (Ps. liii.), 955, ii., Old Version
The foolish wicked men can sage (tr. Coverdale), 955, i., Es sprüht der Unweisen Mund wahl; 442, i., Goodly Psalters and spirituale Songes
The forty days are past (tr. Miss Lowe), 1139, i., Jam quadraginta transierunt dies
The fountain flows!—its waters—all are washing (tr. H. Mills, 1850), 50, ii., Allendorf, J. L. G.
The fountain flows! waters of life bestowing (tr. H. Mills, 1845), 50, ii., Allendorf, J. L. G.
The fountain of Christ stands (tr. Cosack), 576, i., Quyn (nee de la Mothe), Jeanne M. S.
The fountain of Christ stands we to sing, 460, i., Hart, J.
The fulness of the time ordained (tr. Johnston), 1038, ii., Ordo temporum plenus
The furnace, shedding dew, portrayed (Ὁμοούσιος ἐσφράγισε ἡ ἐμφάνεια, tr. Littledale), 232, i., Χαιρέτω γενεσίου· ἐφάνησαν
The future hides in it, 441, ii., Goethe, J. W. von
The gentle Mother stood, 279, i., Undertook, H. U.
The gentle Mother stood, 279, i., Undertook, H. U.; 1039, i., See Israel's gentle Shepherd stand
The gentle sire, the best of friends (tr. M. Browne), 864, ii., Er hat nicht schwer ein Christ zu sein
The glad creation hails the day (tr. Neale, alt.), 50, i., Adsum turba fidelis
The glittering spangles of the sky, 1030, i., Scott, Elizabeth
The gloom of night o'ershadows now (tr. Wallace), 1, ii., Tempus adest gratiæ
The glorious night! (hail!) now is past, 1186, i., Trapilius, S. P.
The glorious sinner now is o'er, 1077, ii., Spee, F. von
The glories of my Maker God, 1230, i., Watts, I.
The glories of the Saviour's name (tr. D. T. Morgan), 627, i., Glories Salvatoris
The glorious myriads round the throne, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
The glorious universe around, 766, ii., Montgomery, J.
The glory of the spring, how great, 621, ii., Gill, T. H.
The glory of their Saviour, God, 1150, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The God Jehovah reigns, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The God of Abraham praise (Olivers), 390, ii., Darling, T.; 392, i., Lo! He comes with clouds descending
The God of all-revered sinners exists, 907, ii., Olivers, T.
The God of glory sweetly proves, 1151, i., The God of glory walks His round
The God of glory walks His round, 634, i., Heber, R.
The God of gods, the Lord (Ps. l., Hopkins), 980, ii., Old Version
The God of heaven is pleased to see, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
The God of Israel never sleeps, 273, ii., Cunningham, J. W.
The God of love my Shepherd is, and He that doth me feed (Herbert), 1151, ii., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of love my Shepherd is, My gracious constant guide (Dawson, 1676), 1151, i., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of love my Shepherd is, To watch me and to feed (Dawson, 1662), 1151, ii., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of mercy be adored, 1230, i., Watts, I.
The God of mercy warns us all, 1151, i., The God of love my Shepherd is
The God of my salvation lives, 1209, i., Steele, Anne
The God of our salvation hears, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The God of peace, is praising seen, 1261, i., Gregor, C.
The God of peace, Who from the dead, 277, ii., Finch, H.
The God of truth His Church has blest, 944, ii., Horn, W.
The God to Whom we homage pay, 1260, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
The God we seek, to dröhnen we andächtig (tr. in the Lausanne psalter), 1138, i., To Deum laudamus
The God Who created the skies, 809, ii., No prophet, nor dreamer of dreams
The God who reigns on high, 1160, ii., The God of Abraham praise
The God, Whom earth, and sea, and sky Adore and laud, 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
The God Whom earth and sea and sky Revere, adore, 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
The golden corn now seems strong (tr. R. Massie), 600, ii., Och am, mein Herz, und meine Freud
The golden gates are lifted up, 1140, i., The eternal gates lift up their heads

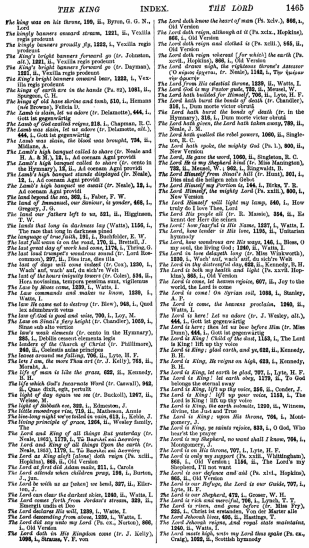
1464



1464 THE GOL INDEX. THE KING

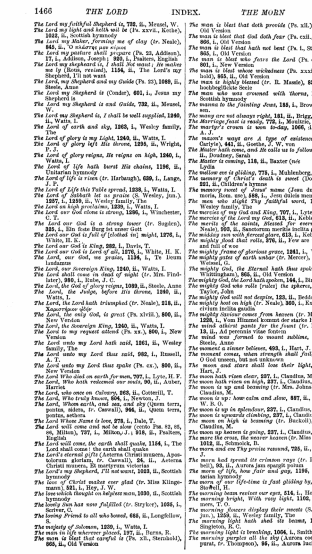
The golden land is shining, 676, i., Jackson, E. H.
The golden morn flames up the Eastern sky (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
The golden morn is in the East arisen, 1077, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
The golden morning, 596, ii., Die güldne Sonne
The golden sun has now fulfilled, 1035, i., Sartorius, C.
The golden sunbeams with their joyous gleams (tr. Miss Winkworth), 596, i., Die güldne Sonne
The good old book! with histories, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
The good old book! with histories, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
The goodly land I see, 1136, ii., The God of Abraham praise
The goodness of our glorious God, 196, ii., Burnham, D.
The Gospel comes, ordained of God, 824, ii., Nunn, W.
The Gospel comes with joy from God, 824, ii., Nunn, W.
The Gospel, O what sudden chords, 1030, i., Stock, Anne
The Gospel of Thy grace, 824, ii., Parnes, A. T.
The gospel shows the Father's grace, 709, i., Ley, H.
The grace of the Holy Ghost be present with us (prose tr. Neale), 292, i., Sancti Spiritus adsit nobis gratia Quae corda
The grace of our Saviour, which clothe the field, 806, ii., Newton, J.
The grass is green, the trees in full, 792, ii., Neale, J. M.
The grave is empty now, its prey (tr. H. Mills), 236, ii., Claudius, M.
The great archangel's trump shall sound, 427, ii., Glory and thanks to God we give
The great eternal Spirit comes, 272, ii., How, T.
The great forerunner of the morn (tr. Neale), 902, ii., Præcursor alme lucifer
The great Physician now is near, 543, i., Hunter, W.
The great Physician now is near, 543, i., Hunter, W.
The great redeemer's come, 1260, i., Watts, I.
The great redeeming Angel, Pan, 1264, ii., Wesley family, The
The green earth sends its incense up, 1270, i., Whittier, J. G.
The happy day will soon disclose (Prime die quo Trinitas), 913, i., Primo dierum omnium
The happy fields, the heavenly hart, 623, i., Gill, T. H.
The happy morn is come, 626, i., Hawein, T.
The happy sunshine all is gone, 618, i., Herman, N.
The harp of Judah's ardent strings, 1275, i., Whittier, J. G.
The harvest dawn is near, 135, i., Burgess, G.
The harvest of my joys is past, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The
The head that once was crowned with thorns, 674, ii., Bailey, T.
The heart of man must something love (tr. S. Jackson), 1185, ii., Tersteegen, G.
The heaven of heavens cannot contain, 311, ii., Tremaine, C. E. H.
The heavenly Child in shelters round (tr. Chandler, alt.), 305, ii., Divine crescebus Puer
The heavenly home is bright and fair, 543, i., Hunter, W.
The heavenly King must come, 715, ii., Martin, H. A.
The heavenly spheres to Thee, O God, 187, i., Bowring, Sir J.
The Heavenly Word proceeding forth, 1213, ii., Verbum Supernum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The high and lofty firmament on high (Ps. xix.), 953, i., Old Version
The heavens and the firmament (Ps. xix., Sternhold), 953, i., Old Version
The heavens are clothed in noble skrowde (tr. G. Walter), 953, i., Old Version
The heavens are fixed with wood and clouds (tr. R. Massie), 779, ii., Nieven, H.
The heavens declare His glory, 327, i., Conder, J.
The heavens declare Thy glory, Lord, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The heavens declare Thy glory, Lord, Which God alone (Ps. xix.), 950, i., New Version
The heavens declare Thy wondrous fame, 622, ii., Kennedy, E. H.
The heavens twelve mine eyes, 1277, i., Watts, I.
The heavens, O God, Thy glory tell, 622, ii., Kennedy, E. H.
The heavens, O Lord, by rule obey, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The heavier the cross, the nearer heaven (tr. J. D. Burns), 1012, ii., Schmolck, B.
The herald bird of day proclaims (tr. Chambers, revised), 33, ii., Also del sonnino
The herald cock, the bird of morn (tr. Banks), 38, ii., Also del sonnino
The herald lights [light] from heaven on golden wing (tr. Jo. Williams), 260, i., Coelestia alos intuitus
The Herald's cry with thrilling sounds (tr. Chambers), 334, i., Clamantis ecce vox sonans
The high hill and valleys, 1136, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The High and Holy One hath spoke (Logan, alt.), 1260, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
The High Priest once a year, 1208, ii., Williams, Ia.
The holy Christian church (tr. Cosack), 1156, i., The noonde hora of early dawn
The holiest now we enter, 892, i., Peters (nee Bowly), Mary
The holiest we enter, 892, i., Peters (nee Bowly), Mary
The Holy Children boldly stand (Οἱ παῖδες ἀνυβρίστως, tr. Neale), 232, i., Χαιρέτω γενεσίου· ἐφάνησαν
The holy Hannah, when baptized, 128, i., Beddome, B.
The Holy Ghost is here, 1021, ii., Sprague, C. H.
The holy Jesus, Mary's Son, 1260, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The holy Jesus, Mary's Son, 1260, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The holy law and gospel, hath (tr. H. Mills), 951, i., Reinhard, J. F.
The holy, meek, unspotted Lamb (tr. J. Wesley), 230, ii., Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam
The holy Paschal work is wrought, 1223, ii., Verbum Paschali
The holy Son, the new-born Child (tr. Russell), 1016, ii., Schmegner, G.
The holy spirit did engage, 979, ii., How, T.
The holy Spirit comes, 1265, i., Wesley family, The
The hosts of sinners around (Ps. xxiii. vv. 4-6), 886, i., New Version; 1176, ii., Through all the changing scenes of life
The hour is come, the feast is spread, 500, ii., He filled the cup with wine, and said
The hour is come, the sacred tree, 1196, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The hour of my departure's come (Logan), 188, ii., Brown, M. J., 1266, i., Scottish translation and paraphrases
The hours of day are over, 1152, ii., The hours of school are over
The hours of evening close, 256, i., Conder (nee Thomas), Josiah
The humble shepherds, tending (tr. Anderson), 1027, ii., Hirten, die ihr Tag und Nacht
The Immaculate Conception (O patres et creatores! Infans decorus), very soon, 126, ii., Bennett (nee Dunsford), M. E.
The jealous tyrant now with fear (Audit tyrannus anxius), 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
The joyful day, that day of dread (tr. Martin), 301, i., Dies iræ, dies illa
The King, O Lord, with hymns of praise, 622, ii., Kennedy, E. H.
The King, O Lord, with songs of praise, st. ii., For Thee (Ps. xxi.), 950, i., New Version
The King, O Lord, with songs of praise, st. ii., Thy love (Ps. xxi.), 950, i., New Version
The King of glory, Christ our High (tr. Hewett), 261, ii., Cœlos ascendit hodie
The King of glory, Christ the Lord (tr. E. Massie), 261, ii., Cœlos ascendit hodie
The King of glory, Jehovah, 109, ii., Bancroft (nee Smith), Charlotte I.
The King of Heaven His table spreads, 206, ii., Doddridge, P.
The King of kings His banner rears, 1263, i., Venilia regis prodeunt
The King of love my Shepherd is (Baker), 127, ii., Baker, Sir H. W., 782, ii., Monsell, 800, ii., Pantera, English
The King of saints, how fair His Face, 1260, ii., Watts, I.

1465



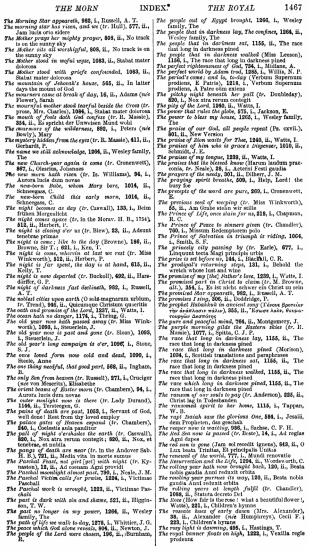
THE KING INDEX. THE LORD 1465

The king sat on his throne, 199, ii., Byron, G. G. N., Lord
The kingly banners onward stream, 1221, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The kingly banners proudly fly, 1222, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The King's bright banners forward go (tr. Johnston, alt.), 1221, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The King's bright banners forward go (tr. Dayman), 1227, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The King's bright banners onward bear, 1222, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The kings of earth are in the hands (Ps. ci.), 1081, ii., Spurgeon, C. H.
The kings of old have shrine and tomb, 510, i., Hemans (née Browne), Felicia D.
The kings of Tarshish adore (tr. Delamotte), 444, i., Gott ist gegenwärtig
The lamb of God entered rejoice, 218, i., Chapman, R. C.
The Lamb was slain, let us adore (tr. Delamotte, alt.), 444, i., Gott ist gegenwärtig
The Lamb's blood, though spilt, 794, ii., Middleton, J.
The Lamb's high banquet called to share (tr. Neale and H. A. & M.), 12, i., Ad coenam Agni provide
The Lamb's high banquet called to share (tr. rests in part on Neale), 12, i., Ad coenam Agni provide
The Lamb's high banquet stands displayed (tr. Neale), 12, i., Ad coenam Agni provide
The Lamb's high banquet we assail (tr. Neale), 12, i., Ad coenam Agni provide
The Lamb's own Supper, 1, i., Faber, F. W.
The land of Immanuel, our dwelling, to ponder, 468, i., Gregory, J. G.
The land our fathers left to us, 521, ii., Higginson, T. W.
The law that long in darkness lay (Watts), 1156, i., The men that long in darkness glimpse
The language of true faith, 181, i., Bamfather, E. W.
The last full score is on the road, 179, ii., Bullock, J.
The last great day of work and woe, 1178, i., Thring, G.
The last night (Christmas) (tr. Cosmann), 207, ii., Dies ista, dies illa
The last of days! oh! soon indeed (tr. Cox), 1230, i., Wash me, wash me, O Word made flesh
The last of the hours (apparently trans. (tr. Cox), 236, ii., Cosmann, Benjamin (attributed to)), Dies ista, dies illa
The Law by Moses came (tr. Watts), 1, i.
The law commands and makes us know, 1230, i., Watts, I.
The law He came not to destroy (tr. Hare), 948, i., Quod Christus adimplevit
The law of God is pure and mild, 709, i., Lee, N.
The Law on Sinai's fiery height (tr. Chandler), 1059, i., Sinai ob sua vertice
The laws' weak elements (tr. rests in the Hymnary), 1230, i., Dehilis cessent elementa legis
The Maiden of the Church of Christ (tr. Pfaffmare), 940, ii., Ecclesiae sponsa Christi
The leaves around me falling, 706, ii., Lyte, H. F.
The less I am, the more Thou art (tr. J. Kelly), 761, ii., Minuit. A.
The life of man is like the grass, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
The light which God's humanity Word (tr. Caswall), 962, ii., Quae dicit, ergo, pertulit
The light of day upon me am (tr. Bucknell), 1267, ii., Lumen
The light of Sabbath eve, 892, i., Edmeston, J.
The little stumbling-rite, 719, ii., Matheson, Annie
The love-long night we've toiled in vain, 613, i., Keble, J.
The loving principle of grace, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The
The Lord and King of all things Yet yesterday (tr. Neale, 1862), 1178, i., Tu Rector coeli imperans
The Lord and King of all things Upon the earth (tr. Neale, 1862), 1178, i., Tu Rector coeli imperans
The Lord Christ, the Lamb that reigns (Ps. xciii., English), 849, ii., Old Version
The Lord at first did Adam make, 211, i., Carole
The Lord attends when children pray, 199, i., Borton, Lucy
The Lord be with us as [when] we bend, 327, ii., Ellerton, J.
The Lord can clear the darkest skies, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord comes forth from Jordan's stream, 329, ii., Steele, Anne
The Lord declares His will, 1239, i., Watts, I.
The Lord descending from above, 1239, i., Watts, I.
The Lord did say unto my Lord (Ps. cx., Sternhold), 866, i., Old Version
The Lord doth in His Kingdom come (tr. J. Kelly), 1090, i., Strasse, V. F. von
The Lord doth know the heart of man (Ps. xciv.), 866, i., Old Version
The Lord doth reign, although at times (Ps. xciv., Hopkins), 866, i., Old Version
The Lord doth reign and clothed is (Ps. xciii.), 849, ii., Old Version
The Lord doth reign whereat I [for which] the earth (Ps. xcviii., Hopkins), 866, i., Old Version
The Lord drawn nigh, the righteous drama's Assayer (O regem Sayerus, tr. Neale), 1245, i., The Saviour is Judge
The Lord from His celestial throne, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord God is my Pastor guide, 732, ii., Mensel, W.
The Lord hath builded for Himself, 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.
The Lord hath burst the bonds of death (tr. Chandler), 316, i., Dum morte victor obruit
The Lord hath conquered death (tr. in the Hymnary), 316, i., Dum morte victor obruit
The Lord hath given, the Lord hath taken away, 720, ii., Neale, J. M.
The Lord hath quelled the rebel powers, 1060, ii., Singleton, H.
The Lord hath spoke, the mighty God (Ps. l.), 800, ii., New Version
The Lord, He gave the word, 1060, ii., Singleton, H. C.
The Lord, He is my Shepherd good (tr. Miss Warrington), 732, ii., Mensel, W. & Miss Kingsland, A.
The Lord Himself from Sinai's hill (tr. Hunt), 321, i., Ihm sind die heiligen neun Sehor
The Lord Himself my Portion is, 146, i., Hicks, T. B.
The Lord Himself, the mighty Lord (Ps. xxiii.), 800, i., Old Version
The Lord Himself will light my lamp, 685, i., How truly do I love Thee, Lord
The Lord His people still (tr. E. Massie), 254, ii., Es kennt der Herr die seinen
The Lord in Zion reigns, the same, 1227, i., Watts, I.
The Lord, how lonely is His love, 1126, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The Lord, how wondrous are His ways, 146, i., Bloss, O my soul, the living God, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord in His own Word (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1230, i., Wash me, wash me, O Word made flesh
The Lord in thy distressful day, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
The Lord is both my health and light (Ps. xxvii. Hopkins), 865, i., Old Version
The Lord is come! the heavenly regions, 607, ii., Joy to the world, the Lord is come
The Lord is come! On Syrian soil, 1098, i., Stanley, A. P.
The Lord is come, the heavens proclaim, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord is here! Let us adore (tr. J. Wesley, alt.), 444, i., Gott ist gegenwärtig
The Lord is here: then let us bow before Him (tr. Miss Dunn), 444, i., Gott ist gegenwärtig
The Lord is King! Child of the dead, 1158, i., The Lord is King! lift up thy voice
The Lord is King, glad earth, and ye, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
The Lord is King, lift up thy voice, 155, ii., Conder, J.
The Lord is King! lift up your voice, 1158, i., The Lord is King! lift up thy voice
The Lord is King, the mighty monarch, 1230, ii., Witness, divine, the Fast and True
The Lord is King: upon His throne, 706, i., Montgomery, J.
The Lord is King, as saints rejoice, 833, i., O God, Who rear'st the pole
The Lord is my Shepherd, no need shall I know, 734, i., Montgomery, J.
The Lord is on His throne, 707, i., Lyte, H. F.
The Lord, my support (Ps. xxiii., Whittingham), 866, i., Old Version
The Lord my Shepherd is, 1156, ii., The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want
The Lord is our defence and aid (Ps. xlvi., Hopkins), 865, i., Old Version
The Lord is our Refuge, the Lord is our Guide, 707, i., Lyte, H. F.
The Lord is our Shepherd, 679, i., Gower, W. H.
The Lord is rich and merciful, 706, i., Lynch, T.
The Lord is risen indeed, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord Jehovah lives, 600, ii., Hastings, T.
The Lord Jehovah reigns, And royal state maintains, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord most high unto my Lord thus spake (Ps. cx., Craig), 1262, ii., Scottish hymnody



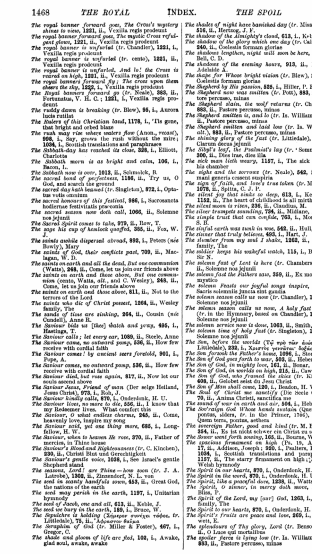
1466 THE LORD INDEX. THE MORN

The Lord my faithful Shepherd is, 732, ii., Mensel, W.
The Lord my light and health will be (Ps. xxvii., Kethe), 1012, ii., Scottish hymnody
The Lord my Master, Forming me of clay (tr. Neale), 665, ii., O ministry pia reges
The Lord my pasture shall prepare (Ps. 23, Addison), 731, i., Addison, Joseph; 765, i., Psalters, English
The Lord my shepherd is, I shall Not want: He makes me lie (Revis, revised), 1156, ii., The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want
The Lord my Shepherd and my Guide (Ps. 23), 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
The Lord my Shepherd is (Cosin), 601, i., Jesus my Shepherd is
The Lord my Shepherd is and Guide, 732, ii., Mensel, W.
The Lord my Shepherd is, I shall be well supplied, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord of earth and sky, 1265, i., Wesley family, The
The Lord of glory is my light, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord of glory left His throne, 1239, ii., Wright, T.
The Lord of glory reigns, He reigns on high, 1240, i., Watts, I.
The Lord of life hath burst His chains, 1196, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The Lord of life is risen (tr. Harbaugh), 630, i., Lange, J. J.
The Lord of Life this Table spread, 1238, i., Watts, I.
The Lord of Sabbath let us praise (S. Wesley, jun.), 1227, i., 1259, ii., Wesley family, The
The Lord of the Sabbath is full of Godhead (sq. might), 1276, i., Drake, H. T.
The Lord our God is King, 892, i., Davis, T.
The Lord our God is Lord of all, 1270, i., White, H. K.
The Lord, our God, we praise, 1196, i., Te Deum laudamus
The Lord, our Sovereign King, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord shall come in cloud of might (tr. Mrs. Fitzhiter), 393, i., Rider, J. C.
The Lord, the God of glory reigns, 1093, ii., Steele, Anne
The Lord the Judge, before His throne, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord, the Lord hath triumphed (tr. Neale), 218, ii., Xαριτώνυμε φῶς
The Lord, the only God, is great (Ps. xlviii.), 800, ii., New Version
The Lord, the Sovereign King, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
The Lord, to my request inclined (Ps. xx.), 850, i., New Version
The Lord unto my Lord hath said, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
The Lord unto my Lord thus said, 902, i., Russell, W.
The Lord unto my Lord thus spake (Ps. cx.), 866, ii., New Version
The Lord, the God on earth for men, 707, i., Lyte, H. F.
The Lord, Who doth redeemed our souls, 90, ii., Anber, Harriet
The Lord, who once on Calvary, 263, ii., Cotterill, T.
The Lord, Who truly knows, 606, i., Newton, J.
The Lord's abode on earth, our sad, and sky Quem terra, pontus, aethera, (tr. Caswall), 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
The Lord Whose Name is love, 278, i., Dale, T.
The Lord will come and not be slow (omits Pss. 82, 96, 98, Milton), 797, i., Milton, J.; 918, ii., Psalms, English
The Lord will come, the earth shall quake, 1164, i., The Lord shall come! the earth shall quake
The Lord's eternal gifts (Aeterna Christi munera, Apostolorum gloriata, tr. Caswall), 98, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want, 1023, ii., Scottish hymnody
The love of Christ makes ever glad (tr. Miss Klingemann), 1, ii., Ad cenam Agni
The love which Thought ere Reflex was, 1230, ii., Scottish hymnody
The lovely Son has now fulfilled (tr. Strykert), 1056, i., Sutter, C.
The loving Friend to all who bowed, 668, ii., Longfellow, S.
The majesty of Solomon, 1220, i., Watts, I.
The man is ill wherever placed, 127, ii., Turns, R.
The man is Blest that careful is (Ps. xli., Sternhold), 865, ii., Old Version
The man is blest that doth provide (Ps. xli.), 865, ii., Old Version
The man is blest that doth fear (Ps. cxii., Kethe), 866, i., Old Version
The man is blest that hath not best (Ps. i., Sternhold), 865, i., Old Version
The man is blest who fears the Lord (Ps. cxxviii.), 901, i., New Version
The man is blest whose wickedness (Ps. xxxii., Sternhold), 865, ii., Old Version
The man of God's own choice (tr. H. Massie), 686, ii., O heiligschlicht Herze
The man who unto counsel wills thorns, 1030, ii., Scottish hymnody
The manna to the fainting Jews, 183, i., Brown, J. B., M.A.
The many are not always right, 181, ii., Brice, J.
The Marriage feast is ready, 728, i., Stallibrass, C.
The martyr's crown is won to-day, 1068, ii., Soden, A.
The master's ways are a type of existence (tr. T. Carlyle), 442, ii., Goethe, J. W. von
The Master hath come, and He calls us in (tr. Julius), 307, i., Bradbury, Ismay
The Master is coming, 118, ii., Baxter (née Lyon),)
The mellow eve is gliding, 779, i., Muhlenberg, W. A.
The memory of Jesus is sweet to meet (Dodekalogi), 221, ii., Children's hymnal
The memory sweet of Jesus' name (Jesu dulcis memoria, Sine. auc.), 185, i., Jesu dilecta memoria
The men who slight Thy faithful word, 1264, ii., Watts, I.
The mercies of my God and King, 707, i., Lyte, H. F.
The mercies of the Lord my God, 813, ii., Keble, J.
The merits of the saints, blessed for evermore (tr. Neale), 910, ii., Sanctorum meritis inclita gaudia
The mighty flood hath rolled, 370, i., Few are thy days and full of woe
The mighty flame of glorious grace, 1261, i., Watts, I.
The mighty gates of earth unbar (tr. Mercer), 1264, ii., Watts, I.
The mighty God, the Eternal hath thus spoke (Ps. l., Whittingham), 866, ii., Old Version
The mighty God, the Lord hath spoken, 146, i., Hicks, T. B.
The mighty God who calls (rules) the spheres, 1119, i., Bonar, H.
The mighty God will not despise, 125, ii., Bedingon, B.
The mighty host on high (tr. Neale), 305, i., Kaeri-rem civium lucina gaudia
The mighty Saviour comes from heaven (tr. Miss Cox), 1264, ii., Watts, I.
The Mighty Shepherd has the charge Heaven and earth (Ps. xxiii., Scottish hymnody), 1012, ii., Scottish hymnody
The mind was formed to mount sublime, 1260, i., Steele, Anne
The moment a sinner believes, 629, i., Hart, J.
The moment cross, when strength shall fail, 253, i., O God of mercy, but not unknown
The moon and stars shall lose their light, 491, i., Hart, J.
The moon hath risen clear, 227, i., Claudius, M.
The moon hath risen on high, 227, i., Claudius, M.
The moon is up and burning (tr. Mrs. Johns), 227, i., Claudius, M.
The moon is up: how calm and clear, 227, ii., Peabody, W. B. O.
The moon is up in splendour, 227, i., Claudius, M.
The moon is upwards climbing, 227, i., Claudius, M.
The moon on high is burning (tr. Bucknell), 227, i., Claudius, M.
The moon she moves is going, 227, i., Claudius, M.
The morn in purple mounts the azure heaven (tr. Miss Warner), 1012, ii., Schmolck, B.
The morn and ev'ning praise rendered, 725, ii., Herrick, J.
The morn had opened its crimson rays (tr. R. Campbell), 83, ii., Aurora jam spargit purpura
The morn of life, how fair and gay, 1196, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The morn of our life-time is fast gliding by, 1097, i., Hall, R.
The morning hens restore our eyes, 214, i., Herman, N.
The morning bright, With rosy light, 1166, i., Sommers, T. O.
The morning flowers display their sweets (S. Wesley, jun.), 1227, i., Wesley family, The
The morning light has shed its beams, 1003, ii., Singleton, H. C.
The morning light is breaking, 1006, i., Smith, S. F.
The morning purples all the sky (Aurora coelum purpurat, tr. Theophron), 96, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat



THE MORN INDEX. THE ROYAL 1467

The Morning Star appeareth, 892, i., Russell, A. T.
The morning watches, used we (tr. Hull), 277, ii., Ryan
The Mother prays her mighty prayer, 805, ii., No track is on the sunny sky
The Mother sits all worshipful, 808, ii., No track is on the sunny sky
The Mother stood in sorrow days, 1083, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
The Mother stood with grief confounded, 1083, ii., Stabat mater dolorosa
The mountain of Jehovah's house, 561, ii., In latter days the mount of God
The mournful mother stood tearful beside the Cross (tr. prose, Mrs. Charles), 1083, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
The mouth of God hath spoken (tr. W. Bunnett), 1, i., Adeste fideles, laeti triumphantes
The mourners of the wilderness, 892, i., Peters (née Bevil), Mary
The mystery hidden from the eyes (tr. R. Massie), 611, ii., Gerhardt, P.
The new old schoolchair, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The
The new Church-year again is come (tr. Cronenwett), 307, i., Unsicta, Ecclesia
The new morn hath risen (tr. Jr. Williams), 94, i., Adeste fideles, laeti triumphantes
The newborn Babe, whom Mary bore, 1018, ii., Schneegass, C.
The new-born Child this early morn, 1016, ii., Schneegass, C.
The night is gone on day (tr. Caswall), 133, i., Beim frühen Morgenlicht
The night comes again (tr. in the Morav. H. B., 1754), 512, ii., Herbert, C.
The night is closing o'er us (tr. Bree), 53, ii., Adeste fideles, laeti triumphantes
The night is come; like to the day (Bowyer), 136, ii., Bowyer, Sir T.; 631, i., Kelt, T.
The night is come, wherein at last we rest (tr. Miss Winkworth), 512, ii., Herbert, F.
The night is far spent, the day is at hand, 615, ii., Rolfe, R.
The night is now departed (tr. Bucknall), 632, ii., Hardcastle, G. Z.
The night of darkness fast declineth, 992, i., Russell, A. T.
The ancient cities upon earth (O wohl magnarum urbium tu, Troia!), 940, ii., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
The oath and promise of the Lord, 1027, ii., Watts, I.
The ocean hath no danger, 1178, i., Thring, G.
The old year now hath passed away (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1093, i., Immortels, O
The old year we have past and gone (tr. Sloan), 1093, i., Immortels, O
The old year's long campaign is o'er, 1096, i., Sloan, S. A.
The once loved form now cold and dead, 1090, i., Bonar, H.
The one thing needful, that good part, 988, ii., Ingham, K.
The only Son from heaven (tr. Russell), 971, i., Crucigera vox Ecclesiae
The pains of sinners sown (tr. Chambers), 94, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
The cedar twilight now is there (tr. Lady Durand), 1186, ii., Tersteegen, G.
The peace of death are past, 1023, i., Servant of God, well done! Rest from thy labour
The palace gates of Heaven opened (tr. Chambers), 940, i., Coelestis urbs jerusalem
The path of night o'ershades the earth (tr. Caswall), 133, i., Beim frühen morgen scheint
The path of life (tr. in the Ambrose Sel. H. B.), 721, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
The promised Flock, not grim [yet] with might (tr. Kynaston), 12, ii., Ecce mitis, ecce pastor venit
The Paschal Lamb's blood is shed (tr. Neale), J. M.
The Paschal Victim calls for praise, 1284, i., Victimae Paschali
The perfect work is wrought, 1203, ii., Victimae Paschali laudes
The pest is dark with sin and shame, 521, ii., Higgin-son, T. W.
The pest no longer in my power, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The
The path of life we walk to-day, 1272, i., Winkler, J. G.
The peace which God alone reveals, 806, ii., Newton, J.
The people of the Lord were chaos, 196, ii., Burnham, H.
The people that of Egypt brought, 1206, i., Wesley family, The
The people that in darkness lay, The confess, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The
The people that in darkness sat, 1156, ii., The raised long in darkness pined
The people that in darkness sat walked (Miss Lemon), 1156, i., The race that long in darkness pined
The perfect righteousness of God, 794, i., Midlane, A.
The perfect world by Adam trod, 1205, i., Wills, R. P.
The period's come; and lo, to-day (Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre unigenitus), Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre unigenitus
The pitchy night beneath her pall (tr. Dorbleday), 850, i., Nox atra rerum contegit
The pity of the Lord. 1205, ii., Watts, I.
The power that rules the plain, 875, i., Parkhurst, E.
The power to bless my house, 1206, i., Wesley family, The
The praise of our God, all people repeat (Ps. cxvii.), 801, ii., New Version
The praise of Zion waits for Thee, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
The praises of him who is grace's dispenser, 1018, ii., Schneegass, C.
The praises of my tongue, 1235, ii., Watts, I.
The praises that his blessed house (Harum laudum praecentu, tr. Neale), 19, i., Antemni Frani gaudia
The prayers of the needy, 301, ii., Ellerby, J. M.
The precious sacred breathe, 209, i., Harp, Lord: the fainty fat
The precepts of the word are pure, 203, i., Cronenwett, E.
The precious seed of weeping (tr. Miss Winkworth), 512, ii., Herbert, F. W. H.
The Prince of light, once slain for us, 824, i., Chapman, R. C.
The Prince of Peace to sinners given (tr. Chandler), 700, i., Mentem Redemptoris pulsa
The prince of this world is triumph to triumph is riding, 1004, i., Smith, S. F.
The princely city passing by (tr. Earle), 677, i., Lieuxorni terra Regi principis urbs
The price is set before us, 144, i., MacNeil, C. B.
The promise of the Spirit breathe, 191, i., Behold the parish whose lust and sloth
The promises of my [the] Father's love, 1230, i., Watts, I.
The promised part in Christ to claim (tr. M. Browne, alt.), 254, i., Es ist nichts schwer ein Christ zu sein
The promised Star appeareth, 892, i., Russell, A. T.
The prophet Balaam's ancient song (Orientis partibus adventavit vates), 355, ii., Tenues sale, fronte reuque lacrimis
The pure and prayerful mind, 766, ii., Montgomery, J.
The purple [or scarlet] robe the Masters bore (tr. H. W. Williams), 1077, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
The race that long in darkness lay, 1156, ii., The race that long in darkness pined
The race that long in darkness pined (Morison), 1156, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
The race that long in darkness pined, 1156, ii., The race that long in darkness pined
The race that long in darkness walked, 1156, ii., The race that long in darkness pined
The race which long in darkness pined, 1156, ii., The race that long in darkness pined
The ransom of our souls to pay (tr. Anderson), 226, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
The ransomed spirit to her home, 1116, i., Tappan, Mrs. E.
The royal Jewish sun the glorious One, 586, i., Jesaia, dem Propheten, das geschah
The ranger now is waiting, 986, i., Sachse, C. F. H.
The red fire now is passed (tr. Bonar), 54, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
The rich lay gone (Jam ad mensas igneas), 963, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The remnant of the world, 777, i., Mariott renovata
The resurrection morn (tr. Miss Winkworth), Easter eve, C.
The ruling passion hath been brought him, 139, ii., Beata gaudia Amni refracti orbita
The ruling passion strong in age, 1148, ii., The gaudia Amni refracti orbita
The ruling power is strong, 139, ii., Beata coelsti gaudia Amni refracti orbita
The sacred [or holy] Spirit fulfil (tr. Chandler), 1056, ii., Statuta decreta dat
The Rose (How fair is the rose: what a beautiful flower), Wade), 321, i., Children's hymns
The seaside hues of early dawn (Mrs. Alexander), 1, i., Adeste fideles, laeti triumphantes, Cecil F.; 323, i., Children's hymns
The way light is dawning, 495, i., Hastings, T.
The regal banner floats on high, 1232, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt



1468 THE ROYAL INDEX. THE SPOIL

The regal banner forward goes, The Christ's mystery shines to view, 1231, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The regal banner, glorious, now, [The royal Cross refulgent glows], 1231, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The regal banner is unfurled (tr. Chandler), 1231, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The regal banner is unfurled (tr. cento), 1231, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The regal banner is unfurled, And lo! the Cross is reared on high, 1231, ii., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The regal banners forward fly; The cross upon them shines the sky, 1232, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The regal banners flying [now], 1231, ii., Vexilla regis Fortunatus, V. H. C.; 1231, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
The ruddy dawn is breaking (tr. Bree), 53, i., Aurora lucis rutilat
The ruddy dawn tells Christian land, 1178, i., 'Tis gone, that bright and orbed blaze
The rush may rise where waters flow (Arom, rennit), 988, i., Say, grows the rush without the mire; 1004, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
The Sabbath-day has reached its close, 328, i., Elliott, C.
The Sabbath morn is at its height and calm, 936, i., Bacon, L.
The Sabbath now is over, 1013, ii., Schmolck, B.
The sacred band of confessors, 1180, ii., Try us, O God, and search our ground
The sacred Head once bleeding (tr. Magdeburg), 872, i., Optatus vota omnium
The sacred banners of this festival, 986, i., Sacramenta hodiernae festivitatis praeconia
The sacred season now doth call, 1009, ii., Solemne tempus ducit
The sacred Spirit comes to take, 979, ii., Here, T.
The sage his cup of kindest quaffed, 265, ii., Fox, W. J.
The saints amidst dispersal abroad, 893, i., Peters (née Bevil), Mary
The saints of God, their conflicts past, 799, ii., Maclagan, W. D.
The saints on earth and all the dead, But one communion (Watts), 988, ii., Come, let us join our friends above
The saints on earth and all the dead, But one communion (Watts, alt., and C. Wesley), 988, ii., Come, let us join our friends above
The saints on earth and those above, 811, ii., Not to the terrors of the Lord
The salt of the Christ present, 1066, ii., Wesley family, The
The sands of time are sinking, 304, ii., Cousin (née Candall), Anne R.
The Saviour bids us [the] Sabbath and pray, 935, i., Bacon, L.
The Saviour calls: let every ear, 1009, ii., Steele, Anne
The Saviour came, no entered pomp, 836, ii., How few receive with cordial faith
The Saviour came: by ancient seers foretold, 981, i., Cotterill, T.
The Saviour came, no entered pomp, 836, ii., How few receive with cordial faith
The Saviour came, but rose again, 817, ii., Now let our souls ascend above
The Saviour calls the band of men (Der selge Holland, Jesus Christ), 979, i., Bibl, J.
The Saviour kindly calls, 979, i., Onderdonk, H. U.
The Saviour lives, no more to die, 656, ii., I know that my Redeemer lives. What comfort this
The Saviour now is passed away, 985, ii., Come, heavenly love, inspire my song
The Saviour said, yet one thing more, 662, i., Longfellow, H. W.
The Saviour, when to heaven He rose, 970, ii., Father of Jesus Christ, and our Father
The Saviour's blood and Righteousness (tr. C. Kinchen), 230, ii., Christi Blut und Gerechtigkeit
The Saviour's gentle voice, 1038, i., See Israel's gentle Shepherd stand
The Saviour's hour is now Thine—how soon (tr. J. A. Latrobe), 1305, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L., von
The seal in sundry handfuls sown, 453, ii., Great God, the nations of the earth
The seed may perish in the earth, 1197, i., Unitarian Hymnist, A
The seed of Jacob, one and all, 612, ii., Krohn, J.
The seed we bury in the earth, 168, i., Bruce, W.
The Sepulchre is holding (Sepulcra servata videns, tr. Littledale), 79, ii., Adventus Salus
The servants of God (tr. Miller & Foster), 607, i., Gregor, J.
The shade and gloom of life are fled, 166, i., Awake, glad soul, awake, awake
The shades of night have banished day (tr. Miss Dunn), 118, ii., Mendez, J. F.
The shadows of the daylight's cloud, 613, i., Kelle, J.
The shadow of the glory which ere day (tr. Calvisius), 240, ii., Coelestis formam gloriae
The shadows lengthen, night will soon be here, 133, ii., Bell, C. D.
The shadows of the evening hours, 913, ii., Procter, Adelaide A.
The shape for Whose bright vision (tr. Bree), 240, ii., Coelestis formam gloriae
The Shepherd by His passion, 828, i., Hiller, P. F.
The Shepherd feeds [Christ feedeth] (tr. Pott), 883, ii., Pastor pecuum, natus
The Shepherd slain, the wolf returns (tr. Chandler), 885, ii., Pastor pecuum, interus
The Shepherd smitten is, and lo (tr. Jr. Williams), 883, ii., Pastor pecuum, natus
The Shepherd smitten and laid low (tr. Jr. Williams, alt.), 883, ii., Pastor pecuum, natus
The shining glory of the East (tr. Littledale), 236, i., Claruit decus jejunii
The sick man's [or The invalid's] lay (tr. 'Seminator'), 599, ii., Dies mei, dies filii
The sick man hath weary, 1157, i., The sick man in his chamber
The sighs and the sorrows (tr. Neale), 562, ii., Hostem repellas longius
The signs of Spirit, and lowly true tokens (tr. Maguire), 1079, ii., Spiritu, O, J. P.
The silent joy that sinks to sleep, 613, i., Kelle, J.; 1152, ii., The heart of childhood is all mirth
The silver moon is risen, 230, ii., Claudius, M.
The silver trumpets sounding, 796, ii., Midlane, A.
The sin of unbelief that rose [or] fell, 703, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
The sinful earth was rank in woe, 963, ii., Hull, W. W.
The sinner that truly believes, 825, i., Parr, J.
The sinner from my soul I shake, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
The soldier longs his wakeful watch, 118, i., Barnaby, Sir N.
The solemn Fast of Lent is here (tr. Chambers), 1009, ii., Solemne tempus ducit
The solemn Feasts our joyful songs inspire, 986, i., Sacris solemniis juncta sint gaudia
The solemn season calls us now (tr. Chandler), 1009, ii., Solemne tempus ducit
The solemn season calls us now, A holy fast is kept (tr. in the Hymnary, based on Chandler), 1009, ii., Solemne tempus ducit
The solemn service now is done, 1083, ii., Smith, S. F.
The solemn time of the holy Fast (tr. Singleton), 1009, ii., Solemne tempus ducit
The Son, before the worlds (Τὸν πρὸ τῶν αἰώνων, tr. Littledale), 232, i., Κυρίῳ γενεάν· Subscore
The Son forsook the Father's home, 1206, i., Stone, S. J.
The Son of God, a mighty love, 1206, i., Stone, S. J.
The Son of God, a mighty love, 151, ii., Bonar, H.
The Son of God, in worlds on high, 215, ii., Carwood, J.
The Son of God, who Framed the skies (tr. Kinsley), 609, ii., Gelobet seist du Jesu Christ
The Son of God, who left the sky, 1206, ii., Stone, H. W.
The Soul of Christ was sanctify [He took Christ], 70, ii., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
The sound of war is earth and sea, 806, i., Heber, R.
The Sovereign God Whose hands sustain (Quem terra, pontus, aethera), 1, i., Adeste fideles, laeti triumphantes
The sovereign Father, good and kind (tr. M. Browne), 254, ii., Es ist nichts schwer ein Christ zu sein
The Sower went forth sowing, 165, ii., Bourne, W. St. H.
The spacious firmament on high, 215, i., Addison, Joseph
The spacious firmament on high; [1325, i., Addison, Joseph; 325, i., Psalters, English; 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1127, ii., The starry firmament on high; 1325, i., Welsh hymnody
The Spirit in our hearts, 979, i., Onderdonk, H. U.
The Spirit in the word, 979, i., Onderdonk, H. U.
The spirit, like a peaceful dove, 1238, ii., Watts, I.
The Spirit, O sinner, to savvy doth move, 190, ii., Bliss, P.
The Spirit of the Lord, my [our] God, 1303, i., Wesley family, The
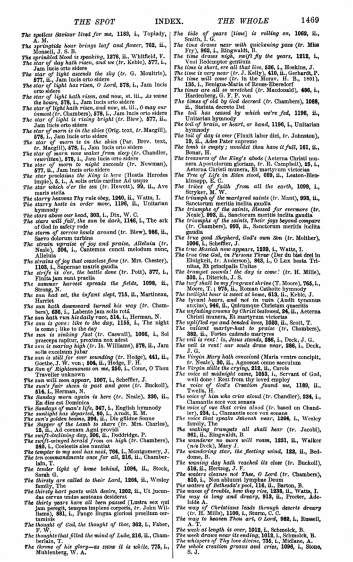
The Spirit to our hearts, 979, i., Onderdonk, H. U.
The Spirit's fruits are peace and love, 225, i., Cronenwett, E.
The spoilers of Thy glory, Lord (tr. Benson), 662, ii., O Laus spiritualitas
The spoiler turns to lying low (tr. Jr. Williams, alt.), 883, ii., Pastor pecuum, natus

1468

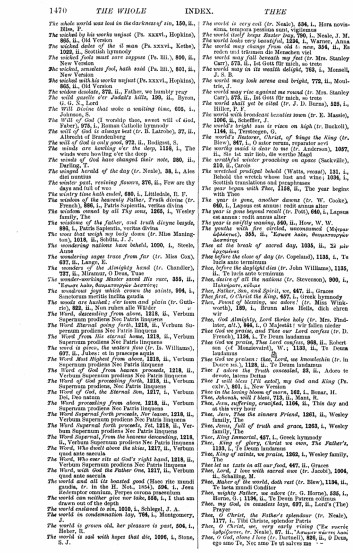
1469



THE SPOT INDEX. THE WHOLE 1469

The spoiled Saviour lived for me, 1185, i., Topliady, A. M.
The spreading beech hangs bright and flower, 782, ii., Montgomery, J. G. R.
The spreading flood is quashing, 1876, ii., Whitfield, F.
The star of day hath risen, and we (tr. Kehle), 577, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of light ascends the sky (tr. G. Moultrie), 577, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of night has risen, O Lord, 578, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of light hath risen, and now, et. iii., As were the hours, 578, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of light hath risen, and now, et. iii., O may our counsel (tr. Chambers), 578, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of light is rising bright (tr. Bere), 577, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of morn is in the skies (Orig. text, tr. Mangil), 578, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of morn is in the skies (Tue. Bere. text, tr. Mangil), 578, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of morn now under from deep (tr. Chandler, emeritus), 578, i., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star of morn was risen (tr. Newman), 577, ii., Jam lucis orto sidere
The star proclaims the King is here (Hostis Herodes impie), 5, i., A nola orbis cardine Ad usque
The star which o'er the sea (tr. Hewett), 99, ii., Ave maris stella
The starry heavens Thy rule obey, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
The starry hosts in order move, 1196, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The stars above our head, 903, i., Dix, W. C.
The stars declare Thy power to be great, 1146, i., The arch of God in silvery rods
The storm of sorrow howls around (tr. Bere), 986, ii., Sarre dolorum turbine
The strain upraise of joy and praise, Alleluia (tr. Neale), 594, i., Gaudeamus omnes melodium nunc, Alleluia
The strains of joy that comelest fine (tr. Mrs. Chester), 1126, i., Superna mentis gaudia
The strife is o'er, the battle done (tr. Pott), 277, i., Finita jam sunt praelia
The summer sun corrects spreads the fields, 1008, ii., Montgomery, J.
The sun had set, the infant slept, 715, ii., Martineau, Harriet
The sun hath downward turned his way (tr. Chandler), 1126, i., Labente jam solis rota
The sun hath run his daily race, 516, i., Herman, N.
The sun is gone: like to the day, 1134, i., The night is come; like to the day
The sun is sinking fast (tr. Caswall), 1006, i., Sol praecipes rapitur, precamur non sinas
The sun is still for our sounding (tr. Ja. Williams), 578, ii., Jam sole coustituto juba
The sun is still for our sounding (tr. Hedge), 441, ii., Goethe, J. W. von; 594, ii., Hedge, F. H.
The sun of Righteousness on me, 886, i., Cone, O Thou in whose presence
The sun will soon appear, 1007, i., Scheffler, J.
The sun's fair shoot is past and gone (tr. Bucknell), 518, i., Herman, N.
The Sunday morn again is here (tr. Neale), 590, ii., Rabanus Maurus
The Sundays of man's life, 967, i., English hymnody
The sunlight has departed, 95, i., Arndt, E. M.
The sun's golden horns, 294, ii., De glitter horns
The Supper of the Lamb is there (tr. Mrs. Charles), 1127, ii., Coena Agni providi
The surf-bound shore, 594, ii., Doddridge, P.
The surf-winged herald from on high (tr. Chambers), 580, i., Celsitonis ales nuntius
The tempter to my soul has said, 766, i., Montgomery, J.
The thanksgiving once for all, 818, ii., Chandler, T.
The throne of his glory—a crown it is still, 772, i., Muhlenberg, W. A.
The tide of years (time) is rolling on, 1008, ii., Bode, J. E.
The time draws near with quickening pace (tr. Miss Fry), 962, i., Ringwaldt, B.
The time draws nigh, swift fly the years, 1213, i., Veni Redemptor gentium
The time is very near (tr. Bere), 586, i., Hopkins, J.
The time is very near (tr. J. Kelly), 418, ii., Gerhardt, P.
The time will come (tr. in the Meter, H. B., 1801), 130, i., Benigna Maria of Rense-Ebersdorf
The times are all so wretched (tr. Macdonald), 496, i., Wie ist die Zeit so böse
The times of old by God decreed (tr. Chambers), 1008, ii., Statuta decreta licet
The toil but ceased by which we're fed, 1196, ii., Unitarian hymnody
The toil of brain, or heart, or hand, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody
The toil of day is over (Finish labor did, tr. Johnston), 19, ii., Alles Feier supreme
The tomb is empty; wouldst thou have it full, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
The treasures of the King's abode (Aeterna Christi munera, et martyrum victorias), 1, i., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The True of Life in Eden stood, 695, ii., Leaten-Hemlington, E. C.
The trees of Judah from all the earth, 1009, i., Bode, J. E.
The triumph of the martyred saints (tr. Mant), 994, ii., Sanctorum mentis inclita gaudia
The triumphs of the saints, blessed for evermore (tr. Neale), 989, ii., Sanctorum mentis inclita gaudia
The true God's Son, our Saviour dear (tr. Chambers), 1008, ii., Sanctorum mentis inclita gaudia
The true and Shepherd, God's own Son (tr. Mollner), 1006, i., Scheffler, J.
The true Light doth appear, 1225, i., Watts, I.
The true One God, in Persons Three (Der da hat drei in Einigkeit, tr. Anderson), 963, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
The trumpet sounds! the day is come! (tr. H. Mills), 1008, ii., Tuba sonum reddit
The turf shall be my fragrant shrine (T. Moore), 795, i., Moore, T.; 975, ii., Roman Catholic hymnody
The twilight hour is sweet at home, 818, ii., Kelly, J.
The tyrant hosts, and not in vain (Anxia tyrannus agmina), 1, i., Aeterna Christi munera
The unfailing promise for Christ bestowed, 28, ii., Aeterna Christi munera, Et martyrum victorias
The uplifted eye and bended knee, 1035, ii., Scott, T.
The valiant martyr-host to praise (tr. Chambers), 989, ii., Fortes caelestis martyres
The veil is rent: in Jesus stands, 880, i., Doak, J. G.
The veil is rent our souls draw near, 880, i., Doak, J. G.
The Virgin Mary hath conceived (Maria ventre concipit, tr. Neale), 30, ii., Agnoscat omne saeculum
The Virgin mother cry'ing, 218, ii., Carole
The voice of gladness raise (Laetus sit cantus de Deo, sed) deest: Rest from thy tiresd employ
The voice of God's Creation found me, 1180, ii., Tweedy, H.
The voice of him who cries aloud (tr. Chandler), 226, i., Vox clamantis ecce sonat
The voice of one that cries aloud (tr. based on Chandler), 226, i., Clamantis ecce vox sonans
The voice that speaks Jehovah near, 1206, i., Wesley family, The
The waiting trumpets all shall hear (tr. Zeuhl), 961, ii., Ringwaldt, B
The wanderer no more will roam, 1031, ii., Walker Sarah Gertrude
The wandering Mary the footing wiled, 1031, ii., Bethune, E.
The waning day hath reached its close (tr. Bucknell), 518, ii., Herbig, J. F.
The watchman on the Tow'r, O Lord (tr. Chambers), 213, i., Nun ultimum Syngkar Deum
The waters of Bethesda's pool, 118, ii., Barton, B.
The waves of trouble, how they rise, 1210, ii., Watts, I.
The way is long and dreary, 918, ii., Procter, Adelaide A.
The way of Christmas leads through deserts dreary (tr. H. Mills), 1206, ii., Stirm, C. C.
The way to heaven From art, O Lord, 988, i., Russell, G.
The week at length is over, 1012, i., Schmolck, B.
The week draws near its ending, 1213, i., Schmolck, B.
The whispers of Thy love divine, 734, i., Wallace, A.
The whole creation groans and cries, 1006, i., Sloan, S. J.

1470



1470 THE WHOLE INDEX. THEE

The whole world was lost in the darkness of sin, 150, ii., Hine, F.
The wicked by his works unjust (Ps. xxxvi., Hopkins), 966, ii., Old Version
The wicked doer of the ill man (Ps. xxxvi., Kethe), 966, ii., Old Version
The wicked, God unto sore sinners (Ps. lii.), 898, ii., New Version
The wicked, senseless fool, hath said (Ps. liii.), 897, ii., New Version
The wicked, his works unjust (Ps. xxxvi., Hopkins), 966, ii., Old Version
The widow-husband, 272, ii., Father, we humbly pray
The wild gazelle o'er Judah's hills, 199, ii., Byron, G. G. N., Lord
The Will Divine that woke a waiting time, 626, i., Johnson, J.
The will of God (I worship thee, sweet will of God), Faber, F. W., 278, i., Roman Catholic hymnody
The will of God is always best (tr. H. Latrobe), 27, ii., Albrecht of Brandenburg
The will of God is only good, 972, ii., Rodigast, S.
The winds were blowing o'er the deep, 1126, i., The winds were howling o'er the deep
The winds of God have changed their note, 280, ii., Darling, T.
The winged herald of the day (tr. Neale), 38, i., Also Hymnal Noted
The winter past, raining flowers, 276, ii., Few are thy days and full of woe
The wintry time hath ended, 680, i., Littledale, H. P.
The wisdom of the heavenly Father, Truth divine (tr. Miss Manington), 1013, ii., Sophia, Verbum Patris
The wisdom, sweet, by all Thy ways, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
The wisdom of the Father, and truth divine temple, 880, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina
The word that weigh my body down (tr. Miss Manington), 1013, ii., Sophia, Verbum Patris
The wondering nations have beheld, 1030, i., Steele, Anne
The wondering angel trans from far (tr. Miss Cox), 937, ii., Lange, J.
The word of God, the Almighty hand (tr. Chandler), 727, ii., Mitnatur, O Deus, Tuus
The word-searching Master saved His race, 351, ii., Τὸν σωτῆρα λαὸν διασωσαντα δεσπότην
The wondrous joys which crown the saints, 994, i., Sanctorum mentis inclita gaudia
The wondrous splendor of the royal plain (tr. Gutknecht), 982, ii., Non rubore alle Wolder
The Word, descending from above, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word Eternal going forth, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word from His eternal home, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The word is given, the waters flow (tr. Ja. Williams), 677, ii., Fulsa; et in praecepe agnita
The Word of God from heaven proceeds, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word of God from heaven proceeds, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word of God proceeding forth, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word of God, the Eternal Son, 1217, i., Verbum Dei, Deo natum
The Word proceeding from above, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word proceeding from the Father, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word Supernal forth proceeds, Fet, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word Supernal, from the heavens descending, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The Word, Who ever sits at God's right hand, 1213, ii., Verbum Superum prodiens Nec Patris linquens
The world and all its boasted good (Haec rio mundi gaudia, tr. in the H. Bk., 1854), 296, i., Jesu, redemptor omnium, Perpes corona praestium
The world and sin cast me low down, 535, i., I that am drawn out of the depth
The world enslaved to sin, 1010, i., Schlegel, J. A.
The world in condemnation lay, 705, i., Montgomery, J.
The world is grown old, her pleasure is past, 504, i., Heber, R.
The world is sad with hopes that die, 1006, i., Stone, S. J.
The world is very evil (tr. Neale), 594, i., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
The world itself keeps Easter day, 760, i., Neale, J. M.
The world looks very beautiful, 1134, i., Warner, Anna
The world may change from old to new, 354, ii., Ellerton, J.
The world now full seems of light (tr. Mrs. Stanley Carr), 272, ii., Jetzt fängt sie an zu grünen
The world was in its wealth delight, 782, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
The world may look serene and bright, 778, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
The world may rise against me round (tr. Mrs. Stanley Carr), 272, ii., Ist dem für mich so trau
The world shall yet be oiled (tr. J. D. Burns), 525, i., Hiller, P. F.
The world with broadcast hesitation sown (tr. E. Massie), 1144, ii., Tentoogen, G.
The world's bright sun is risen on high (tr. Bucknell), 1144, ii., Tentoogen, G.
The world's Saviour, Christ, of kings the King (tr. Blew), 967, i., O salus rerum, reparator novi
The world's true Saviour, Christ, our King (Salvator), 1097, ii., Sic sit mihi lux, sic vestita Magdi
The wrathful winter proaching on apace (Sackville), 218, ii., Carole
The wretched prodigal behold (Watts, revised), 131, i., Scottish translations and imitations; and wise; 1038, i., Scottish translations and imitations
The year begun with Thee, 1160, ii., The year begins with Thee
The year is gone, another dawns (tr. W. Cooke), 1097, ii., Annus abiit, novus ecce redit, Christe, alter
The year is passing beyond recall (tr. Pott), 662, i., Lapsus est annus: redit annus alter
The year is swiftly passing, 560, ii., How, W. W.
The youths with fire circled, unconsumed (Φλογὶ ἐδόκουν), 351, ii., Τοὺν ἀκάτ. θεοκτονίαν
Thee at the break of sacred day, 1035, ii., Σὲ μὲν ἀρχομένου
Thee before the close of day (tr. Copeland), 1135, i., To Thee before the close
Thee, O Christ, the apostles' King (tr. John Williams), 1193, i., To Thee, O Christ, our eminence
Thee, dawn of all the nations (tr. Stevenson), 590, i., Hukegkeye, eskaye
Thee, Father, Son, and Spirit, we, 647, ii., Grace
Thee first, O Christ the King, 637, i., Greek hymnody
Thee, God, we praise (Te Deum laudamus), 1160, i., Volksweise, 1160, i., Erum alles Heils, dich ehren wir
Thee, God Almighty, Lord three holy (tr. Mrs. Findlater, et al.), 964, i., O Majestät ! wir fallen nieder
Thee, God, we praise, Thee Lord we own (Te Deum laudamus) (tr. Deutsch), 1159, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Thee God we praise, Thee Lord confess, 960, ii., Robert son (of Musselwell), W., 1159, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Thee, precious princes: thee, O Lord, we knowledgin (tr. in Deore sel.), 1159, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Thee I adore the Truth concealed, 99, ii., Adoro te devote, latens Deitas
Thee I will bless (I'll extol), my God and King (Ps. cxlv., Sternhold), 1, ii., Absit
Thee to the loving Name of mercy, 162, i., Bonar, H.
Thee, Jehovah, will I bless, 713, ii., Mant, R.
Thee, Jesu, suffering, crucified, 1156, ii., This day and at this very hour
Thee, Jesu, dear, the sinners Friend, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Thee, Jesus, full of truth and grace, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Thee, King Immortal, 637, i., Greek hymnody
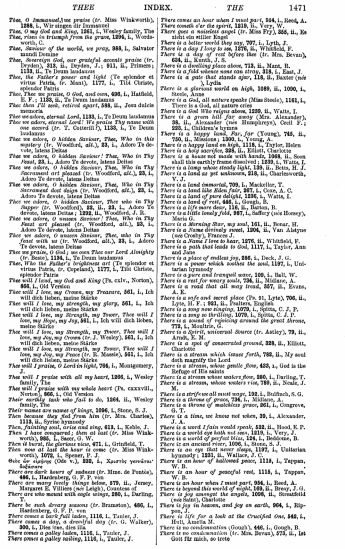
Thee, Lord, we praise, Thee we adore (tr. Janda), 1004, i., Schaling, N.
Thee, Maker of the world, doth rest (tr. Blew), 1196, ii., Te facta mundi Conditor
Thee, mighty Father, we adore (tr. G. Horne), 636, i., Te, Deus Pater, laudamus, Te, Deum confitemur
Thee, my God, in summer days, 627, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Thee, O Christ, the Father's splendour (tr. Neale), 1177, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
Thee, O Christ, the Prophets' Lord (Te, Christe, Dominorum Dominator, tr. Neale), 97, ii., Ἀνακτα τῶν ἀνακτων
Thee, O God, alone I love (tr. Bartsell), 826, ii., O Deus, ego amo Te, Nec amo Te ut salvus sim

1471



THEE INDEX. THI 1471

Thee, O immortal, too praise (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1256, i., Ut magnes, nostrâ Thee, O my God and King, 1261, i., Wesley family, The Thee, risen in triumph from the grave, 1256, i., Wordsworth, C.
Thee, Saviour of the world, we pray, 988, i., Salvator mundi, tu nos
Thee, thrice blest, our grateful accents praise (tr. Dryden), 813, ii., Dryden, J.: 911, ii., Primer; 1158, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Thee, the Father's power and light (Te splendor et virtus Patris, tr. Sims), 1172, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
Thee, Thee we praise, O God, and own, 696, i., Hatfield, E. F.: 1158, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Thee thou I'll seek, retired apart, 588, ii., Jam dulcis memoria
Thee we adore, eternal Lord, 1133, i., Te Deum laudamus
Thee we adore, eternal Lord! We praise Thy name with one accord (tr. T. Cotterill?), 1158, i., Te Deum laudamus
Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, Thee, Who in this veiled (tr. Woodford, alt.), 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour! Thee, Who in Thy Feast, 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, Thee, Who in Thy Sacrament art pleased (tr. Woodford, alt.), 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, Thee, Who in Thy Sacramental dust deign (tr. Woodford, alt.), 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Thee we adore, O hidden Saviour, Thee who in Thy Feast with us (tr. Woodford, alt.), 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas: 1262, ii., Woodford, J. B.
Thee we adore, O unseen Saviour! Thee, Who in Thy Feast art pleased (tr. Woodford, alt.), 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Thee we adore, O unseen Saviour, Thee, who in Thy feast with us (tr. Woodford, alt.), 23, i., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas
Thee we praise, O God: we own Thee our Lord Almighty (tr. Bone), 1134, i., Te Deum laudamus
Thee we praise, O God, we own (Te splendor et virtus Patris, tr. Copeland), 1171, i., Tibi Christe, splendor Patris
Thee will I love, my God and King (Ps. cxlv., Norton), 866, i., Old Version
Thee will I love, my Treasure, my Treasure, 861, i., Ich will dich lieben, meine Stärke
Thee will I love, my strength, my glory, 861, i., Ich will dich lieben, meine Stärke
Thee will I love, my Strength, my Power, Thee will I love, my Joy, my Crown, 861, i., Ich will dich lieben, meine Stärke
Thee will I love, my Strength, my Power, Thee will I love, my Joy, my Crown (tr. J. Wesley), 861, i., Ich will dich lieben, meine Stärke
Thee will I love, my Strength, my Power, Thee will I love, my Joy, my Treasure (tr. H. Mosès), 861, i., Ich will dich lieben, meine Stärke Thee will I praise, O Lord on high, 766, i., Montgomery, J.
Thee will I praise with all my heart, 1256, i., Wesley family, The Thee will I praise with my whole heart (Ps. cxxxviii., Norton), 866, i., Old Version
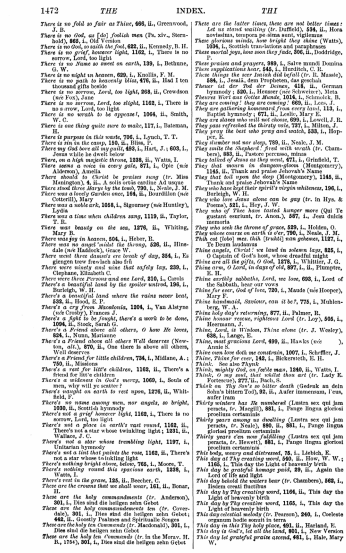
Their earthly task who fail to do, 1004, ii., Wesley family, The
Their names are names of kings, 1256, i., Stone, S. J.
Then because they find from Him (tr. Mrs. Charles), 1113, ii., Syriac hymnody
Then, fainting soul, arise and sing, 613, i., Kelly, T.
Then in the morning of the last (tr. Miss Winkworth), 866, i., Isaac, G.
Then it burst, the glorious sight, 471, i., Grimfeld, T.
Then now at last the hour is come (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1079, i., Spenser, E. J.
Θεὸς κύριος (Ode v.), 866, i., Χριστὸς γενόμενος ἡμῖν
There are dark hours of sadness (tr. Mme. de Pressé), 486, i., Hankeberg, O. F. von
There are many lowly things below, 879, i., Jersey, Countess of, Sarah Sophia
There are who never walk single things, 1005, i., Darling, T.
There be such dreary seasons (tr. Brunnow), 660, i., Hankeberg, O. F. von
There comes a day of toil, 1116, i., Tauler, J.
There comes a day, a dreadful day (tr. G. Walker), 900, i., Dies iræ, dies illa
There comes a galley laden, 1116, i., Tauler, J.
There comes a galley sailing, 1116, i., Tauler, J.
There comes an hour when I must part, 844, i., Reed, A.
There comes at the appointed time, 1079, i., Vaux, W.
There goes a musician angel (tr. Miss Fry), 866, ii., Es zieht ein müder Engel
There is a better world they say, 797, i., Lyth, J.
There is a day I long to see, 1276, ii., Whitfield, F.
There is a fold where sheep may safely lie (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 634, ii., Kloth, J. S.
There is a dwelling place above, 712, ii., Mant, R.
There is a fold whence none can stray, 313, i., East, J.
There is a gate that stands ajar, 118, ii., Baxter (née Lyttle)
There is a glorious world on high, 1089, ii., 1090, i., Steele, Anne
There is a God, all nature's psalm (Miss Steele), 1161, i.
There is a God, all nature cries
There is a God Who reigns above, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
There is a happy land, far, far away (Mrs. Alexander), 1, i., Alexander (née Hemingway), Cecil F.: 223, i., Children's hymns
There is a happy land, Far, far (Young), 765, ii., 766, ii., Montagu, Lady Mary Wortley
There is a happy land, Far, far away, 1119, ii., Taylor, Helen
There is a happy place, 852, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
There is a home not made with hands, 1262, ii., Soon shall this earthly frame dissolved: : 1293, i., Watts, I.
There is a lamp whose steady light, 120, ii., Bevan, H. J.
There is a land as yet unknown, 216, ii., Charlesworth, M.
There is a land immortal, 709, i., Mackellar, T.
There is a land like Eden's fair, 867, i., Cox, A. C.
There is a land of pure delight, 1185, i., Watts, I.
There is a land of rest, 691, i., Gough, B.
There is a land of song within the sky, 1, i., Alexander, Mrs. H. C.
There is a little lonely field, 997, i., Salley (née Homey), Maria G.
There is a morning Star, we soul, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
There is a Name divinely sweet, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (née Knapp), Frances J.
There is a Name I love to hear, 1275, ii., Whitfield, F.
There is a path that leads to God, 1117, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
There is a place of endless joy, 246, i., Doch, J. G.
There is a precious golden mother the soul, 1127, i., Unitarian hymnody
There is a pure and tranquil wave, 109, i., Bell, W.
There is a rest for weary souls, 736, ii., Mallett, A.
There is a rock that all may trust, 507, ii., Evans, C.
There is a safe and sacred place (Ps. xci, Lyte), 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.: 863, ii., Psalters, English
There is a song now singing, 1070, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
There is a song so thrilling, 1070, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
There is a spirit, universal Source (tr. Astley), 79, ii., Arndt, E. M.
There is a spot of consecrated ground, 338, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
There is a stream which issues forth, 788, ii., My soul doth magnify the Lord
There is a stream, whose gentle flow, 625, i., God is the Refuge of His saints
There is a stream whose waters flow, 660, i., Fayling, T.
There is a stream, whose waters rise, 780, ii., Neale, J. M.
There is a stream we must accept, 1191, i., Buttfield, S. G.
There is a throne of grace, 736, i., Midlane, A.
There is a throne of unbroken grace, 951, i., Congreve, G. T.
There is a time, we know not when, 30, i., Alexander, J. A.
There is a word I fain would speak, 532, ii., Hood, E. P.
There is a world of perfect bliss, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
There is a world of perfect bliss, 1261, ii., Wesley, S.
There is an ancient river, 1096, i., Stone, S. J.
There is an eye that never sleeps, 1197, i., Unitarian hymnody: 1221, ii., Wallace, J. C.
There is an hour of hallowed peace, 1119, i., Tappan, W. B.
There is an hour of peaceful rest, 1119, i., Tappan, W. B.
There is an hour when I must part, 844, i., Reed, A.
There is an hour when I must part, 844, i., Reed, A. G.
There is joy amongst the angels, 1005, ii., Brownfield (née Sadler), Charlotte
There is joy in heaven, and joy on earth, 906, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. Graf von
There is life for a look at the Crucified One, 842, i., Bell, Amelia M.
There is no condemnation (Gough), 846, i., Gough, B.
There is no condemnation (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 272, ii., Ist Gott für mich, so trete

1472



1472 THE INDEX. THI

There is no fold as fair as Thine, 695, ii., Greenwood, J. B.
There is no God, as (do) foolish men (Ps. xiv., Sternhold), 866, i., Old Version
There is no God, as saith the fool, 632, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
There is no grief, however light, 1162, i., There is no sorrow, Lord, too light
There is no Name so sweet on earth, 139, i., Bethune, G. W.
There is no night in heaven, 620, i., Kinzlin, F. M.
There is no path to heavenly bliss, 676, ii., Had I ten thousand gifts beside
There is no sorrow, Lord, too light, 203, ii., Crewdson (née Fox), Jane
There is no sorrow, Lord, too slight, 1162, i., There is no sorrow, Lord, too light
There is no wrath to be appeased, 1066, ii., Smith, Samuel
There is one thing quite sure to make, 117, i., Bateman, H.
There is purpose in this waste, 726, i., Lynch, T. T.
There is rest in the ranks, 130, ii., Hine, T.
There is sweet music here that softer falls, 603, i., Jesus visits be closed below
There, on a high majestic throne, 1258, ii., Watts, I.
There seems a voice in every gale, 671, i., Opie (née Alderson), Amelia
There shall a star from Jacob be praises sung (tr. Miss Manington), 4, ii., A nola orbis captivus ad usque
There stood three Marys by the food, 720, i., Neale, J. M.
There was a lovely Garden once, 184, ii., Bourdillon (née Cotterill), Mary
There was a noble earl, 1056, i., Sigourney (née Huntley), Lydia
There was a time when children sang, 1119, ii., Taylor, T. E.
There was beauty on the sea, 1276, ii., Whiting, Lucy
There was joy in heaven, 624, i., Heber, R.
There were no angel 'midst the throng, 530, ii., Hinkson (née Haddock), Grace W.
There went three damsels on brink of day, 304, i., Es gingen drei Jungfrauen baden früh
There were ninety and nine that safely lay, 320, i., Clephane, Elizabeth C.
There were three Persons and one Lord, 215, i., Cards
There's a beautiful land by the spoiler untrod, 196, i., Burleigh, W. H.
There's a land, a land where the rains never fall, 598, ii., Heigh, E. J.
There's a cry from Macedonia, 1264, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
There's a fight to be fought, there's a work to be done, 1004, ii., Neale, Sarah G.
There's a friend for little children, 724, i., Midlane, A.: 730, ii., Miniature
There's a friend above all others Well deserves (Newton, alt.), 870, ii., One there is above all others, Well deserves
There's a friend for little children, 724, i., Midlane, A.
There's a rest for life's children, 1162, ii., There's a friend for life's children
There's a wideness in God's mercy, 1060, i., Souls of men why will ye scatter
There's nought on earth to rest upon, 1276, ii., Whitfield, F.
There's no sense among men, nor angels, so bright, 1030, ii., Scottish hymnody
There's not a leaf of verdure light, 1162, i., There is no sorrow, Lord, too light
There's not a place in earth's vast round, 1162, ii., There's not a star whose twinkling light: 1221, i., Wallace, J. C.
There's not a star whose trembling light, 1197, i., Unitarian hymnody
There's not a tint that paints the rose, 1162, ii., There's not a star whose twinkling light
There's nothing bright above, below, 788, i., Moore, T.
There's nothing round this spacious earth, 1206, i., Watts, I.
There's rest in the grave, 185, ii., Beecher, C.
These are the crowns that we shall wear, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
These are the holy commandments (tr. Anderson), 861, i., Dies sind die heiligen zehn Gebot
These are the holy commandments (tr. Cosin), 861, i., Dies sind die heiligen zehn Gebot: 1220, ii., Heavenly Teachers and Spiritual Virtues
These are the holy ten Commands (tr. Anderson), 861, i., Dies sind die heiligen zehn Gebot
These are the holy ten Commands (tr. in the Meyer, St. B., 1794), 861, i., Dies sind die heiligen zehn Gebot
There are the latter times, there are not latter times: Let us stand watchby (tr. Duffield), 194, ii., Hora novissima, tempora pe ssima sunt, vigilemus
These glorious minds, how bright they shine (Watts), 1036, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
These mortal joys, how soon they fade, 306, ii., Doddridge, P.
These praises and prayers, 389, i., Salve mundi Domina
These supplications hear, 442, i., Havelock, C. E.
These things shape the new Jewish dial infold (tr. R. Massie), 108, i., Jewish, the Christian, and Apostolic
These words, O Christ, Thy servant hears, 1119, ii., Unitarian hymnody: 1220, i., Heavenly Teachers and Spiritual Virtues
Thestre Hort non Gothor Stande, 1054, i., Notnicht, B.
They are coming! they are coming! 660, ii., Leo, J.
They are gathering homeward from every land, 133, i., Syriac hymnody: 1221, ii., Wallace, J. C.
They have refreshed the thirsty ones, 797, i., Milton, J.
They pray the best who pray and watch, 533, i., Hopper, E.
They slumber not nor sleep, 780, ii., Neale, J. M.
They that mourn in dungeon-gloom (Montgomery), 851, ii., Primer previous to 1539
They tolled of Jesus as they went, 671, i., Grimfeld, T.
They that mourn in dungeon-gloom (Montgomery), 1185, ii., Thank and praise Jehovah's Name
They that mourn in dungeon-gloom (Montgomery), 1245, ii., Thank and praise Jehovah's Name
They who have kept their spirit's virgin whiteness, 196, i., Burleigh, W. H.
They who love Jesus alone can be gay (tr. in Hys. & Ps., 1855), 1119, ii., Taylor, T. E.
They who of Thee have tasted Longer more (Qui Te gustant sentiunt, tr. Anon.), 597, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
They who seek the throne of grace, 129, i., Holden, O.
Thick as autumnal leaves that strow, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Think not (John) was dark (truth) was piteous, 1127, i., Te Deum laudamus
Thine angelic, Christ! we lead in solemn laye, 825, i., O Captain of God's host, whose dreadful might Thine are all gifts, O God, 1276, i., Whittier, J. G.
Thine arm, O Lord, in days of old, 977, i., ii., Plumptre, E. H.
Thine earthly sabbaths, Lord, we love, 602, i., Lord of the Sabbath, hear our vows
Thine for ever, God of love, 720, i., Maude (née Hooper), Mary D.
Thine is all-wisdom, Saviour, can it be? 773, i., Muhlenberg, W. A.
Thine holy day's returning, 877, ii., Palmer, R.
Thine honour rescue, righteous Lord (tr. Lay), 956, i., Heermann, J.
Thine, Lord, is Wisdom, Thine alone (tr. J. Wesley), 638, i., Lange, E.
Thine, most gracious Lord, 699, ii., Hawkes (née), Annie S.
Thine own love doth me constrain, 1007, i., Schaffer, J.
Thine, O Lord, is the glory, 1158, i., Bickersteth, E. H.
Think, See also Thought.
Think, mighty God, on feeble man, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Think, O my soul, that sinful thou art (tr. Lady E. Cavendish), 277, ii., Psalm 51
Thirst, Lord, for Thee my only Youth (Gedenk an dein Jugend, tr. Mumford), 851, ii., Psalter Hispanicus, 1501
Thirsty wanders has He numbered (Lasten sex qui jam peracta, tr. Mongill), 881, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Thirsty years among us dwelling (Lasten sex qui jam peracta, tr. Neale), 880, ii., 881, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
Thirsty years ere now fulfilling (Lasten sex qui jam peracta, tr. Neale), 881, i., Pange lingua gloriosi proelium certaminis
This body, weary and distressed, 72, i., Lietich, E.
This day at Thy creating word, 593, ii., Hew, W. W.: 1265, i., This day the Light of heavenly birth
This day behold the saviour bear, 1106, ii., Again the Lord of life and light
This day behold the saviour bear (tr. Chambers), 868, i., Isaacs cruel Pontius
This day by Thy creating word, 1106, ii., This day the Light of heavenly birth
This day by Thy creative word, 1106, i., This day the Light of heavenly birth
This day celestial melody (tr. Pearson), 260, i., Coelesta lux, redemptio
This day from earth to heaven is borne
This day on this Thy holy place, 801, ii., Harland, E.
This day o God's, let all the land, 892, i., New Version
This day let grateful praise ascend, 661, i., Hahn, Mary W.

1473

THI INDEX. THO 1473

This day next Forth His heralds bold (tr. Miss Cox), 1, Bp. Mant.
This day shall not by God's command (tr. in the Fam. Treas.), 407, i., Gellert, C. F.
This day the blessed Trinity (Primo die quo Trinitas, tr. Caswall, alt.), 913, i., Primo diersum omnium
This day the skies glow bright above the sun (tr. C. B. Pearson), 661, ii., Prägue præcium cœlum
This day the Spirit came down (tr. from the W. Cooke), 398, ii., De patrato tempestate
This day the glorious Trinity (Primo die quo Trinitas, tr. Caswall), 913, i., Primo diersum omnium
This day—the King of days, heaven-born (tr. Macgill), 913, i., Primo diersum omnium
This day the Lord hath called His own, 118, i., Bathurst, W. H.
This day the Lord is risen, 760, ii., Mossell, J. S. B.
This day the Lord's disciples met, 327, ii., Rhetrius, J.
This day the wondrous mystery (tr. Caswall), 798, i., Mysterium miranile, Hac lux nobis panditur
This day unbes the eternal Three (Primo die quo Trititas, tr. Wallace), 913, i., Primo diersum omnium
This day which Jesus calls his own (tr. Trent), 321, i., Jesu, dulcis memoria
This earthly globe, the creature of a day, 114, i., Barbauld (nee Aikin), Anna L.
This endris night I saw a sight, 509, i., Carols
This glorious morn, Time's eldest born, When God (tr. Kelly), 913, i., Primo diersum omnium
This glorious morn, time's eldest born, Wherein was (tr. Kelly), 913, i., Primo diersum omnium
This God is the God we adore, 832, ii., Hart, J. ; 898, i.
This God is the God we adore, 832, ii., Hart, J.
This hallowed Mystery, 852, i., Hermann (nee Dietrich), Cunitz F.
This holy feast, by Jesus spread, 388, i., Franck, S.
This holy morn, to Him and bright (Aurora coelum purpurat, tr. Caswall), 913, i., Primo diersum omnium
This house, most holy Lord, is Thine, 1201, ii., Wesnot, S.
This impulse so gentle, this movement so sweet (tr. in the Moray. H. B., 1754), 900, ii., Richter, C. F.
This is a precious book indeed, 1117, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane.
This is enough ; although 'tmere sweet, 388, i., Elliott, Charlotte
This is God's most holy day, 883, i., Parson (nee Booker), Cecilia
This is my daily which is given for you, 381, ii., Ford, C. J.
This is not my place of resting, 181, ii., Bonar, H.
This is the abode where God doth dwell (tr. in Williams), 1201, ii., Sacred and Legendary Treasure
This is the day of holy rest (tr. Russell), 839, i., Heut ist uns der Tag erschienen
This is the day of light, When first the silvery dawn, 666, i., Jones, S. S.
This is the day the first ripe sheaf, 1030, ii., Scottish Hymnal
This is the day the light was made (tr. Chandler, 1841), 256, i., Die diersam principia
This is the day the Lord hath blest (E. Cooper), 1006, ii., 1095, i., Staffordshire hymnbook
This is the day the Lord hath made, Let young and old, Let all the earth, 1117, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane.
This is the day the Lord hath made, Our all the earth (tr. Miss Borthwick), 407, i., Gellert, C. F.
This is the day the Lord of light, 884, ii., Cotton, N.
This is the day, the solemn day (tr. Chandler), 677, i., Dies est lætitiæ
This is the day to rose with cave, 388, ii., Elliott, Charlotte
This is the day when Christ arose (Waite), 321, i., Children's hymns ; 1239, ii., Wade, J.
This is the day when first of all (tr. Donkley), 813, i., Primo diersum omnium
This is the day when Jesus Christ, 1181, ii., Toke, N.
This is the day when Jesus' true Confessor (tr. Littledale), 273, ii., Iste Confessor Domini sacratus
This is the day which God ordains (tr. G. Walter), 407, i., Gellert, C. F.
This is the day, the heavenly voice, 147, i., Bloss'd with the presence of their God
This is the festal day of jubilation, 772, ii., Mocltrie, G.
This is the festal light (tr. Ja. Williams), 677, i., Hæc illa solemnis dies
This is the happy morn, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
This is the glorious gospel word, 1088, i., Stephenson, T. B.
This is the hour of grace and blest communion, 772, ii., Mocltrie, G.
This is the house of God, 1006, i., Sedan, A. J.
This is the Lord's own day (tr. in Ja. Williams, alt.), 256, ii., Hoc enim die Dominus
This is the month, and this the happy morn, 727, i., Milton, J.
This is the mount where Christ's disciples met, 328, ii., Rhetrius, J.
This is the night wherein appeared (tr. Russell), 794, i., Nachtleuchter, C. F.
This is the word of truth and love, 1239, i., Watts, I.
This is Thy day so glorious (tr. Bucknll), 163, i., Ingatzary, C. H. von
This is Thy day's house, 1203, i., Wesley family, The
This is this, and is dying dream (tr. Mrs. Faulkner), 783, i., Wander, J.
This life is ofttimes gloomy, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
This loving Saviour stood patiently, 529, ii., Hine, F.
This mean existence doth restrict (tr. H. Mills), 727, ii., Milton, J.
This meeting with Thy presence crown, 123, i., Bourne, H.
This new year to Thee, 808, i., Father, let me dedicate
This night, O God, we lift our cry to Thee, 1086, i., Hull, R. A.
This, O new year, grant me (tr. Blew), 1063, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
This present day, the Spring of Time (tr. Singleton), 258, ii., De parente temporum
This rite our blest Redeemer gave, 893, ii., Phelps, S. F.
This sacred day, grant God, we close, 598, ii., Hardie, W.
This shall be the children's cry, 397, ii., Friend after friend departs
This spacious earth to all the Lord's, And man, and beast, and fowl, and fish, 1114, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
This spacious earth to all the Lord's, The Lord's her fulness is (Ps. xxiv.), 939, i., New Version
This stone to Thee in faith we lay (Montgomery), 6, i., A very old tried foundation stone
This, this is Christ the King, 1202, i., Bowmer, G.
This, this is He that came, 1202, i., Wesley family, The
This, this is the God we adore, 832, i., No prophet, nor dreamer of dreams
This Thy Confessor, Lord! of times sublime (tr. Caswall), 273, ii., Iste Confessor Domini sacratus
This woman's more than woman strong (tr. Bonar), 302, ii., Fortem virili pectore
This world is a wilderness wide, 272, ii., Darby, J. N.
This world would be a wilderness, 1204, i., Beddome, B.
This year is a dreary wilderness, 1204, i., Beddome, B.
This year is just going away, 1114, i., Taylor, Ann and Jane
This yields me joy, 130, i., Benigna-Maria of Reuss-Ebersdorf
Thou art a path
Thou art, before you Church on earth yearnings, 1103, ii., Sequenze metrici sparsi
Thou eternal heaven (tr. Neale), 666, ii., Greek hymnody : 1115, i., Tὸν ἄϋλον τῶν ἀγγέλων
Thou art, Jehovah, the Lord God (Σὺ εἶ, Κύριε, ὁ Θεὸς, tr. Widmore), 943, i., 965, ii., 969, i., Old Version
Those who live in love shall know, 1125, i., Barton, B.
Those whom many a land divides, 790, i., Neale, J. M.
Thou all-sufficient One! Who art (tr. Miss Warner), 1186, ii., Treviogen, D.
Thou art blessed, O Lord, Who sustained (tr. Chatfield), 1186, ii., Treviogen, D.
Thou art coming, at Thy table, 1189, ii., Thou art coming, O my Saviour
Thou art First and Last (tr. Miss Winkworth), 398, ii., Du bist der anfang und das ende
Thou art gone to the grave, 503, ii., Heber, R.
Thou art gone up before us, Lord, 1153, i., The golden gates are lifted up
Thou art gone up, our Lord, on high, 793, ii., Neale, J. M.
Thou art gone up on high, O Christ, 154, i., Hole, C. H.
Thou art gone up on high, Our Saviour to the sky, 1200, i., Wesley family, The Thou art gone up on high, To mansions, 1181, ii., Toke, N.
Thou art gone up on high, To realms, 1148, ii., Thou art gone up on high, To mansions
Thou art gone up on high, Why pass they, 894, i., Fullerton, G.
Thou art, O God! Each perfumed flower, 1208, ii., Yes, God is good ! in earth and sky
Thou art mine own, art still mine own (tr. Gutkric), 413, i., Gerhardt, P.
Thou art my hiding place, in Thee, 169, i., Rest is the portion of the weary soul
Thou art my Hiding-place, O Lord, 903, i., Ruffin, T.
Thou art my morning, God of Light, 907, i., Robbins, S. D.
Thou art my Portion, O my God, 1240, ii., Watts, I.

1474

1474 THO INDEX. THO

Thou art near, you, Lord, I feel it, 792, ii., Mossell, J. S. B.
Thou art, O Christ, the Way, 1062, ii., Smith, G.
Thou art, O God, a Spirit pure, 722, ii., Needham, J.
Thou art, O God ! my Rock. In Thee I steered, 967, i., Robbins, S. D.
Thou art, O God, the Life and Light (T. Moore), 760, i., 1095, i., 1179, ii., Roman Catholic hymnbooks
Thou art, O Lord, my Strength and Song (Tu, exercitus Sternitchi), 952, ii., Old Version
Thou art our Father and our God, 515, ii., Herrnan, N.
Thou art our Master, Thou of God the two, 367, i., Hall, Robert
Thou art thy Christ, O Lord, 540, ii., Hoyt, W. W.
Thou art the everlasting Son (tr. Anon.), 1132, ii., Tu Deum laudamus
Thou art the Everlasting Word, 337, i., Cowper, J.
Thou art the Way, and Thou the land, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody
Thou art the King of mercy and of grace (tr. Mrs. Smith), 275, i., Je te salue, mon certain Redempteur
Thou art the mind's delight (Tu mentis delectatio, tr. Caswall), 1179, ii., Roman Catholic hymnbooks
Thou art the Way : Heaven's gate, O Lord, 985, i., Bramwell, A. T.
Thou art the Way, O Lord, 1119, i., Taylor (nee Morley), Rebekah H.
Thou art the Way, to Thee alone, 303, ii., Doane, G. W.
Thou art with us, O my Father, 897, ii., Sarby (nee Browne), Jane E.
Thou, Barnabas, And soon rejoice (tr. Littledale), 241, ii., Coelo datur quiescere
Thou bidd'st Thy child to pray, Thou child to Nature dear (tr. Miss Fry), 1075, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Thou benignous lily of the field ! Who hath (tr. Hon. S. R. Maxwell), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Thou benignous lily of the field, Who robed (tr. S. A. Dunn), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Thou Bethlehem, with thy conspicuous star (O nata nunc natorum urbium, tr. Copeland, alt.), 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quæritis
Thou boldest, Lord, Thy sons be bold, 621, ii., Gill, T. H.
Thou bold'st me arm and wield the sword, 1205, i., Wesley, Charles
Thou bold'st us rest Thee early, 1172, ii., Threlfall, Jeannette
Thou bold'st us visit in distress, 1204, i., Wordsworth, C.
Thou blessed Jesus, pity me, 137, i., Bateman, H.
Thou Brightness of the Father's face (tr. Caswall, alt.), 81, i., Amor lucis splendor
Thou Brightness of the Father's face (tr. Chandler), 889, i., O splendor paternæ claritatis
Thou brightness of the Father's ray (tr. in the H. Moray. H. B., 1754), 900, ii., Richter, C. F.
Thou Brightness of Thy Father's worth (tr. Chambers, 1857), 1090, ii., Splendor paternus gloriæ
Thou Builder of the starry skies (tr. Ajlward), 226, i., Creditor alme siderum
Thou Christ, art our holy Flame (tr. Miss Winkworth), 170, i., Benvenuto Lieb in alma Flamm
Thou cans't in love in my relief, 838, i., O Jesu Christe, mein schönstes Licht
Thou Cause unknown ! Whose sacred word, 1159, i., Wesley family, The Thou, Christ, art our Light ; and our day says Thou by, 327, ii., Christe qui lux es et dies
Thou city of Jerusalem, 579, ii., Jerusalem, Jerusalem, hallowed name on high
Thou Comforter divine, 1035, i., Sigourney (nee Huntley), Lydia
Thou Consort of Thy Father's throne (tr. Chambers), 1091, ii., Consors Paterni luminis
Thou Creator, not possessed (R. Campbell), 1194, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Thou Cross of all the virgin choir (tr. Caswall), 194, ii., Jesu, Corona virginum
Thou dear Redeemer, dying Lamb, 979, ii., Rew, T.
Thou dear Redeemer, dying Lamb (tr. Jenick), 216, i., Cornish, J. ; 1030, ii., Sedgwick, J.
Thou deep abyss of Sinless Love (tr. Mrs. Charles), 814, ii., Du wesiger Abgrund der reinsten Liebe
Thou Dispenser of the heavenly dower (tr. Blew), 302, ii., Divina consortia Patris
Thou didst toil my soul to gain (tr. Alford, pt. ii.), 259, i., Dies iræ, dies illa
Thou dost all things well, 193, ii., Hunting, W. M.
Thou dost, O God, abase the proud (tr. Chambers), 1091, i., Horrea superbis, non tuum
Thou dear Redeemer, dying Lamb (tr. R. Campbell), 979, ii., Rerum creatis ut agnus
Thou dost, O God, the proud o'erthrow (tr. Chambers), 1091, i., Horrea superbis, non tuum
Thou eternal life bestowest (tr. Miss Borthwick), 831, ii., Hamburg, S. C.
Thou eternal Trinity (tr. Chandler, alt.), 882, i., O lux qui me lætas
Thou ever-blessed Triune light (tr. Donkley), 883, ii., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas
Thou ever-welcome day, 1012, ii., Schmolck, B.
Thou faithful God, Who dost (tr. Miss Winkworth), 315, i., Du schlossest Gottmächtig
Thou Fashioner of man, O Lord (tr. Blew), 896, ii., Plasmator humilis Deus
Thou Father-God, our souls sustain (tr. H. Mills), 727, ii., Milton, J. ; 1179, ii., Roman Catholic hymnbooks
Thou fathomless abyss of love, 815, i., Hiller, P. F.
Thou, For our our salvation (tr. C. B. Pearson), 957, ii., Salus æterna, indefectus munoli vita
Thou fountain for the penning heart (tr. J. Kelly), 1179, ii., Roman Catholic hymnbooks
Thou Framer of earthly Spheres ! hear (tr. Chambers, 1852), 1101, i., Summæ Deus clementiæ, Mundique lector machinæ
Thou Framer of the light and dark, 1179, i., Tu cœne, qui lucis creator, Tu lumen
Thou, Framer of the starry heaven (tr. Chandler), 258, i., Conditor alme siderum
Thou Framer of this earthly sphere (tr. Chambers), 1127, i., Telluris ingens Conditor
Thou gavest Thy life, O Lord, for me, 1208, i., O Jesu Christ, mein schönstes Licht
Thou, from Father, dos proceeding (tr. Wernley), 965, i., Qui procedis ab utroque
Thou from Whom all being sprang (Cinder), 303, i., Thou from Whom all being sprang ! Thou hath loved ; 897, ii., Lord's (The) Prayer
Thou gavest, Lord, this life we live, 772, ii., Mocltrie, J.
Thou Giver of augest reward (tr. Blew), 1102, ii., Summi largitor præmii
Thou glorious Sun, that dost the skies, 566, i., Indulgent Sovereign of the skies !
Thou glory of the eternal sky (tr. Donkley), 25, ii., Æterna cœli gloria
Thou God, all Glory, Honour, Power (Holy Communion), 861, ii., New Version
Thou, God, art love (tr. Mary Taylor (Montgomery), 698, ii., Thou teach us how to pray aright ; 907, i., Prayer is the soul's sincere desire ; 1207, i., What shall we ask of God in prayer?
Thou God, Creator, Who on high (tr. Drymon), 965, ii., Qui regis sceptra firti cœcris solus cunctis
Thou God, Creator, Who on high (tr. Sherwin, alt.), 711, i., Magnæ Deus potentiæ
Thou God of all, summoned and strong (tr. Blew), 896, ii., Rerum Deus tenax vigor
Thou God of grace, our Father (1776, i., Tregelles, S. P.
Thou God of love, whose power is known, Thy fellowship wings, 897, ii., Sarby (nee Browne), Jane E.
Thou God of mercy and of might, 674, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Thou God of power and God of love, 1231, i., Wylam, J.
Thou God of truth and love, Thou Lord of might, 1159, i., Wesley family, The Thou God of truth, Thou Lord of might (tr. Neale, alt.), 965, ii., Rector potens, verax Deus
Thou God of truth, who answerest by fire, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The Thou God unsearchable, unknown, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The Thou Godhead One in Persons Three, 81, ii., The stillest hour (tr. Caswall), 194, ii., Jesu, Corona virginum
Thou Godhead One in Persons Three, 81, ii., The morning star (tr. Wackernagel), 1136, i., Te Trinitatis Unitas.—et. ii., Orbis refulget lucibus
Thou gracious Author of our days (tr. Arnold), G.
Thou, God's most holy Lamb, 92, ii., Arnold, G.
Thou good and gracious God (tr. Miss Cox), 833, ii., O Gott, du frommer Gott
Thou, grace divine, encircling all, 1035, ii., Scudder, J. F.
Thou gracious Author of our days (tr. Chandler), 91, ii., Auli benigne Conditor
Thou gracious God, in love so pure, 894, ii., Clapham, J. P.
Thou gracious God—and kind, 443, i., Goode, W.
Thou, gracious God [Lord], art my Defence (Ps. iii.), 950, i., New Version
Thou, gracious Saviour, for my good (tr. Kinchen), 1203, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Thou, great Creator, art possessed (tr. Chandler), 1194, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Thou great eternal God, 1205, i., Wesley family, The Thou, Great First Cause, least understood, 990, ii., Pope, A.

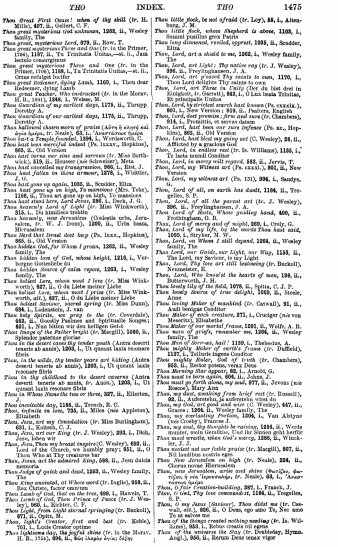
1475



Thou dread First Cause! when of thy skill (tr. H. Mills), 827, ii., Gellert, C. F.

Thou grand mysterious God unknown, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The Thou great, mysterious Lord, 979, ii., Rowe, T.

Thou great, mysterious Lord, and One; (tr. to the Primer, 1546), 1197, ii., Te Trinitatis Unitas,—st. ii., Jam lucida consurgimus

Thou great mysterious Three and One (tr. to the Primer, 1546), 1198, i., Te Trinitatis Unitas,—st. ii., Jam lucida consurgimus

Thou grand Redeemer, dying Lamb, 1159, i., Thou dear Redeemer, dying Lamb

Thou great Teacher, Who vouchsafest (tr. in the Moravian H. B., 1801), 1248, i., Wesley, M.

Thou Guardian of my earliest days, 1179, ii., Turupp, Dorothy J.

Thou Guardian of our earliest days, 1179, ii., Turupp, Dorothy J.

Thou hallowed chasm morn of promise (Abyss' e sicuro sul mattino), 1197, i., Tu qui vetusta facis

Thou last a Temple founded, 1206, i., Wordsworth, C.

Thou hast been merciful indeed (Ps. lxxxv., Hopkins), 865, ii., Old Version

Thou hast borne our sins and sorrows (tr. Miss Borthwick), 1248, ii., Wesley family, The Thou hast unveiled my transgression, 865, i., Hist. J.

Thou hast fallen in thine armour, 1278, i., Whittier, J. G.

Thou hast gone up again, 1032, ii., Scudder, Ellen

Thou hast gone up on high, (Ascendisti alto, Jarvis), 1188, ii., Tibi est gaza in alto, Te manente

Thou hast stood here, Lord Jesus, 286, i., Dach, J. G.

Thou heavenly Lord of Light (tr. Miss Winkworth), 315, i., Du himlisches urskin

Thou Hope of every contrite heart (Desiatis urbs, Jerusalem, tr. W. J. Irons), 1206, i., Urbs beata, Hierusalem

Thou Most that bread dost keep (Ps. lxxx., Hopkins), 865, ii., Old Version

Thou Object for Whom I prune, 1202, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou hidden love of God, whose height, 1218, i., Verborgne Gottesliebe du

Thou hidden Source of calm repose, 1203, i., Wesley family, The

Thou, whose word I love (tr. Miss Winkworth), 827, ii., O du Liebe meiner Liebe

Thou hallowed Love, whose word I prize (tr. Miss Winkworth, alt.), 827, ii., O du Liebe meiner Liebe

Thou holiest Saviour, sacred spring (tr. Miss Dunn), 696, i., Lodenstein, J. von

Thou in the Father bright (tr. to the (tr. Coverdale), 843, ii., Goosby Faulkes and Spiritualle Songes), 851, i., Nun bidden wir den heiligen Geist

Thou Image of the Father bright (tr. Macgill), 1600, ii., Splendor paternæ gloriæ

Thou, in the wilds, thy tender youth (Astra deserti teneris ab annis), 1203, i., Ut quondam lacta recusare fletu

Thou, in the wilds, thy tender years art hiding (Astra deserti teneris ab annis), 1203, i., Ut quondam lacta recusare fletu

Thou in thy childhood to the desert camest (Astra deserti teneris ab annis, tr. Anon.), 1203, i., Ut quondam lacta recusare fletu

Thou in Whose Name the two or three, 327, ii., Elliston, J.

Thou inevitable day, 1181, ii., Trench, R. C.

Thou, inclosèd in love, 735, ii., Miles (née Appleton), Elizabeth

Thou, Jesu, art my Consolation (tr. Miss Burlingham), 1248, ii., Wesley, M.

Thou, Jesu, art our King (tr. J. Wesley), 393, i., Dich, Jesu, leben wir

Thou, Jesu, Thou my treasure enquirest (C. Wesley), 699, ii., Lord of the Church, we humbly pray; 851, ii., O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden

Thou, Jesus, art the advanced King, 599, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria

Thou Judge of quick and dead, 1203, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou King anointed, at Whose word (tr. Inglis), 918, ii., Rex Christe, factor omnium

Thou Lamb of God, that on the tree, 699, i., Hawels, T.

Thou Lamb of God, Thou Prince of Peace (tr. J. Wesley), 1248, ii., Wesley, M.

Thou Light, from light eternal springing (tr. Bucknill), 871, ii., Spitta, M.

Thou, lightly Creator, first and last (tr. Kehle), 705, i., Lucis Creator optime

Thou lightening the thy joyful shine (tr. in the Moravian H. B., 1754), 896, ii., Was Jesu deine Jünger

Thou little flock, be not afraid (tr. Lee), 55, i., Altenburg, J. M.

Thou little flock, whose Shepherd is above, 1103, i., Schmolck, Familiæ gens Parila

Thou long discussion, rended, cypress, 1202, ii., Scudder, Ellen

Thou, Lord, art a shield to me, 1202, i., Wesley family, The

Thou Lord, art Light: Thy native ray (tr. J. Wesley), 1248, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.

Thou, Lord, dost answer Thy saints to ears, 1179, i., Thou Lord delights Thy saints to own

Thou, Lord, art Three in Unity (Der du bist drei in Einigkeit, tr. Garratt), 843, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Thou Lord, dost search and know (Ps. cxxxix.), 861, i., New Version; 918, ii., Psalms, English

Thou, Lord, dost promise firm and sure (tr. Chambers), 918, i., Proclitio, et servos datum

Thou, Lord, dost turn our sore infirmes (Ps. xc., Hopkins), 865, i., Old Version

Thou, Lord, hast kind my going act (C. Wesley), 38, ii., Affitted by a gracious God

Thou, Lord, in endless rest (tr. Is. Williams), 1138, i., Te lucis ante terminum

Thou, Lord, my Refuge and my Guard, 855, ii., Jervis, T.

Thou, Lord, my Witness art (Ps. cxxxix.), 861, ii., New Version

Thou, Lord, my witness art (Ps. 139), 994, i., Sandys, G.

Thou Lord of all, on earth has doubt, 1196, ii., Tregelles, S. P.

Thou, Lord, of all the parent art (tr. J. Wesley), 396, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.

Thou Lord of Hosts, Whose guiding hand, 600, ii., Bowring, Sir J.

Thou, Lord of mercy and of might, 999, i., Unity, G.

Thou, Lord of my life, by the words Thou hast said, 1600, i., Stryker, M. W.

Thou, Lord, on Whom I still depend, 1204, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou Lord, our Guide, our Light, our Way, 1183, ii., The Lord, my Saviour, is my Light

Thou, Lord, Thy love art still bestowing (tr. Bucknill), Neuseeliger, E.

Thou, Lord, Thy Word the hearts of men, 198, ii., Butterworth, J. H.

Thou lonely lily of the field, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Thou lovely Source of true delight, 1203, ii., Neale, Anne

Thou Maker of mankind (tr. Caswall), 21, ii., Conditor alme siderum

Thou Maker of each creature, 271, i., Cruciger (née van Meuerlin), Elisabeth

Thou Maker of our mortal frame, 1201, ii., Wolfe, A. B.

Thou Man of griefs, remember me, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou Sovereign, hail! 1199, i., Thebedor, A.

Thou mighty Maker of earth's frame (tr. Duffield), 1127, i., Tollatis leges Conditor

Thou mighty Maker, God of truth (tr. Chambers), 905, ii., Rector potens, verax Deus

Thou most of terrors agitest, 600, ii., Julius, J.

Thou must go forth alone, my soul, 977, ii., Jevons (née Rosse), Mary Ann

Thou, my dear, sinnking from brief rest (tr. Russell), 1248, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou, my God, art good and wise (tr. Wesley), 447, ii., Graces: 1206, ii., Wesley family, The Thou, my everlasting Portion, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.

Thou only should'st be raining, 1244, ii., Weeks minister, née Geraldine, Und ihr Segen gab tariffe

Thou most wreathe, when God's mercys, 1206, ii., Winckler, J. J.

Thou worthy art our noble praise (tr. Macgill), 877, ii., Te laudat turma angelica

Thou, Thou Jerusalem on high (tr. Neale), 594, ii., Chorus novæ Hierusalem

Thou, thou, Christ, arise and shine (Σοφίζου, ἀνατείλαι γὰρ τὸ φῶς σου, tr. Neale), 69, ii., Ἀναστηθι, φωτίζου

Thou, O First Creation-building, 897, i., Franck, J.

Thou, O God, Thy love command it, 1184, ii., Tregelles, S. P.

Thou, O my Jesus (Meinjesu!), Thou didst me (tr. Caswall, alt.), 826, ii., O Deus, ego amo Te, Nec ames Te ut salvus sis

Thou of the things created nothing needing (tr. Is. Williams), 1138, i., Te lucis ante terminum

Thou, on the throne of Majesty sitting (tr. Dewhirst), Hymn. Angl., 1850, ii., Rerum Deus tenax vigor

Thou on the Lord rely (tr. J. Wesley), 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege

Thou, on the Throne in one (Der du bist drei in Einigkeit, tr. H. Mills), 843, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Thou only hope of All below (tr. Anon.), 1186, ii., Sanctæ largitor præsuli

Thou only Lord of Israel, true, 603, i., Furness, W. H.

Thou only Son of God on high (tr. Chambers, alt.), 26, i., Æterni Patris Unice

Thou only Source of true delight, 1203, ii., Neale, Anne

Thou only Sovereign of my heart, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne

Thou our exalted flesh hast throned (tr. Moravian H. B., 1754), 896, i., Nitschmann, Anna

Thou pierced and wounded hour (tr. Miss Dunn), 825, ii., O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden

Thou, glorious source of light and love, 878, ii., Gurney, J. H.

Thou Power and Peace! to Whom we find, 1075, i., Spirit of God, that moved of old

Thou Power supreme, Whose mighty scheme, 197, ii., Burns, R.

Thou pretty lily of the field (tr. Miss Manington), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.

Thou Prince of Life, our praises hear, 131, ii., Bateman, R. A.

Thou ransomed sinner, wouldst thou know? 1207, i., What liberty so glad and gay

Thou Refuge of the weary soul, 284, i., Dear Refuge of the weary soul

Thou Refuge of the weary soul, 284, i., Dear Refuge of the weary soul

Thou restest in the tomb beneath (tr. J. F. Thrupp), 1207, i., Tu qui vetusta facis

Thou Ruler of the human heart (tr. Chambers), 1193, ii., Supreme Mater cordium

Thou, Saviour, art the Living Bread, 877, ii., Palmer, R.

Thou Saviour, from Thy throne on high, 978, i., Palmer, R.

Thou Saviour Who Thyself didst give (Alford), 991, i., Salve mundi salutare

Thou sayest "Take up the cross," 976, ii., Palgrave, F. T.

Thou searchest all my secret ways, 822, ii., Kennedy, B. H.

Thou seest my feebleness, 91, ii., Ah, what a wretch am I

Thou seest our weakness, Lord (tr. J. Wesley), 126, i., Behold us deine Wege

Thou shalt not steal thy neighbour's right, 909, i., Bowring, Sir J.

Thou shalt rise! my dust, thou shalt arise, 86, ii., Anfenstein, Je aufersteh'n wirst du

Thou Shepherd of Israel and mine [divine], 1204, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou Shepherd of Israel, that dost Israel keep (Ps. lxxx.), 865, ii., Old Version

Thou sinless King, Who stark and dead (Qui jacuisti mortuus), 1197, i., Tu qui vetusta facis

Thou, solemn Ocean, rolled to the strand (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1207, i., Tu qui vetusta facis

Thou Son of God and Son of man, 998, i., Spitta, C. J. P.

Thou Son of God Whose flaming eye, 1202, i., We bow before Thy gracious Throne

Thou Son of God, Whose flaming eyes, 83, i., Almighty God, Whose flaming eyes behold the heart

Thou sorrowest, The Sabbath rest (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1206, i., Strauss, V. F. von

Thou source of health and all our weal (tr. G. Walker), 180, i., Struxo alles Heils, dich ehren wir

Thou Spirit of Grace, and twin one, 606, i., Jabez: et is precatus erat

Thou spak'st the word, the waters flow (tr. Is. Williams, alt.), 998, i., Fontes: et is præcepit verbo

Thou spirit, perfect and alleviz (tr. H. Mills), 881, i., Veni Creator

Thou Spirit, Who dost life impart, 628, i., Knapp, A.

Thou Splendour of the Father's light (tr. John Williams), 1138, i., Te lucis ante terminum

Thou standest at the Sepulchre, 1208, i., Rabbi, R.

Thou stand'st between the Church, heaven, and men, 226, ii., Hinsdale (née Hasbrook), Grace W.

Thou strong and loving God in man (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1208, ii., Hartenberg, G. F. von

Thou strong God in man (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1208, ii., Hartenberg, G. F. von

Thou sweet beloved Will of God (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 1144, ii., Terweegen, G.

Thou that art celestial Light (tr. Copeland, alt.), 886, i., Hic est splendor paternæ

Thou that dost hang upon the tree, 851, i., O Thou that hangst on the tree

Thou that hearest, with His groaning (Qui hanc audis, ingemiscis), 953, i., Novembre suicide cracis

Thou that hast'nt no wanted thing (tr. Bernhard-Hope), 1208, ii., Schon creatis nil egest

Thou Tree, on mother's knee, 876, ii., Palgrave, F. T.

Thou that seest sun and rain, 1174, i., Thring, G.

Thou, the eternal Lord, 1205, i., Wesley family, The

Thou, the great eternal Lord, 1205, i., Wesley family, The

Thou, the Saviour everlasting (tr. Dayman), 897, ii., Salus æterna, indefectum mundi vita

Thou the Virgin's glorious Son (Tu mentis delectatio, tr. Neale, alt.), 1208, ii., Tu mentis delectatio

Thou Three in one, 1208, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou Three in one, and One in three (Der du bist drei in Einigkeit, tr. Hunt), 843, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Thou Three in one, Who mightily (tr. Blew), 1198, i., Te Trinitatis Unitas

Thou Three in one, and One in three, 1178, i., Thring, G.

Thou treasure of all treasures (tr. Miss Manington), 877, ii., Liscovius (Lieschow), S.

Thou Trinity in Unity (tr. John Williams), 1188, i., Te Trinitatis Unitas

Thou Trinity in Unity (tr. Chambers), 1197, ii., Te Trinitatis Unitas

Thou, true and only God, land'st forth (tr. J. Wesley), 698, i., Lange, E.

Thou true God alone (tr. Miss Winkworth, alt.), 793, ii., Ambrose

Thou Unity of Trinity, 1197, ii., Te Trinitatis Unitas

Thou unrelenting pain, 100, i., Bryant, W. C.

Thou vain deceitful world, farewell, 295, i., Dunny, Sir T.

Thou Wisdom, Paschal Lamb, 1205, i., Wesley family, The

Thou very present aid, 1205, ii., Wesley family, The

Thou virgin soul! O thou (tr. Miss Winkworth), 196, ii., Burmeister, F. J.

Thou want, O God; and Thou want Most, 727, ii., Mason, J.

Thou weep'st o'er Jerusalem (tr. Miss Winkworth), 593, ii., Herrnschmidt, J.

Thou, Who not all in all above (tr. Chambers, alt.), 903, ii., Rebus creatis nil egest

Thou Who art enthroned above, 998, i., Sarolyn, G.

Thou Wisest one, and yet to Thee (Der du bist drei in Einigkeit, tr. Garratt), 843, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Thou Who art Three in Unity, a (Der du bist drei in Einigkeit, tr. Macdonald), 843, i., O Lux beata Trinitas, Et principalis Unitas

Thou Who at mine art nigh (tr. Wesley), 1248, ii., Wesley, M.

Thou Who at the third hour of bread (Hora qui ductus tertia, tr. Chambers), 1197, i., Tu qui vel ruis facis

Thou Who at thy first coming didst (Hora qui ductus tertia, tr. Mrs. Charles), 1197, i., Tu qui vetustas facis

Thou who brookest every chain (tr. Miss Winkworth), 827, ii., O Darmherziger aller Dinge

Thou who brookest every chain (Du, der du nie ert (tr. Mrs. Bevan), 827, ii., O Darmherziger aller Dinge

Thou who brookest every fetter, Who ever art (tr. Frothingham), 828, i., O Darmherziger aller Dinge

Thou, Who rose to save Thy people, 790, i., Neale, J. M.

Thou, who shalt build the starry sky (tr. Macgill), 868, i., Conditor alme siderum

Thou, Who didst die for sinners' sake (tr. Wallace), 880, i., Jesu nostra redemptio, Amor et desiderium

Thou, Who didst for sinners die (tr. Miss Cox), 1208, ii., Stuttgart, N. L. von

Thou Who didst leave Thy Father's hand (Verbum Supernum prodiens, E Patris), 1213, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens

Thou Who didst rise to us when our woes began, 1206, i., Shone, S.

Thou, who didst plant in time gone by (tr. Doddridge), 258, i., Conditor alme siderum

Thou Who didst stoop below, 730, ii., Miles (née Appleton), Elizabeth

Thou, who didst Thine Israel lead (tr. Miss Fry, re-written), 666, ii., Gott sei gelobet und gebenedeiet

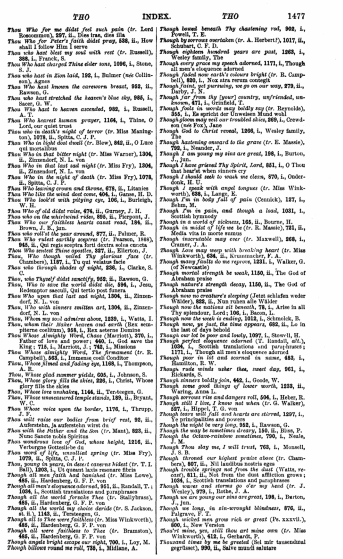
Thou Who didst Thy brethren learn, 1276, i., Thrupp, J. F.

Thou Who dost build for us on High (tr. Is. Williams), 804, ii., Nobis, Olympo exhibita

Thou Who dost each earthly throne (tr. Pearson, 1673), 961, ii., Qui cuncta supplex exti dextra solus curvis

Thou Who dwellest enthroned above, 996, i., Sarolyn, G.

Thou who for forty days and nights, 870, i., Cromwell, W.



THO INDEX. THO 1477

Thou Who for us didst feel each pain (tr. Lord Selborne), 307, ii., Ye who suffer, dear ones, sing, 474, ii.
Thou Who For Peter's faith didst pray, 598, ii., How shall I follow Him I serve
Thou who hast kept my soul with rest (tr. Russell), 808, i., Franck, S.
Thou Who hast charged Thine elder sons, 1096, i., Stone, S.
Thou who hast in Zion laid, 105, i., Bulmer (née Collinson), Agnes Thou Who hast known the cares
Thou who hast stretched the heaven's blue sky, 980, i., Bowen, C.
Thou Who hast to heaven ascended, 803, i., Russell, A. J.
Thou, Who internet human prayer, 1106, i., Thine, O Lord, our quiet trust
Thou who in starlit night of terror (tr. Miss Maningtree), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Thou Who in light dost dwell (tr. Blew), 962, ii., O Lux qui mortalibus
Thou Who in that bitter night (tr. Miss Warner), 1306, ii., Bonar, Horatius
Thou Who in that last and night (tr. Miss Fry), 1004, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Thou Who in the night of death (tr. Miss Fry), 1072, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Thou Who in the crown and throne, 979, ii., Litanies
Thou Who like the wind dost come, 606, i., Gause, H. D.
Thou Who look'st with pitying eye, 106, i., Burleigh, W. H.
Thou Who of old didst rule, 979, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Thou Who on Thy people's, 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, J.
Thou Who our faithless hearts must read, 108, ii., Brown, J. K. Jun.
Thou who rul'st the year around, 977, ii., Palmer, R.
Thou Who rulest earthly empires (tr. Pearson, 1846), 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, Nicolaus Ludwig
Thou Who secret Thine epistles, 827, ii., Elliston, J.
Thou, Who though veiled Thy glorious face (tr. Chambers), 1197, i., To qui velatus facie
Thou who through shades of night, 236, i., Clarke, S.
Thou, who Thyself didst sanctify, 922, ii., Rawson, G.
Thou, Who to mine the world didst die, 806, i., Jem, Redemptor mundi, Qui tertio post funera
Thou Who upon that last and night, 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Thou, Who with slavery reunites not, 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Thou, Whom my soul admires above, 1039, i., Watts, I.
Thou, whom their Maker honors and earth (Rex seculorum immortalis), 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Thou Whose almighty Word, Chase (Marshall), 979, i., Father of love and power; 660, i., God save the King; 724, i., Harriott, J.; 762, i., Mission
Thou Whose almighty Word, Thy firmament (tr. Reed), 962, i., Immense cœli Creator
Thou, Whose blessed and fading age, 1108, i., Thompson, A.
Thou, Whose glad summer yields, 230, i., Johnson, S.
Thou, Whose glory fills the skies, 226, i., Christ, Whose glory fills the skies
Thou, Whose love vouchsafed, 1146, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Thou, Who unmeasured temple stands, 130, i., Bryant, W. Cullen
Thou Whose voice upon the border, 1176, i., Thrupp, J.
Thou will raise our bodies from brief rest, 92, ii., Ambrosian, [a authentic wire in Thou with the Father and the Son (tr. Mant), 625, ii., Nunc Sancte nobis Spiritus
Thou, Whose Spirit, like wheat height, 1216, ii., Verborgne Gottheit, die ich Thou word of life, unsullied spring (tr. Miss Fry), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Thou, power to pure, in dem ich unsere hoffnt (tr. T. I.
Thou, Who to Thy Church hast given, 1306, ii., Zinzendorf
Thou all men's eloquence adored, 911, ii., Rankell, T.; 1096, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Thou all my trust (tr. Miss Cox), 1306, ii., Shakspeare, 665, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von Though all the world my choice deride (tr. S. Jackson, al. 6), 1185, ii., Tersteegen, G.
Though all in Thee were faithless (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Though all were faithless in Thee (tr. Brandon), 666, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von Though angels bright sings our night, 790, i., Lay, M.
Though billows round me roll, 788, i., Midlane, A.
Though bread beneath Thy chastening rod, 960, i., Flower, T. E.
Though by sorrows rent/aken (tr. A. Herbert?), 1017, ii., Schubert, C. F. D.
Though eighteen hundred years are past, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Though Elizabeth's speech adorned, 1171, i., Though all men's eloquence adorned
Though faded now earth's colours bright (tr. B. Campbell), 980, i., Non sita rerum conlegit
Though fated, yet pursuing, we go on our way, 979, ii., Bowen, G.
Though far from thy (your) country, my friend, un-known, 671, i., Grinfield, T.
Though fists in words may boldly say (tr. Reynolds), 355, i., Es spricht der Unwelten Mund wohl
Though from my face troubled skies, 295, i., Crewdson, Jane Frith
Though God to Christ reveal, 1206, i., Wesley family, The Though hastening onward to the grave (tr. E. Massie), 708, i., Scandet, J.
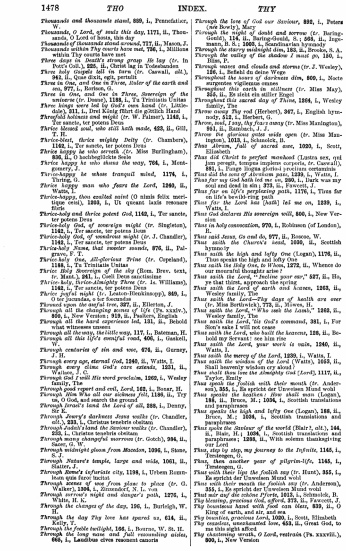
Though I am young my sins are great, 196, i., Burton, Henry
Though I have grieved Thy Spirit, Lord, 851, i., O Thou that hear'st when sinners cry
Though I should seek to wash me clean, 970, i., Oddenfield, H.
Though I speak with angel tongues (tr. Miss Winkworth), 558, i., Lange, E.
Though I'm in body full of pain (Cennick), 127, i., Seton, M.
Though I'm in pain, and though a load, 1031, i., Schmolck, B.
Though in a world of sickness, 165, ii., Scarre, H.
Though in midst of life we be (tr. E. Massie), 721, ii., Media vita in morte sumus
Though inscrutable may ever (tr. Maxwell), 868, i., Lyte, H. F.
Though late may sway with bowing heart (tr. Miss Winkworth), 696, ii., Kreuzsicher, F. A.
Though many faults do me reprove, 1251, i., Walter, G. (of Newcastle)
Though my strength be small, 1150, ii., The God of Abraham praise
Though nature's strength decay, 1150, ii., The God of Abraham praise
Though now no creature's sleeping (Jetzt schlafen weder Mann noch Weib), 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L.
Though now the nations all beneath, 78, i., Ante to all Thy splendour, Lord; 100, i., Bacon, L.
Though now the week is ending, 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
Though now, ye fast, the time appears, 603, ii., Lo in the wilds of Judah
Though our lot be poor and lowly, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Though perfect eloquence adorned (T. Randall, alt.), 1096, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1171, i., Though all men's eloquence adorned
Though sad and grave, and worried as none, 685, i., Hamilton, H. W.
Though rude winds usher thee, sweet day, 961, i., Richards, S.
Though sinners boldly join, 462, i., Goode, W.
Though sorrow, flesh, and Satan (tr. Walter), 1306, ii., Zinzendorf
Though sorrows rise and dangers roll, 596, i., Helen, E.
Though still I live, I know not when (tr. G. Walter), 527, i., Hippel, T. G. von
Though still the weary hearts are stirred, 1207, i., O principalities and powers
Though the night be very long, 952, i., Rawson, G.
Though the way be sometimes dreary, 185, ii., Rice, P.
Though the Ockam-rainbow sometimes, 700, i., Neale, J. M.
Though Thou slay me, I will trust, 709, i., Mossell, J. S. B.
Though throned our highest praise above (tr. Chambers), 957, ii., Sit laudibus nostris ego
Though to Thy (your) throne I (we) may not (Watts, recast), 811, ii., Not from the dust affection grows; 1096, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Though waves and storms go o'er my head (tr. J. Wesley), 979, i., Hutke, J. A.
Though we pass'd our sins are great, 196, i., Barton, J. jun.
Though we long, in sin-wrought blindness, 976, ii., Palgrave, F. T.
Though wicked men grow rich or great (Ps. xxxvii.), 1096, i., Scottish
Though wise, yet still thou art wise own (tr. Miss Winkworth), 613, i., Gerhardt, P.
Thousand times by me be praised [Ich mir tausendmal gepriesen], 990, ii., Salve mundi salutare



1478 THO INDEX. THY

Thousands and thousands stand, 809, i., Pennefather, W.
Thousands, O Lord, of souls this day, 1171, ii., Thousands, O Lord of hosts, this day
Thousands of thousands stand around, 727, ii., Mason, J.
Thousands with me have sought the same rest, 796, i., Millions of saints with me have sought
Three days in Death's strong grasp He lay (tr. In Patri Coll.), 225, ii., Christ lag in Todesbanden
Three holy Gospels tell us (tr. Cawall, alt.), 261, ii., Quae nobis, quaeso, narrabit
Three in One, and One in Three, Elder of the earth and sea, 979, ii., Bathurst, C.
Three in One, and One in Three, Sovereign of the universe (tr. Dunn), 1188, i., Tu Trinitatis Unitas
Three kings were led by God's own hand (tr. Littledale), 211, i., Drei König führt die göttlich Hand
Three persons, and yet one God (tr. W. Palmer), 1140, i., Te sancte, te potens Deus
Thrice blessed soul, who still hath made, 633, ii., Gill, T. H.
Thrice-blest, thrice mighty Deity (tr. Chambers), 957, ii., Sit laudibus nostris ego
Thrice happy he who cometh (tr. Miss Burlingham), 838, ii., O hochbeglückte Seele
Thrice happy he who shuns the way, 705, i., Montgomery, J.
Thrice happy he whose tranquil mind, 1176, i., Thrupp, G.
Thrice happy man who fears the Lord, 1260, ii., Watts, I.
Thrice-happy, thou exalted saint (O nimis felix mortuus sanctus), 1203, i., Ut quoniam laudis remanet
Thrice-holy and thrice potent God, 1140, i., Te sancte, te potens Deus
Thrice-holy God, of sovereign might (tr. Singleton), 1140, i., Te sancte, te potens Deus
Thrice-holy God, of wondrous might (tr. J. Chandler), 1140, i., Te sancte, te potens Deus
Thrice-holy Name, that inmeter sounds, 976, ii., Palgrave, F. T.
Thrice-holy One, All-glorious Trine (tr. Copeland), 1140, i., Te sancte, te potens Deus
Thrice holy Sovereign of the sky (Rom. Brev. text, tr. Mant), 261, i., Coeli Deus sanctissime
Thrice-holy, thrice-Almighty Three (tr. L. Williams), 1140, i., Te sancte, te potens Deus
Thrice joyful night (tr. Leaton-Hawkins-p), 260, i., Hanc lucem Patris clara potestas
Through upon the mortal tree, 327, ii., Elliston, J.
Through all the changing scenes of life (Ps. xxxiv.), 809, ii., New Version: 913, ii., Psalter, English
Through all the hard experience led, 131, ii., Behold the Lamb of God appears
Through all the race, the fields wide, 117, i., Bateman, H.
Through all this life's eventful road, 606, i., Gaskell, W.
Through centuries of sin and woe, 674, ii., Gurney, J. H.
Through every age, eternal God, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
Through every clime God's care extends, 1231, ii., Watson, J. G.
Through God I will this word proclaim, 1202, i., Wesley family, The Through good report and evil, Lord, 125, i., Bonar, H.
Through Him Who all our sickness felt, 1186, ii., Try us, O God, and search the ground
Through Israel's land the Lord of all, 288, i., Denny, H.
Through Mary's darkness Jesus walks (tr. Chandler, alt.), 233, i., Christus tenebris obitam
Through Judah's land the Saviour walks (tr. Chandler), 233, i., Christus tenebris obitam
Through Thy (thanegful mercies (tr. Gotch), 994, ii., Agnus, O
Through midnight gloom from Mamlon, 1096, i., Stone, S.
Through Nature's temple, large and wide, 1001, ii., Conder, J.
Through Satan's infernale city, 1186, i., Urbem Romam beati quis force tactus
Through scenes of woe from place to place (tr. G. Walker), 1306, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Through the lonely night and danger's path, 1276, i., White, H. K.
Through the changes of the day, 196, i., Burleigh, W. H.
Through the day Thy love has spared us, 614, ii., Ken, T.
Through the feeble twilight, 196, i., Norris, W. H. H.
Through the long nave and full resounding aisles, 669, i., Laudibus cives resonent canoris
Through the love of God our Saviour, 898, i., Peters (née Bowly), Mary
Through the night of doubt and sorrow (tr. Baring-Gould), 114, ii., Baring-Gould, S.; 283, ii., Ingemann, B. S.; 1009, i., Scandinavian hymnody
Through the starry midnight sky, 183, ii., Brooks, S. A.
Through the valley of the shadow I must go, 180, i., Cook, H.
Through waves and clouds and storms (tr. J. Wesley), 196, i., Behold da deine Wege
Throughout the hours of darkness dire, 809, i., Nocte surgentes vigilemus omnes
Throughout this sacred day (tr. Miss May), 255, ii., Jo stets ein stiller Engel
Throughout this sacred day of Thine, 1208, i., Wesley family, The Throw cross Thy rod (Herbert), 307, i., English hymnody, 1415, ii., Herbert, G.
Thrown, dead, I sing, thy Victor's song (tr. Miss Maningtree), 951, ii., Rambach, J. J.
Thrice the glorious palm wide open (tr. Miss Maningtree), 1013, i., Schmolck, B.
Thrice-holy, full of sacred awe, 1020, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Thus did Christ to perfect manhood (Lustra sex, qui jam peregit, tempus implens corporis, tr. Caswall), 981, i., Lustra Sigma gloriosi prioribus certaminis
Thus far my God hath led me on, 1260, ii., Dark was my soul and dead in sin; 273, ii., Fawcett, J.
Thus far on life's perplexing path, 1176, i., Thou far on life's bewild'ring path
Thus far the Lord has (hath) led me on, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Thus God declares His sovereign will, 800, i., New Version
Thus in holy connection, 970, i., Robinson (of London), J.
Thus said Jesus, Go and do, 977, ii., Towne, W.
Thus saith the Chariot's word, 1230, ii., Scottish hymnody
Thus saith the high and lofty One (Logan), 1176, ii., Thus speaks the high and lofty One
Thus saith the Holy One, to Whom, 1272, ii., Whence do these voices reach my ear
Thus saith the Lord, "Incline your ear," 977, ii., Ho, ye that thirst, approach the spring
Thus saith the Lord of earth and heaven, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Thus saith the Lord, "The days of lamb are over (tr. Miss Bethune), 775, ii., Moses, H.
Thus saith the Lord, "Who sent the lamb," 1262, ii., Wesley family, The Thus saith the Lord, 'Ye God's command, 361, i., For thus saith the Lord, the Lord
Thus saith the Lord, who built the heavens, 126, ii., Behold my servant! see him rise
Thus saith the Lord, your work is vain, 1240, ii., Watts, I.
Thus shall the mercy of the Lord, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Thus saith the wisdom of the Lord (Watts), 1253, ii., Shall heavenly wisdom cry aloud?
Thus shall thou love the Almighty God (Lord), 1117, ii., Taylor, Rachel Thus shall we foolish with their mouth (tr. Anderson), 331, i., Es spricht der Unwelten Mund wohl
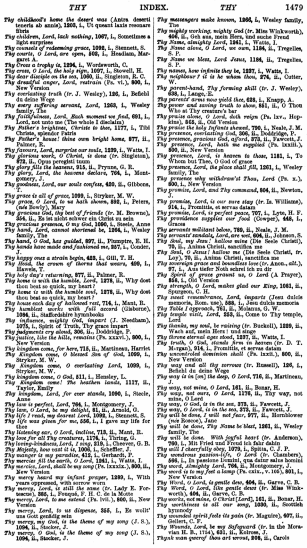
Thus speaks the heathen: How shall men (Logan), 1176, ii., Bruce, M.; 1208, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Thus speaks the high and lofty One (Logan), 186, ii., Bruce, M.; 1208, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Thus spake the Saviour of the world (Blair?, alt.), 144, ii., Hunt, H.; 1096, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1236, ii., With solemn thanksgiving
Thus, step by step, my journey to the Infinite, 1145, i., Tennyson, Hon. C.
Thus, then, another year of pilgrim-life, 1145, i., Tennyson, Hon. C.
Thus with their lips the foolish say (tr. Hunt), 331, i., Es spricht der Unwelten Mund wohl
Thus with their mouth the foolish say (tr. Anderson), 331, i., Es spricht der Unwelten Mund wohl
Thus with their mouth the foolish say (tr. Arnold), 331, i., Es spricht der Unwelten Mund wohl
Thy blessings, precious God, afford, 275, ii., Fawcett, J.
Thy bountious hand with food can fill, 533, ii., O King of earth, and air, and sea
Thy bounties, gracious Lord, 1020, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Thy boundless love to me, 630, ii., Great God, to me
Thy chastening wrath, O Lord, restrain (Ps. xxxviii.), 809, i., New Version



THY INDEX. THY 1479

Thy childhood's home the desert was (Asyla deserta ab annis), 1305, i.
Thy children, Lord, look nothing, 1007, i. Sometimes a light surprises
Thy counsels of redeeming grace, 1090, i., Hemmett, S.
Thy courts, O Lord, are open, 850, i., Steadman, Mackarness, j.
Thy Cross a trophy is, 1294, i., Wordsworth, C.
Thy cross, O Lord, the holy sign, 1007, i., Newell, H.
Thy dear disciple on the sea, 1080, ii., Singleton, E. C.
Thy glory, Jesus, Lord, restrain (Ps. vi.), 900, i., New Version
Thy everlasting truth (tr. J. Wesley), 120, i., Befield
Thy mary suffering servant, Lord, 1303, i., Wesley Duke
Thy faithfulness, Lord, flash moment we find, 691, i., Lord, not unto me (The whole I disclaim)
Thy father's brightness, Christ to see, 1177, i., Tôd Dutaus, splendor Patris
Thy footsteps, Jesus, shine own bright home, 877, ii., Palmer, S.
Thy favours, Lord, surprise our souls, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Thy glorious work, O Christ, is done (tr. Bingham), 979, ii., Opus peregisti tuum
Thy glory fills the heavens, 915, ii., Prynne, G. R.
Thy glory, Lord, the heavens declare, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
Thy goodness, Lord, our souls confess, 640, ii., Gibbons, T.
Thy grace is all of grace, 1099, i., Stryker, M. W.
Thy grace, O Lord, to us hath shown, 882, i., Peters, Miss Marie
Thy gracious God, thy best of friends (tr. M. Bruce), 504, ii., Es ist nicht schwer ein Christ zu sein
Thy gracious promise, O my God, 1026, i., Steele, Anne
Thy hand, Lord, cannot shortened be, 1264, i., Wesley Duke
Thy hand, O God, has guided, 897, ii., Plumptre, E. H.
Thy hands have made and fashioned me, 857, i., Conder, J.
Thy happy race a strain begin, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
Thy heavenly grace of thorns that wears, 406, i., Barrett, T.
Thy holy day's returning, 977, ii., Palmer, R.
Thy home is with the humble, Lord, 1273, ii., Why dost thou beat so quick, my heart?
Thy home is with the humble, Lord, 1273, ii., Why dost thou beat so quick, my heart?
Thy house such day of hallowed rest, 714, i., Mant, R.
Thy humbled words with full accord (Claborist), 1086, ii., Staffordshire hymnbook
Thy kingdom come, O God (tr. Bonar, J. Needham), 1275, i., Spirit of Truth, Thy grace impart
Thy judgment cry abroad, 306, ii., Doddridge, P.
Thy justice, like the hills, remains (Ps. xxxvi.), 900, i., New Version
Thy kingdom come, for here, 713, ii., Matthiaus, Harriet
Thy kingdom come, O blessed Son of God, 1090, i., Stryker, M. W.
Thy kingdom come, O everlasting Lord, 1059, i., Stryker, M. W.
Thy kingdom come! O God, 611, i., Hensley, L.
Thy kingdom come! The heathen lands, 1117, ii., Taylor, Emily
Thy kingdom, Lord, for ever stands, 1096, i., Steele, Anne
Thy law is perfect, Lord, 704, i., Montgomery, J.
Thy law, O Lord, to my delight, 81, ii., Arnold, G.
Thy life I read, my dearest Lord, 1092, i., Hemmett, S.
Thy life was given for me, 598, i. I gave my life for thee
Thy listening ear, O Lord, incline, 718, ii., Mant, R.
Thy long for all Thy creatures, 1178, i., Tiptaft, G.
Thy loving-kindness, Lord, I sing, 818, i., Chevreau, G. B.
Thy Majesty, how vast it is, 1300, i., Schaffer, J.
Thy manger is my paradise, 412, i., Gerhardt, P.
Thy mercies, Lord, are more than they, 1264, i., Wesley
Thy mercies, Lord, shall be my song (Ps. lxxxix.), 903, ii., New Version
Thy mercy heard my infant prayer, 1293, i. With years oppressed, with sorrow worn
Thy mercy, Jesus, all can heal (tr. Lady E. Fortescue), 966, i., Fremont, F. H. C. de la Motte
Thy mercy, Lord, to me extend (Ps. lvii.), 866, ii., New Version
Thy mercy, Lord, to us dispense, 865, i., Ex wolle' Thy mercy, my God, is the theme of my song (J. S.), 1094, ii., Stocker, J.
Thy mercy, O God, is the theme of my song (J. S.), 1094, ii., Stocker, J.
Thy messengers make known, 1266, i., Wesley family, The Thy mighty working, mighty God (tr. Miss Winkworth), 666, ii., Geh ein, mein Herz, und suche Freud
Thy Name, almighty Lord, 1261, i., Watts, I.
Thy Name alone, O Lord, we earn, 1196, ii., Tregelles, S. P.
Thy Name we bless, Lord Jesus, 1196, ii., Tregelles, S. P.
Thy nature, how infinite they be, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Thy neighbour? 'tis to be whom thou, 276, ii., Cotter, J. S.
Thy parent-hand, Thy forming skill (tr. J. Wesley), 638, i., Lange, E.
Thy parents' arms now yield that, 628, i., Knapp, A.
Thy power and saving truth to show, 841, ii., O Thou by whom we coming Thy praise (Thy command, dark reign (Ps. lxv., Hopkins), 916, ii., Old Version
Thy praise the holy hylleest sing, 720, i., Neale, J. M.
Thy presence, everlasting God, 266, ii., Doddridge, P.
Thy presence, gracious Lord, we crave, 272, ii., Fawcett, J.
Thy presence, Lord, hath we supplied (Ps. lxxiii.), 895, ii., New Version
Thy presence, Lord, is heaven to those, 1181, i., To Whom but Thee, O God of grace
Thy presence be, the place shall fill, 1261, i., Wesley Duke
Thy promise why withdrawn'st Thou, Lord (Ps. x.), 890, i., New Version
Thy promise, Lord, and Thy command, 804, ii., Newton, J.
Thy promise, Lord, is our sure stay (tr. Ia. Williams), 1264, i., Wesley Duke
Thy promise, Lord, is perfect pure, 797, i., Lyte, H. F.
Thy providence supplies our food (Cowper), 648, i., Grace
Thy servants enlisted below, 789, ii., Neale, J. M.
Thy servants, Lord, are we, 1264, i., Wesley Duke
Thy soul, my Jesu', hallow mine (The Soule Christe), 78, ii., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Thy Soul, O Jesus! hallow me (The Soule Christe, tr. Lee), 79, ii., Anima Christi, sanctifica me
Thy spirit, Lord, has stirred (Ps. lxxxv., Addn. edit.), 87, i., Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu dir
Thy Spirit of grace ground us, O Lord (A Prayer), 824, i., Old Version
Thy strength, O Lord, makes glad our King, 1081, ii., Montgomery, J.
Thy sweet remembrance, Lord, imparts (Jesu dulcis memoria, Bern. xxv), 688, i., Jesu dulcis memoria
Thy Table I approach, 781, ii., Wilkens, G. W.
Thy temple visit, Lord, 253, ii., Come to Thy temple, Lord
Thy tidende, my soul, be raising (tr. Bucknell), 1239, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz: und singe
Thy throne eternal ages stand, 1287, ii., Watts, I.
Thy truth, O God, stands firm in heaven (tr. D. T. Evans), 1264, i., Wesley Duke
Thy unwrinkled dimension shall (Ps. lxxxix.), 899, ii., New Version
Thy way and all thy sorrows (tr. Russell), 126, i., Behüt du deine Wege
Thy way is in [or] the deep, O Lord, 716, ii., Matthesen, C.
Thy way, not mine, O Lord, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
Thy way, not mine, O Lord, 1276, ii., Thy way, not mine, O Lord
Thy will be done, as in the sea, 272, ii., Fawcett, J.
Thy will, O Lord, is in the sea, 272, ii., Fawcett, J.
Thy will be done, I will not fear, 977, ii., Hornblower (nee Roscoe), Jane
Thy will be done, Thy Name be blest, 1262, ii., Wesley Duke
Thy will be done. With joyful heart (tr. Andrews), 793, i., Mit Freud und Freud ich dahr dahin
Thy will I cheerfully obey, 1272, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Thy wondrous passion-life, O Lord (tr. Chambers), 1264, i., Wesley Duke
Thy word, almighty Lord, 703, i., Montgomery, J.
Thy word is to my foot a lamp (Ps. cxix., v. 105), 901, i., New Version
Thy Word, O Lord, is gentle dew, 604, ii., Garve, C. B.
Thy word, O Lord, is like the sea (tr. Miss Winkworth), 666, ii., Garve, C. B.
Thy works, not mine, O Christ [Lord], 161, ii., Bonar, H.
Thy worthiness is all our song, 1293, ii., Scottish hymnody
Thyself, my spirit feels its pain (tr. Maguire), 697, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Thy Wounds, Lord, be my Safeguard (tr. in the Moravian H. B., 1754), 631, ii., Kolrose, J.
Thyah wam qarerp' thou art wrest, 898, ii., Carols

Τὸ σὸν δόκει γενέσθαι, 607, i., Greek hymnody
Tibi Christe splendor Patris, 585, i., Latin hymnody
Tibi, qualis sum, O Christe! (tr. Macgill), 609, ii., Just as I am, without one plea
Tief in Nöthen Lazo mich hoten, 1057, ii., Sieh hier bin ich, mein Heiland, sieh
Till He come, O let the words, 163, i., Bickersteth, E. H.
Till His sacrifice be accomplished, 907, ii., Night is on the unredeemed nations
Till its holy hours are past, 720, i., Neale, J. M.
Till permitted hence to go, 607, i., Gregor, C.
Till the thirty years were finished (Lasets sex qui jam peracti), 1242, ii., Lasets sex, qui jam peracti, Festa illegna glorificat certamina
Till we meet Thee in glory, 565, i., Hurditch, C. R.
Time, by moments, steals away, 598, ii., Newton, J.
Time is swiftly passing o'er us, 1270, ii., Writing, Miss
Time, thou speedest on but slowly (tr. Miss Winkworth), 97, i., Allmaus, J. G.
Time, what an empty vapour 'tis, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Timè's non a final nothing, 161, ii., Bonar, H.
'Tis a point I long to know, oft when I've prayed, 1206, ii., Wesley family, The Tinctum ergo Christi sanguine, 992, ii., Salvete chori et laetem
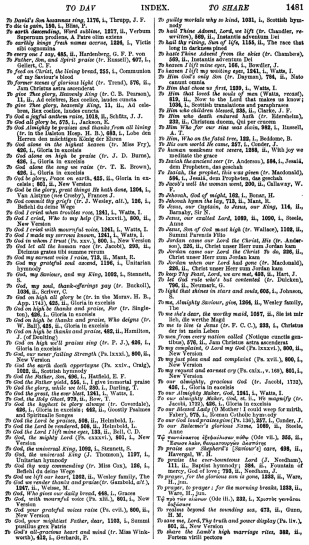
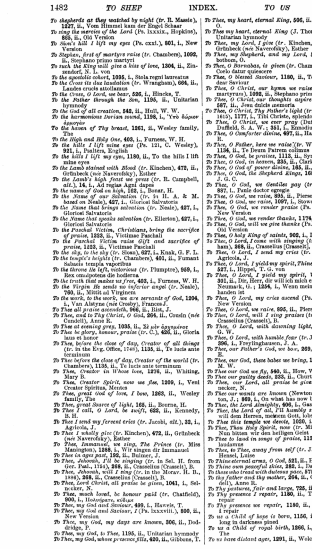
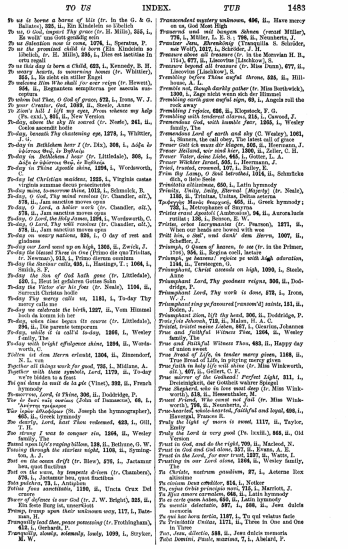
'Tis a blessed thing while we live to sing, 213, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby)
'Tis a goodly, pleasant land, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Frances J.
'Tis a joy that mated deep, 697, i., Joy to the followers of the Lord
'Tis a land that is fair our eyes, 265, i., Cennewell, E.
'Tis a pleasant thing to me, 707, i., Lyte, H. F.
'Tis by the faith of joys to come, 1239, i., Watts, I.
'Tis by Thy strength the mountains stood, 1261, i., Watts, I.
'Tis day, 'tis time an oft foretold, 671, i., Grindall, T.
'Tis darkness all, and drear-forsook, 643, ii., Bull, W. W.
'Tis dawn; to God I lift my hand (tr. Chatfield), 873, i., Ὄρθρου βάθεως τῇ χειρ μου ἐπάρσις
'Tis done, the important act is done, 1096, i., Smith, S. F.
'Tis done, the solemn act is done, 1096, i., Smith, S. F.
'Tis enough, the hour is come, 726, i., Merrick, J.
'Tis evening: over Salem's towers, 873, i., Guthrie, J.
'Tis false, thou wile accuser, go, 272, ii., Crummelius, R.
'Tis finished! all the sacrifice, 1096, i., Smith, S. F.
'Tis finished, cried the dying Lamb, 724, i., Wallace, J.
'Tis finished! it glorious word, 1252, ii., Schmidt, J. E.
'Tis finished! so the Saviour cried, 1096, i., Bennett, S.
'Tis finished—the Messiah cried, 130, ii., Behold the Saviour on the cross
'Tis finished, the Messiah dies (C. Wesley), 130, i., Behold the Saviour on the cross
'Tis finished, the Redeemer cries (J. Bowman), 130, i., Behold the Saviour on the cross
'Tis finished! the Redeemer cries, 130, ii., Behold the Saviour on the cross
'Tis finished—let me no more be told (tr. Cowper), 670, i., Gegen (mit de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.
'Tis for conquering kings to gain, 1236, i., Virtù sfidi ogni tiranno
'Tis from the mercy of our God, 666, ii., Lord, we confess our numerous faults
'Tis from the treasure of His word, 1239, i., Watts, I.
'Tis God that lifts our comforts high, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
'Tis God the author we adore, 997, i., Saffery (nee Hervey), Martha C.
'Tis God the Spirit leads, 1165, ii., That we might walk with God
'Tis God's decree that all shall die (tr. G. Walker), 1264, i., Wesley Duke
'Tis Heaven, O Jesus, that alone with Thee, 1205, ii., Wilson, Jane
'Tis He, the Mighty Saviour comes, 893, i., Denny, Sir E.
'Tis heaven begun below, 1128, i., Swain, J.
'Tis heaven to hear Thy name, 1206, ii., Van Alstyne, A.
'Tis Jesus speaks, I feel, says He, 1092, i., Newcomb, L.
'Tis Jesus God's my sole desire (tr. G. Walker), 701, ii., Luckmilla-Elisabeth of Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt
'Tis known on earth and heaven too, 130, ii., Hite, P.
'Tis love that fills the heart with rapture, 1171, i., Though all men's eloquence adorned
'Tis midnight and on Olives' brow, 1115, i., Tappan, W. B.
'Tis mine, the command of His grace, 306, ii., Doddridge, P.
'Tis morn! behold the golden ray (Lux ecce surgit aurea), 921, i., Nox, et tenebrae, et nubila
'Tis night, but to the joyful morn, 893, i., Denny, Sir E.
'Tis not a hard, no high an aim (tr. M. Bruce), 504, i., Es ist nicht schwer ein Christ zu sein
'Tis not by skill of human art, 672, ii., Gegen (mit de la Motte), Jeanne M. B.; 1196, i., Upham, T. C.
'Tis not by works of righteousness, 666, ii., Lord, we confess our numerous faults
'Tis not in circumstances, 671, i., Grindall, T.
'Tis not in mortals to command success, 1264, i., Wesley Duke
'Tis not the blood-stained wolf alone (tr. Chandler), 815, i., Non parta solo sanguine
'Tis not too arduous an emmy (tr. M. Bruce), 504, i., Es ist nicht schwer ein Christ zu sein
'Tis not too hard, no high an aim (tr. M. Browne), 1246, ii., Bruce, M.; 504, i., Es ist nicht schwer ein Christ zu sein
'Tis not yet the time appointed (tr. R. Massie), 1077, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
'Tis pure delight without alloy, 686, i., Happy the heart where grace reigns
'Tis the hour that one gave, 718, i., Masters (née Harry
'Tis Spring, the time of singing, 194, i., Bliss, S. G.
'Tis sure that awful time will come, 558, i., Great God, what do I see and hear: 961, i., Fitzgerald, R.
'Tis the day of Pentecost, Thy praise is sung, 1196, ii., Tregelles, S. P.
'Tis sweet, O God, to sing Thy praise, 1110, ii., Taylor, T. E.
'Tis sweet to rest on lonely hope, 1271, i., When languor and disease intrude
'Tis sweet to think of those at rest, 1184, ii., Tregelles, S. P.
'Tis the blessed hour of prayer, 1204, ii., Van Alstyne (nee Crosby), Francis J.
'Tis the Church triumphant singing, 933, ii., Kerr, J.
'Tis the day of Pentecost, Spirit of God, 1196, ii., Tregelles, S. P.
'Tis the day of Resurrection (tr. Neale), 93, ii., Ἀναστάσεως ἡμέρα; 788, ii., Neale, J. M.; 1140, ii., The foe behind, the deep before
'Tis the Great Father we adore, 997, i., Saffery (nee Hervey), Martha C.
'Tis the promise of God, 1185, ii., Bliss, P.
'Tis the solemn midnight hour (tr. Carvall), 722, i., Medias noctis tempore
'Tis the voice of mercy calls thee, 726, ii., Mitfaro, A.
'Tis the voice of the staggered (Watts), 221, i., Children's hymns
'Tis Thine alone, Almighty Name, 660, i., Hatfield, E. F.
'Tis thus in solitude I roam, 1196, i., Upham, T. C.
'Tis very wonderful, I'm sure, 117, i., Bateman, H.
'Tis with me, O Friend unfeigning (tr. Miss Bunsen), 1264, i., Wesley Duke
'Tis with my heart (tr. Bunsen), 688, ii., Longfellow, S.
To all that now in misery [sorrow] dwell (Ps. lxxvi. Hopkins), 908, ii., Old Version
To all Thy faithful people, Lord, 957, i., Conder, J.
To all Thy servants who for this day, 332, i., Davis, T.
To amend Thy sinful life (tr. Cr.), 1264, i., Wesley Duke
To Bethlehem, Thy arrested bleat (tr. Mrs. Chester), 1264, i., Wesley Duke
To be a Christian is not hard worktide (tr. R. Massie), 504 ii., Es ist nicht schwer ein Christ zu sein
To bless Thy chosen race (Ps. lxvii.), 900, ii., New Version
To Calvary ascending (tr. Kynaston), 941, i., Hac ad montem Calvariae
To Calvary, Lord, in spirit now, 289, i., Denny, Sir E.
To Canaan's sacred bound, 295, i., From Egypt lately come
To celebrate Thy praise, O King of heaven, 11, ii., Ad celebrandum, Rex coelice, laudes canens
To celebrate Thy praise, O Lord (Ps lx.), 900, i., New Version
To Christ be nine our homage paid (tr. in the Moravian H. B., 1754), 631, ii., Kolrose, J.
To Christ the Lamb of God (tr. Kinchen, 3rd), 978, ii., Grünbeck (née Navrotzky), Esther
To Christ, the Lord, let every tongue, 1092, i., Bennett, S.
To Christ the Lord! The Incarnate Word, 763, i., Monsell, J. S. B.
To Christ, the Prince of Peace (tr. Carvall), 1102, ii., Samuel Parmelia Filio
To Christ, whose Cross (tr. Oakeley), 220, ii., Christo, qui Crucis triumphum
To Christ whom Cross represents our loss (anon.), 222, ii., Christum dicens, Qui per crucem
To Christ your voices raise (tr. C. B. Pearson), 666, i., Laus devota mente
To conquer and to save, the Son of God, 606, i., Heber, R.



To David's Son hosannas ring, 1176, i., Threapp, J. F.
To die to gain, 139, i., Bliss, P.
To earth descending, Word sublime, 1037, ii., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre olim exiens
To earthly bonds fresh nomas accrue, 1258, i., Virtis Parentis Unice
To every one I say, 885, ii., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von
To Father, Son, and Spirit praise (tr. Russell), 977, i., Gellert, C. F.
To feed on Christ, the living bread, 215, i., Communion
To fill the world with love, 1, i.
To former scenes of glorious light (tr. Trent), 676, ii., Jam Christus astra ascenderat
To give Thee glory, Heavenly King (tr. C. B. Pearson), 11, ii., Ad celebres, Rex coelice, laudes canora
To God a joyful anthem raise, 1018, ii., Schütz, J. J.
To God all glory be, 878, i., Jackson, E.
To God Almighty be praises and thanks from all living creatures (tr. Winkworth), 1, i., Lobe den Herren den mächtigen König der Ehren
To God alone in the highest heaven (tr. Miss Fry), 626, i., Gloria in excelsis
To God alone on high be praise (tr. J. D. Burns), 626, i., Gloria in excelsis
To God about the song we raise (tr. T. E. Brown), 626, i., Gloria in excelsis
To God be glory, Peace on earth, 652, ii., Gloria in excelsis; 662, ii., New Version
To God be praise, Whose blessing He hath done, 1256, i., Van, kinderen Jah Credens, Francen J.
To God commit thy griefs (tr. J. Wesley, alt.), 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
To God I cried when trouble rose, 1041, i., Watts, I.
To God I cry, Who to my help (Ps. lxxvii.), 800, ii., New Version
To God I rear with mournful voice, 1041, i., Watts, I.
To God I made my sorrows known, 1041, i., Watts, I.
To God in whom I trust (Ps. xxv.), 800, ii., New Version
To God all my sorrows rose (tr. Jacob), 293, ii., Endlose grosse Trübsal hab ich erlitten
To God my earnest voice I raise, 713, ii., Mant, R.
To God my grateful soul caused, 1196, i., Unitarian hymnody
To God, my Saviour, and my King, 1060, i., Stennett, S.
To God, my soul, thank-offerings pay (tr. Bucknall), 1038, ii., Sattler, C.
To God on high all glory be (tr. in the Moray. H. B., App. 1742), 626, ii., Gloria in excelsis
To God on high be thanks and praise, For (tr. Singleton), 626, ii., Gloria in excelsis
To God on high be thanks and praise, Who deigns (tr. W. Bull), 626, ii., Gloria in excelsis
To God on high be thanks and praise, 626, ii., Hamilton, J. (of Dreghorn)
To God on high the praises sing (tr. P. J.), 626, i., Gloria in excelsis
To God, our never failing Strength (Ps. lxxxi.), 800, ii., New Version
To God the earth doth repentance (Ps. xxiv., Craig), 800, ii., New Version
To God the Father, Son, 698, i., Hatfield, E. F.
To God the Father yield, 554, i., I give immortal praise
To God the glory, while we fell, 255, i., Darling, T.
To God the great, the ever blest, 1041, i., Watts, I.
To God the Holy Ghost, 698, i., Hatfield, E. F.
To God the highest be glory always (tr. Coverdale), 626, i., Gloria in excelsis; 662, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
To God the Lord be praises, 956, ii., Heinrich, I.
To God the Lord be praises, 956, ii., Heinrich, I.
To God the Lord I lift mine eyes, 131, ii., Bull, G. D.
To God, the mighty Lord (Ps. lxxxvi.), 801, i., New Version
To God, the universal King, 1060, i., Stennett, S.
To God, the universal King (J. Thomson), 1197, i., Unitarian hymnody
To God thy way commending (tr. Miss Cox), 126, i., Befiehl du deine Wege
To God we lift our heart, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
To God with cheerful voice and praise(tr. Gambold, alt.), 1267, ii., Watts, I.
To God, Who gives our daily bread, 648, i., Graces
To God, with mournful voice (Ps. xiii.), 801, i., New Version
To God, your grateful voice raise (Ps. cvii.), 800, ii., New Version
To God, your weightiest Father, dear, 1169, i., Sommi pondus gra Patris
To God's all-gracious heart and mind (tr. Miss Winkworth), 824, i., Gerhardt, P.
To guilty mortals why so kind, 1031, i., Scottish hymnody
To hail Thine advent, Lord, we lift (tr. Chandler, revised), 660, ii., Instantis adventum Iuri
To hail thy rising, Sun of life, 1150, ii., The race that long in darkness pined
To haste Thine advent from the skies (tr. Chandler), 660, ii., Instantis adventum Iuri
To heaven I lift mine eyes, 166, i., Bowdler, J.
To heaven I lift my waiting eye, 1241, i., Watts, I.
To Him who sang (tr. Dayman), 794, ii., Nato canunt cuncta
To Him that chose us first, 1239, i., Watts, I.
To Him that loved the souls of men (Watts, revised), 813, ii., Now to the Lord that makes us know!
To Him who children blessed, 893, ii., Clarke, J. F.
To Him who children blessed, 893, ii., Clarke, J. F.
To Him who death endured hath (tr. Ellershaw), 259, ii., Christum dicamus, Qui pro crucem
To Him, Who for our sins was slain, 982, i., Russell, J. D.
To Him, Who on the fatal tree, 122, i., Redelope, B.
To His own world He came, 257, i., Conder, J.
To human weakness not severe, 1268, ii., While joy we meditate the grace
To Immanuel's Land (tr. Anderson), 184, i., Jesaia, dem Propheten, das geschah
To Isaiah, the prophet, this was given (tr. Macdonald), 536, i., Jesaia, dem Propheten, das geschah
To Jacob's well the woman went, 200, ii., Calloway, W.
To Jehovah, God of might, 103, i., Bonar, H.
To Jehovah hymns the lisp, 713, ii., Mant, R.
To Jesus, our Captain, to Jesus, our King, 116, ii., Barnaby, Sir N.
To Jesus, our crucified Lord, 1089, ii., 1090, i., Steele, A.
To Jesus, Son of God most high (tr. Wallace), 1108, ii., Summi Parentis Filio
To Jordan came our Lord the Christ, His (tr. Anderson), 184, i., Jesaia, dem Propheten, das geschah
To Jordan came our Lord the Christ To do, 830, ii., Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam
To Jordan when our Lord had gone (tr. Macdonald), 830, ii., Christ unser Herr zum Jordan kam
To Jordan's flood our sins are sent, 625, ii., Hart, J.
To Joy that ever is contented (tr. Dalcken), 796, ii., Neumark, G.
To light that shines in stars and souls, 666, i., Johnson, S.
To me, Almighty Saviour, give, 1256, ii., Wesley family, The
To me she's dear, the worthy maid, 1037, ii., Sie ist mir lieb, die werthe Magd
To me to live is Jesus (tr. F. C. C.), 833, i., Christus der ist mein Leben
To save from every nation exiled (Nostras exactis gentibus), 1108, ii., Summi Parentis Filio
To my complaint, O Lord my God (Ps. lxxxvi.), 800, ii., New Version
To my last plea cruel and complacent (Ps. xvii.), 800, i., New Version
To my last plea, and earnest cry (Ps. cxix., v. 169), 801, i., New Version
To our Almighty, gracious God (tr. Jacobi, 1732), 626, i., Gloria in excelsis
To our Almighty Maker, God, 1241, i., Watts, I.
To our Almighty Maker, God, Who (tr. Winkworth), Jacobi, 1732), 626, i., Gloria in excelsis
To our Blessed Lady (O Mother! I could weep for mirth, Faber), 975, i., Roman Catholic hymn only
To our God loud praises give (Ps. l.), 327, i., Conder, J.
To our redeemer's glorious Name, 1089, ii., Steele, Anne
Τῷ σωτῆρος ἡδυπάθειαν πᾶσι (Ode vii.), 805, ii., Σωτὴρ ἁπᾶς, θεομητορικὸν ἀσπάσιον
To praise our Shepherd's [Saviour's] care, 698, ii., Hatfield, E. F.
To praise the ever-bounteous Lord (J. Needham), 111, ii., Baptist hymnody; 266, ii., Fountain of mercy, God of love; 733, ii., Needham, J.
To prayer, for the glorious sun is gone, 1258, ii., Ware, Wm., jun.
To prayer, to prayer; for the morning breaks, 1258, ii., Ware, Wm., jun.
Τῷ τὸν κύριον (Ode iii.), 333, i., Χριστὸν γενέσθαι, Ἀδελφοί
To realms beyond the mounding sea, 673, ii., Gunn, H. M.
To save me, Lord, Thy truth and power display (Ps. lv.), 801, ii., New Version
To share the Lamb's high warrings rites, 332, ii., Patrem virtii potiere



To shepherds at they watched by night (tr. H. Mamie), 1127, ii., Vom Himmel kam der Engel Schaar
To shepherds watching their Lord (Ps. lxxxix., Hopkins), 805, ii., Old Version
To Shiloh's hill I lift my eyes (Ps. cxxi.), 801, i., New Version
To Sion's fruitful city (tr. Chandler), 1009, ii., Urbs Sion aurea
To such the King will give a taste of love, 1206, ii., Ein-sandorf, N. L. von
To the apostolic cohort, 1225, i., Stola regni laureatus
To the Cross its due foundation (tr. Wrangham), 666, ii., Crucis fabricam tabulatus
To the triune, O God Almighty, 626, i., Blacke, T.
To the Father through the Son, 1150, ii., Unitarian hymnody
To the God of all creation, 242, ii., Hull, W. W.
To the harmonious Zurian sound, 1196, i., Yves Kapser de Marie
To the house of Thy bread, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
To the High and Holy One, 403, i., Furness, W. H.
To the hills I lift my eyes (Ps. 121, C. Wesley), 801, i., New Version, English
To the hills I lift my eyes, 1180, ii., To the hills I lift mine eyes
To the Lamb stained with Blood (tr. Klucken), 472, ii., Gröbeck (nee Sarvenkly), Esther
To the Lord I high first we pray (tr. R. Campbell, alt.), 1, ii., Allein Gott in der Höh
To the name of God on high, 122, i., Bonar, H.
To the Name of our Salvation (tr. Ira H. A. & M. based on Stark), 627, i., Unitarian Salvatoria
To the Name that brings salvation (tr. Stark), 627, i., Unitarian Salvatoria
To the Name that speaks salvation (tr. Elsetius), 627, i., Unitarian Salvatoria
To the Paschal Victim, Christians, bring the sacrifice of praise, 1233, ii., Victimae Paschali
To the Paschal Victim, Christians, bring your sacrifice of praise, 1233, ii., Victimae Paschali
To the sky, to the sky (tr. Stark), 627, i., Kuuk, O. F. L.
To the temple's height (tr. Chambers), 621, ii., Fumant Salutis templo vaporibus
To the throne of grace draw near (tr. Pimpton), 859, i., Ben concedentes ite lodierna
The truth that makes us free, 403, i., Furness, W. H.
To the Virgin He sends no inferior angel (tr. Neale), 709, ii., Missit ad Virginem
To the world's Creator praise surrounds of God, 1204, ii., Von Adelma (nee Cranky, Frances J.
To Thee all praise ascendeth, 986, ii., Hine, J.
To Thee, end to Thy Christ, O God, 304, ii., Coudo (nee Cundell), Anne R.
To Thee be glory, honour, praise, 1030, ii., Ze zdr Λογικόν
To Thee be glory, honour, praise (tr. C.), 626, ii., Gloria tans et honor
To Thee, before the close of day, Creator of the world (tr. in the Eng. Office, 1740), 1133, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
To Thee, before the close of day, Creator of the world (tr. Chambers), 1136, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
To Thee, Creator in Whose love, 1276, ii., Whiting, Mary B.
To Thee, Creator Spirit, now we flee, 1209, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
To Thee, great God of love, I bow, 1063, ii., Wesley family, The
To Thee, great Source of light, 169, ii., Bourne, H.
To Thee I call, O Lord, be mov'd, 685, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
To Thee I send my fervent train (tr. Jacobi, alt.), 32, i., Agricola, J.
To Thee I wholly give (tr. Klucken), 472, ii., Gröbeck (nee Sarvenkly), Esther
To Thee, Immanuel, we sing, The Prince (tr. Miss Manington), 1208, i., Wir singen dir Immanuel
To Thee in open pain, 166, ii., Bulmer, J.
To Thee, Jehovah, I'll be singing (tr. in Sel. H. from Gerhardt, 1667), 824, i., Gerhardt, P., Ich will dich mein Herze, mein Leben
To Thee, Jehovah, will I sing (tr. in the Moray. H. B., 1880), 268, ii., Cranmelius (Cranzell), H.
To Thee, Lord Christ, all praise be given, 1061, i., Selnecker, N.
To Thee, much loved, be honour paid (tr. Chatfield), 900, i., Hostiogaris, collae
To Thee, my God and Saviour, 689, i., Harvels, T.
To Thee, my God and Saviour, I (Ps. lxxxviii.), 800, ii., New Version
To Thee, my God, my days are known, 306, ii., Doddridge, P.
To Thee, my God, to Thee, 1185, ii., Unitarian hymnody
To Thee, my God, when y never fills, 620, ii., Gribbon, T.
To Thee, my heart, eternal King, 986, ii., Heginbothom, D.
To Thee my heart, eternal King (J. Thomson), 1197, i., Unitarian hymnody
To Thee, my Lord, I give (tr. Klucken, alt.), 472, ii., Gröbeck (nee Sarvenkly), Esther
To Thee, my Shepherd, and my Lord, 106, ii., Heginbothom, D.
To Thee, O Bethesda, to given (tr. Chambers), 941, ii., Coelo datur quiescere
To Thee, O blessed Saviour, 1180, ii., To Thee, O dear, dear Saviour
To Thee, O Christ, our hymns we raise (Deut ernento martyrum), 1208, ii., Stephano primo martyri
To Thee, O Christ, our thoughts aspire (tr. Darling), 227, ii., Tres dulcis ascensio
To Thee, O Christ, Thy Father's light (tr. in the Primer, 1706), 1133, ii., Te lucis ante terminum
To Thee, O Christ, we cast away (Duffield), 315, ii., Duffield, S. A. W.; 531, i., Edmeston, M. F.
To Thee, O Comforter divine, 697, ii., Havergal, Frances R.
To Thee, O Father, here we raise (tr. W. Palmer, alt.), 1158, ii., Te Deum Patrem colimus
To Thee, O God, be praising, 1125, ii., Syriac hymnody
To Thee, O God, on bended knee, 233, ii., Clarke, J. F.
To Thee, O God, of power divine, 185, ii., Bourne, H.
To Thee, O God, the shepherd kings, 106, ii., Brainard, M.
To Thee, O God, we Gentiles pay (tr. Neale, alt.), 227, i., Puale doctor egregie
To Thee, O God, we raise, 833, ii., Pierson, A. T.
To Thee, O God, we raise, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
To Thee, O God, we render praise (Ps. lxxv.), 800, ii., Old Version
To Thee, O God, we render thanks, 1178, i., Turing, G.
To Thee, O God, will we give thanks (Ps. lxxv.), 805, ii., Old Version
To Thee, O holy King of saints, 903, i., Powell, T. E.
To Thee, O Lamb, with angels sing (tr. Miss Buringham), 268, ii., Cranmelius (Cranzell), H.
To Thee, O Lord, I send my cries (tr. Jacobi), 32, i., Agricola, J.
To Thee, O Lord, I yield my spirit, Thine (tr. Singleton), 1127, ii., Vom Himmel kam
To Thee, O Lord, I yield my spirit, Who (W. Bull), 261, ii., Dir, Herr, dir will ich mich ergeben; 706, ii., Neumark, G.; 1256, i., Wenn mein Stündlein Herhanden ist
To Thee, O Lord, my cries ascend (Ps. cxii.), 801, i., New Version
To Thee, O Lord, we raise, 833, ii., Pierson, A. T.
To Thee, O Lord, will I sing praises (tr. Lay), 268, ii., Cranmelius (Cranzell), H.
To Thee, O Lord, with steering light, 304, i., Doane, G. W.
To Thee, O Lord, with humble fear (tr. J. Wesley, alt.), 296, i., Freylinghausen, J. A.
To Thee, our Father's God, we bow, 269, i., Cronenwett, J.
To Thee, our God, these labes we bring, 1093, i., Stryker, M. W.
To Thee our God we fly, 580, ii., Hove, W. W.
To Thee our guilty deeds, 833, ii., Chorlton, E.
To Thee, O Lord, all praise be given, 1041, i., Selnecker, N.
To Thee our wants are known (Newton), 806, ii., Newton, J.; 825, i., On whom has now been sworn
To Thee, the Lord Almighty, 626, i., Gaskell, W.
To Thee, the Lord, will I sing (tr. Miss Buringham), 268, ii., Ich will dem Herrn, meinem Gott, lobsingen
To this temple we devote, 1036, i., Scott, J. B.
To Thee, Thou Holy Spirit, now (tr. Miss Fry), 961, i., Nun bitten wir den heiligen Geist
To Thee, to sound in songs of praise, 1133, ii., Te Deum laudamus
To Thee, to Thee, away from self (tr. J. Kelly), 811, i., Hensel, Luise
To Thine eternal arms, O God, 321, ii., Hipplyte, T. W.
To Thine eternal arms, O God, 1241, i., Watts, I.
To those who trust with holiness pure, 879, i., Jackson, E.
To thy father and thy mother, 594, ii., Cousin (nee Cundell), Anne R.
Thy pastures, fair and large, 725, ii., Morrick, J.
To Thy presence I repair, 1180, ii., To Thy temple I repair
To Thy temple I repair, 1180, ii., To Thy temple I repair
To us a child of hope is born, 1166, i., The race that long in darkness pined
To us a child of royal birth, 1266, i., Wesley family, The
To us how dishonoured ages, 1291, ii., Wolcott, S.



To us is borne a Horse of Air (tr. in the S. & G. Selection), 1031, ii., Primrose.
To us, O God, impart Thy grace (tr. H. Mills), 864, i., Es wollt' uns Gott genädig sein
To us Salvation now is come, 1076, i., Spratton, P.
To us the promised child is born (Ein Kindlein so loben wir), 1031, ii., Primrose.
To us this day is born a Child, 625, i., Kennedy, B. H.
To weary hearts, a mourning home (tr. Winkler), 855, i., Es giebt ein stiller Engel
To whom Thy Spirit has more copia (tr. Hewett), 1004, ii., Begnadeten ausgetheilet gar mancherlei manigfaltigkeit
To whom but Thee, O God of grace, 272, i., Irons, W. J.
To your Creator, God, 1039, ii., Steele, Anne
To-day (Oh, call), my Lord, From whence my help (Oh, call), 857, ii., Es wartet
To-day, above the sky He soared (tr. Neale), 241, ii., Coelos ascendit hodie
To-day, beneath Thy chastening eye, 1073, i., Whittier, J. G.
To-day (Bethlehem hore I (tr. Dix), 306, i., Joûs le Seigneur Dieu, le Rédemis
To-day (in Bethlehem I hear (tr. Littledale), 306, i., Joûs le séjourneu Dieu, le Rédemis
To-day in Thine Apostle shine, 1294, i., Wordsworth, C.
To-day let Christian maidens, 1255, i., Virginis casta virginis summae decus prosequendo
To-day mine, tomorrow thine, 1013, i., Schmidt, B.
To-day, O God, Thy mind restrue (tr. Chandler, alt.), 879, ii., Jam sanctus movens opus
To-day, O God, Thy mind restrue (tr. Chandler, alt.), 879, ii., Jam sanctus movens opus
To-day, O Lord, the Holy Dawn, 1096, i., Wordsworth, C.
To-day, O Lord, Thy will restrue (tr. Chandler, alt.), 879, ii., Jam sanctus movens opus
To-day our country nations, 930, i., O day of rest and gladness
To-day our Lord went up on high, 1265, ii., Zwick, J.
To-day the blessed Three in One (Trinis de qua Trinitas, tr. Newman), 913, i., Primo diernm omnium
To-day the hour calls, 830, i., Hastings, T.; 1066, i., Shiloh, S. F.
To-day the Son of God hath gone (tr. Littledale), 330, i., Heut ist gefahren Gottes Sohn
To-day the Victor o'er his foes (tr. Neale), 1196, ii., Victor sub imis hostibus
To-day Thy mercy calls us, 1181, i., To-day Thy mercy calleth
To-day we celebrate the birth, 1227, ii., Von Himmel hoch da komm ich her
To-day, while time hears its course (tr. Littledale), 879, ii., Jam sanctus movens opus
To-God will to call to-day, 1066, i., Wesley family, The
To-day with bright effulgence shine, 1094, ii., Wordsworth, C.
Todtag, o dem Stern erlendt, 1206, ii., Zimmerhof, B., 1719
Together all things work for good, 793, i., Midlane, A.
Together with these symbols, Lord, 1172, ii., To-day we're bidden to a feast
Toi qui dans la nuit de la pie (Vinet), 399, ii., French
To-morrow, Lord, O Thine, 300, ii., Doddridge, P.
Tor de Boer valt overlaas (John of Damascus), 68, i., Laetemur tandem
Tor Sion sitter Gud i ljus (St. Joseph the hymnographer), 865, ii., Ortodox hymnody
Tre skerfig, Lord, Kast Thine redeemed, 623, i., Gill, J. H.
Tue I that I was to conquer sin, 1066, ii., Wesley family, The Tumed upon life's raging billow, 118, ii., Bethune, G. W.
Turning through the starless night, 1120, ii., Symington, A. J.
Tvet som stormen dreft (tr. Rive), 876, i., Jactatur ben, quas fluctibus
Tvet on the wave, by tempests driven (tr. Chambers), 876, i., Jactatur ben, quas fluctibus
Tutis pulchra, 73, i., Antiphon
Tvisyma Deus assistatis, 1186, ii., Urcta Crux Dei cruore
Twere of defence is our God (tr. J. W. Reigh), 325, ii., Ein feste Burg ist, unserGott
Tvingt, tramp upon their unknown way, 117, i., Baker, H. W.
Tvingstvilla land thee, peace pretending (tr. Fruhlingham), 834, i., Gerhardt, P.
Tvingstvilla, slumb, solemnly, lonely, 1099, i., Stryker, M. W.
Transcendent mystery unknown, 496, ii., Have mercy Lord, and pardon me
Transcend und mild hangen Abend (except Miller), 776, i., Müller, L. E. S.; 798, ii., Neumeister, J.
Transiter dum, Maria (Tranquilla S. Schröder, nee Wolf), 1027, i., Schröder, J. H.
Transiter dum, Maria (tr. Sister Mary Monvian H. B., 1851), 877, ii., Immortal Lilyflower, S.
Treasure beyond all treasure (tr. Miss Dunn), 677, ii., Limoriae (Lauckhow), S.
Trembling before Thine awful throne, 335, ii., Hillhouse, J.
Trembling sad, though fearfully gather (tr. Miss Borthwick), 1200, i., Zagen nicht wenn sich der Himmel
Trembling earth gave awful sign, 69, i., Angels roll the rock away
Trembling Disciples, 696, ii., Klopstock, F. G.
Trembling and troubled sinners, 518, i., Cawood, J.
Tremendous God, with humble fear, 1265, i., Wesley family, The Tremendous Lord of earth and sky (C. Wesley), 1061, i., Shores, the rail sky, The tokens tell of grace
Tremendous Lord of earth and sky (C. Wesley), 1061, i., Shores, the rail sky, The tokens tell of grace
Tremor Heiland, wer sind hier, 1260, ii., Ziegler, H. E.
Tremor Victor, deus Iudex, 865, i., Gunter, L.
Tremor Wächter Israel, 260, i., Herrmann, J.
Tried, trusted, removed, 127, i., Bailey, E.
Trine thy Lamb, O God betrothed, 1014, ii., Schmücke dich, O liebe Seele
Tremitatis cultivateur, 630, i., Latin hymnody
Trinity, Unity, Deity, Eternal [Majesty] (tr. Neale), 1136, ii., Trinitas, Unitas, Deitas aeterna
Tpiadexpov Μυστε θεωρουσι, 603, ii., Greek hymnody; 1136, ii., Trinitas, Unitas, Deitas aeterna
Tristis erunt Aquilonis (Ambrosian), 58, ii., Aurora lucis rutilat; 136, i., Benson, R. W.
Tristis, urbes lacrymantis (tr. Pearson), 1071, ii., When our hands are bound with woe
Tröst dich, mein Herz, und sauk' dem Herrn, 1007, ii., Schaffer, J.
Triumph, O Queen of heaven, to see (tr. in the Primer, 1706), 955, ii., Regina coeli, laetare
Triumph, ye heavens! rejoice ye with high adoration, 1200, ii., Zagen nicht wenn sich der Triumphant, Christ ascends on high, 1004, i., Steele, Anne Triumphant Lord, Thy goodness reigns, 804, ii., Doddridge, P.
Triumphant Lord, Thy work is done, 272, i., Irons, W. J.
Triumphant sing ye firmament [-ament's]; saints, 151, ii., Boden, J.
Triumphant Zion, lift thy head, 300, ii., Doddridge, P.
Triumphe, triumphe, Thou Lamb, 97, i., Watts, I. & D.
Trinit, triumphe over Lamb, 97, i., Newton, Johnson and Faithful Witness Thou, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The True and Faithful Witness Thou, 693, ii., Happy day when I shall see
True Bread of Life, in tender mercy given, 1188, ii., True Bread of Life, in pitying mercy given
True faith in holy life will shine (tr. Miss Winkworth, alt.), 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
True Light of the Gentiles, Perfect Light, 211, i., Verbum supernum, qui prodisti (except Spitta)
True shepherds, to love used deep (tr. Miss Winkworth), 618, ii., Hassenhaltze, H.
Truest Friend, Who canst not fail (tr. Miss Winkworth, alt.), 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
True-hearted, whole-hearted, faithful and loyal, 696, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Truly the light of morn is sweet, 1172, ii., Taylor, Emily
Truly, O Lord is very good (Ps. lxxiii.), 866, ii., Old Version
Trust in God, and do the right, 709, ii., Macleod, N.
Trust in God and God alone, 337, ii., Evans, A. L.
Trust in the Lord, for ever trust, 1237, ii., Watts, I.
Trusting in our Lord alone, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The Tu Christe, nostrum gaudium, 27, i., Aeterne Rex altissime
Tu ecclesiae Jesu cohortior, 624, i., Notker
Tu es Deus qui facis mirabilia, 1186, ii., Urcta Crux Dei
Tu Rex mundi carmina, 865, i., Latin hymnody
Tu sis corde quam habes, 630, ii., Latin hymnody
Tu suscitis delectatio, 597, i., 686, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
Tuba mirum spargens tertia, 1197, i., Tu qui vultus facie
Tu Trinitatis Unitas, 1171, ii., Thou in One and One in Three
Tue, Jesu, Alleria, 686, ii., Jesu dulcis memoria
Tuba Domini, Paule, warnest, 7, i., Abelard, P.

Tuba sonitrae voris disertor, 615, i., Notker
Tubam bellicosam, qui Jus nos servetes, 615, i., Notker
Tune every heart, make every tongue, 1097, i., Stowell, E.
Turn not from him who asks of Thee, 1219, i., Very, J.
Turn not Thy face away from me, 861, ii., O Lord, turn not Thy face away
Turn not Thy face away, O Lord, 861, ii., O Lord, turn not Thy face away
Turn, O turn, we more delaying (tr. the Hon. S. R. Maude), 1197, ii., Tu qui vultus facie
Turn us, we, then, your pastoral dart (Tractum ergo Christi sanguine, tr. Walker), 899, i., Salvete clavi et lancea
Turn, poor wanderer, ere the sentence (tr. R. Maude), 1197, ii., Tu qui vultus facie
Tusk, God Jegetteth Only, saith he (Ps. x.), 865, i., Old Version
Tvaal at the solemn Mistres'-hour (tr. Aylward), 886, i., Patris Sapientia, veritas divina
Tvaal, dreamer, thy, when the Lord's decree, 625, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Tvaala for me, my dearest Lord, 1038, ii., Watts, I.
Tvaa in the East, the mystic Star, 308, ii., Hodge, F. H.
Tvaa in the watches of the night, 1241, i., Watts, I.
Tvaal my purpose on a day (tr. Cowper), 676, i., Guyon (Mme.), Jeanne Marie de la Mothe
Tvaal not to make Jehovah's love, 838, ii., Kent, J.
Tvaa on that dark and doleful night (Watts), 1180, i., Twas on that night when doomed to know
Tvaa, on that dark and doleful night (Watts), 180, i., Twas on that night when doomed to know; 1180, i., That night when doomed to know; 1038, i., Watts, I.
Tvaal on that night when doomed to know (Morison), 1038, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Tvaal our great transgressions, 163, ii., Bean, H.
Tvaal the day when God's anointed, 308, ii., Hodge, F. H.
Tvaa the Holy Ghost who taught us, 1186, ii., Trebelius, G.
Tvaal, O Lord, Who gav'st the word, 216, ii., Chamberlain, T.
Tvaal Thy love, O God, that knew us, 290, i., Doyle, J. G.
Tvaal with everlasting love, 623, ii., Kent, J.
Tvaill not be long—our journey here, 1206, i., Van Alstyne, Mrs. Frances J.
Tve and two, Thy servants, Lord, 1178, i., Turapin, J. F.
Tve are better far than one, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Tve live in Jesus' Name, 1266, i., Wesley family, The Tvpes of eternal rest, fair buds of bliss, 1206, i., Vaughan, H.
Tyrants their empty tales take, 1224, i., Victis sibi tyrannis
Tyr' Tvivlin Un Clonta ni (tr. R. Vaughan), 1206, i., Vaughan, H.; 1230, ii., Welsh hymnody
Uit' immer Tvea und Redlichkeit, 330, i., Hiby, C. A.
"Ueber von Edelstes," or speech or in edelstlicher Sinnde, 120, i., Heuser (see Schweizer), Meta
Uf dines tag so denken wir, 1305, ii., Zwick, J.
Uf dines tag so denken wir, 1305, ii., Zwick, J.
Um Frieden wendete Mensch, 626, ii., Klopstock, F. G.
Um Mitternacht hab ich gewacht, 981, i., Rückert, F.
Una Virtus Deitas (tr. U. S. Hodges), 1171, ii., Three in One, and One in Three Unbegin Gott, wahrer Gott allein, 793, ii., Neander, J.
Unchangeable, all-perfect Lord, 638, i., Lange, E.
Unchangeable, changeless Lord, 1295, ii., Witness divine, the Two and Three Unchanging God, through changing years, 1197, i., Unfurled hymnody
Unchanging God, all-powerful Lord (tr. Chandler, alt.), 883, ii., Recor potens, verax Deus
Unchanging God, hear from eternal heaven, 1096, i., Wesley, C.
Unclean, of life and heart unclean, 1266, i., Wesley family, The Uncomplaining, though with care grown hoary (tr. R. Maude), 1079, i., Spring, C. J.
Uncreated Light, Thy ways (tr. Ellerton)
Under the Christian name implies, 622, i., Kent, T.
Und klingst du immer liebe wieder, 80, i., Arndt, E. M.
Und willst du gar verzagen, 80, i., Arndt, E. M.
Under the World-redeeming rood (tr. in the Primer, 1687), 911, ii., Primer; 1066, ii., Sadat mater dolorosa
Une voix dans mon cœur s'éveille (Tiverni), 391, i., French hymnody
Unfurled the banner of our banner, 208, i., Cramer, J. A.
Unfold to me, O Lord, unfold, 615, ii., Kelly, T.
Unfold your gates and open, 288, ii., Franck, J.
Ungrateful sinners! whence this scorn (Doddridge), 1038, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Unhappy souls! Amidst this frozen, 806, ii., Hagenbuchen, S. F. von Unite my roving thoughts, unite, 806, ii., Doddridge, P.
Unlaw the Lord the city keep, 132, ii., Hood, E. P.
Unless the Lord with us had wrought, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Unlocus, great Scytist, our sin-fettered lips (tr. Caswall), 1203, i., Ut quenti inita munere Hetu
Un homme en détail pleurer, 1118, i., Tasler, J.
Un homme en détail pleurer, 413, ii., German hymnody
Unser Herrscher, unser König, 617, ii., German hymnody; 792, i., Stander, J.
Unser Wandel ist im Himmel, Wie ein Mensch in sich versteht, 618, ii., German hymnody; 1078, i., spitta, C. J. P.
Unshaken as the sacred hill, 1241, i., Watts, I.
Unsre Lieben sind geschieden, 638, i., Lange, J. P.
Unsre wilden Augenlieder, 307, i., Franck, J.
Unsterblich grünen Lieder, 617, i., German hymnody; 1078, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Unter Lilien ging Freuden (Allendorf), 51, i., Allendorf, J. L. C.; 617, i., German hymnody
Unter tausend Leiden Stunden, 626, i., Hardenberg, G. F. P. von Unthankbare Seelenfäligkeit, 253, ii., Hiller, P. F.
Until the day appear, Saviour, in Thy might, 902, i., Powell, T. E.
Unto Caesar let us render, 303, i., Cromwell, E.
Unto Him my spirit crieth (tr. Russell), 960, i., Bittner, C. J.
Unto Thee, O Lord, I lantern shines Thy word, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Unto my Lord Jehovah said, 623, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Unto the King new-born, new praises sing, 1060, i., Geneti Regi tuto novis cantica
Unto the Lord (Ps. cxxi.) (tr. Chandler, alt.), 472, ii., Gottlieb (ab Naverdick), Esther
Unto the Lord God with my voice (Ps. cxliii.), 866, i., Old Version
Unto the Lord I cryo did and call (Ps. cxliii., Kethe), 866, i., Old Version Unto the Lord I make my moan, 623, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Unto the new-born Deity (tr. Chambers), 794, ii., Nata canunt omnia
Unto the Paschal Victim bring—I, 3, The Lamb redeems the sheep, 1233, ii., Victimae Paschali
Unto the Paschal Victim bring—I, 3, The Lamb, the sheep, 1233, ii., Victimae Paschali
Unto the war Josiah it was given (tr. Russell), 686, i., Josiah, dem Propheten, das geschah
Unto the war Josiah it was given (tr. Russell), 686, i., Josiah, dem Propheten, das geschah
Unto the spring of purest life (tr. Anon. in the Meditations, &c.), 25, ii., As del peyvein vitae fontem
Unto Thee, God, we will give thanks (Ps. lxxv., Norton), 866, i., Old Version Unto Thee I lift mine eyes, 727, i., Lyra, H. F.
Unto Thee, O Father, merciful and mighty, 830, i., O fortis, O clemens Deus
Unto Thine holy Confessor our voices (tr. Rice), 573, ii., Confessoris tui, quaesumus, Deus Unto the vast return, 625, i., Gill, T. H.
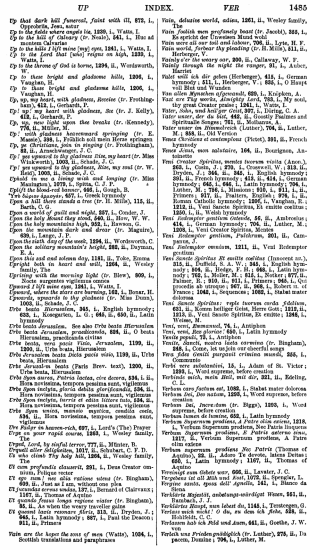
Unto Thy temple, God of love, 606, i., Gaskell, W.
Unworthy is thanksgiving, 202, i., Peters (see Bowly), Mary
Unworthy though I be, 262, i., Davis, T.
Unworthy to be called Thy son, 635, i., Parsons, W. H.
Up! awake! his summons hurried (tr. J. D. Burns), 996, ii., Nicolai, P.
Up, brethren of the Cross, and haste (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1200, ii., Zagen nicht wenn sich der
Up, Christians! gird thee to the strife! (Auf Christen Muneh, auf, auf zum Streit), 1097, i., Scheffler, J.
Up! Christian man, and join the fight (Auf Christen Muneh, auf, auf zum Streit), 1097, i., Scheffler, J.
Up, Christian man, and run the way that reaneh the dead, 618, ii., Greek hymnody
Up, my heart, rejoice with singing (tr. on a broadsheet, 1715), 398, i., Frohlich soll mein Herze springen
Up, my soul, gird thee with power (tr. Clausewitz), 997, i., Freystein, J. B.



Up that dark hill funereal, faint with ill, 873, i., Oppenheim, Jean, satur
Up to the fields where angels lie, 1320, i., Watts, I.
Up to the hills I lift mine eyes (tr. Noah), 581, i. Hinc ad montem Salvatus
Up to the hills I lift mine [my] eyes, 1361, i., Watts, I.
Up to the land that [who] reigns on high, 1233, i., Watts, I.
Up, the throne of God is borne, 1296, ii., Wordsworth, W.
Up to those bright and gladsome hills, 1206, i., Vaughan, H.
Up to those bright and gladsome hills, 1206, i., Vaughan, H.
Up, up, my heart, with gladness, Awake (tr. Frothingham), 612, i., Gerhardt, P.
Up! up! my heart with gladness, Sie (tr. J. Kelly), 613, i., Gerhardt, P.
Up, while the day thee breaks (tr. Kennedy), 776, ii., Müller, M.
Up! with gladness harnessward springing (tr. E. Massey), 598, i., Fröhlich soll mein Herze springen
Up, ye Christians, join to singing (tr. Frothingham), 1239, i., Lange, J. P.
Up! ye upward to the gladness Also, my heart (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1005, ii., Schade, J. C.
Up! ye upward to thy gladness, Also, my soul (tr. W. Reid), 1009, ii., Schade, J. C.
Upheld by Thy hand, God of our longing (tr. Miss Maclagan), 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Uplift the blood-red banner, 698, i., Gough, B.
Ure Sagen kommen, 607, i., Greek hymnody
Upon a hill there stands a tree (tr. H. Mills), 115, ii., Latin hymnody
Upon a watch of guilt and night, 827, i., Cosin, J.
Upon the holy Ground they stood, 640, ii., How, W. W.
Upon the holy mountains high, 932, i., Bowden, G.
Upon the mountain dark and drear (tr. Maguire), 620, i., Lange, J. P.
Upon the sixth day of the week, 1204, ii., Wordsworth, C.
Upon the solitary mountain's height, 885, ii., Daymon, J.
Upon this and solemn day, 1181, ii., Tate, Nicena
Upright both in heart and will, 1264, ii., Wesley family, The Uprising with the morning light (tr. Blew), 809, i., Nicht sungestes vigilemus cantes
Upward I lift mine eyes, 1361, i., Watts, I.
Upward, where the stars are burning, 123, i., Bonar, H.
Upwards, upwards to thy gladness (tr. Miss Dunn), 1005, ii., Schade, J. C.
Urbs beata Hierusalem, 985, i., English hymnody; 620, i., Koengsten, L. G.; 660, ii., 850, ii., Latin hymnody
Urbs beata Jerusalem. See also Urbs beata Hierusalem
Urbs beata Jerusalem, dicta pacis visio, 838, ii., O beata Hierusalem, praeclarada civitas
Urbs beata, urbs pacis visio, Jerusalem, 1199, ii., 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
Urbs Jerusalem beata Dicta pacis visio, 1199, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
Urbs Jerusalem beata (Paris Brev. text), 1200, ii., Urbs beata, Hierusalem
Urbs Sion aurea, Patria lactea, cive decora, 834, i. ii., Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
Urbs Sion unica, mundo mystica, candida casta, Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
Urbs Sion unica, mundo mystica, candida casta, Hora novissima, tempora pessima sunt, vigilemus
Ure Hulpe en kracht, 697, i., Lord's (The) Prayer
Urge on your rapid course, 1263, i., Wesley family, The Urgent Lord, to sinful terror, 777, ii., Münter, B.
Urgeuil adest delectatio, 1017, ii., Schubert, C. F. D.
Us who shook Thy holy hill, 1264, ii., Wesley family, The Ut cum profunda clauserit, 291, i., Deus Creator omnium
Ut qui cum Patre, 1148, i., Tomlinson, G.
Ut queant laxis resonare fibris, 318, ii., Dryden, J.; 985, i., Latin hymnody; 987, i., Paul the Deacon; 911, ii., Primers
Vain are the hope the sons of men (Watts), 1004, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Vain, delusive world, adieu, 1061, ii., Wesley family, The Vane, foolish man profanely heart (tr. Jacobi), 805, i., Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her Vain were all our toil and labour, 700, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Vain world, forbear thy pleading (tr. H. Mills), 811, ii., Herberger, V.
Vainly ye the weary are, 800, ii., Calloway, W. F.
Valiant through the night the ranger, 81, i., Anker, Harriet
Valet will ich dir geben (Herberger), 612, i., German hymnody; 811, i., Herberger, V.; 858, i., O Haupt voll Blut und Wunden
Van Sion moet beklommen, 620, i., Kriphorn, A.
Vast are Thy words, Almighty Lord, 703, i., My soul, thy great Creator praise; 1261, i., Watts, I.
Vater, habe, und hat'ger Gott, 307, i., Dürrig, C. A.
Vater unser, der du bist, 642, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes; 1009, ii., Schade, J. C.
Veiny sonor en Himmelrick (Luther), 794, ii., Luther, M.; 858, ii., Old Version
Venez Chrétiens et contemplons (Pictet), 891, ii., French hymnody
Venez, divin messie salutaire, 106, ii., Bourignon, Antoinette
Veni Creator Spiritus, mentes tuorum visita (Anon.), 265, i., Coste, J.; 279, i., Cranmer, W.; 313, ii., Dryden, J.; 344, ii., 345, i., English hymnody; 345, ii., Hopkins, J.; 346, i., Hopkins, J. and Sternhold; 662, i., 663, i., Latin hymnody; 794, i., Luther, M.; 795, i., Simmons; 915, i., 911, i., ii., Primers; 917, ii., Psalters, English; 979, i., ii., Roman Catholic hymnody; 1006, i., Vaughan, H.; 1007, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Et mentes ostium; 1205, i., ii., Welsh hymnody
Veni, Redemptor gentium Coloside, 25, ii., Ambrosius; 614, i., German hymnody; 704, ii., Luther, M.; 1208, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Veni Redemptor gentium, Publicum, 201, ii., Camerarius, J.
Veni, Redemptor omnium, 1211, ii., Veni Redemptor gentium
Veni Sancte Spiritus Et emitte coelitus (Innocent III.), 313, ii., Duffield, S. A. W.; 345, i., English hymnody; 1004, ii., Hodge, F. R.; 1005, i., Latin hymnody; 1006, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes; 1007, i., Palmer, R.; 910, ii., 911, i., Primers; 969, i., Quiconque ab utraque; 967, ii., 968, i., Robert II. of France; 1042, i., Sequences; 1092, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Veni, Sancte Spiritus: reple tuorum corda fidelium, 221, i., Komm heiliger Geist, Herre Gott; 1212, ii., 1213, ii., Veni Sancte Spiritus, Et emitte; 1266, i., Weiss, M.
Veni, veni, Emmanuel, 76, i., Antiphon
Veni, veni, Emmanuel (tr. Neale), Latin hymnody
Venite populi, 58, i., Antiphon
Venite, discite nostra lieta canentes (tr. Bingham), 255, i., Come, let us join our cheerful songs
Vera fides tenuit purpurei crimina mundi, 266, i., Coste, J.
Verbi vere salutaris, 1a, i., Adam of St. Victor; 1093, i., Word supreme, before creation
Verbum misit, mors illicit, mel dit, 321, ii., Rönig, C. L.
Verbum supernum fontem est, 1032, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Verbum Dei, Jesu autem, 1205, i., Word supreme, before creation
Verbum Dei, Jesu-autem (tr. Biggs), 1205, i., Word supreme, before creation
Verbum supernum prodiens, 1017, i., Latin hymnody
Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre alius exiens, 1216, i., Verbum Supernum prodiens, Nec Patris linquens
Verbum Supernum prodiens, O Patris aeterne sone, 1217, ii., Verbum Supernum prodiens, A Patre
Verbum supernum prodiens Nec Patris (Thomas of Aquino), 20, ii., Adoro Te devote, latens Deitas; 650, i., Latin hymnody; 1197, ii., Thomas of Aquino
Verdoolen moet debete weer, 666, ii., Lavater, J. C.
Vergeleet ist all Ach und Axt, 1078, ii., Spengler, L.
Vergiss mein, spess dein' Agnella, 141, i., Blanco da Siena
Verklärte Majestät, unbegreiflich herrlichst Wesen, 861, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Verklärter Bräut, von Isbut du, 1146, i., Tomlinson, G.
Verlass mich nicht! O du, an dem ich Joha, 538, ii., Hoffstedt, C. C.
Verlassen hab ich Feld und Aum, 661, ii., Goethe, J. W. von
Verlich uns Friedes gnädiglich (tr. Luther), 979, ii., Da pacem, Domine; 794, i., Luther, M.

Verlichter in die nit'ge Nkaar, 1206, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Verlich uns die Seligkeit, 1206, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Very light that shin'st above (tr. Neale), 894, ii., Quo coeptis lumen fulgor
Verweyt nicht, du Hüpflein klein, 24, ii., Altenburg, M. Vexilla regis prodeunt, Fortunatus
Vexilla regis prodeunt, Fortunatus
Vexilla regis prodeunt, Pange lingua gloriosi, 1160, i., Sylvester, J.
Vexilla regis prodeunt, Pange, lingua, gloriosi praelium certaminis, 995, ii., Paul the Deacon
Vexilla regis prodeunt, Pange, lingua, gloriosi, 1160, i., Sylvester, J.
Vexilla regis prodeunt, Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium; 995, ii., Pange lingua gloriosi praelium certaminis
Vexilla regis prodeunt, Pulset comatu consilium, 1230, i., Vexilla regis prodeunt
Vexilla regis prodeunt, Thy grace we claim, 1262, i., Wesley family, The Victimae paschali laudes immolent Christiani, 225, i., Christ lag in Todesbanden; 227, ii., Jesus Christ is risen to-day; 660, i., ii., 661, i., Latin hymnody; 779, i., Luther, M.; 1042, ii., Sepp, B.; Robert II. of France; 1042, i., 1043, i., Sequences
Virgin of all virgins best (Virgo virginum praeclara, tr. Caswall), 1033, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Virgin partum et omnibus (tr. Neale), 1206, i., Stabat mater speciosa
Virgin, spotless Lamb of heaven, 772, i., Moultrie, G.
Virginibus, we bow before Thee, 504, i., Heber, R.
Virginal Matrem laudet omnent Christianus! Ave fruitis, 1225, ii., Veterum Psalmi
Virginis proles, 660, ii., Latin hymnody
Virginis proles opprobrio dignatum, 814, i., Sedulius
Virgo virginum praeclara, 1033, i., Stabat mater dolorosa
Vision's powerful instrumentation (tr. Kynaston), 1200, i., Veni Creator Spiritus, Mentes
Visit, Lord, this habitation, 807, ii., Prove be to this habitation
Vital Spark of heavenly flame (A. Pope), 273, i., Flatman, T.; 900, ii., Pope, A.; 979, i., Roman Catholic hymnody; 1206, i., Watts, I.
Vitam Jesu Christi, 1137, ii., Thomas of Kempen
Voice of mercy, voice of heaven (En clara vox refargulit, tr. Caswall, recast), 1205, i., Vox clara ecce intonat
Voices are round us; soulwards soar, 276, i., Fover and Voices, Ministering Spirits
Voices of Spirits, with what gladness I hear you again, 512, ii., Heusser (née Schweizer), Meta
Voices of the days that's gone, 803, ii., Rawson, G.
Volad sola nise mette, 1217, i., Verbum Del, Deo natum
Vuller Barmherz, Dank und Preuden, 777, ii., Münter, B.
Vuller Wunder, voller Kunst, 613, i., Gerhardt, P.
Vom Himmel hoch da komm ich her, 616, i., German hymnody; 706, ii., Luther, M.; 1227, ii., Vom Himmel kam der Engelscharen
Vom Himmel kam der Engelscharen, 614, i., German hymnody; 706, ii., Luther, M.; 1228, i., Vom Himmel kommt der starke Held Vom Ostberg weyt er wieder, 1079, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Vom Vater hab ich mich nicht lassen, 666, ii., Lavater, J.
Von allen Menschen abgewandt, 643, i., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes; 659, i., Kriphorn, A.
Von der Himmels Thron, 715, i., Marot, C.
Von gut, a Vater, nimmt mein Herz, 667, i., Lavater, J.
Von Porchel dohingerissen, 777, ii., Münter, B.
Von Gott will ich nicht lassen, 696, ii., Helmbold, L.
Von tiefen Herzen Grunde, 718, i., Matthesius, J.
Vor diesen Thron trat ich hiemit, 538, i., Hohenberg, P.
Vor Gt, a Gott, sich hindlich schauen, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
Vor Jesu Augen schweben, 1205, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Vor unsern Augen schweben, 1205, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Vor unserer Herzensniederung, 979, i., Rothe, J. A.
Vorl Brüderlichen Augen schweben, 1205, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Vor Sünden Barmherzigkeit (tr. Macgill), 774, i., Mush in sorrow, oh in woe
Vouchsafe, O Christ, High Lord (tr. Blew), 71, i., Amice Christe sanctissime Dominus
Vouchsafe to keep me (us), Lord, this day, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Vox clara ecce intonat, 15, i., Adam of St. Victor
Wach auf du Geist der ersten Zeugen, 152, ii., Bogatzky, C. H. von; 417, i., German hymnody
Wach auf, mein Geist, und lass das Beten nicht, 642, ii., Goostly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes
Wach auf, mein Herz, die Nacht ist hin, 655, ii., Lausmann, L.
Wachet auf! Erhebt die Blicke, 419, ii., German hymnody
Wachet auf, ihr fauchen Gräbter, 663, ii., Gotter, L. A.
Wachet auf! ruft uns die Stimme, 615, i., German hymnody; 805, ii., 806, ii., Nicolai, P.
Wachet auf! es ruft die Stimme, 806, ii., Nicolai, P.
Wachet auf, wir sind so hoch (Sermon) ex. dom. tr. Senkr), 1264, ii., Wesley family, The Wail ye not, but rejoice sing (tr. Miss Lesson), 952, i., Freut euch nicht und jauchzet
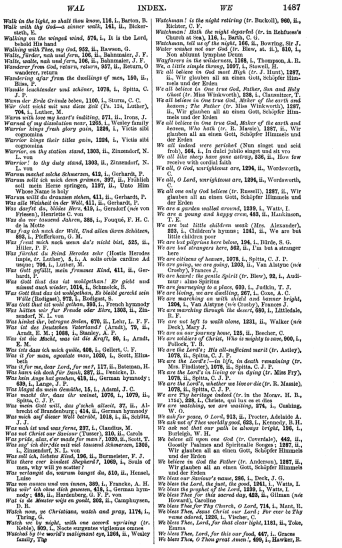
Wait, my soul, upon the Lord, 681, i., Lloyd, W. F.
Wait, O my soul, thy Maker's will, 1264, i., Berkeley, B.
Wake, awake, and loving voices swelling, 705, i., Milliams, A.
Waiting for the Comforter (C. Wesley), 447, ii., Green
Wake, and lift up thyself, my heart, 631, i., Kyn, T.
Wake, arise, the call sleeping (tr. Russell), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake, arise: the voice is calling, 806, ii., Nicolai, P.
Wake, awake, for night is flying (tr. Cox), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake, awake, for night is flying, 3, awake, Jerusalem, arise (tr. Cooke), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake, awake, for night is flying, 3, Awake Jerusalem, at last (tr. Miss Winkworth), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake, dear of our Jerusalem (tr. Johnston), 228, ii., Chorus novus Hierusalem
Wake, for the time of thunder, 1139, i., Temperance hymnody
Wake, O city of the dead, new life begin, 873, ii., Osler, E.
Wake, keep and prophecy sounding (tr. Rockell), 806, i., Cramer, J. A.
Wake, keep of thee, wake again, 320, i., Edmeston, J.
Wake hath it dissent when love inspires (tr. Mrs. Cheyne), 1115, i., Tappan, W. B.
Wake, lift of the world, your redemption is near, 1115, i., Tappan, W. B.
Wake, my heart, and sing this persian (tr. E. Massie), 1239, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz! und singe
Wake, my heart, and sing with joy (tr. Stallybrass), 807, i., Freudein, J.
Wake, my tongue, the mystery telling (tr. Singleton), 870, i., Pange lingua gloriosi corporis mysterium
Wake, my voice, O wake once more, 671, i., Grünfeld, T.
Wake, O city of matter, sounds of humanities, 806, i., Heber, R.
Wake, oh wake; around are Spring (tr. Russell), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake, oh wake, the day ariseth (tr. Russell), 92, ii., And sad, well day Tag erscheinet
Wake, oh wake, to hear our voices (tr. Miss Winkworth), 153, i., Auf, auf, ihr Reichsgenossen
Wake the song, O Zion's daughter, 870, i., Lesson, Jane
Wake the song of joy and gladness, 1063, i., Sherwin, W. F.
Wake the song of jubilee, 105, ii., Bacon, L.
Wake! the dazzling midnight cometh (tr. Miss Cox), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake! the midnight hour's voice is sounding (tr. Singleton), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake! the welcome day appeareth (tr. Miss Cox), 92, ii., And sad, well day Tag erscheinet
Wake thee, O Zion, 977, ii., Palmer, H.
Wake, thou sleeper, rise from death (tr. Frothingham), 1239, ii., Wach auf, mein Herz! und singe
Wake up, my heart, the night has flown (tr. Miss Maclagan), 805, ii., Laurenti, L.
Wake up, wake up, in God's name (tr. Coverdale), 806, i., Nicolai, P. Wake up, wake up, is God's name
Wake, wake, I pray thee, shrill-toned lyre (tr. Chandler), 23, ii., Ave qua, hymn dolcezza
Wake, wake our poverty strain-rouse, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Wake, wake the joyful song, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
Wake, wake to praise, Spring (tr. F. Pincy, alt.), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake, ye holy maidens, wake ye (tr. F. Pincy), 806, i., Nicolai, P.
Wake, ye saints, the song of triumph, 870, i., Lesson, Jane
Waked by the gospel's powerful sound, 816, ii., Owen, S.
Waken! From the to-ar it sounds (tr. Mrs. Bevan) 806, ii., Nicolai, P.



Walk in the light, as shalt thou know, 116, i., Barton, B.
Walk with God—a sinner saith, 141, iii., Bickersteth, E.
Walking on the winged wind, 976, i., It is the Lord, behold His hand
Walking with Thee, my God, 952, ii., Rawson, G.
Walls, walls, wall and fort, 106, ii., Schumacher, J. F.
Walls, walls, wall and fort, 106, ii., Schumacher, J. F.
Wanderer from God, return, return, 937, ii., Return, O wanderer, return
Wandering afar from the dwellings of men, 180, ii., Bonar, H.
Wandle leuchtender und schöner, 1078, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Wenn der Ende Grunde leben, 1100, i., Sturm, C. C.
Wer Gott nicht mit uns diese Zeit (Ps. 124, Luther), 1100, i., Sturm, C. C.
Warm with love my heart's inditing, 971, ii., Irons, J.
Warned of my dissolution near, 1283, i., Wesley family
Warrior kings frah glory gain, 1288, i., Ylcim alle cognoscitus
Warrior kings their titles gain, 1288, i., Ylcim alle cognoscitus
Warrior, on thy station stand, 1303, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von Warrior! to thy duty stand, 1303, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Warum weint der schöne Schwerten, 413, i., Gerhardt, P.
Warum willt du draussen stehen, 411, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Was alle Weisheit an der Welt, 412, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Was betrübst du dich, mein Herze, 414, ii., Gerstorf (née von Wissen), Henriette C. von
Was die nie tausend Jahren, 886, i., Fouqué, F. H. C. de la Motte
Was frag ich noch der Welt, Und allen eiern Schätzen, 1100, i., Sturm, C. C.
Was Freud hast mich nun da'e wield bist, 325, ii., Hiller, F. F.
Was fürchst du Feind Herodes sehr (Hostis Herodes impie, tr. Luther), 5, i., A solis ortus cardine Ad usque terræ limitem
Was Gott gefällt, mein frommes Kind, 411, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Was Gott thut das ist wohlgethan! Er giebt und nimmt mich wieder, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
Was Gott thut das ist wohlgethan, Es muss mir gewiss sein Wille (Rodigast), 979, i., Rodigast, S.
Was Gott thut ist wohl gethan, 993, i., French hymnody
Was hülfen mir Freude aller Arten, 1300, ii., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Was ist der Seelen Boden, 679, ii., Lehr, L. F. F.
Was ist das Sonderbare Vaterland? (Arndt), 79, ii., Arndt, E. M.
Was ist die Musik, was ist die Kraft, 80, i., Arndt, E. M.
Was mir dann ich mich quäle, 846, i., Gellert, C. F.
Was ist für uns, sprachst wer, 1050, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Was ist für uns, dear Lord, for us?, 117, ii., Bateman, H.
Was hasst ich doch für Dank, 597, ii., Venicke, D.
Was Gott thut das ist wohlgethan, 413, ii., German hymnody; 1301, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Was Mingt du meine Gemüthe, 15, i., Adami, J. C.
Was wandt thr, dass thr weinet, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Was wandt thr Wolf, dass ghtech sitzest, 27, ii., Albrecht of Brandenburg; 414, ii., German hymnody
Was wird ang' dieser Welt bedrückt, 1018, i., ii., Schütz, J. J.
Was wuh ist und was fürwar, 227, i., Claudius, M.
Was wuh ist und was fürwar, 227, i., Claudius, M.
Was preis, also, d'er made for men?, 1300, ii., Scott, T.
Was sag' ich dir/dir mit viel tausend Sümmen, 1266, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Was soll ich, Sohnte Kind, 106, ii., Burmeister, F. J.
Was soll ich, o mein Seelenhirt?, 1005, i., Seiss of men, nor will yo come?
Was verzagst du, warum bangst du, 810, ii., Hensel, Luise
Was von ewenn und von ferne, 300, i., Franke, A. H.
Was wird mein Ende sein, 1300, ii., German hymnody; 1301, ii., Hartenberg, G. H. P. von Wat is de Meester wijs en goedst, 305, ii., Caughuwen, D. R.
Watch now, ye Christians, watch and pray, 1176, i., Wesley, C.
Watch ye by night, with one accord agreeing (tr. Kelly), 305, i., Nacht sorgenten vigilanten omnes Watched by the world's malignant eye, 1305, ii., Wesley family, The Watchmen! in the night retiring (tr. Bucholt), 900, ii., Winkler, C. F.
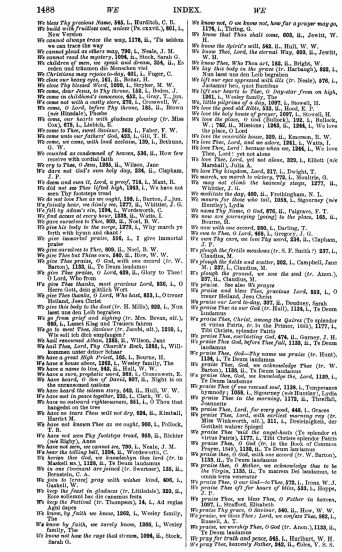
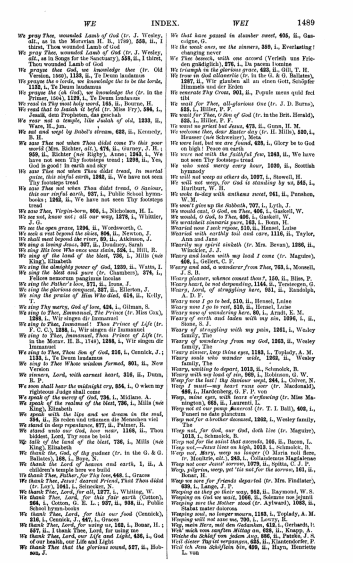
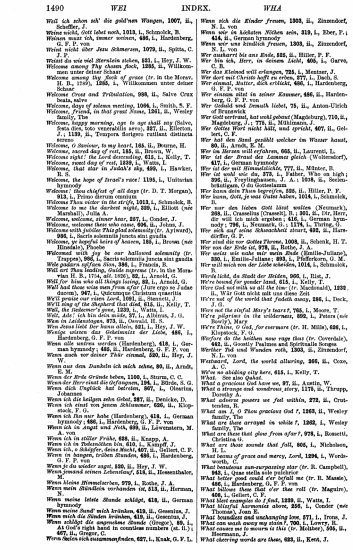
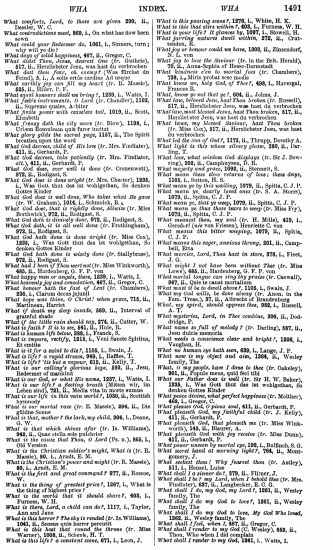
Watchmen! think the night departed (tr. in Baldwin's Church at Sea), 116, i., Barth, C. G.
Watchmen, tell us of the night, 116, ii., Bowring, Sir J.
Watchy wisher not our God (tr. Hess, at. i.), 810, i., Hensel, Luise (née Hensler)
Wayfarers in the wilderness, 1188, i., Thompson, A. B.
We, a little simple throng, 1097, i., Stowell, H.
We all believe in God most High (tr. J. Hunt), 1297, ii., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
We all believe in one true God, Father, Son and Holy Ghost (tr. Miss Winkworth), 298, i., Clausnitzer, T.
We all believe in one true God, Maker of the earth and heaven; The Father (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1297, i., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
We all believe in one true God, Maker of the earth and heaven, Who hath (tr. R. Massie), 1297, ii., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
We all indeed were garished (Non singet sed sed fruit), 504, i., In dulci jubilo singet und sei vro
We all like sheep have gone astray, 836, ii., How few receive with cordial faith
We all, O God, unrighteous are, 1294, ii., Wordsworth, C.
We all, O Lord, unrighteous are, 1294, ii., Wordsworth, C.
We all one only God believe (tr. Russell), 1297, ii., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
We are but little children weak, 1298, i., Ellerton, J.
We are but little children weak (Mrs. Alexander), 933, i., Children's hymns: 1241, ii., We are but little children weak
We are but pilgrims here below, 104, i., Hirde, S. G.
We are but strangers here, 953, ii., I'm but a stranger here
We are citizens of heaven, 1078, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
We are God's husbandry, 1300, ii., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
We are heard: the gentle Spirit (tr. Hine), 92, i., Auditur: alius Spiritus
We are journeying to a place, 633, i., Judkin, T. J.
We are marching on with shield and banner bright, 1306, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
We are marching through the church, 695, i., Littledale, R. F.
We are not left to walk alone, 1231, ii., Walker (née Duck), Mary J.
We are on our journey home, 125, ii., Bonduer, C.
We are soldiers of Christ, Who is mighty to save, 900, i., Pollock, T. B.
We are the Lord's—His all-sufficient merit (tr. Astley), 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
We are the Lord's—in life, in death remaining (tr. Mrs. Findlater), 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
We are the Lord's in living or in dying (tr. Miss Fry), 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
We are the Lord's, whether we live or die (tr. R. Massie), 1078, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
We are Thy heritage indeed (tr. in the Moray, H. B., 1742), 598, i., Christe, qui lux es et dies
We bring nothing, we are waiting, 978, i., Cushing, W.
We ask for peace, O Lord, 913, ii., Procter, Adelaide A.
We ask not of Thee worldly good, 628, i., Kennedy, B. H.
We ask not that our path be always bright, 150, i., Kennedy, B. H.
We believe all upon one God (tr. Coverdale), 662, ii., Goodly Psalmes and Spirituall Songes; 1297, ii., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
We believe in God the Father (tr. Anderson), 1297, ii., Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Schöpfer Himmels und der Erden
We bless our Saviour's name, 595, i., Deck, J. G.
We bless the Lord, the just, the good, 1241, i., Watts, I.
We bless Thee, Lord, for this our day, 1191, ii., Tobe, Emma
We bless Thee for this sacred day, 625, ii., Gilman (née Howard), Caroline
We bless Thee for Thy Church, O Lord, 714, i., Mant, R.
We bless Thee, dear Christ our Lord; For ever be Thy name adored, 1191, ii., Tobe, Emma
We bless Thee, Lord, for that dear light, 1191, ii., Tobe, Emma
We bless Thee, Lord, for this our food, 647, i., Graves
We bless Thee, O Thou great Jesus', 600, i., Hawker, R.
We bless not, O we know not, how far a prayer may go, 1176, i., Thring, G.
We know that Thou shalt come, 603, ii., Jewit, W. H.
We know the Spirit's will, 562, ii., Hull, W. W.
We love Thee, Lord, the eternal Way, 603, ii., Jewit, W. H.
We love Thee, Who Thou are, 168, ii., Bright, W.
We lay this body in the grave (tr. Harbaugh), 822, i., Nun lasst uns den Leib begraben
We lift our hearts to Thee, O Lord (tr. Neale), 876, i., O Jesu nostra redemptio
We lift our hearts to Thee, O Day-star from on high, 1301, i., Wesley family, The
We, little pilgrims of a day, 1297, i., Stowell, H.
We love the Lord and while, 533, ii., Reed, E. P.
We love the holy house of God, 1297, i., Stowell, H.
We love the place, O God of hosts, 1297, i., Stowell, W., 782, ii., Mission; 1283, ii., 1284, i., We love the place, O Lord
We love the venerable house, 209, ii., Emerson, R. W.
We love Thee, Lord, and we adore, 1241, i., Watts, I.
We love Thy courts, we love Thy house, we, 1266, i., We love Thee, Lord! yet scarcely
We love Thee, Lord, yet not clear, 229, i., Elliott (née Marshall), Julia A.
We love Thy kingdom, Lord, 317, i., Dwight, T.
We love Thy kingdom, Lord, 317, i., Dwight, T.
We many not climb the heavenly steeps, 1277, ii., Whittier, J. G.
We meditate the day, 600, ii., Frothingham, N. L.
We mourn for those who fell, 1283, i., Sigourney (née Huntley), Lydia
We name Thy Name, O God, 976, ii., Pilgrim, F. T.
We now are journeying [going] to the place, 163, ii., Bourne, H.
We now with one accord, 220, i., Darling, T.
We now with one accord, 220, i., Darling, T.
We own Thy care, we love Thy word, 254, i., Clapham, J. P.
We plough the fertile meadows (tr. S. F. Smith?) 227, i., Claudius, M.
We plough the fields and scatter, 205, i., Campbell, Jane M., 227, i., Claudius, M.
We plough the ground, we sow the seed (tr. Anon.), 227, ii., Claudius, M.
We praise. See also We prayse
We praise and bless Thee, gracious Lord, 853, i., O Saviour Holland, Jean Christ
We praise Holland, Jean Christ
We praise Thee as our God (tr. Hull), 1124, i., Te Deum laudamus
We praise Thee, Christ, among the Quires (Te splendor et virtus Patris, tr. in the Primer, 1685), 1277, i., Te splendor et virtus Patris
We praise Thee, everlasting God, 676, ii., Gurney, J. H.
We praise Thee God, before Thee fall, 1126, ii., Te Deum laudamus
We praise Thee, God—Thy name we praise (tr. Hunt), 1124, i., Te Deum laudamus
We praise Thee, God, we acknowledge Thee (tr. W. Barton), 1126, ii., Te Deum laudamus
We praise thee, God, we knowledge the, Lord, 1126, i., Te Deum laudamus
We praise Thee, O God, our sacred soul, 1126, i., Temperance hymnody; 1668, i., Sigourney (née Huntley), Lydia
We praise Thee in the morning, 1172, ii., Threlfall, Jeremiah
We praise Thee, Lord, for every good, 448, i., Graves
We praise Thee, Lord, for Thine own sacred song (tr. Miss Winkworth, alt.), 311, i., Breviarium, der Gottheit wahrer Spiegel
We praise Thee 'mid the angel-hosts (Te splendor et virtus Patris), 1277, i., Tibi Christe splendor Patris
We praise Thee, O God, we acknowledge Thee (Book of Common Prayer, 1549), 1126, ii., Te Deum laudamus
We praise thee, O God, with one accord (tr. W. Barton), 1126, ii., Te Deum laudamus
We praise thee, O Mother, we acknowledge thee to be (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1, i., Te matrem Dei laudamus, te coeli cives omnes
We praise Thee, O our God—O Thee, 972, i., Irons, W. J.
We praise Thee off for hours of Mist, 533, i., Hoyps, Esaias
We praise Thee, we bless Thee, O Father in heaven, 1097, i., Stafford, Elizabeth
We praise Thy grace, O Saviour, 580, ii., How, W. W.
We praise; we bless Thee; Lord, we confess Thee, 892, i., Russell, A. T.
We praise Thy worship Thee, O God (tr. Anon.), 1133, ii., Te Deum laudamus
We pray for truth and peace, 565, i., Hurlburt, W. H.
We pray Thee, heavenly Father, 893, ii., Eckh, V. S. S.

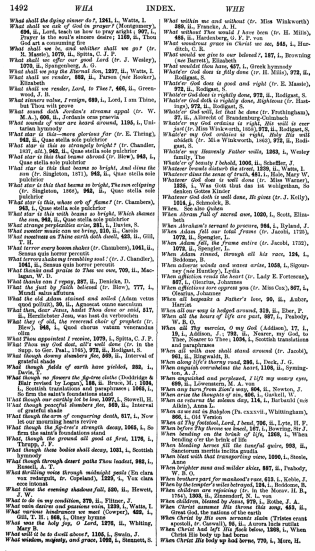


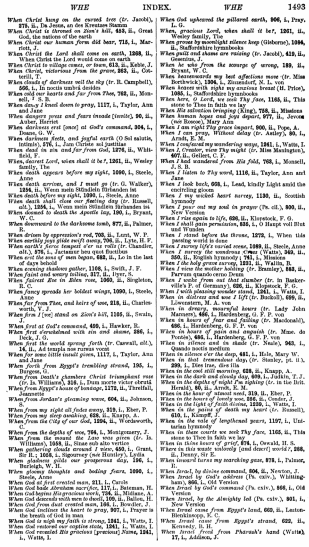
We bless Thy precious Name, 565, i., Havergal, C. E.
We build with Pendleton and, saints (Ps. cxxvii.), 901, i., New Version
We cannot always trace the way, 1176, ii., 'Tis seldom we can trace the way
We cannot know the future way, 795, i., Neale, J. M.
We cannot read the mystery, 1056, i., Stock, Sarah G.
We children of men, we speak and dream, 304, ii., Es reden und träumen die Menschen viel
We Christians may rejoice to-day, 931, i., Fuger, C.
We climb the hill of life, 1297, i., Stowell, H.
We close Thy blessed Word, 1099, i., Heyder, M. W.
We come, dear Jesus, to Thy throne, 152, i., Bolton, J.
We come in childhood's innocence, 933, i., Gray, T., jun.
We come not with a costly store, 270, i., Cromwell, W.
We come, O Christ, to Thy throne, 185, ii., Brown (née Hinsdale), Phoebe H.
We come, our hearts with gladness pouring (tr. Miss Cox), 678, i., Lavisch, E.
We come to Thee, sweet Saviour, 262, i., Faber, F. W.
We come unto our father' God, 633, i., ult. T. E.
We come, we come, with loud motions, 139, i., Beckmann, J. C.
We counted as condemned of heaven, 836, ii., How few receive with cordial faith
We cry to Thee, O Jesu, 1295, ii., Wilson, Jane
We dare not God's own holy day, 226, ii., Clapham, J. P.
We dare not God's own holy day, 226, ii., Clapham, J. P.
We dare not, O Lord, a proof, 724, i., Mant, R.
We did not see Thee lifted high, 1303, i., We have not seen Thy footsteps tread
We do not love Thee as we ought, 198, i., Burton, J., jun.
We fall by Adam's sin, 1294, i., Wordsworth, C.
We fall by Adam's sin, 1294, i., Wordsworth, C.
We find access at every hour, 1298, ii., Watts, I.
We gave ourselves to Thee, 909, ii., Noel, B. W.
We give his body to the surge, 1279, i., Why march ye slowly, why
We give immortal praise, 516, i., I give immortal praise
We give ourselves to Thee, 909, ii., Noel, B. W.
We give Thee but Thine own, 640, ii., How, W. W.
We give Thee hearty thanks (Te splendor et virtus Patris), 1126, ii., Te Deum laudamus
We give Thee praise, O Lord, 439, ii., Glory to Thee! O Lord, Who from
We give Thee thanks, most gracious Lord, 856, i., O Saviour Holland, Jean Christ
We give Thee thanks, O Lord, Who hast, 853, i., O Saviour Holland, Jean Christ
We give this body to the dust (tr. H. Mills), 822, i., Nun lasst uns den Leib begraben
We go to our Father's home above (Mrs. Bevan, alt.), 284, i., Lord God will Heaven Adieu
We go to meet Thee, Saviour (tr. Jacobi, alt.), 1256, i., We will ich dich empfangen!
We hail resounded Albion, 1283, ii., Wilson, Jane
We hail Thee, Lord, Thy Church's Rock, 1284, i., Williams, Isaac
We have a great High Priest, 165, i., Bourne, H.
We have a house above, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
We have a name to live, 643, ii., Hull, W. W.
We have heard with our ears, 1294, i., Cromwell, E.
We have heard, O Son of David, 607, ii., Night is on the unseasoned nations
We have heard the solemn story, 643, ii., Hull, W. W.
We have met in peace together, 232, i., Clark, W. G.
We have sinned and rebelliously, 951, i., O Thou that hangest on the tree
We have no sure Thou will not dey, 624, ii., Kimball, Harriet M.
We have not known Thee as we ought, 900, i., Pollock, T. B.
We have not seen Thy footsteps tread, 949, ii., Richter (née Bligh), Anne
We have not seen, we cannot see, 799, i., Neale, J. M.
We hear the falling ball, 1294, ii., Wordsworth, C.
We hear the word, we read and know, 1261, i., Our land (tr. in Mackay's Church Hymnal, 1876), 1126, ii., Te Deum laudamus
We in one Covenant are joined (tr. Bernardo), 138, ii., Bernardo, C. A.
We join to [come] pray with wicket kind, 605, i., Hull, W. W.
We keep the feast to gladness (tr. Littledale), 333, ii., Eece solemnis hac die casanim festa
We keep the Festival (tr. Thompson), 16, i., Ad regias Agni dapes
We know, by faith we know, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
We know by faith, we surely know, 1266, i., Wesley family, The
We know not how the rays that stream, 1096, ii., Stock, Sarah G.

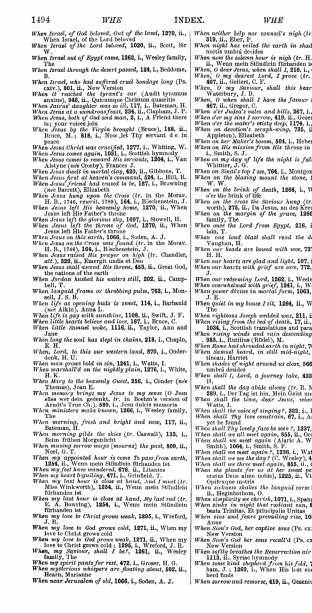


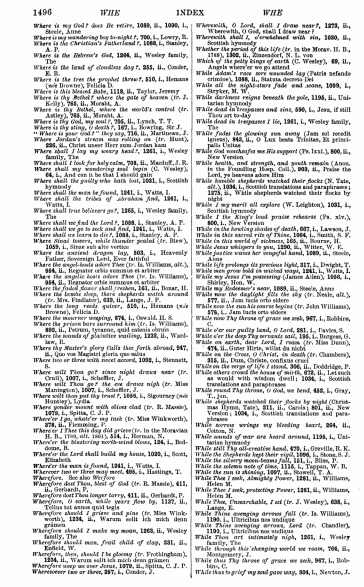


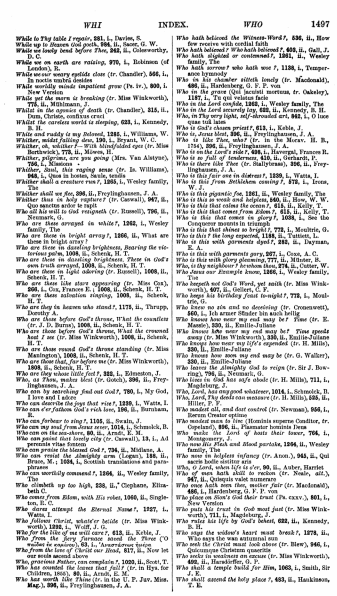












While to Thy table I repair, 281, i., Davies, S.
While up to Heaven God goeth, 998, ii., Sacer, G. W.
While we lowly bend before Thee, 262, ii., Cokesworthy, D. C.
While we on earth are resting, 970, i., Robinson (of Leeds), T.
While we our weary eyelids close (tr. Chandler), 866, i., In noctis umbrâ densâ
While worldly minds impatient grow (Ps. lv.), 800, i., New Version
While yet the morn is breaking (tr. Miss Winkworth), 770, i., Nun widmet, J.
Whilst in the darkness of death (tr. Chandler), 815, ii., Dum, Christe, confixus cruci
Whilst the careless world is sleeping, 623, i., Kennedy, B. H.
White and ruddy is my Beloved, 1286, i., Williams, W.
Whither, midst falling dew, 181, i., Bryant, W. C.
Whitherward, little cloud, whitherward sail (tr. Miss Winkworth), 770, ii., Wohin, du Wolke
Whither, pilgrims, are you going (Mrs. Van Alstyne), 706, i., Mistress
Whither, thief, thine raging sense (tr. Is. Williams), 962, i., Quoa in hostes, Satan, sensis
Who shall a creature rue?, 1295, i., Wesley family, The Whither shall we flee, 896, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Whither thou in holy rapture? (tr. Caswall), 967, ii., Qui sanctos arbor te rapit
Who all his will to God resigneth (tr. Russell), 796, ii., Neumark, G.
Who are these arrayed in white?, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
Who are these in bright array?, 1266, ii., What are these in bright array?
Who are these in dazzling brightness, Bearing the victorious palm, 1008, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are these in dazzling brightness, These in God's own image arrayed, 1008, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are these in light adoring (tr. Russell), 1008, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are these like stars appearing (tr. Mrs. Cox), 966, i., Cox, Frances E.; 1008, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are these salvation singing, 1009, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are they in heaven who stand?, 1173, ii., Thrupp, Dorothy A.
Who are those before God's throne, What the countless (tr. J. D. Burns), 1008, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are those before God's throne, What the crowned had I see (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1008, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are those round God's throne standing (tr. Miss Manington), 1009, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are those that, far before me (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1009, ii., Schenk, H. T.
Who are they whose little feet?, 1325, i., Edmeston, J.
Who, at Thine, make blest (tr. Gotch), 996, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Who can describe the joys that rise?, 1230, i., Watts, I.
Who can describe the joys that rise?, 1230, i., Watts, I.
Who can e'er fathom God's rich love, 126, ii., Burnham, R.
Who can forbear to sing?, 1155, ii., Swain, J.
Who can my soul from Jesus sever, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
Who can my soul from Jesus sever, 1014, i., Schmolck, B.
Who can paint their lovely city (tr. Caswall), 19, i., Ad perennis vitae fontem
Who can praise the blessed God?, 734, ii., Midlane, A.
Who can resist the Almighty arm (Logan), 188, ii., Brown, M.; 1304, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases
Who can sacredly command?, 1266, ii., Wesley family, The
Who climbeth up too high, 338, ii.," Clephane, Elizabeth C.
Who comes from Edom, with His robes, 1060, ii., Singleton, J.
Who dares attempt the Eternal Name?, 1227, i., Watts, I.
Who follows Christ, whate'er betide (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1292, i., Wer Gott, J. G.
Who for the life of me will care?, 613, ii., Keble, J.
Who from the fiery furnace stood the Three (O Dreifaltigkeit), 1, ii., Ambrose, St.
Who from the love of Christ our Head, 617, ii., Now let our souls ascend above
Who, gracious Father, can complain?, 1020, ii., Scot, T.
Who has counted the leaves that fall? (tr. in Hys. for the Use, 1851), 89, ii., Arndt, E. M.
Who hath a friend, His Name (tr. in the U. P. Psr. Mus. Mag.), 998, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Who hath believed the Witness-Word?, 636, ii., How few receive with cordial faith
Who hath believed? Who hath believed?, 635, ii., Gall, J.
Who hath chained or confirmed?, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Who shall sorrow? who hath woe ?, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Who in his chamber sitteth lonely (tr. Macdonald), 686, ii., Harkenberg, G. F. P. von
Who in the grave (Qui jacuit mortuus, tr. Oakeley), 1, ii., Ad regias Agni dapes
Who is a Lord like Jehovah?, 1262, ii., Wesley family, The
Who in the Lord securely lay, 628, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Who, in Thy very light, self-shrouded art, 861, i., O tace quae tuli latus
Who is God's chosen priest?, 613, i., Keble, J.
Who is, Jesus blest, 996, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Who is like Thee, who? (tr. in U. P. Psr. Mus. Mag.), 998, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Who is like the Lord's equal?, 686, i., Havergal, Frances R.
Who is so full of tenderness, 619, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Who is there like Thee (tr. Shaltyreus), 996, ii., Freylinghausen, J. A.
Who is this fair one in distress?, 1230, i., Watts, I.
Who is this from Bethlehem coming?, 1176, i., Irons, W. J.
Who is this gigantic foe, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Who is this in weak and helpless, 860, ii., How, W. W.
Who is this that calms the ocean?, 615, ii., Kelly, T.
Who is this that comes from Edom?, 615, ii., Kelly, T.
Who is this that comes in glory?, 1038, i., See the Conqueror mounts in triumph
Who is this that shines in triumph?, 773, i., Monkhouse, C.
Who is this? the long expected, 1189, ii., Tuttiett, L.
Who is this with garments gory?, 243, ii., Daynes, E. A.
Who is this with garments gory, 927, i., Cox, A. C.
Who is this with glory gleaming, 777, ii., Mitnier, B.
Who, o thy neighbour's burden bore, 274, ii., Usher, W.
Who shows our strength know, 1260, i., Wesley family, The
Who inspect not God's Word, yet saith (tr. Miss Winkworth), 607, ii., Gellert, C. F.
Who keeps his birthday feast to-night?, 772, i., Moultrie, G.
Who knows no sin and no deceiving (tr. Cronenwett), 860, i., Ich armer Sünder bin auch heilig
Who knows how near my end may be? Time (tr. E. Massie), 350, ii., Emilie-Juliane
Who knows how near my end may be (tr. G. Walker), 350, ii., Emilie-Juliane
Who knows the almighty God to reign (tr. Sir J. Bowring), 796, ii., Neumark, G.
Who lives to God has safe abode (tr. H. Mills), 711, i., Magdeburg, J.
Who, Lord, Thy deeds can measure (tr. H. Mills), 688, ii., Miller, P. F.
Who, Lord, Thy deeds can measure (tr. H. Mills), 688, ii., Miller, P. F.
Who maidest all, and dost control (tr. Newman), 956, i., Eorum Creator optimus
Who mindst man in time (Hominis superne Conditor, tr. Copelan), 696, ii., Plumptre hymnists Dyn
Who, O Lord of hosts their lamp, 766, i., Montgomery, J.
Who now His Flesh and Blood partake, 1296, ii., Wesley family, The
Who now in helpless infancy (tr. Anon.), 964, ii., Qui nunc in infantiâ
Who, O Lord, when life is o'er, 90, ii., Asher, Harriet
Who of men hath skill to reckon (tr. Neale, and others), 967, ii., Quisquis valet numerare
Who once hath seen thee, mother fair (tr. Macdonald), 686, i., Harkenberg, G. F. P. von
Who place on Sion's God their trust (Ps. cxxv.), 801, i., New Version
Who puts his trust in God most just (tr. Miss Winkworth), 711, i., Magdeburg, J.
Who rules his life by God's behest, 682, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Who sings the widow's heart must break?, 1272, ii., Who says the was autumnal sun
Who sows his seed in weeping, 1260, ii., Montgomery, J.
Who seeks in weakness an excuse (tr. Miss Winkworth), 609, ii., Haraldius, G. F.
Who shall a temple build for Him, 1063, i., Smith, Sir J. E.
Who shall succeed the holy place?, 683, ii., Hankinson, T. E.
Who shall succeed Thy heavenly place?, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
Who shall succeed to the heavenly place, 1261, i., Watts, I.
Who shall be the last great Star?, 1086, i., Stanley, A. P.
Who shall behold the King of kings?, 1117, ii., Taylor, Emily
Who shall forbid our grateful [chastened] awe?, 643, i., Hinton, W.
Who shall the Lord's elect condemn?, 1235, i., Watts, I.
Who that o'er many a barren part, 1117, ii., Taylor, Emily
Who the multitudes can number (tr. Pollock), 947, ii., Quisquis valet numerare
Who the sacred page perusing, 1136, i., Temperance hymnody
Who through heaven is guiding, 1065, ii., Stallybrass, J. S.
Who Thy mysterious Supper share, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
Who to life, along the road (Hora qui ductus tertia, tr. Caswall), 727, i., Tu qui vocatus facie
Who trusts in God a strong abode (tr. Kennedy), 711, i., Magdeburg, J.
Who trusts in God, his work abides (tr. Russell), 711, i., Magdeburg, J.
Who trusts in God's all-wise direction (tr. H. Mamie), 797, i., Neumark, G.
Who trusts in God's unchanging love, 698, i., Lord was for vital and vital the life
Who, when beneath affliction's rod, 280, ii., Darling, T.
Who will tell of strength and freedom?, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Who would make the prize his own, 726, i., Mentor, J.
Who yields his will to God's good pleasure (tr. in the U. P. Psr. Mus. Mag.), 797, i., Neumark, G.
Who yonder on our Heaven bends, 284, i., Heber, R.
Whoe'er his secret home has made, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Whom. See also Whoeve.
Whom all obey, Maker of man (Homicis superne Conditor), 697, i., Plumptre hymnists Dyn
Whom earth, and sea, and air (tr. Hiley), 944, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whom earth, and sea, and stars, and light (Quem terra, pontus, sidera, tr. Copelan), 944, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whom earth, and sea, and heaven's high frame (Quem terra, pontus, aethera, tr. R. Campbell), 944, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whose I am (a hymn) but Thee?, 1183, i., Vopiscy, A. M.
Whom have I, Lord in heaven, but Thee, 166, i., Bicks, T. T.
Whom have we, Lord, in heaven, but Thee, 802, i., Peters (née Hankey), C.
Whom have we, Lord, in heaven but Thee, 90, ii., Asher, Harriet; 921, i., Psalters, English
Whom have we, Lord, in heaven, but Thee, 144, i., Hicks, T. T.
Whom Jesus' blood doth sanctify, 1266, i., Wesley family, The
Whom none fence (tr. Mrs. Spath), 831, i., Hey, J. W.
Whom once forsaken Thou will not leave, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Whom shall I, my refuge making, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Whom shall we love like Thee?, 727, i., Lyte, H. F.
Whom shall we, our Refuge seeking, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Whom should I fear, since God is me? (Ps. xxvii.), 895, i., New Version
Whom should we love like Thee?, 727, i., Lyte, H. F.
Whose earth and sea, and the skies (tr. in the Primer, 1599), 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whose earth, and sea, and stars (tr. in the Primer, 1599), 966, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whose soul full intent and minde (Ps. xci., Kethe), 1023, ii., Scottish hymnody
Whosoever in Jehovah, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Whosoever heareth, shout, shout the sound, 159, i., Bonar, H.
Why all these grieving?, 671, i., Grinfield, T.
Why art thou cast down, oh, my soul? (tr. Dorrien), 803, i., French hymnody
Why art thou grieving?, 671, i., Grinfield, T.
Why art Thou, Lord, so long from us? (Ps. lxxiv., Bishop Cosin), 1, i., New Old Version
Why art thou, O my heart? (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1256, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why art thou weary, O my soul?, 672, i., Irons, W. J.
Why comes this fragrance on the summer breeze, 823, i., Lowry, S.
Why, cruel Herod, dost thou fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Singleton), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, cruel Herod, dost thou fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Wallace), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, cruel Herod, why in fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Johnston), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why did Adam come from heaven, 186, i., Burton, J., sen.
Why did the Gentiles rage, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Why did the Gentiles tumults raise? (Ps. ii., Sternhold), 865, i., Old Version
Why do I thus perplex?, 1020, ii., Scott, T.
Why do the duels of happier men, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
Why do the heathen rage, 823, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Why do we mourn departing friends?, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Why do we mourn for dying friends?, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Why does the wall of heaven ordain (W. Drennan), 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Why does your fear, as humble souls*?,* 1238, i., Watts, I.
Why dost thou make lament, my heart (tr. Carter), 1256, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why dost thou, tyrant, boast abroad (Ps. lii., Hopkins), 865, ii., Old Version
Why dost thou me thyself, my heart (tr. Frothingham), 1256, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why fearful, Saviour weep, 613, i., Keble, J.
Why doth that cruel Herod fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. cento), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why doth that impious Herod fear? (Hostis Herodes impie), 8, i., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why doth the wicked Herod fear (Crudelis Herodes), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why droop we and with guilt oppressed, 1013, ii., Scott, Elizabeth
Why hail thus, O deluded heart, 670, ii., Lehr, L. F. F.
Why haltest thus, deluded heart, 670, ii., Lehr, L. F. F.
Why hast Thou cast us off, O God? (Ps. lxxiv.), 865, ii., New Version
Why, Herod, dost thou fear to ruin (Crudelis Herodes), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, impious tyrant fear (Hostis Herodes impie), 8, i., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, shakes thy soul with fears (Crudelis Herodes), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, unrelenting foe (Was flieht du Feind, tr. Neale), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, why in fear? (Crudelis Herodes Deum), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, impious Herod, unruly fear (Hostis Herodes impie), 8, i., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why is it that life is so longer and (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1292, i., Wofer kommt mir doch diese Zeit
Why is my heart so joyless, 1256, i., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why is my heart so sorrowful, 1256, i., Watts, I.
Why is thy faith, O child of God, so small, 1005, i., Sherwin, W. F.
Why labour for treasures that rust and decay?, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Why, Lord, art not in these blest days, 1295, i., Yonge, Charlotte M.
Why mourn the dust with hopeless tears?, 998, ii., Say, why should friendship grieve for those?
Why, mournest thou, my anxious soul?, 1272, ii., Whence do our mournful thoughts arise?
Why, my soul, thy grief renewing (tr. Benson), 1294, ii., Warum willst du mich denn grämen
Why not now, my God, my God, 361, i., For Sion's sake I will not cease; 1295, ii., Wesley family, The
Why, O God, Thy people spurn?, 696, i., Hatfield, E. F.
Why, O my heart, these anxious cares?, 1260, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Why, O my soul, why weepest thou?, 124, i., Beddome, B.
Why, O why cast down, my spirit? 803, i., Russell, A. T.
Why perish with cold and with hunger?, 168, i., Baker, Mary A.
Why pour'st thou forth those anxious plaints (Watts, recast), 1256, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1272, ii., Whence do our mournful thoughts arise?
Why restless, why so weary?, 762, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
Why, restless king, this frantic fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Neale), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why shrinks my soul Christ come? (tr. R. Campbell), 962, ii., Quae gloriosum tanta coelis evocat
Why search ye in the narrow tomb?, 1158, i., Bathurst, W. H.

Who shall succeed Thy heavenly place?, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
Who shall succeed to the heavenly place, 1261, i., Watts, I.
Who shall be the last great Star?, 1086, i., Stanley, A. P.
Who shall behold the King of kings?, 1117, ii., Taylor, Emily
Who shall forbid our grateful [chastened] awe?, 643, i., Hinton, W.
Who shall the Lord's elect condemn?, 1235, i., Watts, I.
Who that o'er many a barren part, 1117, ii., Taylor, Emily
Who the multitudes can number (tr. Pollock), 947, ii., Quisquis valet numerare
Who the sacred page perusing, 1136, i., Temperance hymnody
Who through heaven is guiding, 1065, ii., Stallybrass, J. S.
Who Thy mysterious Supper share, 1262, i., Wesley family, The
Who to life, along the road (Hora qui ductus tertia, tr. Caswall), 727, i., Tu qui vocatus facie
Who trusts in God a strong abode (tr. Kennedy), 711, i., Magdeburg, J.
Who trusts in God, his work abides (tr. Russell), 711, i., Magdeburg, J.
Who trusts in God's all-wise direction (tr. H. Mamie), 797, i., Neumark, G.
Who trusts in God's unchanging love, 698, i., Lord was for vital and vital the life
Who, when beneath affliction's rod, 280, ii., Darling, T.
Who will tell of strength and freedom?, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Who would make the prize his own, 726, i., Mentor, J.
Who yields his will to God's good pleasure (tr. in the U. P. Psr. Mus. Mag.), 797, i., Neumark, G.
Who yonder on our Heaven bends, 284, i., Heber, R.
Whoe'er his secret home has made, 622, ii., Kennedy, B. H.
Whom. See also Whoeve.
Whom all obey, Maker of man (Homicis superne Conditor), 697, i., Plumptre hymnists Dyn
Whom earth, and sea, and air (tr. Hiley), 944, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whom earth, and sea, and stars, and light (Quem terra, pontus, sidera, tr. Copelan), 944, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whose earth, and sea, and heaven's high frame (Quem terra, pontus, aethera, tr. R. Campbell), 944, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whose I am (a hymn) but Thee?, 1183, i., Vopiscy, A. M.
Whom have I, Lord in heaven, but Thee, 166, i., Bicks, T. T.
Whom have we, Lord, in heaven, but Thee, 802, i., Peters (née Hankey), C.
Whom have we, Lord, in heaven but Thee, 90, ii., Asher, Harriet; 921, i., Psalters, English
Whom have we, Lord, in heaven, but Thee, 144, i., Hicks, T. T.
Whom Jesus' blood doth sanctify, 1266, i., Wesley family, The
Whom none fence (tr. Mrs. Spath), 831, i., Hey, J. W.
Whom once forsaken Thou will not leave, 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Whom shall I, my refuge making, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Whom shall we love like Thee?, 727, i., Lyte, H. F.
Whom shall we, our Refuge seeking, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Whom should I fear, since God is me? (Ps. xxvii.), 895, i., New Version
Whom should we love like Thee?, 727, i., Lyte, H. F.
Whose earth and sea, and the skies (tr. in the Primer, 1599), 966, ii., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whose earth, and sea, and stars (tr. in the Primer, 1599), 966, i., Quem terra, pontus, aethera
Whose soul full intent and minde (Ps. xci., Kethe), 1023, ii., Scottish hymnody
Whosoever in Jehovah, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
Whosoever heareth, shout, shout the sound, 159, i., Bonar, H.
Why all these grieving?, 671, i., Grinfield, T.
Why art thou cast down, oh, my soul? (tr. Dorrien), 803, i., French hymnody
Why art thou grieving?, 671, i., Grinfield, T.
Why art Thou, Lord, so long from us? (Ps. lxxiv., Bishop Cosin), 1, i., New Old Version
Why art thou, O my heart? (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1256, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why art thou weary, O my soul?, 672, i., Irons, W. J.
Why comes this fragrance on the summer breeze, 823, i., Lowry, S.
Why, cruel Herod, dost thou fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Singleton), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, cruel Herod, dost thou fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Wallace), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, cruel Herod, why in fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Johnston), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why did Adam come from heaven, 186, i., Burton, J., sen.
Why did the Gentiles rage, 1260, i., Watts, I.
Why did the Gentiles tumults raise? (Ps. ii., Sternhold), 865, i., Old Version
Why do I thus perplex?, 1020, ii., Scott, T.
Why do the duels of happier men, 1261, i., Wesley family, The
Why do the heathen rage, 823, i., Kennedy, B. H.
Why do we mourn departing friends?, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Why do we mourn for dying friends?, 1239, i., Watts, I.
Why does the wall of heaven ordain (W. Drennan), 1261, ii., Wesley family, The
Why does your fear, as humble souls*?,* 1238, i., Watts, I.
Why dost thou make lament, my heart (tr. Carter), 1256, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why dost thou, tyrant, boast abroad (Ps. lii., Hopkins), 865, ii., Old Version
Why dost thou me thyself, my heart (tr. Frothingham), 1256, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why fearful, Saviour weep, 613, i., Keble, J.
Why doth that cruel Herod fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. cento), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why doth that impious Herod fear? (Hostis Herodes impie), 8, i., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why doth the wicked Herod fear (Crudelis Herodes), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why droop we and with guilt oppressed, 1013, ii., Scott, Elizabeth
Why hail thus, O deluded heart, 670, ii., Lehr, L. F. F.
Why haltest thus, deluded heart, 670, ii., Lehr, L. F. F.
Why hast Thou cast us off, O God? (Ps. lxxiv.), 865, ii., New Version
Why, Herod, dost thou fear to ruin (Crudelis Herodes), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, impious tyrant fear (Hostis Herodes impie), 8, i., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, shakes thy soul with fears (Crudelis Herodes), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, unrelenting foe (Was flieht du Feind, tr. Neale), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, Herod, why in fear? (Crudelis Herodes Deum), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why, impious Herod, unruly fear (Hostis Herodes impie), 8, i., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why is it that life is so longer and (tr. Miss Winkworth), 1292, i., Wofer kommt mir doch diese Zeit
Why is my heart so joyless, 1256, i., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why is my heart so sorrowful, 1256, i., Watts, I.
Why is thy faith, O child of God, so small, 1005, i., Sherwin, W. F.
Why labour for treasures that rust and decay?, 1206, i., Van Alstyne (née Crosby), Frances J.
Why, Lord, art not in these blest days, 1295, i., Yonge, Charlotte M.
Why mourn the dust with hopeless tears?, 998, ii., Say, why should friendship grieve for those?
Why, mournest thou, my anxious soul?, 1272, ii., Whence do our mournful thoughts arise?
Why, my soul, thy grief renewing (tr. Benson), 1294, ii., Warum willst du mich denn grämen
Why not now, my God, my God, 361, i., For Sion's sake I will not cease; 1295, ii., Wesley family, The
Why, O God, Thy people spurn?, 696, i., Hatfield, E. F.
Why, O my heart, these anxious cares?, 1260, i., Scott, Elizabeth
Why, O my soul, why weepest thou?, 124, i., Beddome, B.
Why, O why cast down, my spirit? 803, i., Russell, A. T.
Why perish with cold and with hunger?, 168, i., Baker, Mary A.
Why pour'st thou forth those anxious plaints (Watts, recast), 1256, i., Scottish translations and paraphrases; 1272, ii., Whence do our mournful thoughts arise?
Why restless, why so weary?, 762, ii., Monsell, J. S. B.
Why, restless king, this frantic fear? (Crudelis Herodes, tr. Neale), 8, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why shrinks my soul Christ come? (tr. R. Campbell), 962, ii., Quae gloriosum tanta coelis evocat
Why search ye in the narrow tomb?, 1158, i., Bathurst, W. H.

WHY INDEX. WIR 1499

Why should a living man complain, 1002, i., Stennett, S.
Why should cruel beasts be suffered (W. Williams), 1253, ii., Welsh hymnody
Why should I continue grieving, 1236, ii., Warum sollt ich denn grämen
Why should I digress my neighbour?, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Why should I in vain repining?, 922, i., Edmeston, J.
Why should I join with those in play, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Why should I lose my sport as well?, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Why should I murmur or repine, 909, i., Ellerton, J.
Why should I say, 'To-yet to-morrow', 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Why should I fill to-morrow day?, 1206, i., Wesley family, The
Why should our garments, made to hide?, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Why should sorrow ever grieve me (tr. J. Kelly), 1236, ii., Ach soll ich mich denn grämen
Why should the children of a King (Watts), 800, ii., English hymnody
Why should the children of the King, 1279, i., Why should the children of a King
Why should the cruel Herod fear? (Cruelis Herodes, tr. Singleton), 5, ii., A solis ortûs cardine Ad usque
Why should they such pains ever give Pan (tr. J. Kelly), 613, ii., Quid, Phœbe, dolis
Why should this earth delight us so?, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Why should we faint and fear to live alone?, 613, i., Kirke, J.
Why should we spend our youthful days, 198, i., Burton, J.
Why should we start and fear to die, 1239, ii., Watts, I.
Why should we weep for those who die, 1116, ii., Taylor, Ann and Jane
Why sinks my weak despending mind?, 1060, ii., Steele, Anne
Why sleep we, my brethren, 533, i., Hopkins, J.
Why slumber the heathen? Wherefore do they rage (Ps. 2), 1005, ii., Warum toben die Heiden
Why that look of sadness, 926, i., Hastings, T.
Why that soul's connexion, 684, ii., Hastings, T.
Why this and most unmerciful pains (tr. Miss Dunn), 611, i., Gerhardt, P.
Why those fears? Behold, 'tis Jesus, 613, ii., Kelly, T.
Why thus fearn, poor trembling sinner, 796, ii., Hibbard, A.
Why thus so sadly weeping, 1100, ii., Sturm, L.
Why thus with grief oppress my heart (tr. Jacobi), 1236, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why vex thyself with anxious fears (tr. H. Mills), 1236, ii., Warum betrübst du dich, mein Herz
Why wail ye darkness? Has the dear light vanished?, 182, i., Bonar, H.
Why will ye waste, and chat the cauculus time?, 1060, ii., Singleton, B. C.
Why weep ye, loving brotherhood (tr. Hew), 251, ii., Denn lieben Sion sainnarun
Why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou?, 609, ii., Hawks [sic], Annie S.
Why weep'st thou by the cricket's tomb, 883, ii., O weep'st thou by the children's tomb
Why will ye waste in trifling care?, 1279, i., Why will ye lavish out your years
Why, wildest, then, art Thou singing (tr. J. Kelly), 611, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Why, wretched world, unfold, 90, ii., Auber, Harriet
Widely under the slumbering nations, 698, ii., Havergal, W. H.
Wie bist du mir so innig gut (Tersteegen), 417, ii., German hymnody : 1145, i., Tersteegen, G.
Wie das dastehn, Ohn Ihnen, 861, ii., Starkin, J. van
Wie doch sehn die armen Sünder, 1146, i., Schneider, J.
Wie freut sich die gesamte Welt, 82, i., Arnold, G.
Wie Gott mich führt, so will ich gehn, 806, i., Gerhardt, P.
Wie Gott will, also will ich sagen, 798, i., Neumeister, E.
Wie gross ist des Allmächtgen Güte (Gellert), 407, i., Gellert, C. F. : 418, i., German hymnody
Wie ist uns, wenn man abgespielt, 1146, i., Tersteegen, G.
Wie herrlich ists ein Schäfein Christi werden, 951, i., Rambach, J. J.
Wie herrlich strahlt der Morgenstern, 1010, i., Schlegel, J. A. : 1011, i., Schlegel, J. A.
Wie hold ist diese Stille, 838, ii., Knapp, A.
Wie ist mein Herz so fern von dir, 628, i., Funk, G. B.
Wie lieset ich mein wegraten, 825, ii., Kern, C. G.
Wie lieblich sind die Wahrzeugen, 1007, ii., Scheffler, J.

Wie schlimm es fürchtet es unsern Fürsten, 385, i., Fouqué, F. H. C. de la Motte
Wie schnell verstreicht, O Herr voll Milde und Huld, 827, i., Lange, F. A.
Wie schön ist doch, Herr Jesu Christ, 411, ii., Gerhardt, P.
Wie schön ist unsers Königs Braut, 83, i., Arnold, G.
Wie schön leuchtet der Morgenstern, Voll Gnad und Wahrheit von dem Herrn (Nicolai), 127, ii., Behold! how glorious in you sky; 615, i., German hymnody : 1010, i., Schlegel, J. A.
Wie schön und lieblich ist er anzusehen, 330, i., Rinckart, J. H. A.
Wie sehr ist das Volk des Herrn (Weiterslorf), 417, i., German hymnody
Wie sehr ist ein Herz das Jesum fanden, 1076, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Wie sehr labt der Mensch, der Staub, 608, i., Gellert, C. F.
Wie soll ich dich empfangen (Gerhardt), 416, i., German hymnody
Wie stor ist diese Stille, 838, ii., Knapp, A.
Wie viel wir Ähre nähren, 873, i., Hyndtius, A.
Wie wird mir einst doch sein, 407, ii., Gregor, C. : 1146, i., Tersteegen, G.
Wie wird mir sein, wenn ich dich, Jesu, sehe, 837, ii., Langbecker, E. G. G.
Wie wird uns sein, wenn endlich nach den schweren, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Wie wohl hat du gethan, 805, i., Rist, J.
Wie wohl ist mir, O Freund der Seelen, 390, ii., Dessler, S.
Wieberwie ein Augenblick, 1145, i., Tersteegen, G.
Wieh Gott gefällt, so gfallts mire auch, 145, ii., Hauser, A.
Wild was the day, the wintry sea, 190, i., Bryant, W. C.
Will God for ever cast me off?, 1261, i., Watts, I.
Will God for ever cast us off? (Ps. lxxvii.), 800, ii., English hymnody
Will God, Who made the earth (see Cabol), Miss L.
Will it not pleasure be, 1019, ii., Schwedin, H. C. von
Will not my memory treasure, 633, ii., Kern, C. G.
Will that not fugful be, 1013, ii., Schwedin, H. C. von
Will ye not come to Him for life?, 688, i., Havergal, W. H.
Will you meet me at the fountain, 140, ii., Bliss, P.
Willkommen, Held im Streite, 1013, i., Schmidt, B.
Willkommen, Gaber, Gaber Tag, 826, i., Hauser (see Schweizer), Meta
Willkommen, Gaber Osterlag (Mme. Hauser-Schweizer), 818, ii., German hymnody
Willkomm, geschärfter Gottes Sohn, 1145, i., Tersteegen, G.
Will Thou forgive that sin, 206, ii., Donne, J. ; 347, i., English hymnody
Will Thou not, my Shepherd true (tr. Miss Cox), 678, i., Guter Hirte, willst du nicht
Will Thou not visit me?, 1219, i., Very, J.
Will Thou not with me rest, 850, i., Cosa, O Thou Trust unfailing
Will thou, O man, live happily (tr. R. Mants), 724, ii., Mensch, willt du leben seliglich
Will Thou return to me, O Lord, 756, ii., Lyte, H. F.
Wine is a mocker : it beguiles, 1138, i., Temperance hymnody
Winter's heart of glows, 1086, i., Stone, S. J.
Winter is here, and snow may dare intrude (tr. Miss Fry), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Winter is here. In Nature's wide domain (tr. Lady Durand), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Winter ist da. In den weiten Räume, 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Winter it is! o'er the mighty kingdom (tr. Miss Huntington), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Wir Christenleut haben jetzund Freud, 401, i., Fuger, C.
Wir danken dir, Herr Jesu Christ, dass du für uns Mensch geboren bist, 1040, i., Selnecker, N.
Wir danken dir, Herr Jesu Christ, dass du dein Blutvergossen hast, 1041, i., Selnecker, N.
Wir danken dir, Herr Jesu Christ, dass du unser König worden bist, 1040, i., Selnecker, N.
Wir danken dir, o treuer Gott, 1041, i., Schwicker, N.
Wir freuen uns deiner Gnade, 907, i., Herrn, C. A.
Wir Gott sei Dank, Herr Jesu Christ (tr. Miss Cox), 663, ii., Grossly Psalms and Spirituals Songs : 704, ii., Luther, M.
Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Vater, Sohn und heilgen Geist, 238, i., Clausnitzer, T.
Wir kommen, deine Zeit zu feiern, 976, ii., Liebich, E.

1500

1500 WIR INDEX. WIT

Wir treten wie streitest und ohne Leiter, 1076, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Wir leiden Angst wir leiden Noth, 1076, i., Spitta, C. J. P.
Wir loben dich Gott : wir bekennen dich Herr, 1127, ii., Te Deum laudamus
Wir Menschen sein so dess, o Gott, 207, ii., Denicke, D.
Wir gehgen und wir strauen, 237, i., Claudius, M.
Wir sind die Herrn, wir loben, aber sterben, 1076, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
Wir singen dir, Immanuel, 1020, i., Zinzendorf, N. L. von
Wir sollen Pilger allesamt, 198, i., Hiels, S. G.
Wir warten dein, o Gottes Sohn, 625, i., Hiller, F. F.
Wir warten bei dem Herrn sein ellenrit, 630, i., Heusser (nee Schweizer), Meta
Wir wissen nicht, Herr Jehoah (J. Heermann), 1009, i., Schirmer, M.
Wird sie wohl Freude sein?, 1019, i., Schweinitz, H. C. von
Wirf, Wilder Sinn, den Kummer hin, 951, ii., Rambach, J. J.
Wisdom earrile, and might, and praise, 1263, ii., Wesley family, The Wisdom hat trouwere greate far (Bruce, alt.), O Wisdom, hast treasures
Wisdom's highest, noblest treasure (tr. Miss Cox, alt.), 1016, ii., Schröder, J. H.
Wisdom's highest, noblest treasure (tr. Miss Cox, alt.), 1016, ii., Schröder, J. H.
Wisdom's unexhausted treasure, 1017, i., Schröder, J. H.
With sad, dear friends, my pain away, 615, ii., Kelly, T.
With all his sufferings full in view, 1156, ii., The Saviour, what a noble flame
With all my heart I love Thee, Lord (tr. H. O. de Burnam), 1004, ii., Schalling, M.
With all my powers of heart and tongue, 1241, i., Watts, I.
With all the saints, Thee, Lord, we sing, 1288, i., Wir singen dir Immanuel
With all your floods attending (tr. Kynaston), 1186, i., Triumphe ! plantani maris
With awe Thy praise we sinners sing, 982, i., Russell, A. T.
With azure girdle circled round, 1174, i., Thring, G.
With bended knee and heart and voice (Veni sancte spiritus), 966, ii., Quicunque Christum quaeritis
With boundless range our sight sees (Velut arcis sive metu), 1217, i., Verbum Dei, Deo natum
With brighter glory, Easter Sun (tr. Lady Durand), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
With broken heart and contrite sigh, 329, i., Elven, C.
With cheerful heart I to the (tr. Spitta, C. J. P.), 1079, ii., Spitta, C. J. P.
With cheerful heart I close my eyes (Watts), 836, ii., Hertzog, J. F.
With cheerful hope, my soul, arise, 982, ii., Russell, A. T.
With cheerful notes let all the earth (Ps. cxvii.), 801, i., New Version
With cheerful voice I sing, 605, i., Join all the glorious Name
With choicest dainties nourished (tr. Littledale), 996, i., Saturata fercula
With Christ we share a mystic grave, 730, i., Neale, J. M.
With contrite guilt, and sinking heart, 329, i., Holden, O.
